PRÆFATIO PRIOR,

IN ipſo limine Te, Pie & Benevole Lector, paucis morabor, redditurus inſtituti & ſuſcepti mei laboris rationem. Decennium integrum effluxit, ex quo in Illuſtri VVeſtphaliæ Gymnaſio Steinfurtenſi Theologica Profeſſione defungens, inter alia de Fide Decretorum Concilii Tridentini libellum edidi, quo ad Pontificias controverſias ſtudioſæ juventuti in via diſputationum tum privatarum, tum publicarum, facem præluxi. Concilium autem Tridentinum ſelegeram, quia, Bellarmino judice, ejus vox eſt vox eccleſiæ Catholicæ, Pontificiæ puta, quam proinde pro animi ſui ſententia complecti tenentur omnes, cùm nunquam deſit occaſio tricandi & reſtitandi circa ea, quæ à privatis Doctoribus determinata ſunt. Labori quamvis exiguo Deus, quæ ejus bonitas eſt, gratioſè ubertimque benedixerat. Ex eo tempore amicorum rogatu & quæſitis precibus, inductis primis illis lineamentis, plenius quid commentari cœpi. Ac primò quidem ipſius Concilii textum à Bartholomæo Caranza contractum, & in Summa Conciliorum repræſentatum, præmiſſis etiam Pontificum Bullis, edidi. Textui ſuccedit ſingularum Seſſionum hiſtoria. In ea pertexenda probatiſſimorum authorum filum ſecutus ſum, ac inter eos illius potiſſimùm, qui Concilii hujus hiſtoriam accuratè & integra veritate compoſuit. Eſt is Paulus Sarpius Venetus, Servitarum Ordinis, qui Petri Suavis Polani nomine præſcribitur, quique in Pontificia communione & natus eſt & obiit, cauſaſque iræ & ſtudii, genuinas veritatis peſtes, procul habuit. Ejus hiſtoriam incomparabilem, uti meritò vocat Cl. Conringius, omnique exceptione majorem, idoneis argumentis munivi, & ἀξιόπιστον eſſe apud omnes debere, in palmaria de Concilii Tridentini authoritate quæſtione demonſtravi. Quæ fusè à me ibi dicta sunt, hoc loco repetere attinet. Historiam porrò singularum Sessionum & Bullarum Notis locupletatam illustratámque dedi, quibus continentur tum consectaria ex Historia illata & deducta, tum concisæ ad Capita Reformationis strictiuræ. Hisce prælibatis sequuntur Quæstiones Theologicæ de dogmatis Fidei, ut plurimùm ipsius Concilii verbis formatæ, atque ita disceptatæ, ut primùm sententiæ Orthodoxæ sive ajentis, sive negantis argumenta ex Dei verbo, sobria ratione, antiquitate ecclesiastica, & ipsorum Adversariorum ἐκείθεν testimoniis atque suffragiis, quantum fieri potuit, succinctè ac nervosè, & rebus multis in paucissima verba collatis arctatisque, proponerentur: postea demum heterodoxæ sententiæ argumenta verbis sive Concilii ipsius, sicubi rationes Capitibus mixtas reperi, sive Catechismi Romani, sive Bellarmini, sive Augustini Redingii, sive aliorum, repræsentata, paucis & factâ κατ' ἀνάκεφαλαίωσιν compendii operâ, discuterentur. Fateor sanè ultro, Virum doctissimum, & immortali laude dignum, Martinum Chemnitium Concilium Tridentinum uno ictu ita feriisse fortiter, & ad quintam usque costam percussisse, ut iterato ictu haud equidem opus fuerit: gratúsque simul agnosco & profiteor, non mediocrem ipsum inopiæ meæ opem tulisse. Cæterùm qui nostra hæc legere & comparare dignabitur, me nec planè actum egisse, nec operam lusisse, & frustra contrivisse, deprehenderit. Eo enim ordine omnia tractare mihi consilium studiúmque fuit, ut multa paucis complexus, studiosæ juventutis, cujus potissimùm commodis hæc velificatus sum, φιλομάθειαν, & in hoc genere proficiendi ardorem, non parum & adjuvarem & proveherem. An verò rite destinata mea proveniant, liberum probo, nullísque πρεπείμασι fascinato Lectori judicium relinquo, Deúmque ardentibus precibus expeto, ut parem voto ac desiderio meo, majorémque etiam exitum gratiosè largiatur! Unum superest, de quo benevolum Lectorem monere necessum habeo; nimirum scriptum hoc sub calamo & prælo præter opinionem meam grandescens, excrevisse ob necessitatem defendendæ veritatis, quam mihi nec opinanti imposuit Augustinus Redingius, Sacelli Einsidlensis Decanus, nunc etiam Abbas, & S. R. I. Princeps nuper electus. quam ei dignitatem & antiqui generis splendor, & subactæ eruditionis, eximiæ prudentiæ, & in actu rerum dexteritatis fama conciliavit. Quo nomine ei, uti Musæ nostræ sunt ἄφθονοι, & carentes invidiæ æstro, fortunam hanc propenso animo gratulor, Deúmque rogo, ut ampliore etiam gratiâ eum impertiat, qua fretus omnes acris ingenii vires ad salutarem agnitionem veriveritatis cœlestis in Evangelio, quod justitiam Dei ex fide in fidem revelatæ patefactæ intendat. quo pacto nihil felicitati ejus ampliùs astrui poterit. Nescio autem, quo fato meo cum ipso in campum inclusus sum, occasione Synodalis de Religiosis peregrinationibus dissertationis. Eam nuper cùm adversus insultum Ejus publicè vindicassem, spisso volumine, cui titulum Dissertationum Controversisticarum fecit, tum in Cl. D. Vedrosium, Ecclesiæ Curiensis Antistitem vigilantissimum, tum in me etiam incurrit. Mirabar certè variæ, tractationis prolixitatem, cui tædiosa repetitio multorum velà dedit: μεθοδειαν singularem: ingeniosum inprimis illud finale Corollarium, novum eludendi potiùs, quam solvendi argumenta artificium: supercilium tantùm non Campanum, quo Pyrgopolinicis Plautini instar ita nobiscum agere solet, ac si homines essemus projectissimi, ne digni quidem, quibus in sentina locus concedatur: crebra convitia. Toties enim perfidiæ, blasphemiæ, criminis falsi, societatis cum atro Spiritu, Diabolicæ fraudis, mendacii, præsumptionis, aliaque ejusmodi probra, grandis nimbi instar, in Ecclesias nostras, Reformatores, Cl. Vedrosium & me immerentes, jactat. Destinaveram certè tum contentionum odio, tum fretus causæ liquidæ & manifestissima bonitate, alto imposterum silentio veritatem adversus obstinatos vindicare. inprimis quòd ex repetita velitatione exiguum operæ pretium sperare liceret. Est enim jubare meridiano clarius, ejusmodi Scholasticæ Helenæ amasiorum omnem industriam stare intra contortulas captiones, distinctiones & sophismata, à quibus pedem non efferunt. Et cum parùm cursu valeant, flexu eludunt, ita ut nunquam ipsis satisfaciamus, etiam cùm maximè satisfacimus. Effundunt se postea in convitia, & in suum illum campum. Solido dentes non illidunt: in carpendo solùm & vellicando impetum omnem consumunt. Attamen duo potissimùm effecerunt, ut bonæ causæ adesse etiam ulteriùs non pigeret. Primum, quòd facilè animadverterem, Adversarios Orthodoxorum silentio & patientiâ suum ad deus abuti solere. Tacere nostrum illis jacere est: & victi convictique ilico pronuntiamur, qui nec ulli. Crescitque illis ex specie etiam alieni metus audacia. Ne dicam, omnibus bonis existimationis suæ tutelam grande pretium esse. Alterum, quod occasio non rapta, sed nata ad defensionem veritatis non tam invitaret, quàm impelleret. Nactus sum librum Adversarii, cùm ad XIII. Sessionem usque Concilii jam tractatio producta esset. Cùm igitur reliqua essent non pauca capita, de quibus ipsum inter & Cl. Vedrosium ac me certatum fuerat, statui unâ fideliâ duos dealbare parietes, & simul Concilii contextum prosequi, simul ad incudem revocare, quæ Cl. Vedrosio & mihi eadem in materia, qua mihi institutum meum prosequenti succrevit, opposita sunt. Factum hinc, ut non tantùm ea omnia, quæ adversus me, Eremitanum inprimis illud è porta eburnea somnium refellentem, scripta sunt, sed pleraque etiam Cl. Vedrosio, cui & ipsi minimè arduum fuisset idoneam defensionem parare, si per crebra negotia, quibus in gravi & exercita statione distringitur, integrum fuisset, objecta, nominatim inde à pag. 459. de asservatione Eucharistiæ, de Confessione Secreta, Humanis Satisfactionibus, Sacrificio Missæ, Canone & Ceremoniis Missæ, Cœlibatus Voto, Sacerdotum Cœlibatu, Purgatorio, Invocatione Sanctorum, Reliquiarum Cultu, Veneratione Imaginum, Monachatu, Consiliis Evangelicis, Delectu Ciborum, Jejuniis Statis & Quadragesima; ita limam meam subierint, ut quoad rei summam, nihil intactum omiserim. De cætero profiteor, mihi contentionem esse cum Augustino Reding, *non cum Abbate, vel S. R. I. Principe, salvúmque adeò & illibatum velle honorem ejus fastigii, ad quod ascendit. Verborum acerbitatem & linguæ intemperiem vitare studui. Sicubi tamen asperiora verba excidisse videri possunt, Adversarius ipse sibi choreæ hujus præsultori, & nimiùm patientiam lædenti, imputabit. Eum certè funem ducentem secutus sum impare gradu, valdéque intra exemplum substiti. Faxit Deus T. O. PRÆFATIO NOVISSIMA.

Rem dicturus Historicus ab origine & principio debet exordiri. Ita præcipit Lucianus, & ita præcipiunt omnes. Nos itaque ab origine & principio Regum Tyrorum exordiemur. Quæ autem sit origo & principium Regum Tyrorum, ex Historia Phœnicum Sanchoniathonis, quam Philo Byblius Græcè vertit, & ex Annalibus Tyriorum, quos Menander Ephesius Græcè scripsit, petemus.

non lædunter. Tangitur, non ſternitur Religio. Vinciuntur, vincuntur, cœduntur homines, pereunt chartæ, ſyllabæ torquentur. At Veritas inviĉta, immortalis, & omnibus vinculis exſoluta ſuos æternitatis mercede tandem cultores, & aſſertores beabit. Cùm ergo hac loſigine & ſepia Anatomen de monumentis librorum & mentium humanarum deleri non poſſe facilè animus ejus oſoribus præſagiret, aliam quercum excutere, alium arietem admovere placuit, ut videlicet falſitati & tyrannidi apertæ, quam Anatome quaſſaverat, veritatis & juſtitiæ ſucus induceretur. Nam Pontificis ipſius juſſu apud Helvetios Nuntius ejus Odoardus Cybo, ex Principibus Maſſæ, Cardinalis Alderani Cybo germanus, & ex Sorore Leonis X. nepos (ſi Adverſario in dedicatione ita ſcribenti credere fas eſt) Fani Eremitani in vicinia noſtra Præſuli, D. Auguſtino Reding, cujus pridem mihi, propter proditum è porta eburnea Divæ Einſidlenſis, & Sacelli eidem à Chriſto conſecrati nobile ſomnium illud, infenſi, jam tum per plura ſcripta in orbe nomen claruerat, neque minùs in certamine mecum inito Zelus & induſtria emicuerat, id negotii dedit, ut abſque mora adverſus Anatomen calamum ſtringeret, &, ſi quem poſſet, ſcorpionem vulneri huic novo, Papatui Tridentino inflicto, illideret. Haud equidem ille calcari, ſed fræno potiùs ad decurrendum in hac palæſtra indiguit, ὁμοιω ἵπποις ἡτοιμασμένοις εἰς πόλεμον. ſimilis (Apocalyptico) equo ad bellum parato, Apoc. IX. 7. pue operam dediſſe, ut partim mole incondita librorum, partim ſermonis obſcuritate (non minùs enim ille clarus ob obſcuram linguam eſt, quàm olim Heraclitus fuit) Meduſæum veluti jubar quoddam ex oculis, vel potiùs calamo ſuo adverſus me vibraret, & repente attonitum metúque exanimem, à meditanda adornandáque communis cauſæ defenſione cohiberet. Et terruit me, fateor, juxta Callimachi illud, μέγα βιβλίον μέγα κακόν, Magnus Liber Magnum Malum; perculitque adeò tam teter & horrendus tot voluminum, Cimmeriis inculti barbaríque ſermonis tenebris immerſorum, obtutus, ut ancipites animo curas volutarim diu, an è re foret, aliorum haud fortè minùs utilium operum lucubrandorum deſtinationem abrumpere, & denuo, ſuſcepta veluti Θησεμαχία quadam, ſtudiorum meorum cymbam vaſto turbidóque huic contentionum pelago committere, ex quo, an per totam vitam meam reliquam ad tranquillitatis portum aliquem eluctari detur, ambiguum eſſet. Nec deerant amici, præcipui etiam in Eccleſia nominis, propoſiti, prout diverſæ rationes animos ſubiverunt, ſuaſores diſſuaſoréſque. Subductis tandem rationum omnium calculis, communis cauſæ neutiquam deſerendæ neceſſitate me adigi putavi, ut denuo, DEO Duce aſcito, oneri huic ſuccollarem; de inſtituti, dum vitam mihi, vitæ & mortis Arbiter Unicus prorogaret, & animi corporiſque vires corroboraret, ſucceſſu planè ſecurus. Neque enim ſemel memoriam animúmque meum ferierunt decantata illa Hieronymi contra Rufinum lib. III. verba: Canes latrant pro dominis ſuis. Tu me non vis latrare pro Chriſto, veritate? Mori poſſum, tacere non poſſum. Etiam alta mente repoſtum manebat illud, quòd Antichriſti fata non vi ulla externa, ſed ſolo Spiritu Oris Chriſti, hoc eſt, verbo ejus, & demonſtratione veritatis ex eodem ad omnem conſcientiam, maturare conveniat. Verbo mundus creatus eſt: verbo victus: Verbo ſervata eſt Eccleſia: Verbo reparabitur. Sicut ſine manu Antichriſtus cœpit, operante ſenſim myſterio iniquitatis: ita ſine manu, per verbum Chriſti, & demonſtrationem Spiritus conteretur. In eo ergo unicè deſudandum putavi ſemper, ut detecta ex Dei verbo falſitate, & in arce collocata Veritate Evangelii, minuatur, & in animis hominum vileſcat Antichriſtus. Hic unus efficaciſſimus modus, eſt, quo illum καθεγηῶς antiquari, & ad incitas redigi oportet. Nun-quam enim vis corporibus & fortunis illata animos, Regni Christi sedem unicam, mutavit, vel veritatis iisdem amorem instillavit. quin odii potiùs scintillas in iisdem suscitare, animúmque in errore obfirmare apta nata est. Solo igitur puróque asserendæ, & à strophis humano ingenio excogitatis vindicandæ veritatis Zelo motus (unicam hanc propositi mei causam esse, DEUS & conscientia, qua nullum amplius theatrum habeo, mihi testis est,) rem aggressus sum, animi recta πληροφορίᾳ id mihi dictante, laborem hunc durum neque Deo, qui Veritas ipsissima est, posse displicere, neque bono cuiquam improbari. Egíque rem non levi brachio, & desultoriè, sed seriò, modestè, quantum per Adversarium; cujus confidentia, & subinde protervia frangenda fuit; licuit, & cordatè adeò, non semel ad animum mihi revocans decantatum illud Magni Lutheri apophtegma: Pigrè refutare, est bis confirmare. Proin etiam adversantes, qui opum aut honorum auctoramento doctrinam, scientiam, ingenii vim omnem & conscientiam suam alienæ cupiditati addixerunt, quamvis eos, Pelidæ stomacho cedere nescio præditos, à proposito, quod mala mente & consilio susceperunt, me absterriturum diffido; causam tamen adeò deploratam, apertè adeò convictam, posthac non ausuros tanto animo, tantáque confidentia defendere spero. Quam verò in decurrendo hoc stadio omni rationem iniverim, paucis nunc accipe. Anatome nostra Concilii Tridentini tum historiam, tum dogmata ad incudem revocaverat. Vestigia hæc lecturus Adversarius meus tum historiam Concilii, tum dogmata ab eodem definita adversus ea, quæ utrorumque integritatem & veritatem appetierant, vindicare annixus est. Ego ὕστερον πρότερον occupandum duxi, ratus videlicet, ἐνὸς ἀναγκαίου unum necessarium esse, ut quicquid de historia, ejúsque fide & integritate fiat, Religio saltem, dogmatum veritate constans, tuta in arce collocetur. Hinc nata duo illa volumina, in quibus Anatome ipsa, post distracta pridem ejus exemplaria, grandiori paulò charactere, (nam vetera & nova literarum figura disparavimus) denuo repræsentata, non pœnitenda accessione eorum, quibus Adversarii tum Responsiones ad argumenta veritatis, tum ἀνασκευὰς ad Responsiones Objectionibus perhibitas excipere & diluere debui, aucta comparent. THE RELATIONS BETWEEN THE CONSTANTS OF THE ELLIPSOID OF REFERENCE.

By Lieut.-Colonel A. R. Clarke, C.B., R.E., F.R.S.

The ellipsoid of reference is defined by the equation $\frac{x^2}{a^2} + \frac{y^2}{b^2} + \frac{z^2}{c^2} = 1$, where a, b, c are the semi-axes, and the origin is the centre of the ellipsoid. The axes of x, y, z are the axes of the principal sections, and the axis of z is the axis of rotation. The plane of xz is the plane of the meridian of Greenwich, and the plane of yz is the plane of the meridian of 90° E. longitude. The plane of xy is the plane of the equator.

The ellipsoid is determined when the values of a and b are known, and the value of c is then given by the equation $c = b\sqrt{1 - e'^2}$, where e' is the eccentricity of the meridian. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and e' are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = a\sqrt{1 - e'^2}$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and c are known, and the value of e' is then given by the equation $e' = \sqrt{1 - \frac{c^2}{a^2}}$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and c are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \frac{b}{\sqrt{1 - e'^2}}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the flattening f are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = a(1 - f)$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the flattening f are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \frac{b}{1 - f}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the reciprocal flattening $\frac{1}{f}$ are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = a\left(1 - \frac{1}{f}\right)$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the reciprocal flattening $\frac{1}{f}$ are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \frac{b}{1 - \frac{1}{f}}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the eccentricity e are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = a\sqrt{1 - e^2}$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the eccentricity e are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \frac{b}{\sqrt{1 - e^2}}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the second eccentricity e' are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = a\sqrt{1 - e'^2}$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the second eccentricity e' are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \frac{b}{\sqrt{1 - e'^2}}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the parameter p are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = \frac{p}{a}$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the parameter p are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \frac{p}{b}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the linear eccentricity $\sqrt{a^2 - b^2}$ are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = \sqrt{a^2 - \left(\sqrt{a^2 - b^2}\right)^2}$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the linear eccentricity $\sqrt{a^2 - b^2}$ are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \sqrt{b^2 + \left(\sqrt{a^2 - b^2}\right)^2}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the mean radius $\frac{2a + b}{3}$ are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = 3\left(\frac{2a + b}{3}\right) - 2a$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the mean radius $\frac{2a + b}{3}$ are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \frac{3\left(\frac{2a + b}{3}\right) - b}{2}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the radius of the sphere of equal volume $\sqrt[3]{a^2 b}$ are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = \frac{\left(\sqrt[3]{a^2 b}\right)^3}{a^2}$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the radius of the sphere of equal volume $\sqrt[3]{a^2 b}$ are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \sqrt{\frac{\left(\sqrt[3]{a^2 b}\right)^3}{b}}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the radius of the sphere of equal surface $\sqrt{\frac{2a^2 + b^2}{2}}$ are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = \sqrt{2\left(\frac{2a^2 + b^2}{2}\right) - 2a^2}$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the radius of the sphere of equal surface $\sqrt{\frac{2a^2 + b^2}{2}}$ are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \sqrt{\frac{2\left(\frac{2a^2 + b^2}{2}\right) - b^2}{2}}$.

The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of a and the radius of the sphere of equal volume $\sqrt[3]{a^2 b}$ are known, and the value of b is then given by the equation $b = \frac{\left(\sqrt[3]{a^2 b}\right)^3}{a^2}$. The ellipsoid is also determined when the values of b and the radius of the sphere of equal volume $\sqrt[3]{a^2 b}$ are known, and the value of a is then given by the equation $a = \sqrt{\frac{\left(\sqrt[3]{a^2 b}\right)^3}{b}}$.

Clemens Episcopus servus servorum Dei, ad perpetuam rei memoriam. Unigenitus Dei Filius, qui ad hoc de sinu Patris descendit, ut humanum genus a potestate tenebrarum eriperet, et ad regnum celeste reduceret, ipsum sua ineffabili misericordia assumendo, et in sua persona passionem crucis subeundo, ac mortem, ad quam nullo debito tenebatur, pro nobis et pro nostra salute voluntarie recipiendo, ad quam nos ex culpa primi parentis, qui per inobedientiam suam mortem et omnes miserias introduxerat in mundum, eramus omnes obligati, ipsum, inquam, adverſentur etiam, dilucidè exponitur. Ubi præ cæteris Regnum & Eccleſiam Gallicanam, utpote quæ cladem Monarchiæ Papæ machinetur, & ſplendorem atque potentiam Aulæ Romanæ infringere unicè conſtitutum habeat, à Religioſa Politice ad eum modum informata, quàm maximè abhorrere oſtenditur. Concludit denique, quòd Pallavicino arbitro, Concilium Tridentinum recipiendum & explicandum ſit ex ſenſu Politicæ Religioſæ, felicitatem hominis etiam ſecundum carnem in hoc & altero Seculo ſtatuminantis, & unius Papæ Monarchæ arbitrio, & poteſtatis pro lubitu omnia diſponentis, & canonibus etiam derogantis, plenitudini ſubjectæ, non Zelotarum ignorantium, idealem quandam & Platonicam Reformationem meditantium ſententiæ. Hac demum lege eventurum, ut Concilium iſthoc plus Eccleſiæ incrementi & utilitatis afferat, quàm ei calamitatis Lutherus ejúſque hæreſis inflixit; Religióque adeò Papalis contra omnes hæreticos, infideles, Atheos, quos arrogantia ad oppugnandum publicis etiam ſcriptis Tridentinum Concilium impulit, immota & inconcuſſa perſtet. Dubitari enim nullo modo poſſe, quin Spiritus S. peculiari ratione Concilium iſthoc direxerit, ne quid inde detrimenti Eccleſia capiat, cùm ipſi etiam hæretici adoptaverint verba decantata Ludovici Lanſaci, Regis Galliarum Legati, à Pallavicino lib. Roma Tridentum in Bulga ablegaverit. Hoc illud novum Evangelium eſt, quod Adverſarius etiam noſter, qui Pallavicini, novi ſcilicet Politices Religioſæ Machiavelli, ſicut Civilis infamis ille Florentinus fuit, totidem verba ſua fecit, veluti Sacrum quoddam Spiritus S. germen, & prognatam è cerebro Jovis Palladem, tum adoravit ipſe, tum adorandam nobis propinavit. Neque profectò mirum eſt, Pallavicino, talibus ſcilicet Chriſtiano homine indigniſſimis opinionibus imbuto, Romanam Curiam demandaſſe provinciam defendendi, vel mitigandi etiam detectas à Suavi artes ejuſdem Curiæ pudendas, quibus ad opprimendam in Concilio veritatem & libertatem omnem uſa eſt. Atque hæc eruiſſe & propalaſſe, niſi fallor, totum Pallavicinum, atque eadem opera ejus Compilatorem Redingium, refutaſſe eſt. INDEX III. SPECIALIS Quæstionum Theologicarum, juxta Locos Communes dispositarum.

I.
DE VERBO DEI.

2. An Veritas & disciplina Evangelii contineatur tum Verbo Dei scripto, tum traditionibus ex ore Christi ab Apostolis acceptis, & ab Apostolis Spiritu S. dictante per manus traditis, pari cum Verbo scripto pietatis affectu ac reverentia suscipiendis? 119.

2. An præter libros Canonicos Vet. Test. utrimque receptos, ad Canonem etiam pertineant libri Tobiæ, Iudith, Estheris, Sapientiæ, Ecclesiastici, duo Macchabæorum, Baruchi, additamenta ad Estherem & Danielem? 137.

3. An vulgata versio Latina in publicis lectionibus, disputationibus, prædicationibus & expositionibus pro authentica haberi debeat, ita ut nemo illam rejicere quovis prætextu audeat? 149.

4. An Christiani in rebus fidei & morum non alium sensum complecti debeant, quàm quem tenet Romana Ecclesia, & unanimis consensus Patrum? 161.

II.
DE PRÆDESTINATIONE.

5. An quilibet homo justificatus teneatur ex fide credere, se esse ex numero prædestinatorum? 427.

III.
DE PECCATO.

6. Qua in re sita sit peccati Originalis essentia? 187.

7. An per Iesu Christi gratiam in baptismo collatam tollatur peccatum Originale, & quoad reatum & quoad maculam, adeóque totum id, quòd veri peccati rationem habet? 196.

8. An beata Virgo, Dei genitrix, fuerit in peccato originali concepta? 210.

9. An jure Reformati accusentur, quòd statuant, Deum esse autorem peccati, quippe qui peccata operetur solus, ut in potestate impiorum non sit vias suas malas facere? 304.

10. An

10. An Opera omnia, quæ ante regenerationem fiunt, sint vera peccata, odii Dei meritoria? 319.

11. An timor gehennæ in nondum justificatis sit peccatum, an potiùs via & dispositio ad justificationem? 328.

IV.

DE POENA PECCATI.

12. An infantes ante baptismum decedentes, propter peccati originalis reatum puniantur pœna damni in limbo, non pœna sensus in gehenna? 222.

13. An post acceptam justificationis gratiam cuilibet pœnitenti ita culpa remittatur, & reatus æternæ pœnæ deleatur, ut nullus maneat reatus pœnæ temporalis exsolvendæ, vel in hoc sæculo, vel in futuro, nempe in Purgatorio? 504.

V.

DE LIBERO ARBITRIO.

14. An liberum arbitrium à gratia prævenium, motum & excitatum, Deo excitanti & vocanti assentiendo ita cooperari possit, ut ad gratiam justificationis obtinendam se disponat ac præparet? 261.

15. An gratiæ convertenti, prævenienti & excitanti arbitrium ità dissentiri & resistere possit, ut gratiæ effectus nullus sequatur? 276.

16. An post Adami peccatum Liberum Arbitrium hominis ita sit amissum & extinctum, ut ante regenerationem in spiritualibus penitus nihil valeat? 290.

VI.

DE LEGE, in specie, DE CULTU SANCTORUM.

17. An homini etiam justificato & sub gratia constituto, Dei præcepta observatu sint possibilia? 436.

18. An Christus Iesus hominibus à Deo datus sit, ut Redemptor tantùm, cui fidant, non etiam ut Legislator, cui obediant? 453.

19. An Vota Pontificia detrahant voto & promissioni in Baptismo factæ? 683.

VII.

DE CHRISTO MEDIATORE.

20. An Christus Iesus hominibus à Deo datus sit ut Redemptor tantùm, cui confidant, non etiam ut Legislator, cui obediant? 453.

21. An Christus pro omnibus & singulis hominibus sit mortuus? 337.

23. An baptizati per baptismum in conscientia liberentur ab ecclesiasticis mandatis, sive scriptis sive traditis? 661.

24. An Ecclesiæ competat vera jurisdictio, & præfectura externa, authoritativa, principalis, αὐτεξούσιος, cujus vi ejus præfectis Episcopis fas sit, non tantùm leges condere per se conscientias obligantes, & de Verbo Dei ac rebus fidei judicare, sed etiam subjectos censuris, & pœnis propriè dictis coërcere? 894.

IX.
DE CONCILIIS.

25. An ordinaria & perpetua potestas convocandi Concilium Generale & Oecumenicum sit penes Romanum Pontificem? 16.

26. An in Concilio Generali suffragandi potestas ordinariè sit penes solos Prælatos majores, hoc est, Episcopos & Archiepiscopos: extraordinariè verò penes Cardinales, Abbates, Generales Ordinum? 27.

27. An eorum qui in Concilio res dubias fidei, & morum definiunt, sententia ita sit judicialis, ut ea lata perinde standum sit, atque statur sententia Prætoris in causis politicis? 36.

28. An in Concilio Christiano generali & legitimo jus præsidendi habeat Episcopus Romanus vel immediatè per se, vel mediate per Legatos? 52.

X.
DE SACRAMENTIS IN GENERE.

29. An Sacramenta N. T. non sint plura vel pauciora, quàm septem, videlicet Baptismus, Confirmatio, Eucharistia, Pœnitentia, Extrema unctio, Ordo, Matrimonium: & quidem singula à Domino nostro Iesu Christo instituta? 561.

30. An Sacramenta V. & N. Test. hactenus differant, quòd illa quidem figuraverint gratiam Christi, hæc eandem conferant & obsignent? 572.

31. An Sacramenta N. T. ita operentur gratiam, ut eam ex opere operato, sive adsit fides & devotio, sive non, efficiant & contineant: an potius sint signa & sigilla efficacia gratiæ?

32. An

AD BULLAM INDICTIONIS CONCILII.

BUlla Indictionis Pauli III. è Farneſiorum proſapia oriundi, præ ſe fert vehemens ſtudium celebrandi Concilii Generalis. In quo, ſiquidem ſincerum, non ſimulatum ejus ſtudium fuit, multum à Prædeceſſorum ſuorum moribus ac ingenio diſceſſerit oportet. Eos enim à pii, Chriſtiani ac liberi Concilii mentione abhorruiſſe toto pectore, multa nobis fidem facere poſſunt. Etenim Leonem X. quod attinet, præcipuum ſchiſmatis authorem, is jam Anno 1520. die 15. Junii emiſſo diplomate Lutherum, eiúsque dogmata quadraginta & unum obelo confixit, non aliis quam Cardinalibus ſuis & aulicis ſuffragatoribus. Quòd ſi in Chriſtianum Concilium favor ejus inclinavit, cur jam tum decretariam ſententiam tulit, & non potiùs totam cauſam ad Chriſtianum Concilium retulit? Idem Leo poſtea, cùm & Lutherus, & Principes ac Optimates, & populus, & aula Romana Concilium omnes, non eodem licet animo, expeterent, univerſale quidem & liberum Concilium, utpote periculoſæ plenum aleæ, rerúmque à ſe ſecius geſtarum reformationem poſt ſe tracturum, planè averſatus eſt, & Concilium aliquod vel Romæ, vel alio aliquo ditionis Eccleſiaſticæ oppido, tale nimirum, quale erat Lateranenſe, à ſe & anteceſſore Julio, magno ſuo bono celebratum, convocare inſtituit. Sed in hoc rerum ſtatu ſub finem Anni 1521. vitam cum morte commutavit. Ei ſucceſſit Adrianus VI. Ejus in Inſtructione, quam, Franciſco Cheregato Nuntio Noribergam amandato impertiverat, hæc confeſſio fuit: Ex peccatis hominum maximè ſacerdotum & Præſulum natam hanc rerum perturbationem; etiam in ipſa ſancta ſede ab aliquot annis abominanda pleraque perpetrata; multos fuiſſe abuſus in ſpiritualibus, multos exceſſus in præceptis; denique omnia ſic in deterius mutata, ut lues à capite ad membra, à ſummis Pontificibus ad minores Præſules devergens, latè ſe diffuderit, ac vix unus aliquis reperiatur rectè faciens, atque ab ea labe immunis. Itaque curiæ Romanæ emendationem ſibi curæ eſſe teſtatus equidem eſt. Sed pium, liberum & Chriſtianum Concilium, in quo non abuſus duntaxat curiæ emendarentur, ſed religio etiam collapſa reſtaura-

Papa, ipſo ſuæ ſibi mentis optimè conſcius, vanum eſſe. Farneſius Pontificius Legatus cum Cæſare in Belgium profectus, ſuadentibus aliis concordiam cum Proteſtantibus in Colloquio ineundam, quo expeditiores ſint contra Turcam, deliberationi illi nomine Pontificis oppoſuit: E duobus malis eligendum eſſe minus, cùm majus malum ſit religionis cauſa prodita offendere Deum, quàm parte aliqua auxiliorum unius provinciæ carere. Maximè cùm non facile ſit diſcernere, qui Chriſto magis adverſentur, Proteſtantes an Turcæ. Hos enim corpora ſervitute premere, illos corpora & animas exitio devovere. Quam igitur ſpem de tam difficili & iniquo Pontifice conciperet Cæſar? Præterea nec illud percipi poteſt, quid ſit diſcriminis inter prorogationem & ſuſpenſionem Concilii ad beneplacitum Papæ. Niſi forte in prorogatione terminus temporis definitur, non item in ſuſpenſione. At ſatis conſtat ex iis, quæ diximus, etſi terminus temporis in diplomatibus definitus fuiſſet, tamen in conſilio Papæ nunquam definitum fuiſſe. Sed nimirum rebus ipſis & eventu cognitum eſt, non alias eſſe ſuſpenſionis ad beneplacitum Papæ cauſas, quàm quas nos ſubindigitavimus. In proximo enim conventu, ad diſcordias terminandas Ratisbonæ, præſente ipſo Imperatore, habito, nomine Pontificis ſolicitati à Cæſare, ut mitteret virum doctum & prudentem, ampliſſima authoritate munitum, quò neceſſe non ſit Romam mittere, ſed penes eum ſit immediatè definire, quæ ordines cum Legato Eccleſiæ bono conducere judicabunt; comparuit Caſpar Contarenus Cardinalis, cum mandato Papæ: Ut ſi quid, quod ad authoritatem Pontificiam imminuendam faceret, geri perſentiſceret, actionem eam interpellaret, propoſito unico Concilii generalis remedio. Cùm igitur Collocutores in eo Conventu delecti, à parte Proteſtantium Philippus Melanchthon, Bucerus & Piſtorius, à parte Papiſtarum Eccius, Pflugius & Groppperus, præſidentibus Palatino & Granvellano, in nonnullis fidei articulis convenirent, diſſentirent autem potiſſimùm in articulis de eccleſiæ poteſtate, pœnitentia ſacramento, hierarchia, articulis ab eccleſia determinatis, de cœlibatu; cúmque conſenſum illum & diſſenſum cum Contareno communicaret Cæſar, ut articulis conciliatis authoritatem præſtaret, reſpondit: Exiſtimare ſe, ad Pontificem & Sedem Apoſtolicam actionem omnem eſſe referendam. Illum per Concilium publicum brevi convocandum, aut aliam rationem temporis accommodatam, juxta veritatem catholicam omnia eſſe definiturum. Hinc genuinus uſus illius ſuſpenſionis ad beneplacitum Papæ agnoſci poteſt, ut nimirum tantiſper non indicatur, quoad à Concilio Nationali vel Provinciali metus non imminebit: ubi verò imminebit, hoc veluti φοβήτρα quodam adverſarii Papæ abſterreantur. Plura ſunt in Bulla hac animadverſione digna, in primis illud de ſcopo Papæ Concilium indicentis. Cæterùm de eo in Notis ad hiſtoriam Seſſionis 1. uberiùs ξὺν Θεῷ dicturi ſumus. Etiam illud cenſurâ dignißimum eſt, quòd Paulus ſe Niceam, ctus in Bulla profitetur, verbis tamen nimium figuratis, se ut hominem circumdatum infirmitate, ad tantum onus tollendum imparem esse. Tam egregio scilicet authore Tridentinum Concilium concitum erat! Hæc de Historia Indictionis Concilii præfati, ex eadem Indictionis Bulla quæstiones Theologicas excerpemus.

QUÆSTIONES THEOLOGICÆ
Ad Bullam Indictionis;
DE CONCILIIS ET POTESTATE PAPÆ.

QUÆSTIO I.
An ordinaria & perpetua potestas convocandi Concilium Generale & Oecumenicum sit penes Romanum Pontificem?

ITa sentit Bulla Indictionis. Nec aliam ob rationem Paulus III. Concilii convocandi potestatem sibi arrogavit. Cardilli Villalpandei Hispani, qui ipse ab Episcopo Abulensi missus Concilio interfuit, & librum de Conciliis scripsit, in defensione Concilii Tridentini Disp. 1. hæc sunt verba: Vis & facultas indicendi, cogendi & celebrandi Oecumenicam Synodum, non ad Imperatorem, sed ad Pontificem maximum pertinet. Etiam ante Paulum Leo X. in Concilio Lateranensi edixit, solum Pontificem Romanum, tanquam authoritatem super omnia habentem Concilia, plenum eorum indicendorum, transferendorum ac dissolvendorum jus ac potestatem obtinere. Nos tale jus Pontifici competere negamus, & asserimus, penes summum Magistratum illud esse, si consentiens & conjunctus est; & eo vel non consentiente, indulgente tamen, vel non conjuncto, penes eos, quibus Ecclesiæ regendæ potestas competit.

ARG. I. Pontifex jus hoc convocandi nec ex verbo Dei, nec ex delegatione Ecclesiæ seu universitatis fidelium habet. Nullo igitur modo ei competit.

Respondet Aug. Reding: Ex verbo Dei Papa potestatem eam habet, quia ceu Petri successor (Matth. XVI. 18. 19.) fundamentum est ecclesiæ, habens potestatem clavium, adeoque judiciariam & legislativam summam, ad quam jus convocandi Concilia pertinet. Tract. Procemial.

Cæsar. Let me have men about me that are fat,
Sleek-headed men, and such as sleep a-nights:
Yond Cassius has a lean and hungry look;
He thinks too much: such men are dangerous.

Ant. Fear him not, Cæsar, he's not dangerous;
He is a noble Roman, and well given.

Cæsar. Would he were fatter! But I fear him not:
Yet if my name were liable to fear,
I do not know the man I should avoid
So soon as that spare Cassius. He reads much;
He is a great observer, and he looks Quite through the deeds of men. He loves no plays,
As thou do'st, Antony; he hears no music:
Seldom he smiles, and smiles in such a sort
As if he mock'd himself, and scorn'd his spirit
That could be moved to smile at any thing.
Such men as he be never at heart's ease
Whiles they behold a greater than themselves,
And therefore are they very dangerous.
I rather tell thee what is to be fear'd
Than what I fear; for always I am Cæsar.
Come on my right hand, for this ear is deaf,
And tell me truly what thou think'st of him.

[Sennet. Exeunt Cæsar and all his Train but Casca.

Casca. You pull'd me by the cloak; would you speak with me?

Brut. Ay, Casca; tell us what hath chanced to-day,
That Cæsar looks so sad.

Casca. Why, you were with him, were you not?

Brut. I should not then ask Casca what had chanced.

Casca. Why, there was a crown offered him: and being offered him, he put it by with the back of his hand, thus; and then the people fell a shouting.

Brut. What was the second noise for?

Casca. Why, for that too.

Cass. They shouted thrice: what was the last cry for?

Casca. Why, for that too.

Brut. Was the crown offered him thrice?

Casca. Ay, marry, was't, and he put it by thrice, every time gentler than other; and at every putting-by mine honest neighbours shouted.

Cass. Who offered him the crown?

Casca. Why, Antony.

Brut. Tell us the manner of it, gentle Casca.

Casca. I can as well be hanged as tell the manner of it: it was mere foolery; I did not mark it. I saw Mark Antony offer him a crown; yet 'twas not a crown neither, 'twas one of these coronets; and, as I told you, he put it by once: but for all that, to my thinking, he would fain have had it. Then he offered it to him again; then he put it by again: but, to my thinking, he was very loath to lay his fingers off it. And then he offered it the third time; he put it the third time by: and still as he refused it, the rabblement hooted, and clapped their chopped hands, and threw up their sweaty caps, and uttered such a deal of stinking breath because Cæsar refused the crown, that it had almost choked Cæsar; for he swooned and fell down at it: and for mine own part, I durst not laugh, for fear of opening my lips and receiving the bad air.

Cass. But, soft, I pray you: what, did Cæsar swoon?

Casca. He fell down in the market-place, and foamed at mouth, and was speechless.

Brut. 'Tis very like: he hath the falling-sickness.

Cass. No, Cæsar hath it not; but you, and I, and honest Casca, we have the falling-sickness.

Casca. I know not what you mean by that; but I am sure Cæsar fell down. If the tag-rag people did not clap him and hiss him, according as he pleased and displeased them, as they use to do the players in the theatre, I am no true man.

Brut. What said he when he came unto himself?

Casca. Marry, before he fell down, when he perceived the common herd was glad he refused the crown, he plucked me ope his doublet, and offered them his throat to cut. An I had been a man of any occupation, if I would not have taken him at a word, I would I might go to hell among the rogues. And so he fell. When he came to himself again, he said, if he had done or said any thing amiss, he desired their worships to think it was his infirmity. Three or four wenches, where I stood, cried, "Alas, good soul!" and forgave him with all their hearts: but there's no heed to be taken of them; if Cæsar had stabbed their mothers, they would have done no less.

Brut. And after that he came, thus sad, away?

Casca. Ay.

Cass. Did Cicero say any thing?

Casca. Ay, he spoke Greek.

Cass. To what effect?

Casca. Nay, an I tell you that, I'll ne'er look you i' the face again: but those that understood him smiled at one another, and shook their heads; but for mine own part, it was Greek to me. I could tell you more news too: Marullus and Flavius, for pulling scarfs off Cæsar's images, are put to silence. Fare you well. There was more foolery yet, if I could remember it.

Cass. Will you sup with me to-night, Casca?

Casca. No, I am promised forth.

Cass. Will you dine with me to-morrow?

Casca. Ay, if I be alive, and your mind hold, and your dinner worth the eating.

Cass. Good: I will expect you.

Casca. Do so. Farewell, both.

[Exit.

Brut. What a blunt fellow is this grown to be!
He was quick mettle when he went to school.

Cass. So is he now in execution
Of any bold or noble enterprise,
However he puts on this tardy form.
This rudeness is a sauce to his good wit,
Which gives men stomach to digest his words
With better appetite.

Brut. And so it is. For this time I will leave you:
To-morrow, if you please to speak with me,
I will come home to you; or, if you will,
Come home to me, and I will wait for you.

Cass. I will do so: till then, think of the world.

[Exit Brutus.

Well, Brutus, thou art noble; yet I see Thy honourable metal may be wrought
From what it is disposed: therefore it is meet
That noble minds keep ever with their likes;
For who so firm that cannot be seduced?
Cæsar doth bear me hard; but he loves Brutus:
If I were Brutus now, and he were Cassius,
He should not humour me. I will this night,
In several hands, in at his windows throw,
As if they came from several citizens,
Writings, all tending to the great opinion
That Rome holds of his name; wherein obscurely Cæsar's ambition shall be glanced at:
And after this let Cæsar seat him sure,
For we will shake him, or worse days endure.

OBIECT. IV. Illius eſt cogere Concilium, qui Chriſtianos de rebus fidei poteſt inſtruere. Hoc autem poſſunt Sacerdotes, non Cæſares. Scipio Meſſanenſis lib. cit. Reſp. 1. In Concilio diſtinguenda ſunt ea, quæ pertinent ad ordinem, ab iis, quæ pertinent ad ejus cauſam, quæ merè eſt Eccleſiaſtica. Quæ ordinis ſunt, pertinent ad Poteſtatem civilem. Cauſa verò eſt Chriſti, & diſceptatur ab iis, qui ejus nomine in Concilio congregantur. Fallit igitur antecedens, quia coactio Concilii pertinet ad ordinem, adeóque eſt ſummi Magiſtratûs: inſtructio autem de rebus fidei ad cauſam, quæ diſceptatur ab iis, qui ad Concilium vocantur, quales ſunt Paſtores, Doctores, aliſque ab Eccleſia delegati. 2. Ipſa quoque inſtructio de rebus fidei quomodo competere potuerit circa tempora Concilij Epiſcopis pleriſque omnibus Pontificiis, judicent æqui æſtimatores. Ipſe Claudius Eſpenſæus ementitum ſchema perſonatis illis Epiſcopis detrahit his verbis: Certè ex noſtratibus Epiſcopis, qui Tridenti & Bononiæ pars aliquota fuerunt, nemo per ſe, quod quidem audiverim, docet. Ludimúsne in re adeò ſeria? An potiùs hac decretorum ſpecie reformationem poſcentibus illudimus? Confer ejusdem concionem Bellovaci habitam p. m. 918. &c. Et dicamus quod res eſt, nimirum in Papatu nihil humilius, nihil cura Epiſcopi indignius cenſeri, quàm inſtruere de rebus fidei, docere, prædicare.

byteris diſtincti. Cardinalitia dignitas ne priſcæ quidem eccleſiæ nota fuit. Abbatis in hodierna notione & nomen & res tum Scripturæ, tum Antiquitati eſt incognita.

RESPONDET AUG. REDING: 1. De inſtitutione Epiſcoporum, Cardinalium, Abbatum aliàs. 2. Cùm ea demum Concilia legitima ſint, quæ congreganturin nomine Chriſti, ſeu auctoritate ejus vicaria in Papa reſidente, atque Epiſcopi, Cardinales, Abbates à Pontifice in partem ſollicitudinis Paſtoralis vocati ſint, meritò illi, ac nominatim etiam Monachorum præfecti, Abbates ad ſuffragandum, ex antiquo Eccleſiæ in Viennenſi, Lugdunenſi, Lateranenſibus, ſeptimo Oriental Concilio, more vocantur. Atque ad eam rem Abbates ſe Pontifici juramento obſtringunt. Tract. I. pag. 79. Reſp. 1. De inſtitutione Epiſcoporum nos quoque alibi. Cardinales, Abbates Redingius tam bene ex jure Divino arceſſet, quàm eorundem miniſteria Secularia, ordines, & Papæ dominationem, cujus illi meri ſatellites tandem evaſerunt. 2. Quo ſenſu in nomine Chriſti congregentur fideles, ſupra vidimus. Neque hic diſputamus, in cujus ſollicitudinis partem Papa Epiſcopos, Cardinales, Abbates vocaverit, cùm certum ſit, ejuſdem vaſallos, & in adminiſtrando Regno ſub ſpecie ſpiritualium merè terreno ſive conſultores, ſive miniſtros eſſe omnes, juramento ad imperata facienda, & promovendum regnum obſtrictos. Hæc vera cauſa eſt, cur ſuffragatores eos, non alios pientiores doctioréſque etiam optet. 3. Cardinales, Abbates, quales inprimis hodie ſunt, fruſtra in veteribus Oecumenicis Conciliis requiras. Eorum ne nomina quidem, nedum rem in iis reperias. Martinus Archimandrita Concilio Chalcedonenſi ſubſcribere noluit, juſſitque Pulcheria ex eodem cœtu Monachos excludi, quia ſcilicet eorum eſt plangere, non docere. Si qui ſeriùs ſubſcripſiſſe in Conciliis, inprimis Florentino, Lateranenſi, Tridentino (in his enim Abbates & Generales ordinum ſubſcripſiſſe Bellarminus concedit) leguntur, novo inſtituto eccleſiæ collapſæ & Papali tyrannidi obnoxiæ, exempla ſunt, quæ authoritatem rei adferre nullam poſſunt.

ARG. II. In Synodo Hieroſolymitana, omnium Conciliorum norma, ſuffragati ſunt non Epiſcopi, Archiepiſcopi, Cardinales, Abbates, ſed Apoſtoli, Presbyteri & Eccleſia, Act. XV. 2. 16. 22. Vnde Paulus Act. XVI. 4. Civitatibus, per quas tranſibat, dicitur tradidiſſe δόγματα κεκριμένα τῶν Ἀποστόλων καὶ τῶν πρεσβυτέρων κεκριμένα. Quid eſt δόγμα κεκριμένον niſi ſententia judicata? Atqui ea tribuitur etiam Presbyteris.

RESP. REDING: Diſquiſitio quidem in Concilio facta eſt non à ſolis Apoſtolis, verùm etiam à Senioribus, ceu conſultatoribus; ſed definitiva ſententia à ſolis Apoſtolis lata eſt, utpote qui ſoli v. 7. 8–12. tacente totâ multitudine v. 12. loquentes introducuntur. Seniores verò & Eccleſia definitam ab Apoſtolis ſententiam ratam habuerunt, v. 22. Ib. p. 79. 80. Reſp. 1. Non dicam, in rebus fidei hominum non alias partes eſſe, quàm diſquirentium, conſultantium, non verò propriè in foro ſcilicet ſoli & conſcientiæ, definientium de quo infra. Inde ſaltem, quàm futile ſit conſultantium & definientium diſcrimen, liquet. 2. Numquid etiam Apoſtoli Presbyteris indigebant conſultoribus, ſicut Epiſcopi tui imperiti, quos pro veris Epiſcopis tamen habes, talibus Theologis ſcilicet, ipſi cauſſidici potiùs quàm Theologi, opus habent? Plus eſt bene conſulere, quàm ex conſilio aliorum rem definire. 3. Si illi, qui in Concilio locuti ſunt, rem definierunt ſoli, tum & Barnabas, qui Apo-bat, ad Legislatoris Politici authoritatem pertinere, Generale Concilium convocare, & personas idoneas ad hoc determinare. Ex quo etiam post Concilium Tridentinum Ranchinus in revisione mutuatus est.

RESP. REDING: Sensus Nicolai est, Imperatorem Concilio Oecumenico, non quâ judicem, sed qua primarium Ecclesiæ advocatum, interesse posse. lb. pag 83. Resp. 1. Ratio Nicolai repugnat. Quia scilicet fides universalis est, pertinens non ad clericos duntaxat, sed etiam laicos, omnesque Christianos; ideirco Imperator Conciliis ita interesse potest, ut non tantùm ceu advocatus & patronus Ecclesiæ, Papæ & Episcoporum oracula non explorata ad verbi Divini amussim, exosculetur, & invitis aliis violenter obtrudat; sed ut exploret, dijudicet spiritualiter, & discernat omnia, bonum retineat, quod Christianum quemvis, rectores inprimis communitatum, decet. Interfint igitur Imperatores oportet, non ut advocati, defensores, executores duntaxat, sed ut Moderatores supremi in iis, quæ externum ordinem spectant; ut Suffragatores primarii in iis, quæ fidei sunt, cùm eorum, ceu custodum utriusque tabulæ, referat fidem sartam tectámque perstare; ut Confirmatores primarii decretorum Synodi, quæ vim legum in externa Republica non aliunde consequuntur. quò inprimis pertinet ἐπικρίνειν seu judicium summis Potestatibus de decretis à Synodo jam latis competens. quod veteres verbis βεβαιῶν, ἐπιφραγίζειν, ἐπιψηφίζειν, κυρόῦν, ἐπικυροῦν τὰ πεπραγμένα, expressum, soli Summæ Potestati civili vindicarunt.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Pastoris, qui pascere, & sic docere, debet ut alii teneantur credere, est definire in Concilio credenda & agenda. Atqui soli Episcopi sunt Pastores. Resp. 1. nullam esse argumenti consecutionem, tum quia finis Conciliorum est, non verbo salutari præire populo, & Sacramenta administrare, quod facit Pastor, sed cognoscere sententias hæreticorum erroneas, eas ex Verbo Dei refellere & damnare, unitati Ecclesiæ consulere, agenda & credenda definire; quæ communia esse possunt Presbyteris, Pastoribus, Laicis dono & vocatione instructis: tum quia Papa jus suffragandi communicavit etiam non Pastoribus, quales Cardinales, Abbates, Generales. 2. Fallit etiam minor, tum quia Episcopi Pontificii non pascunt gregem, sed sunt cauſſidici plerique, & πᾶς ὁ βίου πραγματείας ἐμπλέκονται: tum quia ipsis Pontificiis dantur Parochi Curati, Episcoporum vice fungentes, non Episcopi; tum denique, quia nihil obstat, quò minùs nostri, qui Verbum Dei docent, & Sacramenta administrant, Pastores dicantur, qui Episcopi non sunt sensu Pontificio, sed ☐ִ֥ים inionum sensu Scripturæ.

EXCIPIT A. REDING: 1. Pascere est docere dogmata fidei. Docendi verò munus authoritativum non est nisi eorum, adeóque non competit nisi iis, quibus alii credere tenentur; qui in nomine Christi, vel vicarii Papæ, in Concilio conveniunt, & munus pascendi principale exercent, quod erga universalem Ecclesiam Papæ, erga partes, seu definitas Diœceses Episcopis competit. 2. Si qui Episcopi non pascunt vel docent gregem per se, pascunt paſcunt tamen per delegatos ſeu curatos: adeóque jus habent paſcendi, atque ita in Conciliis cum authoritate docere ac decernere poſſunt. Ib. pag. 83. Reſp. 1. Qui gregem Chriſti ordinariè pàſcit, dogmata fidei etiam doceat oportet. Neque tamen ideo quiſquis erroneam doctrinam refellit, damnat, & veram ex verbo Dei ſtatuminat, vel Paſtor eccleſiæ ordinarius, vel Epiſcopus Papalis à Presbyteris, aliiſque diſtinctus ſit oportet. 2. Docendi munus cum tali authoritate conjunctum, ut ad fidem ſimpliciter obligentur inferiores, non eſt niſi Chriſti, qui eo ſenſu ſolus Διδάσκαλος, Doctor & Rabbuni cluet, omnéſque alios Rabbi ſeu doctores appellari vetat, Matth. XXIII. 8. Jac. III. 1. Solus etiam ποιμὴν Paſtor & Paſtor bonus appellatur. Ne ipſi quidem Apoſtoli ea cum authoritate docuerunt, ut ad fidem ἀξιωματικῶς quenquam obligarent; utpote qui & manifeſtatione veritatis omnium conſcientiis ſe commendarunt, 2. Cor. IV. 2. & Spiritus quoſvis probare, an ex Deo ſint, juſſerunt, eo argumento, quòd Pſeudo-Prophetæ multi in mundum exiverint, 1. Joh. IV. 1. Qui igitur authoritativum ejuſmodi docendi munus ſibi rapiunt, in Chriſti ipſius munus involant. tantùm abeſt ut in Concilio vel ſoli ſuffragari poſſint, vel audiri etiam debeant; Tros Rutulúſve fuant. 3. Epiſcopi per delegatos, curatos paſcentes, docentes, ut ipſi interea negotiis hujus ſeculi ſecuriùs invigilare poſſint, Pſeud-epiſcopi ſunt, non ipſi in Concilio judices, ſed judicandi præ aliis. Sunt Epiſcopi veri mandatarii, quibus alios ſubſtituere nefas eſt. 4. Si Papa & Epiſcopi per alios docere, paſcere, concionari poſſunt, quidni etiam per alios, non Epiſcopos, ſed Presbyteros, Theologos, pios peritóſque Conciliaribus negotiis ſungi poterunt? Et ſi novellæ Papæ creaturæ, Cardinales, Generales & Abbates ordinum, qui paſtores non ſunt, imò quandoque imperitiſſimi omnium, ad id deputari, ut in Conciliis ſuffragentur, poſſunt: cur periti quivis alii, ſive ex clero, ſive ex populo ad deputationem ejuſmodi indigni inhabileſve cenſentur?

OBIECT. II. Presbyteri & Laici non repræſentant Eccleſiam, ſed ſoli Epiſcopi. Ergo non illi, ſed hi ſuffragari poſſunt. Reſp. 1. negari antecedens, tum quia in ſenſu Pontificio Eccleſia planè repræſentari non poteſt: tum quia ſano ſenſu extra ordinem Eccleſiam repræſentare poſſunt omnes ab ea delegati. 2. Negari ſequelam, tum quia Cardinales, Abbates Eccleſiam non repræſentantes, tamen ſuffragantur: tum quia ſic ſolus Papa, quippe quem ſolum pro repræſentativa Eccleſia habent gnathones ejus, ſuffragari poſſet: tum denique quia ad ſuffragandum ſufficit donum & vocatio.

EXCIP. REDINO: 1. Cur Eccleſia ab iis, qui nomine & authoritate Chriſti vicaria conveniunt, repræſentari non poſſit? 2. Abbates & Generales ordinum ex privilegio Apoſtolico participant de poteſtate ligandi & ſolvendi. Cum aliis igitur Eccleſiam repræſentant. Ib. pag. 83. 84. Reſp. 1. Repræſentatio Eccleſiæ Pontificiæ talis definitur, ut in repræſentantium fide, ſenſu & judicio Eccleſiæ, quæ repræſentatur, fides, ſenſus, atque judicium includi ſtatuatur. Ita Bellarminus. Hoc verò eſt dominari fidei & conſcientiis hominum, quod non eſt niſi ſolius Chriſti, qui proin ſolus, ceu Adamus ſecundus, Rom. V. 14. hoc eſt caput, ſtirps & Dominus Eccleſiæ ſuæ, eandem repræſentat. Si Apoc. XIII. 14. Beſtia eſt illa Eccleſia, quæ in terra habet imaginem, in qua omnis ejus ſenſus conſpiciatur, propterea quòd ei in omnibus etiam ἀδοκιμάστως velit obedire; is qui ita dicit & agit, ut author dicendorum & agendorum; & cui illa Eccleſia implicitè vel explicitè ſe ſubjicit, qualis Eccleſia Repræſentativa, Papa eſt, ἀνὰ χεῖρα imago Beſtiæ eſt. 2. Repræſentationem talem Cardinalibus, Abbatibus non invidemus, ſed viderint illi, quos repræſentent, & à quo viciſſim ipſi repræſententur. Ligent ſolvántque pro lubitu. Non propterea in Cœlo ligatio & ſolutio rata erit, quia non Chriſti, ſed Papæ Chriſto adverſantis nomine ligant ſolvúntque. 3. Poteſtas porrò docendi, paſcendi Eccleſiam, ligandi & ſolvendi, cùm merè miniſterialis, & limitata ſit, repræſentationem veræ Eccleſiæ in docente, ligante, ſolvente non tam ponit, quàm deſtruit.

OBIECT. III. In Republica nemo, quantumvis pius & doctus, ſi in officio publico non ſit, decidere cauſas poteſt. Eadem ratio eſt Eccleſiæ. Reſp. At vocatio præſtat authoritatem. Unde vocati ad Concilium tanquam publicæ perſonæ cenſeri debent in publico officio conſtitui.

EXCIP. REDING: Eccleſia Pſeudo-Reformata, in qua Eccleſiaſtici nulla legitima authoritate ordinati, adeóque merè laici ſunt, ejusmodi poteſtatem vocandi nullam habet. lb. pag. 84. Reſp. Pendet hoc à quæſtione principali de veritate Eccleſiæ noſtræ, qua probata (millies autem probata, & in Anatome etiam ita ſtabilita eſt, ut Redingius nil niſi fumos & verborum inanium phaleras obducere potuerit) telum in ipſum Adverſarium retorqueo. Et numquid ſic, Redingi, ad argumentum reſpondes?

OBIECT. IV. Conciliorum omnium decreta à ſolis Epiſcopis facta ſunt, uti patet ex ſubſcriptionibus. Reſp. 1. Falſum eſſe, liquet ex ſuperioribus. Etiam Nicæno Vitus & Vincentius, Conſtantinopolitano I. Presbyteri aliquot, Alpius, Paulus, Baſſus adfuerunt. 2. Non mirum ut plurimùm Epiſcopos adfuiſſe, cùm ex ſingulis provinciis pauci ablegarentur, & ex ſingulis presbyteriis eligerentur Epiſcopi ii, qui doctrinâ, pietate, peritiâ præſtarent.

EXCIP. REDING: In Synodo Nicæna Victor (non Vitus) & Vincentius pro Papa ſubſcripſerunt. Concilio Conſtantinopolitano licet Presbyteri nonnulli interfuerint, in ſubſcriptione tamen ejus expreſsè dicitur, Philomuſium Epiſcopum Alexandrinum per Alpium, Montanum Conſtantinopolitanum per Paulum, Theoſebium Philomelienſem per Baſſum, Presbyteros ſubſcripſiſſe. Definiendi igitur, & definitis ſubſcribendi jus penes ſolos Epiſcopos, quos abſentes Presbyteri repræſentarunt, fuit. Adeò igitur non à Presbyterorum Collegiis Epiſcopi delegati ſunt, ut ipſi potiùs Presbyteros delegarint. lb. pag. 84. Reſp. 1. Et victorem & Vitum, variante lectione, dici, ex Crabbio & Binio tuo cognoſcere potuiſti. Quin infra pag. 108. tu ipſe non Victorem, ſed Vitum, ſubtilitatis tuæ immemor, appellas. 2. Quicquid de ſubſcriptionis forma fiat, illud verò certum eſt, Presbyteros in utroque illo Concilio laudato non paucos ſine authoritate Papæ & admiſſos, & ſuffragatos eſſe, & definiviſſe rem controverſam, abſentibus Epiſcopis, quos forte minùs idoneos Eccleſiæ judicarunt. In Papalibus verò poſterioribus Conciliis Presbyteros ita ſuffragari, definire, vel Epiſcoporum etiam vice ſubſcribere, piaculum Hierarchæ duxiſſent. 3. Licet Epiſcopi abſentes per Presbyteros ſubſcripſerint, non tamen Presbyteros illos ab Epiſcopis ſolis delegatos eſſe, conſequitur. Quia ſcilicet Eccleſiarum [illegible], ſeu Miniſtri primarii Epiſcopi fuerunt, illis expreſſis univerſæ Eccleſiæ conſentientes ſubintelligebantur.

OBIECT. V.

OBIECT. V. In quæstione de Paschate convocatus est Episcoporum conventus, teste Eusebio Hist. Eccl. l. 5. Idem docent Cyprianus, Hilarius, Ambrosius, Hieronymus. Theodosius junior in Epistola ad Synodum Ephesinam negat ecclesiasticis tractatibus immisceri posse, qui non sunt in ordine sanctissimorum Episcoporum. Denique in Concilio Chalcedonensi, cùm Monachi & laici ingressi essent pro Dioscoro, Patres clamârunt: Mitte foras superfluos, Concilium Episcoporum est. Resp. 1. Pleraque hæc facti sunt, non juris. Maturè satis Episcopi laxiorem sibi potestatem arrogârunt. 2. Dicta illa Patrum pleraque sunt indefinita. 3. Episcopi ut plurimùm aderant, non quia Episcopi, sed quia eruditione & doctrinâ præstabant aliis, & eandem ob causam Collegio presbyterorum præfecti. Hoc jam tanquam perpetui juris statuæ illæ Episcoporum Pontificiorum sibi assumpserunt. 4. Theodosius loquitur de ordine Episcoporum ad Concilium ablegatorum, extra quem nemini licuit se intrudere. 5. Chalcedonenses Monachos & laicos eliminabant, quia venerant turbatum.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Factum illud orthodoxæ antiquitatis arguit observantiam, quæ optimus juris interpres est. 2. Episcopi non ut delegati ecclesiarum intererant, sed jure proprio. Aliàs Collegia Presbyterorum vocari debuissent, non Episcopi. Unde passim Patres asserunt, Concilia Episcoporum esse. 3. Theodosius absolutè loquitur, sine delegationis mentione ulla. 4. Chalcedonenses Monachos arcuerunt, ut superfluos, & quia Concilium sic Episcoporum. Proin Martinus Archimandrita jussus subscribere, respondit, non suum esse, sed Episcoporum, subscribere. Pulcheria quoque Imperatrix eandem ob causam Clericos, Monachos, laicos, exceptis iis, quos Episcopi adduxerunt, vi à Concilio arceri jussit. Ib. p. 85. Resp. 1. Factum non uniforme observantiam uniformem antiquitatis orthodoxæ non arguit. Neque observantia uniformis, Divino juri non innixa, juris interpres optimus est, non magis quàm Israëlitarum in deserto communis in colendo vitulo observantia; vel Christo in cruce pendente communis Apostolorum fuga, juris colendi vituli, vel fugiendi crucem interpres esse potuit. Ne quid dissimulemus, operabatur in eo occultè mysterium iniquitatis, quòd Episcopi maturè exaltari nimiùm cœpti, populo judicium eripere visi sunt. licet neutiquam eodem animo id fecerint, quo procedente tempore facturus id Antichristus erat. Interim ablato paulatim ab Ecclesia judicio, & Episcopis, ceu pædagogis in Christo, in thronis suis confidentibus, atque judicium ferè omne exercentibus, crevit fastus & affectatio potentiæ in Ecclesia, & Episcopi paulatim in Principes terrenos degenerarunt. 2. Episcopi, non Presbyterorum Collegia, ab Imperatoribus ad Concilia vocari sueverunt, quia primores erant ecclesiæ, celebratæq; adeò pietatis, zeli & doctrinæ viri. Non igitur jure proprio, sed jure vocantis potestatis, & Ecclesiæ consensu suo delegantis ad Concilia iverunt. Ita Spiritus S. Apoc. II. III. in Angelis Ecclesiarum Asiaticarum plures earundem Ministros, quin & Ecclesias ipsas compellavit. 3. rius dixit, eo videlicet ſenſu, quòd eos ſolùm audire, cognoſcere & ſententiam ferre in Concilio oporteat, qui in Catalogo inſcripti erant eorum, qui ab Eccleſiis ad Concilium fuerint ablegati, & ab Epiſcopis ex literis authoritatis publicæ, quas exhibere Concilio ſolebant, recenſuiſti. Hi autem, cùm eſſent ut plurimum Epiſcopali dignitate, ex communi ratione Catalogus Epiſcoporum à majore parte appellatur. 4. Imò Pulcheria in Epiſtola ad Strategum Bithyniæ juſſit, ut Clerici, laici, Monachi etiam vi repellerentur à Concilio, exceptis paucis, quos Epiſcopi ſecum duxerant; qui proin Synodo aderant cum literis & authoritate publica, functuri partes ſuas. Quæ circumſcriptio propterea addita eſt, quia in gratiam Eutychis ſupervenientes clerici, Monachi atque laici tumultus facere tentabant contendentes, ut ibidem Pulcheria ſcribit. En, Redingi, cauſam rejectorum à Synodo diſertis verbis proditam à Pulcheria, quia tumultus facere tentabant. Propter factionis igitur periculum proviſum eſt, ut à Concilio illi diſcederent. Patrum equidem in Concilio vox erat: Mitte foras ſuperfluos, Concilium Epiſcoporum eſt. Sed non Epiſcoporum tantùm. Ex particulari univerſale non ſequitur. Nam & Presbyteros aliósque interfuiſſe, liquet. 5. Rectè Martinus Archimandrita ſubſcribere renuit, quia non aderat cum authoritate ullius Eccleſiæ. Epiſcoporum verò ſubſcriptionem eſſe addidit idem, quia ut plurimùm tales, ab Eccleſiis cum authoritate ad Synodos mittebantur. Alias ſi ei Archimandritæ planè nefas fuit ſubſcribere Concilio, dic Redingi, cur in poſterioribus Conciliis Archimandritæ tui, Generales & Abbates Ordinum id ſibi fas eſſe duxerunt? Dixeris tamen, Papæ, domini veſtri αὐτοκράτορες, arbitrium facilè quadrata rotundis mutare potuiſſe.

QUÆSTIO III.

An eorum, qui in Concilio res dubias fidei & morum definiunt, ſententia ita ſit judicialis, ut eâ latâ perinde ſtandum ſit, atque ſtatur ſententiâ Prætoris in cauſis politicis?

ITa ſentit Bulla, in qua ſententiæ dicendæ poteſtas, puta judicialis & prætoria, quâ in judicio etiam conſcientiæ ſtandum & cadendum ſit, tribuitur Epiſcopis. Nos diſtinguimus forum externum & internum, politicum & conſcientiæ. Sententia in legitimo Concilio definita eſt judicialis & prætoria quoad forum externum & politicum, ita ut eâ in externa ſocietate ſtandum ſit & cadendum, & ex ea jus quæratur ſummo Magiſtratui diſſentientibus injungendi ſilentium, vel interdicendi civitatem & immunitates externas. Aliàs in externa ſocietate perturbationibus nec finis nec modus imponi poſſet. Quoad forum autem internum & conſcientiæ Concilium nobis non eſt mera inquiſitio & conſultatio, uti malè nobis tribuit Bellarminus: verùm ad illud pertinet pertinet tum inquisitio veri, justi, sancti religiosa communicatione instituta; tum dictio sententiæ non judicialis prætoria, sed ministratoria. Judicium autem prætorium est solius Christi, ab iis, qui Concilio adsunt, in Scriptura inquirendum, & ex ea, velut ex tabulis mandati pronuntiandum, à fidelibus verò per judicium discretionis amplectendum. Itaque sententia Conciliaris quoad conscientiæ forum est suasionis non coactionis, judiciúmque adeò non prætorium, sed ministeriale, quale est œconomi vel dispensatoris in domo aliqua præsentis domini, vel medici etiam, quod morbum graviorem non facit, nedum ei dat esse. Opponimus ergo Pontificiis

ARG. I. Is potest ferre judiciariam, principalem & prætoriam sententiam, qui imperat conscientiæ, & fidem ipsam legibus obligare potest. Hoc autem non est Hominum, uti patet ex 1.Cor.VI.12. VII. 23. 2. Cor.I. 24.Col.I. 24.25. Cap.II.20. Gal.V.1. 1.Petr.V.2.3. sed solius Christi, cujus infinita est scientia & potentia.

Respondet A. Reding: 1.Nihil loca isthæc adversus decreta Conciliorum conscientiam obligantia faciunt. inprimis cùm Ecclesiæ alibi Scriptura tribuat potestatem clavium, & ejus præpositis obedire jubeat. 2. Dominium in Scripturis vetitum necessitatem physicam, seu coactionem libertati contrariam, non moralem propriæ libidini oppositam notat. Tract. I.pag.86.87. Resp.1. Doleo equidem, Redingio hic cum erratis potiùs typographicis, (in hac editione correctis) quàm cum argumento meo confligendum fuisse. Argumenti vis in eo consistit, quòd homines fidei & conscientiis hominum dominari, adeóque decretis suis ex Dei verbo non repetitis obligare nequeant. Id clarè S. literæ in textibus allegatis docent. velut 1.Cor.VI.12. οὐκ ἐγὼ ἐξουσιασθήσομαι ὑπό τινος. Non patior me redigi sub ullius (hominis) potestatem. Cap.VII.23. Pretio empti estis. ne fiatis servi hominum. 2.Cor.I.24. Non dominamur fidei vestræ. Coloss.I.24 25. Ecclesia corpus Christi est. cujus ego minister sum. Cap.II.20. Si cum Christo mortui estis, &c. τι δογματίζεσθε, cur in mundo dogmatis, placitis, decretis hominum obstringi vos finitis? Gal.V.1. In libertate, in quam Christus vos asseruit, perstate, nec jugo servitutis iterum constringimini. 1.Petr.V.2. Pascite gregem Dei, providentes μὴ ἀναγκαστῶς, ἀλλ' ἑκουσίως non coactè, sed voluntariè. Quid disertius dici poterat? Verat Spiritus S. nos redigi sub ullius hominis (in fide extra Dei verbum dominantis) potestatem: fieri servos hominum (quales sunt, quotquot hominibus fidem non demonstratam ex Dei verbo præcipientibus parent: Ne ipse quidem S. Paulus dominari fidei hominum ita voluit, ut injungeret quicquam à Deo non mandatum; Ministrum se Ecclesiæ, corporis non hominum, sed Christi, professus; in vitio insuper ponens, si quis se dogmatis, seu decretis hominum, quæ à Deo edita esse non demonstratur, obstringi, & in servitutem humanæ in rebus fidei voluntatis se redigi patiatur; denique ita pascat gregem, ut is non voluntariè ob demonstrationem ex Dei verbo, sed coactè ob dictum, imperium & vim hominum pareat. Hæc si cum decretis Conciliorum, non demonstratis ex Dei verbo, adeóque sine demonstratione verbi conclusis, conscientiæ obtrusis, pugnare è diametro, Redingi, non vides, næ doctor cæcus es cœcorum tuorum. 2. eptit Redingius, (cui bono enim tale quid S. Petrus vetaret?) ſed non cogere ad fidem ita, ut cibum quemlibet, etiam ex verbo Dei non propoſitum, non probatum, exploratum, an ſcilicet ſalubris ſit, an venenatus, capeſſere, deguſtare, in conſcientia non teneare. Ita coactè & cogendo paſcunt, qui decreta humana Conciliorum ſimpliciter, etiam ſine demonſtratione ex Dei verbo, obligare conſcientias ſciſcunt, & vel ignaris rerum, vel invitis etiam obtrudunt.

ARG. II. Judicium deciſivum fidei eſſe ſcripturæ ſolius, ipſamet abunde teſtatur Deut. XVII. 11. Eſaj. VIII. 20. XLII. 3. 4. Pſal. XCIV. 14. 15. Dan. VII. 10. cum Apoc. XX. 12. 2. Cor. IV. 2. Heb. IV. 12. Neque aliud hic requiritur, quàm ut ſinguli habeant bonam conſcientiam, ſe credere, quod ad ſalutem revelatum eſt, facere quod faciendum. At verbum Dei ſolum hoc judiciali ſententiâ conſcientiæ manifeſtat.

RESP. REDING: 1. Verbum quidem Dei ſolum lex illa eſt, ex qua judicium fidei deciſivum formari debet. Sed ratio prudentialis, quæ in fidei controverſiis ex ipſomet Dei verbo judicium deciſivum format, inniti debet Concilio Oecumenico, non propria conſcientiæ privato inſtinctui. 2. Duplex eſt conſcientiæ & judicii noſtri principium, effectivum, quod eſt gratia Spiritus S. & directivum, Eccleſia in Conciliis definiens. ſine quo poſteriore nulla certitudo fidei eſt. Ib. pag. 87--89. Reſp. 1. Verbum Dei ſcriptum (non ſcriptum nullum agnoſcimus) lex & norma juris propriè eſt, judex impropriè. Judicat enim Deus per verbum, & Spiritu ſuo, una cum verbo ab Eccleſia nunquam recedente, verbum legémque omnem cordi inſcribit. 2. Ratio prudentialis hominis apud Deum ſtultitia eſt, nec capit ea, quæ Spiritus Dei ſunt. Ubi verò ſe ſpiritui Dei ſubjicit, hominem ſpiritualem & ſpiritualiter prudentem reddit, ita ut per Spiritum Dei & veram fidem verum à falſo, verbum Dei à verbo hominum diſcernat. Juvare hic Concilia Oecumenica poſſunt miniſtrando argumenta ex Dei verbo. Plus enim vident oculi quàm oculus, docti quàm indocti. Neque tamen ita illorum definitio authentica eſt, ut ei tutò conſcientia, ante demonſtrationem veritatis, ex Dei verbo, innitatur. Neque etiam Spiritus privatus, qualis eſt Enthuſiaſticus ille Papæ ſpiritus, quo agitur ad fundenda ex proprio motu oracula αὐτοσχεδιαζε, quidquam confert, oppoſitus quippe Spiritui, quo authore omnis prophetia proceſſit. Quid ergo? Homo ſpiritu Dei & vera fide, quæ communis omnium fidelium eſt, præditus, & miniſterio verbi Divinitus inſtituto adjutus, lucem verbi Divini nativo Divinitatis ſuæ fulgore radiantem, ſine ulteriore verbo vel revelatione authentica, non minùs intuetur recipítque, quàm viſu corporali præditus Solem radiantem intuetur atque recipit. Neque aliò vera φρόνησις prudentia, & intelligentia Spiritualis hominem ducit. Prudentialis verò ratio Redingii à lege & præcepto Dei ad legem & præceptum hominum, ipſiúsque Antichriſti ſeducit. 2. Principium igitur & effectivum & directivum non eſt niſi Spiritus Dei, qui ſicut efficit fidem ſolus, Phil. II. 13. ita הדריך ὁδηγᾷ dirigit in omni veritate, & in omnem veritatem, Joh. XVI. 13. Miniſtri verò verbi & Spiritus Dei licet, volente Deo, dirigant etiam Pſal. XXV. 5. fideles, ſive in Concilio, ſive extra illud, principium tamen directivum neutiquam ſunt, cùm neque primò, neque immediatè, neque neceſſariò & infallibiliter dirigant. 3. Quæ præterea de Spiritu privato Redingius, ad farciendas chartas ſuas, ex aliis ſuis ſcriptis repetit, à me in ſcripto vernaculo eidem oppoſito, ita retuſa & obtuſa ſunt, ut recoctæ putidiſſimæ crambis ſuæ pudere illum debuerit.

ARG. III.

ARG. III. Paſtorum munus eſt merè miniſteriale. Sunt enim miniſtri & œconomi Dei & Chriſti, 1.Cor.IV.1. Diaconi Novi Fœderis, 2.Cor.III.6. Servi Eccleſiæ, c.IV.5. pro Chriſto πεπεισμένοι, v. 20. Servis porro, legatis, œconomis poteſtas ἀυτεξουσίου extra tabulas mandati judicandi conceſſa non eſt : nec fas eſt Eccleſiæ extra tabulas mandati judicialiter pronuncianti bus obſequi.

Resp. Reding : Nemo equidem poteſtatem habet judicandi extra tabulas mandati Divini. Nihilominus authoritas cauſæ fidei ex Dei verbo judicandi ita Concilio conceſſa eſt, ut illa promiſſione Chriſti, & aſſiſtentia Spiritus S. munita fulli, vel contra S. Scripturæ veritatem pronuntiare non poſſint. Unde S. Apoſtoli, licet aſſiſtentiam Spiritus S. ſinguli habuerint, Concilium tamen celebrandum duxerunt, quia ſcilicet per definitionem Concilii prudentiale de dogmate tanquam Divinitus revelato judicium fundatur ; cujus contemptu ipſum Dei verbum contemnitur. Ib. pag.89-91. Reſp. 1. Huc ſcilicet redeunt veriſſimæ tenebræ Redingii, quas prolixo non minùs quàm obſcuro ſermone veritati, homo σκοτίζων, offundere nequicquam conatur. Sed verò argumenti vim parùm illa feriunt. Qui in Conciliis definitivas ſententias, ceu Miniſtri, œconomi, prænones Chriſti proferunt, promunt illi mandati Divini tabulas, atque ita confecta res erit. Sin illas promere negligunt, & dictis ſuis non probatis, non examinatis fideles quoſvis audientes eſſe volunt jubéntque, nihil illos promiſſio Chriſti, nihil Spiritus S. aſſiſtentia fidelibus promiſſa ſolatur, utpote quæ veræ eccleſiæ, veris Chriſti miniſtris, mandati ejuſdem tabulas proferentibus, non fidei dictatoribus ex proprio motu ita promiſſa eſt, ut non propterea omnes illos ἀναμαρτήτους reddat, uti infrà ampliùs probabimus. 2. S. Apoſtoli Concilium celebrantes, rem totam ex Dei verbo prolato, & ad conſcientiam manifeſtato definiverunt, præditi inſuper in ſcribendo infallibilitatis dote tali, qualis poſt illos Eccleſiæ doctoribus nullis competiit. 3. An verò ante Concilii illius definitionem prudentiale de dogmatibus ſuis ceu Divinitus revelatis judicium S. Apoſtoli nullum habuerunt ? Scilicet haſtenus imprudentes, increduli, meris opinionibus fluctuaverant, nec niſi Concilii illius, non propter Apoſtolorum, ſed perturbatorum, nec non diſcipulorum ſeu tyronum ex Judæis & gentibus cauſam, indicti, anchora figi & ſuſtineri certitudo fidei illorum potuit ? Apageſis imprudentiſſimum, imò & impium prudentiale illud in hominum præceptionibus & decretis, non Dei indubitabili verbo, fundatum judicium !

ARG. IV. Patres in Concilio collecti ſententiam ferunt vel conformem Verbo Dei, vel non. Si prius, judices non ſunt, quia ſententia non ab illis, ſed à verbo Dei emanat, ſed judicii Divini fideles interpretes, jus ipſum non facientes, quod propriè judicis eſt, ſed alibi factum declarantes. Si poſterius, tanquam homines, qui ſermonem Dei non habent in ſe permanentem, audiendi planè non ſunt, nedum ut judices haberi poſſint.

Resp. Reding : 1. Patres in Concilio collecti ſententiam verbo Dei conformem ferunt. Neque ideirco judices non ſunt, quia judicis non eſt ſtatuere jus, ſed facti ſpeciem cum jure conferre, atque ex prudenti illa collatione ſententiam deciſoriam ferre, quæ inter litigantes jus aliquod privatum inducit, non pertingens tamen ad gradum juris publici niſi ſummi Principis approbantis authoritas accedat, qualis etiam in Concilio eſt Papæ authoritas.

2. Calvi-

2. Calviniſtæ verò quomodo veritatem in ſe permanentem habent, cùm tali nitantur principio, ex quo acerimis contradictionibus etiam circa dogmata ſubſtantialia fidei conflictentur? Ib. pag. 91--93. Reſp. 1. Quæſtio eſt de infallibilitate Concilii in rebus dubiis fidei & morum definiendis, non de judicio eo, quo facti ſpecies cum jure confertur. quod judicis propriè eſſe Redingius aſſerit. Perſtat igitur vis argumenti noſtri, quod definitiones Concilii verbo Dei conformes à Patribus Concilii emanent, non ut à judicibus, ſed ut ab interpretibus fidelibus, qui jus non faciunt, ſed indicant, repetunt, declarant, adeóque infallibiles non ſunt, niſi quatenus juri Divino conformes eſſe cognoſcuntur. 2. Quantum verò ad collationem facti perſonarum ſeu τὰ καθ' ἕκαστα, cum jure, poſſunt Concilii patres eſſe judices, ſed merè ſubalterni & adminiſtri, quorum eſt retinere normam judicii à Chriſto præſcriptam, ad quam inprimis pertinet ἔλεγχος demonſtratio peccati per manifeſtam rationem, aut per ſermonem Dei, Matth. XVIII. 15. 16. 17. Sicut autem in demonſtratione tali, ita in ipſo etiam judicio errare Concilium poteſt. neque errorem Papæ approbantis authoritas quicquam minuit. 3. Cætera de Reformatæ fidei principio uti ex fœdis calumniis & Sophiſticis detorſionibus contexta ſunt: ita obtorto collo rapiuntur à Redingio, non alium in finem, quàm ut reproductis iis libri ſui molem atque rapſodiam augeret, & mole illa, verbórumque toties repetitorum ſtrepitu, ſtuporem cœcis admiratoribus ſuis incuteret. Contemptu igitur rectiùs quàm reſponſo ullo, toties protrita & conculcata vindicantur.

ARG. V. Concilia etiam Generalia obnoxia ſunt periculo errandi, tum quia infallibilitas iis nullibi promiſſa eſt: tum quia erraſſe docet experientia. Neocæſarienſe enim ſecundas nuptias improbavit. Nicenum I. Can. 9. ſanxit rebaptizandos hæreticos, & Can. 12. prohibuit ἀναστρεφομένους iis, qui cingulum abjecerunt. In poſterioribus verò, Niceno II. Florentino, Romano, Lateranenſi, Tridentino inprimis, haud obſcurè ſpiritûs deceptoris vim ex Verbo Dei agnoſcimus. Quid quòd Scripturæ prædicunt, omnes incolas terræ beſtiam adoraturos, Apoc. XIII. 8? Eo autem tempore an Concilium aliquod œcumenicum privilegium infallibilitatis habiturum erat?

RESP. REDING: 1. Concilium Neocæſarienſe, quod Oecumenicum non fuit, à bigamis tantùm pœnitentiam requiſivit, eò quòd incontinentiam ſuam manifeſtarunt. Nicænum 1. Pauliniſtas, ſeu Samoſathenianos Divinitatem Chriſti abnegantes, non hæreticos quorvis rebaptizari vetuit: & Canonica pœna multavit eos, qui cingulo ſemel abjecto, in ſortem Domini ſe voluntariè conſecrarunt, atque Deo devoverunt, poſt reſumpta militia ſacrilegè ad mundum redierunt. 2. Siccine tibi Concilia, Nicænum II. Florentinum, Lateranenſe, Tridentinum in Conciliorum Oecumenicorum cenſu ſunt, cùm ex eorum erroribus generalia Concilia errare poſſe, probare ſatagas? Apoc. XIII. 8. incola terrâ beſtiam adoraturi dicuntur, nempe quorum nomina non ſunt ſcripta in libro vitæ; adeóque non in univerſum omnes. 3. Conciliorum infallibilitatem S. Patres, Tertullianus, Athanaſius, Ambroſius, Auguſtinus, alii agnoſcunt. Ib. pag. 93--95. Reſp. 1. Neocæſarienſe Concilium licet Oecumenicum non fuerit, à Leone tamen quarto Papa confirmatum, diſt. 20. Can. de libellis, quin imò, ſi Concilio Florentino Seſſ. VII. fides eſt, à Concilio Nicæno I. receptum eſt.

Si

Si in bigamia incontinentiæ manifestationem, pœnitentia dignam, Concilium illud esse putavit, disertè igitur S. Paulo Hebr. XIII. 4. contradixit, adeóque erravit. 2. Concilium Nicænum I. in magna etiam nobis equidem veneratione est, inprimis quoad ea, quæ fidem concernunt. Alia tamen singulorum in eo actorum & decretorum ratio est; quæ ne ipsa quidem Ecclesia Romana singula veneratur, uti, exempli causa, canones XIII. & XVII. Inter ea etiam reponimus, quòd hæreticos ἐξάπαντος ἀναβαπτίζειν omnino rebaptizari Can. XIX. jubet. De Paulianistis loqui Concilium ais, Redingi. Numquid verò non illi hæretici fuerunt? Quo ergo jure tu, seu capite, seu pede tuo me dimetiens, perfidum caput me appellitásti? Atqui Paulianistas non simpliciter quâ hæreticos, sed quâ Divinitatem Christi abnegantes, rebaptizari voluisse Nicænos, asseris. Qua verò ratione fretus? Nam nec Canon, nec Canonis interpretes, Balsamon, Zonaras, Aristenus hanc rationem reddunt. Neque Paulianistas, cùm primùm baptizarentur, omnes hæresi ea jam infectos, neminémque adeò primò legitimè baptizatum fuisse, constat. Si tamen rebaptizari eos, quâ Divinitatem Christi abnegantes, Nicæni jusserunt, cur igitur Concilium Constantinopolitanum I. Canone VII. Græco qui in omnibus Balsamonis & Zonaræ editionibus habetur, atque etiam à Photio in Nomocanone Tit. 12. cap. 14. citatur, nec non in Alexii Aristeni epitome contractus extat; Arianos Divinitatem Christi similiter abnegantes, etiam non rebaptizatos recipi jussit? Concilia hæc, si potes, Redingi: vel, si non potes, ingenuè nobiscum confitere, alterutrius, vel Nicæni, vel Constantinopolitani Concilii ea de re decretum erroneum fuisse. Par ratio est Canonis XII. ejusdem Concilii Nicæni, quo pœnitentia gravis iis injungitur, qui ἀποκληθέντες ἀπὸ τῆς χάριτος, evocati à gratia, cingulis depositis, hoc est, abdicata militia, post ad vomitum redeuntes, beneficiis etiam τὸ ἀναφαίνειν, novam militiam redimerent. Hîc Redingius insignem imperitiam suam prodit, cùm inhærens vulgari Canonis illius interpretationi, Qui vocati sunt per gratiam &c. nihilominus pertendit, agi de iis, qui in sortem seu clerum Domini se consecrarunt, & Deo devoverunt. Tum enim scribendum fuerat non ἀποκληθέντες, quâ evocati sunt (uti tamen constans Canonis illius lectio habet) sed ἀποκληρωθέντες, qui se sorti seu clero sociarunt, consecrarunt gratia Dei. Verba certè Canonis, uti jacent, clarissimè conversis ad Christum militiam prohibent. licet variis variorum ariolationibus aliò eum torqueri, non ignorem. 3. Concilia Nicænum II. Florentinum, Tridentinum mihi quidem Conciliabula potiùs, & Italicæ factionis catervæ, quàm legitima & Oecumenica Concilia habentur. Quia tamen & à Pontificibus vestris approbata sunt, & in Conciliorum Oecumenicorum censu illa reponitis, argumento ad hominem, seu Papistam, uti mihi licuisse, intelligere potes. 4. Apoc. XIII. 8. non incolas simpliciter omnes terræ, sed maximam incolarum terræ, Bestiam potiùs quàm Agnum adorantium multitudinem intelligi, probè noveram. Cùm verò persuasus sim, eam Bestiæ adorationem in ea tempora, quibus Concilia vestra inde à Seculo octavo ad decimum sextum usque celebrata sunt, incidisse, quid de iis, quæ Vos Oecumenica per eum temporis tractum appellatis, sentiendum sit, ultro intelligitur. 5. Patrum testimonia, quæ singula ex Bellarmino de Concil. lib. II. 3. compilasti, Doctiss. Junius in Animadversionibus ad eundem Bellarmini locum solidè diluit. Hoc unum dico, utcunque S. Patres Concilia, quæ scilicet legitima fuerunt, & solam Scripturam judicii sui normam & amussim admiserunt, commendarint, neminem tamen eorum reperiri, qui vel eorum authoritatem à dicto hominum ex Dei verbo non demonstrato, nec non confirmatione R. Pontificis suspenderit, vel appellationem à judicio Concilii ad judicium Dei excluserit, examen & probationem Conciliarium decretorum prohibuerit; vel inter decreta toti Eccleſiæ communia & particularia; inter ea, quæ de jure, & quæ factum ſpectant (qua diſtinctione ſemota Pontificii infallibilitatem Conciliorum non defenderint,) diſtinxerit. Quin etiam non deſunt, qui diſertè profiteantur, ſe Concilii Nicæni authoritate contra Arianos uti nolle, ſed Scripturæ potiùs, cui illud innititur.

ARG. VI. Poſito, Concilia errare non poſſe, nemo tamen certitudine fidei perſuaderi & πληροφορεῖσθαι poteſt, rem in Concilio ita, ut narratur, geſtam eſſe, & non aliter, cùm narratio de eorum rebus geſtis ſit induſtriæ merè humanæ. Quòd ſi igitur fide, uti vocant illi, Catholica non conſtat, Concilium hoc vel illud legitimum eſſe, ejus decreta non erunt fidei Catholicæ, ſed merè humanæ, quæ deceptioni eſt obnoxia. Hoc argumento in ipſo Concilio uſus eſt Vega.

EXCIP. READING: 1. Qua erga fide, Divina, an humana vobis conſtat, Biblia veſtra Tiguri impreſſa & recognita eſſe verbum Dei? 2. Fidei dogmata in Conciliis deciſa abſolutè Divina ſunt; ſententiæ Concilii definitivæ participativè duntaxat, quarum authoritas ad nos defertur non immediatè, ſed mediantibus libris, ſeu Eccleſiæ Paſtorum & Doctorum vivis oraculis, errori quidem per ſe obnoxiis, attamen per Spiritus S. Eccleſiæ aſſiſtentis providentiam, & Papæ approbationem eam authoritatem accipientibus, ut jam ultra humanæ induſtriæ limites ad gradum authoritatis participativè Divinæ eleventur. quæ tatenus prudentiæ fidei regulam fundat, ut voluntatem ad aſſenſum ex reverentia primæ veritati debita movere poſſit. Ib. p. 95. 96. Reſp. 1. In Bibliis Tiguri impreſſis & recognitis verbum Dei, tum quoad hiſtoriam, tum quoad fidei normam, authenticè narratum, contineri, fide non utique humana & Papiſtica, quæ in Papæ ſolius definitionem reſoluta ad Atheiſmum denique vergit; ſed Divina eadem, qua verbum Dei, ubicunque nativa Divinitatis ſuæ luce radiat, homo non animalis, ſed ſpiritualis intueri & recipere poteſt, cognoſcitur. Neque enim voces, verſiones mutatæ, dum ſenſum fidei analogum retineant, Divinitatis ſplendorem mutant; quia verbum Dei non in verbis, quæ humana interpretum induſtria ponuntur, ſed in verborum ſenſu conſiſtit. 2. Diſpar planè definitionum Conciliarium ratio eſt. uti in ipſo Concilio Tridentino Vega agnovit. Geſta enim & decreta Concilii, quatenus genuinum Dei verbum, quod fideles quivis ad ſcripti verbi normam exactum cognoſcere poſſint, non repræſentant, nec abſolutè, nec participativè Divinum verbum ſunt. Cùm igitur narratio rei in Concilio geſtæ, & definitionum in ea cuſarum; qualicunque demum lingua proponantur, merè humana, inſitam Divinitatis notum habeat nullam, Spiritus S. qui Eccleſiæ adeſt, (de Papa mero homine, in cujus naribus ſpiritus eſt, nihil dicam) ut Divina & Catholica fide ea recipiatur, nunquam efficere poteſt. Neque prudentiæ regula patitur, ut, quod Divinitus ſive quoad hiſtoriam, ſive quoad fidem, revelatum non eſt, Divina & Catholica fide recipiatur, quæ aliàs non prudentiæ, ſed ſtultitiæ & impietatis regula certiſſima audiet.

ARG. VII. Sententia Epiſcoporum in Concilio eſt judicialis, deciſiva & obligatoria vel per ſe, vel propter conſenſum plurium, vel propter authoritatem Papæ decreta Conciliaria confirmantis. Non per ſe, quia ſinguli ire in partes, imò & errare poſſunt. Non propter conſenſum plurium, quia quia & illi, fatentibus adverſariis, errare poſſunt, uti patet ex Conciliis improbatis. Cúmque ſinguli Epiſcopi errare poſſint, quidni etiam plures congregati? Sic ægrorum multitudo in unum coacta non minuit, ſed auget morbum. Non propter confirmationem Papæ, tum quia illa Concilio eſt extrinſeca & poſterior ſententiis Epiſcoporum, quorum proinde naturam mutare non poteſt: tum quia nec ipſe habet judicium αὐτοπεπεισικὸν fidei: tum denique, quia apud ipſos Pontificios nondum certum & definitum eſt, Conciliſne an Papæ judicio fides Chriſtianorum nitatur?

Excip. Reding: Epiſcopi una cum vicaria Chriſti authoritate promiſſionem habent præſentiæ Chriſti, ex qua Concilii ſententia deciſoria fit. Ib. pag. 96. Reſp. 1. Hi autem Epiſcopi ſunt ut plurimùm, non Papa, qui ob cauſas minùs honeſtas à pluribus Conciliis veteribus & recentioribus, Tridentino etiam, abfuit. Neque obſtat, quòd per Legatos interfuit. Illorum enim ſententia nonniſi Romæ à Papa à Concilio diſjuncto vel dictata vel approbata valuit. Denique nullius ponderis pretiique æſtimantur Epiſcoporum in Concilio ſententiæ, ſive Dei verbo conformes ſint, ſive non, niſi extra Concilium à Papa Romæ regnante probentur confirmentúrque. ut certum exploratúmque ſit, Epiſcopos in Concilio nonniſi conſiliariorum, Papam verò extra Concilium Dictatoris αὐτοπεπεισικοῦ munere defungi.

tis. Ergo etiam decreta Conciliaria Epiſcoporum in N.T. ita judicialia ſunt, ut conſcientiam per ſe obligent. Reſp. nullam conſecutionem eſſe argumenti. 1. quia in V.T. in rebus obſcuris edebantur reſponſiones per ſigna & revelationes Dei: proinde decreta illa à Deo πρώτως emanantia omnes obligârunt ſub pœna mortis. Hoc in N.T. ampliùs non fit. 2. Quin ipſi Sacerdotes in V.T. non poterant aliquid ex proprio motu judicare. Dicit enim Moſes v. 9. הגידו לך את דבר המשפט Indicabunt tibi verbum Judicii. Et v. 11. על פי התורה juxta legem, quam docuerint te, & juxta judicium, quod dixerint, facies. Neque enim rei mortis erant non facientes id, quod non dixerunt Sacerdotes juxta legem. Sic cùm Sadducæis abundabat Collegium ſacerdotum, uti factum ſub Jannæo, Phariſæi eorum decretis impiis non parentes, non peccârunt, etſi à Rege interficerentur. Nec Chriſtus à Collegio Sacerdotum rejectus & morti addictus propterea inobediens fuit. 3. Quæſtiones, de quibus conſuli jubentur Sacerdotes, non erant fidei & morum, ſed partim politicæ, partim ceremoniales. Politicæ, partim criminales בין דם לדם inter ſanguinem & ſanguinem, hoc eſt, capitales; partim civiles בין דין לדין inter cauſam & cauſam, puta cauſas civiles de rebus ad commoda vitæ pertinentibus. Ceremoniales verò בין נגע לנגע inter plagam & plagam, putà morbos ſive incommoda, quæ ratione eccleſiaſtica & ceremoniali ſecundum legem diſtingui oportuit. 4. Quin & in eo diſcrimen eſt inter Sacerdotes Veteris & Epiſcopos Novi Teſtamenti, quòd illis gladio armatis ſubjectus fuit populus, cui ſervitus legalis impoſita fuit: hi verò nec gladio utuntur, nec legibus ſuis eccleſiam ſubjicere poſſunt.

Lex certè à ſupremo judice emanans & repetita, in repetente, indicante, demonſtrante non judicialem poteſtatem per ſe conſcientiam obligantem, ſed merum miniſterium, ſuperiori legislatori ſubjectum arguit. 2. Sicut in V. T. non parentes impiis Sadducæorum Sacerdotum decretis rei non fuerunt, licet ad Sacerdotum Concilia Deus remiſerit: ita in N. T. parendum non eſt ullius Concilii decreto, priusquam id ex Dei verbo depromptum conſtiterit. 3. OBIECT. VI. Si ecclesia in Concilio congregata non potest judicialiter definire controversias, tum nullum est in ecclesia judicium, quo fidei controversiæ dirimantur, & veritas ecclesiæ conservetur. Nihil enim in terra datur majus Concilio. Resp. 1. Sufficit fidelibus ad conscientiæ suæ tranquillitatem & salutem judicium definitivum interius, seu Divinum, Christi nimirum & Spiritûs S. in Scripturis loquentis. Hæc utique etiam sunt in ecclesia, & quidem majora Concilio. Christus enim est caput ecclesiæ ab ea ἀδιάστατον : Scripturæ autem fidei norma est, ex qua, prætereuntibus Cœlo & terra, ne Jota quidem mutabitur. 2. Judicium externum seu humanum infallibile & definitivum in Ecclesia nec necessarium est, nec possibile. Quia enim controversiæ pertinent non ad externum ordinem & politiam, sed ad judicium mentis, necessarius est judex, qui illustret mentem & voluntatem sanctificet. Hoc autem judex externus & humanus, quâ talis, efficere non potest, quippe qui in animam & conscientiam potestatem nullam habet. 3. Sed & unitatem ecclesiæ Christus sine judicio humano conservare potest. Is enim pro ea quotidie intercedit apud Deum Patrem, & solus efficit, ut nos invicem diligamus & unitatem Spiritûs servemus. Quid quòd unitas ecclesiæ fundatur in veritate fidei, atque eadem proinde est causa unitatis quæ veritatis ? Atqui Concilium non est causa veritatis, sed sola invisibilis præsentia Christi & Spiritûs S. ducentis in omnem veritatem. Ergo eadem est causa unitatis.

EXCIP. REDING : 1. Verbum Dei, quando sensus ejus patet, sufficiens est fidei motivum. At per Concilium primùm patet. Nam & Ariani pro se Scripturam allegabant, non ante de vero sensu convicti, quàm Concilium Nicænum eum eruisset. 2. Si, uti fateris, Concilium in fidei fundamento errare non potest, eatenus igitur judicium externum in ecclesia definitivum possibile est. 3. Judex mentem, quæ se Conciliis clavium potestatem exercentibus non subjecit, illustrans olim hæreticos ad varias hæreses propulit. 4. Christus unitatem Ecclesiæ conservat, non immediatè, sed ordine per humilem erga Concilia Oecumenica subjectionem rite servato. 5. Hinc adeò vos neglecto illo ordine, & spiritu vestro freti, perpetuis contradictionibus, etiam contra ipsum Concilium Nicænum, quod pro legitimo tamen habetis, conflictamini. Ib. pag. 102–104. Resp. 1. Quàm malè igitur de Ecclesia Christi, ante celebrata œcumenica Concilia, actum fuit, si verbum Dei patens non habuerunt, adeóque nec unitate spiritus, nec veritate fidei potiti sunt ! Imò quàm malè de ipso Dei verbo actum est, si lucerna ejus tandiu sub modio delitescens, vim suam illuminandi omnem perdidit ! Et quid si persecutionibus continuatis pax ecclesiæ reddita diutius non fuisset, an impeditis Oecumenicis Conciliis verbum Dei continuè latuisset, fidelibúsque de persona & Deitate Christi & Spiritus S. dubitandum perpetuò fuisset ? Interim placuit Deo veritati per prima illa Oecumenica Concilia succollare, non quasi ejus definitio ab illis demum manaverit, sed quia veritatem in verbo Dei definitam & patentem strenuè Patres illi non tam judices, quàm veritatis doctores, asseruerunt, & Arianorum, non scripturis utique, sed impiis figmentis suis Scripturæ impositis pugnantium, hæresin magno consensu, non authoritate sua, sed verbi Divini luce, doctrina & industria obruerunt protriverúntque; ceu cùm fenestra manu validâ & agili aperitur, quæ ante clausa manebat, debiliores & minùs industrii, qui illam aperire non poterant, Solem videre incipiunt, non propter aperientium authoritatem ullam, sed propter illorum vires & industriam, quæ sese effectu sensibili produnt exerúntque. Nullum igitur hic judicium prætorium conscientiis dominans; & si qua vera Jurisdictio in Nicæno hoc, ut & in aliis legitimis Conciliis exercita est, illa omnis non ab Episcopis, sed à civili potestate emanans, robur decretis in externo duntaxat & politico, non interno & conscientiæ foro addidit. 3. Veram Ecclesiam, quâ talem adeóque manentem (nam deficere particularis quælibet etiam potest) sive in Concilio, sive extra illud, in fidei fundamento errare non posse, constanter asseró, at non ob authoritatem ullius hominis, nedum Papæ, sed propter promissionem Spiritus, qui fidem eam in cordibus credentium sola verbi Divini principali ἐνεργείᾳ, & hominum ministeriali opera liberè adhibita, operatur. Non igitur hinc judicii externi & humani infallibilis in Ecclesia vel necessitas, vel possibilitas sequitur. 4. Quæ de ordine Divinitus instituto, quo mediante Spiritus S. mentem illustret, & unitatem Ecclesiæ conservet, asseris, principium turpiter petunt; neque etiam sincerè à te dicta sunt. Si ingenuè, quod res est, fateri velis, non Concilia, sed Papæ solius quidvis probantis vel improbantis oraculum & authoritas, talis ordo vobis habetur. Hinc nempe Concilio generali Ecclesia vestra ultra centum jam annos caruit, & carebit, quod ipsi sagaciores inter vos divinant, ad finem usque ecclesiæ vestræ. Timet enim sibi Papa vester à Regibus & Episcopis, ne ab iis in ordinem redigatur; & solus cum Cardinalibus suis, adeóque sine pari, regnare mavult. 5. Non igitur ordinis à Redingio præscripti neglectu ulla re, per Dei gratiam, nos caremus, sed potiùs tyrannidis per Concilia Pontificia tyrannica, conscientiis dominantia, (qualia prisca illa neutiquam fuerunt) grassantis jugum à cervicibus nostris masculè excussum gaudemus. Quæ verò de antilogiis nostris garrivisti, aniles fabulæ sunt, neque responsum ullum merentur. Si vir es, Redingi, contende invicem Concilii Nicæni decreta fidem Deitatis Christi concernentia, & confessionis nostræ publicæ capita; ac dissensum vel levissimum in hisce proba. Quòd si tamen contradictionum stabulum ingredi adeò gestis, ingredere ocyùs Theologiæ tuæ Scholasticæ, abs Te quondam editæ, velut alterum quoddam Augiæ stabulum, & millenas contradictiones Scholæ tuæ doctorum, quas ipse tu sine omni pudore recitasti, concilia. Hoc labore Herculis decimo tertio defunctus nos demum aggredere, & veras, non ex Sophistico cerebro confictas, non privatorum doctorum, sed publicarum confessionum antilogias, & quidem ex fidei nostræ principiis, uti statuis, protuberantes demonstra. Cur enim nos priùs nugis tuis excutiendis bonas horas tam malè perderemus?

QUÆSTIO IV.

An in Concilio Chriſtiano generali & legitimo Jus præſidendi habeat Epiſcopus Romanus, vel immediatè per ſe, vel mediatè per legatos?

ITa innuit tum Bulla, tum Decretum Seſſionis II. in quo jus præſidendi tribuitur tribus Apoſtolicæ Sedis legatis. Fuerunt autem illi Pauli III. nomine miſſi Johannes Maria Montanus Cardinalis Palæſtinus, Marcellus Cervinus S. Crucis Presbyter, & Reginaldus Polus S. Mariæ in Coſmedin Diaconus. Succeſſerunt procedente Concilio Hercules Gonzaga, Hieronymus Seripandus, Johannes Moronus, Stanislaus Hoſius, Ludovicus Simoneta, Marcus Syricus, & Bernhardus Navagericus. Orthodoxæ ſententiæ ſumma eſt, in ipſo Concilio proſpiciendum eſſe de præſide gemino, altero politico, qui præſit ordini, eccleſiaſtico altero, qui præſit diſceptationi cauſæ. Et eccleſiaſticum hunc contendunt Evangelici eſſe non perpetuo aliquo jure Romanum Pontificem, ſed arbitrarium & electivum, & talem quidem, qui Scripturarum peritiſſimus, in negotiis eccleſiaſticis gerendis exercitatiſſimus, famâ prudentiæ, dexteritatis, moderationis celeberrimus. Cùmque diſtinctæ ſint actiones eccleſiaſticæ generalis Concilii & particularium nationum, diſtinguunt iidem inter præſidem univerſalem Concilii, & particularem Nationum. Univerſalis præſidentia, quia extraordinaria, defertur per electionem optimo. Particularis, ordinaria olim jure eccleſiaſtico competiit Patriarchis. Hodie penes eccleſias particulares eſt, talem præficere vel ordinarium, vel ambulatorium. Interim Tridentinis, tum jus præſidendi perpetuum Epiſcopo R. vendicantibus, tum à jure præſidendi externo ordini Magiſtratum ſummum excludentibus, argumenta opponimus ſequentia.

ARG. I. Jus ordinarium & perpetuum in rebus Eccleſiaſticis nititur lege Divinâ, vel Eccleſiaſticâ. Neutra autem Pontifici R. jus præſidendi ordinarium & perpetuum tribuit. Non Divina, quia juris hujus conſignati tabulæ edi non poſſunt. Non eccleſiaſtica, quia membra eccleſiæ univerſalis nunquam conſenſerunt de jure tali in Papam transferendo.

& cum eo jus præsidendi in Conciliis collatum est. Ibid. p.104--105. Resp.1. Nec Papa Petri in munere extraordinario & Apostolico successor est; neque in munere ordinario & pastorali,nedum in potestate absoluta & indefinita clavium, quæ solius Christi est, ei Episcopus Romanus solus successit. 2. Cætera, quæ de Petro Babylone, hoc est, Romæ Epistolam scribente, ibi primatum totius orbis gerente, mortuo, martyrio coronato, & ibi principatum suum in successores derivante,affers, uti partim incerta, partim apertè falsa sunt: ita ὀνῶν φόρτον φέρουσι, & ad farciendas duntaxat chartas instituuntur.

ARG. II. Ecclesia Romana est particularis. Atqui nullius Ecclesiæ particularis Episcopo jus competit ordinarium præsidendi in Concilio generali, quia singulæ ecclesiæ particulares tum errare, tum deficere à fide possunt. Neque enim in N.T.Deus ulli particulari cœtui juramento vel fœdere se obstrinxit, quò minùs illinc migrare,& candelabrum movere velit,si ingratitudo mereatur.

Resp. Reding: 1. Papa Ecclesiæ universalis pastor universalis est, quia Petra, cui inædificatur tota ecclesia, à Christo constitutus. Adeóque nec ipse, nec ecclesia ejus errare potest. Ib. pag.105--107. Resp.1. De antecedente infrà videbimus. 2. Si maximè Christus Papæ, ceu Petri successori, haud secus quàm S. Paulo olim 2.Cor.XI.28. μεριμνα πασῶν τ ἐκκλησιῶν solicitudinem pro omnibus Ecclesiis commendasset; non tamen inde ejus infallibilitas, vel jus ordinarium Concilia moderandi concluderetur, quia in officio suo peccare, adeóque aliorum judicio se reddere obnoxium posset,longè magis ipse,quàm S.Petrus,qui Christum abnegavit, & cui S.Paulus in os restitit, ὅτι κατεγνωσμένος ἦν, quia condemnandus erat,Gal.II.11. qui proin hoc quidem in casu ne judicium quidem, nedum σχῆσιν seu præsidium inter judices, qua pietate & humilitate fuit, sibi arrogasset. Sed in Papa inversa omnia videas. Vult esse reus quàm maximè, & simul judex, judicúmque præses. Nam ceu spiritualis, uti olim Bonifacius ille bacchatus est, à nemine judicari potest.

ARG. III. Amplior fuit potestas Sacerdotum Veteris, quam ministrorum N.T.Neque tamen illi tam arrogantes fuerunt,ut à rerum ecclesiasticarum gubernatione submoverent Magistratus,uti patet exemplo Mosis,Davidis,Salomonis,Ezechiæ.Multò minùs potestas ejusmodi competit ministris.N.T.

Resp. Reding: 1. *Annon Uza olim aream attingens, & supplere conatus id, quod ad Sacerdotum & Levitarum officium pertinuit, severè à Deo punitus est? Annon Coreh, Dathan & Abiram summi Sacerdotii honorem rapturientes, vivi absorpti sunt? RESP. REDING: 1. Nutrhii & nutrices ſunt, qui ex bonis ſuis eccleſias fundarunt & dotarunt. Hi Reges & Principes fuerunt in Eccleſiæ Romanæ gremio defuncti. Quo igitur jure hujusmodi à rerum eccleſiaſticarum gubernatione arcetis, violatis notoriè fundationum & dotationum tabulis? 2. Jus Divinæ authoritatis Paſtoribus eccleſiæ collatum nec ex dotationis, nec ex fundationis titulo pendet. Ib. pag. 107. Tales apud nos cùm ſint Senatus Populúſque, ſeu delegati populi, iis illibatam poteſtatem, ſeu juriſdictionem exteriorem omnem in Eccleſia neceſſariam aſſerimus. tantum abeſt, ut Nutritios hujusmodi à rerum eccleſiaſticarum gubernatione arceamus, vel dotatorum etiam noſtrorum intentioni ſaltem genericæ, & quatenus ea culpa, ſi quam temporum iniquitate contraxerunt, vacat, non religiosè reſpondeamus. Vos verò adeò malam, ne dicam, ſerpentinam Nutritiis veſtris gratiam retuliſtis, ut eos poteſtate ſua impiè ſpoliatos & ſeductos Papæ libidini, profanandos calcandóſque pridem mancipaveritis, mancipetíſque adhuc. 3. Aliud eſſe Paſtorum Eccleſiæ, aliud Nutritiorum officium agnoſcimus, & neutrum vel ex dotationis, vel ex fundationis titulo, verùm utrumque ex Divino jure arceſſimus.

ARG. V. Actus ordinis in Concilio ſunt Doctoribus, Paſtoribus, aliiſque legitimè vocatis de neceſſariis proſpicere, authoritatem, ubi neceſſarium fuerit, interponere, efficere, ne in magno cœtu Cyclopum concio habeatur, in qua, uti ait Euripides, ἀκτὴ ἀλὸς ἀλὸς ἀλὸς; decreta publicare cum authoritate, periculis occurrere, hæreticis conventibus interdicere, contumaces maces punire, lupos arcere. Atqui actus illi nullo modo niſi à ſummo Magiſtratu ordini præſidente exerceri poſſunt.

Resp. Reding: 1. Quæcunque Poteſtas civilis in Concilio agere poteſt, partim ſunt accidentaria Concilio, partim ex mandato Concilii peraguntur. 2. Conſtantinus M. Theodoſius, Valentinianus, Conſtantius vel tale quid nunquam affectarunt, utpote qui poſtremi Conciliis ſubſcripſerunt; vel affectantes ab Epiſcopis repreſſi ſunt. Ib. pag. 107. 108. Reſp. 1. Exteriorem in Concilio juriſdictionem exercere, atque eadem robur addere decretis, ut in externo foro obligent, libellos ab Epiſcopis oblatos accipere, combuere, de religionis negotio diſquirendi poteſtatem iiſdem permittere, ferre opem utrique diſputantium parti, diſcordantes reconciliare, conferre cum ſingulis (quæ in Concilio Nicæno Conſtantinum M. feciſſe Socrates & Euſebius memorant) ad eſſentiam Concilii pertinent, ſi quicquam aliud. Eam porro juriſdictionem tam non habet Magiſtratus à Concilio, quàm non poteſtatem eminentem quamvis. 2. Quæ de Imperatoribus ex Bellarmino *de Concil. lib. Si quando Imperatores ſe veris Epiſcopis, ceu Paſtoribus, ductoribus ſuis ſe ſubeſſe, & proprio illorum muneri ſe non ingerere, cauſam fidei Epiſcopis relinquere velle, piè profeſſi ſunt, nihil hoc facit ad rem, cùm de eorum juriſdictione exteriore & gubernatione Eccleſiæ quoad externum ordinem hic agatur. Conſtantius quoque Concilio Nicæno ſubſcripſit ultimus, quia ceu Præſes non actionis, ſeu cauſæ, ſed ordinis, nec non executionis vindex ſubſcriptione tali auctoritatem ſuam in obſervatione actorum ſpondere ac obſignare voluit. Ita in priſcis Conciliis etiam Nationalibus Galliæ & Hiſpaniæ fieri conſuevit. Quòd ſi iidem mala futuræ ſervitutis prævidiſſent, cogitaſſéntque, nihil profici patientia, niſi ut graviora tanquam ex facili tolerantibus imperentur, cautiùs quædam quàm modeſtiùs & humiliùs dixiſſent feciſſéntque.

ARG. VI. Accedit perpetua praxis eccleſiæ purioris Conciliorum. Etenim Niceno 1. quoad cauſam Concilii præfuit Euſtathius Antiochenus; quoad ordinem Conſtantinus M. Conſtantinopolitano 1. cui ne quidem interfuit Romanus Epiſcopus, præfuit quoad ordinem Imperator; quoad cauſam Nectarius Conſtantinopolitanus. Epheſino quoad ordinem Comes Candidianus ab Imperatore miſſus: quoad cauſam Cyrillus Alexandrinus. Chalcedonenſi quoad ordinem præſedit Martianus primò per ſe, poſtea per Judices Conſulares: quoad cauſam eccleſiaſticus præſes ei non eſt datus. Leonis quidem Legati ob Orientalium diſſenſiones primas non tam jure aliquo, quàm arbitrio Imperatoris tenere debuiſſent, quibus ſuapte culpa exciderunt. Nihil dicam de particularibus Conciliis, Conſtantinopolitano II. cui Menas; Sardicenſi, cui Hoſius; Carthaginenſi VI. cui præſedit Aurelius, aliiſque infinitis. Conſuleſis hiſtoriam præſidentiæ in veteribus Conciliis, quàm fusè Blondellus de Primatu ad Sect. 64. proſequitur.

Papæ Legatis, subscripsit, adeòque Papæ nomine præsidem egit. Constantinopolitano I. licet non præsederit Damasus, illud tamen eatenus œcumenicum fuit, quatenus à Damaso, in iis, quæ ad hæreseos condemnationem spectant, confirmatum fuit, Photio in libello de 7. Synodis, & Gregorio Epist. lib. VI. 26. testibus. In Ephesino Cyrillus præsedit ut Legatus Papæ, Cœlestino, Evagrio, Photio, Prosspero, Nicephoro testibus. Chalcedonensi præfuerunt Leonis legati, ut ex Conciliis ad Leonem epistola, qua dicitur, eum sicut caput membris præfuisse; tum ex eo, quòd in omnibus actionibus primi nominantur, sedent, subscribunt, vincitur. In Constantinopolitano II. Eutychius Patriarcha Const. Epistola ad Vigilium data agnovit, jus præsidendi Romano deberi. Sardicensi Hosius, qua Legatus Papæ, primus subscripsit. lib. p. 108. 109. Resp 1. Meras historiæ antiquæ tenebras adversarius offundere conatur. Concilio equidem Nicæno I. Hosius Cordubensis inter Ecclesiasticos præfuit solus, Concilii totius libera electione, & Imperatoris, qui ordini præfuit, voluntate; non Romani Pontificis delegatione, de qua nihil apud priscos. Vitus verò, seu Victor, & Vincentius legati fuerunt Romani Episcopi Silvestri, & Julii, uti vocant, Chorepiscopi; neque illi actionibus Concilii, ut Hosius, sed parti suburbicanæ, uti Rufinus vertit, id est. Patriarchatus Romani Ecclesiis præfuerunt. Non obscurè id tradit Theodoretus Hist. Eccl. lib. I. 7. dicens: Ὁ δὲ τῆς Ῥώμης ἀρχιερεὺς γῆρᾳ ἀπολώφᾳ βαθεῖ. λύει μὲν τοι πρεσβυτέρους ἀπέστελε, συνήθως τοῖς πρεσβυτέροις παρεγγυήσας: Romæ verò Episcopus propter senectutem provectam abfuit: sed mandavit duos Presbyteros, cùm dedisset mandata, ut assentirentur iis, quæ fierent. Non igitur tres ille, sed duos, Vitum & Vincentium, delegavit, non ut actionibus Synodalibus illi præessent, & in consessu regnarent, sed ut nomine suo suffragarentur. Subscripserunt igitur etiam tres hi, Hosius, Vitus, Vincentius, primi; sed ratione differente; ille tanquam Præses actionum Synodalium, hi tanquam legati primæ sedis Episcopi. Nam Synodis universè plures unquam præfuisse, quæ authoritas tradidit, quæ ratio probat? Neq; aliud vel Photius vel Cedrenus à Redingio citati asserunt. Uterq; legatos Romani Pontificis, Silvestri & Julii, Vitum & Vincentium tradit non solos, & toti Synodicæ actioni, sed conjunctè cum aliis Episcopis Patriarchalibus; adeóq; non toti actioni omnium, sed Patriarchatus sui Ecclesiarum actioni præfuisse. Bellarminus igitur, & ex eo Redingius, universalem & particularem præsidentiam probè distinguendam utramque, confundit. Illa totius Concilii erat, hæc solius Patriarchæ. 2. Quòd Concilium Constantinopolitanum I. Oecumenicum fuerit ob confirmationem Papæ Damasi absentis, putidum est Redingii mendacium. Assensu suo & communi suffragio, ceu Patriarcha Occidentis, probavit & recepit fidem in Constantinopolitano expositam: non confirmatione robur ei ullum summa authoritate, ut caput & princeps, addidit. neque hoc Photius docuit. 3. Ephesino Cyrillus Patriarcha de communi sententia Synodi, atque Imperatoris commendatione ex delegato per consessum totum officio, præfuit. Hæc universalis ejus præsidentia erat. Sed & particulari tum Patriarchatus sui Alexandrini, ex officio ordinario; tum Romani, ex officio fraterno, & Cœlestini, velut Coëpiscopi, extraordinaria delegatione, defunctus est. Manifestè id arguunt verba Evagrii lib. I. cap. 4. ubi sic ille ad verbum: Meta πολὺ χρόνου περιοδῶ ἀπίζοντος, κυρίλλου δ' ἡγεμονίαν διέποντος τὴν τῶν καλχηδόνα ἔπραν, τῷδε ἐπισκοπῶ (ὡς ἔφαμεν) τῆς πρεσβυτέρας Ῥώμης περιγενέσθαι. Post multum tempus consumptum conveniunt, Divino illo viro obeunte etiam Cœlestini locum, qui (ut dictum est) Episcopatum Romæ veteris administrabat. Cyrillus igitur, Evagrio indice, tum suo ipsius nomine interfuit, tum Cœlestini locum obivit, non ut Concilio nomine illius præsideret, sed potiùs ut suffragium commune cismarinorum Episcoporum, qui pauculi intererant, colli-

Hebr. III. 1? An de poteſtate ejus quicquam hoc delibat? An quia legatus Dei Patris Chriſtus fuit, id prohibet quicquam, quò minùs in vicarium ejus, uti pertenditis, Petrum, & hujus ſucceſſorem Papam, ejus poteſtas vicaria derivetur? En, vincta tua, Redingi, cœdis. 3. Nihil tamen hæc omnia ad Papam. Aliter catuli olent, aliterque leones.

OBIECT. II. In Concilio Hieroſolymitano præſedit Petrus, quippe qui primus ſurrexit, locutus eſt, quæſtionem definivit, ſequentibus ejus ſententiam reliquis. Ergo jure præſidet Papa ſucceſſor Petri. Reſp. 1. Jura Petri uſurpat Papa ſine lege, ſicut olim quidam ædilitatem ſine ſuffragiis. 2. Nec ſi Petrus ſemel præſedit, fecit hoc jure ordinario & perpetuo. 3. Præſediſſe Petrum non liquet. Non locutus eſt primus, quia præceſſit πολὺ συζήτησις. Sententiam ſuam protulit ante Paulum, Barnabam, Jacobum, quod præſidis non eſt. Decretum factum non in verba Petri, ſed potiùs Jacobi, uti patet ex v. 20. & 29. Hunc proinde præſidem hujus Concilii faciunt Dionyſius Carthuſianus & Abulenſis.

EXCIP. REDINO: 1. In definitione primus Petrus locutus eſt, & in ejus ſententiam reliqui Apoſtoli iverunt. Primæ autem loquendi partes præſidi debentur. 2. A S. Jacobo, juxta Dionyſium Carthuſianum, non determinatio ſententiæ, ſed determinationis definitivæ prolatio, quæ ad executorem, non præſidem ſpectat, facta eſt. Ib. pag. III. 112. Reſp. 1. Qui primus loquitur, princeps decreti ſeu ſententiæ eſt, (uti etiam hic Petrum Hieronymus appellat) non præſes confeſſus, qui ultimus ſemper loquitur, cenſet, & decretum ex plurium ſuffragiis enuntiat. Niſi Redingius aliam Apoſtolici, aliam aliorum omnium confeſſuum formam eſſe, probaverit. 2. A S. Jacobo æquè ac à S. Petro determinatio quæſtionis facta eſt, cùm ſinguli ſuffragia determinantia, definientia protulerint, hoc tamen cum diſcrimine, quòd Jacobus, ceu præſes confeſſus, quæſtionem ex definitivis aliorum, ſuóque etiam, ſuffragiis adjecta inſuper probatione efficaciſſima ex Amos. IX. 11. concluſit. Statim enim poſt ejus ſententiam, v 22. decretum à Jacobo concluſum Antiochienſibus tranſmittendum Apoſtoli, Presbyteri & tota eccleſia ſtatuunt. 3. Siccine S. Jacobum non diffinitorem, ſed executorem fuiſſe ſententiæ? Putidum hoc Redingii commentum eſt. Diſertè enim ſic S. Jacobus v 19. loquitur: Διὸ ἐγὼ κρίνω. Propterea ego judico, quomodo S. Petrum locutum eſſe non conſtat. Iccirco Dionyſius Carthuſianus diſertè obſervat, Jacobum, ceu Hieroſolymitanum Epiſcopum ex Pontificali ordinaria, loci ſcilicet, dignitate definitivam, ſeu determinationem Petri & reliquorum, protuliſſe. quod præſidis eſt. Nam ut præconem ſententiam S. Petri ipſum duntaxat promulgâſſe, non communem ſuámque etiam protuliſſe, nemo ſanus dixerit.

OBIECT. III. Concilio Hieroſolymitano non præfuit Imperator aliquis vel Rex. Non igitur præſes politicus eſt neceſſarius. Reſp. Magiſtratus Chriſtianus ſummus tum temporis nullus fuit. Proinde ipſa eccleſia fuit cuſtos ordinis.

Resp. 1. Ordinis in ecclesia ratio potestatem coërcitivam tum requirit, cùm summam potestatem in fide consentientem illa habet. Ea non consentiente, ordo non propria jurisdictione, quæ sola cogere potest, sed mutuo consensu, & voluntaria obligatione sic custoditur, ut faciliùs etiam turbari possit. 2. Ea tamen uti Magistratui fideli incumbit, quia ultra limites à natura corrupta fixos, ad hoc etiam verbum Dei, quo Ecclesiæ nutritius constituitur, & ecclesiæ salutem curare tenetur, obligat.

OBIECT. IV. In Conciliis judicium sit de fide. Atqui hoc non pertinet ad Iudices seculares. Resp. 1. Etiam judices seculares ab ecclesia designati, & vocati judicare possunt de fide. 2. Politicus præses requiritur non tam ad judicium fidei, quàm ad custodiam ordinis.

infallibilia ſunt, quibus Papæ, ut capiti eccleſiæ obediendum eſſe conſtet. Traditio res incerta eſt & fallax. Miracula eum non facere, ipſi fatentur. Eccleſia nunquam eum univerſali conſenſu caput & dominum elegit, quippe quæ ſe peculium eſſe Chriſti, non hominum, novit.

ARG. II. Caput Eccleſiæ eſt ſolus Chriſtus. Etenim is eſt ἡ κεφαλὴ τοῦ σώματος, Col. I. 8. & II. 19. ubi cum articulo ὁ ἐξίζειν definitè notatur is, qui eſt caput eccleſiæ. Tum in Chriſto ſolo reperiuntur proprietates capitis, quales ſunt, conjungi cum Eccleſia ἀχωρίστως καὶ ἀδιαιρέτως, diligere eccleſiam & συμπαθῆσαι, pro ea fieri ſacrificium, repræſentare corpus, ἐπιχορηγεῖν ſuppeditare ei omnem vim & facultatem vivificam, nec non augmentum, ut creſcat & educetur Eccleſia εἰς πᾶν πλήρωμα τοῦ Θεοῦ, eſſe lucem corporis eccleſiæ, & unicum Doctorem. Hæc capitis eccleſiæ hieroglyhica ſoli Chriſto tribuuntur Epheſ. I. 22. 23. II. 21. 23. 1. Cor. VIII. 6. 1. Tim. II. 8. 1. Cor. XV. 45. 47. Joh. I. 4. 46. Matth. XXIII. 8. 10. &c. Eſt itaque nomen hoc capitis inter nomina ἀλαφοιώτερα, competens ſoli Chriſto.

RESP. REDING: 1. An ergo Concilia Sacra & Patres Orthodoxi, Pontificem caput eccleſiæ vocantes, blaſphemarunt? 2. Chriſtus eccleſiæ caput eſt principaliter & abſolutè: Papa relatè ad Chriſtum, miniſterialiter animarum ſalutem operans. Ib. pag. 118. 119. Reſp. 1. Caput intellexi in pleno, non in diminuto ſenſu ita dictum. Nam caput in pleno ſenſu eſt propriè illud, quod & ordine, & dignitate, & imperio & influxu cœteris membris præeſt: in diminuto verò illud, quod primum eſt, adeóque, ſine poteſtate, influxu & dominatione ulla, ordine aliis præit; quia ſcilicet caput non tantùm dominatur membris, ſed etiam prima pars eſt animalis, & quæ in pronis ad terram animantibus præcedit. Unde & caput libri pro fronte libri, & prima ejus parte; & legionis caput pro prima legionis cohorte dici ſuevit. Priores ſive primores officiorum Theodoſianus codex Leg. XI. in capite conſtitutos eſſe ait. Decem militum primus ſub una papilione tendentium, caput contubernii appellabatur. Sic capita Senatus, Scholæ, primi Senatores, rectores. Græcis quoque κεφαλὴ, & Hebræis ראש etiam primus dictus à quo ראשית initium ac principium, & ראשון primus, prior, quaſi capitalis, vel in capite conſtitutus. Si quæ igitur Concilia vetera, ſi qui S. Patres vel Eccleſiam Romanam caput eccleſiarum omnium, vel Romanæ Eccleſiæ Epiſcopum cœterorum omnium caput hoc ſenſu tum, cùm & Eccleſia Romana & ejus Epiſcopi Orthodoxiæ laude adhuc claruerunt, appellitarunt, nullius equidem blaſphemiæ rei peragi poſſunt. Fuit enim Eccleſia Romana ordine prima, fuerunt ejus Epiſcopi ordine primi, non jure equidem Divino, ſed eccleſiaſtico & politico, ob urbis Imperatoriæ dignitatem & primatum. Ubi eadem Eccleſia ejúſque Epiſcopi prorſus tum in regimine, tum in fide degenerarunt, tum verò illud Eſajæ cap. IX. 15. נביא מורה שקר הוא הזנב Propheta mendacii doctor, ipſe eſt cauda, impleri cœpit, atque impletur quotidie. 2. Illa Redingii de binis capitibus reſponſio ſpecioſior equidem eſt illa Bonifacii VIII. qui cap. Unam ſanctam, Extravag. de majorit. & obed. dicere non erubuit, Chriſtum, & vicarium Chriſti Petrum, & Petri ſucceſſorem Papam, unum tantùm omnes eſſe caput eccleſiæ. Uter verum dixit, Redingius Abbas, duo capita conſtituens eccleſiæ, an Bonifacius Papa, unum aſſerens? Veruntamen duo illa capita, licet imperialis & miniſterialis nec non abſoluti & relati diſcrimine fucata, ex duplicis officii varietate cum ſuis ſtatuens, non tam capitis officia dividit, quàm planè diſcerpit, & Papam imperialem potiùs & abſolutum, quàm miniſteriale & relativum caput conſtituit.

ſtituit. Ecquæ enim capiti principali & miniſteriali officia deputare illi ſolent? Capitis imperialis officium (ita Stapletonus Princip. doctr. lib. VI. 16.) eſt, à ſe tanquam fonte vitam in cæteras corporis partes diffundere: miniſterialis, corporis externa munia imperio & poteſtate ſua dirigere & adminiſtrare. Atqui imperio & poteſtate ſive interna, ſive externa corporis munera dirigere, præcipua ſeu principalis eſt capitis functio, illo unico digna capite, quod vitæ, ſenſus & motus poteſtatem omnem ſpiritu ſuo corpori impertitur. Cúmque hoc imperium exercere ſit prærogativa Regia, & Regis Regum propria, qui eam totam vel partem ejus cuiquam ſubditorum, qui ἐκ ἔργου διακονίας ad opus miniſterii conſtituti ſunt, (Epheſ. IV. 12.) tribuit, læſæ Majeſtatis Chriſti reum ſe reddit. Et ſanè caput eſſe, non impropriè duntaxat, & ratione ordinis cujusdam, ſed ratione poteſtatis, imperii, influxus in inferiora; atque ſimul miniſtrum eſſe, planè ἀσύγκριτα ſunt. Neque Papam ſuum aliter Eccleſiæ ſuæ caput Pontificii conſtituere, quàm infinitam, meram & reapſe directam in ſpiritualibus & temporalibus poteſtatem ei arrogando, eúmque Regem Regum, & Dominum Dominantium faciendo, potuerunt.

ARG. III. Oecumenicus Papatus conjunctus cum ejusmodi unius hominis imperio, mutat & evertit libertatem filiorum Dei, quæ illis in N. T. propria eſſe debet. Nam in V. T. quidem eccleſia Judaica ſubjecta fuit ejusmodi legislatoribus & dominis, uti colligitur ex Geneſ. XLIX. 10. Jerem. XXXI. 31. &c. Deut. XVII. 9. 12. &c. At in N. T. ſublata ſervitute ſucceſſit libertas eccleſiæ, ſecundum quam eccleſia jam eſt ſolius Dei vivi, 1. Tim. III. 15. agnoſcens ſolum Chriſtum Regem, Dominum & Doctorem Eſaj. XXXIII. 22. Matth. XXIII. 8. 9. 10. Qui igitur Papæ tribuunt ἐξουσιαστὴν, αὐθεντικὴν, δεσποτικὴν, πανεπαρχικὴν, quæ ipſiſſima verba ſunt L. Allatii Græculi de Conſenſ. Eccl. Orient. & Occ. l. 1. c. 5. abnegant regnum Chriſti, libertatem filiorum Dei tollunt, & priſtinam ſervitutem poſtliminio introducunt.

RESP. REDING: 1. Atqui non obſtante Evangelica libertate S. Paulus Rom. XIII. 1. 2. fideles Magiſtratui ſubjicit, & Chriſtus Petro poteſtatem clavium, ſub qua etiam legislativa continetur, mandavit. 2. Neque etiam Chriſtus venit, ut ſolveret legem & prophetas, licentiámque quidvis agendi induceret. Ib. pag. 119. Reſp. Nec Magiſtratus politici imperium, quod Evangelium non abolevit, quidquam Evangelicæ libertati derogat, cùm fidei & conſcientiæ dominari jure non poſſit, ac proin eatenus ſervos hominum non faciat: nec clavium poteſtas miniſterialis poteſtatem legislativam requirit, cùm Cœlum aperiendum claudendúmque ſit juxta leges non hominis ullius, ſed ſolius Chriſti domini. 2. Chriſtus quoque libertatem afferens, & fidem conſcientiámque ab imperio & dominatione hominum liberans, nec legem & prophetas ſolvit, utpote libertatis N. T. prænuntios: nec licentiam agendi quidvis munivit, ſed vera libertate, quæ uni ſolique ipſi fidem cultúmque omnem obſtringit, eccleſiam ſuam beavit.

ARG. IV. Si Papatus oecumenicus inſtitutus eſt à Chriſto, oportet contineatur in hierarchia eccleſiaſtica, quæ fuit Apoſtolorum tempore. Atqui Paulus hierarchiam ſui temporis commemorans Epheſ. IV. 11. 12. oecumenici ejusmodi Papatus nullo apice meminit. RESP.

RESP. REDINGI: 1. Cùm Apostolos primore loco S. Paulus posuit, Apostolicam dignitatem perpetuò in ecclesia mansuram innuit. Solus autem S. Petrus Apostolatum in successores derivaturus erat, quia super ipso ecclesia fundata est; non item reliqui Apostoli, quia Apostolicæ dignitatis plenitudo iis per modum legationis duntaxat collata est. 2. Ibidem v. 11-14. Apostolos Ecclesiæ dedisse Christus dicitur, ne fluctuemus in fide, puerorum instar. Ergo infallibilitatem in decidendis fidei dogmatis iisdem, Petro inprimis, & successoribus perpetuis in ecclesia mansuris contulit. lb. p. 119. Resp. 1. Lyncæus es, Redingi, qui Oecumenicum Papatum ibi vidisti, ubi nemo veterum vidit, nemo recentiorum, ἐφεκτικὸς quamvis, videre potest. Etenim si Papatum Oecumenicum Paulus comprehendit, in summo utiq; gradu comprehendit. Atqui hoc non, quia Oecumenicus, & caput Ecclesiæ consortem neminem admittit. Summus autem gradus apud Paulum, qui Apostolorum, non Apostoli cujuspiam principis est, consortes admisit. Oecumenicus igitur, seu caput ecclesiæ in eo comprehendi nequit. Somnium porro, non res est, quòd Petrus fuerit ordinarius, successorem sortiturus: Apostoli reliqui delegati tantùm, successoribus destituti. Id enim & cum S. Scriptura, quæ semel & una missione omnes missos ex æquo asserit, ut vel omnes ordinarios, vel omnes delegatos fuisse necessum sit; & cum erudita antiquitate omni pugnat. Solus nobis Bellarminus, & ex eo Redingius, in hac mundi senecta arcanum isthoc reseravit, ceu alter Pythagoras sibi nudè asserenti fidem haberi contendens. 2. Ne verò in fide, puerorum instar, fluctuandum nobis esset, humanum infallibile caput constitui opus neutiquam fuit. Statim enim v. 15. subjicit Apostolus, nos ἀληθεύοντες ἐν ἀγάπῃ veritati studentes in charitate, crescere εἰς αὐτὸν in ipsum, Christum, τὴν κεφαλὴν caput illud, ex quo totum corpus conformetur. En, nemo Apostolorum, Pastorum nemo, quibus v. 12. solum ἔργον διακονίας opus ministerii tribuitur, sed Christus solus corporis sui, Ecclesiæ, caput inducitur. Is solus Spiritu suo infallibili Ecclesiæ conjunctissimus, mediante Apostolorum doctrina scripta, à Pastoribus & doctoribus ad illam solam alligatis, adeóque & fallibilibus & falsis, cùm ab ea recedunt; prædicanda, ne puerorum more in fide fluctuemus, efficit. 3. Quin tantùm abest, ut Apostolus hoc loco caput aliquod visibile insinuet, ut potiùs cum unitate Ecclesiæ diversitatem & varietatem donorum ac ministrorum consistere posse atque debere, ex professo doceat.

ARG. V. Potestas ecclesiastica nusquam ἀμέσως tributa est uni homini, qualis Papa est: sed ecclesiæ, vel certè pluribus. Hinc Christus contumacem peccatorem non jubet deferri apud unum, sed apud Ecclesiam, Matth. XVIII. 17. Tum Apostoli omnes ἀμέσως potestatem suam acceperunt à Christo, non solus Petrus, & reliqui à Petro. Christus enim omnes misit, sicut ipse missus est à Patre, Joh. XX. 21. 22. Quin & omnes Episcopos, non unum aliquem, regendæ ecclesiæ præfecit Paulus, Act. XX. 28. Præterea claves Regni Cælorum non uni alicui concessæ sunt, sed toti ecclesiæ in persona Petri, Matth. XVI. 19. XVIII. 18. Joh. XX. 23. Quid quòd sublato Pontifice maneret ecclesia, atque adeò etiam potestas Ecclesiæ? Apparet in Interpontificiis, schismatibus, hæresibus, apostasia Paparum: quin & in Orientalibus ecclesiis, quæ non subjectæ Pontifici, potestatem tamen tum ordinis, tum jurisdictionis retinent. Denique in Concilio Tridentino ipſo idem ſenſerunt Epiſcopi Hiſpani, Galli, & magna pars Italorum. Hinc Lainezio Jeſuitarum Generali contendenti, poteſtatem jurisdictionis totam integrámque immediatè Papæ, non Eccleſiæ tributam eſſe, palam reſtitit Epiſcopus Pariſienſis, aſſerens, eam doctrinam prioribus ſeculis inauditam eſſe, ante annos 50. à Cajetano demum inventam, ut pileum Cardinalitium mereretur: à Theologis Sorbonenſibus eo ipſo tempore ignominiosè notatam, utpote quæ ex Regno Cœleſti faciat non Regnum, verùm tyrannidem temporalem, & ſpoliet eccleſiam titulo Sponſæ Chriſti. Quin & Fr. Victoria, Alphonſus à Caſtro, & ante eos Facultas Theologica Pariſienſis A. Chr. 1429. in cauſa Fratris Johannis Saraceni, aliique defendunt: Tum Apoſtolos quàm cateros Epiſcopos immediatè à Chriſto Jurisdictionem accepiſſe & accipere: quos eo nomine pulſat Bellarminus. Et eodem aurigatur nupera definitio ſupremæ Curiæ Pariſienſis.

RESP. REDING: 1. Quomodo eccleſiaſtica poteſtas non eſt tributa uni homini, & tamen tributa eſt Apoſtolis non ſimul ſumptis, ſed ſigillatim? Annon hæc contradictio manifeſta eſt? 2. Diverſa textuum citatorum ratio eſt. Matth. XVIII. 17. non Apoſtolos ſigillatim ſumptos, ſed Eccleſiam in Concilio per ipſos repræſentatam plenitudinem poteſtatis à Chriſto accepiſſe; Joh. XX. 23. ſingulos Apoſtolos poteſtatem extraordinariam per modum legationis accepiſſe; Matth. XVI. 19. ſoli Petro, ceu figuram gerenti totius eccleſiæ, (uti S. Auguſtinus Epiſt. 164. interpretatur, hoc eſt, ut tota eccleſia repræſentativè in eo ceu Principe ſuo, ſit;) cum ordine ad eccleſiam ſuper petra ad finem uſque mundi fundandam, clavium poteſtatem indefinitam promiſſam eſſe, quæ Joh. XXI. 17. eidem collata ſoli eſt; Act. XX. 28. à Paulo Epiſcopis non poteſtatis Apoſtolicæ plenitudinem, ſed Epiſcopalis jurisdictionis partem traditam eſſe, innuitur. 3. Sublato Papa maneret eccleſia, quoad ſubſtantiam & quoad hierarchici ordinis proprietatem in habitu, non tamen in actu, ex defectu capitis. 4. Eccleſiæ Orientales ſchiſmaticæ retinent poteſtatem ordinis, ſed non jurisdictionis univerſalis, verùm particularis ab ipſo Papa promanantis. 5. Quæ de Pariſienſi Epiſcopo in Cajetanum invecto dicuntur, Pallavicinus refellit. Nec Sorbona aliud contendit, quàm quòd Pontifex poteſtate & infallibilitate immediatè à Chriſto ſibi tributa, niſi interveniente Concilio, uti non poſſit. Proin diſſenſus ille non circa ſubſtantiam Oecumenici Papatus, ſed circa modum & uſum ejus verſatur. 6. Si univerſi Apoſtoli & Epiſcopi à Chriſto immediatè poteſtatem acceperunt, quod Pariſienſi Facultati tribuis; etiam S. Petrus immediatè ſuam accepit. Sed Apoſtoli poteſtatem ſuam per modum legationis: Epiſcopi limitatam: Petrus indefinitam clavium poteſtatem in ordine ad perpetuum Eccleſiæ ſtatum accepiſſent. Id. p. 119–122. Reſp. 1. Quamvis poteſtatem eccleſiaſticam Apoſtolis ſigillatim collatam eſſe, diſertè non aſſerui, id tamen verum eſt eo ſenſu, quòd quamcunque Apoſtoli ſinguli acceperunt, eam non à Petro vel alio Apoſtolo, ſed immediatè à Chriſto acceperunt. Quia tamen non ita ſinguli univerſam acceperunt, ut tota conſtiterit in uno, excluſis reliquis, ſine ulla contradictionis ſpecie dixi, eccleſiaſticam poteſtatem nuſpiam totam tributam eſſe uni homini, qualis Papa eſt, ſed Eccleſiæ, vel certè pluribus: & ſimul tributam eſſe Apoſtolis, ſive ſigillatim, ſive conjunctim acceptis. An qui pluribus ſigillatim aliquid tribuit, non tribuit pluribus? Nec Diſſimiles ut eſſe locos allegatos, probes, hanc unam rationem diſſimilitudinis affers, quòd eccleſiaſtica poteſtas Apoſtolis ceu delegatis, Petro ceu figuram gerenti eccleſiæ, cum ordine ad perpetuum eccleſiæ ſtatum, adeóque Eccleſiam repræſentanti collata ſit. Hanc verò diſſimilitudinis rationem, nodum quæſiturus in ſcirpo, ut malæ cauſæ prætextum haberes, finxiſti, non probaſti. Nec αὐτὸς ἔφα es, ut non probanti fidem habere teneamur. Quamcunque poteſtatem acceperunt Apoſtoli, ex æquo omnes, ceu delegati Chriſti acceperunt, & quicquid ad ſucceſſores derivari potuit, ex æquo omnes derivarunt. Solvendi & ligandi, remittendi & retinendi peccata poteſtas, clavium ſymbolo ſignificata eadem & æqua Apoſtolorum omnium fuit. Et in Petro Eccleſiam, adeóque etiam Apoſtolos claves accepiſſe non tantùm Cœli, uti Alphonſus à Caſtro adverſus hæreſes lib. XII. & Roſſenſis ad artic. Luth. 27. nugantur, ſed etiam Regni Cœlorum, pia antiquitas, ignara diſcriminis ullius, uti ex Paciano ad Sympron. Hieronymo lib. I. adv. Jovin. Origene tract. 1. in Matth. Baſilio Conſtit. Monaſt. 22. Auguſtino in Johan. tract. 50. & 124. aliis liquet, agnovit. Neque S. Auguſtino dicenti, S. Petrum, cùm claves accepit, figuram ſeu perſonam geſſiſſe eccleſiæ, in mentem venit, eum accepiſſe claves, ceu Principem eccleſiæ, atque eccleſiam repræſentaſſe; ut ſic in Petro claves datæ dicantur Eccleſiæ, ſicut Regno datum dicitur, quod datur Regi. Nam quæ ſic dantur Regno, quia dantur Regi, iis ſolis Rex utitur fruitur, non etiam ipſum Regnum. At his clavibus contendit Auguſtinus eccleſiam uti frui, etiam ſeorſim à perſona Petri. S. Petrus igitur figuram, perſonam eccleſiæ gerendo, eandem repræſentavit ſociali modo, non ut princeps, ſed ut ſocius eorum, quos repræſentabat, ita ut ſocietatis ejuſdem jure, beneficii ejuſdem particeps eſſet. Addo, S. Petrum aſſertione Redingii tantùm non infra reliquorum Apoſtolorum dignitatem deprimi. Si enim reliqui Apoſtoli poteſtatem extraordinariam per modum legationis acceperunt, illi extraordinarii fuerint, S. Petrus ordinarius Chriſti Apoſtolus. Atqui miniſterium extraordinarium majora habet dona, quàm ordinarium. Et ſi ille ordinarius fuit, quid opus reliquis extraordinariis? Si ordinarius propterea, quia in ejus locum alii ſuccedere debuerunt, atque omnis in eo Petri prærogativa ea conſtitit, ea ut frueretur, priùs mori debuit; nec vivus adhuc quacunque re excelluit. 3. Conſtat id populo eſſe principem, quod mens eſt corpori. Si igitur Papa ceu Princeps eccleſiæ poteſtatem plenitudinis omnem ſolus habet, eo mortuo, hæretico &c. eccleſia corpus mortuum, mente ſua deſtitutum erit. Quomodo igitur ſubſtantia eccleſiæ manet? Et ſi poteſtas penes eccleſiam nulla eſt, unde in electum Papam denuo poteſtas nuper amiſſa migrat? 4. Eccleſiæ Orientales ab Occidentali ſeparatæ ſi poteſtatem ordinis retinent, retinent igitur etiam jurisdictionis, quia poteſtates eæ, ſi abſtractè intelligantur, reapſe idem ſunt, & concretè ratione tantùm differunt. Jurisdictio quippe limitatur ad ſubditos, ut paſcat quiſque gregem ſuum, non alienum, per poteſtatem ordinis, qua omnibus partibus miniſterii Paſtoralis uti licet. Utraque verò, qua Orientales Eccleſiæ, quatenus fundamentum fidei retinentes vera Chriſti eccleſia eſſe non deſinunt, utuntur, poteſtas ita ſcilicet à Papa manat, ut nec eam à Papa unquam deſideraverint, nec eam Papa iis, utpote à ſolo Chriſto immediatè pendentem, dare potuerit; neque à Chriſto iis datam, utut etiam voluerit, & excommunicationum ſuarum fulminibus intonuerit, eripere unquam poſſit. 5. De Pallavicini ratiocinationibus alibi videndum. Neque leve adeò ſententiarum divortium eſt, quod tantos motus non ſemel dedit, & nuper etiam cùm Cleri Gallicani definitiones (quas Redingius initio Tomi III. Palæmonem forte ſe Papam ſuum & Clerum Gallicanum inter geſturus, interpretandas pro ſupercilio ſuo ſumpſit) emanaſſent, moderno Papæ Innocentio XI. uberes lachrymas extorſiſſe fertur. 6. S. Petrum à Chriſto poteſtatem immediatè accepiſſe, fatemur, ſed ſociam, non vel principalem, vel univerſam. Differentiam verò poteſtatis, à S. Petro, Apoſtolis & Epiſcopis acceptæ, prout eam Redingius pro ingenio ſuo critico confidenter ſtatuit, Facultas Theologica Pariſienſis ignoravit penitus. Nunquam aliàs vel Bellarminus ei inſultaſſet, vel cum iis Hieromonarchici alii Andabatarum more conflixiſſent.

ARG. VI. Nemo unus ſufficit regendæ Eccleſiæ univerſali. Ad plantandam eccleſiam neceſſarii fuerunt duodecim Apoſtoli. Quomodo igitur unus non Apoſtolus, eccleſiæ jam plantatæ gubernandæ, & novis plantandis par erit? Ne in civilibus quidem παμβασιλεία poſſibilis eſt. Quantò minùs eccleſiæ, cui oppoſita eſt tota rerum univerſitas; quæque per vicarios adminiſtrari nequit, unus ejusmodi παμβασιλεὺς ſufficiet?

RESP. REDING: Papa Eccleſiam totam regere poteſt per ſubordinatos Rectores Epiſcopos, per diœceſes diſtributos. Aliàs eccleſia diſperſa in variæ ſectas ſcinderetur, exemplo Miniſterii Calviniſtici, quod ob ſectarum varietatem Babylonem potiùs quàm Eccleſiam repræſentat. Ib. pag. 122. 123. Reſp. 1. Poſſe quenquam, quod ſui muneris eſt, per alios in eccleſia gerere, nuſpiam Scriptura tradit. Eſt enim Epiſcopatus S. Paulo 1. Tim. III. 1. ἔργον opus; veteribus verò λειτουργία opus publicum. Tum primis eccleſiæ ſeculis moris nunquam fuit, Eccleſias ab uno per alios ſubditos regi. Quin Chorepiſcopos, quos hodie Epiſcoporum vicarios dicunt, antiquitas eandem ob rationem damnavit. Denique ſi per ſubordinatos Diœceſanos Papa Eccleſiam univerſalem regeret, ſubordinati illi non ſuo, ſed alieno jure, ceu legati alterius, ab eodem jus ſuum omne mutuantes, adeóque precario jure eccleſias ſuas regerent. quomodo Rex ſubjectas provincias per miniſtros regit. Atqui Paſtores & Epiſcopi quivis eccleſias ſuas regunt ſuo jure, non poteſtate precaria ab ullo homine accepta: dicuntúrque adeò & ſunt Epiſcopi, Paſtores, non ullius Epiſcopi & Paſtoris vicarii. Unus nempe, juxta πολυῤῥήμονα illud Cypriani, Epiſcopatus eſt, cujus à ſingulis in ſolidum pars tenetur. quale quid de Regum miniſtris ſubordinatis dici non poſſet. Atque argumentum hoc in ipſo Concilio Tridentino etiam Epiſcopi Galli & Hiſpani, atque eorum nomine Belcarius, Metenſis Epiſcopus, uti ipſe Pallavicinus tuus Hiſt. Concil. Trid. lib XIX. 6. narrat, ſtrenuè urſerunt. 2. Quàm verò malè ceſſerit illa unius hominis in univerſam Eccleſiam Chriſti præſumptio, vel ipſe Papa tuus horrendo exemplo eſſe poteſt. Ex quo enim Phaëtontis inſtar huncce currum Solis juſtitiæ conſcendit, univerſum Orientem faſtu & avaritia ſua perdidit, atque in eccleſias Occidentales teterrimarum hæreſium ſuarum ſemina intulit. 3. Quæ de ſectis Calviniſtici stici Ministerii, & Babylone scribis, tuis verbis in Vos perbellè quadrare, probabo. Universalem enim Pastorem requiri doces, ne Ecclesia dispergatur in varias sectas. Annon simili consilio Babylonis veteris architecti, nomen sibi in mundo paraturi, insanam illam turrim moliti sunt, ut scilicet terra maneret unius labii, & ne dispergerentur in universam terram, Genes. XI. 1. 4. Sicut autem veteres illi Babylonii divisi nihilominus & dispersi sunt per totum orbem: ita novæ Babyloni vestræ, quam graphicé Apocalypsis describit, accidit. Quanta enim post attentatam stupendam illam Papatus tyrannici turrim, in Oriente & Occidente confusio, divisio, dispersio insecuta est? Hodiéque Babylonis vestræ architectos utcunque, Samsonis vulpium adinstar, caudis colligati sint, ad propugnandum commune illud carnale Regnum, capitibus tamen innumerarum religionum, sectarum, immane quantum divisos distractósque videas!

ARG. VII. Caput ecclesiæ Oecumenicus Pontifex haud dubiè talis esse debet, ut Spiritus Sancti dona habeat in copiosiori mensura, quàm reliqui: non erret in fide: sit διδακτικὸς, prudens, perspicax, exemplar gregis & ποιμενάρχης ecclesiæ, qualis Christus. Atqui nulla datur in terris cathedra, cui hæ dotes veluti perpetuo munere alligatæ sint. Sanè Papam R. errare posse in fide, ante Bellarminum & Pighium nemini non persuasum fuit. Cùmque repellere possit bonam conscientiam, Deum abnegare, in hæresin incidere, uti fatentur Gratiani Decretum, Albertus, Thomas, Alexander de Ales, Bonaventura, Petrus de Tarentasia, Innocentius V. Richardus de Altavilla, Augustinus de Anchona, Petrus de Palude, singuli à Turrecremata citati, aliíque innumeri, quidnî in fide errare possit? Imò errâsse docent exempla Eleutherii, Liberii, Felicis, Anastasii, Honorii, omniúmque posteriorum Pontificum. Posse eundem peccare, imò crimina patrare, in Historiis testatissimum est.

Resp. Reding: 1. Si quæ hæreses, errores, peccata in Pontificum personæ caderent, ea in ipsam Cathedram Romanæ Ecclesiæ Apostolicam neutiquam redundarent. Neque Papa loquens ex cathedra, sive ex officio suo pastorali erga universalem ecclesiam, decretum fidei vel bonis moribus contrarium condere posset; tum quia Christus rogavit pro Petro, ceu Principe Apostolorum, ne deficiat ejus fides, & ut conversus fratres confirmaret; quod privilegium in successores transire debuit; eandem infallibilitatem Lucio I. Epistola ad Episcopos Hispaniæ & Galliæ; nec non Felice I. Epistola ad Benignum agnoscentibus: tum quia super Petro Ecclesia ita ædificata est, ut clavium potestatem is acceperit, cum Petræ fidei, usque ad finem Seculi duraturæ, connexam. Ib. p. 123. Resp. 1. Pontifices Romanos in hæresin labi posse, imò & lapsos esse non semel, licet reclamantibus Jesuitis, infallibilitatem ejus in jure & facto propugnantibus, negare cùm non possis, (nimis enim manifesta sunt non tantùm posteriorum, inde à Bonifacio III. sed priorum etiam, Liberii inprimis Arianorum, & Honorii Monotheletarum castra sequentis, exempla) ad distinctionem Papæ & Cathedræ, privati & publici è Cathedra pronuntiantis doctoris, confugis, & in ea haud secus, quàm in Makkedæ spelunca sua olim Amorrhæi, te abscondere conaris. Nihil verò prorſus novitia tua inter perſonam & cathedram, Papam privatum & publicum doctorem diſtinctio cauſam tuam juvat, tum quia privatim errans etiam ut Papa errat, cùm ut Papa privatim etiam docere debeat: tum quia olim etiam Moſes habens cathedram in populo Dei erectam, in ea ſedens, ex ea judicans, infallibilis non fuit, quippe non ſanctificans Deum in tali actu, quem maximè publicè, & quaſi cum authoritate cathedræ peragere debuerat: tum quia ſublata cathedra Moſis in N. Nihil dicam de poſterioribus Pontificibus, Gregorio VII. Bonifacio VIII. Innocentio III. aliis, quorum bullæ, eæ inprimis, quibus Concilia Lateranenſia, Florentinum, Tridentinum hæreſibus vel aſſertis vel confirmatis ſcatent. Ipſe certè Honorius quondam errorem ſuum per decretales ſuas ad Sergium epiſtolas, quas in publica Patriarchæ Conſtantinopolitani bibliotheca aſſervatum, & à Sergio aliis Patriarchis Orientalibus communicatum iri ſciverat, publicè, apertè, obſtinatè profeſſus eſt. quod ſi ex cathedra non fecit, quid publicus doctor ex cathedra facere poteſt? 3. Chriſtus, inquis, pro Petro oravit. Pro Petri Perſona, an Cathedra? Ediſſere. Pro Pontifice Romano quolibet? Proba. Interceſſio Chriſti, ne deficeret fides Petri, effecit, non ut vel cathedra illi propria cederet, vel Papa quivis ei ſe intrudens errare non poſſet, & jure regnum ſuum tyrannicum gerere poſſe videretur; ſed ne ruiturus propediem corrueret, à graviſſimo lapſu interceſſionis Chriſti efficacia reſurrecturus. Non aliud ibi Chriſtus Petro promiſit, quàm conſtantiam in vera fide interiori, quæ licet hic Petro ſpeciatim in memoriam revocetur, omnibus tamen fidelibus communis eſt. Oravítque Chriſtus etiam pro Apoſtolis reliquis, imò omnibus per ſermonem eorum in ſe credituris, Joh. XVII. 20. Neque tamen illis omnibus vel cathedram talem deſpondit, vel infallibilitatem impetravit. 4. Felix & Lucius Pontifices & in propria cauſa teſtes à te allegantur, & ne quidem verè teſtes, cùm primorum Pontificum Epiſtolas illas ſuppoſititias eſſe omnes jam paulò emunctiorum narium Papiſtæ agnoſcant. ecclesiæ & Oecumænicum Pontificem, evitare non potest, quin pro eo, qui sub his ænigmatibus proponitur, haberi debeat.

Resp. Reding: Sub illis ænigmatum involucris Antichristi Spiritus jam tum in Simone Mago operans figuratur. Ille bonorum operum necessitatem & arbitrii libertatem, Sacerdotum calibatum, potestatem miracula faciendi, mortuorum resurrectionem, planè uti vos hodie, oppugnavit. Imò cùm mysterium iniquitatis jam primis ecclesiæ Seculis operatum fuerit in hæreticis, atque cum iisdem communia plura Calvinus habuerit, Calvini animumque adeò spiritum in Antichristo primitus operante recognosce. Ib. pag. 124--126. Resp. 1. Cùm ad rem ipsam respondere nihil potueris, neque, utcunque lacertos tuos omnes commoveas, excusare possis, quò minùs, qui se juxta Christum Ecclesiæ caput, Oecumenicum Pontificem jactat, & supremam sibi in terris potestatem arrogat, sub involucris Antichristi, Babylonis M. Bestiæ posterioris, Pseudo-prophetæ depingatur; ne mutus esses, plaustra convitiorum adversus Calvinum (cujus & aliorum nostrorum quoad hæresium cum veteribus communionem objectam, uti innocentiam in vernaculo scripto, Te ad ἐχεμυθίαν redacto, pridem asseruì; ita dicta, si quæ erronea ei excidissent, præstare ego nullo jure teneor) jaculanda putasti. Vel uno documento tuum calumniandi cacoethes liquidissimè probo. Simon Magus resurrectionem mortuorum negavit. Calvinus juxta Farellum Epist. 78. hujus carnis resurrectionem similiter pro re incredibili habuit. Atqui resurrectionem carnis, & hujus carnis resurrectionem solidissimè Calvinus Instit. III. 25. demonstrat. Salva res est, cùm ad calumniandi necessitatem, Redingi, devolveris. Purga priùs, si potes, objectum crimen; & cum ratione certa, non calumniarum strepitu & furore, demonstra, Antichristum non esse, qui se super omnia effert: Babylonem non esse, quæ ex ecclesiastico in civilem statum converso, Romæ imperitans multis populis, in regna totius terræ potestatem sibi, spiritualium, seu mysterii, cujus titulum in fronte præfert, prætextu, vendicat: Bestiam non esse, quæ priori Bestiæ imaginem faciens, repræsentare se Ecclesiam pertendit, & non adorantes imaginem occidit: Pseudoprophetam non esse, qui infallibilis Propheta haberi cùm velit, hæresium quædam veluti pandora est. Atqui talia ei, qui juxta Christum caput Ecclesiæ, Propheta infallibilis, Ecclesia repræsentativa haberi & adorari vult competunt. Commentationes dein Interpretum vestrorum in Apocalypsin, de Babylone M. inprimis Alcasaris, Riberæ, à Lapide, evolve & invicem compara. RESP. REDING: Qui se opposuerunt Romano Pontificatui, non alii unquam fuerunt, quàm hæretici & schismatici. Hæreses enim & schismata non aliunde, Cypriano Epist. 55. ad Cornel. Papam, judice, ortæ sunt, quàm inde, quod Sacerdoti Dei non obtemperatur, nec unus in ecclesia ad tempus Sacerdos, & ad tempus judex vice Christi cogitatur. quem Sacerdotem eadem epistola ait esse Rom. Pontificem, Petri cathedram obtinentem, & Ecclesiam principalem, unde unitas Sacerdotalis exorta sit. Ibid.pag.126. Resp.1. Hæreticus ergo fuerit ante omnes Gregorius M. & ipse Papa, qui titulum Universalis seu Oecumenici Patriarchæ non in Constantinopolitano tantùm, sed in quovis alio (nam argumenta ejus generalia sunt, neque unquam Romanum excipit; quin ejus exemplo titulum illum repudiantis Johannem premit, & soli capiti Christo eum cohærere, apertè dicit) affirmat esse superbum, pomposum, profanum; (Regist.I. lib.IV. epist.32-36.) temerarium, perversum, abominabilem; (Epist.38.) impium (Epist.39.) superstitiosum (lib.VI. ep.24.) nomen singularitatis, arrogantiæ, blasphemiæ, (lib.IV. epist.32.38.) Neque id nudè affirmat, sed rationibus plurimis validissimisque confirmat, qualia sunt, quòd sic cæterorum Episcoporum nomini derogetur; pax ecclesiæ superbo nomine turbetur; gratiæ communiter omnibus effusæ contradicatur; sub uno capite Christo omnes nonnisi membra ecclesiæ sint; ad imitationem hoc pertineat Diaboli, qui omnibus præesse, subesse nemini voluerit; in elatione sua tali Antichristum præcurrat; nemini fas sit appellari Rabbi; fratrum omnium corda ad scandalum provocentur; nec Episcopi Romani, (iis quidem à Chalcedonensibus oblatum cum titulum statuit, sed præter fidem Concilii, adeò ut Baronius ipse librarii fraudem suspectaverit) nec Sanctorum quisquam eo titulo usus fuerit. Hæc ζηλωτικὰ certè ῥήματα si reprehendere tu sustinueris, renues igitur ipsemet Papæ (talis enim Gregorius fuit) obtemperare, atque sic, te ipso judice, hæreticus eris. 2. Cypriano Ecclesia illa, in qua præcipit obtemperandum Sacerdoti Dei, uni Episcopo & judici Christi vice, particularis est cujusque urbis ecclesia, non universalis. Hæc enim dixit injuria commotus Novatianorum, qui Carthagine novum ei Episcopum opposuerunt; quemadmodum socii eorum Romæ Cornelio. De omnibus igitur Catholicis Episcopis, singulis in suis sibi commissis provinciis, atque se ipso etiam, hoc intellexit, uti universæ orationis filum, ipsæque circumstantiæ arguunt. Eadem verba, quæ hic ad Cornelium Papam de se ipso scripsit, alibi Epist.69. ad Florentium, qui Papa non fuit, scripsit. Hunc verò Sacerdotem unum in ecclesia, judicem vice Christi, solum esse Cornelium Papam, ubi eadem Epistola Cyprianus dixit? Finxisti tu pro more. Petri cathedram insignivit eam Ecclesiam, in qua sedisse eum putavit; quam Ecclesiam principalem vocat, quia, uti Rigaltius ipse explicat, in urbe principali constituta erat. Inde unitatem Sacerdotum exortam addit, in Occidente scilicet, & quia ordine prima antiquitus existimata est. Aliàs verbum Dei primò ex Sione exiit.

ARG. X. Facere non possum, quin quæ mens fuerit plerorumque Patrum ipsius Concilii Tridentini de Oecumenico Papatu, paucis aperiam. Sanè negari non potest, omnes eos, qui in Concilio definiri postulârunt Episcopatum juris Divini esse, vel Concilium supra Papam esse, authoritatem Papalem impugnâsse. Et priores quidem ex judicio non tantùm Lainezii, Jesuitæ asserentis: Si statuatur, Episcopos Jure Divino esse institutos, Pontificem non fore amplius caput ecclesiæ, & vicarium Christi: verùm etiam Episcopi Segovienſis, palam jactantis, unam voculam Iuris Divini Papæ fore cauſam ruinæ. Poſteriores ex manifeſta ratione, quia ſi Concilium eſt ſupremus judex controverſiarum, & ſuperius Papa, poterit Papa judicari à Concilio, auferri ab Eccleſia, ac proinde non erit caput & Paſtor Oecumenicus eccleſiæ. Jam, Epiſcopatum eſſe Juris Divini, in Concilio vox fuit pene omnium Epiſcoporum, exceptis paucis Italis, qui linguam conductam pretio, ſeu quod ajunt, bovem in lingua tenuerunt. Et vicerant illi facilè, niſi Legati miris artibus quæſtionem illam declinâſſent, & à judicio Concilii ſummoviſſent. Vnde concludere licet, Romanum Pontificem eſſe caput Eccleſiæ nequidem ex ſententia ipſius Concilii Tridentini, ſed paucorum tantùm Epiſcoporum & Legatorum Pontificis, qui cauſæ ſuæ diffiſi non ſuſtinuerunt quæſtionem hanc definiendam Concilio ſubjicere, omnibus ferè, qui definitionem ejus petierunt, rejectis, & ad ſubſellia plorantium amandatis. Tum & Concilium eſſe ſupra Papam, pertendit Cæſar, pertendit in Concilio Cardinalis Lotharingus de ſententia totius eccleſiæ Gallicanæ, qui etiam ferebatur palam dixiſſe: ſe illam ſententiam de ſuperioritate Concilii æquè veram & indubitatam credere, atque illud; Verbum caro factum eſt: pertenderunt denique Epiſcopi Lucenſis, Imolenſis, Conimbricenſis, Segovienſis, ac plerique alii ſaniores.

RESP. REDING: 1. Si Patres Concilii Tridentini plerique in diſceptando & proponend° opiniones tales foverunt, non iccirco Concilio ipſi tribui poſſunt, quia Concilii ſententia eſt non id, quod diſceptatur & proponitur, ſed id, quod ab iis, qui in nomine Chriſti congregati ſunt, definitur. 2. Segovienſis, juxta Pallavicinum, ſtatuit, Pontificis poteſtatem firmari, ſi Epiſcoporum jurisdictio diceretur eſſe Divini juris. Quomodo igitur jactavit, unam voculam juris Divini Papæ fore cauſam ruinæ? 3. Lainezius quoque arguit, Pontificatum Petri collapſurum, ſi cunctis Apoſtolis univerſalis eccleſiæ paſtorale officium eſſet collatum. Nihilominus jurisdictionem Apoſtolorum tum extraordinariam à Chriſto immediatè, tum ordinariam in Epiſcopos translatam, à Deo ipſis mediatè collatam eſſe, pronuntiavit, adeóque contrariam potiùs conſequentiam formavit. 4. *Theologi Galli in Concilio hoc unum pertendebant, ne ſententia ſtatuens, Concilium eſſe ſupra Papam, tacitè damnaretur, non, ut illa manu teneretur. tes, ſubdolis artibus ſuis, quas Thuanus etiam Hiſtor. Concil. Trid. pag. 27. 28. recenſet, id omne ſufflaminaſſent. 2. Ex mente Perczii Segovienſis Epiſcopi, infracta Epiſcoporum poteſtate, Papæ quoque poteſtatem infringi, ipſe quoque S. Polanus Lib. VII. p. m. 550. non diſſimulavit. Neque ſanè aliter res habet. Si quid enim unquam Papa juris legitimi habuit, ceu Epiſcopus à Chriſto inſtitutus habuit. Si igitur Epiſcoporum inſtitutio juris Divini non eſt, nec ejus inſtitutio juris Divini eſſe potuit. Manet interim inconcuſſum, quod idem Segovienſis aſſeruit meritò, unicam vocem juris Divini Papæ fore cauſam ruinæ, quia definitione hac Papatum Oecumenicum ruere, & Papam ad Epiſcoporum ſubſellia, curiámque parium relegari, neceſſum foret. Decernant modo, ita etiam Granatenſis Archiepiſcopus argutabatur, authoritatem Epiſcopalem à Chriſto inſtitutam eſſe, ex eo mox conſecuturum, nec diminui poſſe. Ita reſtitutum iri Epiſcopis, quod iis à Chriſto donatum, aliena ambitione & avaritia uſurpatum, aut per propriam ſocordiam amiſſum eſt. Sicut igitur non diminuta Epiſcopali poteſtate neutiquam Papalis creſcere potuiſſet: ita reſtituta illa, hæc decreſcere neceſſariò debuiſſet. 3. Lainezium in Concilio non dixiſſe ea, quæ retuli, ex ejus oratione à Pallavicino narrata neutiquam liquet tum quia ex ſententia ab eo fusè propugnata neceſſariò id ſequitur, non fore ſcilicet Papam caput eccleſiæ, niſi jurisdictionis poteſtas ei immediatè à Chriſto data, & ab eodem peculiaribus Epiſcopis collata ſit: tum quia Pallavicinus ipſe lib. XVIII. 15. 1. fatetur, Lainezium temporis avarum, ſcripto reſtrinxiſſe, quod dicto largiùs fuderat. Annon ergo dicto fundere potuit Lainezius, quod in ſcripto ejus Pallavicinus non reperit? Inprimis cum ex ſententia ejus neceſſariò id, quod ei Suavis tribuit, conſequatur. Cœterùm Lainezius Sophiſtica diſtinctione inter jus Divinum & ordinationem Divinam, aſſerens ſcilicet, illa juris Divini eſſe, quæ &, in genere, & in ſpecie à Deo ſunt, ordinationis verò Divinæ, quæ in genere à Deo ſunt, in ſpecie ab hominibus conſtituuntur; ne poſterioris generis eſſe Epiſcoporum inſtitutionem, præſtigiis potiùs Patribus illuſit, quàm ſolidi quicquam dixit. Eodem enim res redibat, Epiſcopos nempe quâ Paſtores eſſe à Deo, quâ majores Paſtores à Papa. 4. Concilium eſſe ſupra Papam, hactenus in Concilio Tridentino Epiſcopi Galli, aliíque plures adeò ſtrenuè aſſeruerunt, ut non commiſerint, ut quidquam doctrinæ ei adverſum vel decerneretur palam, vel obliquè inſinuaretur. Cùm igitur ſententiam illam magna pars Concilii fortiter aſſeruerit, atque ea cum Oecumenico Papatu ἀσύγκλωστος ſit, rite utique concluſi, magnam Concilii partem Papatum Oecumenicum non agnoviſſe, imò tum palam etiam, tum per cuniculos oppugnaſſe. Eadem quinetiam dixiſſe Lotharingum, qui Polypo mutabiliorem ſe in Concilio geſſit, & Ferrerium, Gallum utrumque, nihil vetat. Saltem eandem ſententiam propugnaſſe utrumque, ne ipſe quidem Pallavicinus inficias ire potuit. Quibus denique partibus addictus Ferrerius fuerit, parum refert, dum conſtet, eum mandatis ſibi partibus probè defunctum eſſe. Atqui mandatas has ei partes fuiſſe, eccui, conſtantem Eccleſiæ Gallicanæ, noviſſima etiam Cleri Gallicani definitione, & Regis ſanctione corroboratam de Concilii ſupra Papam ὑπεροχῇ ſententiam reputanti, atque ea etiam, quæ Thuanus Hiſt. C. T. pag. 28. narrat, ad animum ſibi revocanti, dubium eſſe poteſt?

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Qui ſucceſſit Petro, is caput eſt eccleſiæ & oecumenicus Pontifex. Petrum enim talem etiam fuiſſe, argumento eſt, tum quòd ſuper ipſo ædificata eſt eccleſia, Matth. XVI. 18. tum quia is accepit claves regni Cælorum, Matth. XVI. 19. tum denique

quia Petro trina compellatione injunctum eſt munus paſcendi, & quidem tum ἀρνία agnos, hoc eſt, Judæos & Gentiles, tum πρόβατα oves, hoc eſt, Apoſtolos, Joh. XXI. 15. 16. Atqui Pontifex Romanus ſucceſſit Petro, quia Epiſcopus eſt ejusdem ſedis, quam Petrus fundavit, in qua diu reſedit, & vitam denique clauſit. Reſp. 1. Qui ſucceſſit in locum Petri, non perinde ſucceſſit in ejus jura; tum quia non quicquid ſuccedit alteri, ſimile eſt ei: tum quia nec reliquorum Apoſtolorum ſucceſſores æquo cum iis utuntur jure: tum quia privilegia perſonalia, quæ oriuntur vel ex ſingulari gratia Dei, vel ex virtutibus eminentibus, in ſucceſſores non transfunduntur: tum quia in jura Apoſtolatus non poteſt ſuccedi: tum denique quia fieri poteſt, ut ſuccedens in locum Petri, deficiat tamen ab ejus fide. 2. Neque etiam Petrus fuit caput eccleſiæ & Oecumenicus Pontifex. Talem Romanenſes dum faciunt, non Chriſti vel Petri gloriam, ſed ſuam utilitatem & gloriam mundi venantur, dum Petro dominatum quærunt poſt ipſius mortem, quem nunquam in vita optavit aut ſperavit. Ille enim, veſtigiis Chriſti inſiſtens, fugiſſet ſi quis eum Regem, qualis Papa eſt, facere voluiſſet. Petrum nos quidem multùm ſuſpicimus, & Deum in donis maximis Sanctiſſimo Viro collatis laudamus. Sed univerſæ Eccleſiæ caput ac dominum fuiſſe, dicere ſine Chriſti injuria non poſſumus. Ne quidem major fuit Paulo, uti patet tum ex 2. Cor. XI. 5. XII. 11. Gal. II. 6. 9. 11. tum ex eo, quòd veteres in fundatione Eccleſiæ R. Paulum æquant Petro, & in ſigillis plumbeis & cereis Romanenſium Pragmaticarum, Paulus ad dextram, Petrus ad ſiniſtram colloceatur, uti Thomas Aquinas in Epiſt. ad Gal. ſcribit. Quin & Chriſtus Apoſtolos omnes cum æquali poteſtate miſit, Joh. XXI. 2. Neque Petrus exercuit ullum actum Papatus Oecumenici, ſive imperando Apoſtolis, ſive eos mittendo, ſive leges condendo, ſive controverſias dijudicando, ſive caſus quosdam reſervando. Conferantur dictatus Gregoriani cum omni vita & inſtitutis Petri. 3. Matth. XVI. 18. per Petram non intelligitur perſona Petri, tum quia Petra diſtinguitur à Petro & perſona & genere, & ut denominans ac denominatum: tum quia ex eo tempore, quo Chriſtus loquutus eſt, eo viſibiliter præſente, Petrus non fuit Petra ſeu fundamentum Eccleſiæ, id quod lapſu ſuo probavit: tum denique, quia ex uſu Scripturæ צור πέτρα, rupes eſt Chriſtus, quatenus is ſalvandos fert potenti verbo æternæ ſponſionis. Neque ſi Petrus eo nomine intelligeretur, ſequeretur, Papam fuiſſe Oecumenicum Pontificem. Petrus nempe Apoſtolorum coryphæus Petra nuncupari poteſt, quatenus tum vivens fuit lapis inſignis ſpiritualis ædificii Eccleſiæ, & in opere Chriſti σύνεργος, tum mortuus doctrinam reliquit, quæ fuit & eſt hodiéque, eritque in æternum ecclesiæ Petra & fundamentum firmissimum 4. Clavium & solvendi ac ligandi potestas non tam dominium & imperium, quàm ministerium, & quidem omnibus Apostolis commune, ut colligitur ex Matth. XVIII. 18. Joh. XX. 23. significat. Ligatio nempe & solutio, remissio & retentio peccatorum, in qua potestas clavium consistit, versatur tum in generali præconio Evangelii, tum in speciali applicatione sententiæ generalis ad hujus vel illius peccatoris conscientiam, tum denique in absolutione & retentione pœnæ canonicæ Ecclesiæ debitæ. Quid hoc ad Papatum Oecumenicum? Promissio quidem ipsa, hoc est, actus promittendi fuit peculiaris: res verò ipsa promissa communis Apostolorum, quos repræsentavit confitendo Christum. 5. Neque quod pascere jubetur agnos & oves, argumentum est Papatus Oecumenici, quia ipse Petrus jussit pascere, non ἀναγκαστῶς cogendo, quod faciunt, qui imperio utuntur, sed ἑκουσίως, ita ut pastor fiat typus gregis, 1. Pet. V. 2. 3. Tenuis ancilla & vile mancipium pascere potest filium Regis, in quem jus non habet imperii. Quin pascendi munus ut plurimùm notat ministerium pascendi oves alienas, quarum ne lanam quidem diripere ausit Pastor, nisi gratiam faciente domino. Imò vox Pastoris, quoties etiam Regibus tribuitur, ut in illo Agamemnonis, non tam imperantem notat, quàm κηδεμόνα curatorem, uti observant Grammatici. Si verò oves, quas jussus pascere Petrus, notant Apostolos, ubi igitur Apostolos pavit Petrus? Vbi jura Papatus Oecumenici in eos exercuit? Accedit, quòd pascendi munus non soli Petro injunctum est, sed reliquis etiam tum Apostolis, tum Episcopis omnibus Matth. XXVIII. 19. Eph. IV. 11. Act. XX. 28. Neque quòd Joh. XXI. 15. 16. solus Petrus jubetur pascere oves, singularis privilegii causa dictum est, sed ut trina compellatione restitueretur in dignitatem Apostolatus, à qua excidisse per trinam abnegationem videri poterat. 6. Denique neque illud probari potest, Pontificem R. esse successorem Petri. Bellarminus contendit, constare id ex historiis seu facto. Id si verum est, Pontificem esse caput ecclesiæ, constabit certitudine non catholica fidei, sed morali & fallibili, atque adeò principium Romanæ Religionis nitetur non Divina fide, sed humana opinione. Idque Valerianus M. Capucinus concedere coactus est, nequicquam propterea à Jesuitis pulsatus. Quòd si ex historiis ea successio probari debet, unde constabit plebejis, historiarum ignaris? Petrum Romæ Episcopum, & per 25. annos quidem, fuisse, notoriè falsum esse, probârunt nostri. Sed fuerit Romæ Episcopus, successerit ei Papa: Successio erit merè localis, personalis, cathedralis, quæ nullum hîc momentum habet, non doctrinalis. Notum illud S. Nazianzeni: τὸ ὁμόγνωμον καὶ ὁμόθρονον.

Exod. Exodus 3. Pope Pius secundo in epist. Eurialum inscripta, ostendit, quid sentiret de primatu ecclesiastico. Quod si per istos textus Scripturæ S. Petrum non videtur Christus super omnes apostolos effecisse manifestissime Petrus ipse id confirmat, cum ait: Pascite, quod in vobis est, gregem Dei, providentes illum non coacte, sed spontanee, neque turpis lucri gratia, sed ex animo, neque dominantes in cleris, sed forma facti gregis ex animo. Petrus Senior ecclesiarum præsidet, sed non superior in omnes. Nihil enim contulit Petrus plus cæteris discipulis, nam accepere, ait Augustinus, sed apostolus Petrus figuram gessit totius ecclesiæ, quæ in hoc sæculo fluctuat, & tentationibus quatitur, & quasi quibusdam procellis agitatur. Petrus, ne singulariter videtur à Christo primatum accepisse, nihil plus contulit Petrus quam cæteri discipuli Quæcunque autem S. Patrum de Petri prærogativis mens fuerit, tutiùs utique Scripturæ quàm eorum dictis innitimur. ex qua, ipsis etiam veteribus nominatim Cypriano de Simpl. Præl. agnoscentibus, omnes Apostolos pari consortio honoris, & potestatis & infallibilitatis fuisse præditos, planè constat. Proin S Paulus 2.Cor.XI.5.XII.11. se quoquam Apostolo inferiorem negans, non de solo prædicandi munere, sed de Apostolica universa authoritate, de qua ei lis mota erat, & qua depressa Pseudapostoli prædicationem simul ejus deprimere voluerunt, loquitur, protestatus diserte, se ἀδὲν ὑστερηκέναι nullo re (adeóque etiam non potestate) inferiorem esse τῶν ὑπερλίαν Ἀποστόλων Summis Apostolis, adeóque etiam Petro. Summos verò quomodo, amota authoritate & potestate, appellare potuit? Quæ causa est, quòd Gal.II 6. testatur idem, nihil se præstantiores esse δοκοῦσι, qui in existimatione sunt; quos v.9. στύλους columnas vocat, ut vel inde constet, non prædicationis duntaxat, sed etiam potestatis comparationem instituí: quòd v.7. &c. cum Jacobo, Petro, Johanne, tanquam æqualibus, ita contraxit, ut ipsi præputii, Petro & Johanni circumcisionis cura unà cum omni Apostolatus jure, cederet; quale quid Papa dictator, officiorum & provinciarum omnium diribitor ipse, non tam dextram societatis jungere, quàm ad pudenda pedum oscula adigere suetus; nunquam certè committeret: quódque non dubitavit idem v.11. Petro in os resistere, quia condemnandus erat. ubi S. Petrus correptionis patiens documentum dedit posteris, posse etiam priores à posterioribus (talis erat S. Paulus, diu post Petrum vocatus) reprehendi & judicari, uti S. Augustinus loco cit. monuit; non, posse superiorem, principem, ab inferiore, subdito judicari; qualis comparatio nec Augustino, nec aliis Patribus in mentem venit. Imò verò S. Paulus consultò reprehensionem illam Petri commemorat, ut se Petro authoritate & potestate æqualem fuisse, contra Pseudapostolos probaret. Vel Paulus Petrum reprehendens officium suum violavit, vel ei authoritate fuit æqualis, non subditus, inferior. Primum asserere, Hieronymo Proœm. in Epist. ad Gal. teste, blasphema fuit Porphyrii vox. Verum igitur posterius. Neque de nihilo est, quòd ib. v.9. Petrus Jacobo postponitur. Nunquam ita contigisset, si Apostolorum Papa fuisset. Verum est, alibi omnibus præponi, quia primus vocatus est. nam ante Andræam etiam, quicquid Redingius reclamet, vocatus est. Licet enim Joh.I.40. Andreas, ceu discipulus scilicet, non Apostolus, Christum secutus dicatur, priùs quàm à Petro cognosceretur, quin & Petrum ad Christum adduxerit; Christus tamen Joh.I.42. Petrum allocutus est: Tu vocaberis Cepha, priusquam de Apostolatu Andreæ quicquam innuisset. Denique si Paulus æquè ac Petrus Ecclesiam Romanam fundavit; par debet esse authoritas utriusque. Quis enim fundatione Ecclesiæ illustrior est actus authoritatis? Neque contemnendum illud, quòd dextram Paulo pia antiquitas cessit. Cur igitur Petrus nunc caput, Papa, dominus, Paulus minister ejus proclamatur? Actus verò, quos S. Petro tribuit Redingius, veluti quòd elegit Matthiam, in Concilio Hierosolymitano proposuit, definivit, communes utique is cum reliquis Apostolis habuit, adeóque Oecumenicum Papatum minimè illi arguunt, nisi forte quilibet præses ordinis, coryphæus operis, Collegii sacrati οἰκουμενικὸς (qualem Petrum fuisse, ad summum inde sequitur) Oecumenicus Papa est. Quin Concilii Hierosolymitani decretum his verbis conceptum est: Visum est Spiritui S. & nobis; non, Petro soli. ut authoritatis & potestatis æqualitatem æqui cognoscant omnes. S. Petrum Hierosolymitanæ Sedi Jacobum præfeciſſe Episcopum, non dixit l. cit. Chrysostomus. Lege, si potes, Græca. Non à Petro Jacobum, sed à Christo Petrum ordinatum fuisse, scribit. Neque uspiam, Petrum ducis instar res ecclesiasticas totius orbis curasse, idem Chrysostomus dixit:

ſed homil.22. in Act. cap.9. hoc unum affirmat, in gravioribus negotiis ſemper illum πρῶτον primum occurriſſe. Hic ſcilicet primatus erat operis, induſtriæ, non poteſtatis. En,Redingi, qua fide Patres nobis oſtentes! Cœterùm Papatus Oecumenici moderni, Majeſtatis Pontificiæ actus ἐξαίρετα & characteres γνήσιοι quinam ſint, non ignoras; nempe,adorari inſtar Numinis, pedum oſcula à ſummis Monarchis excipere,Scripturæ Divinitatem ſuo arbitrio ſubjicere, fidem non probatam ex Dei verbo,non exploratam à fidelibus, conſcientiis dictare, & invitis vi obtrudere; Concilia à ſuo nutu ſuſpendere; contra leges Divinas diſpenſare; ſpiritualium prætextu Regnum merè terrenum in Imperatores, Reges, Principes mundi erigere, atque illud maximo cum ſplendore in mundo proferre. Hos ſimileſque Oecumenici Papatus veſtri genuinos actus Petrum exercuiſſe,tu proba. Et probaveris tum,cùm Petrum fuiſſe Neronem conſtiterit. 3.Quo ſenſu Patres nonnulli Petrum appellaverint petram, ex iis, quæ ſupra diximus, percipies facilè. Interim nec paucos, nec infimos Matth.XVI.18. Petræ nomine Chriſtum intellexiſſe, liquidò probarunt noſtri. Diſertè S. Auguſtinus de verbis Dom. Serm.13. Petram Chriſtum eſſe, non nudè aſſerit, ſed probat. cui propterea lapſus humani dicam Stapletonus Princip. doctr. lib.VI.3. impingere auſus eſt. Et qui Petrum intellexerunt, rationem nominis hanc reddidere, quòd confeſſione, doctrina, præconio ſuo fundamentum eccleſiæ poſuerit,non ulla tamen jurisdictione vel poteſtate Papali, ſed ſolo miniſterio à Chriſto ipſi,quin & reliquis æquè Apoſtolis mandato. Etſi igitur S. Patres verbis differant, re ipſa tamen conſentiunt omnes, fundamentum, quod S. Petri & aliorum Apoſtolorum miniſterio poſitum eſt in Eccleſia, eſſe ſolum Chriſtum, & doctrinam de Chriſto, cujus unius merito & poteſtate Eccleſiæ domus ſuſtinetur; nec Petrum petram dici, niſi κατὰμίμησιν,quatenus ejus fides,confeſſio & doctrina vera Eccleſiæ petra, unicúmque fundamentum eſt. Quo ſenſu etiam Origenes tract.1. in Matth. petram eſſe quemvis fidelem Chriſti diſcipulum, monet. Et ſanè Petrum non reſpectu perſonæ ſuæ, ſed fidei, confeſſi Chriſti, fundamenti poſiti petram dici potuiſſe, lapſus ejus inſecutus manifeſtè demonſtrat. Licet enim ſuper Petram Eccleſiam ſe ædificaturum in futuro Chriſtus promiſerit, ille tamen, quem Chriſtus Petram appellavit, jam tum petra erat. Dicit enim Chriſtus: Tu es Petrus, & ἐπὶ ταύτῃ τῇ πέτρᾳ, ſuper hac ipſa petra, adeóque jam exiſtente, non futura demum, in futurum eccleſiam ædificabo. Fundamenti porro primarii & ſecundarii,nec non abſoluti & vicarii diſtinctio veſtro ſenſu accepta hoſtiliter cum Dei verbo pugnat, quod 1.Cor.III.10. θεμέλιον ἄλλον fundamentum aliud, præter id, quod poſitum eſt, Chriſtum poni poſſe, ſtrictè negat. Eſt autem certè fundamentum ſecundarium,vicarium,participatum tuum fundamentum non tantùm ἕτερον alterum (quod ipſum etiam poni nefas erat, quia nullum aliud ponendum erat παρὰ præter id, quod poſitum eſt ab Apoſtolis) ſed etiam ἄλλο, aliud, quippe numero diverſum, & quidem peregrinum, propriæ domus, propriæ Eccleſiæ, ab Eccleſia Chriſti diverſiſſimæ fundamentum, neutiquam ejuſmodi, quale eſt Lapis ille in Sione fundatus, probatus, angularis, fundatiſſimè fundatus. Neque quiſquam Eccleſiæ fundamentum qualecunque propriè eſſe poteſt, niſi per meritum ſanguinis, ſuper quo ceu fundamento unico Eccleſia ædificari potuit. S. Petrus autem ſanguine ſuo eccleſiæ ſalutem & vitam non promeruit. Superædificatos quidem nos eſſe ſuper fundamentum Apoſtolorum & Prophetarum, Epheſ.II,20. & Apoſtolorum nomina inſcripta eſſe duodecim fundamentis eccleſiæ, Apoc. XXI.14. Scriptura eadem teſtatur. Neque tamen unius fundamenti vicarii, ſecundarii,Petri ſcilicet, ſed fundamenti Apoſtolorum, & duodecim fundamentorum mentio eſt; neque neque planè eo ſenſu, quaſi ullus Apoſtolorum fuerit propriè fundamentum eccleſiæ qualecunque, ſed quia fuerunt architecti ejusdem fundamenti, duodecies à duodecim Apoſtolis, ceu architectis ὑπηρέταις, & συνεργοῖς Θεῦ cooperariis Dei teſtificando & demonſtrando Rom. XVI. 26. poſiti. Ita Aretas in Apoc. XXI. 14. Apoſtolorum nomina duodecim fundamentis urbis inſcripta dicit, ὡς τῆς εἰς χριστὸν πίστεως τὸν ὑποδήμαν αὐτοὺς καταβεβλημένους, quia fidem in Chriſtum fundamentum ſubſtraverunt. Hoc tamen ſenſu locus Matth. XVI. 18. de S. Petro intelligi nequit, quia non ipſe, ſed Chriſtus, ceu princeps architectus ſuper petra illa Eccleſiam ædificaturus dicitur. Neque etiam architectus fundamentum jaciens petra vel fundamentum ipſum, niſi planè ἀκυρολόγως dici poteſt. 4. Clavium poteſtas à domino data œconomis numquid conjunctam plenitudinem poteſtatis habet? Scilicet, ſi dominus poteſtate ſe ipſe abdicavit ultro, & œconomo dominium ceſſit. At Petro, datis clavibus, neutiquam ceſſit dominium Chriſtus. Non igitur ei vel eccleſiæ plenitudinem poteſtatis, dominium ullum contulit, ſed merum diſpenſationis miniſterium; neque ejuſmodi, quale Rom. XIII. 1. 2. etiam Magiſtratui, ceu poteſtati eminenti mandavit. Hoc enim ejuſmodi miniſterium eſt, ut conjunctam habeat κυριότητα, ἀρχὰς, ἐξουσίας, μάχαιραν, dominationem, principatum, poteſtatem, gladium, delegata ſcilicet hæc & participata omnia, Prov. II. 14. 2 Petr II. 10. Jud 8. Rom. XIII. 1-5. quibus Eccleſiæ miniſtris ſeverè à Chriſto interdictum eſt, Matth. XX 25. Luc. XXII. 25. 1. Pet. V. 3. Diſpar igitur planè ratio eſt. Dic Redingi, dedit Chriſtus Petro claves, ut domino, an ut miniſtro, œconomo? Si prius, dominium ipſe una cum jure clavium exuit, quod Sanctus ille & verax Apoc. III. 7. negat. Si poſterius, cur vos claves Petri in coronam tricipitem, ſceptra, gladios commutâſtis; & cùm claves eſſe debeant miniſtræ crucis Chriſti, cur veſtrum ἄδυλον claves Petri dextra, crucem Chriſti ſiniſtra gerit? cur claves non Regni Cœlorum duntaxat, ſed etiam terræ ſibi arrogat? Et adminiſtrat ubique, non ut ſervus, œconomus, ſed ut herus, Rex Regum, & Dominus dominantium, qui principali ſua, non aliena voluntate fores aperit claudítque? Adminſtrat enim verbo, ut miniſter, ſed interpretatione tua, ut dominus talis, qualis eſt Magiſtratus civilis, qui multa committit, præſcribit, vetat, ordinat, quæ ut committat, præſcribat, vetet, ordinet, nullibi diſertis verbis à Domino ſupremo ei injunctum eſt. Hac ſimilitudine planè te, forex, tuo indicio prodidiſti, innuens, Papam in uſu clavium ab expreſſa voluntate Chriſti non pendere. Par ratio ſolutionis & ligationis, remiſſionis & retentionis peccatorum Petro, Apoſtolis, totíque eccleſiæ commiſſæ. Petrus, Apoſtoli, Miniſtri Chriſti omnes ſolvunt, ligant, remittunt retinéntque peccata, volente, ordinante, præſcribente conditionem omnem ſententiámque Domino, an non? Si poſterius, Dei poteſtatem involant, qui ſolus voluntate ac ſententia propria, & placita conditione peccata remittit & retinet. Si prius, non aliter utique omni eo officio defunguntur, quàm quatenus voluntatem, ſententiam, conditionem placitam ex præſcripto domini, prævia vocatione legitima, præconiant, promulgant. Remiſſio igitur & retentio tota eſt miniſterialis, ſine poteſtate principali, judiciali propria ulla. Caput rei eſt, quod quicquid S. Petro promiſſum datúmque eſt, aliis quoque Apoſtolis, quin eccleſiæ univerſæ promiſſum, datum eſt. uti ſupra probavimus. 5. An ita paſcendo eccleſiam dominetur Papa, ut dominium ad utilitatem eccleſiæ referat, res loquitur. Non tondet ille oves, non deglubit in uſum & gratiam Chriſti, ſed totas; quantæ ſunt, utilitatibus ſuis mactat. Non ita S. Petrus, qui cùm vetuerit dominari clero, adeóque paſcere ἀναγκαστῶς coactè, cogendo, dominando, non ita paſcere vel juſſus eſt ipſe, vel paſcere voluit.

Vel pavit ille oves, ut dominus earum, vel ut domini miniſter. Si prius, oves ſuas, ecclesiam ſuam abdicavit Dominus. Atqui diſertè ille oves à Petro paſcendas vocavit ſuas, non Petri oves. Si poſterius, non pavit dominando, ſed miniſtrando, adeò ut aliunde ovibus de lacte aut ſolido cibo proſpexerit, utque ne lanæ quidem earum portionem minimam ſibi retinere potuerit. Quid verò miniſterium iſthoc paſcendi ad Papatum Oecumenicum? Quò non adigit deſperatio cauſæ, quando ad probationem rei rapitur, quod cum eadem capitaliter pugnat? Cujuslibet ſanè Paſtoris eſt paſcere gregem ſuum. Si igitur paſcendi vocabulum plenitudinem poteſtatis ſupremo capiti peculiarem ſignificat, quilibet Paſtor gregis ſui ſupremum caput erit. Et quid tandem Papæ reliquum erit? Neque efficere potes, quin mandatum paſcendi ter Petro injunctum infirmitatis potiùs adminiculum, quàm dignitatis indicium habeatur. Ter enim Chriſtum, cujus peculiarem amorem profitebatur, abnegaverat. Ter eum Chriſtus de amore interrogat, ut trina reſponſione trinam abnegationem Chriſti compenſet, uti S. Auguſtinus tract. 123. in Joh. loquitur. Ter jubet paſcere agnos & oves, ut eum conſoletur Chriſtinum Apoſtolatus honorem reſtituat, curam excitet & acuat. uti diſertè etiam Cyrillus lib. XII. in Joh. cap. 64. commonuit. Denique ſicut pavit Petrus: ita etiam Apoſtoli, in ordine ad perpetuum eccleſiæ ſtatum æqualiter omnes, quia paſcendi munus ordinarium, commune, perpetuum eſſe debuit. 6. Sed quicquid tandem Petro conceſſit Chriſtus, nihil hoc ad Papam, ſi officio fungi velit, magis, quàm ad alios: multò minùs ad Papam Anti-Petrum. Socrates Hiſtor. Eccl. III. 18. Maximum Philoſophum Juliano apoſtatæ perſuaſiſſe, Alexandri M. animam ſucceſſione quadam in ipſum immigraſſe, narrat. Pari inſania S. Petri animam in Papis veſtris ſucceſſionis quodam jure habitare fingitis, vel certè eos S. Petri hæredes ex aſſe facitis. Nos verò poſtulamus tabulas in bona & debita forma, documenta S. literarum. Eccleſia enim non humanis opinionibus, ſed Divinis conſiliis regitur. Si rationi indulgere liceret, S. Johannes potiùs, quàm Linus Petro ſuccedere debuiſſet, quia ſuperſtes erat Apoſtolus. Quis ergo S. Johanni poſtea ſucceſſit? Fatetur omnino Bellarminus, Romanum Pontificem ut talem Petro ſuccedere, forte non eſſe de jure Divino. Nec tu, Redingi, per prudentiale credibilitatis argumentum tuum ad jus Divinum ullatenus reducere potes, quod fide merè humana conſtat, imò fide humana certa non conſtat; & ſi maximè certiſſima conſtaret, in verbum tamen Dei, quod S. Petri Monarchiam nuſpiam tradidit, reduci nullo modo poſſet. Prudentia non dictat, ut quicquam Divinitus non revelatum pro Divinitus revelato, quale eſſe oportet, quicquid ſive juris Divini, ſive de fide eſt; habeatur. Non fuit de jure Divino, inquit Bellarminus, ut Paulus haberet penulam. Eſt tamen hoc ipſum de fide, Paulum habuiſſe. Imò verò penula Pauli longè certior eſt ſucceſſione Papæ in Petri Monarchiam, quia penula in S. Scriptura habetur, de Monarchia verò Petri, vel ſucceſſione in eam Papæ, altum inibi ſilentium. Si ratio, cur hic vel ille in Petri locum ſuccedat, verbo Dei non nititur, quam Valeriani veſtri ſententiam fuiſſe ais, nec ipſa Paparum veſtrorum ſucceſſio eo nititur. Succeſſio ſine ratione ejus, legitima an illegitima ſit, dijudicari nequit. Nuſpiam ſcriptum reperimus, vel in Monarchia quapiam ſuccedendum eſſe Petro, vel ab hoc illóve ſuccedendum eſſe. Utrumque tenebris Scriptura æquè damnavit. Fides verò carbonaria, ſicut alibi in plebejis damnatur meritò, quia juſtus ſua fide, cognitione vivere, juſtificari debet: ita hic maximè, ubi fidei nil certi, ne dicam, falſa omnia ſubſunt. Accedit, quòd S. Petrum Romæ fuiſſe, atque Epiſcopatum ibi fundaſſe, merè etiam humana, quin & incerta fide conſtat. Traditio hæc eſt Papiæ, Hieropolitanæ Eccleſiæ Epiſcopi. Cui ſi in aliis, ma-joris etiam momenti ob ingenium & morem viri incerta pro certis venditare ſueti, & traditionum rumuſculos leves captanti, ipſi adverſarii fidem derogare audent, cur hic, ubi incerta traditione æquè ac in aliis decipi potuit, ſubſtringere eam tenemur? Ab eodem Papia acceperunt Patres, Babylonem, cujus S. Petrus 1. Ep. V. 13. meminit, Romam eſſe. Sed cauſam non dicunt illi, cur Babylon illa myſticam, non veram, Seleucienſem ſcilicet illam, de qua Bochartus Geogr. S. lib. I. 8. ubi etiam Judæi multi, & Synagogæ Æchmalotarcham ſuum habentes olim erant, notet. Quorſum enim in plana epiſtola ea hæc nominis permutatio adhibeatur? Et fuiſſe Petrum in Aſia, dubitari nequit. Etiam Methodius, antiquus Epiſcopus & hiſtoricus, à Mariano Scoto Chron. lib. II. citatus, Petrum in Babylonia Evangelium prædicaſſe, retulit. Quin nuper etiam Petrus de Marca, Pariſienſis Archiepiſcopus de Concord. Imp. & Sacerd. parte II. lib. VI. 1. Babylonem nihil minùs quàm Romam hic notare, faſſus eſt. Fide igitur Divina, an Petrus Romæ fuerit, res ſcilicet tanti momenti, ut ſine ea Oecumenici Papatus, principii & fundamenti Papalis unici, moles univerſa corruere debeat, neutiquam conſtat. Quòd verò Redingius meus, nescio quàm peritus temporum, Petrum edicto Claudii pulsum Roma Hierosolymas iviſſe, & post mortem Claudii Romam rediiſſe, excipit, inanis ariolatio est, quæ idoneo teste prorsus destituitur. Potuit ita fieri. Sed unde factum probas? Reclamant rationes allatæ. Solus, nisi fallor, Metaphrastes d.29. Jan. Petrum Roma Carthaginem profectum memorat. cui fidem ipse Baronius demit. Sed sunto hæc, quæ attulimus hactenus, (ejusmodi tamen, ut si æquè prægnantia pro Petri Episcopatu Romano Adversarii allegare possent, ipsi ultro nobis silentium indicturi fuissemus;) sunto, inquam, cuncta conjecturæ, non demonstrationes. Adierit Petrus Romam, Ecclesiam eam præsentia, prædicatione, martyrio suo confirmaverit, ne videamur temerè vellicare consensum veterum. Adierit idem Alexandriam, Antiochiam, Babylonem, urbes alias, & priùs quidem, quàm Romanos salutásse eum adversarii velint. Neque adiit, ceu functurus Episcopatu urbis, tum quia sic Apostolatus sui gradum reliquisset, & ad unius urbis Episcopatum longè inferiorem descendisset: tum quia pacta conventa inter ipsum & S Paulum junctis dextris firmata, etiam post tempus illud, quo Romam profectus putatur, ut videlicet ille Judæis, hic gentibus Evangelium prædicaret, violásset notoriè, principaliter non Judæis, sed gentibus, ex quibus Romana ecclesia κυρίως constabat, prædicans. Fundarit is Romanam Ecclesiam. Fundavit etiam Paulus; & ante utriusque Apostoli adventum Christus professores nominis sui ibi habuisse, ex Rom.I.8. noscitur. Fundarit idem Antiochenam, pluréſque alias. Dicta fuerit Ecclesia Romana Cathedra Petri. Cypriani jam ætate Corinthus, Philippus, Thessalonica, Ephesus, jam ante Tertulliano de Præscript. cap.36. dictæ pariter sunt Ecclesiæ Apostolicæ, Cathedræ Apostolorum. Et Cathedras Apostolorum dictas fuisse Principales Ecclesias, ab ipsis scilicet Apostolis constitutas. Rigultius ad eundem locum fatetur. Clauserit Petrus diem supremum Romæ. Atqui etiam Hierosolymis Christus & Jacobus uterque clausit. Unde intulerunt pridem contra Latinos Græci, Nilus Thessalonicensis, Barlaamus, Macarius Ancyranus, alii, Hierosolymitanum fore πεῦτν μέζονα τῆς Ῥώμης, ἴσην ϗ ὁ Χριστὸς τῷ Πέτρῳ, tantò majorem Romana, quantò major Christus Petro fuit. Denique ex facto Neronis, persecutorum, quid colligas Divini juris pro Antistite Romano? Ex Romanæ urbis, Babylonem, Hierosolymam Prophetas trucidantem æmulatæ, impietate, qua specie Ecclesiæ Romanæ tum collectæ jura, monarchiam, dominatum arcesses? Ex data, non concessa qualicunque, ob asservatos principis Apostolorum cineres, (possunt autem ibi esse S.Petri cineres, ubi mortuus tamen non est, nisi dicas, Stephanum Protomartyra Romæ & Arelatæ passum, quia Romæ ejus corpus, Arelatæ caput esse fertur. quomodo etiam innocentum bimulorum ab Herode cæsorum corpora per universum ferè Pontificiæ cæcitatis orbem bafiantur) prærogativa, qua probabilitate rationis potestatem Monarchicam & Pontificiam in Apostolicas omnes, & universalem ecclesiam extundes? Quin victas tandem, Redingi, das manus, & agnoscis mecum ingenuè, quàm verè Eccleſia ſanè unum ovile eſt, cujus paſtor Chriſtus eſt, ut ipſe declaravit. Eſt etiam corpus viſibile, Rom. XII. 4. 5. Neque tamen requiritur caput viſibile unum. Apoſtolus enim non agit de differentia munerum eccleſiaſticorum, ſed quorumcunque chariſmatum, quæ etiam in idiotas cadere poſſunt. Extra hunc ſcopum dicentis extenſa ſimilitudo nihil efficit. 2. Si tamen neceſſarium foret caput viſibile unum, non perpetuo jure tale eſſet Papa, ſed foret penes Eccleſiam caput ſibi deligere optimum & religioſiſſimum, qualis Papa minimè eſt.

OBIECT. III. Eccleſia Papam ſemper pro capite habuit, quia dubias quæſtiones omni tempore ejus arbitrio & definitioni ſubmiſit. Ita Polycarpus venit ad Anicetum in quæſtione de Paſchate. Irenæus Romam miſſus à Martyribus Lugdunenſibus in quæſtionibus fidei. Patres Concilii Carthaginenſis rogant R. P. ut ſtatutis ſuis de Cœleſtino, Apoſtolicæ ſedis authoritatem accommodet. Auguſtinus libros ſuos Bonifacii examini ſubjecit. Reſp. 1. Si quando eccleſia Epiſcopum Romanum conſuluit, non conſuluit ut Papam œcumenicum, cujus arbitrio ſit ſtandum. Ita Polycarpus ab Aniceti conſilio diſceſſit: Cyprianus ſe Stephani definitioni oppoſuit. 2. Neque etiam ſolum Epiſcopum R. conſuluit, uti liquet exemplo Ambroſii, qui epiſtola 2. Poſt Ægyptiorum ſupputationes & Alexandrina Eccleſiæ definitionem, Epiſcopi quoque Eccleſiæ R. ſententiam expectari ſcribit. 3. Neque etiam ſemper itum ad Romanam ſedem, uti patet exemplo B. Johannis damnantis Cerinthum; Polycarpi quæſtionem de iterando Baptiſmo Hæreticorum in Concilio Africano, non vocato Romano, definientis; Arii ſine authoritate Epiſcopi R. refutati, convicti, damnati. Eccleſias Orientales convenire in doctrina cum Romana pertendit Allatius Græculus. Neque tamen illæ Papæ in quæſtionibus dubiis quidquam deferunt. OBIECT. IV. In Conciliis Nicæno, Chalcedonenſi, Sardicenſi, ſancitum eſt, ut in controverſiis fidei appelletur R. Papa, tanquam ſupremus in his terris Judex. Et ad eum appellatum eſſe, exemplis innumeris probari poteſt. Reſp. 1. Facta, exempla, canoneshom inum, non jus divinum adducuntur. 2. Concilii Nicæni canon, quem citant, in Concilio non invenitur, ſed à Zoſimo ex Concilio Sardicenſi ſub nomine Nicæni obtruſus eſt. Si Concilium Nicænum tale jus Romano concedit, cur igitur canone 5. permittit appellationes ab Epiſcopo ad Concilium? Cur canone 6. in ordinem redigit Romanum? 3. Sic in Chalcedonenſi non reperitur canon, quem citant. Imò canon 9. contrarium ſtatuit. 4. Sardicenſis Concilii canon 4. & 7. jus appellandi ad Papam ſancit, fateor. Sed Oecumenicum non fuit, quippe ignoratum ab Afris, Numidis, Carthaginenſibus, Mauris. Et appellationes ejusmodi ſanxit pro eo tempore, non in perpetuum, proviſionaliter, ſicut diſertè loquuntur Patres, quia eccleſiæ Orientales ſuſpicione partium non vacabant. 5. Quod exempla attinet appellationum, factæ eæ ſunt vel ab æmulis circumeurſantibus, uti vocat Cyprianus, & deſperatis, vel à bonis. EXCIP. REDING: 1. An ex Concilio Sardicenſi Canon ille Nicæno intruſus ſit, parum refert, quia etiam Sardicenſe Oecumenicum fuit, convocatum quippe, teſte Sulpitio, ex toto terrarum orbe. unde generale etiam Socrates vocat. Proin nullibi ſeparatim à Concilio Nicæno ponitur. ſed poſt illud ſecundo loco Conſtantinopolitanum numeratur. Licet verò Nicæni Canone V. appellationem ad Concilium permiſiſſent, appellatio tamen pro ultima inſtantia ad Papam pertinet, uti ex Epiſtolis Cleti, Sixti I. Gelaſii, Leonis, & exemplis etiam pluribus liquet. Canon verò VI. ejusdem Concilii diſertè aſſerit, Romanum eſſe ſucceſſorem Petri, adeóque in univerſam Eccleſiam poteſtatem, unà cum jurisdictione diœceſana reſpectu urbis, & Patriarchali, reſpectu Occidentis, ei aſſerit. 2. In Concilio Chalcedonenſi act. 16. recenſetur & approbatur Canon VI. Concilii Nicæni, in quo jus illud appellandi fundatur. Canone verò ejusdem Concilii IX. quo ad Primatem Diœceſeos appellatio conceditur, per Primatem illum Romanum intelligi, Nicolaus I. Epiſt. ad Michael. Imp. declarat, quod cum voce Græca ἐξάρχου convenit. 3. Epiſcopi iniquè oppreſſi ſemper fuit jus ad Romanam ſedem appellandi, non ex amica communionis ſocietate, ſed ex Apoſtolici primatus authoritate. Quanquam vos etiam amicam communionis ſocietatem ſuſtuliſtis. Ib. pag. 138--141. Reſp. 1. Bene, quod fraudem, quam Zoſimus Concilio Nicæno, Sardicenſem Canonem ſupponendo, fraudis eſt, negare non audes. Concilium verò Sardicenſe Oecumenicum fuiſſe, temerè affirmas. Conſtantius quidem, Conſtantini filius, univerſale convocaverat, Socrate, Theodoreto, Sozomeno teſtibus. Sed eventus non reſpondit, Occidentalibus ſolis Concilium celebrantibus, Orientalibus verò vel emanentibus, vel reverſis, ob Athanaſium non ejectum; & ſeorſim Philippopoli convenientibus; uti idem Socrates, ſtatim narravit. Unde Occidentalium Concilium ab antiquis Patribus ſæpe audit. Convenerunt in eo Epiſcopi circiter centum ſeptuaginta, uti Athanaſius ipſe, pars Concilii, & cujus gratia celebratum eſt, Tom. I. ad ſolitar. teſtatus eſt, majori fide eatenus dignus, quàm Socrates, numerum amplificans. Notatu quoque dignum, quòd Sardicenſis ille Canon non permittit, ut quivis Epiſcopus, qui deponitur, ad Romanum appellet, ſed tantùm, qui à finitimis Epiſcopis deponitur, nulla mentione habita Metropolitani vel Patriarchæ. Et quicquid etiam Synodus illa indulſerit, Orientales tamen id ratum neutiquam habuerunt: neque præjudicare potuit Nicæno Canoni quinto jam ſancito, quo diſertè decretum eſt, ut omnes eccleſiaſticæ cauſæ à Provinciæ Synodo determinentur, in qua motæ ſunt. Poſt illud decretum à Generali Concilio conſtitutum, ridiculum fuiſſet, Provincialem Synodum decernere, ut à Provinciæ Synodo ad Epiſcopum Romanum appelletur; atque ille cauſam finiret. Quæ de appellatione pro ultima inſtantia ad Papam pertinente, ex Cleto, Sixto, Gelaſio, aliis, quorum nonnulli hypobolimæi, omnes in propria cauſa teſtes ſunt, Redingius muſſat, titivillitio non emerim. Ratio enim Nicæni Canonis hæc eſt, quòd æquum pariter juſtúmque ſit, ut uniuſcujuſque cauſa illic audiatur, ubi eſt crimen admiſſum, & ſingulis paſtoribus portio gregis ſit adſcripta, quam regat unuſquiſque & gubernet, rationem ſui actus Domino redditurus: utque illic agatur cauſa, ubi & accuſatores habere, & teſtes ſui criminis poſſint. quam ob cauſam etiam ante Nicænum Concilium ita ſtatutum eſſe, Cyprianus Epiſt. 55. ad Cornelium teſtatur. Quæ cauſa cum appellationis illo univerſali ad Papam jure, in quacunque inſtantia ita pugnat, ut jam ante Cyprianus Epiſcopos, quorum domi cogni-ta ab Epiſcopis Africanis cauſa fuit, inde Romam confugientes, eadem ad Concilium epiſtola, acriter reprehenderit, domúmque revocaverit. Præterquam quòd nec in hoc, nec in aliis Canonibus Concilii hujus ultima inſtantia Papæ reſervatur. De Canone verò VI. inferiùs. 2. Vix ſine riſu legi poteſt ingenioſa Redingii dicam, an Turriani & Binii, in Canonem IX. & XVII. Quemadmodum Chalcedonenſe Leo confirmaverit, teſtis ipſe eſt, cùm Epiſt. 57. ad Martianum ſic ſcribit: Conſtitutionibus Synodalibus, quæ mihi de confirmatione fidei Catholicæ & hæreticorum damnatione placuerunt, libens adjeci ſententiam meam. En merum conſenſum, ἐξαίρετον nihil! Concilium Conſtantinopolitanum allegatum non univerſale illud, quintum eſt, ſed particulare. Cúmque ejus exemplaria Græca non proſtent, quo ſenſu ſe obedire ſed; Apoſtolicæ profiteatur, dicere non habeo. Poſſet hoc ad Synodi modeſtiam potiùs, quàm authoritatem Romani referri. Ipſa Concilii illius hiſtoria Oecumenico Papatui præſcribit, utpote quod ab Imperatore convocatum fuit, ut judicaret de facto Agapeti Anthymum Conſtantinopolitanum deponentis. Concilii verò Nicæni Canonem 39. ſuppoſititium, ab Epiſcopo Romano una cum aliis obtruſum, pro genuino venditare ipſi Papiſtæ, quibus pudor aliquis reliquus eſt, pridem deſierunt. Sed id Redingius nil penſi habet. Qui pari etiam impudentia Silveſtri ad Concilium Nicænum reſcriptum opponit. Talem ſcilicet Reſcriptum illud fidem meretur, qualem Nicæni Concilii ad eundem epiſtola, qua confirmationem flagitat; quam ab imperito Monacho fortè (nam Fratres Colonienſes eam Crabbio ſuppeditarunt, incertum unde illi prompſerint) non ſatis artis fingendi callente, confictam eſſe, multa arguunt, inprimis quòd unus ex Patribus, qui epiſtolam ſcripſere, Macarius, Epiſcopus Conſtantinopolitanus vocatur. cùm tamen Conſtantinopolis nomine illo pluribus etiam poſt epiſtolam illam datam annis, nondum venerit, ſed Byzantii potiùs: neque Macarius eo tempore, ſed Alexander, Byzantinus Epiſcopus fuerit. Alia πρόφασις argumenta mitto. Siliquis hiſce ſi tu delectaris, at nos inaſſuetos iis paſcere equidem nunquam poteris. 3. Quid verò multis? Conciliorum Oecumenicorum Canonibus ipſis, utpote quibus propriè decreta & ſententiæ eorum conſtant, Oecumenicus Papatus veſter fortiſſimè configitur. Etenim Nicæni Canon VI. Romanum ad curiam parium redigit. Conſtantinopolitanum Can. III. Sedis Conſtantinopolitanæ Epiſcopo πρεσβεῖα τῆς τιμῆς μετὰ τὸν τῆς Ῥώμης Ἐπίσκοπον privilegia honoris poſt (non infra) Epiſcopum Romanum decernit. Chalcedonenſe *Can. EXCIP. REDINO: 1. *Concilii Nicæni Canon IV. Epiſcoporum confirmationem Metropolitano tribuis; ſed Metropolytanus à Papa confirmandus erat. Unde Leo Maximum Antiochenum Metropolitanum confirmavit; nec non Anatolium Conſtantinopolitanum; teſtatus ita epiſtola 54. ad Martianum, quòd Anatolius ſui favoris aſſenſu Epiſcopatum tantæ urbis obtinuerit. Gregorius quoque paſſim in epiſtolis ſuis, pallium, Archiepiſcopatus inſigne, mittere ſe ſcribit. Reſp. 1. Concilii Nicæni Canon IV. expreſſior eſt, quàm ut ita eludi ſe patiatur. Jubet ille Epiſcopum ab omnibus, qui ſunt in Provincia, κυρίους conſtitui. Si autem hoc ſit difficile, tres in eundem locum congregatos, abſentibus quoque ſuffragium ferentibus, ſcriptiſque aſſentientibus, χειροτονίαν ποιεῖσθαι ordinationem facere; τὸ δὲ κῦρος τῶν γινομένων δίδοσθαι κατὰ ἑκάστην ἐπαρχίαν τῷ μητροπολίτῃ; eorum autem, quæ fiunt, confirmationem in unaquaque Provincia à Metropolitano fieri; jubet idem. Agit Canon non tam de electione Epiſcopi, quæ antiquitus penes eccleſiam fuit; ſed de conſtitutione & inthronizatione, uti vox κυρίους docet. Nulla Epiſcopi Romani ibi mentio, adeò ut ejus vel præſentia vel authoritas deſiderata neutiquam fuerit. Quinimò τὸ κῦρος τῶν γινομένων confirmatio eorum, quæ facta ſunt, Metropolitano ſoli, ſine ulla Romani mentione, attribuitur. Sed fortè Metropolitanorum ipſorum conſtitutio, ordinatio vel confirmatio à Romano pendebat. Ita quidem Redingius vellet. Verùm præterquam quòd in Canone hoc altum de eodem ſilentium eſt, etiam ex Aurelianenſis Concilii III. Canone III. eorum & electio & conſecratio ita definitur, ut de Romano altum iterum ſilentium ſit. Ordinari quippe illi Canone eo jubentur à Metropolitanis omnibus, ſi fieri poteſt, præſentibus comprovincialibus, ita ut ipſi Metropolitano ordinandi privilegium maneat, quem ordinationis conſuetudo requirit: ipſe tamen Metropolitanus à comprovincialibus Epiſcopis cum conſenſu cleri vel civium eligat. Itane fit hodie, Redingi? Quid autem fecerit Leo, quid alii fecerint, nihil refert. Nos enim jus factorum, non exempla quærimus. Neque tamen exempla citata probant quicquam. Etenim Maximus Antiochenus, & Juvenalis Hieroſolymitanus Patriarchæ de finibus Diœceſeos ſuæ inter ſe tranſegerant. Re ad Concilium delata, ſuffragiis ſingulorum tranſactio probata eſt. Non plus Romanus, quàm quivis alius de conſenſu fecit. Sed & Leo de favoris ſui erga Anatolium aſſenſu; poſtquam ſcilicet is ejurato Neſtorianiſmo Orthodoxæ fidei ſubſcripſit, loquitur. De inſtitutione vel confirmatione ne verbum quidem. Gregorius pallium, more recepto, miſit Epiſcopis, ſuæ ſcilicet, non alienæ Diœceſis, Metropolitani jure. Si quos autem vel Leo vel Gregorius extra Diœceſin ſuam Epiſcopos inſtituit vel confirmavit, factum id vel nullo jure, vel rogatu eccleſiarum diſſitarum, ob præſentia incommoda, miſſis quinetiam vocationis & authoritatis ſymbolis. Ipſi quoque Romani extra diœceſin ſuam nonniſi delegata poteſtate jure ordinare potuerunt. 3. Non vel plebem, vel Epiſcopos alios, Africanos etiam, ſed ſolum Chriſtum Cornelio Pontifici authoritatem & poteſtatem contuliſſe, ultro largimur. Atque ita res habet in electione Eccleſiæ Miniſtri cujuſvis, in qua eccleſia ſuffragiis & conſecratione perſonam deſignat, deputat, atque deputatæ ita perſonæ Chriſtus in verbo poteſtatem largitur, officiumque injungit. Ita Cornelius Papa à plebe electus, atque ab Epiſcopis etiam peregrinis Africanis confirmatus, poteſtatem omnem à ſolo Chriſto, ſicut & alii omnes Eccleſiæ Miniſtri, accepit. Inde tamen clariſſimè conſtat, non ſolum Romanum Epiſcopos extra diœceſin aliquando confirmaſſe, ſed Africanos extra diœceſin ſuam Romanum· quod τὸ ζητούμενον erat.

OBIECT. VII. Concilii Nicæni canon 6. ſancit, Epiſcopum Alexandrinum debere gubernare ſuas provincias, quia Epiſcopus Romanus ita conſuevit, hoc eſt, ante omnem definitionem Conciliorum conſuevit hoc permittere Alexandrino. Conſtantinopolitanum Concilium fatetur, teſte Theodoreto Hiſtor. Eccl. V. 9. Romanam eccleſiam caput eſſe, ſe membra. Chalcedonenſe vocat Leonem univerſalis eccleſiæ paſtorem. Reſp. 1. Canon Nicænus, qui cæteroquin Papiſtis eſt ſudes in oculis, nequiſſima interpretatione corrumpitur, quaſi ἡ ζωὴ δὲ Romani eſſet cauſa, non par exemplum indulgentiæ factæ Epiſcopo Alexandrino, cùm tamen apertiſſimè conſuetudo comparetur conſuetudini. Verbis enim illis: Mos antiquus perduret in Ægypto, iſta ſunt ἐνωθρακίλα poſita: Eadem eſt Romæ conſuetudo. Hinc veteres interpretes omnes, Balſamon, Zonaras, Ruffinus, conſuetudinem comparant cum conſuetudine, non cauſam cum indulgentia. Ultrimus etiam fines nominat Romani, nimirum ſuburbicarias eccleſias, hoc eſt, vicinas Romæ, Urbico Præfecto ſubjectas, quales fuerunt illæ, quarum Epiſcopi Romano ſolenni quoque die in eccleſia Lateranenſi adſiſtebant: quáſque leges Gratiani Piceno & Thuſcia definiunt. 2. Epiſtola Conſtantinopolitani Concilii ſcripta eſt non ad eccleſiam vel Epiſcopum Romanum, ſed ad Eccleſiarum Ciſmarinarum Synodum, quæ Romæ habebatur. Membra ſe vocant eccleſiæ, nempe univerſalis, non Papæ capitis. 3. Chalcedonenſis Romanum vocat eccleſiæ univerſalis Pontificem, imò quod plus eſt, καθολικοὶ καὶ οἰκουμενικοὶ dicti ſunt, quia nimirum humano inſtituto ſummum conſilium pertinens ad ordinem eccleſiarum in toto orbe, ad Patriarchas delatum erat.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. *Concilii Nicæni Canon ſupponens Pontificis juriſdictionem univerſalem in Eccleſiam univerſam, agit de juriſdictione ejus Patriarchali reſpectu Occidentis. At Ecclesiæ universalis Pontifex cùm dicitur Romanus, Pontificatus universalem ecclesiam complexus ei tribuitur. lb.p.142.143. Resp.1. Si Canon VI. Nicænus Papalem potestatem supponit, quomodo ex eo argumentum pro Papatu arcessere Bellarminus potuit? Pessimè hic tibi cum Bellarmino, oraculo tuo, quem turpiter deseris, convenit. Sed unde probas, supponere? Nam & Canon XXXIX. posterior, imò nothus est: & Chalcedonense Concilium æquè recentius, neque Papalem potestatem agnoscit, sed potiùs Can. XXVIII. Romano & Constantinopolitano ἴσα πρεσβεῖα jura æqualia decernit. Quam quidem adæquationem adeò ægrè Lucentius Romani Episcopi vicarius tulit, ut contra eam protestari ausus sit. quam protestationem Sebastiæ Episcopus Johannes communi Episcoporum & totius Concilii, & Judices Martiani Imp. nomine rejecerunt. Illa porro verba: Ecclesia Romana semper habuit primatum, Nicæno Canone in Chalcedonensis Concilii act. XVI. (non decima, uti Redingius) præmissa, non Nicænorum Patrum fuerunt; sed glossema potiùs & παρέμβλημα cujuscunque authoris, in exemplo Romano Canoni præfixum, & à Paschasino Lilybetano Episcopo, vices illic agente Romani Episcopi, propositum. Quapropter etiam Constantinus Imperialis Consistorii Secretarius ex codice, quem Aëtius, Constantinopolitanæ Ecclesiæ Archidiaconus, ex Patriarchio in Concilio palam exhibuit, Canonem sine ista accessione legit, uti ibidem videre est; prout etiam nec in Canonibus Græcis, & eorundem versionibus variis, veluti Arabica Josephi Ægyptii, Alexandrina, Melchitarum, Maronitica, Dionysii Exigui (qui hunc quidem titulum Canoni præmittit, de primatu ecclesiæ Romanæ, vel aliarum civitatum Episcopis; ex qua inscriptione Paschasinum prima illa Canonis verba, effinxisse, Doctiss. Beveregius suspicatur) Isidori Mercatoris, Rufini. quas idem Beveregius repræsentat; nec in decreto Gratiani Dist. 65. c. mos antiquus; & Gregorii XIII. recognitione, legitur. Sermo porro ille, quem in Concilio eodem judices habuerunt, à Bellarmino, & sequace ejus Redingio, planè mutilus refertur, omissis sequentibus, quæ ita habent: Oportere autem sanctissimum Archiepiscopum Regiæ Constantinopolis novæ, eisdem frui primatibus honoris, & ipsum dignum esse, & potestatem habere ordinandi Metropolitas. En adæquatos utriusque Romæ Episcopos in solidum! 2. Constantinopolitani non ad Damasum, vel Ecclesiam Romanam solam, sed ad Ecclesiarum cismarinarum Synodum, quæ Romæ habebatur, ita scripserunt. An igitur singulos illos, ad quos in ea Synodo coactos scripserunt pro capitibus suis habuerunt? Atqui ad Damasum & reliquos, nullo discrimine, ἀδελφὰς καὶ συλλειτουργοὺς fratres & Comministros vocant. Neq; caput suum quenquam, nedum Damasum solum appellant. Sic enim loquuntur: Postquam vos Romanam cogentes Dei voluntate Synodum, τῷ ἀδελφικῷ σοῦ ἐμᾶς ἀγάπην συνδεικνύμενοι, καὶ ἡμᾶς ὡς ἰδίων μέλη σωματικῶς ἔχειν δεικνύντες, ostendentes fraternam charitatem nos tanquam propria membra, per literas piissimi Imperatoris accersivistis, ne sine nobis regnaretis, sed haberetis nos Regni socios, optavimus universi desiderio & utilitati gratificari. Se membra ἰδίων propria vocant, non Damasi, ut capitis; sed Christi ut capitis, & ecclesiæ ut corporis. Neque enim qui alterius membrum est, alterum pro capite suo agnoscit. Sumus enim multi unum corpus in Christo, singuli autem membra invicem, Rom. XII. 5. Neque se obstrictos profitentur ad parendum Damaso, ceu Papæ; sed testantur, se optare χαρίσασθαι gratificari desideriis, & vocationi per literas non Damasi, sed piissimi Imperatoris. Tum ablegant ad Synodum fratres & Collegas Episcopos, Cyriacum, Eusebium & Priscianum, Papatum tamen œcumenicum non ſtabiliunt. Ignatii mens eſt, eccleſiam Romanam reliquis prælucere doctrinæ, morum, ordinis exemplo. Irenæi verba πρὸς τὴν ἱκανότεραν ἀρχὴν notant principium dignius, non potentiorem principalitatem, uti malè interpres. Hoc vult, principium eſſe dignius, quod Apoſtoli in eccleſia poſuerunt, quàm quod alii. Cùm igitur etiam Romana ab Apoſtolis ſit conſtituta, ipſius quoque principium principio aliarum multarum eſſe ἱκανώτερον, & ipſam quoq; digniorem, quamdiu ei principio inhæreat. Hanc laudem Romæ quondam integræ, illibatæ virgini, non invidemus. Cyprianus non eccleſiam Romanam vocat radicem & matricem catholicæ, ſed eccleſia catholica radicem & matricem dixit pro ipſa eccleſia catholica, quæ radix eſt & mater omnium fidelium. Sed & Romana eccleſiæ radix & matrix dici potuit, non reſpectu aliarum eccleſiarum, ſed reſpectu Novatianæ ſchiſmaticæ, de qua illic agit, quæque erat ῥιζοτομὴ καὶ ἀδελάσημα, fruticatio ei adnata. Ambroſius vocat typum, non caput. Utinam verò hodiéque talis ſit! Hieronymus Damaſum vocat paſtorem, non ſuum vel reliquarum eccleſiarum paſtorem. Succeſſorem vocat eum Petri, prout pii Epiſcopi omnes ſunt Apoſtolorum. Per cathedram Petri intelligit veritatem & auctoritatem doctrinæ Petro & aliis Apoſtolis communis. De cathedra loquitur, non de homine, de communi, non individuo. Innuit, ſe ſequi velle unicum Chriſtum, conſociari cathedræ Petri; partes, quæ tum fervebant, non ſequi, ſed factionibus abſtinere ſe velle.

Atque perrupit, proh dolor! nimiùm, tum maximè, cùm tyrannica dominandi libido, à Gregorio M. utcunque repreſſa adhuc, in ſucceſſoribus ejus frœnum planè momordit. Quanquam nec ante Romani Epiſcopi ſinguli omnésque à labe quavis immunes ſe præſtiterunt. Cardinalis veſter Lotharingus in Reſponſione Poſſiaca obſervavit, ex quindecim (nos addimus, ſedecim,) Seculis primum verè eſſe aureum: reliqua, quò longiùs abſcederent, eò nequiora & deteriora eſſe. Atque id Papatus veſtri hiſtoria abundè demonſtrat, ex qua, quid inter Florem & Florem, veterem ac novam Romam interſit, clariſſimè liquet. Quòd verò Hieronymus loc. cit. Romanam fidem, Apoſtolica voce laudatam, authoritate Pauli (en, non Petri, non clavium poteſtate Petro commiſſa) munitam mutari non poſſe ſcribit, cum grano ſalis accipiendum eſſe, Rigaltius ad eum locum notavit. Neque enim quia à Paulo fides præſens Eccleſiæ Romanæ laudata eſt, nunquam mutari eam poſſe, ſequitur. Nam etiam Epheſinæ Eccleſiæ opera, laborem, patientiam Chriſtus ipſe Apoc. II. 3. 4. laudavit impensè. Et mutata tamen eſt. Bonis etiam adulationis vitium familiare eſſe, ſi mecum non agnoſcis, vix bonus es. Excute ſinum tuum, & explora opus tuum, qualem te erga Cybones alióſque geſſeris, geráſque adhuc, tantò deterior, quòd potentibus in mundo adulari ſoles, & verè fideles plus quàm Vatiniano odio perſequeris. 2. Ubi Ignatius Romæ præſidere dignitatem capitis dixit? An quivis præſes caput Papale eſt? Primos Pontifices veros ita ſtatuiſſe nego. Si qui ſtatuerunt, fictitii illi fuerunt, à neſcio quo Iſidoro, cognomento Mercatore, non ante Caroli M. ætatem in orcheſtram producti. Mitte tandem Decretalium illarum Papalium lumbricum, quem ingenui Papiſtæ omnes jam vilipendere incipiunt. Irenæum Eccleſiæ Romanæ laudes decantantem laudamus ipſi. Sed eo ſenſu eas decantare, quo dixi, negare, vel ſaltem rationibus impugnare non potuiſti. Nam quòd in Eccleſia ea ſemper ab his, qui ſunt undique, conſervatam eſſe eam, quæ ab Apoſtolis eſt, traditionem, ſubjicit, non eum utique ſenſum habet, quaſi in ſola ea ceu capite, matre, fonte veræ fidei traditio ſit conſervata, (nam Epheſinam & Smyrnenſem ejusdem traditionis teſtes ibidem Irenæus inducit) ſed quòd omnes fideles undique Romam confluentes facilè obſervare potuerint traditionem fidei Apoſtolicam in ea conſervatam eſſe. At conſervatum ibidem eſſe magiſterium fidei, & Papatum Oecumenicum, non dixit. Cypriani de Eccleſiæ Catholicæ radice & matre ſententiam à me oſtenſam, malè impugnas ex alio ejusdem loco, ubi nihil de radice & matre, Romana ſcilicet eccleſia. Sic veritatem fugis. Interim quo ſenſu Cathedram Petri & eccleſiam principalem Romanam dixerit, ſupra ex Rigaltio expedivimus. Vera Cathedra Petri eſt doctrina à Petro prædicata, non carioſum lignum, falsò ab impoſtoribus, ad illaqueandos vana ſuperſtitione animos, ſuppoſitum. Pari verſutia Ambroſii locum eludis. Atqui ille in 1. Tim. III. Damaſum rectorem domus Dei vocat, hoc eſt, unum è rectoribus; ſicut Cicero Conſul Romanus. hoc eſt, alter è Conſulibus dictus. Ita S. Paulus Coloſſ. I. 24. 25. corporis Chriſti, Eccleſiæ Diaconum ſe vocat; id eſt, ex Diaconis unum. Hieronymus Ep. ad Damaſum, ſe ovem profitetur, unam ex ovibus Chriſti, Paſtoris unici; nec ſi ovis Damaſi eſſet, Romæ ſcilicet baptizatus, & clero nulli adſcriptus, Paſtorem illum Eccleſiæ univerſalem fuiſſe conſequeretur. Quàm igitur frigidè reſponſiones meas ad teſtimonia Patrum vobis citata, exceperis, abundè jam liquet. Temulenti adinſtar, qui vertiginoſo agitatur capite, aliam affectantem viam, ad aliam titubanter ſtatim devolvi te vidimus. Tam bellè, tam ſolidè reſpondes.

SESSIO PRIMA
SUB PAULO III. PONT. MAX.
Celebrata die 13. menſis Decembr. Anno Domini 1545.

Decretum de inchoando Concilio.

FLacétne vobis, ad laudem & gloriam Sanctæ & individuæ Trinitatis, Patris, & Filii, & Spiritus Sancti, ad incrementum & exaltationem fidei & religionis Chriſtianæ, ad extirpationem hæreſium, ad pacem & unionem Eccleſiæ, ad Reformationem Cleri & populi Chriſtiani, ad depreſſionem & extinctionem hoſtium Chriſtiani nominis, decernere & declarare, ſacrum Tridentinum & generale Concilium incipere, & inceptum eſſe? Reſponderunt: PLACET.

Indictio futuræ Seſſionis.

Et cùm proxima ſit celebritas Nativitatis Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, & ſubſequantur aliæ feſtivitates labentis & incipientis anni; placétne vobis primam futuram ſeſſionem habendam eſſe die Jovis poſt Epiphaniam, quæ erit ſeptima menſis Januar. Ann. Dom. 1546? Reſponderunt: PLACET.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS I.

COncilium Tridenti apertum eſt 13. Decembris Anno 1545. Aderant præter Legatos Montanum, Marcellum Cervinum, Reginaldum Polum, 2. Cardinales alii, 4. Archiepiſcopi, 33. Epiſcopi, 37. Doctores Theologi. Romæ eo die Pontifex Paulus III. Jubilæum evulgavit, ut pro tam gravi cauſa ad Deum preces funderentur. Ipſe ordo apertioapertionis ejusmodi fuit. Legati comitati Episcopis, nec non Theologis, clero, populo supplicationem solennem ab Ecclesia S. S. Trinitatis ad primarium oppidi Templum habuerunt. Eò cùm perventum esset, Cardinalis Montanus, princeps Legatus, rem divinam fecit Missâ Spiritus S. Episcopus verò Bitontinus orationem habuit, cujus summam recitat P. Suave lib. II. pag. 115. Eâ finitâ Legati admonitionem satis prolixam ad Patres de scripto recitârunt, cujus summa extat apud eundem authorem pag. 114. Tota verò habetur in Tomis Conciliorum. His peractis tria lecta sunt diplomata, unum de Concilii indictione, datum superiori anno, alterum de Legatorum designatione, tertium de Concilii apertura. Tum Alphonsus Zirolla, Cæsarei oratoris absentis Secretarius, Cæsaris mandatum, quod ipse attulerat Orator, & Legatis exhibuerat, denuo ursit, & responsum postulavit, quod ei decretum est. Posthæc omnes genubus pronis supplices orârunt. Deinde publicam precationem conceperunt : Adsumus Domine &c. Sancte Spiritus &c. Decantatis dein Litaniis Diaconus legit Evangelium, si peccaverit in te frater tuus &c. Mox hymno, Veni Creator Spiritus, decantato, & considentibus omnibus, Montanus decretum pronuntiavit interrogantis formâ, Placétne? Omnibus sententiam probantibus, decreta est indictio Sessionis II. in diem 7. Januarii Anni sequentis. Jussus hæc tabellio publicus in acta redigere. Postremò cantatus hymnus, Te Deum laudamus &c. Atque sic patres Episcoporum insignibus depositis, resumptóque habitu vulgari, & prægestata cruce Legatos ad sua deduxere. Hi ritus in omnibus Consessibus reliquis adhibiti sunt.

Ad Decretum & Historiam Sessionis I.

PRimò tum ex historia, ac inprimis oratione Legatorum habita ad Patres Concilii, tum ex decreto Sessionis hujus eruendus est totius Concilii scopus φανόμενον, triparitus nempe, hæresium extirpatio, cleri & populi Christiani Reformatio, & hostium Christiani nominis depressio ac extinctio. Quoad primam, hæresis stilo Pontificio est doctrina, quæ verbo Dei munita se opponit placitis Papæ. Hujus enim, ita blasphema sonat vox Episcopi Bitontini in oratione præmissa inchoationi Concilii, lux venit in mundum, & homines tenebras magis quàm lucem dilexerunt. Igitur hæresium extinctio eo sermonis genere nihil aliud erat, quàm doctrinæ Evangelicorum condemnatio, nullo doctrinæ ipsius prævio examine. Etenim si doctrina Protestantium denuo subjiceretur examini, Pontificem, qui per os Leonis X. pridem eam condemnaverat, Concilio subjici, ut & eo sit inferior, ferior, & Sedis Apoſtolicæ authoritas controvertatur, arguit & ratiocinatus eſt Clemens VII. & ipſe Papa. Cùm ergo à Leone X. prædamnata fuerit doctrina Evangelica, ut hæreſis, hoc eſt, doctrina repugnans placitis Papæ, cui bono Concilium adhuc indictum fuit à Pontifice Paulo III ? Reſpondet Scipio Henricus Cenſur. Theolog. Sect. IV. art. 1. pag. 181. Pontificem per ſe & ſua ſponte conceſſiſſe Concilium, qua ex re ejus eluceat pietas ac benignitas, qui poſt damnationem nobis præbuerit reviſionem per Concilium, ut & ipſi poſſemus audiri, & quæ damnata vel damnanda fuerint, clariùs diſtinctiúsque explicari. Sic igitur Concilium Tridentinum nihil aliud fuerit, quàm declaratio præcedentis damnationis, & expoſitio cauſarum, ob quas doctrinæ noſtræ capita anathemate ſint notata. Hoc autem quid aliud eſt, quàm larva & fucata Concilii ſpecies? Veri enim Concilii ea ratio eſſe debet, ut & ſedeant judices, & cauſa diſceptetur ambigua, quam utraque pars litigantium rationum momentis agat, & conflictum eum, qui ſe gerunt judices, ritè cognoſcant atque definiant. Quomodo Nicænum Concilium primò ea, quæ priùs in Alexandrino acta erant, ſuſpendit, tum Arianis ſui defendendi gratiam fecit, ita ut diſceptando Alexander & Arius perſonam actoris atque rei induerent. Sed Pontifices videlicet alia omnia animo agitârunt. Nam Franciſcus Cheregatus Epiſcopus Fabrianenſis, in Conventu Noribergenſi ex mandato Adriani VI. hoc inter alia urſit: Quòd ſi quis dicat, Lutherum inauditâ cauſâ damnatum, eóque ante audiendum quàm putatur: reſpondendum, eſſe quidem æquum, ut audiatur in rebus facti, an concionatus ſit, an hoc vel illud ſcripſerit, necne? At in rebus fidei, ac materia Sacramentorum id non eſſe conſentaneum, quòd dogmata Conciliorum generalium & eccleſiæ authoritate ſemel approbata nunquam ſint revocanda in dubium. Egregia ſcilicet partitio & methodus, quam Tridentini Patres religiosè ſecuti ſunt, cùm ex libris Evangelicorum, quid ſtatuerent, quæ capita doctrinæ controverſa facerent, collegerunt, & non tam exacta ad Lydium Scripturæ lapidem, quàm diris modis exagitata, adeóque ἀδοκιμάσως condemnârunt. Et quid quæſo illa diſtinctione vanius? Res enim facti, dummodo abſit calumnia, ſunt in propatulo, eásque cordati in dubium haud revocant. At in quæſtionibus juris, qua conſcientia ſola authoritate eccleſiæ, vel, ut explicatiùs dicam, ſola infallibilitate Pontificis, niti potuerunt Majores noſtri, quam ipſi inter τὸ πεῦδε ψδδ, & maximè controverſa capita non ſine juſtiſſima ratione retulerunt? Non igitur controvertendum fuerat de rebus facti, ſed de rebus fidei, quæ Evangelicos inter & Papicolas in quæſtionem venerant. Quid quòd Apoſtolus Paulus, qui habuit promiſſionem Spiritus S. & ſuccinctus erat miraculorum dono, ne quid dicam de ὑπερβολῇ ἀποκαλύψεων, 2. Cor. XII. 7. tamen citra ἀψδδίας ſuæ præjudicium Beroënſibus, ut in veritatem doctrinæ ſuæ inquirerent, gratiam fecit?

Quòd

Quòd ipſe Chriſtus doctrinæ ſuæ ex verbo Dei juſtam cenſuram ſubire, uti Joh. V. 39. 46. videre eſt, non detrectat? Quòd denique præcedentium Conciliorum definitiones, uti ſupra comprobavimus, non ſunt judiciales, & omni exceptione majores? Quæ cùm ita habeant, facilè apparet, quæ fuerit inſidioſa crypſis Concilii, quod ſub prætextu primarii finis, nimirum extinctionis hæreſium, doctrinam Pontificum poſteriorum, ac inprimis Leonis X. decretis prædamnatam, ac proinde in dubium, uti Adrianus VI. per legatum ſuggeſſit, nunquam amplius revocandam, ſimpliciter ſtabilire intendit. An hoc non erat Chriſtiano orbi illudere, & fucatum Concilium promittere, indicere, & tanto cum ſtrepitu pompáque celebrare? Altera Concilii cauſa allegatur cleri & populi Chriſtiani reformatio. Eam neceſſariam eſſe agnovit eo tempore Adrianus VI. cujus ſuperiùs confeſſionem allegavimus. Agnovit univerſus ferè orbis Chriſtianus, flagitans, uti vox omnium erat, reformationem in capite & membris. Agnoverunt Legati, qui in oratione ad Patres Concilii habita minimè diſſimulârunt, clerum & paſtores non corruptos modò, ſed etiam corruptores eſſe, cui proinde applicant verba Dei Ezech. XXII. Sacerdotes ejus contempſerunt legem meam, & polluerunt ſanctuaria mea. Inter ſacrum & profanum non habuerunt diſtantiam. Principes ejus in medio illius, quaſi lupi rapientes prædam ad effundendum ſanguinem, ad perdendas animas, & avara ſectanda lucra. Agnoverunt deniq; Cardinales & Prælati, qui A. 1538. juſſu Pauli III. conſilium conſignârunt de emendanda eccleſia, quâ horrenda eccleſiæ Romanæ ulcera in apricum produxerunr. In eo enim fatentur, prædeceſſores Pauli coacervâſſe ſibi magiſtros ad deſideria ſua, non ut ab eis diſcerent, quod facere deberent, ſed ut eorum ſtudio & calliditate inveniretur ratio, qua liceret id, quod liberet. Inde effectum eſſe, ut doceretur paſſim, Pontificem eſſe dominum beneficiorum omnium, in quem non poſſit cadere ſimonia, ita ut voluntas ejus, qualiscunque ea fuerit, ſit regula, quâ ejus actiones dirigantur. Ex quo fonte eruperint tot abuſus, & graviſſimi morbi, quibus nunc eccleſia ad deſperationem uſque ſalutis laboret. Deinceps narrant varios abuſus, quales ſint ordinatio clericorum imperitiſſimorum & peſſimorum; Collatio beneficiorum eccleſiaſticorum, maximè Curatorum & Epiſcoporum, in quibus uſus invaluerit, ut provideatur perſonis, quibus conferuntur beneficia, non autem gregi Chriſti & eccleſiæ; Beneficiorum eccleſiaſticorum multiplex alienatio; Abſentia Epiſcoporum & Curatorum à ſuis eccleſiis, quæ proinde non tam veris Epiſcopis, quàm mercenariis commiſſæ fuerint; Exemptio malorum hominum, præſertim clericorum à Jurisdictione ordinarii; Ordinum religioſorum nefaria corruptio; Præpoſterea in Gymnaſiis inſtitutio, in quibus ut & Templis palam impietas doceatur; aliique ejusmodi, quos fusè recitant, plurimi. Querunturetiam, in Urbe Romana meretrices & matronas incedere per urbem, & mulo vehi, quas de media die aſſectentur nobiles familiares Cardinalium, clericique. Patet ex his, quàm vana ſit gloriatio Pontificiorum de puritate & ſanctitate eccleſiæ ſuæ circa ea tempora,quibus facta eſt noſtra ſeparatio.Patet etiam,noſtram ab eccleſia Romana ſeparationem & juſtam & neceſſariam fuiſſe.Cùm enim reformatione ſibi opus fuiſſe fateatur ſynodus , horrendóſque abuſus ipſi purpurati non diſſimulaverint,ipſi autem nec reformationi ſeriò ſtuduerint, uti procedente tractatione palam faciemus ; nec noſtros publica peccata reprehendentes audiverint,ſed expulerint,penes Pontificios culpam reſidere ſchiſmatis manifeſtè hinc colligitur.Tertia denique Concilii cauſa ſtatuitur, hoſtium Chriſtiani nominis depreſſio & extinctio. Putares fortè, Muſulmannos ſeu Turcas hic indigitari,qui circa ea tempora Chriſtiano orbi excidium minitabantur. Sed Proteſtantes æquè ac Turcas hic innui , res ipſa teſtatum dedit,quando fœdus Pontificem inter & Cæſarem,de quo ſupra mentionem fecimus, ictum eſt. Tunc enim liquidò apparuit , haud aliter cum Proteſtantibus agi,quàm cum nominis Chriſtiani hoſtibus.Cujus rei ſuſpicionem etiam Proteſtantibus haud immeritò moverat oratio Monachi Franciſcani, habita ad Carolum Imperatorem, fratrem Ferdinandum, & Legatum Farneſium,in qua poſt multa acriter in Proteſtantes declamata ſubjecit: Tempus eſt, Potentiſſime Cæſar, ut tandem officium tuum facias. Nimis diu ceſſatum eſt. Jam pridem oportuit,rem eſſe confectam. Exere vires tuas,ut peſtiferum illud genus hominum è medio tollas,cùm nefas ſit, eos diutiùs intueri ſolem, qui omnia polluunt atque confundunt. Neque verò dicas te facturum. Jam enim,jam, inquam,fieri debet,nec interponi moram ullam oportet. Vide Sleidanum lib. XVI. pag. 488. Suavem Pol. lib. II. pag. 106. Quicquid autem ſit, ſive Turcam, ſive Proteſtantes, ſive utrosque ſimul intellexerit ſynodus, quæ verò ratio fuit,ut in Concilio eccleſiaſtico, in quo non aderant cum poteſtate ſuffragiorum niſi infulati, de mundana pace & oppreſſione hoſtium ageretur?Nempe indicio hoc eſt,animis Patrum magis adlubuiſſe Turcarum & Proteſtantium cædes, quàm demonſtrationem veritatis. Sed hæc de cauſis Concilii dicta ſufficiant. Secundò animadverſionem meretur, quòd cœtum paucorum Epiſcoporum, qui primæ huic Seſſioni aderant, generalis Concilii nomine inſignire decretum audet. Siccine verò unus & alter Cardinalis,4.Archiepiſcopi,33.Epiſcopi Itali & Hiſpani omnes,faciunt generale Concilium? Quid verò 4.Archiepiſcopos nomino?Cùm tamen pro certo conſtet, duos, Olaum M. Sueciæ,& Robertum Venantium Armachaniæ Archiepiſcopos dictos, nonniſi titulo tenus tales fuiſſe, quos ante Concilii hujus initium miſeros & rerum omnium inopes, titulis his ementitis veſtitos Paulus III. conduxit , & in ſcenam protruſit ? Larvati ergo hi ſine Archiepiſcopatu, ſine eccleſia,ſine cenſu Archiepiſcopi fuerunt, quibus Concilium ſuperbivit.Tertiò denique oratio Epiſcopi Bitontini plena arrogantiæ, impietatis, imprudentiæ haud immeritò perſtringitur à Suave Polano lib. II. pag. 116. Illud tamen non ſine omine Epiſcopo illi excidit, quòd Tridentinum Concilium cum Trojano equo, fallaciſſima machina, ad inſidias videlicet Trojanorúmque perniciem comparata, contendere non dubitavit. Ita enim de Concilio Tridentino æquè ac Trojano equo valuit illud à Poëta decantatum:

Certè aliquis latet error; equo ne credite, Teucri.

SESSIO II.

Celebrata die 7. Januarii 1546.

De modo vivendi, & aliis in Concilio ſervandis.

SAcroſancta Tridentina Synodus in Spiritu Sancto legitimè congregata, in ea præſidentibus eisdem tribus Apoſtolicæ ſedis Legatis, agnoſcens cum B. Jacobo Apoſtolo, quòd omne datum optimum & omne donum perfectum deſurſum eſt, deſcendens à patre luminum, qui iis, qui poſtulant à ſe ſapientiam, dat omnibus affluenter, & non improperat eis, & ſimul ſciens, quòd initium ſapientiæ eſt timor Domini: ſtatuit & decrevit, omnes & ſingulos Chriſti fideles, in civitate Tridentina congregatos, exhortandos eſſe, prout exhortatur, ut ſe à malis & peccatis hactenus commiſſis emendare, ac de cætero in timore Domini ambulare & deſideria carnis non perficere, orationibus inſtare, ſæpius confiteri, Euchariſtiæ Sacramentum ſumere, Eccleſias frequentare, præcepta denique Dominica, quantum quisque poterit adimplere, nec non quotidie pro pace Principum Chriſtianorum, & unitate Eccleſiæ privatim orare velint. Epiſcopos verò & quoscunque in ordine ſacerdotali conſtitutos, œcumenicum Concilium in ea civitate concelebrantes, ut aſſiduè in Dei laudibus incumbere, hoſtias, laudes, & preces offerre, ſacrificium miſſæ quolibet ſaltem die Dominico, in quo Deus lucem condidit, & à mortuis reſurrexit, ac Spiritum Sanctum in diſcipulos infudit, peragere ſatagant, facientes, ſicut idem Spiritus Sanctus per Apoſtolum præcipit, obſecrationes, orationes, poſtulationes, gratiarum actiones pro ſanctiſſimo Domino noſtro Papa, pro Imperatore, pro Regibus & cæteris, qui in ſublimitate conſtituti ſunt, & pro omnibus hominibus, ut quietam & tranquillam vitam agamus, pace fruamur, fidei incrementum videamus. Præterea hortatur, ut jejunent ſaltem ſingulis ſextis feriis in memoriam paſſionis Domini, & eleemoſynas pauperibus erogent: in eccleſia autem cathedrali ſingulis quintis feriis celebretur Miſſa de Spiritu Sancto, cum litaniis, & aliis orationibus ad hoc inſtitutis: in aliis verò eccleſiis eadem die dicantur ad minus litaniæ, & ora-& orationes, tempore autem, quo ſacra peraguntur, collocutiones, & confabulationes non fiant, ſed ore & animo celebranti aſſiſtatur. Et quoniam oportet Epiſcopos eſſe irreprehenſibiles, ſobrios, caſtos, domui ſuæ bene præpoſitos; hortatur etiam, ut ante omnia quilibet in menſa ſervet ſobrietatem, moderationémque ciborum; deinde cùm in eo loco ſæpe otioſi ſermones oriri ſoleant, ut in ipſorum Epiſcoporum menſis divinarum ſcripturarum lectio admiſceatur: familiares verò ſuos unusquisque inſtruat, & erudiat, ne ſint rixoſi, vinoſi, impudici, cupidi, elati, blaſphemi, & voluptatum amatores, vitia demum fugiant, & virtutes amplectantur, & in veſtitu & cultu, & omnibus actibus honeſtatem præ ſe ferant, ſicut decet miniſtros miniſtrorum Dei. Adhæc cùm hujus ſacroſancti Concilii præcipua cura, ſolicitudo, & intentio ſit, ut propulſatis hæreſium tenebris, quæ per tot annos operuerunt terram, Catholicæ veritatis lux, Jeſu Chriſto, qui vera lux eſt, annuente, candor puritásque reſulgeat, & ea, quæ reformatione egent, reformentur: ipſa Synodus hortatur omnes catholicos hùc congregatos, congregandos, atque eos præſertim, qui ſacrarum literarum peritiam habent, ut ſedula meditatione diligenter ſecum ipſis cogitent, quibus potiſſimùm viis, & modis, ipſius Synodi intentio dirigi, & optatum effectum ſortiri poſſit, quò maturiùs & conſultiùs damnari damnanda & probanda probari queant, ut per totum orbem omnes uno ore, & eadem fidei confeſſione glorificent Deum & Patrem Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti. In ſententiis verò dicendis, juxta Toletani Concilii ſtatutum, in loco benedictionis conſidentibus Domini ſacerdotibus, nullus debeat aut immodeſtis vocibus perſtrepere, aut tumultibus perturbare, nullis etiam falſis vanísve, aut obſtinatis diſceptationibus contendere: ſed quidquid dicatur, ſic mitiſſima verborum prolatione temperetur, ut nec audientes offendantur, nec recti judicii acies perturbato animo inflectatur. Inſuper ipſa ſacra Synodus ſtatuit, ac decrevit, quòd ſi fortè contigerit aliquos debito in loco non ſedere, & ſententiam etiam ſub verbo, Placet, proferre, congregationibus intereſſe, & alios quoscunque actus facere, Concilio durante, nulla propterea præjudicium generetur, nullúmque novum jus acquiratur.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS II.

POſt Seſſionem I. Congregationes generales Tridenti habitæ ſunt duæ. Et prior quidem die 18. Decembr. Anno 1545. In ea propoſita eſt vitæ Concilii tempore tranſigendæ formula, ut nimirum ſobriè vivant Epiſcopi, & famulos in officio contineant. Poſterior congregatio habita eſt die 5. Januarii 1546. In ea Cardinalis Montanus diploma Pontificium, de Epiſcopis decimarum ſolutione eximendis, legendum curat. Epiſcopis Hiſpanis nonnullis parùm placuit ea Pontificis beneficentia, quòd ea ſemel admiſſa viderentur agnoſcere, Pontifici fas eſſe, eccleſiis tributa ad voluntatem imponere, neque penes Concilium eſſe, vel ea prohibere, vel eos, qui injuriis gravabantur, oneribus liberare. Præſules alii beneficentiam eam eam extendit patrimonii sui ad Apollinis templum ad ea corrigenda, emendanda, amplianda, quæ in eo concilio Ecclesiæ vel in Monachis, vel in Clericis etiam ab iisdem Catholicis Tridentinæ Ecclesiæ Patribus visa fuerint, & viam ad hæc præstanda, & ad ea omnia, quæ ad Ecclesiæ, ejusque Reformationem, & Concilium continuandum medium esse videbuntur, ineunda. Ferrariæ, Ferrariensi, Florentiæ, Florentinæ, congregationes. Pontificum deinde, tum, imperii Constitutio, ne Concilium ejusmodi rebus & tractetur, adeoque & habeatur Ecclesiasticis causis invideatur. Postea etiam Catholica Monumentorum in Concilio hoc plenaria tractatio. Intercedere ait tum ex eorum Concilii Tridentini Decretis quæ ejus Concilii sunt, & ingenia dissentientia penitus concognoscantur: ad ignorantiæ demonstrandam etiam diversa in congregationi generali, non sine ingenti, contradictionis fomite. Postea controversia oborta ab eo de titulo Synodi decreta congregata. Legati quippe Pontificii titulum hunc decernendum putabant, Sacræ Synodi, & plurimæ reliqui ex hoc, concendendum juxta exemplum Synodi Constantiensis de Ecclesiæ militantis die 1 : Legati autem Pontificii recusabant, sed Legati universi congregarentur, ne hoc formula Concilium ejus figura Papam, quem præsidem, & Patres Sedem Pontificiam amittendi Ecclesiæ, prævenirent juxta primorum Conciliorum exemplum ; cum Pontificium nominationis in consuetudinem non venisset, & Concilium Ecclesiæ nomine constetur multos ab.

Hæc Pallavicinus Historiæ Concilii Tridentini libro 16 Sectio II. & 3 Januarii Anno 1562. Hæc ille. Quæ omnia in Decretis Legis anni 1562 omnino prævia cum Legatos dedeuntur in templum, omnibus una, & bonis, & malis tantum non eorum animositate ad ea, quæ in Tridentino concludenda erant, hortantibus. Interfuit partes Legatum & Cardinalem Trivultium, unum Archiepiscopum, Episcopi 18. Abbates Cullerenses 3. Generalis ordinum 4. Templum in Omnes Regis Romanorum Procurator Cardinalis Augustani Sedunensis aut Cardinalis Tridentini Sedis. Missus ordinarii Tridentini Sedis, Episcopus Cadi amantis. Concinium non habet. Cardinalis Jam Nantuani, Cardinalis Episcopus. Ita ejusdem Patres Pontificiales erant relatum, ut in prima Sessione, profecti sunt. Episcopi Episcopi Cardinalium legi Bulas de, non celebrandi ad vota. Omnes, decedere Episcopum Protestantium. Tandem latum ab decretum & non sunt ut de Omnia, & quod ordinarium est per vulgo. CAPUT 1. & 2. de condem. exercitio Gallo, ultimatum illud ad titulum, omnium bonum reprobatum, Anathema.

NOTÆ

Ad Hiſtoriam & Decretum Seſſionis II.

PRincipiò præpoſtera & à veterum Conciliorum praxi aliena fuit diſtinctio Congregationum à Seſſionibus ipſis. In veterum nempe Conciliorum Seſſionibus materia proponebatur, & ſingulorum votæ atque ſuffragia colligebantur. Poſteáque non ſola Seſſionum decreta, verùm etiam colloquia, diſcuſſiones, diſputationes, aliáque, quæ fiebant & dicebantur, ſub nomine Actorum Concilii vulgabantur. Contra Tridenti Seſſiones tantùm non dicis cauſa habitæ ſunt, hoc duntaxat fine, ut in iis promulgaretur ſententia ſeu decretum jam antea in congregatione formatum, non ut in iis fieret deliberatio & diſceptatio ſententiarum. Ac poſtea vulgata ſunt ſola illa decreta in Seſſionibus promulgata, non colloquia, diſcuſſiones, diſputationes, aliáque ejusmodi. Adeóque proprius actus Concilii, ſi accuratè expendamus, fuit potiùs Congregatio generalis, quàm Seſſio, quippe quæ poſterior rem actam agens, nihil niſi putam puram cerimoniam addebat. Crypſis autem hujus methodi erat hæc, ne vera Concilii acta, in quibus maximus Theologorum diſſenſus, aliáque ejusmodi pudenda plurima comparuiſſent, vulgare antiquo more neceſſum haberent. Atque hæc non minima Concilii hujus fraus etiam à P. Suave Polano notata eſt Hiſt. Concil. Trident. lib. II. p. m. 119. 120. Ridiculus eſt Scipio Henricus, qui reſpondens Suavi, ait p. 174. non neceſſum fuiſſe, ut acta illa in medium afferrentur, & typis vulgarentur, eò quòd nec ad eſſentiam Concilii, nec ad antiquitatis cognitionem facerent, imò & hæreticorum calumniis anſam præberent. Etenim 1. non deflectendum fuerat à praxi primitivæ eccleſiæ. Ipſius ſynodi Hieroſolymitanæ non ſolùm decretum, ſed reliqua etiam acta & colloquia ac ſuffragia Apoſtolica publicam in lucem edita ſunt, uti ex Act. XV. colligitur. 2. Æquè interfuit futuræ poſteritatis cognoſcere ea, quæ in Concilio acta ſunt, an congruant cum ſimplicitate Apoſtolica necne, atque olim S. Patres judicârunt poſteritatis ſeræ intereſſe, ut cognoſceret ea, quæ in Conciliis acta ſunt. 3. Quid tum poſtea, ſi acta Concilii ad antiquitatis cognitionem nihil facerent? Non enim de antiquitate, ſed de veritate fidei quæſtio fuit. 4. Cur verò ob hæreticorum, quas timebant, calumnias, omiſerunt rem neceſſariam? Annon hæreticorum calumnias etiam timere debuerunt Apoſtoli & S. Patres? Eo tamen non obſtante, vulgârunt acta fideliſſimè. 5. Vera cauſa ſuppreſſorum Concilii actorum eſt, quòd mala fuerunt, adeóque, ipſorummet conſcientia judice, indigna, quæ lucem aſpicerent. Omnis, qui mala facit, inquit Chriſtus, Fruſta hîc ſudat Scipio Henricus, qui Cenſuræ ſuæ pag. 165. geminam fingit tergiverſationis Legatorum cauſam, alienam ab ea, quam veriſſimè reddiderat P. Suave Polanus. Noluiſſe nempe eos pati, ut ad titulum Concilii adderentur verba, *Eccleſiam univerſalem repræſentans; tum quia inſcriptio hæc fuerit ſatis recens, & ſeculo tantùm elapſo in uſu poſita: tum quia Conſtantienſis ſynodus tunc primùm hac inſcriptione uſa ſit, quando cœpit judicare adverſus Johannem 24. Atqui quæ fuerit ſitque hodiéque ſententia eccleſiæ Gallicanæ de Concilio eccleſiam repræſentante, ſatis ſuperque notum eſt. Sentiebant nempe, Concilium eſſe ſupra Papam. Id enim in ipſo Concilio ſuſtinuit Cardinalis Lotharingus de ſententia totius eccleſiæ Gallicanæ. Timuerunt igitur Legati hanc cauſam, non fictitias illas. 2. Etſi inſcriptio illa fuerit recens, tamen neceſſaria fuit ad retundendum intolerabilem faſtum Papæ, qui ad ſummum jam pervenerat. 3. tratioribus Conciliis hoc ſcutum contra omnes hæreſes, in principio ſuarum actionum, apponere conſuevere, quo ſolo aliquando & infideles ad fidem traxerunt, hæreticos expugnaverunt, & fideles confirmárunt. Quare ſymbolum fidei, quo ſancta eccleſia Romana utitur, tanquam principium illud, in quo omnes, qui fidem Chriſti profitentur, neceſſariò conveniunt, ac fundamentum firmum & unicum, contra quod portæ inferni nunquam prævalebunt, totidem verbis, quibus in omnibus eccleſiis legitur, exprimendum eſſe cenſuit, quod quidem ejusmodi eſt. Credo in unum Deum Patrem omnipotentem factorem cœli & terræ, viſibilium omnium & inviſibilium. Et in unum Dominum Jeſum Chriſtum, Filium Dei unigenitum, & ex Patre natum ante omnia ſecula; Deum de Deo, lumen de lumine, Deum verum de Deo vero, genitum, non factum, conſubſtantialem Patri, per quem omnia facta ſunt. Qui propter nos homines, & propter noſtram ſalutem deſcendit de cœlis, & incarnatus eſt de Spiritu Sancto, ex Maria Virgine, & homo factus eſt. Crucifixus etiam pro nobis ſub Pontio Pilato, paſſus & ſepultus eſt, & reſurrexit tertiâ die, ſecundùm Scripturas: & aſcendit in cœlum, ſedet ad dexteram Patris, & iterum venturus eſt cum gloria, judicare vivos & mortuos, cujus regni non erit finis. HISTORIA SESSIONIS III.

POſt ſeſſionem II. Congregatio generalis habita eſt die 13. Januarii Anno 1546. In ea conqueruntur Legati acerbè de iis, qui nupero die conſeſſus titulo decreti ſe oppoſuerunt, & ſuppleri eum verbis, eccleſiam catholicam repræſentans, poſtulaverunt. Unde recruduit illa de Concilii titulo controverſia. Multis ultrò citróque à Cardinale Pacieco, Epiſcopo Feltrenſi, Divi Marci Epiſcopo, aliiſque dictis, hoc modo ſtatutum, ut proximo conſeſſu, quemadmodum ſuperiore, non alius quàm ſimplex titulus adhiberetur. Ea re peracta, inſtantibus Præſulibus quibusdam, ut in rem præſentem iretur, Legati de tribus capitibus Pontificis diplomate comprehenſis, cogitandum propoſuerunt, hæreſium nimirum extirpatione, diſciplinæ emendatione, & pacis publicæ ſtabilimento, quo modo in eorum tractationem ingrediendum, quæ via tenenda, & quemadmodum procedendum? In proxima congregatione de ordine & via, qua tria illa capita tractanda ſint, itum eſt in partes. Quatuor autem in univerſum fuerunt ſententiæ diſcrepantes. Prima Cæſareanorum, incipiendum eſſe à Reformatione. Ea enim quamdiu protollatur, vitam eccleſiaſticorum eſſe in-emendabilem. Secunda paucorum, à fidei capitibus ſumendum initium, deinde ad Reformationem morum procedendum eſſe, quia fides ſit vitæ Chriſtianæ baſis ac fundamentum. Tertia aliorum, duo hæc capita fidei & reformationis non eſſe disjungenda. Nullum enim eſſe dogma fidei, quod non abuſus aliquis conſequatur : nec abuſum ullum, quin ſecum trahat ſiniſtram dogmatis alicujus interpretationem. Quarta Gallorum, de pace ſtabilienda primò ac præcipuè tractandum eſſe. Legati omnium opinionibus auditis, deciſionem protrahunt in ſequentem congregationem. Interea invitis Legatis ſtatutum, ut ſine alia indictione ſingulis hebdomadis bis congregationes habeantur, diebus Lunæ & Veneris. Legati finita congregatione orant Pontificem, ut quid ſuæ de hac re voluntatis ſit, ſignificet maturè, atque Romæ ratio ineatur ad ea, quæ proponuntur, confeſtim & ſine mora reſpondendi, & velut de manu in manum, quid peragendum habeant, certiores faciendi, etiam quæ eventura videbuntur, cogitatione, quantum fieri poteſt, antecapienda; ut denique proſpiceretur Epiſcopis inopibus, quī ſpe ac pollicitationibus Papæ ac Cardinalis Farneſii illecti, Tridentum conceſſerint. Verùm nihil reſpondit Legatis Pontifex, eò quòd ejus cogitationes non tam in Concilio, quàm in bello, ad quod ſuperiore anno Cæſarem Farneſius concitaverat, defixæ eſſent. In ſequente congregatione denuo de ordine tractandorum capitum diſceptatum. Cæſareanis Epiſcopis, aliiſque contendentibus, ut à reformatione fieret initium, & potente quodam præſule expetente, ut patres ipſius ſynodi ante omnia reformarentur, obſtiterunt Legati vehementiſſimè, & in eam denique ſententiam itum, articulos religionis, & caput reformationis pari paſſu tractandos eſſe. De ſigillo Concilii etiam quæſitum, aliis proponentibus, ut literæ ſynodi nomine exaratæ ſigillo ſynodo peculiari obſignarentur, cujus unum latus Spiritum S. in forma columbæ repræſentaret, alterum ſynodi nomen inſculptum haberet, aliis alias formas commemorantibus. Verùm legati, quibus aliter Roma imperatum erat, abnuunt, & ſigillo legati principis utuntur. Poſtea diſceptatum, an in proximo conſeſſu pronunciandum ſit decretum de fidei & reformationis capitibus, uno eodemque tempore pertractandis, & in ſeligendis, tractandis & examinandis duobus illis capitibus, quâ viâ ſit procedendum? Opinionibus Patrum admodum diſſidentibus, ſtatutum tandem à Legatis, ut decretum cum titulo ſimplice formaretur, & in hoc commemoraretur, de religione & reformatione agendum verbis adeò generalibus, ut ad omnem occaſionem poſſit accommodari: Symbolum etiam Nicænum eſſe recitandum, ut ſi qua circa doctrinam de S. S. Trinitatis & incarnationis myſterio in verbis hæreticorum à Catholica veritate eſt diverſitas, antiquiſſimæ ſynodi autoritate damnetur. Hoc decretum in congregatione Calen-dis Februarii propoſitum, & à majori parte approbatum eſt, reclamantibus aliis,ac poſt cætum dimiſſum liberè dictitantibus, hunc eſſe laborum in negotio totos viginti annos poſitorum fructum, quòd ad audiendum Credo, dum recitatum, convenerint.

Demum Seſſio III. ſucceſſit die 4.Februarii 1646. eadem qua antehac ſolennitate. Miſſam peregit Petrus Tragliavia Archiepiſcopus Panormitanus. Concionem habuit Ambroſius Catharinus Senenſis, Monachus Dominicanus. Decretum prælegit Archiepiſcopus Turitanus. Interrogati reſponderunt omnes, Placet, paucis conditiones & clauſulas addi cupientibus. Id quod Legatis mirificè diſplicuit,qui pati non poterant,ut in Seſſionibus contradiceretur, vel ad particularia deſcenderetur, veriti,ne ubi de rebus magni momenti agendum eſſet, eadem licentia obtineret.

NOTÆ
Ad Hiſtoriam & Decretum Seſſionis III.

Primò in Seſſionis hujus hiſtoria non pauca veſtigia ſunt libertatis Concilii à Pontificiis Legatis imminutæ. Redarguunt eos, qui præcedente Seſſione de titulo decreti verba facere auſi ſunt , quaſi videlicet in publico conſeſſu ne mutire quidem patribus fas fuiſſet. Cùm de ordine tractandorum capitum liberæ opiniones in Synodo audirentur, Legati, ne quid ſtatueretur Pontificiæ authoritati noxium , conventum diſſolvunt , & literis ad Pontificem datis , ab ipſo definitionem expectant. Cùm Pontifex reſponſionem diſtuliſſet , ipſi ſoli de eo, quod quæſitum erat , decretum ambiguum formant, & patribus poſtea obtrudunt. Quin & ſigillum Concilii , cujus unum latus Spiritum S. in forma columbæ repræſentaret , alterum ſynodi nomen inſculptum haberet, rejiciunt, ac ſigillum principis legati præferunt, manifeſto indicio, Concilium hoc impreſſum habuiſſe χάραγμα , ſeu characterem ſolius Papæ, non Spiritus Sancti & veræ eccleſiæ. Secundò ſuſpectum meritò eſt, quòd legati ad Cæſareanorum Epiſcoporum aliorúmque poſtulata,ut à reformatione morum fieret initium, adeò abhorruerunt. Timebant nempe Curiæ Romanæ, & ne idem contingeret Papæ, quod antehac aliis in Conciliis illis, quibus reformatio attentata. Tertiò recitant Patres ſymbolum eccleſiæ Romanæ. Nempe cùm ob opinionum varietatem & defectum reſponſi Pontificis, quod Româ expectabatur, Legati hærerent in ſalebra, ignari quid inciperent, quidve in ſynodo proponerent, ut tempus tereretur, decretum conficiunt dilatorium, in quo,ne nihil actum videretur, decernunt recitandum eſſe eſſe Symbolum. Quæ fuit mera Concilii ludificatio. Rationes Epiſcopi Bitontini contra decretum illud videſis apud Hiſtoricum libr. II. p. 128. Quartò ait decretum, ſymbolum eccleſiæ R. eſſe ſcutum contra omnes hæreſes, eo ſolo aliquando infideles ad fidem tractos, hæreticos expugnatos, & fideles confirmatos eſſe. Id ſi verum eſt, uti verum eſſe non dubitamus, nos ab hæreſeos crimine liberati ſumus. Nihil enim ſymbolo eo continetur, quod non bonâ fide credamus. Ipſi contra Pontificii ex eo Symbolo multarum hæreſium convinci poſſunt. Scutum ergo nobis erit contra ipſoſmet. Quintò ſymbolum illud eccleſiæ Romanæ in Concilio venditatum fuit pro ſymbolo Nicæno. Et Auguſtinus Barboſa in Remiſſionibus Concil. Trident. ait, ſymbolum illud concordare cum Concilio Nicæno, & Conſtantinopolitano VI. Quin & decretum id innuit, in quo ajunt patres, ſe Symbolum fidei totidem verbis, quibus in omnibus eccleſiis legitur, exprimere voluiſſe. Jam ſymbolum Nicænum non agnoſcit verba de Spiritu S. qui ex patre filióque procedit. Nihil habet aliud, quàm εἰς τὸ πνεῦμα τὸ ἅγιον, in Spiritum S. Conſtantinopolitanum quidem, editum Anno Chriſti 381. habet verba illa, τὸ ἐκ τοῦ πατρὸς ἐκπορευόμενον, qui ex patre proceſſit. Verum quidem eſt, Spiritum S. procedere à Deo Patre & Filio. Cæterùm ita non habet ſymbolum Nicænum, adeóque Romani addiderunt communi olim Symbolo. Qui autem addit, ſit falſus teſtis formulæ catholicæ, vel certè ſe facit νομοθέτην, & determinationibus ſuis alios non conſentientes obſtringit. Noverant Tridentini, majores ſuos hoc ſive faſtu, ſive ambitione ſchiſma Orientales inter & Occidentales eccleſias induxiſſe. Vel igitur pro veteri Symbolo venditari non debuit, vel verba τὸ ἐκ τοῦ πατρὸς ἐκπορευόμενον, quæ Orthodoxum ſenſum recipere apta nata ſunt, retinenda erant, ne, quod olim meritò de Latinis queſtus eſt Photius Epiſtol. Encycl. Lib. SESSIO IV.

Celebrata die 8. Aprilis 1546.
Decretum de canonica Scriptura.

Sacrosancta oecumenica & generalis Tridentina Synodus (in Spiritu Sancto legitime congregata, praesidentibus in ea tribus apostolicis Sedis legatis, ac Rev. Jo. Maria de Monte Episcopo Praenestino, Marcello tituli Sanctae Crucis in Hierusalem Presbytero Cardinali nuncupato) quae semper intuens, ut sublatis erroribus, puritas ipsa Evangelii in Ecclesia conservetur, quae promissum ante per Prophetas in Scripturis sanctis Deus Salvator noster Jesus Christus Filius Dei proprio ore promulgavit, quod post Evangelium ab ipso ante omnia Apostolis suis ex quo omnis veritas & morum disciplina hauritur, per suum resurrectionis, & deinde per mandatum ad eos praedicandi, omni creaturae fontem utriusque & regulam esse praecepit, perspiciens hanc veritatem & disciplinam contineri in libris scriptis, & sine scripto traditionibus, quae ipsius ore ab Apostolis acceptae, aut ab ipsis Apostolis, Spiritu Sancto dictante, quasi per manus traditae ad nos usque pervenerunt, orthodoxorum patrum exemplis inhaerens, pari pietatis affectu ac reverentia ea omnia, quae ad utriusque Testamenti unius enim Deus utriusque auctor sit) necnon traditiones ipsas tum ad fidem tum ad mores pertinentes tanquam vel oretenus a Christo vel a Spiritu Sancto dictatas, & continua successione in Ecclesia Catholica conservatas pari pietatis affectu ac reverentia suscipit & veneratur. Insuper autem sancta Synodus attendens non sine multa utilitate in Ecclesia Dei fore, si sacrorum librorum quinam sint innotescat, ne dubitatio suboriatur, quinam sint, qui ab ipsa Synodo suscipiuntur, hos ipsos, qui subjiciuntur, totos cum omnibus suis partibus, prout in Ecclesia Catholica legi consueverunt, & in veteri vulgata Latina editione habentur, pro sacris & canonicis suscipere, & in hoc decreto ordinare, & recensere decrevit. Quorum sunt Testamenti Veteris: Quinque Moysi, videlicet Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numeri, Deuteronomium. Josue. Judicum. Ruth. Regum quatuor, quorum primus & secundus Samuelis unus liber apud Hebraeos, tertius & quartus eiusdem unus liber apud eosdem. Paralipomenon duo, primus & secundus, quorum primus & secundus apud Hebraeos unus liber. Esdrae primus & secundus, qui dicitur Nehemias. Tobias. Judith. Esther. Job. Psalterium. Davidicum centum quinquaginta Psalmorum. Parabolae. Ecclesiastes. Canticum Canticorum. Sapientia. Ecclesiasticus. Isaias. Jeremias cum Baruch. Ezechiel. Daniel. Duodecim prophetae minores, videlicet Osee. Joel. Amos. Abdias. Jonas. Michaeas. Nahum. Habacuc. Sophonias. Aggaeus. Zacharias. Malachias. duo Machabaeorum, primus & secundus. Quorum sunt Testamenti Novi: Quatuor Evangelia, secundum Matthaeum. Marcum. Lucam. Joannem. Acta Apostolorum a Lucae Evangelista conscripta. Quatuordecim Epistolae Pauli Apostoli ad Romanos. Duae ad Corinthios. Ad Galatas. Ad Ephesios. Ad Philippenses. Ad Colossenses. Duae ad Thessalonicenses. Ad Timotheum duae. Ad Titum. Ad Philemonem. Ad Hebraeos. Duae Petri Apostoli. Tres Joannis Apostoli. Una Jacobi Apostoli. Una Judae Apostoli. Apocalypsis Joannis Apostoli. Si quis autem libros ipsos integros cum omnibus suis partibus, prout in Ecclesia Catholica legi consueverunt, & in veteri vulgata Latina editione habentur, pro sacris & canonicis non suscipit, & traditiones praedictas sciens & prudens contemnit, anathema sit.

INſuper eadem ſacroſancta ſynodus conſiderans, non parum utilitatis accedere poſſe eccleſiæ Dei, ſi ex omnibus Latinis editionibus, quæ circumferuntur, ſacrorum librorum, quanam pro authentica habenda ſit, innoteſcat, ſtatuit & declarat, ut hæc ipſa vetus, & vulgata editio, quæ longo tot ſeculorum uſu in ipſa eccleſia probata eſt, in publicis lectionibus, diſputationibus, prædicationibus, & expoſitionibus pro authentica habeatur, & ut nemo illam rejicere quovis prætextu audeat, vel præſumat.

Præterea ad coërcenda petulantia ingenia, decernit, ut nemo, ſua prudentia innixus, in rebus fidei & morum, ad ædificationem doctrinæ Chriſtianæ pertinentium, ſacram Scripturam ad ſuos ſenſus contorquens, contra ſenſum, quem tenuit, & tenet ſancta mater eccleſia, cujus eſt judicare de vero ſenſu & interpretatione Scripturarum ſanctarum, aut etiam contra unanimem conſenſum patrum, ipſam ſcripturam ſacram interpretari audeat, etiam ſi hujuſmodi interpretationes nullo unquam tempore in lucem edendæ forent. Qui contra venerint, per ordinarios declarentur, & pœnis à jure ſtatutis puniantur.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS IV.

POſt Seſſionem III. Legati Pontificem per literas, quid in ea geſtum ſit, edocent, ſimúlque, ut ordinem in poſterum rerum agendarum abſque cunctatione præſcribat, poſtulant. Et ſuum quidem de eo conſilium eſſe ſignificant, ut de ſacra Scriptura tractatio inſtituatur, iis maximè in capitibus, quæ Lutherani controvertunt, & ut abuſus in eccleſiam ea in re invecti excutiantur. Pontifex legatis reſcribit, ut juxta id, quod ipſi propoſuerant, in agendo progrederentur, id ſtudioſè caventes, ne aut in materia fidei novis difficultatibus januam aperirent, aut rem aliquam inter catholicos controverſam definirent: in materia verò reformationis pedetentim procederent. Legati facultatem à Pontifice nacti in congregatione habita die 22. Februarii proponunt, ad controverſias, quæ cum Lutheranis de Scriptura intercedunt, progrediendum eſſe. Articuli de ſancta Scriptura controverſi è Lutheri libris extracti, & Theologis, ut ab iis ventilarentur, exhibiti ſunt quatuor, de traditionibus, de canone Scripturæ, de perſpicuitate ejuſdem. De duobus prioribus articulis Theologi, qui triginta præter propter aderant, Monachi ferè omnes, in quatuor congregationibus tractârunt. De prima convenit ferè inter omnes, fidem Chriſtianam partim S. Scriptura, partim traditione contineri. Lunellus contenderat, de eccleſia priùs quàm Scriptura agendum, quia ea ſit firmamentum nobilius, & ab ipſa Scriptura dependeat. Verùm rejectus eſt ab aliis, eò quòd hac ratione eccleſiæ auctoritas in dubium vocaretur, quæ pro jam determinata haberi debeat. Anthonius Marinarus Carmelita negabat duo articulorum genera eſſe diſtinguenda, quorum alii ſcripto evulgari, alii ſola voce communicari juſſi ſint, aſſerens, non minùs periculoſum eſſe materiam hanc tractare, quàm inter Scyllam & Charybdim navigare. Sed Cardinalis Polus eam Marinari ſententiam aſperioribus verbis excipiens, digniorem eſſe dixit colloquio Germaniæ, quàm eccleſiæ colloquio univerſali. Circa formam catalogi librorum canonicorum quatuor fuere opiniones. Prima, duplicem feriem fieri oportere, ita ut in una ſoli collocentur, qui ſine controverſia ſemper pro canonicis habiti eſſent, in altera ii, qui aliquando rejecti, aut de quibus dubitatum eſſet: Secunda, triplicem potiùs feriem conficiendam, 1. eorum, qui ſemper pro canonicis habiti. 2. eorum, qui olim controverſi, uſu eccleſiæ canonicam authoritatem obtinuiſſent. 3. eorum, de quibus nihil certi definitum: Tertia, nullam omnino juxta exemplum Concilii Carthaginenſis III. diſtinctionem adhibendam: Quarta, libros omnes, prout habent in Bibliis Latinis, pro Divinis & canonicis habendos. In congregatione ſequente prævaluit opinio eorum, qui in eodem omnes catalogo, quippe qui eadem eſſent authoritate, ponendos ſtatuerunt. Interea ad ſynodum acceſſit Paulus Vergerius Juſtinopolitanus Epiſcopus, cui quòd ab Annibale Griſonio Inquiſitore in ſuſpicionem hæreſeos adductus eſſet, confeſſus in Concilio negatus eſt, donec ſe Pontifici purgâſſet. Verùm ille paulò poſt Italiam ſimul atque religionem Pontificiam deſeruit. De Latina ſacræ Scripturæ verſione altercatio multa fuit inter paucos, qui Latinè optimè, Græcè mediocriter ſcirent, & alios, qui nulla omnino Linguarum cognitione imbuti erant. Et Aloyſius Cataneus quidem laudavit prolixè Cajetani de S. Textus veritate, & verſionis Latinæ incertitudine judicium. At Theologorum pars major vulgatam verſionem authenticam haberi voluit, quippe quæ Spiritus S. inſtinctu conſcripta fuerit. Contrà Iſidorus Clarius Brixianus diſputavit, nullam omnino verſionem originali æquiparandam eſſe. Utramque ſententiam conciliare conatus eſt Andreas Vegas. Concluſum, ut vulgata verſio habeatur pro authentica. De ſenſu Scripturæ alii Cajetani ſententiam probârunt, novum Scripturæ ſenſum, quando cum Scriptura concordat, rejiciendum non eſſe, utcunque torrens Doctorum ad alium ſenſum confluat; alii contra arguerunt, populari hac licentia maximam in eccleſiam perturbationem invehi. Richardus de Mans Franciſcanus Monachus aſſerere non dubitavit, fidei dogmata non ex Scriptura, ſed ex ſcriptis Scholaſticorum addiſcenda. Neque deerant opiniones mediæ; una, novas expoſitiones non vetandas, quæ à vulgato ſeculi ſenſu non abeunt: altera, interpretationes permittendas, quæ cum norma fidei & morum non pugnant. Tandem ab omnibus pene itum in ſententiam Cardinalis Pacieci, ut obtineat ſenſus Scripturæ, quem patres & eccleſia tenent. Abuſus etiam circa Scripturam notati ſunt, qui in decreto apparent. NOTÆ

Ad Hiſtoriam & Decretum Seſſionis IV.

Primò imminutæ pro more libertatis Concilii veſtigia quædam deprehendimus. Nam Anthonium Marinarum liberè de traditionibus differentem Cardinalis Polus graviter increpavit, tanquam digniorem Germaniæ, quàm eccleſiæ univerſalis colloquio. Paulum Vergerium adductum in ſuſpicionem conſenſus cum Proteſtantibus, à conſeſſu Concilii arcuerunt, donec ſe Pontifici purgâſſet. Quod arguit ipſos nonniſi Papæ mancipia, & de quorum conſenſu jam certi eſſe potuerunt, in Concilio tolerari voluiſſe. Accedit, quòd Legati formam rerum agendarum à Pontifice petierunt, & ex ſolius Papæ præſcripto geſſerunt omnia. Secundò in reſcripto ſuo Papa cavet Legatis, ne rem aliquam inter catholicos controverſam definirent. Patet hinc, quo fine inſtitutum fuerit hoc Concilium, non ut cœleſtis veritas, & vera eccleſiæ concordia ſanciretur, ſed ut Proteſtantes tantùm condemnentur & pœnis adjudicentur. Patet etiam, qualis unitas ſit à Pontificiis crebrò jactata, apud quos Cadmæi fratres impune, & pace Pontificis, digladiari poſſunt. Tertiò Vincentii Lunelli ſententiam, ut de eccleſia nobiliore firmamento priùs agatur, quàm de Scriptura, exploſere Patres eo argumento, quòd eccleſiæ authoritas jam ſit determinata, adeóque in dubium revocari minimè debeat. Verbum Dei paſſi ſunt revocari in dubium, at non eccleſiæ ſuæ, nempe Pontificiæ authoritatem. Quid cum iis agerent noſtri, qui de eccleſiæ ſuæ corruptione & defectione à doctrina Chriſti accuſati, ſuam tamen eccleſiam ipſi Dei verbo prætulerunt, & ejus authoritatem, tanquam principium ἀναπόδεικτον ſuppoſuerunt? Quartò Seſſioni huic intererant Cardinales 5. Epiſcopi 48. è quibus vix ullus præcellentis doctrinæ laude inſignis erat, aulici potiùs, nobiles & Leguleji, quàm Theologi, præterea civitatum adeò minutarum Epiſcopi, ut ſi quiſque populum cui præerat, referret, vix omnes milleſimam orbis Chriſtiani partem repræſentaturi fuerint. Ex Germania verò ne unus quidem aderat Epiſcopus, unúſve

Theologus. Quid tamen ille Epiſcoporum manipulus? Præcipua religionis capita de traditionibus, de libris canonicis, de editione authentica, de ſenſu Scripturæ authentico levi brachio definire, & toti orbi Chriſtiano legem dicere audet. Hoc cùm meritò ex mente Germanorum reprehendiſſet Suave Polanus, gravem tamen dicam is patitur à Cenſore ſuo Scipione Henrico pag. 191. 192. Reſpondere ibidem conatur huic accuſationi, quòd parvus hic numerus non obfuerit, eò quòd Concilium à Papa, qui caput ſit, eccleſiæ indictum & apertum, hæreticorum autem fraudibus atque artificiis impeditum fuerit. Verùm ſi Papæ authoritatem ſufficere judicârunt, cur non poſtulata ſolius ejus definitione, levi hoc compendio defuncti ſunt? Qui verò hæretici, & quibus artificiis impediverunt, ut ad ſynodum non maturè confluerent Epiſcopi Hiſpani, Galli, Germani, aliarúmque gentium? Papæ artificia, quibus indictionem Concilii protelare, indictum jam omnibus modis ſufflaminare, & cum aperto bello commutare adnixus eſt, notiora ſunt, quàm ut recenſeri debeant. Sed civitatum, inquit, amplitudine non perficitur Epiſcoporum jus, nec Concilii authoritas ſecundum ſe vel augetur vel minuitur. Sed, quæro ego, annon Conciliaria decreta obligant eos, qui repræſentantur in Concilio? Quomodo autem repræſentari potuerunt integræ nationes, quarum ne unus quidem Epiſcopus repræſentans adfuit? Si plerique Epiſcopi, cùm hoc decretum formaretur, fuerunt Italici, Concilium igitur fuerit Italicum, non univerſalis eccleſiæ, uti venditatum erat. Mentitur, ita ſtomachari pergit Cenſor, Hiſtoricus dicendo, Patres ipſos non fuiſſe Theologos. Cùm enim per ſingulas Seſſiones Conciones in eis habuerint, certè aliqui ex eis Theologi erant. En præclarum argumentum! Dixerat Hiſtoricus, inter Præſules perpaucos fuiſſe Theologos, eóſque eruditione infra vulgus Theologorum. Objicit Cenſor, aliquos fuiſſe Theologos, quia per ſingulas Seſſiones (quatuor autem hactenus in univerſum habitæ erant) Conciones ab eis habitæ. Neque hoc negavit Hiſtoricus, ſed tantùm aſſeruit, eos eruditione fuiſſe infra vulgus Theologorum. Ergóne aliquam paucis Theologis, tam eruditis, ut in conſeſſibus concionari potuerint, univerſæ eccleſiæ Chriſtianæ leges dicere integrum fuit? Quintò in ipſo decreto εἰ δὲ μὴ, niſi quòd tum fibula imponitur partim impreſſoribus librorum, ne quidquam imprimant ſine cenſura & approbatione ſuperiorum, partim authoribus librorum, ne quidquam edant ſuppreſſo nomine, tum cavetur, ne dicta aut ſententiæ S. Scripturæ impiè detorqueantur ad vana, ſcurrilia, adulationes, ſuperſtitiones, ſortes, &c. Quæ duo poſteriora decreta utroque pollice probamus. Nam & cenſuram librorum deſideramus ipſi, etſi non ubique obtineri poſſit; & nomen authoris ſine gravi cauſa omittendum haud eſſe cenſemus. Deinde etiam profanum & impium Scripturarum pturarum abuſum ex animo damnamus & deteſtamur. Cujus tamen, ſi qui alii, Pontificii rei ſunt in hunc uſque diem, ut gravem admodum ſententiam in ſemetipſos dixerint. De cætero quæſtiones Theologicæ hîc occurrunt ſequentes.

QUÆSTIO I.

An veritas & diſciplina Evangelii contineatur tum verbo Dei ſcripto, tum traditionibus ex ore Chriſti ab Apoſtolis acceptis, & ab Apoſtolis Spiritu S. dictante per manus traditis, pari cum verbo ſcripto pietatis affectu & reverentia ſuſcipiendis?

AFfirmat fere totidem verbis decretum de canonicis Scripturis. Ubi non tam modum tradendi idem verbum Dei, quàm res traditas ſub nomine traditionis verbo Dei ſcripto opponi, apparet tum ex decreto ipſo, in quo Scripturæ opponuntur traditionibus ſine ſcripto, quibus verbis, non ſine barbarie ſermonis, notantur dogmata non ſcripta: tum ex interpretatione Andradii, qui ipſe Concilio interfuit. Is enim teſtatur, innui verbis traditionum ſine ſcripto illas etiam traditiones, quæ nullo Scripturæ teſtimonio probari poſſunt. Et quæcunque credit, tenet & ſervat Romana eccleſia, quæ in Scripturis non habentur, illa hiſce traditionibus annumeranda docet. Cæterùm controverſia non eſt de traditione ejuſmodi vel hiſtorica, ritus, diſciplinam vel conſuetudines eccleſiaſticas indicante: vel exegetica, explicante, quo ſenſu Scripturæ obſcuriora loca à majoribus plerumque fuerint accepta, qualem traditionem, cùm nihil aliud ſit quàm explicita ſcriptura, ſeu ſenſus fundamentalis veritatis ſcriptæ traditus, ultro amplectimur: ſed de traditione ejuſmodi didactica, quæ complicat hominum commenta cum textu indubitato ad ſupplendum illius defectum in articulis quibuſdam neceſſariis. Ejuſmodi igitur traditiones extravagantes & ambulatorias dari, negamus ſequentibus argumentis.

ARG. I. Verbum ſcriptum vetat ſibi quidquam addi vel detrahi, Deut. IV. 2. XII. 32. Joſ. I. 7. 1. Cor. IV. 6. Gal. I. 8. Apocal. XXII. 17. Atqui traditio tio ejuſmodi quælibet verbo ſcripto addit in diverſis, detrahit in contrariis.

RESP. REDINGI: 1. Traditiones Divinæ & Apoſtolicæ verbo Dei nunquam contrariantur. 2. Patres, præter verbum Dei ſcriptum, etiam non ſcriptum ſeu traditum agnoſcunt. 3. Deut. IV. 12. vetamur Iſraëlitæ addere ad verbum, quod Moſes locutus fuerat, non quod ſcripſerat. Etſi verò Deus, XXXI. 24. dicatur, Moſen finem feciſſe ſcribendi verba legis; tamen mox cap. XXXII. 7. interrogare iidem jubentur Patrem. 4. 1. Cor. IV. 6. id tantum vetatur, ne ſupra, quàm ſcriptum eſt, unus præ altero inflatur. 5. Gal. I. 8. anathemati ſubjicitur, quisquis aliter, quàm Paulus, evangelizaverit. Traditiones verò non evangelizant aliter. 6. Apocal. XXII. 18. vetamur addere prophetiæ Apocalypſeos, non S. Scripturæ toti. Tu ergo diminuiſti & addidiſti ad verba prophetiæ illius. Væ tibi, ni pœnitentiam agas! Tract. II. pag. 188-190. Reſp. 1. Traditio, ſeu dogma non ſcriptum, vel cum Scriptura conſentit, & ex eadem conſequitur; vel ab ea diverſa eſt, vel eidem contrariatur. Si primum, à Scriptura non differt, ut oppoſita ſub eodem genere, verbo Dei, ſpecies, (ita enim vos differre pertenditis) ſed in ſcriptæ literæ δυνάμει virtute & poteſtate, quam in ſignificanda illa habet, continetur. Tales eſſe traditiones veſtras ubi comprobaveris, pax hac quidem in re coaleſcet facilè. Si ſecundum, annon diverſa addunt? Si tertium, annon contraria detrahunt? Inſuper cùm Divina & Apoſtolica, quatenus ad fidem & ſalutem faciunt, ſcripta ſint omnia, nec extra Scripturam revelatio ulla contineatur, veſtras traditiones nec Divinas, nec Apoſtolicas, ſed apoſtaticas eſſe, conſequitur. 2. Ad Patres nimis præcipitanter, Scripturæ diffiſus, devolveris. De eorum ſententia infra videbimus. 3. Deut. IV. 12. verbum, cui addere & detrahere vetamur, & pronuntiatum & ſcriptum, utrumque quoad ſubſtantiam idem, intelligitur. Totam enim verbi pronuntiati ſubſtantiam Deus Moſen perſcribere juſſit, & perſcripſit Moſes, ceu fidelis in tota domo Dei ſervus, conſtitutus publicus Dei ac eccleſiæ actuarius, Deut. XXXI. XXXII. Hebr. III. 2. Quicquid verò vel Prophetæ ſcribendo, vel Patres docendo, narrando addiderunt, unius ejusdémque quoad ſubſtantiam verbi interpretatio fuit. 4. S. Paulus 2. Cor. IV. 6. diſertè prohibet φρονῶν ſapere ὑπὲρ ὃ γέγραπται ſupra id quod ſcriptum eſt, addita ratione, ne unus præ alio infletur contra alterum; id quod Pontificiis, ſapere ſupra id, quod ſcriptum eſt, volentibus contingit. Prætextu enim traditionum ſuarum fidei aliorum dominantur, & contra alios inflantur. Decepit autem te, Redingi Græcæ Linguæ ignarum, vulgata verſio, quæ verbum φρονῶν ſapere, omittendo, ſenſum pervertit. 5. Gal. I. 8. anathemati ſubjicitur quisquis evangelizaverit παρ' ὃ præter id, quod evangelizavit Paulus. Ubi uſus eſt voce παρὰ præter, quæ latiùs patet, & tum contraria, dum diverſa excludit. Servanda autem eſt generalis & propria ſignificatio, non arctanda temerè, ac in fraudem ipſius Scripturæ. Quicquid igitur Evangelio S. Pauli ſcripto (nam quia & perfectè prædicavit, & perfectè ſcripſit, quoad ſubſtantiam fidei, utique quæ prædicavit, eadem ſcripſit, ut doctrinæ ſuæ monimentum publicum perfectúmque ſpeculum relinqueret, 2. Cor. I. 13. Niſi dicat Redingius, Scripturam non eſſe Evangelium, ſed partem Evangelii, quomodo nunquam conſtare poterit, quis evangelizet præter Pauli evangelium, & anathema ideo mereatur) additur, illud eſt παρὰ præter ejus Evangelium. Præter evangelium eſt ἄλλο aliud evangelium. Ita præter Deum quid colere eſt Deum abnegare. Auguſtinus igitur etiam illud ὑπὲρ explicavit, præterquam quod in Scripturis legalibus & Evangelicis accepiſtis. 6. Denique Apoc. XXII. 18. vetamur addere non ſoli prophetiæ Johannis, ſed univerſæ etiam

Scripturæ

Scripturæ, tum analogicè, quia verbi Dei, quod naturæ ſpiritualis eſt, una eſt eadémque ratio in toto & partibus ejus ſingulis: tum propriè & ſimpliciter, quia S. Johannes, qui poſtremus ſcripſit omnium Apoſtolorum, libris ſuppoſititiis ante obitum à Canone ſeclusis, libro Apocalypſeos Canonem Scripturæ clauſit, & hoc ipſo ſigillo totam veluti Scripturam, non librum illum ſolum, in Spiritu Dei obſignavit. Non igitur mihi & Apocalypſi & toti Scripturæ addere quicquam reformidanti; ſed tibi Redingi, tuique ſimilibus πλημμυρίς, quiſquilias vettras, & impia plurima, traditionum nomine fucata, utrique ſuperaddentibus, terribiles illæ plagæ addentibus & detrahentibus intentatæ, toto pectore diu noctúque expaveſcendæ ſunt.

ARG. II. Verbum ſcriptum eſt ſufficiens inſtrumentum inſtitutionis in rebus fidei & morum, tum quia in genere Scriptura ſibimet ſufficientiæ ſuæ locupletiſſimus eſt teſtis, 2. Tim. III. 16. 17. Rom. II. 20. 2. Tim. III. 8. Rom. VI. 17. tum quia perfectioni V. T. fideliter atteſtati ſunt Chriſtus & Apoſtoli, Joh. V. 38. 39. 46. Luc. XVI. 29. Act. XX. 27. cum XXVI. 22. tum quia in ſpecie Moſis, Prophetarum & Apoſtolorum perfectio & ſufficientia ἀνὰ μέρος argumentis invictis demonſtrari poteſt: tum quia Scriptura continet legem, fœdus Dei & Evangelium, ad quæ tria referri poteſt, quicquid ſalutariter ſciri debet: tum denique quia verbo Dei nihil addi poteſt vel diverſum vel contrarium. Non diverſum, quia articuli fidei ſunt copulativi, ita ut in fœcunditate & virtute unius principii contineantur omnes. Non contrarium, quia aliàs Spiritus Dei foret ita & non, & ἀκατάστατος Spiritus.

RESP. REDING: 1. Verum Dei verbum eſt vivum illud in cordibus fidelium, mediante ſola traditione, ſui propagativum, Apoſtolis principaliter commiſſum. Scriptura autem ejus merum inſtrumentum eſt, non principaliter, ſed ſecundariò, certis occaſionibus ab Apoſtolis ita exarata, ut ea Eccleſia carere poſſit; abſque traditione manca mutiláque tota, & in mortuis membranis conſiſtens. 2. S. Et Moſen & Prophetas ad myſterium non futurum, ſed jam præteritum, non utique Scriptura, ſed traditione viva duce, applicavit. 4. Verbum traditum ſcripto non eſt contrarium, ſed in eo virtualiter continetur, ut verè dicatur, articulos fidei eſſe copulativos, & in fœcunditate unius principii omnes contineri, quatenus omnium ſive ſcriptorum, ſive non ſcriptorum fidei articulorum eſt unum formale motivum, prima revelans veritas, ita ut qui uni articulo fide Theologica aſſentitur, omnibus aſſentiatur. Ib. pag 190-196. Reſp. 1. Vix aliud Redingius, quàm ſuum adverſus S. Scripturam rancorem & odium, ne dicam, conceptas blaſphemias hic prodit. Scilicet traditio ei ſola verum fidei principium, vivum in cordibus fidelium verbum: Scriptura mutum aliquod inſtrumentum, mentum, mortua membrana, ab Apoſtolis non principali ſtudio, ſed per accidens exarata, eſt. An hoc eſt traditiones & verbum ſcriptum pari pietatis affectu & reverentia recipere. quod ipſi Tridentini Patres juſſerunt? Ecquæ verò odii, rancoris, blaſphemiæ tuæ cauſa? Eadem ſcilicet tibi eſt, quæ hæreticis veteribus Gnoſticis fuit, qui, Irenæo *lib. mentalis, quàm revelata, authentica & auctoritativa ita est, ut verbum Dei ab ea dependeat. 3. S. Paulus equidem Act. XX. 27. omne consilium Dei Ephesiis ἀπήγγειλε annuntiavit, ore utique. Cùm verò verbi ore annuntiati, & calamo scripti, substantia una sit, & Apostoli Evangelium, quod tunc præconiaverunt, postea per Dei voluntatem in Scripturis nobis tradiderint, fundamentum & columnam fidei nostræ futuram, uti disertè Irenæus lib. III. 1. loquitur; omne etiam consilium Dei eundem scripsisse consequitur. Cúmque etiam futurorum seu prædictorum, & præteritorum ceu impletorum substantia eadem sit, idem S. Paulus impleta prædicans, quæ implenda Moses & Prophetæ prædixerant, nihil utique (Act. XXVI. 22.) extra Mosen & Prophetas locutus est; ἀδὲν nihil eorum, quæ futura Prophetæ prænuntiaverant; adeóque non certa tantùm capita, qualia mox v. 23. vel exempli gratia, vel tanquam præcipua, non omnia, recitat. Rationem enim totius suæ prædicationis, ad quam illa de Mose & Prophetis referenda sunt, reddidit. 4. Verbum traditum dum ais in scripto virtualiter & implicitè contineri, atque ita quidem, uti mox, Ss. III. explicas, ut nulla detur Traditio Divina, quæ vel non sit formaliter expressa per Sacram Scripturam, vel per modum principii sive conclusionis reduci possit in aliquem S. literarum textum; multum certè nobis largiri videris. Si enim Traditio virtualiter & implicitè in verbo scripto continetur, & eo quidem, quo jam declarasti, modo, non aliud utique quàm Scriptura erit. Quicquid enim in Scriptura implicatur, & virtualiter existit, scriptum censetur, cùm Scriptura non in verborum foliis & superficie, sed in sensus medulla; non in litera, sed literæ ad significandum δυνάμει potestate, virtute, valore; perinde ut voces ceu λόγοι dicimus, non ἀδηλοι, non in sono externo, sed in δυνάμει φωνῆς potestate, virtute vocis (1. Cor. XIV. 11.) consistat; atque insuper id, quod ex scripto, ceu præmissa, infertur & concluditur, à scripto, uti etiam definitio à definito, nonnisi, λόγῳ ratione differat. Verùm tum laborandum tibi maximopere erit, qua ratione traditiones vestras, illas maximè, quarum Driedo supra meminit, Pharisaicas potiùs quàm Divinas vel Apostolicas, ceu συμπεράσματα, illationes & conclusiones ex Scripturis, elicias. quod tum demum præstiteris, cùm orcum ex Cœlo, tenebras ex clara luce, ex albo nigrum, & ex contrario contrarium derivaveris. Denique articuli fidei copulativi sunt non eo duntaxat, quem indicâsti, sensu; sed ratione inprimis principii & fundamenti fidei unici, quod ita latum est, ut in sinu suo, quicquid ad salutem credendum est, complectatur. qua de re fusiùs alibi.

ARG. III. Verbum, quo Evangelii veritas continetur, ita certum esse debet, ut πληροφορίαν seu certitudinem fidei gignere possit. Tale non est verbum traditum, tum quia nec in se habet notas certitudinis, quas omnes agnoscere possint, nec in authentica aliqua norma: tum quia nullum habemus fidum ejus custodem, quomodo Scripturæ fidus custos est litera, pro qua Deus vigilaturum se recepit: tum quia recipit varietatem & contrarietatem: tum quia corruptioni obnoxium est, uti vel sola historia primorum temporum ante scriptam legem id evidenter ostendit: tum denique, quia Bellarminus fatetur, eorum quæ Apostoli tradiderunt, alia quidem ab iis tradita esse omnibus, alia solis Prælatis, Episcopis, Presbyteris, quæ lata porta est ad obtrudendum omne genus mendaciorum

RESP. REDING: 1. Cùm ſub traditione receptæ ſint S. literæ, eandem traditio, ceu præſuppoſitum primum principium, quam Scriptura ipſa certitudinem habeat oportet. 2. Non ſcripti duntaxat, ſed traditi etiam verbi fidus cuſtos Deus eſt. 3. Neque magis traditio, quam Scriptura corruptioni obnoxia eſt, uti apparet ex Neotericorum Bibliis, tantæ inter ſe varietate pugnantibus, ut integris etiam S. Scripturæ libris à ſe invicem diſſent. 4. Si ante legem verbum traditum corruptioni obnoxium fuit, quomodo ſtare tum certitudo fidei potuit, quando verbo ſcripto nixa non eſt? Ibid pag. 196. Reſp. 1. S. literæ αὐτόπιστος primariò non ob traditionem authenticam ullius hominis vel eccleſiæ, ſed ob ſolum ſplendorem & efficaciam Divinitatis, à Spiritu Dei cordibus credentium intimatum, Eccleſia eidem ex officio miniſtrante, pro Divinis receptæ ſunt. Et quibuſcunque hic eccleſia tradens partibus deſungatur, earum certitudo & veritas omnis ex verbo Dei ſcripto, non aliunde pendet. 2. Pro verbo ſcripto vigilâſſe Deum ſemper, tum ex promiſſione Eſai. LIX. 21. Matth. V. 18. tum ex eventu liquet. Pervenit enim ad nos tot retro Seculis Scriptura, nequicquam adverſus eam Sathana & Antichriſto machinantibus continuè. De traditionibus nil tale dici poteſt. Origo earum vel incerta, vel apertè falſa eſt. Cùm aliquot ſecula percurreris, quaſi cùm leporis veſtigia canes ſagiunt, tandem in nubes diſſipantur, vel condunt ſe in turbam, uti rumor bus temerè ac ſine authore certo publicatis contingit. Et fruſtra hactenus Traditionarii in comminiſcendis diſcernendarum traditionum regulis ſe macerarunt, quia ab iis prædicatæ & univerſæ non ſatis fidei Chriſtianæ, quam undique tutam eſſe oportet, cavent; & ſingulæ aliquid ſuum habent, redolens traditionum vanitatem, id eſt, humani cerebri ἐφεύρεμα, quod de iis ſolidiſſimè Celeb. Chamierus de Canone lib. VIII. cap. 14. probatum dicit. 3 Dilutum nimis eſt, quod de Neotericorum Bibliis muſſas. An enim ſi verbi Divini Interpretes hallucinantur, & in diverſum abeunt id ipſi verbo Dei, quod in fontibus integrum illibatúmque conſervatum ad nos pervenit, imputandum eſt? Alia traditionum ratio eſt, quæ certum conſervationis ſuæ inſtrumentum nullum habent. 4. Traditiones ante legem variè quidem extra veram ſcilicet eccleſiam interpolatæ & adulteratæ ſunt, ut vel ſolum eam ob rationem Sapientiæ Dei vitium fuerit, verbum ſuum ſcripto, fido memoriæ cuſtodi, tradere. Conſervavit tamen Deus verbum ſuum in vera eccleſia uſque ad legem, per continua ſcilicet oracula & inſpirationes, imò etiam, cùm paulatim ab iis homines dilaberentur, innovavit. Sicut igitur tum. ne in eccleſia traditio corrumperetur, neceſſaria fuit extraordinaria inſpiratio; ita poſt eadem vel infrequente, vel planè ceſſante, Scripturæ ceu medio ordinario, traditio omnis commiſſa fuit.

ARG. IV. In V. T. nullus traditionibus fuit locus, quia Chriſtus Judæos à Phariſæis deuterotis, quos tamen agnoſcit ſedere in cathedra Moſis, ubique revocat ad Moſen & Prophetas, adeóque canonem ſcriptum & eorum κατήχησιν ἐκ τοῦ νόμου arguit inſufficientiæ. Si autem in V. T. non fuit locus traditionibus non ſcriptis, neque in Novo iis locum eſſe poſſe diſertè fatentur Becanus, Cornelius à Lapide, & quidam alii, inquit Bellarminus, Catholici, hoc eſt, Papiſtæ.

RESP. REDING: Phariſæi nec Scripturam, nec genuinum ejuſdem ſenſum ſine verbo Dei non ſcripto, per traditionem majorum propagato, certitudine fidei recipere potuerunt. lb. pag. 197. Reſp. Bellè ſic Phariſæis traditionariis patrocinaris, quia eorundem veneno imbutus es. Potuiſſes eodem argumento eorum cauſam contra Chriſtum, eos propter traditiones pulſantem, agere. Sed memento, aliud eſſe traditionem de Scriptura, aliud traditiones ſeu articulos fidei præter vel contra Scripturam. de quibus hic omnis diſceptatio eſt. Cætera ſuperiùs dilui. Neque Redingius reſpondere directè potuit.

ARG. V. Verbum traditum neceſſarium fuit, vel propter ſublimitatem myſteriorum, quæ ſcribi non potuerunt, vel propter aliam aliquam cauſam. Atqui non propter ſublimitatem myſteriorum, tum quia in verbo tradito nulla myſteria oſtendi poſſunt, quibus non majora ſcripta ſint: tum quia Apoſtolorum ſucceſſores eas ſcripto mandârunt, uti ſtatuunt adverſarii: tum denique quia in falſis duntaxat religionibus hoc ſancitum eſt, quarum myſteria nec ſcribere nec propalare fas erat, ſed tantùm tradere. Neque propter aliam cauſam, quia oſtendi nulla poteſt. Hoc argumento in Concilio pugnavit Anthonius Marinarus.

RESP. REDING: 1. Apoſtolorum ſucceſſores non pleroſque Apoſtolos, vel ipſum Chriſtum, myſteria Dei ſcripto mandaſſe, fateris. An igitur Chriſtus & Apoſtoli, myſteria ore, non ſcripto tradentes, falſæ religionis rei etiam fuerunt? 2. Vos quoque traditiones plures defenditis nuſquam ſcriptas. lb. p 197. 198. Reſp. 1. Quicquid Chriſtus & Apoſtoli ore tradiderunt, pertinens ad ſalutem & neceſſariam inſtructionem noſtram, id omne Scriptores à Chriſto delecti, adeóque ἔμπνευστοι, tabulis conſignarunt. Neque etiam illi extra Moſen & Prophetas, adeóque Scripturas, docuerunt quicquam. Apoſtolorum verò ſucceſſores myſteria ab Apoſtolis non ſcripta, ſcripto mandaſſe, non ex mea, ſed adverſariorum ſententia, diſertè ſcripſi. Tu mihi ceu fatenti, ea tribuens, falſum teſtimonium apertè dicis. 2. Quæ de traditionibus noſtris ἀγράφοις nugaris, reſponſionem nullam merentur. Traditiones ἀγράφους, ſeu articulos fidei in Scripturis non traditos, ſimpliciter damnamus omnes.

ARG. VI. Concilium generaliter definit, traditiones ſine ſcripto recipiendas eſſe. At quæ ſint illæ traditiones, ubi reperiantur, quomodo veræ à falſis diſcerni queant, quiſve earum ſit numerus, non definit. Cujus quidem fallacis & doloſæ generalitatis crypſis haud alia eſſe poteſt, quàm ut liceat prætenſa traditione defendere, quicquid ſcriptum non eſt.

RESP. REDING: Synodus ſatis habuit definire, fidei Catholicæ fundamentum non Scripturam tantùm, ſed etiam traditionem; & Apoſtolicos ritus per manus traditos recipi ab eccleſia, nec in iis aliter agendum. Quæ autem ſingulæ hæ traditiones ſint, deinceps ſtatuendum erat, prout rerum tractationes in congregationibus habendis exigebant. lb. pag. 198. Reſp. Quid definire Synodus ſatis habuerit, conſtat. Nec de eo quærebatur; ſed cur, quæ traditiones eæ ſint, quæ diſcernendarum earum notæ, quis numerus, non æque definiverit, cauſam dicere oportuit. Nam deinceps tale quid ſtatutum non eſt; nec, quæ dogmata pro ſcriptis, quæ pro traditis habenda ſint, uſpiam declaratum eſt. Manet, quam dixi, doloſæ generalitatis cryptis.

ARG. VII. Concinunt Patres, apud quos ratum fuit, nullum dogma eſſe, quod in canone ſcripto teſtimonium non habeat. Tertullianus contra Hermogenem: Adoro Scripturæ plenitudinem. Scriptum eſſe doceat Hermogenes, aut timeat illud væ adjicientibus. Athanaſius in Synopſi paucis & nervosè Scripturas vocat τῆς πίστεως ἀπαρθένιαν, ἄγκυραν καὶ ἔρεισμα, fidei primitias, anchoram & fulcrum. Baſilius M. in libro de confeſſione fidei: Φανερὰ ἔκπτωσις τῆς πίστεως, καὶ ὑπερηφανίας κατηγορία, ἢ ἀφαιρεῖν τῶν γεγραμμένων, ἢ ἐπεισάγειν τῶν μὴ γεγραμμένων. Manifeſtum eſt infidelitatis & arrogantiæ crimen, vel rejicere aliquid quod ſcriptum eſt, vel addere aliquid quod non ſcriptum eſt. Hieronymus in Matth. 23. Quod de ſcripturis authoritatem non habet, eadem facilitate contemnitur, quâ probatur. Auguſtinus de Doctr. Chriſt. II. 9. In his, quæ apertè poſita ſunt in ſcripturis, inveniuntur ea omnia, quæ continent fidem, moréſque vivendi.

RESP. REDING: 1. Tertullianus de unâ tantùm dogmate, creatione mundi ex nihilo, loquitur. Illud verò apertè in Scriptura continetur. 2. Athanaſius Scripturam fidei anchoram & fulcrum vocat; ſed ejusdem applicatio, de quâ tota quæſtio eſt, ſine traditione fieri nequit. 3. Baſilius Scripturæ vetat aliquid addi, nempe contrarium. 4. Hieronymus de particulari ſententia eorum, qui ſtatuebant, Zachariam, inter templum & altare mactatum, fuiſſe patrem Johannis Baptiſtæ, loquitur. A particulari verò univerſale malè infertur. 5. Auguſtinus de iis dogmatibus, quæ ſimpliciter ad ſalutem neceſſaria ſunt, loquitur. Alibi Epiſt. 118. ad Jan. traditiones diſertè aſſerit. Ib. pag. 198. 199. Reſp. 1. Ita pueriliter, Redingi, nugaris, ut vix reſponſionem nugæ tuæ vel poſtulent, vel mereantur. Licet loco citato Tertullianus de uno duntaxat dogmate agat, generali tamen argumento à plenitudine, ſeu perfectione (quid enim plenitudo niſi rei omnia continentis perfectio eſt?) Scripturæ, quod accommodari omnibus aliis doctrinæ partibus queat, petita utitur. Quid magis ridiculum fuiſſet, quàm plenitudinem nominare, unius duntaxat membri aut particulæ ratione habita? An plenus homo eſt, cui crura integra ſunt, at deſunt poſt magnam in prœlio ſtragem brachia, & forte caput? 2. Athanaſius ſimpliciter Scripturam fidei primitias, anchoram & fulcrum appellavit. Tu per traditionem, hoc eſt, oraculum Papæ tui, eam applicandam ſciſcis. Sed ubi ſimiliter ſciſcit Athanaſius? Tuum figmentum non eſt Athanaſii ſententia. Et quis unquam ſpeciem per oppoſitam ſpeciem applicari dixit? Juxta Tridentinos verò tuos verbo Dei, tanquam generi ſcilicet, Scriptura & traditio tanquam ſpecies oppoſitæ, uti diſertè etiam Walenburgii explicant, ſubjacent. Orat. 6. contra gentes, idem Athanaſius apophthegma habet aureis characteribus deſcribendum, quod ſic ſonat: Αὐτάρκεις μὲν γάρ εἰσιν αἱ ἁγίαι καὶ θεόπνευστοι γραφαὶ πρὸς τὴν τῆς ἀληθείας ἀπαγγελίαν. Sufficiunt Sanctæ Divinitùſque inſpiratæ Scripturæ ad veritatis annuntiationem. Eſt autem αὐτάρκεια id, quod per ſe, non per aliud, puta traditionem, vel eccleſiam ſufficit. 3. Baſilium de additamentis duntaxat contrariis loqui, proba. Non enim prætor es, cui edicenti aſſurgendum ſit. Simpliciter ille perfidiæ & arrogantiæ deputat ἐπεισάγειν τι τῶν μὴ γεγραμμένων, addere aliquid, quod non ſcriptum eſt. At qui diverſum quid addit, etiam addit, quod ſcriptum non eſt. 4. Sed

& Hiero-

ARG. VIII. Origo hujus de traditionibus erroris clarè oſtendi poteſt. Veteres, nominatim Irenæus & Tertullianus, hæreticis Scripturas torquentibus oppoſuerunt præſcriptionem & traditionem, hoc eſt, catholicum Scripturæ ſenſum in quæſtionibus præcipuè fundamentalibus fidei. Quam patrum mentem explicat ipſe Caſſander de officio viri pii p. m. 782. Deinde ſedes Epiſcopalis Romana, quæ clariora habuit traditionis monimenta, exaltata eſt. Factum hinc, ut primaria religionis capita tractarentur negligentiùs, ut dicta quædam ambigua exciderent patribus, utque definitio Concilii aut ſupremæ cathedræ haberetur pro principio fidei, ejúſque determinationes, etſi Scripturis non probarentur, haberentur pro dogmatibus fidei, & traditionibus Apoſtolicis. His gradibus perventum in Concilio hoc noſtro ad canonizationem traditionum, eo in ſenſu, quem nunquam vera eccleſia tenuit, imò quem in hæreticis damnavit.

RESP. REDING. Bene, quòd traditione Catholicum Scripturæ ſenſum, penes Eccleſiam Romanam reſidentem, & hæreticis olim oppoſitum, contineri fateris. Ib p. 199. Reſp. Nihil tamen hic tibi ſeritur vel metitur. Quid enim Irenæo ſit traditio, quid Tertulliano præſcriptio, tu quidem ignoras, & vocum illarum ſenſum novitium nequicquam veteribus, ab eodem abhorrentibus, impingis. Noveris autem pro certo, veteribus traditionem nihil aliud quàm ſcriptorum non extra, præter vel contra Scripturas traditorum dogmatum, fundamenti inprimis in eccleſia Catholica continuationem eſſe. Id verò ex Irenæo lib. III. 2. 3. 4. &c. manifeſtè liquet, tum quia is traditionem oppoſuit hæreticis ſui temporis, errantibus in capitibus dogmatum ſcriptorum de Deo, Chriſto, creatione & ſimilibus: tum quia omnem horum hæreticorum impietatem prolixè refutavit ex Scripturis, & quidem tribus libris integris, cùm tamen ne unum quidem ſigillatim ac nominatim ex traditione examinaverit: tum denique quia, cap. 2. 3. &c. de barbaris ſine Scriptura ex ſola traditione Evangelium diſcentibus loquens, & eorum fidei articulos exponens, non alios nominat, quàm quos Catholici omnes ex Scripturis hauſtos credunt. Nihil planè Irenæus eam in rem dixit, quod non ambabus ulnis amplectamur.

ARG. IX. Denique vel ipſe Bellarminus de verbo D. lib. III. 11. fatetur, omnia ſcripta eſſe ab Apoſtolis, quæ ſunt ſimpliciter omnibus neceſſaria. Quin & ipſe Gregorius XIII. Epiſt. Prælim. ad Philipp. Hiſp. Regem, Bibliis Regiis Ariæ Montani, ita ſcribit: Quod ad Theologiam attinet, quæ eſt ſumma Philoſophia, hiſce libris (Bibliis) OMNIA noſtræ religionis & Divinitatis MYSTERIA explicantur.

REIP. REDINO. Esto. Suppoſuis tamen Bellarminus verbum non ſcriptum, quo legitimus & ſalutaris Scripturæ ſenſus acquiritur, & liber canonicus ab apocrypho diſcernitur. Ib.pag.199. Reſp. Suppoſuit igitur id, quod cum dicto ejus pugnat. An enim Scripturæ ſenſus in neceſſariis exigit aliud verbum non ſcriptum, quo ille eruatur? Imò quo dogmata non ſcripta (neque enim ſenſus Scripturæ, utpote ab ea inſeparabilis, eſt dogma non ſcriptum) revelentur? Annon ſic progreſſus dabitur in infinitum? Nam & verbum illud non ſcriptum requiret aliud verbum, quo ei fides concilietur & ſenſus adoptetur; atque hoc iterum aliud in infinitum. Sic ſcilicet religionem Chriſtianam univerſam ludibrio exponi, imò extingui penitus oportuit!

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Paulus diſtinguit verbum Dei in ſcriptum & non ſcriptum, jubens retinere παραδόσεις, ſive per ſermonem ſive per epiſtolam, 2. Theſſ. II. 15. Reſp. Traditiones vocat Paulus duplicem modum tradendi doctrinam eandem, non diverſam, præſentibus per ſermonem, abſentibus per epiſtolam; non dogmata fidei non ſcripta. Etenim ipſam epiſtolam ſeu Scripturam complectitur ſub genere παραδόσεων traditionum. Tum illud εἴτε δι' ἐπιστολῆς, ſive ſive, Paulus manifeſtè refert non ad παραδόσεις, ſed ad verbum ἐδιδάχθητε didiciſtis, adeóque illud disjunctivum eſt non traditionum, ſed modorum diſcendi. Præterea Paulus commendans has traditiones, fideles munire vult contra ſeductionem, ne credant mendacio. Atqui traditione in adverſariorum ſenſu laudata apertam januam ſeductioni aperuiſſet. Accedit, quòd hac ratione obligâſſet nos ad credendum aliquid, quod nec ſermone, nec ſcripto didicimus quippe ſermone Pauli nec tum omnes frui potuerunt, nec nos poſſumus. Denique idem Paulus cap. III. 14. omnem obedientiam revocat ad epiſtolam.

EXCIPIT. REDING: 1. Malè ex eo, quòd S. Paulus loc. cit. meminit verbi per epiſtolam, arguis, omnem obedientiam ab eodem ad epiſtolam revocari. 2. Anne verbum viva voce traditum ejuſmodi eſt, quod nec ſcripto didicimus? An naſcentis Eccleſiæ tempore omnes fideles frui poterunt Pauli Epiſtolis, ut ſermone opus non fuerit? 3. Modus tradendi per Scripturam æquè ac per vivæ vocis oracula deceptioni obnoxius eſt. Sed utrumque Spiritus S. conſervavit. 4. Si Paulus non diverſa dogmata, ſed diverſos tradendi modos commendavit, ſequetur, univerſa dogmata epiſtolis ejus ad Theſſalonicenſes comprehendi. 5. Particulæ disjunctivæ ſive enuntiantur de traditionibus, hoc eſt, dogmatis traditis, non modis tradendi. Ibid.p.199.200. Reſp.1. Mutas dictorum ordinem, detorques, ſophiſticaris. cuncta pro more & ingenio tuo. Ex eo, quòd S. Paulus jubet retinere traditiones etiam per epiſtolam, collegi, etiam Scripturam ei traditionis nomine venire; non, obedientiam omnem eum ad epiſtolam revocáſſe. Finxiſti ſpectrum, quod faciliùs debellares. 2. Verbum viva voce traditum omnino idem eſt, quod etiam ſcripto didicimus. Non igitur commendavit S. Paulus traditiones, hoc eſt, dogmata nunquam ſcripta, nunquam ſcribenda? Nec epiſtolis Pauli eccleſiæ naſcentis initio apud omnes opus fuit. Opus tamen fuit, ut quæ primò præconiarunt Apoſtoli, poſtea ſcriberentur. Et ſcripta revera ſunt, quæcunque ad ſalutem ſcitu neceſſaria erant.

3. Modum

3. Modum ſcribendi æquè ac ore tradendi modum deceptioni obnoxium eſſe, neſcio quomodo dixeris. Litera enim ſcripta manet. Sermo audientium vitio mutatur, corrumpitur facilè. Neque ita traditionem Spiritus S. conſervavit, ut Scripturam. Illa enim abſque Scriptura & extra eam ad nos incorrupta & germana non pervenit. Hæc integra & illibata pervenit. 4. Neque iccirco omnia dogmata S. Pauli ad Theſſalonicenſes epiſtolis comprehendi debuiſſe, ſequitur. Sufficit quædam in Epiſtolis iis; reliqua, quæ ore prædicavit, ab eodem Paulo, vel aliis alibi ſcripto conſignata eſſe. Evangelium totum idémque, non ἄλλο aliud (Gal.I.6.7.) primò fuit nondum ſcriptum; deinde ſcriptum tamen. Neque latiùs præconium totum, quàm Scriptura tota patet. 5. Traditiones, hoc eſt, traditam S. Pauli doctrinam univerſam retinere Theſſalonicenſes jubentur. Eas verò didiciſſe dicuntur ἔτε δι' λόγου, ἔτε δι' ἐπιστολῆς ſive per ſermonem, ſive per epiſtolam, hoc eſt, & per ſermonem, & per epiſtolam, vel alterutro ſaltem modo; non alias nunquam ſcriptas, nunquam ſcribendas per ſermonem, alias per epiſtolam. An enim quæ per epiſtolam didicerunt, non etiam per ſermonem didicerunt, vel diſcere potuerunt? Manifeſtè igitur non res traditæ, ſed tradendi modi diſpeſcuntur disjunguntur que. Ita planè Theodoretus verba S. Pauli παραδόσεις : Habetote κανόνα διδασκαλίας regulam doctrinæ, ſermones, quos vobis tradidimus, ὡς quos & præſentes vobis prædicavimus, & abſentes ſcripſimus. Et Chryſoſtomus homil.29. Operis imperf. in Matthæum diſertiſſimè: Ex quo hæreſis impia, quæ eſt exercitus Antichriſti, obtinebit in Eccleſia, nulla probatio poterit eſſe veræ Chriſtianitatis, neque refugium Chriſtianorum poterit eſſe aliud, volentium cognoſcere veritatem fidei, niſi Scripturæ Divinæ. Hoc tu, Redingi, vineis & pluteis tuis admotis omnibus oppugnans, prodis te, quòd ſis in exercitu Antichriſti, & deliteſcere tamen in eodem velis.

OBIECT. II. Paulus 1.Cor.XI.2. laudat Corinthios, quòd ſicut illis tradidit, traditiones conſervent. Et v.34. quæ non ſcripta ſunt, ea ſe coram diſpoſiturum promittit. Reſp.1. Traditiones vocat Paulus omnem doctrinam ſuam, quam ſive ſcripto ſive oretenus docuit. Eadem quæ λόγῳ σώματος tradidit, etiam tradidit ἀφ' μέλανος. Et oralis doctrinæ ejus canon & regula nunc eſt in Scripturis. 2. Promittit Paulus ſe diſpoſiturum nonnulla coram. Sed διάταξις illa non eſt articulorum fidei neceſſariorum, cùm de articulis fidei Paulus non agat, & διάταξις non ad dogma, ſed ad ordinem pertineat. Pertinet igitur ad δεῦρο & πέμπειν in externo ordine, quæ ſi ex ſcriniis Corinthiorum κατ' εἶδος nobis exprompſerint adverſarii, gratias magnas habebimus.

EXCIP. RHEINO: 1. Saltem inde ſequitur, Apoſtolum ante ſcriptam epiſtolam illam aliquid ore docuiſſe. Omnia autem, quæ ore docuit, ſcriptis poſtea commendata fuiſſe, probari nequit. 2. Quæ v.34. ordinaturum ſe promiſit, licet ad ordinem vel ritum Eccleſiæ ſpectent, ex revelatione tamen Divina pendebant, adeóque articuli fidei erant, nuſpiam ſcripti. Ib. pag.200. 201. Reſp.1. Quid ni Apoſtolus prius docuerit ore aliquid, quàm ad Corinthios ſcripſerit? Sed quod ita ore docuit, & docere ex Scripturis potuit, & poſtea etiam id vel ipſe vel alii ſcribere potuerunt. Ea ipſa enim, quæ diſertè eo capite ſcripſit, priùs viva voce tradita ſunt. Quomodo etiam quæ Petrus ore ad Judæos prædicavit, postea Lucas in actibus scripsit, & Paulus, quæ priùs Thessalonicensibus ore tradidit, ad eosdem postea scripsit, ipsomet teste 2. Thess II. 5. Annon meministis, me, cùm adhuc essem apud vos, dixisse vobis? Imò quæ ore prædicarunt ad salutem necessaria, eadem scripsisse eosdem, ipsa Scripturæ perfectio arguit. 2. Imperitissimus omnium es, qui singula Divinitus revelata ad articulos fidei referas. An ergo historica, prædictiones casuum in ecclesia, ritus revelati omnes articuli fidei sunt: Et denuo abs te contende, ut quæ Apostolus ordinaturum se recepit, si scripta nuspiam sunt, ex traditione nobis pandas. Aqua tibi hærebit semper, atque vel inde, si mens tibi læva non est, argumenti tui vanitatem agnosces.

OBIECT. III. Dogmata quædam fidei non ex Scripturis, sed ex traditione probari debent. Talia sunt articulus de processione Spiritus S. à Filio, Pædobaptismo, irreiterabilitate baptismi, observatione Dominica, immortalitate animæ &c. Resp. Hæc omnia, & si quæ alia dogmata ad salutem scitu necessaria, in Scripturis habentur, si non κατὰ τὸ ῥητὸν, expressè vel axiomaticè, at certè κατὰ διάνοιαν quoad sensum & dianoëticè. Quod neminem latet, nisi volentem, nec non eos, qui amant φιλονεικεῖν, καὶ ἀνθίστασθαι τῇ ἀληθείᾳ.

EXCIP. READING: Cùm sensus illorum dogmatum formaliter in Scripturis non sit expressus, per vivam fidem expressus est in cordibus fidelium, atque ita propagatus. Ib. p. 201. Resp. Etiam expressè scripta per vivam fidem in cordibus fidelium exprimuntur; neque iccirco traditione non scripta constant. Et quæ per evidentem consequentiam ex Scriptura inferuntur, in Scripturæ penetralibus continebantur ante. Quomodo enim ex Scriptura inferri potest, quod in ea non existit? Quid igitur hoc omne ad traditionem non scriptorum dogmatum?

OBIECT. IV. Scripturam esse verbum Dei, non ex Scriptura, sed ex universali traditione probatur. Resp. 1. Quæstio nostra non est de principiis, sed de principiatis: an videlicet positâ, quam habemus, Scripturâ, opus sit traditionibus non scriptis, ad supplendum ejus defectum? 2. Neque fides de divinitate Scripturarum est traditio non scripta, sed pendet ex authoritate revelantis Dei, qui verbo suo, quod est vivum & efficax, indidit hanc potentiam, ut suam divinitatem ad omnem conscientiam irrefragabiliter demonstrare possit.

EXCIP. READING: 1. Fides de Divinitate Scripturæ pendens ex authoritate Dei revelantis est articulus fidei non scriptus, quia ex nullo textu Scripturæ probatur. 2. Neque ex ullo Scripturæ textu probari potest, Deum Scripturæ potentiam, Divinitatem suam ad omnem conscientiam demonstrandi, indidisse. Aliàs cur Lutherus Epistolas nonnullas Divinas esse negavit, quas divinas esse Tigurini agnoscunt? Ib. p. 201. Resp. 1. Prodis planè desperatam causam tuam turpiter, ubique & semper extra oleas vagando. statuisti, ut simplicibus glaucoma objiceres Siccine verò etiam Scripturæ Divinitas ex nullo Scripturæ textu probatur? Estne, Redingi, Divinitas Scripturæ toti, singulisque ejus textibus insita, necne? Si insitam negas, nil ab Atheo differs. Si affirmas, quomodo Divinitas Scripturæ ex nullo ejus textu probatur, quæ toti Scripturæ tam insita, tam nativa est, quàm Soli lux, igni calor, aquæ humiditas? 2. Si Scriptura potentiam non habet, Divinitatem suam demonstrandi ad omnem conscientiam, quomodo igitur se potuit demonstrare Ecclesiæ, quam de eadem unicè testari contenditis? Nemo de re sibi non manifestata, demonstrata testari potest. Quicquid Divinum est, tam Divinitatem suam demonstrat, manifestat, quàm ipse Deus. Nisi forte Divinitatem aliquam mortuam, exanimem blasphemè excogitare lubet. Neque hic textu opus est, cùm eo ipso, quòd Divina Scriptura tota agnoscitur, potentia talis ei necessariò tribuenda sit. Quanquam nec Scripturæ textus disertissimi desunt. Ex multis paucos, si dignabere, lege, veluti Deut. XXXII. 27. Esaj. LIII. 1. Matth. XIII. 23. Joh. V. 39 Rom. I. 17. 2. Cor. IV. 2. Ephes. Lutherus è Papatu recens de Epistolis quibusdam dubitavit, (neque enim Spiritus Dei omnibus fidelibus & eadem mensura datur) cùm vos totam Scripturam intolerandum in modum blasphemetis. Re tamen maturiùs expensa dubitare desiit. Sicut autem Sol non ideo potentiam sui manifestandi amittit, quia cœcutientes nonnulli ejus lucem diffusissimam intueri non possunt: ita nec Scriptura, quæ verissima lux & pedum lucerna est, potentiam manifestandi, & Divinitatem suam demonstrandi omnibus, amittit, quia ad eam oculos nonnulli claudunt, vel scotomate percussi alii eam inconniviis oculis intueri nequeunt. quod justo Dei judicio vobis hactenus contigit.

OBIECT. V. Per traditionem continuatam habemus canonem scriptum. Traditio enim causa est, quòd epistola Pauli ad Ephesios, non item ea, quæ circumfertur ad Laodicenses, pro canonica habetur. Resp. 1. Traditio sumitur vel activè pro actione tradentis, vel passivè pro doctrina & quidem ore tantùm tradita. De hac, non illa quæstio est. Canonem autem scriptum ad nos perveniſſe traditione, nempe activè accepta, nulli negamus. Traditio talis non est dogma diversum à scripto canone, sed fidelitas Ecclesiæ, quæ est depositoria & custos canonis. Sic traditio codicis juris non est dogma vel lex in codice non scripta. 2. Quòd epistolam Pauli ad Ephesios, non item eam, quæ circumfertur ad Laodicenses, pro canonica habemus, ἀφορμὴ seu occasio est traditio ecclesiæ: vera & solida causa, explorata ejus divinitas.

EXCIP. REDING. Canonem scriptum esse Divinitus inspiratum, est dogma fidei, quod per solam traditionem activè acceptam fidelitate ecclesiæ propagatam, ad nos derivatum est; & à scripto canone, tanquam principium à principiato, distinguitur. Ib. p. 201. 202. Resp. Cœco Scripturæ odio occœcatus quid scribas, nescis. Etenim Scripturam esse canoni-cam & Divinitus inſpiratam, eſt fidei principium, non dogma, nedum dogma non ſcriptum in fidei illo principio. Tam enim Divinitas Scripturæ, quàm lux Soli, calor igni ingenita eſt. Licet igitur eccleſia Scripturam cuſtodiat, vindicet, tradat, nec Divinitas tamen, vel ejusdem irradiatio & fulgor magis ab Eccleſia eſt, quàm lucis fulgor à φωσφόρῳ lucifero, lampada geſtante & tradente.

OBIECT. VI. Senſus criptura ſpertinet ad fidem. At is habetur non ex Scriptura, cùm ejus litera ſit ambigua, & ex intentione Spiritus S. varios habeat ſenſus, qui à ſola Eccleſia evolvi poſſunt: ſed ex traditione eccleſiaſtica. Reſp. 1. Quid ergo relinquitur Scripturæ? Litera, apex pro arbitrio flexilis & mutabilis. At nobis Scriptura eſt in dogmate, in ſenſu, per quem Scriptura eſt id quod eſt. 2. Nec traditio exegetica ſenſus, quæ in Scriptura fundatur, arguit traditionem didacticam dogmatis non ſcripti. 3. Literæ ambiguitatem tollit intentio dicentis, analogia fidei, ſpiritualis rerum ἀλήκεια, aliáque ſubſidia. 4. Unicus etiam eſt ex conſilio Spiritus S. Scripturæ ſenſus hiſtoricus & grammaticus, ſicut unus ſpiritus eſt: ſed unici illius ſenſus varia eſt utilitas & accommodatio, quæ ejus fœcunditatem & divitias, non ambiguitatem arguit.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si litera & apex Scripturæ pro arbitrio flexilis eſt, quomodo ſupra literam fidum Scripturæ cuſtodem dixiſti? Illa tamen literæ & ſenſus cuſtodia eſt à Divinæ providentia, hujuſque certitudo à traditione Eccleſiæ. 2. Senſui Scripturæ evolvendo inſerviunt linguæ & artes liberales, quæ ad certitudinem fidei ingenerandam dirigi debent ſuperiori & infallibili regula, verbo Dei, traditæ utique, non ſcriptæ. 3. Quin & verbum Scriptum fide recipiendum eſt. Fides autem, utpote verbo ſcripto prior, nonniſi ex verbo tradito gigni poteſt. In S. Scriptura enim eſt materiale, puta characteres & ſigna veritatis ſub ipſis latentis; & formale, veritas ſub ſignis illis contenta, quæ verbo Dei non ſcripto tradita, & in mentibus fidelium propagata, & propaganda, licet characteribus, ceu vaſis & inſtrumentis ejus conſignata nunquam fuiſſet. 4. Et Scriptura & Patres teſtes ſunt obſcuritatis Scripturæ. Quomodo verò obſcura eſt, ſi intentio dicentis, aliáque ejusmodi ambiguitatem tollunt? Neque ulla fidei analogia omnibus ex æquo patens oſtendi poteſt, cùm nullam Dei verbum habeat evidentiam Dei aſſeſtantis, & lateat in ſpeculo ænigmatico. Et numquid non hæretici quoque veteres diacriſin illam ſpiritualem etiam jactarunt? 5. Si unus eſt Scripturæ ſenſus, cur verba illa Pſal. II. 7. Ego hodie genui te; Paulus Act. XIII. 33 explicat de Chriſti reſurrectione, quæ Matth. XIX. 28. dicitur regeneratio: Auguſtinus verò Expoſit. in eundem Pſal. de æterna Chriſti regeneratione, nativitate temporali & incarnatione. Ib. p. 202. 203. Reſp. 1. Nugas denuo tuas audaciſſimas, proterve & jurate Scripturæ hoſtis, non ſolidi quicquam reponis. Etenim 1. non Scripturæ, ſed verbi Divini fidum cuſtodem dixi literam, eámque non mortuam, ſed ſignificantem, adeóque cum ſenſu conjunctam. Jamque etiam non Scripturam duntaxat & fidem univerſam, ſed Providentiam etiam Dei traditioni tuæ ſubjicere audes? Scilicet nec Deus erit, nec proſpectabit de Cœlo, niſi Papa tuus tradiderit! 2. Linguæ & artes ancillantur verbo ſcripto, quia eorum opera verba intelliguntur, res illuſtrantur, ſine reſpectu ad traditionem ceu infallibilem regulam. Nam ברא v. g. ſignificat creavit, ſive id eccleſia tua, Papa tuus tradat, ſive non tradat. Et in verbis: Herodes eſt vulpes, tacente traditione, tropum eſſe nôrunt omnes. Ubi enim traditio linguarum & artium in Scriptura explicanda uſum definivit, determinavit, dijudicavit? Regula longè certior eſt tum ipſa Scriptura, & in ea dicentis ſcopus, dictorum ſeries, analogia fidei; tum ſanæ rationis & orationis, qua linguæ & artes diriguntur, ſobrius uſus. 3. Fidem verbo ſcripto, poſt Scripturam ſcilicet exaratam, priorem eſſe, adeóque ex verbo tradito, & ante Scripturam cognito, gigni, temerè pariter ac impiè aſſeris; ac ne probare quidem ulla ratione conaris. Eſt equidem fides ex auditu, auditus ex præconio, ſed præconio ſcilicet Evangelii, nec Evangelii cujusvis, ſed illius, quod ſcriptum eſt. Omnis enim revelatio poſt obſignatum canonem in Scriptura, non alibi uſpiam, occurrit. Neque Evangelium, ex quo prædicato, ceu immortali ſemine, fides naſcitur, in Scriptura non contineri, tam impudens es, ut negare auſis. Quomodo enim aliâs Scriptura ad ſalutem ſapientem, quomodo perfectum, & ad omne opus bonum conſummatum reddere poteſt? Et ſi formale, hoc eſt veritas Evangelii, ſub materiali, hoc eſt, ſignis & characteribus Scripturæ, uti fateris, adeóque nucleus ſub cortice continetur, annon igitur, vel te, mendaciorum tuorum immemore, judice totum Dei verbum in Scriptura continetur? Quæ aliâs portentoſa foret infania, ex Scripturæ materiali, hoc eſt, characteribus & ſignis, nec non formali, hoc eſt, verbo ſub iis contento, duplex verbum, ſcriptum & traditum cudere? Ita in qualibet Scriptura duplex erit verbum, Scriptum, hoc eſt, characteres, ſigna; & traditum, hoc eſt, veritas ſeu res characteribus illis comprehenſa; & quidem, uti Tridentini tui ſciſcunt, (à quibus tu tamen revera deſciſcis) pari pietatis affectu ac reverentia ſuſcipiendum utrumque; hoc eſt, te ita decernente, & characteres ac ſigna, & res ſub iis contenta. Ita cùm te ſapientem putes, planè ἰμωρὸν ſtultus factus es. 4. Si Evangelium tibi obſcurum, occultatum eſt, ex pereuntium, quorum Deus hujus Seculi mentes occœcavit, numero te eſſe, ipſe tibi S. Paulus 2 Cor. IV. 3. teſtabitur. Revera manifeſtatione veritatis ſe ad omnem conſcientiam commendat, uti ibidem v. 2. dicitur: adeóque eſt lucerna ſplendens in occulto loco, 2. Pet. I 19. Sed claritas ea eſt τῶν τῆς καρδίας ὀφθαλμῶν, & ſpirituales oculos, veram & vivam fidem, nec non ſubordinata media requirit. Neque ei obſtat, quòd hic per ſpeculum & in ænigmate videmus. Hoc enim non de iis, quæ revelata ad neceſſariam fidem & ſalutem ſunt, ſed de iis, quæ viſioni reſervantur, intelligi, manifeſtum eſt. Et quicquid jactaverint olim hæretici, ſibi ſpiritualem ἀξίωσιν arrogantes, id omne nihil iis, qui verè & legitimè judicant, derogat. Neque enim ſi improbus rabula legem detorquet, uti vos Divinam ſoletis, id probo juſtóque judici præjudicat quicquam. 5. Verborum Dei Patris de filio, Hodie genui Te, Pſal. II. 7. unus idémque ſenſus eſt, Filium Dei ab æterno ex ſubſtantia Dei Patris genitum, ἴδιον proprium & naturalem Dei Filium eſſe. Cùm verò id maximè in ejus vocatione ad Sacerdotium, & reſurrectione ex mortuis innotuerit, ideo etiam tum impleta hæc eſſe, Scriptura teſtatur. non quaſi tum genitus ſit, ſed quia ab æterno eum à Deo Patre genitum, adeóque verum ejus filium eſſe, ea ratione ἀφορισθὲν definitum, demonſtratum, manifeſtatum potenter eſt. Quid interim tibi æterna Filii regeneratio velit, neſcio. Verba certè meram hæreſin ſapiunt.

OBIECT. VII. Hæretici redargui poſſunt non ex Scriptura, quia eam ipſi etiam jactant, ſed ex ſola traditione eccleſiaſtica. Reſp. 1. Hæretici Scripturam, quam pervertunt & detorquent rabularum inſtar, jactant quidem, ſed ex ea ſenſum ſuum non demonſtrant. 2. Traditione exegetica ſenſus in Scriptura fundati rectè hæretici confutantur. Verùm ea non arguit traditionem didacticam novi dogmatis non ſcripti.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Propterea hæretici, rabularum inſtar, Scripturam torquent, quia traditionem Scripturæ priorem non recipiunt. 2. Exegeticam ſenſus in S. Scripturâ fundati traditionem fidei regulam eſſe, ex qua hæretici rectè confutentur, proba in Scripturâ ipſa contineri. Veritas ea non ex Scripturâ, ſed ex traditione arceſſenda eſt. Ib. pag. 203. 204. Reſp. 1. An ergo Judæi deuterotæ, & Pontificii paria facientes, Scripturam non torquent, quia utrique traditionis Scripturæ prioris ſcutum prætendere ſolent? Scilicet verbum Dei Scripturâ traditum torqueri facilè, at ore pronuntiatum, quod auditores varios habet, & citò evaneſcit, niſi in cor fidele inciderit, torqueri non poteſt? 2. Exegetica ſenſus in Scriptura fundati traditio, non aliud eſt, quàm Scriptura ipſa, ex Scriptura ſcilicet explicata. Si Redingium audimus, ea ex traditione non ſcripta arceſſi debet, & dogma non ſcriptum eſt. Nugatur pro more.

OBIECT. VIII. Ex ſola Scriptura ſufficienter determinari non poteſt, qui ſint articuli omnibus & ſingulis neceſſarii. Ergo ad id opus eſt eccleſiaſtica traditione. Reſp. 1. Si eccleſiaſtica traditio eos determinat, utique non vagatur extra Scripturam, ſed eos in ipſis ſcripturis indicat. Quid hoc ad traditionem dogmatis non ſcripti? 2. Scriptura quidem quæ neceſſaria ſunt, non apertè neceſſaria vocat. Docet tamen, quænam ſit certa credendi ac agendi regula, quódnam fundamentum illud, ad quod omnia velut centrum ſuum referenda. Docet etiam, quæ vera prudentia & ſapientia noſtra, quæ vita & benedictio, quod fœdus & teſtamentum ſalvificum Dei, quod myſterium pietatis ſit. Hæc ſufficiunt abundé.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Veritas, qua apertè enuntiatur, qui articuli omnibus & ſingulis neceſſarii ſint, eſt de fide. At illa non eſt ſcripta. Ergo dogma non ſcriptum. 2. Tibi fidei regula eſt propriæ conſcientiæ inſtinctus. Ubi hoc ſcriptum eſt? 3. Fundamentum fidei, ſi potes, ediſſere. Ib. p. 204. Reſp. 1. Quomodo verò tu ex traditione extra Scripturam vagante veritatem eam docebis? Experire, ut videamus. Scriptura in regula & fundamento fidei implicitè neceſſaria omnia oſtendit; & notas tradit, ex quibus neceſſaria explicitè cognoſci poſſunt, ut alibi fuſiùs oſtendi. 2. Propriam conſcientiam fidei regulam eſſe, nuſpiam dixi. Sola revelatio Scripturis contenta fidei regula eſt. Illam verò ſe commendare omni conſcientiæ, neque adeò alieno ſenſui, veluti Papæ, Cardinalium &c. ſed proprio recipi cum πληροφορίᾳ ad ſalutem, S. Paulus Rom. XIV. 5. 2. Cor. IV. 2. teſtatur. Neque adeò propriæ conſcientiæ perſuaſio verbo Dei, ſed carbonariæ fidei veſtræ opponitur. 3. Fundamentum ergo fidei nunquam tu, Redingi, in Scripturis legiſti? Nunquam loco diſertiſſimo Eſaj. XXVIII. 16. 1 Cor. III. 11. Epheſ. II. 20. ne innumera alia ſignificem, evolviſti? Cujusmodi igitur eſt, quod traditio tua non ſcripta propinat, fundamentum fidei? Næ prodis quidvis aſſerendi libidinem, & inſcitiam Chriſtiano homine indignam!

OBIECT. IX. Ea dogmata, quæ λεγόμενα non continentur in Scriptura, ſed per conſequentiam ſolam ex ea deducuntur, non ex Scriptura utique, ſed ſola traditione eccleſiaſtica ſtica cognoſcuntur. Nam dogma per conſequentiam ex Scriptura eductum, non eſt ipſa Scriptura, quia in omni Syllogiſtica conſequentia id, quod concluditur, eſt ἕτερόν τι ἀπὸ τῶν προκειμένων, diverſum quid à poſitis. Accedit, quòd in tali conſequentia ſemper una præmiſſa eſt Scriptura, altera rationis, qua proinde ante traditionem eccleſiæ pro revelata haberi non poteſt. Reſp. 1. Dogma ex Scriptura per conſequentiam elicitum eſt ipſa Scriptura, teſte Chriſto Matth. XXII. 29. ubi Judæos ignorantes dogma reſurrectionis per conſequentiam eruendum, arguit tanquam ignorantes Scripturas. 2. Concluſio licèt aliud ſit à poſitis, continetur tamen in virtute & valore poſitorum, ſicut definitio continetur in poteſtate & virtute definiti. Neque aliud hîc diſcrimen, quàm quòd intellectus humanus tardior non ſtatim apprehendit, quod in valore verbi ſcripti continetur. Unde quod noſter intellectus diſtinguit ut diverſum, divinus intellectus apprehendit ut idem. 3. Concluſio ejuſmodi quamvis ſequatur ex una præmiſſa rationis, tamen eam ante eccleſiaſticam traditionem fides apprehendere poteſt, quippe quæ ejuſmodi λογισμὸν & ζήτησιν non excludit. Imò præmiſſa rationis in ejuſmodi ſyllogiſmo nihil eſt aliud, quàm evolutio & declaratio termini ſcripti, ac proinde in tali deductione concluſionis totalis cauſa eſt Scriptura.

Excip. Reding: Concluſio non tantùm, quatenus virtualiter & implicitè in præmiſſis continetur, ſed etiam quatenus explicitè ponitur, eſt de fide. Neque tamen ut talis ſcripta eſt, ſed principio traditionis ex ore Chriſti vel Apoſtolorum dimanantis, vel Conciliaris Eccleſiæ definitionis niititur. Ib. pag. 204. 205. Reſp. Perfunctoriè ſatis reſpondes, accuratiùs, etſi non ſolidiùs, Walenburgii, cæteríque Methodiſtæ veſtri. Neque ſcio, an gregales tui conceſſuri ſint, vel Tridentini etiam ſtatuerint, traditiones, quas Romana Eccleſia venditat, nil aliud eſſe quàm concluſiones explicatas, in verbo ſcripto, ceu præmiſſa, implicitè & virtualiter comprehenſas. Quomodo ſic verbum ſcriptum & traditum ſub eodem genere oppoſitæ ſpecies cenſebuntur? Quòd ſi concluſiones ex Scripturis legitimè deductæ, adeóque ſic explicatæ, traditionum nomine veſtire vobis libet, lis jam non de re, ſed de ſolo nomine erit. Sed veſtrarum tum partium erit, non jactare tantùm, ſed ſolidè demonſtrare, traditiones veſtras dogmaticas, de quibus contendimus, & quas Scripturis contrariari pertendimus, ex verbo ſcripto per legitimam conſequentiam deductis eſſe, & in ejusdem verbi ſcripti poteſtate, virtute & valore contineri. Hic rhodus. hic ſalta.

gnavit, Mal. IV. 4. Unde post Malachiam Prophetam nullum fuisse, fatentur Genebrardus & Sixtus Senensis.

Resp. Reding: 1. Sicsibi libri Prophetici V. T. canonici sunt, legales, historici, moralis canonici quoque non erunt. In sensu vero latiori etiam Machabæorum libros Egesippus Prophetice vocavit. 2. Malachiæ legem Mosis commendans, nunquid proponere canonem V. T. visus? Atqui etiam post à Machabæis instituum est festum Encæniorum, ab ipso Christo Joh. X. 22. celebratum: & Baruch Hebr. XI. 35. diserte gloriosum martyrum super legem Machabæorum dicitum invenio. lib. 2. cod. 207. Resp. 2. Prophetes liber est, vel qui prophetias, seu vaticinia rerum futurarum multis fari parte concipitur: vel qui nihil non Divinitus inspirationem comprehendit: vel qui aliquid à Spiritu Dei inspiratum continet. Primo sensu prophetici sunt, qui vere ipsum Prophetæ nuncupantur: secundo sensu reliqui V. T. libri quoque pro canonicis agnoscuntur, omnes tertio, qui aliquid Divinitus revelatum continent. Atque tertio hoc sensu Propheticos dixerit Egesippus libros Machabæorum: dicimus & nos. An propterea canonici sint? Scilicet, si canonici sint libri omnes biblicum, qui in rebus fidei Divinitus aliquid cognoscunt. Prophetæ igitur in hac acceptione ens mutuo amplectuntur, quorum in Machabæis vitas in universum indubitata & secundum eli. quales controversi non sunt. 2. Malachias cap. IV. 4. legis Mosaicæ observantiam, ejusque commendationem seriam cum promissione Eliæ, seu Johannis Baptistæ connectens, manifeste V. T. canonem assumit. Atque id ipsum quoque S. Theodoretus agnovit, in argumento ejus Prophetiæ scribens, Moyses primum Divina reformia nobis perfectissima reliquit, Malachias post omnes (adeoque posteriorem Divinæ oraculæ scripsit) monuit. 3. Festum Encæniorum non Divinitus institutum, nec ab authore sermonis describitur, nec à Christo, ex Divinitus institutum, celebratum eli. Johannes enim cap. X. 22. Encæniorum equidem, ceu circumstante tempora, quo Christus cum Judæis de pastore, seu sermocinatur eli, non quo ex Divinitus Divinitus, vel à Christo celebrari, meminit. Et si Machabæorum liber propterea, quia Martyrum fœtem fractum, à S. Paulo etiam insinuatum, memorat, canonicus est; quot Martyrologia, quot authores à S. Scriptoribus citati canonici erunt? Quid argumenta Redingiana fusius?

ARG. II. Libri canonici V. T. ecclesiæ Judaicæ traditi sunt, Rom. III. 2. At libri hi traditi ei non sunt, tum quia nec veteres, nec recentiores Judæi in catalogo suo eos recensent: tum quia canon V. T. confectus eli ab Esra, cujus tempore Apocryphi non extiterunt: tum quia veteres, Hieronymus in prologo Galeato, Epiphanius in hæresi Epicureorum, Melitus, quin & ipse Sixtus Senensis, canonem Judaicum recitantes, librorum Apocryphorum non meminerunt: tum quia Hebraicè non sunt scripti: tum denique quia, nec à Christo, nec ab Apostolis sunt agniti.

Resp. Reding: 1. Ne Judæa credita sunt oracula Dei, ac tamen plurima ipsi, ceu latercula fide volumine quidem, non autem interpretum Scripta dumtaxat Christiana oracula. Deinde Ecclesia Africana non non excludebat testimonia, sed traditiones Ecclesiasticas. Tertullianus probatissimus ecclesiasticus Ecclesiæ non obstat. Neque enim ex definitum est, an alii scriptores ideirum canonem recipiantur. Quale enim, si post confectum illum Catalogum reperiuntur, Sapientiam, Ecclesiasticum, Tobiæ, Judithæ, Baruch, Epistolam Jeremiæ, Maccabæorum libros duos priores, additis quibusdam Græcis Danielis & Esther capitibus, quæ in Hebræo non leguntur, Canonicos esse, & pro Divinis habendos, ac Scripturam Sacram esse, quæ in Ecclesia Catholica pro Divina habita fuit, & in Veteri Latina, & in Vulgata Editione habetur, cum omnibus suis partibus, prout in Decreto pro Jacobitis recitantur, & in Concilio Florentino, & Tridentino definita sunt.

Quod autem Concilium Florentinum, quod Eugenii IV. fuit, Librum Esdræ, qui Græcis Esdras primus, Latinis tertius dicitur, pro Canonico habuerit, ex Gratiano Dist. 16. c. 5. Sancta Romana, ubi Decretum Eugenii IV. ad Armenos refertur, manifestum est. Ibi enim inter Canonicos Scripturas Esdras primus, qui & tertius dicitur, recensetur. Quod & Concilium Florentinum Sessione 11. Bullæ Unionis Græcorum, ubi Canonicæ Scripturæ recensentur, fecisse videtur. Quod autem Concilium Tridentinum Sessione 4. Decreto de Canonicis Scripturis, Librum Esdræ primum & secundum, qui Græcis primus & secundus, Latinis vero primus & tertius dicitur, pro Canonicis habuerit, ex Catalogo Librorum Canonicorum, qui in Decreto recitantur, manifestum est. Ibi enim Esdras primus & secundus, qui & primus & tertius dicitur, inter Canonicos recensetur. Quod & Concilium Tridentinum fecisse videtur, cum Sessione 4. Decreto de Editione Vulgata, quæ in Ecclesia pro Authentica habenda est, Librum Esdræ primum & secundum, qui & primus & tertius dicitur, pro Canonico habuerit Eſther ab editione vulgatâ corruptum plurimis additionibus, idem aſſerit: erat autem editio illa Græca. De additamentis Danielis idem: Apud Hebræos nec Suſannæ habet hiſtoriam, nec hymnum trium puerorum, nec Belis Draconiſque fabulas. Sed & Tobiam & Judith non Hebraicè, ſed Chaldaicè Scriptos, & à ſe translatos teſtis, idem eſt. Et tamen pridem textus ille Chaldaicus, quod Canonicorum librorum originali textui, quem Deus ad aſtruendam ex eodem fidem ſuæ providentiæ conſervat, non acciđit, periit. Eccleſiaſticum & primum Machabæorum ſe Hebraicè vidiſſe, non tamen tranſtuliſſe, idem teſtatur. Proinde id duntaxat, quod Græcè ſcriptum erat, habemus. En plerosque ſcriptos Græcè, nonnullos Chaldaicè, Hebraicè paucos, eósque amiſſos. Canonicum autem Veteris Teſtamenti textum, populo Judaico fideli traditum, populi ejuſdem lingua vernacula ſcribi, atque illibatum integrúmque in Eccleſia Dei perdurare oportuit. 4. Siccine verò Chriſtum & Apoſtolos Moſis & Prophetarum libros pro Canonicis agnoviſſe, non ex ipſa Scriptura, ſed ex ſola traditione conſtare? Qui ergo libri ſunt Moſis, Prophetarum, Pſalmorum, qui à Chriſto teſtes de ſe, & impleti implendíque Luc. XXIV. 44. inducuntur? Aliine, quàm ii, quos Deus populo fideli Judaico tradidit, quósque ille pro Canonicis & merè Divinis agnovit? Et quam mihi, Redingi, traditionem monſtrabis, ex qua, Chriſtum & Apoſtolos libros controverſos in Canonicorum cenſu habuiſſe, conſtet? Niſi forte traditio talis eſt vox & decretum Tridentinorum aliquot Patrum, vel potiùs Papæ Pauli III. definientis id, quod nec Chriſtus, nec Apoſtoli, nec vetus ſaniórque Eccleſia unquam docuit, definivítque.

ARG. III. Neque eccleſia Chriſtiana vetus ſive Græca ſive Latina pro canonicis eos unquam habuit, quin potiùs ſub apocryphorum nomine eos depreſſit. Judaicum canonem, cujus pars nulla ſunt hi apocryphi, laudant Clemens, Melito Sardicenſis, Athanaſius, Hieronymus, ipſum Concilium Laodicenum.

RESP. REDING: 1. Ita Clemens, Athanaſius, aliique Patres Canonem Judaicum laudarunt, ut controverſos ex Canone non excluſerint. Quinimò pro iis, ceu Canonicis, aperta teſtimonia iidem tulerunt. 2. Neque Patrum pro ſingulis libris controverſis diſerta teſtimonia deſunt. Ib. pag. 210—215. Reſp. 1. Clemens, Athanaſius, Hieronymus, ipſúmque Laodicenum Concilium, Canonem librorum κατ' ἐξοχὴν Canonicorum recenſentes, non Judaicum Canonem, ſed libros Canonicos utriuſque fœderis Chriſtianis legendos ſe recenſere teſtantur. Si præter eos, quos Judæi fideles pro verè Canonicis habuerunt, alios à Judæis non agnitos Canonicos illi cenſuiſſent, utique Canonem à Chriſtianis legendum recenſentes, illos neutiquam omiſiſſent. Ita Clemens Rom. *Conſtit. lib. Athanaſius in Synopſi, κανὼν, inquit, γραφὴ ἡμῶν γνησιωτάτη ἐστὶν. οὐκ ἀόριστα δὲ, ἀλλὰ κεῖται ὡρισμένα καὶ κεκανονισμένα ἐκ τοῦ βιβλίου. Univerſa Scriptura noſtra Chriſtianorum Divinitus eſt inſpirata: neque infinita, ſed determinata, & in Canonem redacta habet volumina. Deinceps Veteris & Novi Testamenti libros finiliter atque nos, enumerat. Eundem plane Catalogum Hieronymus Epistola ad Paulinum recensens, scribit, illa (quæ in nos Ecclesia, ac pleni, nec paucioris ampleditur) esse Novi ac Veteris Testamenti volumina, quæ secundum Magistrum traditionem per ipsum Spiritum S. inspirata erudiuntur, & Ecclesiæ Christi tradita. Sed & Laodicenum Concilium Can. 59. &c. negans apocryphos libros qui sunt extra Canonem, legere, nisi soli libri Canonici Veteris & Novi Testamenti, ibidem Canonice codices, quos & nos agnoscimus, juxta Dionysii Exigui verfionem, nec plures nec pauciores, enumerat. Athanasius in Synopſi: *Των δε τουτων και ταυτα μονα βιβλια τα μακαρια Δικαιοσυνη ο ανθρωπος ου χωρις νεκρομαντειας ζητει. Extra hos (Canonicos V. T.) duo tantùm libri volumine V. In ipſi enim qui ex à Canone libri diferris verbis removeri, hoc fubinde modo eos citant. Nec qui liber ita citatur, propterea Ecclesiæ cui inſeratur per omnia à Spiritu S. in Canonem perpetuum fidei & morum traditus agnoſcitur. Aliud nempe eſt Scripturæ, liber sacer, aliud Scripsura liber sacer ſeu ita talis. Aliud nempe eſt Scripturæ, liber sacer, aliud Scripsura liber sacer ſeu ita talis. Aliud liber Canonicus quoad Canonem lectionis, aliud quoad fidem & mores: aliud Propheticus ob narrata in eodem vaticinia nonnulla, aliud ob indubitatam authoritatem & Divinam inſpirationem in omnibus: aliud Divinus, in nonnullis, aliud in omnibus. Hoc, non ſtud illum proprie Canonicum, de quo non controvertimus, arguit. Sacros autem, Divinos, Canonicos, prophetico eo quo diximus ſenſu, nuncupari oppoſitè ad aperte prophanos. quo ſenſu eſt inquit Eusebius ſubinde etiam veteres ſcripta Patrum, Pontificum & Conciliorum, attribuerunt. ARG. VI.

ARG. VI. Concilio Tridentino non fuit fas annumerare canonicis, quos ecclesia pro canonicis nunquam habuit. Vel enim hoc fuit authoritatis illius Concilii, vel fidelitatis. Non prius, quia non majori authoritate pollebat quam veteres. Non posteriùs quia Ecclesia Tridenti collecta non fuit fidelior Ecclesia veteri. Neque ecclesia posteriorum temporum peior & corruptior, testis fieri potuit canonicæ librorum authoritatis, quorum testis fieri non potuit ecclesia prior & purior, & documentis argumentisque abundantior.

Resp. Regine: 1. Isti libri illi antiquitus pro Canonicis habiti sunt. 2. Pro libris istis recurrentes, tanquam Divinis, Orthodoxi Patres ex traditione ab Apostolis accepta jugiter testimonia tulerunt. Illatorum testatio tribus modis tuebat, donec per authoritatem Concilierum Nicæni, Carthaginensis, Florentini, Tridentini definitionem supra Ecclesia catholicum pronunciat. Ib. pag. 314, 315. Resp. 3. Quemodo antiquitas Concilii Oecumenicis prior pro Canonicis libros eos habuit, quorum Divinitatem sub modo tum latuit, fidelis? 4. Quid vero hic traditionem Apostolicam memoras, & quidem simul sub modo id Concilia atque latentem, simul ab Orthodoxis Patribus jugiter tentatam? Næ ita simul sordebque. Mirum sanè, Apostolos sub N. T. alium Canonem V. T. tradidisse, quam fuit unquam ibi Ecclesiæ traditus; & tradidisse id, quia in scriptis eorum nusquam vel vestigium exstat, quidque traditum ab ea esse, nemo etiam S. Patrum prodidit. Quòd si talis traditio in Ecclesia reperta fuisset, ut Apostolica, tot Patres in exponendo V. T. Canone Hebræos traditioni huic adversantes, excusari non essent, quod tamen fecisse eos Bellarminus ipse fatetur passim. 3. Nec Nicænum, nec Carthaginense, nec Florentinum Concilium traditionem illam sub modo latentem, supra catholicam Ecclesiæ fidem erexit. ARG. VII. In opio Concilio divortium fuit de iis libris quatuor sententiarum ut videre est apud Historicum lib. II. Aloysius Catanæus contendebat, duplicem librorum fetem fieri oportere, ita ut in una collectione foli fine controversia canonici, in altera reliqui, citans pro se Augustinum, Gregorium, Hieronymum, Cajetanum. Hic fanè cum fuis in Concilio affectis noster fuit. Qui triplicem feri feriem expetierunt, non minus noftrarum partium fuerunt. Pallavicinus tuus nec negat, nec affirmanti dicam mendacii ullam impingit; imò narratione ſua Suavis narrationem confirmat. Narrat enim, *Hiſtor. C. T. lib. Neque obſtat, quòd aliter animatos fuiſſe Patres, Pallavicinus innuit. Theologorum porro erat rem ſibi compertam una cum aliis definire, non indoctorum Epiſcoporum lubricæ definitioni ſubjicere.

ARG. VIII. Denique non deſunt inter Pontificios, nominatim Montanus, Sixtus Senenſis, & alii, qui decretum hoc Concilii controverſum faciant, negéntque eo ſenſu accipiendum, quò vulgò accipitur.

RESP. REDING: *Montanus in Tridentina Synodo novum librorum illorum examen inſtituendum eſſe, apertè negavit. Augustinus quæst. in Num. 20. monet. Divina authoritas inde veluratis, quod verum invenerit, testimonium habere; sed non inde, quia ab scriptus fuit, recipienda confirmat. Sed & diffar ratio est eorum, qui lumen naturale excelentia ex authore originem citantur, & apud eundem authorem, falsem quoad testimonii sensum, primò & originaliter relata fuit. Nil tale ex libris controversis à Scripturibus Canonicis citantem reperias. Nam narratæ quidem de Martyrum fidei constantia multa lumen excedens non est: & quæ de Christo Deifilio, nec non conflio Dei imperiscruthili citata sunt, nec scriptori eos libros in veré Canonicis libris testimonium classimum habent. Accedit, quod in locis, quibus controversios citari affirmat, Apostoli nullo signo fe citare aliquid indicant, quod alias sæpius factum; fed simpliciter sua verba uno contextu continuant: quodque ii maximè citantes Apostoli, facile eviteri possit, ex Canonicis potius quàm controversis citata effe. ut. ex. Matth. XXVII. 9. cum Zach. XI. 12. Rom. XI. 34. cum Esa. XL. 34. Jac. I. 10. IV. 14. 1. Pet. I. 24. cum Esa. XL. 6. nec non Hebr. XI. 5. cum Genes. V. 24. contendenti liquet. Neque etiam vox illa innumerabilium nubium Hebr. XII. 22. in Machabæorum libro ufpiam occurrit. 2. Quid vero Patres omnes obducis, ubi de scriptoribus Canonicis temno eft? Et tamen Patres fuit controversior, ita alios frequenter citant, quos ipsi vos pro Canonicis non habetis, quin & iidem libros hos magnifice citant, quos alibi extra Canonicorum censum referunt, quod fusiùs alibi edifferuimus.

OBIECT. III. Vetus ecclesia Christiana pro canonicis habuit, nominatim Canon 47. Synodi Carthaginensis III. confirmatæ in sexto Concilio Generali; Innocentius I. Gelasius, Augustinus, qui libros hos diserte Divinos & canonicos nuncupârunt; Hieronymus num Concilium circ. Resp. 1. Patres Carthaginenses non habuisse suum catalogum continuata traditione ab Apostolis, patet vel inde, quòd in Concilii Laodicensi antiquioris catalogo libri hi controversi non extant. 2. Canon allegatus est πρόσφατον, quia Bonifacii Papæ meminit, qui eo tempore Papa nondum fuit. Unde Surius Carthaginus canonem hunc non Synodo Carthaginensi tertiæ, sed septimæ vindicat. 3. Sed & canon ille, alique Patres nonnulli libros illos controversos ponunt in canone, non propriè, verùm æquivocè sic dicto, non fidei, sed ecclesiæ ecclesiasticæ, qui ex usu & instituto ecclesiæ præter libros irrefragabiliter divinos admisit etiam non divinos, humanâ authoritate, propter nonnullam eorum utilitatem, & quia Judæi Hellenistæ, quamvis reniterentibus Hebraizantibus, qui Hieronymus refidebant, nonnihil iis detulerant, conferatos. Argumento est, quòd Hieronymi canonem, à quo apocrypha exclusi sunt, frequentibus temporibus, quotes accurate locuti sunt, admiserunt Gregorius Romanus, transcriptores & promulgatores Bibliorum omnium per Occidentales Ecclesias, quibus præfixus Prologus Galeatus, Glossæ Ordinariæ & Decreta, Damasceni, Hilarius Arelatensis, Mallinesius, Radulphus, Lyranus, Sariberiensis, Archiepiscopus, Cardinalis Ximenius, aliique plurimi. Eandem distinctionem in Concilio urbi Aloysius Catanæus. 4. Florentinum Concilium in sed. vel. ὑστέρῳ habemus. Quamvis parum etiam illud adversariis faveat. Nihil enim de eo inveniur in actis editis à Crabbio, Surio, Nicolino, Joverio. Et post illud Antonius Florentinus Archiepiscopus, qui Concilio interfuit, apocrypha pertinere ad canonem negavit. Fuit igitur non Concilii conflatrio, sed Papæ Eugenii IV. peculiaris poft finitum Concilium ad Armenos inftitutio.

Excip. Redivi: 1. Synodus Laodicensis illos damnavit libros, de quibus nulla in Ecclesia dubitatio fuit, in Concilio verò Carthaginensis dubitat, ve penitùs disputâ, istum addidit. Nec propterea Canon ille fpurius est, quia Synodi nomen non habet in quo reperitur Synodorum Carthaginensium Canones enumerantur. 2. Quo Hieronymi Canonem referens, ostendimus eundem probasse. Aliud enim est referre Canonem ante Concilium Carthaginense scriptum, aliud eundem probare. Ex plurimis stat etiam Carthaginenses Canones ignorasse. 3. Florentini de Canonicis libris decreti auctoritatem in ipsa Tridentina Synodo exhibitam est, illorumque, Synodum tam diversis in A. 1442. usque. In 17. 118.

Resp. 1. Regnare de authoritate controversiarum inde ab eorum origine ad Carthaginense Concilium usque à fidelibus ipsis, quia & eos Concilii Laodicensi patribus sanctissimis, dubitarunt. Unde igitur Carthaginenses authoritatis indubiæ documenta mutuati sunt? Nam Apostolicæ traditionis conjicere lectorem nec vola nec vestigium ipsum apparet. Neque etiam eam quæstionem in Concilio hoc ventilatam, & dubitationem dissultam idoneis argumentis liquet. Si tamen ventilata est, cur majus pondus definitio habet in hoc Canone, quàm quod habet in Canone XXVI. ubi primus Sedis Episcopus primoris Sacerdotum appellari vetatur. Ob quam solam causam Baronius ad A. 692. Synodum eam à Spirito S. congregatam esse, fortiter negat. Ne dicam, Concilii huius authoritatem, quidem in eo de Canone proprio dicho tenuo esse, atque probari, tum tertium de quartum Ecthæ Canonicos esse, qui Ecthesis nomine non distinctis libris, quatuor Regum libri eo tempore intelligebantur, tum Machabæos Canonicos non esse, quia in nullo Græco codice vel impresso, vel manuscripto (Originalis vero Latina editio perit) reperiantur. Et satis de ecthesi Canonis illius constat, si eo plurium Canonicorum Catalogos congmentantur. Nam vos non quodvis Carthaginense, sed tertium in causa fubdilium advocatis. Cui vero filentio. Reding!, præterea id, in quo rei ars ita est, nimium Carthaginenfes Canonem Ecclesiæ Ecclesiasticæ, non Sedis definivisse? Sedem hic illa quæ habuit. Sanè etiam Arifteus vetus interpres Canonis obfervavit, libros à Carthaginenfibus in Canonem receptos nec ἐκκλησιαστικὰ ἔ ἀνάβλα βιβλία sacris scripturis imponitus libris opponi. 2. Hieronymus ipfe non tantum Canonem iuum retudit, sed probavit etiam. Nam in epistola ad Paulinum, poft recenfitos eos libros, fubjicit: Omnes, quæ charifsime, inter hos viuere, sibi meminerit, ET HIL ALIUD vitæ, ET HIL quæ ver ad veram religionem pertinet, sed ἐκκλησιαστικὰ Paulinum à me libros monuis idem tex tatur, libros quos Apocryphos non vocamus, legi abecclesia, fed non recipi inter Canonicos. Et valere eofdem ad dogmatum ecclesiafticorum confirmationem, negat. Eodem modo, quotquot Canonem ab Hieronymo narratum probabilemque recepernnt, quin & Bibilia fuis pro galea præfixerunt, animatos fuisse in veraculo scripto abunde probatum dedi. 3. Quo porro jure Eugenii Papæ Inftructionem, quam & ipsam, quatenus Jacobitas ipectat, & Caralogum librorum Canonicorum remoto fpatium, & fraude Caranzæ in Tridentini Concilii gratiam fuppofitam efle, eodem fcripto evincendo pag. 247. irrefragabiliter demonstravi, pro Concilii Tridentini decreto venditet, videris ipse. Neque ego Bullam Eugenii in Concilio Tridentino à Cardinalibus Monachos S. Crucis productam effe, ignoravi. Sed ab Episcopis Cicolenfi & Caffanenfi illa eandem ἀσφάλειαν validiffimis argumentis poftulatam effe, æquè mihi conftat. Ita ex meris fraudibus Papatus veller conftare eft.

OBIECT. IV. Libri apocryphi continuantur ecclesiæ historiam, qua aliàs inde à tempore MALACHIÆ interrupta. Ergo & Canone ecclesiæ non sunt. Resp. 1. Libri Tobiæ & Judith, nec non fragmenta de Sufanna, Bel & Draconem multis non immeritò videntur dramatici potiùs, quàm historici, quia apud tempora rum ftorum fcriptores, præfertim Jofephum, earum, quæ in iis narrantur, rerum nulla fit mentio. 2. Machabæorum libri aliquid conferunt, fed quod ex aliis hiftoricis planius haberi poteft. Non dicam, primum eorum librum, qui Hieronymo Pastor vocatur, Xeν πατὴρ ἐ ἔφ ἑαυτῷ quafi ἀστὸ ita dictum, quia de tyrannide Ptolomæi Philopatoris infignem hiftoriam, longe præterendam fecundi Machabæorum compendiis, inchoat, vulgò ortiatti. 3. Neque etiam libri continuantes hiftoriam facram, hoc nomine pro canonicis habendi: Aliàs etiam Eufebius, aliique hiftoriam N. Teft. continuantes, in canonis canonicorum vocari elaborarent.

QUÆSTIO III.

An vulgata versio Latina in publicis lectionibus, disputationibus, prædicationibus & expositionibus pro authentica haberi debeat, ita ut nemo illam rejicere quovis prætextu audeat?

AFfirmat decretum de editione & usu Sacrorum Librorum. Addit declaratio Cardinalium ad commendationem illius decreti: Etiam dicentum est, quòd ne vel periculo, vel una clausula, vel dictio una sub-lata, istaque unum repugnat in vetere vulgata Lingua Latina editione. Nota, etsi vulgatam editionem suo in pretio habemus, tamen authenticam esse negamus. Etenim

ARG. 1. Editio authentica proficisci debet ab authore θεοπνεύστῳ, quia nemo purus homo adornare poteft ejusmodi editionem, quæ ne uno quidem apice deflectat à mente Spiritus Sancti, adeóque sit verè authentica. Atqui vulgata editio ab authore θεοπνεύστῳ non est profecta. Sive enim ejus authores flatuantur fancti homines nafcentis & puriorisEcclefiæ, five Hieronymus folus, five anonymus quidam, qui à nonnullis in ipſo etiam Concilio Hieronymianam & veterem Italam in unam conflâſſe putatur, ſive Sixtus IV. ſive Clemens VIII. qui veterem uſitatam in eccleſia multis modis inflexerunt: nemo ex illis Θεόπνευς fuit. Quin ipſe Hieronymus negavit, ullum interpretem Spiritu Sancto afflante locutum eſſe.

RESP. READING: 1. Si nullus Scripturæ interpres θεόπνευς eſt, quæ erit Reformationis veſtræ, quæ Bibliorum Tigurinorum authoritas? 2. Licet privatus nemo θεόπνευς ſit, Eccleſiæ tamen univerſæ Spiritus S. aſſiſtit, cujus proin approbatio eam infallibilem reddit. Id. Tract. II. pag 219. Reſp. 1. Cùm reformationis noſtræ norma & amuſſis unica fuerit infallibile Dei verbum, atque illud ipſum etiam quoad materiæ ſubſtantiam in Tigurinis Bibliorum editionibus reperiatur, utrorúmque authoritas quæ ſit, abundè liquet. Major utique eſt authoritas ſecundùm verbum Dei reformantium, quàm contra verbum Dei deformantium. 2. Neque Eccleſiæ, quam (veram ſcilicet, & quandiu talem) aſſiſtens Spiritus Dei in vera fide & pietate ita conſervat, & confirmat, ut tamen in pluribus etiam aberrare, quandiu hic militat, poſſit; approbatio efficit, ut verſionis author ante approbationem merè humanus, poſt eam vel ipſe, vel ejus verſio quoad rem & verba θεόπνευς reddatur. Neque humanum opus Divino Canoni planè reſpondere Divina perfectione poteſt; neque Eccleſia Divinum judicium perfectione Divina ex eodem Canone Divino fecit unquam, vel facere etiam potuit. Multò minùs Tridentina, nec vera Eccleſia, nec approbans verſionem præſentem, ſed demum inpoſterum recognoſcendam, mutandámque, & quomodo recogniturí mutaturíque ſint novi Critici, prorſus ignaram. Certè etiam ipſorum Pontificum, Sixti V. & Clementis VIII. approbationes ſecutæ prorſus contrariæ fuerunt. Innumeras enim vulgatæ verſionis lectiones Sixtus approbavit abolevítque.

ARG. II. Authenticum eſt, quod manat ab authorîbus ipſis. Ita inſtrumentum authenticum eſt, finitore Paulo, Ulpiano, aliíſque ICtis, originale, quod ab authoribus modo incorrupto ad nos pervenit. Atqui vulgata editio Scripturæ ab authoribus ipſis Scripturæ non manavit, ſed potiùs editio Hebraica Veteris, & Græca Novi Teſtamenti, quæ utraque ad nos incorrupta pervenit.

RESP. READING: Vulgata verſio authentica eſt non quidem quoad characteres externos, qui ab hominibus θεοπνεύς non proceſſerunt; ſed quoad ſenſum à Spiritu S. inſpiratum, & in Eccleſia Dei incorruptè conſervatum. Alias nec veſtra Biblia, quorum characteres non ii ipſi ſunt, quibus amanuenſes Dei Scripturam conſignarunt, vera Biblia erunt: neque uſpiam in mundo vera Biblia reperientur. Ib. pag. 219. Reſp. 1. Sive authenticum eſt illud, quòd Originale, ſeu totidem literis in eodem idiomate vel ab authoribus ipſis, vel ab amanuenſibus conſignatum, incorruptum ad nos pervenit; ſive, quo ſenſu etiam Juriſconſultus Julianus tract. de fide, authenticum definit, quod ſupremam in judicio & αὐτέντης authoritatem habet, ita ut à nemine ullo prætextu, erroris puta vel mutationis, rejici, aut in quæſtionem jure vocari poſſit; neutro ſenſu vulgata veſtra authentica dici poteſt. Non priori, quia in diverſo idiomate, diverſíque adeò quoad ſpeciem vocibus, characteribus & ſignis conſignata eſt. Non poſteriori, tum quia non eſt αὐτέντης, ſed fidem omnem sibi allaturi, à fontibus fuliciet, Hebraico veteris, & Graeco Novi Testamenti idiomate, in quo utrumque ab authoribus primitus conceptum est, consulisset: cum quia innumeris mendis labores, exquisitam ex fontibus emendationem postulat. 2. Sensum Divinitus inspiratum, & in verbione ea conformatum vel ad fundamentum articulosque fidei in ea comprehensos, vel ad singulos quosvis refert. Si primum, nulla verba tam mala esse, quin eo sensu authentica dici possint. Atqui Tridentini authentiam declarant haud dubie oppositè ad verbiones reliquas omnes. Si posterius, an ita sufficiebat, proindeque, inconsignam, & Divinitus inspiratam esse vulgatam quoad quos vis omnes fundamentales? Nec affeverantem te doctissimi quique in Papatu etiam Pallavicinus ille tuus Hist. Conc. Trid. lib. 7. cap. audacie & Monachalis indicite damnabunt. 3. Nos vero Biblia, seu verbiones nostras nunquam pro authentica vendicavimus, quamvis plerasque, inter omnes vulgatas veritas multis parasangis praestent: neque ipsos etiam fontes authenticos promanitamus, quasi primum & Germanum autographum continerent, hoc enim delirium non nostrum, sed veritatis quibuldam, nominatim Fine Adriano Petraeiensi Hospit. Jud. lib. 1. c. ibrugitoque habet; verum quia autographa liter, ut nostra tamen, & incorrupta, aliunde sibi fidem non conciliant, quin potius lapsu lydius fuit, ad quem verbiones omnes Orientales Occidentalesque exigendae sunt.

ARG. III. Editio in probationibus fidei & morum authentica, oportet sit succincta, incorrupta, & omnium optima. Talis non est editio vulgata. Defleditis enim à fontibus innumeris locis. Idque de Sixtina concedit Clemens VIII. qui eam interpolavit, expunctis sententiis & vocibus, nec non restitutis passim lectionibus à Sixtina lectione diversis, contrariis, contradictionibus, uti ad oculum demonstravit Thomas Jamesius in bello Papali. Neque Clementina, quam poli Sixtinam authentiam esse fussit Clemens VIII. quâque hodieque utuntur, eft ἀυτόπιστος: tum quia ipsa Praefatio Clementina fatetur, quadam in ea, qua minutenda videbantur, consulto immutata relicta esse: tum quia illam Ephalmatis fcatere demonstrarunt noltri, nominatim doctissimus Amama in Cruxura vulgatae, ubi loca plurima vulgatae verfionis caltigavit, & caltigata à Merfenni Monachi exceptionibus vindicavit. Neque etiam vulgata verfio eft omnium, quae extant, optima, cum quia jam olim ita judicarunt inter Papistas Erasmus, Valla, Cajetanus, viri doctissimi: tum quia id hodieque innuunt interpretes Papistae, Janlenius, Salmero, Bonfrerius, Maltius, de Muis, aliique, qui subinde eam negligunt, & ad fontes provocant, tum denique, quia cum fontibus magis conveniunt verliones virorum doctissimorum, Ariae Montani, Vatabli, Figurina ipsis Hispanis laudata, Stephani, Tremellii, Deodati, aliorum.

Resp. Regione: 1. Esse in plura particularia vulgatae editionis exemplaria irreptissum diffusa quaedam sententia, id tamen vulgatae authoritati & Spiritui S. conjectandi nihil praejudicat. Clemens VIII. in Sixtinae editionis usu, ipsique ad incudem se revocasse Sixtinum ob oculos, quae prava visio in eum irreperant, adeoque materialia pellere & literarium, quam formalia

Resp. 1. Dictorum sententias in particularibus exemplaris irreprehensibilis, cujus vitia fatetur, Librariorum, an interpretis S. Hieronymi nam denuo prodit. Ad doctos igitur in Papatu se abdoco, Vegam, Sixtum Senensem, Andradium, Lindanum, Canum, quilibet Asserio Indic. Morali. lib. VIII. 3. ver. Scilicet sunt, atque ego in vulgata Editione nihil vitii reprehendam, sed etiam ipsius Interpretis insuetam vel ignorantiam. Lyra, Burgensi, Isidoro Clario, Steucho, Driedoni, Hier. ab Oleastro, Cajetano, Benedicto, imo novissimi Pallavicino tom. 8. Richardo Simoni eadem tenet fuit. Si praeterea, quemodo differt Andreas, falsa interpretis sententiae authentiae Vulgatae non praejudicant? An quod dissonum, falsum, corruptum est, authenticum esse potest? An id nullo praetextu, uti Tridentini vel scitum, adeoque etiam non meliorem in fontibus lectionem, retinet porro? 2. Nil equidem difficultis, Clementem VIII. in Bulla mire laetgiffe, ne per recognitionem foam Sixti infallibilitas periclitetur. Licet enim is praeter innumeras alias, etiam ultra bis mille lectiones a Sixto authoritate Apostolica adhibitas Hebraeam & Graecam versionem conformatam, eadem authoritate refinxerit, & ad fontes reformaverit, uti fuit laudatus a me Jamblicus probavit, non alia tamen mendaa, quam quae typographi vitia irreprehensibilis, falsibilis, adscivit vitia. Scilicet tot ipsius unum chiliadem pravi vitiis in eam editionem irrepserunt, quam Sixtus, antequam procio mandaretur, à capite ad calcem pelegerat, quam recens impressam denuo perlegerat, ut omnia fidelitet recognita in lucem prodirent, quae & de Sixtina in Bulla, & de eodem Roccha refatus est. Confirmatur Sixtus & Clementina in locis 1. Sam. XXIV. 8. XXV. 22. 2. Sam. VI. 13. 18. 2. XIX. 10. Prov. XXV. 9. 28. Hab. 3. Marth. XXIV. 41. Act XIV. 6. aliisque innumeris. Et Sixto in animo fuisse, eadem mendaa poffhac tollere, quae Clemens fatisfit, quo indicio conflat? Quoniam Sixtus viginti fere mandata, ceu à typographis proventa, in exemplaribus impressis emendavit, exclamo, parum recusis novis vocabulis, illique vocs mendosae exactae, fuperimpositis & aggluttinatis fyllabis. Inter ea erat locus Isaiae 11. ubi vocis jam excusae in latitudinem, loco vocem distinctionem, chartulae minus idoneae charactibus impressae fyllabas & conglutinavit. Et tamen Clemens in fuam editionem vocem latitudinem, à Sixto delatam revocavit. Est praeterea 147 errata tantus infuper mendorum typographicorum numerus Sixto occurrifle, praecipue editionem totam ille fuperfecit, & fuperfecit, ille, fed fub anathemate de certa fcientia & Apoftolica poteftate plenitudine denuntiavit, ut HANC IPSAM fine ulla dubitatione verum, legitimum, authenticum & indubitatum adeoque certum, quam Tridentini authentiam declaraverant, amplectamur. En Bellini, non ego fraudis illius reus fum, fed Papa tuus Clemens mentitus apertiffe. ne infallibilitas Papalis in dicrimen veniat. Quod vero pronuntiare non veretis, nullum vulgatae fidelium fenfui Divinitus inspirato adversetur, quod non sit, & non Imperitia tua Monachali dignum eft. ARG. IV. Quæ editio nondum extitit, eam authenticam declarare Concilium non potuit. Hoc enim eſt fœtum baptizare in utero, quod nefas duxit meritò ipſe Thomas Aquinas. Atqui editio vulgata, qualis hodie exſtat, tempore Concilii nondum exſtitit, quippe quæ ex decreto Concilii demum edenda & adornanda fuit quàm emendatiſſima. quod factum eſt poſt Concilium Tridentinum annis quadraginta ſex, quo tempore editio Clementina prodiit.

Resp. Reding: Synodus authenticam pronuntiavit verſionem longo Seculorum uſu probatam, adeóque præexiſtentem; & emendandam, non quoad ſubſtantiam, ſed quoad menda acceſſoria. Ibid. p. 220. Reſp. Authenticam igitur definivit eam, non qualis Synodi tempore extitit, (extitit enim innumeris mendis laborans, adeóque corruptiſſima, qualis authentica eſſe non potuit) ſed qualis extitit & diutiſſimè ante Synodum, priuſquam falſarum lectionum labem contraxiſſet: & poſt Synodum, quando recognita fuerit. recognita autem perfectè nunquam eſt, uti Clementina præfatio arguit. Qualis verò fuerit Vulgata ante corruptionem; & qualis plenè recognita futura fuerit, cùm ignoraverit Synodus, id igitur authenticum pronuntiavit, quod quale ſit, ignoravit. Et numquid non innumera illa menda afflixerunt ſubſtantiam ipſam Vulgatæ, in dictionibus, vocibus & verbis determinatum quid ſignificantibus, conſiſtentem? Menda acceſſoria ſubſtantiam utique genuinæ lectionis affecerant, non aliud.

ARG. V. Cauſæ hujus decreti in Concilio allegatæ non fuerunt ſatis honeſtæ. Diffidebant Patres doctrinæ ſuæ, ſi ad ſcripta Prophetarum & Apoſtolorum originalia exigeretur. Metuebant ſuæ barbariei. OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Editio longo tot ſeculorum uſu probata, eſt authentica. Talis eſt vulgata, cujus libri partim ex vulgata & antiquiſſima editione Latina, quam Hieronymus Vulgatam, Auguſtinus Italam, Gregorius Veterem appellant; partim ex S. Hieronymi tranſlatione adſciti fuere. Hinc inde à mille annis celeberrimi quique Eccleſiæ doctores ea ſola uſi ſunt. Eſt argumentum Concilii & Bullæ Sixtinæ. Reſp. 1. Longus uſus cum evidenti ratione conjunctus, verſioni authoritatem præſtare poteſt, at non authenticam, & talem quidem, ut nullo prætextu ab ea diſcedere fas ſit. Talis enim authoritas non à longo uſu, ſed à Divina inſpiratione pendet. 2. Quantus quantus fuit vulgatæ uſus, is certè obtinuit in ſola Eccleſia Latina, non Græca & Orientali. 3. Nec conſtat liquidò, an hodierna vulgata ſit partim vetus Itala, partim Hieronymiana, quia poſt Gregorii tempora utraque confuſa, & multis caſibus variata fuit, ut probari poſſet ex innumeris locis, quæ aliter apud Hieronymum, aliter in vulgata leguntur. 4. Vulgata cœpit eſſe in uſu tempore Gregorii, adeóque ſexto demum ſeculo. Ante id tempus fuit in uſu vetus Itala, cujus author incertus. Si igitur priorum & puriorum ſeculorum uſus veteri Italæ authenticam authoritatem non præſtitit, cur vulgatæ eam præſtabit uſus ſequentium & impuriorum ſeculorum.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Fateris, vulgatam in uſu fuiſſe tempore jam Gregorii. Obtinuit igitur per mille annos. Et Gregorius ſuo tempore eam vocat veterem. Ergo jam ante quoad ſubſtantiam ſaltem probata fuit. Neque enim Hieronymus in ſubſtantia diverſam à Vulgata fecit. 2. Authoritas Vulgatæ nititur Divina promiſſione, cujus vi certi ſumus, literam ſidum eſſe Scripturæ cuſtodem. Proin à mille annis uſu Eccleſiæ in tot etiam Oecumenicis per Orientales quoque Patres frequentatis Conciliis comprobata verſio, Divinæ promiſſionis certitudine ſuffulta, authentica eſt. Id. pag. 222. 223. Reſp. Temulenti inſtar, quicquid in buccam venit, effutis. Ubi Vulgatam, qualis Concilii tempore erat, & nunc eſt, Gregorii tempore in uſu fuiſſe, faſſus ſum? An, quam Gregorius veterem vocat, eadem fuit cum vulgata hodierna? Annon eam & Hieronymus, & paulatim eccleſia, vulgatam mixtam ſubſtituens, improbavit? An Divina promiſſio præcipuè ad vulgatæ, vel cujuscunque alterius verſionis; non ſontium potiùs, ceu normæ verſionum omnium; & ſi ad Vulgatæ, annon etiam ad veteris Italæ, quam tamen abolitam eſſe conſtat, conſervationem pertinet? An litera eſt Scripturæ, hoc eſt, Scriptura Scripturæ fidus cuſtos? In quo denique Oecumenico Concilio per Orientales etiam Patres frequentato Vulgata verſio comprobata eſt? Peſſimè te, quidvis pro lubitu fingendo, de Eccleſia Romana mereri, quotquot in communione veſtra verè docti ſunt, planè agnoſcent.

EXCEP. 1. LAINEZ 1. Scripturæ authenticæ habemus non quarundas etſi ſub nomine illius ſtatis characteribus à Judæis exſcriptas, ſed ſub illis literis, quam ſub compertas Eccleſia Chriſtiana, ut immunque ſine ullimata, ſignidem Deus veritatis ſuam non ſiſtit ſtatuit, ſed providentiæ ſuæ, & curæ Eccleſiæ affidavit. 2. *Deus Deut. Reſp. Ad præcipua nihil reſpondere poſſumus. In cæteris reſponſio tua tenuis. Ergo 1. Scriptura authentica in illa literis, illoque idiomate eſtata quibus Prophetæ & Apoſtoli primitus ſcripſerunt, non in quibus Eccleſia, particularis imprimis, quibus Tridentina eſt, illam approbavit. An enim quia Vulgatam authenticam Tridentini declararunt, ideo Hebræa & Græca originalia ſcriptura authentiam amiſit? Vetant ita crederes ſaniores Pontificii omnes. Quòd ſi Deus voluit ſuam nulli idiomati, nullis ſeculis Scripturas, ſuo ſcripta literis alligaſſet, careret Eccleſia infallibili regula & cymatura, ad quam veriones omnes exigendæ ſunt. Et pro tali Scriptura ita Dei providentia & Eccleſiæ cura invigilarunt hactenus, ut in modo integra perſeveraverit, cum verſionem aliæ penitus interierint, aliæ multiplicem labem contraxerint, & diverſis fatis ſubierint, aliæ meliores licet præſtantioreque divæ inſpirationis paſſæ ſint pauciſſimæ adhuc. 2. Facium ſuum ita Deus à Judæis adhibendo, juxta commination em, ut tamen induratio iis contigerit non pleno ex parte, ad certum videlicet tempus, donec plenitudo gentium introiverit. Tum enim tunc Iſrael ſalvabitur, Rom. XI. 25. 26. Et eo ipſo tempore, quo factum ab iis Deus ab eſcendit, nec Scripturæ originali nos defraudavit: & in conſervanda incredibili fide, ſtudio & induſtria ii deſudarunt, captoriaſque poſtanti Chriſtiani rorum, ut meritò à S. Patribus appellantur, fruitur; aliquando ſuis laboribus olim denuo facilem fuam Deus id eos converterit. 3. In multa verſione reperire non eam fidem, peritiam, authoritatem, quæ non poſſit verſe cerniorare ad fidem, ſcripſi, quoad dictiones ſciliset ſingulas & eo ſenſu, quod fide certitudo non ullius hominis labore & induſtria, ſed verbo ex quod anxiore primordia inſit ſenſibus, & ad-ejus ſecundaria eram verſionibus humana induſtria adornata, quatenus ille cum fenſibus conformare ſunt, nitatur.

tur. In Bibliis igitur noſtris verbum Dei contineri, πιστεύομεν certioramur ad fidem, non quatenus in iis ſunt verba humanorum Interpretum, & dictiones ſinguluæ ſpectantur, ſed quatenus continent illud verbum, quod in fontibus & quoad rem, & quoad dictiones αὐτόπνευστον, expreſſum in iis ita eſt, ut cùm fontibus in præcipuis ſaltem, & ad ſalutem cognitu neceſſariis, conveniat. Tolle verò fontes hos αὐτοπίστους; & ruent verſiones univerſæ, prototypo & regula, ad quam exigi eas oportet, deſtitutæ; ac cum iis etiam πληροφορία fidei certa perſuaſio omnis interibit.

OBIECT. III. Hebræi & Græci ſuos habuerunt textus authenticos. Quid ni ergo etiam haberent Latini? Reſp. 1. Diſpar ratio eſt. Hebræi enim & Græci gaviſi ſunt ipſis Fontibus & Originalibus. At Latini non niſi tranſlatione, quæ authentica eſſe non poteſt. 2. Potiùs inde concluſeris, cùm Latinum idioma hodie nuſpiam ampliùs receptum ſit, vulgatam Latinam antiquandam, & ſingulis nationibus peculiari idiomate gaudentibus ſingulas verſiones authenticas procurandas eſſe.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Quomodo originalibus gaviſi ſunt Hebræi & Græci, cùm interierint pridem? 2. Ea eſt S. Scriptura authentica, de qua certos nos reddit Eccleſia. At de vulgata certos nos reddidit ejus uſus longiſſimus, & Concilii confirmatio. Ib. pag. 224. Reſp. 1. Quo ſenſu Hebræa & Græca editio originalis ſit, ſupra diximus. 2. Authentiam nec uſus, nec approbatio particularis Eccleſiæ, qualis Tridentina fuit, ſed quoad materiam & formam internam verbum Dei αὐτόπνευστον; quoad formam externam dictiones eæ, quibus authores ſeu Scriptores Divini à Spiritu Dei afflati, verbum comprehenderunt, faciunt.

OBIECT. IV. Generalia Concilia celebrari non poſſent, ſi una editio authentica, quam omnes intelligere poſſint, non extaret. Pauciſſimi enim linguas originales intelligunt. Reſp. 1. Danda igitur ex præcepto Apoſtolico 1. Theſſ. V. 19. 20. opera Doctoribus & Epiſcopis, ne originalia ignorent. 2. QUÆSTIO IV.

An Christiani in rebus fidei & morum non alium sensum amplecti debeant, quàm quem tenet Romana ecclesia, & unanimis consensus Patrum?

Affirmat Synodus, in decreto de usu librorum S. ubi per Sanctam matrem ecclesiam intelligit particularem Romanam, quam penes esse jus supremum interpretandi Scripturas, ita ut ab ea nulla sit appellatio, pertendunt. Quamvis autem hic quatuor soleant erigere tribunalia Ecclesiæ, Conciliorum, Patrum, & Papæ; tamen subductis ritè calculis solus restat Papa, seu privatus & enthusiasticus Papæ Spiritus, qui Scripturam admittit quidem ut regulam, nempe partialem, sed ad nutum ipsius applicandam & regulandam. Nos igitur in hoc sensu negamus quæstionem, & perlia, nempe tendimus contra, unumquemque fidelem verum & genuinum Scripturæ sensum ex ipsis Scripturis, contracta cum iis, ut loquitur Augustinus, familiaritate, & à clarè positis procedendo ad obscuriora, eruere debere, nec in eo cujusquam, vel hominis vel hominum cœtus dictaturam sequi. Rationes nobis sunt.

ARG. I. Fideles singuli tenentur legere Scripturam, scrutari & intelligere. Ergo üdem eas interpretari tenentur. Nam qui intelligit, sensum verborum assequitur, adeóque interpretatur.

Resp. Reding: 1. Obligatio legendi & intelligendi Scripturas nulla esse potuit tempore Christi, & initio Evangelii, quia tum Scriptura Evangelica nulla extitit. 2. Fideles singuli legere & intelligere Scripturas tenentur vel in fundamentalibus tantùm, vel in omnibus. Si prius, edissere, qui sint articuli fundamentales. Si posterius, cur fundamentales à non fundamentalibus distinguitis? Tract II. pag 226. Resp. O paleas tuas, quas ventus quilibet dispulerit! Hoccine respondere est? 1. Si Christi tempore nulla extitit Scriptura Evangelica, an iccirco non extiterunt Moses & Prophetæ de Christo testantes? An iccirco extituræ Evangelicæ Scripturæ nunquam fuerunt, nec prædicatum viva voce verbum Scripturæ mandandum fuit, ut lectionis & intelligentiæ objectum deinceps non aliud, quàm Scriptura existeret? 2. Legenda insuper, intelligenda est tota Scriptura, quæ in nullo apice frustra exarata est, sed ut legatur, intelligatur. Tuum verò de articulorum fundamentalium & non fundamentalium discrimine cothurnum, quem cuilibet pedi aptare velles, solidarum rationum inops, Diss. Sel. Tom. II. Diss. VIII. fusè destruximus.

sentia Patrum lib. pag. 228. 229. Resp. 1. Ita cit. Deus promittit institutionem infallibilem, Divinam, per Spiritum suum, idem fellicet verbum, quod Christus Filius Dei in fine dierum locutus est, & per Apostolos scripto confignari curavit, cordibus fidelibus omnium, non quorundam duntaxat, inscripturum. Neque hic Pathorum, doctorum, Patrum operam & institutionem subordinatam excludimus, sed eam potius admittimus ea lege, ut sit mere ministerialis, Scripturæ, & demonstrationi ex eadem allegatæ, denique examini fidelium quorumvis, institutionem publicam ad amussim Scripturæ, adeoque divinam etiam legendæ intelligendæque, exigentium, subjecta. Infallibili enim & authentice extra demonstrationem ex Scriptura institutioni externæ post Apostolorum tempora in Ecclesia tum nulla est, quippe quæ divinitus revelata non valide. Neque gratia illa, qua homo quivis interius à Spiritu S. ad credendum & amandum movetur, eft eorum quidpiam, fed cum intelligentia in quolibet fideli conjunctum. Sic denes Deus, ait S. Augustinus contra Petig. lib. 2. 3. scribitur, qui docendo propositum verbum suum, fine quo docemur, & quid agant filiæ, & quid filiæ agere debeant. 2. Propterea, five donum aliquid eiusmodi, datum à Deo in verbo indubitabili enuntiandi, adscipiat etiam Scripturam ex Scriptura exponendi, non acquiritur ulla omnibus hominibus. Diversa enim mentura Spiritus S. dona fua elargitur. At certo ordini, puta Pathorum & doctoribus duntaxat illud alligari tribuique, egregie Vallum eft. Ipfe enim Apoftolus 1. C. 7. diftinguit χαίρισμα & διακρίσεις quæ propriorem refert, 2. χαρίσματα ministeriis, & ministeria distribuit in variis ordinem non autem charismata. Itaque inde etiam apparet, quod ipfis perfonis & ordem conftitutis minifterii gradus hæc ipfa charifmata varie diftribuantur. Non enim omnes Miniftri, Pathores, doctores æque aut linguas interpretantur, aut prophetant.

ARG. IV. Non tantum Chriftus amandat ad Scripturas, non vifibilem & infallibilem alium interpretem, Joh. V. 39. Matth. XXII. 29. Luc. X. 26. fed etiam Apoftoli nulla habita propriæ privilegii aut Papalis infallibilitatis ratione, non alium interpretem, quam Scripturam appellant, Act. XVI. 6. 7. &c. 2. Tim. III. 17. 2. Pet. 19. 20. Neque etiam primitiva Eccleſia ad ejusmodi infallibilem interpretem unquam provocavit, quin potius Papas fe invicem lancinantes, & majorum decreta ac decretalia refcindentes, repehendit, & in Concilio condemnavit.

Resp. Regine: 1. *Chriſtus ad Scripturas amandans, eadem vifibiliter præfens interpretatur eſſ infallibiliter; ex fignis vifibilibus & teſtimoniis Patris aperiebat ſermata interpretationi ſuæ evidentiam prudentialis credibilitatis conciliant. 2. Neque Christus eos loco suæ Scripturarum interpretationi ex stgnis & testimonio Patrum evidentiam evidentissimæ prudentiæ, aut prudentissimæ mysticæ erroris seu evidentissimi evidentiam attruere fingit, concludi vult, sed de ipsa iudicandum esse, non ex humana authoritate, & testificatione alia, sed ex operibus suis, testimonio Dei Patris, denique Scripturarum, quas non ipse eo loco interpretatur, sed fcrutari simpliciter mandat, alleuiat. 2. Apostoli quidem infallibilitatis privilegium habuerunt. Eo cum destituantur ordinarii Ecclesiæ Pastores, cur multo magis Papa & Episcopi Possibile, qui eatenus ab interpretandis Scripturis eatenus plus potleriore loco amandarunt, ad demonstrationem veri Scripturæ sensus ex solis Scripturis obligantur. Et tamen ipsos Apostolos infallibilitatis dote prædictos, Scripturæ, universisque fidelem Scripturis professionem, omnes eorum successores Hierosolymitanæ imprimis Synodi hilitoria manifeste probat. Nam ita quidem v.7. 13. S. Iacobus id ipsum planius aperuit, nec ex Scripturis comprobet. Si tanta pontifices, tanque prærogatiuæ præditi Apostoli, non propria tamen mente quicquam locuti funt, vel edixerunt, fed ex Scripturis fententiam fensumque omnem demonstrandum duxerunt: an Papæ & Episcopis nulla ejusmodi Apostolicæ dotis indigentibus competere possit tam perversum infatuatumque cerebrum & obstinatus obtususque, si fieri potest, animus ad Scripturæ normam exigendarum detrubandi, putarius? Facessant illi procul! Solus nobis Deus in Scripturis voluntatem suam pandens autor, solus Legislator, solus Rex eft. Ifa. XXXIII. 22. 3. Papas ab Ecclesia primitiva & Concilio ex Scripturæ reprehenso damnatique vita Eleutherium, Liberium, Anastasium, Honorium, Adrianum, Gregorium VII. Johannem XXII. Sergium IV. fuio.

ARG. V. Interpretatio Scripturarum eft donum Dei, liberè à Spiritu S. collatum ad ædificationem ecclesiæ. Rom. XII. 6. 7.8. Tyrannidem igitur exercuit Synodus, & Spiritum S. in ordinem redigere molita eft, interpretationem Scripturæ reftringens ad cotum particularem, imò hominem unum, Papam, & vetantes talentum à Deo concellum in mercimonium spiritualie erogari. regulæ libralisve ordinatæ formæ. Aliundi igitur libertatis Ecclesiæ habet. Ib. p. 231. & 232. Aliud esse donum prophetiæ, aliud Patrorum & doctorum ministerium; atque illud latius patere, quàm hoc, supra firmavimus. Neque provisum omnino est Ecclesiæ, si Patribus & doctoribus duntaxat, propheticæ Scripturam interpretari licet, reliqui vero omnes, ceu bruta ἄλογα, ad cœca obedientia hominum qui natura mendaces sunt, nati ab interpretationis jure omni arceantur, & Patrum suorum interpretamenta ex Scripturis explorare, vera adoptare, falsa reiicere prohibentes. Defraudabuntur enim sic necessario veros Pastores a falsis discernendi facultate, & fiet tum a falsis Spiritus Sanctis quo vult, per meram utique tyrannidem, summovebuntur. Et quod mihi, Patrum omnimorum conscium, os inic? An tam dein plebeia quidem, Patres illas transformationes oculis tuis usurpati, auribus percepisti, animo animadvertisti? An vel unum evolvisti? Anno & ipsi homines utique & fallibiles fuguli probandi explorandique sunt? Ad quam vero, his verbi scripti, cum quod nullum illud in mundo orbem, regulam indelibilem, habent? Tyrannidis enim manifestæ rei sunt Tridentinique ad Patrum confensum, quem ne millenimus quidem invefti igere queat, ita Bellos obstringere conantur, ut discretionis & explorationis eorundem facultatem à medio tollant. Hoc agunt, ut à Scripturæ brevi & regiavia, quam & infelicem habent autorem, ad immensa devia, & Oceanum vastissimum impenetrabilemque seducant, quò erroribus suis indormire, & factam dominationem securius profovere queant. 2. Inter regulas Theologi præscripsa eft fenfus Ecclesiæ Romanæ in Concilio, Tridentino inprimis, expressus. Ab eo deflectere ne licet ad extrema, vel ad finistram nefas. Adstringuntur præterea ad verfionem, à qua ad fontem innata ita provocatio eft. Plebejus vero Scripturam legere vel intelligere placulve vobis barbara. Annon fic Spiritus S. donis cumulatus omnia interludatur, & libertati fidelium clades præfentiffima inferat?

ARG. V I. Secus fides nostra refolvitur in homines fiúa natura mendaces, & caducum adeóque in parietem inclinat. A quo dehortatur Spiritus Dei Efa. II. 22. Desinite ab homine, in cujus naribus spiritus eft, מחדלו לכם מן האדם אשר נשמה באפיו quid reputationis eft ipse?

RESP. RENATUS: 1. Si Scriptura interpretatio privato cuique fidelium permittatur, non tam fides nra refolvetur in homines naturâ fua mendaces? Sicut apud eos fit, ubi fides nititur Ecclesiæ columnæ, quæ tutissima eft. 2. Verborum Efai.II.22. sensus eft: Desistite ab homine, (quia Christo veracisi & occidendo,) quia spiritus in naribus ejus eft, &c. Quid hæc vana? Ib. pag. 232.23. Resp. Spiritus privatus, quidem absque vera Ecclesia, eft Spiritus Ecclesiæ vester, hoc eft, Papæ, cui, licet ecclesia sis ex indubitabili verbo non demonstranti, obtemperant. Spiritus autem Scripturæ, & demonstrationi ea eadem allegatæ, communis eft omnium fidelium & privatus cuiquam, qui non aliena capiat humana sententia nixi, sed ex ipsa sui αὐτοπιστίᾳ, in propria mente cernus ejus, Rom. XIV. 5. non aliena libidini mancipari debet. 2. Inepte Efa. II. 22. אנוש homo ille, in cujus naribus spiritus eft, ubi Christus eft. de quo ibi nullus fermo. Imò verò Christus, homo secundus, factus eft in similitudinem peccatricem, 1 Cor. X V. 45. Accusantur illi, qui deferuerunt Jehovam, & adhæserunt homini, in quo eft receptorio Spiritus per nares, quo deficiente nihil fant, Pfal CXV.4. Sed quisquid de esse loci hui, fidem Divinamin hominem relativi posse, ipsimet αὐτοπιστίαν negatis.

ARG. VII. Pontifices fallibiles funt, tum quia nuſquam iis promiſſa infallibilitas; tum quia craſſe eos, docent exempla Liberii, Eleutherii, Anaſtaſii, Honorii, ac inprimis poſteriorum, qui juxta oraculum Pauli 1. Tim. IV. 1. à fide deficiverunt, & ejus naufragium fecerunt.

Resp. Negno: 1. Papa, qua privatus doctor, errare poteſt; non qua munus Poſtoratus & cheſi-primatis & cathedræ ſpecialia ergo universum ecclesiam exercet. 2. Licet 2 Tim. IV. 2. nevilimis temporibus diſſuturi quædam à fide, attendentes ſpiritibus erroris illi-vitati veſtres privati, qui errorii ſpiritum eſt, præprimis quadrat. Ib. pag. 232. Resp. 1. Papa docens ea, quæ ex Scriptura non docentur, tempore privatus doctor eſt. Inſtitutionis vero privatum inter & publicum doctorem monſtrum ſupra etiam debullavimus. 2. Quiſnis illi qui noviſſima diebus à fide deſcivit, ſpiritibus erroris attendent, tam ea-ſit Apoſtolus docet, ut, nihi ſcetonmare pervitalli ad priſtem vitæ mores fuerita. Nam 2 Tim. perſiquem eorum characteres pandit, quod ſolitum prohibitum fint mentionibus, ab ſtentum à cibis quibusdam, quos Deus condidit, &c. Annon vos matrimonium integro ordini prohibetis? Annon jejunandum eſſe in deſerto ciborum, hoc eſt, abſtinendum à certis cibis quos Deus condidit, pertendit? Et, lepus es, & pulpamentum quæris?

ARG. VIII. Si infallibilis ejuſmodi interpres eſt Eccleſia ſeu potius Papa, cur Chriſtus tam neceſſarii interpretis nuſpiam meminit? Cur Paulus in exactiſſima Epiſtola Romanam eccleſiam de tanto privilegio non admonuit? Cur Petrus in Catholicis ſuis Epiſtolis hoc ſibi privilegium ad ſucceſſores propagandum non arrogavit, non exercuit? Cur Pontifices communiſſum illud ſibi, uti ſacrum, talentum defodiunt, qui per tot ſecula diſſentientibus de textu Chriſtianis, infallibilem aliquam Scripturæ explanationem non exhibuerunt, & Pontificios, nominatim Thomiſtas & Scotiſtas, Jeſuitas & Dominicanos, de rebus graviſſimis diſſentientes, non compoſuerunt? Cur Scripturæ nodos & ænigmata non expediunt, myſteria non explanant, eccleſiam à tanta mole commentariorum & moleſtiarum non liberant?

Resp. Negno: 1. Chriſtus iuſſit audire Eccleſiam. Petrus infallibilem interpretem in epiſtolis ſuis egit. Paulus interpretis Petri non meminit, quia incertum erat, an Petrus ſedem ſuam alio tranſlaturus eſſet, aliunque ſeptum habuiſſet. 2. Diſſentiunt Theologi non in dogmatibus doctrinæ, ab eccleſia definitis; ſed in remotioribus quibuſdam controverſiis, quæ aliquando probabiliter deciduntur, qui diſſenſus in eccleſia nullis eſt. Ib. pag. 231. Resp. 1. Cur eccleſia, & quomodo audienda ſit, infra dicturimus. Bene, quod in epiſtola ſua infallibilem interpretem Petrum egit, agnoſcit. Ibi igitur, non in epiſtola ſuæ eccleſiæ, non in traditionum ſupplementis, quorum nulla in epiſtolis ejus mentio eſt, infallibilem ejus doctrinam quærite. Aliquam quid ſcribere, & non potius ſucceſſorum ſuorum vicarie infallibilitati reſiſtere omnia, attinebat? Paulo aliam fecerant ſuiſſe, ad Romanos ſcribenti, certum eſt. Juſtitiam enim ex Cielo revelatam in Evangelio, eo etiam, quod ille in tota epiſtola deſcribit, non in Pontificum decretis, Eccleſiæ Romanæ ultimorum temporum ſenſu continet, ſcribere ei conſtitutum fuit. Et cur Petri, quem quem scripsit Epiphoius tempore Romæ regis, & Pontificem nec vice Christum esse, multum hypotheses vestræ tenant, nihilo aptior mutuntur? Cur earum Romanæ Ecclesiæ præsenti suo Pontifici non relinquit? a. Distinctæ vos in plurimis, & quidem circa textuum Scripturæ intelligentiam, negare non potest. Vel sola Theologiæ tuæ Scholastica rapsodia multiformium inflatum chaos complectitur. Addo ego, magna contentione odiosique implacabilitate, & de rebus magni momenti, ipsaque etiam fidei vestræ principio. Papæ videlicet supra Concilium eminentia, inter vos disputari, neque perfuasitum te Pontifici ipsi, ut diffensum talem utilem elle credat. Cur ergo falsimonem non agit ille saltem & falli nescius interpres? Cur Alexander VII. aut contendentes Jesuitas cum Sorbonistis de efficaci sufficienti exercere atrocis Dicteii, & activa in ea tanti momenti sententia hac diremere tentat? Imo cur in obscuris, tenuibus, perplexis, profundis, de quibus inter vos diffentium perpetuum obtinet sit, non fanxerit Romanus Apollo? Anxon enim talia postulo Hermetem quempiam & Oedipum divinatorem requirere, quam didactica clara, proxima, plana, obvia, quæ quivis line interpretis externi opera, ex solius verbi revelati textus diudicare potest? Denique ubi papa vester in didactica etiam singulas Scripturæ textus interpretatus est, & à mole mobilium interpretum commentationisque Ecclesiam liberavit? En interpretem factaris Scripturæ infallibilem, qui Scripturam non interpretetur, sed vel negligat, vel ne vellit Monarchiæ fue, quam in mundo malis artibus quæsivit, malis retinet, & unum aliquod affirmat, torquet.

ARG. IX. Denique luce meridiana magis pellucet fraus & impostura Concilii. Non ignoraverat, Evangelicam doctrinam inniti claris Scripturis. Quid ergo? Ut ab earum præsidio nos depellat, interpretationem earum authenticam ecclesiæ Pontificiæ seu Papæ vendicat, & necquicquam Scripturæ tribunal appellantes & solicitantes, multum plorare jubet. Facessite ergo Ecclesiæ Græcæ, Æthiopicæ, Orientales! Facessite Evangelicæ Europææ! Non alia via sanctæ matri ecclesiæ, hoc est, Pontificiorum cœtui particulari, seu Papæ reconciliari licet, quam si spiritui Papæ Scripturas pro lubitu, suo arbitrio & Matre torquenti, sacramento religiose dicatis!

Resp. Rnonis: 1. Concilium cum ipsum confessim ipsis, cum semper tenuit Ecclesia, ea fallices, cuique doctrinam primorum Ecclesiæ Secularium Patrum, quos vestri majores non audent, traditerum. Tu verò illum Ecclesiam, ad cujus ipsius Tridentini fidelem assertionem, Pontificium ipse es. Annon igitur tacita agnosis, Ecclesiam Pontificium ipsa tam Ecclesiam, quæ vera & Orthodoxa antiquarum Patrum doctrina negat? 2. Ecclesia Græca, Æthiopica, Evangelica &c. non patent ad Ecclesiam regressum, unde ibi cessant? An Spiritum cum habet, quem Zwinglius, alibique, vel, ethicio ipsius, inter ipsos ex quo manssit Graca pradicat, falsus? infra p. 433. 434. Resp. 2. Ot te fiatur, ote lepidum caput! Quia non acumen tuum mirctur? Tridentini tui fides in rebus fidei & morum, ut semper ecclesiæ Romanæ, ad unanimem consensum Patrum alligatur. Ecclesiam Romanam corruptam, absque Pontificum, quos Concilii tempore erat, Ecclesiæ Romanæ, veteris fidelis, & unanimis Patrum consensu in eadem confervari præterea & fidem deginemur. Ego tarvam detrast, & Papam, præsentem scilicet, speciosa illis nominibus prætextibúſque fucatum intelligi,innui. Ergo falſus ſum in eccleſia Pontificia vigere unanimem conſenſum Patrum purioris eccleſiæ! Planè ſic falſus ſum, uti is, qui meretrici fucos & ornamenta, quibus virginem ſe mentitur, detrahit eandem intemeratam eſſe virginem,vel caſtam matronam,ea ratione fatetur. Quò te Papalis ſpiritus tui vertigo rapit? 2. Quandiu verò Papa hanc tyrannidem exercet, cum Sancta illa Matre Eccleſia Pontificia reconciliari, qui Spiritui Papæ ſe ſubjicere nolunt, non poſſe, nec alia ratione poſſe, quàm ſi impuro illi ſpiritui ſuccumbant,res ipſa certè clamat. Neque adcò id vel mihi Zwinglii mei in Cœlo triumphans ſpiritus; vel tibi ſpiritus ille non albus, ſed nigricans planè, qui Pontifices veſtros Silveſtrum II. Johannem XIX. Benedictum VIII. & IX. Gregorium VI. & VII. Clementem V. Paulum II. Alexandrum VI. Sixtum V. ſi veſtris hiſtoricis fides eſt,agitavit, & ad nefaria impulit, dictare neceſſum habuit.

Summus Eccleſiæ Christianæ Paſtores ſolus Chriſtus eſt. Miniſteri vero ejus novæ revelationis non ſingulæ, aut qui quondam typici Pontifices, Divinitus nullas amplitias excipiunt. Neque enim lege in medio omnium poſita amplius sare ſtatorem per novas revelationes, uti olim factum, docet. 3. Chriſtus congregatis in nomine ejus duobus vel tribus non ſolo Eccleſiæ, non ſolis eius præpoſitis ad ſolos repræſentantibus, uti in ſingle, addens verbis Chriſti, præſentiam ſuam promiſit. An duo vel tres ill propterea infallibiles Scripturæ interpretes, ſtatique diſtractores evadunt? Nè in ſolum nomine Chriſtus nunquam eſt. Neque clavium authoritas congrega clavigeros vel infallibiles, vel Scripturæ interpretes authenticos reddit, quia ex præcepto Dei & ſententia Scripturæ ex ipſa Scriptura demonſtrata, non ex ſuperio ullo ſpiritum claudimus. 4. Qui igitur in omnem veritatem à Spiritu ducitur, is infallibilis eſt, quatenus à Spiritu Dei ſe patitur duci, & verbum, quod affert, Dei verbum eſt. ut infallibilitas illa proprie non ſit hominis, quia ſermonis & legibus ejus neceſſum ſit parere reliquos ad ſuggestione ſuos examinare, ſed Dei ſolius & verbi ejus, quod credit & loquitur. Hoc utique & toti Eccleſiæ, & ſingulis fidelibus convenit. 5. De Petro & Petro ſuperiis diximus abundè. Unum addo. Si Petrus, qua petra, figuram geſſit Eccleſiæ, uti recte Auguſtinus, quicquid igitur Petro datum eſt, non utique Papa ſolus, ſed toti Eccleſiæ, ac inprimis Miniſtris ejus fidelibus univerſis datum eſt æquo jure. Alias Petrus figuram non Eccleſiæ, ſed Papæ geſſiſſet.

OBIECT. II. *Malach. II. 7 dicuntur labia ſacerdotis cuſtodire ſcientiam, ita ut lex requirenda ſuerit ex ore ejus, atque ac ab Angelo Domini. Quia tamen multa in lege enigmata & mysteriis, rum verbis ὑποκειμένοις subindicata, tum figuris ὑποκειμένοις depictis, diuturna vero evidentia adhuc detitura, continebantur; recte colligit. Si nemini Scripturam ſortuanti conſtare poteſt de certitudine ſenſus ejusdem, de univerſa fide Chriſtiana ullum remanet religio aliud erit quam politicus aſtus, uti Machiavellus veller, Pontificium inprimis religionem penitus, aſſeruit. Donum diſcretionis ita rectum agnoſcit per non eſſe Chriſtiana omnibus, ut tamen agnoſcat, vel infallibilem eam propoſitis veſtris convenientiæ in univerſum illud, qualecunque etiam certo ordini hominum, Paſtorum & doctorum, aſſignatum eſſe: ita dirigendum eſſe omnes interpretationis, quas in præſentiarum vocas, ſecum ſentio, ut inter eas locum habere Eccleſiæ, vel Papæ potius per verbum alicujus eorum interpretantis infallibilitatem, penegem. Tu proba. Amas ubique 5 to Petri ſuccedanea. 2. Papa! Quia Papa in Cathedra ſedenti non affirginem, ſecum in tot ſectas diſcindimur! Atqui vera Eccleſia æque à ſectis, atque Pontificia innumeris ſectis diſtracta, totumque orbem in ſectas diſtrahens, à vera eccleſia ſeparata eſt. Neque inde ſectæ originem habent, quia Papæ fidei dominatui non obediunt homines, verum inde potius, quia homines multi Papali ingenio & fermento infecti, Scripturas torquent, fabique ſenſus non eſſerentibus ex Scriptura, ſed in eam inferentibus, ſiſtem ex Scriptura more Papali nihil demonſtrantibus, infallibilitatem arrogant. Icem quam & S. Paulus heretatus eſt 1. Cor. XI. 13. Ἰψεῖς γὰρ ψευδαπόστολοι, ἐργάται δόλιοι μετασχηματιζόμενοι εἰς ἀποστόλους Χριστοῦ. Nam ejusmodi falſi apoſtoli, & operarii dolosi transformantes ſe in apoſtolos Chriſti. 4. his verbis olim proteſtatus eſt: Μισῶ τοὺς τοιούτους ἐν λόγοις ἀνατρέπειν τὸ σωτήριον τῆς ἀληθείας δόγμα, ἀνθρωπίνοις λόγοις τὸ θεῖον μὴ πείθειν χρεών. Non mihi ſuſ-ferendum hos dissentientes accepta prius demonſtratione ex Scripturis.

OBJECT. V. Interpretatio Scripturarum per Scripturas, ſemotis efficacioribus mediis, fallax eſt & incerta, tum quia illa plerumque fit ex affectu & præjudicata ſententia conferentium: tum quia eadem dictio & phraſis non ubique ſonat idem: tum quia multa loca ſunt ἅπαξ λεγόμενα, quæ proinde cum aliis ſimilibus conferri non poſſunt: tum denique, quia omnes hæretici conferendo Scripturas diligentiſſimè, errârunt tamen, & in errorem miſerunt alios. Reſp. 1. Cùm Scriptura ipſa ſit infallibilis & certiſſima, quî fallax & incerta eſſe poteſt interpretatio per Scripturam? An certior eſt ſpiritus Papæ ἀδοκίμασος, quàm ſpiritus Scripturæ? 2. Imputantur Scripturæ defectus non ſui, & committitur fallacia cauſæ. Quid enim ad Scripturam, ſi quis ex affectu & præjudicata ſententia loca conferat, vel in conferendis, ut hæretici ſolent, aberret? In quolibet diſputationis genere ſunt captiones creberimæ, quas tamen demonſtrationes ipſæ luere non debent. 3. Aliud eſt agere de vocabulorum uſu, aliud de re ipſa. Nam etſi ejuſdem vocabuli varius uſus eſſe poſſit, tamen ejuſdem uſus varii poſſunt etiam eſſe loci inter ſe conferendi. Ita quamvis occurrant vocabula ἅπαξ λεγόμενα, tamen ſenſus eorum idem pluribus in locis occurrere poteſt. 4. Quin imò analogia fidei eſt univerſalis, & ubique ſic dominatur, ut ſine ea explicari nullus locus poſſit.

EXCIP. REDINO: 1. Cùm ſenſus vocum à Spiritu S. intentus ænigmatico revelationis Divinæ obſcuræ involucro ſit obvolutus, certitudo ejus non ex naturali vocum ſignificatione, ſed ex judicio diſcretionis, quod non fallaci vocum ſenſu, peritia Grammaticæ, linguarum, artium, ſed ſolius Eccleſiæ infallibilitate nititur, pendet. 2. Hinc adeò Chriſtus dedit Eccleſiæ Paſtores & doctores, qui ex ſenſu Eccleſiæ myſteria fidei exponendo, in fidelibus prudentialis credibilitatis fundamentum extruunt, ſuper quo uno judicium diſcretionis fundetur. Ib pag 236.237. Reſp. 1. Unde verò ipſa Eccleſia ſenſum Scripturæ, quem ænigmatico obſcuræ revelationis involucro obvolutum quereris, infallibiliter eruit? Vel enim ſtandum eſt Eccleſiæ ſeu Papæ nudo dicto, vel ſenſum infallibilem demonſtrare illa debet. Si prius, fides efficietur merè humana, & in Pythagoricum illud αὐτὸς ἔφα reſolvetur. At vox ex Cœlo audita ab hominum omnium dictis abſtractos ad dictum ſolius Chriſti obligat, clamans ſonorè: Hunc audite, non cœtum aliquem hominum, non Papam. Si poſterius, in demonſtrando Scripturæ genuino ſenſu qua regula prudentiali Eccleſia, ne in demonſtratione fallatur, utitur? An analogiam fidei, nexum loci, vocum indolem, originalium inprimis genium, & ſimilia reſpicit? Si ais, cur eadem regula fallax eſt apud ſingulos, quæ efficax eſt apud univerſos? Si negas, qua erga tandem ratione Scripturæ ſenſum infallibilem infallibiliter demonſtrat? Scilicet ad enthuſiaſticum Papæ ſpiritum magno paſſu omnia contendunt. 2. Apoſtolos Eccleſiæ Chriſtus dedit infallibiles: ordinarios Paſtores & doctores non item. Singulos enim fallibiles ſtatuitis. Singuli verò fallibiles collecti infallibiles eſſe nequeunt. ſicut ſinguli famelici, in unum collecti propterea famelici eſſe non deſinunt. SESSIO V.

Celebrata die 17. Mensis Junii 1546.

Decretum de peccato originali.

Ut fides nostra Catholica, sine qua impossibile est placere Deo, purgatis erroribus, in sua sinceritate integra & illibata permaneat; & ne populus Christianus omni vento doctrinæ circumferatur; cum scriptum ille antiquum, humani generis perpetuus hostis, inter plurima mala, quibus Ecclesia Dei his nostris temporibus perturbatur, etiam de peccato originali, ejusque remedio non solum nova, sed etiam vetera diffidia excitaverit: Sacrosancta Oecumenica & generalis Tridentina Synodus in Spiritu Sancto legitimè congregata, præsidentibus ut ea ejsdem tribus Apostolicis Sedis Legatis, jam ad renovandos errores, & nascentes confirmandos accedere volens, sacrarum Scripturarum & sanctorum Patrum, ac probatissimorum Conciliorum testimonia, & ipsius Ecclesiæ judicium, & consensum secuta, hæc de ipso peccato originali statuit, fatetur, ac declarat.

1. Si quis non confiterur primum hominem Adam, cum mandatum Dei in Paradiso fuisset transgressus, statim sanctitatem & justitiam, in qua constitutus fuerat, amisisse, & incurrisse per offensam prævaricationis hujusmodi iram, & indignationem Dei, atque ideo mortem, quam antea illi comminatus fuerat Deus, & cum morte captivitatem sub ejus potestate, qui mortis deinde habuit imperium, hoc est, Diaboli, totumque Adam per illam prævaricationem offensium, secundum corpus & animam in deterius commutatum fuisse; anathema sit.

2. Si quis Adæ prævaricationem sibi soli, & non ejus propagini, afferit nocuisse, & acceptam à Deo sanctitatem, & justitiam, quam perdidit, sibi soli, & non nobis etiam, cum perdidisse, aut inquinatum illum per inobedientiæ peccatum, mortem & pœnas corpo-vis tantùm in omne genus transfudiſſe, non autem & peccatum, quod mors eſt anima, anathema ſit, cùm contradicat Apoſtolo dicenti : Per unum hominem peccatum intravit in mundum, & per peccatum mors; & ita in omnes homines mors pertranſit, in quo omnes peccaverunt.

3. Si quis hoc Adæ peccatum, quod origine unum eſt, & propagatione, non imitatione transfuſum omnibus ineſt, unicuique proprium, vel per humanæ naturæ vires, vel per meritum unius mediatoris Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, qui nos Deo reconciliavit in ſanguine ſuo, factus nobis juſtitia, ſanctificatio & redemptio, aut negat ipſum Chriſti Jeſu meritum per Baptiſmi Sacramentum in forma Eccleſiæ ritè collatum, tam adultis quàm parvulis applicari; anathema ſit : quia non eſt aliud nomen ſub cœlo datum hominibus, in quo oporteat nos ſalvos fieri. Unde illa vox : Ecce agnus Dei! ecce qui tollit peccata mundi! Et illa : Quicunque baptizati eſtis, Chriſtum induiſtis.

4. Si quis parvulos ab uteris matrum baptizandos negat; etiamſi fuerint à Baptizatis parentibus orti; aut dicit, in remiſſionem quidem peccatorum eos baptizari, ſed nihil ex Adam trahere originalis peccati, quod regenerationis lavacro neceſſe ſit expiari ad vitam æternam conſequendam; unde ſit conſequens, ut in eis forma Baptiſmatis, in remiſſionem peccatorum, non vera, ſed falſa intelligatur; anathema ſit : quoniam non aliter intelligendum eſt id quod dixit Apoſtolus : Per unum hominem peccatum intravit in mundum, & per peccatum mors, & ita in omnes homines mors pertranſit, in quo omnes peccaverunt : niſi quemadmodum Eccleſia Catholica ubicunque diffuſa ſemper intellexit : propter hanc enim regulam fidei ex traditione Apoſtolorum etiam parvuli, qui nihil peccatorum in ſemetipſis adhuc committere potuerunt, ideo in remiſſionem peccatorum veraciter baptizantur, ut in eis regeneratione mundetur, quod generatione contraxerunt. Niſi enim quis renatus fuerit ex aqua & Spiritu Sancto, non poteſt introire in regnum Dei.

5. Si quis per Jeſu Chriſti Domini noſtri gratiam, quæ in Baptiſmate confertur, reatum originalis peccati remitti negat; aut etiam aſſerit, non tolli totum id, quod veram & propriam peccati rationem habet, ſed illud dicit tantùm radi, aut non imputari; anathema ſit. In renatis enim nihil odit Deus; quia nihil eſt damnationis iis, qui verè conſepulti ſunt cum Chriſto per Baptiſma in mortem, qui non ſecundum carnem ambulant, ſed veterem hominem exuentes, & novum, qui ſecundum Deum creatus eſt, induentes, innocentes, immaculati, puri, innoxii, ac Deo dilecti effecti ſunt, hæredes quidem Dei, cohæredes autem Chriſti, ita ut nihil prorſus eos ab ingreſſu cœli remoretur. Manere autem in baptizatis concupiſcentiam, vel fomitem, hæc ſancta Synodus fatetur, & ſentit : quæ cùm ad agonem relicta ſit, nocere non conſentientibus, ſed utiliter per Chriſti Jeſu gratiam repugnantibus, non valet. Quinimò, qui legitimè certaverit, coronabitur. Hanc concupiſcentiam, quam aliquando Apoſtolus peccatum appellat, ſancta Synodus declarat Eccleſiam Catholicam nunquam intellexiſſe peccatum appellari, quòd verè & propriè in- renatis peccatum ſit, ſed quia ex peccato eſt, & ad peccatum inclinat. Si quis autem contrarium ſenſerit, anathema ſit.

Declarat tamen hac ipſa ſancta Synodus, non eſſe ſuæ intentionis, comprehendere in hoc decreto, ubi de peccato originali agitur, beatam & immaculatam Virginem Mariam, Dei genitricem, ſed obſervandas eſſe conſtitutiones felicis recordationis Sixti Papæ IV. ſub pœnis in eis conſtitutionibus contentis, quas innovat.

Cap. 1.

CONſtitutionibus ſummorum Pontificum & Conciliorum probatorum inhærens ſancta Synodus, & illis adjiciens, ſtatuit, ut Epiſcopi, & alii locorum ordinarii compellant eos, qui in Eccleſiis habent prebendam, ſeu præſtimonium, ſeu ſtipendium lectoribus ſacræ Theologiæ deputatum, ad ipſius ſacræ Scripturæ expoſitionem, ſi idonei ipſi ſint, per ſe ipſos, alioqui per idoneum ſubſtitutum, qui ab ipſis Epiſcopis vel ordinariis eligatur, etiam per ſubſtractionem fructuum, ac deinceps hujuſmodi prebendæ vel ſtipendia iis conferantur, qui id munus præſtare per ſe poſſint: & aliter facta proviſio nullius momenti ſit.

Si hujuſmodi emolumenta non ſint deputata in eccleſiis Metropolitanis, & aliis inſignium oppidorum, prebenda primò vacatura ipſo facto ad hunc uſum perpetuò deputata intelligatur. Ubi verò prebenda aut non ſit, aut parum ſufficiens ſit, Epiſcopus tunc ſimplicis beneficii fructus applicet, vel alia ratione ſtipendium ita provideat de Capituli conſilio, ut hac ſacræ Scripturæ lectio habeatur: ita tamen ut aliæ quæcunque lectiones antea inſtitutæ non prætermittantur.

Quæ autem Eccleſiæ tenues habent proventus, quæque Clero ac populo tam ſunt exiguo, ut Theologiæ lectionem tolerare commodè non poſſint, habeant ſaltem magiſtrum, qui Grammaticam pauperes gratis doceat, ut deinceps ad ſtudia ſacra tranſire ſit facile: & huic magiſtro dum docendi munus exercuerit, Epiſcopus unde vivat beneficium aut ſalarium aſſignabit.

In Monaſteriis etiam Monachorum (ubi id commodè poſſit fieri) eadem ſacræ Scripturæ lectio aſſignetur, compellántque ad eam rem Epiſcopi, Abbates, ſi fuerint ipſi negligentes. Hanc etiam lectionem Scripturæ ſacræ habeant conventus aliorum regularium, quam Capitula ipſorum dignioribus Magiſtris commendabunt. In Gymnaſiis publicis, in quibus inſtituta non eſt, erigatur: & ſi jam inſtituta negligitur, reſtituatur. Et ſtatuit ſancta Synodus, neminem ad hanc ſacræ Scripturæ interpretationem publicè vel privatim profitendam admittendum, qui non fuerit ab Epiſcopo loci examinatus, & in moribus atque doctrina approbatus: quod tamen de lectoribus in clauſtris monachorum non intelligatur: Tam verò publicè in ſcholis docentes ſacram Scripturam, quàm auditores eorum, privilegiis omnibus de perceptione beneficiorum in abſentia à jure conceſſis plenè gaudeant.

Caput 2.

Statuit ſancta Synodus, omnes Epiſcopos, Archiepiſcopos, Primates, & alios Eccleſiarum prælatos teneri per ſeipſos ad prædicandum ſanctum Jeſu Chriſti Evangelium, ſi impediti legitimè non ſint, (hoc enim præcipuum Epiſcoporum munus eſt) quòd ſi ipſi legitimo detineantur impedimento, viros idoneos ad id exercendum aſſumant juxta formam generalis Concilii, & qui hoc adimplere contempſerit, diſtricta ſubjaceat ultioni.

Archipresbyteri quoque & omnes curam habentes animarum per ſe vel per alios (ſi ipſi non poſſint) idoneos, diebus ſaltem dominicis & feſtis ſolennibus, plebes ſibi commiſſas paſcant ſalutaribus verbis, pro ſua & earum capacitate: doceant ea, quæ ſcire omnibus neceſſarium eſt ad ſalutem, annuncient cum brevitate & facilitate ſermonis, vitia, quæ declinare, virtutes, quas ſectari oporteat, ut pœnam æternam evadere, & cœleſtem gloriam conſequi valeant. Quod ſi facere negligant, (licet ſe exemptos, aut Eccleſias exemptas, aut annexas monaſteriis habere cauſentur) Epiſcopus in cujus diœceſi ſint, eos moneat, & poſt trium menſium ſpatium, ſi muneri ſuo etiam tunc defuerint, cogat eos per cenſuras, aut alia ratione, quæ Epiſcopo expedire videatur, donec ipſi reſipiſcant. Quòd ſi ſint Eccleſiæ parochiales monaſteriis ſubjectæ, extra totam Epiſcopi diœceſin, & prælati in prædictis negligentes fuerint, Metropolitanis, in quorum provinciis ſunt, compellantur, neque executionem impediat exemptio aut appellatio, &c.

Regulares verò cujuſcunque ordinis, niſi à ſuperioribus de vita & moribus, & ſcientia examinati, & approbati fuerint, ac de eorum licentia, etiam in Eccleſiis ſuorum ordinum, prædicare non poſſint: cum qua licentia perſonaliter ſe coram Epiſcopis præſentare & ab eis benedictionem petere teneantur, antequam prædicare incipiant.

In Eccleſiis verò, quæ ſuorum ordinum non ſunt, ultra licentiam ſuorum ſuperiorum, etiam Epiſcopi licentiam habere teneantur, ſine qua in ipſis Eccleſiis non ſuorum ordinum nullo modo prædicare poſſint. Ipſam autem licentiam gratis Epiſcopi concedant.

Si verò (quod abſit) prædicator errores aut ſcandala diſſeminaverit in populum, etiamſi in monaſterio ſui vel alterius ordinis, prædicet,) Epiſcopus ei prædicationem interdicat. Quòd ſi hæreſes prædicaverit, contra eum ſecundùm juris diſpoſitionem aut loci conſuetudinem procedat, etiamſi prædicator ipſe generali vel ſpeciali privilegio exemptum ſe eſſe prætenderet. Quo caſu Epiſcopus auctoritate Apoſtolica, & tanquam Sedis Apoſtolicæ delegatus, procedat. Curent autem Epiſcopi, ne quis prædicator, vel ex falſis informationibus, vel aliàs calumniosè vexetur, ne juſtam de eis conquerendi occaſionem habeat.

Caveant præterea Epiſcopi, ne aliquem vel eorum, qui, cùm ſint nomine regulares, extra clauſtra tamen & obedientiam religionum ſuarum vivunt, vel presbyterorum ſecularium, niſi ipſis noti ſint, & moribus atque doctrina probati, etiam privilegiorum quorumlibet prætextu, in ſua civitate, vel diœceſi prædicare permittant: donec ab ipſis Epiſcopis

ſuper ea re dicta ſedes Apoſtolica conſulatur: à qua privilegia hujuſmodi, niſi tacita veritate, & expreſſo mendacio, ab indignis extorqueri veriſimile non eſt.

Quæſtores verò elecmoſynarii, qui etiam quæſtuarii vulgò dicuntur, cujuſcunque conditionis exiſtant, nullo modo nec per ſe, nec per alium prædicare præſumant, & contra facientes, ab Epiſcopis & Ordinariis locorum, privilegiis quibuſcunque non obſtantibus, opportunis remediis omnino arceantur.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS V.

POſtquam Seſſionis IV. decreta ad Pontificem miſſa ſunt, Legatos is monuit, tum ne ullum deinceps decretum promulgetur, niſi Romæ priùs approbatum: tum ne de capitibus non controverſis tempus poſthac conſumant: tum denique, ne unquam, quacunque de cauſa, ad diſputationem de authoritate Papæ veniatur. Legati ſe ad juſſa ejus patranda promptiſſimos eſſe reſpondent. Interim idem Papa per literas per Hieronymum Francum Nuntium miſſas, & Epiſcopis Curienſi, ac Sedunenſi, nec non Abbati Sancti Galli aliiſque inſcriptas, Helvetios, utpote ſibi præ cæteris charos, ſedis Apoſtolicæ filios peculiares, & libertatis eccleſiaſticæ propugnatores, monet, ut nullâ morâ interpoſitâ etiam ipſi Tridentum ſe conferant. Sed & Electorem Colonienſem Pontifex, eò quòd in Bullam Leonis X. adverſus Lutherum ſcriptam incurriſſet, Epiſcopatu & ſacrorum communione interdicit, populúmque ditioni ejus ſubditum à juramento fidelitatis, quo ei tenebatur, abſolvit. Cúmque Cæſarem, ut ſententiam hanc exſequeretur, rogaret, ille tamen brutum hoc fulmen ſuſque déque habens, loco priſtino Electorem habuit. Prima porro congregatione de lectionibus Sacræ Scripturæ & verbi divini prædicatione, agi voluerunt Epiſcopi Hiſpani aliique: Legatis Pontificiis urgentibus, ut de peccato originali potiùs tractatio ſuſciperetur. Qua de controverſia conſultus Papa reſpondit tandem, ut cum dogmatibus Reformatio conjungeretur. Secunda in Congregatione placuit patribus diſtinguere genera particularia congregationum, ita ut unum conſtet partim Theologis ſimul & Canoniſtis, ubi de Reformatione agendum; hac lege, ut præſint Legati, & liberum ſit adeſſe etiam Epiſcopis: alterum verò ſolis Prælatis, qui capita ſive doctrinæ ſive Reformationis redigerent in ordinem, quò in generali Congregatione ea proponi ordine, & ex iis decreta formari poſſint. piſcopi quidem Hiſpani potiſſimum querebantur, quòd indultu Papæ fratres ſibi tum concionandi, tum in Academiis prælegendi poteſtatem conciliaverint, & Epiſcopis, ad quos ſolos munus illud ex divino inſtituto pertineat, ſic ademerint, ut ne reliquiæ quidem iis ſuperſint. Antiquitus Monachos inſtitutos eſſe plangendis hominum noxis: qua ſevera denuntiatione eis vetitum fuerit docere & concionari. At nunc eos Epiſcoporum legibus ſolutos, ut ſuo vel conventûs ſui bono Eleemoſynas eliciant, ſalute animorum poſthabitâ, hoc unum ſpectare, quomodo delectando, aſſentando & hominum affectibus obſecundando, rem ſuam auctiorem faciant. Contra fratrum Regularium Generales jus ſuum prædicandi non minùs fortiter aſſerebant, obtendentes Papæ privilegium ſibi ideo conceſſum, quia Epiſcopi & Curiones adeò officium ſuum neglexerint, ut compluribus ſeculis neque templa ad populum concionibus, neque ſcholæ doctrinâ Theologicâ perſonarent. Eis adeò efferbuit, ut ne in ſoquenti quidem congregatione ſopiri potuerit. Acceſſit controverſia, an ſuffragiorum ſummaria tantum in congregationibus effent recitanda? Id cùm pertenderent Legati, Bracius Martellus Epiſcopus Feſulanus acriter ſe oppoſuit, oſtendidque, in congregatione generali omnium ſuffragia & ſuffragiorum rationes prodùci oportere. Sed Legati ejus orationem commotiorem ut & Epiſcopum Oſcenſem Romæ irreverentiæ, & ſeditionis inſimulant, & ſimul ad Pontificem ſcribunt de controverſia Epiſcopos inter & fratres Regulares oborta. De duobus Epiſcopis reſpondit Pontifex, ſe in tempore opportuna remedia datorum. De controverſia verò Epiſcopos inter & Regulares miſſi Romæ in conſilium Cardinales, obſervârunt ſtatim, Epiſcoporum deſiderio eò pertingere, ut in ſua quiſque diœceſi Papæ ſibi partes deferret. Sublato enim privilegio & immunitate Pontificia, cunctisque pendentibus ab Epiſcopis, nemine autem à Pontifice, idoneas cauſas proficiſcendi Romam mox defuturas. Antiquiſſimis temporibus Pontifices Romanos primatui à Chriſto ſibi concello conſervando, paſtoalis loce & principalis arcem habituiſſe, Epiſcopos Archiepiſcoporum, Abbates Epiſcoporum jurisdictæ exemere, ut eos tui ita haberent perſonas ſibi ipſis defendendas obligatas. Atque ita hactenus à Monachis magis, quàm ipſis Epiſcopis Papalem poteſtatem ſtrenuè defenſam eſſe. Qui igitur privilegia Fratrum aboleri cupiant, eos Pontificatum directè oppugnare, non ordines Monachorum. Reſpondet igitur ea de re Legatis Pontifex, ut ordinum Regularium ſtatum tueantur, & Epiſcopis perſuadeant, temperantiam rebus adhibendam eſſe. Id reſponſum cùm Româ Tridentum perveniſſet, varie affecti ſunt Patres. Pertendebant nonnulli, quoad præleCtiones veterem conſuetudinem inſtaurandam eſſe, tum Monaſteria & Canonicorum ca- tus nihil aliud fuerint illim, quàm Collegia & Scholæ. Cujus rei in plerisque Ecclesiis cathedralibus extare reliquias, quippe in quibus in Scholasticum, qui caput est Lectorum, dignitas cum præbenda conferatur. Itaque & in Cathedrales Ecclesias & in Monasteria introducendum veterem illum Scararum prælectionum usum, Episcopis demandata potestate exequendi. Obstabat tamen Legatis, quòd Pontificia sic privilegia, Monachos eximentia à potestate Episcoporum attingerentur. Itaque Sebastianus Pighius auditor Rotæ bellum temperamentum invenit, ut ea quidem provincia Episcopis traderetur, sed à Pontifice delegata. Idque admodum probabant Legati, qui eadem via alias etiam difficultates conciliarunt. Theologiam Scholasticam, utpote quæ in rebus naturalibus & Philosophicis, quàm in divinis lubentius verfetur, ex prælectionibus publicis eliminari petierunt Canonistæ. Sed vori competes redditi non sunt. Quoad conciones Legati Episcopos plerosque imprimis Italos, ne privilegia Pontificia Fratribus concessa detrimentum pati finerent, induxerunt. Verum deinde ad dogmata fidei, & de peccato originali conscripti sunt articuli novem, de quibus variis in congregationibus actum à Theologis, quorum consilium in explicanda natura peccati originalis & ejusdem ad posteros transfinitione, de concupiscentia reginitorum, de conceptione B. Virginis in peccato, de pœna parvulorum absque baptismo decedentium, inferius exhibebimus. Antistites verò conficiendo decreto destinati, facta Theologorum relatione, decreta tum Fidei tum Reformationis condunt. Dubium de conceptione B. Virginis Mariæ relatum ad Papam, qui quæstionem hanc indecisam relinquendam esse respondit. Interea Cæsar clam apparatum bellicum facit adversus Protestantes, & Pontificis promissa auxilia solicitat. Tandem die Junii 15. sessio habita, & promulgatum in ea decretum tum Fidei, constans anathematis quinque: tum Reformationis, constans duabus partibus, quarum prior erat de prælectionibus, posterior de prædicationibus. De prælectionibus sanctum, tum ut qui publicum aliquem literarum S. Theologiæ, Scripturæ an per se aut per alios idoneos exponant: ubi verò in Ecclesiis Cathedralibus nullus beneficiatus stipendium decret, quæ cunque ratione constituatur: tum ut in Ecclesiis tenuioribus alatur Ludimagister, qui Grammaticam gratis doceat: tum denique, ut in Monasteriis, conventibus, aliorum Regularium Gymnasiis item publicis locis Scripturæ studium urgeatur; ubi collapsa, reficiuntur; ubi negotia patrocinantur, ita tamen ut ipsi lectores ante examinentur & approbentur ab Episcopis, aliisque beneficiis, privilegiisque omnibus frustentur. De Concionibus verò ita prædicationibus sanctum, tum ut Archiepiscopi, Episcopi, nisi legitimè impediantur, ipsi prædicent Evangelium, sin verò impediantur, per alios idoneos exequantur: Archipresbyteri vero, Plebani, Parochiales diebus saltem Dominicis & Festis solemnibus doceant, atque idque ſub pœna negligentiæ pro Epiſcopi arbitrio irroganda: tum, ne ulli ad prædicandum admittantur, niſi à ſuperioribus ſuis examinati & approbati fuerint, licentiam quoque impetraverint, ne errores aut eos docentes tolerentur, neque etiam quæſtoribus Eleemoſynariis prædicare licitum ſit.

NOTÆ

Ad Hiſtoriam & Decretum Seſſionis V.

PRimò libertatis Concilii violatæ non unum in hac Seſſione argumentum denuo apparet. Pontifex per literas prohibet quicquam promulgare ampliùs, niſi priùs Romæ communicatum & approbatum. Idem Legatis injungit, caveant, ne unquam quacunque de cauſa ad diſputationem de authoritate Papæ veniatur. Epiſcopum Feſulanum & Oſcenſem ob ſermonis libertatem Romæ Legati deferunt, & Synodo moveri expetunt. Editioni vulgatæ emendandæ, qui antea à Concilio ſelecti fuerant, jubentur à Papa opus jam inceptum abrumpere. Cùm controverſia de jure prælegendi & concionandi Epiſcopos inter & Monachos, nec non de immaculata conceptione B. Virginis Dominicos inter & Franciſcanos gliſceret, Pontifex à Legatis conſultus, quid decernendum ſit, præſcribit. Hæc arguunt, Concilium Pontifici ſoli obnoxium. Secundò Pontificiæ authoritati ſtabiliendæ contra fas & jus omnes machinæ admotæ ſunt. Hinc nempe vetat Pontifex, ne in diſputationem de authoritate Papæ veniatur. Quaſi videlicet principium id eſſet ἀναπόδεικτον. Et in controverſia Epiſcopos inter & Monachos, ne privilegia Papæ conceſſa Monachis, quibus illi immediatè Papæ mancipantur, & à poteſtate Epiſcoporum eximuntur, ullo modo attingantur, ſtudioſiſſimè cautum ubique eſt. Romæ etiam Cardinales palladium & principale arcanum Papæ produnt, ut nimirum Epiſcopi Archiepiſcoporum, & Abbates Epiſcoporum juriſdictione eximantur, quò ſic ſolus Papa regnaret. Tertiò Pontifex Electorem Colonienſem Epiſcopatu & ſacrorum communione ob religionem, vix dum Concilio cœpto, interdicens, bullas contra Electorem Saxoniæ, & Landgravium Haſſiæ diſſeminans, nec non Cæſari auxilia ad exterminandos hæreticos promittens, oſtendit ſe vi potiùs, quàm jure maluiſſe graſſari, & bellum Concilio, à quo ſibi timebat, antehabuiſſe. Quartò memorabilis eſt controverſia Epiſcopos inter & fratres regulares, de jure concionandi & prælegendi. Illa enim, quis ſtatus fuerit eccleſiæ, & quæ vulnera ante Reformationem, prodit. Epiſcopi accuſabant Regulares, quòd concionandi munus munus invaſiriat eo fine, ut ſuo & conventûs ſui bono eleemoſynas elicant, itque eas conſequerentur, hoc unum eos ſpectare, quomodo delectando, aſſentando, & hominum affectibus obſequendo, rem ſuam auctiorem faciant. Viciſſim Regularium Generales Epiſcoporum in concionando negligentiam graviſſimè accuſant, & compluribus ſeculis neque Templa ad populum concionibus, neque Scholas doctrinâ Theologiæ perſonuiſſe queruntur. Qualis quæſo fuit eccleſiæ facies, cùm, juxta querelam Regularium, paſtoribus gregem ſuum compluribus ſeculis deſerentibus, juxta oppoſitam querelam Epiſcoporum, Monachi mercenarii ſe intruſerunt, qui nihil fecerunt reliqui delectando, aſſentando, dum rem ſuam auctiorem facerent? Quinto Concilii & Papæ in definienda Dominicanos inter & Franciſcanos de immaculata conceptione B. Virginis controverſia, timiditas & ignavia notari meritò debet. Quæ enim æquitas fuit, qualibet occaſione detonare in Evangelicos, at controverſias inter Monachos graviſſimis contendentium ſtudiis & odiis agitatas, indeciſas relinquere? Quæ hic unitas eccleſiæ Pontificiæ, de qua tam ſtolidè gloriari ſolent? Pertinet huc querela Marci Vigneriі Senogalienſis Epiſcopi, F. Hieronymi Aſculani Apoſtolorum Generalis, & Andreæ Vegæ Theologi Franciſcani, in Concilio anxiè notata, quòd iniquum ſit Lutheranorum de peccato originali opinionem damnare, neque tamen quid Catholici ſentiant, explanare. Nempe de eſſentia peccati originalis, aliisque diſcordantes in Concilio Theologorum opiniones ne quidem attingere Patres voluerunt, qui promptiſſimos tamen ſe præſtiterunt in damnandis ubique Evangelicis. Ita videlicet integrum erat ipſis, damnodo Papæ ſe ſubjicerent, inter ſe mutuò qualibet de re diſſentire. At noſtris Pontificiam authoritatem aſpernantibus, intuta fuerunt omnia. Sexto notatum etiam meretur, quòd tam perfunctoriè omnia tractârint Patres. Primò articulos omnreve fos diſcutiendos reliquerunt Theologis, quibus fas non erat aliquid decernere. Deinde ſummaria duntaxat opinionum, quas Theologi & Canoniſtæ in diverſis præcedentibus congregationibus protuliſſent, Legati in generali congregatione recitari juſſerunt, nequicquam repugnante Bracio Martello Epiſcopo Feſulano, & in contrarium demonſtrante, neceſſarium eſſe, ut congregatio generalis, omnium ſuffragia, & omnium ſuffragiorum rationes omnes intelligat, non autem collectanea & ſummulas duntaxat audiat. Ex ſummariis iis Patres, quorum pauci Theologiæ aliquia cognitione præditi erant, plerique verò conſulti juris, vel ad modum aulæ diſciplinis leviter tinctі, decreta pro lubitu, non expenſis ſententiarum argumentis formabant. Ita in diſſinditis congregationibus alii, Theologi nempe deliberabant, & momenta rationum expendebant: alii pura Epiſcopi, & quibus ſuffragandi jus competebat,ex ſummariis non expenſis decreta formabant. Quàm quæſo hoc pudendum & generali Concilio indignum fuit? Septimò decreta fidei quod attinet,alia Pelagianos, alia Anabaptiſtas,Proteſtantes alia feriunt. Pelagianos feriunt canones tres priores; in quibus lubentes Concilio calculum noſtrum addimus. Tantùm notamus eius ἀκαιρίαν, quod præferebat, ſe ad hæreſin novam extirpandam cojiſſe. Quid igitur attinebat de hæreſi Pelagiana ex ſupervacuo agere,mille retro annis damnata? Canon quartus haud inviitis nobis Anabaptiſtas pulſat. Quæ nos concernunt,in duplici ſunt differentia. Alia enim per calumniam nobis impinguntur: alia pro veris defendimus. Calumnia eſt, Zwinglianos, quos vocant, negare, corruptionem hæreditariam eſſe vere peccatum,& aſſerere,infantes nihil habere ex Adamo peccati. Eſto,Zwinglius hoc ſtatuerit. An quiſquam Evangelicorum ſecutus eſt? Sed merum fuit Concilii de Zwinglio ſomnium. Summus enim vir nunquam peccatum originale negavit. Vocavit quidem morbum, defectum,vitium naturæ,concupiſcentiam pravam. Non aliter peccatum originale vocavit Lombardus, & ipſe Auguſtinus, quorum neuter peccatum originale, niſi fallor, negatum ivit. Cùm verò inficiatus eſt, originalem hunc morbum eſſe peccatum,per peccatum actuale peccatorum intellexit. In declaratione ad Urbanum Regium non tantùm morbum vocat,ſed & culpam per ſe damnabilem. In Commentario ad caput quintum Epiſtolæ Rom.in hæc verba inſit: Adam uno peccato nos omnes condemnat. Quo uno aphoriſmo omnem calumniæ σκῶμμα fortiter profligat. Videſis etiam Zwinglii apologiam apud doctiſſimum G. J. Voſſium Theſ. Theol. pag.581. De reliquis agemus in controverſiis. Octavo,Reformationis decreta ſpeciem quidem Reformationis habent,verùm emendationem eleri attulerunt omnino nullam. Nam in utroque genere antiquum obtinet,Epiſcopis non majorem,quàm antea, concionandi,populúmque erudiendi ſolicitudinem gerentibus, & varios Monachos, alioſque ejuſmodi, qui perfunctorie aliquando feſtivis diebus concionentur, conducentibus. Præterea indulgentia illa, qua permiſſum eſt Epiſcopis concionandi munus per vicarios exequi, verbo Dei conſentanea non eſt. Nam Paulus Epheſ.IV. 11.12. Paſtores & Doctores diviniùs eſſe datos ait,ut ædificationem corporis Chriſti miniſterio ſuo promoveant. Idem in Epiſtolis ad Timotheum & Titum docendi partes ipſimet Epiſcopis præcribit. Quin etiam hujuſmodi opera vicaria ſere mercenaria eſſe ſolet. Quæ vero impedimenta ſunt, quæ Epiſcopos prohibent, quo minùs concionentur? Nempe dominium temporale, cura animarum, venationes,ludi,belli apparatus,& verbo dicam,a filiis σκεγγαυτίαις negotia hujus hujus facti, quibus Timotheum fuum implicari vetuit graviter Paulus 2. Timoth. II. 3.4.5. Nonò in decreto Reformationis de præfectionibus & concionibus, id potissimum confideramus, quòd Scholasticorum & Canonistarum abusus gravissimos emendare Patres neglexerint. Non ignoraverant enim, Canonistas Pontifici divinas proprietates tribuere, Deum vocantes, infallibilitatem ei adscribentes, idem tribunal utrique concedentes, atque ipso Christo clemextiorem asserentes. Sed & Scholasticos, eorumque Theologiam in Concilio infectari funt Canonistæ, eliminari eam expetentes, quid in Philosophicis & naturalibus, quam divina libertate aspernentur. In propatulo erat, eos doctrinæ Christianæ fundamentum, Scripturæ neglectâ, in Aristotelis Philosophia ponere. Cur ergo eorum, at concionatorum plerorumque, alia omnia quam Christum prædicantium, æquanimes & imperterrem Concilium non damnavit? Scipio Henricus Censur. pag. 194. superbè & ferociter respondet: Hæreticorum pertinacium affectandum non fuisse. Quid igitur Concilio opus erat, si rationes noftrorum, quos hæreticos nequiter appellat, expendi non debuerunt? Quid quòd de Scholasticis ipsis in Concilio Canonistæ querelam moverunt? Impie asserit idem, Christi epistheta convenire etiam Papæ ejus vicario. Expressa est hæc in Christum blasphemia, quam ipse, Judex mundi, vindicabit suo tempore. Nunc ad quæstiones hujus Sessionis Theologicas accedamus.

QUÆSTIO I.

Qua in re sita sit peccati originalis essentia?

FAde quæstione cùm inter Theologos certatum esset in Synodo, nihil definire ausa est, sed teste Andradio, qui Concilio ipse interfuit, illud reliquit fuis libertate opinandi. Atque adeò in ecclesia Pontificia, quid sit peccatum originale, mira supinitate definitum hactenus non est. In ipso Concilio variatum est sententiis, uti videre est apud Historicum lib. II. 4.30. De Scholasticis sic pronunciat: Sancti doctores fub obscuritate hic latuisse sunt, atque Scholasticis doctoribus varia sensisse. Thomistæ cum Augustino ejus formalitatem asserunt esse concupiscentiam: Scotistæ verò cum Anshelmo originalis justitiæ carentiam. Quos Cardinalis Sarnanus conciliare frustra conatus est. In Concilio Ambrosius Catharinus, fectuus Pighium, peccatum originale nihil esse aiud, quàm peccatum Adami imputatum posteris asserut. Ei se oppositit Dominicus à Soto. Communior & receptior hodie apud Pontificios sententia est, quam proponit & tuetur Bel-larminus lib.V. de amiſſ.gratiæ & ſtatu peccati, cap.17. quòd nimirum peccatum originale ſit carentia doni divini ſupernaturalis,per actum peccati Adami effecta. Sic nempe ſentiunt,peccatum originale nihil aliud eſſe,quàm carentiam juſtitiæ originalis,tanquam doni & freni aurei ſupernaturalis,naturæ hominis in creatione ſuperadditi. Itaque freno eo per peccatum ſublato,naturalia manſiſſe integra & hominem ſibi eſſe relictum,atque in eum ſtatum redactum,in quo erat ante lapſum in puris naturalibus. Unde nonnulli peccatum originale definiunt ſenſualitatem deſtitutam juſtitiæ originalis freno. Nos ſanè peccatum originale privationem quidem vocamus originalis juſtitiæ, ſed non nudam,verùm talem,quæ in intellectu ignorantiam & propenſionem ad falſas cogitationes de Deo,ad errores & dubitationes de Dei verbo; in voluntate averſionem & propenſionem ad ſecuritatem carnalem & diffidentiam; in appetitu rebellionem, in omnibus illis mortem ſpiritualem in bono, & vitam vivaciſſimam in malo ponat. Neque verentur noſtri,ut naturam peccati hujus expreſſiùs deſignent,illud oppoſitè ad ſententiam adverſariorum vocare qualitatem poſitivam, nempe qualitatem non propriè,ſed metaphoricè,quia more qualitatis veluti ſubjectum afficiat: poſitivam verò non phyſicè, quaſi eſſet qualitas naturalis creata, rei ſive ſubjecto ex creatione conveniens, ſed tum Logicè, quia aliquid affirmat de ſubjecto; tum Ethicè, quia eſt qualitas mala bonæ contraria. Qualitatem igitur poſitivam cùm vocamus, hoc volumus, non eſſe illud privationem omnis actionis expertem,aut quæ vires agendi nullas relinquat,qualis eſt cæcitas; verùm operoſam,negocioſam,furacem,quæ vires quidem tollat agendi bene,cæterùm affectas quaſi veneficio ſuo facultates ad malè agendum inclinet & detorqueat. Quale eſt vitium oculorum, à quo dicuntur arquati: quo fit,non quidem, ut planè non videant, ſed ut ſincerè non videant, aliterque corpora contueantur,quàm ſunt. Fucum facit Bellarminus,qui in peccato originali agnoſcere ſe ait habitualem averſionem & obliquitatem voluntatis. Non enim intelligit per peccatum novam qualitatem in homine contractam,ſed dempta ſupernaturali juſtitia eaſdem qualitates,eoſdem habitus remanſiſſe,quales habuerit homo in puris naturalibus,innuit. Argumentis ad noſtram ſententiam inducimur ſequentibus.

ARG. I. Scriptura,quoties peccatum originale inſinuat, non meram privationem, ſed aliquid quodammodo poſitivum inculcat: tale nimirum vitium,quo caro concupiſcit adverſus Spiritum, id eſt, per quod homo ad malum pronus & divinæ legi contrarius fit, ut Rom.VI.12. VII.17.20.21. 23.Gal.V.17.Epheſ.IV.18.Hebr.XII.1.quibus in locis deſcribitur tanquam fervida & quaſi furens ad peſſima quæque patranda proclivitas.

RESPONDERE REDINGIUS Tract.III. Ss.2. pag.271. nihil potuit. Tantùm tres quæſtiunculas diſcutit, in quarum nulla argumentum noſtrum attingit. Fruſtra Manichæiſmum nobis impingit, cùm Manichæi entia realia & naturalia à Deo bono non producta dari deliraverint; nos verò peccatum originale ejuſmodi ens eſſe pernegemus. Illi potiùs Manichæis deteriores ſunt, qui concupiſcentiæ mortem & languorem, qui peccati exſors eſſe nequit, homini primo à Deo, & quidem Bono optimóque concreatum, pertendant. Inſcitiam etiam ſuam Philoſophicam ille Metaphyſicorum ocellus prodit, ſcribens, inter Ens (reale ſcilicet, nam de hoc diſertè agit) & non ens medium non dari. quod pædagogorum ferulam meretur Si verò per non Ens, non nihil, ſed non ens reale intellexit, ipſemet jam argumentum mihi oppoſitum ſolvit. Tale enim non Ens reale peccatum originis eſt. Ubi porro peccati ejusdem naturam in concupiſcentia ſola conſiſtere dixi? Quòd Auguſtinus in locis à Bellarmino citatis, id eſſe in homine vitium concupiſcentiæ, quod in animantibus rationis expertibus natura eſt, docet, non efficit, concupiſcentiam in homine non eſſe qualitatem corruptam, ſed ſenſitivum duntaxat appetitum. Quomodo Auguſtino concupiſcentia corrupta non eſt qualitas, quam vitii nomine ipſemet inſignivit; quámque lib. I. de nupt. & concup. cap.20. diſertè affectionem quandam malæ qualitatis inſignit? Alibi de Civit. D. lib.XIV.c. 3. agnoſcit idem, vitium concupiſcentiæ in ſuperioribus etiam animæ facultatibus hærere. Confert quidem hominem per peccatum corruptum cum brutis quoad concupiſcentiam, hoc eſt, pronum ad libidinem & reliqua peccata impetum. non quòd cum Manichæis & Pontificiis exiſtimaverit, appetitum hominis ſenſitivum in puris naturalibus fuiſſe à Deo talem, hoc eſt, cum prono illo ad peccandum impetu conditum; ſed quia quod in brutis nec legi, nec fœderi Dei ſubjectis, natura eſt, id in homine vitium eſt. Nam ante lapſum appetitus ſenſitivus hominis non tantùm ſuperaddito juſtitiæ dono exteriùs repreſſus eſt; ſed etiam integriùs rectus & integer, atque ad Deum converſus totus creatus à Deo eſt. Non enim bruti, ſed hominis appetitum Deus condidit.

ARG. II. Eadem Scriptura in intellectu ponit ignorantiam, Rom. I. 21. Epheſ. IV. 18. in voluntate & appetitu corruptionem ſummam, quippe cui paſſim tribuit non tantùm averſionem à bono, ſed etiam malitiam, fraudulentiam, inimicitiam adverſus Deum: non tantùm volendi & exequendi impotentiam, ſed etiam efficaciam volendi id, quod malum eſt.

RESP. REDING: 1. Ignorantia, cujus Rom.I.2. Epheſ.IV.18. mentio eſt, non originalis, ſed ex peccatis actualibus, neglectu naturalis luminis, quo debitum cultum Deus inſpiravit; nec non luxuria carnis exerta eſt. Eſt quidem ignorantia effectus peccati originalis, ſed non proprius ei in quarto modo, quia etiam in ſtatu puræ naturæ, ſi ſubſtitiiſſet ille, locum habuiſſet. Unde peccato originali jam remiſſo, in infantibus tamen manet. 2. Neque corruptio ſumma voluntatis & appetitus poſt regenerationem & baptiſmum eſt formaliter averſio à bono, & inimicitia adverſus Deum. 3. Cùm S.Paulus Rom.II.14. teſtetur, gentes, quæ legem non habent, naturâ ea, quæ legis ſunt, facere, atque iidem peccato originali haud dubiè infecti fuerint, liquet igitur, peccatum originale eſſentialiter impotentiam volendi ac exequendi bonum, una cum efficacia volendi malum non importare. lb. pag. 271--273. Ain us, Reding! ignorantiam, cul-pabilem fcilicet, de qua fola quæftio eft, ad peccatum originale non pertinere, ab eo fe-parabilem effe, & in ftatu naturæ pure (vere purum, non Scholaſticorum impuram in-telligo) louum obtinuiſſe? Annon originale peccatum affecit animam hominis peccati-ta totam, ſingulaſque eius facultates, à prima origine fua corruptas? Intellectum autem à prima origine quid aliud, quàm ignorantia veri Dei & ſalutis propriæ corrupit? Unde non ſi ſit (naturæ fcilicet corruptæ vitio) qui intelligat, Rom. III. 10. Et ſignorum cognitio-nem hominis omne animum mulcere vifi eſt, ait Auguſtinus etiam prima concupiſcentia, pri-mo nativitatis, Genef. VI. 6. VIII. 21. Cùmque inuago Dei etiam in tenuiſſimi cognitione conſiſtere, ſi. Colof. III. 10. privatio imaginis Dei per peccatum non potuit non privatio-nem cognitionis, adeoque ignorantiam originalem poſſe fe tuëri. Quia S. Paulus Rom. I. 21. Ephef. IV. 18. non à peccato actuali ullo ἀσυνέτους καρδίας esse non intelligent, adeò-que ignorantiæ tenebrarios implicitum, & ἄγνοιαν ignorantiam, ſeu potius ab hoc ignoran-tiæ tenebrationisque incrementum, aliaque peccata manifeſta deriuare. Ita enim Rom. I. 21. obtenebratum ait gentilium cor? Quia in iis fuit cor non intelligens. Cf. Ephef. IV. 18. eosdem obtenebratos intelligentia fua pronuntiat? Quia in ea ſtat ignoran-ignorantia. Quidnam ſi homini integro tu vendituræ aulus fuerit, Deum peccati & tene-brarum authorem fuiſſe? quæ eadem ratione fcetia. Et peccato remiſſo manere ta-dem in infantibus & adultis, nec exui ante noviſſima, licet debilitatam infractámque in-dies per Spiritum S. regenerantem, nihil certè impedit. 2. An ergo corruptio ſumma va-luntatis in regenitis etiam locum habet? In regenitis vero eadem non poteſt non cor-rati originalis pars conſtitui. Die Reding! ſi ad peccatum originale nec ignorantia nec voluntatis corruptio pertinet, quid ei ultra relinquitur? Senſitiva enim appetitus fine in-telle ctu & voluntate peccante vitioſus eſſe nequit. Non enim principaliter corrupta eſt ani-ma peccat, diſſidémque peccantis organon corpus eſt. Tua igitur ratiocinatio prorſus pec-catum originale non in regenitis duntaxat, ſed etiam in irregenitis tollit, & fermentum totum Pelagianum profert. 3. Fecerunt gentes naturâ quæ ſunt legis. Neque enim vel de omnibus gentilibus id Apoſtolus pronuntiavit: vel ita naturâ id fecerunt ad natu-ræ gratiâ & auxilium Dei. naturalem corruptionem quodammodo יסוד citerent (Pſal. XCIV. 10.) aliéque gentes in diſciplina & doctrina, exercitiique humanæ continentiæ, ſi-mus non fuerit: vel fecerunt ea ὃ τῶν κειμένων legis ſunt, ſive omnia, ſive eo modo, quo lex.cuncta ad Dei veri amorem & gloriam referens præcipit, fineréque adeò & fidelitet. Verbo dicam. Honeſtati & diſciplinæ externæ ſtuduerunt: non quicquam à lege præ-ceptum ex animi legislatoris ſententia fecerunt. Nihil igitur Pelagiania S. Paulus hic veſtris, vel merit.

ARG. III. Si peccatum originale eſt nuda ejuſmodi doni ſupernaturalis carentia, utique non erit peccatum proprie dictum, nec mala qualitas, fed ipſa natura hominis, qualis erat ante lapſum. Atque fic Deus, qui natu-ram hominis condidit, mala auctor ipſe, horrendum dictu! fuerit ur. vatio enim justitiæ pœna potius quàm peccatum est, cùm dono quopiam carere, peccatum non sit. Igitur dempta supernaturali justitia, homo de cetero purum naturæ statum retinet, vel nihil in eo peccaminosum relinquitur, atque sic peccatum originale nullum erit : vel si quid in eo peccaminosum est, Deo puræ naturæ authore, concupiscentiæ acceptum referendum fuerit, quod blasphemum utique est. Hinc adeò Bellarminus de amiss. grat. IV. 10. dicit, peccatum originale quovis veniali, quod aequivocè peccatum est, minus esse. Cùmque idem doceat, ad culpam non sufficere, ut aliquid sit voluntarium voluntate habituali, nisi ab actu voluntario procedat, cùm illud, quod habitualiter voluntarium est, sit naturale, annon revera peccatum originale nullit ?

Resp. Rebine : 1. Quis nobis in naturam hominis in privatione boni supernaturalis conflixit ? Quomodo igitur peccatum originale, si in boni hujus privatione consistere ipsis hominis natura erit ? 2. Si peccati essentiam essentia in carentia boni illius constituit, prius fecerint, Deum non esse sine authore, quia Deum privationis privativæ conditrix. ; aeque ac privationem rebellis peccatum originale ac causam fuisse. Hujus vero causa non Deus, sed homo est, cùm & privatio ista & quicquid à Deo est, si ens subsistens sit, à Deo solo habeatur. 4. In opposita sententia confundis naturam cum & rebellionem. Quamvis in generis enim bono est, in genere mero isidem, quandiu boni supernaturalis beneficio subsistit dominio rationis. sic tamen ut perpetuo subsistens sympathiam concupiscentiæ erga voluntatem ad objecta fastidiliis sentiamus posse. Rebellis vero ejusdem, quatenus consideratur ut causa peccati, conflictu in carentia justitiæ originalis, tanquam peccati originalis effectu : quatenus rationem habet formalis peccatigit obtinet ex libertate voluntatis non repugnantia, seu potentia. Ib pag. 373. 274. Resp. Negatis fulcminter. Argumentum meum erat demonstrativum ad abludum verba tenentia deducebatur. Tu mihi impingis, quasi abiurdia illa vos proferieri scripsissem. Iterum dico, negaris fulcminter. Interim ex verba de peccato originali sententia manifeste abiurda illa consequuntur. Si enim nihil aliud peccatum originale est, quam carentia supernaturalis justitiæ, quæ aliud, inquam, statua illi parat, quam fingitia, naturæ, adeoque non peccatum propriè dictum ? Non aliter quippe putat naturæ statum, quam feretum à dono supernaturali, adeoque eo per se carentem, concupisca explicetque. Atque etiam naturæ debitum illius donum, ut justificam ei naturalem fuisse, largimur. Et fu Deus etiam non interveniente peccato donum illhoc, utpote indebitum, subtraxisset, annon sam in natura pura fuisset carentia justitiæ ? An igitur etiam peccatum ? Si sit, à Deo peccatum auctore. Si negas, non igitur justitiæ carentia, qualis in natura pura concipitur, formalis ratio peccati, nedum originalis, est potest. Cùmque per peccatum donum illud bonus amittat actu, quid aliud jam ex verba tenentia eft peccatum originale, quàm statua pura naturæ, hoc eft, pura natura supernaturali dono justitiæ privata ? Inprimis, cum à peccati originalis formali ratione ignorantiam & voluntaria corruptionem, convertion eroque ad malum separare te nullo fuerit. a Deus certè non caute & privationis moralis author eft non potest. Ex verba tamen sententia authorem eft. quod blasphemum eft, consequitur, quia eft author ejus naturæ, quam per se carentem supernaturali justitia, verba de peccati originalis essentia affectione, qui ex materiæ labe orituros, compescendos, pertendatis; utique per naturam ipsam, quam puram vocatis, bonum non fuisse eundem, cùm omnis bonitas moralis à justitia originali fluere debuerit, statuitis. An igitur per naturam puram malus fuit? Affirmare nemo nisi Manichæismi veneno imbutus sustinuerit. Per naturam igitur puram seu pura naturalia, primum hominem nec bonum nec malum fuisse, disertè asseritis. Neque ego vobis imposui, sed tu lectori pro more illudis, impiæ sententiæ pudore suffusus. 3. Naturalia quoad essentiam & potentias naturales hominis integra mansisse, ita docetis, ut simul integra quoad rectitudinem moralem intellectus & voluntatis mansisse, adeóque peccatum originale, ob carentiam justitiæ, solam appetitus sensitivi integritatem organicam, uti ipse tu loqueris, afflixisse, scitis. Atqui juxta vos eadem appetitus sensitivi in statu integritatis conditio, fuit cohibenda ideo à fræno supernaturalis doni, ne in nervum erumpat. Annon igitur dempto eo, quod supernaturale homini facitis, naturæ integræ & lapsæ parem conditionem statuitis? Atque id Scholastici vestri palam asserunt, dum naturam integram homini nudo, lapsam spoliato comparant. uti susiùs ex authoribus vestris Jansenius, vestrum illud de puræ naturæ statu portentosum commentum masculè profligans, de statu puræ naturæ lib. I. II. &c. nos edocuit.

ARG. V. Ipsa quoque ratio astipulatur. Etenim nemo avertit se à bono quopiam, nisi ductus cupiditate ac desiderio alterius apparentis boni, quod cum priori non consistit. Quod ergo in actibus veritatem habet, idem & in vitio habituali in prima nativitate contracto intelligendum est conformiter. Ideo enim nascimur aversi ab incommutabili bono, quia nascimur curvi & inclinati ad dona commutabilia. Quo utroque modo tum aversionis, tum conversionis Augustinus definivit peccatum in genere aversionem à bono præstantiori, & conversionem indebitam ad minus bonum. Illud autem minus bonum est revera malum morale, quatenus ad id homo convertitur, aversus à Deo.

Resp. Reding: Conversionem ad bonum sensibile, fuisse primum peccatum, adeóque peccatum originale formaliter consistere in concupiscentia carnis, falsum est. Quin potiùs illa ex affectata per superbiam similitudine orta est; per quam ita à Deo aversus est, ut Deus vicissim eum aversetur & odio habeat, adeóque gratia sanctificante, justitia nimirum originali privet. Ib. pag. 275. 276. Resp. Non mecum, sed cum larvis luctaris. Non conversionem ad bonum sensibile fuisse primum peccatum, vel concupiscentiam carnis esse originale peccatum, dixi; sed aversionem à bono cum conversione ad malum esse conjunctissimam, adeóque non dari carentiam justitiæ sine conversione ad injustitiam, argui. Tu, aliis curis intentior, mentem argumenti mei non perspexisti.

ARG. VI. Si peccatum originale nihil est aliud, quàm ipsa natura, qualis erat ante lapsum, cur igitur parvulos decedentes absque baptismo excludunt regno Cœlorum ob peccatum originale?

Resp. Reding: 1. Originale peccatum nihil aliud esse, quàm ipsam naturam, & quidem, qualis ante lapsum erat, à sententia nostra alieniſſimum est. 2. Cùm originale peccatum formaliter privationem gratiæ sanctificantis importet, ea destituti parvuli, ante ba- prioribus dotentes Filii Dei, (autore Spiritu S. sanctificentur deificati, & imagini filii sui perditi Dei dona non conformes) adeoque hæredes Deiessie non possint. Ib. p. 206. Resp. 2. Amat, Redingi, ampliandum. Naturam nominas, & naturam puram, pretiosa justitiæ supernaturalis vestis exornatam, intelligis. Ego de natura pura, & omni exquisitæ naturalæ nomini fuffi cerea justitiæ quam non naturalem, fed alcititiam facitis, accellionem, loquor. Quod acceflorium naturæ eft, illo per le natura caret. Juftitia fupernaturalis juxta vos naturæ hominis integri accellioria erat. Ergo ea per le carebat. Sed & natura lapfa juxta Vos pura remanfit, neque alter ea integra difcerpat, quam quod acceflitiam juftitiam veftem perdidit. Denuo igitur inquiro: Cur infantes non baptizatos æternis poenis manicipatis, poft folam juftitiæ originalis carentiam, natura ipfa de peccato indebitur, aut ftanatita, et juftitiæ conceptum, materiæ tali, quale erat ante lapfum? An natura hominis, quala creata pura eft, extra fupernaturalis doni aflimationem, æternam damnationem commeruit? Solve ifthoc enigma, quæunque vituli potes. 2. Infantes filiolum non baptizati, de Filii non funt, an igitur, quia quæ baptifmo fine culpa fua, Deo fata eorum accelerante, privantur, fimi filii Diaboli? Inter femen quippe mulieris, Dei Filios, & femen Serpentis medium nullum datur. Atqui ad eosdem etiam non baptizatos pertinere Regnum Cœlorum, ipfemet Salvator Matth. XIX. 14. docet.

ARG. VII. Cúmque Baptifmum vocent adverfarii regenerationem & novam nativitatem, quòd in eo abolentur peccatum originale, quamodo quæfo regeneratio & nova nativitas locum habere poteft, ubi nulla mala qualitas deletur, nec ejus, qui baptizatur, culpa hic immutatio? Hæc novitas eft, quis non videt?

Resp. Rndno: 1. Vi Baptifmi homini baptizato gratia fanctificans infunditur. Vi ejusdem in eo immutatio. 2. Gratuitum propriam eft peccatum in fanctificandum naturæ. At Baptifmus peccatum originale delet, quatenus confers gratiam fanctificatem, qua eft participata natura Divina fanctificatio. Vi baptifmi igitur gratiam conferentis homo regeneratur, & in ftatu filiorum collocatur. ib. pag. 176. 177. Resp. 1. Non negamus id nem. Negamus fine abolitione & mortificatione veteris hominis, adeoque etiam qualitatis eodem malæ fieri non poteft. Quomodo vero Baptifmi in regeneratione qualitas reala abolatur, quam nullam eft in peccato originali docetis? Quomodo earum fit mortalio naturæ regenit, cum ea non ejus caro fit, quæ interobique eadem fit, neque ei accedat aliud, quàm fi cnum aliquod naturæ extrinfecum, & naturæ puræ rebellionem coërcens? 2. Si fpiritualem hominis naturam non afficit regeneratio, fed eidem tantùm fortum illud naturæ pura hominis fuperaddatum reftituit; regenerationem haut plenam folidámque effe nemo fanus judicabit. In regeneratione enim eft mortificatio veteris hominis, & vivificatio novi. Juxta veltram verò hypothelin nihil in homine regenerando eft, quod mortificari poffit.

ARG. VIII. Bellarminus, aliique peccatum originale vocant habitudinem averfionem & obliquitatem voluntatis. Cùm igitur habitus juxta ipfos Sophiftas fit fpecies qualitatis, quæ caufa eft, quòd adhuc nonnullos non infurgunt, eo quòd qualitatis notionem ea applicamus?

Digitized by Google

Resp. Reduc: : Habitudinem aversionem & obliquitatem nostri appellant, non quid an qualitate ficiem, quæ habitus vocatur, vedati eam oportet; sed tam qua privativa est, non actualis tantum, sed habitualis etiam rectitudinis tam quia habitualiter voluntaria est, quandoquidem per gratiam Baptismi non retractatur & condonatur. Ib. pag. 177. Resp. Parum orthodoxum in re ipsa Bellarminum esse non ignoramus. Verba tamen ejusmodi illi promunt, qualia à nobris profata flagellare crudelior fuisset. Quare vetris habitudam aversionem & obliquitatem peccatum originis appellare fas eft: nobis autem qualitatem, non utique propriè dictam (nam nec nos reatigtem ullam hic agnoscimus) sed metaphoricè, qua more qualitatis subjectum afficit, neque tantum à bono averitit, sed ad malum etiam convertit, infignire nefas eft? Quæ vero privationem meram habitus, vel peccatum voluntarium quandiu condonatum non eft accipere habitualis & obliquum aliquid dixit? Vobis liter exegetenda, & quidvis dicere.

ARG. IX. Quid verò illi, qui cum Auguftino, Lombardo, aliisque peccatum originale finiunt concupiscentiam? Nunquid concupiscentia eft nuda ejusmodi privatio?

ARG. X. Denique faniores Scholaftici agnofcunt peccatum originale esse morbidam qualitatem, quandam inordinatam dispofitionem & aqualitatem provenientem ex diffolutione illius harmoniæ, in qua conftitebat ratio originalis juftitiæ. Exemplum afferunt ægritudinis & morborum, in quibus eft aliquid privativum, quatenus tollitur æqualitas fanitatis, & aliquid pofitivum, nempe humores inordinatè difpofiti. Sic etiam originale peccatum habere privationem originalis juftitiæ, & cum hac inordinatam difpofitionem partium animæ, ac proinde non effe puram privationem, fed quendam habitum corruptum docent. Ita Lombardus, Thomas, Henricus, Driedo, Cajetanus, Gregorius Ariminenfis. Thomas verba 1.2.q.82. art.1. fic fonant : Sicut ægritudo corporalis habet aliquid de privatione in quantum tollitur æqualitas temperamenti & fanitas ; & aliquid pofitivum ut ipfi humores inordinate difpofitos: ita peccatum originis non eft pura privatio, fed corruptus quidam habitus. Videfis eandem in rem plura apud Sanfenium de ftatu naturæ lapfæ lib.1.cap.18.

Resp. Reduc: : Anguftinus peccatum originale recenti concupifcentiam non formaliter, fed effective. 2. *Theologorum noftrorum diffenfus inde eft : quòd diverfimodè peccatum hoc conficerant ; alii cenfuliter, dicentes, peccatum hoc effe ipfam peccatam Adami imputationem, qua mortaliter poftea imputatum : alii effectivè, ftatuentes, peccatum illud conffere in habitu hominem ad donum communitatis inclinante : alii integraliter, collocantes illud in gratia fanctificante & una pofitiva originalis privationis comitante : alii materialiter, & objectivè, ponentes illud in re ipfa pura : alii denique formaliter, ajentes, conffere illud in privatione juftitiæ originalis quæ debita erat naturæ humanæ propter fanctificantis effectum conferendum ac poftea Adamo, & non poteffet ille, ex pacto debito, qua fuæ propriæ fimenitis culpæ originalis qualitatem & ftatum attingit. 3. Theologi nostri, qui peccatum originale statuunt in concupiscentia, seu habitu ad bonum communitatile inclinante, privativum quidem, quia non sit in illima Entis à Deo producti, nullum agnoscunt. Nec autem positivum qualitatem unicè essentialitate distinctam, non à Deo, sed à Diabolo protinus defendite. In pag. 177-180. Resp. 1. Peccatum originale et mortale Augustino non aliud esse quam concupiscentiam, de eâdem etiam, ex mente eiusdem, iniquitatem, mortem animæ, immundiciam, averſionem mentis, Janſenius de statu naturæ lapſæ lib. I. cap. 12. & 13. contra recentiores Scholaſticos, Auguſtini veſtigia ſecutos, clariſſime demonſtravit. Ejus argumenta nemo unquam diſſuet, utcunque ſophiſmatum tuorum nervos intenderis. Nos inter corruptionem naturæ & concupiſcentiam, ut inter totum & partem diſtinguimus; atque illam peccati originalis totam, hanc partem eſſe cenſemus. Theologorum veſtrorum plerique etiam peccati originalis graviſſimum diſſenſum diſtinctionum naturam huc fruſtra elevare conatis. Diſſidentes enim partes non eo, quo te contendis, ſenſu, puta vel cauſali, vel effectivo, vel integrali, vel materiali & obiectivo (formali & quidditativo) diſtinctionem, terminorum monſtris una cum Reidingio, Latino Præſule, ſuſanienti) peccatum originale conſiſtant omnes. Neque diſſenſum de re tanti momenti Tridentini Patres ſuſtulerunt, adeò ut hodieque de eâdem peccati originalis, ut totalis non totalis, eſſentiæ ſit diſſenſio, adeòque ad fidem Pontificiam non pertinente, Cudmai ſtantes dimicent. Reidingio in putato ſuo corollario arguit ſolliciti regerente, de eſſentia tantum ejus Metaphyſica diſſerunt, quaſi ſcilicet eſſentiæ ejus ratio formalis & quidditas aliudſi ejusdem eſſentiæ rei cujus tractatio in genere ad Metaphyſicos pertinet, ita aniiter ille delirat. Eo porro Theologus, quo ego etiam, peccati originalis eſſentiam, non effectum, in morbida & poſitiva quidem animæ qualitate, quæ ſit deſiderio perpetuò excitante, collocare, Bellarminus *de amiſſ. gratiæ & ſtatu peccati lib. Sic enim ſtatum quæſtionis inter Pontificios controverſiæ format: *Solum queſtio manet de hoc vitio, ſitne poſitiva qualitas, annon; & utrum hoc ſit Dictum, proprie & formaliter originale peccatum? Ita contra naturam eſt,eſſe ſtrabonem aut varum,quod tamen nec ab arte,nec à natura emendari poteſt. 3. Peccatum originale non eſt contra naturam eo modo, quo eam Phyſici accipiunt. Neque enim peccare eſt contra formam hominis,nec contra propria & facultates naturales animæ: ſed contra naturam officii,aut virtutum,quæ ex mandato Dei homini ineſſe debuerant. 4. Peccatum inſtar fermenti totam naturam pervaſit. QUÆSTIO II.

An per Jeſu Chriſti gratiam in Baptiſmo collatam tollatur peccatum originale, & quoad reatum, & quoad maculam, adeóque totum id, quod veri peccati rationem habet?

AFfirmat Synodus anathemate quinto, ubi per gratiam in baptiſmo collatam tolli aſſeritur totum id, quod veram & propriam peccati rationem habet. Concupiſcentiam quidem & fomitem remanere fatetur, at eam verè & propriè peccatum eſſe, negat. & peccatum dici aſſerit non aliam ab cauſam, quàm quia ex peccato eſt, & ad peccatum inclinat. Nos in peccato originali diſtinguimus reatum à macula: & in macula dominium ab ejus exiſtentia. Igitur regeneratione tolli peccati originalis reatum, & maculam quoad dominium, fatemur. Neque enim peccatum originale regenitis imputatur ad damnationem, vel in iis dominatur, ita ut concupiſcentiis ejus ſerviant. At tolli regeneratione vel baptiſmo peccati originalis maculam quoad exiſtentiam, adeóque, quicquid in eo peccati rationem habet, negamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Paulus regenitus, agnoſcit tamen in ſe peccatum inhabitans, ſub quo ſit venundatus, Rom. VII. 14. 17. De eo ſupra modum conqueritur. Atque 1. Si id formaliter adeoque propriè peccatum non eſt, quod pugnat cum lege, operatur mortem; eſt peccatum per excellentiam peccaminoſum, ſervitutem, ſeu vi tyranni infert, ſubjicit, odio dignum eſt; non eſt humanæ ſuaſui aut ſuaſioni, ſed ſolummodo violentiæ ſuum debitum adjecti, propugnat legi mentis, mi-ſeram offert utique ad mortem; denique ſemitalem per gratiam Filii Dei ſiſti, qua cap. VII. continua ſerie ei etiam concupiſcentiæ, quæ S. Paulo iterat, tribuuntur, quid igitur pec-catum formaliter & propriè dictum ſit, ex te. Reſpondeo, cognoſcere deberes. Ego ſiquoad tale id formaliter & propriè peccatum non eſt illud eſſe formaliter & propriè peccatum, error. Si quid diverſum S. Auguſtinus conſuluiſſet, illud Apoſtolo opponi non meruerunt. Quamquam diverſum non conſuit, ſed, quemadmodum in multis alias, aliquibi expreſſe locutus eſt, alicubi ſubobſcure mentem ſuam dixit. Ubi cum Pelagianis agit ad de-clinandam invidiam & ſalutæ objectionem, concupiſcentiam & peccatum originale & in regenitis & in irregenitis propriè peccatum eſſe negat. Alibi & peccatum, & cauſam, & poenam peccati eſſe, manifeſtiſſime aſſerit. Ita lib. 1. contra duas Pelagianorum epiſtolas cap. 13. ait, concupiſcentiam vocari peccatum, non tantum quia ex peccato facta eſt & peccatum facit, hoc eſt, ait noſter barbarus loquitur, cauſaliter & effectiuè; ſed etiam, quia peccati effectaliter movetur, eſt & nomine delictiſimile ipſius non ſine cauſa dicitur. Item & contra Jul. lib. II. ait, concupiſcentiam regnare in legi mentis; itemque Deum reſiſtit, & coarctando agere, ut conſentatur; addit. Quin & Epiſt. 39. in maximè regnitos apoſtolat vitium, quoniam quod etiam quotumlibet perfectorum, conſiſtentem eſſe adhuc dicebat, mi-nime nobis deſtitio noſtra: cum jam in Zacchæo omnia diſſe, ſuaſſe, cogitare dimiſſa ſint. Denique peccatum hoc afferre reatum mortis æternæ, paſſim affirmat. An vero quod delectione moveatur, legi transgreſſat, odio Dei dignum eſt, remittitur, fatis ex his, ni-diget, reatum æternæ mortis poſt le trahit, proprie peccatum non eſt? Et ſi eſt, an S. Auguſtinum ſibi diſcordem elle dicendum? Non puto quidem. Verum peccati vo-cem non ſemper eodem modo accipit. Sunt enim illuſtria nunc actum noſtri intuitum, atque ita juſte actiones opponitur, & peſte peccatum dicitur; tunc habitum ſignificat, ac virium opponitur, peſteque magis vitium appellatur, licet utroque ſenſu verum peccatum ſit: ita peccatum nunc actum ſignificat, unde vocamus peccatum actuale, quod & primi peccatum dicitur, nunc habitum, à quo actus ille originem ducit. unde vocatur pecca-tum originale, quod laxa notione peccati notionem habet. Cum igitur S. Auguſti-nus ait, concupiſcentiam quidem cauſam & effectum peccati, non vero peccatum eſſe, ſtricte hanc vocem pro malo morali voluntariove actuali accipit. Cum verò ait idem, concupiſcentiam non tantum cauſam & effectum peccati, ſed ipſum etiam peccatum eſſe, laxè eam vocem pro qualibet malo morali, etiam involuntario, quale eſt vitium ſive innatum, ſive habitu actuſus vitioſo acquiſitum. Quòd verò laxa hac appel-latione uti voluit, non iccirco fadum, ut aliter atque aliter peccati voce utendo glauco-ma oculis lectorum obiicere ſibi quis ex eo poſſit dicere, concupiſcentiam ab Apoſto-lo peccatum peccatorum vocari, ſolitarie certeque Pelagiani colligerent, eam eſſe rem bonam. Quare neceſſe habuit Auguſtinus dicere, etiam peccatoadi pronitatem eſſe ma-lam, nec ſic à peccati effectum dicitur: nos quæ malum morale non eſt, neque ſe cau-ſam peccati à ſe susceptarum bonum, five cauſa humani fabricatio, que bonum eſt. Ce- ea nis effecta ea ratione, qua vitium morale, stricte loquendo non eſt peccatum, quod tamen ipſum haut ſit peccatum, quatenus nempe peccati vox omnem boni alicuius moralis privationem, malitiamque morale, five illiuſmodi vitium morale ſine actuali exiſtat, nomen. Haec genuina S. Auguſtini ſenſa, non tantum a Celebrimo Voſſio noſtro Hiſt. Pelag. lib. II. p. 181. ſed & a Cornelio etiam Janſenio in Auguſtino, ſolidè demonſtrati, ignoratio in eorum Scholaſticos, ac poſt eos, Tridentinos etiam, qui ex Scholaſticis faepenumero tot, indusit. Unum addo, concipi non poſſe, quomodo concupiſcentia per modum habitus naturalis poſſit eſſe cauſa peccati, & non ſimul peccatum. Si interna cauſa moralis ad bene agendum inclinans bona eſt, mala erit, cum ad malè agendum inclinat. 2. Peccatum omne voluntarium eſſe, S. Auguſtinus, aliique aſſerunt, & actuali peccato, non miſtis voluntate (quanquam & haec ratione peccati Adami, quin & conjunctae propriae voluntatis, licet nondum deliberato agentis, voluntaria eſt) loquuntur. 3. Peccatum, ſeu corruptio illa, in qua tamen naſcitur, ut peccatum agnoſcatur per excellentiam peccati ſeu primitivum, quinetiam originale, manifeſtari dicitur ex quod, per bonum, ſeu legem ſcilicet naturae meorum, nempe judicium, exactum conſcientiae, & affectiones peccati ad ſpiritualem motum. Quemodo quod per bonum legem eiusmodi malum concupiſcentiae manifeſtandum morti? quod hoc ſtrenue agitur, quia ex apparet eſſe ſe peccatum, imo ne peccatum ſe ſum, hoc eſt, ſe prauſſe & exhibeat peccatum & peccatoſitatem, & damnabile in exceſſu per praecipitati, propriè dictum peccatum non eſt? Annon tandem, cohors Romana, intelligis, Spiritum S. praeſidium eorum tuitanta emphaſi peccatum illud circumſcripſiſſe, ne maximum illud graviſſimumque eſſe, veritatis & pietatis amantes ignorent?

ARG. II. David erat circumciſus & regenitus. Idem tamen cum actu peccaſſet, cauſam peccati repetit a prima conceptione, Pſalm. L. I. In peccatis enim fortuam, fum, & in iniquitatibus mater mea concepit me.

Resp. Rebino: Concupiſcentia, qua fomes peccati, eſt effectus peccati originalis, non formaliter peccatum originale. Ib. pag. 185. Reſp. Peccatum illud, in quo conceptus erat David, propriam eſſe peccatum, non aliena concupiſcentia fuit. Suum enim peccatum David non alienum peccatum dicebat. Ab eo vero peccato, cui malo fomiti, David & circumciſus & renatus, adhuc ſuum peccatum arcebit. Quod igitur à primo concepcionis & naſcitatis habuit, id in eo etiam tempore & circumciſionis & REGEN. ipſi peccatum, inquisitor fuit, & peccati nomine, actionem mauis aliquatenus, & vero nomine peccatum fuit. Ad hoc ſi potes, reſponde: ad has lineas decurre.

ARG. III. Paulus Rom. VI. 12. Peccatum, inquit, ne regnet in mortali corpore veſtro. Gnarus peccatum penitus non expungi, dum hic vivimus, vetat, ne regnet & ſpiritui praepolleat.

Resp. Rebino: Et tenim ex conſtat, in noſtra poteſtate eſſe, ne regnet peccatum. Nam ipſum concupiſcentiae ante ſanctionem peccatum eſt, quia in noſtra poteſtate non eſt. Ib. pag. 285. Reſp. Fugit inſtar Parthi, talis objicientis. Quid enim ad argumentum noſtrum tua reſponſio? quae ipſa tamen adeo abſurda eſt, ut peccatum originale, quod in naſcentis deliberata voluntate & poteſtate non eſt, non tantum in regenitis, ſed in aregenitis etiam tolias. Modo? Sic aut ad Pelagii cath.

ARG. 1 V. Post baptismum & regenerationem fideles peccatis actualibus subesse, docet Scriptura, quæ asserit neminem vivere sine peccato, Jac.III.2. 1. Joh I.8. Unde verò peccata illa actualia regenitorum fluunt, si peccatum originale, quod est jugis actualium scaturigo, regeneratione & baptismo sublatum est? Etenim sublata causa, quæ agit jugi influxu, & propensione naturali indefinenter, tollitur quoque effectus. Ita sublato sole tollitur dies, sublata anima sensus, sublato igne calor urens.

Resp. Regnig: Peccatum originale in regenitis tunditur concupiscentiæ peccatorum actualium, & retinaculum, jugis scaturigo est, licet quoad formalem peccatis rationem penitus sublatum sit. ib. pag. 189. Resp. Motus de tentatione peccati, ibique relicti, naturaliter oriuntur. Peccatum, quod S. Paulus habitans vocat, operari & concupiscentiam movere, & mortem ipsam, idem Rom. VII. 8. 13. tollitur. Operatur ut jugis eorum fecunditas ad venenata antique tota diffundens venenum suum in facultates omnes potentiæ & actus. Quales peccati illius fructus sunt, tale ipsum peccatum est. Nam ex fructibus arbor cognoscit debet. non enim à spinis uva, à tribulis ficus colliguntur, Matth. VII. 16. Si igitur fructus peccati inhabitantis veri nominis peccata sunt in quovis subjecto: multo magis peccatum ipsum inhabitans, ac ipsor corrupta, suus venenatus, concupiscentiam venenumque omne in actus diffundens, peccatum veri nominis erit. unde enim omnis actionum malitia, quin ex natura corrupta, ipsique inhabitantis peccati malitia originem habet? Tolle causam, sentiet ipsum, fontem corruptum homogeneum, malitia malitiis corruptio nulla in actus influxit. Stat igitur adamante magis fixum, quod proluit, argumentum.

ARG. V. Post baptismum aliquando orti infantes, docet experientia. Cum igitur mors sit filiorum peccati, Rom. V. 12. sequitur peccatum aliquod in infante baptizato remanssisse. Atqui non actuale, quia tale nullum commiserunt, Ergo originale, Resp. Regnig: Subtato peccatio originalis dono naturæ humanæ sua corruptioni ob peccatum, ut mors sit effectus non quidem patiens, sed negativus peccati originalis, quatenus remotio donum, qua mors naturaliter adsequatur, secuta est inquisitione. Effectus autem formaliter positivus, sed finaliter mediatus non est tam formalis causa, cum illam præcedat. Sic parere mortuus filius superflua esse potest. ib. pag. 188. Id hic maxime locum habet, quia mortis causa per se ipsa natura est. ib. 189 188. Resp. Non potuiti cum argumento meo mihi Pelagianis telis conligere. Pelagii enim doctrina erat, mortem esse conitem & sequelam naturæ, adeoque ex principiis naturæ sequi. Ad incriminandum hæresin vos additis, licet naturæ humanæ sit, impedimentam tamen fuisse per iustitiæ supernaturalis donum: quo sublato natura vires suas reserat. Sed in re ipsa belle convenistis. Quomodo vero natura sequela est, quod solius peccati poenam & stipendium est, clare Scriptura Genes II. 17. III. 1. 9. Rom. V. 12. VI. 23. refluat? Tu autem remisso infantibus Baptismo mortem ex naturæ principiis, non ut poenam peccati, utpote jam remissi, infligi, errore meo illis imputetenus. Prodis denique cuam Dialectice artis insciisam affectus. sublata causa posse manere effectum; adeoque etiam sublato peccato originali mortem. Canon enim ille, ARG. VI. Quòd ſi gemellorum alter baptizetur, alter non baptizetur, neuter verò pietatis imbuatur documentis, fieri poterit, ut utérque improbus reddatur, imò baptizatus nequior. Non baptizati improbitatem procedere à peccato originali dicent. A qua verò cauſa erit nequitia & improbitas baptizati?

ARG. VII. Concupiſcentiam remanere in baptizatis fatetur Synodus, & Scriptura clarè aſſerit. Atqui concupiſcentiam eſſe veri nominis peccatum patet, tum quia Apoſtolus id diſertè teſtatur, Rom VII. 7. tum quia carnalia iſta deſideria militant adverſus animam, 1. Pet. II. 11. & φρόνημα σαρκὸς legi Dei ſubjici non poteſt, Rom. VIII. 7. tum quia appellatur ἐυπερίστατος ἁμαρτία peccatum circumcingens, & pondere ſuo deprimens, Hebr. Ita Auguſtinus contra Julianum lib. 5. docet, concupiſcentiam illam carnis, adverſus quam ſpiritus concupiſcit, eſſe & peccatum, quia illi ineſt inobedientia adverſus dominatum mentis, & pœnam peccati, quia reddita eſt meritis inobedientis, & cauſam peccati defectione conſentientis, & contagione nocentis. Viderit igitur Synodus ſub anathemate decernens, concupiſcentiam etſi in Scripturis peccatum appelletur, tamen propriè peccatum non eſſe, annon Scripturam S. anathemate nefariè & veluti θυμαχῶν percuſſerit?

Eſt enim vitium voluntatis, & voluntate Adami eſt ſuſcepta, quodammodo advecta, & generi humano immiſſa. Et ſi ſunt peccata omiſſionis, quomodo voluntati pro peccato non erit, quòd non ita diligit Deum, ut dignus eſt, & ut oportet? Id tamen habituali concupiſcentiæ adeſt ſemper.

ARG. VIII. In veteri eccleſia plerique baptiſmum differebant uſque ad ſeneſtutem, ut rigorem canonum pœnitentialium, quibus catechumeni obnoxii non erant, evitarent. Magno igitur ſcelere ſe alligaverit pleraque pars eccleſiæ veteris, quæ malebat non baptizata vivere cum peccato originali, quàm baptizata ſine eo. Si ultra peccatum est habitus & vitium ipsum concupiscentiæ dicit Augustinus ea de causa vocari peccatum per excellentiam, consimiliter modo nos cum S. Paulo Rom. VII. 23. vocare malorum. Quod referantur, cohibentur, frænentur indiget, non à Deo, sed à Diabolo est. Deus enim nihil rebelle frænandum, impetuosum cohibendum, ægrum sanandum condidit. Tandoque gravius, atque impium magis est vitium, quàm peccatum actuale: quanto requior actus habitus, malus & licet ex corruptibili per excellentiam. 2. Sicèine, Romanenses, sentitis passiones, concupiscentiæ & mendacii actiones? Atqui in supra notatis naratibus peccatum originale non sentiebat, sed in mysterio fide apprehendi. Jam ergo, Medice ægrotans, cura te ipsum. ARG. X. Pro infantibus, qui statim à baptismo moriuntur, ecclesia Pontificia cantat missas. Quam igitur ob causam? An ob peccata actualia? At nulla admittent? An ob originales? At docent, illud baptismo obliteratum esse. An ut libentiùr è purgatorio? At negant quicquam inesse, quod purgatione egeat. Sic igitur ne petiret illis hoc lucellum, fua ipsorum dogmata convellere maluerunt.

Resp. Resino: Cantari pro nullis missas posse non expiatis illorum delictis & quavis peccata vel pœna; sed, ex gratiæ Dei agnitore pro eorundem justificatione & glorificatione. In pag. 188. Mariæ Portiuncul. ex se concupiscentia in baptismate remanere, peccati rationem aliquam agnoscentes. Et cur hæc nihil ad nos? An veltrium S. Augustino afferentes, in baptismate concupiscentiæ in peccati rationem habere, fed in peccatum non imputari, non fefellerunt, at idem afferentes non fallimur? Aunt etiam peccatum, fed non imputatum, hoc eft, peccatum condonatum, peccatum, quia condonatum, effe definit?

ARG. XII. Denique totum dogma de expunctione peccati originalis per baptifmum, ad avaritiæ & fuperbiæ incidem formatum eft. Id enim dant operam clerici ut Sacramentum, quæ ab ipfis conferuntur, exoletur efficacia, & inde miniſterio fuo lucrum & honos accrefcat.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. In renatis, ſeu iis, qui ſunt in Chriſto Jeſu, nihil eſt dignum odio vel damnatione. At peccatum originale eſt dignum odio vel damnatione. Non igitur remanet. Resp. 1. Per eos, qui in Chriſto ſunt, non intelligiuntur quilibet baptizati, ſed ii, qui fide ſunt infiti Chriſto & Spiritu regenerantia innovati. Neque enim ibi agitur de efficacia baptiſmi. 2. In regeniti peccatum originale dignum omnino eſt odio & condemnatione. Proinde etiam in Chriſto condemnatur. regenitis simul manere & odio Dei digni fieri. 3. Cum Deus in regenitis peccatum non-nocivit, post fuisse peccatum aliquot reprobationis, quamvis fieri possit, ut peccatum in non imputetur? 6. Saltem imputabilitas peccati ad finem formalis malitia pertinet; qua si tollatur in regenitis, tolletur simul formalis peccati malitia. Si non tollatur, quid gratia remissionis prodest? Ib pag 289.290. Resp. Miserem me sane tui, perverse adeo ingenia tuo ad obscurandam & opprimendam veritatem abutentis. Singula haec sophismata tua ti tam aliquam habeantur, non habitabit duntaxat, sed actualis etiam peccatum à regenitis inhaerens. Sed vanissima omnia haec. Etenim 1. aliquid odio vel condemnatione dignum in regenitis remanere, neutiquam Apostolus urget, sed ἐφ ᾧ πάντες ἥμαρτον, demonstrationem nullam in ea re fieri facit in Scripturis, Rom. VII. 11. affirit. Haec toto coelo differunt. Eli in regenitis peccatum, eli in regenitis actuale, uti non dubitamus, etiam habituale, peccatum prima origine contractum. Aliàs quoniam in regenitis foret absolutionis feu remissionis continuandae tenovandaque materies? Elique illud odio & condemnatione dignissimum. Sed materiem condemnatio peccatorum in reprobatem, Christum, qui propter transgressiones nostras vulneratus, & propter iniquitates nostras attritus erit, Esa. LIII. 5. Hinc adeo non nisi odio & condemnatione in regenitis dignum eli, cibili aliàs Christus in fe transtulit, nihil regenitorum, qui nihil adeo in nobis habent in se condemnatio eli, utpote in Sponsorem derivata. 2. Peccati formalia effectus eli reatus, feu obligatio ad poenam. Atque hic effectus formam, feu ratiam habet, peccatum, odio dignissimum in regenitis omnino fupponit. Quia vero obligationi regenitorum peccatorum fatisfecit Christus, quem peccati omnis exfortem Deus pro nobis peccatum fecit, ut fieremus nos ipsi Dei Iustitia, 2. Cor. V. 21. scirico non ipse perfonae peccatores, utpote à Christo peccatis fuis, ac exactam fed ne impunitate ipfa exiftentia; & poena carcitas, nihil dignae ampliùs fumt, fed quicquid in iis odio dignum eli, Chriftus expiavit. Haec fidei Chriftianae mysterium, absque quorum falutari acceptu eli, miferima fimus omnium, tu, dodtor tanae, ignorat? Si nolit, ne fophismatis tuis obtrudas, exorto 3. Annon vera gratia remiffionis & peccati actualis, contrariae, uti ea Scripta, forme in eodem fubiecto, regenito, fubfiftunt? Quidni igitur etiam gratia remiffionis & peccatum originale? Gratia remiffionis & quovis peccatum, nempe in peccatore vel ignofcere non punitum, cum contraria forme in eodem fubiecto ἀνάκοινα fint. Sed falua noftra conclamata plane foret, fi gratia remiffionis cum peccato, non in nobis, fed in Chriflo ponito, conliftere non poffet. 4. Per gratiam remiffionis tollitur odium à perfona, non à peccato regenito. Id enim peccato effecit, quod ne peccatum in homine exiftat, fed ne ei imputetur, juxta Hieroglaftia S. Pauli verba: Beati, quorum remissae sunt iniquitates, quorum peccata tecta sunt. Beatus vir, cui Dominus peccatum non imputat, Pfal. XXXII. 1. 2. Rom. IV. 6. 7. 8. Sunt haec amoris & odium in eodem fubiecto, fed non sub eodem formalium item. 5. An peccata actualia regenitorum Deus non aeque novit per fcientiam approbationis? An properetea regenita impunantur eadem? 6. Impunabilitas peccati ad poenam ad formalem malitiae rationem non pertinet. Eli enim iuftum bonumque, ut peccatum ad poenam vel peccatori vel Sponfori imputetur; atque id à Deo iuftice approbante habet. Quomodo igitur ad formalem malitiae rationem ad pertinere? Et tam non tollitur à regenitis imputabilitas peccati, quàm non ipfum peccatum. Sed gratia remiffionis effecit, ne Chriflo ad poenam imputatum peccatum, credenti in eundem remittatur, atque adeò ei non imputetur. Eo, Redingi, quam pulchrè Sophifmatum tuorum rete infaverit!

De tota enim genere dictum eſt: Stipendia peccati mors, Rom. VI. 23. Peccato vero conſummato mortis genituram Apoſtolus tribuit, quia proxima mortis, in ordinaria ejus generatione, cauſa eſt: adeoque etiam evidentior & manifeſtè mortem, ipſarum rem hominum judicio referuntur, meretur. Die Redingi, peccatum originale, qui tale, anne mortem gignit? Si negas, Tridentinus id aſſerentibus contradicis. Si affirmas, non igitur ſolum peccatum conſummatum mortem gignere, ipſos fatetur cogis. 2. Luciferi voluntas ex hoc in malitiam mutata defectionem à Deo genuit. Voluntas igitur ejus non qua naturalis facultas eſt, ſed qua vitioſa mala, non equidem augenda peccatum, ſtatuit & illicet, ſed augmentis peccatorum tamen eſt, hoc eſt, voluntas Luciferi naturalis corruptionem peccaminoſam, fontem & ſcaturiginem malorum omnium continens nacta eſt. Ego quoque geniam ex ec concupiſcentia, hoc eſt, voluntate viri naturali bona tam, honorabile inter omnes eſt connubium, & cubile immaculatum, Hebr. peccato oriens, & ad peccatum inclinans, veri nominis peccatum eſt, ubicunque exiſtat. Cauſa enim & effectus μετέχουσι, ejuſdem naturæ participes ſunt. Et tamen S. Jacobus nullum in textu hoc inter regenitorum & irregenitorum concupiſcentiam diſcrimen ſtatuit, neque, credo, cauſales, effectivos, formales conceptus tuos in animo habuit.

OBIECT. IV. Peccatum ſubjectivè eſt in anima. Concupiſcentia verò non eſt in anima, ſed in carne, teſte Apoſtolo, Rom. VII. 18. Non igitur peccatum eſt. Reſp. 1. Peccati ſubjectum eſt homo ὁλόκληρον, conſtans corpore & anima. 2. Caro Apoſtolo notat totum hominem irregenitum, corpore & anima conſtantem, nec non carnales affectus, qui tum in animam, tum in corpus cadunt.

EXCIP. REDING: Totus quidem homo eſt peccati ſubjectum denominationis; anima verò peccati formaliter ſumpti ſubjectum informationis immediatum. Cùm igitur concupiſcentia non in anima, ſed in carne ponatur, non igitur formaliter peccatum eſt, niſi quatenus ex anima ſortitur voluntarii rationem. lb. pag. 292. Reſp. Sic igitur etiam irregenitorum concupiſcentia non erit formaliter peccatum. Dein reſponſionem meam non infringis. Pertenderam enim, carnem, in qua concupiſcentia eſt, notare hominem vel irregenitum, vel qua parte irregenitus eſt, animam & corpore conſtans, carnalésque adeò affectus animæ & corporis. S. Paulus enim Gal. V. 19—21. inter opera carnis plura refert, in animam primò & immediatè cadentia; inter quæ indubiè ſunt hæreſes. Concupiſcentia proin ſic in carne eſt, ut primò & immediatè in anima formalem peccati rationem ſortiatur.

OBIECT. V. Omne peccatum præcepto aliquo legis eſt prohibitum. Concupiſcentia præcedens conſenſum, adeóque non actualis, nullo legis præcepto prohibita eſt. Reſp. 1. Sic etiam concupiſcentia irregenitorum peccatum non erit. 2. Mandatum prohibens concupiſcentiam actualem, prohibet etiam originalem. Interdicit enim in effectu conſpicuo latentem cauſam.

EXCIP. REDING: Mandatum concupiſcentiam prohibens ſupponit facultatem abſtinendi à re. At in noſtra facultate non eſt, ne in nobis exiſtat originalis concupiſcentia, ſed ne ejus motibus conſentiamus. lb. pag. 292. Reſp. Mandata Divina non facultatis & potentiæ humanæ indicium, ſed officii & obedientiæ norma ſunt. Quis enim dixerit; mandatum Chriſti, Surge, prodi Lazare, Joh. XI. 43. & vocem Divinam, quæ in extremo die ſonabit: Revertimini mortui, Pſal. XC. 3. in mortuis ſurgendi, prodeundi, revertendi facultatem ſupponere? Neque etiam mandatum credendi facultatem credendi ſupponit, quia fides eſt Dei donum, & Deus in nobis operatur velle & perficere pro ſuo beneplacito, Phil. I. 29 II. 13. Par ratio omnium Dei mandatorum, quæ peccatori perhibentur, eſt. Id enim, quod ſapit caro, homo irregenitus, legi Dei non ſubjicitur, οὐδὲ γὰρ δύναται. Nam ne quidem poteſt, Rom. VIII. 7.

OBIECT. VI. Peccatum propriè dictum eſt voluntarium. At regenitorum concupiſcentia non eſt voluntaria. Peccatum igitur non eſt. Reſp. 1. Falſum eſt peccatum omne oportere eſſe voluntarium, ſi voluntarium ſignificet, quod ſit voluntate præmovente. Paulus enim dicit Rom. VII. 19. Non quod volo, facio bonum, ſed quod non volo, malum. 2. Concupiſcentia etiam voluntaria dici poteſt, tum quia in voluntate eſt, tum quia à voluntate humana ſuſcipitur & arceſſitur. Eſt enim vitium voluntatis, & voluntate Adami ſuſcepta, & quodammodo generi humano immiſſa. 3. Si peccata omiſſionis peccata ſunt, quomodo voluntati pro peccato non erit, quòd non ita diligit Deum, ut dignus eſt & oportet? Id tamen omni concupiſcentiæ ineſt.

Resp. Redino: 1. S. Paulus Rom. VII. 19. non de peccato, ſed de malo loquitur. Concupiſcentiam eſſe malum, at non peccatum, S. Auguſtinus dixit. 2. Concupiſcentia, quæ ita in voluntate eſt, ut ſuſcipiatur per ejus conſenſum, vel per eam procuretur, verè peccatum eſt. Sed ſubjectivè in voluntate non eſt. Et per capitalem Adami voluntatem quodammodo etiam voluntaria dici poteſt. Sed in ea non conſiſtit formaliter peccati ratio, quia illud eſt mors animæ, Adami voluntate demum per privationem ſpiritus vivificantis effecta. 3. Quicquid in amore Dei per concupiſcentiam amittitur, non formaliter concupiſcentia, ſed ejus duntaxat effectus eſt, tum demum formalem peccati rationem induens, cùm voluntarius eſt. lb. pag. 292. Reſp. Non parùm me coccyſmorum tuorum tœdet. Etenim 1. Malum à peccato diſtinguens S. Auguſtinus, per peccatum actuale malum originale intellexit, uti ſupra vidimus. Atqui μόνον malum, quod ſe ἐργάζεσθαι facere, & quidem inſtigante inhabitante peccato, hoc eſt, originali pravitate, Apoſtolus teſtatur; manifeſtè peccatum non originale, ſed actuale notat. 2. Quid voluntas hominis legi Dei repugnans, & ad omne malum inclinans aliud, quàm concupiſcentia à Deo avertens, & ad omnia alia convertens, eſt? Qua talis igitur extra voluntatem non eſt. Et numquid concupiſcentia Adami nobis imputata, veri nominis peccatum non eſt? Atqui in Adamo nos peccâſſe, Apoſtolus Rom. V. 12. exſertè aſſerit. Cur tu, quod peccatum noſtrum eſſe ille arguit, propriè dictum peccatum & mortem animæ eſſe negas? 3. Si peccata omiſſionis formalis peccati & concupiſcentiæ rationem non habent, ne quidem propriè peccata ſunt. Sic igitur per totam vitam omitti amor Dei, ſine peccato propriè dicto poterit. Ita quidem Jeſuitæ veſtri, novi Morales Theologi, ſalutem nunquam in tota vita diligentibus Deum, attritis modò, & Sacramenti ſuſceptionem voventibus, promittunt. Videritis ipſi.

QUÆSTIO III.

An beata Virgo, Dei genitrix, fuerit in peccato originali concepta?

SYnodus contrariis Franciſcanorum & Dominicanorum machinationibus exercita, videri voluit rem indeciſam relinquere. Proinde decretum Sixti IV. uti valeret vigerétque, diligenter attendendum cenſuit decretum Papæ in mantica Româ allatum. Cœterùm Gregorius de Valentia ſcribit: Multis nominibus eccleſiam Catholicam cenſeri debere in partem negativam propendere. Sed & ipſa Sixti IV. conſtitutio non obſcurè patrocinatur immaculatam conceptionem aſſerentibus. Et declarant ipſi in Synodo Patres, non eſſe ſuam ſententiam in decreto de peccato originali beatam & immaculatam virginem comprehendere. Sed & Alexander VII. omnibus & Conciliis & Pontificibus per aliquot retro ſecula animoſior, fertur nuper pro Franciſcanis ſententiam pronunciâſſe. Mallemus ſanè cum Auguſtino lib. de Nat. & Gratia, de B. Virgine propter honorem Domini Salvatoris, nullam prorſus, cùm de peccatis agitur, quæſtionem habere. Quia tamen occaſio id poſtulat, & adverſariorum tum importunitas, tum μαιολογία, nupera hac definitione ad extremum perducta, id flagitat, paucis de eo agere inſtituimus. Confitemur quidem ultro & prædicamus θεοτόκον virginem Sanctam & Beatam, ſed per gratiam, non per naturam. Sed & in virgine eundem Spiritum, qui datur omnibus fidelibus, longè fuiſſe efficaciorem in extinguendis peccati reliquiis; quomodo in Apoſtolis eadem efficacia longè major fuit, quàm in vulgo fidelium, piè credimus. At in peccato originali, communi naſcentium lege, à qua ſolus Chriſtus, Deus in ſecula benedictus, exemptus eſt, conceptam eſſe diſertè aſſerimus. Etenim ARG. I. Scriptura omnes meros homines peccato huic obnoxios facit, Rom. V. 12. 19. In quo (Adamo) omnes homines peccaverunt. Hanc univerſalem ſententiam minimè ambiguam, addita exceptione falſam illi redduht.

RESP. REDING: 1. S. Paulus loquitur de originalis peccati debito, non ipſo peccato originali, per propagationem ex Adamo actu contracto. Potuit igitur etiam B. Maria debito huic obſtringi. Sed omnipotentia & bonitate Dei illud diſſolutum eſt. 2. Neque univerſalis S. Pauli ſententia quamvis exceptionem excludit. Aliàs etiam Eva in Adamo peccaſſet, quæ tamen ante Adamum peccavit. Tract. III. pag. 293. 294. Reſp. 1. Quid eſt Scripturas pervertere, ſi hoc non eſt? Etenim non de debito contrahendi peccati, ſed de peccato to actu contracto S. Paulus disertè loquitur. Ait enim: In quo omnes ἥμαρτον peccarunt, actu, non potentia. Peccavit igitur etiam B. Maria in Adamo actu, & eadem ratione justitiæ originalis privationem, & injustitiæ habitum contraxit. Posito etiam, de debito contrahendi Apostolum loqui. Ubi Scriptura debitum illud potentia & bonitate Dei in Maria dissolutum testatur? 2. De Eva, frigida argutatio tua est. Apostolus de omnibus ex Adamo naturali lege natis prognatisque loquitur. Non obstante igitur Evæ, ex Adamo non genitæ, peccato, assertio universalis, omnisque adeò exceptionis expers, manet.

ARG. II. B. Virgo Christum vocat suum Σωτῆρα Salvatorem, Luc. I. 47. Atqui ut sanis non est opus medico, ita nec B. Virgini, peccato non contaminatæ, Salvatore, Matth. IX. 10. Pelagianorum hoc apophthegma fuit, Christum etiam pro justis mortuum esse.

RESP. REDING: 1. Christus Salvator fuit B. Virginis, medici instar eam præservando à peccato, cujus radix erat in Adamo peccante. 2. Sicut non obstante eo, quòd omnes nascimur originali peccato obnoxii, extra ordinem Jeremias sanctificatus fuit, priusquam ex utero Matris prodiret, Jerem. I. 5. ita non obstante eo, quòd ordinariè Christus liberat à peccato contracto, extra ordinem, ob gratiæ præ delicto Adami abundantiam, perfectionémque meriti, liberat præservando à peccato, ne illud contrahatur. Ib. pag. 294. 295. Resp. 1. Somnium hoc est novissimum, Scripturis, Patribus adversum, si quod aliud. Etenim Christus Jesus seu Salvator Angelica voce declaratus est, non quòd præservet quenquam sanum, justum à peccato, sed quod σώζῃ servet, salvet, liberet à peccatis suis, Matth. I. 21. Quorum igitur Salvator est, eos à peccatis jam admissis liberat. Neque sanis hic opus est medico, sed κακῶς ἔχουσι malè habentibus, ægrotis, Matth. IX. 12. Quis verò κακῶς ἔχοντας eos, in quibus plena sanitas est, appellet? Quin Christus non venit vocaturus justos, sed peccatores ad pœnitentiam, ib. v. 14. Suntne ergo inter non justos ii, qui præservantur, si qui præservantur? Imò S. Petrus testis, Christum justum traditum esse pro injustis, 1. Petr. III. 18. Injusti autem non sola præservatione, sed curatione utique indigent. An, Redingi, Christus traditus, mortuus est etiam pro B. Virgine? Concedit Bellarminus, asserunt S. Patres. Non igitur semper justa, quia Christus pro injustis, pro peccatoribus mortuus est. Christum pro justis etiam mortuum esse, Juliani Pelagiani apophthegma fuit, contra quem S. Augustinus cap. 1. graviter detonat. 2. Omnes nascendo demum peccatum originale contrahere, nuspiam Scriptura dixit. Dixit, nos esse φύσει τέκνα ὀργῆς natura filios iræ, Ephes. II. 3. Est autem natura in homine concepto, etiam priusquam nascatur. Quam igitur tuum de Jeremia in utero sanctificato futile sophisma est? Et tamen Jeremiam in utero sanctificatum esse, Scriptura testatur; B. Virginem extra ordinem à peccato præservatam esse, nuspiam testatur.

ARG. III. B. Virgo miseriarum & calamitatum haud exors fuit, uti apparet ex Luc. II. 35. 48. Sed & mortuam esse, fatentur ipsi Pontificii. Atqui mors est stipendium peccati, Rom. VI. 23. Quomodo igitur si peccati nullius rea fuit, calamitatibus & morti obnoxia facta est?

RESP.

RESP. READING: 1. Annon etiam Chriſtus, juſtus & innocens licet, miſeriis, calamitatibus, ipſique morti obnoxius fuit? 2. Suſtinuit hæc Maria, ut per mortem Chriſto aſſimilaretur. Ib. pag. 295. Reſp. 1. Chriſtus adverſis mortique obnoxius fuit, quia ceu Sponſor noſter pro nobis peccatum factus eſt, ut nos fieremus juſtitia Dei in ipſo, 2. Cor. V. 21. Pro peccatoribus igitur ob peccata eorundem ſibi imputata mortuus eſt. An id quoque in B. Virgine locum habuit? Merito Chriſti contumelioſiſſimus eſt, quiſquis Παιμολάτρης id aſſeruerit. 2. Commune omnibus fidelibus eſt, ut per mortem Chriſto aſſimilentur, ſed propter peccata eorundem propria, ſicut Chriſtus mortuus eſt propter aliena. Conformitas eſt, non in morte duntaxat, ſed in cauſa etiam mortis. Moriuntur fideles omnes propter peccata. Ille propter non ſua, hi propter ſua.

ARG. IV. Sed & remiſſione peccatorum eam indiguiſſe arguit Scriptura, quæ omnes fideles pro ea ſupplicare jubet, Pſal. XXXII. 2. 5. 6. Matth. VI. 12. Baptizatam fuiſſe tradunt Euthymius & Evodius. Baptiſmus autem eſt in remiſſionem peccatorum.

RESP. READING: 1. Oravit etiam B. Virgo peccatorum remiſſionem, ſed non propriæ perſonæ reſpectu, verùm reſpectu eorum, quorum patrocinium ſuſcipiebat. Præterea locutiones S. Scripturæ, quæ de peccatis agunt, quantumvis generales, ſe ad ſtatum tantùm ordinarium extendunt, non privilegia excludunt. 2. Baptiſmus eſt in remiſſionem peccatorum, quatenus ex meritorum Chriſti efficacia confert gratiam, qua peccatum remittitur. Hæc autem gratia locum habuit in Maria, quia peccato fuiſſet obnoxia, niſi Chriſtus eam præſervaſſet. Proin vi baptiſmatis hujus gratiæ ſanctificantis augmentum accepit. Ib. pag. 295. 296. Reſp. 1. Ita B. Virgo militans adhuc oravit pro Eccleſia, & cum Eccleſia, (patrocinium verò Eccleſiæ Chriſto Salvatori reliquit) ut ſimul pro ſe, & remiſſione ſuorum peccatorum oraverit. Juſſa nempe eſt cum omnibus Sanctis orare: Dimitte nobis debita noſtra. Concilium ſanè Milevitanum Can. 8. anathemati ſubjecit eos, qui ſtatuunt, unicuique Sanctorum dicendum eſſe, Dimitte nobis debita noſtra, & non, Dimitte mihi debita mea, ut hoc pro aliis potiùs, quàm pro ſe juſtus dicere intelligatur. Sed & S. Auguſtinus Epiſt. 89. ſeverè pertendit, unico excepto Chriſto omnibus Sanctis, quicunque ii fuerint, neceſſariam eſſe particulam eam, Dimitte nobis debita noſtra, non aliena. Fuit igitur hactenus quidem B. Virgo Maria in ſtatu ordinario, neque privilegio exemptionis, quo ſolus Chriſtus potiebatur, gaviſam eſſe, ullo Scripturæ vel ſanioris Antiquitatis teſtimonio liquet. 2. Baptiſmus non confert, ſed obſignat gratiam, & quidem, ſi à ſolius Chriſti Baptiſmo diſceſſeris, κυρίως remiſſionis peccatorum propriorum, non præſervationis duntaxat. Aliud enim eſt remittere peccatum, aliud præſervare à peccato. Præterea eidem ſimul augmentum gratiæ ſanctificantis obſignatum eſſe, ſed ſuppoſita remiſſione, largimur ultro.

ARG. V. Actualia peccata haud obſcurè in ipſa notantur, Matth. XII. 47. 48. Joh. II. 4. Nec dubitant etiam Patres, quin morte Chriſti fuerit ſcandalizata, ut cæteri Apoſtoli.

RESP. READING: 1. Matth. XII. 47. 48. Chriſtus inſtruere voluit, opus Dei propter conſanguineos omittendum non eſſe; & conjunctionem carnalem ſecum ſine ſpirituali nihil prodeſſe. 2. Joh. II. 3. 4. nulla ex precibus Mariæ ambitionis ſigna emicuere. Aliàs Chriſtus ARG. VI. Sicut Chriſtus, ut conciperetur purus, & ſine peccati originalis labe, concipi debuit non ex libidine virifed à Spiritu S. miraculoſe: ita etiam B. Virgo concipi debuiffet non à parente homine, ſed ab ipſo Spiritu S.

Objectiones Tridentinorum.

OBJECT. I. B. Virgo contrixit caput serpentis, Genes. III. 15. Ergo à peccato omni immunis fuit. Est enim contrere caput serpentis idem, quod exuisse à peccato, & potestate Diaboli multo modo subjici. Resp. 1. Contritio capitis serpentis non mulieri, sed femini muliebris, Christo tributur. Illud enim הוא masculinum, non femininum est, quomodo acceperunt omnes tum Orientales Interpretes, tum Patres Græci & Latini antiquissimi. Obstat etiam, quod minus הוא fœminium sit, tum antecedens masculinum γῆ σπέρμα, tum sequens verbum masculinum שופך & denique in eodem verso occurrens affixum masculinum in תשופנו 2. Neque etiam contrere caput serpentis, B. Virginis tributur, arguit, eam ab omni peccato exemptam esse, sed potius eam parturiviße Christum, qui Diaboli caput contrivit. Ita etiam interpretantur Eucherius, Lucas Burgensis, Lyranus, Ita fideles in Christo capite conterunt caput serpentis.

EXCIP. READING: 1. *Femininum ipse Biblia Romana, & omnia pene Latina habent; sunt cum Augustino, Chrysostomo, Ambrosio, Gregorio, Beda, Aicuino &c. Denique pronominis ינ unica relatio propriæ est; pudendi, nimirum ad semen mulieris, Christum, ad quem proinde Feminini, non ad mulierem. Neque obstat, quod inter Mulierem & Serpentem inimicitiam Deus statuit. Nam nec Mulier, illa Virgo Maria est, fed Eva, & quoquo es illa omnes habent, neque per Christum falvantur: nec Mulier illa cum Serpente inimicitiam gerens, propterea Serpentis caput contrivit primo & propriè. Victoria enim non Mulieri, fed Semini Mulieris, Christo, primo promissa est. Maria autem non ipsa primo caput Serpentis contrivit, fed caput Serpentis propriè contrivientem portavit. 2. Differunt inter B. Virginem & fideles quoivis, caput Serpentis virtute capitis Christi conterentem, nonnullum ultro agnoscimus, sed non illud, quod Redingius turpi petitione protinus fingit petitum, quam alia ratione probat.

OBIECT. II. Matthei cap. I. nihil de fœditate genealogia Christi, Mariæ tamen parentes non recenseantur, nempe quia omnes peccatores exprest. Resp. I. Etiam Matthæi decus est ἀβδελυγμία. An idcirco peccati expers fuit? 2. In scriptura ἀβδελυγμία Mariæ narratur. Dicitur enim Elisabethæ cognata. Ostendiitur filia Davidis, Abrahami. Sed & ipfa illa genealogia apud Matthæum & Lucam eft genealogia Mariæ, fiquidem genealogia Christi ex Maria non Josepho genita, etiam Mariæ matris genealogia cenferi debet.

Excip. Redino: Quicquid fit, Parentes Mariæ non exprimuntur, quod mysterio non carent. Congruenter autem infinuatur, illam peccati fuiffe expertem, quia parentes ejus ab Adamo, peccati originalis labe, non accipiuntur. Et pag. 304. Resp. 1. Nil mihi cum tuis Redingi, mysteriis. Nam & Melchitectum eadem congruentia peccati expertem faciunt. quod privilegium tamen vestri B. Virgini foli vindicant. Neque quia parentes B. Mariæ non recenfentur, iccirco vel ipfa, vel parentes ejus in Adami peccatoris lumbis non exiterunt. Argumentum eft à facultate ad actum.

OBIECT. III. Maria ab Angelo salutatur κεχαριτωμένη gratiâ plena, Luc. 1.28. Ergo non defuit ei hæ gratia, nempe immunitas à peccato. Resp. 1. Etfi B. Virgo gratia plena fuit, quia nempe maximo favore Deus eam profecutus eft, tamen κεχαριτωμένη notat propriè eam, quæ gratiam nacta, confecuta eft. 2. Omnes fideles in Christo funt κεχαριτωμένοι. Si enim verè dixit Paulus Ephes. I. 6. Deum κεχαριτῶσαι gratos efficere fideles: utique etiam nos verè dicimus, fideles κεχαριτῶσθαι i.e. εἶναι κεχαριτωμένους, esse gratia affectos. An propterea omnes fideles sunt exempti à peccato? 3. Plenam gratia Mariam dixerunt etiam veteres, qui tamen non de immunitate à peccato, sed de incarnatione verbi id interpretati sunt.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Non idem est gratiâ plena, & gratia affecta. Non enim quilibet gratia affecti, gratia quoque pleni sunt. 2. Cùm Angelus dixit: Ave gratia plena, jam tum illam gratiæ plenitudinem in ipso verbo Dei æterno contuebatur. Sunt etiam verba illa prolata nomine Patris æterni, unico æternitatis Nunc omnia tempora & momenta continentis. Ergo omni tempore gratia plena fuit, nullique adeò unquam peccato obnoxia. Ib. pag. 304. 305. Resp. 1. Ita est, uti tu observas. Cùm igitur Angelus κεχαριτωμένην gratia affectam dixerit, cur vos, expressuri vocem Angeli gratia plenam appellatis? An qui gratia remissionis peccati afficitur, propterea ita gratia plenus est, ut nullo unquam peccato laboraverit? Quis non ineptias hasce riserit? 2. Et quis non reliquos ingenii tui lusus, vel potiùs ἀμαθίας? Quid viderit in æterno Dei verbo Angelus, unde tibi liquet? Verbo dixit gratia Dei affectam. Et quę gratia illa Dei sit, ipsemet v. 30. 31. abundè declarat, dicens: Invenisti gratiam apud Deum. Et ecce concipies in utero, paries que filium. En non gratiæ cujusvis plenitudinem, sed gratiam προφητείας, quam verbo enuntiavit, ac in æterno Dei verbo haud dubiè contuitus est! Quis tandem mirificum acumen non demiretur, sic argumentantis: Angelus verba illa nomine æterni Patris, unico æternitatis Nunc, omnia temporis momenta complectentis, protulit. Ergo Maria omni tempore gratia plena, adeòque expers peccati fuit. Sic quoties Angeli, Prophetæ nomine æterni Patris fidelibus gratiosum quid nuntiarunt, in iisdem cujusvis gratiæ, initii finisque expertis plenitudinem promiserint. Plusquam puerilium ineptiarum vix satis tœdere potest.

OBIECT. IV. Maria vocatur tota pulchra Cant. I. 15, & tota pulchra, כולך יפה in qua macula non est Cap. IV. 7. Ergo peccati omnino expers fuit. Resp. Ante Rupertum nemo verba illa explicavit de B. Virgine, sed de ecclesia & unaquaque fideli anima, omnes tum Latini, tum Græci Patres. An igitur omnes fideles peccati sunt expertes? 2. Ecclesia, B. Virgo Maria, omnésque adeò fideles sunt tota pulchri & sine macula, quia maculæ nullæ sive magnæ, sive paryæ iis imputantur, quippe per Christum condonatæ. Confer Ephes. V. 26. 27. 3. Præterea sine macula notat ecclesiæ sinceritatem, ἀκεραιότητα, cor integrum, non duplex.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si de unaquaque fideli anima textum Patres intellexerunt, cur eundem de B. Virgine exponere nefas? 2. Cùm nullus fidelium macula omni peccati careat, Ecclesia tota pulchra & macula omnis expers dici nequit, nisi in membro quopiam omnis peccati experte. quale, si à B. Virgine discesseris, nullum est. 3. Negatur autem in textu macula cum omnimoda distributione tum maculæ tum temporis. Nullum igitur tempus fuit, quo maculæ omnis non expers fuerit; adeòque nec tempus conceptionis. Ib. pag. 305. 306. Resp. Rursus præter meros λήρους nihil video. Etenim 1. intelligamus textum de B. Virgine, perinde ut de fidelibus universis. Sicut igitur in his διαμαρτύρεται non arguit ea nec in hac vita de cætero quod gratiæ in eadem specie gradum desiderantes. 2. Quamvis vera Ecclesia universali ministeri quæ membrum peccati esse possit, maculæ expers omnis, pulchritudine tota dici potest? Etenim tali est vel propter inhærentem, vel propter imputationem. Non propter inhærentiam, quia quod nullo membro inhæret, non dico ordinarium universitati inhæret. Non propter Imputationem, quia filius Christi pulchritudo maculæ omnis expers Ecclesiæ imputatur. Ut igitur pulchra tota & expers maculæ Ecclesia dicatur B. Virgo, sed istius Christus effecit potuit. 3. Si maculæ omnis quovis tempore expers est Ecclesia, quomodo igitur Eph. 1. 4. v. 6. Deo confiteri aliquando potuit: Ecce iniquitas, quia peccavimus: Facti sumus tanquam immundus nos nos. An ibi distributio tua maculæ & temporis omnis negatur? Sufficit ergo, per Christi imputatum solutum omni tempore illam carentiæ de cætero ab hæreticis, antecessorem, cordis intrepidatem, talem dici.

OBJECT. V. Idem sensisse Patres vetusti, Origenes, Cyprianus, Athanasius, Ambrosius, Basilius, Hieronymus, Augustinus, Chrysostomus, Sedulius, Sedulius, Sedulius, Damascenus, &c. Augustinus differt: Excepta Sancta Virgine, de qua propter honorem Domini nullam prorsus, cum de peccatis agitur, habere volo quæstionem. Scio enim scimus, quod ei plus gratiæ collatum fuerit ad vincendum omni ex parte peccatum, quæ concipere ac parere meruit eum, quem constat nullum habuisse peccatum; de natura & gratia. Resp.1. Damascenus, aliique Græcanici, vel μετα-βυζαντιοι idonei testes non sunt. 2. Basilii & Chrysostomi Liturgiæ, Cyprianı tractatus de operibus Christi Cardinalibus, Hieronymi Commentarii in Psalmos, Athanasii sermo de Deipara, quibus nituntur adversarii, genuini minime sunt. 3. Augustinum, cuius verba allegata semper in ore habent, non agere de peccato originali, sed de actuali, privilex ofiendit Dominicus de Soto. Imò ne quidem asserit S. Pater B. Virginem omnino fuisse absque peccato, sed tantum affirmat, nolle se de ea quæstionem movere: & quidem non ipsius Mariæ habita ratione, sed in honorem Christi, non quasi Christi honos lederetur, sed ut deferamus Christo, ut de matris ejus peccatis non loquamur. Et tamen Augustinus alibi de perfectione justitiæ diserte asserit, excepto uno mediatore omnes indigere remissionis peccatum.

EXCIP. REDUNC: 1. Sunto nonnulli, libri citati aliorum auctorum. Cum tamen antiquissimi, merita Ecclesiæ formosissima adornde probant. 2. De Deipara differit Augustinus citatis pius gratia collatum fuisse, ad vincendum omni ex parte peccatum. An igitur virginis peccati ejus promiscuum parte peccatum vitiis ipsis fuit? Addit, propter honorem Domini nolle se de eo matere, cum de peccatis agitur, quæstionem habere. Annon vero originale aquo atque actuale peccatum cum honore Domini pugnat? Ib. pag 306. Respon. Pleraque pugnatia nulla in numerum venire possunt quæ de authoribus & tempore, quo scripta sunt, nihil loquor. 2. Augustinum loco citato agere de peccato actuali, fortiter, multisque rationibus ipse Dominicus de Soto de Nat. & gratia lib. III. 4. negavit. Dictus enim, ita ille inter alia, in illa parte qua liber idem argumentum, quo ego in libris de perfectione justitiæ, de Spiritu & litera; scilicet quòd non possit homo vivere sine peccato, contra Cœlestium dicentem: Potest homo non peccare, si vult. Originale autem non est in nostra voluntate. Et paulò post: In eo, quod dicit vincendum, manifestissimè loquitur de actuali, quoniam originale non vincitur. Pluribus idem probavit Vincentius de Bandellis de Concept. B. Virg. Mar. pag. 144. &c. Addo ego denuo, S. Augustinum nec de originali, nec de actuali peccato B. Virginis eo loco quicquam statuere voluisse. Quomodo igitur qui quæstionem non movet, eandem in alterutram partem decidit? Quomodo enim, de eo quæstionem uno loco non movens, removet, qui alibi, quatuordecim locis, ab eodem Vinc. de Bandellis pag. 24. 25. &c. citatis, eandem peccato subjecit? Aliud verò longè est B. Virgini, quæ concipere ac parere meruit Christum, gratiam Divinitus collatam esse ad vincendum omni ex parte peccatum; aliud, peccatum non habere. Hoc de Christo, illud de Maria, peccatum originale, non actuale cujusvis temporis, nec omne (nam peccata etiam admissa fide meriti Christi vincuntur. quomodo S. Johannes 1. Epist. v. 4. fidem esse victoriam, qua mundus, adeóque etiam peccatum vincitur, dixit) ab ea excludens, asseruit. Neque de honore Domini peccatum Matris quicquam decerpere, infra docemus.

OBIECT. VI. Ob immaculatam conceptionem B. Virginis ecclesia instituit Festum conceptionis. Resp. 1. Festum illud recentissimum est, cujus origo repetitur ab Anshelmo Cantuariensi. Quanquam alii adhuc recentius faciunt. Baronius sanè in vita Anshelmi hoc Festum ne nominat quidem. 2. Id Festum nec ab omnibus semper receptum est, nec institutum ob immaculatam conceptionem Virginis. Durandus ait, institutum esse, non quia sit concepta, sed quia mater Domini sit concepta. 3. Festum id, ut & multa alia, superstitio & idololatria peperit.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. In aliis quoque, quæ fidei dogmata indubiè continent, sensim lux veritatis illuxit. Ita, nondum definita licet immaculata conceptione, festum ejusdem serò institui potuit. 2. Religiosa festi illius institutio fundatur in conceptionis ipsius instanti, juxta quod concepta fuit cum ordine condignæ ad maternitatem Domini præparationis, quæ peccatum nullum, utpote execrabile, compatitur. 3. Virginem immaculatè conceptam ita hoc festo honoramus, ut totum beneficium illud in Christum Redemptorem reducamus. Idolatriæ igitur illud insimulare, sibilus Serpentis est, cujus caput Deipara contrivit. Ib. pag. 306. 307. Resp. 1. Mitto alia, de quibus alibi. Festum ist hoc tum demum superstitio peperit, cùm Christianitas in præceps abiit, & quibuslibet, ineptissimis etiam Monachis, licentiam quidlibet audacter fingendi præbuit. quando in eum statum orbis devenit, ut cucurbitulas etiam Papistæ adoraturi fuerint, nisi Deus providisset. Sic scilicet veritas antehac sub modio latens in candelabrum enixa est. Et quomodo, ne hodie quidem, ut ajunt, definita immaculata conceptione, in ejusdem honorem festum institui, celebrari potuit? 2. Festi illius fundamentum verum Bernhardus Epistola ad Lugdunenses Canonicos notavit, novitatem ejus instituti acriter percellens, matrem temeritatis, sororem superstitionis, filiam levitatis. Præparatio porro ad Maternitatem Domini nec immunitatem ab omni peccato requisivit, sed operationem duntaxat Spiritus S. supervenientis, ut quod ex ea nasciturum erat Sanctum, Filius Dei vocari posset: Luc. 1. 35. nec in conceptionis B. Virginis, ſed in annuntiationis potiùs Angelicæ primo inſtanti facta eſt. 3. Quomodo in Chriſtum Redemptorem reduci poteſt beneficium Matris, quam à peccato redemptam negas? Potiùs de honore Chriſti, qui ſolus ab omni peccato immunis fuit, fictitius ille Mariæ honos delibat: & feſtum in ejuſdem honorem inſtitutum Dei honorem obſcurat. Nefas certè eſt, hominibus feſta religioſa dicari: nefas Angelis, quos eſſe abſque peccato conſtat. Proin nimium hunc honorem dedecori eſſe virgini, violare pietatem, apertè etiam Bernhardus dixit, & ſuperſtitionem, temeritatem, levitatem feſti ſonorè perſtrinxit, ſibilans eo modo, quo & me ſibilaſſe genuina hæc viperarum progenies ſibilavit. Nam quòd Bernhardum non aliam ob cauſam ſic feſtum hoc increpaſſe, quàm quia inſtitutum fuerit inconſulta Sede Apoſtolica, idem pag. 298. muſſat, impudenter facit. Is enim in diſputando omnino authoritatis Romanæ non meminit; tantùm, abſoluta diſputatione, conſulendam fuiſſe ſaltem Eccleſiam Romanam admonet. De cætero novitatem, temeritatem, ſuperſtitionem, levitatem, violatam pietatem ubique impingit.

in

OBIECT. VII. Deus potuit B. Virginem à peccato præſervare. Ergo veriſimiliter præſervare voluit. Reſp. De rebus fidei judicandum ex voluntate revelata, non potentia Dei, quæ aliâs rectè à Patribus dicta eſt aſylum hæreticorum.

Excip. Rebino: Suppoſito exemptionis privilegio, ad Divinam omnipotentiam ita confugimus, ut prærogativam illam dignitati Maternitatis congruam adſtruamus. Ib. pag 307. Reſp. Malè poſita ſupponis, omnipotentiam Dei temerè advocas, congruentiam fingis, & ex eadem dogma, reclamante Scriptura, cudis.

OBIECT. VIII. Ignominia matris redundat in prolem. Si igitur B. Virgo in peccato concepta fuit, eadem ignominia redundabit etiam in Chriſtum. Reſp. 1. Peccatum originis civiliter ne ipſi quidem B. Virgini fuit ignominioſum. Ignominia verò ex lege cœleſti æſtimata non redundat in prolem, niſi eadem labe infectam. Ita nec inceſtus Thamaris, à qua natus Chriſtus, in eum redundavit. 2. Poſſemus æquè dicere, pertinuiſſe ad honorem Chriſti, naſci ex matre immortali. Et cur non etiam ex avo & avia? 3. Imò inde magis elucescit Dei virtus, qui ex muliere obnoxia peccato eduxerit perfectè juſtum, Divina virtute vincente impedimenta naturæ. 4. Scitè monuit Bernhardus, eandem rationem ab honore Chriſti petitam, magis evincere exemptionem Abrahami à peccato, cui de Chriſto, tanquam ſemine ſuo futuro, facta promiſſio, qui credentium pater. Amplius enim eſſe Chriſtum fide recipere, quàm utero geſtare.

Excip. Rebino: 1. Originale peccatum utique B. Virgini adeò ignominioſum fuit, ut dedecuerit Matrem Dei ab eo mox inſtanti, quo ad Deiparam à Spiritu S. præparata fuit. 2. Sicut Abrahamus ex eo momento, quo ipſi facta fuit promiſſio de Chriſto, tanquam ſemine ſuo futuro, à peccato liberatus fuit: ſic Deipara pro eo inſtanti, quo in Matrem Dei electa cœpit eſſe habitaculum Spiritus S. immunis à peccato eſſe debuit. Ib. pag. 30 . 308.

Reſp. 1. Ad pleraque piſce magis mutus es Cætera nil niſi crambem recoctam olent. Fuit ſanè peccatum originale ignominioſum Deiparæ eatenus, quatenus vitium fuit ei inhærens, unde quædam ignominia ad eam redire potuit. Cùm verò illud perſonale fuerit, Mariæ perſonam egredi non potuit; atque inſuper Chriſti merito expiatum omne eſt. Peccatum porro à Chriſto expiatum impedire, quò minùs Deipara fieret, non potuit. 2. Abrahamus credens promiſſioni de Chriſto juſtificatus eſt. Attamen & ante juſtificationem peccati particeps; & poſt eam non planè ejus exſors fuit. QUÆSTIO IV.

An infantes ante baptiſmum decedentes, propter peccati originalis reatum, puniantur pœna damni in limbo, non pœna ſenſus in gehenna?

MAgiſter ſententiarum, eúmque ſecuti Scholaſtici, pœnarum æternarum duo genera diſtinguunt, unum pœnam damni, ſeu cœleſtis beatitudinis & viſionis Dei privationem; alterum pœnam ſenſus, ſeu actualem caſtigationem & cruciatum. Peccato igitur originali deputárunt pœnam damni: actuali verò pœnam ſenſus. Ante Scholaſticos verò Auguſtinus tenuit, peccato originali non minùs quàm actuali deberi pœnam ſenſus, ſeu ignis infernalis, adeóque ei pœnæ etiam infantes ante baptiſmum decedentes ſubjacere. Auguſtinum inter Scholaſticos ſecutus eſt ſolus Gregorius Ariminenſis, cui inde impoſitum eſt nomen Tormentum infantum. Hinc orta in Concilio ζύζήσεις gemina, una inter Auguſtinianos & Catharinum: inter Franciſcanos & Dominicanos altera. Auguſtiniani propter eam, quæ Auguſtino debetur, reverentiam, ſimul ne Gregorius Ariminenſis damnaretur, vehementer inſtabant, ne Auguſtini ſententia, quam cæteroquin falſam agnoſcant, in hæreticorum album referretur. Catharinus contra tendebat, ut articulus ille condemnaretur, ad refrænandam audaciam & ignorantiam quorundam Prædicatorum, doctrinam eam magno cum populi ſcandalo in vulgus diſſeminantium. Quanquam verò in Concilio Scholaſticorum de pœna peccati originalis, & infantum ante baptiſmum decedentium dogma palam nemo oppugnaverit, tamen non ſatis conveniebat Theologis, qua in re ſita ſit pœna peccati originalis & infantum abſque baptiſmo decedentium. Dominicani aſſerebant, ferebant, infantes ante baptismum & usum rationis morientes, post resurrectionem in limbo & tenebris, subterraneo loco, fed fine igni permanfuros. Franciſcani verò locum iis fuper terram & in loco affignabant, nonnullis etiam affirmantibus, Philoſophiæ ſtudio & rerum naturalium cognitioni incubitures, & ſingularem eam voluptatem, qua homines in rebus adinveniendis ingeniofi & ſolertes animum explere amant, percepturos. Catharinus easteris liberaliter aſſerebat, à ſanctis Angelis, beatiſque viſitatum, & conſolationibus fublevatum iri. Hoc Patrocinium diſſenſio tertia pro more ſuo parum generoſo Synodus, de poena peccati originalis, & infantum ſine baptiſmo decedentium nihil definire ſuſtinuit. Bellarminus *verò ab auctoritate gratiæ lib. Nos ante omnia diſtinguimus infantes fidelium & foederatorum, ab infantibus infidelium. Infantes infidelium Dei judicio permittimus. At infantes fidelium ante baptiſmum decedentes quod attinet, de eorum ſalute ob præregotivam foederis bene ſperamus, adeóque adverſariorum, qui æternæ damnationi eos promiſcuè ſubjiciunt, pronunciatum non modò ut falſum, ſed etiam ut crudele repudiamus. Quamvisque verò poenam infidelium infantes ante baptiſmum decedentes, propter reatum peccati originalis, ex impreſſorum Dei judicio ſuſtinuit ſunt, eam non damni duntaxat, ſed ſenſus etiam poenam, quamvis mitiorem eà, quam ſuſtinebunt peccatores adulti, juxta aſſertum Chriſti Luc. XII. 47. 48. futuram, diſerte aſſerimus. Proinde peccati originalis æquè atque actualis poenam conſiſtere non in carentia duntaxat viſionis Dei, & damnatio quadam, ſed in poena etiam ſenſus & ignis æterni, pronunciare non verenaur. Utrumque igitur nobis diſtinctè probandum fuerit, tum infantes fidelium ante baptiſmum decedentes promiſcuè non damnari, tum poenam peccato originali debitam non eſſe poenam duntaxat damni, ſed etiam ſenſus & cruciatus æterni. Prius liquet ſequentibus argumentis.

ARG. I. Ad infantes fidelium pertinet promissio gratiæ, Genes. XVII. 7. Act. II. 39. & regni Cœlorum, Matth. XIX. 14. &c. Similique sancti ab utero, Rom. XI. 16. 1. Cor. VII. 14. non utique sanctitate politicæ, uti Suarez, vel ceremoniali, uti Bellarminus, vel religiosa five futura five præsente, uti Vasquez, sed fanctali, ut ipse Salmero interpretatur. Non igitur ante baptismum decendentes damnantur, utpote quibus peccata, unica cauſa damnationis, remittuntur.

Resp. Rednice: 1. *Genes. XVII. 7. Semini Abrahami inſpecto, fideli fcilicet, adeoque jam circumciſo, utpote credenti, gratia promittitur. Matth. XIX. 14. parvuli jam circumciſi ineſſe ſignantur. Rom. XI. 16. hoc unum innuitur, virtute Divinarum promiſſionum radicem ipſorum habilem gratiam, qua ſalvari poſſint, communicare. 1. Cor. VII. 14. Infantes ſanctitate legitimi, cunjus virtute prolis ex matrimonio talis ſuſceptæ legitima eſt. 2. Quæ vero media infantibus ante baptiſmum decedentibus applicari meritum Chriſti ad remiſſionem peccatorum ſtatuit? Trach. III. p. 309. 310. Reſp. 1. Ita ſemini Abrahami myſtico circumciſo gratiam promiſit, ut eadem quilibet incircumciſi morte præcipiti defraudati fuerint, falvi eſſe nequeant. Preſtant enim exempla in contrarium non pauca. Et quæ prærogativa infantum V. T. ex formula fœderis, eadem, non minor certe, eſt infantum N. T. ex fidelibus parentibus oriundorum. In hæreditatem enim promiſſionis Abrahamo & ſemini ejus factæ ſuccedille non ſolum Iſraelitas veteres, ſed omnes fere ex Judæis five ex gentibus in Chriſtum credentes, Scripturæ teſtatur. Rom. IV. 13. 16. Gal. III. 10. 14. III. 29. 30. IV. 22. 24. liquido teſtatur. Olim circumcidebantur, hodie baptizabantur jam fœderati, Filii Dei. Alias ratio nulla fuiſſet, nulla eſſet, cur non infidelium atque ac fidelium liberi Sacramento baptiſmi potirentur. Matth. XIX. 14. 15. promiſſio illa Abrahamo facta fidelium Chriſtianorum infantibus confirmatum, quibus Regnum Cœlorum promittitur, ex cauſa, cur ad Chriſtum, baptizandi & in fide confirmandi, veniant. Rom. XI. 16. non habilitas ad gratiam, ſed actus ipſe ſanctitatis, quæ minimum fœderalis eſt, & tamen ex radice prodeuntibus practicatur. Denique ſi 1. Cor. VII. 14. ſanctitas dicitur ex liberis fidelium tributetur, per quam non in ſpirituum fed legitimorum cenſum veniunt, quia ignitur præ infidelium liberis prærogativa illi gaudentes ſolo fœderis prærogativa dicuntur, &. Sacramentum etiam capacem reddit. Seilicet fidelium conjugum confientiæ non à pollutionis duntaxat fornicariæ, ſed idololatriæ etiam metu liberandæ forrant. 2. An verò parvi, quos baptiſmo ſine eunte Spiritu Dei merita Chriſti applicari? Si negas, quidni Spiritus Dei, cujus principalis ubique officium eſt, operante pro beneplacito, Chriſti ſanguis pariter eanes infantibus fœderi prærogativa potientibus applicari queat?

ARG. II. A baptiſmo falus non dependet, ut à medio præciſe neceſſario, tum quia quidam ſervati ſunt absque baptiſmo, ut latro cum Chriſto crucifixus, Luc. XXIII. tum quia quidam cum baptiſmo damnati ſunt, ut Simon Magus, Act. VIII. A quo autem falus non dependet, ejus privatio non damnat.

Resp. Rabinus: 1. Latrones sufficiebat Baptismi votum. Simon verò Magus gratiam primam sola per poenitentiam meritalia peccatorum remissionem per sanctificationem veram cum Deo in gratiam reditu. 2. Pœnæ quoque confessio cap. 20. statuit, baptismum effectus à Deo recipi, & primi in Ecclesiam ingressi. An extra ecclesiam nemini salutem consequi, eadem confessio cap. 17. docet. Ib. pag. 270. Resp. 1. Latroni non verum baptismi, sed imaginem, sed omnipotentia benignitatis S. Augustinus de Baptismo lib. IV. c. 14. scribit, profuit. Nec Simoni Mago baptizato peccata remissa sunt, ut post Donatistas apud Augustinum de Bapt. lib. III. c. 18. Relinquitur itaque, quia, eodem Augustino cap. 21. docente, ad baptismum fictus accessit. Quod igitur & salvato Christiano desit, & damnato adsit, quomodo necessarium simpliciter salutis medium fuerint? 2. Confessionem Helvetiam vellicas vel lacessis petitio. Nam & signum aliquod gratiam, eadem cap. 19. negavit, & pœna non ita acrib. instituit Ecclesiam, ut omnes sine extra ecclesiam positos Sacramentis non participantes, perditos irremissibili condemnaverit cap. 17. allatis.

ARG. III. Infantes fideles V. T. non circumcisi ante diem octavum, non baptizati. Patet exemplis sanctissimorum illorum Martyrum majorum, Israelitarum, qui ante diem octavum exciti sunt juxta Pharaonis Ægypti, Antiochi & Herodis, Exod. I. 22. 1. Machab. I. 51. 64. Matth. II. 16. An illos omnes damnatos confebimus? Sanè non aufus est Hugo de Victore, fervatos doceris infantes ante octavum diem non circumcisos, atque id teftimoniis R. Abenezræ & Solomonis Jarchi confirmans. Imò nec adulti non circumcisi damnabuntur ob circumcisionis privationem, uti apparet exemplo eorum, qui in deserto mortem oppetierunt. Multò minùs igitur damnantur infantes fideium N. T. ante baptismum decedentes, ob defectum baptismi. Amplior enim eft gratia Novi Teftamenti, quàm fuit Veteris.

Resp. Rabinus: 1. In Novo etiam Teftamento Martyrium & sanctificatio, seu charitate formata contritio, baptismi defectum supplet. Secundum vera verò ordinationem baptismus simpliciter ad salutem necessarius eft. Et antiqua etiam ecclesiæ Dei Sacramenta quoquo pacto salutis sum opitulatum eft, Augustinus contra Jul. lib. V. 21. affirmat. Tantum Sacramenti necessitatem ille ignorat. Ib. pag. 330. 331. Pelag. 1. Salva in eo, damnodo martyrio & contritione, falutis effectum per charitatem, qualem Pontificii obtrudunt, etiam privationis & necessitatis inevitabilis juncturis, & à martyrio ac contritione baptismi contemptum removeris. Quinnò Martyres, & quotquot sine Sacramento ordinario falvati unquam fuere, nonnisi privatis & inevitabilis necessitas excusavit. Propter quod autem unumquodque tale eft, illud magis tale eft. 2. Quantum Sacramenti necessitatem S. Augustinus agnoverit, non refert. Pelagiani certaminis occasione ad quæque ita urbanius deflexit. Neque verò Scriptura tantillum Sacramentum famulorum Dei ante circumcisionem, ſi quod neceſſarium fuiſſet.

ARG. IV. Si ob defectum baptiſmi damnantur ſine baptiſmo decedentes, damnabuntur igitur ob culpam ſimpliciter alienam. Etenim culpâ non propriâ, ſed vel parentum, vel iniquitatis temporum, Sacramento pri-vantur. Atqui Deus ipſe Ezech.XVIII.20. negat convenire, ut filius iniquitatem ſui Patris luat.

RESP. REDINO: Nec infantes infidelium damnantur ex culpa per propriam voluntatem contracta, ſed ex peccato originali. An ergo portant iniquitatem patrum? Ezechiel igitur loquitur de regenitis. Irregeniti contra ita luunt peccatum Adami, ut peccatum originale iis ſit intrinſecum; adeóque peccatum proprium portent. Ib. pag.311. Reſp. Peccata parentum perſonalia & naturalia, quæ tu capitalia vocare ſoles, miſerè confundis. Ego non de naturalibus, quale erat Adami, ſed de perſonalibus, qualia ſunt parentum, baptiſmum prolis negligentium, adeóque neglecta ovis, uti veteres loqui amant, reorum loquor. Tale portare filios innocentes, ſeu parentum peccatis non conſentientes, Ezechiel negat. Addo, plerunque privari baptiſmo infantes fidelium, non tam parentum culpa, quàm inevitabili neceſſitate, cujus ſolus Deus, vitæ & necis arbiter, naſcentia infantum fata immatura morte abrumpens, author eſt.

ARG. V. Neque etiam Sacramentis unquam Deus ita alligavit gratiam ſuam, quin eam ſine Sacramento extra ordinem pro liberrima δόλοξια ſua exerere & diſpenſare poſſit. Nos quidem ad media alligati ſumus, non Deus. In fame cibis, in morbis medicina uti debemus. Deus autem ſine cibis alere corpus, ſine medicamentis ſanitatem reſtituere poteſt. Hac ratione utitur etiam Gerſon in ſermone de Nat. Virg. Mariæ, quem proinde doctorem conſolatiſſimum vocant.

RESP. REDINO: Potentia Dei abſoluta ſecundis cauſis alligata non eſt. At tu ipſe ſupra eam aſylum hæreticorum vocaſti, & ab ea argumentum pro immaculata conceptione Deiparæ promi vetuiſti. Ib. pag.311. Reſp. Ergo per potentiam abſolutam Deus ſalvare poteſt, quos vult, non accedente Sacramento. uti tu ipſe de martyribus & contritis confeſſus es. Hæc ſanè Dei potentia non eſt aſylum hæreticorum, quale eſt potentia illa, ex qua, nullum voluntatis teſtimonium habente, dogma idololatricum tu nobis aſtruere conitebaris. Quid verò, Redingi, ſibi vult Scholæ veſtræ axioma, quod 4. Sent. diſt. 4. ſic habet: Deus ſuam potentiam Sacramentis non alligavit? An ſolus tu à Schola diverſus abis?

ARG. VI. Chriſtus Marc.16. dicit: Qui crediderit & baptizatus fuerit, ſalvabitur. Et in antitheſi ſolam fidem, non baptiſmum urget. Qui verò, inquit, non crediderit, damnabitur. De quo Bernhardus Epiſt.77. monet, cautè & vigilanter non repeti baptiſmum, ut innueretur, ſolam interdum fidem ſufficere ad ſalutem, & ſine ea ſufficere nihil.

RESP. REDINO: Bernhardus loquitur de ſola fide, accedente vel martyrio, vel voto baptiſmi, ubi defit ejusdem copia. At ejusmodi actus infantes, utpote rationis non participes, elicere nequeunt. Ib.pag.311. Reſp. Martyres & contritos (quanquam ſine ſalutari contritione martyri eſſe contingit nemini) baptiſmi defectum ob privationem ejus ſolam & immutabilem neceſſitatem non damnari, ſupra diximus. Ubicunque igitur eſt privatio Sacramenti, ſine ejuſdem contemptu, noxa abeſt. Atqui in infantibus fidelium, martyrii licet & contritionis actus non elicientibus, (Martyrii tamen coronam etiam etiam hos quandoque decerpere, séque ipsos sanguine suo abluere, ipsi doctores vestri sustinent) privatio ejusmodi sola est. Martyres & contritos vera fide destitutos nullos esse, mecum fatebere. Si potest esse sine baptismo martyr & contritus, sine fide esse non potest, quis non disparem utriusque necessitatem vel cœcus agnoverit? Si ad votum baptismi recurrere tibi libet, nec illud fidei æquiparari potest, nec absens à Christo damnationis causa, uti quidem infidelitas, statuitur.

ARG. VII. An igitur glorioſum illum in veteri Eccleſia chorum Martyrum, qui cùm eſſent adhuc catechumeni, ante baptiſmum ad ſupplicia rapti ſunt, ob ſolum baptiſmi defectum, æternæ damnationi ſubjiciemus? An Imperatorem Valentinianum non baptizatum, de quo tam præclarè Ambroſius?

Resp. Redino: 1. Nemo Pontificiorum glorioſum Martyrum non baptizatorum chorum damnavit. Habuerunt enim illi ſaltem Baptiſmi votum. Et martyrium vices baptiſmatis ſupplet. 2. Valentinianum fidei Divinæ charitate formatæ lumine eminuiſſe oſtende, & bene de ſalute ejus ſperabimus. Sin ex naturalis honeſtatis operibus ſalvatum ſtatuis, Pelagianus es. Ib. pag. 311 312. Reſp. 1. Bellé equidem. Si tibi Martyrii & contritionis caſum excipere, nullibi diſertè excipiente Scriptura, licuit; nobis privationis caſum in infantibus, propitia Scriptura, excipere non nefas erit. Quanquam martyrium, quale ſine charitate & cum peccato mortali obtinere poſſe, veſtri, nominatim Cornelius à Lapide ad 1. Cor. XIII. decernunt, baptiſmum ſupplere, non auſim ego affirmare. 2. Quid verò de Valentiniano Imperatore hæſitas? Nunquam Ambroſii funebrem legiſti, in qua ſic ille inter alia: Sæpe me appellabat abſentem, & à me ſe iniſiandum ſacris myſteriis præferebat. Mora ei adventus mei prolixior videbatur. Jam ſuperabam alpium juga: & ecce, nuntius amarus mihi, & omnibus, de tanti morte Imperatoris. Quem in Evangelio eram generaturus, amiſi; ſed ille non amiſit gratiam, quam poposcit. Vita jam fruitur æterna. Qui habuit Spiritum tuum, Sancte pater, non accepit gratiam tuam? Aut ſi, quia ſolenniter non ſunt celebrata myſteria, hoc movet: ergo nec Martyres, ſi catechumeni fuerint, coronentur. Non enim coronantur, ſi non iniſiantur. Quòd ſi ſuo abluuntur ſanguine, & hunc ſua pietas abluit & abſolvit.

ARG. VIII. Neceſſitatem Sacramentorum, adeóque etiam baptiſmi, non eſſe abſolutam, fatentur nobiſcum Gerſon, Cajetanus, Gabriel Biel, Tilemannus Sigebergenſis, Eliſius, Georgius Caſſander, alii.

Respondere Redingius nihil potuit.

Objectiones Tridentinorum.

OBIECT. I. Chriſtus Joh. III. 5. negat quemquam, qui ex aqua & Spiritu genitus non eſt, regnum Dei ingreſſurum. Atqui infantes non baptizati ex aqua vel Spiritu geniti non ſunt. Reſp. 1. Si per aquam baptiſmi Sacramentum intellexit Chriſtus, deſcribetur igitur regula generalis, juxta quam modo ordinario Deus nobiſcum agit. Ab hac verò regula generali caſus neceſſitatis Per aquam Christus non intellexit baptismi Sacramentum, tum quia Nicodemo eo tempore baptismum necessarium non fuisse, largiuntur adversarii: tum quia loquiatur Christus de re,quae Nicodemo,magno Israëlis doctori,nota esse debuit, quale quid baptismus non erat: tum quia baptismus non eſt causa regenerationis, sed communionis regni Dei fignaculum, & quaedam praedicatur, cum verbo Evangelii medium morale regenerationis; sed vel ipsum Spiritum, ufitata hendiyade, qua de duobus substantivis alterum adjectivè interpretandum,cujus exempla funt Matth. III. v. 11. Act.XIV.13. Apocal.XX. 10. ut ita denotetur per aquam & spiritum lavacrum spirituale, seu spiritus lavans & mundans corda, vel Chriſti obedientiam,quam utpote cauſam regenerationis unicè Nicodemo fuadet Christus, quaeque,inſtar aquae,eſt res pura, & purificandi vim habens. de qua aqua vide loca egregia Ezech.XXXVI.26.Pſal.LI.9. 1.Joh.V.6.8.

Respond. Nonnulli a te allegati, veluti Justinus Martyr, Martinus, Cyrillus, parentem locum ne attingunt quidem. Certeri contra hereticos veteres quidam, Baptismi quamlibet necessitatem absegnantes, disputant, non absolutam necessitatem negant. Neque vero unquam ex patrum testimoniis veterum nonnullorum Patrum, qui haec Ch. illi verba ita rigide interpretari fuit,ut infantes non tinctos, tanquam victimas nil miferantis orci, infra transferpserint. Nam idem ſimilem infantum etiam reſpectu neceſſitatem Eucharistiae ex Joh.VI. urgent. Quia & Bernhardus Ep.77. nec non Theologi Scholaſtici in 4. Sent. dist.3. ipsique adeo Bellarminus de Baptiſ. cap.5. docent,non aeque Baptismi neceſſitatem exprimi, quam ex Evangelio de baptismo poſt mortem Christi promulgato fuiſſet. eam Baptismi necessitatem nemiquam probari Offendendum igitur vobis fuisse merito ait, quod praecipuum Domini, ex quo tanta necessitas liquere posset. Tantum vero abest, ut offendi illud possit, ut potius ex verbis Domini Matt. XVI. 16. Bernhardus idem concludendum existimet. Ex quibus ibi in antiquitate gradibus fit? 2. Infantes fidelium antequam baptismum ordinarie regenitos fatemur, sed non modo mediocque, adulterum respectu ordinatis. Pertendo igitur, distinctum regenerationis ordinem apud infantes & adultos obtinere. quod ita pro negare non ausis. Adulti enim etiam verbo viventis Dei praedicato regenerantur, 1. Petr. 1. 23. An eodem ordine infantes? Hinc adeò Lombardus vellet 4. Sent. d. 4. facere cos de vi dicit dictum illud: Nisi quis renatus fuerit ex aqua & Spiritu sancto, non introibit in regnum Dei, qui positus & communiter accipiatur, quantum ad visibile sacramentum; quamvis additum, quantum ad regenerationem spiritualem. Et Bonaventura ad eundem locum Lombardi, distinctionis mandatum Domini de eo, qui sacrificium habere, & non impedire nescitur. 3. Vicissim quero, qua fronte à verbis Christi Martyrium & contritionem nec non Baptismi in Martyribus & contritis votum excipias? Nequeenim Christus de voto aquae recipiendo ad de re, qua ipsa loquuta est. Sicut votum Spiritus sine spiritu ipso ad salutem non sufficit, ita nec votum aquae, cujus hic Christus meminit. Utrumque in re habeatur necesse est. Nisi forte in verbis Christi admittere lubet fensum disunctivum, hoc modo: Nisi quis ex aqua & spiritu, vel saltem ex spiritu renatus fuerit. Quae expositio si vera est, salvari igitur infantes etiam sola Spiritu regenerati, neque inquiore fronte à me sentiri possis, quàm ate votum Baptismi, aliàque excepta fuerint. Quid quod infantes Martyres etiam sine voto Baptismi, adeoque nec re, nec voto eti praesidio salvari pertendo? 4. Nicodemo coram Christo debuisse prophetias de necessitate Baptismi abolutam, falso dicis. Nullae enim eiusmodi prophetiae utjuam extant. Locus vero Ezech. XXXVI. 24. ne quidem de Baptismo, nedum de abolutu ejus necessitate agit. quod plerique veltrates subsimum agnoscunt. 5. Medium non morale dantaxat, sed efficiens simpliciter aquae influxus ad spiritualem regenerationis Baptismum vos statuitis. Et tamen sine hoc medio Martyres, contritos Baptismum voventes regenerari posse, simul affirmatis. Ita igitur nodum, quem imprudens tenuisti, solvo. Ego vero baptismum & aquam effectu regenerationis diceri negavi: & quatenus praedicatur, sum verbo Evangelii, regenerationis medium morale esse, aiebam. Locutus igitur sum & de adultis, & de medio morali, quod non nisi rem, cujus medium est, requirat. uti in signis & figuratis quae baptismus est, liquet. Ita nemo ingenii tui arces in perverendo fudant. 5. De Patribus supra. Si obedientia Christi ab infantibus ob rationis defectum recipi nequit, an iccirco nulla obedientia Christi in regenerationis partes sunt? Ne sympatati, quam fabrici rationcinati absque ratione.

OBIECT. II. Circumcisio necessaria erat ad salutem. Minatur enim Deus Genes. XVII. 14. interimendum ejus populo fui excidendum. Ergo multò magis necessarius est ad salutem Baptismus. Resp. Comminatio illa excidii non pertinebat ad infantes ante octavum diem decedentes, & nullà fuà culpà sacramento privatos: sed ad adultos circumcisionem negligentes, uti arguit subjecta ratio, quia factus meum violavit. Hunc sensum asserimus Historiae Patriarcharum Tomo II. Exercit. 7. de fatherAbrahamico Sect. 9. Aliàs si statutae exemplo circumcisionis, & nec major nec minor est necessitas baptismi, simi, quam fuit olim circumcisionis, confecta res est. Nam eam absolutam non fuisse, supra probavimus, & fatetur Valquez, alii que.

EXCIP. RUDING: Infans nBavus die non circumcisus dicitur extra fœdus Dei & communionem populi Dei, Genes. XVII. 12. 14. vulgatum. Affirmat igitur, non quidem ad salutem, sed ad objectis Tridentinis & fœderis pactionalis necessitatem facit. Baptismi vero per os ad fœdus Christi & bona ejus recipienda necessitas. lib. 3 33. Resp. Minor ἀκριβολογικῶς tota, quatenus hunc incircumcisus extra Mosaici Testamenti & fœderis (ut ait Moses, nec testamentum ejus infinitare circumcisionis minus hic) communionem facit: necessitatem facit circumcisionem non ad salutem, sed ad communionem fœderis, quasi falso contingere potuisse extra fœdus illud, quo Deus Abrahamo & semini ejus in Deum se fore promittit: potest necessitatem effe circumcisionis ad salutem? Sed, cum illam ad salutem necessitatem simpliciter fuisse neges, hinc necessitatem effe aiferas. Hæc Theologo indigna funt. Unum repeto, ad quod respondere nihil tu potuisti, communionem illam pertinere ad adultos, & ad eos, quorum infantium circumcisio à parentibus negligebat eft, imminente circumcisionem tum, cum neceffitate ejus intellecta procurare poffent. Hinc arguit & Deus pœnam, ut patet, contra ejusmodi, ex Genesi, quæ incircumcisus, non ipse à Deo petitum eft, fed patris circumcisionis negligens, Exod. IV. 24. 25. quæ pœna tres & plurimi fuerunt, ab Genes. XVII. 14. hæc verba funt: Hæc res adultos tantummodo tangit, & infantes, cum jam adolescerint, si quo casu circumcisi non fuerint, non infantes infantiæ tempore. Eo igitur quam gravi errore tenetur? Neque prorsus aliud confitetur, quam circumcisionem negletam propria culpa damnabilem fuiffe: idem non de baptismo propria culpa negleto afferimus.

OBJECT. III. Paulus Ephes. V. 25. 26. dicens ecclesiam purgari lavacro aquæ, & Tit. III. 5. baptismum vocans lavacrum regenerationis, tollatur baptismum effe medium ad mundationes & peccatorum. Ergo necessitatem effe ad salutem. Resp. 1. Non plus hinc colligi potest, quam baptismum effe medium justificationis & salutis ordinarium. At absolutam effe ejus necessitatem, ita ut sine eo extra ordinem Deus operari non possit, inde colligi non potest. Ipsi adversarii baptismo aquæ aliquando substituunt baptismum sanguinis, vel baptismi votum, vel fidem & contritionem. Ita Eucharistia, miraculo, perfectionibus pro Evangelio funt media falutis. An idcirco Deus eis Deus operari non potest? 2. Neque lavacrum regenerationis neceffario notat baptismum. Ut enim intelligatur renovatio & mundatio interna per Spiritum S. patiat analogia locorum Esai. LV. 1. Jerem. II. 13. Joh. IV. 14. VII. 38.

EXCIP. RUDING: 1. Cum ex Divina revelatione tria sint regenerationis media, amnities, seu fides charitate formata, martyrium & baptismus, & posterorum illud istum in familiæ obliveat, nisque baptismus ordinarium & perpetuum ecclesiæ objicitur necessitas veram regenerationis, eorum medium eft. 2. Si lavacrum regenerationis eft renovatio & mundatio interna per Spiritum S. utique hæc ex media effe nequit. Ita Rudingius. Sine etiam pro infantibus parentum infidelium mortuus fit, objicitur applicationis medio, non aliud medium, quo illud fidelium infantibus applicetur, aſſt, quam baptiſmus. Ib. pag. 313. 316. Reſp. 1. Dni regenerationis media eſſe vel martyrium, vel contritionem Scripturæ docet Oſtrodæ, & patres. Atqui neutrum nili in regenitis cadit. An enim irregenitus martyr eſſe, an conteri poteſt? Cumque Scriptura in loco adeò à vobis decantato Joh. III. 5. regenerationis media aquam & Spiritum nominet cur tu, omiſſo Spiritu S. alia ſubſtitues? Extat ex baptiſmo, quod regenerationis ſignaculum eſt, cauſam medium cauſale conſtituis? 2. Chriſtum pro infidelium infantibus mortuum eſſe, nudè aſſeris non probas. Improbaſſe eum mortem ſua vicaria beneficium iis, qui medio applicationis deſtituuntur omni aliorum eſt. Fidelium verò medium applicationis ordinarium & perpetuum nunquam deeſt, pura Spiritus ſignaculum verò eſtidem, baptiſmus ordinarie conferitur. Intercedente enim Spiritus S. potens operatio, aquæ ſignaculo deſtituta haud dubiè efficere poteſt.

OBJECT. IV. Baptiſmus eſt unicum remedium adverſus peccatum originale, nec iſte ſine illo aliter poteſt. Ergo ad ſalutem ita neceſſarius eſt ac ſine eo infantes à peccato originali purgari, adeoque ſalvari negetur. Reſp. Petitur vè in αἰτησιν, & ſuppoſitur id, quod eſt caput controverſiæ. Nam nec baptiſmo eluitur & aboletur peccatum originale, ſed in eo tantùm offertur & obſignatur remiſſio omnis peccati: nec ſi Baptiſmo aboleretur, inde abſoluta ejus neceſſitas inferri poſſet. Poteſt enim alia media ſui præſtare Deus ſine baptiſmo. Id nec adverſarii eunt inficias, contendentes, Martyrio quoque ſine baptiſmo omnia peccata deleri.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Baptiſmum eſſe medium ſuſficiens, ſeu remiſſionis peccatorum, ipſi ſatisfacta confeſſus es. Medium porro nunc efficiunter in hac conſecutionem inſtitit. 2. In Baptiſmo remiſſa peccatorum obſignatur, utique obſignatio ex Dei meritum Chriſti adhi organicam virtutem efficax eſt, adeoque effectu remiſſionis nunquam deficitur. Baptiſmo igitur peccatorum remiſſio ordinaria ſtatuit. Ib. pag. 316. 317. Reſp. 1. Totidem mihi pericitur logomachiæ me erant. Medium juſtificationis baptiſmum nunquam dixi. Dixi communionis Dei ſignaculum, & quatenus præſtatur, cum verbo Evangelii medium morale regenerationis. Senſum dictis abunde expoſui. 2. Cum ea quotlibet obſignationi ſui prior ſit, etiam remiſſionem peccatorum, quæ baptiſmo obſignatur, baptiſmo priorem eſſe, fequitur. Quomodo igitur remiſſionem peccatorum baptiſmi effectum vocas? Porro obſignatio illa ita efficax eſt, ut ſine ea Dei ſolus gratia & Spiritus S. virtute remiſſio, intercedente caſu, contingere poſſit.

non redemit, cujúſve perſonas in cruce non ſuſtinuit, pœnis inferni etiam quoad ſenſum eximemus?

RESP. REDING: 1. Chriſtum non redemiſſe infantes infidelium, vel fidelium non baptizatos, Pelagii hæreſis eſt. Is enim, Chriſtum non eſſe pro omnibus mortuum, aſſeruit. 2. Pœ peccati originalis reatus infernalis ignis non contrahitur. Licet proin Chriſti meritum iis non applicetur, non ideirco ſenſus pœnam ſubeunt. Ib. pag. 319. Reſp. Non teris nervum. Cur mortem temporalem, maledictam utique, luunt, ab æternæ mortis cruciatu immunes? Sed nec cætera ſani quicquam habent. Etenim 1. Chriſtum pro quibusdam duntaxat mortuum eſſe, ubi Pelagius docuit? Unum apicem, ſi dicto tuo fidem conſtare vis, prome. Semipelagianis, non Pelagianis, id tribuit Innocentius X. in quinto contra Janſenium anathematiſmo. Et tamen Proſper Epiſt. d. Semipelagianis contrarium diſertè impingit, pro univerſo nimirum humano genere mortuum eſſe Dominum noſtrum Jeſum Chriſtum, & neminem prorſus à redemptione ſanguinis ejus eſſe exceptum. Docebunt te rectiora Janſenitæ veſtri, non ita in veterum ſcriptis, ſicut tu es, hoſpites. 2. Peccatum originale quid aliud eſt, quàm corruptio totius naturæ ſpiritualis, fons & ſcaturigo omnium malorum, peccatorum? Minor ergo ejus reatus erit quàm peccatorum actualium? Minor rivuli perturbati, quàm fontis, omnem perturbationem ſcaturientis, malignitas? Fermentum hoc Pelagianum eſt, ad extenuandam peccati originalis malitiam ſuſceptum.

ARG. V. Sed & infantes non baptizati in hac vita torquentur pœna etiam ſenſus, fame, ſiti, morbis, aliiſque infinitis calamitatibus. At omnium eorum, qui à Chriſto redempti non ſunt, quique æterna non perfruentur beatitudine, temporales pœnæ ſunt veluti præludia æternarum. Neque majore jure cruciantur in hac vita pœna ſenſibili, quàm cruciabuntur ſimili pœna in altera: imprimis cùm peccatum originale in iis, utpote in Chriſto non remiſſum, adhuc hæreat.

RESP. REDING: Calamitates ejuſmodi proximè non à peccato originali, ſed à cauſarum ſecundarum naturali diſpoſitione: remotè verò à Juſtitiæ originalis carentia oriuntur. Ib. pag. 319. Reſp. ARG. VI. Quam mortem meruit Adamus peccando, eandem meretur peccatum originale omnium poſterorum ſeorſim ſpectatum. Atqui Adamus peccando non ſolam damni, ſed etiam ſenſus pœnam meruit, adeóque quicquid eſt mortis usque ad noviſſimum, uti Auguſtinus loquitur de Civ. D. lib. XIII. 12. Eandem igitur pœnam meretur etiam poſterorum peccatum originale. Non enim aliud ex eis, quàm quod ipſi fuerunt, naſcebatur: pro magnitudine quippe oritur illius natura, quam mutavit damnatio in pejus, ut quod penaliter Matth. XV 19. si in corde, hoc est, fonte, scaturigine sua, ceu lutulenta palude, nunquam fuerunt? Quomodo, quod operabatur peccatum, S. Paulus idem inhabitanti peccato Rom. VII. 17. tribuit, si operationis malitia in peccato inhabitante non extitit? 2. Delectatio, quæ peccatis actualibus inest, unde nisi à corruptione naturæ originem habet? Etsi igitur, quatenus illa actu se exerit, in pœnæ incrementum exerenti vertit, non tamen speciem pœnæ, sed gradum duntaxat mutat. Pœnam damni esse mortem æternam, & frustrationem saltem beatitudinis, non diffiteris. Si igitur non sit homo omni modo extinctus, minimùm in eo erit pudor, confusio & compunctio æterna. Ubi talis frustratio est, ibi sine dubio tenebræ exteriores, ploratus & stridor dentium sunt. quæ sine sensu pœna esse nequeunt.

ARG. VIII. Dogma hoc haustum est ex olidis lacunis Pelagii, qui infantibus non regenitis per Christum denegans regnum cœlorum, iisdem tamen nescio quam felicitatem naturalem extra Cælum indulsit. Quem Augustinus, quamvis perperam gratiam alligans Sacramento, validissimis argumentis oppugnavit, passim demonstrans, peccatum originale pœnis non tantùm damni, sed etiam sensus, & quidem æterni ignis plectendum esse. Cujus sententiam à strophis Scholasticorum luculenter vindicavit Jansenius peculiari de statu parvulorum tractatu.

RESP. REDING: 1. Præsumptio est, Augustinum erroris hic arguere, qui tamen adverſ. Julian. lib. V. 8. infantes tanta pœna plectendos esse, ut eis non nasci expediret, negat: & in damnatione omnium levissima futures asserit. Alibi verò Serm. 14. de verbis Apostoli ex Matth. 25. affirmans, ituros eos in ignem æternum, per ignem æternum locum inferni intellexit. 2. Catharini, non Pontificiorum omnium, sententia fuit, quòd beatitudine naturali infantes hi fruituri sint. Innocentius III. contrà in cap. Majorem de Baptismo & ejus effectu, pœnam originalis peccati esse carentiam visionis Dei; actualis verò gehennæ cruciatum, definivit. Ib. pag. 320. 321. Resp. 1. Tuam potiùs impudentiam & quidvis asserendi libidinem incusabunt meritò alii. Etenim ipse Florentius Conrius, Archiepiscopus Tuamensis, jam pridem tractatum doctissimum edidit, quo probatissimum fecit. parvulos, absque baptismo ex hac vita decedentes pœnis non tantùm damni, sed etiam sensibilibus, & quidem æterni ignis, secundùm S. Augustini doctrinam, plecti. Cujus argumenta, quibus mentem Augustini ex ipso Augustino ille eruit confirmavitque, nunquam tu infringes. Sed & Salmero id ipsum de Augustino non uno loco fatetur. Locum ex lib. V. 8. adversus Jul. integrum repræsentare debueras. Sic autem habet: Ego autem non dico, parvulos sine Christi baptismate morientes tanta pœna esse plectendos, ut eis non nasci potiùs expediret, cùm hoc Dominus non de quibuslibet peccatoribus, sed de scelestissimis & impiissimis dixerit. Non igitur pœnam sensûs, sed gradum ejus pœnæ sensûs, quem scelestissimi subeunt, iis verbis Augustinus negavit. Frigidum verò planè est, quòd in altero loco Augustini, ignem æternum de loco damnatorum, inferno, non de cruciatu infantum in gehenna dici, asseris. Etenim S. Pater eo loco impugnat Pelagianos, qui infantes non baptizatos dicebant salvos fore, sed non in Regno Cœlorum. Hanc ille sententiam ita impugnat, ut doceat, sic opponi Regnum Cœlorum, & ignem æternum, ut nullum detur medium; & necessùm omnino esse, qui non sit in Regno, eum esse in igne æterno. Quin & pœnam ignis æterni disertè appellat. Et mentem Augustini discipu-

Ita enim Augustinus lib. 1. de Peccat. Merit. & Remiss. cap. 10. Quod ergo dicitur, Per unum hominem peccatum intravit in mundum, & per peccatum mors, & ita in omnes homines pertransiit, eo quod in illo omnes peccaverunt: id omnino non intelligitur, nisi de illo uno, in quo omnes erant, quando quidem omnes erant ille unus homo. Quod autem ait, Omnes erant ille unus homo: commendationem originis commendat & unitatem vocationis. Et lib. 3. de Nupt. & Concup. cap. 27. Omnes, inquit, in illo uno peccaverunt, quando omnes illi unus homo erant, tenetur in Augustino sententia. Et Ambrosius lib. 5. in Luc. cap. 10. Omnes, inquit, in Adam fuimus, omnes in illo unum eramus. Et Gregorius Nyssenus, Hom. de Paschate. Ipse (Christus) non solum Adamum, sed & totum genus humanum, quod in illo unum erat, ad se ipsum vocavit. Et Chrysostomus Hom. 10. in Epist. ad Rom. Omnes, inquit, in illo uno peccaverunt, quando omnes illi unus homo erant. Quomodo autem omnes illi unus homo erant, nisi quia omnes in illo unum eramus? Et Hom. 11. in Epist. ad Rom. Omnes, inquit, in illo uno peccaverunt, quando omnes illi unus homo erant. Quomodo autem omnes illi unus homo erant, nisi quia omnes in illo unum eramus?

ARG. 11. Neque valet etiam, quamvis Haeredes de Adamo non descendant, pecca- peccati originalis figmentum concludi posse tum Scriptura tum Patrum testimoniis, quibus dicitur, Omnes in Adamo peccasse, quia omnes Haeredes de Adamo descendant, & ita omnes, & nos omnes peccasse in Adamo fuimus exempli. At peccatum illud originale ex aliena radice in nos derivatum, non est peccatum nostrum, nec nos peccavimus in illo peccato, nec in Adamo, nobis haereditate quadam carnis fuerat delictum, & ita nos peccatores non fuimus nisi Adamus unicus peccator.

Resp. Ad Scripturam, quae dicit, Per unum hominem peccatum intravit in mundum, & per peccatum mors, & ita in omnes homines pertransiit, eo quod omnes peccaverunt: Ad Patres dicentes omnes peccasse in Adamo. Nobis Adam unus homo non fuit, sed omnes homines. Nobis Adam non fuit peccator unus, sed omnes peccatores. Nobis Adam non fuit unus homo, qui peccavit, sed omnes homines, qui omnes peccarunt. Nobis peccatum omnium in Adam fuit, quod non differt, ab eo, quod omnes Haeredes de Adamo descendant, & ita omnes peccasse in Adamo dicantur.

ARG. 12. Quamvis peccatum originale in nos derivatum, non sit peccatum nostrum, nec nos peccatores fuimus in peccato. Scripsit Augustinus Ambrosius, Hieronymus, Gregorius Nyssenus, Chrysostomus, Theophylactus, & alii Patres, quod omnes homines in Adamo peccaverint, quod peccatum originale in nos derivatum, vitium nostrum appellarint, & omnes nos peccatores & omnes nobis fuisse in Adamo, ita Bellarminus, Vasquez &c. nos non peccasse, nec peccatores fuisse in Adamo.

ne contenta, ut Thomas, Scotus, Durandus, Aureol, Richardus, Marsilius, Ockam, &c. quod parvuli in peccato non contaminentur, quia non habent voluntatem actualem, qua peccent, nec habitualem, qua peccatum originale transeat quidem in parvulos, sed non dominetur eorum voluntati, nec per habitualem fugam Dominus eos avertat à Deo, ut actualiter peccent, quia non habent usum liberi arbitrii. Sententiam autem communem tenentem contrarium in hujusmodi, ut Hugo, Lombardus in Canonibus. Quæ quidem Scholasticorum conclusiones non videntur mihi satis consentaneæ Scripturis.

Resp. Dicendum, peccatum esse id, quod in omnibus, quæ sunt, est disconvenientissimè dissonum. In omnibus dissonantia dicitur ad comparationem ad regulam, quæ est ratio divina, quæ est ipsa Veritas. Ad quam si quid non quadrat, dissonum est, & peccatum. Et quia ratio divina, quæ est regula omnium, est ipsa Veritas, quæ est ipsa Justitia, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Veritate, & Justitia. Et quia Veritas, & Justitia est ipsa Sapientia, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Sapientia. Et quia Sapientia est ipsa Charitas, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Charitate. Et quia Charitas est ipsa Beatitudo, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Beatitudine. Et quia Beatitudo est ipsa Vita, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Vita. Et quia Vita est ipsa Lux, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Luce. Et quia Lux est ipsa Pulchritudo, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Pulchritudine. Et quia Pulchritudo est ipsa Concordia, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Concordia. Et quia Concordia est ipsa Unitas, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Unitate. Et quia Unitas est ipsa Simplicitas, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Simplicitate. Et quia Simplicitas est ipsa Immutabilitas, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Immutabilitate. Et quia Immutabilitas est ipsa Æternitas, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Æternitate. Et quia Æternitas est ipsa Omnipotentia, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Omnipotentia. Et quia Omnipotentia est ipsa Libertas, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Libertate. Et quia Libertas est ipsa Necessitas, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Necessitate. Et quia Necessitas est ipsa Immensitas, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Immensitate. Et quia Immensitas est ipsa Omnipræsentia, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Omnipræsentia. Et quia Omnipræsentia est ipsa Scientia, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Scientia. Et quia Scientia est ipsa Veritas, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Veritate. Et quia Veritas est ipsa Justitia, ideo omne peccatum est, quod est dissonum à Justitia. Et quia

Objectiones Tridentinorum.

OBIECT. I. Qui nulla ratione se glorificârunt, neque fuerunt in deliciis unquam, ii nullum merentur tormentum & luctum, juxta Apoc.XVIII. 7. At infantes sine baptismo decedentes se non glorificârunt, neque in deliciis fuerunt. Ergo. Resp.1. Hinc etiam inferas, infantes illos nulla omnino pœna afficiendos. 2. Locus allegatus est ἀπὸ σκόπου, quia non agitur in eo de infantibus, sed de meretrice Babylonica: nec de futuræ, sed de præsentis vitæ pœnis. 3. Ad extremum hoc concludi potest, gradus futuros ejusdem speciei pœnarum, ita ut qui se glorificârunt & in deliciis fuerunt, summum tormentorum gradum, reliqui leviorem experturi sint, quod congruit cum Luc.XII. 47 48.

Excip. Reding: In loco Apocalypseos agitur quidem de Meretrice. Sed attendenda est ratio, quòd se non glorificantes, & non delicientes torqueri non possint. At infantes se non glorificarunt, nec deliciis sibi fecerunt ulla re. Ib. pag.322.323. Resp. Imò vero ratio subjecta causam reddit excidii Babylonis, immani superbia efferatæ; non excidii cujusvis peccatoris. Neque enim planè consequens est, ut, si hic ob superbiam & lasciviam pœna sensus afficitur, alius ob alia peccata eadem sensus pœna affici non possit. Supponis igitur, quod probandum erat, originale peccatum pœnam sensus non mereri. Ad cætera etiam nihil respondere potuisti.

OBIECT. II. Scriptura Esaj. LXVI.24. Marc.IX.44. conjungit ignem cum verme mala conscientiæ his verbis: Vermis eorum non morietur, & ignis non extinguetur. Constat autem, parvulos nullam passuros pœnam ex morsu vermis, hoc est, ex conscientia mali operis animum pungente. Ergo credibile est etiam, nullam passuros ignis pœnam. Resp.1. Si maximè vermis malæ conscientiæ non omnes arrosurus esset, tamen ignis comburet omnes, juxta generalem sententiam Christi Matth.XXV.41. Ite in ignem æternum. 2. Falsum est, peccatum originale, quod Paulus vocat καθ' ὁμοίωσιν ἁμαρτωλοῦ, nullum relinquere conscientiæ vermem & morsum. Si enim ejusmodi morsum efficiunt peccata actualia, quid nî efficiet peccatum omnibus actualibus gravius?

Excip. Reding: 1. Matth.XXV.41.42. generalis sententia: Ite in ignem æternum, adversus eos, qui debita erga proximum charitatis, & Christum religionis officia propria voluntate neglexerunt, fertur. Quid hoc ad infantes? 2. Vermis ille conscientiæ remorsum, in peccati principium reflectentem importat. Talis remorsus in infantibus nullus est, quia non sunt principium peccati sibi inexistentis. Ib. pag.323. Resp.1. Quid tam certum est, quòd sic non eludere: quid tam clarum, quod non obscurare hic homo pro suo ingenio possit? Nam certè filius hominis, judex futurus omnium, absque ulla exceptione, congregaturus v.32. πάντα τὰ ἔθνη omnes gentes, sub quibus utique etiam infantes comprehenduntur; & conſtituturus ex iis ad ſiniſtram hœdos, (quos inter etiam infantes refertis) in ignem æternum, ſine ullo diſcrimine, relegaturus dicitur. Ubi verò iturus in æternum ignem eos duntaxat, qui officia ea propria voluntate neglexerunt, Chriſtus dixit? Neglexerunt autem etiam infantes, originali peccato infecti, utpote qui neque habuerunt bona opera, neque ſine peculiari gratia habituri erant. Docebit Te etiam hic rectiora Maldonatus veſter, obſervans, Chriſtum hic unam ſpeciem pro toto genere poſuiſſe, ſicut in exemplis facere conſuevimus. Nec enim, inquit, omnibus, qui ſalvandi ſunt, dicturus eſt; Eſurivi enim, &c. Hoc enim exemplo tantùm docere voluit, ſe neminem temerè aut ſalvaturum, aut damnaturum eſſe, ſed juſtiſſima de cauſa, eáque publicè & coram omnibus declarata, ut in forenſibus ſententiis fieri ſolet. Ergo & fideles & infantes omnes judicabuntur; ſed illis, cur ſalventur aut damnentur, alia reddetur cauſa. 2. Vermeni veteres, Hieronymus & Procopius in Eſaj. & Victor Antiochenus in Marcum ſimpliciter conſcientiam propriorum peccatorum, impuram, ſceleratam, non malorum duntaxat operum, explicant. Sed & remorſus in infantibus, reflectens & ſuper corruptionem naturæ ſuæ, & ſuper principium peccati in Adamo contracti, ac per generationem impuram propagati, ac nedum expiati, certiſſimus erit.

OBIECT. III. Peccatum originis non tollit in homine ordinem naturalem, ſed ſupernaturalem, converſionem videlicet ad Deum, per donum gratiæ ſupernaturalis. Æquum eſt igitur, ut pœna peccati orginalis ſit privatio doni ſupernaturalis, qualis eſt carentia viſionis Dei, non inflictio pœnæ ſenſibilis, quæ naturam ipſam ledit. Reſp. 1. Peccatum originale ut naturæ integræ deſtructio, ſic ordinis naturalis ad Deum turbatio & privatio eſt. uti ſuo loco probatur. 2. Conſequens & Scripturæ & experientiæ repugnat, cùm pœnæ peccati originalis ſint morbi & mors ipſa, per quam quiſquis naturam non lædi dixerit, ſoli meridiano obloquitur.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Originale peccatum directè & poſitivè ordinem naturalem ad Deum non turbat, ſed indirectè & negativè tantùm minuit. Quippe non tollit, imò ne quidem minuit intrinſecè naturalem inclinationem ad bonum honeſtum, quæ naturæ rationali per modum proprietatis naturalis ineſt; ſed tantùm auferendo frænum ſupernaturalis juſtitiæ, quo inordinati motus cohibebantur, promptitudinem ad boni honeſti proſecutionem inhibet. 2. Proin etiam mors & ærumnæ temporales directè ex eo peccato non fluunt, utpote naturaliter homini ex pugna qualitatum accidentes; ſed indirectè duntaxat, quatenus hominem juſtitia originali privant. Ib. 323. 324. Reſp. 1. Saltem ordinem ſupernaturalem, converſionem ad Deum, funditus tollit. Hoc autem majus graviúſque peccatum majori etiam gravioríque, adeóque ſenſibili pœna piandum eſt. Tum ordinem etiam naturalem directè ſi non tollit, at labefactat multùm. Non tantùm enim à Deo averſus homo eſt, ſed etiam in rebus naturalibus multipliciter perverſus. Denique pœnæ à legislatore pendent. Itaque cùm de peccatorum ſuppliciis in Theologia agitur, non ſophiſmatum aculeis pugnandum, ſed Scripturæ authoritate ſtandum. Atqui ea omnibus peccatis, nullo diſcrimine, pœnam ſenſus ſtatuit. 2. Mortem & ærumnas temporales directè à peccato manare, ſupra aſtruximus.

OBIECT. IV.

OBJECT. IV. At certe ipsi quoque scholastici admittunt, Sacramentum per baptismum ab illis omnia peccata plene remitti & delleri; & etiam quoad reatum poenae temporalis, quae ob peccata actualia debetur, ut patet ex Concilio Florentino in Decreto Eugenii, ubi dicitur, quod in baptismo remittitur omnis poena, quam quis pro peccatis suis debet, & quod nullus post baptismum ullo modo tenetur ad poenam. Ergo ipsi quoque non debent admittere, quod peccatum originale, quod non est actuale, sed habituale, non remittatur quoad reatum poenae temporalis. Resp. Concilium Florentinum, & alia similia loca Scripturae, & Patrum intelligenda esse, non de omni poena, quae peccatis debetur, sed de illa, quae peccatis actualibus, & personalibus debetur. Quia Sacramentum baptismi non tollit omnem poenam temporalem, quae peccatis actualibus debetur, ut patet in martyribus, qui per baptismum sanguinis, & in aliis, qui per baptismum flaminis, & desiderii, ut patet in Catechumenis, qui ante baptismum aquae decedunt, & in infantibus baptizatis, qui ante usum rationis decedunt, & in aliis, qui post baptismum aquae, & usum rationis, ante tamen peccatum actuale decedunt. Ergo Concilium Florentinum, & alia similia loca Scripturae, & Patrum intelligenda sunt de poena peccatis actualibus debita.

OBJECT. V. Ita vero agitur apud omnes scholasticos, quam Sanctum Augustinum, ut peccatum originale, quod non est actuale, sed habituale, non remittatur, ita etiam per remissionem peccatorum actualium mortalium fieri peccatum habituale, & mortale, & tamen scholasticis fatentibus, non quia Deus vetat poena temporali peccatum habituale punire, sed quia ipsum peccatum habituale, & mortale, quod remittitur in poenam, ut peccatum habituale, & mortale non debet poenam. Ergo peccatum originale, quod non est actuale, sed habituale, non debet poenam temporalem, quia Deus vetat poenam temporalem peccato habituali originali, & mortali imponere. Resp. Peccatum originale mortale peccatum actuale poenam temporalem peccatis actualibus debitam, non debere, quia

1. Quia non debet poenam originale mortale peccatum actuale, quia Deus vetat poenam temporalem peccato habituali originali, & mortali imponere, sed quia peccatum habituale originale, & mortale non debet poenam temporalem, quia Deus vetat poenam temporalem peccato habituali originali, & mortali imponere, ut patet ex Augustino, & Scholasticis, ut ex Objectione patet.

CUm hoc tempore non ſine multarum animarum jactura, & gravi Eccleſiæ unitatis detrimento, falſæ quædam diſſeminatæ ſint de Juſtificatione opiniones, ſacroſancta Synodus exponere intendit veram de ea doctrinam, quam Chriſtus docuit, Apoſtoli tradiderunt, & Catholica Eccleſia Spiritu S. ſuggerente, perpetuò retinuit, diſtrictiùs inhibens, ne audeat quiſquam aliter credere aut docere, quàm præſenti decreto ſtatuitur & declaratur.

Cap. 1. De naturæ & legis imbecillitate ad juſtificandos homines.

Primùm, ad Juſtificationis doctrinam probè & ſincerè intelligendam, oportet ut unuſquiſque agnoſcat & fateatur, omnes homines, perdita in prævaricatione Adæ innocentia factos immundos, & natura filios iræ, uſque adeò ſervos fuiſſe peccati, & ſub poteſtate diaboli ac mortis, ut non modò gentes per vim naturæ, ſed ne Judæi quidem per ipſam etiam literam legis Moſis inde liberari & ſurgere poſſent, tametſi in eis liberum arbitrium minimè extinctum eſſet, viribus licet attenuatum & inclinatum.

Cap. 2. De diſpenſatione & myſterio adventus Chriſti.

Quo factum eſt, ut cœleſtis Pater, Pater miſericordiarum, & Deus totius conſolationis, Chriſtum Jeſum Filium ſuum, & ante legem, & legis tempore, multis ſanctis Patribus declaratum ac promiſſum, cùm venit beata illa plenitudo temporis, ad homines miſerit, ut & Judæos, qui ſub lege erant, redimeret, & gentes, quæ non ſectabantur juſtitiam, juſtitiam apprehenderent, atque omnes adoptionem filiorum reciperent. Hunc propoſuit Deus propitiatorium per fidem in ſanguine ipſius pro peccatis noſtris: non ſolùm autem pro noſtris, ſed etiam pro totius mundi.

Cap. 3. Qui per Chriſtum juſtificantur?

Verùm etſi ille pro omnibus mortuus eſt, non omnes tamen mortis ejus beneficium recipiunt, ſed ii duntaxat, quibus meritum paſſionis ejus communicatur. Nam ſicut revera homines, niſi ex ſemine Adæ propagati naſcerentur, non naſcerentur injuſti, cùm ea propagatione, per ipſum, dum concipiuntur, propriam in juſtitiam contrahant: ita niſi in Chriſto renaſcerentur, nunquam juſtificarentur, cùm ea renaſcentia, per meritum paſſionis ejus, gratia, qua juſti fiunt, illis attribuatur. Pro hoc beneficio Apoſtolus gratias nos ſemper

agere hortatur Patri, qui dignos nos fecit in partem ſortis ſanctorum in lumine, & eripuit de poteſtate tenebrarum, tranſtulitque in regnum Filii dilectionis ſuæ, in quo habemus redemptionem & remiſſionem peccatorum.

Cap. 4. Inſinuatur deſcriptio juſtificationis impii, & modus ejus in ſtatu gratiæ.

Quibus verbis juſtificationis impii deſcriptio inſinuatur, ut ſit translatio ab eo ſtatu, in quo homo naſcitur filius primi Adæ, in ſtatum gratiæ & adoptionis filiorum Dei per ſecundum Adam Jeſum Chriſtum, Salvatorem noſtrum. Quæ quidem translatio, poſt Evangelium promulgatum ſine lavacro regenerationis, aut ejus voto, fieri non poteſt, ſicut ſcriptum eſt: Niſi quis renatus fuerit ex aqua & Spiritu S. non poteſt introire in regnum Dei.

Cap. 5. De neceſſitate præparationis ad juſtificationem in adultis, & unde ſit?

Declarat præterea, ipſius juſtificationis exordium in adultis à Dei per Chriſtum Jeſum præveniente gratia ſumendum eſſe, hoc eſt, ab ejus vocatione, qua nullis eorum exiſtentibus meritis, vocantur, ut qui per peccata à Deo averſi erant, per ejus excitantem atque adjuvantem gratiam ad convertendum ſe ad ſuam ipſorum juſtificationem, eidem gratiæ liberè aſſentiendo & cooperando, diſponantur, ita ut tangente Deo cor hominis per Spiritus ſancti illuminationem, neque homo ipſe nihil omnino agat, inſpirationem illam recipiens, quippe qui illam & abjicere poteſt: neque tamen ſine gratia Dei, movere ſe ad juſtitiam coram illo libera ſua voluntate poſſit. Unde in ſacris literis cùm dicitur: Convertimini ad me, & ego convertar ad vos: libertatis noſtræ admonemur. Cùm reſpondemus: Converte nos Domine ad te, & convertemur; Dei nos gratiâ præveniri confitemur.

Cap. 6. Modus præparationis.

Diſponuntur autem ad ipſam juſtitiam, dum excitati divina gratia & adjuti fidem ex auditu concipientes, liberè moventur in Deum, credentes vera eſſe, quæ divinitus revelata & promiſſa ſunt, atque illud inprimis, à Deo juſtificari impium per gratiam ejus, per redemptionem, quæ eſt in Chriſto Jeſu: & tamen peccatores ſe eſſe intelligentes, à divinæ juſtitiæ timore, quo utiliter concutiuntur, ad conſiderandam Dei miſericordiam ſe convertendo, in ſpem eriguntur, fidentes Deum ſibi propter Chriſtum propitium fore, illúmque, tanquam omnis juſtitiæ fontem, diligere incipiunt, ac propterea moventur adverſus peccata per odium aliquod & deteſtationem, hoc eſt, per eam pœnitentiam, quam ante baptiſmum agi oportet. Denique proponunt ſuſcipere baptiſmum, inchoare novam vitam, & ſervare divina mandata. De hac diſpoſitione ſcriptum eſt: Accedentem ad Deum oportet credere, quia eſt, & quòd inquirentibus ſe remunerator ſit. Et, Confide fili, remittuntur mittuntur tibi peccata tua. Et, Timor Domini expellit peccatum. Et, pœnitentiam agite & baptizetur unuſquiſque veſtrum in nomine Jeſu Chriſti, in remiſſionem peccatorum veſtrorum, & accipietis donum Spiritus S. Et, euntes ergo, docete omnes gentes, baptizantes eos in nomine Patris, & Filii, & Spiritus S. docentes eos ſervare omnia, quæcunque mandavi vobis, denique, Præparate corda veſtra Domino.

Cap. 7. Quid ſit juſtificatio impii, & quæ ejus cauſæ.

Hanc diſpoſitionem ſeu præparationem juſtificatio ipſa conſequitur, quæ non eſt ſola peccatorum remiſſio, ſed & ſanctificatio, & renovatio interioris hominis per voluntariam ſuſceptionem gratiæ & donorum, unde homo ex injuſto fit juſtus, & ex inimico amicus, ut ſit hæres ſecundum ſpem vitæ æternæ. Hujus juſtificationis cauſæ ſunt, finales quidem, gloria Dei & Chriſti, ac vita æterna. Efficiens verò, miſericors Deus, qui gratuitò abluit & ſanctificat, ſignans & ungens promiſſionis Spiritu ſancto, qui eſt pignus hæreditatis noſtræ. Meritoria autem, dilectiſſimus unigenitus ſuus, Dominus noſter Jeſus Chriſtus, qui cùm eſſemus inimici, propter nimiam charitatem, qua dilexit nos, ſua ſanctiſſima paſſione in ligno crucis nobis juſtificationem meruit, & pro nobis Deo Patri ſatisfecit. Inſtrumentalis item, Sacramentum baptiſmi, quod Sacramentum fidei, ſine qua nulli unquam juſtificatio contigit. Demum unica formalis cauſa eſt, Juſtitia Dei, non qua ipſe juſtus eſt, ſed qua nos juſtos facit, qua videlicet ab eo donati, renovamur ſpiritu mentis noſtræ, & non modò reputamur, ſed verè juſti nominamur, & ſumus; juſtitiam in nobis recipientes, unuſquiſque ſuam ſecundum menſuram, quam Spiritus Sanctus partitur ſingulis, prout vult, & ſecundum propriam cujusque diſpoſitionem, & cooperationem. Quanquam enim nemo poſſit eſſe juſtus, niſi cui merita paſſionis Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti communicantur, id tamen in hac impii juſtificatione fit, dum ejusdem ſanctiſſimæ paſſionis merito, per Spiritum Sanctum, charitas Dei diffunditur in cordibus eorum, qui juſtificantur, atque ipſis inhæret: unde in ipſa juſtificatione cum remiſſione peccatorum, hæc omnia ſimul infuſa, accipit homo per Jeſum Chriſtum, cui inſeritur per fidem, ſpem & charitatem. Nam fides niſi ad eam ſpes accedat, & charitas, neque unit perfectè cum Chriſto, neque corporis ejus vivum membrum efficit. Qua ratione veriſimè dicitur, fidem ſine operibus mortuam & otioſam eſſe: & in Jeſu Chriſto, neque circumciſionem aliquid valere, neque præputium, ſed fidem, quæ per charitatem operatur. Hanc fidem ante baptiſmi Sacramentum, ex Apoſtolorum traditione Catechumeni ab Eccleſia petunt, cùm petunt fidem, vitam æternam præſtantem, quam ſine ſpe & charitate fides præſtare non poteſt. Unde & ſtatim verbum Chriſti audiunt: Si vis ad vitam ingredi, ſerva mandata. Itaque veram, & Chriſtianam juſtitiam accipientes, eam ſeu primam ſtolam, pro illa, quam Adam ſua inobedientia ſibi, & nobis perdidit, per Chriſtum Jeſum illis donatam, candidam & immaculatam jubentur ſtatim renati conſervare, ut eam perferant ante tribunal Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, & habeant vitam æternam.

Cap. 8. Quomodo intelligatur, impium per fidem & gratis juſtificari.

Cùm verò Apoſtolus dicit, juſtificari hominem per fidem, & gratis, ea verba in eo ſenſu intelligenda ſunt, quem perpetuus Eccleſia Catholica conſenſus tenuit, & expreſſit, ut ſcil. per fidem ideo juſtificari dicamur, quia fides eſt humanæ ſalutis initium, fundamentum, & radix omnis juſtificationis, ſine qua impoſſibile eſt placere Deo, & ad filiorum ejus conſortium pervenire: gratis autem juſtificari ideo dicamur, quia nihil eorum, quæ juſtificationem præcedunt, ſive fides, ſive opera, ipſam juſtificationis gratiam promeretur. Si enim gratia eſt, jam non ex operibus, alioquin, ut idem Apoſtolus inquit, gratia jam non eſt gratia.

Cap. 9. Contra inanem hæreticorum fiduciam.

Quamvis autem neceſſarium ſit credere, neque remitti, neque remiſſa unquam fuiſſe peccata, niſi gratis divina miſericordia propter Chriſtum, nemini tamen fiduciam, & certitudinem remiſſionis peccatorum ſuorum jactanti, & in ea ſola quieſcenti, peccata dimitti, vel dimiſſa eſſe dicendum eſt, cùm apud hæreticos, & ſchiſmaticos poſſit eſſe, imò noſtra tempeſtate ſit, & magna contra Eccleſiam Catholicam contentione prædicetur vana hæc, & ab omni pietate remota fiducia. Sed neque illud aſſerendum eſt, oportere eos, qui verè juſtificati ſunt, abſque ulla omnino dubitatione apud ſemetipſos ſtatuere, ſe eſſe juſtificatos, neminémque à peccatis abſolvi, ac juſtificari, niſi eum, qui certò credat ſe abſolutum & juſtificatum eſſe, atque hac ſola fide abſolutionem & juſtificationem perfici: quaſi qui hoc non credit, de Dei promiſſis, déque mortis, & reſurrectionis Chriſti efficacia dubitet. Nam ſicut nemo pius de Dei miſericordia, de Chriſti merito, déque Sacramentorum virtute & efficacia dubitare debet: ſic quilibet, dum ſe ipſum, ſuámque propriam infirmitatem, & indiſpoſitionem reſpicit, de ſua gratia formidare ac timere poteſt, cùm nullus ſcire valeat certitudine fidei, cui non poteſt ſubeſſe falſum, ſe gratiam Dei eſſe conſecutum.

Cap. 10. De acceptæ juſtificationis incremento.

Sic ergo juſtificati, & amici Dei, ac domeſtici facti, eantes de virtute in virtutem, renovantur, ut Apoſtolus inquit, de die in diem, hoc eſt, mortificando membra carnis ſuæ, & exhibendo ea arma juſtitiæ in ſanctificationem, per obſervationem mandatorum Dei & Eccleſiæ, in ipſa juſtitia per Chriſti gratiam accepta, cooperante fide, bonis operibus creſcunt, atque magis juſtificantur, ſicut ſcriptum eſt: qui juſtus eſt, juſtificetur adhuc. Et iterum: ne vereris uſque ad mortem juſtificari. Et rurſus: Videtis, quoniam ex operibus juſtificatur homo, & non ex fide tantùm. Hoc verò juſtitiæ incrementum petit ſancta Eccleſia, cùm orat: Da nobis Domine fidei, ſpei & charitatis augmentum.

prædeſtinatorum: quaſi verum eſſet,quòd juſtificatus aut amplius peccare non poſſit,aut ſi peccaverit,certam ſibi reſipiſcentiam promittere debeat. Nam,niſi ex ſpeciali revelatione, ſciri non poteſt,quos Deus ſibi elegerit.

Cap. 13. De perſeverantiæ munere.

Similiter de perſeverantiæ munere, de quo ſcriptum eſt, qui perſeveraverit uſque in finem, hic ſalvus erit: quod quidem aliunde haberi non poteſt, niſi ab eo, qui potens eſt,eum,qui ſtat,ſtatuere,ut perſeveranter ſtet,& eum,qui cadit, reſtituere, nemo ſibi certi aliquid abſoluta certitudine polliceatur,tametſi in Dei auxilio firmiſſimam ſpem collocare, & reponere omnes debent. Deus enim, niſi ipſi illius gratiæ defuerint,ſicut cæpit opus bonum,ita perficiet,operans velle & perficere. Verum tamen, qui ſe exiſtimant ſtare, videant ne cadant, & cum timore ac tremore ſalutem ſuam operentur,in laboribus, in vigiliis,in eleemoſynis,in orationibus & oblationibus,in jejuniis,in caſtitate. Formidare enim debent,ſcientes quòd in ſpem gloriæ, & nondum in gloria renati ſunt, de pugna, quæ ſupereſt cum carne,cum mundo,cum Diabolo,in qua victores eſſe non poſſunt, niſi cum Dei gratia Apoſtolo obtemperent,dicenti: Debitores ſumus non carni, ut ſecundum carnem vivamus. Si enim ſecundum carnem vixeritis, moriemini: ſi autem ſpiritu facta carnis mortificaveritis,vivetis.

Cap. 14. De lapſis & eorum reparatione.

Qui verò ab accepta juſtificationis gratia per peccatum exciderunt,rurſus juſtificari poterunt, cùm excitante Deo, per pœnitentiæ Sacramentum merito Chriſti amiſſam gratiam recuperare procuraverint. Hic enim juſtificationis modus eſt lapſi reparatio, quam ſecundam poſt naufragium deperditæ gratiæ tabulam ſancti Patres aptè nuncupârunt. Etenim pro his,qui poſt baptiſmum in peccata labuntur; Chriſtus Jeſus Sacramentum inſtituit pœnitentiæ, cùm dixit, accipite Spiritum Sanctum: quorum remiſeritis peccata,remittuntur eis: & quorum retinueritis,retenta ſunt. Unde dicendum eſt,Chriſtiani hominis pœnitentiam poſt lapſum multò aliam eſſe à baptiſmali, eámque continere non modò ceſſationem à peccatis, & eorum deteſtationem, aut cor contritum & humiliatum: verùm etiam eorundem ſacramentalem confeſſionem,ſaltem in voto,& ſuo tempore faciendam, & ſacerdotalem abſolutionem,itémque ſatisfactionem per jejunia, eleemoſynas,orationes, & alia pia ſpiritualis vitæ exercitia: non quidem pro pœna æterna, quæ vel Sacramento, vel Sacramenti voto unà cum culpa remittitur,ſed pro pœna temporali, quæ ut ſacræ literæ docent, non tota ſemper ut in baptiſmo fit, dimittitur illis, qui gratiæ Dei,quam acceperunt,ingrati Spiritum Sanctum contriſtaverunt, & Templum Dei violare non ſunt veriti. De qua pœnitentia ſcriptum eſt: Memor eſto,unde exciderit,& age pœnitentiam, & prima opera fac. Et iterum: quæ ſecundum Deum triſtitia eſt,pœnitentiam in ſalutem ſtabilem operatur: & rurſus, Pœnitentiam agite, & facite fructus dignos pœnitentiæ.

Cap. 15. Quolibet peccato mortali amitti gratiam, ſed non fidem.

Adverſus etiam hominum quorundam callida ingenia, qui per dulces ſermones, & benedictiones ſeducunt corda innocentium, aſſerendum eſt, non modò infidelitate, per quam & ipſa fides amittitur, ſed etiam quocunque alio mortali peccato, quamvis non amittatur fides, acceptam juſtificationis gratiam amitti, divinæ legis doctrinam defendendo, quæ à Regno Dei non ſolùm infideles excludit, ſed & fideles quoque fornicarios, adulteros, molles, maſculorum concubitores, fures, avaros, ebrioſos, maledicos, rapaces, cæteroſque omnes, qui lethalia committunt peccata, à quibus cum divinæ gratiæ adjumento abſtinere poſſunt, & pro quibus à gratia Chriſti ſeparantur.

Cap. 16. De fructu juſtificationis, hoc eſt, de merito bonorum operum, déque ipſius meriti ratione.

Hac igitur ratione juſtificatis hominibus, ſive acceptam gratiam perpetuò conſervaverint, ſive amiſſam recuperaverint, proponenda ſunt Apoſtoli verba: Abundantes in omni opere bono, ſcientes quòd labor veſter non eſt inanis in Domino. Non enim injuſtus eſt Deus, ut obliviſcatur operis veſtri, & dilectionis, quam oſtendiſtis in nomine ipſius. Et nolite amittere confidentiam veſtram, quæ magnam habet remunerationem. Atque ideo bene operantibus uſque in finem, & in Deo ſperantibus, proponenda eſt vita æterna, & tanquam gratia filiis Dei per Chriſtum Jeſum miſericorditer promiſſa, & tanquam merces ex ipſius Dei promiſſione, bonis ipſorum operibus & meritis fideliter reddenda. Hæc enim eſt illa corona juſtitiæ, quam poſt ſuum certamen, & curſum repoſitum ſibi eſſe, ajebat Apoſtolus, à juſto Judice ſibi reddendam, & non ſolùm ſibi, ſed & omnibus, qui diligunt adventum ejus. Cùm enim ille ipſe Chriſtus Jeſus, tanquam caput in membra, & tanquam vitis in palmites, in ipſos juſtificatos, jugiter virtutem influat, quæ virtus bona eorum opera ſemper antecedit, comitatur & ſubſequitur, & ſine qua nullo pacto Deo grata, & meritoria eſſe poſſent, nihil ipſis juſtificatis amplius deeſſe credendum eſt, quò minùs plenè illis quidem operibus, quæ in Deo facta ſunt, divinæ legi pro hujus vitæ ſtatu ſatisfeciſſe, & vitam æternam ſuo etiam tempore, ſi tamen in gratia deceſſerint, conſequendam, verè promeruiſſe cenſeantur, cùm Chriſtus Salvator noſter dicat: Si quis biberit ex aqua, quam ego dabo ei, non ſitiet in æternum, ſed fiet in eo fons aquæ ſalientis in vitam æternam. Itaque neque propria noſtra juſtitia, tanquam ex nobis propria ſtatuitur, neque ignoratur aut repudiatur juſtitia Dei. Quæ enim juſtitia noſtra dicitur, quia per eam nobis inhærentem juſtificamur, illa eadem Dei eſt, quia à Deo nobis infunditur per Chriſti meritum.

Neque verò illud omittendum eſt, quòd licet bonis operibus in ſacris literis uſque adeò

deò tribuatur, ut etiam quì uni ex minimis ſuis potum aquæ frigidæ dederit, promittat Chriſtus, eum non eſſe ſua mercede cariturum, & Apoſtolus teſtetur: Id quod in præſenti eſt momentaneum, & leve tribulationis noſtræ, ſupra modum in ſublimitate æternum gloriæ pondus operari in nobis: abſit tamen, ut Chriſtianus homo in ſeipſo vel confidat, vel glorietur, & non in Domino, cujus tanta eſt erga omnes homines bonitas, ut eorum velit eſſe merita, quæ ſunt ipſius dona. Et quia in multis offendimus omnes, unuſquiſque ſicut miſericordiam, & bonitatem, ita ſeveritatem & judicium ante oculos habere debet: neque ſeipſum aliquis, etiamſi nihil ſibi conſcius fuerit, judicare: quoniam omnis hominum vita, non humano judicio examinanda & judicanda eſt, ſed Dei, qui illuminabit abſcondita tenebrarum, & manifeſtabit conſilia cordium, & tunc laus erit unicuique à Deo, qui, ut ſcriptum eſt, reddet unicuique ſecundum opera ſua.

Poſt hanc Catholicam de juſtificatione doctrinam, quam niſi quiſque fideliter firmitérque receperit, juſtificari non poterit, placuit ſanctæ Synodo hos canones ſubjungere, ut omnes ſciant, non ſolùm quid tenere & ſequi, ſed etiam quid vitare & fugere debeant.

CANONES.

1. Si quis dixerit, hominem ſuis operibus, quæ vel per humanæ naturæ vires, vel per legis doctrinam fiant, abſque divina per Chriſtum Jeſum gratia poſſe juſtificari coram Deo, anathema ſit.

2. Si quis dixerit, ad hoc ſolùm Divinam gratiam per Chriſtum Jeſum dari, ut facilius homo juſtè vivere, ac vitam æternam promereri poſſit, quaſi per liberum arbitrium ſine gratia utrumque, ſed ægrè tamen & difficulter poſſit, anathema ſit.

3. Si quis dixerit, ſine præveniente Spiritus S. inſpiratione, atque ejus adjutorio hominem credere, ſperare, diligere aut pœnitere poſſe ſicut oportet, ut ei juſtificationis gratia conferatur, anathema ſit.

4. Si quis dixerit, liberum hominis arbitrium, à Deo motum & excitatum, nihil cooperari, aſſentiendo Deo excitanti, atque vocanti, quò ad obtinendam juſtificationis gratiam ſe diſponat ac præparet, nec poſſe diſſentire, ſi velit, ſed velut inanime quoddam, nihil omnino agere, meréque paſſivè ſe habere, anathema ſit.

5. Si quis liberum hominis arbitrium, poſt Adami peccatum, amiſſum & extinctum eſſe dixerit, aut rem eſſe de ſolo titulo, imò titulum ſine re, figmentum denique à Sathana invectum in eccleſiam, anathema ſit.

6. Si quis dixerit, non eſſe in poteſtate hominis vias ſuas malas facere, ſed mala opera, ita ut bona Deum operari, non permiſſivè ſolùm, ſed etiam propriè & per ſe, adeò ut ſit ejus proprium opus non minùs proditio Juda, quàm vocatio Pauli, anathema ſit.

7. Si quis dixerit, opera omnia, quæ ante juſtificationem fiunt, quacunque ratione facta ſint, verè eſſe peccata, vel odium Dei mereri, aut quantò vehementiùs quis nititur ſe diſponere ad gratiam, tantò eum graviùs peccare, anathema ſit.

8. Si

5. Si quis dixerit, ultimum remedium, per quam ad fidei reconciliationem ab errore hæreticali redeuntibus ecclesia utitur, esse excommunicationem, anathema sit.

6. Si quis dixerit, fidei vinculum non esse fidelibus, ac ne ecclesiæ quidem, quod ipsi cum ea de aliquibus rebus contrahunt, quamvis ecclesia concesserit & ratio suadeat, illa, quæ contrahuntur, non esse implenda, & ecclesiam non posse, quin ea irrita faciat, anathema sit.

7. Si quis dixerit, omnes Christianos habere ius, ut verbum Dei annuntiare possint, anathema sit.

8. Si quis dixerit, libros scholasticos non esse damnandos, quia de rebus fidei tractant, & humanæ rationi non parum tribuunt, quia sic tractandi sunt, anathema sit.

9. Si quis dixerit, historias ecclesiasticas, & sanctorum patrum, quibus utitur ecclesia ad fidei confirmationem, & mores corrigendos, & animos ad pietatem excitandos, esse damnandas, anathema sit.

10. Si quis dixerit, libros publicitus editos, aut scriptos, quibus ecclesia olim usa non fuit, neque in bibliotheca reponendos esse, sed penitus abolendos, anathema sit.

11. Si quis dixerit, homines vocatos & officium suum rectum & bonum fideliter exercentes, non esse fructum laboris sui percipere, anathema sit.

12. Si quis negaverit, ius esse in potestate ecclesiæ, decernere & statuere, ut ecclesiæ ministri de ecclesiæ reditibus vivant, & ut fideles ecclesiæ ministros debitis, & ad id necessariis rebus sustentent, anathema sit.

13. Si quis affirmaverit, quamvis non sit prohibitum ab ecclesia, ut clerici bona immobilia possessionesque habeant, & ut de illis, ac de ecclesiæ mensa, ut plerumque fit, fructus percipiant, eos omnes, qui contrarium dixerint, anathema sit.

14. Si quis dixerit, decimas non esse fidelium, sed ecclesiæ, & ecclesiæ posse, quin ea irrita faciat, anathema sit.

15. Si quis dixerit, decimas non esse de iure divino, sed ab ecclesia introductas, & ecclesiæ posse, quin ea irrita faciat, anathema sit.

16. Si quis dixerit, decimas non esse de iure divino, sed ab ecclesia introductas, & ecclesiæ posse, quin ea irrita faciat, anathema sit.

17. Si quis dixerit, decimas non esse de iure divino, sed ab ecclesia introductas, & ecclesiæ posse, quin ea irrita faciat, anathema sit.

18. Si quis dixerit, decimas non esse de iure divino, sed ab ecclesia introductas, & ecclesiæ posse, quin ea irrita faciat, anathema sit.

19. Si quis dixerit, decimas non esse de iure divino, sed ab ecclesia introductas, & ecclesiæ posse, quin ea irrita faciat, anathema sit.

20. Si quis dixerit, decimas non esse de iure divino, sed ab ecclesia introductas, & ecclesiæ posse, quin ea irrita faciat, anathema sit.

21. Si quis dixerit, Chriſtum Jeſum à Deo hominibus datum eſſe, ut redemptorem, cui fidant, non etiam ut legislatorem, cui obediant, anathema ſit.

22. Si quis dixerit juſtificatum, vel ſine ſpeciali auxilio Dei in accepta juſtitia perſeverare poſſe, vel cum eo non poſſe, anathema ſit.

23. Si quis hominem ſemel juſtificatum dixerit amplius peccare non poſſe, nec gratiam amittere, atque ideò eum, qui labitur & peccat, nunquam verè fuiſſe juſtificatum; aut contra, poſſe in tota vita peccata omnia etiam venialia vitare, niſi ex ſpeciali Dei privilegio, quemadmodum de beata Virgine Maria tenet eccleſia, anathema ſit.

24. Si quis dixerit, juſtitiam acceptam non conſervari, atque etiam non augeri coram Deo per bona opera, ſed opera ipſa fructus ſolummodò & ſigna eſſe juſtificationis adeptæ, non etiam ipſius augendæ cauſam, anathema ſit.

25. Si quis in quolibet bono opere juſtum ſaltem venialiter peccare dixerit, aut, quod intolerabilius eſt, mortaliter, atque ideò pœnas æternas mereri, tantúmque ob id non damnari, quia Deus ea opera bona non imputet ad damnationem, anathema ſit.

26. Si quis dixerit, juſtos non debere pro bonis operibus, quæ in Deo fuerint facta, exſpectare & ſperare æternam retributionem à Deo, per ejus miſericordiam, & Jeſu Chriſti meritum, ſi bene agendo, & Divina mandata cuſtodiendo, usque in finem perſeveravit, anathema ſit.

27. Si quis dixerit, nullum eſſe mortale peccatum niſi infidelitatis, aut nullo alio quantumvis gravi & enormi, præterquam infidelitatis peccato, ſemel acceptam gratiam amitti, anathema ſit.

28. Si quis dixerit, amiſſa per peccatum gratia ſimul fidem ſemper amitti, aut fidem, quæ remanet, non eſſe veram fidem, licèt non ſit viva, aut eum, qui fidem ſine charitate habet, non eſſe Chriſtianum, anathema ſit.

29. Si quis dixerit, eum, qui poſt baptiſmum lapſus eſt, non poſſe per Dei gratiam reſurgere, aut poſſe quidem, ſed ſola fide amiſſam juſtitiam recuperare ſine ſacramento pœnitentiæ, prout ſancta Romana & univerſalis Eccleſia, à Chriſto Domino & ejus Apoſtolis edocta, hucusque profeſſa eſt, ſervavit & docuit, anathema ſit.

30. Si quis poſt acceptam juſtificationis gratiam, cuilibet peccatori pœnitenti ita culpam remitti, & reatum æterna pœna deleri dixerit, ut nullus remaneat reatus pœnæ temporalis exſolvendæ, vel in hoc ſeculo, vel in futuro in Purgatorio, antequam ad regna cælorum aditus patere poſſit, anathema ſit.

31. Si quis dixerit, juſtificatum peccare, dum intuitu æternæ mercedis bene operatur, anathema ſit.

32. Si quis dixerit, bominis juſtificati bona opera ita eſſe dona Dei, ut non ſint etiam bona ipſius juſtificati merita, aut ipſum juſtificatum, bonis operibus, quæ ab eo per Dei gratiam & Jeſu Chriſti meritum, cujus membrum vivum eſt, fiunt, non verè mereri augmentum gratiæ, vitam æternam, & ipſius vitæ æternæ, ſi tamen in gratia deceſſerit, conſecutionem atque etiam gloriæ augmentum, anathema ſit.

Cap. 1.

Quia integritas Præſidentium ſalus eſt ſubditorum, monet ſancta Synodus omnes Patriarchalibus, Primatialibus, Metropolitanis & Cathedralibus Eccleſiis quibuscunque quovis nomine ac titulo præfectos, ut attendentes ſibi & univerſo gregi, in quo Spiritus ſanctus poſuit eos regere Eccleſiam Dei, quam acquiſivit ſanguine ſuo, vigilent, ſicut Apoſtolus præcipit, in omnibus laborent, & miniſterium ſuum impleant. Implere autem ſe non poſſe ſciant, ſi greges ſibi commiſſos mercenariorum more deſerant, atque ovium ſuarum, quarum ſanguis de eorum manibus eſt requirendus à ſupremo judice, cuſtodia minimè incumbant: cùm certiſſimum ſit, non admitti paſtoris excuſationem, ſi lupus oves comedit, & paſtor neſcit. At verò quia nonnulli reperiuntur, qui propria ſalutis immemores, terrena cœleſtibus præferentes, in diverſis curiis vagantur, aut in negotiorum temporalium ſolicitudine (ovili derelicto) occupantur, placuit antiquos Canones adverſus non reſidentes promulgatos, innovare, & in hunc modum ſtatuere atque ſancire.

Si quis à Patriarchali, Primatiali, Metropolitana ſeu Cathedrali eccleſia, ſibi quocunque titulo, cauſa, nomine ſeu jure commiſſa, quacunque illa dignitate, gradu & præeminentia præfulgeat, (legitimo impedimento, ſeu juſtis & rationalibus cauſis ceſſantibus) ſex menſibus continuis extra ſuam diœceſin morando abfuerit, quartæ partis fructuum unius anni, fabricæ eccleſiæ & pauperibus loci, per ſuperiorem eccleſiaſticum applicandorum pœnam ipſo jure incurrat. Quòd ſi per alios ſex menſes in hujuſmodi abſentia perſeveraverit, aliam quartam partem fructuum ſimiliter applicandam, eo ipſo amittat. *Beneficia inferiora quam beneficia collegiata, præsertim ratione de jure Pontificio constituta, non debent taxari per communem taxam, sed per taxam ordinariam, quæ fit per Ordinarium, & Collectorem, vel Subcollectorem, vel per Commissarium speciale pendente, vel vacante sede, & non per taxam ordinariam, quæ fit per Ordinarium, & Collectorem, vel Subcollectorem, vel per Commissarium speciale

HISTORIA SESSIONIS VI.

POst finitam Tridenti Seſſionem V. Cardinalis Tridentinus à Cæſare miſſus, die 26. Junii Romæ fœdus inter Pontificem & Cæſarem adverſus Proteſtantes pepigit. Papa fœderis illius cauſam veriſſimam præ ſe tulit, vindictam nimirum adverſus hæreticos, Concilium adire negligentes. At Cæſar causâ Religionis diſſimulatâ, fœderi huic prætextus obduxit merè politicos, quò Proteſtantes divideret, & paulatim omnes opprimeret. Quæ cauſa fuit, quòd Proteſtantes ſcripto in vulgus edito demonſtrârunt, bellum hoc religionis causâ, quicquid obtendat Cæſar, geri, tum quia Granvellanus, aliique Cæſaris Miniſtri id non diſſimulent: tum quia jam ante Elector Colonienſis ob ſolam religionis cauſam excommunicationis Pontificiæ notam ſubierit: tum quia Hiſpaniæ Proceres Eccleſiaſtici ingentem vim pecuniæ, aureorum nimirum millia quingenta, ex annuis Monaſteriorum proventibus, in hoc bellum minimè collaturi eſſent, ſi alia foret quàm religionis cauſa. Dum hæc Cæſarem inter & Pontificem geruntur, & præter anathemata alia jam arma comparantur, die 18. Junii congregatio habita, in qua Pontificii legati de Gratia Dei & juſtificatione, at contra Cæſareani Legati de Reformatione potiùs tractandum eſſe contenderunt. Statutum, ut è Lutheri libris, apologiis, aliiſque Evangelicorum ſcriptis articuli excerperentur, poſt diſcutiendi & cenſuræ ſubjiciendi. Atque huic rei deſignati ſunt tres Patres, totidémque Theologi, qui ſcripta colligerent, & articulos ordinarent. In proxima congregatione conſtituta eſt materia Reformationis, ubi Cardinalis Montanus acriter conqueſtus eſt de Prælatorum & Paſtorum à functionibus ſuis abſentia, tanquam præſentiſſimo malorum eccleſiæ fundo. Hinc nempe in eccleſiam inundâſſe hæreſes, ignorantiam, luxum in populo, morum item corruptelam & tot vitia in clero. Eccleſiam enim navi non eſſe abſimilem, quæ abſente nauclero, cujus eſt eam gubernare, facilè ſubmergitur. Huic autem morbo curando non aliud expeditius malagma excogitari poſſe, quàm ſi Reſidentia Epiſcoporum, & aſſiduitas in officio decernatur & impoſterum fideliter cuſtodiatur. Jacobus Corteſius Florentinus, Vaſconenſis Epiſcopus, collaudata ſuperiori ſententia, addidit, inutilem tamen futuram reſidentiam propter fratrum & quæſtorum exemptiones & privilegia, quibus factum ſit, ut Epiſcopis ſive reſidentibus ſive abſentibus, illi pro lubitu prædicarent quidlibet. Pervulgatum eſſe, hæreſes in Germania natas eſſe ex concionibus fratrum Johannis Tezelii, & Martini Lutheri, apud Helvetios F. Samſonis Mediolanenſis. Fieri non ecclesiæ Ecclesiam ad vitam beatificandam. Unum ecclesiæ, cujus principium Christus est, non duo aut plura principia esse possunt. Unus igitur Deus, una fides, unum baptisma. Ecclesia una, quæ per totum orbem terrarum in multitudinem profecta est. Concludebat, ecclesiam separatis sibi ecclesiasticam communionem, quæ ad unitatem ecclesiæ pertineret, non posse habere, nec tanquam suos fidelissimos, & veræ pietatis cultores, quos ecclesiæ impertiret salutem. Itaque si desiderio esset Ecclesiæ pacem & fidem Christi amplectendi, ad unitatem ecclesiæ, quæ una est, redeundum esse. Ecclesiæ autem unitatis & fidelitatis exemplum ac testimonium proponebat Ecclesiam Romanam, quæ in fide semper inviolata sit, & nullis unquam hæreticorum fraudibus corrupta. Ecclesiæ Romanæ Petrum principem fuisse, quem Dominus unum ecclesiæ suæ fundamentum esse voluisset, & cui ob id solum Theologorum de hac re disputationibus relictum, quod unus esset, ut in eo schismatis tollendi causa omnium consensus esset. Ecclesiæ Catholicæ Romanæ Petrum Paulumque tanquam duos pastores, duos lucis hujus fontes, & lumina radiare, quorum sanctissimis cineribus eadem Romana ecclesia fundata sit. Ecclesiæ Romanæ Pontifices ad Petrum Paulumque successores, unum, ut Petrus, unum, qui ubi vultis successionem ordinate deducit. Tum Victorem primum, Pontificem Romanum, qui Asiaticos ecclesiæ Romanæ consuetudini reconciliare conatus esset. Irenæum & Lugdunenses ecclesiæ Romanæ pacificos, & inde laudatos esse pontifices, obtinuisse autem moderatione & pietate, ut Asiaticos ad communionem ecclesiæ Romanæ reducerent, non Pontificem sua potius affecisse. Scilicet apud Eusebium ecclesiasticum Dionysii Corinthii Scriptis verbis, quæ ipsum ecclesiæ Romanæ Pontificem ad Asiaticos ecclesias scripsisse testantur, Victorem ipsum Pontificem Romanum, qui Asiaticos ecclesiæ Romanæ consuetudini reconciliare conatus esset, & uerbum post Theologorum disputationes finiebat. Unde euenit, ut non pauci illum laborem, ac diuturnam suæ Dominicæ, & Ordinis Magistri lectionem, ac disputationem desiderarent. Quamobrem Pater Sanctus, cum omnia ad Concilium pertinentia diu, ac sedulo cognitione sua & diuersum sententiarum libris examinasset, ita statuit. In materia Reformationis cum Cardinalibus, & Prælatis, qui Romæ aderant, sæpe habuit consultationes, & Congregationes, in quibus ea, quæ ad Reformationem pertinebant, ita diligenter discussa sunt, ut Decreta, quæ postea in Concilio proponebantur, nequam nouitatis, aut rei, cuiquam ullatenus perfuncto essent, quæ admirationem parerent, sed quæ Orbis huic ipsius quantum difficiles rationes postulabant, ita omnibus æquissima, & ad Reformationem Ecclesiæ, & Christiani populi accommodatissima esse videbantur. Et de Prælatis sæpe sæpius, ac cum grauitate eos præsules à Deo ingis excludendos esse in cœtu eorum non esse videbat, de quorum uita, & moribus nihil esset, quod Ecclesiæ Dei, & populo Christiano ædificationi esset. Quamobrem Pius Pontifex, qui ipse Reformationis impensius, non parce, sed ex ipsius Ecclesiæ fonte, quæ quod in omnibus ecclesiis, ac Regnis Christianis, ac Principatibus, ac Prouinciis, ac Ciuitatibus, ac Oppidis, ac Locis, ac Prælatis, ac Clericis, ac Religiosis, ac Monasteriis, ac Hospitalibus, ac Sanctis Locis, ac Sacris Ædificiis, ac Religionum omnium ad Romanam Ecclesiam, quæ ma modi literae ab omnibus scribebantur, sed ut nunc pauci scribi & quidem ego omnes norunt pauciores. Illa enim scribebantur quae nunc scribuntur, & quae nunc scribuntur, illa scribebantur. Quod si quis nunc scit, ea, quibus ea vel ad exercendum vel ad alia quaecunque uti vult, omnia possidet. Romanis hoc ut multi nunc norunt, ob-scurum est. Quod si quis nunc scribere nescit, ea, quibus ea scribuntur, nec habet, nec ad vitam in hoc mihi videtur necessaria. Eadem ratione fuit id ei ignoranti Rom. Caesonino, cuius aetate ea, quae Romanis nota erant, pauci cognoscebant. Ad studia itaque reipsa colligenda, & ita magis addiscenda etiam. Non tam proinde ipse Caesoninus, quam ejus aetas, quae ea ignorabat, ignorantiae reus fuerit. Aut quam ridiculum esset, Caesoninum, Caesonia regina filium, qui ridiculum non tantum esset, quod ea, quae nunc non sunt, ignoret, sed quod ea, quae nunc sunt, ignoret, quae ipsa tamen aetas, quae ea non habebat, quae nunc habet, ignorabat? Quae nunc ignorantia Romani Caesonini non fuit tantum, tantum ab omnibus ea ignorata, & nunc ignorata, ut nunc ipse, qui ea ignorat, ignorantiae reus non sit. Quae ignorantia tam vasta esset, Romanorum tam pauca ignorantia, ut nunc ea, quae ignorat, ignorantiae reus non sit. Quae ignorantia tam vasta esset, ut ea, quae nunc quam ipsa ratio naturæ edocet. Et Euphrates quoque, qui Ecclesiæ ad orientem positus obtinetur. Cujus fluvii varietas per id quidem Cap. Ioannis Apocalypsi ostenditur, quod ad Euphratem quatuor Angeli ligati dicuntur, qui soluti per 7 & 7 annos tractibus Euphratis suas in Christo pacis & concordiæ studia turbare atque lædere dicuntur. Mystice enim per Euphratem Ecclesiæ Christi pax & concordia designatur. Quæ quidem ratio non obtinet, quando ad Euphratem positus Ecclesiæ Christi locus describitur: illum enim ad Euphratem commorare fatis. Adeo quidem, ut Euphrates ipse, quemadmodum Ecclesiæ Christi pax & unitas, quod magnum quantitatis & amplitudinis habet, quodque ad Ecclesiæ Christi hujus amplitudinem & diffusionem, quam verbum & sacramenta propagarunt, pertinet, ita quoque & ad ejus unitatem & concordiam, & fides, quod ultimo de tam multiplici primum Paradisum exortum fuisse, & ad Euphratem usque porrectum, ex Genes. 2. Ecclesiæ Christi pax & unitas, quæ per Euphratem designatur, hæc tam ubi in exordiis Ecclesiæ, ut ait Clemens Alexandrinus, elegantes def. q. 6. & quæ nobis tantas incolumes conservavit, quæ ad Euphratem usque porrecta est, quæque ad Euphratem usque Ecclesiæ Christi & ejus ambitum dilatata est, quæque ad Euphratem usque Ecclesiæ positum fuit, ordinatus eundus ille Ecclesiæ Christi Euphrates, quem Ecclesiæ Christi pacem & unitatem designat, Ecclesiæ Christi, quod ad Euphratis tractus in Apocalypsi Cap. 9. & 16. attinet, hæc Novatiani patronum eadem hæresi relinquunt. QUÆSTIO I.

An liberum arbitrium à gratia præventum, motum & excitatum, Deo excitanti & vocanti aſſentiendo ità cooperari poſsit, ut ad gratiam Juſtificationis obtinendam ſe diſponat ac præparet?

AFfirmat Synodus Capitulo V. & Canone IV. Gratiam autem prævenientem, moventem & excitantem eam eſſe docet cap. 5. cùm Deus tangit cor hominis per Spiritus S. illuminationem. Eum autim tactum cordis intelligit minimè potentem, vincentem, ſed ab arbitrio humano ſuperabilem, quando ſubjicit, per liberum arbitrium inſpirationem Spiritus S. poſſe abjici. Planè ſicut Scholaſtici plerique, teſte Janſonio de Gratia Chriſti, Lib. V I. 12. gratiam prævenientem definiunt indeliberatos intellectus & voluntatis motus, quibus potentia voluntatis quaſi dormiens excitetur, ut in actum ſurgat. Talibus enim Divinis motibus aſſerunt voluntatem molliri & allici, ut iis conſentiendo liberè velit, conſentiat, atque operetur ſupernaturaliter bonum. Cooperationem intelligit propriè dictam, activam nempe, non receptivam. Per gratiam juſtificationis intelligit vitæ ſpiritualis initium, non continuatos actus. Denique diſpoſitionem & præparationem agnoſcit formalem, uti vocant, quæ gratiam expetit obviantem & prævenientem, ſe ei applicat, & aſſentiendo cooperatur, non ſine qua non, quomodo & nos actus præcedaneos converſionem præcurrentes agnoſcimus. Hoc ſenſu quæſtionem planiſſimè negamus, aſſerimúſque, nullum omnino in homine irregenito eſſe liberum arbitrium, quod à gratia tali præventum & excitatum cooperari, & ſe ad initium converſionis diſponere poſſit. Etenim ARG. I. Peccatum originis in nondum regenitis plenè regnat & dominatur, hominémque ſecundum corpus & animam in deterius commutavit, uti fatetur Synodus Seſſ. V. Can. I. Hoc autem non patitur arbitrii cooperationem ante vitam ſpiritualem recuperatam, quæ carnis impetum retundat.

Bügel, der sich über dem Haupte des Trägers kreuzt, ist mit einem Kreuz bekrönt. Die Bügel sind mit Perlen besetzt, die Platten mit Edelsteinen und Emaillen geziert. Die Kaiserkrone ist also ein Reif- oder Bügelkrone, wie sie im Mittelalter vielfach vorkommt. Sie ist nicht, wie man oft liest, eine Zackenkrone. Die Zacken sind nur Zierat, sie sind nicht Teile der Krone selbst. Sie sind auch nicht, wie man ebenfalls oft liest, Lilien, sondern Lilienstäbe, die auf die Krone aufgesetzt sind. Die Krone selbst ist ein Reif, der sich über dem Haupte des Trägers kreuz effectu à Deo intendendo, sed & in tuto & facendo existimet, ut ejus Hilarium citat, pag. 1003. Dominicum differt explicare, quem vocatum non præsentiens ille vim præparationis, & ad vitam eternam in tuto non fore ante finem ullo pacto scivit, citatus Cassianus.

Quæ verò ad Prædestinationem pertinent, non sunt eadem præscientia & præparatione gratiæ, quibus ad vitam æternam quisque pervenit, sed sola gratuita Dei voluntate, qua ipse apud se elegit, quos gratiæ suæ vocationi obtemperaturos esset, & in ea perseveraturos, quos ad vitam æternam sine pœnitentia perducturus esset. Ita Aug. lib. 1. de Prædest. Sanct. cap. 3. Quæ sententia Augustini, ut ex ejus libris, quos scripsit contra Pelagianos & Cœlestianos, hæc sententia ejus est, ut ostendimus, ita ex Prosperi libro de vocatione Gentium, & ex Hilarii, qui primus Augustino hæc objecit, responsionibus, ut Prosper ipse testatur, ita ex Fulgentio, qui Augustini sententiam de Prædestinatione & Gratia, ut ipse ait, ubique defendit, ita ex Gennad pœnitentiam efficaciter moventem, prædefiniverit, absurdè asseritur, tum quia Deo tribuit voluntatem effectu carentem, adeóque inefficacem impotentémque, decretum scilicet dandi Tyriis & Sidoniis pœnitentiam, si Christus apud eos miracula præstiterit, cùm tamen nec miracula Christus apud eos patrare, nec Deus pœnitentiam iisdem largiri statuerit: tum quia decretum conditionatum fingit, cujus nulla tamen conditio est, cùm Deus non decreverit conditionem illam, ut apud Tyrios Christus miracula patret: tum quia Christus non ullius gratiæ prædefinitæ liberum arbitrium sub conditione certa efficaciter moventis, sed miraculorum duntaxat suorum meminit, quæ ipsa tamen nihil apud Judæos effecerunt: tum denique, quia gratiæ prædefinitæ & liberi arbitrii conversionem præcedentis concursus asseritur, non probatur. 2. Neque Christus miracula sua ponit conditionem gratiæ ejusmodi Tyriis dandæ, per quam ad pœnitentiam efficaciter illi moverentur, sed pœnitentiam non aliunde, quàm à miraculis suspendit, claro indicio, quòd sermone non proprio, sed hyperbolico usus fuerit. 3. Per Divinum gratiæ adjutorium vires naturales arbitrii eò elevari, ut conversioni, regenerationi & justificationi suæ cooperetur, inane κενοφώνημα est. Cedo tabulas!

OBIECT. III. Ad regenerationem requiritur hominis voluntas & actio, quia ea nihil aliud est, quàm mortificatio veteris hominis & vivificatio novi, seu omissio mali & præstatio boni. Ergo regeneratio est opus humanæ voluntatis. Resp. Regeneratio vel de principio ejus, vel de progressu, continuatione & incremento intelligitur. Primo modo solius Dei opus est. Altero ad eam requiritur etiam humana voluntas, ut instrumentum activum, spontaneum & liberum suarum actionum, quia voluntas regenerata, quas ex se non habebat, ex Spiritu S. accepit bene agendi vires, 2. Cor. III. 5. Ephes. II. 9. tum quia ab eodem Spiritu movetur & excitatur ad bene agendum, Rom. VIII. 14. Psalm. CXLIII. 10.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Ipsemet fatetur, in ordine ad actiones supernaturales, cujusmodi sunt fidei ac spei actus, regenerationi prævii, requiri agendi vires à Spiritu S. acceptas, cum quibus voluntas humana, ut instrumentum activum, cooperetur. 2. Ad justificationem pœnitentia prærequiritur. Cùm verò juxta vos justitia Christi imputata, seu forma justificans, nequeat esse principium pœnitentiæ effectivum, aliud in homine principium tale superesse debet. 3. Est quidem initium justificationis, consistens in gratia excitante ac movente ad actus regenerationi prævios, solius Dei opus. Supposito tamen gratiæ illius adjutorio voluntas Divinitus ita elevata ad eliciendos liberè actus dispositivos instruitur. Ib. pag. 383. 384. Resp. 1. Voluntatem hominis, ut instrumentum activum, concurrere ad actus fidei ac spei, regenerationi primæ, de qua tota quæstio est, prævios, ubi, Reding, fassus sum? Fingis pro lubitu quidvis, cùm respondere ad argumenta mea nihil possis. Alia omnia & fassus sum, & rationibus firmavi. 2. Cùm Deus impium justificet, Rom. IV. 5. quomodo justificationem pœnitentia, non ratione contritionis duntaxat legalis, sed mutationis etiam à malo ad bonum, præcedit? An igitur cum impietate pœnitentia consistit? Neque vel justitia Christi imputata forma justificans à nobis, sed materia potiùs justificationis statuitur: vel illa pœnitentiæ principium activum esse nequit, cùm bona omnia, quæ ad salutem nostram conducunt, à communione cum Christo, ejúsque justiab Ecclesia, & à Christo, Ecclesiæ capite, patrocinio & defensione subtrahi, quamvis ipsa Ecclesia nullum peccatum commiserit. Ita Adversarius in initio Assumpti: Ecclesia, inquit, Romana, quæ Christi Ecclesia esse desiit, non potest amplius Christi patrocinio & defensione gaudere. Ergo Ecclesia Romana non potest amplius esse Ecclesia, quæ peccatis caret. Patrocinium Christi nobis restituitur per Christi fidem & obedientiam, quibus Christo per fidem & obedientiam inhærentes nullo damnationis periculo subjacemus. Vid. Bellarm.

OBJECT. IV. Ignitus, non datur vel unus, qui renascatur in, aut per ipsum Lutherum, aut ejus Ministros. Ergo Lutherus, aut ejus Ministri non sunt vel ab ipsis nati. Resp. Nego Assumptum. Ad ejus probationem dico: non datur unus Natus secundum totum exemplum Lutheri, aut ejus Ministrorum, quod ad omnia, quæ in illo, aut illis peccata fuerunt, ea peccata non fuisse, quæ in aliis fuerunt. Sufficit, quod fuerit unus, qui fuerit genuine regeneratus, ad spiritum confectionem & obligationem.

RESP. SECUNDO: Ignitus etiam negabunt dari, si non fuisse, certe fuerunt. Quis enim negabit, Lutherum, Calvinum, Zwinglium, Beza, Melanchthonem, &c. fuisse, ut ex ipsorum scriptis patet, graviter delinquentes, & in complexum ejus, qui est peccatum pro peccatore fit, impingere, & in illo ipsos esse, quod ipsi in aliis damnant? Quis negabit, ipsos non fuisse ab Ecclesia Romana, quæ Christi Ecclesia esse desiit, ad Ecclesiam Christi per fidem & obedientiam inhærentem, quæ peccatis caret, conversos?

OBJECT. V. Regenerata peccatorum in regeneratis non habet genium, sed etiam naturam hominis & principium operandi peccatum. Ergo regenerati peccata non admittunt, & regenerata figmentum. R. de hac generatione, sive motione Dei, quæ est principium peccati, dico, quod sit generalis, & specialis. Prima est Dei generalis motio, qua omnes homines ad omnes actus peccatorios moventur. Secunda est Dei specialis motio, qua quosdam peccatorios actus in objectum peccatorium dirigunt, atque ita ad peccatum determinant. Prima motio non est peccatum, sed secunda est peccatum & figmentum. Patres contra solum secundam motionem Dei hanc esse voluerunt, quam Adversarius impugnat.

RESP. SECUNDO: Natus secundum totum exemplum, — non datur peccatum admittere, & figmentum. Ita Adversarius. Sed quis unquam hoc dixit? Quis unquam negavit, regenerationem esse principium peccati? Regenerationem esse principium peccati, & illud operatum Spiritus sancti dicere, est duo, quæ inter se pugnant, ut ignis & aqua. Regeneratio est principium peccati, quia regenerati peccant, & peccata admittunt. Sed regeneratio non est principium peccati, quia est principium peccati, ut Adversarius loquitur, hoc est, peccatum. Ita quidem Calvinus & quotquot calvinizant, qui peccata regenerationi & regeneratis tribuunt. Sed nos cum Patribus, & Ecclesia passivum, continuatæ verò quadantenus activum; hujus verò perfectæ, quoad fidem justificationem apprehendentem, post ejus per regenerantem gratiam donationem, organicè activum arguunt. 2. Virtus vitalis hominis ad operandum supra naturam evehi pro Dei beneplacito potest: sed ante regenerationis initium actu, quantum ex voluntate Dei revelata constat, neutiquam evehitur. Non quid Deus possit, sed quid velit, quæritur.

OBIECT. VI. Si in conversione homo se habet merè passivè, habebit se instar trunci & stipitis. Resp. Est hic coccysmus veterum Pelagianorum, cui ita respondet Augustinus Lib. II. de pecc. mor. & remiss. cap. 5. Non sicut in lapidibus insensatis, aut sicut in eis, in quibus natura rationem & voluntatem non condidit, salutem nostram Deus operatur in nobis. Sanè etiam Scriptura homini tribuit לב האבן cor lapideum, quod trunco aut stipite haud minùs rigidum est, Ezech. XXXVI. 26. Sed fons erroris est, quòd adversarii non distinguunt hominem naturalem à spirituali. Ante regenerationem & in ejus principio homo ψυχικὸς naturalis, in spiritualibus est planè ἀναίσθητος, adeóque lapidi & trunco non dissimilis. Quia tamen naturalem suam integritatem non amisit, retenta facultate intelligendi & volendi, qua utitur ad malum vivacissimè, truncus & lapis dici nequit. Est enim in bono quidem stupidus, at in malo sensus acerrimi: in bono mortuus, in malo vivens, vegetus & valentissimus.

EXCIP. REDING: Augustinus loc. cit. asserit, Deum nos, ut convertamur, adjuvare, neque adjuvare posse eum, nisi qui sponte conatur. Spontaneum porro conatum illum in votis seu precibus nostris, quibus conversionis ac justitiæ opus promovendum sit, collocat. lb. pag. 386. Resp. Neque sic responsionem meam attingis, sed aliud agendo declinas. Cæterùm Augustinum iis verbis non de prima, sed de secunda conversione loqui, apertum est. Disputat enim adversus eos, qui dicunt, accepto semel liberæ voluntatis arbitrio nec orare nos debere, ut Deus nos adjuvet, ne peccemus. quos ab auribus & mentibus nostris repellendos, sciscit. Liberæ autem voluntatis arbitrium prima conversione accipi, & ante eandem arbitrium servum esse, non liberum, Augustinus pro adamantinæ veritatis dogmate semper habuit. Et argumentum isthoc à Deo adjutore, seu adjuvante nos, petitum, merè Ethnicum, pro Jehova Jovem nobis substituit. Jovem enim Junonémque à juvando dictos Cicero interpretatur; & Jupiter quasi juvans pater iis dicitur, de quo fusè Lactantius de Relig. falsa lib. I. cap. 11. agit.

OBIECT. VII. Augustinus de Civ. Dei Lib. VII. 17. 30. & XII. 12. non obscurè in hominis prima conversione aliquid humanis viribus concedit. Et gratia prævenientis, adjuvantis, excitantis sæpe meminerunt Veteres. Resp. Augustinus aliique Patres arbitrii libertatem adversus coactionem solùm asserunt. Id non obstat, quin à prima causa absque omni violentia in rebus ad salutem spectantibus certò determinetur. Alibi enim ipsam bonam voluntatem Augustinus disertè à Deo ejúsque gratuita donatione derivat. 2. Prævenientem autem gratiæ significatæ, vocatæ, quæ potest homo mereri ipsam gratiam hominis regenerati quæ in regenito ipso libero cooperatione voluntatis per gratiam præveniente, & subsequente, & per gratiæ præmium, quod est vita æterna, & ipsa vita æterna, quæ est ad ipsum præmium gratiæ, & ipsa gratia, quæ est ad ipsam vitam æternam. Sic gratiæ nomine totum additur pactum in voluntate pro regenerationis cooperatione hominis. Nulla gratia meretur illi, quæ formatus in dominum adoptat vitæ æternæ, & ipsa vita æterna.

Dixit Augustinus, Gratia non esset gratia, si secundum merita bona reddatur: quæ dixit de operibus, qui operantur ante gratiam justificationis, & non de operibus, qui operantur post gratiam justificationis. Nam ipse Augustinus dixit, Deus coronando merita nostra, nihil aliud coronat, quam dona sua. Perhæc igitur scripturæ testimonia Patres regenerationis, ipsius ad voluntatem mutuæ cooperationem, ipsius ad voluntatem mutuæ cooperationem, ipsius ad præmium gratiæ, ipsius ad vitam æternam, & ipsius vitæ æternæ ad ipsum præmium gratiæ, & ipsius ad vitam æternam hominis liberi & voluntatis, quæ est in hominibus ipsius rei subiecti, adhibitæ concordiæ hac scripturæ cooperatio, pactum, præmium, & vita æterna, quæ est ipsa gratia, & ipsa vita æterna, quæ est ipsum præmium gratiæ. Hæc ipsius rei præcipuæ, & principales causæ.

QUÆSTIO II.

An gratia convertens, præveniens & excitans liberum arbitrium ita adjuvetur & roboretur post-fit ut gratia efficax malum fugiatur?

Septima Secundæ Centum IV. Patrum hæc quæstio nullam habuerunt per se villam quæstionem. Patrum etiam, gratia convertens, & excitans liberum arbitrium ita adjuvetur & roboretur post-fit ut gratia efficax & bonum non amittatur, & malum fugiatur. Dei benevola, regenerans & convertens in desiderio voluntatis pulsat liberum arbitrium, & ipsum ita adjuvetur & roboretur post-fit ut gratia efficax & bonum.

ARG. I. Liberum arbitrium humanum in peccatis corruptionis habens & non gratiæ, non sanum, non integrum, non liberum, non voluntarium. Deinde cum liquorem voluntatem Dominus, & omnes fatalitates, RESP. REDING : Converſionis principium eſt ex fide & pœnitentia. Atqui utriuſque illius velle liberum defendit à Patre luminum ſecundùm propoſitum Dei, uti Auguſtinus lib. de corrept. & grat. cap. 6. 7. oſtendit. Tract. IV. Ss. 2. p. 388. Reſp. Nemo utique non liber credit : nemo non liber pœnitentiam agit. Viciſſim nemo credit, nemo pœnitentiam agit non regenitus, non converſus. Eſt enim vera fides in Chriſtum, vera pœnitentia regenerantis & convertentis gratiæ primarius præcipuúſque effectus. An enim à Deo averſum, ex Diabolo genitum in Jeſum Chriſtum credere, pœnitentiam agere, pronuntiare auſis? Falſiſſimè igitur fidem & pœnitentiam converſionis principia, qualia in homine activa nulla ſunt, ſtatuis, neque id vel ex Scriptura, vel ex Auguſtino probabis unquam.

ARG. II. Libertas hæc reſiſtendi repugnat æternæ prædeſtinationis fundamento, & aureæ catenæ Apoſtoli Rom. VIII. 29. 30. Etenim cùm Deus certo & definito conſilio ac decreto certos quosdam homines deſtinaverit, non tantùm ad gloriam & ſalutem, ſed etiam ad media gloriæ & ſalutis, regenerationem, vocationem, juſtificationem, manifeſtum eſt, nullum arbitrium gratiæ regeneranti, vocanti, juſtificanti reſiſtere poſſe. Aliàs Dei Decretum interverteretur, & aurea illa Apoſtoli catena luxaretur omnino & diſſolveretur.

RESP. REDING : 1. Agnoſcimus, ſtante Divina motione & decreto efficaci, effectum ejus humana voluntate impediri non poſſe. Illa enim motio, ſeu phyſica prædeterminatio cauſalitatem Dei in actum ſecundum operationis creatæ liberæ influentem includit. Poteſt enim actus ex vi creati arbitrii contingens, & in tempore mutabilis, ex vi prædeſtinationis in æternitate eſſe immutabilis. Ib. pag. 389. 390. Reſp. 1. Si tu, unà cum Thomiſtis Prædeterminantibus, ſtante Divina motione & decreto efficaci, ejus effectum voluntate humana impediri non poſſe, agnoſcis: at alia omnia Præſcientiſtæ tui, Jeſuitæ & ſequaces pertendunt. Quin & tu ipſe in eorundem caſtra ſtatim migras. Si enim ſtante efficaci motione & decreto Dei voluntas per libertatem ſuam non operari, quin &, juxta Tridentinum Canonem, diſſentire poteſt, utique juxta hypotheſin veſtram, qua voluntatem liberam neceſſariò cooperari gratiæ ſtatuitis, ſtante Divina motione & decreto, ejuſdem effectus libera voluntate hominis non operantis, ſeu diſſentientis, impediri poteſt. REDING: Fatemur esse opus infinitæ Dei potentiæ, neque huic resistere humanam voluntatem posse. Potest tamen creata voluntas per Divinæ gratiæ auxilium accipere virtutem supernaturalem liberè efficiendi actum imperii, captivantis Intellectum in obsequium fidei. Ib. pag.390. Resp. Si resistere non potest arbitrium efficaci motioni Dei, in conversione fidem homini ingenerantis, quomodo arbitrium Deo ita moventi dissentire posse, Tridentini tui decreverunt? Cætera nihil ad rhombum faciunt. Potest creata voluntas accipere virtutem supernaturalem, sed non eandem cooperatione sua efficere. Aliud est virtutem supernaturalem recipere, aliud efficere. Potest voluntas regenita liberè credere; sed non vel regeneranti resistere vel regeneranti gratiæ cooperari. Neque arma illa militiæ nostræ non carnalia, sed δυνατὰ τῷ θεῷ potentia Deo, ad destructionem munitionum, & quibus homo ad obsequium Christi captivatur, (2.Cor.X.4.5) ejusmodi sunt, ut vel συνεργέα nostra præparentur, vel per liberi arbitrii sive dissensum sive resistentiam, hebetari, obtundi, nedum diffringi possint.

ARG. IV. Generanti, potenter trahenti, creanti, vivificanti nullum arbitrium resistit. Ergo nec regeneranti, recreanti, potenter trahenti, vivificanti gratiæ, qualem esse eam, quâ convertimur, Scriptura Psalm.LI.8. Joh.III.3.5. & v.44.45.Ephes.II.5.alibique passim ostendit.

RESP. REDING: Gratiæ regenerantis & vivificantis nullum equidem arbitrium per se immediatè resistere potest. Gratiæ verò actuali ad fidem & pœnitentiam, seu præviam dispositionem justificationis, moventi, sufficienti puta, quæ dat in actu primo vires ad supernaturaliter operandum, non efficaci, resistere potest. Ib.pag 390-393. Resp.1. Gratiam regenerantem ab actuali quomodo distinguas, videris ipse. Nam & regenerans actualis est, quia & actio Dei est, creationi, generationi, vivificationi non absimilis: & actu dat tum potentiam, tum actum credendi, Phil.I.29.II.13. Præterea fidem & pœnitentiam perperam tum præponis regenerationi, tum dispositionem utramque ad justificationem facis. Nulla enim sine regeneratione vera fides, pœnitentia nulla. Utraque vitæ spiritualis recuperatæ actus est. 2. Sed & sufficientem gratiam, puta talem non κατ' non faciendum quid, in genere externorum mediorum, sed ἁπλῶς absolutè, salutarem scilicet, ab efficaci, seu actu pollente, præpostere separas. Sufficit tibi, inquiebat Christus Paulo 2.Cor.XII.9. gratia mea. Potentia enim mea in debilitate perficitur. Quæ igitur sufficiens gratia est, eadem potentiam, quæ perficitur, adeóque efficax est, conjunctam habet. Et, dic mihi, Redingi, sufficiens gratia, an comitem habet eandem potentiam, quam Deus actu in creatione & vivificatione ex mortuis exerit, nec ne. Si affirmas, utique efficax eadem est, nec ulla arbitrii resistentia impediri potest. Si negas, nec gratia ea sufficiens erit, utpote potentia ea carens; nec convertens & regenerans gratia, de qua sola quæstio est, cluebit. Et quomodo gratia sufficiens dici potest, quæ vitiosam Deo vocanti resistendi potentiam non tollere, nec voluntatem indeclinabilem ad obedientiam permovere potest? Annon sic Diabolus, improbus ille, qui est in mundo, fortior erit Deo, qui habitat in filiis Dei. quod S. Johannes 1.Epist.II.14. IV. 4. negat. Sed & siculneam distinctionem tuam solidissimis insuper argumentis ex Augustino depromptis Jansenius vester de gratia Christi Salvatoris lib.III. cap.1. confixit, qualia sunt, quòd ex mente Augustini (nos addimus, ipsius verbi Dei) sufficiens gratia, seu sufficiens adjutorium, præter quod (ita enim à vobis definiri solet) nihil aliud ex parte DEI per modum princi-

Addo, Tridentinos nec inter gratiam ſufficientem & efficacem, nec inter actus efficacis gratiæ diſcrimen ullum ſtatuere. Simpliciter liberum arbitrium à gratia motum & excitatum (quod ſecundum, non primum gratiæ actum manifeſtè ſonat) diſſentire, ſi velis, poſſe, decernunt. Oſtendi etiam à te diſcupio, cujuſmodi inter gratiam ſufficientem & efficacem in primo actu differentia ſit. Ego verò nec illam verè ſufficientem, cùm indigeat ulteriore gratia, abſque qua nulla ſalus eſt; nec hanc efficacem eſſe, cùm nec converſionem, nec ſalutem efficiat, ſtatuo.

ARG. VI. Deus fidelibus promittit, fore, ut auferat duritiem, præputium cordis, & cor lapideum, détque cor novum & carneum, Spiritum novum & voluntarium, Deuter. XXX. 6. Ezech. XXXVI. 27. Ipſe igitur gratiæ regenerantis potentiâ & efficaciâ aufert reſiſtibilitatem. Et ſanè cor novum & ſpiritus novus pugnat è diametro cum finali & completa potentia reſiſtendi Deo efficaciter vocanti. Ita enim homines haberent cor novum, quod ſe daturum promittit Deus, & nunquam converterentur, adeoque & converterentur & non converterentur.

Resp. Redino: Deus gratiæ ſuæ efficaciâ ita dat cor novum, ut tamen impoſſibile ſit, hominem non converti. Hac tamen impoſſibilitate non tollit potentiam reſiſtendi gratiæ in actu primo efficaci. Ib. pag. 393. 394. Reſp. Diſtinctionis tuæ inter gratiam efficacem in primo & ſecundo actu, abſque qua eſſet, ad ſolidiſſimum argumentum meum ne hiſcere quidem potuiſſes, monſtrum ſupra debellavi.

ARG. VII. Scriptura operationem gratiæ convertentis non definit ſola ſuaſione morali & inſpiratione, cujus eventus ſitus ſit in arbitrio hominis, ſed actione tam efficaci, támque potenti, ut nunquam eventus eam deſtituat, Jerem. XXX. 7. Pſalm. CXV. 3. Joh. VI. 44. Joh. XII. 32. Ephes. I. 19. Apud Hoſeam Cap. XI. 4. vocantur funiculi humanitatis, & denſi funes amoris.

Resp. Redino: Neque nos operationem gratiæ convertentis ſola ſuaſione morali definimus, ſed præter hanc duplex adjutorium, unum ſufficiens, efficax alterum, dans ipſum velle ac operari, neque unquam eventum deſituens, agnoſcimus, præeunte Auguſtino, qui paſſim adjutorium, cum quo aliquid fit, & ſine quo aliquid non fit, diſtinguit. 2. Ipſum Concilium Tridentinum Seſſ. VI. duplex illud adjutorium inſinuat. Nam Can. 3. definiens, ſine præveniente Spiritus S. inſpiratione, atque ejusdem adjutorio credere, ſperare, diligere ac panitere homines non poſſe, adjutorium ſine quo non fit opus, ſeu tenens ſe ex parte actus primi innuit. Aſt Can. 4. aſſerens, liberum arbitrium à Deo motum & excitatum Deo excitanti atque vocanti cooperari, adjutorium cum quo opus fit, ſeu tenens ſe ex parte actus ſecundi, haud obſcurè agnoſcit, quia liberum arbitrium, prout à Deo movetur & excitatur, Deo excitanti & vocanti dicitur cooperari; unde conſequens eſt, ut conſenſum, in quo formaliter eſt cooperatio liberi arbitrii, Deus operetur. 3. Sed & S. Auguſtinus paſſim docet, gratiam efficacem conſiſtere in actione Dei, voluntatis noſtræ conſenſum antecedente, támque tam potente, ut nunquam eventus eam deſituat, ſalva tamen arbitrii noſtri libertate.

Quæ diversa dicuntur, ut homo & asinus, quæ communia, ut homo & asinus, quæ sunt in diversis individuis, quæ communia, ut homo & asinus, quæ sunt in diversis individuis, quæ communia, ut homo & asinus, quæ sunt in diversis individuis applicationem ita potens & efficax non per se, sed ex obligatione. Potest enim Deus ex pacto & promissione obligari ad dandum auxilium efficax, quod ex se non sit tale & indigeat pro illo tempore . . . Secundo potest Deus ex pacto & promissione quod facturus sit aliquid, quod in ordine ad illud determinatum effectum sit efficax, obligari ad dandum auxilium, quod ex se non sit efficax, sed indigeat pro illo tempore, ut sit efficax applicatione . . . Licet ergo Deus ex pacto & promissione obligetur ad dandum auxilium, quod ex se non sit efficax, sed indigeat pro illo tempore, ut sit efficax, non tamen ex illo pacto, aut promissione, quod ex se sit efficax, & non indigeat pro illo tempore, ut sit efficax applicatione. Ratio est, quia ex illo pacto, aut promissione non obligatur Deus ad dandum auxilium, quod ex se sit efficax, & non indigeat pro illo tempore, ut sit efficax applicatione. Auxilium Dei non est augens, & auctum & corporaliter & spiritualiter, quod ex se sit efficax, & non indigeat pro illo tempore, ut sit efficax applicatione, & quod ex se sit efficax, & non indigeat pro illo tempore, ut sit efficax applicatione, per spatia. Unde Deus Omnipotens debuisse quod Joannes baptizet, non Titus, aut Sempronius, & quod baptizet in Jordane, non in Tiberi, aut Sequana, non obligatur ex illo pacto, aut promissione

Pars affirmans. Aug. in epist. 120. c. 3. Augustinus ipsemet. Nihil objicit Augustino, aut ejus scriptis, nisi quæ Augustinus ipsemet damnavit. Ita enim Augustinus ipsemet in libro Retractationum, quem ultimo scripsit, ait: Quæ in quibusdam scriptis meis in exponendo Apostolo, quantum ad istam quæstionem pertinet, dicta sunt, quibus videtur, ut homo sine fide quibusdam bonis operibus, quæ pertinent ad fidem, præparet sibi fidem, non dicendo, sed disputando, ea nunc non approbo. Nihil ergo objicitur Augustino, quod ipse non objecerit. Quod vero objicitur Augustino, non est objectum Augustino, sed ab Augustino. Quod autem objicitur Augustino, non est objectum Augustino, quia non pertinebat ad fidem, sed ad præparationem ad fidem. Ergo nihil objicitur Augustino, quod pertineat ad fidem. Ergo si Augustinus ipsemet damnavit ea, quæ objiciuntur Augustino, nihil objicitur Augustino, quod pertineat ad fidem.

ARG. IX. Augustinus dicit: Ita a Deo impetrantur credentes, quia ipsa credere Dei munera sunt. Ergo Augustinus non docuit, quod Deus det fidem, nisi orantibus homines: orantes non fidem credunt, sed ut credant fidem petunt. Resp. Antecedens. Aug. in epist. 120. c. 3. Augustinus ipsemet. Nihil objicit Augustino, aut ejus scriptis, nisi quæ Augustinus ipsemet damnavit. Ita enim Augustinus ipsemet in libro Retractationum, quem ultimo scripsit, ait: Quæ in quibusdam scriptis meis in exponendo Apostolo, quantum ad istam quæstionem pertinet, dicta sunt, quibus videtur, ut homo sine fide quibusdam bonis operibus, quæ pertinent ad fidem, præparet sibi fidem, non dicendo, sed disputando, ea nunc non approbo. Ergo si Augustinus ipsemet damnavit ea, quæ objiciuntur Augustino, nihil objicitur Augustino, quod pertineat ad fidem.

ARG. X. Omnem & ipsi adversarii circa hoc dogma non in fide divina, sed in humana, quæ ex auctoritate Ecclesiæ nititur, fundantur. Ergo Augustinus non docuit contrarium, quod ipsi docent. Resp. Quoniam difficilem videremus operationem Angelicæ Doctoris Sanctissimi Thomæ, si ejus sententiam ex ipsius operibus, & non ex Scriptis Commentatorum, vel Scriptorum Ordinis Sanctissimi Patriarchæ Dominici & Cœtus S. Ld. Alfonsi, ut ait illud Augustini latinitate: Quare à malo dare mihi scripsisse, quæ ego malo.

Resp. Antecedens. Difficile de difficilioribus quidem difficultas videtur, in Hispaniarum Regionibus, Augustinianæ Sententiæ Patronos, & Defensores, ut ipsi ajunt, non invenire, & ideo ad eorum scripta recurrendum esse, & non ad ipsa Augustini opera, quæ ego malo. Ego vero malo ipsa Augustini opera, quæ ego malo, quam scripta Augustinianæ Sententiæ Patronorum, & Defensorum, quæ ego malo.

non Ecclesiasticum existere posse, nisi ex aliquo naturali, & consistente. Quod autem Ecclesiasticum existere non possit, nisi ex naturali, & consistente, ostendo primum ex ipsa voce Ecclesiæ, quæ significat Congregationem, seu Societatem Christianorum, quæ nisi ex aliquo naturali, & consistente, existere non potest. Deinde ex ipsa Scriptura, & Traditione, quæ Ecclesiam semper ex aliquo naturali, & consistente existere docuerunt. Ex quo patet, Ecclesiam Christi Mediatorem, & Redemptorem, quem Scriptura, & Traditio docuerunt, non esse Ecclesiasticum, sed naturalem, & consistentem, quæ etiam ab exponente colligitur apud S. Augustinum, Ecclesiasticum, & naturalem Mediatorem, & Redemptorem esse, quæ sunt ejus verba: Ecclesiæ nihil aliud Deus dedit, & voluit quam Mediatorem suum nihil sibi esse Mediatorem, & Redemptorem ejus, quem voluerunt esse Mediatorem, & Redemptorem, & ipsum esse Mediatorem, & Redemptorem, qui est naturalis, atque consistens homo, non qui est Ecclesiasticus, & consistens. Quæ verba, quia in aliis omnino editionibus non inveniuntur, ut in Lovaniensi, Parisiensi, Antuerpiensi, & in ea, quæ ab eximio Theologo Joannis Clerico Anno 1700. Amstelodami edita est, omnino, exemplum Codicis, unde hæc verba desumpta sunt, fide carere, & ab Editore, qui ea primus edidit, ut ipse fatetur, ex Codice Manuscripto Anno 1418. ex Monasterio S. Victoris Parisiensis, ut ipse ait, desumpta esse, non immerito existimo. Hæc porrò, inquiebam, ita esse, & ex scriptione, & ex Traditione, & ex ipsa voce Ecclesiæ, quæ significat Congregationem, seu Societatem Christianorum, quæ nisi ex aliquo naturali, & consistente existere non potest, ostendo. Ex Scriptura, quia Christus Dominus Ecclesiam suam semper ex aliquo naturali, & consistente existere docuit. Ex Matth. 13. Simile est regnum cœlorum grano sinapis, quod accipiens homo seminavit in agro suo, quod minimum quidem est omnium seminum, cum autem crevit, majus est omnibus holeribus, & fit arbor, ita ut volucres cœli habitent in ramis ejus. Ex Matth. 13. Simile est regnum cœlorum fermento, quod acceptum mulier abscondit in farinæ sat. tribus donec fermentatum sit totum. Ex Matth. 16. Tu es Petrus, & super hanc petram ædificabo Ecclesiam meam, & portæ inferi non prævalebunt adversus eam. Ex Matth. 18. Si autem Ecclesiam non audierit, sit tibi sicut ethnicus, & publicanus. Ex Matth. 28. Ecce ego vobiscum sum omnibus diebus usque ad consummationem sæculi. Ex Joan. 10. Fiet unum ovile, & unus pastor. Ex Joan. 17. Pater sanctifica eos in veritate, ut sint unum sicut & nos. Ex Ephes. 4. Unus Dominus, una fides, unum baptisma. Ex Ephes. 5. Christus dilexit Ecclesiam, & seipsum tradidit pro ea, ut illam sanctificaret, mundans lavacro aquæ in verbo vitæ, ut exhiberet ipse sibi gloriosam Ecclesiam non habentem maculam, aut rugam, aut aliquid hujusmodi, sed ut sit sancta, & immaculata. Ex Ephes. 5. Sacramentum hoc magnum est, ego autem dico in Christo, & in Ecclesia. Ex Coloss. 1. Qui gaudeo in passionibus pro vobis, & adimpleo ea, quæ desunt passionum Christi in carne mea pro corpore ejus, quod est Ecclesia. Ex 1. Tim. 3. Ut scias quomodo oporteat te conversari in domo Dei, quæ est Ecclesia Dei vivi, columna, & firmamentum veritatis. Ex Apoc. 21. Et vidi civitatem sanctam Jerusalem novam descendentem de cœlo a Deo, paratam sicut sponsam ornatam viro suo. Ex Apoc. 22. Et spiritus, & sponsa dicunt, veni. Et qui audit dicat, veni. Et qui sitit veniat, & qui vult accipiat aquam vitæ gratis. Ex quibus omnibus, & aliis plurimis, quæ brevitatis causa omitto, patet, Christum Dominum Ecclesiam suam semper ex aliquo naturali, & consistente existere docuisse, quia semper comparatam illam ex aliquo naturali, & consistente, ut ex grano sinapis, ex fermento, ex civitate, ex domo, ex sponsa, ex ovili, ex unitate fidei, & baptismatis, ex unitate Sacramentorum, & ex unitate Spiritus, & sponsæ, quæ omnia naturalia, & consistentia sunt, existere docuit. Ex Traditione, quia Ecclesiam semper ex aliquo naturali, & consistente existere docuerunt Patres, & Ecclesiastici Scriptores. Ita Tertullianus, qui Ecclesiam ex aqua, & sanguine existere docuit, ut ex naturalibus, & consistentibus. Ita Cyprianus, qui Ecclesiam ex Sacramentis, & Sacramenta ex naturalibus, & consistentibus existere docuit. Ita Augustinus, qui Ecclesiam ex Sacramentis, & Sacramenta ex naturalibus, & consistentibus existere docuit. Ita Ecclesiastici Scriptores, qui Ecclesiam ex Sacramentis, & Sacramenta ex naturalibus, & consistentibus existere docuerunt. Ex ipsa voce Ecclesiæ, quæ significat Congregationem, seu Societatem Christianorum, quæ nisi ex aliquo naturali, & consistente existere non potest. Ex quibus omnibus homines possunt. Resp. Loca citata gratiæ sufficientis commentum non probant. Nam 1. Esaj. V. 4. Deus ostendit, non quid internè per gratiam efficacem operans, sed quid externè per ministros suadens effecerit, non quos pedo gratiæ traxerit, sed quos fistulâ præconii invitaverit. 2. Ezech. XII. 2. oculi populo universo dati, non sunt gratiæ convertentis symbolum, sed intelliguntur oculi, quibus tum vera multa cognoscere, & de veritate verbi divini certi esse, tum Dei judicia intueri, & ad ea contremiscere, tum à peccatis externis atrocibus, iram Dei provocantibus, desistere potuerunt.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Siccine præconium vestrum ita Dei gratia destituitur, ut qui ejusdem fistula invitantur, pedo gratiæ non trahantur itidem? 2. Nisi conferat Deus vires sufficientes ad ea, quæ ipse requiris, quomodo verificatur, non posse Deum ultra quid vineæ suæ facere? 3. Quomodo absque gratia Dei sufficiente oculi vera multa cognoscere, de verbi Divini veritate esse certi, Dei judicia intueri, & ad ea contremiscere possunt? Ibid. pag. 404. Resp. 1. Ne ipsorum quidem Prophetarum & Apostolorum præconium ejusmodi fistula fuit, quæ gratiæ pedum comitans semper habuerit. An enim pedo gratiæ Deus traxit eos, quos hoc loco Esajas alloquitur, & quos idem cap. LIII. 1. hic verbis ferit: Quis credidit prædicationi nostræ, & brachium Domini cui revelatum est? De vestra fistula quid dicam? Similis est משרקיתא fistulæ illi, ad cujus sonitum Babylonii quondam coram statua aurea à Nebucadnezare erecta procubuerunt, ut eam adorarent, Dan. III. 7. 10. &c. Ubi Deus dixit, se non posse vineæ suæ amplius quid facere? Sic enim v. 4. loquitur: מה לעשות עוד לכרמי ולא עשיתי בו Quid faciendum amplius erat vineæ meæ, & non feci in ea? De faciendi ulteriùs quid, in genere puta externorum salutis mediorum, de quibus solis agit, officio, post tot præstita & perdita beneficia, non de potentia manifestè loquitur. Quòd autem non affirmet, se omne auxilium, adeóque etiam regenerantem gratiam populo suo dedisse, satis inde colligitur, quia non alius parabolæ scopus est, quàm demonstrare, plus requiri ad hoc, ut homines fructum ferant Deo, quàm omnia externa media & communia beneficia, nimirum regenerationem etiam & sanctificationem Spiritus, adeóque emollitionem cordium per eundem. Proin parabola ea adversis quasi cornibus validóque impetu gratiam indifferentem, & potestatem hominis ad sui conversionem sine auxilio efficaci & circumcisione cordis, destruit. 3. Plus certè ad gratiam eam, quæ ad conversionem regenerationémque hominis sufficiat, requiritur, quàm oculi videntes, auréque audientes, hoc est, vera multa, verbi cumprimis Divini veritatem cognoscentes, & ad Dei judicia contremiscentes. cujusmodi etiam Pseudopropheta Bileamus habuit. Cordis insuper mutatio & circumcisio, gratiáque adeò regenerans & sanctificans necessaria est. absque est, nihil oculi videntes & aures audientes ad salutem proficere possunt.

OBIECT. IV. Si gratia convertenti homo resistere nullo modo potest, conversio & regeneratio ipsa erit coacta & violenta. Atqui Cant. I. 4. Jerem. XX. 7. & XXXI. 18. 19. gratia convertentis indoles describitur talis, qua procul à vi & coactione abest. Resp. Conversionem non esse coactam fatemur. Neque verò cogi-ut Deus quidem velit nos non peccare. Vel enim dicit Augustinus lib. 1. ad Simplic. de diversis quæstionum lib. 2. quæstione 2. nonnumquam ita dicitur aliquid fieri, quemadmodum dicitur aliquid non fieri, cum id tamen fieri non possit, & nonnumquam ita dicitur aliquid fieri, quemadmodum dicitur aliquid non fieri, cum id tamen fieri possit.

Resp. Dicendum 1. Nihil omnino posse obstare Deo, si ab æterno sic velit, ut certo & infallibiliter velit nostram salutem, quin illam nobis det, & nos per illam salvos faciat, quia Deus est omnipotens ens. 2. Quia de Deo dicit Scriptura, quod omnia quæcumque voluit fecit, Psalm. 134. & Augustinus lib. 1. de Genesi ad literam cap. 19. Quis resistit voluntati ejus? Et Augustinus lib. 3. de Genesi ad literam cap. 15. Omnia enim magis sunt in voluntate Dei, quam in suis causis. Et lib. 5. de Trinitate cap. 16. Omnia quæcumque voluit Deus, in cœlo & in terra, & in mari, & in abyssis fecit. Et Ambrosius lib. 1. de Abraham cap. 3. Omnia Deus voluit, & facta sunt. Et Augustinus lib. 1. de Genesi ad literam cap. 19. Omnia quæcumque voluit Deus, facta sunt, antequam fierent. Et Hieronymus in Psalm. 113. Omnia quæcumque voluit, fecit. 3. Quia impossibile est, ut voluntas Dei, quæ est causa quæ vocat efficaciter, vel coercitive, velit, quæ non fiant, quæ ipse vult fieri, quia ipse vult ea fieri. Et ideo dicit Augustinus lib. 1. de Genesi ad literam cap. 19. Quis resistit voluntati ejus? Nemo. Et ideo dicit Scriptura, quod omnia quæcumque voluit fecit. Et Augustinus lib. 3. de Genesi ad literam cap. 15. Omnia enim magis sunt in voluntate Dei, quam in suis causis. Et lib. 5. de Trinitate cap. 16. Omnia quæcumque voluit Deus, in cœlo & in terra, & in mari, & in abyssis fecit. Et Ambrosius lib. 1. de Abraham cap. 3. Omnia Deus voluit, & facta sunt. Et Augustinus lib. 1. de Genesi ad literam cap. 19. Omnia quæcumque voluit Deus, facta sunt, antequam fierent. Et Hieronymus in Psalm. 113. Omnia quæcumque voluit, fecit. Et ideo dicit Augustinus, quod voluntas Dei est causa omnium causarum.

Ad 1. Dicendum, quod Augustinus intendit: Aqua non convertit se in vinum, nisi Deo volente. Deinde cum non convertat se in vinum, Deo permittente & concurrente, non est verisimile quod, & per modum causæ, & per modum effectus, Deus concurrat ad hoc, quod aqua non convertatur in vinum. Et ideo omnia alienum esse videtur voluntatem simultatem Dei, quæ non convertatur in vinum.

Ad 2. Dicendum, quod Augustinus ibi intendit, quod Deus non solum est causa efficiens, sed etiam conservans omnia, quæ continentur sub ordine naturæ. Et ideo dicit, quod omnia, quæ fiunt in natura, fiunt per Deum, quia ipse est causa efficiens, & conservans omnia, quæ continentur sub ordine naturæ. Sed non est verisimile, quod Deus, qui est causa efficiens, & conservans omnia, quæ continentur sub ordine naturæ, non sit causa efficiens, & conservans omnia, quæ fiunt præter ordinem naturæ, & ideo dicit Augustinus, quod omnia, quæ fiunt præter ordinem naturæ, fiunt per Deum, sicut & ea, quæ fiunt secundum ordinem naturæ. Et ideo dicit Augustinus, quod Deus est causa omnium causarum.

QUÆSTIO III.

vtrum ista propositio sit vera: Omnes Literarum volentes discere ita se habent sicut se habuerunt ante primam regenerationem in spiritualibus primæ mihi Natiuitati?

NEque Synodus Carthag. V. Non affirmat literarum volentes & studiosi esse posse qui ipsos nouerit Christi fideles. Etiam adeo admittit vtrumque rejecta charitate contingere posse non nouerit, vt ipsa tamen Synodus non neget esse aliquos literarum studiosos, & tamen prædestinatos, donec & prædestinatorum die. & nouerit Deus qui sunt eius. Et Augustinus lib. 2. de Doctrina Christiana cap. 40. ingenue fatetur se ignorare, vtrum quis sit prædestinatus, an reprobatus, Ratione nullus datur.

RATIO. 1. Prædestinatio homini competit ita naturalis effectus, sicut nihil potest in effectum nisi Causa. Ergo nisi Causa prædestinationis sit naturalis homini, non potest ipsa prædestinatio esse naturalis homini. Sed

Poteſt tamen homo etiam animalis per gratiam actualem elevari ad operationes intellectuales & morales, quæ gratiam ſanctificantem non ſupponunt.* 3. Quomodo verbis Chriſti Matth. VI. 23. Si oculus tuus malus eſt, totum corpus tenebroſum erit; liberum arbitrium oppugnas? Etenim verbis iis cohærent v. 20. Theſaurizate vobis theſauros in Cælo; ex quibus Auguſtinus de grat. & lib. arbitr. cap. 2. contra liberum hominis arbitrium probavit. lb. p. 406--408. Reſpon. Loca citata ſic ſtringunt, ut tu iis non potueris niſi bullas tenuiſſimi flatus opponere. Etenim Luc. I. 79. ii, qui in tenebris ſederunt ante, locum utique Chriſto, vero lumini, ceſſerunt; poſtquam ſcilicet ἐπέβλεψε ἐξ ὕψους Oriens (Sol juſtitiæ) excelſo eoſdem viſitavit. An verò ſic à Chriſto illuminati & viſitati manſerunt irregeniti? An non potiùs per ἐπιφάνειαν illuceſcentiam & viſitationem illam Chriſti γνῶσιν σωτηρίας τῇ ἄφεσιν τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν notitiam ſalutis & remiſſionem peccatorum, uti v. 77. habetur, acceperunt? Et qualis quæſo ad bonum ſpirituale & morale integrum libertas ſuperſtes fuit in iis, quos S. Paulus Rom. I. 24. in reprobum ſenſum datos dixit? Pharao, obduratus licet, inquis, liberum tamen, Auguſtino teſte, arbitrium habuit. Sed cujus reſpectu? Spiritualis & moralis integri boni? Imò verò, uti ipſemet aſſeris, obdurationis & pertinaciæ in populo impediendo. Hæccine libertas eſt in bono ſpirituali & morali integro? Sed potuit, inquis, liberè non dimittere: Ergo liberè etiam dimittere potuit. Imò verò dimiſit tandem liberè. Sed dimiſſio illa libera non ſpiritualis, verùm civilis, vel moralis externus actus fuit. Quanquam non ex loco Rom I. 24. ſed potiùs v. 21. ubi gentibus gratiæ regenerantis expertibus ἐσκοτισμένη ἡ ἀσύνετος καρδία, obtenebratio & cor inſciens tribuitur, ego argui. Quin porro homo animalis mutari in ſpiritualem, imò per gratiam etiam generalem, priuſquam ſpiritualis evadat, elevari poſſit ad operationes, corrupta ejuſdem natura majores, dubitari nequit. Neque de hoc quæritur; ſed de eo potiùs, an animalis manens, & gratia regenerante adhuc dum deſtitutus, liberi arbitrii, utpote in ſpiritualibus vulnerati quidem, at non perditi occiſique, poteſtate quicquam ſpiritualiter & moraliter integrè boni facere poſſit? Hoc verò S. Paulus I. Cor. II. 14. negat. Et cur ad loca, quibus etiam voluntatem hominis vitiatam eſſe, probavi, nihil reſpondes? ℥. Dicit Chriſtus Matth. VI. 21. 23. Lucerna corporis eſt oculus. Itaque ſi oculus tuus ſimplex fuerit, totum corpus tuum lucidum erit. Si oculus tuus malus fuerit, totum corpus tuum tenebroſum erit. Ergo ſi lumen, quod in te eſt, tenebræ ſunt, ipſæ tenebræ quantæ? Quod porro oculus corpori eſt, hoc eſſe intellectum animæ, ſcitè Chryſoſtomus ad h. l. monuit. Senſum etiam his verbis expreſſit Janſenius: Mens ſi pura fuerit, erit etiam totum corpus lucidum, hoc eſt, etiam omnes vires & operationes hominis erunt claræ, & à peccato puræ. Si verò mens ipſa, quæ reliquis viribus ex ſeſe tenebroſis, lumen præbere debet, quæque omnium operationum eſt cauſa, fuerit vitiata, omnes animæ vires tenebroſæ erunt, quia nihil rectè agent; omnésque operationes erunt tenebroſæ, quia tenebris peccatorum involutæ, & lumine rectæ rationis deſtitutæ. Sicut igitur oculo corporis vitiato, univerſum corpus tenebroſum eſt: ita oculo mentis, intellectu, vitiato, in univerſis hominis facultatibus non erunt niſi tenebræ. Et quæ ſic occæcato & obtenebrato homini libertas bene agendi reſidua eſſe poteſt? Inprimis cùm confeſſum apud vos etiam ſit, judicii intellectus practici dictamen ipſam voluntatem ſequi. Et quàm quæſo ſtolida tua argumentatio eſt: Auguſtinus verbis Chriſti paulò ante præcedentibus, theſaurizate vobis theſauros in Cælo, liberum arbitrium probavit: Ergo his etiam verbis, ſi oculus tuus malus fuerit, totum corpus malum fuerit,

fuerit, liberum arbitrium, ex ejusdem mente, ſtabilitur. Atqui verba controverſæ ne quidem Auguſtinus eo loco attigit: & ſunt illa diverſi planè tenoris, cum libero arbitrio irregenitorum in bono ſpirituali hoſtiliter pugnantia. Aſſeruit ſanè Auguſtinus liberum arbitrium libro peculiari de gratia & libero arbitrio, adverſus Monachos prætextu gratiæ illud abnegantes. Sed aliud ſcilicet eſt liberum arbitrium: aliud poteſtas bene & malè faciendi in homine irregenito. Illud, non hoc aſſeruit.

ARG. III. Non renati mortui ſunt in peccatis, & naturâ filii iræ, Epheſ. II. 1. 3. Col. II. 13. Non magis igitur corrupti arbitrii viribus ad bene agendum ſe erigere poſſunt, quàm mortuus ſeipſum ſuſcitare, aut non genitus ſe ipſum generare.

Resp. Reding: Nihilominus per gratiam Dei actualem vires liberi arbitrii ante regenerationem ad bene agendum tum in moralibus, tum in actibus fidei, ſpei ac pœnitentiæ diſpoſitivè erigi poſſunt. Ib. pag. 408. 409. Reſp. Erigi poſſe, aſſeris; at actu erigi non probas. Supra id omne non ſemel diſcuſſimus. Unum addo; Si quæ diſpoſitiones, ſeu potiùs actus præcedanei in homine convertendo, locum habent, illas in actibus externis & communibus, cujuſmodi ſunt audire Dei verbum, de Deo cogitare, peccata propria conſiderare, ad eorum ſenſum expaveſcere, & ab hoc metu liberationem optare; neutiquam in actibus fidei, ſpei & pœnitentiæ, qui vitæ ſpiritualis & præſentis, & ſe jam exercentis certiſſima τεκμήρια ſunt; conſiſtere. Neque diſpoſitiones ejuſmodi ſeu actus præcedanei vel à libero arbitrio ſine gratia oriuntur: vel diſpoſitiones formales ſunt, quia & ſine iis Deus ſæpe convertit, & cum iis homines ſæpiuſcule non convertuntur. Ita in curatione vulneris chirurgus militem curat exuendum lorica, veſte; tum etiam ligat. At iſta non eſt diſpoſitio formalis ad curationem vulneris, quia non ſic vulnus curatur, ſed vi emplaſtri id fit. quæ diſpoſitio formalis ad curationem eſt.

ARG. IV. Libertati, in qua creatus erat Adamus, per peccatum amiſſæ ſucceſſit triſtis illa ſervitus cogitandi & volendi malum, & quidem tantùm malum, donec à Deo ſanetur & liberetur, Rom. VI. 17. Hæc tu non diſtinguis.* Ib. pag. 414. Reſp. Tu verò multa ſine ratione diſtinguis, ſed longè plura confundis. Etenim 1. ſtatum peccati & gratiæ, mortis & vitæ manifeſtè confundis. Sic enim adjuvari à gratia tum in ſpiritualibus, tum in moralibus integris, ut voluntate jam liberata, non amplius ſerva gratiæ coopereris, pertinet ad ſtatum gratiæ & vitæ, non peccati & mortis. Quomodo enim à ſervo peccati, & eo, qui ceu mortuus in peccato legi ſubjici non poteſt, actus vitales, adjuvante etiam gratia, edi poſſunt? Et Scripturæ impotentiam hominis peccatoris adhuc clariſſimis verbis arguentes, eo ipſo gratiam ejuſmodi adjuvantem à peccatore removent. Si enim impotens eſt ad bonum à natura, utique gratia ejuſmodi deſtituitur. S. Paulus Rom. VIII 5. 6 7. carni, ſeu irregenito homini, tribuit ſuum φρόνημα, ſenſum, ſtudium, factionem: atque illud dicit eſſe ἔχθραν εἰς Θεὸν inimicitiam adverſus Deum. Eam ob cauſam legi Dei ſubjici & δύνασθαι non poſſe, aſtruit. Si gratiæ adjuvantis auxilio caro pollet, ejus ſenſus non amplius mera adverſus Deum inimicitia erit. Non urgebo emphaſin locorum plurium à me citatorum, quæ tu ſicco pede tranſiviſti. 2. An ſufficientia ejuſmodi gratiæ, ante converſionem (de hoc enim quæſtio eſt) homini irregenito ad volendum aliquid boni conferri poſſit, non quæritur: ſed, an actu conferatur? Hoc pernegamus. Tu probare, non prætoris more edicere debuiſti. Repugnant omnes textus à me citati. Ἡ χάρις ἱκανὴ gratia ſufficiens talis eſt, qualis S. Paulo 2. Cor. XII. 9. tributa eſt. non qualis irregenito tribuitur. 3. Si in irregenito eſt gratia ſufficiens dans poſſe, non ampliùs igitur is ad bonum ἀδύνατος impotens eſt, qualem Scriptura Rom. V. 6. VI. 19. reliquisque citatis textibus depingit. Deſinet eſſe mortuus in peccato, habens cor lapideum, ſeu ἀσύνετον & ἀσυνέτως inconſideratum, durum, refractarium, intractabile. quod Scriptura Eſaj. VIII. 19. XXVI. 4. Ezech. XI. 19. XXXVI. 26. ARG. VI. Doctrina ἀυτεξουσίου fœta eſt juxta atque nocentiſſima mater ſuperbiæ, & radix fructificans veneno & abſinthio, Deut. XXIX. 18. Dum enim homo in ſeipſo acquieſcit, tanquam ſi aliqua ex parte idoneus ſit ad bonum cogitandum, volendum, faciendum, ad Deum ut ſanatorem non poteſt recurrere & confugere, & Divinæ gratiæ efficaciam recipere. Sed ut velit & agat bene, à Deo convertente & voluntatem præparante habet. Quod S. Auguſtinus de grat. & lib. arbitr. cap. 16. verbis à te ipſo citatis, manifeſtè dicit: Certum eſt, inquiens, nos velle, cùm volumus. Sed ille facit, ut velimus, de quo dictum eſt, quòd præparetur voluntas à Domino. Certum eſt, nos facere, cùm facimus. Sed ille facit, ut faciamus, præbendo efficaciſſimas vires voluntati. 2. Actus fidei à Deo donatæ, & à voluntate receptæ, ab intellectu & voluntate deinceps procedit efficienter utique. Nam nec Deus in nobis fide donatis credit, nec nos credendo per Dei gratiam nihil agimus. Sed actio omnis converſionem & vocationem efficacem ſequitur. 3. In converſione ipſa fides donatur, ceu futura inſtrumentum apprehendens juſtitiam Chriſti, propter quam ſolam Deo placemus.

RESP. REDING: Cùm juſtitia Chriſti, quam formam juſtificantem faciis, ſit extra hominem, neceſſum eſt, dari aliud principium effectivum internum, ceu radicem liberi arbitrii, quod non aliud eſt, quàm adjutorium gratiæ actualis converſionem antecedens. lb. p. 415. Reſp. Et converſionem cum juſtificatione, ceu totum cum parte, confundis: & formam juſtificantem, juſtitiam Chriſti, quaſi ex ſenſu noſtro, fingis, cùm juxta nos illa non forma, ſed materia juſtificans ſit: & perperam juſtitiam Chriſti extra credentem collocas, cùm tamen illa ſic credenti imputetur, donetur, ut Chriſtum ipſum juſtitiam noſtram eſſe, Jerem. Et tu principium effectivum aliquod interius, ceu radicem libertatis, converſione ipſa prius ſtatuens, apertè Scripturæ contradicis, quæ tum liberos nos eſſe, cùm Filius nos liberaverit, Joh. VIII. 36. docet. An verò quenquam ſic Filius liberat, ut liberando non convertat, non juſtificet?

ARG. IX. Synodus negat, liberum Arbitrium poſt Adæ peccatum amiſſum & extinctum eſſe. Ergòne arbitrium voluntatis liberum eſſe vult, ut fuit ante lapſum? Sic Scripturæ & Auguſtino in os contradicit, & naturæ humanæ per peccatum Adami cladem ullam illatam eſſe, manifeſto Pelagianiſmo, inficiatur. An hoc vult, voluntatis eſſentialem conditionem remanſiſſe integram? Verùm quis unquam in dubium hoc vocavit?

RESP. REDING: 1. Siccine fateris, conditioni voluntatis eſſentiali annexam eſſe arbitrii libertatem? Quomodo ergo liberum arbitrium negas? 2. *Liberum arbitrium eſſentialiter importat facultatem operandi & non operandi. Secundum vero, ubi quando, modo & alia hujusmodi. Hæc ipsa dicuntur Substantiæ primæ, quatenus ipsarum accidentia, ut ajunt, in eas reducuntur, & ab eis prædicantur, ut Petrus est in Roma, Petrus pascitur, Petrus est vestitus, & cætera hujusmodi. Ratio autem, & fundamentum hujus prædicationis est, quia Substantia prima est subjectum, in quo sunt hæc accidentia, quæ sunt ejus prædicata. Et quidem Aristoteles hanc prædicationem vocat secundum quid, quia Substantia prima non prædicatur de accidentibus, quod esset dicere de eorum esse, seu de formali, per se: sic dicendo, Petrus est albedo, Petrus est vestitus, &c. Sed prædicatur de eis, quatenus ipsa sunt in ea, quæ prædicatur, quia sunt ejus subjectum. Et hæc prædicatio dicitur secundum quid, non tamen improbabilis. Vel potius hæc omnia secundum quid dicuntur, quia non sunt prædicata per se primo modo, sed per se secundo modo, ut supra explicatum est. Et quidem, Petrus habitare in Roma, & Petrus pascitur, & cætera similia non dicuntur prædicata per se primo modo: quia non dicunt Petri essentiam, sed ejus accidentia, quæ sunt in ipso. Dicuntur autem per se secundo modo, quia Petrus est subjectum, in quo sunt hæc accidentia, quæ prædicantur. Et hæc de primo membro.

Objectiones Tertiæ Quæst.

OBJECT. 1. Substantia prima non est subjectum, in quo sunt accidentia prima. Ergo non prædicatur de eis. Antec. patet, quia subjectum, in quo sunt accidentia, sunt illa, quæ in se recipiunt ea, ut ait Aristoteles. Ad Resp. 1. Dicitur non posse dari subjectum, quod non sustineat aliquid, quia de facto vel alicujus generis potest sustineat, vel non sustinere id. Sane agentia & patientia, quæ sunt accidentia prima, sunt in Substantia prima, quia non possunt per se existere: possunt tamen sustineri aliquid, quia habent esse. Et similiter non habent per se esse quantum ratione virtutis vitæ ad esse naturale, sed habent esse quantum ratione subjecti, in quo sunt. Et quamvis non dicant, ut rectum possit prædicari, ita Corpulentum, & Longum dicant, non possunt denominare dictum. Et ratione de potentia, quia non habent esse quantum ratione subjecti, in quo sunt, sed habent esse quantum ratione Dei, vel alterius. Quamvis ergo Substantia prima non sustineat ea fundaliter, illa tamen sustinet ipsa Substantia prima. Vel, quia Substantia prima sustinet ea, quia sustinet ea, quæ sustinent ea, quæ sustinentur ea, quæ sustinentur ea, quæ sustinentur.

Resp. Secundo: 1. adhuc patitur dubium, quia licet ipsa ex hoc ratione dicantur subjectum, quia sustinent ea, quæ sustinent ea, quæ sustinent ea, quæ

BRIDGE.—Bridge is a game for four players, played with two packs of cards. The cards are dealt one at a time, and the last card dealt is turned face up. The suit of this card is the trump suit for the hand. The player to the left of the dealer leads first. Each player must follow suit if he can; if he cannot, he may play any card. The trick is won by the highest card of the suit led, or by the highest trump if any trump is played. The winner of each trick leads to the next. Tricks are scored above the line for the side that wins them. Honors—the ace, king, queen, jack, and ten of the trump suit—are scored above the line for the side that holds them. Rubber is won by the side that first wins two games. Each game is scored by tricks and honors. Below the line are scored the tricks won in excess of six for each game won. A game is won by the side that first scores 30 points below the line. The effectus alius non fit, nisi ordine subordinato, sed secundum, quod ordo ille est ordo finalitatis ad finem ultimum. Et propter hoc oportet, quod ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, ordinetur ad ordinem finalem ultimum. Quare ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, ordinetur ad ordinem finalem ultimum.

Respon. Dicendum, quod ad hoc intentum non potest, quod dicitur. Quia ordo finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, non ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum, sed ordo finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum. Et ideo ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, non ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum, sed ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum. Ergo si ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, non ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum, sed ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum. Et ideo ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, non ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum, sed ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum. Et ideo ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, non ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum, sed ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum. Et ideo ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, non ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum, sed ordo subordinatus ordinis finalis ordinis ultimi, qui est ordo universi, ordinatur ad ordinem finalem ultimum.

ut hinc nobis non magis mirum videatur, si secundum Deum conformes Filio ad Patrem, ita & Patri ad Filium similes dicamur. Quod enim Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse Filius Dei Unigenitus Dominus noster Jesus Christus ostendit, dicens: Ego & Pater unum sumus. Quod ergo Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse ostendit, dicens: Qui videt me, videt & Patrem meum. Quod Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse ostendit, dicens: Pater in me manet, & ego in Patre. Quod Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse ostendit, dicens: Ego & Pater unum sumus. Quod Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse ostendit, dicens: Sicut me misit vivens Pater, & ego vivo propter Patrem. Quod Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse ostendit, dicens: Sicut Pater habet vitam in semetipso, sic dedit & Filio habere vitam in semetipso. Quod Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse ostendit, dicens: Omnia quæcunque Pater habet, mea sunt. Quod Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse ostendit, dicens: Omnia quæ habet Pater, mea sunt. Quod Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse ostendit, dicens: Omnia quæcunque audivi a Patre, nota feci vobis. Quod Filius Dei Patri similis est, ipse ostendit, dicens: Omnia quæcunque Pater habet, mea sunt. Alex. Hi verba de Dei cum proximi peccatoris dolente reparatione, quæ in Evangelio Lucæ capite decimo quinto continentur, ad Deum Patrem Filium proprie dissimilitudine referunt. Ego & Pater unum sumus. Dominus inquit Deus unus est nobis proximus, sed differunt. Nam Deus Pater & Filius unum sunt, quia Deus Pater & Filius unum sunt substantiæ. Deus namque, ex quo Deus est, Deus est. Ex Deo ergo Deus, Deus ex Deo, Deus ex Deo, Deus ex Deo ex propria. Atque ubi in primis formulæ pro hac habitus vim exponit? Nempe ubi ait, Quæ ex propria (scil. natura) non habent, ea ex aliena mutuantur. Hæc autem ratio est, quam Stoici sequuntur, ut ostendant, hominem ex duabus naturis constare. Nam ut ex propria habet, quod sit animal, ita ex aliena habet, quod sit homo. Quæ ratio, ut dixi, ab Epicteto non probatur. Nam si ex propria natura habemus, quod sumus animalia, ex aliena, quod homines, ergo ex propria habemus, quod sumus homines. Alexandrum Severum scribit ait non posse ullum imperatorem dici bonum, qui non sit Romanus. Quid ergo? Non fuit bonus imperator Trajanus, qui Hispanus fuit? Non Antoninus Pius, qui Nemausensis? QUÆSTIO V.

An opera omnia, quæ ante regenerationem fiunt, sint vera peccata, dic Deo mortalia?

Quin diu mortalium Canon VII. Non effugiunt peccatorum veniendas tabulæ.

ARG. I. Ante regenerationem Deum offendunt omnia nostra opera, ergo sunt peccata mortalia. Quæ igitur opera ante mortalia sunt, peccata sunt mortalia.

Rom. Baldvin. ante regenerationem omnia opera sunt peccata, Rom. 14. 23. Omne autem, quod non est ex fide, peccatum est. Et Augustinus: Omnia opera infidelium sunt peccata, quia non fiunt per fidem, quæ per dilectionem operatur. Et Bernardus: Quæ non fiunt per fidem, non fiunt per Deum, quæ non fiunt per Deum, non fiunt bene, quæ non fiunt bene, peccata sunt. Et Thomas: Omnia opera infidelium sunt peccata. Hinc Augustinus: Omnes vitæ illorum sunt damnandæ, ut illud unicum bene possint.

ARG. II. Qui agendo contra Deum facit, is Deum offendit. Sed omnia opera ante regenerationem fiunt contra Deum, Rom. 8. 7. Quia affectus carnis inimicitia est adversus Deum, Rom. 8. 6. Mens carnis mors, Rom. 8. 6. Et Augustinus: Infidelium opera peccata sunt. Et Bernardus: Quæ non fiunt per fidem, non fiunt per Deum, quæ non fiunt per Deum, non fiunt bene, quæ non fiunt bene, peccata sunt. Et Thomas: Omnia opera infidelium sunt peccata. Hinc Augustinus:

ARG. III. Qui agendo contra legem facit, is peccat. Sed omnia opera ante regenerationem fiunt contra legem, Rom. 8. 7. Quia affectus carnis non est subditus legi Dei, neque enim potest. Et Augustinus: Omnia opera infidelium sunt peccata. Et Bernardus: Quæ non fiunt per fidem, non fiunt per Deum, quæ non fiunt per Deum, non fiunt bene, quæ non fiunt bene, peccata sunt. Et Thomas: Omnia opera infidelium sunt peccata. Hinc Augustinus:

was die Gefallsucht Jesu Christi sey? Ich will es dir sagen. Sie ist eine Begierde, Jesu Christi Gefallen zu erlangen, und ihn zu bewegen, daß er seine Gnade und Barmherzigkeit uns mittheile. Es scheinet, daß sich jene die Gefallsucht Jesu Christi nicht recht vorstellen, welche sagen, daß sie nicht wissen, was sie Jesum Christum bitten sollen, weil sie nicht wissen, was ihm gefällig sey. Denn wenn sie wissen, daß sie Jesum Christum um seine Gefallsucht bitten sollen, so wissen sie ja, was sie bitten sollen. Wenn sie wissen, daß sie Jesum Christum um seine Gefallsucht bitten sollen, so wissen sie ja, daß sie ihn um seine Gnade und Barmherzigkeit bitten sollen. Denn was ist Jesu Christo gefälliger, als wenn wir ihn um seine Gnade und Barmherzigkeit bitten? Was ist Jesu Christo gefälliger, als wenn wir ihn um seine Gnade und Barmherzigkeit bitten, wenn wir ihn um seine Gefallsucht bitten? Was ist Jesu Christo gefälliger, als wenn wir ihn um seine Gefallsucht bitten,

ARG. VII. Ad operis honeſtatem & bonitatem requiritur cauſarum & circumſtantiarum omnium concurſus. Sunt autem cauſæ ejuſmodi & circumſtantiæ, rectum principium, puta mens & voluntas regenerata & habitu charitatis prædita, fides, conformatio cum divina lege, intentio recta, & alia ejuſmodi. Atqui cauſarum ille & circumſtantiarum concurſus in nullo irregenitorum opere locum habere poteſt, quia illorum actiones omnes oriuntur ex malo principio, & in pravum finem referuntur. Hoc argumento, ex Thoma Aquinate petito, in ipſo Concilio pro ſententia orthodoxa pugnavit Ambroſius Catharinus. Qui etiam conſenſum allegavit Auguſtini, Ambroſii, Proſperi, item Gregorii Ariminenſis & Cardinalis Roſſenſis, concludens graviter, ſatius eſſe, Patrum veſtigiis inſiſtere, quàm Scholaſticorum invicem pugnantium: & Scripturarum potiùs fundamento inniti, unde vera Theologia eſt petenda, quàm Philoſophorum argutiis, quibus Schola ſint referta.

RESP. REDING: 1. Argumentum ſtringit de ſupernaturali duntaxat actu moraliter bono. Aliàs quomodo gentes natura ea, quæ legis ſunt, facere potuerunt? 2. Nec Catharinus in Concilio ſententiam veſtram tutatus eſt, licet perfidus S. Polanus ita narret: nec Thomas de bonitate & honeſtate naturali loquitur. lb. pag. 432. 433. Reſp. 1. Imò de quolibet actu bono validiſſimè argumentum ſtringit. Nam bonum quodvis omnes cauſas requirit: malum unica cauſa conſtituit. Suntne, dic Reding, opera infidelium legaliter an Evangelicè bona? Si legaliter bona ſunt, oportet ex amore veri Dei fiant, & ad Dei gloriam unicè dirigantur, quia amor Dei legis Divinæ & naturalis compendium eſt. Si Evangelicè, ſine fide in Chriſtum, quæ Evangelii utramque paginam facit, bona eſſe nequeunt. Plura Diſſertatione peculiari de Honeſtate & Bonitate Morali à me alibi dicta, tibi quoque hic dicta puta. Cothurnum verò de gentibus natura, quæ legis ſunt, facientibus, tuum mitte tandem. 2. Qua verò ratione Suavis Polani, Catharini ſententiam in Concilio defenſam narrantis, fidem minuis? Nulla planè. Ne ipſe quidem Pallavicinus, oraculum tuum, contradicere potuit. Res aperta nimis eſt. Nam Thomæ Aquinatis non alia ſententia eſt, quàm ea, quam Catharinus, Suave teſte, in Concilio prodidit. Poſſem ex eo plura exſculpere. Pauca exſculpam, ex quibus id manifeſtè liquebit. Sic autem ille Prima ſecundæ q. 18. art. 4. ſcribit: Contingit actionem, quæ eſt bona, ſecundum ſpeciem ſuam, vel ſecundum circumſtantias ordinari ad malum finem, vel è converſo; non tamen eſt actio bona ſimpliciter, niſi omnes bonitates concurrant, quia quilibet ſingularis defectus cauſat malum: bonum autem cauſatur ex integra cauſa, ut Dionyſius dicit cap. 4. de Divinis nominibus. Paulò ſuperiùs art. 1. Omnis, inquit, actio in quantum aliquid habet de eſſe, in tantum habet de bonitate, in quantum verò deficit ei aliquid de plenitudine eſſendi, quæ debetur actioni humanæ, in tantum deficit à bonitate & ſic dicitur mala. Sicut, inquit, Dionyſius dicit, Bonum cauſatur ex integra cauſa, malum autem ex ſingularibus defectibus; & ideo ad hoc, quòd dicatur malum, id, in quod fertur voluntas, ſufficit, ſive quòd ſecundum ſuam naturam ſit malum, ſive quòd apprehendatur ut malum. q. 20. art. 2.

mercede, sed magnam mercedem habebit, quia non dignatus est offendere. Ad secundum quod de Superiore dicitur, non est simpliciter Superior Inferior, sed secundum aliquem respectum, scilicet secundum quod præest. Et ideo non sequitur, quod simpliciter sit major mercede præmiandus. Sed tamen videtur quod Superior, qui subditis præest, sit majoris meriti, quia ad majorem actum charitatis pertinet, ut aliquis se exponat periculo pro multis, quam pro uno tantum. Et ideo videtur, ſiti, & fide ac amore Dei imbuti, ceu efficientis; conformationis cum voluntate Dei revelata, ceu formæ; & intentionis gloriæ Dei, ceu finis. His deficientibus, ſubſtantia externi operis, ſeu actus externus, & officium nudum à lege præſcriptum menſuram boni operis neutiquam implet.

OBIECT. IV. Dona Dei non ſunt peccata. At virtutes irregenitorum quorumdam, veluti Ariſtidis juſtitia, continentia Pelemonis, &c. fuerunt dona Dei. Reſp. Dona Dei non ſunt peccata, videlicet per ſe, & quatenus abſque depravatione manent. At dona divinitus conceſſa irregenitis, ipſimet corrumpunt accedente infidelitatis & pravæ intentionis vitio.

EXCIP. REDING: Sic in homine infidelis nullum Dei donum habere locum poterit, quia nequit eſſe donum Dei, quod formaliter ſit peccatum. lb.pag.434. Reſp. Habere in homine infideli locum poteſt donum Dei, quod per ſe nec peccatum Dei, nec bonum opus hominis irregeniti eſt; ſed non legitimus doni Dei juxta normam legis & voluntatis Divinæ in verbo revelatæ uſus, quo deficiente donum Dei ad integritatem operis boni non pertingit.

OBIECT. V. Opera quædam irregenitorum Deus ampliſſima mercede in hac vita per modum juſtitiæ compenſat. Ita Ezech.XXX. Nebucadnezari in præmium expugnatæ Tyri promittitur Ægyptus. Et Auguſtinus de Civ. Dei Lib.V.15. Romanorum virtutibus ait imperium mundi loco præmii datum. Ergo irregenitorum quædam opera peccata non ſunt. Reſp. Merces terrena virtutem veram non arguit, quia non niſi rerum caducarum eſt, quas Deus tam reprobis quàm electis promiſcuè indulget. Eſtque hoc inſigne juſtitiæ Divinæ documentum, quòd DEUS non veras tantùm virtutes æternis præmiis, ſed etiam virtutum imagines temporalibus beneficiis remuneratur, ne etiam infideles de Dei juſtitia quod conquerantur, habeant.

EXCIP. REDING: Quomodo merces terrena per Dei juſtitiam attributa reſpondere poteſt peccato, vel ſpeciei virtutis? lb.pag.434. Reſp. Non peccato, ſed ei, quod ſua natura ob actus præcepti ſubſtantiam bonum eſt, & per accidens, ob defectum reliquarum cauſarum malum evadit, reſpondet. neque ei reſpondet ut μισθαποδοσία, retributio veri veræ virtutis præmii, quod non temporale & caducum, ſed permanens & æternum eſt; ſed ut teſtimonium fidelitatis, bonitatis & juſtitiæ, quicquid operibus humanis boni ineſt, largiter compenſantis.

QUÆSTIO VI.

ARG. V. Timor gehennæ à charitate & fide ſejunctus, contrarius eſt fiduciæ,& eſt quædam de gratia deſperatio. Hinc Jacobus cap.1. 6.7. fidei dubitationem opponit.

Resp. Rebino : 1. Timorem gehennæ à fiducia & fide non ſejungimus. Licet à charitate ſeparari poſſit. 2. Jacobus non de timore gehennæ, ſed de hæſitatione in fide agit. lb. p.436. Reſp. Amas ἀμφιβολογῶν. Etenim fidei vocabulo nudum aſſenſum, non aſſenſum fiducialem intelligis. Aliàs timor cum fide, hoc eſt, aſſenſu fiduciali conjunctus, non ſervilis, de quo diſputatur, ſed filialis eſt, conjunctum habens amorem Dei, ut Patris benigni. Ita filius, affectu filii præditus, non ſine amore timet. 2. Vim argumenti ex Jac.1.6.7. petiti negligis. Quia enim fidei dubitationem opponit, hinc timorem gehennæ cum vera fide & fiducia in Chriſto non conjunctum, vi oppoſitorum διάκρισιν dubitationem conjunctam habere, legitimè colligo. Ad hoc reſponde.

ARG. VI. Timor gehennæ naſcitur ex amore ſui, & commodi ac tranquillitatis propriæ, non ex amore Dei, ſuper omnia, toto pectore, omnibuſque viribus diligendi. Non poteſt autem non eſſe malum, quod ab amore Dei non dirigitur.

Resp. Rebino : 1. Quaſi verò omnis actus moralis, qui ex amore DEI ſuper omnia non naſcitur, peccatum ſit. Sic ſpes, temperantia, juſtitia, fides, peccata deputari deberent, quia non procedunt ex amore Dei ſuper omnia. 2. Spes quoque formaliter tendit in Deum, non uti ſuper omnia diligendus eſt ; ſed uti bonus eſt ipſi ſperanti. Pari ratione timor gehennæ. licet in eo per amorem proprium homo in ſe ipſo inordinatè non quieſcat. lb. pag. 436.437. Reſp.1. Prodis inſcitiam tuam. Utique ſpes, temperantia, aliæque virtutes morales ex amore Dei ſuper omnia naſcuntur. Neque proximi amor ſine Dei amore, verus amor, vera charitas, vera virtus eſſe poteſt. Amandus enim proximus eſt non propter ipſum, ſed propter Deum. Unde S. Paulus legis totius, quæ utique etiam ſpem, temperantiam, juſtitiam præcipit, finem eſſe charitatem aſſerit, 1.Tim.1.5. Et clariſſimè Rom. XIII.10. charitatem vocat πλήρωμα & vim implectionem legis. Et S. Auguſtinus paſſim virtutem Chriſtianam definit ſummum amorem Dei. uti fusè Janſenius in Auguſtino ſuo de Gratia Chriſti Salvatoris lib.V.3. demonſtrat. Plura etiam ea de re Differt. Sel. Tom.I. Diſſ.XIII. 7.8. à me dicta heic non repeto. Si virtutem moralem potiùs ex S. Scripturæ & Eccleſiæ doctorum, Auguſtini inprimis, puris fontibus, quàm impuris Ariſtotelis lacunis diſcere tibi adlubuiſſet, aliter longè ſentires. 2. Quidni verò etiam in ſpe ſit amor Dei ſuper omnia? Etenim ſpes in Deum fertur, ceu ſummum ſperantis bonum, uti ipſe tu definis. Atqui Deus ſit Bonum noſtrum ſummum, ſine amore ejusdem, apprehendi nequit. Diſpar planè ratio eſt timoris gehennæ, qui à fide & charitate ſejungitur, adeóque ex inordinato ſui ipſius, non ullo Dei amore naſcitur. Omnis enim ſui amor à Dei amore ſejunctus inordinatus, & fœda αὐθάδεια exiſtit.

ARG. VII. Neque etiam timor voluntatem peccandi excludere poteſt, tum quia qui nudo timore pœnæ peccatum fugit, invitus & animo repugnante id fugit, ideóque non tam peccatum quàm aliud quidpiam fugit : tum quia timor pœnæ non poteſt mutare voluntatem malam, ſed ſolus

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Timorem eſſe initium ſapientiæ, adeóque diſponere ad juſtificationem, docet Salomon Prov. I. 7. ubi timorem intelligi ſervilem agnoſcunt Patres. Reſp. 1. Timor intelligitur non ſervilis & pœnæ, ſed filialis ſalvificus, uti arguunt ejus attributa, quæ paſſim ei Scriptura vendicat. 2. Timor ille vocatur ראשית principium ſapientiæ, hoc eſt, caput, ſumma, non diſpoſitio ad juſtificationem. Oritur nempe ex juſtificatione, qua ad Deum cum timore & fiducia accedimus, ipſúmque tanquam Patrem noſtrum compellamus. 3. Quin ipſa Synodus initium & radicem juſtificationis eſſe docet fidem. Non igitur timor gehennæ. Equidem unius rei unica radix, unicum initium eſt.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Supra, timorem gehennæ diſponere ad juſtificationem, faſſus es. Nunc id de timore filiali, nedum ſervili, negas. 2. Quomodo timor idem eſt & principium ſeu caput juſtificationis, & tamen ex hac oritur? 3. Locum Prov. I. 7. de timore ſervili S. Patres interpretantur. 4. Unius rei plura eſſe principia poſſunt. Ib. pag. 437. 438. Reſp. 1. De timore pœnæ, habente ſuccedaneam fidem & charitatem, adeóque per ſe ſpectato, locutus ſum: non vel de timore filiali, quæ juſtificationem ſequitur, (filius enim Dei non juſtificatus per Chriſti meritum nemo eſt, nec de Deo tanquam Patre certus eſſe, niſi per fidem juſtificatus, poteſt) vel de ſervili, quam fides & charitas non ſequitur. 2. Ad timorem Dei, de quo Solomon loquitur, omnia erga Deum officia referuntur. Proin is eſt ראשית principium, hoc eſt, caput & ſumma ſapientiæ ſalutaris. An caput & ſumma ſapientiæ, cui tam illuſtres effectus Solomon tribuit, juſtificationem, quæ peccatorum remiſſione & juſtitiæ imputatione conſtat, præcedere poteſt? 3. Timor intelligitur non fugientis Deum, (qualis eſt timor omnis cum fiducia & amore Dei non connexus,) ſed humilitas Deum ſibi præferentis, & vigilantia circa Deum ut ſuum bonum, & trepidatio ad verbum ejus, Eſaj LXVI. 3. Opponitur ei ſtultitia, voce אויל ſignificata, quæ ab הוא derivata notat inceptatorem, qui ſubitò vult, & ſubitò non vult. cujuſmodi ſunt homines leves, cupiditatibus dediti, qui aura hujus ſeculi agitantur. Timor igitur is non quivis, ſed merè filialis eſt. quod etiam Cornelius agnoſcit. Neque Patres citati de timore gehennæ ſervili, cui fides & charitas non ſuccedat, ceu diſponente ad juſtificationem, ſomniarunt unquam; ſed timorem intelligunt, non juſtificationis, ſed ſanctificationis, quam illa & re & tempore præcedit. 4. Juſtificationis reſpectu hominis nonniſi unum principium Scriptura agnoſcit, aſſerens, revelari juſtitiam ex fide in fidem, & juſtificari nos fide, non ullo opere alio, Rom. I. 17. III. 28.

David Psalm.LXXVIII.35. Si erudiebat eos,quærebant eum ac revertebantur,&c. Ergo ad gratiam justificationis disponit. Resp.1. Timor pœnæ se consideratus potiùs Deum, tanquam iratum judicem & vindicem peccatorum, horret,uti liquet exemplo Adami,Genes. III.10. Sola legis pœnarum prædicatio, indéque ortus, timor per se non efficit,ut Deus quæratur ad salutem, sed timor,ille conjunctus cum fiducia gratiæ. Neque vel Israëlitarum, vel Ninevitarum,post inflictum timorem Dei quærentium, conversio fuit salutaris. Sanè de Israëlitis sequitur v. Blandiebantur ore suo;& linguâ suâ mentiebantur ei.

Luc.XI.5.* Ib pag.458. Resp.1. Timor cum gr tiæ fiducia conjunctus ingenuus & filialis,adeóque justificationis effectus,non servilis, stificatione anterior est. Qui enim timens confidit gratiæ, is Deum ita judicem tim ut tamen meminerit Patrem, conciliatum per Christum. 2. Quomodo timens pœn peccatum detestetur fugiátque,supra vidimus. Neque non potest non idem Deum, ejú que justitiam odio habere, vel minimùm avertari, quandiu fiduciam gratiæ non conc pit, & amare Deum, ceu placatum per Christum, non incipit; quia observantur perp tuò oculis horrenda supplicia, quæ peccatores manent. 3. Pœnitentiam Ninevitaru salutarem fuisse, qualis est verè fidelium,nondum agnoscere possùm. Sicut enim fœdu & testamentum Dei, ex quo solo remissio peccatorum & salus contingit, iis nec præd catum,nec cognitum fuit: ita etiam vera cordis fiducia se Deo, ut fideli ad servandus creatori,non commiserunt. Appellatur quidem à Christo Matth.XXII.41. μετάνοια re fipiscentia. Cæterùm satis constat, vocabula emphatica non semper in sua plenitudin & efficacia capi. Cessérunt Deo,dederunt gloriam,damnarunt se ipsos & humiliarunt, d clementia non desperarunt. Sed totum hoc in irregenitis nil est nisi opus malæ con scientiæ,nec dum quærentis,aut explorantis,quæ sit vera obedientia,quæ vera ratio sit ac cedendi ad Deum,eique gratias agendi cum glorificatione nominis ejus. Meliores igi tur fuerunt auditoribus Christi, hoc est, minùs mali. quia hi non æquè ac illi,ignoran tiam prætendere potuerunt. Crediderunt Deo, non uti justificanti peccatorem in Chri sto,sed ut revelanti judicium suum, ní resipiscerent, & testi in verbis suis infallibili; non desperantes de ejus clementia, & quovis modo ad eum, ad remissionem plagæ, confu gientes. Converterunt se quisque à via sua mala, à gravibus sceleribus, quibus hactenus Dei iram & judicia horrenda provocaverant, ex metu judicii à Jona intentati. Denique propter pœnitentiam illam Deum pœnituit mali, quod locutus erat se facturum ipsis, & non fecit, v.10. judicium gravissimum,temporale scil.cet. Etenim nec timoris Hebræus Codex meminit, & ſalutem factam diſertè negat. Vulgatus verò veſter Interpres in v. 17. rectè vocem מפניך à facie tua, reddit, nec timoris ullo apice meminit: at v. 18. negantia Hebræi Codicis verba, Salutes, non fecimus, ſecus ac Græca verſio, retinet his verbis: Salutes non fecimus in terra. Clariſſimum igitur eſt, Græcam interpretationem & Hebræo textui, & vulga-tæ verſioni contrariari; neque adeò ex Hebræo & Vulgato Codice, qui uterque nec timoris meminit, & ſalutem partam negat, quicquàm errori tuo præſidii affulgere.

OBIECT. IV. Ipſa timoris natura hoc docet. Ejus enim hæc indoles eſt, ut mala fugiat & ſimul remedia quærat, quibus illa effugere poſſit. Reſp. Timor pœnæ per ſe non tam remedium quæſtionis & fugæ peccati, quàm deſperationis mater eſt. Deſiderium autem gratiæ & fuga peccati tribuenda eſt fiduciæ, quæ ſola cor reddit quietum & pacatum, per quam clamamus, Abba Pater! quæque adeò timorem gehennæ pellit.

EXCIP. REDING: Qua fronte timorem gehennæ, ab ipſo Chriſto Matth. X. commendatum, deſperationis matrem vocas? Atqui eum Clemens Alex. fidei coadjutorem; Ambroſius clavum animæ fluctuantis; Gregorius M. authorem mentis, Tertullianus ſalutis fundamentum appellant. Et ejus natura eſt, ut ſis efficax fuga peccati, inclinantis voluntatem ad quærendum remedium, quo peccatum penitus extinguitur. Ib. pag. 439. Reſp. Timorem, de quo diſputamus, nec à Chriſto, nec à S. Patribus commendatum eſſe, ſupra oſtendimus. Neque Patrum illa elogia timori ſervili, verùm ingenuo & filiali competunt, ſanctificationique potiùs, quæ ab initiis quibusdam orta latiùs proficit; quàm juſtificationi aptantur. Denique timor ille ſervilis, fide ſalvifica & charitate deſtitutus, etſi docet fugere mala, & quærere adverſus illa remedia, tamen id facit μετάφρασις & ἀδιαφόρως: id eſt, generat vagum incertúmque affectum eluctandi ex malis ſive præſentibus, ſive imminentibus: ſed veram rationem, qua vitentur, id eſt, verum remedium nullum omnino docet. Cùm verò vagus ille timor agitat mentes non ſic illæ ad juſtificationem præparantur; ſed certum id potiùs ſignum perditionis eſt: quemadmodum in ægrotante, cùm nulla in expedito ſunt remedia, quò vehementiores ſunt ſenſus dolorum, quò intentiores clamores, hoc exitium certius eſt. Sic in marinis tempeſtatibus, qui jactati in alto, vident lacera vela, ſucciſum malum, remos fractos, clavum amotum, timent utique vehementer, & timorem clamoribus altiſſimis teſtantur. Sed timor, & clamores illi à periculo neutiquam eripiunt. Unde Johannes Baptiſta, hunc in Judæis timorem increpans, non tantùm dixit: Quis docuit vos fugere ab ira ventura? ſed addens exprobrationem nequitiæ, progeniem viperarum compellavit, Matth III 7. quaſi innuens, timorem hunc ſervilem per ſe nil niſi hypocritas facere. Qui igitur timor & mala vitat, & remedia quærit, ingenuus ac filialis, non ſervilis eſt: Deo & verum mali odium inſtillante, & verum remedium demonſtrante, & ad illud alliciente. quod ipſum tamen non in juſtificandis, ſed in juſtificatis obtinet.

QUÆSTIO VII.

An Christus pro omnibus & singulis hominibus sit mortuus?

AFfirmat Synodus Capitulo tertio. Nos Christum pro omnibus & singulis hominibus, hoc est, loco & vice omnium, mortuum esse, & se ipsum victimam obtulisse, disertè negamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Christum pro multis, non omnibus, pro electis tantùm & fidelibus mortuum esse, Scriptura passim arguit, veluti Genes. cap. III. 15. XVII. 7. XXII. 18. Esaj. LIII. 10. 11. 12. Matth. I. 21. XX. 28. XXVI. 28. Luc. I. 68. Joh. X. 11. XVII. 6. Rom. IX. 7. Ephes. V. 25. Hebr. II. 10. ut infinita alia loca omittam, quibus id ipsum asseritur vel apertè vel dianoëticè.

Resp. Regine: 1. In locis allegatis ex particulari affirmativa universalem negativam malè infers. Neque enim quia Christus mortuus est pro electis, fidelibus, semine Abrahami, populo & Ecclesia Dei, ovibus suis, &c. ideirco pro iis solis mortuus est. Profant enim loca in contrarium. 2. Aliter tamen Christus mortuus est pro electis, aliter pro reprobis. Pro illis, efficaciter, in quantum in mors ejus applicatur actu per fidem, charitatem & fruitionem patriæ. Pro his sufficienter, in quantum mors Christi iis applicatur secundum potentiam, quæ in actum nunquam reducitur. Tract. IV. pag. 439. 440. Resp. 1. Sic particularis affirmativa in locis à me citatis extat, ut nec universalis, nec particularis affirmativa de reliquis hominibus omnibus, uspiam alibi reperiatur. Loca in contrarium à te allegata inferiùs expendimus. Sed & loca allegata si non explicitè, saltem implicitè exclusivam, reproborum puta, includunt in descriptione eorum, de quibus agitur, quæ ad alios pertinere nequit. Licet enim v. g. promissio restringatur ad semen mulieris, non serpentis: benedictio promittatur semini Abrahæ, Mors Christi ad oves, populum, Ecclesiam Christi referatur, non addita particula exclusiva Solus; satis tamen ex natura rei ipsius colligitur, subintelligendam esse. Omnia enim eò tendunt, ut Dei & Christi erga electos, semen, oves, populum, Ecclesiam suam, pro quibus se tradidit, amorem explicent. Si enim nihil eximium & peculiare ibi dicitur, quæ ratio dici potest, cur immensus iste amor inimicitiam constituentis, benedicentis, promittentis, animam ponentis, sanguinem fundentis, & se tradentis Christi illis speciatim applicetur? 2. Neque sufficientiæ & applicationis meriti ficulnea distinctio tua nodum solvit. Licet enim meritum Christi, ceu infiniti valoris illud, sufficientissimum sit pro quibusvis; ex consilio tamen & intentione Dei Patris Filium mittentis, nec non Filii, mortem oppetentis, nonnisi ad electos pertinet. id quod ubique S. literæ testantur. Et ratio id ipsum evincit, quia Deus intentione sua excideret, si pro iis filium morti exposuisset, quibus illa nec actu applicatur, nec prodest quicquam. cùm Deus Filium mittens, & Filius moriens, non alium finem, quàm liberationem & salutem eorum, pro quibus obita est, propositam habere potuerit.

RESP. REDING: Mensura dilectionis est secundùm mensuram communicationis bonorum, quæ amans vult amato. Quia igitur pro reprobis Christus ita mortuus est, ut propter superabundantiam meritorum ejus possint justificari & glorificari, adeóque sufficientia salutis media habeant, utique maximo etiam eos amore complexus est. lb. p.441. Resp. Si verò amans amato non vult salutem ipsam, adeóque maximi amoris effectum: si ei promeruit, ut salvari possit, at applicare actu meritum non vult, (absque qua tamen applicatione est, non salvabitur ille, sed damnabitur æternùm) quis sanus dixerit hunc esse amorem simpliciter maximum, quo majorem nemo habet? Hoc expedi, & simul circa eandem personam ejusdem amorem maximum, & odium intensissimum; adeóque contrarios in summo gradu effectus concilia. Et sanè amor Christi animam ponentis pro reprobis ne quidem amor dici posset, quia non tantùm cum odio & peremptorio decreto reprobationis, æternóque omnium, quos tali amore complectitur, sed etiam cum negatione mediorum, quæ ipsos ab æterna ira Dei & exitio efficaciter liberatura Deus præscit, consistere potest.

ARG. IV. Pro quibus mortuus est, pro iisdem intercessit, seque sanctificavit, Joh. XVII. 9. 19. Atqui pro reprobis, pro mundo non intercessit Christus, sed pro iis, quos Deus Pater ipsi dedit, uti ibidem v. 9 declarat. Quin Psalm. XCVI. 23-30. manifesta est Christi oratio contra illos, pro quibus negat se orare. Si enim pro reprobis orâsset, exauditus non esset, quod pugnat cum assertione Christi Johan. IX. 13. XI. 42. Neque etiam pro reprobis se sanctificavit, quia aliâs ipsi quoque sanctificati essent per veritatem, Joh. XVII. 16. Hebr. VIII. 10. & X. 14. 16. quod est ἀσύστατον planè.

RESP. REDING: Non pro omnibus, pro quibus mortuus est Christus, & se ipsum sanctificavit; sed pro iis duntaxat, quibus non tantùm meriti sui sufficientiam, sed etiam efficaciam per actualem applicationem, contulit. qui soli electi, non reprobi sunt. lb. pag. 441. Resp. De iis Christus Joh. XVII 9 19. loquitur, qui ipsi dati sunt à Patre v. 6. 7. ut videlicet morte sua vicaria eos redimeret. Si igitur omnes & singuli ipsi dati sunt redimendi per mortem vicariam, pro omnibus etiam intercessit, pro omnibus se sanctificavit. quod Christus negat; utpote qui datis illis à Patre κόσμῳ mundum opponit. Et si pro reprobis etiam mortuus est Christus, quomodo se pro iis non sanctificavit? Quid enim aliud sanctificatio illa Christi est, quàm datio ejus in mortem ceu victimam & oblationem Deo factam? Quod enim Deo sic datur, sanctificatur, quia Deus sanctus est. Inprimis quia hoc egit ad sanctificandum Deum, non imputantem ipsorum peccata, & volentem sanctificare ac justificare eos, quos Christo dedit.

ARG. V. Christus moriens ex sua vel Patris intentione dici minimè potest mortuus pro iis, quos jam inferno damnatos, quos peccare in Spiritum sanctum, quos esse filios perditionis noverat. Hoc enim feciſſet nec piè, quia contra voluntatem DEI; neque sapienter, quia frustra. Atqui noverat satis, plurimos jam eo tempore sine spe veniæ inferno damnatos esse, Luc. XVI. 24. 25. 26. 2. Pet. ARG. VI. Non omnes & ſinguli populorum, tribuum & gentium, ſed ſelectæ ex iis & obſignatæ myriades dicuntur laviſſe ſtolas ſuas ac dealbâſſe in ſanguine Agni, Apoc.VII.4.14. Et profitentur ſalvati hoc ſuum privilegium Apoc.V.9. Mactatus es, & redemiſti nos Deo per ſanguinem tuum ex omni tribu & lingua & populo.

RESP. REDING: Agitur ibi de redemptis per ſanguinem Chriſti quoad efficaciam meriti. Pro aliis non valere redemptionem, non ſequitur. Ib. pag.442. Reſp. Mortem Chriſti reſpectu quorundam ſufficientem ex intentione Dei, at inefficacem, reſpectu aliorum & ſufficientem & efficacem ſupponis, non probas. Nulla ſine efficacia meriti ſufficientia eſſe poteſt, quia ſufficere ad ſalutem, quod efficaciam nullam habet, nequit. Neque alius eſſe redemptionis finis, quàm efficientia ſalutis poteſt, quia Chriſtus Salvator & Redemptor eſt propter ſalutem & remiſſionem peccatorum quoad eos, quorum Salvator & Redemptor eſt. Et quomodo non erit efficax mors Chriſti pro quovis obita, cùm à peccatore non aliud quàm mortem lex exigat? Ubi igitur peccator vel in ſe, vel in Sponſore à Deo approbato moritur, jam legi ſatisfecit, & mors efficaciam habet ad impetrandam remiſſionem peccatorum & vitam. Qui enim mortuus eſt, is à peccato juſtificatus eſt, Rom.VI.7. Ubi tuus, Mors, ſtimulus: ubi tua, Inferne victoria? Stimulus autem mortis eſt peccatum: & potentia peccati mors. Deo autem ſit gratia, danti nobis victoriam per Dominum noſtrum Jeſum Chriſtum, 1.Cor.XV.55--58. Præterea Morti Chriſti ubique tribuitur ἀπολύτρωσις Redemptio. quæ & ſine efficacia eſſe nequit, & ſolorum electorum eſt, uti ex Apoc.V.9.VII.4 14. comprobavimus. Denique in vanum fingitur ſufficientia meriti ſine fide. Quod enim ſufficit credenti ad juſtitiam, & ei ſufficit ad regenerationem; id ſufficeret omni, etiam hoſti, ſi crederet: non verò ſufficit ei, qui non credit, & non crediturus eſt, niſi ad condemnationem cumulatiorem, quod tantam gratiam, nempe propitiatorium Dei propoſitum, ſpreverit.

ARG. VII. Pro quibus Chriſtus mortuus eſt, iis beneficium mortis Chriſti promulgatum & patefactum eſt. Atqui Chriſtus plurimis gentibus ſub utroque Teſtamento ne fando quidem auditus eſt. Et quibus auditus eſt, ac innotuit crux Chriſti, illorum aliis eſt ſcandalum, aliis ſtultitia, paucis potentia, 1.Cor.I.23. Inane porrò κενοφώνητον eſt, dicere, Deum omnes vocâſſe in Noacho & aliis majoribus ſuis, vel per opera communis providentiæ. Ita enim mira confuſione idem erit benedictio & execratio, concluſio ſub inobedientiam & miſeratio; & omnino quid ſit benedictio illa, & quidem in ſemine inſtar benedictionis Abrahami, non apparebit.

RESP. REDING: 1. Pro quibus Chriſtus mortuus eſt, iis beneficium mortis promulgari poteſt, non tamen neceſſariò promulgatur, quia obſtare homo poteſt. Ita Thomas 9. de veris. 4. 11. ad 1. docet, ſi quis in ſilvis enutritus ductum rationis naturalis ſequatur in appetitu boni & fuga mali, certiſſimè tenendum eſſe, quòd ei Deus vel per internam inſpirationem revelaret ea, quæ ad credendum ſunt neceſſaria, vel aliquem prædicatorem ad eum dirigeret. 2. *Nihil obſtat, quò minùs in eodem ſubjecto reſpectu diverſorum effectuum benedictio & maledictio ſubſiſtat. rationem mediorum remotè sufficientium: maledictio respectu efficaciæ mediorum, & consecutionis finis. Ib. pag. 442. Resp. 1. Christi mortem, ceu medium remotè sufficiens, pro reprobis etiam obiri debuisse, ut culpa inobedientiæ iis imputari possit, innuebas supra. Neque enim sine medio tali sufficienti oblato inexcusabilem esse posse, pertendis. Quomodo igitur vel imputabitur iis culpa, vel inexcusabiles reddentur, si medium illud remotè sufficiens in notitiam eorum actu non pertigerit? Annon saltem notificatio & communicatio remedii ad ejusdem sufficientiam requiritur? Sed obstare posse hominem, dicis. Acceptationi potest, non notificationi, quæ respectu eorum, ad quos ex Dei intentione pertinet, planè necessaria est. Alioquin infidelitas prætextu non destitueretur. Quomodo enim credent, si non audiverint? Quomodo audient sine prædicante? Rom. X. 14. Præterea statuis, Christum pro reprobis mortuum esse sufficienter, in quantum iis applicatur secundum potentiam, non actu. Qualis verò applicatio meriti Christi, sine ejusdem promulgatione & notitia? Thomæ verò tui ratiocinationem spernimus, quia, ex hominum meritis vel demeritis prædicari, vel non prædicari posse Evangelium de Christo, supponit. Vocationem contra gentium per præconium Evangelii S. Paulus Rom. XI. 29–33. à sola Dei misericordia arcessit. 2. Amorem & odium, benedictionem & maledictionem in eodem bonorum genere, summóque etiam gradu, æquè ac lucem & tenebras conglutinare tu poteris. Et quæ tandem benedictio, quis amor erit, cujus nulla efficacia ad benedictum, ad amatum redundat?

ARG. VIII. Denique dogma illud absurda multa involvit, inprimis conditionatum decretum, consilia Dei imprudentia, inefficacia & eventu destituta, & liberi arbitrii idolum.

RESP. REDING: 1. Deum voluntate conditionata seu antecedente velle omnium, absoluta paucorum salutem, absurdum non est. Christi enim redemptio se extendit ad omnes, innuente S. Paulo Rom. V. 18. & Symbolo Nicæno, ubi asserit, Christum propter nos homines & propter nostram salutem descendisse è Cælo, adeóque carnem pro omnibus induisse. Voluntas igitur efficax medii illius, qua actualiter ordinati ad finem, cum absoluta & efficaci intentione finis: inefficax cum voluntate finis inefficace seu antecedente conjuncta est. 2. Quamvis porro antecedens hæc voluntas sit conditionalis & inefficax, est tamen respectu mediorum ad salutem salutem remotè sufficientium absoluta & efficax, effectúmque suum sortitur, in ordine ad bonum universi, quod in vario attributorum Divinorum splendore, quo gloria ac lux Divinæ Majestatis manifestatur, situm est. pag. 443. 444. Resp. 1. Christi redemptionem ad omnes & singulos pertinere, ζῆτημα nostrum est, quod tu imperitè petis. Neque vel S. Paulum, vel Nicænum Symbolum, faventem habes. Ille enim Rom. V. 18. docet, per unius hominis obedientiam δικαίωσιν ζωῆς justificationem vitæ ad homines omnes pervenire. Justificationem vitæ actualem intelligit, qua actu justificantur credentes: sicut per oppositum ei κατάκριμα, seu condemnationem, actualis intelligitur, cùm in Adamo totum genus humanum actu natura mortuum sit, quod per gratiam Christi restituitur quoad credentes. An igitur etiam reprobi actu justificati sunt? Et quomodo justificatio vitæ transire potest in reprobos, qui illam nunquam accipiunt? Certè justificationis transitus plus significat quàm justificationis possibilitatem ob sufficientiam meriti. Ergo εἰς πάντας ἀνθρώπους in omnes homines transire justificationem vitæ dixit Apostolus, hoc est, in omnes sine distinctione, sive Judæi, sive gentiles sint, qui sunt secundi

Sicut igitur Deus volens omnes ſalvare, etiam reprobos ſalvare vult, uti S. Auguſtinus lib. de Spiritu & lit. obſervat: ſic pari univerſalitate Chriſtus ſe dedit pro omnibus. Neque etiam, quia Hebr. mis in Adamo, adeóque ſingulis, explicas, turpiter certè aberras. Neque enim vel mortis in Adamo mentio eſt; vel mortis Chriſti & Adami primi idem planè objectum & ſubjectum eſſe poteſt, vel ex objecto mortis Chriſti colligendum fuerat, quinam mortui ſint in Adamo. inprimis cùm ipſe tu neges, Chriſtum efficaciter pro omnibus & ſingulis mortuum eſſe, cùm in Adamo omnes efficaciter mortui ſint. Et ſanè mens Apoſtoli non fuit demonſtrare ſingulorum in Adamo mortem, ſed illud potiùs, quo vinculo obſtringantur fideles ad ſuum officium, ſive ad juſtificationem, per imputationem mortis Chriſti; ſive ad ſanctificationem, per veteris hominis virtute crucis Chriſti crucifixionem. Potiùs igitur communio mortis Chriſti ſignificatur; quòd videlicet, dum Chriſtus mortuus eſt, fideles liberati ſint à ſtatu carnis, perinde ac ſi ipſi mortui eſſent. Quomodo ſæpe cum Chriſto mortui, crucifixi, ſepulti dicimur. Sunt igitur Apoſtolo πάντες omnes, non ſinguli homines, ſed hæredes ſalutis, ex quacunque gente ſint; univerſitas eorum, qui ad Chriſtum, ſecundum Adamum pertinent. Par ratio eſt loci 1 Tim. II. 4. 5. 6. ubi eadem, fateor, utrobique univerſalitas eſt. Deus vult omnes ſalvari, & Chriſtus ſe redemptionis pretium dedit pro omnibus, ſine diſtinctione Judæorum & gentium utrobique, non ſine exceptione ſingulorum. Voluntas certè ſervandi, propriè loquendo, nulla eſt niſi in Chriſto Sponſore, qua Pater cum filio in æterno conſilio de hæreditate danda, & ſemine vocando, non ſingulis hominibus, ſed quibusdam, pactus eſt. Neque etiam Apoſtolus ſpem exauditionis precum pro quibusvis à voluntate ſalvandi, & morte, reſpectu reproborum, inefficaci, poſſibilitatem vocationis, & ſalutis, non actum poſt ſe trahente arceſſere potuiſſet. Vel enim Deus dat aliquibus, quod precibus illis oratur, vel non dat. Si non dat, fruſtra oratur. Si dat, non jam dat ex voluntate & propenſione aliqua univerſali, ſed ex propoſito & gratia ſpeciali. Sed & Hebr. II. 9. 10. 11. omnes ii, pro quibus Chriſtus mortem guſtavit, ſtatim definiuntur οἱ πολλοὶ filii multi, & ἁγιαζόμενοι, qui ſanctificantur, nullo planè indicato ſufficientiæ & efficaciæ diſcrimine. Chriſtus exinaniri infra Angelos debuit, ut gratia Dei pro omnibus guſtaret mortem. Quæ ratio? Subjicitur illa ſtatim, quia decuit eum multos filios ad gloriam adducere: non quia decuit alios ſufficientia meriti exhibita ſibi relinquere, alios ad gloriam adducere. Accedit conſideratio ſcopi, quem ſibi Apoſtolus præfixum habuit. Scripſit enim ad Hebræos, gentili τῶν παλαίων dementatos, quaſi Meſſias ſuæ duntaxat gentis bono deſtinatus miſſúſque eſſet. Sic autem ille hoc ſyncategoremate πάντων omnium retundit typhum, ut oſtendat beneficii latitudinem, non ad Hebros duntaxat, ſed gentes etiam pertinentis. 2. Par omnino tua in conciliandis locis Rom. XI. 32. coll. cum 25. 30. 31. & 1 Cor. XV. 22. coll. cum 23. audacia eſt. Dicit S. Paulus, Deum omnes ſub inobedientiam incluſiſſe, ἵνα τὰς πάντας ἐλεήσῃ, ut omnium miſereatur. actu ſcilicet efficace, non aliorum inefficaciter, efficaciter aliorum. Nam ἐλεᾶν actum efficacem miſericordiæ notat. Et quomodo eoſdem ſub inobedientiam includit, (velut olim gentes, poſt Judæos) & ſimul omnium miſereatur? Etenim incluſio ſub inobedientiam eſt πώρωσις induratio, v. 25. Atqui σκληρύνειν indurare, & ἐλεᾶν miſereri, idem Apoſtolus cap IX. 18. ſic opponit, ut ſubjectis diſparet. Quos miſeratur, illos non ſimul indurat: & quos indurat, illos non ſimul miſeratur. Iccirco primò Judæorum, &, poſt eorum indurationem, gentium Deum miſertum eſſe, Apoſtolus manifeſtè docet: non ſimul & Judæorum & gentium. Id tamen docendum fuerat, ſi particula πάντας omnes, ad omnes & ſingulos extendi deberet. Par ratio eſt loci 1 Cor. XV. 22. ubi in Chriſto actu omnes vivificari dicuntur, non alii actu, alii potentia; alii efficaciter, inefficaciter alii: & iidem, qui vivificantur, nullo planè discrimine, statim v.23. οἱ ἐν Χριστῷ ii, qui Christi sunt, hoc est, qui ad Christum pertinent, definiuntur. 4. Denique Patrum loca à te citata nihil ad controversa, quæ hic ventilavi, testimonia faciunt. Et pro hominibus omnibus, pro omnibus, qui impii & peccatores, non justi sunt, pro toto mundo cùm Christum mortuum esse testantur, eadem phrasi, qua Scriptura utuntur. Explicatis Scripturæ phrasibus Patrum insimul sententia exponitur. Vos verò pro universalitate mortis Christi pugnantes, pridem cum Pelagianis & Semipelagianis collusisse, manifestum est. Etenim Prosper Epist. ad August. de reliquiis Pelagianæ hæreseos, Hæc, inquit, ipsorum (Pelagianorum) definitio & professio est, Pro universo humano genere mortuum esse Dominum, & neminem prorsus à Redemptione sanguinis ejus esse exceptum. Inter ea etiam Gallorum capitula, quæ in Augustino damnabilia se reperisse jactabant, hoc etiam erat, quòd non pro totius mundi redemptione Salvator sit crucifixus. Faustus lib. I. de lib. arb. cap. 4. ait, longè eos à pietatis tramite recedere, qui dicunt, Salvatorem non pro omnibus mortuum esse. Eodem pertinent anathemata Pseudo-Concilii Arelatensis, in Epistola Fausti, Semipelagianorum antesignani ad Lucidum, quod Semipelagianum fuisse, Sirmondus non diffitetur. His, Redingi, Patriarchis gaude.

OBIECT. II. Ii, pro quibus Christus mortuus est, in Scripturis veniunt nomine mundi, veluti Johan. I. 19. III. 16. 17. IV. 42. VI. 33. 51. 2. Cor. V. 19. 1. Johan. II. 2. Atqui mundus notat universitatem omnium & singulorum, qui in mundo sunt. Resp. Quoties Christus pro mundo mortuus dicitur, alluditur ad promissionem Abrahamo factam, quòd in semine ipsius, hoc est, Christi, benedictionem acceptura essent כל משפחות האדמה omnes familiæ terræ, Genes. XII. 4. XXVIII. 4. כל גוי ארץ Omnes gentes terræ, Genes. XXII. 18. Omnes gentes, omnes familiæ terræ & mundus æquipollent, teste Apostolo Rom. IV. 13. ubi Abrahamum per promissionem eam dicit factum esse κληρονόμον κόσμου, hæredem mundi, hoc est familiarum terræ, gentium, quarum pater factus dicitur. Porro promissio ea, quòd in Abrahamo benedictionem acceptura sint omnes gentes, significat, quòd Deus per fidem in Christum, tanquam sponsorem, gentes justificaturus sit, teste eodem Apostolo, Gal. III. 8. 16. Atqui id non de universitate hominum, qui sunt in mundo, sed de universitate seminis promissionis, ablata distinctione, accipiendum esse patet, tum quia non omnes & singuli per fidem justificantur & servantur: tum quia Paulus Rom. IV. vers. 16. omne semen adeóque omnes familias terræ in Abrahamo benedicendas explicat id, quod in Isaco vocatur. Clarissimum igitur est, quoties benedictio gentium, mundi hæreditas, mors pro omnibus, Deus gentium prædicatur, id ratione seminis promissionis, quod naturaliter est in mundo sine Deo, ad excludendam distinctionem, & indicandam magnam multitudinem suo tempore servandam, dici.

suralem Pelagiani fecerunt. Posterior, quòd asseris, semen illud in mundo esse naturaliter sine Deo. At omnia verbo, quod Deus est, creata sunt, Joh. I. 3. 2. S. Johannes 1. ep. II. 2. mundum opponit credentibus. 3. Augustinus quoque per mundum à Deo dilectum intelligit omnes homines, etiam impios & peccatores, asserens passim, tum pro omnibus iis mortuum esse Christum, quos in fine mundi judicabit: tum multos perituros, pro quibus Christus mortuus est: tum, Christum morientem etiam reproborum salutem sitivisse: tum denique Christi è cruce pendentis orationem omnes prorsus inimicos ejus, nullo excepto, complecti. 4. In semine Abrahami non discernis duplicem sortem, alteram eorum, quibus Christi passio applicatur cum efficacia: alteram eorum, qui vocati venerunt venire, potentiam tamen sive proximam, sive remotam habuerunt veniendi, & mortem Christi sibi applicandi. lb. p. 444—447. Resp. 1. In te ego quoque noto insaniendi nescio quod cacoëthes. Semen promissionis naturaliter esse in mundo sine Deo dixi. Tu infers: Ergo fidem justificantem à natura, non à gratia proficisci: Ergo naturam dari non creatam à Deo, statuis. Quis non miretur acumen tuum? De subjecto credente, non de actu fidei, per quem semen promissionis fit, locutus sum, atque illud naturaliter esse in mundo sine Deo, hoc est, à natura corrupta, quæ à mundo, & in mundo est, vera & salutari notitia & amore Dei destitui, innui. Non pudet te puerilium nugarum? 2. Non credentibus quibusvis, sed Israëlitis mundum, hoc est, gentes credentes, & fœderi Dei se associantes S. Johannes opponit. Vult ille erigere fideles contra conscientiam peccati argumento intercessionis & satisfactionis Christi. Frigida verò planè consolatio fuisset petita ex eo præsidio, quod electis & reprobis commune est, & cum salute individuum nexum nullum habet. Quis præterea dicet, Christum esse ἱλασμὸν expiationem pro peccatis iis, quæ non remittuntur? Neque etiam unquam τὸ כֹּפֶר lytron invenitur, quin רָצוֹן acceptatio subintelligatur. Quomodo etiam probatur, Christum esse μεσίτην seu intercessorem pro credentibus, si non aliter eorum peccata expiavit, quàm peccata eorum, qui pereunt? Quid hoc ad rem illam, ut sciamus, Christum intercedere pro peccatis, quæ à jam credentibus admissa fuerint? At hoc pondus eximium habet, quòd Christum scimus omnia peccata seminis Abrahami, atque ipsius Abrahami, & antecedentium fidelium, ab initio usque ad finem, ex quacunque gente ortum habeant, expiare. 3. Augustini loca à te citata prorsus ἀνεγκλήτως sunt. Nullo eorum asseritur, Christum pro mundo reprobo, seu iis, qui in mundo reprobi sunt, mortuum esse. Dilexisse Christum mundum, hoc est, impios & peccatores, seu, cùm tales adhuc essent, (Rom. V. 8.) non tales manentes: pro toto orbe judicando pretium dedisse: in cruce oasse pro inimicis, quos amicos futuros prævidit, Augustinus dixit. Atque hæc verissima sunt. At mundum, quem Deus dilexisse & Christus propitiasse dicitur, esse universitatem omnium hominum, reproborum etiam, tantum abest, ut dixerit Augustinus, ut potiùs contrarium manifestè asseruerit. Sic enim Tract. 5. in Epist. Joh. loquitur: Mundus est plenitudo terræ, sicut dixit ipse Johannes, non solùm autem nostrorum propitiatio peccatorum est, sed & totius mundi. Mundi dicit (NB.) omnium fidelium per orbem sparsorum. Et Tract. 87. in Joh. sic susiùs ille; ad verba Christi, si de mundo essetis, mundus, quod suum erat, diligeret, commentatur: Universæ utique hoc dicit Ecclesiæ, quam plerunque etiam ipsam mundi nomine appellat; sicut est illud: Deus erat in Christo, mundum reconcilians sibi. Itemque illud: Non venit filius hominis, ut judicet mundum, sed ut salvetur mundus per ipsum. Et in Epistola sua Johannes ait: Ipse propitiator est peccatorum nostrorum: non tantùm nostrorum, sed etiam totius mundi. Totus ergo mundus Ecclesia est, & totus mundus odit Ecclesiam.

Eccleſiam. Mundus igitur odit mundum, inimicus reconciliatum, damnatus ſalvatum, inquinatus mundatum. Hæc utique hoc quidem loco, quo argumentum de mundo tractamus, propiùs ad rem faciunt. De cæterò Janſenius veſter, in S. Auguſtini ſcriptis verſatiſſimus, de Gratia Chriſti S. lib. III. 20. negat, in ſcriptis Auguſtini ullum locum eſſe, ubi doceat, Chriſtum pro peccatis infidelium, in infidelitate ſua manentium, propitiationem eſſe, vel pro illis redemptionem ſe dediſſe: imò contrarium non ſemel ſignificaſſe, aſſerit. 4. In ſemine Abrahami, quod promiſſionis eſt, (de quo ego loquor) fruſtra tu mihi ſortem aliquam reproborum, quibus morte ſua potentiam credendi, & merita ſua ſibi applicandi, ſive proximam, ſive remotam Chriſtus impetraverit, fingis. Nam familiæ illæ, gentes terræ, quas mundum S. Paulus Rom. IV. 13. appellat, benedicendæ in Chriſto, quas ſemen promiſſionis Apoſtolus vocat, ſoli credentes ſunt, utpote qui ſoli in ſemine Abrahami, Chriſto, benedicuntur. Cùm igitur familiæ, gentes terræ benedicendæ ſint ille κόσμος mundus, cujus hæres Abrahamus fuit, & quem Deus dilexit, clarum eſt, mundum non omnes & ſingulos homines, certè non reprobos ſignificare. ἴδε ἴδιον ἄξιον.

OBIECT. III. Petrus 2. Epiſt. cap. II. 1. docet, à Chriſto emptos eſſe etiam illos, qui ſibi ipſis exitium accerſunt, τὸν ἀγοράσαντα αὐτοὺς δεσπότην Dominum, qui eos mercatus erat, abnegant. Ergo etiam infideles morte ſua redemit. Reſp. Etſi Chriſtus morte ſua, conſideratâ, ut impendium erat, etiam infideles mercatus eſt, hoc eſt beneficiis ex morte ſua etiam ad eos pullulantibus, qualia ſunt, quòd audiverunt Evangelium, à pernicioſiſſimis erroribus, inquinamentis, idololatria liberati ſunt, ut unâ cum fidelibus agnoſcant, ipſum eſſe verum Eccleſiæ Regem, ſibi tanquam domino eos obligavit: non tamen eos ſibi mercatus eſt merito ſuo tanquam victimâ, ut dici poſſit, eos ſanguine Chriſti, ut τιμῇ, in peculium & communionem populi peculiaris emptos vel redemptos eſſe. Hoc enim poſterius ſolis fidelibus applicat Paulus 1. Cor. VI. 20. Redempti eſtis pretio. Confer 1. Petr. I. 19. Apocal. V. 9. XIV. 3. 4. Nempe eorum beneficiorum ſunt participes non ex conſilio & propoſito ipſos ſanandi ſecundùm teſtamentum, ſed ex voluntate demonſtrandi longanimitatem, potentiámque ſuam, & divitias miſericordiæ in vaſa miſericordiæ, denique impotentiam & duritiem humani cordis.

EXCEP. REDING: 1. Quomodo ex conſilio & propoſito DEI reprobi non conſecuti ſunt beneficia, quæ illis tribuis, cùm tamen Deus velit omnes ſalvari? & Chriſtus redemptionis pretium ſe pro omnibus dederit? Ex à teſtamento Dei, & morte Chriſti, ceu pretio, S. Paulus beneficia hæc arceſſit. 2. Emptio illa Chriſti Domini unico pretio meritorum ſe offerentis tanquam victimam, nititur. Ib. pag. 447. 448. Reſp. 1. Quo ſenſu Deus velit omnes ſalvari, & Chriſtus ſe pretium redemptionis pro omnibus expoſuerit, ſupra vidimus. Certè voluntas Dei, ſeu propoſitum ſalvandi, & pretium redemptionis Chriſti depenſum longè alia poſt ſe beneficia trahit, quàm ea, quibus falſi illi in populo prophetæ & doctores potiebantur, quæ erant liberatio ab errore, idololatria & inquinamentis hujus mundi, dis per vocationem externam ad fidem,& ſegregationem ad opus miniſterii. ad quod empti quodammodo fuerant à Chriſto,ut Domino,qui eos acquiſiverat,& ſuos fecerat, vocando in domum ſuam. quomodo olim heri ſervos emebant,& ad miniſterium domeſticum mercabantur,quos ἀγοραστοὺς Græci vocant. Unde Chriſtus eos non tam ut Σωτὴρ Servator, & κύριος Dominus, (qualis habet hæreditatem ad σωτηρίαν, Tit. II. 14.) quàm ut δεσπότης herus mercatus dicitur. 2. Emptionem illam niti pretio meritorum Chriſti, ſe victimam offerentis, concedo. Ut enim Evangelium falſis illis doctoribus prædicari, & Chriſtus velut inter ipſos crucifixus iis proponi poſſet, Chriſtum ſine dubio mori oportuit. Quare & mors Chriſti illis,ceu beneficium,imputatur ad obligationem ſerviendi ipſi: licet non imputetur iis ceu victima pro illis Deo oblata, ad redemptionem ac juſtificationem. Et latiùs utique hic ἀγοράζειν emere accipiendum eſt, quàm alibi, veluti 1.Cor.VI 20. Apoc.XIV. 4 ubi ſignificat acquiſitionem Eccleſiæ in peculium,hæreditatem,proprietatem in qua Deus & Chriſtus glorificetur, quámque Chriſtus à Patre, vi teſtamenti, poſtulavit, Pſal.II.8. Joh.VI.39. Emtione id, quod emitur, fit ementis. Hi igitur facti ſunt emptione hac ſervi Chriſti, obligati ipſi ad ſerviendum. Pro quibus autem mortuus eſt, eos non eo duntaxat modo emit, ſed emit pretio & victima, fecitque ſuos, hæreditatem ſuam, quam Spiritu ſuo occuparet, & in perpetuum haberet, ut in iis admirabilis & glorioſus fiat. Ita non quia paterfamilias emit domum,ut in ea habitet,ſequitur, eum non etiam emere vaſa ad ignominiam. Neque eadem eſt emptio illorum,qui pro tempore ſunt in magna domo & illorum,quos Dominus pro ſuo theſauro, & deliciis, & corona capitis ſui habet. Denique ἀγόρασις emptio illa falſorum doctorum conjuncta fuit cum effectu. Quid enim eſt emptio ſine effectu? Si igitur Chriſtus morte ſua,ceu victima & pretio redemptionis,eos emit, ſequitur eos in ejus poteſtatem tranſiviſſe, ceu hæreditatem & proprietatem ejus, quálem ſine victima & pretio imputato nullam habet. Egregiam verò hæreditatem Chriſti reprobos,falſos doctores!

OBIECT. IV. Paulus docet Hebr.X.29. quoſdam ſanguine fœderis ſanctificatos eſſe, qui tamen eundem ſanguinem fœderis profanum ducant. Ergo etiam pro infidelibus ſe ſanctificavit,mortuus eſt. Reſp. 1. Paulus per ſanguinem fœderis ſanctificatum dicit non profanatorem illum,ſed Filium Dei, ad quem referenda ſunt verba, ἐν ᾧ ἡγιάσθη. Nempe per paſſiones Chriſtus,ut princeps & cauſa ſalutis, conſummatus, Hebr.II. 10. & ille קדוש Sanctus Iſraëlis demonſtratus eſt. 2. Poſſunt etiam profanatores illi dici ſanguine fœderis ſanctificati,quatenus illuminati,in cognitione Servatoris effugerunt inquinamenta mundi,adeóque Chriſtum ut δεσπότην ſuum nominârunt,ejúſque ſervi viſi nominatique ſunt.

Quæ enim verſiones,ſive veſtræ,ſive noſtræ etiam,verba illa Pauli,ἐν ᾧ ἡγιάσθη in quo ſanctificatus eſt reddiderunt,in quo ſanctificatus eſt is,qui Filium Dei conculcavit? Hoc tibi ex verſionibus probandum fuerat. Atqui omnes in verbo ἡγιάσθη ſanctificatus eſt,perſonam ſanctificatam in medio relinquunt. Poteſt autem illa perſona ſanctificata eſſe vel Filius conculcatus,vel homo conculcator. Ego Filium conculcatum intelligi, probavi. Tuum erat ſententiam tiam & argumenta mea convellere, non quæſtionem petere. Quidnî enim de Filio Dei id exponi poſſit, cùm & proximè ejus mentio facta ſit, & id cum fidei analogia congruat. Sed eſto, ad conculcatorem Filii referatur. Atqui & illum per ſanguinem fœderis ſanctificari poſſe, licet pro eo ſanguis effuſus non ſit, oſtendi. Cur non reſpondes?

OBIECT. V. Paulus Rom. XIV. 15. docet, pro eo, qui perdi poteſt, Chriſtum eſſe mortuum. Reſp. Oſtendit tantùm, quid faciant, quantum in ſe eſt, qui ſcandalum dant infirmo, non quid efficiant actu. Ita non poteſt effici, ut rurſus crucifigatur Chriſtus, etſi non deſint, qui id facere cenſentur juſto Dei judicio, Hebr. VI. 6.

EXCIP. REDING.: Quidnî ii, pro quibus Chriſtus mortuus eſt, per ſcandala aliorum perdi poſſint, cùm ipſe in agnoſcat, profanatores fœderis ſanguine Chriſti ſanctificatos licet, poſſe perdi? Ib. pag. 449. Reſp. At perdi poſſe, quomodo ex conatu offendentium probas? Hoc enim quæritur. Aliud ſanè eſt, perire aliquem actu & eventu, aliud occaſionaliter, & ratione perdentis, ſeu perdere conantis, qui occaſionem dat ſe perdendi, & per quem non ſtat, quò minùs aliquis pereat. Non rarò enim Scriptura utitur verbis, quæ effectum & actionem notant, ad deſignandam occaſionem vel motivum, quo res fieri poſſet. Ita adulterâſſe uxorem dicitur, qui eam aſpexit ad eam concupiſcendam, Matth. V. 28. Et qui verbo Evangelii credere non vult, Deum mendacem facere dicitur, 1. Joh. V. 10. Sic per cognitionem noſtram perire dicitur frater, quando per nos non ſtat, quò minùs pereat. Profanatorem verò fœderis, ſanguine Chriſti ſanctificatum eſſe, non probâſti. Neque pro eo Chriſtum mortuum eſſe, ſequitur, qui quovis modo ſanguine fœderis ſanctificatus eſt, puta vel κατ' ἀξίαν, vel comparatè, quoad externam ſegregationem ſive à ſynagoga, ſive gentilium ſacris & communione; adeóque externam fidei profeſſionem, qualemcunque internam illuminationem, guſtum perfunctorium & tranſeuntem. Ejuſmodi enim ſanctificatio à gratia Dei generali, non ſpeciali Chriſti, proficiſci poteſt. Et notum eſt, quæ ſit latitudo verborum tranſitivorum קדש in Piel, & התקדש in Hiphil, quibus apud Græcos verba ἁγιάζειν, ἁγίζειν, & ἁγιασμόζειν reſpondent.

OBIECT. VI. Quicunque in Chriſtum credere tenentur, pro iis is mortuus eſt. Sed omnes & ſinguli tenentur credere in Chriſtum. Ergo. Reſp. Omnes tenentur credere illam ἱκανότητα & ſufficientiam Dei, qua is poſſit fieri Deus peccatoris, per Chriſtum juſtificandi, ſi Deus in verbo ſuo medium illud proponat. Quæ obligatio eſt à lege. Omnes etiam, quibus Evangelium prædicatum eſt, tenentur credere, Chriſtum propoſitum eſſe placamentum ad demonſtrationem divinæ juſtitiæ, & apparuiſſe gratiam illam ſalutiferam, quæ jubet abnegare omnem impietatem, Tit. II. 11. 12. Quæ obligatio eſt ab Evangelio. At Chriſtum pro ſe mortuum eſſe, non tenetur credere is, qui vitioſis affectibus mancipatus eſt & indulget, ſed is demum, qui ſibimet ipſi & operibus ſuis renuntiat, coram Dei miſericordia proſternitur, & non aliunde, quàm ex Chriſti merito ſalutem expectat. Prior eſt fides de Chriſto, ad quam obligantur etiam infideles. Poſterior ſterior eſt fides in Chriſtum, quæ electorum eſt, & eſt ipſa conſolatio, fructus juſtitiæ, pertinens ad conſcientias contritas, & animas eſurientes ac ſitientes juſtitiæ.

Excip. Reding: 1. Fides illa, qua tenemur credere ſufficientiam illam Dei, an ex parte peccatoris reprobi ſupponit poſſibilitatem juſtificationis per Chriſtum obtinendæ, necne? Si negas, nulla in eo erit obligatio credendi, quòd apparuerit gratia illa ſalutifera. Si affirmas, poſſibilitas illa non ſubſiſtet niſi per Chriſtum & ejus meritum in morte conſummatam; adeóque is pro reprobis etiam mortuus fuerit. Et fides illa ſi ſupernaturalis eſt, nequit obtinere niſi per meritum Chriſti: ſi naturalis, non omnes fide Divina id credere tenentur. 2. Fides, ad quam omnes, quibus prædicatur Evangelium, tenentur, ſi juxta te abſque gratia Chriſti ſubſiſtere poteſt, Pelagianus es: ſin, pro quovis ita credente Chriſtus mortuus fuerit: 3. Qui affectibus vitioſis indulget, ſi abſtinere non poteſt, non peccat & ſpem ſalutis nullam habet: ſi poteſt, per gratiam Chriſti pro eodem morientis poteſt. 4. Qui ſibi & operibus ſuis renuntiat, priùs credere tenetur, Chriſtum pro ſe mortuum eſſe. Alias renuntiaret ſine fide. 5. Denique nec ſolí ii, qui ſe electos norunt ex Chriſti merito ſalutem expectare poſſunt. Alias cæteris omnibus deſperandum foret. Ib. pag. 448 449.

Reſp. Neque reſponſionis meæ nervum tangis, neque ſani quicquam loqueris. Etenim quæritur, an omnes & ſinguli teneantur credere, Chriſtum pro ſe eſſe mortuum? Ego fidem de Chriſto, communem etiam reprobis: & fidem in Chriſtum, propriam electis, & conſtantem omnibus fidei actibus ultimóque etiam & conſummante, quæ fiducia & conſolatio in Chriſti merito eſt, diſtinxi, negavíque adeò, ſingulorum eſſe ſimpliciter credere in Chriſtum, quoad omnes fidei in Chriſtum actus, adeóque etiam Chriſtum pro ſe eſſe mortuum. Hoc tibi oppugnandum fuerat. De cætero etiam nil ſani reſponſiones tuæ habent. Etenim 1. Fides, qua ſinguli tenentur credere, poſſe Deum peccatorem juſtificare, neutiquam ſupponit poſſibilitatem juſtificandi reprobos. Aliud enim eſt impius, aliud reprobus. Ille commutari in pium, adcóque juſtificari poteſt. Hic, obſtante decreto reprobationis, cujus exequendæ media ſunt retentio peccatorum, & negatio Mediatoris ac fidei, nequit. Conſilium enim Dei ſtat, nec mutari poteſt. Neque tamen propterea nulla in eo obligatio erit vel credendi Dei ſufficientiam ad juſtificandum peccatorem, vel manifeſtationem gratiæ ſalutiferæ, ſiquidem ea revelata fuerit. Utrumque enim etiam Diabolus, pro quo Chriſtus mortuus non eſt, credere tenetur. Naſcitur enim obligatio credendi & ſufficientiam Dei, & revelationem Divinam quamvis, ex lege naturali, cui etiam reprobi ſubſunt. Proin etiam fides ea naturalis eſt, quippe quæ ſertur in id, quod natura cuilibet ex lege Dei naturali notum eſſe debet, nempe, & Deum omniſufficientem eſſe, & ei quidvis revelanti propter ejusdem fidelitatem & veracitatem credendum eſſe. 2. Fides illa, ad quam etiam reprobi, quibus Evangelium prædicatur, tenentur, ſine gratia Dei iis equidem non obtingit. Requiritur enim ad eam φωτισμὸς illuminatio, & μετοχὴ Πνεύματος, participatio Spiritus quædam, Hebr. VI. 4. quæ ſine gratia Dei nulla eſt. Neque tamen ad eam beneficium ſpeciale redemptionis, & vicariæ mortis Chriſti requiritur, quia etiam ſine ea pro credente Evangelio in genere, obita Deus Spiritu ſuo illuminare, quos vult, poteſt. Et quomodo fidem hanc & illuminationem reproborum mors Chriſti pro iis oppetita efficiet, cùm tamen iis mortem Chriſti actu applicare, & in iisdem efficacem eſſe, ipſimet pernegetis? Alia igitur gratia & effica-ci, & actu applicanda opus erit. 3. Reprobi incurabiles licet, culpa tamen neutiquam vacant, quia affectibus vitiosis scientes, prudentes, volentes, gestientésque indulgent. Id si ad culpam non sufficit, quid ultra requiratur, ostende. Spem verò salutis iidem nullam habere possunt, quia nec fiduciam in merito Christi habent, nec lege Dei delectantur, nec Deum, ejúsque gloriam amant. Secus ne quidem reprobi forent. 4. In ipsa fide est renuntiatio illa, utpote qua sibi & operibus suis credentes diffidunt, se totos abnegant, in Christi meritum se totos conjiciunt, & in sola Dei gratia confidunt. 5. Denique soli equidem, qui in Christo per fidem vivunt, & se vivere ex ipso vitæ sensu, promissionúmque Divinarum certitudine, & Spiritus S. arrhabonis cœlestis testimonio, certi persuasíque sunt, salutem sperare possunt. Reliquis non desperandum, sed, quandiu spirant, ad gratiam Dei, fideíque vividæ sensum aspirandum est.

QUÆSTIO VIII.

An vera & propria causa, propter quam peccator in judicio Dei justificatur, & ab omni reatu absolvitur, sit justitia Christi credentibus donata & imputata, an potiùs infusus habitus gratiæ seu charitatis inhærentis?

POsterius asserit Concilium Capite VII. nec non Canone X. & XI. ex quibus clarè colligitur, juxta mentem Concilii causam illam, per & propter quam Deus nos absolvit à peccatis, non censeri justitiam Christi pro nobis in mortem traditi, sed justitiam illam Dei, quæ nobis infusa, interne justos constituit. Ne tamen Christi justitia & δικαίωμα videatur penitus hoc in negotio excludi, hoc ipsi tribuit Synodus, quòd meruerit, ut Deus nobis per Spiritum S. communicaret justitiam internam, à qua sola videlicet suspendatur jus illud petendi vitam. Quomodo alii Sophistæ docent, meritum Christi esse conditionem causæ formalis, hoc est, justitiæ inhærentis, ut ea donari homini possit: nec non causam extrinsecam & exemplarem, quia Christus tanquam causa externa & procatarctica mereatur infusionem justitiæ, per quam justificatur homo, & quia similis esse justitia nostra inhærens justitiæ Christi, per quam ipse inhærenter justus fuit, debeat. Hæc mens est Concilii. Nos verò in momentoso hoc articulo cum Patribus Concilii litem seriò contestamur, asserimúsque, solam Christi justitiam in ejus communione donatam esse illud δικαίωμα νόμυ, quo coram Deo justi censemur:

censemur: adeóque nec opera, seu infusum justitiæ habitum, justificare nec Christi justitiam causam duntaxat externam esse, propter quam habitus charitatis justificans nobis per Spiritum S. donetur & communicetur. Etenim

ARG. I. Scriptura asserit disertè, nos justificari gratis, gratiâ Dei per redemtionem factam in Christo Jesu, Rom. III. 24. Ubi gratia non aliud notat, quàm favorem, benevolentiam, & χρηστότητα Dei, non infusum charitatis habitum, tum quia justificari dicimur τῇ αὐτοῦ χάριτι, ipsius Dei gratiâ: tum quia δωρεὰν, excluso videlicet omni merito & dignitate, quæ sit in nobis: tum quia gratia opponitur operibus & gloriationi, Ephes. II. 8. tum denique quia in omnibus linguis gratia significat favorem & benevolentiam ejus, qui extra nos est. Si igitur ex gratia justificamur, non ex merito infusi habitus, Rom. XI. 6. Sunt nempe hæc opposita, adeóque pellentis naturæ.

Resp. Reding: 1. Justi efficimur per gratiam, favorem & voluntatem Dei efficacem, quæ efficit in justificato formam aliquam creatam, realiter datam, & in nobis receptam. de qua sermo est Joh I. 16. Rom. V. 17. Ephes. IV. 7. Et habet gratia justificans vim animam nostram vivificandi; quia spiritus in nobis vivit propter justificationem, Rom. VIII. 10. Non igitur gratia ea extrinsecus duntaxat favor est. 2. Neque nos justificari quenquam ex merito infusi habitus dicimus. Tract. I V. pag. 450. Resp. Nec mea argumenta solvis, nec solidi quicquam affers. Etenim 1. gratia sanè Dei, qua justificamur, efficax est. Quomodo alias ea justificaremur? Amor Dei non est inanis. Ideo non imputat, sed remittit peccata, imputat justitiam Christi, redemptionem præstat, vocat, regenerat ad fidem, ut simus in Christo, & in Christo justi simus; & porro sanctificat & glorificat. Non tamen inde sequitur: Ergo infundit id, quod sit propria & inhærens justitia nostra, qua coram tribunali Dei justificemur. Præstat Dei favor & benevolentia, quod vult, & quo modo, ordine ac tempore vult. Si propterea, quia voluntas, benevolentia Dei efficax est, gratia justificans non est favor Dei, sed qualitas homini inhærens; etiam misericordia, clementia, aliáque Dei attributa, qualitates inhærentes erunt, quia non sunt inania, sed efficiunt, quod alicui volunt. quod monstrosum planè consecutionis genus est. Neque etiam si alibi gratia significat inhærens donum, locis controversis idem significat. quia à particulari ad particulare argumentari non licet. Quanquam loca à te citata nihil causam tuam juvant. Etenim Joh. I. 16. χάριν ἀντὶ χάριτος gratia pro gratia notat πλήρωμα χάριτος plenitudinem gratiæ, puta sapientiam, justitiam, sanctificationem & redemptionem. qualis Christus à Deo nobis factus est, 1. Cor. I. 31. An ad plenitudinem istam gratiæ justitia & redemptio Christi nobis donata non pertinet? Sic Rom. V. 17. quid aliud est περισσεία τῆς χάριτος καὶ δωρεᾶς δικαιοσύνης abundantia gratiæ & doni justitiæ, quàm justitia Christi, totúsque Christus ex mera libertate, studio atque proposito perducendi ad finem vocationis, Summum bonum nostrum, nobis donatus? Unde gratiam à dono per gratiam Apostolus v. 15. distinguit. Denique Ephes. IV. 7. non de gratia justificante, sed donis singularibus Spiritus S. sermo est. quod forma loquendi, ἑνὶ ἑκάστῳ, unicuique nostrûm data est hæc gratia, arguit. In loco Rom. VIII. 10. planè cespitas, quia in eo non de justificatione, sed de spiritu in Cœlis, & consummatum ibi justitiam vivente, sermo est. Quanquam non diffitemur, gratia justificante nos vivificari, quia vita spiritualis ab eadem, ceu effectus proximus, emanat. 2. Si vis meritoria non est ab infuso habitu justitiæ, à quo opera pullulant, nullum in homine justificato meritum obtinebit.

ARG. II. Neque tantùm Dei gratiâ justificari dicimur, sed etiam nos sine operibus justificari, asserit Paulus Rom. III. 20. 28. Ubi conclusio Apostoli continetur, deducta ex irrefragabilibus principiis, de quibus tum in tota ad Romanos Epistola, tum alibi disputatur.

RESP. REDING: Loquitur Apostolus de operibus legis, vel viribus naturæ elicitis, vel etiam per gratiam factis, justificationem præcedentibus. An iccirco forma justificans est extrinsecus dumtaxat Dei favor? Atqui quilibet effectus formalis, qualis est, justificatum esse in subjecto, est per intrinsecam formæ alicujus communicationem. Ib. pag. 451. Resp. Imò omnia opera legis, sive ceremonialis, sive moralis, facta & naturæ, & gratiæ, sive ante, sive post infusum justitiæ habitum, viribus, Apostolus excludit, tum quia non distinguit: tum quia καύχησιν gloriationem v. 27. disertè excludit, quæ nisi remotis quibusvis operibus, excludi nequit: tum quia cap IV. ipsius Abrahami Patris credentium opera excluduntur. tum quia Christus frustra mortuus fuisset, si habitus aliquis, vel opera hominis qualiacunque demum reatum tollere, & vitam mereri possent: tum denique quia fides opponitur omni operi, qualecunque id sit, quod sit, vel putetur esse causa, vel concausa juris sperandi vitam æternam. siquidem fides justificat; & ei, qui non operatur, sed credit in eum, qui justificat impium, fides sua ad justitiam reputatur, Rom. IV. 5. Neque etiam nos dicimus, formam justificationis esse extrinsecum Dei favorem, utpote qui causa est ejus justitiæ donatæ, cujus donatio & imputatio vera & unica justificationis, ceu actionis judicialis Divinæ forma & essentia est, non inhærens homini justitiæ habitus. Firmissimè enim tenendum, non justificari hominem per habitum, seu justitiam habitualem; sed per δικαίωμα opus justum conformiter legi præstitum, seu justitiam actualem perfectam. quæ non est nisi Christi Redemptoris, qui solus יהוה justitia nostra, Jerem XXIII. 6. cluet.

ARG. III. Justificatio peccatoris est, quâ expiatur ejus peccatum, & exsolvuntur debita, quorum in Adamo reus factus est. Atqui hæc expiatio peccati & exsolutio debiti non fit pretio inhærentis justitia, quia peccatum non sequente justitia, sed justo Dei judicio & veracitat:, morte expiatur.

RESP. REDING: Damus justificationem peccatoris esse peccati expiationem per justum Dei judicium super meritis Christi fundatum. Sed illud ita efficax est, ut p[illegible]educat formam sanctificantem, sine qua expiatio peccati formaliter non fit; quia peccatum habituale tanquam formalis animi peccatricis macula, & odii Divini materia nisi per [illegible]ppositum habitum justitiæ, qua homo formaliter amicus & filius Dei fit; tolli nequit. Ib. [illegible]ag. 451. Resp. Distortè & distorta loqueris, nec ad argumentum meum respondes. [illegible]i justificatio in expiatione peccati consistit, quomodo id, quod expiatione posterius est, [illegible]uta habitus justitiæ ſtitiæ infuſus, ejus cauſa formalis, uti loqui amatis, eſſe poteſt? Hoc expedi. Juſtum Dei judicium, inquis, formam ſanctificantem producit. Ineptè. Forma ſanctificans nec juſtificationis forma eſt, cùm beneficia ſint planè diverſa; nec à judicio Dei, ſed à gratia Dei per Spiritum ſanctificantem producitur. Neque peccatum, odii Divini materies, oppoſito habitu juſtitiæ inhærentis tolli poteſt, tum quia ad ejus expiationem mors vel peccatoris, vel Sponſoris ejus requiritur: tum quia juſtitiæ habitus infuſus imperfectus eſt, & in ſanctificatione, non in juſtificatione. peccato ſeu veteri Adamo, poſt expiatum jam peccatum ſuccedit, non peccatum vel tollit & expellit, vel expiat. Ergo Chriſtus, ejúſque juſtitia per fidem donata, efficiens, ne peccata imputentur, amicos Dei reddit, peccata omnia quoad reatum in juſtificatione, & quoad maculam, in continuata ſanctificatione tollit.

ARG. IV. Juſtitia, propter quam in Dei judicio à reatu peccati abſolvimur, perfecta eſſe debet, perfectione tum graduum, tum partium, tum perſeverantiæ. Talem enim juſtitiam lex Divina perfecta requirit. Atqui juſtitiæ inhærentis habitus perfectus non eſt, tum quia quamdiu vivit homo, ſpiritus luctatur cum reliquiis carnis, Rom. VII. 20. 23. Gal. V. 17. tum quia quotidiana juſtorum peccata id ſatis arguunt: tum quia perfectio charitatis noſtræ non incipit ante mortem, qua peccati exuviæ deponuntur, Rom. VI. 6. VIII. 10. tum quia perfectionem charitatis ſanctiſſimi quique agnoſcunt, Job. IX. 2. 3. 20. Pſal. CXXX. 3. Eſaj. LXIV. 6. 1. Joh. I. 8. tum denique, quia etiam renato homini impoſſibilis eſt, uti mox probabimus, obſervantia legis.

Resp. Reding: 1. An juſtitia in extrinſeco DEI favore conſiſtens perfectior eſt juſtitia, quæ iſthunc DEI favorem cauſaliter, formam verò juſtificationis à favore DEI profectam formaliter importat? Atqui favor ille, defectus juſtitiæ, quos tu notas, in mortali hac vita non excludit. 2. Spiritus S. nobis in juſtificatione communicatur non formaliter, ſed efficienter, mediante aliquo dono creato, quod non aliud eſt, quàm forma juſtificans. Ib. pag 451. 452. Reſp. Omiſſis denuo argumentis meis, reſponſionum inops, fabulatis, credo, non ſeriò agis. Etenim 1. quis noſtrum dixit, juſtitiam conſiſtere in favore Dei? Et non potiùs, juſtitiam Chriſti nobis donatam eſſe à gratia, ſeu favore Dei? Juſtitia inhærens an favorem Dei cauſaliter importat, hoc eſt, cauſa eſt favoris Dei, qua juſtificatio nobis obtingit? Denique favor Dei non excludit equidem defectus inhærentis juſtitiæ in hac vita: excludit tamen defectus juſtitiæ Chriſti, quæ per fidem nobis imputata & donata, ſola juſtificat. Accipe verba Cardinalis tui Contareni tractatu de juſtificatione, edito Pariſiis A. 1572. cum approbatione Doctorum regentium Facultatis Theologicæ Pariſienſis, qui teſtimonio & ſyngrapha ſua teſtati ſunt, ſingula à ſe probari, & à veritate Chriſtiana nihil diſcrepare. Sic autem Cardinalis ille cauſam noſtram agit, tuam deſtruit: *Quoniam ad duplicem juſtitiam pervenimus per fidem, juſtitiam inhærentem nobis, & charitatem ac gratiam, qua efficimur conſortes Divinæ naturæ; & juſtitiam Chriſti nobis donatam & imputatam, quoniam inſerti ſumus Chriſto, & induimus Chriſtum, reſtat inquirere: utrnam debeamus niti, & exiſtimare, nos juſtificari coram Deo, id eſt, juſtos & ſanctos haberi? ſanctitate & gratia nobis inhærente. Hæc etenim noſtra juſtitia eſt inchoata & imperfecta, quæ tueri nos non poteſt, quin in multis offendamus, aſſidùò peccemus. Iccirco in conſpectu Dei non poſſumus ob hanc juſtitiam noſtram haberi juſti & boni, quemadmodum filios Dei deceret eſſe ſanctos & bonos. Sed Chriſti juſtitia nobis donata eſt vera & perfecta juſtitia, quæ omnino placet oculis Dei, in qua nihil eſt, quod Deum offendat, quod Deo non ſummopere placeat. Hac ergo ſola, certa & ſtabili nobis nitendum eſt, & ob eam ſolam credere nos juſtificari coram Deo, id eſt, juſtos haberi, & juſtos dici. Hoc nos ſentimus, hoc tu cœco & Phariſaico ſtudio oppugnas. Et plures Eccleſiæ veſtræ anteſignanos, vi veritatis ſubactos. Contareno & nobis conſentire, infra Reſp. ad arg. 7. palam facimus. 2. Quis noſtrùm Spiritum S. nobis communicari formaliter dixit? Et quid hæc tua πρὸς ἀλήθειαν ad rem, quid ad argumentum noſtrum?

ARG. V. Tum juſtificamur, cùm peccata nobis remittuntur, Rom. IV. 8. Idque etiam fatetur Synodus ajens, juſtificationem potiori ſui parte conſiſtere in remiſſione peccatorum. Qui autem juſtificatur remiſſis gratuitò peccatis, is non juſtificatur per inhærentem juſtitiam, quia juſtificare remittendo peccatum, & juſtificare exigendo propriam juſtitiam pugnant.

RESP. REDING: Juſtitiam propriam, ex donatione tamen Dei gratuita impreſſam, cum remiſſione peccatorum pugnare, falſum eſt. Ib. pag. 462. Reſp. Bellè iterum reſpondes Imò nihil reſpondes, ſed pro lubitu negas. Perſtat argumentum noſtrum. Qui juſtificatur per remiſſionem peccatorum, is per propriam juſtitiam non juſtificatur, quia remittere peccatum, & ad remiſſionem peccati ſimul exigere juſtitiam propriam, ſive donatam aliunde, ſive non, pugnat. Qui enim peccatum remittit, hoc eſt, peccatori reatum & pœnam condonat, is à peccatore ad remiſſionem peccati nec ſatisfactionem propriam, nec juſtitiam inhærentem exigere poteſt. Non illam, quia ſatisfactio donationi contrariatur. Non hanc, quia nec reatus, nec pœna peccati per juſtitiam propriam tolli poteſt. Vel enim juſtitia propria remiſſionem antecedit, vel ſequitur. Si antecedit, peccatum remittendum & condonandum nullum ſupereſt, quia ad juſtificationem juſtitia abſolutè perfecta requiritur. Si ſequitur, ſubſequente juſtitia peccatum præteritum remitti & expiari nequit. Remiſſio quippe & expiatio peccati pœnam, quam tranſgreſſori legislator comminatus eſt, non ſubſequentem juſtitiam poſtulat. Quid verò multis? Remiſſio peccatorum eſt actus ſolius Dei judicis, ob Chriſti ſatisfactionem peccatum non punientis, peccatorémque abſolventis: juſtitia propria, undecunque illa oritur, eſt habitus hominis. In formali igitur ratione ſua διὰ πολλῶν differunt.

Christi. 3. Nec ex 1.Cor.1.30. plus evincis. Sic enim Christus ibi factus dicitur nobis justitia, sicut alibi Deus fortitudo, illuminatio, salus, patientia, spes, gloria nostra dicitur; effectivè puta, non formaliter, quia est nostræ sapientiæ, justitiæ, sanctificationis causa tum physicè, tum moraliter effectiva & meritoria, imò & Finalizativa. Quis enim Christum esse sapientiam nostram formaliter dixerit? Ib pag.452.453. Resp. Rem magni oppido momenti nimis profectò levi brachio, & sultoriè nimis tractas. Cur enim 1. loca Esaj. XLV. 24.25. Jerem. XXIII. 6. nihil ad rem faciunt? Etenim Esaj XLV.24. Deus Pater de Christo dicit: אך ביהוה צדקות ועז Tantùm in Jehova justitia & robur. Et v.25. ביהוה יצדקו In Jehova justificabuntur. Per Christum igitur & justitiam ejus donatam, non per habitum inhærentem justificamur. Et Jerem.XXIII.6. hoc nomen ejus (Germinis, Christi) quò quisque eum vocabit, dicitur: יהוה צדקנו Jehova justitia nostra, ita videlicet, ut quisque in Christum credens abneget justitiam propriam, hoc est, jus, quod habeat homo in factis, seu operibus suis, ut accedat ad Deum, & ab eo vitam petat: & justitiam, quæ causa est juris petendi vitam, in solo Jehova, germine illo justo, collocet. 2. Rom.IV.3.4.5. fides, quæ Abrahamo & credenti omni ad justitiam imputatur, non est propriè actus credentis, seu fides operibus gravida, & per charitatem formata, (uti tu absque omni Scriptura, & ad evertendam Dei justitiam explicas) sed metonymicè id, quod fides apprehendit & accipit, ceu objectum fidei: quod S.Paulus Phil.III.9. vocat δικαιοσύνην τὴν ἐκ πίστεως, justitiam fidei, quæ est ex fide, in qua solus vult inveniri. Nempe fides, quæ ad justitiam imputatur, sive quam habenti Deus juxta legem suam vitam æternam adjudicat, inprimis credit Deo, ut teste; dein credit, Deum justificare, & quidem peccatorem, adeóque sine respectu operis & justitiæ ejus; denique in eum credit, adeóque se ei, juxta promissionem & vocationem ejus, committit ad justificationem, eique confidit. Manifestum igitur est, id imputari ad justitiam, quod credenti offertur, promittitur. Sicut si quis assensu dicatur factus Rex vel Imperator, ei Regnum vel imperium oblatum fuerit oportet. Si ergo id ad justitiam imputatur, quod fides assensu & fiducia accipit, ut per id justificetur, non utique vel fides propriè ad justitiam imputatur; vel habitum justitiæ inhærentis primariò fides accipit, sed Christum, ejúsque meritum, obedientiam & justitiam, remissionem peccatorum, in Evangelio oblatam. Hinc v.6 7. Deus justitiam imputare dicitur absque operibus tum, quando peccata remittuntur. Fides autem ipsa absolutè considerata, neque est justitia sine opere, neque remissio peccatorum. Necessum est igitur fidem imputatam relativè involvere suum objectum, id est, Christum ejúsque justitiam fide apprehensam. Res tota in exemplo Abrahami manifesta est. Dixit enim ad eum Deus: Noli timere: Ego clypeus tuus & merces tua magna valde, Genes XV.1. Non aliud, promissione hac facta credere Abrahamus potuit, quàm Deum sibi clypeum esse, & sibi mercedem magnam præparasse. Hæc fides ei imputata est ad justitiam, v.6. hoc est, id credendo justus fuit. Jus enim habuit à Deo, seu clypeo suo, petendi defensionem adversus omnem accusationem & vim, adeóque etiam maximam hæreditatem, fidei suæ fructum. 3. In loco 1 Cor.I.30. Christus dicitur nobis factus δικαιοσύνη justitia. Non igitur nobis nos ipsi justitia facti sumus. Aliàs gloriatio in nobis non excluderetur, nec in solo Domino gloriandum nobis foret. quod v.31. Apostolus præcipit. Tu Christum nobis justitiam factum concedis, sed effectivè, non formaliter, quia sit justitiæ causa tum physicè, tum moraliter effectiva & meritoria, imò & Finalizativa. Quis verò nostrùm Christi justitiam formaliter nostram esse dixit?

Neque potuit Chriſtus dici factus noſtra juſtitia, ratione obedientiæ & δικαιώματος, quin ipſius juſtitia noſtra ſit juſtitia: neque ejus juſtitia noſtra eſſe niſi per imputationem poteſt. Id quod Bellarminus ipſe, vi veritatis ſibi contradicere coactus, lib. II. de juſtif. cap. 10. agnoſcit his verbis: Dicitur Chriſtus juſtitia noſtra, quoniam ſatisfecit Patri pro nobis, & eam ſatisfactionem ita nobis donat & communicat, cùm nos juſtificat, ut noſtra ſatisfactio & juſtitia dici poſſit. Hoc modo non eſſet abſurdum, ſi quis diceret, nobis imputari Chriſti juſtitiam & merita, cùm nobis donentur ac applicentur, ac ſi nos ipſi Deo ſatisfeciſſemus. Quibus verbis totam, de qua diſputamus, cauſam ille nobis cedit. Neque aliud quid poſtulamus. Magnus interim ſtupor eſt, imputationem juſtitiæ Chriſti agnoſcere, & pertinaciter negare, nos imputata ea juſtitia juſtos eſſe, ſeu juſtificari. Si enim juſtitia Chriſti eſt ſatisfactoria, ſi nobis applicatur & donatur, ut noſtra ſatisfactio & juſtitia dici poſſit, cur per eam non ſumus juſti, non juſtificamur? Termino formaliter, quem noſtrum non facimus, hærere, ſophiſticum nimis eſt. hoc inprimis in argumento, ubi cauſa formalis à meritoria diſtingui non poteſt, quia in juſtificatione cauſa formalis nihil aliud eſt, quàm illius, cujus intuitu & merito Deus à damnatione nos liberat, & æternam vitam adjudicat donatio. quam ipſam Chriſtus, etiam quâ meritoria cauſa, præſtat. omne, peccatum hoc tollendo, quia in nobis per ignorantiam fuerat, virtute, in nostrum regno.

ARG. VII. Pardon etiam fibi confert Synodus, quæ juftificationis dare gratia potest, nonnisi omni peccatorum & reorum tollatur memoria. Hæc autem cum eadem fint diffinitionis formula illi remissionis peccatorum adscripta, quam Concilium Tridentinum fupra laud. paffim, manifeste concurrunt, Patres Tridentinos per remissionem peccatorum non intellexisse rem imputationem peccati jam admissi, feu abolitionem reatus peccati, fed tollionem ipsorum actuum, qua peccata nascuntur & peccata dicuntur. Ita namque concilio peccatorum remissio formula conformiter cum quæstionis præsentis & fanctificationis definitione habetur.

Sess. Synod. Ipsorum vero remissionem, quæ non aliter fit, nisi omnium peccatorum, quæ ad mortem usque commissa fuerint, memoria deleatur, ita sentiendum docet, ut ex omnibus peccatorum non peccatis per mortem effectis mentionem, imo commissionem per facta formalia per mortem Christi tollendam esse, ut ex sequentibus patebit. Quæ sententia Patrum Tridentinorum mentem ita explicat, ut per remissionem peccatorum non aliud intellexerint, quam actuum peccatorum tollionem, a nemo peccatis tangitur, peccatum vocatur, & peccata nascuntur. Quæ omnia ex eadem sententia Patrum Tridentinorum, qui abolitionem peccatorum quoad reatum diffinierunt, reatum abolendum eft, quod peccatum dicitur, & peccata nascitur. Sed, ubi reatus abolitus, ibi peccatum abolitum, ibi peccata non nascuntur. Ergo, ub fusione gratiæ justificantis. Hæc ille rectissimè. Et posse remissionem peccati ab infusione justitiæ sua natura separari, satis docet experientia communis hominum, qui remittunt debita & injurias illis, quibus neque divitias, neque justitiam infundunt. Atque fatetur id ipse Bellarminus cap.16. his verbis : Reatus pœnæ possit quidem tolli sine infusione justitiæ. Nihil enim impedire videtur, quòminùs possit Deus velle non ordinare ad pœnam, & condonare offensam, & non habere pro inimico illum, cui donum habitualis justitiæ non concesserit. Id igitur cum animadverterint Scholastici paulò emunctiorum narium, eò devenerunt, ut remissionem peccatorum planè peregrino sensu dicerent nihil aliud in re esse, quàm infusionem justitiæ. Ita Andradius à me citatus, nec non Vasquez 1.2. p 2. *disp.*404. *cap.*3. ubi eandem sententiam aliis quibusdam Romanensibus tribuit. Quibus calculum suum Redingius noster addit. Alii verò discordes planè, remissionem peccatorum esse aliquid re ipsa distinctum ab infusione gratiæ, contendunt. uti Bellarminus de justificat. lib.II. 2. addens etiam, propterea Concilium Tridentinum in eodem loco separatim utriusque meminisse, non quidem, ut significaret, duplicem esse causam formalem justificationis, sed ut indicaret, duos esse terminos ejus motus, qui dicitur justificatio, sive duos effectus ejusdem causæ. Quæ glossa quàm sit consentanea verbis Concilii, judicet æquus lector. Si enim renovatio nostri per Spiritum S. est unica formalis causa justificationis, quemadmodum Concilium disertissimè loquitur, quomodo justificatio nostra, formaliter & essentialiter proculdubio, ab eodem Concilio dicitur esse non solùm peccatorum remissio, sed etiam renovatio interior hominis? Atque etiam à Bellarmino aliisque remissio peccatorum docetur esse renovationis nostræ, quæ causa formalis justificationis sit, effectus? In eandem cum Bellarmino sententiam disputat Suarez *de grat. Div. Lib. VII. de sanctificat. hom. cap.*11. *n.*24. ubi, Concedo, inquit, intervenire in justificatione impii duos effectus gratiæ quasi partiales, unum positivum, & alium privativum, seu exclusivum peccati &c. Et num.25 Neque hinc sequitur, dari plures causas formales justificationis, quia formalis causa non est nisi positiva forma. Privatio enim formæ contrariæ potiùs est effectus secundarius ejusdem causæ formalis. Quòd si quis de nomine contendat, vocando privationem frigoris formam constituentem lignum in non esse frigidum; eodem modo loqui potest de carentia peccati; & tunc respondebit facilè, Concilium fuisse locutum de forma positiva, & de illa dixisse, esse unicum. Hæc afferre volui, ut appareat, in quas angustias & contradictiones, non circa Scholasticam subtilitatem, sed circa ipsius justificationis dogmatis gravissimi, essentiam, ambigua Concilii determinatio Scholæ Pontificiæ antesignanos conjecerit. Unum addo, Redingium cum Andradio remissionem peccatorum cum renovatione interiore, præter & contra tum Scripturam, tum rationem, tum ipsius etiam Concilii Tridentini mentem, turpiter confundentem, communi insuper utriusque contradicentium partis errore abripi, quasi scilicet remissio peccatorum ipsa deletio & abolitio peccatorum esset, & mutationem virtualem, non subjectivam quidem, sed effectivam notaret. quod ipsum Fr. Sylvium refellentem supra vidimus. Etenim remissionem peccatorum in non imputatione eorundem, & contraria justitiæ imputatione consistere, clarissimè Scripturæ Psal.XXXII 1 2. Rom.IV.6--9. docent, ubi unam eandémque rem diversis phrasibus idem significantibus, nempe remissionis peccatorum, tectionis peccatorum, & non imputationis peccatorum, explicant. Nulla harum peccati, quoad maculam, deletionem notat. imò peccati existentiam supponunt omnes. Remissio enim peccatorum tum quoad nomen communis est, ei, quam nos à Deo obtinemus, & ei, quam alii aliis concedimus, Matth VI.14.15 XVIII.35. (homines autem alii aliis peccata remittunt, non illa auferendo, ſed non imputando) tum à Chriſto Matth. VI. 12. declaratur ſimilitudine debitorum inter homines contractorum. Debita autem remitti conſtat non aliquid operando in debitore; ſed non imputando ei æs noſtrum, ut ne luat quod debuit. Par ratio eſt phraſeos ἐπικαλύπτειν ἁμαρτίας tegere peccata. Nemo enim tegit id, quod delet, & non eſt ampliùs, ſed quod eſt: Deus autem peccata tegit metaphoricè, eo modo, quo & peccatorum oblivi ſci dicitur, quia ſic vindictam ſuam cohibet, & fidelibus ac reſipiſcentibus parcit, ac ſi peccatorum præteritorum oblivio eum cepiſſet, & peccatum præſens nullum videret. Denique diſertiſſima phraſis eſt, μὴ λογίζεσθαι ἁμαρτίαν non imputare peccatum. quæ remiſſioni æquipollet. Quæ ita delentur, ut non inſint ampliùs, ea non imputari nemo dixerit. Sicut quæ imputantur, non inſunt. Chriſto enim peccata noſtra imputata nunquam inſuerunt. Taceo, nullam fore peccatorum hac in vita remiſſionem, ſi remiſſio eſt deletio, adeóque nonniſi peccatorum non hærentium. Nemo enim Mortalium eſt, cui peccata non hæreant, tum quia omnes concupiſcentiam, veri nominis peccatum, habent ſibi hærentem, tum quia ſi dixerimus, nos peccatum non habere, & nobis, & Deo imponimus, 1. Joh. I. 8. tum denique, quia S. Paulus, cui certè peccata remiſſa fuerunt, prolixè & manifeſtè docet, in ſe regenito & juſtificato etiam peccatum habitaſſe. Rom. VII 4. f.

ARG. VIII. Sed & hoc planè eſt ἀσύστατον, quòd cauſam meritoriam juſtificationis, ab ejusdem cauſa formali Synodus diſtinxit, ne videlicet videatur meritum Chriſti de ponte dejicere. Etenim ſi Chriſtus nos expiat à peccatis, non juſtitiæ noſtræ habitus id facit. Nec poteſt meritum juſtitiæ Chriſti efficere, ut opera noſtra vim habeant δικαιώματος & ἱλασμοῦ, quam ſuâ naturâ non habent. Primus Bonaventura in 3. ſenten. Diſtinct. 19. quæſt. 1. ita diſtinxit. Neque defuerunt in ipſo Concilio Theologi, qui ſtatuerunt, gratiæ habitualis Patres diſertis verbis haud meminiſſe, ac multò minùs Scripturam, apud S. Polanum lib. II. p. 175. Cúmque Soto contenderet, in locis Pauli, in quibus occurrit verbum juſtificationis, ſemper illud intelligendum eſſe de juſtificatione effectiva: Marinarus ei oppoſuit, Paulum hoc verbo uſum eſſe in ſenſu declarativo potiùs, quàm effectivo, ea ratione, quòd manifeſta verba textus id evincant, in quibus lis judicialis inſtituatur, ut cùm ait: Neminem poſſe accuſare aut condemnare electos, cùm ipſos Deus juſtificat.

RESP. REDING: 1. Si verbum juſtificationis Soto in ſenſu effectivo, Marinarus in declarativo intellexit, an iccirco formalem juſtificationis cauſam rejecerunt? Juſtificatio certè declarativa non inanis, ſed efficax eſt, adeóque quod declarat, efficit. 2. *Neque ſi Chriſtus nos expiat à peccatis, iccirco juſtitiæ infuſæ habitus non idem efficit. clarativo accipitur, fiet ea declarando hominem justum non à re aliqua, quæ ei inhæret, sed à merito Christi, cujus vi à peccato & pœna ejus absolvitur. Planè sicut oppositæ justificationi condemnatio, in sensu utique declarativo, non effectivo accepta, non utique fit efficiendo aliquid, quod homini inhæreat, sed declarando, quòd peccator sit reus debendi pœnam. Penitus igitur contraria declarativæ & effectivæ justificationis forma est. Est equidem & declarativa efficax, sed non efficiendo formam inhærentem, cujus virtute justificetur homo: sed declarando sententiam ejus, qui justificat. 2. Egregiè verò Christi, Salvatoris nostri meritissimi, gloriæ consulis. Ille, inquis, meritoriè: habitus infusus justitiæ formaliter peccata expiat. Utri plus tribuis, ei, qui meruit, ut habitus justitiæ inhærentis justificet: an ei, quod formæ instar, adeóque per essentiam suam justificat, adeóque vel habitus, vel opus illud est, cujus respectu Deus peccatorem justificat, hoc est, à peccato & pœna absolvit? Sic scilicet fallacibus terminis Deo hominibúsque illudendum fuerat, ne à justificatione hominis excludi Christus videretur. Atqui Christus ejúsque justitia, per fidem nobis imputata, sic est causa meritoria juris illius, quo peccatorum remissionem, vitam & salutem in Dei judicio petimus obtinemúsque, ut extra eam nulla causa alia obtineat: & ipsa meriti, obedientiæ & justitiæ ejus imputatio, esque cohærens nostra absolutio, peccatorúmque remissio, justificationis causa formalis, adeóque essentia unica sit. Impia igitur & blasphema sunt effata vestra, cùm Christum justificationis causam tantùm externam, exemplarem, efficientem, meritoriam, conditionem causæ formalis appellatis, innuentes scilicet, Christum extra nos commeruisse, ut sine communione Christi, seu donatione & imputatione justitiæ ejus, per nos & propter nos, seu justitiam nostram nobis inhærentem coram tribunali Dei non condemnemur, sed justificemur, à peccatis & pœnis absolvamur, denique jus ad vitam adipiscamur. Hæc scilicet Judæorum infidelium impietas fuit, qui, S. Paulo Rom. X. 3. teste, ignorantes justitiam Dei, & propriam justitiam constituere quærentes, justitiæ Dei subditi non fuerunt. 3. Frustra tandem ejusdem impietatis, earundem blasphemiarum reos S. Patres peragere conaris. Quis eorum anathemati subjecit eum, qui justitia Christi imputata justificari hominem asseruerit? Quis per & propter justitiam propriam & inhærentem, ceu formalem causam (in quo termino proram & puppim causæ vestræ collocare soletis) nos justificari: & Christum id unum meruisse, ut sic justificemur, docuit? Nil tale loca à te allegata sonant; quæ vel de justificatione non agunt, sed de regeneratione, uti disertis verbis Chrysostomus: vel de impressa justitia & immortalitate, sed à Christo, secundo Adamo, non in justificatione, sed restauratione hominis, uti Cyrillus: vel simpliciter de justitia, non de justificatione agunt: vel justificationis nomen pro sanctificationis nomine, quadam vocis ἀνυπολογίᾳ, non rei errore, usurpant. quo in censu Augustini verba à te citata sunt. Genuina autem S. Patrum, quibus animi sui sensum clarè proferunt, testimonia, ex quibus de ambiguis eorundem dictis proclive judicium est, tu vel infelicia, vel studio fallendi omittis. Ego pauca tibi repono. Ex Græcis Justinus Martyr Epist. ad Diognetum, p. m. 500. postquam dixit, Deum proprium filium tradidisse pretium redemptionis pro nobis, sanctum pro exlegibus, &c. subjicit: Τί γὰρ ἄλλο δυνήσεται ἁμαρτίας ἡμῶν ἐπικαλύψαι, ἢ ἐκείνου δικαιοσύνη; ἐν τίνι δικαιωθῆναι δυνατὸν ἦν τοὺς ἀνόμους καὶ ἀσεβεῖς, ἢ ἐν μόνῳ τῷ Υἱῷ τοῦ Θεοῦ; ὦ τῆς γλυκείας ἀνταλλαγῆς, ὦ τῆς ἀνεξιχνιάστου δημιουργίας, ὦ τῶν ἀπροσδοκήτων εὐεργετῶν ὅτι ἀνομία μὲν πολλῶν ἐν δικαίῳ ἑνὶ κρυβῇ, δικαιοσύνη δὲ ἑνὸς πολλοὺς ἀνόμους δικαιώσει. Quid enim aliud peccata nostra tegere potuit, quàm ejus justitia? In quo alio nos iniquos & impios pro justis haberi possumus, quàm in solo Dei Filio? O dulcem permutationem! O imperve-

OBIECT. I. Paulus docet Rom. V. 5. in juſtificatione charitatem per Spiritum S. nobis donatam in cordibus noſtris diffundi. Ergo juſtificamur per charitatem inhærentem. Reſp. 1. Paulus eo loco non agit de juſtificationis negotio, ſed potiùs ex juſtificatione, tanquam cauſa, effectum deducit tolerantiam in adverſis, ſpem; eò quòd charitas in cordibus noſtris ſit diffuſa. 2. Neque charitatem tatem intelligit hominis, ſed Dei, quam activam vocant. Etenim eam facit fundamentum noſtræ ſpei, cùm charitatis noſtræ habitus imperfectus ſpem noſtram ſuſtentare non poſſit. 3. Diffuſa dicitur in cordibus noſtris ratione ſenſus & effectuum.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si S. Paulus ex juſtificatione tanquam cauſa, effectum, tolerantiam & ſpem, eò quòd charitas in cordibus diffuſa ſit, deducit, effectus ille juxta te & juſtificationi, & charitati in cordibus diffuſæ reſpondebit. Sic igitur juſtificatio fiet per charitatem, ceu cordi intrinſecam, utpote in id effuſam. 2. Activa Dei charitas effectu carere non poteſt. Inter effectus autem ejus utique etiam charitatis habitus eſt, qui ita in cordibus noſtris diffunditur, ut per eam Spiritus S. per formam creatam juſtificantem ſeſe nobis uniens, detur. Ib. pag. 455. Reſp. 1. Pulchra argumentatio! Tolerantia in adverſis, & ſpes inde nata non pudefaciens, effectus eſt tum juſtificationis, tum charitatis Dei activæ, cujus ipſa juſtificatio effectus eſt. Ergo juſtificatio fit per charitatem paſſivam, ſeu inhærentem homini, ceu formam ſuam intrinſecam, in cor diffuſam. Sic amas φλυαρῶν. Potiùs categoricè reſpondendum tibi fuerat, quam charitatem putes ab Apoſtolo nominari: & quomodo inhærens charitas ſolidæ ſpei eſſe fundamentum poſſit. 2. Activa Dei charitas effectu minimè ſanè caret. Nam, vel Pererio tuo in cap. 5. Rom. diſp. 2. judice, multa & varia dona Spiritus S. in nos contulit; atque inter ea etiam charitatis habitum, ſed non ut juſtitiam, qua juſtificamur, vel cauſam vitæ, ſed ut ſanctificationis & internæ renovationis formam. Quàm denique dilutum eſt, quòd dicis, per charitatis habitum diffuſum in corde dari Spiritum S. ſe per formam creatam unientem! Atqui S. Paulus charitatem, puta Dei, per Spiritum S. ſeu ejus, tanquam donorum multiplicium jugis ſcaturiginis donatione, diffuſam eſſe in cordibus: non per charitatem hominis datum eſſe ſpiritum, dicit. Quaſi non ipſe Spiritus Dei charitatis noſtræ author formatórque: ſed charitas dationis Spiritus cauſa exiſtat. Næ quidvis ſine ſale & judicio effutis.

OBIECT. II. Idem Paulus Rom. III. 24. docet, juſtificari nos gratis ejus gratia. Ubi gratia non favorem Dei, ſed internum charitatis habitum denotat, quia vox δωρεὰν potiùs favorem Dei notat. Reſp. 1. Imò favorem Dei notari, ſupra manifeſtum fecimus. 2. Sed & utrumque, tum δωρεὰν, tum χάριτος notat favorem & benevolentiam. Et priùs quidem illud poſitum eſt, ne benevolentiam Dei putemus noſtris meritis inniti.

EXCIP. REDING: At favori & benevolentiæ DEI gratis nos juſtificanti reſpondere effectum intrinſecè in nobis receptum, fusè ſupra demonſtravimus. Ib. pag. 455. Reſp. Quid hoc ad rem? Reſpondet effectus, in juſtificatione imputatio juſtitiæ Chriſti & per eandem à peccatis abſolutio, ceu juſtificationis forma: in ſanctificatione habitus inverni mentis & voluntatis, atque inter eos charitatis habitus, intrinſecè recepti, ceu forma ſanctificationis. Interim in loco citato gratiam notare favorem Dei, tacitè largiri videris. Gratias tibi.

OBIECT. III. Paulus idem Rom. V. 19. ait, per Chriſti obedientiam juſtos conſtitui multos. Hoc non poteſt non pertinere ad infuſionem qualitatis, uti etiam liquet ex antitheſi tithesi Adami, cujus inobedientiâ constitui dicimur injusti, hoc est, inhærenter, non imputativè. Resp. 1. Sanè obedientia Christi etiam inhærenter justos constituit, nempe in dono sanctificationis, non justificationis. 2. Nihil etiam obstat, quò minùs καθίστημι constitui referatur, non tam ad infusionem qualitatis, quàm veritatem ac certitudinem justitiæ imputatæ. Quomodo etiam per Adami inobedientiam non tantùm inhærenter, sed etiam imputativè injusti constituimur.

Excip. Reding: 1. Effectivam & formalem justificationis causam confundis. Sicut peccatum Adæ est causa quasi effectiva, qua peccatores multi constituuntur, peccatum verò intrinsecum cujusque causa formalis, per quam inhærenter injusti constituuntur: sic obedientia Christi est causa meritoriè effectiva justificationis, qualitas verò Divinitus infusa formalis. 2. Ipse tu fateris, donum sanctificationis esse justo intrinsecum. Atqui hoc est ipsum justificationis donum, per quod formaliter fit remissio peccatorum. Sanctificatio quippe peccato privativè opponitur; adeóque peccati formaliter expulsiva & remissiva est, quia impossibile est, ut gratia sanctificans simul componatur cum sua privatione, seu peccato, quod privationem hanc, per Divinæ execrationis efficaciam induxit. Ib. pag. 455. 456. Resp. 1. Non ita amo confundere. Imò clarè distinguo, & ex primi ac secundi Adami collatione ostendo, & per imputationem justitiæ Christi, ceu justificationis formam, nos justos constitui, seu justificari; & per infusos habitus, ceu formam sanctificationis, nos justos constitui inhærenter, seu sanctificari: planè sicut Adami primi peccatum & imputatum nobis est, & inhærentis ac hæreditariæ corruptionis causa extitit. Justitia porro Christi sic est justificationis nostræ causa meritoriè effectiva, (uti tu quidem loqueris) ut nulla alia justitia, ceu causa vitæ, per & propter quam in Dei judicio à peccatis absolvamur, & pro justis, habentibus jus vitæ, reputemur, detur. Neque enim sic justitia Christi nobis imputatur, ut sit conditio duntaxat causæ formalis, seu justitiæ inhærentis, ut ea homo donari possit, vel causa extrinseca, quæ justitiæ justificantis infusionem meretur. Non tantùm enim sic nimis coarctatur beneficium imputationis justitiæ & meritorum Christi, ut non sit causa vitæ seu justificationis, & absolutionis in Dei judicio, sed sanctificationis & regenerationis duntaxat; vel planè etiam per communionem cum ipso nostra non fiat, sed extrinseca sit & maneat: verùm etiam justitia homini inhærens, ceu causa appellationis justi, & sic juris hæredum vitæ, supra justitiam Christi sacrilegè extollitur. Quid quòd S. Paulus in loco Rom. V. 19. ne quidem agit propriè & primò de infusione justitiæ, sed de constitutione juridica, condemnationi oppositæ, quæ fieri non potest, nisi per imputationem seu donationem justitiæ, quam is χάρισμα, δώρημα, δωρεὰ τῆς δικαιοσύνης, δικαίωμα, ἀκατακρίτως Gratia, charisma, donum, donum justitiæ, opus justum justificans, obedientiam unius vocat. quæ cùm aliena, non inhærens nostra sit, justos nos constituere nisi per imputationem nequit. Neque vox καθίστημι constituo ad inhærentiam qualitatis, sed ad veritatem ac certitudinem sive qualitatis inhærentis, sive relationis, referri potest. quomodo etiam Dominus creaturarum homo constitutus est non per inhærentiam, sed per ἕνωσιν. 2. Tu potiùs, horrendo & pestifero errore, donum justificationis & sanctificationis, quod pro uno eodémque habes, confundis. Differre autem essentialiter, paucis demonstro. Etenim illius materia est justitia Christi per fidem imputata: hujus inhærens: Illius forma est imputatio justitiæ alienæ ; hujus renovatio imaginis Divinæ, ſeu inſtauratio juſtitiæ propriæ : illa fit in inſtanti, ſimul ſemélque, tum, cùm Chriſti juſtitia nobis imputatur, Chriſtúſque induitur ; hæc fit ſucceſſione graduum, quia imago Dei per gradus renovatur & perficitur : illa eſt perfectum Dei donum, quia juſtitia Chriſti in ea imputata & perfectiſſima, & infiniti valoris eſt ; hæc in hac vita imperfecta eſt : illa eſt æqualis omnium, quia juſtitia Chriſti, quæ infinita eſt, non uni magis datur quàm alteri, licet ejus ſenſus propter inæqualem fidei menſuram non idem ſit in omnibus ; hæc eſt inæqualis : illa ordine naturæ, ceu cauſa, præit ; hæc, ceu effectus, ſequitur : illa eſt relatio, abſolutio ſcilicet à culpa, & immunitas à reatu ; hæc alteratio qualitativa, renovatio videlicet hominis ad imaginem Dei : illius denique ſubjectum recipiens eſt homo impius, inimicus Dei ; hujus homo ab impietate abſolutus, juſtificatus. En plus quàm Babylonicam confuſionem tuam ! Remiſſionem peccatorum non in abſoluta eorum, quoad maculam ſcilicet, abolitione, ſed in eorundem condonatione conſiſtere ; adeóque non in ſanctificatione, ſed in juſtificatione peragi, ſupra demonſtravimus. Neque tu hic, alieno loco, contrarium probas. Sanctificatio, inquis, peccato privativè opponitur. Ergo peccatum expellit. Atqui non de ſanctificatione, ſed de remiſſione quærebatur. Cur hic miſces ? Remiſſio peccatum abolet quoad reatum : ſanctificatio idem illud paulatim privat & infringit quoad maculam & dominium. Non poſſunt igitur ſimul conſiſtere peccatum & ſanctificatio peccati privativa, perfecta ſcilicet, qualis non in hac vita locum habet, ſed in altera habitura eſt. In hac enim vita nec privatio peccati totalis, quoad maculam : nec ſanctificatio perfecta obtinet, quia caro (reſidua) concupiſcit adverſus Spiritum, & Spiritus adverſus carnem, & hæc contrariantur invicem, ut non ea faciamus, quæ volumus, Gal. V. 17.

OBIECT. IV. Paulus Rom. VIII. 29. ait, juſtos eſſe conformes imagini Chriſti. Sicut igitur Chriſtus juſtus eſt inhærente verâ, non imputatâ juſtitiâ : ita etiam juſti. Unde ſequitur, Chriſti meritum & juſtitiam eſſe cauſam externam & exemplarem, non formalem noſtræ juſtificationis. Reſp. 1. Fatemur, juſtos etiam inhærente juſtitiâ pro menſura Spiritus S. donari ; ſed ea juſtificari ipſos negamus. Sequitur potiùs ex juſtificatione, ut effectus a cauſa, & individuo cum ea nexu cohæret. 2. Juſtificatio igitur eſt cauſa conformitatis cum imagine Chriſti, quoad inhærentem nimirum juſtitiam : non conformitas cum imagine Chriſti eſt juſtificationis forma. 3. Quoad perfectam & numeris omnibus conſummatam juſtitiam nequaquam conformari poſſumus cum Chriſti imagine, niſi ſimul ipſius nobis juſtitia imputetur. Inhærens enim juſtitia ob peccatum præcedens in Adamo commiſſum neutiquam juſtitiæ Chriſti perfectæ aſſimilari poteſt.

EXCIP. REDING : 1. Fateris tandem juſtitiam nobis inhærentem pro menſura Spiritus S. donatam. Et quomodo non formaliter juſtos illa conſtituit ? adeóque juſtificat ? 2. Juſtitia inhærens eſt effectus juſtificationis cauſalis. Formalis verò juſtificatio per juſtitiam inhærentem fit ; quia ea, ceu peccati expiatio, fit per gratiam regenerantem. 3. Iſta porro inhærens juſtitia intrinſecam cum imagine Chriſti conformitatem importat. Tum enim Chriſto aſſimilamur, cùm in filios Dei adoptamur. In filios autem adoptamur per novam genera- generationem, ſeu regenerationem, quæ eſt proceſſus in ſimilitudinem naturæ, quæ intrinſeca eſſe debet, cùm terminus formalis regenerationis ſit forma regenerata intrinſeca. 4. Chriſti gratia habitualis ſpectatur in genere vel Morali vel Phyſico. Priore ſenſu infinitæ eſt ſanctitatis, longè juſtitia noſtra ſuperior. Poſteriore cum noſtra eſt ejuſdem ſpeciei. Aliàs prædeſtinati non poſſent conformes imagini Filii DEI fieri. Ib. pag. 456. 457. Reſp. Nihil hi ψεφοι tui proficiunt. Equidem 1. juſtitiam inhærentem formaliter juſtos conſtituere, in hac quidem vita imperfectè, in altera conſummatè, ultro fateor. At juſtificare peccatorem pernego. Non enim idem eſt juſtum fieri, & juſtificari. Illud etiam in ſanctificatione & renovatione fieri poteſt: hoc non item. 2. Quod effectus eſt juſtificationis cauſalis, vel cauſæ, quomodo ejuſdem forma eſſe poteſt? Annon enim effectus quilibet natura poſterior eſt cauſa? Annon juſtificatio per formam ſuam juſtificatio eſt? Quomodo igitur juſtificatio per formam ſuam jam talis, demum juſtificationis formam, juſtitiam, uti pertendis, inhærentem producit? Annon ſic idem eſt cauſa ſui ipſius? Vide, quò Sophiſtice tua te abripiat! Peccati expiatio, ſeu quoad reatum abolitio, utique fit in juſtificatione, non verò in regeneratione ſtrictè ſic dicta, hoc eſt, interiore renovatione hominis. Juſtificatio enim eſt actus Dei judicialis: regeneratio, quâ fides, reſipiſcentia, ſanctitas interna, denique imago Dei homini reſtituitur, non item. 3. Inhærentem juſtitiam intrinſecam cum imagine Chriſti conformitatem importare, damus ultro; ſed per eam conformitatem, ut cauſam vitæ, & δικαίωμα, jus petendi vitam, nos juſtificari, negamus. Hoc, non illud tibi probandum fuerat. 4. Denique ſine imputatione juſtitiæ Chriſti in juſtificationis dono nos perfectè cum imagine ejuſdem conformari poſſe, cur non probas? Cur rationi à me allatæ non ſatisfacis? Nam juſtitiam, qua in hac vita imperfectè, in altera perfectè conformes reddimur imagini Chriſti, eſſe eandem quoad rem ſeu ſpeciem juſtitiam cum juſtitia Chriſti, non opus erat, ut vel aſſereres, vel comprobares.

OBIECT. V. Ipſa vox juſtificandi arguit juſtificationem propter opera inhærentis juſtitiæ, quia ſignificat mutationem, ſeu motum ad juſtitiam, quæ tum perficitur, cùm ex injuſto aliquis ſit juſtus inhærenter. Unde Grammaticis etiam juſtificare eſt juſtum facere, non declarare. Reſp. De ſignificatu vocis juſtificandi minùs Latinæ judicandum eſt ex voce Græca δικαιῶν, & Hebræa צדק quæ utraque ſignificat judicium illud, quo quis propter δικαίωμα νόμου exhibitum declaratur juſtus, inſons & præmio dignus. Unde ei opponitur κατακρίνειν, καλεῖν, רשע & קעק quæ voces non internam mutationem ex juſtitia ad injuſtitiam, ſed declarationem potiùs injuſti & judicio digni notant.

Excip. Rebinet 1. Dei judicium, quo impius juſtificatur, ſic declarativum eſt, ut etiam ſit effectivum juſtitiæ, juſto per Divinæ dictionis efficaciam impreſſæ. Sicut enim condemnatio, ſeu declaratio hominis injuſti & judicio digni injuſtitiam intrinſecam ſupponit: ſic juſtificatio, ſeu judicium, quo homo declaratur juſtus, inhærentem juſtitiam pariter ſupponit. 2. Vera ac realis mutationis, qualis in juſtificatione eſt, ea natura eſt, ut ejus terminus formalis ſit forma in ſubjecto recepta, quæ niſi inhærens juſtitia eſſe nequit. Ib. pag. 457. 458. Reſp. 1. Neque ſic reſpondes argumento à vocibus צדק & δικαιῶν petito, quæ actionem forenſem, non phyſicam mutationem ubique ſignificant. Dei porro judicium sic justum declarat propter solam Christi, non inhærentem nostram justitiam, ut negem efficere justitiam justificantem. Fit enim intuitu, justitiæ justificantis, ceu unicæ causæ, qua motus judex peccata remittit, absolvit, jus vitæ adjudicat. Inhærens verò justitia, ceu effectus justificantis, per Spiritum regenerantem donatur. Condemnationem peccatoris quod attinet, etsi illa supponit injustitiam inhærentem, tamen per se illam non efficit, sed pœna dignam declarat. Justificatio verò peccatoris (alia enim ratio est justificationis hominis peccatoris, alia integri) supponit quidem justitiam, sicut condemnatio injustitiam; sed non, sicut hæc, inhærentem. Dispar planè hic ratio est. Peccator enim condemnandus habet inhærentem injustitiam. Impius verò justificandus inhærentem justitiam, quæ causa vitæ sit, nullam habet. Alioquin ne quidem impius esset. Ita Christus condemnatus in Dei judicio est. Condemnatio ejus in eo injustitiam, sed non propiam vel inhærentem, verùm alienam & imputatam supposuit. In tanti momenti argumento, nimis rudem ubique te ostendis. 2. Talis in justificatione mutatio est, qualis in condemnatione. Utrobique non physica qualitatum inhærentium, sed moralis vel relativa status. qualis est mutatio hominis, qui per condonationem creditoris ex debitore fit non debitor, sine ulla forma in subjecto recepta.

OBIECT VI. Dici non potest, nos justitiâ Christi imputatâ formaliter esse justos, tum quia Scriptura nusquam disertè statuunt, Christi justitiam nobis imputari: tum quia post remissionem peccatorum nulla peccata inhærent alienâ justitiâ contegenda: tum quia qualibet res à forma potiùs intrinseca quàm externa denominari debet: tum denique quia alienâ justitiâ nobis imputatâ verè justi haud sumus, sed potiùs hypocritæ & dealbata sepulchra. Resp. 1. Imputatâ Christi justitiâ nos justificari supra astruximus. 2. Cùm fides ad justitiam, & justitia sine operibus nobis imputari dicitur, perinde est ac si dicatur, justitiâ Christi imputatâ nos justificari, hoc est, credentes in Christum propter justitiam Christi Vadis & Capitis nostri in judicium non venire, adoptari in filios Dei & æternæ vitæ hæreditatem cernere, perinde ac si ipsi absolutissimam justitiam implevissemus. Et in Scripturis legitur, quod plus est, nempe justitiam Christi nobis donari, Rom. V. 15. 16. 17. Christum esse factum nobis justitiam, 1. Cor. I. 30. nos fieri in Christo justitiam, & sanguine ejus aspergi &c. Et quæ tandem adversarios incessit religio, qui satisfactiones & labores sanctorum & monachorum aliis volunt imputari: at committi putant in divinam justitiam, si Christi satisfactio nobis imputetur? 3. Remisso peccato quoad reatum, manet ejus macula, uti Paulus Rom. VII. suo exemplo comprobat; quæ tegitur justitiâ Christi, non ut non existat, sed ut non imputetur ad damnationem 4. Quid verò obstet, quò minùs ab externa forma denominemur formaliter justi, cùm ipse Christus ab externa forma denominatus fuerit formaliter peccatum, 2. Cor. V. 21? Neque etiam quæritur, an formaliter & verè justi simus, sed nostrane an aliena Christi justitia sit δικαίωμα illud, quo justificamur coram tribunali Dei? Ita qui æri alieno expungendo non ſufficit, haud iniquè patitur ſe alienâ ſponſoris ſolutione liberatum ſolutúmque denominari. 5. Chriſti juſtitia nobis imputata non fovet peccati regnum, ſed demolitur & infringit peccatum quoad ejus maculam, & regnum tollit quoad reatum. Nempe juſtitia Chriſti ſola quidem valet in Dei judicio. Attamen Spiritus vitæ Chriſti in nobis efficit eam juſtitiam, per quam excluditur omnis dolus, ponitur ſtudium placendi Deo & ambulandi, ſicut Chriſto dignum eſt.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Qualis ſequela eſt: Juſtificamur fide & ſine operibus: Ergo per imputatam Chriſti juſtitiam non meritoriè duntaxat, ſed formaliter juſti ſumus? Atqui ii ipſi effectus, quos juſtitiæ imputatæ tribuis, juſtitiam in ſubjecto receptam arguunt. Non venimus in judicium, quia remiſſa ſunt nobis peccata. At remiſſio non fit abſque forma intrinſeca. Adoptamur in filios vi regenerationis, per quam ſimilem juſtitiam intrinſecè recipimus. Jus obtinemus hæreditatis cæleſtis vi gratiæ ſanctificantis, quæ intrinſecam enim gloriæ cæleſtis hæreditate condignitatem habet. Quomodo verò Chriſtus nobis ſit juſtitia, ſupra vidimus. 2. Si peccati macula poſt peccati remiſſionem adhuc exiſtit, objectum erit odii Divini execrantis, adeóque imputationis ad damnationem. 3. Eſſe juſtum coram Deo, eſt denominatio formalis realiter afficiens ſubjectum, ita ut juſtus non ratione dumtaxat, ſed à parte rei formalis denominationis ſubjectum ſit. Non igitur denominatio juſti extrinſeca duntaxat denominatio eſſe poteſt. 4. Si macula execrationis Divinæ objectum iis eo, cui juſtitia Chriſti imputatur, exiſtit, quomodo non in eodem peccati Regnum fovetur? Quomodo non erit talis ſepulchrum foriſecus dealbatum, intus formali macula peccati contaminatum? Ib. pag. 458. 459. Reſp. 1. Cœcus es, ſi conſecutionem argumenti non vides. Quomodo enim qui ſine operibus juſtificatur, per juſtitiam inhærentem, operibus patefactam, ceu formalem cauſam juſtificari poteſt? Annon juſtitia inhærens operum juſtitia eſt? Effectus porro juſtitiæ per fidem imputatæ juſtitiam inhærentem cauſam minimè arguunt. Neque enim iidem imputatæ & inhærentis juſtitiæ effectus eſſe poſſunt. In judicium non venimus, quia Chriſtus pro nobis judicium ſuſtinuit; non quia inhærente juſtitia pollemus. Hinc cum Davide precantur ſervi Dei omnes: Ne intres cum ſervo tuo judicium tuum, quia nullus vivens coram te juſtus eſt, Pſal CXLIII. 2. Remiſſio peccatorum quomodo fiat, ſæpe jam oſtenſum. Filii Dei evadimus an quæſo per & propter juſtitiam noſtram? Atqui non quotquot inhærenter juſti ſunt, ſed quotquot Eum Filium Dei fidei manu apprehenderunt, iis poteſtatem Deus dedit, ut Filii Dei fiant, Joh. I. 12. Omnes filii Dei ſumus per fidem in Chriſtum Jeſum, Gal. V. 26. Si verò filii, etiam adoptionis puta ejuſdem jure, non juſtitiæ noſtræ merito, hæredes, Rom. VIII. 17. & quidem διὰ Χριστοῦ per Chriſtum, Gal. IV. 7. Quo jure filii Dei ſumus, eodem etiam hæredes Dei ſumus, quia filius paternæ domus hæres eſt. At non quia inhærenter juſti, filii Dei evadimus, ſed quia filii Dei per Chriſtum ejuſque meritum evadimus, internæ ſanctitatis & Juſtæ Φύσεως Divinæ naturæ participes reddimur. En effectus formales non juſtitiæ noſtræ, ſed Chriſti: non inhærentis, ſed imputatæ! 2. Peccati macula, ubicunque exiſtit, objectum Divinæ execrationis & condemnationis eſt; ſed non peccator, à quo omne odium, execratio & condemnatio in Sponſorem & Vadem Chriſtum translata eſt. Et an tu poſt juſtificationem impii, pii,quam primùm saltem in Baptismo per infusionem justitiæ peragi contenditis, nullam in justificato maculam supereſſe,dictitas? Næ Phariſaicæ hoc, non Chriſtianæ vocæ eſt. Cur igitur ad objectum S.Pauli Rom.VII.14. &c. exemplum non reſpondes? Sed & juſtitia Chriſti imputata,ita quidem extrinſeca, quatenus extra nos, & ſine nobis acquiſita eſt,ut tamen noſtra ſit per communicationem & donationem gratuitam; æquè realiter ſubjectum juſtificati afficit,atque peccata noſtra Chriſto imputata,realiter eundem affecerunt. Neque enim imputatio iſthæc eſt mera fictio mentis circa rem non exiſtentem,cujuſmodi eſt imputatio ſatisfactionum alienarum, quas Vos Monachi crepatis; ſed res eſt non minùs realis in ſuo ordine, juridico ſcilicet & forenſi, quam infuſio qualitatis in genere morali ſeu phyſico. Planè ſicut imputatio ſolutionis à Vade factæ,quæ debitori fit, maximè realis eſt,utpote per quam à debito liberatur, & à jure, quo adverſus ipſum creditor valebat, eximitur. Nec veritate igitur judicialis iſte actus, nec juſtitia caret. Non veritate,quia juſtos pronuntiat in Chriſto, quod veriſſimum eſt. Non juſtitia, quia Chriſtum inter & nos datur communio, qua, ceu ſolido fundamento ſuo imputatio iſthæc nititur. Utique juſtum eſt,(ſic S.Auguſtinus de Trinit. lib.XXIII.14. loquitur) ut debitores, quos tenebat Diabolus, liberi dimittantur in eum credentes,quem ſine ullo debito occidit. 4. An,ſi inhærente etiam juſtitia formaliter nos juſtificari dixerimus, iccirco macula peccati, execrationis & odii Divini materies, in ſubjecto juſtificato nulla remanebit? An verò etiam ſic ſepulchrum manebit fœtidum, ſordibúsque refertum; an potiùs Templum Spiritus Dei, quale S.Paulus juſtificatus, regenitus licet,pecator tamen (Rom.VII.14. &c) fuit? Quomodo verò imputata juſtitia Chriſti, non obſtante reliqua adhuc peccati macula, odii Divini objecto, ac proinde in Chriſto,non in peccatore fideli punita expiatáque; peccati Regnum in juſtificato infringatur, reſponſio noſtra explicat. Cur tu alatus prætervolas, & calumniari tamen pergis? Meliora ſunt regenitorum minima, quàm irregenitorum maxima opera; quia in Spiritu illorum non eſt dolus,Pſal.XXXII.2. Sed non ideo juſtitia ſunt coram Dei judicio valida. Imò juſtitiæ inhærentis non minima pars eſt, ſic Deo confidere, eum & gloriam ejus amare, ut interim agnoſcamus defectus & pravitates, & veniam deprecemur quotidie,dum præſto eſt, & imber aquarum timetur,cum eodem Pſalte v.5.6.10.11. Quod etiam S.Johannes 1.Epiſt.I.8.9.10. monet,præcipiens,ut confiteamur ſemper peccata,nec unquam dicamus, vel non habere nos peccatum, adeóque condonandum aliquid; vel nos non peccaſſe.hoc eſt,actus noſtros ſine peccato,defectu & pravitate eſſe. Id enim ſi fecerimus,mendaces nos eſſe, & mendacem Deum facere,aſſerit. Sepulchra igitur dealbata, atque intus ſordibus ſqualentia tota non juſtificati per Chriſti juſtitiam ſunt; ſed veteres potiùs novique Phariſæi, Monachi ſunt, juſtitiæ propriæ typho inflati, & peccati in ſe maculam nec agnoſcentes ingenuè,nec lugentes.

QUÆ-

QUÆSTIO IX.

An fides juſtificans ſola, per modum inſtrumenti, ſatisfactionem Chriſti apprehendentis, juſtificet?

NEgat Canon nonus & Caput ſextum, in quo modus præparationis ad juſtificationem hic ſtatuitur, quòd peccator divinâ gratiâ ad juſtitiam accipiendam ſic diſponatur, ſi fidem ex auditu concipiens liberè moveatur in DEUM, credat vera eſſe, quæ divinitus revelata & promiſſa ſunt, atque illud inprimis, in Deo juſtificari impium per gratiam ejus; ſi à Divinæ juſtitiæ timore ad conſiderandam ejus miſericordiam ſe convertat, in ſpem erigatur, atque ſic Deum diligat, adverſus peccata moveatur per odium & deteſtationem, hoc eſt, per eam pœnitentiam, quæ ante baptiſmum præſtari debet; ſi denique proponat ſuſcipere baptiſmum, inchoare novam vitam, & ſervare mandata. Nos etſi diſpoſitiones quasdam juſtificationem præcedere poſſe non negamus, iis tamen vel ut cauſa meritoria, vel ut inſtrumentali applicari gratiam juſtificationis & apprehendi negamus, aſſerimúsque, ſolam fidem juſtitiam in Evangelio propoſitam ſibi applicare, non quatenus eſt vel præparatio & diſpoſitio, vel aſſenſus generalis habitus veritati, ſed quatenus eſt aſſenſus ſpecialis conjunctus cum fiducia in meritum Chriſti. Argumenta noſtra ſunt.

ARG. I. In apprehenſione gratiæ juſtificantis Scriptura nunquam ejusmodi diſpoſitiones, ſemper fidem & quidem operibus, adeóque etiam ejuſmodi diſpoſitionibus, oppoſitam nominat, Gen. XV. v. 6. Eſai. XXVIII. 16. Habac. II. 4. Rom III. 28. Gal. II. 16. Quæ aliáque ejuſmodi loca frivolè interpretatur Synodus cap. 8. quaſi videlicet per fidem nos juſtificari aſſerat Scriptura, quia fides eſt humanæ ſalutis initium, fundamentum & radix omnis juſtificationis, ſine qua impoſſibile eſt placere Deo. Juſtificatio enim, utpote abſolutio à reatu, fit ſimul ſemélque, &, quod ajunt, ἐν ἀτόμῳ, adeóque ratione actus juſtificantis non admittit initii & progreſſus continuationem. Unde fides tanquam archeteles nobis proponitur Rom. I. verſ. 17. cap. III. verſ. 2. Quid quòd fidei etiam opponuntur paſſim opera? Cùm igitur inter fidem, conditionem Evangelii, & opera, conditionem Legis, nihil medii intercedat, relinquitur, ſola fide apprehendi juſtitiam.

RESP. REDING : 1. Tu ipse dispositiones prævias & fides & justificationi agnoscis ; & quidem præter Scripturam, quæ Hebr.XI.6. docens, sine fide impossibile esse placere Deo, & credere oportere, eum, qui ad Deum accedit, fidem primam dispositionem, super quæ reliquæ omnes fundantur, facit. 2. Opera fidei opposita à S. Paulo S. Augustinus lib.83. quæst. q.79. opera esse fidem præcedentia, statuit. Adeóque inter fidem & opera ejusmodi medium datur, justificatio ipsa. 3. Etsi justificatio fiat simul semèlque : fides tamen, ceu dispositio ad eandem, initii & progressus capax est. Tract.IV.Ss 2. p.459.460. Resp.1. Mitte homonymiam in voce dispositionum, supra etiam à nobis animadversam. Ego enim dispositiones appello impropriè actus quosvis præcedaneos, nihil tamen in justificatione efficientes, adeóque præparationes quasdam necessarias, tanquam conditiones, absque quibus nulli vel promissum est, vel præstatur hoc beneficium. Marc.I.15. Luc.XXIV. 47. Act.IH.19 XX.21. Sed & ante fidem ipsam, & ad fidem requiruntur dispositiones præcedaneæ, quia ea subjecto, hoc est, menti & voluntati hominis credentis inhæret, ut nova qualitas ; adeóque ei ingeneratur per verbum Dei, Rom.X.14. quod verbum est tum legis, ex qua agnitio miseriæ, terrores, desperatio de se ipso nascuntur ; tum Evangelii, ex quo agnitio Christi Mediatoris & promissionum gratiæ oritur, desideriúmque justitiæ, ipsaque adeò fides concipitur. Tu verò de aliis longè dispositionibus, formalibus scilicet, loqueris, hypothesi falsæ innixus, quasi scilicet justificatio in infusione justitiæ, & motu ad justitiam consistat, adeóque ad formam illam subjecto introducendam prævias dispositiones requirat. Ejusmodi dispositiones Concilium Tridentinum numero septenario, puta fide, spe, timore, dilectione, pœnitentia, proposito suscipiendi Sacramenta, & novæ obedientiæ proposito, definivit. Cùm verò dispositiones formales, seu introductionem formæ adjuvantes, sint homogeneæ suis habitibus, utpote à quibus gradu, non natura differunt ; tum ordine naturæ iisdem priores, tum denique habitus suos inchoantes, non perficientes, nec fidem, nec reliquas illas à Tridentinis enumeratas virtutes, justificationis proprias dispositiones esse, abundè liquet. Nam neque habitui suo sunt homogeneæ, quia justificatio est Evangelii, & fit absque operibus, dispositiones verò illæ sunt legis, adeóque opera ; illa relativa, hæ qualitates & ex iis actiones : nec ordine naturæ justificatione priores, quia pleræque omnes, fide excepta, justificationem sequuntur : nec inchoantes denique justificationem tantùm, cùm fides eam & incipiat, & absolvat, adeóque perficiat, Rom.I.17. Quod ipsum locus Hebr.XI.6. à te citatus ostendit. Nam accessui ad Deum, qui per solam justificationem contingit. (quomodo enim non justificatus, non reconciliatus Deo in Christo, ad eum, qui ignis consumens est, accedet ?) fides sola, neque aliud quidquam, ab Apostolo præordinatur. Fides ergo sola & justificatione prior est, & eandem ceu unica, proxima & immediata ejus à parte hominis causa perficit. Addo, justificationem ipsam ejusmodi dispositiones non admittere, tum quia non est motus, alterationibus materiæ indigens, sed actus Dei judicialis, peccatorem à reatu absolventis : tum quia subjecto non inhæret, utpote in quo justitia aliena credenti imputatur : tum quia percipitur & sentitur non mutatione naturæ, sed tranquillatione conscientiæ : tum denique quia per dispositiones in subjectum introduci, non justificationis, sed sanctificationis est. 2. Opera fidei oppositа non alia indigetari ab Apostolo, quàm quæ fidem antecedunt, oppidò falsum est, tum quia nulla veri nominis bona opera sunt, quàm quæ fidem sequuntur, uti supra probavimus : tum quia S. Paulus operanti hæc opera, quæ fidei opponit, non opponit operanti alia quædam, puta ea, quæ fiunt post fidem, sed simpliciter μὴ ἐργαζομένῳ non operanti Rom.IV.5. qualis utique non est, qui post fidem operatur : tum quia opera verè bona juſtificationem ſequuntur : tum quia ipſius Abrahami fidelis opera, fide poſteriora, excluduntur, Rom. IV. 2. tum quia ne opera quidem cum fide conjuncta juſtificare, S. Paulus contra Galatas, circumciſionem fidei ſociantes, adeóque fidem non ejurantes, demonſtrat hac poſita theſi, quòd nonniſi ex fide, non ex operibus juſtificatio contingat, Gal. II. 16. &c. v. 2. 4. 5. 6. tum denique, quia illa etiam opera excluduntur, ad quæ conditi ſumus, in Chriſto Jeſu, ut in iis ambulemus, Epheſ. II 8. 9. quæ ex fide utique ſunt, quia ad ea in Chriſto Jeſu conditi dicimur. Ex Auguſtini quidem mente S. Paulus loquitur de operibus fidem præcedentibus : S. Jacobus de iiſdem fidem conſequentibus. Veriſſimè. Sed obſervandum fuerat, de alia juſtificatione S. Paulum, de alia S. Jacobum loqui. S. Paulum de illa, quæ opera omnia, & præcedentia fidem & conſequentia : S. Jacobum de illa, quæ tantùm antecedentia, non conſequentia excludit. Verbo, illum de juſtificatione impii : hunc de juſtificatione juſtificati. uti inferiùs videbimus. 3. Cùm juſtificatio fiat per fidem, ceu cauſam proximam & unicam, à parte hominis, & fiat ſimul ſemélque, neceſſum eſt, etiam fidem actum ſuum juſtificantem ſimul ſemélque peragere, adeóque non incipere duntaxat, at non perficere, quod Tridentini ſtatuerunt. Alias in ipſa fide extra actum juſtificantem initii & progreſſus continuationem nulli negamus.

ARG. II. Qua ratione Abrahamus juſtificatus eſt, eadem juſtificamur & nos, quia quod de illo ſcriptum eſt, non ad illum duntaxat, ſed ad nos etiam pertinet, Rom. IV. verſ. 24. Atqui Abrahamus ſola fide juſtificatus eſt, Geneſ. XV. v. 6. Rom. IV. 3. Galat III. 6. Hebr. XI. 8. 9. Eodem ergo modo etiam nos juſtificamur. Neque tricari poſſunt Sophiſtæ, Scripturam nomine fidei intelligere opera Abrahami ex fide facta ; cùm Paulus ei fidei, qua juſtificatus is eſt, diſertè opponat etiam opera poſt juſtificationem, adeóque in fide facta.

Resp. Reding : 1. Abrahamus Deo credidit, & hoc ei ad juſtitiam imputatum eſt. An iccirco juſtificatus eſt ſola fide, dilectionis excluſiva ? Particula illa, Sola, ex Calviniſtici Spiritus tui cerebro fluit. Auguſtinus ſanè de Trin. XV. 18. negat ſine charitate fidem prodeſſe, aſſeritque fidem non facere utilem niſi charitatem. Sed & lib. de fide & operibus c. 14. ſcribit, S. Paulum non quamlibet fidem, qua in Deum creditur, ſed eam ſalutarem, planèque Evangelicam definiviſſe, cujus opera ex dilectione procedunt. ubi ſtatuit, fidem per dilectionem operari. 2. S. Paulus Rom. IV. 2. fidei Abrahami opponit opera non diſpoſitiva, ſed meritoria, illa videlicet, quibus merces imputatur ex debito. Aliter longè de operibus diſpoſitoriis, in ſtatu gratiæ factis, S. Jacobus cap. II. 22. loquitur. lb. pag 460. 461. Reſp. 1. Quis ſola fide, dilectionis excluſiva, quis fide ſolitaria juſtificatum dixit ? Ex cerebro tuo Monachali hoc fluit. Nunquam ſine dilectione fides eſt, ſicut nunquam oculus vivus à reliquo corpore revulſus. Quemadmodum autem non iccirco corpus, quia cum oculo conjunctum eſt, actum videndi edit, ſed ſolus oculus, licet non ſolitarius : planè ſic non iccirco dilectio juſtificandi actum elicit, quia cum fide juſtificante inſeparabiliter conjuncta eſt, ſed ſola fides, licet non ſolitaria, verùm nullo non tempore fructibus ſuis gravida, qui tamen non ad juſtificationem, utpote cujus objectum impium eſt, ſed ad ſanctificationem, & imaginis Divinæ reſtaurationem proficiunt. Hoc ſibi S. Auguſtinus ſtinus in locis à te citatis, non aliud, vult. Nuſpiam is dilectioni, vel cuivis operi alii juſtificationem tribuit; ſed inutilem ſine charitate fidem eſſe, pertendit. nempe quia ejuſmodi fides non vera fides, ſed fidei ſimulachrum & cadaver eſt. 2. Imò opera Abrahami quævis fidei Abrahamicæ, & diſpoſitiva & meritoria, S. Paulus opponit, quia fidem, qua promiſſionem Divinam de Semine illo, in quo gentes benedicendæ erant, apprehenderat, non quicquam aliud ad juſtitiam, qua coram Deo juſtificatus eſt, & ob quam apud Dominum gloriationem habuit, ei imputatum eſt. Si enim operibus etiam diſpoſitivis juſtificatus eſſet, habuiſſet καύχημα πρὸς τὸν Θεὸν, gloriationem apud Deum, (v. 2.) & fuiſſet ἐργαζόμενος operans, (an enim ſperans, timens, diligens &c. non eſt operans?) adeóque ei merces ex debito imputari debuiſſet, quia de quovis ἐργαζομένῳ operante id S. Paulus v. 4. affirmat. Atqui illum habuiſſe gloriam apud Deum, fuiſſe operantem, & propterea ei mercedem fuiſſe ex debito imputatam, Apoſtolus negat, & quidem ſolo iſthoc argumento, quia Abrahamus credidit, & hoc, (ſeu, quod actus ille credendi cum πληροφορίᾳ apprehendit) non aliud quicquam ei, & quidem ex gratia, non ex debito, ne anſam gloriandi apud Deum haberet, imputatum eſt. Planè igitur ſiculnea, & ex cerebro Sophiſtico petita tua operum diſpoſitivorum & meritoriorum diſtinctio eſt; quinimò S. Paulo omnia opera, etiam in ſtatu gratiæ facta (talia enim etiam erant opera Abrahami à Paulo excluſa, quia jam in ſtatu gratiæ, & fidelis erat, cùm de eo dictum eſſet: Credidit, & ei imputatum eſt ad juſtitiam,) removenti, eò quòd aliàs gloriari apud Deum potuiſſet, & merces ei non ex gratia, ſed ex debito imputanda fuiſſet; denique ſimpliciter credenti operantem opponenti, in os obloquitur. De ſententia S. Jacobi infra videtimus.

ARG. III. Juſtificatio conſiſtit in remiſſione peccatorum, quæ in Evangelio offertur & promittitur. Atqui promiſſionem hanc non amplectitur ſpes, quia ea rem promiſſam non apprehendit, ſed expectat: non charitas, quia ea promiſſionem jam apprehenſam amat, & fructus juſtitiæ jam applicatæ edit.

RESP. REDING: 1. Spes, utpote actus ſupernaturalis, ſuper fide fundatur. Si ergo ſpes, utpote remiſſionem peccatorum expectans, hujus promiſſionem apprehendere non poteſt, qui poterit juſtificationis iſthæc apprehenſio, ſive actualis conſecutio fidei, quæ ſpem præcedit, attribui? 2. Neque charitas remiſſionem peccatorum jam apprehenſam ſupponit, quia juſtificatio abſque charitate nullo modo ſubſiſtere poteſt. Qui enim non diligit, is manet in morte, 1. Joh. III. 10. Contra fides, quæ nata eſt diſponere ad juſtificationem, abſque charitate, adeóque etiam abſque juſtificatione conſiſtere poteſt, teſte S. Paulo 1. Cor. XIII. 2. Ergo non ſola fides peccatorum remiſſionem apprehendit. lb. pag. 461. 462. Reſp. 1. Detorques ſubdolè. Spem expectare rem promiſſam, non promiſſionem apprehendere; dixi. Tu mihi tribuis, quaſi ſentirem, ſpem remiſſionem peccatorum expectare, ac iccirco non apprehendere. Subdolè, inquam. Neque enim ſpes, cujus eſt rem promiſſam expectare, iccirco quamvis rem promiſſam, adeóque etiam remiſſionem peccatorum expectat. Hanc enim ſola fides apprehendit, & quam primùm apprehendit, actu ſuam facit, applicat, conſequitur. Alia ratio earum rerum eſt, quas quidem promiſſas fides, ut ad ſe pertinentes, at nondum actu collatas, apprehendit. Ita promiſſionem ſalutis, gloriæ cœleſtis, ceu ad nos pertinentis, fides apprehendit. Quia tamen non ſtatim atque fides eam ad ſe pertinentem apprehendit, actu confertur, ſed demum ſuo tempore conferetur, applicabitur, hinc adeò rem ſic promiſſam quidem, at non apprehenſione fidei actu conferendam, ſpes expectat. Et perſtat igitur argumentum meum, & Sophiſtice tua pellucet. 2. Juſtificationem absque charitate nullo modo conſiſtere poſſe, concedimus. Eſt enim neceſſarium illius conſequens, quo ſublato antecedens ipſum tolli neceſſum eſt. Sed dilectionem ipſam actu juſtificare, hoc ſcilicet tibi probandum, & ſimul argumento meo, quo charitatem remiſſionem peccatorum non apprehendere, probo, ſatisfaciendum fuerat. Fidem verò illam, cui juſtificationem Scriptura tribuit, vel charitate deſtitui poſſe, vel ſic natam eſſe diſponere ad juſtificationem, ut non ſemper juſtificet, non initii inſtar ad inducendam qualitatis formam, diſponendo, ſed actu pleno, perfecto unicóque, à parte ſcilicet hominis, juſtificando, probari nunquam poteſt. Nam πίστις πᾶσα omnis illa fides, quam ſine charitate nihil prodeſſe S. Paulus 1. Cor. XIII. 2. ſtatuit, nec juſtificans intelligitur, ſed fides omnis miraculoſa, etiam maxima; nec charitate iccirco deſtituitur, quia ſine charitate nihil prodeſſe eam Apoſtolus dicit. Ità nihil ſine corpore oculus poteſt. Neque tamen iccirco oculus videns à corpore ſeparari poteſt.

ARG. IV. Spes, timor, charitas, pœnitentia ſunt juſtificationis & vitæ ſpiritualis actus & fructus, adeóque poſteriores, Actor. XV. 9. 1. Tim. I. v. 5. Nempe vita ſpiritualis inchoatur juſtificatione, qua peccatum expiatur. Non igitur dici poſſunt ad eam diſponere ac præparare.

Resp. Reding: 1. Ne apicem quidem ejus rei in locis à te citatis reperiri eſt. 2. Si vita ſpiritualis juſtificatione inchoatur, quomodo eadem, vitæ ſpiritualis pars, juſtificationem expectat? 3. *Aliter longè S. Patres; Ignatius Epiſt. ad Epheſ. Gregorius Nazianzenus Orat. 40. de Bapt. Chryſoſtomus homil. 90. in Joh. Ambroſius in cap. 4. ad Hebr. Resp. Redino : Nego, præparationes illas esse partem justitiæ inhærentis. Potest enim etiam ante justificationem homo virtute gratiæ actualis fidei, spei & charitatis actus elicere, licet inhærens justitia, seu forma justificans nondum adsit, quia teste S. Paulo Rom. V. 5. charitas diffunditur in cordibus nostris per Spiritum S. qui datus nobis est. Hinc enim liquet, Spiritum S. ad eliciendos ejusmodi actus esse posse in homine etiam priùs, quàm charitas per Spiritum S. in cordibus nostris diffundatur ; adeóque in nobis per formam illam creatam habitet. Ib. pag. 463. 464. Resp. Nil nisi inanes logos fundis. Quò timor, spes, charitas pertinent, si ad inhærentis justitiæ habitus non pertinent? Posse autem ante justificationem & inhærentem justitiam auxilio quolibet gratiæ elici actus spei, charitatis & pœnitentiæ, perquam dilutum est. Actus enim quilibet ab habitibus fluunt, & in eorundem notitiam perducunt. Habitus igitur inhærentis justitiæ æquè, atque facultatum & potentiarum actus ipsas facultates & potentias supponunt. Quid quòd charitas virtutum omnium συμπλοκή quædam est? Quæ proin non aliter in dispositione, aliter in forma introducta sese habet. Denique loco S. Pauli Rom. V. 5. turpiter abuteris. Spiritus S. ita arguis, in homine prius habitat, quàm charitatem in corda diffundat. Quanquam id ex textu non probas, & non possit non Spiritus S. qui multò minùs, quàm ignis, otiosus est, templum suum, in quo habitat, sanctitate & charitate perfundere, imò & filios Dei adeóque ad imaginem Dei in justitia & sanctitate conditos, constituere, (Rom. VIII. 14) tamen, si prius etiam in homine habitaret, actus spei, charitatis, pœnitentiæ, sine eorundem habitibus, adeóque forma ipsa charitatis & justitiæ producere non posset. Pugnat enim sperare sine spei, diligere sine dilectionis inhærente habitu & forma.

ARG. VII. Nostram de sola fide justificante sententiam communem esse nobis cum Patribus, nominatim Augustino, Ambrosio & Bernhardo, fatentur Cardinalis Hosius epist. 17. ad Tapperum, & Medina. Quin & Cassander Consult. art. 4. concedit, locutionem hanc, quòd sola fides justificet, habere exempla vetustatis, citato eam in rem Hilario & Origene.

Resp. Redino : Duobus modis dici potest, sola fide nos justificari, vel absolutè, sic ut fides sit unica, adæquata & sufficiens causa justificationis : vel comparatè, cum respectu ad opera legis Mosaicæ & naturalis, ita ut nullum opus nisi in fide radicatum, & ex ea profectum ad justificationem disponere posse dicatur. Posteriori sensu Patres sola fide nos justificari subinde statuunt. Ita Origenes cap. 4. ad Rom fidem prima salutis initia & ipsa fundamenta, spem, profectum & augmenta ædificii, charitatem, perfectionem & cultum tonis operis appellat. Et Hilarius in Matth. cap. 7. opera cum fide conjungens, ait, salutem gentium omnium esse in fide, & in præceptis Domini vitam universorum. Et charitatem æquè ac fidem necessariam esse, Basilius Serm. de fide, & Chrysostomus passim, arguunt. Ib. pag. 464. Resp. Tuo sensu tensum Patrum dimetiris, & cuia distinctione commentitia, Patribus planè incognita, imperitis fucum facere paras. Sed ostendendum tibi fuerat, qui S. Nihil tale Origenes à te citatus, cujus verba ne quidem de sola justificatione, sed de universa salute, latiùs longè patente, loquuntur. Nil tale Hilarius, qui in salute & vita hominis fidem & opera conjungi, non nos justificari per opera fidem consequentia, docet. Reſp.1. Atqui etiam timorem inter diſpoſitiones juſtificationis Tridentini tui numerarunt. Jam ergo particula μόνον Solummodo, juxta te timorem excludit. Fallax porro regula tua eſt, quòd excluſivæ particulæ vis ſe non extendat niſi ad id, quod in eo textu ſe adverſativè habet. Quid enim, ſi nihil prorſus adverſetur? Et quam vim habebit excluſiva, ſi præter adverſans expreſſum in textu nihil excluſerit? Supervacua planè erit, & orationum intricabit magis. Tum etiam ſi qui alii actus non adverſantes includuntur, exprimi vel in eo textu, vel alibi deberet. Id verò nuſpiam factum. In loco Gal.II.16. ἀ μὴ Niſi manifeſtè ſoli fidei juſtificationem vindicat, & operibus eam abrogat. Opponi verò fidem operibus legis, ſine fide factis, rancidum veſtrum κεκοφώματα eſt, cui nulla Scriptura, ratio nulla fidem facit; plurima verò, uti ſupra oſtendimus, minuunt. Loquitur Apoſtolus, ut credens, atque ſe ipſum ſic includit: Etiam nos in Chriſtum Jeſum credidimus, ut juſtificaremur ex fide Chriſti, non ex operibus legis. Et ſatis apparet, ea opera Apoſtolum intellexiſſe, quibus qui caret, eſt ἁμαρτωλὸς peccator v.17. & ἄσεβὴς impius; & quæ qui habet, habet jus petendi mercedem ἐξ ὀφειλήματος ex debito, Rom.IV.4.5. 2. Fides in Chriſtum cùm non ſit opus legis, ſed actus Evangelii, ſic juſtificationem ſeu apprehenſam juſtitiam natura, non tempore antecedit, ut non iccirco vel opus ullum, (etenim fides opus non eſt) vel actus ſupernaturalis diſponens (etenim fides actus ſupernaturalis ſolus ubique exprimitur, non ut diſpoſitio formæ introductionem adjuvans, nec ut organon rem in Evangelio promiſſam recipiens) juſtificationem antecedat, vel fidei ſocietur. Stat igitur adamante fixa antitheſis fidei & operum, ut quod opera in juſtificatione à parte hominis non præſtant, vel ſola fides præſtare, vel nihil præſtare debeat.

Sic igitur conciliandi ſunt, ut neutrius aſſertio in periculum adducatur. Paulus igitur agit de ea juſtificatione, qua coram tribunali Dei abſolvimur à peccatis, quòd ſit ſola fide. Jacobus verò agit de juſtificationis ejus declaratione & oſtenſione coram hominibus, quæ non ſit per fidem, utpote in ſenſus non incurrentem, cujusque profeſſio poteſt eſſe hypocritica, ſed per fidei flores & fructus. Vel certè Paulus agit de ea juſtificatione, qua nobis imputatur perfecta juſtitia Chriſti ad abſolutionem à reatu peccati: Jacobus verò de ea, qua is, qui coram Deo juſtificatus & abſolutus eſt à reatu peccati, coram eodem juſtus etiam ſit juſtitia imperfecta inhærente quam nuper conci-

Relinquitur tamen adhuc quæſtio, quo ſenſu unus operibus univerſis omnem carnem, ſeu omnes homines, fideles & infideles juſtificari negaverit; alter operibus fidem conſequentibus nos juſtificari aſſeveraverit. OBIECT. V. Fides juſtificat non apprehendendo, ſed impetrando & promerendo juſtitiam. Sicut enim opera negantur juſtificare, ſenſus eſt, ea juſtitiam non promereri. Unde etiam per fidem & ex fide juſtificari dicimur. Atqui non ſola fides, ſed alia etiam juncta juſtitiam & ſalutem impetrant. Reſp. Fides cùm nec tempore nec ratione, ceu opus, præcedat juſtitiam, eam impetrare & promereri haud poteſt. Inprimis cùm ſola Chriſti juſtitia promeruerit hanc abſolutionem. Igitur ex fide & per fidem juſtificari dicimur relativè, reſpectu nimirum objecti juſtitiæ Chriſti, quam fides apprehendit. Neque aliud evincit antitheſis operum, quia Paulus non tribuit fidei, quod negat operibus. Negat operibus nos juſtificari quovis modo. At promerendo juſtificare fidem, nuſpiam docet.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si fides nec tempore, nec ratione juſtificationem præcedit, quomodo igitur ſe ad juſtificationem habet? Quomodo per fidem, & ex fide juſtificatur, ſi nulla cauſalitatis prioritas in fide eſt? 2. Fides reſpectu formalis effectus, quo juſtificatur conſtituitur, proportionem aliquam habeat oportet. Non poteſt autem alia eſſe proportio, quàm congruitatis, qua ſubjectum ad formam juſtificationis recipiendam habile redditur. Ib. pag. 467. 468. Reſp. 1. Fides, ceu opus juſtificationem cauſans, juſtificationem nullo modo præcedit: præcedit tamen, qua inſtrumentum juſtitiam oblatam apprehendens. Per fidem verò & ex fide juſtificati dicimur impropriè, quia juſtitiam propriè juſtificantem illa apprehendit. Sic manus in naufragio apprehendens tabulam, vel exporrectæ arboris ramum, quo totum corpus ſe ſuſtentat, ſalvare dicitur. 2. Habet igitur fides reſpectu juſtificationis proportionem non congruæ diſpoſitionis, ſubjectum ad formam recipiendam habile reddentis: ſed ordinati Divinitus organi, quo credentes Chriſtum λαμβάνειν accipiunt, Joh. I. 12.

OBIECT. VI. Si ſola fides juſtificat, ſola etiam ſalvat. Manente enim juſtitia, ſemper ſalus in certo eſt. Opera igitur ad ſalutem neceſſaria haud erunt. Reſp. Sola fides juſtificat, at non ſolitaria. Eſt enim ſemper conjuncta cum effectu ab ea emanante. Non tamen quod fides præſtat, etiam id præſtat, quod cum ea neceſſariò conjunctum eſt. Sicut nec quod oculus præſtat, etiam id, quod cum eo neceſſariò conjunctum eſt, præſtare dicitur. Igitur manente juſtitia ſemper ſalus in certo eſt, ita tamen, ut cum ea opera & charitatis habitus indivulſo nexu cohæreant. 2. Plus etiam ex ordinatione DEI requiritur ad ſalutem, quàm ad juſtificationem.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Atqui fidem & opera non ſemper conjungi, S. Jacobus cap. Comitantur igitur invicem in eodem effectu producendo, juſtificatione videlicet. 3. Cùm per juſtificationem ſimus filii Dei, & conſequenter etiam hæredes ſalutis, non plus igitur ad ſalutem, quàm ad juſtificationem requiritur. Ib. pag. 468. Reſp. Coccyſmos pridem protritos fundis. Etenim 1. fides mortua ὁμώνυμως talis eſt, non vera juſtificans. 2. Juſtificationis ex fide Paulinæ, & ex operibus Jacobinæ, diverſam rationem eſſe, non eandem, ſupra aſſeruimus.

ruimus. 3. Juſtificatio cauſa adoptionis, ſeu filiationis, adoptio cauſa proxima ſalutis & hæreditatis eſt. Non eaſdem igitur juſtificationis & ſalutis cauſas eſſe, manifeſtum eſt. Neque enim quia filii Dei ſumus, juſtificamur, ſed quia gratis per gratiam Dei juſtificamur, filii Dei evadimus. Apprehendentes enim Chriſtum poteſtatem habent, ut ſint filii Dei, Joh. I. 12.

OBIECT. VII. Fides quæ juſtificat, eſt illa viva, efficax & formata, quæ complectitur tum rerum revelatarum cognitionem, tum voluntatis præparationem, tum denique cum charitate legis totalem impletionem. Non igitur ſola juſtificat, ſed à charitate informata. Argumentum hoc in Concilio urgebat Marinarus. Reſp. 1. Si hæc eſt ratio fidei juſtificantis, non igitur fides in ſolo intellectu hærebit, nec juſtificabit diſponendo, ſed formaliter, quod negant reliqui Sophiſtæ. 2. Fides per charitatem eſt efficax, hoc eſt, per eam, tanquam effectum, operatur, non juſtificando, ſed renovando & ſanctificando: propriè tamen ejus vita, forma, eſſentia non in charitate, ſed in fiducia conſiſtit. 3. Quin in negotio juſtificationis charitas ejuſque opera fidei opponuntur. 4. Quid quòd ipſi Scholaſtici jampridem fidem, ſpem, charitatem diſtinxerunt ut ſpecies oppoſitas ſub eodem genere virtutis Theologicæ?

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Fidei actus eſſentialiter ſpectatus intellectui tantùm inhæret. Sed ejus efficacia ex ſpei inprimis & charitatis actibus pendet: atque ſic, quæ ex ſe erat remota duntaxat, per efficaciam illam fit proxima ad juſtificationem diſpoſitio. 2. Quamvis fides per actum dilectionis Dei formata in ratione proximæ ad juſtificationem diſpoſitionis efficax reddatur, non tamen formaliter juſtificans eſt. 3. Fiducia formaliter eſt actus voluntatis, & actum ſpei importat; fides verò intellectus. 4. Ipſe S. Paulus 1. Cor. XIII. 13. ſic fidem, ſpem, charitatem diſtinxit. Neque tamen in juſtificationis negotio ſibi invicem opponuntur. Nam qui non diligit, manet in morte, 1. Joh. III. 14. At juſtificatio & mortem excludit, & vitam reſtituit. Quomodo ergo dilectio fidei in juſtificatione opponitur? Oppoſitio igitur virtutum illarum non eſt contrarietatis, ſed diſparationis. Ib. pag. 469. Reſp. 1. Cùm in juſtificationis negotio fides non tantùm aſſentiatur promiſſioni, ſed in illam etiam cum plena fiducia feratur, & eam apprehendat, ut ſuam, clarum eſt, non intellectus tantùm, ſed voluntatis etiam facultatem eſſe. Nudus enim aſſenſus Evangelicæ promiſſioni habitus, ſine fiducia & ſtudio eam, ceu ad ſe pertinentem, accipiendi, & ſuam faciendi, non magis credentem juſtificat, quàm fides Diaboli eundem nudo aſſenſu credentem juſtificare poteſt. Non eſſe autem fidem vel diſpoſitionem, vel remotam, accedentibus diſpoſitionibus aliis, ad juſtificationem diſpoſitionem, non ſemel evicimus. 2. Proin etiam fidem per charitatem formari, atque ſic efficaciam juſtificandi ſortiri, Sophiſticum commentum eſt, omni & Scriptura & ratione deſtitutum. Cùm enim fides juxta vos meri aſſenſus, juxta nos & notitiæ, & aſſenſus & fiduciæ ſit; atque inſuper à S. Paulo 1. Cor. XIII. 13. ceu ſpecies charitati oppoſita, ab eadem diſtinguatur: imò 1. Tim. in actu juſtificandi opponantur. 3. Fidem verò eſſe fiduciam, ſequente quæſtione planum fiet. 4. De virtutum porro illarum, fidei, ſpei & charitatis diſtinctione, & oppoſitione non contrarietatis, ſed diſparationis, nemo noſtrûm dubitavit. quamvis in eo Scholaſtici non probentur, quòd ad illas, ceu cardines quoſdam, omnes virtutum Theologicarum ſpecies revocaverint. quam Apoſtoli mentem eſſe, negamus. In negotio autem juſtificationis ſibi invicem virtutes eas ſic opponi, ut actus juſtificans non vel ſpei vel charitati acceptus referri poſſit; atque inſuper charitas, ceu diſparatè oppoſita virtus, fidei forma eſſe nequeat, abundè probavimus. Neque enim S. Johannes 1. Epiſt. III. 14. charitatem vivificationis, & excluſæ mortis cauſam facit: ſed carentiam ejus mortui in peccato ſignum eſſe, declarat.

An fides juſtificans ſit fiducia Divinæ miſericordiæ, peccata propter Chriſtum remittentis?

NEgat Synodus canone XII. & aſſentem ſententiam anathemate notat. Nos affirmamus, & contendimus, fidem juſtificantem non eſſe aſſenſum nudum, ſed notitiam & aſſenſum conjunctum cum fiducia tali, qua cor in Deum & Chriſtum reclinat, ipſum tanquam arcem Dei apprehendit, ad ipſum confugit, & in ipſo ſecurè abſque ullo pavore acquieſcit. Per quod igitur fides ſalvifica & juſtificans à fide Diabolica diſtinguitur, id fidei juſtificanti inſit oportet. Atqui per ſolam fiduciam rei creditæ ad ſe pertinentis à Diabolica fide juſtificans diſtinguitur. Per fidem, inquis, captivatur intellectus ſub obſequium Chriſti, 2. Cor. X. 5. Imò τὰ ὅπλα τῆς στρατείας ἡμῶν δυνατὰ τῷ Θεῷ arma militiæ noſtræ potentia Deo, qualia ſunt verbum Dei, Rom. I. 17. ſpiritus Dei, fides, converſatio noſtra in cœleſtibus, charitas, patientia, &c. omnem mentem in obedientiam Chriſti captivant, hoc eſt, omnem intellectum, ſeu hominem intellectu præditum, omnem ſuperbè intelligentem, uti gloſſa Interlinearis τὸ νοητὸν intellectum explicat; ita conſtringunt, & devinciunt, ut cogantur fateri, non alitet juſtificari & ſalvari hominem poſſe, quàm ſi Chriſto obediat. Sed plus requiritur ad eam fidem, quæ juſtificat credentem, cùm fides talis, qua Chriſtum eſſe Salvatorem mundi confiteri omnes debent, electis & reprobis, ipſique Diabolo communis eſſe poſſit. Quid igitur fidem illam, niſi fiducia promiſſionis creditæ ad ſe pertinentis diſtinguit? Quid quòd cogitationes omnes rediguntur ad obedientiam Chriſti, quæ, ceu promptitudo voluntatis præcipienti ſubjecta, voluntatis eſt. Fides ad omnia Divinitus revelata ſe extendit, inquis. Ita eſt, reſpectu generalis objecti. At fides, electum à reprobo diſtinguens, peculiare quid Divinitus revelatum, & per Spiritum Dei oblatum intimatúmque, Chriſtum, & ejus donum, juſtitiam, ut ſuam, vitæ & communionis cum Deo cautàm apprehendit. Hinc adeò Hebr. XI. 2. &c. omnes illi, quorum fides ibi laudatur, v. 39. ad promiſſionem miſericordiæ in Chriſto collimaſſe dicuntur. 2. Habet quidem promiſſio illa juſtitiæ Chriſti conjunctam conditionem fidei, ſed quæ non ab arbitrio hominis, ſed à gratia & εὐδοκίᾳ Dei pendet; cujus etiam unà cum ipſo Chriſto donandæ revelatio tum in generali promiſſione Dei, quæ à ſingulis electis, utpote ad ſe pertinens applicatur; tum in teſtimonio & arrhabone ſpiritus eis dati, tum in obſignatione ſpeciali Sacramentorum ex Divina inſtitutione, tum denique in cordis ipſius tabulis & ſenſu intimo extat. Dicere enim S. Paulus potuit: Novi, cui crediderim, 2. Tim I. 12. licet, quòd crederet, nuſpiam in Scriptura ſpecialiter revelatum extiterit. Non enim, ſic præclarè S. Auguſtinus de Trin. lib. XIII. cap. 1. ſcribit. ſic, ut corpora oculis corporeis, videtur fides in corde, in quo eſt, ab eo, cujus eſt, ſed etiam tenet certiſſima ſcientia, clamátque conſcientia. Et cap. 2. Suam, inquit, quisque fidem apud ſemet ipſum videt, in altero autem credit eam eſſe, non videt.

ARG. III. Quæ de fiducia Spiritus S. enunciat, eadem alibi fidei tribuit. Ita Pſal. II. v. ult. beati dicuntur חוסי בו confidentes in Chriſto. Idem tribuitur fidei Marc. XVI. 6. Confer Eſai. XXVI 3. cum Rom. X. v. 11. Non poteſt igitur fides eſſe ſine fiducia.

RESP. REDING: Etiam fidei & fiduciæ in S. literis tribuitur beatitudo. An iccirco unus & idem actus ſunt? Siccitas & calor diſponunt ad formam ignis. An iccirco eadem ſpecie & numero qualitas ſunt? Ib. pag. 471. Reſp. Saltem inde fidei & fiduciæ in ſalvandis conjunctio individua probatur. quod nobis ſufficit.

ARG. IV. Eadem ſunt oppoſita fidei & fiduciæ. Fidei enim opponitur τὸ διακρίνειν, dubitare, Matth. XIV. 31. Rom. IV. 20. Jac. I. 6. τὸ μετεωρίζεσθαι, ſublimia ſapere, Luc. XII. v. 28. 29. ὀλιγοπιστία, Matth. VI. 3. VIII. 26. XIV. 31. יראה timor & metus, Eſai. XII. 2. Luc. VIII. 50. Marc. V. 36. diffidentia, Rom. IV. 20. Atqui hæc ipſa fiduciæ quoque ſunt oppoſita. Hinc eſt, quòd Abrahamus, cùm ei præceptum eſſet: Noli timere; addita declaratione divini propoſiti, Ego clypeus tuus ero, & promiſſione ſeminis cum ipſo in ſemine benedicendi, dicitur credidiſſe, Geneſ. XV. v. 1. 2. 6. Ubi fides oppoſita timori illi fiduciam neceſſariò includit.

RESP. REDING: Dubitare, aliud ſapere, eſt intellectus. Ergo in eodem eſt oppoſita ei fides. Timor contra & metus in voluntate eſt. Ergo in eadem oppoſita fiducia eſt. Sunt igitur actus re ipſa diverſi, licet eam inter ſe habeant connexionem, ut fiducia ſuper fidei certitudine radicetur, adeóque actus fidei contrarii radicaliter etiam fiduciæ opponantur. Ib. pag. 472. Reſp. Dubitare, ſublimia ſapere ita intellectus ſunt, ut tamen etiam fiduciæ, quæ voluntatis eſt, opponantur. Quæ ejus rei cauſa, niſi quòd fiducia fidei, ceu facultati complexæ, non ſimplici, ineſt? Neque enim propterea eadem utrique opponuntur, quia fiducia ſuper fidei certitudine radicatur, vel, uti Bellarminus loquitur, à fide oritur. Hoc enim omnes virtutes cum fiducia commune habent. Inde potiùs eſt, quia fiducia cum fide in eadem facultate, ceu perfectio ejus, vel illud, ad quod fides, quatenus in intellectu eſt, proximè tendit, & ſine quo in actibus ſuis, juſtificante inprimis, nec efficaciam, nec virtutis Theologicæ rationem habet.

ARG. V. Fidei juſtificantis effecta ſunt remiſſio peccatorum, Act. X. 13. juſtificatio, Rom. III. 28. Gal. II. 16. tranquillitas conſcientiæ, Rom. V. 1. benedictio cœleſtis, Gal. III. 9. purificatio cordis, Actor. XV. 9. victoria Sathanæ, Epheſ. VI. 16. acceſſus ad Deum, Rom. V. 2. vita & ſalus æterna, Johan. III 16. Marc. XVI. 16. Atqui hæc ſingula præſtat non nudus aſſenſus bonis juxta malisque, quin ipſi Diabolo communis, ſed inprimis fiducia erga promiſſionem ſpecialis miſericordiæ.

RESP. REDING: Effectus illi tribuuntur fidei non mortuæ, qualis etiam in Diabolum cadit, nec fiduciæ cuidam ſpecialis miſericordiæ; ſed fidei vivæ, quæ bonis operibus cooperatur, Jac. II. 20. 22. & per dilectionem operatur, Gal. V. 6. Ib. pag. 472. Reſp. Utique fidei vivæ tribuuntur. Sed fidei vita ejusdem eſſentia eſt. Atqui fidei eſſentia non charitas, non opera legalia, utpote à fide diſparata, & in juſtificante actu eidem oppoſita; ſed in genere verbi revelati notitia cum ὁμολογίᾳ aſſenſúque conjuncta; in ſpecie autem, quoad ſalvificam & juſtificantem fidem, verbi Evangelii ſeu promiſſionis notitia cum aſſenſu & fiducia, ſeu cordis in Deum reclinatione, & arcta Dei apprehenſione (Eſaj. XXVII. 5) conjuncta. Hoc ego aſſerui, & tu non impugnas.

ARG. VII. Fides comparatur cum aſpectu ſerpentis ænei, Joh. III. 14. 15. cum ſigillo, Johan. III. 33. cum cibo, Johan. VI. 35. 51. Atqui aſpectus ſerpentis erat fiducia erga promiſſionem Dei: ſigillum, quo obſignatur, Deum eſſe veracem, fiduciam exigit: cibus etiam fiduciam inſinuat, quia non prodeſt is, niſi applicatus & in ſuccum ſanguinémque converſus.

Resp. Reding: 1. In aſpectu Serpentis fides ſe habuit tanquam fundamentum fiduciæ erga Dei promiſſionem, licet actus diverſi fuerint. 2. Fides Deo, ceu primæ veritati innixa, voluntati prælucet, ut ſic excitata fiduciam concipiat. Non igitur ſigillum, quo obſignatur, Deum eſſe veracem, fiduciam exigit. 3. Fides cum cibo comparatur, quia applicationem per dilectionem exigit. Ib. p. 472. 473. Reſp. Perverſè omnia. Etenim 1. ipſe Serpentis aſpectus fiducialis erat. Neque enim non fiducialis, qualis hypocritarum eſſe potuit, salutaris, vel veræ fidei aspectus fuit. Atqui aspectus erat fidei. Fides igitur fiducialis erat. 2. Fides justificans sic primæ veritati innititur, ut non tantùm voluntati præluceat, atque sic voluntas fiduciam concipiat: sed tum in primam veritatem promittentem notitia & assensu fertur, tum eandem voluntatis motu & fiduciali assensu apprehendit. 3. Ita est. Comparatur fides cum cibo, ob applicandæ promissionis necessitatem. Atqui illam dilectione, à fiduciali assensu distincta, applicari debere, falsò asseris, neque probare potes. Ipsa fiducia amorem rei, cui confidimus, conjunctam habet. Nam credere in Christum est credendo amare, credendo diligere, credendo in illum ire, & membrum ejus effici. ut præclarè S. Augustinus tract. 29. in Joh. definit. Quis hoc nudo assensui tribuat? Interim responsiones tuæ saltem conjunctionem necessariam fidei cum fiducia confirmant. quod nobis sufficere potest.

ARG. VIII. Fidei objectum proprium est promissio gratiæ in Christo Mediatore. Perpetua enim est relatio inter verbum promissionis & fidem, quæ verbo illi innititur. Atqui promissio illa neutiquam nudo assensu, sed inprimis fiduciâ recipitur & applicatur.

RESP. REDING: 1. Fidei justificantis objectum ad quævis objecta sub obscuro Divinæ revelationis velamine obvoluta se extendit; non ad solum verbum Divinæ promissionis. Non igitur formaliter est fiducia, sed fiduciæ radix & fundamentum. Ib. pag. 473. Resp. Frivola responsio. Sic enim fidei objectum ad revelata omnia extendis, ut verbum promissionis non excipias. Quomodo enim exciperes, cùm promissio æquè, ac quodvis aliud verbum Dei, revelata sit. Si igitur in promissionem Dei fertur, quomodo non in promissionem misericordiæ, quæ extra Christum nulla est, in Evangelio oblatæ, & vera fide amplexandæ? Atqui non nudo, sed fiduciali assensu rem, ad nos pertinentem, salutis nostræ basin amplexamur. Non igitur fides justificans fiduciæ radix duntaxat, sed ipse fiducialis assensus, promissionis Evangelicæ apprehensio est; quatenus certa πιστική & πληροφορία, firmissima persuasione quisque fidelis sibi charitatem Dei in Christo speciatim applicat, Rom. VIII. 38. Gal. II. 20. Alia ratio est ejus fiduciæ, quæ acquiescentia & securitas quædam animi est, 2. Cor. III. 4. Phil. III. 4. quæ πεποίθησις confidentia appellatur, & ex persuasione nascitur. quam fidei effectum esse, ultro largimur. Nam de cujus erga nos gratia, verbo promissionis testata, persuasi sumus, ei non possumus non confidere, in eum toti non possumus non recumbere.

ARG. IX. Facit huc definitio fidei, quam ex Augustino tradit Lombardus dist. 33. lit. D. Credere in Deum est credendo amare, credendo in eum ire, credendo ei adhærere, & membris ejus incorporari. Agnoscit id ipsum Jansenius cap. 32. Harmon. Evangelicæ.

RESP. REDING: Annon amor à fide distinctus est? Si ergo, ut fides sit justificans, oportet credendo amare, fides non mortua, sed charitate fœcundata, justificat. Ib. pag. 473. Resp. Nec sic respondes, sed syllabas meas rodis. Quomodo fidei, quæ credendo amat, in Deum it, ei adhæret, & membris Dei incorporatur, uti ex Augustino Lombardus repetiit, fiducia non insit, hoc verò quæritur: ad hoc respondendum fuerat. Lombardo ὑπόνοιαν indicavi Jansenium, cujus in harm. Evang. cap. 32. hæc verba sunt: Rectissimè dicitur nomen fidei in Evangeliis, cùm ei tribuitur salus aut consecutio omnium, quæ volumus, complexi plectit utrumque, nempe & assensum illum firmum in credendis de Deo & Christo, & fiduciam ex illius omnipotente bonitate conceptam, quamvis in quibusdam locis magis videatur haberi respectus ad credulitatem & assensum illum mentis, in quibusdam verò ad fiduciam. Ita enim duo hæc ad invicem cohærent, ut nec fiducia possit esse sine credulitate, nec credulitas sine fiducia quicquam impetret à Deo, usque fiduciæ magnitudo ex credulitatis perfectione nascatur. Theologo & Episcopo huic Gandavensi jungere liceat Cardinalem inclyti nominis, Casparum Contarenum, qui tract. de justificat. sic sententiam nostram confirmat: Interdum actus ille, quo credimus, consuevit appellari fides, qui actus quamvis sit elicitus ab intellectu, est tamen imperatus à voluntate. Iccirco Apostolus dicit, ad obedientiam fidei. Credimus enim, quia volumus Deo obedire. Fides etiam quandoque appellatur fiducia, qua confidimus promissioni nobis factæ à quocunque. Verùm nos contrahimus hanc fidem ad promissionem Divinam, quæ est in Deo, quatenus promissa servat. Sic in Psalmo: Fidelis Deus, &c. In nobis verò est hac fides, prout fidimus promissioni Divinæ. Hæc fidei significatio pro fiducia est conjuncta significationi spei, quamvis spes propriè respiciat futura, fiducia verò etiam præsentia & præterita. Attamen propinqua est hæc fiducia spei. quamobrem sæpe una pro alia sumitur. Dehinc Cardinalis officium fidei in justificatione his verbis subjicit: Primus animi motus in justificatione est motus fidei, quem motum seu actum appellamus fidem. Hic autem motus incipit à voluntate, quæ obediens Deo & fidei efficit, ut intellectus assentiatur absque hæsitatione traditis à Deo; & ideo promissionibus Divinis confidat, & concipiat ex illis firmam fiduciam, quæ pertinet ad voluntatem. ut quasi circulo quodam incipiat à voluntate hac fides, & desinat in voluntatem. Promissio autem Dei, cui firmiter credit, est, ut inquit B. Thomas, quòd Deus remittat peccata, & justificet impium per ministerium Christi. Ipse enim est author salutis omnibus credentibus in eum. En, Redingi, non olim duntaxat ad structuram Templi aliquid à Republica Israëlis alieni contulerunt; sed singulari Numinis providentia id hodiéque fit. Restat tua ex verbis Augustini & Lombardi argutatio. Fides, inquis, credendo amat: Ergo non sola fides, sed etiam charitas justificat. Fidem credendo amare, rectissimè S. Augustinus dixit. Et ex eodem Lombardus monuit. Neque verò aliter esse potest, cùm in eo, quod Deus testatur, & salutaris fides recipit, sit manifestatio gloriæ Dei, atque adeò fides sit amor gloriæ Dei, non tantùm prout is verax est in verbo, sed etiam, prout virtutes suas per testimonium patefacit. Sic qui credit, dicitur Deo dare gloriam, Rom. IV. 20. & ἀγαπᾶν τὴν δόξαν αὐτοῦ amare gloriam ipsius. Joh. XII. 43. & sæpe in Scripturis amare nomen Dei, Psal. V. 12. Fides enim est obedientia, Rom. I. 5. & ὑποταγὴ subjectio, 2. Cor. IX. 13. & contraria infidelitas ἀπείθεια inobedientia, Joh. III. 36. 1. Petr. II. 8. Nemo autem obedit, nisi qui diligit & Dominum, & illius dominium atque imperium. Una charitate suaviter & veraciter obeditur, inquit S. Augustinus de bono perser. cap. 16. Et quomodo fides, quæ est receptio Salvatoris & Domini, justitiam ac salutem donantis, sine amore esse potest? Quomodo amabiles Numinis virtutes, veracitatem, Sapientiam, bonitatem, Sanctitatem, justitiam cernens & apprehendens vera fides, non tota in ejus amorem exardescet, exultabit & deliciabitur? Etiam Scholastici vestri requirunt in voluntate virtutem, quæ moveat intellectum ad assensum talem, quæ veritatem Dei obsignet. Sed negant esse charitatem, nominántque studiositatem & piam affectionem. uti Valentia tom. 3. ad Thom. d. 1. q. 1. punct. 4. §. 1. pag. 62. Groppe-rus tamen Enchir. cap. de pœnit. nobis totus suffragatur his verbis: Nec hoc omittendum est, fidem secundum priores duas credendi rationes in intellectu consistere: secundùm tertiam.

certam verò etiam in voluntate, quod actio fidei ſit acceptæ, quod eſt credere, fidere, adhærere Deo, non ſolo intellectu, quem fides illuminat, ſed & voluntate, quam accedente charitate inflammat, perficiatur. Non igitur non ſola fides propterea juſtificat, quia in ea etiam amorem eſſe cum Scriptura & Auguſtino ſtatuimus. Diſtinguere enim debuiſti amorem Dei, ut ſe per teſtimonium offerentis ad fœdus, ab amore omnium attributorum Dei, & operum ejus, & proximi; nec non ab ardore eo, in quem excreſcimus, & à tranquilla ſuavitate, qua in Deo deliciamur. Ille veræ fidei non poteſt non ineſſe: hic, ceu charitas, à fide diſtinguitur, & à fide, ceu effectus, oritur.

ARG. X. Dogma hoc Synodi aurigatur ad ſtatuminandam & nutriendam dubitationem de gratia Dei, quam in ſequenti quæſtione oppugnabimus.

RESP. READING: Dubitatio gemina eſt, vel de promiſſione gratiæ juſtificantis ſub conditione pendente à fide per dilectionem facundata: vel de promiſſione abſoluta, & à ſubjecti diſpoſitione independente. Hanc, non illam dogma Synodi excludit. Ib. pag. 473. Reſp. Quis noſtrûm promiſſionem gratiæ juſtificantis ſic abſolutam ſtatuit, ut à fide, ceu inſtrumento hæc independens ſit? Et promiſſionis gratiæ & fidei par certitudo eſt. Non enim ſic Chriſti juſtitia promiſſa eſt, quin ſimul promiſſa ſit fides, ceu purum putum Dei donum. Atque idem & acceptæ juſtitiæ, & acceptæ fidei ſenſus; eadem continuandæ utriuſque certitudo eſt.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Paulus Hebr. XI. 1. fidem definit ſubſtantiam rerum ſperandarum, quia repræſentat res futuras intellectui. Atqui hoc non eſt fiducia, quæ voluntatem, ſed aſſenſus, qui intellectum occupat. Reſp. Fides vocatur eorum, quæ ſperantur, ὑπόστασις pollicitatio quædam & repræſentatio. Nam ea quæ ſperantur, ὑφίσταται pollicetur ſibi, tanquam periculum omne & aleam ambiguitatis ſubiens, vel fiſtit & repræſentat, tanquam ſi illa jam haberet. Id quod eſt מַחְסֶה præſtolantis. Apoſtolus 2. Cor. IX. 4. & XI. 17. vocat ὑπόστασιν καυχήσεως, fiduciam gloriationis, velut ſi quis dicat: ὑφίσταμαι καυχᾶσθαι habeo fiduciam gloriandi, audeo gloriari. Ita ὑφίστασθαι τὰ ἐλπιζόμενα eſt ſibi promittere res ſperatas, ſubire periculum ſperatorum. Ita ὑπόστασις ſimpliciter eſt fiducia, ſeu ſponſio, quâ nobis aliquid promittimus, vel gloriatio. Unde pro תוחלת Pſal XXXIX. 8. & pro תקוה Ruth. I. 12. LXX. reddunt ὑπόστασις.

Tu verò, qui hæc ſolidè ignoras, aptiſſimus es omnium, & Criticorum ocellus! Quid ni? In loco enim 2.Cor.IX. 4. interrogare potuiſti: An ſic hypoſtaſis fiduciam notat? Hæc tota tua criſis eſt. Imò verò ὑπόστασις τῆς καυχήσεως fiduciam gloriationis eo loco ſonat. Nam ὑφίστημι καυχᾶσθαι ſignificat audere gloriari. Unde Polybius ὑπόστασιν & θλῖμμα jungit, & ὑποστελλόμενον explicat θλιμμὸν. Et Hebr. III. 14. ὑπόστασις non aliud quàm καύχημα fidentem gloriationem notat. In altero loco 2.Cor.XI. 17. Paulus ait, quod loquitur, ſe loqui, ἐν ὑποστάσει τῆς καυχήσεως. quaſi dicat, ὅτι ὑπόστασιν καυχᾶσθαι, quia fidenter glorior Hinc adeò vocem Hebræam תקוה, quæ fiduciam illam, quæ in ſpe (nam alia fidei, alia ſpei fiducia eſt) eſt, ὑπόστασιν Septuaginta Interpretes in locis Ruth. I. 12. (quem ob vocis Hebraicæ ignorantiam reperire non potuiſti) & Ezech. XIX. 5. reddunt. Nam ὑφίστημι etiam ſuſtinere, non cedere, fidenter contraire, ſignificat. 2. Pollicitationis hujus, quam ὑπόστασιν S. Paulus vocat, ea natura eſt, ut rem promiſſam & ſperatam, ſibi, perinde ac jam præſtitam, repræſentet. Quomodo verò res ſic repræſentata, perinde ac ſi ſubſiſteret in eo, cui repræſentatur, fiducia carere poteſt? Quomodo repræſentatum abeſſe à voluntate fidente & amante poteſt? Non enim duntaxat intellectui ſpeculandum, ſed voluntati etiam recipiendum, apprehendendum, amandum offertur. Thomas 2. quæſt. 4. a. 1. ſcribit, habitudinem actus fidei ad finem, qui objectum voluntatis eſt, ſignificari. Alexander Alenſis, fidei eſſe ſubſtantiale, ſeu formale eſſe in affectione; & ratione affectionis dici ſubſtantiam. Neque פ׳סא perſuaſio, certitudo rei ad ſe pertinentis fidei ſine fiducia tali ineſſe poteſt. Quis enim non videt, fiduciam magis quàm vel notitiam, vel aſſenſum, res ſperandas præſentes & noſtras facere?

OBIECT. II. Ibidem Paulus fidem definit ἔλεγχον demonſtrationem rerum, quæ non videntur. Atqui hoc ipſum etiam pertinet ad intellectum, cujus eſt convinci argumentis, aſſentiri, judicare. Fiducia autem eſt in voluntate. Reſp. Imò ἔλεγχος talis eſt demonſtratio, tale argumentum eorum, quæ non videntur, ut ipſam voluntatem intimè afficiat, ſpe certiſſima eorum, quæ non videntur, ſuſtentet, adeóque fiduciâ impleat. Eſt enim talis demonſtratio, qua id, quod ſperatur, non videtur, applicatur tanquam præſens & jam poſſeſſum. Hoc ſine fiducia minimè fieri poteſt.

EXCIP. REDING: *Fidem Apoſtolus dicit eſſe elenchum, hoc eſt, demonſtrationem, vel, uti Syrus vertit, perſuaſionem ac certitudinem rerum non apparentium. Hoc totum formaliter ad intellectum pertinet. Cauſaliter tamen importat actum voluntatis, quia certitudo ea eſt de rebus inevidentibus, adeóque ſine motione voluntatis motivum ex ſe ſufficiens ad intellectum non eſt. essent. Ita ut non intellectui duntaxat cognoscendæ, sed voluntati etiam amplectendæ sistantur. Cœterùm ἔλεγχος notat demonstrationem rerum, quæ non videntur, non quamvis, sed demonstrationem rerum ad nos pertinentium & applicandarum; & argumentum vel demonstrationem significat non propriè, sed per metonymiam effecti. Nam, uti eleganter Alex. Alensis pag. 3. quæst. 68. m. 5. a. 2. observat, in Logicis argumentum facit fidem: sed in Theologicis fides facit argumentum. Fiducia autem in voluntate est mihi proprium argumentum rei non visæ, perinde ac si eam præsentem viderem; facitque intellectum sic assentiri huic veritati, (illæ res sunt meæ) quasi omni rationis evidentia de illa jam convictus esset. Proin fides potissimùm ratione fiduciæ voluntati inhærentis, & ad fidem formaliter pertinentis, ejusmodi elenchus & demonstratio est. Unum addo, perversè te, cum obscuris Scholæ tuæ doctoribus, ex verbis Apostoli, quòd fides sit demonstratio eorum, quæ non videntur, colligere, eam versari circa inevidens, adeóque alio, voluntatis scilicet, motivo indigere. perinde ac si, uti Gabriel Biel 3. S. d. 23. q. 2 a. 3. dub. 4. loquitur, apprehenso vero certo, sed inevidenti, adeóque non sufficienter probato, non cogatur intellectus assentiri, nisi ex imperio voluntatis. Quod revelationis Divinæ certitudinem longè infra scientiarum naturalium certitudinem detrudit. Equidem quod creditur, non videtur. Non tamen inevidens est. Nam & verba, quibus revelatur, habent evidentem adeò sententiam, ut mente nostra possimus intueri, quid in mente & animo loquentis sit, sive quid is à nobis velit intelligi, credi, sperari. Et quod per consequentiam evidentem concluditur ex revelatis, evidens est, quia evidenter conclusum est, & evidenter sequitur. Ipsum tamen illud non videtur, æquè atque illud, ex quo concluditur. Evidens est, eum, qui promittit justificationem, etiam promittere glorificationem. An iccirco justificatio & glorificatio videtur, & non creditur? Aliud scilicet est evidentia consecutionis, aliud evidentia rei ipsius, ejúsque visio.

OBIECT. III. Idem Paulus Hebr. XI. 6. Fidei actum facit, credere Deum esse, & remuneratorem esse eorum, qui ipsum quærunt. At hoc ad assensum intellectus, non fiduciam voluntatis pertinet. Resp. 1. Quid si ad assensum solum maximè referenda essent, quæ hic Apostolus fidei tribuit? An idcirco fidem non esse fiduciam sequeretur? Posito uno non statim removetur concomitans. 2. In eo quod peccator credit, esse Deum, non tantùm est convictio, quòd extet ens primum, æternum & independens, sed etiam, quòd sit justus, sanctus, dissimilis peccatori, qui justificet impium sine abnegatione sui & desertione judicii, adeóque non sine merito Christi. Et in eo quòd credit, Deum esse remuneratorem quærentium se, continetur fides seu fiducia in promissionem ejus, qui potestatem dat restipulandi à Deo in bona conscientia id, quod præmium Deus nominavit. Neutrum sine fiducia obtinere potest.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si fiducia respectu fidei solùm concomitans est, realiter igitur inter se distinguuntur. 2. Credere quòd Deus sit Ens primum, æternum, independens &c. annon est accedere ad Deum? Adeóque intelligi potest sine justificatione? Contrarium tamen supra pertendisti. 3. S. Paulus distinguens fidem, quòd Deus sit, & quòd remunerator sit, arguit, quòd præcisa de Dei existentia dari possit fides, quæ in cætera Dei attributa non feratur.

Quamo-

Quomodo igitur in fide tali erit fiducia? 4. Et quomodo fiducia eſt in fide ea, quòd Deus ſit remunerator, cùm non aliud ſit, quàm firma de Deo remuneratore perſuaſio? lb. p. 475. Reſp. 1. Sophiſtam pro more agis. Non fidem, ſed aſſenſum concomitari fiduciam dixi. 2. Qui ad Deum accedit, credere debet, quòd Deus ſit, & quòd juſtus, ſanctus ſit, & peccatorem juſtificet. Sed non quiſquis hæc credit, ad Deum accedit. Proin Apoſtolus accedenti ad Deum utrumque, & quòd Deus ſit, & quòd remunerator ſit quærentium ſe, credendum eſſe aſſeverat. Neque uſpiam affirmavi, ad juſtificationem, quæ acceſſum ad Deum munit, ſufficere fidei priorem illum actum ſine poſteriori, qui manifeſtè fiduciam includit. Quomodo enim ſine fiducia credere quiſquam poteſt, Deum ſui, quærentis eum, remuneratorem eſſe? 3. Poſſe dari fidem, quæ feratur in Dei exiſtentiam, & non ſimiliter in ejus attributa omnia, otioſè pertendis. Quis enim tantillum dubitat? At credi poteſt Deum eſſe, exiſtere, ſanctum, juſtum eſſe ſine fide, quòd is remunerator quærentis ſui. Hoc enim fiduciam exigit. 4. Adeóque fides Dei remuneratoris quærentium ſe non nuda de Deo remuneratore perſuaſio eſt, ſed ejusdem apprehenſio & applicatio, qua quærentem ſic remuneratur, ut pretioſiſſima promiſſa impleat.

OBIECT. IV. Fides in Scriptura diſtinguitur à ſpe, 1. Cor. XIII. v. 14. Atqui ſpes eſt fiducia corroborata. Non igitur fiducia ineſt fidei. Reſp. 1. Fides & ſpes ita diſtinctæ ſunt, ut ſimul tamen ſint conjunctiſſimæ. Nam & fidei ſpes ineſt, & ſpei fides. Qui credit promittenti, ſperat. Qui ſperat, credit ſe bona promiſſa conſecuturum. Fidei eſt, res promiſſas ſibi polliceri, & de iis gloriari, quia ſecundum verbum promittentis ſperat. Quatenus futura bona expectat cum patientia, promtitudine & deſiderio obtinendi, ſperat: quatenus promittenti aſtipulatur & ſubſcribit, credit. Ita etiam Cardinalis Contarenus de Juſtif. explicat. 2. Ineſt igitur & ſpei & fidei ſua fiducia. Spei fiducia eſt, qua fidenter & ſecurè expectantur bona promiſſa. Fidei, qua bonis promiſſis fidenter & conſtanter ſubſcribimus.

Excip. Rebine: 1. Si fidei ſpes ineſt, ſpes de fidei eſſentia erit, eámque conſtituet. Quomodo ergo virtutes diſtinctæ ſunt? 2. Fides eſt radix & fundamentum ſpei, non formaliter ipſa ſpes. 3. Diverſi fidei & ſpei ſunt effectus formales. Fides enim, uti ipſe ex Contareno diſtinguis, Deo promittenti aſtipulatur: ſpes bona futura expectat cum promptitudine & deſiderio obtinendi. In ſpe igitur eſt ſecuritas & confidentia, quæ ad voluntatem; in fide certitudinis firmitas, quæ ad intellectum pertinet. lb. pag. 475-476. Reſp. 1. Quis non ineptias tuas deploret? Tu ipſe fidem ſpei radicem & fundamentum appellaſti. Annon verò arbor radici, domus fundamento ineſt, & viciſſim? An ſic fides & ſpes, etiam juxta te, radix & arbor, fundamentum & domus eadem formaliter ſunt, atque ſe conſtituunt? Clavus parieti ineſt. An parietem conſtituit, vel paries formaliter eſt? Quæ ſibi mutuò inſunt, conjunctiſſima, cognata & inſperabilia non eadem ſunt. Qui credit, ſperat: qui ſperat, credit. Non iccirco vel facultates, vel actus formaliter iidem ſunt. Sicut non ideo fides charitas eſt, quia, qui ſalvificè credit, amat; & qui ſalvificè amat, credit. 2. Fides ſpei fundamentum & radix eſt tam ob certitudinem expectationis boni promiſſi, quæ omnis à fide derivetur oportet; tum quia non ſperatur quicquam, quin ante fide credatur, ſeu promiſſum apprehendatur. Nos enim Spiritu, ex fide ſpem juſtitiæ expecta- mus, Gal. V. 5. Cùm enim fides apprehendat, quod promittitur, & ſpes expectet, quod promittitur: tota jam differentia inter fidem & ſpem eſt ratio præſentis & futuri. Unde futilitas diſtinctionis veſtræ, qua conceditis, fideles de ſalute ſua certos eſſe poſſe certitudine ſpei, non certitudine fidei, pellucet. Eadem enim utriuſque certitudo eſt, & quicquid certitudinis ſpes habet, id omne à fide, quam fundamentum ſpei eſſe agnoſcis, habet. Hinc adeò in Scripturis, præſertim V. T. ſpes ſæpiſſime pro fide ponitur. 3. Licet igitur fidem & ſpem formaliter differre non negemus: non iccirco tamen conjunctiſſimæ & inſeparabiles non ſunt, vel fiducia, quamvis diverſa ratione, & fidei & ſpei non ineſt. Id Contareni à me laudati verbis tract. de juſtif. explicabo. Sic autem ille: In nobis eſt hæc fides, prout confidimus promiſſioni Divinæ. Hæc fidei ſignificatio pro fiducia, conjuncta eſt ſignificationi ſpei, quamvis ſpes propriè rejiciat futura, fiducia verò etiam præſentia & præterita; attamen propinqua eſt hæc fiducia ſpei. Quamobrem ſæpenumero una ſumitur pro altera. Damaſcenus lib. IV. ſic explicat, fidem illam Hebr. XI. 1. interpretatur per ſpem. Apoſtolus Rom. IV. 19. 20. opponit diffidentiæ fidem, id eſt, confidentiam.

OBIECT. V. S. Paulus Epheſ. III. v. 12. Fiduciam à fide diſtinguit ajens, habere nos fiduciam & acceſſum in confidentia per fidem. Ergo fides non eſt fiducia. Reſp. 1. Argumentum invertimus. Ex fide juſtificante oritur confidentia ac παῤῥησία. Atqui ex ſolo aſſenſu minimè ea oriri poteſt. Non igitur fides juſtificans nudus aſſenſus eſt. Deinde dicimur habere per fidem fiduciam in confidentia. Quomodo igitur fides à fiducia ſeparari poteſt? Cùm fiducia non fidei tantùm ſit, ſed etiam ſpei, quid obſtat, quò minùs per fidem dicat Apoſtolus, nos habere fiduciam ſpei? 3. Denique quid obſtat, quò minùs fidei effectum formalem, παῤῥησίαν & πεποίθησιν à fide, tanquam cauſa, diſtinguat Apoſtolus?

EXCIP. READING: 1. Argumentum in te retorqueo. Unus enim actus non poteſt ad alium à ſe diſtinctum actum comparari, tanquam effectus formalis. At fidem eſſe actum à ſpe & fiducia diſtinctum, faſſus es. Nequit ergo fiducia fidei formalis eſſe effectus. Et ſanè ſi per fidem habemus fiduciam, non poteſt non fides eſſe cauſa fiduciæ. Nam illud διὰ, per, cauſalitatem notat. 2. Quidni ex aſſenſu, qui pro objecto habet promiſſionem, ex ipſa prima veritate certificatam de juſtificatione ex Chriſti meritis per fidem, pœnitentiam &c. applicanda, firma erga Deum fiducia oriri queat? Ib. pag. 476. Reſp. 1. Torques, non retorques. Fides includit notitiam, aſſenſum, fiduciam. Nôſſe, aſſentiri, fiduciam habere ſunt effectus formales fidei, reſpectu partialium ejuſdem formarum. Quomodo charitatis effectus formalis eſt amare. Non ergo fiduciam habere eſt effectus formalis fidei reſpectu cujuſvis formæ, ſed reſpectu formæ partialis, quæ πεποίθησις fiducia eſt, neque à fiducia aliter, quàm actus ab habitu diſtinguitur. Et διὰ πίστεως per fidem ἴσχομεν τὴν παῤῥησίαν habemus fiduciam; quomodo per animam homo habet facultatem intelligendi, volendi, & actu intelligit, vúltque. An iccirco intellectus & voluntas vel actus intelligendi & volendi ab anima diſtingui poteſt? Neque enim διὰ per hic cauſalitatem aliam, quàm formæ reſpectu effectus formalis, notat. 2. Aſſenſus ille, quo veritati primæ promittenti rem ad nos pertinentem aſſentimur, habet conjunctam fiduciam. At per fidem, & ſolo aſſenſu ea conſtat, fiduciam habere non poſſumus. Plus igitur ad fidem juſtificantem tem, quàm aſſenſus requiritur. Aliud eſt, per fidem habere, aliud per fidem acquirere fiduciam.

OBIECT. VI. Si fides eſt fiducia ſimul & aſſenſus ac notitia, erit ſimul in intellectu & voluntate. Atqui impoßibile eſt, ut una eadémque facultas diverſis ſubjectis inſit. Reſp. 1. Argumentum eſt non ex ſchola Spiritus S. ſed philoſophicis regulis petitum, quod veritati ex Scriptura demonſtratæ haud præjudicat. Nam Spiritus S. fidem in voluntate collocat, Rom. X. 10. ubi aſſerit, corde nos credere ad juſtitiam. 2. Ipſi Scholaſtici fidem quodammodo ad voluntatem referunt, ut Thomas 2. 2. q. art. 2. Biel. 3. ſentent. diſt. 23. q. 2. art. 3. dub. 4. Durandus etiam negat, intellectum & voluntatem eſſe potentias diſtinctas, aſſerítque, eſſe unam eandemque entitatem abſolutam, quæ propter relationem ad diverſos actus diverſarum potentiarum nomina ſortiatur. Cum quo etiam J. C. Scaliger Exercit. CCCVII. 3. facit. 3. Fides, utpote ex actibus diverſis compoſita; in intellectu eſt reſpectu notitiæ & aſſenſus, in voluntate reſpectu fiduciæ. Quomodo juſtitia originalis complectitur lucem notitiæ in mente, rectitudinem voluntatis, & affectuum cum lege DEI conformitatem.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Sic S. Paulus Rom. X. 10. ait, nos corde credere, ut 2. Cor. X. 5. doceat, captivare nos debere intellectum in obſequium fidei. Ergo fides formaliter eſt in intellectu, imperativè & motivè à voluntate. 2. Poſita ſententia Durandi, quòd intellectus & voluntas in ratione potentiarum non diſtinguatur realiter; earum tamen actus ſunt diſtincti. Quæſtio ergo manet, an fides in actu intellectus, an voluntatis, an utroque ſit. lb. pag. 476 477. Reſp. 1. De loco 2 Cor. X. 5 ſupra vidimus. Nihil ibi vel de fide, vel de intellectu nominatim dicitur. Νόημα enim, non νοῦς captivari dicitur; & quidem in obedientiam Chriſti, quam fidem eſſe Apoſtolus Rom. I. 5. declarat. Obedientia autem voluntatis proprius actus eſt juxta Thomam 2. 2. q. 1. a. 2. ad 3. ubi eam promptitudinem voluntatis ſubjectæ præcipienti definit. Sed & Rom. X. 10 non à corde movente & imperante fides eſſe; ſed τῇ καρδίᾳ πιστεύειν fide nos credere dicitur; planè ſicut ore confitemur, hoc eſt, fidem cordis pronuntiamus. Voluntas igitur credit, ſicut os confitetur; non movendo aliud, ſed actum proprium ex ſe, tanquam ſubjecto, eliciendo. Ita Thomas ad loc. cit. Corde, inquit; creditur, id eſt, voluntate. Et ſanè non excludi voluntatem, vel hinc cognoſcas, quòd fides 1. Tim. I. 5. 2. Tim. I. 5. appellatur ἀνυπόκριτος, expers hypocriſeos. quæ non in intellectu, ſed in voluntate eſt. 2. Sive igitur de facultatibus animæ, ſive de actibus intellectus & voluntatis diſtinctis ſermo eſt, ad utraque fidem pertinere, pervicimus.

QUÆSTIO XI.

An fides juſtificans, apprehendens gratiam remiſſionis peccatorum, debeat in ſpecie de gratia & juſtificatione dubitare, an potiùs de ea certò confidere?

PRius affirmat Synodus Cap.9.nec non Can.13.& 14. Negat quenquam ſcire poſſe certitudine fidei, cui non poteſt ſubeſſe falſum, ſe gratiam Dei eſſe conſecutum. Negat oportere eos,qui verè juſtificati ſunt,abſque ulla omnino dubitatione apud ſe ſtatuere, ſe eſſe juſtificatos. Etſi verò de ſententia decreti Synodici diſceptant adverſarii, plerique tamen, inprimis Jeſuitæ, ita illud interpretantur, quòd fidelis ex conjecturis & ſignis probabilibus equidem de futura felicitate ſua bene ſperare, nihil tamen certò concludere, vel certitudine fidei de ea cognoſcere poſſit. Orthodoxam ſententiam Synodus Dordracena ad artic. 5. ſic contractam proponit. Primò, poſſe & debere quemvis fidelem perſuaſum habere, quòd per miſericordiam Dei Patris ſui ſit in vera fide conſervandus, & ad æternam vitam perducendus. Secundò talem fidei perſuaſionem extra ſtudium pietatis & uſum mediorum in actum exire non poſſe. Tertiò non conſequi fidem eum certitudinis gradum, qui omnem contrarii formidinem perpetuò excludat. Fidei enim illam perſuaſionem aliquando eſſe vividam, aliquando languidam, aliquando, ut in graviſſimis tentationibus, nullam. Quartò eluctari tamen ad extremum fidem, & apprehendere paternam Dei erga ſe miſericordiam, vitámque æternam ſibi infallibiliter conferendam non incertæ opinationis, aut ſpei conjecturalis, cui falſum ſubeſſe poſſit, actu, ſed veræ & vivæ fidei per adoptionis Spiritum in ejus corde excitatæ & obſignatæ. Adeò quidem ut huc redeat quæſtionis ſtatus: An Chriſtianus fidelis adultus, & poſſit non tantùm de præſenti, ſed futuro ſtatu, non quoad actum continuatum, ſed fundamentum & habitum nunquam amiſſum, & debeat non ex dignitatis propriæ, ſed dignationis divinæ & cuſtodiæ deliberato intuitu, certus eſſe non certitudine tantum objecti; non experientiæ, prudentiæ, & intelligentiæ, ſed fidei vivæ & juſtificantis, ex conſcio examine & fiducia, de ſua tam via quàm patriæ ſalute? Hoc affirmamus nos, negant illi. Rationes noſtræ pro hac fidei certitudine contra dubitationem à Synodo laudatam, ſunt.

ARG. I. Fidei ineſſe fiduciam gratiæ & remiſſionis peccatorum, jam oſtenſum. Qui igitur credunt, & credendo apprehendunt gratiam, eo ipſo confidunt, non dubitant. Ubi enim aperta, evidens, plena & fiducialis intercedit de peccatorum remiſſione perſuaſio, παῤῥησία, πεποίθησις, πληροφορία, ibi neceſſariò ſequitur ſalutis certitudo. Sicut enim fides à fideli ſeparari nequit: ita nec iſta proprietas à fide.

RESP. REDING: 1. Si fides abſque certitudine ſubſiſtere nequit, quomodo juxta Dordracenos tuos non conſequitur eum certitudinis gradum, qui omnem contrarii formidinem perpetuò excludat? Et ſi fides eſt evidens perſuaſio, quomodo eorum eſt, quæ non videntur, uti S. Paulus Hebr. XI. 1. dixit? 2. Repugnant tibi loca Prov. XX. 9. Eccl. IX. 1. nec non exempla Sanctorum, rationes, & conſenſus Patrum. Tract. IV. Sect. 2. pag. 477--479. Reſp. 1. Reſponſionum tuarum prora & puppis in contortiſſimis tuis fallaciis conſiſtit. De eo certitudinis gradu ſummo, qua in altera vita potiemur, Dordraceni loquuntur. Fides nempe perfecta ſupremum certitudinis gradum comitem habet. In hac verò vita perfecta non eſt, teſte Apoſtolo 1. Cor. XIII 9. 10. Ex parte cognoſcimus & ex parte prophetamus. Cùm verò venerit τὸ τέλειον perfectum, id quod ex parte eſt, abolebitur. Ad imperfectionem verò fidei in hac vita pertinet, quòd ſubinde deficit, languet, & contrarii formidinem ſic admittit, ut tamen ex ea victrix iterum evadat. Non eſt igitur fides, vivida ſcilicet, abſque certitudine. Sed cùm vel languet, vel quoad ſenſum ſeu fructum etiam deficit, tum verò cum fidei radice contrarii formido conſiſtit. quam reviviſcens fidei ſenſus, & fides victrix denique pellit. Hæc Dordracenorum mens eſt, quam nequicquam arrodis. Tum fides evidens perſuaſio & demonſtratio eſt eorum etiam, quæ non videntur; quia à Deo revelata, teſtata & promiſſa, perinde ac ſi viderentur, apprehenduntur, & oculo mentis in teſtem ἀψευδῆ flexo pervidentur. de quo ſupra diximus. 2. Scripturæ teſtimonia, exempla, rationes à te allegatas ſeorſim diſcutimus. Hic de Patrum teſtimoniis, quæ ex Bellarmino compilaſti, pauca. Ἀκροδρύον ea omnia ſunt. Nam vel retundunt ſuperbiam ſpiritualem, ubi immunitatem à lapſu aut deliquio ſomniant elati, veluti Baſilius Conſtit. Monaſt. cap. 2. Ambroſius Serm. 15. in Pſal. 18. Hieronymus contra Pelag. lib. 2. vel carnalem ſecuritatem, qua ſibi ipſis abblandiuntur ſine certis indiciis torpidi, exagitant, uti Chryſoſtomus in 1. Cor. cap. 4. homil. 11. vel inhærenti juſtitiæ acquieſcere vetant, veluti Auguſtinus Quæſt. lib. 83. q. 59. Quid verò multis? Ipſemet tu cauſam prodis. Uniformis, inquis, Patrum ſententia eſt, neminem taliter gloriari poſſe de remiſſione peccatorum, ut omnimoda certitudine ſecurus ſit, in ſe non latere peccata, quorum conſcientiam habeat. Si hoc ſibi S. Patres à te laudati volunt, ſalva res eſt. Neque enim de certitudine ſalutis, juſtitiæ inhærentis perfectione, ſed juſtitiæ Chriſti vera fide apprehenſæ, dignitate, & promiſſionum Divinarum firmitudine nixa, quæritur.

ARG. II. Fideles juſtificati prædíti & ſignati ſunt Spiritu S. Rom. VIII. 9. 1. Cor. II. 12. 2. Cor. I. 22. Epheſ. I. 13. IV. 30. Apocal. II. 18. At Spiritus S. teſtatur & acclamat ſpiritui noſtro, poſſe & debere nos de ſalute noſtra eſſe certos, quia non accepimus Spiritum ſervitutis ad metum, ſed adoptionis, per quem clamamus Abba Pater. Et ille ipſe Spiritus teſtatur Spiritui noſtro, nos eſſe filios Dei, ſi autem filii & hæredes, Rom. VIII. 15. Gal. IV. 6. Quòd ſi quis hoc hoc teſtimonium non ſentit, æquius eſt,ut ipſe de ſe malè ſentiat, aut à Deo hunc ſenſum obnixè poſtulet,quàm ut cum Deo pugnet, & hoc teſtimonium elevet,aut aliorum conſcientias ex ſua metiatur.

RESP. READING: 1. Sic fideles Spiritu S. ſignati ſunt,ut ejus in ſe teſtimonium habeant, vi cujus ſecundum ſe certum eſt,& Angelis ac Beatis teſtimonii illius evidentiam habentibus conſtet, illos eſſe filios Dei,ſed non quoad nos,ſeu quoad eos, quandiu in viæ ſtatu agunt. 2. Rom.VIII.15. teſtimonium Spiritus S.per quem filii Dei clamant Abba,Pater; conſtituitur in actibus fidei, religionis, dilectionis, qui à Spiritu S. proficiſcuntur. Licet verò actus hi intrinſecam cum forma juſtificante connexionem habeant, adeóque ſecundum ſe certum ſit adoptivæ filiationis Divinæ teſtimonium; tamen quoad nos certum non eſt,quia neque immediatè in ſe, neque in medio aliquo ejus demonſtrativo, quale eſt lumen ſuper fidei,ſpei & charitatis actus reflexivum; & Spiritus S.obteſtantis demonſtrativum; nobis notum eſt. 3. Quos ſunt,qui glorientur,ſe Deum habere Patrem; qui imaginentur,ſe in Spiritu adoptionis filiorum Dei clamare,Abba Pater; qui tamen filii Dei non ſunt? lb. pag.479. Reſp. 1. Proximus es inſanienti. Etenim teſtimonium omne redditur aliquibus. Itaque vel nobis, vel aliis. Tu vis, aliis, Angelis ſcilicet, & Beatis cœlitibus. At Spiritus S. Rom. VIII. 16. diſertè dicitur συμμαρτυρῶν una teſtari cum noſtro Spiritu, quòd ſimus filii Dei. Teſtimonium igitur iſthoc eſt non ſecundum ſe,(omne enim teſtimonium relationem habet ad eos, quibus illud dicitur, hoc eſt, quicunque teſtimonium reddit,etſi attendat neceſſariò rei,de qua teſtimonium perhibet, veritatem; tamen ſcopum hunc ſibi propoſitum habet,ut illius veritatem perſuadeat ei,apud quem teſtimonium id perhibet) nec quoad alios, ſed quoad nos, ſeu filios Dei omnes, ad quos ſermo ille pertinet. Id ſcopus Apoſtoli exigit. Quia enim fluctuare Spiritus noſter inter diffidentiæ & præſumptionis vortices poteſt,docet ille, ſuccurrere, & *συμμαρτυρῶν ſimul teſtari Spiritum S.cum noſtro Spiritu,*ne ſcilicet ſpiritus noſter anceps hæreat & fluctuet. Conſentit expreſsè Johannes 1. Epiſt. IV. 13. In hoc, inquiens, cognoſcimus, quòd in eo manemus,& ipſe in nobis, quoniam de Spiritu ſuo dedit nobis. Cur autem dedit? Procul dubio,ut cognoſcamus,quia in hoc cognoſcimus,quoniam dedit. Accepimus enim Spiritum,qui ex Deo eſt,ut ſciamus,quæ donata ſunt nobis, 1. Cor. II. 12. Hoc illud teſtimonium eſt, quod unuſquiſque fidelis in ſe habet, quod qui minùs æſtimat, Deum mendacem facit, 1. Joh. V. 10. Hinc oritur pax, juſtificatio,Rom.V. 1. gaudium ἀναφαίρετον, Joh.XVI.22. denique gloriatio, quæ teſtimonium noſtræ conſcientiæ eſt, 2.Cor I. 12. Quod teſtimonium καθ' ἑαυτὸ quoad nos filios Dei, dum ſic exſibilas, prodis te, quòd nunquam illud cordicitus ſenſeris, adeóque ſicut beſtiæ nullum uſum rationis, ita te nullum uſum ac ſenſum Spiritus ἀφῆσαι habeas. 2.Cùm igitur S.Paulus Rom.VIII. 15.16. diſertè doceat,nos per Spiritum S. clamare Abba, Pater; & Spiritum S. ſimul teſtari cum Spiritu noſtro, quòd ſimus Filii Dei; otioſum eſt quærere,quo modo, mediato,an immediato ſic teſtetur? Satis eſt, eum teſtari, & per eam nos clamare,Abba. Sentimus ejus teſtimonium, nec ſine ſenſu hoc ita clamare poſſemus. Quæcunque efficaciam habent, eadem ſe per illam ipſam efficaciam demonſtrant. Agit ignis per calorem; & ab ipſo calore deprehenditur. Agit anima per motiones ſuas, & ab his ipſis in cognitionem venit. Quid ergo? An Spiritus S in homine otioſus eſt? Imò πάντα τοῦτο ἐνεργῶν,omnia illa operatur, 1.Cor.XII.11. Adjuvat infirmitates noſtras, interpellat pro nobis ſuſpiriis ineffabilibus, teſtatur nobis, clamat in nobis, &c. Rom.VIII.15.16.26. An his his aliisque modis efficax præsentiam suam certò nobis non testatur? An experimenta fidei, spei, charitatis fallacia sunt, & conjecturis meris fallaciter assequimur, quòd in nobis habitet? Perinde id est, ac si ignem ignem, aquam aquam esse, dubiis duntaxat experimentis constaret. Atqui Spiritus S. præsentia & testimonium est ulteriùs σφραγὶς σφραγισαμένη signillum obsignans, & ἀρραβὼν τῆς κληρονομίας arrhabo hæreditatis, 2. Cor. I. 22. Ephes. I. 13. 14. Magna certè emphasis. Nos ipsi, personæ nostræ, non res, quas credimus, Spiritu S. velut peculiari quadam nota insigniri dicimur, ut sciamus scilicet, Divino isthoc documento, nos in numerum filiorum Dei adscriptos esse. Quomodo in vocatione externa, qui olim circumcidebantur Judæi, eo ipso obsignabantur, ut proprio charactere impresso certum haberent, se Judæos & fœderatos Dei esse; & qui hodie baptizantur, aquæ sigillo obsignantur, ut se nominatim militiæ Christianæ adscriptos nôrint. His externis sigillis hoc internum Spiritus S. sigillum respondet, quo obsignantur credentes ipsi, ut sciant se esse filios, peculium & proprietatem Dei. Infert igitur obsignatio isthæc tum peculiarem applicationem, tum applicationis certitudinem, non ex levi conjectura, sed ex authoritate Divina, Dei obsignantis, & sigilli Dei Spiritus; qui nulla major esse potest. Adde ad cumulum ἀρραβῶνα arrhabonem hæreditatis. Etenim arrhabonis usus apud omnes is est, ut promissionibus momentum addat; & pignus, ac quædam veluti repræsentatio sit rei futuræ, in cujus locum datur. Sic Deus maxima quæque fidelibus spondens, Spiritum S. dat arrhabonem, ut certissimi sint, apud se, non tantùm, esse vitam æternam certis hæredibus conferendam: sed se ipsos in eorum esse numero, quibus illa conferenda sit; adeò ut fide Divina, quippe Dei arrhabonem dantis, & arrhabonis Dei, certissimè statuere debeant, non posse fieri, quin sibi vita conferatur. 3. Quid verò tum postea, si multi Judæi, hæretici, hypocritæ, dicant, se esse filios Dei, & se id ex testimonio Spiritus S. compertum habere? Nam hoc dicere, se esse filium Dei, cùm nullus sis, non est Spiritus S. motus, nullum ejus testimonium; imò ne conjectura quidem. Neque quicquam falsi unquam fuit, quin aliquando veritatem mentiretur. Sed nihil hoc obstat, quò minùs, quæ sit veritati propria efficacia, suæ sint demonstrationes propriæ. Ita multi scioli sibi videntur docti. Η ἀπείρα φύσεως πάντα. At verè docti modesti sunt; ac verè fideles humiles, qui cum timore, hoc est, vera cum humilitate salutem suam operantur.

ARG. III. Idem suadent exempla praxisque fidelium. velut Abrahami, Rom. IV. 21. Jacobi, Genes. XLIX. v. 18. Davidis, Psal. XXVII. 1. 2. LXXIII. 24. Pauli, Rom. VIII. 38. 1. Tim. I. 15. 2. Tim. IV. 7. 8. 18. At fidelium exemplum & praxis sunt nostra institutio. Neque enim fideles hosce peculiari revelatione securos de salute sua redditos esse dici potest, cùm Paulus id fidei, non speciali revelationi tribuat.

RESP. REDING: 1. Quæ Patriarchis, Abrahamo & Jacobo, Davidi, Paulo, Divinitus facta sunt promissiones, ad electos omnes extendi non debent. Hoc enim perinde esset, ac si quis benedictionem in Semine Christo factam Abrahamo, continuatam Jacobo, firmatam Davidi, omnibus fidelibus facere communem, & magnitudinem Divinarum revelationum, quas Paulus in tertium Cœlum raptus habuit, ad universos extendere vellet. Ex particulari revelatione quibusdam facta sine Dei verbo velle universalem cudere, præposterum est. 2. Rom. IV. 20. &c. Abrahamo tribuitur certitudo de potentia Dei in præstandis promissis. Ubi eadem omnibus tribuitur? Genes. XLIX. 17. Jacobus exclamat: Expecto salu- tare tuum, Domine. Qua verò ratione conſtat, omnes ſimiliter fideles teneri fide Divina ſuam juſtificationem credere? Rom.VIII.38. commendatur charitas Dei, non homini, ſed Deo formaliter inexiſtens. Unde non aliud concludi poteſt, quàm prædeſtinationem Dei eſſe certam, licet de ſua prædeſtinatione nemini conſtet. Licet verò Paulus forte certus fuerit, non tamen ſimiliter prædeſtinati omnes. Quomodo etiam loca 1.Tim.I.15. 2.Tim. IV.7.8. ad perſonam Pauli reſtringuntur. lb.p.480. Reſp.1. Quæ Patriarchis, Davidi, Paulo factæ ſunt promiſſiones de ſalute, benedictione in Semine, juſtificatione, eædem communes ſunt fidelibus omnibus, adeóque ad omnes meritò extenduntur. Singularia enim ſtant ſub ſuo univerſali. Cùm igitur omnibus credentibus remiſſio peccatorum promittitur, eadem opera mihi, tibi, illi credenti promittitur, tam certò, ac ſi Deus è Cœlo id proclamaret. Quod ut ſinguli tantò confidentiùs ſibi applicarent, Scriptura in ſingulari numero, & ſecunda perſona aliquando loquitur: Si confeſſus fueris, ſi crediderís, ſervaberis, Rom.X.9. Ego Ego deleo defectiones tuas, Eſaj.XLIII.12. Illuſtriſſima omnium fuit promiſſio de Semine dando, in quo benedicendæ ſint omnes gentes. qua per fidem recepta Abrahamus juſtificatus eſt. Atqui illa non ad ſolum Abrahamum, ſed ad credentes omnes pertinuit, teſte Apoſtolo: Prævidens Scriptura, quòd ex fide Deus juſtificat gentes, ante promiſit Abrahamo: Quoniam in te benedicentur gentes. Ergo qui ex fide ſunt, benedicuntur cum fideli illo Abrahamo, Gal.III.8.9.14. Unde promiſſionem Dei per fidem ſibi applicaſſe non ſolùm Abrahamum, ſed fideles quosvis V. T. idem S. Paulus Hebr.XI.1--f. luculenter teſtatur. Unde Abrahamus, unde Jacobus, unde David ſuam de gratia Dei & juſtificatione ſua πληροφορίαν hauſerunt, niſi ex promiſſione de Semine benedicto & benedicturo credentibus? Ubi iis vel ſolis, vel ſeorſim, per ſpecialem quampiam revelationem ad reliquos fideles non pertinentem, promiſſionem iſthanc Deus applicavit? Inſulſum verò eſt, quod de magnitudine revelationum Paulo facta in tertio Cœlo arguis. Nam in illis revelationibus fuiſſe ſpecialem de ſalute Pauli revelationem nunc demum ei factam, quo argumento probas? Atqui audivit in tertio Cœlo ἄῤῥητα ῥήματα, ἃ οὐκ ἐξὸν ἀνθρώπῳ λαλῆσαι, ineffabilia verba, quæ non licet homini loqui, 2.Cor.XII.4. Salutem verò ſuam, fiduciam in charitate Dei, πληροφορίαν de corona juſtitiæ ſibi repoſita, effatus eſt utique. Non ergo ſpecialem de ea revelationem, ad fideles reliquos non pertinentem, habuit. 2. Loca verò à me citata, quæ eludere conaris, ad liquidum rem magis perducunt. Etenim Abrahamus de promiſſione Dei non dubitavit incredulitate, ſed confortatus eſt fide, dans gloriam Deo, πληροφορηθεὶς certiſſimum habens, eum quod promiſerat, etiam faciendi potentiam habere. Propterea etiam ei reputatum eſt ad juſtitiam, Rom.IV.20.21.22. En certitudinem Abrahami de Deo promiſſa ſibi facta præſtituro, quia δυνατὸς ἐν τοῖς πᾶσι potens eſt facere, non ſimpliciter, ſicut potuit facere Cœlum & terram; ſed ἐνεργητικῶς, cum decentia & manifeſtatione virtutum ejus, ſanctitatis, miſericordiæ & juſtitiæ, adeóque rectè, laudabiliter & cum ſumma gloria; quia crediderat, Deum habere Semen, Filium, quem poſſet mittere & donare Redemptorem, qui fieret peccatum pro ſe & credentibus omnibus, qui Spiritu ejus ipſi concorporati fierent juſtitia Dei in ipſo, & ipſo obſignati poſſent jure, ut juſti, juſtificati, gloriari in Deo. Liquet igitur, fiduciæ hujus Abrahamicæ objectum fuiſſe Dei omnipotentiam, non quamvis, ſed eam cumprimis, quam in exequenda promiſſione Salutis & Redemptionis per Chriſtum exeruit; adeóque ſpecialem miſericordiam Dei in Chriſto, Semine benedicto, ſibi & credentibus omnibus tum promiſſo, tum ad ſalutem & juſtitiam præſtando. Certus igitur fuit de gratia Dei in Chriſto, nullatenus dubitavit, confortatus fortatus eſt fide, Deum ſibi in Semine promiſſo benedicturum; ac iccirco juſtificatus eſt. An verò ad ſolum Abrahamum ea promiſſio, ceu ſpecialis quædam revelatio, pertinet? Neutiquam equidem. Nam non ſcriptum eſt propter eum Solum, ei reputatum eſſe, ſed etiam δι ἡμᾶς propter nos, quibus futurum eſt ut reputetur, iis, qui credunt in eum, qui excitavit Jeſum Dominum noſtrum, ibid. v.23.24. Quæ igitur ratio fuit Abrahami, eadem eſt omnium credentium. Quod in Abrahamo factum, id propter nos ſcriptum eſt, ut & nos fidem ac πληροφορίαν Abrahami imitemur, atque ſic filii Abrahami fiamus. Idem enim eſt Deus, & nos filii Abrahami ſecundum promiſſionem ſumus. Par ratio eſt Jacobi. Ille Geneſ.XLIX 17. vicinus morti exclamavit: Expectò Salutare tuum, Domine. Ubi ipſi ſpecialiter Salutare promiſſum, revelatum eſt? Fuit exclamatio una cum Spiritu ejus teſtificantis Spiritus, qui expectandum ipſi credenti eſſe Salutare credentibus omnibus promiſſum, firmiſſimè perſuaſit. Rom.VIII.38. &c. dicit Apoſtolus: πέπεισμαι Perſuaſum habeo, (unde, niſi à Deo; non certè à me, vel ulla creatura, quæ ejuſmodi πεποίθησιν fundare nequit; non igitur per conjecturam levem, ſed per fidei certitudinem. quod etiam liquet, tum ex interrogatione antecedente, quæ vim habet firmiſſimæ aſſeverationis; Quis nos ſeparabit? tum ex enumeratione omnium ferè malorum, quæ facit ad immobilitatem fiduciæ demonſtrandam: tum ex gloriatione illa v.37. In his omnibus ὑπερνικῶμεν amplius quàm victores ſumus: tum ex uſu verbi Græci, ubi applicatur ad ſpiritualem fiduciam denotandam, quam fideles de iis, quæ ad propriam ſalutem pertinent, habent, Rom.XIV.14. 2.Tim.I.14.) quòd nec futurum, &c. nec ulla creatura ἡμᾶς Nos (non me ſolum, ſed credentes omnes, amantes Dei) poſſit ſeparare à charitate Dei, quæ eſt in Chriſto Jeſu; Deò, inquis non nobis inexiſtente. optimè. Et tantò certius fiduciæ fulcrum, quia non nititur arundine charitatis noſtræ, qua nos Deum amamus, quæ nimiùm in hac vita conquaſſari poteſt, tametſi nunquam confringitur. Si non aliud hinc concludi poteſt, quàm prædeſtinatos certò ſalvatum iri, quia nihil à charitate Dei eos ſeparare poſſit, uti tu detorques, quid Paulo πεποίθησιν, imò Nobis amantibus Dei, πεποίθησιν firmiſſimè perſuaſis, amplius ſic tribuitur, quàm ipſi Diabolo. Nam & ipſe haud dubiè perſuaſiſſimum habet, prædeſtinatos ſalvatum iri. Agit ſanè Apoſtolus cauſam communem omnibus fidelibus, qui iidem ſunt prædeſtinati. in quorum tamen numero ſe & credentes eſſe firmiter crederet. Ideo non de ſe ſingulariter loquitur, ſed pluraliter: Perſuaſus ſum, nihil Nos ſeparare poſſe à charitate Dei. quæ numeri permutatio oſtendit, quis Paulo fuerit ſenſus de re communi, & ad plures pertinente. Sic igitur univerſalem de ſalute prædeſtinatorum omnium doctrinam proponit, ut eandem & ad ſe, & eadem ratione ad credentes omnes, quibus de ſua fide ex interno Spiritus S. & conſcientiæ teſtimonio certò conſtare, ſupra firmavimus, applicet. Denique loca 1.Tim.I. 15. 2.Timoth.IV.7.8.18. ad perſonam Pauli reſtringi, ais. Mentiris, Monache. S. Paulus enim 2.Tim.IV.8. diſertè dicit: Οὐ μόνον ἐμοὶ, ἀλλὰ πᾶσι, Non ſolùm mihi, ſed omnibus diligentibus apparitionem ejus. Nihil ergo ad ſe reſtringit, nihil ſeorſim ſibi vindicat, ſed omnibus Chriſtum diligentibus idem privilegium tribuit. Sicut ſibi Chriſtum diligenti coronam juſtitiæ repoſitam novit: imò ita omnes Chriſtum diligentes ſibi eandem repoſitam eſſe norunt, confidunt, non dubitant. Neque enim ex peculiari revelatione id Paulus ſcivit, quam ſine ulla vel fidei, vel rationis certitudine obtenditis. Et ſanè ſi Paulus, David, alii ex peculiari revelatione de ſua ſalute certi fuiſſent, illa certitudo non fuiſſet certitudo fidei. Sic enim ipſe Bannes veſter in 2.2.q. 1. a.1. dub.3. ſcribit: Revelata particularibus perſonis, quamvis ſint ſupernaturalia, non pertinens ad aſſenſum fi- dei Catholicæ, aut virtutis Theologicæ: ſed illa tantùm, quæ nota ſunt Eccleſiæ, & ab illa proponuntur. At verò de Abrahamo & Davide palam eſt, quòd de gratia Dei certi fuerint per fidem. Concludo: Ergo non per revelationem ſpecialem, ſed eam revelationem verbi Dei, quæ ad omnes fideles ſe extendit. Hinc adeò Bellarminus Pauli perſuaſionem conjecturalem appellat. qualis non eſt ea, quæ ſpeciali Divina revelatione nititur.

ARG. IV. Quin Paulus 2.Cor.XIII.5. reprobos eſſe docet, qui non agnoſcunt, Jeſum Chriſtum in ipſis eſſe. Proinde fideles quoſvis monet, ſe ipſos explorent, utrùm in fide ſint? Quæ ipſa exploratio ad certitudinem ducit.

RESP. REDING: Exploratio ſui ipſius eſt opus humanæ induſtriæ. At nullum humanæ induſtriæ opus fidei certitudinem inducere poteſt. Ib.pag 480. Reſp. Frivolè ſophiſticaris. Probatio ſui ipſius à Paulo præcepta eſt experimentum, examen ſui, ſuorum affectuum, cordis, ratiocinationum, ſtudiorum, curarum, metus, amoris, odii, actionum, totius denique vitæ ad certam normam ac regulam; denique judicium de ſe ipſo. Hoc ſicut fidem ſupponit, ita à fide proficiſcitur. Eſt igitur opus & exercitatio fidei, quæ in cognitionem fidei inexiſtentis & Chriſti inhabitantis ducit, & certitudinem internam non demum gignit, ſed exiſtentem exerit, manifeſtat & declarat. Si fideles fidei ſuæ inexiſtentis & Chriſti inhabitantis certi nunquam eſſe poſſunt, cur ſe jubentur explorare, an ſint in fide, an Chriſtus apud eos habiter, atque ita ut declaretur, eos eſſe adhuc reprobos, ſi fidem in ſe & Chriſtum non reperiant? Thomas certè hunc locum explicans cogitur concedere, nos per certitudinem cognoſcere, Chriſtum eſſe in nobis; ſed ineptè addit, ſecundum intellectum, non ſecundum effectum. quaſi excitaret Apoſtolus ad examen intellectus tantùm; aut Chriſtus in intellectu tantùm, non corde etiam fidelium habitaret. Et Magiſter ejuſdem Alexander Alenſis pag.3. q. 61. hoc teſtimonio convictus fatetur, gratiam poſſe cognoſci, ſed ridiculè inter rem & rationem gratiæ cognitæ diſtinguit.

ARG. V. Juſtificatis tribuitur certa γνῶσις & Ἐπιστήμη notitia & ſcientia, quòd remiſſio peccatorum per fidem ipſis contigerit, 1.Joh.III.14. IV.13. V.19. Ubi certam notitiam indigetari patet, quia illa derivatur & pendere dicitur cap.III.24. ex Spiritu Dei, cujus teſtimonium infallibilem certitudinem fundat.

RESP. REDING: 1. In loco 1. Joh. III. 14. notitia illa ex dilectione fraterna derivatur, quæ ſi ſupernaturalis ſit, ex motivo charitatis Divinæ procedit. cum qua juſtificatio connexa eſt. Quis verò de dilectione fraterna certus eſt, eam ex Theologicæ charitatis motivo procedere, adeóque ſupernaturalem, non naturalem fortè, eſſe? Si qua ejus rei certitudo habetur, moralis ea eſt, non fidei. Nuſpiam in S. literis teſtatum eſt, omnes fideles dilectionis illa perfectione potiri. 2. In altero loco 1. Joh. IV. 13. cognoſcere dicimur, quòd in Chriſto maneamus, & ipſe in nobis, quia de Spiritu ſuo nobis dedit. Atqui ib. v. 12. dicitur, neminem unquam Deum vidiſſe. Ergo notitia Spiritus nobis dati evidens non eſt. Neque revelatum eſt, ſingulis determinatè Spiritum Dei eſſe datum. 3. Denique 1. Joh. V. 19. dicimur ſcire, quoniam ex Deo ſumus, idque ex teſtimonio Spiritus. Aliud verò eſt, tum sufficienti? Etiam eodem modo quo fides infallibilis datur, qui in nulla revelatione fundata est sufficienti quo fides infallibilis non datur, qui in nulla revelatione fundata est. Quare ex hypothesi adversariorum Deus non potest in nullo supernaturali ordine nos certos reddere de nostra justificatione, quia in nullo ordine supernaturali datur revelatio sufficiens, qua certi reddamur de nostra justificatione. Hæc est tota vis argumenti Bellarmini, Suarez, Vasquez, &c. Confutatur non una ratio, & quidem non eadem ab omnibus adducta. Prima. Revelatio sufficiens ad certitudinem gratiæ est, quæ ostendit gratiam, quæ datur alicui gratia. Ita regnicola fidelis alicui, qui interrogat, si is, an fuerint amnestiati, an ignorantiæ, an bona dolosa, quæ ipsi ab hostibus fuerint concessa, respondet, se habere literas regias, quibus ipsi fuerint concessa, quæ ipsi ab hostibus fuerint concessa, quæ ipsi ab hostibus fuerint concessa, quæ ipsi ab hostibus tus S. teſtimonio ſignatam & reflexam certitudinem nos habere, quia revelatio ad ſingulos pertinens nulla extet. Annon ſic apertè negas, quod affirmat Apoſtolus, nos cognoſcere, quòd ex Deo ſimus, & quidem ex Spiritu, quem nobis dedit. cujus interna revelatio certitudinem fidei apud fideles omnes generat: & operatio continua fidei & charitatis ad ſenſum hominis ſpiritualis patet, ut ſignata & reflexa certitudine deſtitui nequeat?

ARG. VI. Quod precibus tenemur petere, illud ſpeciatim ad nos pertinet, Marc. XI. 24. 1. Joh. V. 14. 15. At ſinguli tenentur peccatorum remiſſionem & vitam æternam ex ſpeciali Patris in Chriſto miſericordia petere, Matth. VI. 9. Luc. XI. 2. Et diffidentia ac ὀλιγοπιστία paſſim perſtringitur. Eodem pertinent loca, quæ gratiam promiſſam cuilibet in ſpecie applicant.

RESP. REDINO: 1. Chriſtus orationem, qua remiſſionem peccatorum petimus, exauditum iri promittit, ſi fiat in nomine ſuo, & ſecundùm voluntatem Dei, uti 1. Joh. V. 14. habetur. Ubi verò eſt textus ſacer, qui revelet, hanc orationem in individuo & particulari ita conſtitutam eſſe, ut conformis ſit Divinæ voluntati, nec in ullo deficiat? 2. Diſtinguenda eſt certitudo promiſſionis hypothetica, quæ à certis conditionibus ſuſpenditur; ab abſoluta, quæ conditiones in promiſſione præfixas ſequitur. Licet igitur certi ſimus, Deum velle gratioſum eſſe, & juſtificare eos, qui fidem per dilectionem efficacem præſtiterunt; tamen abſolutè nemo certus eſt, ſic ſe conditiones illas purificaſſe, ut in nullo deficiat, adeòque in ſtatu gratiæ conſiſtat. Oculo quidem in Dei promiſſionem conditionalem directo certitudinem & firmam fiduciam concipit: at oculo ad defectus ſuos reflexivo hæſitat perpetuò dubitátque. Ib. pag. 481. 482. Reſp. 1. Ita eſt. Non exaudit Deus, niſi quæ in nomine Chriſti, & ſecundum Dei voluntatem oramus. At remiſſionem peccatorum in nomine Chriſti, & ſecundum voluntatem Dei oramus, quia ſic orare ipſe Chriſtus juſſit. Ergo eam ſic orantes obtinemus, & de obtenta ob promiſſionem exauditionis petentibus factam certi ſumus. Fruſtra textum ſacrum exigis, revelantem, quòd oratio individua voluntati Dei ſit conformis, & in nullo deficiat. Nam qualis debeat eſſe precum cum voluntate Dei conformitas, paſſim Scriptura revelat, & revelatam conſcientia hominis, atteſtante eidem Spiritu Dei, applicat. Neque verò certitudo exauditionis nititur precum perfectione, ſed cordis affectione. Deus enim non recipit orantis meritum, ſed ſinceritatem; & qui interpellare nos facit, interpellandi nobis & gemendi inſpirat affectum. uti Auguſtinus Epiſt. 105. ſcitè loquitur. 2. De cætero futilis eſt tua certitudinis conditionalis & abſolutæ diſtinctio, utpote quæ non majorem electis & fidelibus, quàm Diabolo & damnatis certitudinem concedit. Conditionalem enim certitudinem, quòd in gratiæ ſtatu ſit, qui credit & reſipiſcit, Diabolus & damnati æquè habent. Si igitur ampliorem certitudinem habent fideles & electi, quàm Diabolus & reprobi omnes, uti profectò habere debent ampliorem, qui adoptionis, Spiritus & gratiæ Dei participes ſunt, quàm habent ii, qui ejus participes non ſunt; utique non hypotheticam ejuſmodi, quæ ſola nihil habenti prodeſt; imò obeſt magis, ſed abſolutam certitudinem habeant oportet. Neque obſtat, quòd de conditionum promiſſionibus annexarum perfecta impletione certus nemo eſt, quia certitudo gratiæ non merito & perfectione juſtitiæ inhærentis, ſed promiſſionum Divinarum efficacia, nec non charitatis Divinæ in credentes effuſæ, & Spiritus S.

ARG. VII. Scriptura agnoſcit fidei δοκιμὴν experientiam, ἐλπίδα καυχωμένην καὶ μὴ καταισχύνουσαν ſpem gloriantem & non confundentem, ἀπεκδεχομένην expectantem, Rom.V.2.4. 5. VIII.24. Eſt autem תקוה expectatio ſive ἀπεκδοχὴ certa perſuaſio de futuro bono. cui תוחלת ἐλπὶς, ſpes, addit patientiam moræ & promptitudinem animi ad id excipiendum.

RESP. REDING: 1. Tu verò ſupra ajebas, Chriſtianum de ſalute ſua certum eſſe debere certitudine non experientiæ, ſed fidei vivæ & juſtificantis. Hic verò fidei experientiam urges. 2. Fidem, de qua gloriaris, vivam eſſe, ubi Divinitus revelatum eſt? Non aliunde id conſtat, quàm ex propriæ intelligentiæ reflexione. neque adeò pura fidei certitudo ſubeſt. Fides repræſentat Divinam juſtificationis & gloriæ ſub certis conditionibus conferendæ promiſſionem: Experimentalis verò reflexio nec formaliter per Divinam revelationem fiat; nec firmatur per Dei promiſſionem, ſed humana induſtria nititur. Ib.pag. 412. Reſp.1. Supra experientiam, merè humanam ſcilicet, fidei vivæ oppoſui: hic experimentum, ſeu δοκιμὴν explorationem fidei ipſius vivæ, hoc eſt, fidem vivam exploratam, cognitam urgeo. Quid ſic deliras, Redingi? 2. Quomodo fidem in nobis experimur, in ſpe gloriamur, futura bona expectamus, & quidem per ſpem, quæ non pudefacit, ſi nulla fidei, nulla ſalutis in homine certitudo exiſtit? Hoc tu expedi. Fidem verò vivam eſſe, ipſamet fidei vita intus revelat. Eſt enim cujuſque rei vita actus, & quilibet actus ſe agendo demonſtrat, manifeſtat, revelat. Si mortuam fidem tu habes, mirúmne eſt, nullum veræ fidei ſenſum te habere, & revelationem aliam te expetere? Inſuper fidem, quæ creditur, cum fide, qua creditur, ubique turpiter confundis. Illa quidem revelatione externa indiget: hæc verò non in revelatione externa, ſed in cordibus credentium ex Scriptura, & ſecundum eam digito Dei exarata. 2.Cor. III. 2.3. invenitur. Oritur enim ex viſione cordis, ſeu ſenſu & experientia fidelis. Neque minùs tamen cenſeri debet certitudo fidei. quia licet non contineatur expreſsè in Scriptura, quoad hypotheſin, ex ea tamen deducitur, & ea nititur quoad theſin. Propoſitiones quippe particulares generalibus includuntur. Scriptura omnibus credentibus promittit ſalutem, & ſimul fideli concludendum relinquit, quòd ſibi credenti ſalus deſtinata ſit. Senſus enim & experientia non mutat regulam in ſe, nec ex Divina humanam facit. Denique experientiam & δοκιμὴν τῆς πίστεως explorationem fidei, ſeu, uti vocas, experientiam reflexivam à fide cur ſic divellis, ut invicem opponas? Quomodo ſupra fidem ſuam reflectit, qui fidem in ſe certò non reperit? Quomodo fidem certò reperit, qui de fide ſua incertus eſt? Neque externa revelatione reflexio illa indiget; & promiſſionem habet, quia tentantibus ſe ipſos, an ſint in fide, τὸ δοκίμιον τῆς πίστεως explorata fides promittitur; nec humanæ induſtriæ, ſed Spiritus Dei & gratiæ Divinæ, quin ipſius fidei, quæ non directos duntaxat, ſed etiam reflexos actus habet, iſthoc opus eſt.

ARG. VIII. Nititur hæc doctrina falſa hypotheſi de juſtificatione per opera legis, quam neceſſariò conſequitur dubitatio de ſalute. Putri huic & ficulneo fundamento quid ſuperſtrui ſolidi poteſt? Meritò nutat fides, quaſi in oſcillo pendula, quæ rei imaginariæ innititur.

Non nutat fides mea, quæ miſericordiæ Dei in Chriſto, Lapidi in Sione fundato unicè innititur, & ſe vivere, propriis fidei actibus, quos ei Deus in verbo ſuo tribuit, ſentit. Sed nec tua fides nutat, quia nullam habes. Non enim ullam in te revelationem fidei, non ſenſum ullum agnoſcis, nec vel tibi, vel alii eam demonſtrare potes; & hæſitandum dubitandúmque ſemper, profiteris. Atqui cùm fidei certitudo ſola viſione beata claritate ſit minor, nunquid in illis ſpiritualibus plus præſtabit moralis perſuaſio, quàm πληροφορία fidei & indubitatum Spiritus S. auctoramentum? Denique ipſi Sophiſtæ Scotum ſuum ſecuti admittunt hanc regulam: Concluſionem ex una propoſitione credita & altera evidenti ex fide eſſe certam. Unde facilis argumentatio: Qui crediderit & baptizatus fuerit, ſalvus erit. ſi ſputa Pallavicini tui lingere tibi volupe eſſet, vix ejus in hoc argumento diſſertationem ſuffragio tuo dignam judicâſſes. Negat ille, quicquam adverſus Catharinum ſtatuiſſe Tridentinos, utpote qui hoc unum contenderit, hominem certitudine fidei ſpecialis ſeu particularis poſſe ſcire, ſe gratiam Dei eſſe conſecutum. quæ ſententia, inquit Pallavicinus, à Theologis improbatur, & æſtimatur erronea, non tamen damnata fuit in Concilio Tridentino, quod tantùm aſſeruit de certitudine fidei Catholicæ, cui non poteſt ſubeſſe falſum. Ita ſcilicet Purpuratus ille non tantùm auſus eſt fingere diſtinctionem, quæ nunquam Catharino in mentem venit, ſaltem ex ejus ſcriptis probari nequit; verùm etiam tacitè ipſos Concilii Patres, & Bellarminum, qui eum, ceu rejectum à Tridentinis accuſat, ſugillavit, quaſi diſtinctionis ab ipſo confictæ ignari, mentem Catharini aſſecuti non eſſent. Sed hæc de re, inquam, plura in loco. In anteceſſum legi nonnulla poſſunt, quæ hac de re Cæſar Aquilinus de tribus hiſtoricis Concilii Tridentini pag. 56--71. Pallavicino oppoſuit. De cætero luber audire Eiſengremium, Academiæ Ingolſtadienſis quondam Procancellarium, qui tract. de certitudine gratiæ cap. 6. Concilii Tridentini ſententiam adverſus recentiores certitudinem gratiæ oppugnantes, molliſſimè explicat, atque ſic denique proteſtatur: Equidem hic me ſiſto, & clara voce pronuncio, nullum Catholicum receptúmque Doctorem unquam in eam ſententiam, quam adverſarii nobis impingunt, de remiſſione peccatorum & gratia, ſine ulla conſolatione & tranquillitate conſcientiæ, perpetuo trepidandum diffidendúmque docuiſſe. Hoc incunctanter indiſſimulanſtérque pronuntio, atque utinam faxit Deus, ut hæc vox mea totum Chriſtianum orbem perſonaret! Ex omnibus igitur receptis Theologis, Patribus, Scholaſticis, aliis oſtendit, hanc gratiæ certitudinem ſemper propugnatam fuiſſe, aut ſaltem non oppugnatam. Tu ineptè mihi contradictionem impingis, eò quòd moralem perſuaſionem in donorum Spiritus S. operatione fundatam, ſine certitudine fidei, agnoverim, ſimúlque teſtimonium Spiritus S. in fidelibus clamantis Abba, Pater, ſine certitudine fidei locum habere poſſe, ſupra negaverim. Næ, Redingi, deliras nimiùm. Argumentatio mea ἀπαγωγική eſt, exaggerans abſurditatem ſtatuentium, morali perſuaſione gigni certitudinem, quam πληροφορίαν fidei & Spiritus inhabitans gignere nequeant. Nam ſola perſuaſione morali, ſuper excellentia donorum Spiritus S. fundata, quenquam, eminentiſſimum etiam, certitudinis privilegium obtinere poſſe, pernego. Quis enim Jobo, Davide, Paulo ſanctior fuit? Atqui illi certitudinem gratiæ ſuæ non à donorum præſtantia, ſed à fidei experientia ac πληροφορίᾳ, & Spiritus S. teſtimonio arceſſunt. Qualem igitur certitudinem ſpiritualis nundinatio veſtra pariet, ſi conditionem præfigit, cujus ab arbitrio lubrico humanæ cooperationis ſuſpenſæ nulla unquam indubia certitudo, ob defectum ſpecialis, uti cauſamini, revelationis, haberi poteſt? Quid à vobis ſeducti, artibus veſtris circumſcripti & emuncti expectare poſſunt, quod ſauciatam liget, aut languentem erigat conſcientiam, ſi certam ſalutem promittere nemini poteſtis? Quid mihi, repeto, proderunt in mortis agone, in crucis æſtu Caſuiſtarum veſtrorum plauſtra, ſi de certitudine ſalutis meæ nil pronuntiare auſint. Denique proditis vos, incertitudinis hujus Pyrrhoniſtæ, quòd aut Majores veſtri per longi temporis tractum inſigniter Eccleſiæ impoſuerint, aut vos à Majoribus ſumma cum perfidia deſeceritis. Ex Trid. & Scholast. ostendit gratiam sanctificantem transmitti. Negat, quia in eam non intendit.

Ex Scholast. & Trid. ostendit, Deum illud, quod in Sacramento fieri intendit, non fieri, nisi ex vi illius, quod Sacramento, quale quidem est, ex sua institutione obtinet: Ex Trid. ostendit, Deum in Sacramento non intendere, nisi quod ex vi Sacramenti fieri potest. Ex Scholast. & Trid. ostendit, Deum non intendere effectum, qui ex vi Sacramenti fieri non potest, nisi ille sit ejus, quod intendit, vel proximè dispositivus, vel ad illum per se ordinatus. Ex Trid. ostendit, Deum in Sacramento non intendere, nisi quod ex vi Sacramenti fieri potest, & ad illum per se ordinatum. Ex Trid. ostendit, Deum in Sacramento non intendere, nisi quod ex vi Sacramenti fieri potest, & ad illum per se ordinatum, quod ex vi Sacramenti fieri potest.

ART. XII. Cadit decretum hujus dubitationis & difficultatis penitus fundamentum. Nam, quod Deus in Sacramento intendat, quod ex vi Sacramenti fieri potest, & ad illum per se ordinatum, quod ex vi Sacramenti fieri potest, manifestum manifestatur, indubitatum dubitatur, certum incertificatur. Perfectissimum Sacramentum dubitatis? Non fortassem id, quod ex vi Sacramenti præstantissimum addatur.

Sacramentum Eucharistiæ dubitatis? Non. Perfectissimum nobis ex parte Dei fieri intendere, ne parum nobilium Sacramentorum ei causa Deum fecisse dicamus? Absit. Ex Trid. Sacramentum Eucharistiæ omnia in Ecclesia ordinanda fabricata habere, quæ ad ejus & majorem reverentiam, & utilitatem Fidei populi & pernecessarium excitandæ fervorem, & devotionem, & ad ejus cultum, & ad ejus usum, & ad ejus Sacrificium, & ad ejus Sacerdotes, & Templum Dei ordinata. Experientiam ordinem, Deus Ille bonus, Deumque verè ac pure fieri Deum dubitatis dicendum, cùm per omnimodo meum ac fideli ministerium fieri Deum hominibus in corum Domini partu apud Agricolanum pueris & Parisienses cognoscam per decennium vitæ, quorum nemo me nescit.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Certitudo juxta te pendet ab humili sinceritate. Cùm verò hæc sit actus hominis deceptioni obnoxius, cùm de eo nihil homini specialiter revelatum sit, manifestum est, in ea certitudinem fidei fundari non posse. 2. Cùm justitia inhærens cum justificatione individuo nexu juxta te cohæreat, quomodo justificationis certitudo sine inhærentis justitiæ & munditiei cordis certitudine obtineri potest? 3. Qualis illa mundities est, quæ peccata non tollit, sed tegit? Atqui intrinsecam cordis munditiem Deus Psal. LI. CXIX. Matth. V. 8. postulat. 4. Ecclesiastæ cap. IX. 1. enuntiatio indefinita est. Ib pag. 485. Resp. 1. Certitudo salutis sic à gratia & justitia Christi principaliter pendet, ut conscientiam & sensum humilis sinceritatis requirat. quæ tam non est deceptioni obnoxia, quàm non sensus ignis urentis, aquæ humectantis. Ad certitudinem verò fidei generalis revelatio, & specialis ejusdem applicatio & visio propria, cum Spiritus S. testimonio conjuncta, sufficit. Malè de te agitur, si sinceritatis sic tibi conscius esse non potes, ut de ea perpetim dubitare cogaris. 2. Justificationis certitudo sine sensu omni justitiæ inhærentis obtineri nequit, Potest tamen obtineri sine sensu justitiæ inhærentis, seu munditici cordis perfectæ, cujus solius conscientiam Solomon homini derogat. Sic enim dicit: מי יאמר זכיתי לבי טהרתי מחטאתי Quis dicit, mundavi cor meum, purus sum à peccato meo? Neminem esse arguit, qui planè ac perfectè cor suum à peccato inhabitante & concupiscentia sic liberaverit, ut illud sit limpidum, defœcatum & ἀλογὸς; neque ullum se venditare posse, quòd sic à peccato purus sit, ut vetus peccatum omnino depositerit, aut malum sibi adjacens, atque ad quod occasio ipsum invitaverit, penitus vitaverit. Ita Eliphaz Job. XXII. 5. Annon malum tuum multum est? annon meministi plurima esse, in quibus labi & cespitare promptum tibi fuerit, atque etiamnum sit? Et Solomon ipse se explicat 2. Reg. VIII. 46. Quis est, qui non peccet? Alia verò est mundities cordis sanguine Christi loti & absterdi ab immunditie quoad peccati reatum & maculæ prædominium in hac vita, maculæ abolitionem plenam in altera, de qua Solomon non loquitur. Potest enim fidelis cor suum mundum pronuntiare, sed ex speciali gratia, inquit Lyra; non absolutè, sed secundum humanum modum, addit ex Beda Jansenius, ubi teguntur lapsus, si absit humiliato hypocrisis. 3. Mundities, qua peccata in hac vita non tolluntur, ut non sint, sed teguntur, ut non imputentur, non legalis equidem, sed Evangelica mundities & justitia est. quam solam Evangelium in hac vitæ hujus imperfectione requirit. 4. Enuntiationem suam indefinitam ipse mox Solomon definit. Rationem enim statim addit hanc, הכל לפניהם Omnia ante se; & v. 2. כל מאשר לכל Omnia ut & omnibus obtingunt, hoc est, tam mala quàm bona externa, quæ fortunæ appellamus, similiter bonis & malis obtingunt. Alias si indefinita illa enunciatio, גם אהבה גם שנאה אין יודע האדם Amorem & odium nescit homo, vel, uti Vulgatus vester reddit: Nescit homo, utrum amore an odio dignus sit, simpliciter, universaliter, & in rigore, uti tu insulsè pertendis, acciperetur, evidenter falsa foret. Quomodo enim saltem improbi se odio Dei & hominum indignos esse nesciunt? Quo argumento ipse Salmeron Bellarminum, Costerum, Becanum num, alios gratiæ incertitudinem hinc probantes refellit. Addo, ſi improbi ſciunt, ſe odio Dei dignos eſſe, tum qui hoc non ſciunt, ſciunt, ſe amore Dei dignos eſſe, in Chriſto videlicet. Inter odium enim & amorem Dei medium nihil eſt. Sed veriſimra ſententia eſt hoc ſenſu, quod ex beneficiis externis accidentibus, ſeu externo ſtatu gratia Dei propriè æſtimanda non ſit. Quem ſenſum etiam Pineda & Emmanuel Sa ad h.l. urgent. Quid quòd de odio & amore Dei Solomon ne quidem expreſsè agit? Simpliciter enim dicit: Amorem & odium neſcit homo; quod de proprio hominis amore & odio nonnulli explicant hoc ſenſu, quòd homo non ſemper exploratum habeat, quàm bene amet vel oderit, appetat vel adverſetur; & quomodo id cum rationibus Divinæ ordinationis conveniat; vel, quòd amorem & odium ſuum certa & explorata ſcientia non ſemper moderetur, Deo fingente omnium corda, Pſal. XXXIII. 15.

Paulus agit de notitia Divini propoſiti.* Ib. pag. 485. Reſp. 1. Satis diſertè ad loca oppoſita reſpondeo, nempe Jobum, Davidem, Paulum non propria juſtitiâ intumeſcere, ſed gratuitæ reconciliationis conſcientia ſe erigere, & innocentiam cauſæ ſuæ aſſerere, & fiduciam ſuam alibi teſtari. Sed propiùs loca expendamus. Sic ſonant juxta Vulgatum Interpretem Veſtrum verba Jobi cap. XXVII. 6. Non reprehendit me cor meum in omni vita mea? Si hinc, propria juſtitia intumeſcere Jobum, vel fiduciam gratiæ nullam habuiſſe, concludere niteris, næ aberras nimiùm. Nam & alibi, ut dixi, fiduciam teſtatur; & ſic non aliud quàm vel cauſæ, non perſonæ juſtitiam tueretur; vel fiduciam ſuam in Chriſti gratia teſtaretur. Tunc enim in hac vita cor noſtrum nos non reprehendit, cùm corde creditur ad juſtitiam; & fides non negligit reprehendere peccatum noſtrum. quem verborum Jobi ſenſum Auguſtinus adverſus Pelagianos, Jobi ἀναμφεννοίαν inde probantes, reddit. Sed aliter originalis textus habet: לֹא יחרף לבבי מימי Non conviciabitur, blaſphemabit cor meum ullo dierum meorum. Nam חרף eſt ὀνειδίζειν, injuſtè & petulanter afficere gravi contumelia verbis, vel factis. Quid hoc ad perfectionem juſtitiæ Jobi? David Pſal. XXVI. 1. orat: Judica me Domine, quoniam in integritate mea ingreſſus ſum. Alibi Pſal. CXLIII. 2. Dei judicium deprecatur. Et Jobus cap. IX. 2. Si velet Deus in judicio contendere cum homine, non reſpondebit ei ad unum è mille. Hic ergo ſtat ad thronum gratiæ, & ſecundum Evangelii canonem in bona conſcientia, juxta libertatem filiorum Dei, in Chriſto ſe judicari poſtulans, תמה integritatem ſuam, qua videlicet ſic Deum, ut juſtitiam, Salvatorem, Patrem, Dominum ſuum timebat & amabat, ut gloriam ejus non dederit alii, vera locutus ſit, bona fecerit ex corde, fide vera, amore

Unde ſtatim ſubjicit v.2. וביהוה בטחתי לא אמעד Et in Jehova confido, non vacillabo. quaſi diceret: Sine ulla dubitatione, plenus fiduciæ & ſpei accedo ad Dominum judicem, verbo promiſſionis ejus fretus. Ideò non vacillabo, non cadam, ſed ſtabo in judicio. Denique S. Paulus 1. Cor. IV. 4. ſcribit: Οὐδὲν ἐμαυτῷ σύνοιδα. Nullius rei mihi ipſi conſcius ſum, (non nullius peccati, ſic enim ſibi Rom. VII. 14--ſ contradixiſſet; ſed nullius culpæ ſeu negligentiæ, quoad fidelitatem ſuam in diſtributione myſteriorum Dei) ſed neque in hoc juſtificatus ſum. Neque perfectionem igitur ſuam Phariſaicè & Papiſticè jactat, (nam ſi vel maximè nullius mali ſibi conſcius fuiſſet, mali tamen ab eo commiſſi conſcius eſſe Deus potuit; quia ſi cor noſtrum nos non condemnat, Deus major eſt corde noſtro, 1. Joh. Et addit: אך דרכי אל פניו אוכיח Etiam vias meas coram facie ejus demonſtrabo. quaſi diceret: Excuſſis omnibus cordis mei receſſibus pandam ei, promam, demonſtrabo ei animum meum, quem geſſi hactenus, & adhuc gero. Proferam omnia cogitata, facta, dicta mea, ſive mala, confitendo, ſive bona gratias gratiæ ejus agendo, in lucem ſanctiſſimi vultus ejus. Tanta erat lætitia cordis ejus ob certitudinem gratiæ ex ſenſu fidei & Spiritus inhabitantis. quæ velut משתה תמיד perpetuum convivium fidelium eſt. Prov. XV. 15. In altero loco cap. Obmuteſces, ſat ſcio, Redingi, expenſo verborum pondere, niſi plus quàm ferream frontem habes. David Pſalm. CXVIII. 17. dicit: לא אמות כי אחיה Non moriar, ſed vivam. An nihil hoc ad certitudinem juſtitiæ & vitæ? Quomodo ἀμφιβόλως dubitans, incertus, ſe victurum, non moriturum æterna morte, categoricè aſſerere potuit? Sed ubique ferè parem fiduciam David teſtatur, adeò ut Medina veſter in 1.2. q. 112. a. 5. fateri coactus fuerit, Davidem & Prophetas, remiſſionem peccatorum conſecutos ſe eſſe, ſæpe ſæpius confidere, & ſperare. De loco Rom. OBIECT. III. Deus ſalutem promittit ſub certis conditionibus, pœnitentiæ nimirum, converſionis & obſervantiæ mandatorum. Nemo autem certus eſſe poteſt, an conditiones iſtas impleverit, proinde etiam de ſalute ſua certus eſſe nemo poteſt. Reſp. 1. Conditiones ejuſmodi ſunt potiùs documenta noſtræ converſationis, quàm quàm fundamenta certitudinis. 2. Imò certi esse possumus de impletione conditionum salutis nostræ vera, seria, sincera & ἀνυποκρίτῳ: utcunque non de perfecta & numeris omnibus absoluta. Nôrunt enim, fidelem esse, qui promisit, eúmque subventurum, ut impleat, quod promisit. Nôrunt Deum linum fumigans non extinguere, & calamum quassatum non confringere, Esaj. XLII. 3.

Excip. Reding: 1. Ea est promissionis conditionatæ natura, ut ejus veritas rei promissæ implectionum non, exigat, nisi conditione purificata. At purificari sine nostra cooperatione nequit. Quomodo verò certitudine fidei constat tibi, te cooperatione tua eam purificasse? 2. Deus linum fumigans non extinguit, & calamum quassatum non conteris. An iccirco Deus conditionem implet, vel implere tenetur? Atqui nec hoc natura promissionis conditionatæ exigit, nec Scriptura testatur. Ib. pag. 486. Resp. 1. Sine nostra συνεργίᾳ cooperatione conditiones, promissionibus Divinis annexas, non impleri, (non dico tecum, non purificari, quia vox illa sensû tuo nec Latina est, & Pharisaismi fermentum redolet) fateor. Sed συνεργίας meæ tum ex ejusdem sensû interno atque experientia, tum ex Spiritus intus operantis meam operationem testimonio, certus esse possum. Cur enim dubitem de eo, quod Spiritum Dei in me operari sentio, video, experior? Dubita tu, qui nihil te sentire, non obscurè fateris. Ita Act. VIII. 37. proponenti Philippo: Credis ex toto corde, respondere, certus utique fidei suæ, potuit: Credo, Jesum Christum esse Filium illum Dei. Intellexit igitur & sensit, quod credidit, & observavit conditionem, quam intellexit. Novit etiam Paulus 2. Tim. I. 12. Novi, cui crediderim. Nôrunt Apostoli omnes Joh. VI. 69. Nos credidimus, & scimus, Te esse Christum, Filium Dei viventis. Nôrunt omnes fideles 1. Cor. II. 12. Accepimus Spiritum, qui est ex Deo, ut sciamus, quæ Deus nobis gratificatus est. Id etiam Barnesius vester, Monachus Benedictinus agnovit, cujus hæc verba Forbesius Consid. Mod. pag. 102. citat: Cùm fides sit scientia salutis, & credere sit quoddam scire, sequitur, quòd quemadmodum sciens scit se scire, ita quisquis ad salutem credit, credit se credere salutari fide. Ex quo efficitur, piè in Christum credentes certos esse de sua fide justificante, qua justi sunt. 2. Deum non tantùm salutem credenti conferre, sed in eodem etiam conditionem promissioni annexam operari, nisi Pelagii veneno imbutus non negares. Atqui idem ille, qui promissioni suæ conditionem fidei, ex integro corde, & conversionis ad Deum annexuit, & fidem, & cordis integritatem, & conversionem simul promisit & præstat. Dabo vobis, sic promittentem audi Ezech. XXXVI. 26. 27. cor novum, & Spiritum meum ponam in præcordia vestra: auferam cor lapideum de carne vestra, & dabo vobis cor carneum. Inferam Spiritum meum in interiora vestra, & efficiam, ut ambuletis in statutis meis, & judicia mea custodiatis atque faciatis. Neque promisit duntaxat, sed præstat etiam, quia fidelis est, qui vocavit nos, ὃς καὶ ποιήσει qui etiam faciet, 1. Thess. V. 24. & βεβαιοῖ confirmat usque ad finem irreprehensibiles in die Domini nostri Jesu Christi, 1. Cor. I. 8. Ipse enim est ὁ ἐνεργῶν qui operatur in nobis & velle & perficere pro suo beneplacito, Phil. II. 13. χαριζόμενος gratificans & pati pro Christo, & credere in eum, ib. cap. OBJECT. IV. Sed nonullæ pronuntiationi annexæ notantur adhuc verbo Deus in textu Hebraico, Num. xxii. 22. xxiii. 8. Ergo non omnes pronuntiationes sunt Dei. Respondeo, Deum pronuntiat tum per propria verba, tum per verba aliena, quæ ipse inspirando pronuntiata relinquebat. 2. Particula vau כי quia non semper notat causam efficientem, sed plerumque causam cognoscendi, ut sæpe alias diximus contra illi recentiores. Exempla: 1 Reg. XIX. 2. Num. XXIV. 21. Exod. V. 3. Deut. V. 24. VIII. 3. Num. XI. 21. videri possunt. 3. Dan. IX. 24. in Græco quidem est ὅτι quoniam Latine scilicet. At in Chaldæo per non tantum efficiendi sed etiam finalem habet.

Deus. Respond. 1. Dan. IV. 24. ajunt & hæ pronuntiationes penes deum, & penes angelos esse. Sed contra est, quia Dan. IV. 14. Vigilum sententia est, & decretum sanctorum. Ergo penes sanctos, id est, penes ipsum Deum. Quod penes dicitur, penes significat ex vestigiis penes ipsos, id est, per ipsos, per ipsa, per pronuntiationes, per decretum, & per sententiam. Et ipse penes non semper significat penes ipsos, sed sæpe penes ipsa, penes verba, penes pronuntiationes, penes decretum, penes sententiam. Ita Dan. VII. 28. Hactenus finis sermonis. Ego Daniel cogitationes meæ plurimum conturbabant, & facies mea mutata est super me, & verbum in corde meo servavi. Ubi non dicitur, penes me, sed in corde meo. Ita Dan. VIII. 1. Visio apparuit mihi ego Daniel post illam, quæ apparuit mihi in principio. Non dicit, penes me, sed mihi. Ita Dan. IX. 23. Ab exordio precum tuarum egressus est sermo, & ego veni ut annuntiem tibi. Non dicit, penes me, sed ego. Ita Dan. X. 12. Ne timeas Daniel, quia ex die primo quo posuisti cor tuum ad intelligendum, & ad affligendum te coram Deo tuo, exaudita sunt verba tua, & ego veni propter verba tua. Non dicit, penes te, sed propter verba tua. Ita Dan. XII. 9. Vade Daniel, quia clausi sunt & obsignati occultandi & obsignandi sermones usque ad tempus præfinitum. Non dicit, penes me, sed usque. Ita Dan. XII. 13. Tu vero vade ad finem, & requiescito, & stabis in sorte tua in fine dierum. Non dicit, penes te, sed in sorte tua. Quo dictum, quo pertinebat pronuntiare? Ipse ut sententiam illustri quasi confirmatam in verum, nullis tempora addita, transmittebat. Non ita aliunde fiat. Ad quæ 2. Deo pronuntiata non libenter, non contulit. Ita Dan. IV. 24. Hæc est sententia Altissimi, quæ in te ingressa est super dominum meum regem. Non dicit, penes te.

OBJECT. V. Salomo pronuntiavit (1 Reg. VIII. 12.) יְהוָה אָמַר Deus dixit, quod non pronuntiavit, nisi quæ inspiratione cognovit. Respondeo, Salomonem pronuntiasse ex inspiratione Dei, quæ ipsi ad ædificationem templi data erat. Hic ædificationem non exponam, sed solum eam promitto. Chemli: Sol posuit in cœlo suo, id est, Deus propria gloria sua fecit. Respondeo, Deum propria sua & divina eum fecisse, cum verbi relicuum unum idemque subjectum ædificii ædificasse potuisse.

EXCUP. REDING: 1. An finis non ſuppoſitis mediis obtineri poteſt? Si ergo de mediis hæſitandum, de ipſo quoque fine hæſitandum eſt. 2. Non fovemus nos carnalem de viribus propriis ſecuritatem, ſed gratiæ Chriſti acceptæ omnia referimus. 3. Poteſt fiducia & formido in eodem ſubjecto ſubſiſtere: illa reſpectu promiſſionis conditionatæ; hæc reſpectu cooperationis noſtræ, & conditionum impletionis. Ib. pag 486.487. Reſp. 1. Aliud eſt pia ſolicitudo de mediis: aliud perpetua de eorum poſſeſſione hæſitatio & formido. Solicitudo ipſa medium eſt non hæſitandi & formidandi, ſed confidendi ob rem ſolicitudine ea, faciente Deo, acquiſitam. Solicitos enim Deus adjuvat, & ſuis viribus diffiſos Divina potentia ſua erigit. Olim icti ignitis ſerpentibus nihil in ſe, quod juvaret, invenerunt. Sed diffiſos ſibi, & auxilium ſolicitè circumſpectantes, in exaltati Serpentis aſpectu confuſi non abierunt. 2. Cùm omnem, quam adhuc admittitis, certitudinem illam moralem ſeu conjecturalem inhærentis juſtitiæ perfectioni & dignitati inædificetis, manifeſtum eſt, fiduciam veſtram non aliud quàm præſumptionem carnalem de propriis viribus eſſe. Sunto enim vires illæ à gratia Chriſti, (quanquam ante omnem gratiam vos aſtruere liberum arbitrium, non ſemel ſupra oſtendimus) ſunt tamen poſt donationem vires propriæ, & inhærentes. 3. Timorem ſolicitudinis cum fiducia in eodem ſubjecto quomodo collocetis, non video. Nam fiducia & certitudo promiſſionis conditionalis, quali etiam Diabolus & damnati in inferno gaudent, qualis quæſo de ſalute & juſtitia fiducia & certitudo eſt? Nulla prorſus. At timorem ſolicitudinis, qualis in filios Dei cadit, & fiduciam ſalutis propriæ idem ſubjectum afficere poſſe, denuo aſſero, quia timori & ſolicitudini illi fiducia & certitudo victrix denique ſuccedit. Cùm enim certitudo gratiæ non poſſit in nobis eſſe cum propoſito peccandi, & extra uſum mediorum; timor, cautio & vigilantia illa, quæ non aliò quàm ad peccatum fugandum, & ſanctitatis ſtudium promovendum pertinet, certitudinem non tollit, ſed ponit, & κατεργάζεται ſalutem operatur, uti Apoſtolus Phil. OBIECT. VI. In verbo Dei non continetur immediatè, mihi vel tibi condonata esse peccata. Ergo id certitudine fidei nemini constat. Resp. 1. Sufficit ex generali promissione conscientiam viva fide suffultam subsumere: Ego credo, & promissis Christi innitor. Ad quam universalem promissionem & sensum conscientiæ in electis accedit testimonium Spiritus S. omni exceptione majus. 2. An Philippus idcirco non tenetur abstinere furto & adulterio, quia ejus nomen non continetur lege? Par nempe ratio est præceptorum & promissionum. Ubi etiam legimus: Tu Pontifex Romane, tu Cardinalis Bellarmine accipe authoritatem ligandi & solvendi? An idcirco irritam ducunt Papæ vel Sacerdotis cujuslibet absolutionem?

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Conscientia viva fide suffulta licet, ex generali promissione, citra revelationis Divinæ explicitum vel implicitum tenorem, nequit sic assumere: Ego credo, & promissis Christi innitor. Ubi verò talis revelatio extat? 2. Alia præceptorum, alia promissorum ratio est. Illa feruntur absolutè, citra conditionem, & quidem omnibus. Proin singuli per conscientiam Divina fide suffultam assumere possunt, se obligari ad obedientiam, licet eorum nomina in lege non sint expressa. Hæ cùm conditionem cooperationis annexam habeant, neque cooperari individua & conditionem implere, revelatum sit; assumptionem ejusmodi, seu fide certam, non admittunt. Ib. pag. 487. Resp. 1. Nauseam mihi crambes tua recocta toties creat. Fides, qua creditur, revelationem externam desiderat: fides verò, qua creditur, internam conscientiæ, visionis, Spiritus S. revelationem, secundum Dei verbum; non aliud quicquam ad sui certitudinem desiderat. 2. Imò par hactenus præceptorum & promissionum ratio est. Sicut enim ob generale præceptum singula, ad quæ illud pertinet, individua, obligationem suam applicant, & de ea fide sua certa sunt, licet individua assumentia revelatio non exprimat: sic in promissis ex generali particulare rectè infertur; præsertim ubi fides, qua credimus, dictante Spiritu S. & attestante conscientia, fidei, quam credimus indubitatam, thesin subsumendo applicat. Non obstat igitur conditio cooperationis, quia de ea fidei certitudinem haberi posse, supra firmavimus. Et denuo quæro, an promissæ à Christo claves Papæ, sibi; quo jure, quave injuria, non dico, applicans, certitudine fidei compertum habeat, se claves habere; necne? Si compertum habet, cur fides applicans alias promissiones generales incerta manet? Si compertum non habet, totus Papatus, clavium potestati à Pontifice sine certitudinis fidei sensu applicatæ vel raptæ inædificatus, sua mole ruit.

OBIECT. VII. Certitudo hæc extinguit omnem pietatem & bona opera. Frustra enim petitur remissio peccatorum, si de ea jam certi sumus: frustra solicitus est de salute, qui de ea haud secus ac si jam compos esset, certus esse potest. Resp. Imò frustra has tibias inflant. Deus enim vult à nobis summo studio & labore expeti, quæ scimus nos adepturos. Promisit panem alendis corporibus, quem precibus vult expeti. Apostoli sciebant se electos ad vitam Luc. X. 20. Idem tamen quotidie petebant. Paulus certus erat, neminem de vectoribus, qui erant in navi, submersum iri. Idem tamen nautas hortatur

Reſp. Ad nervum reſponſionis meæ cùm quod reſponderes, nihil haberes, ad ſtrophas pro more te convertis, & dicta vellicas. fruſtra tamen. Etenim 1, induſtriâ ſuâ decreto Dei inſervienti certum eſſe hominem poſſe, jam ſæpe oſtendimus. Qui verè credit, verè induſtrius eſt, credere ſe, induſtrium eſſe, ſcit; fideique & induſtriæ ſuæ certus eſt. Nam ſenſus & cognitio omnis, objecti, & ſui ipſius ſimul ſenſus & cognitio eſt. Miſerimam verò fidelium ſortem, ſi efficacis gratiæ promiſſionem nullam habent. Et tamen promiſſionibus ejuſmodi Scriptura plena eſt. Vel ſola fœderis novi promiſſio fidem nobis faciat, quæ ſic habet: Hoc eſt fœdus, quod feriam cum domo Iſraëlis poſt dies illos; dicit Dominus. Inferam legem meam (quæ fidei eſt) in interiora eorum, & in cor eorum ſcribam eam, eróque Deus eorum, & illi erunt mihi populus. Omnes me cognoſcent, à minimo eorum uſque ad maximum eorum, dicit Dominus, quia propitius ero iniquitatibus eorum, & peccatorum eorum non recordabor amplius, Jerem.XXXI.33. &c. Hebr.VIII.8-9.&c. Quomodo legem ſuam cordi fidelium inſcribit Deus ſine efficacia gratiæ? Tum enim cordi legem eam inſcribit, cùm ipſemet efficit, ut illam recipiant, ea delectentur, ejus non obliviſcantur, & eam lubentes obſervent. Tum Deum cognoſcunt fideles, cùm norunt ejus virtutes, ſciunt, quomodo factus ſit in Deum peccatoris, eum intuentur, obſervant, ante oculos habent, eique confidunt. Verbo, cognitionem eam vitæ æternæ medium eſſe, Chriſtus ipſe docet Joh.XVII.3. Directa eſt promiſſio ad Iſraëlitas fideles V. T. & in eorum perſona ad cunctos, ad quos novum fœdus ſpectat. Hic, Redingi, nos doce, an promiſſio pertineat ad fideles fœderatos omnes, an ad nonnullos. Si ad omnes, habes promiſſionem efficacis gratiæ, pertinentem ad fideles ſingulos, individua fidelium ſingulâ. Si ad nonnullos, qui illi, à cæteris fidelibus diſtincti ſunt? Ubi Scriptura diſcrimen fidelium, aliorum, quibus efficacia illa gratiæ promiſſa eſt; aliorum, quibus promiſſa non eſt, ſtatuit? Similis promiſſio eſt Ezech.XXXVI.25.26. ubi cor carneum & novum, nec non purificationem per aquas mundas promittit. An fidelibus ſingulis? Sic ſalva res eſt. An quibuſdam? Oſtende ex Scripturis fidelium & fœderatorum hac in re diſcrimen. Quid verò multis? Deus fidelibus χαρίζεται τὸ πιστεύειν gratificatur credere, ſeu credendi actum, Phil.I.29. An quæ Deus gratificatur, ignorat homo, cui is gratificatur? Atqui fideles Spiritum Dei acceperunt, ut noverint τὰ χαρισθέντα ea, quæ Deus iis gratificatus eſt, 1.Cor.II.12. Et quæ novimus, à Spiritu S. novimus, illa ex ſpeciali Dei revelatione interna, adeóque fidei certitudine, novimus. 2. Locum Luc.X.20. non inſpexiſti. Non ad Apoſtolos, ſed ad ſeptuaginta diſcipulos Chriſtus verba ea, quibus gaudere eos, quòd nomina eorum Cœlo inſcripta ſint, juſſit, fecit. An verò ſic ad ſeptuaginta diſcipulos illos privilegium hoc gaudii & certitudinis Chriſtus reſtrinxit, ut ad alios fideles non pertineat? Atqui ſic ne ad ipſos quidem Apoſto-los pertinebit. Cæterùm viciſſim ex te quæro, quomodo Chriſtus 1.Cor.XV.5. poſt mortem duodecim Apoſtolis apparuiſſe dicatur, poſtquam Judas in locum ſuum jam abiit? Diſce, Collegium habere nomen à numero, qui illius Collegii eſt legitimus. 3. Quomodo S. Petrus 2.Epiſt.I.10. jubere potuit, ut ſtudeamus βεβαίαν τὴν κλῆσιν ἢ ἐκλογὴν ποιεῖσθαι vocationem & electionem noſtram firmam facere, ſi de vocatione noſtra in ſtatum gratiæ & æterna electione certi nunquam eſſe poſſumus, ſed ſemper vocatio & electio noſtra noſtri reſpectu ἀβέβαιος infirma manet? Certè vel hinc liquet dogmatis veſtri vanitas. Cui enim bono S Petrus hortaretur ad id, quod in tota vita noſtra obtineri non poteſt? Nam vocatio & electio reſpectu Dei ſemper firma eſt, quod vos non diffitemini. Intelligitur igitur firmitas & certitudo utriusque reſpectu noſtri. Sed quomodo, inquies, de σπουδῇ ſtudio noſtro certi eſſe poſſumus? Imò quomodo non poſſumus, ſi vocatio & electio firma omnino reddi debet? Studium enim illud medium eſt firmitatis. Et de eo certus fuit Paulus, & cum eo fideles omnes, (nam in plurali numero verba ſua concepit) cùm ſic 2.Cor.I.12. ſcripſit: Gloriatio noſtra hæc eſt, teſtimonium conſcientiæ noſtræ, quòd in ſimplicitate & ſinceritate in mundo converſati ſimus. Qui igitur ſtudii & piæ contentionis ſuæ ſenſum nullum habent, ii pace & teſtimonio conſcientiæ, omnem intellectum ſuperante, quódque adeò fidei πάθος eſt, deſtituuntur penitus. Priuſquam verò hinc te dimittam, lubet in te animadvertere ſummam σκληρότητα & præfractum animum. Meritò quondam Lutherus in Geneſ.41. dixit: Etiamſi nihil præterea peccatum fuiſſet in doctrina Pontificia, quàm quòd docuerunt, nos debere fluctuare & vagari ambigentes & dubios de remiſſione peccatorum, gratia & ſalute noſtra, juſtas tamen haberemus cauſas, cur ab Eccleſia ea nos ſejungeremus. Ita ſanè eſt. Propterea enim Doctores veſtri, quibus mica pudoris ſuperſtes adhuc fuit, utcunque perpetuæ dubitationis dedecus à doctrina ſua amoliri ſtuduerunt. Nihil de Ambroſio Catharino & aſſeclis ejus, Eiſengremii proteſtatione inprimis, quam ſupra attuli, dicam. Nihil de illorum ſententia, qui ſtatuunt, poſſe, imò ſolere homines ſpirituales & perfectos, ſecundùm ſtatum viæ, ad eam certitudinem ſeu ſecuritatem venire, ut nullam habeant de ſua juſtificatione formidinem, ad eum modum, quo credimus ſine ulla hæſitatione & formidine deceptionis, Romam fuiſſe & eſſe, Cæſarem aliquando in Italia regnaſſe, &c. A qua ſententia ipſe Dominicus à Soto Apol. contra Cathar. cap.2. Gregorius de Valentia diſp.8. q.5.pag.4. Tom.2. Carthuſianus in 1 Sent. d.17. q.5. & 10. referente Suarezio de grat. lib.9.cap.11.n.1. non abhorruerunt. Apertè verò Andreas Vega de juſtif. lib.IX.11.1. eam tuetur. Improbant tamen rigidiores, Bellarminus, Vaſquez, alii, neque categoricè Vegæ aſſentiri Redingius voluit, ſed ex hypotheſi tantùm aſſeruit, ſi qui talem certitudinem habeant, merè moralem, non Divinam eam futuram, quamvis à fide Divina eam defluere Vega contendat. Sed rigidior cæteris Bellarminus, concedit tamen paſſim certitudinem quandam moralem, & conjecturalem, & poſt operoſam de certitudine gratiæ juſtificationem, de juſtificat. lib.III.cap.11. ſic ſcribit: Dico, nullum eſſe Catholicum ſcriptorem, qui doceat, oportere homines perpetuò dubitare & hæſitare de ſua cum Deo reconciliatione. Poſtea: Tertia ſententia, quæ communior in Eccleſia eſt, non tollit quidem omnem formidinem, tamen tollit omnem anxietatem & hæſitationem, & ipſam etiam dubitationem, ſi dubius dicatur, qui non audet alteri parti aſſentiri. Quàm verè ſic ſcribat, non diſputo. Nam ſibi Bellarminum contradicere, dubitari nequit. Negat enim ex conſcientia gratiæ Deo gratias agi poſſe; & ex Eccleſiaſte probare molitur, omnia in futurum circa odium & amorem Dei ſervari incerta. De vocibus litigare vanum eſt. Sed certè qui damnatus eſt mortis, neque ullam viam habet evadendi, niſi ex condonatione, ille non poteſt non eſſe anxius, donec ipſi de condonatione illa penitus conſtiterit. Anxia enim res eſt, de ſtatu æterno nihil ſcire. Interim contraria Bellarmini verba ſaltem pudorem adhuc impii dogmatis nonnullum in ea adhuc ſuperſtitem teſtantur. Redingius verò noſter ſic pudorem omnem decoxit, ut in prolixa, quam mecum inſtituit, diſputatione ne quidem moralem, conjecturalem certitudinem fidelibus gratificetur, ſed incertitudinem, dationem, hæſitationem, anxietatem ubique ferè clamet; denique, ne immitis horridusque nimiùm videatur, certitudinem objectivam & conditionatam, hoc eſt, certitudinem, quòd Deus certa conditione ſalutem in verbo promiſerit; qualem Diabolus etiam & damnati omnes obtinent, largitur. Sic Papatus in pejus quotidie, proh dolor! degenerat, & ſuam de ſalute fidei ac bonorum operum, Spirituſque intus teſtantis ſenſu deſperationem conceptis veluti verbis publicè profitetur. Neque verò ita profiteri, mirum eſt. Nam generalem tantùm agnoſcit fidem, Chriſtum paſſum eſſe, mortuum ac ſepultum eſſe, qualem etiam Diabolus cum omnibus reprobis ſuis habet. Mirúmne igitur etiam, non aliam fidei, & ſalutis certitudinem habere, quàm eam, quæ cum Diabolo & reprobis ei communis eſt. Niſi igitur pronomina illa Me & Meus aptè, Redingi, diſcas ad uſum proprium referre, niſi cum Thoma, Dominus meus, ac Deus meus, Joh XX. 28. cum S. Paulo: Dilexit me, & ſemet ipſum tradidit pro me, Gal. I. 20. vera cum fiducia ingemines, actum eſt de ſalute tuamagis, quàm ſi Saxo Salires.

QUÆSTIO XII.

An quilibet homo juſtificatus teneatur ex fide credere, ſe eſſe è numero prædeſtinatorum?

NEgat canon XV. Nos ſub eadem, qua ſupra, limitatione, aſſerimus. Rationes militant omnes, quibus certitudinem gratiæ juſtificantis aſſeruimus. Qui enim infallibiliter cognoſcit gratiam ſuæ juſtificationis, infallibiliter etiam gratiam ſuæ prædeſtinationis cognoſcit, quia ſubordinantur. Hæc cauſa, illa effectus, Rom. VIII. 29. ARG. I. Plena perſuaſio charitatis Dei, quæ eſt electio in Chriſto Jeſu, Rom. VIII. 38. 39. Quem locum graviſſimè urget Auguſtinus.

Resp. Reding: 1. Charitas quidem illa Dei, quæ in Chriſto nos dilexit, & elegit, infallibilem certitudinem habet. Ubi verò S. Literæ docent, omnes & ſingulos fideles iſta inſuperabili electionis efficacia comprehendi? Nam Paulus Rom. VIII. 38 quidem docet, prædeſtinatos à charitate Dei non ſeparari; quinam verò ſint ita prædeſtinati, in individuo, non docet. 2. Contrarium liquet ex 2. Tim. II. 17. 18. ubi Hymenæus & Philetus dicuntur aberraſſe circa veritatem, & ſubvertiſſe aliorum fidem, quin & fundamentum Dei dicitur dicitur ſigillum iſthoc habere; Novit Deus, qui ſui ſint; quod ſignaculum cùm Dei proprium ſit, temerè à vobis fidelibus omnibus commune ſtatuitur; nec non ex Hebr. III. 12. ubi participes Chriſti effici dicimur, ſi principium ſubſiſtentiæ in finem uſque retineamus; ex Rom. VIII. 17. XI. 20. &c. 2. Tim. II. 11. 12. 13. ubi hæredes Chriſti & regnaturi dicimur, ſi unà patiamur; certo argumento, quòd glorificatio ex conditione reſpectu hominis incerta, perſeverantia videlicet, à qua homo deficere poſſit, pendeat. 3. Proin etiam prædeſtinationem illam quoad nos incertam, S. Patres, Chryſoſtomus in cap. 3. Phil. homil. 11. aſſerens, Paulum ipſum de ſalute ſua ſecurum non fuiſſe; Hieronymus lib. II. adv. Pelag. ubi certam eſſe victoriam, quandiu certamus, negat; denique Auguſtinus de Civit. Dei XII. 2. ubi quamvis juſtè viventes de perſeverantia ſua certos eſſe poſſe, vel quenquam ſcire, quòd ſit in prædeſtinatorum numero, negat; diſertè innuunt. Tract. IV. Ss. 2. pag. 488--490.

Reſp. 1. Fideles ſingulos inſuperabili electionis efficacia comprehendi, cur quæris? Faſſus enim ante es, charitatem Dei, qua in Chriſto nos elegit, infallibilem certitudinem habere. Nam quos prænovit, prædefinivit, vocavit, juſtificavit, eoſdem glorificavit etiam, Rom. VIII. 29. At fideles omnes Deus elegit, quia in Chriſto electi ſunt, ut credant & ſancti ſint, Epheſ. I. 4. Omnes igitur ſub electionis Divinæ efficacia comprehenduntur. Omnes electos Deus vocavit, donando fidem & reſipiſcentiam. Quotquot igitur credunt, electi pariter atque vocati ſunt. Eſt enim πίστις τῶν ἐκλεκτῶν fides fidelium, Tit. I. 1. Si hoc dicere voluiſti, fideles ſingulos ex ſpeciali revelatione dilectionis & electionis Divinæ conſcios non eſſe, reſponſum ex ſuperioribus habes, ſimúlque Apoſtolo aſſerenti, perſuaſum ſe eſſe, quòd & ipſe, & fideles omnes à dilectione Dei ſeparandi non ſint, denuo contradicis. Sicut enim non ex revelatione quapiam extraordinaria, ſed ex fidei indubitatis πυξιδίοις promiſſionem Dei ſibi applicando, perſuaſionem de ſua electione & dilectione S. Paulus hauſit: ita eandem perſuaſionem fidelibus omnibus, utpote ſimilia fidei ſuæ, quoad ſpeciem ſaltem, πυξιδίοις ſentientibus, & eodem modo ſibi promiſſionem applicantibus, vindicat, dicens v. 37: ὑπερνικῶμεν Victores SUMUS per eum, qui dilexit Nos. & v. 39. Perſuaſus ſum, nullam creaturam poſſe Nos ſeparare à charitate Dei. Quæ aliàs ad fideles ex privata Pauli de ſua ſalute perſuaſione conſolatio redundaret, ſi ſe quidem in portu conſtitutum, reliquos verò fideles inter ſacrum & ſaxum hærentes, inter ſpem & metum fluctuantes depinxiſſet? Unde verò fuit illa S. Pauli perſuaſio? Non utique ex ſpeciali externa revelatione; ſed partim ex teſtimonio Spiritus S. v. 15. 16. partim ex individuo nexu electionis, vocationis, juſtificationis & glorificationis, v. 29. partim ex ſenſu fidei in Mortem Chriſti, v. 32. 34. in reſurrectionem ejus, Seſſionem ad dextram, & interceſſionem pro nobis, v. 34. denique ex ſenſu effectorum fidei, juſtificatione, v. 33. ſpe, qua dicimur ſervati, v. 24. & dilectione noſtra erga Deum, v. 28. Hæc cùm in omnibus fidelibus, ſi non quoad gradum, quoad ſpeciem tamen locum habeant, par utique in iis æternæ dilectionis & electionis certitudo atque perſuaſio locum habeat oportet. 2. Loca à te obducta nec faciunt ad ſolutionem argumenti mei, nec planè appoſita ſunt. Etenim 2. Tim. II. 18. 19. qui aberrârunt à veritate, & quorum fides perverſa eſt, illi nunquam verè fideles fuerunt, uti alibi oſtendimus. Cætera, quæ affers, loca, hoc unum arguunt, electionis æternæ & ſalutis certitudinem omnem requirere impletionem mediorum & conditionum, in eodem electionis decreto conſtitutarum. Cæterùm id certitudinem fidelium non labefactat, quia earundem conditionum impletio non à noſtris viribus, ſed à Dei gratia pendet, & æquè, ac ſalus ipſa, in Evangelio promittitur. Promiſſio quidem Evangelii, qua Dei beneplacitum ſive teſtamentum declaratur, abſoluta eſt: ſed ſingularibus tamen perſonis conditionato axiomate primitus applicatur. quod axioma abſolutæ promiſſionis verum conſectarium eſt, & ad fundandam fidem ac Evangelicam conſolationem maximum momentum habet. 3. Patrum teſtimonia à te còn-ſarcinata nil cauſæ tuæ conducunt. Chryſoſtomus enim non aliud quàm ſecuritatem à fide removet, & negat ſecurum eſſe Paulum de ſua reſurrectione, quæ ad Chriſtum ducit, potuiſſe citra continuationem fidei. Hieronymus hoc unum aſſeverat, victoriam & glorificationem non hujus eſſe vitæ, in qua continuè certandum; ſed alterius & beatæ. Scilicet ὧδε στάδιον, ἐκεῖ δὲ στέφανος. Hic ſtadium, ibi corona eſt. S. Auguſtinus *de Civit. Dei lib. ARG. II. Spiritus S. docet nos omnia κεχαρισμένα, quæ gratificatus eſt nobis Deus, 1. Cor. II. 12. At electio æterna eſt nobis κεχαρισμένη.

RESP. REDING: Apoſtolus non loquitur de chariſmatibus, quæ ſingulis fidelibus in particulari ſint donata, ſed quæ fidelibus collectim, adeóque Eccleſiæ in membris ſuis indeterminatè ſpectatis donata ſunt. Ib. pag. 490. Reſp. Bene eſt, quòd id de donis gratiæ in hac vita intelligere videris; ſecus quàm Jeſuita veſter Becanus, qui ſtringi ſe argumento ſentiens, ad dona gloriæ retulit. quanquam ne ſic quidem ille elabitur. Si enim per Spiritum S. datur certitudo donorum gloriæ, quæ futura ſunt; multò magis dabitur donorum gratiæ, quæ præſentia ſunt. Sed nec tua gloſſa felicior eſt. Loquitur Apoſtolus de iis, quæ Deus ἡτοίμασεν gratificatus eſt, quæ ſupra v. 8. dixerat, oculum non vidiſſe, aurem non audiviſſe, in cor hominis non aſcendiſſe; ſed nobis per Spiritum ejus revelata eſſe. Quid aliud hæc ſunt quàm dona & bona fidelium N. T? Ea proin dicit data ἡμῖν NOBIS, puta ſibi & fidelibus omnibus; & Eccleſiæ electorum univerſæ, & ſingulis electis. Nam nec Eccleſia electorum collectim ſumpta eſt extra electos in particulari; nec electi in particulari ſunt extra Eccleſiam electorum collectim ſumptam. Quæ igitur bona fœderatorum ex æterna electione ſcaturientia Deus & omnibus & ſingulis fidelibus gratificatus eſt, ea per Spiritum Dei, hunc in finem datum, ἰδέναι, cognoviſſe dicuntur. Quid clarius pro certitudine gratiæ, & electionis ipſius, quæ gratiæ fons eſt, dici poterat?

ARG. III. Dantur prædeſtinationis infallibilia πνεύματα, & effectus ab ea infallibiliter emanantes, quales ſunt vocatio per donationem fidei & reſipiſcentiæ, juſtificatio, ſanctificatio, renovatio ad imaginem Dei per conformitatem cum imagine Filii Dei; triſtitia & dolor ob offenſam Patris, gaudium & promiſſa ſpiritualia, & pax ab humanis affectibus, patientia & conſtantia in adverſis, cum profectu & incremento hominis interioris, præſertim lucta conſcientiæ: motus & teſtimonium Spiritus S. interiùs dictantis, quæ facienda circa calamitates externas & mortem ipſam, & parantis nos ad omittenda omnia præter Deum: denique conſtans amor inimicorum ſine temporali reſpectu. Hæc πνεύματα & effecta arguunt cauſam prædeſtinationem haud ſecus ac lux ſolem, calor ignem, ratio animam.

RESP. REDING: 1. Argumentum ex effectibus prædeſtinationis petitum fidei certitudinem non arguit, quia hæc prima veritate revelante, illa effectu creato nituntur. Neque etiam certitudo fundata ſuper argumentatione tali, quòd effectus cauſam ſuam arguat, ad fidei certitudinem pertingit. 2. Sunt quidem, quæ tu affers, prædeſtinationis effectus; ſed non proprii. Ita fides per charitatem operans prædeſtinationis effectus eſt, ſed non proprius, quia cadere in eos etiam poteſt, qui ad finem uſque non perſeverant. Ib. pag. 490, 491. Reſp. 1. Effectus prædeſtinationis in homine prædeſtinato ita creati effectus ſunt, ut à ſolo Deo eligente pendeant. Cúmque Spiritus S. eorundem ſenſum in cordibus electorum efficiat, & Scriptura eoſdem nonniſi à prædeſtinatione arceſſat, ſaltem in nemine reprobo collocet; & fideles ipſi eorum ſenſu ſibi verbi Divini aſſertionem applicent, Divina utique certitudine, quæ fidei eſt, & prima veritate revelante nititur, prædeſtinationis certitudo ex iisdem ritè colligitur tali argumento: Quicunque ſentit ſe credere, communionem cum Chriſto per fidem, ſtudium & amorem Dei, legis Divinæ, & ſanctitatis, triſtitiam & dolorem ſecundum Deum, gaudium in adverſis, pacem ab humanis affectibus, incrementum hominis hominis interioris, motum & teſtimonium Spiritus S. dictantis facienda & omittenda, ac in iisdem dirigentis, fidem inprimis in Chriſtum Salvatorem, is prædeſtinatus eſt: Ego ſentio. Prædeſtinatus ergo ſum. Major eſt revelationis externæ, quæ effectus hoſce ſimilésque cum cauſâ ſua æterna electione paſſim, inprimis Rom. VIII 29. 30. connectit. Minor eſt revelationis internæ & viſionis. Concluſio ergo de fide eſt, & fidei certitudinem inducit. Cùmque Chriſtus ſit ſpeculum, in quo prædeſtinationem noſtram contemplemur, utpote in quo etiam electi ſumus, ſatis utique firmum & certum habebimus teſtimonium, nos in libro vitæ ſcriptos eſſe, ſi communionem habuerimus cum Chriſto, & is in vera fide noſter ſit, nos ejus ſimus, & Spiritus ejus participes nos redditos obſignatóſque noverimus. 2. Quòd verò effectus ejuſmodi electionis proprii ſint, in dubium vocari nequit. Ut enim de ſola fide ſalvifica & juſtificante loquamur, credidiſſe dicuntur quotquot ad vitam æternam ordinati, hoc eſt, electi ſunt, Act. XIII 48. Ubi Lucas differentiæ rationem expediturus, cur multis reluctantibus aliqui crediderint, cauſam ejus rei à ſola electione, utpote cujus donum fides ſit, petit. Cùmque S. Paulus 2. Theſſ. III. 2. neget, omnium eſſe fidem, ſatis clarè indicat, quorundam eſſe propriam. At non eſt propria reproborum. Electorum igitur propria eſt. Oſtendit id ipſum Apoſtolus 1. Theſſ. I. 3. 4. 5. Gratias agimus Deo ſemper omnium veſtrum cauſa, ſine intermiſſione commemorantes ſemper veſtrum opus fidei, & laborem charitatis, & patientiam ſpei Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti; Scientes, fratres dilecti, veſtram electionem à Deo. Ubi electionem Theſſalonicenſium oſtendit eſſe materiam gratiarum actionis; eóque ipſo inſinuat, Electionem cognoſci ex viva fide, charitate & ſpe ceu donis ſecundum electionem & propoſitum Dei datis. Unde 2. Theſſ. II. 13. gratias agit Deo de Theſſalonicenſibus, ceu dilectis à Deo, quòd elegerit eos ab initio ad ſalutem per ſanctificationem Spiritus & fidem habitam veritati, ad quam vocavit eos per Evangelium ſuum. Electio igitur æterna & dilectio Dei optimè cognoſcitur ex ſanctificatione Spiritus, & fide habita veritati in Evangelio prædicatæ. Quomodo verò cognoſci poteſt, ſi effectus hi communes ſunt electis & reprobis? Atqui per ſanctificationem hanc Spiritus, & fidem veritati (ſic enim appellatur, quia eſt fides habita Deo de Chriſto, vera & unica juſtitia noſtra, in qua ſola eſt ſpes æternæ vitæ non confundens) habitam dicitur Deus elegiſſe εἰς σωτηρίαν ad ſalutem. Cùm igitur ſoli electi ſalventur, ſanctificatio Spiritus & fides iis eximia & propria ſit oportet. Unde πίστις τῶν ἐκλεκτῶν fides electorum, propria ſcilicet, eſſe dicitur Tit. I. 1. Cùm igitur fides illa ſit electorum, & pendeat ab electione Dei ad ſalutem, clarum eſt, non eſſe eam niſi perſeverantium. de quo plura inferiùs.

ARG. IV. Sine hac prædeſtinationis certitudine nulla eſt ſolida conſolatio in vita & morte, nec gloria Deo debita adſcribi poteſt: nec incerti & dubitantes pro ea precari, nec denique pro eo munere gratias agere poſſumus. Mirificè igitur pietatis curſus hac ratione ſufflaminaretur.

RESP. REDING: 1. *Solida noſtra in vita & morte conſolatio conſiſtit in voluntatis noſtræ reſignatione & conformitate cum voluntate Divina. Hæc viva conſolatio eſt, quam ſequitur prompta reſignatio voluntatis noſtræ in Divinam, humilis adoratio, gratiarum actio, ceu æternæ amoris πρεσβεῖαι. Abſque ea verò eſt, tantum abeſt, ut Deo confidamus, vel curas noſtras, per reſignationem voluntatis noſtræ, in eum conjiciamus, ut potiùs neceſſum habeamus Deum horrere & fugere. niſi forte nobis blandiamur, & peccata noſtra extenuemus; quod non eſt glorificantis Deum, ſed ejus, qui ſibi ſecuritatem carnalem perſuaſione operum & perfectionis ſuæ parare geſtit. Et quomodo ex ſuæ in Divinam voluntatem reſignatione ſtimulum orandi pro perſeverante oriri dicis, ſi perſeverantiæ, ſine qua ſalvari nemo poteſt, donum apud Deum certum non eſt? Oratio enim omnis, cùm ex fide proficiſci debeat, reſpectu eorum, quæ ad ſalutem neceſſaria ſunt, promiſſionem Divinam exauditionis ſupponit. Si quid petieritis in nomine meo, inquit Chriſtus Joh. Quàm etiam dilutum eſt, quod ex Auguſtino urges, perſeverantiam ex eo donum Dei monſtrari, quòd pro ea oretur? Quis enim hoc negat, niſi forte Papiſtæ, qui eam ceu virtutem moralem, propriis actibus & exercitatione acquirendam eſſe ſtatuunt? Quæ porro Auguſtini de perſeverantia Sanctorum mens fuerit, infra penſiculatiùs trutinabimus.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Paulus Rom. XI. de prædeſtinatione diſputans, refert hoc myſterium inter altiſſima Dei ſecreta, & innuit, ſine ſpeciali revelatione ſciri non poſſe, quem Deus elegerit. Reſp. 1. Apoſtolus non de electione, ſed de rejectione temporali Judæorum ibi diſputat. 2. Electio equidem referri debet inter ſecreta altiſſima quoad cauſam & τὸ διότι, non quoad effectum & τὸ ὅτι, ejúſque ſenſum in electorum cordibus. Ita fieri poteſt, ut qui rem per cauſam non cognoſcit, eam per effectum cognoſcat.

EXCIP. REDING: Imò Apoſtolus de Judæorum reprobatione quoad fidem & ſalutem, tum de gentium electione ad fidem, gratiam & ſalutem agens, exclamat: O altitudo divitiarum Sapientiæ, &c. Si prædeſtinationis ſuæ per effectus certus eſſes homo, quomodo imperveſtigabiles eſſent viæ Dei, & juberetur cavere ſtans, ne cadat. Ib. pag. 491. 492. Reſp. OBIECT. III. Scriptura paſſim ſalutem ſuſpendit à conditione operum. Atqui nemo certò ſtatuere poteſt, ſe facturum omnia bona opera, quæ Chriſtus fieri juſſit. Reſp. 1. Prædeſtinationem ad ſalutem ex operum conditione non pendere, ipſe Bellarminus de gratia lib. II. cap.9.10. fatetur. 2. Neque etiam ſalus pendet ex operibus, tanquam ex conditione fidelibus incerta. Ipſi enim etſi non perfectionis, tamen ſinceritatis & ingenuitatis ſuæ, quam Spiritus S. in iis operatur, conſcii eſſe per teſtimonium ipſius Spiritus S. poſſunt.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. *Bellarminus negat, prædeſtinationem in ſua cauſa pendere à conditione operum; non in effectu & executione. Chriſtus enim Matth.XIX.17. cum juvene, juſtitiam ex lege ſectante, ex hypotheſi loquitur, vel certè mandatorum obſervantiam viam, non cauſam vivendi & regnandi facit: & Joh. XIV.22. characterem domus, ad quam ſe venturum, & in qua ſe familiariter, gratioſè & glorioſè habitaturum recipit, non cauſam adventus exponit. Quis verò, inquis, OBIECT. IV. Electio pendet ex ſola Dei εὐδοκίᾳ & libera voluntate. Atqui de iis, quæ ex libera Dei voluntate pendent, niſi ex ſpeciali revelatione nihil cognoſci poteſt. Reſp. Electio ita pendet à libera Dei voluntate, ut certò tamen ex Dei verbo conſtare poſſit de ejus infallibili ſigno,conſequente conditione & effectu, puta fide in Chriſtum & novitate vitæ. Quamvis igitur voluntatis divinæ à priori cauſa reddi non poſſit ſine ſpeciali revelatione, poteſt tamen fidelis ſine ſpeciali revelatione, ex generali firmiſſimáque promiſſione,& Spiritus S. ac conſcientiæ teſtimonio hanc ſibi certitudinem promittere.

Reſp.1. Res ipſa,Gratia Dei,juſtitia Chriſti,remiſſio peccatorum ante fidem contingit nemini, & nonniſi per fidem contingit. Sed & certitudo rei per fidem acquiritur, & augetur indies. Non igitur vel res,vel certitudo rei fide prior eſt; ſed fide & precibus utraque comparatur. Fides enim vitæ ſpiritualis initium & primus motus eſt,qui in gratiam in Evangelio oblatam fertur ilico, haud ſecus quàm heliotropium ſtatim atque ſe aperit,Solem verſus tuetur. Qui igitur ſalutis certitudinem nullam habent,illorum eſt ad eam precibus & fide aſpirare. Sed quod eorum officium eſt,gratiæ Dei beneficium in ſolidum idem eſt. Aliud eſt, aſpirare debere,aliud aſpirare poſſe. Illud,non hoc dixi. Tam remotus igitur à Pelagii caſtris ſum, quàm ſtrenuè tu pridem in iis militaſti. 2. Suis ſanè viribus, mortuus in peccato, & ſupernaturali vita deſtitutus adhuc, aſpirare nec fide, nec precibus ad certitudinem eam poteſt. Tenetur tamen,neque alia lege ſalus ei obtingit. Ut verò aſpirare poſſit,omnipotens Dei gratia ſola efficit.

QUÆSTIO XIII.

An homini etiam juſtificato, & ſub gratia conſtituto Dei præcepta obſervatu ſint poſſibilia?

ASſerit Synodus canone XVIII. Nos equidem concedimus, homini ſub fœdere Evangelico conſtituto haud impoſſibilem eſſe per Dei gratiam obſervantiam legis, quatenus videlicet ea neceſſaria eſt, ne amicitia Dei & ſua ſalute excidat. Ejuſmodi autem ad hoc legis obſervantia neceſſaria eſt, quæ cum fide remiſſionis peccatorum, quibus etiam regeniti crebrò legem violant, conſiſtere poteſt. At eam obſervantiam legis, quæ in fœdere operum ſecundum τὸ ἀκριβοδίκαιον ejus requiritur, poſſibilem eſſe ulli homini, ſi à ſolo Domino noſtro Jeſu Chriſto diſceſſeris, diſertè negamus, & dogma Synodi eſſe Phariſaicæ venæ pronuntiamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Homini etiam juſtificato & ſub gratia conſtituto adjacet neceſſitas peccandi ex reliquiis concupiſcentiæ, quam poſt baptiſmum in homine remanere Synodus Seſſ. V. can. 5. confeſſa eſt. Et illam ipſam concupiſcentiam eſſe veri nominis peccatum, ſupra probavimus.

RESP. REDING: 1. Argumentatio procedit ex falſo principio. 2. Catechiſmus veſter Dial. 29. negans poſſibilem hanc obſervantiam, & aſſerens ſimul, legem datam eſſe eum in finem, ut peccatum ſuum ac pœnam ei debitam homo ex ea agnoſcat, & de iis inde convincatur, ſibi contradicit. Quomodo enim lex hominem de peccato & pœna convincit in ſtatu, in quo Deus nec juſtè poſſet aliquid imperare, nec piè hominem condemnare? Impoſſibilia enim non potuiſſe Deum imperare, quia juſtus eſt; & damnare non poſſe hominem pro eo, quod non potuit vitari, quia juſtus eſt, Auguſtinus lib. de arbit. & grat. cap. 68. diſertè aſſerit. Tract. Temulenti inſtar modò huc, modò illuc ruis. Neque quicquam allatam ex Auguſtino rationem tibi patrocinari, jam ſupra convici. & redibit mox ratiocinatio tua. Carptim dico, Auguſtinum de eo loqui, quod homini ſimpliciter, & per naturam integram impoſſibile eſt; non quod tale eſt aliena vi, hominis ſe ipſum corrumpentis vitio.

Contra possibilem observantiam mandatorum in ipso etiam statu legis Mosaicæ fuisse, Deut.XXX.9. asseritur. Nam mandatum ad Deum revertendi ex toto corde & tota anima negat ibi Moses esse supra vires Israëlitarum.* Ib. pag. 494.495. Resp. Quàm feliciter S literas tractare sueveris, vel hoc specimen pandet. Etenim 1. ex Esaj XL.6.7. hominem naturæ solius, non gratiæ viribus legem implere non posse, concludi statuis. Sic autem verba habent: Auditur vox dicentis, prædica: & est, qui dicat, quid prædicabo? Omnis caro gramen, וכל חסדו & omnis pietas ipsius ut flos agri. Exaresçit gramen, defluit flos, cùm Spiritus Domini flaverit in illum. Utique gramen est populus. Exaresçit gramen, defluit flos. Et verbum Dei nostri stat in seculum. Quibus verbis non tantùm rejicitur omne studium carnis, tanquam inutile, fluxum, & quod coram judicio Spiritus Dei consistere non valeat: sed etiam arguitur ἀδυναμία, impotentia העם populi ipsius, Israëlis videlicet, qui assumptus licet à Deo, ut ejus eloquia viva audiret, adeóque populus Dei nominatus, & tanquam gens sancta, habens Deum & communionem in hæreditate permanente, vocabulo העם populi à reliquis gentibus discretus, Num. XXIII. 13. cum omni tamen חסדו pietate sua fuit instar graminis, quod & exaresçit, & florem durabilem producere non potest. Cui opponitur דבר אלהינו יקום לעולם verbum Dei stans in seculum, verbum videlicet testamenti, sponsionis, intercessionis, ῥῆμα & εὐαγγελισθὲν, verbum, quod evangelizatur inter nos, uti disertè explicatur 1. Pet. I. 25. sive semen illud incorruptibile, ex quo regeneramur, ib. v. 23. Quodnam verò verbum illud evangelizatum est? Hoc scilicet, quòd Jesus sit Christus, solus Salvator populi sui à peccatis. Hoc solum verbum vivum est, & manens in æternum, non exaresçens, instar graminis. Annon hinc manifestè liquet, omni carni, etiam fideli & credenti, qualis erat populus Dei, pietati studens, adeóque non naturæ duntaxat, sed etiam gratiæ viribus pollens, derogari potentiam, qualis inprimis est in obedientia perfecta legis, causa vitæ: & soli Christo evangelizato, legi subjecto, ut perfecta ejus impletione populum suum legi subjectum redimeret, Gal.IV.4.5. eandem adjudicari? Neque adeò v.31. expectantibus Jehovam חלפת כח permutatio, seu renovatio virium, ut aquilinis velut alis in altum ascendere possint, currant & non fatigentur; promittitur ad impletionem legis operum, sed potiùs ad constantiam in fide, & patientiam infractam in adversis. quod robur v. 30. לנערים ולבחורים pueris & juvenibus, hoc est, iis, qui viribus suis & consiliis, robori, promptitudini suæ confidunt, quales vos justitiarii & leguleji estis, negat. 2. Joh. VII. 19. Christus ad populum promiscuum, in quo pii & impii commixti erant, verba illa: Moses vobis dedit legem, & οὐδεὶς ἐξ ὑμῶν & nemo ex vobis facit legem, fecit. Dixerat equidem

v.17 Si quis velit voluntatem ipſius facere, cognoſcet de doctrina, an ſit ex Deo. Sed Dei Patris Chriſtum mittentis voluntatem facere, hoc quidem loco, non legem Dei perfectè implere, ſed, interprete ipſo Chriſto, Joh VI 40. credere in filium ſignificat. Par omnino ratio eſt loci Act. VII. 53. Accepiſtis legem per diſpoſitiones Angelorum, & non cuſtodiviſtis. ubi eos omnes, qui à Moſe legem acceperunt, non refractarios duntaxat alloquitur. 3. Ridiculum eſt, quòd ad locum Act. XIII. 38. 39. Per hunc Chriſtum vobis annunciatur remiſſio peccatorum, & ab omnibus, à quibus in lege Moſis non potuiſtis juſtificari; in hoc omnis credens juſtificatur, annotas, non potuiſſe Judæos per legem Moſis juſtificari, ſed poſſe nos per Chriſti gratiam. Hoc ipſum enim nos contendimus. Sed qua lege per gratiam Chriſti tum illi, Patres, juſtificati & ſalvati ſunt, Actor. XV. 11. tum nos juſtificamur? An obedientiæ perfectæ legis? Neutiquam; ſed fidei. Dicit enim Apoſtolus, in Chriſto juſtificari πάντα πεπιστευκότα omnem credentem, non, legem Moſis perfectè implentem. 4. Haud levis minùs eſt tua loci Act. XV. 10. de jugo, quod nec Patres V. Teſt nec fideles N. Teſt portare potuiſſe dicuntur, παρεμυθέα. Non phyſica, inquis, impoſſibilitas, ſed moralis difficultas innuitur. Stolidè. Ergóne phyſicè, ſeu naturaliter portare jugum potuerunt? Ergóne difficulter portare potuerunt, de quo ſimpliciter S. Petrus dicit, οὔτε ἰσχύσαμεν βαστάσαι, non potuimus portare? Cui proin impoſſibilitati opponit fidem ſalutis Patrum utriuſque fœderis in gratiam Jeſu Chriſti, utpote qui ſolus jugum iſthoc portavit, & legem vice noſtra implevit. 5. Quomodo etiam Rom. VIII. 3. 4. τὸ ἀδύνατον τοῦ νόμου, ὃ ἠσθένει διὰ τῆς σαρκὸς, impotentiæ legis, infirmatæ per carnem, quò minùs videlicet per eam à nobis impletam vivificari & juſtificari poſſemus, opponitur miſſio filii Dei in ſimilitudine carnis peccati, utpote per quem ſolum δικαίωμα τοῦ νόμου jus legis, quod ſcilicet illa perfectè impleta habet ad juſtificandum peccatorem. in nobis, credentibus ſcilicet, & obedientiam ac juſtitiam ejus vera fide recipientibus, ad ſalutem & vitam noſtram, implere potuerit. Si, quod tu ipſe fateris, Deus miſſo filio (miſſus autem eſt, ut pro nobis impleret legem. Matth III. 15. V. 17. Gal. IV. 4. 5. impotentiam noſtram ſupplevit, quomodo nos potentiam habemus legem perfectè implendi? Non enim ſic impotentiam noſtram ſupplevit, ut potentiam legem perfectè implendi nobis acquireret, ſed ut ipſe ſua obedientia nobis per fidem donanda nos à legis, quæ tranſgreſſori cuilibet maledicit, obedientia liberaret. Sic enim pro nobis execratio factus eſt, Gal. III. 13. Neque 6. feliciùs locum Gal. III. 21. expedis. Si lex data eſſet, inquit ibi Apoſtolus, ut quæ poſſet nos vivificare, verè ex lege eſſet juſtitia. Nequit igitur lex à nobis perfectè impleri, quia aliàs vivificaret nos, & ex lege juſtitia noſtra eſſet. Tu quæris: An eadem potentia gratiæ Chriſti neganda eſt? Potentia legem implendi gratiæ Chriſti neganda non eſt. At Chriſti gratia nos legem ipſos perfectè implere poſſe, id verò nego conſtanter, quia nec Scriptura uſpiam id dicit, & ſic non Chriſtus Salvator noſter eſſet, ſed nos Salvatores noſtros ſua gratia feciſſet. 7. Denique Deut. XXX. 9. Moſes neutiquam affirmat, perfectam legis obſervantiam non eſſe ſupra vires noſtras. Hoc tu impiè fingis, & Moſi falſus teſtis affingis. Sic enim verba habent v. 9–14. Convertetur Deus, &c. Si audiveris vocem Domini Dei tui, ut cuſtodias præcepta ejus, & ſtatuta ejus, quæ ſcripta ſunt in libro legis hujus, & ſi converſus fueris ad Dominum Deum tuum ex toto corde, & ex tota anima tua. Etenim præceptum illud, quod ego hodie præcipio tibi, לֹא נִפְלֵאת הִוא מִמְּךָ וְלֹא רְחֹקָה הִוא non eſt mirabile præ te, & non longinquum erit. Non in cœlis erit &c. Sed propinquum tibi verbum illud valde erit, in ore tuo, & in corde tuo, ad faciendum illud. Quod verò præceptum præceptum illud eſt? An legis operum? Neutiquam. Sed, τοῦτ' ἔστι τὸ ῥῆμα τῆς πίστεως ὃ κηρύσσομεν, hoc eſt verbum fidei, quod prædicamus, inquit interpres Moſis Paulus ipſe Rom. X. 8. Quomodo verò præceptum illud non mirabile, non longinquum, ſed propinquum in ore & corde fidelium eſt? Quia ſcilicet Deus & revelat illud per Spiritum ſuum 1. Cor. II. 10. 12. 13. & cordi inſcribit, hoc eſt, gratia ſua efficit, ut lege ea delectemur, illam perpetuò ante oculos habeamus & obſervemus. Atque eadem lex fidei poſt ſe trahit etiam pœnitentiam & obedientiam legis operum ex toto corde, ſed in hac vita ἐκ μέρους ex parte, in altera πλήρως perfectè 1. Cor. XIII. 9. 10.

ſtra velle non in nobis,ſed in Chriſto.Nocentes igitur ſumus omnes, quia puniti in Chriſto. Tu nos nocentes eſſe per naturam,innocentes per gratiam eſſe,ſcisti. Ita eſt. In nobis,an in Chriſto? Si in nobis innocentes ſumus, Chriſto igitur opus non fuit. Ita igitur in nobis nocentes ſumus,ut nulla gratia tollat noxam niſi in Chriſto,noxam noſtram in ſe ſuſcipiente. Quomodo igitur vel per naturam, vel per gratiam legem Dei perfectè implemus? 2. Jobus cap.IX.2.3. ſic ingenuè confitetur : Quid homo juſtitiæ contenderet cum Deo? Si enim velit cum eo litigare,non reſpondebit ad unum ex mille. Et v.28. Timui omnes labores meos,ſciens,quòd me impunitum non dimitteret. Quomodo perfectæ legis obſervantiæ ſibi, qui ita loquitur, conſcius eſt? Reflectens ſuper ſe,inquis, non reperit vires,quibus ſe juſtificaret. Annuo planè, & hoc ipſum volo. Sed an ſuper ſe reflectens reperit gratiam, qua legem perfectè impleret? Cur igitur timuit ſibi à Dei judicio, cur à pœna? Sed fuit, inquis, Deo teſte,vir ſimplex, rectus,timens Dei. Ita eſt ;ſed non ſimpliciter perfectus & ἀναμάρτητος. Nam maledixit diei nativitatis ſuæ ; adeóque non omnino peccati expers fuit, Simplex igitur, rectus fuit , non abſolutè, ſed comparatè ; non legaliter , ſed Evangelicè. 3. Pſal.XIX.13. ingeminat David : *Errores ſuos quis animadvertat? Imò ſua,non aliena peccata confitetur. Dicit enim : Ab occultis נקני abſolve me , non alios. Et quomodo gratiæ confidere potuit immunem ab omni peccato præſtanti , qui occulta peccata jam admiſſa agnoſcit, & pœnam deprecatur? 4. Pſalm.XXXII.5. 6. idem David dicit : Confitebar ſuper peccatis meis Jehovæ : & tu abſtuliſti pravitatem peccati mei. Propter hoc orabit ad te omnis pius. Ergo & ipſe peccata habuit à Deo remiſſa : & pii omnes habent, quorum remiſſionem orent. Et Pſal.CXXX.3. ſic precatur : Si peccata retineas (non remittas) Jehova, quis ſtabit? Nam apud te eſt condonatio,ut timearis. Habuit igitur peccata ; & innuit , habere omnes, quæ condonentur, & in judicio non imputentur. Ne umbra hic argumenti, inquis. Nempe vel cœcus es,vel mutire ad aperta nimis non audes. 5. Pſal.CXLIII.2. idem precatur : Ne venias in judicium cum ſervo tuo,nam non juſtificatur apud te ullus vivens. Qui legem perfectè implent, ii apud Deum juſtificantur. Nam facienti, hoc eſt, perfectè legem implenti, promittitur vita , ſeu jus vitæ ob juſtitiam præſtitam, juxta verba Dei : Fac hoc & vives, Levit.XVIII.5. Rom.X.5. Quaſi non iræ Divinæ adverſus Iſraëlitas omnes reddatur cauſa à peccatis Iſraëlitarum omnium ; & locutio univerſalis non ſit. Sed nec tua gloſſa rectior eſt. Nam ut populus fidelis, κεχαριτωμένος, gratia Divina multis modis præditus; non gentilis, ſic loquitur. Tu cum Phariſæis gratias agis Deo, quòd, ejus ſcilicet gratia, non ſis ſicut reliqui homines. At verè fideles cum publicano propriam juſtitiam, quamvis longè infra perfectam illam, quam lex requirit, ſubſidere gnari, eam deſpiciunt, & Dei miſericordiam implorant. Et ita jam olim Bernhardo de verb Eſaj. Serm. 5. viſum. ubi ſic ille: Noſtra, ſi qua eſt, humilis juſtitia, recta forſitan, ſed non pura. Niſi forte meliores nos eſſe credimus, quàm patres noſtros, qui non minùs veraciter, quàm humiliter dicebam: Omnes juſtitiæ noſtræ tanquam pannus menſtruatæ mulieris. Quomodo enim pura eſt juſtitia, ubi adhuc non poteſt culpa deeſſe? 7. Locus Dan. IX. 6. 7. 11. non minùs evidens eſt. Tua, inquit Daniel pius totius Eccleſiæ nomine, juſtitia eſt, Domine, & nobis convenit pudor faciei &c. Et omnis Iſraël tranſgreſſi ſunt legem tuam, & receſſerunt, ut non auſcultarent voci Tuæ. Tu non locum ſolvis, quia ſolvere nequis; ſed, ſcioli inſtar, quæris, quomodo iniquitates populo Dei imputari potuerint ſine poſſibilitate legis implendi? Atqui ſufficit, non impleviſſe, ſed piiſſimos quoſque peccata ſua humiliter confeſſos eſſe. Quæſtionem porro tuam ſolvimus, ac denuo infra ſolvemus. 8. Inprimis S. Paulus Rom. VII. 14 ſ. clariſſimè juſtitiariorum faſtum retundit, confeſſus ſcilicet, ſe (ex parte) carnalem eſſe, habere peccatum inhabitans, non facere quod bonum, ſed quod malum eſt; habere legem in membris, legi mentis repugnantem. Leviſſimè ictum hunc exire vis: Qua carnalis, inquiens, negat ſe legi parem eſſe. Atqui & carnalem ſe, (ex parte) eſſe fatetur; & carnem reſiduam cum Spiritu belligerantem Gal. V. 17. regenitis omnibus tribuit. 9. 1. Joh. I. 8. dicit S. Apoſtolus: Si dixerimus peccatum non habere, nos ipſos ſeducimus, & veritas in nobis non eſt. Incluſit ſeipſum dilectiſſimus ille Chriſti, qui in ejus ſinu cubuit. Annon igitur ſeductionem, mendacia eorum, qui ſe mandata Dei perfectè implere poſſe jactant, palpas? Sed Spiritum noſtrum, quem Calviniſticum Antichriſtiano tu cerebrò præditus appellas, retundi ſic ais, qui peccata in juſtificatione abſtergi negat. Ergo Antichriſtianus etiam Spiritus tuus te arguet, quòd, ſecundùm Johannis verba, quæ nec negare, nec torquere auſus es, juſtificatio non ſic peccata omnia abſtergat, ut in juſtificato nulla ſint; adeóque juſtificatus licet legem perfectè non impleat. 10. S. Jacobus cap. III. 2. agmen his verbis claudit: πολλὰ πταίομεν ἅπαντες. In multis labimur omnes. Bellarminus (cujus vitula ſi arare in his dignareris, ſpecioſiùs diſputares. ſed ſupercilium tuum non id ſemper fert) de peccatis venialibus ſermonem eſſe regerit. Sed lapſus omnis à lege lapſus eſt, adeóque ejus tranſgreſſio, vera ἀνομία, cum qua perfecta legis impletio non conſiſtit. Tu verò præteritis illis Jacobi verbis, ſequentia illà; Si quis in ſermone non offendit, hic perfectus vir; opponis. quaſi Jacobus ſibi contradixiſſet ſcilicet. Perfectus vir eſt, qui in ſermone non offendit. At omnes etiam ſubactiſſimos in ſermone offendere, inde S. Jacobus probat, quia in multis offendimus omnes. Neminem igitur τέλειον ἄνδρα perfectum virum eſſe innuit. Quamquam etiam aliud eſt vir perfectus, hoc eſt, ſpiritualis ſeu adultus, comparatè ad νήπιον infantes; 1. Cor. II. 6. III. 1. aliud perfectus vir ſimpliciter & abſolutè. 11. Tandem infeliciſſimè ex Scripturis diſputans, aliam quercum excutis. Patres, inquis, oppono. Nos verò neminem Scripturis oppoſitum audire dignamur. Poſſemus tamen tibi Patres magno numero, perfectioni juſtitiæ regenitorum fibras incidentes, reponere. Sed hoc non agimus. Clariſſima enim Scripturæ lux alienæ lucis fœneratione non indiget. Neque à te allegati contrariantur. Clemens Alexandrinus de potentia faciendi vel non faciendi mandata; Cyprianus de poſſibilitate faciendi, vel intelligendi præcepta loquitur. Quis hanc regenitis negat? De potentia perfectè faciendi & implendi omnia ſine peccato, diſputatur. Baſilius ſcribit: Ἀσεβὲς τὸ λέγειν ἀδύνατα εἶναι τὰ Θεοῦ πράγματος παραγγέλματα. Impium eſt dicere, impoſſibilia eſſe Spiritus S. præcepta. nempe natura, qualem integram homini Deus dedit. Dicit enim, impium eſſe, ſic affirmare impoſſibilia eſſe Spiritus S. præcepta, ſicut impoſſibile eſt, ut oculus ſe totum, adeóque tergum etiam ſuum videat. Hoc nos non dicimus. Impoſſibilitas non à natura, ſed à vitio naturæ ſuperveniente eſt. Hieronymus quomodo poſſibilia mandata putet, ipſemet explicat contra Pelag. his verbis: Deus poſſibilia mandavit: hoc nulli dubium eſt. Sed quia homines poſſibilia non faciunt, iccirco omnis mundus ſubditus eſt Deo, & indiget miſericordia ejus. Aut certè ſi oſtendere potueris, qui univerſa compleverit, tunc poteris demonſtrare, eſſe hominem, qui non indiget miſericordia Dei. Quid manifeſtius? Poſſibilia ponit mandata: ponit tamen, neminem unquam impleviſſe; ac iccirco omnes indigere miſericordia Dei. Poſt diſertè addit: Humana conditio ſi paulum ſe remiſerit, diſcit fragilitatem ſuam, & multa ſe non poſſe cognoſcit. En, non poteſt homo multa, quæ tamen poſſibilia ſunt. Nempe quæ natura, qualis à Deo integra condita eſt, poſſibilia ſunt, eandem ob fragilitatem & corruptionem naturæ reddita impoſſibilia ſunt.

ARG. IV. Neque dari poteſt exemplum ullum hominis ἀναμαρτήτου, à Chriſto ubi diſceſſeris. Nulla autem facultas homini data eſt fruſtra, ſed potiùs ut exerceatur, & quia in ſubjectis ſaltem aliquibus exercetur. Omnes nempe juſtificati habent reſiduam luctam carnis cum ſpiritu belligerantis, Matth. VI. 22. Rom. VII. 14. 15. Gal. V. 17. Quæ ipſa lucta neceſſitatem peccandi, & concupiſcentiæ reliquias demonſtrat.

RESP. READING: 1. Ab actu ad potentiam non licet argumentari. Neque ſic potentiam eam homini fruſtra datam eſſe ſequitur, ſi in actum non exeat, quia potentia ea diverſos obtinet gradus. In Maria quidem gratia plena omnimodam perfectionem habet: in aliis verò diverſimode ſe habet illa potentia, nunquam tamen cum gratiæ pleniſudine. Habent tamen auxilium gratiæ & ſufficientis & efficacis ad Divinam legem, cum perfectione tum extenſionis, univerſa Dei mandata complectentis; tum intenſionis, Deum ex toto corde atque ſuper omnia, obſervandam. quod exempla Joſiæ, Davidis, Joſiæ, &c. oſtendunt. Et quamvis ſubinde peccaverint Sancti, uti Davidis exemplo conſtat, cui Deus efficaciam gratiæ ad tempus ſubtraxit; hæc tamen jactura Divinæ gratiæ efficacia mox reparata eſt; & in ipſo peccandi actu auxilium gratiæ ſufficiens non defuit. Nam virtutes fidei, ſpei & charitatis, quas regenitis competere ipſimet fatemini, accedentibus Divinis inſpirationibus & motionibus, ſufficientes homini ad perſeverandum in ſtatu gratiæ vires ſuppeditant. Unde Chriſtus Apocal. III. 20. clamat: Ecce ſto ad oſtium, & pulſo. Si quis audiverit vocem meam, introrabo ad ipſum, &c. Quæ pulſatio vana foret ſine viribus ad aperiendum ſufficientibus. Eſt quidem in homine etiam regenito reliqua carnis concupiſcentia. Quia tamen ei, quod ex parte carnis per naturam agitur, voluntas non conſentit, ſed illud odit & deteſtatur, iccirco peccatum propriè dictum non eſt. Ib. p. 496-498. Reſp. 1. Mitæ & longæ ambages tuæ ſunt, atque pro more tuo intricas omnia. Modo ab actu ad potentiam arguere vetas: modo potentiæ gradus diſtinguis: modo ſufficientes vires Sanctis deputas: modo virium efficaciam adjungis: modo peccata cum gratiæ efficacia non quidem comitante, ſed ſubſequente conjungis: denique diverſiſſima ma licet hæc ad aſtruendam legis implendæ poſſibilitatem torques, Quid dicas, neſcis. Sed ſingula excutiamus. Cùm potentia ex actibus in cognitionem veniat, unde igitur potentiam implendæ legis ineſſe homini, qui nullo actu eam prodit, conſtat? Et fruſtranea ſic omnino erit. Tu negas, quia potentia ea diverſos habeat gradus. Hic ſupponis potentiam, de qua quæritur. Sed eſto. In aliis, inquis, habet gradum perfectionis, velut in Deipara: in aliis non item. De Deipara in loco contrarium vidimus. Solus Chriſtus perfectè legem implevit, atque ſic princeps ſalutis nobis factus eſt. Reliquis Sanctis tribuis potentiam, ſed non cum gratiæ plenitudine. At potentia perfectè implendi legem gratiæ plenitudinem requirit. Pergis: Habere gregarios eos Sanctos auxilium gratiæ ſufficientis & efficacis ad implendam Divinam legem cum omni perfectione & extenſiva, & intenſiva, ſeu appretiativa, idque probare contendis exemplis Joſuæ, Davidis, Joſiæ. At David peccator fuit. Quomodo igitur habuit gratiam & ſufficientem & efficacem implendi legem cum omni perfectione extenſiva & intenſiva, hoc eſt, & ſervandi omnia mandata Dei, & ſervandi in ſummo gradu amoris? Nam qui peccat, is in gradu amoris deficit, & Deum non diligit ſuper omnia, ſed creatura, tanquam fine amoris ſui, fruitur. Imò qui legem totam ſervat, & in uno deficit, reus eſt omnium, Jac. II. 10. Hic iterum reſilis, & efficacis gratiæ tempora diſtinguis. Nam cùm peccat, inquis, ad tempus efficacia ceſſat, ſed redit, atque interea ſufficientes gratiæ vires permanent. An hoc eſt dicere cauſam, quomodo perfectè legem impleverit David, qui tamen peccavit, & peccavit graviſſimè, adeóque impingens in uno, mandatorum omnium reus factus eſt? Sciliset, juxta Bellarmini præſcriptum, impletio legis referri debet ad tempus illud, quo non peccat, ſed rectè operatur juſtus. Quomodo ſi dies eſt, dies eſt. Nam cùm peccatum ſit prævaricatio legis, certè qui non peccat, non prævaricatur: & qui non prævaricatur, implet. Ac proinde tam incertum eſt, te non prævaricari, quàm incertum, implere. Sed fruſtra ſic ille contendit. Impletio enim legis non eſt ex parte, ſed ex toto. Obligatur enim univerſa vita, non ejus unum aliquod momentum: & obligatur ad omnia, non ad unum, juxta illud Jacobi jam allatum, omnium eſſe reum, qui in uno impingit. Neque id aliter intelligi poteſt, quia licet non ſit reus homicidii, qui nonniſi furtum fecit, reus tamen eſt violatæ univerſæ legis ejus, cujus pars eſt; Non furaberis. Qui igitur furatur hodie, etiamſi heri furatus non fuerit, nec hodie ſit homicida, tamen eſt prævaricator totius legis, ac proin non eſt ſine peccato. Quò etiam verba Dei Ezech. XVIII. 24. 26. Cùm averſus fuerit juſtus à juſtitia ſua, & fecerit iniquitates, omnium juſtitiarum ſuarum, quas fecit, nulla erit recordatio; pertinent. Nec dum tamen herbam porrigis, ſed Davidem, aliósque Sanctos, etiam in ipſo actu peccandi auxilium Dei ſufficiens perfectè implendi legem habuiſſe, pertendis. Quo verò argumento? Geminum affers. Prius, quia virtutes fidei, ſpei & charitatis Sancti omnes habent. Ita eſt; ſed quoad habitum non perfectum, in hac quidem vita, teſte S. Paulo 1. Cor. XIII. 9. 10. &c. & cum oppoſito habitu peccati adhuc inhabitantis, & carnis Spiritum perpetim oppugnantis, Rom. VII. 17. Gal. V. 17. Poſterius, quia Chriſtus ſtat ad oſtium, & pulſat, atque introitum audienti aperientique promittit, Apocal. III. 20. Fruſtra verò eſt pulſatio, ſi non ſit, qui vires aperiendi habeat. Quaſi audire vocem Chriſti pulſantis, & aperire oſtium, ſit legem Dei perfectè implere, & non potiùs Chriſtum, ejúſque beneficia vera fide amplecti, amare, & cum eo communionem deſiderare. Tum pulſat Chriſtus, quando non ſubducit ſe à conſpectu hominum, ſed vim facit, & introitum in corda, publica & univerſali prædicatione verbi, quasi molitur. Tum igitur aperitur ostium, cùm Evangelium non auditur duntaxat, sed vera fide in cor recipitur. Tum ingreditur Christus & cœnat cum aperientibus, quando eos justitia & lœtitia implet, atque se cum illis exhilarat. Nihil ergo perplexis & contortis sophismatis tuis efficis; neque vel unum Sanctum, excepto Christo, ostendere potes, qui omnes numeros sanctitatis à lege præceptæ, impleverit. Aut da exemplum, ita te ex Hieronymo adv. Pelag. lib. I. compello, qui absque peccato fuerit in perpetuum: (hoc enim solum est legem perfectè implere) aut, si dare non potes, confitere imbecillitatem tuam: & noli ponere in Cœlum os tuum, ut per esse, & esse posse stultorum illudas auribus. Quis enim tibi concedat, posse hominem facere, quod nullus unquam hominum potuerit? Iterum: Si potest esse homo sine peccato, quod Apostolos non fuisse, perspicuum est, possit esse super Apostolos homo: ut taceam de Patriarchis & Prophetis, quorum in lege non fuit perfecta justitia. Eant nunc Papistarum gigantes, Sancti, & prædicent de se, quod olim Isiodorus nescio quis, Socrate Hist. Eccl. lib. IV. 18. narrante, de se prædicavit, quòd per annos quadraginta peccatum nullum in animo senserit, dejerans etiam, se vel cupiditati, vel iræ ultro unquam inserviisse. Prædicet de Gonzaga aliquo Baronius, vel Bellarminus, fuisse cum expertem peccati; vel de Bonaventura suo fœx Scholæ, in quo ne Adamum quidem peccasse ferunt; vel de Patruo suo Sanctulo illo, Francisco Salesio, nepos ejus, Aug. Salesius, quòd ne minimam quidem imperfectionis atomum ejus tota vita à prima ejus conceptione continuerit: vel de suis Electis Manichæus; vel de se denique Priscillianus, Evagrius, Jovinianus, Messaliani. quibus præsultoribus gaudent illi. Nos cum Ambrosio dicemus potiùs: Non gloriabar, quia justus sum, sed quia redemptus sum. Glorior, non quia vacuus peccati, sed quia remissa mihi sunt peccata. Obtinebit alias, quod in Pelagianis Innocentius damnavit rectè: Quid mihi nunc opus est Deo? 2. De concupiscentia regenitorum abundè supra disputatum est. Negas equidem, concupiscentiam esse peccatum, quia voluntas ei, quod ex parte carnis per naturam agitur, non consentit. Sed per quam naturam homo concupiscit, & quidem adversus Spiritum? Integram, an corruptam? Si prius, Deus vitiosæ concupiscentiæ author blasphemè statuitur. Si posterius, jam ergo homini regenito ejusmodi concupiscentia inest, quæ corruptione sua contra universam legem militat, & causa ac fomes malus est peccatorum actualium. Quo verò sensu voluntaria sit eadem, quo non, supra ostendimus. Lubet sententiam meam firmare verbis S. Augustini contra Jul. lib. V. 5. ubi sic ille: Dum hic vivimus, ubi caro concupiscit adversus Spiritum, & Spiritus adversus carnem, quantumlibet in isto conflictu superiores simus, nec membra nostra exhibeamus arma iniquitatis peccato, obedientes desideriis ejus: tamen, ut taceam de corporeis sensibus, & in rebus, quibus licitè utimur, surrepentis voluptatis excessibus: in ipsis certè cogitationis motibus & affectibus, si dixerimus, quia peccatum non habemus, nos ipsos seducimus, & veritas in nobis non est.

Resp. Reding: Duo falſa principia ſupponis. Prius, quòd præceptum diligendi Dei in hac etiam vita exigat, ut homo perpetuò ac ſine ullâ interruptione in actu dilectionis Divinæ perſiſtat. Atqui legis de Deo amando eſſentia formaliter conſiſtit in affectu ſummè appretiativo, hoc eſt, ut tanto Deum in pretio habeamus, ut ei nihil anteponamus, nihil contra, ſupra, vel æquè ac Deum diligamus. Continuatio verò, intenſio & extenſio amoris appretiationis hujus accidentia ſunt, quæ ſuam perfectionem non in hac, ſed in cœleſti domum vita ſortiuntur. Poſterius eſt, quòd dilectio Dei exigat virium in Dei amore jugem occupationem, ut quælibet defectio directè legi Divinæ oppoſita ſit. Verùm licet nulli quantumvis Sancto accidat, ut in nullâ accidentali circumſtantia amoris deficiat; adeóque peccata venialia nulla committat; ſatis tamen eſt, quòd præcepti illius ſubſtantia, in appretiatione illa conſiſtens, ſervatur, atque ſic dilectionis Dei mandatum directè non violatur. Ib. pag. 498. Reſp. Tam exactus ſcilicet es humani officii tiutinator, vel potiùs impudens ſocordiæ humanæ palpo. Talem legis Divinæ ſenſum, vel extenuationem fingere debuiſti, ut poſſibilis fiat dilectio. Concedo equidem, Deum diligendum eſſe appretiativè (tuo termino & novo & barbaro, & cum verbis Dei vivi commutato uti cogor) hoc eſt, ſic, ut neminem ſupra, contra vel æquè ac Deum diligamus; vel pari in pretio ac deliciis habeamus; omnia verò reliqua infra Deum & propter Deum. Sed nego, ſubſtantiam illius amoris, qua lex Deum jubet diligere ex toto corde, tota anima, בכל מאד ἐξ ὅλης ἰσχύος, vel διανοίας ex tota vi & cogitatione hominis, Deut. VI 5. Matth. XXII. 27. 29. Marc. XII. 30. Luc. X. 27. in ſola ejuſmodi appretiatione conſiſtere: tum quia in lege hac nulla eſt vel comparatio cum creaturis, vel relatio ad illas: tum quia Deum offendimus etiam tum, quando infra eum ullam rem ſic amamus, ut ea, tanquam fine amoris noſtri frui geſtiamus: tum quia propter Deum relinquenda eſt omnis creatura, cùm videlicet quæſtio eſt, an poſſimus creaturam diligere non in Deo, & ad Deum: tum quia etiam amor uxoris, maritum ſupra adulterum amantis, adulterinus eſt: tum quia cùm amor intendi ac remitti poſſit, ac ſub ſummo varii gradus amoris eſſe poſſint, poterit amor Dei non eſſe ſummus, qui tamen non ſit infimus, atque ſic Deus ametur ſuper omnia, & tamen non amore ſummo: tum denique quia emphaſis verborum legis illius aliud inſuper poſtulat. Jubet enim lex Deum diligere, ex toto corde, tota anima, & tota vi ſeu cogitatione; hoc eſt, ut ſic voluntas diligens erga Deum ſit affecta, quemadmodum ejus excellentia, jus in nos & nomen ejus, quo nobis cognitus eſt, meretur. Proficiſcatur igitur amor ille oportet primò ex fide integerrima (quia enim ſapiens eſſe debet noſtra dilectio, & fides Divinæ revelationis Sapientia noſtra eſt, ſine ea eſſe nequit) judicio certo & προθέσει propoſito conſtanti, δικαιοσύνῃ & bona conſcientia, ſecundùm omnem notitiam Dei poſſibilem, cum fiducia, ſine metu, cum lætitia & ἀγαλλιάσει geſtitione, (hæc enim omnia cordi, ſeu ſpiritui attribui ſolent:) Secundò cum deſiderio & appetitu integro, hoc enim נפש ψυχὴ anima requirit: Tertiò cum plena contentione omnium virium in creatione à Deo acceptarum, (neque enim quælibet vires etiam homini corrupto præſentes intelliguntur, ſed vires naturæ, qualem à Deo accepimus, quia aliàs obedientia menſuraretur ex modulo obedientis) & inprimis virium animæ & rationis, ut cogitatio noſtra omnis in Deo defixa ſit. Dei, Pſal. CIII. 20. quibus nos aſſimilari petimus in tertia parte Orationis Dominicæ: Fiat voluntas tua in terra, ſicut in Cœlo. Jam qui interrumpit amorem, quomodo ex totis viribus, tum cùm interrumpit, Deum amat? Et magis, quomodo ex toto corde, anima, omnibus viribus, Deum amat, qui ab amore deficit, qui aliquando peccat, concupiſcit? Annon enim peccatum quodvis, concupiſcentia quævis ſummum gradum amoris Divini impedit, imò tollit? At ſummus amor Dei requiritur, ita ut nullus ſit amoris gradus intra ſummum: & ſummus abſolutè, non comparatè ad res alias, quæ ſub amorem cadunt. Sic demum totum cor, tota anima, tota vis & cogitatio amori Dei impenditur. Præclarè id S. Auguſtinus de Doctr. Chriſt. lib. I. 2. ſic explicat. Hæc regula dilectionis Divinitus conſtituta eſt; Diliges, inquit, proximum ſicut te ipſum: Deum verò ex toto corde, tota anima, & tota mente, ut omnes cogitationes tuas, & omnem vitam, & omnem intellectum in illum conferas, à quo habes ea ipſa, quæ confers. Cùm autem ais, toto corde, tota anima, tota mente, nullam vitæ noſtræ partem reliquit, quæ vacare debeat, & quaſi locum dare, ut alia re velit frui: ſed quicquid aliud diligendum veneris in animum, illuc rapiatur, quò totius dilectionis impetus curris? Et alibi: Cùm eſt aliquid carnalis concupiſcentiæ, quod vel continendo frænetur, non omnino ex tota anima diligitur Deus. Atqui in omni regenito aliquid carnalis concupiſcentiæ ſupereſt. Sic igitur inconcuſſa ſtant duo illa, quæ nulla ratione exagitas, principia, ut ex adverſo manifeſtum ſit, te ejuſmodi Dei juxta legis præſcriptum (alia enim ratio eſt ἰσοτιμίας Evangelicæ, cujus perfectio in fide remiſſionis peccatorum & integritate cordis conſiſtit; quæ hic in quæſtionem non venit) dilectionem non appretiativam, ſed nullius pretii fingere, quæ ex utroque latere claudicat, & hominem δίψυχον, duplicis linguæ & cordis Protheum, verbo dicam, Phariſæum, non virum perfectum, mutatò & viro legis factorem integrum, deceat. Rectiùs longè Scotus veſtet; diſt. 27. definivit, diligendum eſſe Deum & extenſivè & intenſivè ſummè, quod tu diſertis verbis, contra verborum præcepti emphaſin explicatam, negas.

RESP. REDINO: Poſſibilem obſervantiam legis ex meritis Chriſti, non cum Pelagiana ex viribus naturæ arceſſimus. Ib. pag. 498. Reſp. Et falsò 3 & non ſine contradictione arceſſitis. Falsò, quia nuſpiam Scriptura teſtis eſt, Chriſtum hoc nobis promeruiſſe, ut ipſi perfectè legem implere poſſimus. Sic enim noſtri Salvatores eſſemus magis, quàm Chriſtus. Non tam enim qui meretur vires obediendi, quàm, qui perfectè obedit, undecunque vires habeat, Salvator eſt, & vitam meretur. Sic nempe meritum Chriſti foret conditio, obedientia ipſa cauſa ſalutis. Sed & contradictiò eſt in terminis. Chriſtus enim nihil meruit pro juſtis, ſed juſtus pro injuſtis, 1. Pet. III 18. & Salvator eſt populi ſui à peccatis, Matth. I. 21. Qui verò peccator & injuſtus eſt, nunquam perfectè legem implet, quia lex nullam inciſionem vel interruptionem juſtitiæ patitur, Ezech. XVIII. 21. 22. &c.

set hominem externas quidem culpas reprehendere, vitare utcunque, at internæ vitiositatis gravioris gratiam sibi facere ; infidelitatis & injustitiæ, quia omisso Christo propriam justitiam stabilit, & leviter tinctum colore sanctitatis in graviora præcipitat.

Resp. Reding: Non cordi nostro, sed gratiæ Divinæ benedicimus; non hypocriseos rei sumus, sed de nobis & viribus nostris nihil præsumentes, Divina gratia freti interiorem vitiositatem cohibemus. Ib. pag. 499. ARG. VIII. Ipsa Synodus ait cap. 9. Justorum humilem & veram vocem esse: dimitte nobis debita nostra. Hæc vox supponit quotidianas transgressiones.

Resp. Reding: Illa vox justorum non habet locum nisi in iis, qui dilectionis Divinæ mandatum servant quoad substantiam, licet in circumstantiis accidentariis deficiant. Ib. pag. 499. Resp. Quasi scilicet debita illa, quorum remissionem in Oratione Dominica Sancti petunt, cum substantia dilectionis Dei consistant, & non sint nisi aberratio quædam à circumstantiis amoris Dei necessariis. Videte fibras hypocriseos Pontificiæ, qua peccata vel extenuari, vel planè negari necessum erat, ut possibilis legis impletio subsisteret. Atqui peccata veri nominis, quæ sunt transgressio legis de diligendo Deo & proximo, Christus ὀφειλήματα debita ex consuetudine loquendi, qua Judæi quævis peccata vocant חובות debita, ut doceat nos agnoscere judicium Dei, & peccatorum, ni condonentur, meritum. Debitores enim faciunt pœnæ, & quidem ejus, quæ per Christi solius meritum, non per merita humanarum satisfactionum, condonari potest. Quod enim condonatur, debitum est, sive constituit nos reos debendæ pœnæ. Quod reos debendæ pœnæ constituit, peccatum est propriè dictum, incurrens in substantiam præceptæ dilectionis, non in circumstantiam non necessariam. Qui Deum ex toto corde, tota anima & omnibus viribus juxta ἀναγκαιότητα legis diligit, is reus non est debendæ pœnæ, & quidem talis, quæ nonnisi remissione per Christi meritum condonari potest. Fucum igitur faciunt Tridentini, simul flantes sorbentésque, cùm dicunt, justorum, hoc est, juxta eosdem, eorum, qui legem perfectè impleverunt, humilem & veram vocem esse: Dimitte nobis debita nostra. imò etiam Can. 23. anathema dicunt iis, qui docent, hominem justificatum semel posse in tota vita omnia peccata etiam venialia, vitare, nisi ex speciali Dei privilegio.

Reſp. 1 Chriſti doctrina, quæ gratiæ viribus levis redditur obſervatu, non eſt impletio legis à ſingulis fidelibus præſtanda. Legis enim eſt juſtificare per opera: Chriſti autem juſtificare per gratiam. Eſt igitur doctrina de obedientia fidei & charitatis conjuncta cum remiſſione peccatorum; hoc eſt, ejuſmodi lex, quæ exigit quidem etiam obedientiam & ſanctitatem operum, ſed ſtatim promittit remiſſionem eorum, quæ contra operum juſtitiam admiſſa fuerint, teſte S. OBIECT. VI. Si mandata legis impoſſibilia eſſent, neminem obligarent, vel Deus ad ea obligans crudelitatis & tyrannidis inſimularetur. Reſp. 1. Quod impoſſibile eſt ἁπλῶς abſolutè & ſuâ naturâ, neminem obligat. Sed mandata legis impoſſibilia ſunt κατὰ τὶ ſecundum quid, ob interveniens naturæ integræ vitium. Sicut igitur creditori jus integrum manet etiam obæratum obligandi ad expungendum debitum: ita Dei jura non imminuuntur, quia homo ſe voluntariè corrupit. 2. Neque à fidelibus legem Deus requirit, quaſi illam ſervare poſſint, ſed ut ſit pædagogus ad Chriſtum & norma officii. Et per vocem legis ita morbum oſtendit, ut per vocem Evangelii ſimul medicinam ſuggerat.

Excip. Reding: 1. Argumentum noſtrum ex Auguſtino ſupra adducto, robur habet. cui tu contradicis. 2. Evangelium juxta te medicinam ſuggerit morbo à lege oſtenſo. Applicare igitur medicinam per vires gratiæ poteſt. Annon ergo iisdem viribus etiam legem implere poſſit? Licet igitur ob vitium naturæ integræ ſuperveniens non ſit poſſibilis obſervantia legis, ſicut in ſtatu naturæ integræ fuit; Deus tamen naturæ defectum ſupplet, & ex Chriſti merito univerſis hominibus implendi gratiam confert. lb. pag. 501. Reſp. 1. De Auguſtino ſupra vidimus. Negat præcipi poſſe, quæ impoſſibilia factu ſunt ἁπλῶς, ſimpliciter & per vires naturæ integræ, qualis à Deo eſt. Nihil hoc ad rem. Nec tu nodum à me nexum ſolvis. Hæret tibi aqua. 2. Evangelium medicinam ſuggerit, cujus applicatio per gratiam, quam idem Evangelium offert, & per Spiritum Dei confert, poſſibilis eſt. Sed legis obſervantia plena & perfecta ejuſdem gratiæ viribus poſſibilis non eſt, quia ſemper obſtat concupiſcentia, & peccatum inhabitans, quod de ſummo amoris gradu in lege requiſito delibat: & Deus gratiam ſuam ea menſura, qua vult, in hac vita diſpertitur. 3. Reſponſionis meæ nervum non feris Præcipi poſſe impoſſibilia ſecundum quid, quæ talia ſunt ob vitium naturæ integræ ſuperveniens, aſſero. Deus enim jure ſuo ob impotentiam ex peccato contractam non excidit. Ne ipſi quidem damnati in inferno obligatione amandi Dei ſoluti ſunt, cùm creatura nunquam non Creatori ſuo ſubeſſe, & eum, ceu finem ſuum reſpicere teneatur: licet ob voluntariam & finalem ſuam inobedientiam damnati amandi Dei impoſſibilitatem contraxerint. Hoc tibi expediendum fuerat. De cætero Deum ita ſupplere velle defectum, qui naturæ integræ ex peccato obvenit, ut eandem in hac vita potentiam, quam homo integer habuit, reſtituat, probo. Senſim procedit reſtauratio, & in altera demum vita conſummatur. Quis denique finis ſit Dei impoſſibilia præcipientis, reſponſio mea explicat. Non latuit Præceptorem, inquit, Serm. 50. in Cant. Bernhardus, præcepti pondus excedere vires, ſed judicavit utile ex hoc ipſo ſuæ illos inſufficientiæ admoneri, & ut ſcirent, ad quem juſtitiæ finem niti pro viribus oporteret. Ergo (NB) mandando impoſſibilia non prævaricatores facis, ſed humiles, ut omne os obſtruatur, & ſubditus fias omnis mundus Deo.

OBIECT. VII. Omnes juſtificati habent Spiritum S. qui ſuos parit juſtitiæ fructus Gal. V. enumeratos. At qui fructus Spiritus S. habent, non accuſantur à lege, quia adverſus eos non eſt lex 1. Tim. I. 9. Reſp. 1. In hac vita nonniſi primitiæ Spiritus S. contingunt fidelibus. 2. Operationes Spiritus S. ſunt in corpore peccati & mor-mortis Rom.VII.24. Ergo pro ratione inſtrumenti & infirmitatis noſtræ modulo perficiuntur. Et ex parte adhuc carnales ſumus, venundati ſub peccato, Rom.VII. 3. Licet igitur ipſam ſubſtantiam fructuum Spiritus S. non accuſet lex, tamen qualitatem, hoc eſt, imperfectionem eorundem, ut & peccatum in carne renatorum adhuc habitans accuſat.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. In carne regenitorum habitare peccatum propriè dictum, malè ſupponitur. 2. An primitiæ Spiritus S. pro ratione inſtrumenti & infirmitatis modulo intrinſecè inſtrumenti hujus malitia contaminantur, nec ne? Si affirmas, in ipſum Spiritum S. redundabit malitia. Si negas, Spiritus S. operationes ejus conditionis ſunt, ut à lege non accuſentur. 3. Juſtis non eſt poſita lex 1.Tim.I.9 quia lege legitimè utitur, adeóque eam perfectè obſervat. Ib. pag.502. Reſp.1. Bene ſupponi, ex iis, quæ Quæſt.II. ad Seſſ.V. diſputata ſunt, liquet. 2. Ubi primitias & operationes Spiritus S. ab inſtrumenti malitia contaminari, dico? Eſſe eas in corpore peccati & mortis, Scriptura Rom.VII.24. teſtatur. Pro ratione igitur inſtrumenti eas perfici, liquet. Cùm igitur inſtrumentum operationum illarum ſit homo in hac vita imperfectus, & peccato obnoxius (quod Tridentini tui non negant) nec ita perficiuntur ejus operationes, quin imperfecti aliquid, adeóque malitia in inſtrumento reſideat adhuc; nec malitia in Spiritum S. ſed in inſtrumentum Spiritus S. operantis redundabit omnis. 3. S. Paulus 1.Tim.I.9. dicit: Δικαίῳ νόμος οὐ κεῖται, Juſto lex non jacet, vel poſita eſt; ſive quia ei, utpote à Chriſto ejus vice impleta, ad condemnationem non eſt oppoſita (quomodo enim condemnaret fideles lex à Sponſore eorum loco impleta? & quomodo vicaria impletione Sponſoris indiget, qui ipſe legem perfectè implet?) ſive quia juſtus, ſeu per Chriſtum juſtificatus, adeóque συνείδησιν τετελειωμένην conſcientiam habens conſummatam, & legi mortuus eſt, & lex ipſi mortua eſt Rom.VII.4.6. nempe quando mortuus eſt ille, cui Iſraëlitæ ſub lege detinebantur; atque ſic ille, ceu juſtificatus à peccato Rom.VI.7. non amplius ſub lege, ſed ſub gratia eſt, ib. v.14. (quomodo verò legem perfectè implendi neceſſitas ei, qui ſub lege non eſt, ſed ſub gratia, incumbit?) ſive denique, quia juſtificatus per Chriſtum, non juſtificatur per legem à ſe implendam vel impletam, adeóque ad juſtificationem ſuam propria & perfecta impletione legis non indiget. Judica jam, Redingi, an lege νομίμως legitimè utatur, hoc eſt, legis doctrinam ceu νομοδιδάσκαλος legis doctor, rectè & ſalutariter proponat is, qui eam perfectè ad juſtificationem ſervandam docet, cùm tamen eo ſenſu legem juſto ne quidem poſitam eſſe, ſed iis duntaxat, qui ſub gratia non ſunt, & quorum loco legem Chriſtus non implevit, poſitam eſſe, Apoſtolus doceat.

QUÆSTIO XIV.

An Christus Jesus hominibus à Deo datus sit ut Redemptor tantùm, cui fidant, non etiam ut Legislator, cui obediant?

NEgat prius, & asserit posterius sub anathemate Concilium Canone 21. In confesso equidem est, Christum in forma Dei existentem eam legem simul cum Patre & Spiritu S. tulisse, cujus Moses minister fuit, & cujus in fœdere operum ad justificationem facta est stipulatio. Fatemur & hoc, Christi Evangelium, quo remissio peccatorum sub conditione fidei per intercedens λύτρον promittitur, generaliter appellari posse νόμον legem, quatenus lex accipitur tum pro doctrina, tum pro norma cujuscunque officii, quod in fœdere aliquis requirit. Sic enim lex fidei opponitur legi operum, Rom. III. 27. Et Christus noster ὁ νόμος legislator Esaj. XXXIII. 22. vocatur. Cujus quidem præceptum describitur 1. Joh. III. 23. Neque hoc inficias imus, Christum legalia præcepta & praxin charitatis frequenter in Evangelio inculcare, imò & cordibus credentium inscribere, ne quisquam sibi hæreditatem promittat absque exploratis filiorum Dei characteribus. Hoc autem est, quòd diserte negamus: Christum esse legislatorem Novi Testamenti talem, qui legem tulerit Mosaica perfectiorem, cujus impletio sit causa acquirendi justificationem. Quem sensum tenet Synodus, interpretantibus ita tum aliis, tum inprimis Bellarmino de Justificat. lib. IV. 2. Etenim ARG. I. Si Christus talis esset Legislator, justificatio nobis contingeret ex operibus, quod superiùs solidè confutatum à nobis.

Resp. Reding: Sicut ex institutione Christi obligamur ad actus fidei, spei, charitatis, pœnitentiæ, qui ad justificationem disponunt: sic respectu legis illius, quæ actus illos præscribit, Christus rectè legislator appellatur. Ib. pag. 502. Resp. Falsa niteris hypothesi, non semel jam discussa. Sola fides justificat, non ut dispositio, sed ut instrumentum, quo Christus apprehenditur. Respectu mandati fidei igitur Christus legislator rectè appellatur, eo sensu, quem explicavimus.

ARG. II. Si Christus Mosaicam legem abolevit, eique perfectiorem surrogavit, suam igitur ipsius legem abolevit. Christum enim, quando lex moralis promulgata est, fuisse Legislatorem, liquet ex 1. Cor. X. 9. ubi Paulus docet, eum, quem Israëlitæ tentârunt in deserto, fuisse Chri-ſtum; nec non ex Act. VII. 37. ubi Jehova ille, qui legem tulit, vocatur Angelus, Chriſtus nempe à Deo miſſus.

RESP. REDING: Chriſtus legem veterem non qua homo, ſed quâ Deus tulit. Ei verò, puta tum ceremoniali, tum morali, quoad præfigurativam Chriſti ſignificationem; tum judiciali, quæ quoad ſubſtantiam mortua, non tamen mortifera facta eſt; abrogatæ legem novam ſubſtituit idem Ib. pag. 503. Reſp. Non ſimpliciter ut Deus, ſed ut חתן Sponſor, Angelus fœderis, λόγος Sermo, & in tempore caro futurus, eandem cum Patre & Spiritu S. legem rogavit; ut videlicet œconomia illa legis ad tempus uſque correctionis, ceu pædagogo ad ſe, & fidei ipſius in Chriſtum adminiculo Eccleſiam gubernaret, Gal. IV. 1. 2. &c. Eam legis œconomiam, quia ad tempus duntaxat, minorennitatis ſcilicet, perſtare debuit, Chriſtus morte ſua abrogavit. Sed novam legem operum, diſtinctam ab ea, quam in Decalogo comprehenſam in monte Sinai accepit & promulgavit Moſes, tuliſſe Chriſtum, eámque cum priori illa commutatam, ceu cauſam juſtificationis fidelium N. T. propoſuiſſe, probandum tibi fuerat. Hic enim rhodus, hic ſaltus! Non aliam legem, quàm fidei & pœnitentiæ, communem quoad rei ſubſtantiam fidelibus utriuſque Teſtamenti, qua Mediator, rogavit. Tuas porro de lege Morali ſignificativa, & abolitione ſubſtantiæ legum forenſium ſpeculationes, quia hujus loci non ſunt, mitto.

ARG. III. Si Chriſtus ſenſu Papiſtico novus Legislator eſt, erit igitur novus Deus, novum Numen, alius à Deo Iſraëlis. Atqui ut unicus Deus eſt, ſic unicus etiam Legislator hoc nomine metuendus, Jac. IV. 2. Non igitur Chriſtus novam legem protulit.

RESP. REDING: 1. O ineptias! An ſi hoc mundo deſtructo alium Deus crearet, novus foret Deus? An novus Deus factus eſt, cùm Veteri Teſtamento novum ſubrogavit? Homo factus manſit Deus. Et condendo legem novam, Deus idem non manebit? 2. Annon verò Chriſtus Eſaj. XXXIII. 2. vocatur legislator, cujus lex Sione exivit, ib. cap. II. 2. & ab inſulis expectanda fuit, ib. cap. XLII. 4? non utique tantùm, uti tu explicas, lex fidei, utpote quæ legem operum non deſtruit, Rom. III. 31. & per charitatem ſeu opera vivit. Et annon ſpecialia mandata alia, veluti baptizandi, Cœnam Domini adminiſtrandi &c. Chriſtus tulit? Ib. pag. 503. 504. Reſp. 1. Ineptias proclamas ineptus præ cæteris, & vim argumenti non intelligis. Etenim lex operum, ſeu amandi Dei & proximi, à Moſe promulgata, annon expreſſio & repræſentatio eſt ejus Sanctitatis & juſtitiæ, quæ in Deo eſt? Sic enim Deus ipſe Levit. XIX. 2. innuit his verbis: Sancti eſtote, quia ego ſanctus ſum Dominus Deus veſter. Deus Sanctus eſt, quia non poteſt non amare verum, & quod in amore veri præcipuum eſt, non poteſt ſe ipſum abnegare. Hujus ſanctitatis Dei, ceu æternæ & immutabilis legis imaginem Deus extare voluit in lege amoris, quam & hominis integri cordi inſcripſit, & poſt digito ſuo in tabulis lapideis exaravit. Hanc legem ſi mutaſſet Chriſtus, & ei perfectiorem ſubſtituiſſet, utique etiam perfectioris illius legis ſanctitatem novæ cuipiam Divinæ ſanctitati conformaſſet, atque ſic novum εἴδωλον, novum quodammodo Numen, novæ Sanctitatis paradigma, induxiſſet. Hinc S. Jacobus cap. IV. 12. teſtatur, nonniſi unicum eſſe legislatorem, qui poteſt ſervare & perdere. Et Malach. III. 6. Ego Dominus, non mutor. Mutaretur autem, adeóque novus Deus foret, ſi etiam legem naturalem, ab ea, quæ ex ſanctitate ejus naturali expreſſa eſt, diſtinctam ferret

ret. Ineptis autem ipſe non parùm, cùm diſſimilia planè, ea ſcilicet, quæ à libera Dei voluntate pendent, cujuſmodi ſunt novi mundi creatio, ſi Deo placeret; teſtamenti veteris abolitio, & novi, quoad ſanctionem ſcilicet ac dedicationem, non quoad inſtitutionem (ſic enim unicum, æternum & immutabile fuit) introductio; incarnatio &c. & ea, quæ à naturali & immutabili Dei ſanctitate pendent, cujuſmodi eſt lex amoris Dei & proximi, in Decalogo Moſis deſcripta, comparas. Etenim hæc toto Cœlo differunt. Vel ex S. Auguſtino de arbitr. lib. I. 6. hoc diſcere poteras, ubi ſuſiùs Evodium ſuum inſtruit docétque, leges naturales, innatas ſcilicet creaturis omnibus ratione præditis, & poſt lapſum in Decalogo perfectiùs expreſſas, eſſe ἀπόρροιαν ſeu effluviam quoddam æternæ & incommutabilis legis Divinæ, quæ cum participatione quadam æternam legem Dei adumbrant. 2. Chriſtum legislatorem eſſe, quia legem fidei tulit, jam conceſſimus. Neque aliud loca Eſajæ à te allata probant. Neque obſtat, quòd S. Paulo Rom. III. 31. teſte, fides legem non facit irritam, ſed ſtabilit. Non enim hinc concludi poteſt, vel legem operum eſſe in fide (quomodo enim aliâs S. Paulus v. 27. legem operum & legem fidei opponeret?) vel Chriſtum, qui fidem à fœderatis ſuis ſtipulatur, eadem ratione legem operum ſtipulari (ſic enim juſtificatio hominis ex fide ſimul & ex lege operum contingeret, quod S. Paulus præcipuè refellit) vel Chriſtum novam legem operum tuliſſe (quomodo aliâs idem S. Paulus negaſſet ibidem, legem ſcilicet operum καταργοῦσ irritam reddi, aſſeruiſsétque contra, illam per fidem ἐνεργοῦσ ſtabiliri) ſed hoc unum ſcilicet, legem veterem, totámque ejus œconomiam per fidem in Chriſtum confirmari & ſtabiliri, quia ſine Chriſto inutilis planè fuiſſet ejus pædagogia univerſa. Si enim non veniſſet Chriſtus, quem fides amplectitur, fruſtra fuiſſet circumciſio, & tota lex ceremonialis: vana fuiſſet ſpes & expectatio eorum, qui ſub lege fuerunt: fruſtra lex operum propoſita fuiſſet, quia nullum extitiſſet δικαίωμα, obedientia nulla, propter quam lex juſtitiam adjudicaret: nulla daretur lex, quæ cordibus ad amandum Deum inſcribi poſſet: abnegaretur juſtitia Chriſti, & ſolveretur lex tota, ſiquidem eadem incumberent nobis ſemper, quæ populo veteri ad tempus impoſita ſunt. Atteſtatur ergo tota lex juſtitiæ ex fide, adeóque per juſtitiam ex fide ſtabilitur. Si legem novam & perfectiorem dediſſet Chriſtus, utique veterem & imperfectiorem aboleviſſet, Hebr. VII. 18. & lex fieret irrita, & mutaretur Deus. Sed fides, inquis, per opera charitatis vivit. Vivit, inquam ego, per id, per quod eſt, notitiam & aſſenſum fiduciale; & operibus charitatis, ceu fructibus, ſe vivere demonſtrat. Sed an iccirco novam legem charitatis, ceu novus legislator, Chriſtus inſtituit, & præceptum amoris à Moſe, jubente Deo, propoſitum, abolevit? Vide quàm putidè nugeris, Scripturarum penitus ignarus! Mandata porro illa ſpecialia Chriſti, quæ allegas, non ſunt nova lex operum, ſed fidei ipſi confirmandæ & obſignandæ inſerviunt.

ARG. IV. Lex Moſaica nulla perfectione laboravit, quæ poſtularet correctionem & interpretationem per nova & meliora charitatis ac juſtitiæ præcepta, uti liquet ex Deut. XXX. 19. Pſal. XIX. 8. Rom. VII. 12. 14. 2. Tim. III. 15. 16. 17. Non igitur Chriſtus legem perfecit. Et qui hoc dicunt, blaſphemant legem, quaſi non ſit typus ſanctitatis homini competentis & perfectæ imaginis Dei: tum Chriſti ipſius obedientiam, quaſi perfecta non ſit, cùm is non alii legi, quàm Moſaicæ ſubditus fuerit.

RESP. REDING: 1. Lex vetus ſuam etiam perfectionem, comparatam ſcilicet habuit, quia nulla macula ſanctitati & honeſtati morali oppoſita laboravit, & per dilectionem ad ultimum finem, beatitudinem, duxit. Quoad perfectionem tamen abſolutam, ſpectando tum ad ſanctitatem, perfectior à Chriſto reddita eſt, quia in lege nova expreſſior eſt revelatio myſteriorum, uſus ſpei perfectior, dilectio Dei, non qua unius, ſed qua trini quoad perſonas, charitas arctior membrorum Chriſti inter ſe, puritas major honeſtatis naturalis interioris. 2. Lex Moſaica non pertinuit ad Chriſtum, quia moriendi legi obnoxius is fuit. Gal. IV. 6. innuitur quidem, eum factum eſſe ſub lege, ſed quoad factum & uſum, non quoad obligationem, uti S. Anſhelmus interpretatur. lb. pag. 504 505. Reſp. 1. Neſcis, quid ſcribas ipſe. Abſolutam legi Moſaicæ perfectionem, non comparatam, reſpectu legis à Chriſto latæ, quam perfectiorem fuiſſe ais, vindicare voluiſti. Tu invertis id, quod dicere ex hypotheſi tua debuiſti. Inſuper novæ legis, ſeu potiùs œconomiæ Evangelicæ cum legali comparatæ, περίεργα à te allata, vel nihil faciunt ad rem, quia de lege operum, non de myſteriis fidei, gradibus revelationis, & dilectionis, juxta legem eandem præſtitæ, quæſtio eſt: vel falſa ſunt; velut dilectio Dei, quam in V. Teſt. fuiſſe unius, perſonæ ſcilicet; in Novo Trini in perſonis fuiſſe, ſtatuis. Quaſi Dei Filii & Spiritus S. nulla vel cognitio, vel dilectio in V. Teſt. locum habuerit. Quomodo igitur (ut innumera teſtimonia taceam) David Chriſtum Dominum ſuum appellavit, Pſal. CX. 1. Matth. XXII. 42. & nemo poteſt dicere Dominum Jeſum, niſi per Spiritum S. 1. Cor. XII. 3? Quomodo gratia Jeſu Chriſti ſalvatos eſſe Patres eo modo, quo & nos ſalvamur, S. Petrus Act. XV. 11. dixit? 2. Si lex Moſis de amore Dei & proximi quoad præceptorum ſubſtantiam eadem fuit cum lege homini integro data, & ab eodem tranſgrediendo violata: atque eadem tranſgreſſori eſt lex, ſeu miniſterium mortis, quia tranſgreſſori mortem comminatur; atque Chriſtus à Deo miſſus, quod legi à carne infirmatæ impoſſibile erat, in ſe, ceu Vas & Sponſor, ſuſcepit, quomodo legi Moſaicæ, quatenus legem operum illa conſtituit, Chriſtum non fuiſſe ſubjectum, nec ejus obligationem in ſe ſuſcepiſſe aſſeveras? Conclamata ſalus noſtra erit, ſi eandem legem, cui implendæ Deus Adamum, totúmque genus humanum in ipſo obſtrinxit, noſtro loco Chriſtus amando & patiendo non implevit. Nam vel nos adhuc ſumus ſub lege operum, quæ in Adamo nobis data, & quoad ſubſtantiam præceptorum moralium à Moſe repetita eſt: vel Chriſtus legem illam noſtro loco ſubivit. Si prius, & nobis lex operum perfectè implenda, & ſimul ob peccatum æterna mors oppetenda eſt. atque ſic pereundum nobis eſt. Si poſterius, Chriſtus igitur legis operum Moſaicæ obligationem noſtro loco in ſe ſuſcepit. Iccirco Apoſtolus Gal. IV. 4. 5. docet, Chriſtum ex muliere factum, γενόμενον ὑπὸ νόμον ſubjeciſſe ſe legi, ut nos, qui ſub lege erant, emptos liberaret. Eodem modo Chriſtus ſe ſubjecit legi, quo nos fuimus ſub lege. Aliàs enim nos à lege redimere, & execratio pro nobis fieri non potuiſſet. Atqui nos ſic fuimus ſub lege, ut obligati fuerimus & legem totam implere, quia creaturæ Dei; & maledictionem legis ſuſtinere, quia peccatores. Ergo pari modo Chriſtus legi ſubjectus fuit, non tantùm quoad factum & uſum, ſed quoad obligationem inprimis. Obligatus enim eſt, ceu Sponſor Teſtamenti, faciendi id, quod lex ad vitam ac juſtitiam facere juſſit. Et quid ἄνευ ὑπὸ νόμον eſſe ſub lege, aliud quàm ſubjectionem, adeóque obligationem faciendi, quod lex præcipit, clariùs ſignificare poteſt?

ARG. V. Ipſe Chriſtus Matth. V.17. contra novam ejuſmodi legislationem proteſtatur.

RESP. REDING: Annon verò Chriſtus tum alia in N. Teſt. præcepta ceremonialia circa Sacramenta inſtituit, abolitis prioribus; tum moralia ad perfectiorem modum provexit? Ib. pag. 505. Reſp. De præceptis ritualibus fidei, & cultui Dei inſervientibus nulla quæſtio eſt. De moralibus, ſeu lege operum tota eſt. Si ea ſive quoad ſubſtantiam, ſive quoad accidentia & modum perfecit, tum, imperfectione abolita, ſolvit, mutavit, & in alium ſtatum legem traduxit. quod cum Chriſti proteſtatione pugnat. Is enim nullo modo legem ſolvit vel mutavit, ſed nobis incumbentem in ſe ſuſcepit, & ſatisfaciendo implevit.

ARG. VI. Chriſtus in mundum venit, ut legi ſatisfaceret, & nobis peccatorum remiſſionem, ac conſcientiæ noſtræ à jugo legis conſolationem acquireret, Jeſaj. LXI.2. Luc. IV.18. Act. XV.10.11. Si novam legem ejuſmodi promulgâſſet, fruſtra ſuſcepiſſet officium hoc evangelizandi & conſolandi.

RESP. REDING: Sic Chriſtus Evangelizavit, & conſolatus eſt, ut non omiſerit præcepta, per quæ gratia ab eo parta applicatur. Ib. pag. 505. Reſp. Ita eſt. Sed inter præcepta ea non eſt lex nova & perfectior operum; ſed lex fidei & pœnitentiæ. Satis facere legi pro nobis, & propter ſatisfactionem præſtitam evangelizare pauperibus, ſanare contritos corde, prædicare captivis dimiſſionem, & cæcis viſum, dimittere confractos, prædicare annum Domini acceptum, quod proprium Chriſto munus Luc. IV.18. vindicatur: & ſimul novam, perfectiorem Moſaica, legem, ceu cauſam vel conditionem vitæ, ferre, eſt συγκλώθειν ἀσύγκλωτα. Pugnant hæc, ſi quid aliud.

ARG. VII. In Scripturis perpetua eſt oppoſitio legis & fidei, Rom. III.19. IV.5. Chriſtus igitur cùm fidem à nobis ſtipuletur, novam ſimul legem ſancire dici nequit.

RESP. REDING: Non ſic fides legi opponitur, quin ipſa etiam fides una cum charitate, aliisque actibus ſupernaturalibus tum juſtificationi præviis, tum eandem conſequentibus, ſub lege Chriſti comprehendantur. Ib. pag. 505. Reſp. Si in fide eſt lex operum nova, & quidem Moſaica perfectior, quomodo non juſtificatio tota legi operum, & operibus legis accepta refertur? Quomodo in negotio juſtificationis ubique Scriptura fidem inter & legem operum antitheſin ſtatuit? Et eſto in fide charitas, uti revera fidei fructus eſt. An verò ad aliam legem, quàm eam, quam jam olim Adamo Deus præſcripſit, & in monte Sinai repetiit, charitas, quæ fidem ſequitur, exigi debet? Eſt quidem diverſa quoad obſervantiam & impletionem ratio charitatis, quam Evangelium ſtipulatur poſt fidem, & quam lex operum ſecundùm ἀκριβοδίκαιον præcipit, Sed utraque unam eandémque ideam & normam habet, quæ non imperfectior olim fuit, at ſub Chriſto perfectior evaſit, ſed una eadémque immutabiliter manet, ac in æternum manebit.

ARG. VIII. Per fidem lex non ſit irrita, ſed ſtabilitur, Rom. III.21. Si ſubſtitueretur legi Moſis nova lex Chriſti, cujus merito & conſummatione expectanda esset vitæ æternæ merces, sanè lex irrita fieret, non stabiliretur.

RESP. REDING: Concilio Hierosolymitano & definitiani Apostolorum Actor. XV. 28. quòd onus legis discipulis non sit imponendum amplius, contradicis, atque sic hæreticum te prodis. Ib. pag. 505. Resp. Contradixit ne ergo mecum S. Paulus, & eodem mecum reatu tenetur? Cur ad hoc non respondes? Non alia lex Christi est, quàm lex fidei, quæ charitate fœcundatur. At fides, adeóque lex Christi legi, operum scilicet, opponitur, & tamen hanc aboleri negavit, & stabiliri affirmavit Apostolus. Quomodo igitur commutatur à Christo, seu lege fidei, & perfectior sic redditur, ut eatenus Christus novus sit legislator? Sed aliud, mi Reding, est legem stabiliri, hoc est, ostendi & declarari, quòd non frustra data sit, sed suum effectum in ipso Christo certissimum habuerit, quod supra abundè explicavimus: aliud est, onus legis, seu universam pædagogiam legalem non amplius discipulis imponendam esse, ut videlicet legi & quidem perfectiori, quàm ea fuit, quam Moses tulit, adhuc subsint, & ipsi ad ejus observantiam teneantur. Quo sensu vos, jugum legis, saltem operum, vestrorum humeris imponentes, ipsi tamen vix digito illud attingentes, & hæreticos & hypocritas jam pridem universo vos mundo prodidistis.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Christus legem veterem partim correxit, partim auxit, uti liquet ex Matth. V. Ergo novus Legislator est. Resp. 1. Christus Matth. V. nec novam legem protulit, nec veterem vel correxit vel auxit, tum quia ibi agit de bonis operibus lege & Prophetarum verbo jam præscriptis, vers. 16.17.20. tum quia agit de legis πληρώσει impletione v.17. impletio autem non est superadditio novæ legis ad vetustam, sed stabilitio ejus quæ extat: tum quia minatur ei, qui vel minimum præceptum HORUM (legis scilicet, de qua locutus erat) solverit, quòd minimus sit vocandus in regno cœlorum, v. 19. tum quia v.20. carpit Pharisæos & Scribas, tanquam non habentes perfectam justitiam, quæ satis sit ad intrandum in Regnum cœlorum, neutiquam verò detrahit obedientiæ legis tanquam insufficienti. Quam Pharisæorum justitiam si quis velit ad obedientiam legis transferre, præsupponere debet, Servatorem in Pharisæis agnovisse justitiam legis, cùm tamen ubique eos hypocritas nuncupet. Non igitur legem Mosis, sed catechesin & glossemata Scribarum ac Pharisæorum in ordinem redegit.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. *Esto, Christus Matth V. 16. dicens discipulis, Luceat lux vestra coram hominibus, ut videant bona opera vestra; intellexerit opera à lege & Prophetis præscripta. At imperativè illa discipulis præscripsit, eósque ad exemplum operum mundo præferendum obligavit. Hoc ipsum verò imperium authoritatem, legislatorem eundem supponit. 2. Christus legem implevit, v.17. executivè; quatenus per sacrificium crucis & institutionem novorum mysteriorum figuras V. T. seu corpus & veritas, implevit. 3. gem Decalogi ad universos fideles extendit. non quidem in vi legis Mosaicæ, sed in vi legis naturalis. Verè igitur Legislator fuit. 4. *Denique vers.*20. Christus abundantiorem justitiam à Christianis, quàm à Pharisæis exigit. Sed loquitur de justitia, non quam habebant de facto, sed quam jure legis habere debuerunt. Ea igitur, quam à fidelibus N. T. Christus exigit, abundantior perfectiórque sit oportet. Ib. pag 506. Resp. 1. Non ideo Christus novus Legislator, seu perfectioris legis, ceu causæ acquirendæ justitiæ & vitæ, author censeri potest, quia legem authoritate sua ursit, inculcavit, & acriùs infixit, vel perfectiùs etiam imperavit: tum quia quoad moralia non aliud ursit & imperavit, quàm quod præscripsit & imperavit Deus per Mosen: tum quia nusquam justitiam perfectiorem legis, ceu conditionem vel causam justificationis nostræ futuram imperavit; quod propriè legislatoris est; sed contra opera, non qua justificantia hominem operantem, sed qua media gratiæ, documenta justificationis peractæ, & conversationis Christianæ præscripsit; tum denique quia impotentia legis operum, ex qua à se impleta nulla amplius caro justificari, vivificari potest, nusquam imperfecto legis operum à Mose rogatæ imperio (quasi ad id perfectius Christi imperium expectandum fuerit) sed carni, per quam lex infirmata est, Rom. VIII. 1. disertè tribuitur. 2. Sic Christus v. 17. legem Dei ἐπλήρωσεν implevit, exequendo utique, quicquid lex ad justitiam requisivit. Et quamvis figuras impleverit, ut corpus, veritas, & ἀκὼν imago rerum futurarum; & impletione hac sua eas, ceu umbram, corpori suo cedentem aboleverit (licet eatenus etiam non tam solverit eas, quàm stabiliverit, quatenus in se ipso habuisse stabilimentum, adeóque non frustra datas esse, sed significationem mysteriúmque suum planè plenéque peregisse impletione sua demonstravit) tamen legem moralem, de qua hic propriè eum loqui, antecedentia & consequentia juxta arguunt, non sic implevit, ut ceu imperfectam implendo, & perfectiorem substituendo correxerit; (hoc enim fuisset ἀναλῦσαι dissolvere) sed executivè, ut tecum loquar, ut obligationi legis moralis homini primitus præscriptæ, observando & exequendo eandem, satisfecerit. Quæ quidem πλήρωσις impletio legis à Christo factæ tum ad justitiæ nobis donandæ acquisitionem, tum ad exemplar nostræ conversationis facit. 3. Cùm v 19. Christus addit, eum, qui solverit mandatum unum ex minimis, minimum vocandum in Regno Cœlorum, non sic ad fideles universos legem extendit, ut obligationem non ex vi legis Mosaicæ, sed naturalis novæ arcessat. Quid quæso frigidius dici poterat? Scilicet lex Decalogi authoritate Divina per Mosen lata expirabit deinceps: at vigebit eadem jure legis naturalis. Quasi natura quicquam perfectius, quàm Deus per Mosen eam legem, quæ tot perfectionis suæ testimonia in Mose & Prophetis habet, rogans, præscribere possit. Sed quicquid sit, argumento meo constringeris. Nam quocunque jure Christus novam legem instituit, si perfectior est ea lege, quam etiam in minimis solvendam negat, & quæ non alia est, quàm ea, quam Divina authoritate Moses imperavit; tum legem eam vel in minimis, vel in magnis, vel in maximis solvit, hoc est, permutatæ ceu imperfectiori, novam & perfectiorem substituit. Hoc non Christus fecit, sed conatur facere Antichristus vester, qui non pauca legis præcepta (velut de imaginibus, adorando uno Deo &c.) & contemnit, & contemnere, sive contra, ac præceptum est, facere; vel id quod contra legem est, peccatum non reputare docet, & potestatem sibi dispensandi contra Divinam legem nefariè arrogat; atque sic, maximus licet in Regno Cœlorum, Ecclesia Christi, haberi velit, revera tamen se ἐλάχιστον, minimum, hoc est, minorem fidelibus, imò omnibus hominibus esse, demonstrat. 4. in Regnum Cœlorum ; putida eſt tua interpretatio, abundantiorem à fidelibus juſtitiam requiri, quàm quæ Phariſæorum non de facto fuit, ſed jure legis eſſe debuit. Non enim Chriſtus dicit: Niſi abundaverit juſtitia veſtra magis, quàm Scribarum & Phariſæorum abundare debuit ; ſed : Ἐὰν μὴ περισσεύσῃ δικαιοσύνη ὑμῶν πλεῖον τῶν γραμματέων καὶ Φαρισαίων, Niſi abundaverit juſtitia veſtra magis, quàm Scribarum & Phariſæorum, juſtitia ſcilicet. At juſtitia Scribarum & Phariſæorum non illa eſt, quam habere debent, ſed quam habent, ſeu habendam docent: ſicut ex adverſo juſtitia fidelium N. Teſt. quam abundantiorem Chriſtus requirit, non ea eſt, quam habere debent, ſed quam habent. Non enim Regnum Cœlorum intratur per eam juſtitiam, quam quis habere debet, ſed quam habet. Si Scribæ & Phariſæi eam juſtitiam, quam juxta legem Dei habere debuerant, habuiſſent, & habendam docuiſſent, an Regnum Cœlorum intrare non potuiſſent? Quomodo igitur in verbis Fac hoc & vives, facienti promittitur vita: & quomodo Chriſtus Matth. XIX. 14. 15. &c. juveni quærenti, quid boni facere debeat, ut habeat vitam æternam, reſpondet, faciendum ei eſſe, quod lex omnes (adeóque Scribas etiam & Phariſæos) facere juſſit: Si vis ad vitam ingredi, inquiens, ſerva mandata : Non occides, Non adulteraberis, Non furaberis? Manet ergo, perfectionem doctrinæ Chriſti Matth. V. VI. VII. elenchum habere non legis Moſaicæ moralis, ut minùs perfectæ; ſed traditionum Phariſaicarum, & malæ ἐγχειρήσεως in docenda lege, qua illi neglecta ejus ἀληθείᾳ intelligentia & ſenſu genuino, vexabant τὸ ῥητὸν, & ad ſuperſtitionem uſque conſectabantur ceremonialia, non curantes τὰ βαρύτερα τοῦ νόμου, graviora legis, judicium, miſericordiam, fidem, Matth. XXIII. 23.

OBIECT. II. Evangelium legis nomine venit tum in Veteri, tum in N. Teſt. nominatim Pſal. XIX. 8. Eſaj. II. 3. 4. Mich. IV. 2. Rom. III. 27. Ergo Chriſtus author Evangelii Legislator eſt. Reſp. Concedimus, ſed non alio ſenſu, quàm quo diximus in ſtatu quæſtionis. Evangelium nempe eſt lex fidei, non operum. Eodem ſenſu Chriſtus Legislator eſt.

EXCIP. REDING: Chriſtus eſt Legislator fidei quâ juſtificantis. At non juſtificat illa niſi per charitatem operans, adeóque cum operibus. Ergo ſic eſt Legislator reſpectu fidei, ut ſimul ſit Legislator reſpectu operum. lb. pag. 507. Reſp. Et falſa dicis, quia fides non juſtificat reſpectu charitatis, per quam operatur non ad juſtificationem, ſed ad juſtificationis factæ demonſtrationem & ſanctificationem: & ἀκαιρολογεῖσθαι, quia ſi maximè fides per charitatem & opera juſtificaret, illorum norma non iccirco nova lex, ſed vetus illa à Deo per Moſen data foret.

OBIECT. III. Doctrina à Chriſto tradita non fidei tantùm, ſed etiam operum eſt. adeóque legalis. Ergo Chriſtus non redemptor tantùm, ſed etiam Legislator eſt. Reſp. Chriſtum non fidem tantùm, ſed etiam opera inculcare concedimus. Sed negamus ipſum vel nova opera, ſingulariter & noviter ab ipſo ſancita inculcare, vel ex ejuſmodi operum conditione juſtificationem ſuſpendere.

ter propriè dictus eſt etiam operum reſpectu. Ib. pag. 507. Reſp. Quomodo non ideo ſit, dixi. Addo, doctrinam Chriſti ευαγγελιον fidei & gratiæ, non legis & operum eſſe. Nam juxta Thomam Aquinatem veſtrum 1. 2. q. 106. a. 1. 2. (corrigatur modò ejus ſenſus de gratia, modo ſupra dicto) unaquæque res illud eſſe videtur, quod in ea potiſſimum eſt. Potiſſimum autem & principale in N. Teſt. eſt gratia. Cætera in eo continentur ſecundariò, vel ſicut diſpoſitiva ad gratiam, vel ſicut ordinata ad uſum hujus gratiæ. Nempe lex propriè dicta præcipuè in opere præſcribendo & obedientia exigenda conſiſtit. Quamvis autem in N. Teſt. quædam præſcribantur, tamen non tam ut opera propriè, quàm ut media gratiæ à Chriſto inſtituta præſcribuntur. Opera verò alia, quæ à Chriſto non ſunt recens inſtituta, in N. Teſt. explicantur, determinantur, urgentur, non ibi primò præſcribuntur. Comminationes verò & terrores in eo occurrentes non magis ſunt pars Evangelii, quàm medicinæ pars eſt, ſi medicus mortem ex neglecta medicina obventuram indicet. Denique aliud ſunt promiſſiones cum conditione obedientiæ, ut cauſæ juris, quam habemus ad rem promiſſam: aliud promiſſiones cum conditione obedientiæ, ut adjuncti aut effecti rei promiſſæ, vel donationis ejus. Hæ, non illæ in benigniſſimæ gratiæ Regno locum habent.

OBIECT. IV. Evangelium habet conjunctas comminationes adverſus contumaces, Matth. V. 22. VII. 19. XXIII. 38. XXV. 30. Ergo Chriſtus ejus author propriè dictus Legislator eſt. Reſp. Comminationes ejuſmodi vel non ſunt Evangelicæ, ſed legales propriè, adverſus tranſgreſſores legis propoſitæ: vel ſi etiam contra incredulos diriguntur, per accidens Evangelio propriè dicto conveniunt, non per ſe. Quomodo Evangelium vocatur odor mortis ad mortem non per ſe, ſed per accidens.

Excip. Reding: 1. Comminationes, quæ contra incredulos diriguntur, expreſſo Evangelii textu continentur, quo damnatio omnibus non credentibus paſſim annuntiatur. 2. Sed & comminationes adverſus eos, qui indignè edunt carnem Chriſti, directæ, fideles ipſos, ſeu baptizatos concernunt. Evangelicæ igitur ſunt, non legales. Ib. pag. 507. Reſp. 1. Quo ſenſu comminationes, quas in N. Teſt. reperire eſt, intelligendæ ſint, jam diximus. Non quicquid in libris N. Teſt. invenitur, propriè & per ſe Evangelicum eſt; ſed id demum, quod lætum nuntium peccatoribus miſeris & fauciatis conſcientiis affert. Comminationes adverſus incredulos directos ab Evangelio per ſe arceſſere velle, contradictorium eſt in terminis. 2. Neque etiam quicquid ad fideles, hoc eſt, uti interpretaris, baptizatos quoſvis dirigitur, propriè Evangelicum eſt; ſed id ſolum, quod ad fideles, & baptizatos, ſalvifica & juſtificante fide præditos, qui, viva Chriſti membra, meritorum ejus ſunt participes, non ad fideles λογικους, qui tales videntur, non ſunt; diriguntur. Ad has verò comminationes Chriſti non pertinent, quia nullum eſt κατακριμα, nulla condemnatio iis, qui in Chriſto Jeſu ſunt, Rom. VIII. 1. Comminationes igitur univerſæ contra incredulos propriè vim ſuam à lege habent, quia lex iram tranſgreſſori præceptorum ſuorum, inter quæ etiam eſt fides Deo medium ſalutis revelanti habenda, comminatur: Evangelium credenti in Chriſtum remiſſionem peccatorum & ſalutem promittit. Si enim ſermo per Angelos dictus fuit firmus, & omnis tranſgreſſio juſtam mercedis retributionem accepit. quomodo nos effugiemus, ſi tantam ſalutem neglexerimus? Heb. II. 2. 3.

OBIECT. V. Chriſtus tulit novum præceptum dilectionis Joh.XIII.34.XV.12. Ergo novus legislator eſt. Reſp. Idem præceptum tum vetus, tum novum appellatur 1.Joh.II.8. Vetus nempe, quia inde à Patriarchis & à Moſe auditum. Novum verò, quia in Chriſti exemplo renovatum, & per Spiritum S. cordibus fidelium inſculptum eſt.

EXCIP. RADINE: Novum dicitur præceptum Chriſti vi non exempli & inſcriptionis novæ, ſed inprimis mandati. Mandatum novum do vobis, inquit Chriſtus. Ib. pag. 507. Reſp. Præceptum Chriſti de diligendis invicem non aliud eſſe poteſt, quàm præceptum fœderis, quod irritum fecerunt Iſraëlitæ, Jerem. XXXI. 31. Præceptum porro fœderis illud eſt, quod Deus dedit Iſraëlitis, ut illud facientes Dei & ſanctificationis, Dei, vitæ ac juſtitiæ participes eſſent. Atque illud jam accepit Adamus, accepit Abrahamus, audiverunt Iſraëlitæ in Ægypto, Ezech. XX. 6.7. poſt ad montem Sinai, Exod. XX. 1.2. &c. Non poteſt enim præceptum Chriſti eſſe aliud, quia fœdus Dei non eſt aliud, hoc eſt, non alio atque alio modo Deus eſt Deus, vita & juſtitia peccatoris. Deus enim unus eſt, Rom III.30. & non mutatur, Mal.III.6. Ideo S. Johannes 1.Epiſt.II.7. diſertè ſcribit: Non præceptum novum ſcribo vobis, ſed præceptum vetus, quod audiviſtis ab initio. nempe ex quo præceptum audiviſtis. Non igitur ſic præceptum de diligendis invicem novum eſt, ut vel quoad ſubſtantiam diverſum; vel quoad accidentia in perfectius commutatum, & à Legislatore Novo eatenus Novum introductum ſit; ſed novum eſt, quatenus idem ſemper, exhibito & glorificato jam Chriſto nititur tamen veritate & gratia, oppoſita iræ per legem exercitæ, promiſſioni & umbris; adeóque jam in amore Dei, ut Dei ſui, exigitur fides ſolida ſive mera, agnoſcens rem extantem, & habens conſummationem quandam conſcientiæ cum lætitia & gratiarum actione, ſine timore illo, quem Spiritus ſervitutis quondam operabatur. Novum proin dicitur, quia eſt verum in Chriſto & in nobis. In Chriſto, quia juſtitia ſeu debitum dilectionis per ejus, legi obedientis facti, dilectionem comprobatum eſt, & hunc etiam finem habet, ut nos ad diligendum invicem obliget. In nobis, quia credimus nos eſſe dilectos à Chriſto, & quidem ut diligamus invicem; atque adeò ipſa fides in Chriſtum nos ſic diligentem fortiter compellit nos, ut invicem etiam diligamus. Quomodo lex Jehovæ inſcribitur cordi noſtro, & fit lex cordis, mentis ac voluntatis ejus, cujus cordi inſcribitur. Planum igitur eſt, licet mandatum dilectionis novum dicatur, non ſic tamen dici, quaſi perfectior dilectio à Chriſto, quàm à Deo per Moſen mandata ſit; ſed quia veteri præcepto, quoad ſubſtantiam eidem, acceſſit nova dilectio Chriſti, quæ & exemplar ac αὐτόθεγμα eſt dilectionis noſtræ, & ratio ſumma diligendi invicem. Dilexit enim nos, ut diligamus invicem. ib.v.34. Hoc propoſuit Chriſtus, hoc docuit, hoc præcepit, hoc morte ſua quæſivit.

An homo ſemel juſtificatus poßit gratiam amittere, adeóque in juſtificatione non perſeverare?

AFfirmat, Synodus Canone XVII. & XXIII. Fatemur, hominem juſtificatum graviter labi, Spiritum S. contriſtari, indignationem Dei paternam incurrere, & reatum damnabilem contrahere, imò ſibi relictum nil niſi peccare & deficere poſſe. Ipſe vigor & virtus, & conſolationum divinarum ſenſus interior varias habet eclipſes, & gradus tam remiſſionis quàm intenſionis. Conſtanter tamen negamus, juſtificatum, adeóque fide non tantùm ſimulatâ & dogmaticâ, ſed inprimis viva, radicata & ſalvifica præditum, & Chriſto ſemel inſitum ita mutari poſſe, ut omnem fidei armaturam abjiciat, & univerſali apoſtaſia bonarum partium perpetuus deſertor fiat. Hæc propoſitio juxta te falſa erit, quia, ſi vera ſcribis, multos, imò etiam Judam proditorem & Simonem Magum Deus juſtificavit, quos non glorificabit. Audes ſic Apoſtolo,cui infenſior es quàm tibi, uti Auguſtinus alicubi loquitur ; in os contradicere, & ordinem annulorum aureæ hujus catenæ perturbare & luxare penitus ? Et quomodo juſtificatio vocatur δικαίωσις ζωῆς juſtificatio vitæ, Rom.V.18. quomodo in vita regnabunt, qui exuberantiam gratiæ & doni juſtitiæ acceperunt,ib.v.17. ſi quidam juſtificantur, qui non vivent,non glorificabuntur, adeóque prædeſtinati non ſunt ? Solida utique eſt juſtificatio omnis, quia propter ſponſionem teſtamenti,quam fecit Filius,& ejus ſponſionis impletionem neceſſariò tranſit in glorificationem cum Chriſto. Atque id ipſum nobiſcum S.Auguſtinus, ad quem hic provocas,*de Prædeſt cap.17.*aſſerit his verbis: Non ergo alios,ſed quos prædeſtinavit,eos & vocavit. Nec alios, ſed quos ita vocavit, ipſos etiam juſtificavit. Nec alios, ſed quos prædeſtinavit, vocavit, juſtificavit, eos etiam glorificavit. At juxta te alios juſtificavit, quos nec prædeſtinavit,nec glorificabit ; & alios prædeſtinavit,alios juſtificabit. Tam bellè cum S Auguſtino tibi convenit. Neque obſtant loca à te citata. Nam ſi juſtificatum verè fuiſſe Simonem Magum, & tamen periiſſe, ibi aſſerit, quomodo non ſibi ipſe contradicit ? At non contradicit ſibi, ſed Simoni Mago remiſſa fuiſſe peccata ſcribit,quia ceu baptizatus & fidem præ ſe ferens,remiſſionem conſecutus videretur, & ſecundum charitatis canonem pro juſtificato haberetur,donec contrarium eventus prodidit. Non enim habuiſſe eum revera fidem juſtificantem, adeóque juſtificatum non fuiſſe, ex Act.VIII.21. Non eſt tibi pars aut ſors in hoc ſermone. Nam cor tuum non eſt rectum coram Deo liquet. Qualis ſine rectitudine cordis eſt fides juſtificans: qualis juſtificatio ? Additur v. 22. Reſipiſce igitur ab iſta malitia tua, & roga Deum, an forte remittatur tibi cogitatio cordis tui. Nondum igitur reſipuerat : nondum verè crediderat: nondum peccata ipſi remiſſa fuerant. Id pateſactum eſt ejus petitione,Spiritum S.pecunia licitantis. quæ ignorantia Dei & Chriſti pudenda fuit. Quo etiam jure Judam proditorem inter juſtificatos referas, ipſe videris. Nam Joh.XVII.12. neque à Patre Chriſto datus dicitur, ſed à datis & cuſtoditis excipitur, cùm in verbis Chriſti vel ſit uſitata βραχυλογία hoc ſenſu: Ex nemo periit, niſi filius interitus : Ex iis autem,quos mihi dediſti,nemo periit ; vel particulæ ἀ μὴ adverſativè ponantur: neque ſi datus à Patre Chriſto eſſet,magis per juſtificationem quàm per æternam electionem datus ei eſſet ; & nonniſi per vocationem temporalem ad munus Apoſtolatus ei datus eſſet. 2. præterea Viri doctiſſimi, nominatim Robertus Abbotius, Præſul Sarisburienſis, in Animadverſione brevi, aliter de hoc argumento S. Auguſtinum contra Pelagianos, aliter contra Donatiſtas loqui. Contra Pelagianos populariter, & non aliter quàm ex eventu Eccleſiæ membra à cœteris eum diſtinguere, ut ſic Naturaliſtas Sacramenta & cœteros Eccleſiæ ritus deſpicientes commodiùs retunderet: contra Donatiſtas verò, de Eccleſia ſua nimiùm gloriantes, aliter inire rationem, qua oſtendit, non factioſorum clamoribus, ſed prædeſtinatorum numero Eccleſiam definiri. De prioribus ſic loquitur: Temporaliter duntaxat gratiam Dei ſuſceperunt; & iisdem fidem non fictam ac dilectionem à Deo datam, affirmat, quia vel talem habere videbantur; vel habuerunt, & fidem non fictam, ſed nec juſtificantem, electorum propriam; & dilectionem, ſed non ex fide ſalvifica, & conſcientia purificata. Habes ſic κλεῖδα γνώσεως clavim cognitionis, qua Auguſtini mentem in locis, quæ pugnare & cum Scriptura, & cum ipſo Auguſtino videntur, perſpicere dabitur. Sanè etiam Gratianus, cùm plurima Patrum teſtimonia, quibus immutabilitatem gratiæ illi aſtruunt, collegiſſet, de pan. d. 1. ad cap. 12. concludit his verbis: Ex præmiſſis apparet, quòd charitas ſemel habita ulteriùs non amittatur. Qui enim charitatem ſemel habuerit, criminaliter ulteriùs peccare non poterit: ut ad Gratiam, & non ad naturam impoſſibilitas referatur. Denique Gerh. Johannes Voſſius, Vir in hoc quidem argumento, quo de S. Patrum ſenſu agitur, perſpicaciſſimus, Hiſtor. Pelag. lib. VI. ad theſ. 13. docet, quoties S. Patres fidem juſtificantem deficere poſſe, & re ipſa interdum deficere dicunt, intelligere eos hoc ratione actuum, qui è potentia ſive habitu fidei emanant.

Resp. Reding: 1. Probanda est loci ejus expositio, quam S. Augustinus tract.5. in Epist. Joh. & Hieronymus adv.Pelag.lib.1. amplectuntur, nempe, quòd is, qui natus est ex Deo, non peccet, neque peccare possit lethaliter, dum perseverat filius Dei, quia semen ejus, id est, charitas, peccatis lethalibus contraria, in ipso manet. Non posse igitur ex Deo genitum peccare & deficere, verum est in sensu composito, non diviso. 2. Reliqui textus gratiæ in fidelibus immobilitatem probant, si videlicet à peccato contrario non expellatur. Ib.pag. 511. Resp.1. Insulsa equidem est hæc loci clarissimi explicatio, vel potiùs fœda perversio, quæ causalem particulam in conditionalem mutat. Non dicit enim S. Johannes: Qui natus est ex Deo, non facit peccatum, si semen Dei in eo manserit; sed, ὅτι σπέρμα αὐτοῦ ἐν αὐτῷ μένει, quia semen Dei in eo manet, & non potest peccare, quia ex Deo genitus est. Qui igitur ex Deo natus est, non tantùm qua natus est ex Deo, adeóque in sensu composito, peccatum non facit; sed etiam peccatum non facit, nec peccare (nempe more impiorum, irregenitorum, qui ex Diabolo geniti sunt; & ad mortem) potest, quia habet semen Dei in se manens, & ex Deo genitus est. Semen Dei in eo manens constanter, & nativitas ex Deo, quæ aboleri nequit, conservat, custodit eum, quò minùs peccatum faciat, vel peccare possit. Et contrariatur scopus Apostoli, cui propositum est ostendere, quo criterio veri Christiani à cæteris secernantur. Ex fructibus cognoscetis eos, inquit Salvator, Matth.VII.16. Ita hic ejus discipulus: Qui ex Diabolo est, inquit, dat operam peccato, securo impetu & pruriente desiderio: Sed qui natus ex Deo est, peccatum non facit, quia semen ejus in eo manet; hoc est, quia semper in renato aliquid latet, quod manum injiciat & retrahat, nempe semen ipsius cordi à Spiritu S. injectum. Semen igitur, hoc est indelebilis character, & hæreditatis arrhabo, quo renati ad redemptionem obsignantur. Unde autem vim obtinet contractus nisi ex sigillo; aut fructus efflorescit, nisi ex semine in radice? Clarum porro est, impossibilitatem illam peccandi eo, quo diximus, sensu, non tenere se ex parte hominis, sed ex parte seminis, fidelem à tali lapsu præservantis; nec non ex parte genituræ spiritualis, quæ causa est iftius perseverantiæ, & quæ apostasiam excludit. Ut sic ℣ non posse peccare, & ex Deo nasci, ac semen manens habere, se ad invicem habeant ceu causa ad effectum. Juxta tuam verò expositionem propositio Apostoli planè foret identica; perinde ac ℣ diceret: Qui ceu natus ex Deo non peccat, non peccat. Frustra verò inficetæ expositionis hujus authorem Augustinum facis, cui ne vel κατ' ὄναρ in mentem venit. Nam tract.5. in Joh. illud, non potest peccare, paulò quidem angustiùs explicat de violatione fraternæ charitatis, neque ullo apice meminit ejus, quod ei ex Bellarmino impingitis, quòd videlicet natus ex Deo non peccet, dum perseverat filius Dei. Neque etiam semen regenitorum de charitate, sed de verbo, Evangelii scilicet, quo Spiritus S. nos regenerat, interpretatur. Hieronymi verò expositionem minùs textui consentaneam, eadem libertate rejicimus, qua tu, Bellarminum secutus, Ambrosii & Bernhardi interpretamenta sequiora rejecisti. 2. Semen porro illud, quod in regenitis manere Apostolus dixit, appellari radicem insitam, semen immortale, unctionem manentem, sermonem insitum, Spiritum inhabitantem, fontem aquæ salientis ad vitam æternam, ea scilicet lege, si à contrario

ARG. VII. Sed & alia expressa Scripturæ testimonia, veluti Psal. 1. XXXVII. 32. 36. CXXV. 2. 4. Joh. X. 28. Rom. VIII. 29. eandem doctrinam veritatis asserunt.

REGR. RESPON: *Ista scripturæ loc. enarr. Psalm. 1. Psal. 37. non quidem sufficienter, sed cum scripturarum reli in loge Dei &c. distinxi inter ad eius separatum placentes. 2. Psal. XXXVII. 24. reptare & homini propter gressiones viæ eius non labitur. Psal. 119 tamen à peccato fit exemptus, dum ait: Ego erravi sicut ovis quæ perit, quære servum tuum, quia mandata tua non sunt oblitus. 3. Psal. CXXV. 2. Jerusalem circumdat montes, sic Dominus circumdat populum suum ex hoc & nunc & usque in sæculum. 4. Psal. CXXV. 3. virga impiorum non requiescet super sortem justorum, ut non extendant justi manus suas ad iniquitatem. Hæc quatuor loca non sunt contraria textui nostro, quia non dicunt, quod justi non peccent, sed quod non peccent in finem, ut SEMPER maneant, & regnum Dei non perdant. 5. Psal. XXXVII. 32. 34. Observa, inquit David, gressus hominis recti mentis, & via ejus delectatur. Si cadet non projicietur, quia Dominus supponit manum suam. Respondeo. Imago Dei, Sanctitatem & pietatem hominis non effe à nobis, sed quod in nobis certa panimus vestigia, neque legimus, quod cum Deo effe: Secundo, quod justus non projiciatur quia in eo Christus velit ius pionus adversare: Tertio, & contingat quandoque eos voluntarios renatos ut ipsi gratia præcooperantur, sine ut non collaborantur petitus, sed Deo tantum, & ita ut ipsi non in regnum Dei, sed in æternum regnant & conservantur. Quam igitur facilis ista exceptio est: quisque de homine ejus gressibus certus, non cadet. Imò classicum est, quod ait, homine ejus, aliquando in gratia remanente, aliquando in lapsu, non ramen eo Deo confirmationem & dominium collidere, & ne peccata etiam quæ ipsum perfecerunta ruinam in gratia Dei non obtineant. Quomodo etiam Psal. CXXV. 4. idem conficiens Jehovæ comparat suum Servum, tremebit persona & fine Christi ipsi non conservetur. Nemo autem confidat Jehovæ, nisi qui credit in Christum & adhæreat. Joh. X. 28. Oves meæ (ait Christus de hoc) non rapientur de manu mea, nec pertinent in finitum de manu patris mei nec ego nec mater mea. Occasio: ego do præcipitium. Ita est. Atque sine arcana distinctione eorum ista Christi est, neque sedo datur ius genera ovium Christi, præsidentiarum & non præsidentiarum. Neque etiam eum quidam Christi degenerare poffunt in hædos. Sed ut plurimi ovet intelligam Christum, Johnes 2. 29. reliquerit his verbis: Quis non vestra meum audiunt, & ego cognosco eas, & sequuntur me. Quotquot autem in Christum credunt, & justitiæ ejusdem participes fiunt, vocem Christi Pastoris sui audiunt, eúmque sequuntur. Oves porro non prædestinatæ sunt ue in manibus Christi, nec ne? Si sunt, quis Christo potentior est, qui eas è manibus ejus rapiat? An peccata? At Christus salvat à peccatis, & tam potens est ad protegendas oves adversus hostes intestinos, cujusmodi peccata sunt, quàm externos, Sathanam, mundum. Si non sunt, nihil ad Christum faciunt, neque Christi sunt, quia vocem ejus non audiunt, adeóque nec credunt, nec justi sunt. 4. De loco Rom. VIII 29. 30. supra fusiùs actum.

ARG. VIII. Quin & ecclesiæ veteris constans sententia fuit, semen fidei in electis nunquam omnino tolli, uti ostendit doctissimus Vossius in Hist. Pelag. lib. VII. Cúmque eandem in rem Patrum plurima testimonia allegâsset Gratianus, de Pœn. d. 2. cap 12. concludit tandem: Ex præmissis appareat, quòd charitas semel habita ulterius non amittitur.

RESP. REDINO: 1. Vossius nihil probat. Gratianus verò ex testimoniis Patrum non aliud evincit, quàm quòd is, qui charitatem habet, non possit in sensu composito, sive, ut Glossa loquitur, conjunctim; non verò in sensu diviso Criminaliter peccare; siquidem peccatum lethale cum charitate stare nequit. Ipse verò decreti illius compilator ex falso Patrum intellectu ad falsam illationem processit. 2. Ipsi Apostoli charitatem amitti posse, docent Hebr. X. 22—29. 2. Pet. I. 22. Apoc. II. 4. Quibus concinere Augustinum, supra vidimus. Ib. pag. 512. Resp. I. Vossium fusè argumentum isthoc prosequentem si legisses, sentires aliter. Gratianum ex testimoniis Patrum id, quod contendo, elicuisse, negare non audes. Nimis enim aperta sunt, quæ supra posui, verba. Patrum verò eam fuisse, quam ponis, mentem, somnium tuum, non res est. Saltem id probandum tibi ex testimoniis à Gratiano compilatis incubuerat. Non posse eos, qui charitatem habent, seu in gratia sunt, criminaliter peccare, adeóque in sensu composito, uti tu loqueris, si per criminaliter peccare, intelligis peccata, quæ natura sua crimina sunt, falsum est. Vel sola Lothi, Davidis exempla loquuntur. 2. De S. Apostolorum doctrina jam satis vidimus. Locum 2. Pet. I. 22. infra vindicamus. Hebr. X. 26—29. agitur de invitis ἁμαρτάνουσι voluntariè peccantibus, quos fideles, justitiæ Christi revera quidem participes unquam fuisse, negamus. Sanguinem Testamenti profanum duxisse dicuntur, sed in quo non ipsi, sed Christus testamenti author, ἡγιάσθη, sanctificatus est, uti supra vidimus. Et qui Apoc. II. 4. τὴν πρώτην ἀγάπην ἀφῆκαν primam charitatem reliquerunt, non omnem utique charitatem, sed primam duntaxat, hoc est, eum charitatis gradum, quem Apostoli & primi Martyres, ζέοντες τῷ πνεύματι spiritu ferventes habuerunt, reliquerunt. Habet enim sicut fides, ita etiam charitas gradus, incrementa, decrementa, imò quandoque eclipses & deliquia. Hiemem suam pati potest, in quo fructus & folia non efflorescunt: imò & apoplexiam; ita tamen ut lecto vere, & post paroxysmum reviviscat, non nova vitæ, quæ defuit, infusione, sed vitæ ejus, quæ inerat, diffusione S. Augustini mentem supra quoque expendimus, & secum in speciem pugnantem conciliavimus. Paucis multa de Doctr. Christ. cap. 32. dixit: Non enim revera Domini corpus est, quod cum ipso non erit in æternum. Quisquis autem credit, & per veram fidem semel justitiæ Christi consors est, in corpus Christi transiit, quia fides Christo unit. Tertullianus de Præscript. adv. hær. cap. 3. Nemo, inquit, Sapiens est, nisi fidelis; nemo major, nisi Christianus, nemo autem Christianus, nisi qui ad finem usque perseveraverit. Et mox: Avolent, quantum volent, paleæ levis fidei quecunque afflatu tentationum, eò purior massa frumenti in horrea Domini reponetur. Nonne ab ipso Domino quidam discentium scandalizati diverterunt? Nec tamen cæteri quoque discedendum à vestigiis putaverunt: sed qui sciverunt (verè crediderunt) illum esse vitæ verbum, & à Deo venisse, perseveraverunt. Et Cyprianus Epist.55. ad Cornelium, in edit. Rigaltii: Significans & ostendens, eos, qui à Christo recesserint, culpa sua perire: Ecclesiam tamen, quæ in Christum credat, & quæ semel id quod cognoverit, teneat, nunquam ab eo omnino discedere: & eos esse Ecclesiam, qui in domo Dei permanent: plantationem verò plantatam à Deo Patre non esse, quos videmus non frumenti stabilitate solidari, sed tanquam paleas dissipantis inimici spiritu ventilari. de quibus & Johannes in Epistola sua dicit: Ex nobis exiverunt, sed non fuerunt ex nobis. Si enim fuissent ex nobis, mansissent utique nobiscum. Item Paulus manet nos, cùm mali de Ecclesia pereunt, non moveri, nec recedentibus perfidis fidem minui.

ARG. IX. Denique Concilii hæc sententia syrma absurditatum post se trahit. Suspendit enim Dei decreta & dona ἀμεταμέλητα ab incertissimo hominis arbitrio; catenam mediorum, quam Deus, Rom. VIII. v. 29. 30. in solatium fidelium contexuit inviolabilem, disrumpit; tollit distinctionem inter reprobos & electos, dum promiscuè hos vel illos admittit pro libitu ad salvandorum conditionem, vel excludit; numerum electorum ambiguum reddit vel ipsi Deo; certitudinem salutis afflictis conscientiis prorsus eripit; Evangelii doctrinam & fiduciam in lubricas quasdam conjecturas & titubantes theorias convertit, adducitque misere fluctuantes à fidei in Christo anchora ad naufragas seducentium & seductorum Syrtes; denique suspicionem injicit, possibile esse, ut nulli omnino sint electi. Si enim unus excidet, quare non alter? Et eadem ratione cur non omnes?

RESP. REDING: 1. Dona, quæ Prædestinationi Divinæ in se omnino certissimæ propria sunt, cum iis prædestinationis ejusdem donis, quæ ex creato libero arbitrio proceduntur, confundis. Vocatio efficax ad fidem, ipsáque justificatio per regenerationem hominis ratione nec dum utentis consingens, electionis donum est, quod ab incerto hominis arbitrio non suspenditur. Alia Divina electorum dona ita ex causalitate Divinæ prædestinationis secundum se certissima fluunt, ut hominis cooperationem liberam supponant, vel involvant. ejusmodi sunt justificatio & glorificatio hominis adulti, nec non opera supernaturalia fidei, spei & charitatis. In his iterum duplex respectus est, alius quem habent ad Prædestinationis Divinæ causalitatem: alius, quem habent ad arbitrii cooperationem. Priori respectu dona isthæc certissima sunt: posteriori incerta, superanda tamen per Divinæ prædestinationis efficaciam. Proin illa mediorum salutis, Rom VIII. 29. 30. catena respectu Divinæ prædestinationis certissima; respectu cooperationis nostræ consingens, incertos nos relinquit gratiæ; sic tamen ut vincat prædestinatio, & fideles ejusmodi solatium ac fiduciam habeant, ut in se ipsos reflexi hæsitare, & sub manu Dei se humiliare debeant. 2. Manet igitur etiam distinctio electorum & reproborum, quorum illi donum perseverantiæ accipiunt, hi non item: & quoad sufficientiam gratiæ utrique ad electorum conditionem admittuntur, instituntur, sed quoad efficaciam ejusdem conditione ipsa soli electi potiuntur. 3. Doctrina quoque hæc conscientiis afflictis adimit præsumptionem, non perfectam in voluntatem Divinam, & absolutum ejus dominium resignationem. 4. Neque Evangelii doctrinam in lubricas conjecturas convertimus, sed ex parte Divinæ prædestinationis sic certam esse salutem statuimus, ut absolutam tamen ejus certitudinem non habeamus, & nonnisi per conjecturas, umbratica quadam certitudine, gloriam æternam nobis spondeamus. 5. Neque possumus ideo electi non salvari, quia electionem nulla arbitrii defectibilitate superari posse statuimus. Ib. pag. 512. 513. Resp. 1. Distinctionum tuarum inane chaos nil absurditatum syrmati vobis objecto medetur. Illa enim cooperatio arbitrii vel intelligitur respectu initii conversionis, & donationis ipsius fidei, pœnitentiæ, spei, charitatis; vel respectu exercitii & progressus donorum illorum. Priori sensu nullam esse cooperationem arbitrii, supra ostendimus. Posteriori sensu sic cooperatur arbitrium, ut tamen dona isthæc semel collata per arbitrii cooperationem sese exerentia & exercentia, constanter maneant, nec ob incertitudinem arbitrii perire possint. Quos enim Christus semel diligit, eos diligit εἰς τέλος usque ad finem, Joh. XIII. 1. Et dona ac vocatio Dei sunt ἀμεταμέλητα pœnitudinis omnis expertia, Rom. XI. 29. Per veram fidem simus Christi participes. Neque aliter Christi participes reddimur, quàm fiduciam & gloriationem spei usque ad finem firmam retinentes, seu in fide fundati stabilesque permanentes, Col. I. 21. 22. 23. Hebr. III. 6. Qui igitur non perseverant, in confessione & fiducia, nunquam illi Christi participes facti sunt; adeóque nunquam in Christum verè crediderunt, nunquam vera fide Christum; ejúsque justitiam participârunt, nunquam justificati sunt. Sive igitur ad prædestinationem æternam, sive ad cooperationem arbitrii in regenitis jam respicias, utriusque respectu dona, vocatio in primis & justificatio; in aurea Apostoli catena cum prædestinatione æquè ac glorificatione connexa, manent, & perseverantia non contingens, sed certa & infallibilis est; ut verè fidelibus de salute sua hæsitandum non sit. Contra planè res apud vos habet. Si enim verè fideles & justificati (donum autem fidei & justificationis ab electione pendet) non perseverare & perire, adeóque non glorificari possunt; ob contingentem scilicet arbitrii cooperationem, nec dona fidei & justitiæ constantia sunt; nec ipsum æternum Dei decretum immutabile erit, stabítque; & disrumpetur catena aurea mediorum, quam Deus in suorum solamen inviolabilem contexuit. 2. Quin & eadem ratione peribit electorum & reproborum discrimen, quod ex consequentibus vel non consequentibus, vocatione & justificatione cognoscitur. Quomodo enim electi à reprobis discernentur, si utrisque vocatio & justificatio communis est, & ad salvandorum conditionem utrique admittantur? Quam tamen à prædestinatione sola Apostolus arcessit, adeóque electis eximiam facit. Cum donis autem vocationis & justificationis perseverantiæ donum conjunctissimum esse, sæpe probavimus, & Apostolus, justificatos glorificari asserens, dubitare non sinit. Vanum igitur est sufficientis & efficacis gratiæ auxilium, quod ingeris. Si enim vocati & justificati glorificantur, soli illi & sufficiens & efficax gratiæ auxilium obtinent. 3. Neque ulla conscientiis afflictis consolatio affulget à voluntatis suæ in Divinam resignatione, sine certa spe perseverantiæ. Qualis enim ab absoluto Dei dominio, cui etiam Diaboli & damnati subjacent, sine fiducia gratiæ perseverantis, & certitudine salutis, afflictis & à Sathana tentatis & cribratis consolatio oboriri potest? 4. Nec ex parte Divinæ prædestinationis certam electorum salutem facitis, quia vocatos & justificatos semel perire, adeóque non glorificari posse pertenditis: & ex parte hominis credentis & justificati, non

OBJECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBJECT. I. Deus ipſe Ezechiel. XVIII. 24. inquit: Si averterit ſe juſtus à juſtitia ſua, & fecerit iniquitatem, omnes juſtitiæ ejus, quas fecit, non commemorabuntur. Ergo juſtus poteſt ſe avertere à ſua juſtitia. Aliàs inanis foret interminatio. Reſp. 1. Juſtus poteſt ſe avertere à juſtitia ſua ſeu ſanctitate inhærente, & in atrocia peccata incidere, ſic ut in interſtitio illo inter contractam labem & pœnitentiæ actum renovatum poſſit amittere aptitudinem ſuam ad Regnum Cœlorum, & eam ob cauſam puniri morte temporaria, ſicut contigit Joſiæ, Regem Ægypti in Megiddo contra voluntatem Domini aggredienti. Inde tamen non ſequitur, illum juſtitiam Chriſti, ſive fidei penitus excuſſiſſe. Ita leproſus apud Judæos cogebatur pro tempore domo carere; non tamen jus ad domum amiſit, quia ſanatus iſtam rurſus poſſidere potuit. Itaque juſtitia non imputatam Chriſti, ſed inhærentem; mors non æternam ſed temporalem notare poteſt. 2. Poteſt etiam juſtitia notare juſtitiam legis ſeu operum, quam crepabant Judæi; & cujus indolem deſcribit Deus; non fidei. Fatemur autem juſtitiæ legalis ſeu operum in fœdere operum eam conditionem fuiſſe, ut amitti potuerit. Sic cum Judæis tanquam juſtitiariis ex ipſorum hypotheſi Deus ageret.

OBIECT. II. Matth. XIII. 20. 21. qui ad tempus credebant, erant veri fideles. At iidem à fide defecerunt. Resp. Πρόσκαιροι illi esse potuerunt verè fideles, nempe fide historica vel temporali præditi. Non erant tamen verè fideles, hoc est, fide salvifica & radicata, quæ ab altera illa specie differt, præditi. Ostendunt hoc oppositi effectus, qui ex eadem natura specifica non solent profluere. Etenim Sancti in ipsa parabola v. 21, 23. à πρόσκαιροις illis distinguuntur.

Excip. Reding: Qui cum gaudio verbum Dei recipit, fide salvifica & supernaturali præditus est, sive ad tempus duntaxat credat, sive perseveret. Nam ad credendum movetur ex ipsa prima veritate revelante. Tales autem sunt fideles, quos parabola describit. Ib. pag 514. Resp. Non fuisse salvificam vertumnorum illorum fidem, rationibus probavi, ad quas nihil respondes. Gaudium porro illud, cum quo verbum Dei πρόσκαιροι illi exceperunt, non solidum, nec spirituale, sed repentinum, radice sua carens, & carnale fuit. Cùm intrant Ecclesiam (ita Thomas Aquinas in catena ex Cyrillo) latanter attentant Divina mysteria, sed levi voluntate. Et Glossa ordinaria: Gratanter suscipiunt. sed superficie tenus, non interiori corde. Ludovicus Grunatensis Conc. 1. Seipsos, velut ultimum finem statuerunt. Et Conc. 2. Magis in amore Dei, quàm sui radices egerunt. Jucunditas enim ex auditione verbi repentina, atque cum ea curiositas, zelus, gloriatio, phantasia à carne & à concupiscentia, non ab amore Dei sunt. Statim lœtari, audito verbo, tum malum signum est, quia verbum Dei, si rectè percipiatur, in homine primò displicentiam sui, angores, cor contritum & fractum spiritum, famem & sitim justitiæ, luctum, Christo, Matth. V. 2, 3. &c. teste, operatur: tum indicium arrogantiæ, quasi jam statim omnia perdidiceris, cùm plurima investigatione opus sit, & via pietatis ad dextram & sinistram multas tentationes & insidias Sathanæ quæsitissimas comites habeat. Non aliud igitur temporalis illa fides fuit, quàm convictio de veritate Scripturæ, & prima, uti tu loqueris, veritate revelante, qualis etiam in Diabolo & damnatis obtinet; nec non nominis Christi & quarundam veritatum copulatio cum concupiscentia & opinionibus propriis, ad gloriandum coram Deo & hominibus. quæ hypocrisis est latens ipsosmet, qui illam habent. Tantum abest, ut fides justificans & salvifica fuerit, OBIECT. III. *Paulus Hebr. VI. 4. 5. docet, eos qui participes facti sunt Spiritus S. gustaverunt donum illud cœleste, & virtutes futuri Seculi, prolabi posse. Non igitur, quæ de prolapſis affirmavit, meliora erant, non per ſe cum ſalute cohærebant. Qualiscunque eorum fides fuit, non fuit ſalvifica. Neque Hebræi illi dilecti & ſancti æquè ac cæteri, prolabi potuerunt, quia non ſimpliciter Spiritus S. & aliorum donorum participes fuerunt, ſed habuerunt & meliora, & cum ſalute connexa, qualia ſunt fides, ad quam refertur ἔργου opus, & κόπος ἀγάπης labor charitatis, v. 10. teres. Nunc verò vellicas pro more, & intricas potiùs quàm extricas quicquam. Quæris enim 1. An Petro abneganti Christum ejusdem justitia firmata fuerit? Abnegatio equidem justitiam Christi non firmat, sed ejus tamen imputatæ manentis licet inconcussæ sensum minuit. Quomodo, instas, sic verum erit illud Christi: Qui me coram hominibus abnegat, eum coram Patre meo abnegabo? An igitur Christus Petrum coram Patre suo abnegavit? Annon potiùs pro eo Patrem suum rogavit, non, ut fides ejus amissa restitueretur (ita tuo sensu orandum fuerat) sed ne fides ejus deficeret? Disce igitur, Christum de iis loqui, qui eum abnegant non ex infirmitate sola, sed de iis, qui voluntate Christum abnegantes, honori & gloriæ ejus detrahunt, tum non credendo, nec amando eum; tum amorem & subjectionem ejus non profitendo. Talis abnegator Petrus non fuit, quem in fidei substantia persistitisse, ipsemet fateris. Non igitur sic mortuus est, ut fidem penitus amiserit, sed quia fidei fructum non reddidit. Ita semen moritur hieme, licet vita non planè disperdita quoad interiorem seu primum actum. Neque qui in abundantia sua dicit: Non movebor; adeóque eatenus timorem & tremorem non habet, quod de Davide Augustinus dicit, fidei radicem & habitum, sed actum ad tempus perdit. 2. Petro, utpote charitate, quam formam fidei justificantis vocas, fidem, sed mortuam illam, tribuis. Atqui & fidei & amoris erga Christum habitum constanter retinuit. In pudorem te dabunt duo Episcopi Romani, Leo I. & Gregorius M. Ille Serm. 9. de Pass. Dom. sic Petrum alloquitur: Adfuit dextera Domini Jesu Christi, quæ labentem te, priusquam dejicereris, exciperes, & firmitatem standi in ipso cadendi periculo recepisti. Vidit in te Dominus fidem non fictam, non (N.B.) dilectionem aversam, sed constantiam fuisse turbatam. Abundavit fletus, ubi non defecit affectus, & fons charitatis lavit verba formidinis, nec tardatum est remedium abolitionis, ubi non fuit judicium voluntatis. Gregorius M. Moral. in Job. lib XXV. 11. Petrum non studio, sed infirmitate peccâsse docens, sic loquitur: Petrus infirmitate peccavit, quando in eo omne robur fidei, quod Domino perhibuit, una vox puellæ concussit, & Deum, quem corde tenuit, voce negavit. Sed quia infirmitatis culpa eò facilius tegitur, quò non studio patratur, Petrus mœstam & (N.B.) quasi arescentem jam radicem fidei lachrymis rigando solidavit. En, Redingi, non S. Petri à fide vel charitate: sed tuam à fide priorum Romanorum Episcoporum insignem apostasiam! Imò tantum abest, ut abnegatione Petri ejusdem perseverantia sublata fuerit, ut potiùs, quando rogavit Christus (ita S. Augustinus de corrept. & grat. cap. 6. loquitur) ne fides ejus deficeret, non aliud rogaverit, nisi ut haberet in fide liberrimam, fortissimam, invictissimam, perseverantissimam voluntatem. Si idem Davidi accidit, non igitur perseverantiam amisit. Quin potiùs orans, ne Deus à se Spiritum auferret, testatus est, se nondum Spiritum Dei, adeóque veram fidem, nec justitiam amisisse. Quod nondum ablatum est, adest. Neque oratio supplex ad Deum, ne Spiritum à se auferat, incertitudinem perseverantiæ, sed mediorum, quibus perseverantia obtinetur, necessarium usum arguit. 3. Nam quibus Deus in isto Sathanæ insultu victoriam spondet, illos à mediis neutiquam eximit. 4. Hymenæum, Philetum, Demam electos cùm dicis, & tibi & veritati repugnas. Tibi, quia non semel jam ultro electionis constantiam fassus es. Veritati, quia electi certè glorificantur, nec seduci ad interitum possunt, Matth. XXIV. 24. Rom. VIII. 29. 30. Ad Augustinum audacter provocas. Ille enim de Corrept. & gratia cap. 17. non duo electorum, perseverantium scilicet, & non perseverantium; genera, sed vocatos & electos sic distinguit, ut neget, quosvis vocatos electos esse. Quicunque electi, inquit, sine dubio etiam vocati, non autem quicunque voca-

Sed nemo eorum perit, quia nulla re vincitur Deus. Subjicit quidem, electorum quorundam fidem deficere. Sed addit, reparari, antequam vita iſta finiatur. Si in horum numero Hymenæus, Philetus, Demas fuerunt, verè igitur fideles & juſti fuerunt, & perſeverarunt, deficiente licet ad tempus, quoad actum ſecundum, fide, adeóque nihil exempla probant. Si non fuerunt, nihil Auguſtini verba probant. Fallis igitur, & falleris undique. Sed veram tamen fidem nunquam Ecoboli illi, Hymenæus, Philetus, Demas habuerunt; ſed tum bonam conſcientiam repulerunt, cogitationem ſuam avertentes à vero ſcopo præcepti, qui eſt charitas ex puro corde & fide non ficta, & conſcientia bona, 1. Tantum enim abeſt, ut tales ad vitam perveniant, ut ne quidem ad fidem pervenire valeant. quia id non habent, ſine quo fides non habetur, bonam conſcientiam ſcilicet. Non ex hac, quia juſtificatus non fuit, ſed juſtificandus demum, ſi mandato Dei, quo explorare illum ſtatuit, paruiſſet. Alia ratio eſt fidelium, qui ex Deo geniti & per Chriſtum juſtificati peccare non poſſunt, quia ſemen in iis manet. QUÆSTIO XVI.

An juſtificati infallibiliter eſſe certi poßint, ſe magnum illud uſque in finem perſeverantiæ donum certò habituros?

ARG. I. Juſtificati de ſua ſalute certi eſſe poſſunt, & ſimul per gratiam divinæ electionis, præſidium redemptionis Chriſti & efficaciam ac potentiam Spiritus Dei in gratia juſtificationis perſeverant. Utrumque jam à nobis probatum. Qui autem certus eſſe de ſua ſalute poteſt, is etiam de perſeverantia, tanquam medio ejus certus eſſe poteſt. Et qui per gratiam Dei perſeverat, is de perſeverantia ſua non poteſt non certus eſſe, quia dona Dei & chariſmata cum eorundem ſenſu neceſſariò conjuncta ſunt.

ARG. II. Extat divina promiſſio certitudinis hujus, Jerem.XXXII.39.40. Dabo eis cor,ut me timeant in perpetuum. Et pangam eis æternum fœdus, me ab eis non receſſurum. Et ponam in cordibus eorum timorem meum,ne unquam recedant à me. Quibus adde toties iteratam Chriſti promiſſionem,quòd dare nobis velit, quæcunque ejus in nomine petierimus, ac proinde etiam perſeverantiæ donum,quod quotidie ſupplices expetere tenemur.

At nunquam fideles certi ſunt,orationes ſuas in nomine Chriſti factas eſſe.* Ib.pag.517.518. Reſp.1.Quaſi timor ille, quem Deus promiſit,ſit vel ſervilis timor, incertum de gratia Domini ſui reddens; vel dubitatio de paterno affectu; & non potiùs reverentia & amor filiorum erga Patrem optimum,ob ὑμῖν ἐπαγγελμένα,pretioſa promiſſa, inter alia. Atqui timorem illum promittit Deus,ne unquam recedant. Eſt igitur Deo ſic volente perſeverantiæ medium; & par utriusque certitudo gliſcit. 2. Bellè, Redingi. In caſtra noſtra tranſis. Ubi enim Eccleſia vera eſt extra ſingulos fideles? Et promiſſiones Eccleſiæ factæ ad fideles omnes utique pertinent. Niſi fortè Eccleſia neſcio quid chimæricum tibi ſonat. 3. Et ſi certus nemo eſt, preces ſuas in nomine Chriſti fuſas eſſe, vel inde illud eſt, quia verbum Dei non revelavit,quid ſit in nomine Chriſti orare: vel inde, quia ſenſus orationis juxta præſcriptum verbi in nomine Chriſti factæ haberi nequit. Illud verbo Dei iniquum: hoc inſanum eſt.

ARG. III. Perſeverantia Sanctorum nititur infinita Dei potentia, & divinis planè fulcris,qualia ſunt immutabile Dei vocantis propoſitum, Chriſti Mediatoris meritum & potentiſſima interceſſio, à qua ad certitudinem perſeverantiæ argumentamur cum Apoſtolo, Rom.VIII.34. & Spiritus S. obſignatio & teſtimonium efficaciſſimum. ad nos conſiderata, ſive cuique fideli revelata. Priorem concedimus, poſteriorem negamus. Ib. pag. 518. Reſp. 1. Quod omnibus fidelibus generali propoſitione revelatum eſt, ad ſingulos fideles applicandum pertinet. Abſque quo foret, nulla eſſet Scripturarum conſolatio, nullus uſus ad doctrinam, redargutionem, correctionem & inſtitutionem in juſtitia. Cùm igitur fidelibus omnibus ex revelatione Dei de electionis propoſito immutabili, meriti Chriſti & interceſſionis ejusdem efficacia ſumma, Spiritus S. obſignatione conſtet, his innixi fulcris, ſinguli perſeverantiam ſibi certiſſimam meritò promittunt. 2. Neque tantùm in ſe certum eſt, electos, redemptos & obſignatos à Spiritu S. perſeveraturos (quanquam in ſuperiore quæſtione etiam hanc certitudinem labefactare molieberis) ſed etiam quoad nos ex ſenſu electionis per certa σημεῖα ſe patefacientis, efficaciæ meriti & interceſſionis Chriſti, de qua indubitabile Dei verbum fideles quoſvis certos reddit, & Spiritus S. obſignantis teſtimonio, de eo penitus conſtat. de quo ſupra pluribus. Syllogiſmus practicus inſtituatur ejusmodi: Quicunque certi ſunt, ſe electos, redemptos & obſignatos à Spiritu S. glorificatum iri, iidem certi ſunt, ſe perſeveraturos. Atqui ego certus ſum, me electum, redemptum per Chriſtum, obſignatum à Spiritu S. certò glorificatum iri. Ergo certus ſum, me perſeveraturum. Major nexu electionis, redemptionis, obſignationis & glorificationis cum perſeverantiæ infallibilitate nititur. Saltem glorificandos quis neget non perſeverare? Nam fideles perſeverantes uſque ad finem, non alii, ſalvantur, Matth. XXIV. 13. Minor nititur tum ſenſu infallibili & experimentis effectorum electionis, redemptionis, obſignationis, tum beneficiorum horum cum glorificatione nexu certiſſimo. Adeóque concluſio ex fide, & fidei illius ſenſu deducta non fallit.

ARG. IV. Scriptura hominem vera fide præditum comparat ei, qui domum ædificavit ſuper petras, quæ ſtat immota, nec ventorum impetu, nec fluminis exundantis alliſione labefactari poteſt, Matth. VII. 24. 25. Et Pſaltes Pſal. I. & XCII. arbori nunquam φυλλορόῃ, & quæ fructum fert ad ultimam uſque ſenectutem.

RESP. REDING: Non diſcernis gratiæ Divinæ, & bonorum operum hinc profectorum efficaciam, & noſtram in hac vita mortali defectibilitatem. Ib. p. 518. Reſp. Imò maximè diſcerno, quia efficaciam illam gratiæ cum totali & finali defectibilitate gratiæ conſiſtere poſſe, nego. Quamvis enim ſemel ædificatus in petra, & plantatus ad rivos aquarum non propterea ab omni peccato liberetur, adeóque non ſemel cadat, tamen, ſuſtentatus à potenti Dei brachio, non corruit & dejicitur, ſed à quotidianis potiùs lapſibus erigitur, nec unquam vel petram, in qua ædificatus eſt, deſerit, vel in δένδρον φθινοπωρινὸν, ἄκαρπον, δὶς ἀποθανὸν, ἐκριζωθὲν arborem autumno marceſcentem, infruſiferam, bis mortuam & eradicatam (Jud. v. 12.) degenerat.

ARG. V. Univerſum illud de dubitatione decretum non aliò aurigatur, quàm ad lucrum, & ut clerus laicis obſequentioribus utatur. Experti enim ſunt, trepidationem populi augere rem cleri, & populum imperitum, cujus æſtuat anxietate conſcientia, ſolere ad cleri authoritatem & præſumptam animo ſanctitatem quaſi ad ſacram anchoram confugere: & hominem attonitum feliciùs argento emungi.

RESP. REDINO : Dixeras superiùs, fideles certos licet de salute ac perseverantiæ suæ, non eximi à mediis, inter quæ sit Ministerium. Annon ergo id asseritis, ut laicis obsequentioribus utamini; atque sic ad lucrum aurigatur dogma vestrum? Ibi maximè, ubi securitatem de perseverantia profitemini, quæ Ministerii necessitatem prorsus elidit. Ib. pag. 518. Resp. QUÆSTIO XVII.

An justus in quolibet opere bono peccet, atque sic pœnas æternas mereatur?

NEgat Canon XXV. Nos distinguimus opera, quæ vel considerantur in legali & intrinseca dignitate, vel in paterna acceptatione Dei per respectum meriti Christi. Priori sensu statuimus, nullum opus tam perfectum esse, quin habeat admixtas scorias peccati, ob quas Deus in stricto judicio illud damnare possit. Posteriori modo Deo grata sunt, neque auctoribus infructuosa. Quæ autem adhæret labes, intuitu mortis Christi omnem noxam expiantis, non imputatur, sed remittitur. Priori sensu renatos in omni opere bono peccare, non bene agendo, sed à perfecta legis regula deflectendo, probamus.

RESP. REDING: 1. Confundis ſtatum perfectionis à lege intentæ, & ſubſtantiam quorumlibet operum Sanctorum à quovis particulari præcepto præſcriptorum. Licet perfectionem à lege intentam non aſſequamur, defectus tamen aliquis non impedit bonitatem ſubſtantiæ operis, judice ipſo S. Auguſtino de Spir. & lit. cap. ult. ubi negat culpæ deputandum, ſi eſſe nondum poteſt tanta dilectio Dei, quanta cognitioni plena (in patria habenda) perfectaque debetur. Interim talia etiam opera ſecundum legalem intrinſecam dignitatem ſuam bona eſſe, teſtatur S. Paulus Epheſ. II. 10. ubi docet, opera illa, quatenus in iis ambulamus, à Deo præparari & creari. 2. Lex charitatis, ſeu diligendi Dei ex toto corde, tota anima, & omnibus viribus, charitatis exceſſum appretiativum, non vel extenſivum, ſitum in ejus duratione non interpolata, & charitatis in omnes hominis actus redundantia; vel intenſivum, in ſumma intenſionis augmento ſitum, præcipit. Ille enim ſolus ad charitatis ſubſtantiam pertinet, hi accidentarii ſunt. Non igitur quilibet charitatis defectus actum operis vitioſum & damnabilem reddit. Tract. IV. Ss. 2. pag. 519. 520. Reſp. 1. Quæſtio tota eſt de perfectione operum à lege intenta; ſeu de legali & intrinſeca operum dignitate & perfectione. Cùm igitur ipſe fatearis, perfectionem eam non aſſequi opera noſtra, nihil ultra ſatagendum tibi fuerat. Sed procedis ulteriùs, & defectum operis à lege præcepti in vitio ponendum eſſe negas. Quid verò aliud eſt ἁμαρτία, peccatum, quàm aberratio à lege, adeóque defectio quædam? Et ſi lex perfectam obſervantiam requirit, utique defectus perfectæ obſervantiæ eſt ἀνομία ſeu tranſgreſſio legis, adeóque peccatum veri nominis. Vel defectus ille legi contrariatur, vel non. Si contrariatur, peccatum eſt, quia peccatum eſt ἀνομία, ſeu id, quod legi contrariatur. Si non contrariatur, perfectio defectui oppoſita ad legalem perfectionem non pertinebit. Supra Thomam veſtrum audivimus ſcitè aſſerentem, bonum eſſe ex integra cauſa, malum ex quolibet defectu. Quid tum igitur, ſi adſit operis ſubſtantia, ſeu materia externi actus; an defectus vel efficientis principii, vel formæ, finis, vel circumſtantiarum in vitio non erit? Annon peccat, qui eleemoſynas erogans dilectionem quoad ſubſtantiam operis externi exercet; at deficit, non ex vera fide, amore Dei, & ad gloriam Dei dilectionem referendo? Auguſtinum verò patrocinantem non habes, quia is de Spir. & lit. cap. ult. dilectionem illam minorem, quam in hac vita habere, juxta legem ſcilicet, debemus, non qualem habemus, comparatè ad eam quam in Cœlo habebimus, culpæ deputandam meritò negat: adeóque loquitur non abſolutè, ſed ex hypotheſi; ſi daretur quiſpiam perficiens totam legem, tanta perfectione, quanti in hominem hac in vita integrum cadere poteſt. Vel certè quod culpæ deputari negat, ceu culpam credentibus ad damnationem imputari negat veriſſimè. Nam fides in Chriſtum peccati imputationem tollit. Sanè eodem capite ex defectu amoris, qui in mortali hac vita contingit, omnes homines peccatores eſſe, arguit. Et alibi de perfect. juſt. reſp. 15. diſertè: Peccatum eſt, cùm vel non eſt charitas, vel minor eſt, quàm debet: ſive hoc voluntate vitari poſſit, ſive non. Et S. Paulus Epheſ. II. 10. ſcribens, nos eſſe πάντως facturam Dei, creatos in bonis operibus, in quibus præparavit nos Deus, ut in iis ambulemus; finem novæ creationis noſtræ indicat, ut in bonis operibus, in quibus, vel ad quæ ille nos præparavit, ambulemus, quò ita bona opera ſint nobis via & initium vitæ æternæ. ARG. II. Extat ea de re querula vox populi Iſraëlitici, Eſaj. LXIV. 6. Daniel. IX. 7. 8. quibus locis juſtitiam ſuam multiplici labe contaminatam deplorat.

RESP. REDING: *Locus Eſajæ ſtatum populi Iſraëlitici, ceremoniis ſuis confidentis, tanquam juſtitiæ, ſed prava intentione corruptæ, deplorat. Ab iccirco nullum unquam juſti opus extitit? Sed quid multis? Aperta phraſis eſt, כל צדקתינו omnes juſtitiæ noſtræ. Et de juſtitia, & de omnibus, & de omnium juſtitiis loquitur. Resp. Reding: 1. Si Davidis & Jobi opera Deo ex paterna acceptatione propter meritum Chriſti grata, uti tu confiteris, fuerunt, quomodo deprecari judicium Dei potuerunt? Num ipſa etiam deprecatio illa legali & intrinſeca dignitate carebat, & peccati ſcorias admixtas habebat? Quomodo igitur ad judicium Dei avertendum valuit? 2. Sancti judicium Dei non ob bona opera ſua, quaſi pollutа, ſed tum ob peccata venialia; tum ob mortalia, ob quæ ad tempus ſtatu gratiæ exciderunt; quæque remiſſa iis ſunt quoad pœnam æternam, ſed non temporalem; tum ob opera virtuoſa, de quorum tamen rectitudine non omnimodam certitudinem habent, timentes, ne occultis & alienis peccatis infecta ſint; deprecantur. Ib. pag 521. Reſp. 1. Vellicas, torques pro more. Licet David & Jobus non ingrata Deo eſſe bona opera ſua in Chriſto noverint, judicium tamen Dei extra Chriſtum, & propter ſolam operum ſuorum quaſi legalem & intrinſecam perfectionem meritò deprecantur. Et grata Deo hæc ipſa deprecatio fuit, quia gratia Dei in Chriſto, non intrinſeca operis ſui dignitate nixa eſt. 2. Peccata venialia ex ſe nulla agnoſcimus: per mortalia verò juſtificatos ex ſtatu gratiæ excidere negamus: denique remiſſis peccatis quibuſvis pœnas eorundem quaſvis, & æternas & temporales remitti, pertendimus. Hoc unum igitur reſtat, quod & tu nobis, tua vincta cædens, cedis, deprecari Sanctos judicium Dei, quia licet conſcii virtuoſorum operum quorundam, certitudinem tamen nullam habent, quòd occultis & alienis peccatis ac defectibus infecta non ſint. addo, infectorum multis modis bonorum operum ſuorum, quin & peccatorum gravium, ac ſua natura mortalium (qualia utique Davidis erant) conſcientiam intimam habent.

ARG. IV. Opera perfecta, & omnibus modis conſummata manant ex perfectis principiis. Atqui principia actionum bonarum variè ſunt corrupta. Nam & in intellectu manent tenebræ, 1. Cor. Lucta carnis cum ſpiritu motus ſpiritus retundit, contrariis ſuggeſtionibus retardat, & quandiu circumferimus hoc corporis ergaſtulum, bonis operibus noſtris aliquid labis affricat.

Resp. Reding: *An vires gratiæ viribus carnis debiliores ſunt, ut illæ his prævalere nequeant? Intelligis vel ſic, facultatum noſtrarum principia ita quidem in hac vita ſanata eſſe, ut non penitus omnis earum ægritudo ſublata ſit, tum demum auferenda, cùm ultimus hoſtis noſter, mors, debellatus & ſublatus fuerit. Non igitur facultates noſtræ in hac vita penitus ſpirituales ſunt, nec caro, hoc eſt, nativa peccati labes, ab iis planiſſimè abiterſa eſt : nec denique ſpiritus & caro in nobis vel ſeparatas ſedes habent, vel ſeparatim operantur, ſed mixtim. Conſequenter nullum quantumvis præſtans hominis regeniti opus datur, quod ab omni carnis peccatricis vitio ita purè preſéque defœcatum ſit, ut nihil reſiduæ & perpetim operantis carnis admixtum habeat. Typus ejus rei quondam fuerunt tum ſacrificia, quæ ſic ſuaviſſimis aromatis condiebantur, ut galbanum etiam fœtidiſſimum ſuperadditum fuerit : tum Aaron, qui iniquitates eorum, quæ filii Iſraël in cunctis muneribus & donariis ſuis ſanctificarunt, portare debuit, Exod.XXVIII.38. Et : Non eſt homo juſtus in terra, qui faciat bonum, & non peccet, Eccl.VII.21. 1.Reg.VIII.46. Ex quo loco ſic Auguſtinus *Epiſt.*29. arguit : Quandiu augeri poteſt, profectò illud, quod minus eſt, quàm debet, ex vitio eſt. Ex quo vitio non eſt juſtus in terra, qui faciat bonum & non peccet. Senſus proin eſt, neminem ſic bonum facere, quin in eo ipſo bono, quod facit, peccet ; non quòd bonum peccatum ſit, ſed quia auctior gradus, vel alia deficiunt. Et Jobus : Quid eſt homo, ut immaculatus ſit, & ut (perfectè) juſtus appareat natus de muliere? Ecce inter ſanctos ejus nemo integer, & Cœli non ſunt mundi in conſpectu ejus? Quantò minùs abominabilis (in ſe) & putridus homo, qui bibit velut aquam iniquitatem? Job.XV.14-17.

ARG. V. Perfectio omnimoda non viæ ſed patriæ & immortalitatis comes eſt, 1.Cor.XIII.10. Phil.III.12. Res noſtræ etiam optimè hic affectæ, in cœlo demum perficientur. RESP. REDING : *Ineptias meras ſpiras. Nam ex 1.Cor.XIII.10. Phil.III.12. non aliud ſequitur, quàm conſummatam viſionis beatificæ perfectionem non viæ, ſed Patriæ eſſe. 2.Cor. licet, irrita & gloriosa sistetur, Ephes. V. 26. 27. Annon inde necessariò sequitur, regenerationem nostram in hac vita imperfectam & successivam, in Cœlo demum perfici? Hoc loca à me citata evincunt: & huic probationi responsio tua aptanda fuerat. Quod crescit indies, nondum summum amoris & legalis observantiæ gradum habet: & quandiu aliquid augeri potest, cum Augustino loquor, illud quod minus est, ex vitio est. Nam, uti idem Augustinus de perf. just. resp. 15. optimè judicat, peccatum est, cùm vel non est charitas, vel minor est, quàm debet: sive hoc voluntate vitari possit, sive non possit.

ARG. VI. Ad boni operis legalem perfectionem requiritur etiam continuatus perseverantiæ tenor, Ezech. XVIII. 23. Jac. II. 10. Atqui nullus justificatorum est, quin aliquando labatur & legem divinam violet.

Resp. Reding: 1. Si nullus homo est, quin labatur, quomodo supra dixisti, fidelem quemvis ædificatum esse supra petram? Et si aliquando duntaxat labitur, quomodo in quolibet bono opere peccat? 2. 1. Joh. II. 10. (non Jac. II. 10.) & Ezech XVIII. 23. nihil ad rem faciunt. Ib. pag. 522. Resp. 1. Homo fidelis peccans non sic collabitur, ut à petra, cui inædificatus est, excutiatur: quia petra, cui inædificatur, non propria, sed Christi justitia est. Et qui aliquando labitur, sic ut labendo nihil boni faciat, sed peccet duntaxat, ille bonum faciendo non perfectè, adcóque secundum legis rigorem peccat, non bonum faciendo, sed à perfecta bonitate deficiendo. Ergo quoties bonum quid operatur, peccat: non tum duntaxat, quando nihil boni operatur. Verbò, peccat semper omittendo, non committendo. 2. Loca citata quàm negligenter, aliis, nescio quibus, curis intentus tractas? Ego locum Jac. II. 10. citò disertè. Tu citas Jac. I. 10. & insuper non eum, ibi, sed qui 1. Joh. II. 10. extat, recitas. Tam studiosè in his versaris. S. Jacobus cap. II. 10. sic scribit: Qui totam legem servaverit, lapsus autem fuerit in uno, factus est omnium reus. Sensus est, perfectam legis obedientiam in omnibus præceptis eandem se præstare. Proin quæ in uno deficit, eam in reliquis omnibus similiter defitere: nec fieri posse, ut unicum præceptum servet perfectè, sicut oportet; qui in uno impingit, adcóque in omnium præceptorum tenore non perseverat. Eadem planè Deus ipse Ezech. XVIII. 21-25. docet, justitiam videlicet deficientem nunquam reputari pro ea, quam lex requirit: imò ne quidem recordationem suam subire.

ARG. VII. Hinc videlicet est, quòd etiam optimorum fides subinde pulsatur dubitationibus: quòd iis precantibus aliæ cogitationes obrepunt: quòd dantes eleemosynas charitate non ficta, restitant tamen, aut volunt aspici: quòd zelo domus Dei aliquid intermiscent de propriis commodis: quòd amissis bonis ob professionem Evangelii desiderant amissa, & cervicem ad relicta reflectunt. Alia atque alia ejusmodi πάθηματα quotidie experiuntur, qui in se seriò descendunt, & coram Deo humiliantur.

Resp. Reding: 1. Siccine ergo etiam tuam fidem dubitationibus pulsari experiris? Quomodo ergo supra dubitationem oppugnasti? Quomodo eleemosyna ex charitate non ficta procedit, si ex intentione vanæ gloriæ? 2. Nemo in hac vita sic perfectus est quin venialibus peccatis sit obnoxius. Non ideo in quolibet opere mortaliter peccat. Ib. p. 522. Resp. 1. Utinam sinum potiùs tuum excuteres, quàm sic sophisticè disputares! Fidem dixi subinde, inde, non ſemper, pulſari dubitationibus, non vincentibus, ſed vera fide vincendis. Quod ſupra etiam diſertè dicere occupavi. Dantes eleemoſynas charitate non ficta reſtituere, ſubinde ſcilicet, non ſemper, & velle aſpici; veræ ſcilicet intentioni, quam fides dirigit, ſubrepente etiam carnis ſtudio, quod paulatim domatur, dixi. An ſic puram in omnibus tuis actibus intentionem ſentias, ſi tu non dubitas, dubitabunt de te alii, fideles inprimis, qui Sathanæ inſultus & tentationes nonnullos quotidie experiuntur, & cum iiſdem ſtrenuè luctantur. 2. Nemo ſic perfectus eſt in quovis opere, quin peccatum ſe immiſceat. Vocem modò venialis peccati, mortalis præſumptionis plenam, remove.

ARG. VIII. Conſentiunt Patres, inprimis Auguſtinus Epiſtola 29. ad Hieronymum inquiens: Pleniſſima charitas, quæ jam non poſſit augeri, quandiu hic homo vivit, eſt in nemine. Quandiu autem augeri poteſt, profectò illud quòd minùs eſt quàm debet, ex vitio eſt. Ex quo vitio non eſt juſtus in terra, qui faciat bonum & non peccet, &c. Confer Gregorium M. Moralium lib. IX. cap. 2.

RESP. REDING: Auguſtinus intelligit de peccato, quod ſe ad charitatem habet concomitanter. Hoc non obſtante charitas, quoad intrinſecam eſſentiam ſpectata nullatenus eſt peccatum. Alibi verò de Spir. & lit. cap. ult. defectum charitatis culpæ deputandum negat. lb. pag 522. Reſp. Imò diſertè de minore gradu ejus charitatis, quæ augeri poteſt, loquitur. OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Scriptura opera regenitorum paſſim abſolutè vocat bona, veluti Matth. V. 16. 1. Tim. VI. 18. Epheſ. II. 10. &c. Atqui ſi peccata mortalia forent, potiùs mala quàm bona dicenda eſſent, cùm juxta Areopagitam malum dicatur opus, quod non eſt integrè bonum. Reſp. 1. Loca allegata, non qualia ſint ſanctorum opera, ſed qualia eſſe debeant, declarant. 2. Sunt tamen ſanctorum opera etiam bona non ἁπλῶς abſolutè, ſed κατά τι, ſecundum quid; prout diverſi ſunt gradus bonitatis, quorum ſummus in hac vita nunquam attingitur. 3. Neque verò ob defectum gradus, aut interveniens vitium, mala dicenda ſunt fidelium opera, quia quod malum eſt, gratioſè remittitur, quod bonum paternè acceptatur.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si bonum, juxta illud Dionyſii Areopagitæ, eſt ex integra cauſa, & uni ac indiviſibili entitati duæ eſſentialiter oppoſitæ eſſentiæ non conveniunt; quomodo tu bonum & malum in unum chaos confundis? Bonum enim, quod tu paternè acceptari dicis, diver- diverſum quid à malo, adeóque intrinſecè ab hoc affici nequit. 2. Matth.V.16. jubet Chriſtus diſcipulos lucere, ut homines bona eorum opera videant, Deúmque glorificent. Quis verò neget, tales fuiſſe diſcipulos, quales gratia ſuæ efficacia Chriſtus efficere voluit? Et 1.*Tim.VI.*18. hortatur S. Paulus Chriſtianos in Deo vivo, præſtante iis omnia abundè ad fruendum, ut bene agant, & divites fiant in bonis operibus. Per gratiam igitur ſuam, ut hoc eſſent, præſtitit. Reſp. Tu verò ſegniter reſponſionis meæ veſtigia premis. Imò primam & ſecundam planè omittis. Sed nec cætera, quæ reponis, hilum valent. Etenim 1. Simpliciter, perfectè & abſolutè bona ſunt ex integra cauſa. Talia verò eſſe fidelium opera, probandum fuerat. Nam textus à te allati qualia debeant fidelium opera, non qualia ſint, arguit. Neque etiam vel bonum malum, vel malum bonum dixi, vel alterutri oppoſitam eſſentiam tribui. Tua hæc deliria ſunt. Bonum, qua tale, malum non eſt: ſed bono qua tali, ſeu imperfectè bono adjacere poteſt defectus cauſæ & circumſtantiæ vel unius vel plurium, qui & perfectionem boni operis tollit, & illud, ſi ad legis Divinæ amuſſim exigatur, ex accidenti malum reddit. Alia verò ratio eſt imputatæ Evangelicæ, qua imperfectè bonum acceptatur à Deo, & adhærentes maculæ ac defectus virtute meriti Chriſti remittuntur. Eadem corpora poſſunt eſſe & alba & nigra, & magna & prava. Crepuſcula ſunt & pars diei apud vulgus, & pars noctis apud aſtrologos; nimirum propter oppoſitarum qualitatum, lucis & tenebrarum concurſum. Cur non eadem opera diverſo reſpectu bona & mala eſſe poſſint? Bona ex ſe, quatenus habent aliquid conformitatis cum lege Dei: mala ex accidenti, quatenus minus habent ejus conformitatis, quàm oportuit. Nam juxta Nazianzeni illud *Orat.*1. Theolog. τὸ καλὸν καλὸν, ὅταν μὴ καλῶς γίνηται. Etiam bonum non eſt bonum, cùm non bene fit. Et quæ in ſingulis operibus major erit contradictio, ſeu oppoſitarum eſſentiarum confuſio, quàm in ſingulis hominibus? Conceditis enim, paucos juſtos eſſe ſine peccato. An in homine aliquatenus juſto, & aliquatenus peccatore oppoſitarum eſſentiarum confuſio eſt? Et ſi in eo non eſt, cur in operibus aliquatenus bonis & aliquatenus malis neſcio quod chaos tu fingis? Matth.V.16. mandatum lego, ſed perfectam operum bonitatem non lego. Gratiæ ſuæ efficaciâ voluiſſe Deum opera diſcipulorum abſolutè & perfectè bona facere, probandum tibi, non caſſa vel nulla ratione aſſerendum fuerat. Vel ſola Petri abnegatio falſæ aſſertionis tuæ teſtis eſt. Sed & 1.Tim.VI.18. divitibus Apoſtolus præcipit, πλουτεῖν ἐν ἔργοις καλοῖς, ut ſint divites in bonis operibus. At in bonis operibus ſic divitem quenquam eſſe, ut nullo bonitatis defectu laboret, non aſſerit. Sed paulò ante dixerat, inquis, Deum præſtare omnia abundè ad fruendum. Ergo gratia ſua ſic divites facit. Nugæ tuæ! Omnia, temporalia ſcilicet, ſeu ἐπιδόσια & τιμᾶς ἀρτα ad corporis ſuſtentationem, Jac.II.16. copiosè Deum nobis fruenda dare, Apoſtolus dicit. Gratiam dare, ut perfectè in hac vita bonum præſtent, non dicit. Felicitatem eam Cœlo Deus reſervat.

OBIECT. II. *Jobus cap.*1.22. dicitur in toto eo non peccâſſe, nec inſulſum quid feciſſe. Et Paulus 1.*Cor.VII.*28. *Si duxeris uxorem, non peccâſti, &c. Auguſtinum aliquando dicitur, qui perfectioni juſtitiæ proximus eſt: ita non peccâſſe dici poteſt, qui ad non peccandum proximè acceſſerit. 3. Qui ducit uxorem, non peccat, in eo nempe quòd uxorem ducit. Nihil tamen obſtat, quò minùs peccet, quia quod bonum eſt, non ſemper bene & perfectè facit.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. *In verbis Scripturæ, quòd Jobus in omnibus iis non peccaverit, univerſalis loquendi modus eſt, pertinens ad opera Jobi etiam in individuo ſpectata. Et quid indulgeret Deus Jobo in eo, in quo non peccavit? 2. Sed & S. Paulus 1. Cor. Eodem modo Job ipſe à Deo ipſo cap XLII. 6. laudatur, quòd נכון rectum locutus ſit his verbis: Dene dixit ad Eliphaz Themanitem: Iratus eſt furor meus in te, & in duos amicos tuos, quoniam non eſtis locuti coram me rectum, ſicut ſervus meus Job. Et tamen Jobum eſſe etiam locutum non recta, conſtat ſatis. Vides non diſtrictam judicii Divini ſententiam, ſed indulgentis miſericordiæ teſtimonium! Cæterùm in omnibus his nõn peccaſſe Jobum dicitur, non ſimpliciter, ſed prout ſtatim explicatur, ut non daret Deo תפלה inſulſitatem, hoc eſt, ut nihil Deo vel verbo attribuerit, in quo labes aliqua, & non potiùs ſumma ratio & rectitudo ineſſet. Neque enim de omni Jobi integritate hoc dicitur, ſed de certa cauſa, ut facilè appareat, copulam ו Et hic eſſe ſpecificativam, ſeu ἐξηγητικὸν. Neque alias dubitari poteſt, quin omnis illa Jobi conſtantia ac patientia multiplicem defectum habuerit. Non enim hoc criminatio Diaboli impugnabat, quòd Job ſine omni peccato eſſet, vel in nullo opere peccaret; ſed de hoc Deum inter & Diabolum contentio fuit, an Job hypocrita, & ſi affligeretur, Deum abrenuntiaturus eſſet? Si de ἀναμφιστήτῳ Jobi controverſia fuiſſet, à Diabolo Deus (quod abſit) ſuperatus fuiſſet, quia peccavit. 2. Nubendo equidem non peccat homo. Neque enim nubere per ſe peccatum eſt. Et ſenſus verborum qui nubit, non peccat, duplicativus eſt, eo ipſo ſcilicet, quòd nubit; ſeu, quatenus nubit. Ita de omnibus bonis operibus loquimur. Qui laudat Deum, qui eleemoſynam dat &c. non peccat. Sed qui ſic bona faciunt, & bona faciendo non peccant, poſſunt tamen peccare, quia non bene faciunt. Ita licet amor Dei non ſit peccatum, poteſt tamen in amore Dei peccari, ſi is non ſit perfectus. In Auguſtini verbis à te citatis diſtinguere ſtatum naturæ integræ & lapſæ debueras. In ſtatu naturæ integræ conjugalis concubitus omni pravæ concupiſcentiæ vitio caruiſſet, qui in ſtatu naturæ lapſæ ab inhærente prava concupiſcentia deformatur. Ridicula inſuper tua ratiocinatio natio eſt: Si nubere bonum, & virginem manere melius eſt, ergo ex defectu ſummæ perfectionis reatus non contrahitur. quaſi ibi vel de bono morali, vel de ejuſdem ſive operis, ſive virtutis gradibus ſermo eſſet. Nam aliud & diverſum opus alio & diverſo opere melius eſſe, ſine vitio imperfectionis, quis negavit? Ita amare Deum melius eſt, quàm amare proximum. Nullum tamen in amore proximi vitium eſt. 3. S. Petri 2. Epiſt. cap. 1 10. verba ſic ſonant: Studete firmam veſtram vocationem & electionem facere. Hoc enim facientes ὁ μὴ πταίσητέ ποτε non offendetis unquam. Si particula negativa abſolutè, uti tu pertendis, diſtribuit, & malitiam peccati univerſaliter & à ſubſtantia operis, & à modo operandi omni removet; quomodo igitur S. Jacobus aſſerit, nos omnes in multis offendere? Jac. III. 1. Vos ipſos appello judices, qui non diffitemini, quandoque in bonis operibus peccari, ſed tantùm, non ſemper. Igitur πταῖσμα caſus ſeu offenſio S. Petro eſt univerſalis lapſus à juſtitia ad injuſtitiam, à Chriſto ad Sathanam, mundum, Antichriſtum; qualem & vos defenditis, & vocationem electionémque non βεβαίως ſtabilientes, triſtem nimis, juxta vaticinium 1. Tim. IV. 1. jam pridem experti eſtis. Electi autem hoc modo nec offendunt, nec ſeducunt, Matth. XXIV. 24.

OBIECT. III. Bona opera fidelium ſunt ſimplicia ac perfectè lucida, Matth. VI. 22. Luc. XI. 34. Ergo perfectè bona. Reſp. 1. Chriſtus diſcipulos & auditores ſuos dehortatur ab invidia, & hortatur ad æquanimitatem. Perfectionem verò operum ne verbo quidem attingit. 2. Nec ſi opera fidelium ſimplicia ac perfectè lucida eſſe debent, ilico talia eſſe conſequitur. Neque enim Chriſtus dixit, in quoquam oculum eſſe totum lucidum, ſed ὑποθετικῶς: Si fuerit, &c.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Chriſtus à fidelibus ſuis opera perfectè lucida exigit. An fas eſt dicere, eum gratia ſua non perficere, quod exigit? 2. Vel nullus dabitur actus ſecundum ſubſtantiam moraliter bonus, quod tu ipſe negas: vel actus ſubſtantialiter bonus nulla ex parte formaliter peccaminoſus eſſe poteſt, tum quia gratiæ puritas effectivè in actum peccaminoſum non influit: tum quia circumſtantia aliqua moralem malitiam ſuam nequit transfundere in actum, niſi ab hoc attingatur; attingi autem nequit, quia bonum eſt ex cauſa integra, malum autem ex quolibet defectu. Ib. pag. 524 525. Reſp. 1. An tu fas putas dicere, Deum debitorem eſſe perficiendi quicquid exigit? Quis igitur ei dedit prior, ut reddatur ipſi, Rom. XI. 35? Cæterùm libenter do, Deum perficere in fidelibus, quod ab iisdem exigit, partim imputando juſtitiam Chriſti Sponſoris, partim ſanctificationem in altera vita conſummando. Quicquid verò tu arguteris, Chriſtus non dixit, eſſe in te, vel alio totum oculum lucidum; ſed hypothetice, Si fuerit. Proba, eſſe in aliquo totum oculum lucidum, & viceris. Non viceris tamen, niſi profligata priùs doctrina Catholica de peccato originali, quod & mentis etiam regenitæ tenebras nonnullas offundit, & voluntatem ad malum inflectit. 2. Actum verò ſubſtantialiter perfectè, & omni ex parte debita bonum ſimul formaliter peccaminoſum non eſſe, largior. At qui bonus eſt ſubſtantialiter, ſeu quoad ſubſtantiam operis; nec tamen perfectè & omni ex parte bonus eſt, aliera vi, ſeu ob perfectionis defectum, non per ſe, peccaminoſus reddi poteſt, eo ipſo, quia non eſt ex integra cauſa; & circumſtantiæ vel cauſæ cujuſpiam defectus obeſt, quò minùs ſubſtantia operis plenam cum lege conformitatem habeat. Neque ideirco gratiæ puritas in actum peccaminoſum, qua talem, ſed qua ex parte moraliter bonum, influit: & non in hac, ſed in futura demum vita omnibus numeris conſummata peccatum quodvis à ſubſtantia boni operis tollet.

OBIECT. IV. Quilibet juſtus comparatur cum arbore bona, Pſal. I. 3. XCII. 13. At juxta effatum Chriſti, Matth. VII. 17. arbor bona non poteſt ferre malum fructum. Ergo juſtus in operibus bonis non peccat. Reſp. Omnis arbor bona fert bonos fructus, ſed non perfectè bonos. Aliàs nunquam quiſquam bonus peccaret unquam, quod ipſi adverſarii inficias eunt.

EXCIP. REDING: Homo ſecundum naturam ſuam ſpectatus non eſt arbor perfectè bona: eſt tamen ſpectatus ſecundum gratiam. Ib. pag. 525. Reſp. Si ſecundùm gratiam ſpectati fideles perfectè bona arbor ſunt, cur ergo nullus juſtus eſt ſine peccato? Cur hic taces, & ne quidem oggannis aliquid?

OBIECT. V. Sancti juſtificati provocant ad ſuam juſtitiam, & ſecundum eam judicari à Deo expetunt, Pſal. VII. 9. XVII. 1. XVIII. 21. XXVI. 1. Ergo eorum opera ſunt abſolutè juſta ac bona. Reſp. David in locis allegatis agit de juſtitia cauſæ in perduellionis crimine ipſi imputato à Saulitis; non de juſtitia perſonæ, utpote qui omnem juſtitiam operum in Dei judicio diſertè repudiat, Pſal. CXXX. 3. CXLIII. 2.

EXCIP. REDING: Diſcerne inter opera juſtitiæ & iniquitatis. David reflectens ſuper opera juſtitiæ ex gratiæ viribus patrata, eorum puritatem agnoſcit. At reflectens ad ſe timebat, ne ſi Deus iniquitates obſervaret, judicium Dei ſuſtinere non poſſet. Ib. pag. 526. Reſp. Gratias tibi, Redingi. Herbam porrigis. Non erat igitur vel in Davide, vel in quoquam alio juſtitia perſonæ, numeris omnibus conſummata, quia in iisdem, te ipſo arbitrante, erant iniquitates, ad quas reflectens judicium Dei deprecari neceſſum habuit.

OCIECT. VI. Paulus I. Cor. III. 12. bona fidelium opera comparat cum auro, argento, lapidibus pretioſis, & illa in igne divini judicii manere ac mercedem accipere docet. Ergo perfectè bona ſunt. Reſp. 1. Opus dicitur vel pro operatione ipſa, vel pro effecto operationem conſequente. Sæpe operatio mala opus bonum producit. Paulus opus accipit non pro operatione, ſed pro effecto eam conſequente, nempe doctrina ſana, pura, uti fatentur Salmero & Juſtinianus, & ipſa id metaphora oſtendit, cùm fundamento ſuperædificentur non operationes, ſed opera, puta lapides, aurum, argentum. Non ſequitur autem, perfectè bona eſſe opera juſtorum, ſi perfectè bonæ ſint doctrinæ, quas ex Dei verbo prædicant. 2. Neque aurum ſemper notat id, quod eſt ſine peccato, ſed quod maximè recedens à peccato ad puritatem accedit. Ita omnes fideles 2. Tim. II. 20. comparantur cum vaſis aureis & argenteis, qui tamen ſine peccato non ſunt.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Siccine operibus malis efficaciam producendi bonum effectum tribuis: at gratia Chriſti vim voluntatem noſtram purgandi negas? 2. S. Paulus 1. 13. 14. ſic in- ter opera fidelium discernit, ut alia mercede digna, alia damnum allatura pronuntiet. Quomodo sic discerneret, si omnia opera fidelium essent peccata & pœna meritoria? 3. In loco 2. Tim. II. 20. diserte S. Paulus bona opera à malis discernit, & eos, qui se emundant, non alios cum vasis sanctificatis comparat. Tu verò in unam peccati massam omnia cogis. Ib. pag. 526. Resp. 1. Non opera mala, uti verba mea tu malignè pervertis; sed operationes malas sæpe bonum opus producere dixi. Sic gaudebat S. Paulus, cùm ex æmulatione à quibusdam prædicabatur Evangelium, Phil. I. 15—19. Prædicatio ex æmulatione mala operatio erat: prædicatus Christus bonum opus. Sic in opere nuptiarum, cùm nunquam desit peccatum propter concupiscentiam, uti Augustinus passim docet, operatio, quæ mala esse ex accidenti potest, bonum opus, hominem, qui Dei creatura est, producere potest. Ubi filius est opus patris, nec tamen est peccatum patris. Pari ratione opera, quæ S. Paulus cum auro & argento comparat, hoc est, sanæ & pretiosæ doctrinæ ab architectis fundamento superstructæ, sunt bona opera, κρείττω quidem non hominis, sed Dei, qui principalis doctrinæ author est. Sed operationem seu superstructionem ipsam vitiosam esse posse, Apostolus loco citato Phil. I. 15. &c. diserte docet. Ad hoc, si vir es, respondes, & mitte nugas.. 2. Neque etiam quia, qui opus bonum manens superstruxit, præmium accipiet, iccirco operationem seu superstructionem ipsam perfectè bonam fuisse sequitur. Nam præmium est operationis, quatenus illa bona est, non quatenus defectum habet. 3. Neque responsionis ex 2. Tim. II. 20. petitæ nervum ullatenus feris. Nam ex eo unum hoc astruo, aurum non semper notare id, quod est sine peccato, sed quod maximè à peccato recedens, ad puritatem accedit proximè. Nam fideles, quos cum aureis & argenteis vasis Apostolus contendit, sine peccato omni esse, ne ipsi quidem asseveratis. Cur nihil ad hoc respondes? Licet verò fideles non perfectè boni, justi & mundi in hac vita sint, expurgare tamen se ab hisce, hoc est, non esse participes seu συμμίξεις eorum, qui non sunt vasa ad honorem, adeóque esse vasa aurea & argentea ad honorem, rectè dicuntur, sine ulla vasorum in unam massam confusione. Quod iterum vobis etiam judicibus comprobo, quia quenquam esse sine peccato, adeóque se perfectè expurgari, negatis, & tamen fideles omnes, qua tales, cum vasis argenteis vel aureis paria facere, neque adeò eosdem semper & esse peccatores, & simul esse vasa ad ignominiam, asseritis.

OBIECT. VII. Bona opera Deo placent, Matth. III. 4. Act. X. 35. Phil. IV. 18. 2. Pet. II. 5. Ergo perfectè justa & bona sunt. Resp. Placent Deo non tanquam judici, sed tanquam patri misericordi in Christo, cujus obedientiâ omnes eorum defectus teguntur, & condonantur. Ipsa misericordia Dei Patris supponit peccatum, quia Deus miseretur non justi, sed peccatoris.

EXCIP. READING: Approbatio bonorum operum in Deo, veritate nititur. In se ipsis igitur habent bonitatem, qua judicii Divini approbatione digna sunt. Alias Deus ex respectu meriti Christi approbabit tanquam bonum, quod in se ipso malum est. Ib. pag. 526. 527. Resp. An igitur Divina fidelium in Christo approbatio, cujus testis est vox cœlitus audita: Hic est filius meus dilectus, in quo beneplacitum habeo, veritate destituitur? Nempe si vel Christus non est justus & sanctus sine omni labe: vel ejus justitia & sanctitas nihil ad fideles spectat, nec iis donatur. Væ nobis, si alterutrum verum est! Conclamata erit salus hominum omnium! Neque sic probat Deus id, quod malum est, uti ineptè infers; sed probat opera, quorum defectu mala omnia per Christi justitiam nobis donatam remittuntur, teguntur & non imputantur.

OBIECT. VIII. Opera Dei & Spiritus S. sunt perfectè bona. Atqui bona fidelium opera sunt opera Dei & Spiritus S. Ephes. II. 19. Ergo. Resp. Opera Dei & Spiritus S. quæ & quatenus immediatè ab ipso manant, perfectè bona sunt. At opera fidelium non immediatè à Deo & Spiritu S. manant, sed à Spiritu S. luctante cum reliquiis carnis.

EXCIP. REDING: At Spiritus S. gratiæ efficacia carnis reliquias superat. Ib. pag. 527. Resp. Non sic ante finem vitæ & Seculi hujus superare vult, quin semper carnis reliquiæ Spiritui S. adversantes remaneant. Unde S. Paulus, regenitus licet, se σαρκικὸν carnalem, ex parte scilicet, agnovit, Rom. VII. 14.

QUÆSTIO XVIII.

An fides quæ à charitate separata, adeóque viva & formata non est, sed mortua & informis, vera sit, ita ut per eam verus Christianus aliquis esse possit?

AFfirmat Synodus cap. XV. & Canone XXVIII. Nos verò negamus, & illud fidei mortuæ ac informis, quam tamen aliquid dispositivè ad justificationem sive adeptionem charitatis conferre asserunt, spectrum debellatum imus sequentibus argumentis.

ARG. I. Scripturæ fidem describunt ut causam emanativam charitatis, 1. Joh. II. 29 V. 1. Ita ut quæ fides hunc effectum non præstat, fidei potiùs simulachrum & informe cadaver sit, Jac. II. 20. 1. Joh. I. 6. 7. Sicut igitur sol qui non illuminat, sol non est, nec aqua quæ non humectat: ita nec vera fides quæ charitatem non producit. Hinc est quòd Paulus Gal. V. 6. 1. Thess. I. 3. 1. Tim. I. 5. fidem docet per charitatem esse efficacem & actuosam.

RESP. REDING: 1. Fides vera virtus est, distincta à charitate. Quod ipse fateris, appellando eam causam charitatis. Antecedenter igitur ad charitatem completam essentiam habet. 2. Quinimò etiam à charitate separari potest, quia Deus per suam omnipotentiam proprietatem à sua natura separare potest. uti ex vi ignis Babylonici liquet. Aliàs quotquot non diligunt, adeóque peccatores sunt, simul etiam infideles forent, & extra Ecclesiam relegandi. 3. Licet verò ejusmodi fides mortua sit, non tamen est simulachrum fidei, sed vera fides, quæ propriè eſt Chriſtianorum, Hieronymo lib.1. in Jovin. teſte. Fides enim ſic eſt forma eſſentialiter conſtitutiva in eſſe Chriſtiani, ut tamen non ſit conſtitutiva in eſſe Chriſtiani integraliter perfecti. Tract IV. Ss.2. pag.527.528 Reſp.1. Diſtincta quæ ſunt, non iccirco ſeparabilia ſunt. In animæ rationalis potentiis Philoſophi veſtri Reales diſtinctionem ponunt. quas tamen inſeparabiles eſſe iidem agnoſcunt. Oculus vivens à corde vivente diſtinctus eſt; neque tamen cor vivens à vivente oculo, citra deſtructionem vitæ, ſeparari poteſt. Par ratio fidei & charitatis. Licet enim eſſentia ſua diſtinguantur, inſeparabiles tamen ſunt, perinde ac cauſa emanativa, quæ exiſtendo cauſat, & effectus emanans. Nam qui credit, quòd Jeſus ſit Chriſtus, ex Deo genitus eſt, 1. Joh V.1. Nemo autem niſi faciens juſtitiam, adeóque diligens, ex Deo genitus eſt, 1. Joh.II.29. Ad quæ loca à me collata nihil reſpondes. 2. Cùm proprietatis à natura ſeparatio ſit naturæ ipſius deſtructio, Deus, manente natura, proprietatem ſeparare nequit. Aliàs diceret naturam eſſe, quæ non eſt; adeóque idem eſſe & non eſſe. quod Deo veraci non convenit. Neque certè Babylonicus ignis proprietatem ſuam non urendo Viros Sanctos, quorum corpora Deus adverſus vim ignis firmavit, amiſit. uti ex ambuſtis ab eodem Babyloniis liquet. Et ſanè non diligentes, etiamſi externo Eccleſiæ corpori ſimulata profeſſione ſe agglutinaverint, ſeparat tamen Deus ceu carcinomata ab eodem corpore vel in hac vita non rarò, vel in altera certiſſimè. 3. Fides mortua juxta S. Jacobum non propriè Chriſtianorum, verorum ſcilicet, ſed Pſeudochriſtianorum, imò Diabolorum eſt. cap.II.14.17.19. Talis veſtra Papiſtica fides eſt, quam à charitate ſeparatam diſponere ad juſtificationem contenditis. nil niſi generalis aſſenſus, quòd Chriſtus pro credentibus mortuus ſit, & ſi quid aliud. Quæ non minùs certa fide Diabolus, quàm homines Dei & proximi non diligentes, amplectitur. Hieronymo verò in loco à te citato fides externam veritatis Evangelicæ profeſſionem, non quicquam aliud ſignificat. Abſit enim, ut fidem mortuam, quæ Diabolorum eſt, propriè Chriſtianorum eſſe, ſenſerit ille. Explicat mentem ejus S. Auguſtinus *in Epiſt. Joh. Serm.*10. his verbis: Salvemur ab ipſo, ambulemus per ipſum. Hoc eſt credere, quòd Jeſus Chriſtus eſt, quomodo credunt Chriſtiani, qui non ſolùm nomine Chriſtiani ſunt, ſed factis & vita: non quomodo credunt dæmones. Fides ergo, quia nunquam à charitate ſeparatur, Chriſtianum, indivulſo ſemper utriuſque nexu, conſtituit. Separata verò à charitate, nec in Eſſe Chriſtiani, nec in Eſſe Chriſtiani integraliter perfecti, ſed in Eſſe hypocritæ & filii Sathanæ, cujus ſimilis fides eſt, conſtituit.

ARG. II. Fides vera eſt ſalutaris Dei notitia, quæ cum charitatis praxi indivulſo nexu cohæret, 1. Joh.II.3.4. Quæ igitur à charitate ſeparatur, vera non eſt, nec Chriſtianum facit.

Resp. Reding: Diſtinguere debueras duplicem fidei ſtatum, alterum ſubſtantialem, qui ſubſiſtit in ſola fide, vitæ principio & fundamento: alterum formalem, in quo fides ſupernaturalem vitam importat, & per charitatem conſtituitur. De hoc, non ille S. Johannes loquitur. Ib. p.528. Reſp. Diſtinguere non diſtinguenda non debui. Qualis enim ſubſtantiam inter & formam fidei differentia eſt? An à ſubſtantia rei, forma ejuſdem excludi poteſt? Næ proximum hoc eſt inſaniæ. Et ſic fides vera ſupernaturalis vitæ principium eſt, ut ejuſdem etiam pars ſit, nec in quoquam, niſi in eo, qui vitam ſupernaturalem vivit, reperiri queat. Nam quod vivimus, vivimus in fide filii Dei, qui nos dilexit, & ſemetipſum pro nobis tradidit, Gal.II.20. Et credentibus in nomen Chriſti Deus ἐξουσίαν poteſtatem, ſeu jus & dignitatem hanc dedit, ut Filii Dei fiant, ſeu pro iis ſe gerant, Joh I.12. Filius autem Dei ex Deo genitus, adeóque vitæ naturalis particeps eſt. Et quomodo, ſodes, à fide vera ejúſque ſive ſubſtantia, ſive forma cognitio Chriſti divelli poteſt? Et tamen S. Johannes 1.Epiſt.II.3.4. diſertè negat, quenquam Chriſtum cognoſcere, qui mandatum ejus non ſervat. Finis autem mandati quid niſi charitas eſt? 1.Tim.I.5.

ARG. III. Qui charitatem non habet, is fidem abnegavit, 1.Tim.V.8. At abnegatio fidei non poteſt cum ea fide, quæ verum Chriſtianum facit, conſiſtere.

RESP. READING: 1. Si vera fides ſic cum charitate cohæreret, tum quoties adverſus charitatem homo peccat, fidei etiam jacturam faceret. 2. Aliud eſt fidem abnegare formaliter in ſe ipſa, aliter in aliquo ſuo effectu, ſeu opere per fidem tradito. Qui ſuorum curam non gerit, abnegat fidem ſenſu poſteriori, non priori; nec priori magis, quàm ſi aliud peccatum, quod fidei contrariatur, committeret. Ib. pag.528. Reſp.1. Peccatum contra charitatem vel oritur ex reſidua infirmitate carnis, & cum odio peccati conjunctum eſt: vel ex malitia, & amore ac delectatione peccati. Prius cum fide, quæ promiſſionem apprehendit, conſiſtere poteſt: poſterius non item. 2. Qui effectum cum cauſa neceſſariò connexum, ſeu à cauſa emanantem tollit, is cauſam ipſam tollit. Tolle lucem, tollis Solem. At charitatis, ſive ea erga Deum, ſive erga proximum fertur, habitus fidei veræ ejuſmodi effectus eſt, quia fide corda purificantur, & purificata illa Dei & proximi amore imbuuntur. Et pari ratione quiſquis alia peccata ſimiliter, hoc eſt, malitiosè, & cum eorum amore & delectatione patrat, fidem abnegat. Nempe fides ſe exerit per confeſſionem oris & operis. Ubi vel utraque, vel alterutra abeſt, vera fides nulla adeſſe poteſt, adeóque etiam formaliter abnegatur.

ARG. IV. Fides vera nos inſerit Chriſto, Joh.I.12. XV.5. Gal.II.20. III.26. 1.Joh.III.6. Qui inſeruntur Chriſto, charitatis exortes eſſe nequeunt.

RESP. READING: 1. Quis veſtrum gloriari poteſt, ſe nulla in re charitatis ordinem violaſſe? Nemo igitur veſtrum in Chriſto eſt. Et quid tegit juſtitia Chriſti imputata, ſi quodvis peccatum contra charitatem fidem ipſam tollit? 2. Loca citata nil ad rem faciunt. Joh.I.12. credentibus poteſtas datur, ut fiant Filii Dei. Fides igitur non formaliter facit filium, ſed eſt principium vitæ & una cum charitate vivificat. Joh.XV. dicitur facere fructum multum, qui in Chriſto manet. At nemo in eo manet niſi qui diligit, 1.Joh. IV.16. Porro Gal.II.2.III.26. ſermo eſt de fide per charitatem formata. Fidem igitur veram cum viva confundis. Ib. pag.529. Reſp 1. Studiosè omnia pervertis. Cum fide nos charitatis habitum, amorem, ſtudium; non quemvis ejuſdem ex carnis infirmitate pullulantem defectum copulamus. Etiam qui peccat fidelis, lege Dei delectatur, & quod facit, non vult, ſed odit, Rom.VII.15-23. Et tegit hos defectus juſtitia Chriſti donata, quæ fide vera & apprehenditur, & inter multiplices infirmitates conſervatur. Nam etiam ægrota & infirma manus ſplendidiſſimum munus & eleemoſynam accipere & cuſtodire potis eſt. 2. A fide eſt poteſtas, hoc eſt, jus & dignitas filiationis, ſeu, ut pro filio Dei ſe aliquis gerere poſſit. Et principium utique, imò & prima pars vitæ ſpiritualis eſt; qua ſic Chriſtus apprehenditur, ut apprehendens non poſſit non eſſe Filius Dei, & qua Filius Dei, amore Dei flagrare. Et ſi fides Chriſto inſerit, fideles in Chriſto manent. Si in Chriſto ceu vite ſua manent, fructum multum ferunt, Joh. XV. 5. Qui fructus eſt charitas, quia qui in charitate manet, is in Deo manet, & Deus in ipſo, 1. Joh. III. 16. Tuum denique de fide per charitatem formata commentum Scripturæ infers, non ex ea effers. Nam id forma fidei eſt, per quod fides eſt id, quod eſt. At per charitatem, utpote neceſſarium effectum ſuum, non eſt id quod eſt, ſed manifeſtat ſe eſſe id, quod eſt. Unde dilectionem eſſe opus fidei & Lombardus tuus 3. Sent. d. 23. lit. C. dixit, & tu ſupra contra me urſiſti, ſtatuens eum, qui curam ſuorum non habet, fidem non formaliter, ſed in effectu ſeu opere abnegare.

ARG. V. Fide vera corda purificantur, Act. XV. 9. Ad cordis autem puritatem inprimis pertinet charitatis habitus.

RESP. REDING: Fides per charitatem formata, & conjuncta cum Spiritu S. purificat. Ib. pag. 529. Reſp. Fides, à Spiritu S. donata utique, corda purificando charitatem efficit. Qua enim in re purificatio cordis, niſi in ſanctificatione, cujus charitas Dei & proximi compendium eſt, conſiſtit?

ARG. VI. Credentes Spiritu S. obſignantur, Epheſ. I. 13. & ejuſdem ſunt Templa, 1. Cor. VI. 19. Ubi Spiritus Dei eſt, ibi gratioſè charitatem operatur.

RESP. REDING: Credentes per fidem vivam Spiritu S. obſignantur, adeóque mediante charitate Templa Dei viva conſtituuntur Ib. pag. 529. Reſp. Non alia vera fides eſt, quàm quæ viva eſt. Sicut non alius verus homo eſt, quàm qui vivit. Cadaver enim hominis propriè non eſt homo. Unde Chriſtus ipſe, Matth. XXII. 32. ex eo, quòd Deus ſe Deum Abrahami, Iſaci & Jacobi declaravit, concluſit, illos non eſſe mortuos, & quoad corpus olim etiam reſurrecturos eſſe. Si Abrahamus, Iſacus, Jacobus quâ mortui veri homines fuiſſent, non ſtrinxiſſet argumentum Salvatoris. Potuiſſet enim etiam eſſe Deus Deus Abrahami, Iſaci & Jacobi mortuorum, utpote verorum hominum, non viventium duntaxat. Par ratio fidei, quam ſine operibus mortuam eſſe perinde, atque corpus ſine ſpiritu, ſeu ſpiraculo vitæ, mortuum eſt, Apoſtolus Jac. II. 26. arguit. Porro fidem per charitatem, ceu formam ſuam vivere, tam abſurdum eſt, quàm quod maximè. Si ad formæ internæ & externæ latibulum cum Sophiſtis veſtris te contuleris, nihil proficies. Nam in loco Jac. II. 26. πνεῦμα Spiritus ſine quo corpus mortuum dicitur vel anima eſt, vel reſpiratio. Si anima, charitas non erit forma externa fidei, ſed interna potiùs. Si, quod verius, reſpiratio, ἀναλόγως charitas erit effectum & ſignum fidei, non forma. Formæ enim proprium eſt informare; efficientis movere & agere. Et numquid fides vera juſtificans (nam de hac ſola quæſtio eſt) poteſt eſſe otioſa & torpida qualitas, quæ ſuperventu charitatis demum ſit excitanda, movenda & animanda? Imò res viva eſt, efficax & operoſa per charitatem, Gal. V. 6. quæ inſtar lucis ſpargit bonorum operum radios, Matth. V. 16. Jam ergo ſi vera fides, quæ itidem viva eſt per vitam & eſſentiam propriam, à charitatis vita & eſſentia non ſeparatam equidem, ſed diſtinctam, obſignamur Spiritu S. utique eam à charitate ſeparari impoſſibile eſt. Spiritus S. enim ubique gratioſè eſt & habitat, ibi dilectio abeſſe nequit. Nam & ipſe, ſicut Deus charitas eſt, & eandem in fidelibus operatur.

ARG. VII.

ARG. VII. Fides denique mortua & informis nihil aliud eſt, quàm vel lætitia carnalis ob quædam audita : vel convictio de veritate auditorum,excludens gratiam Dei in Chriſto,quam vera fides apprehendit.

RESP. REDING: Fides mortua in ſua intrinſeca eſſentia defectum nullum patitur, ſed in charitate tantùm ejus vivificatrice. Ib. pag.529. Crambes ſæpius cocta tibi mors. Sicut cadaver mortuum humanum veri hominis formam intrinſecam nullam habet: ita nec fides operibus & charitate deſtituta, & eatenus mortua, veræ fidei juſtificantis formam intrinſecam habet nullam. Eſt enim fides ſic mortua veræ fidei juſtificantis pura privatio.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Apoſtoli fidem depingunt ejusmodi, quæ poſſit eſſe ſine dilectione, 1.*Cor. XIII.*2. *ubi fides ſignorum eadem eſt cum fide promiſſorum ſpecie,gradu tantùm differens. Et Jac.II.*15. *ubi de vera fide ipſum loqui palam eſt ex v.*23. *ubi docetur, talem fuiſſe fidem ipſius Abrahami,quæ operibus ejus cooperata eſt; nec non ex v.*24. ubi fidei huic licèt non ſoli, juſtificatio tribuitur. Reſp. 1. Paulus loquitur de fide miraculorum,non juſtificante. Quas easdem non eſſe, res ipſa oſtendit, cùm illa jam pridem in eccleſia perierit, hæc perpetim duret. Vel certè fidem intelligit perſuaſionem de Divinis promiſſionibus & Divina potentia. qualis in multis ſine fiducia, adeóque non juſtificans, eſſe poteſt. 2. Jacobus non veram fidem deſcribit,ſed inanem ejus larvam & jactantiam,μόνον λεγομένην, fidem quam quis dicit ſe habere v.16. qualis nempe etiam dæmonum eſt, v.19. quámque mortuam,adeóque æquivocè talem vocat, v.17. Fidem verò Abrahæ diſertè opponit fidei mortuæ, quæ erat ſine operibus, v. 21. adeóque hanc ejus exemplo tanquam contrario deſtruit,non illuſtrat.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. In Eccleſia ea, quæ vera eſt,fides miraculorum extat. Veſtra igitur, in qua non extat,vera Eccleſia non eſt. 2. Eam fidem Apoſtolus 1.*Cor.XIII.*2.*intelligit,quam ibidem verſ.*13. una cum charitate & ſpe manere dicit, licet charitate minorem eſſe aſſerat. At quæ fides æquè ac charitas manet, vera fides eſt. 3. *S. Jacobus cap.II.*15. *&c. fidem ponderat in tota ſua univerſalitate, tum objectivè,tum formaliter in ratione virtutis ſpectatam. Illam eſſe in dæmonibus, hanc cooperari operibus,& per ea conſummari dicit. Certè v.*20. & 26. Apoſtolus fidem ſine operibus mortuam eſſe indefinitè & univerſaliter pronuntiat. Si de fide jactata & æquivocè dicta duntaxat id verum eſſet,abſolutè & indefinitè verum non eſſet, quòd fides ſine operibus mortua ſit. Ib. pag 530. Reſp.1. Eam Eccleſiam, in qua fides miraculorum noviſſimi temporis, adeóque perpetim manens jactatur,in S. literis eo charactere inſignitam reperio,quòd ſit Eccleſia Antichriſti præſentis *ſecundum operationem Sathanæ in omni potentia, & ſignis, & prodigiis mendacii, & in omni fallacia injuſtitiæ in pereuntibus. Quia enim amorem veritatis non receperunt,ut ſalvarentur; ideo mittet in Deus efficaciam erroris,ut crederent mendacio,*2.Theſſ.II.8.-12. Hæc fides miraculorum poſterioris temporis eſt,quæ fidem veſtræ Eccleſiæ (nam aliam Eccleſiam, in qua poſterioribus temporibus fides ejuſmodi obtinuerit, vel obtineat, nominare nunquam poteritis, ut vel non impletam, vel unquam implendam, vel in Eccleſia veſtra impletam & ulteriùs implendam prophetiam certiſſimè conſtet) vivis coloribus depingit. Niſi juxta eandem prophetiam, ob non receptum veritatis amorem Deus efficaciam erroris vobis, iis inprimis, quibus Tu & alii miraculorum mangones orbi neſariè illuſiſtis hactenus, juſto judicio immiſiſſet, tremor extremus jam pridem artus & fibras veſtras omnes occupaviſſet. 2. S. Paulus 1. Cor. XIII. 2. ſic de fide ſignorum loquitur, ut de fide juſtificante planè non loquatur. Id tum ſcopus ejus, qui eſt, ſic agere de variis donis particularibus, corúmque abuſu, ut iſtis charitatem anteferendam pertendat: tum præcedentia, nempe 1. Cor. XII. 9. ubi fides inter chariſmata ſpiritualia, quæ non omnibus ſalvandis datur (juſtificans autem ſalvandis omnibus datur) numeratur: tum phraſis ipſa, adeò ut montes transferam, deſumpta ex verbis Chriſti, Matth. XVII 26. ubi de juſtificante fide non agitur; validè demonſtrant. Accedit conſenſus veterum. Occumenius enim Gennadium πάνυ ſecutus; πίστιν νῦν, inquit, ἐν τῷ τῆς πίστεως τῷ καθολικῷ λεγὰ ἀλλὰ τὸ χάρισμα τὸ τῆς πίστεως. Fidem non eam, quæ fidelium communis & Catholica eſt, dicis, ſed chariſma fidei. Eodem modo Chryſoſtomus ad h. l. & Theophylactus. Chryſoſtomi verba repetens. Poſſem conſentientes veſtros Arium Montanum in Elucid. & Antonium Scaynum Annot. in 1. Cor. XII. laudare. Neque te juvat, quòd v. 13. fides, ſpes, charitas conjunguntur, tanquam manentes. Nam & tu fidem ſignorum manere pertendis. Præterea ſicut v. 12. mentio eſt cognitionis beatificæ, quæ alterius longè generis eſt, quàm illa πᾶσα γνῶσις omnis cognitio, quæ v. 2. memoratur: ſic v. 13. nominatur πίστις fides alia longè virtus, quàm illa, quæ v 2. memorata fuerat. prout etiam ἐλπὶς ſpes, nova virtus, cujus antè mentio nulla erat, ponitur. Sed eſto, & v 2. & v. 13. eadem fides nominetur. Non iccirco juſtificans v. 2. intelligenda fuerit; ſed utrobique fides perſuaſionem de Divinis promiſſionibus & Divina potentia ſignificaret. Qualis fides fuit in pleriſque Iſraëlitarum, cùm exiverunt ex Ægypto & tranſierunt per mare rubrum; in quibus tamen Deus complacentiam non habuit. Talis etiam fuit fides illorum, qui in nomine Chriſti dæmonia ejecerunt, Matth. VII. 22. Ejuſmodi fides eſt illorum, qui omnia, quæ prædicta & promiſſa ſunt futura in Eccleſia, credunt, licet juſtificante fide prædîti non ſint. 3. In loco Jacobi turpiſſimè hallucinaris. Fides enim in omni ſua univerſalitate etiam juſtificantem & ſalvificam fidem complectitur. At mortua fides, qualem & dæmones, & damnati omnes, & hypocritæ, nudè profitentes fidem revelatam, nec juſtificans certè, nec ſalvifica eſt. utpote quæ electorum & Chriſto inſitorum propria eſt. Neque etiam, vel quoties abſolutè & indefinitè fides nominatur, vera fides intelligitur: vel hoc loco abſolutè fides nominatur. Non prius, quia etiam Simon Magus abſolutè credidiſſe dicitur, Act. VIII. 13. nec tamen verè credidit, ſed ſimulatè & fictè, uti diſertè gloſſa interlinearis habet. Non poſterius, quia S. Jacobus de fide diſertè κατὰ τὸ ſecundum quid loquitur, non ſcribens, ſi quis habeat fidem; ſed, ſi fidem aliquis dicat ſe habere v. 13. quod ſemel dixiſſe ſufficiebat. Aliud ſanè eſt, veram fidem habere; aliud λέγειν dicere, ſe veram fidem habere. Et ne quiſquam abſolutè & indefinitè hoc acciperet, diſertè πίστιν νεκρὰν fidem mortuam v. 17. 26. appellat, cámque à fide τῶν ἔργων συνεργοῦσαν operibus cooperante, ad demonſtrationem ſcilicet acceptæ juſtitiæ, diſtinguit. Denique cùm fidem ſine operibus mortuam eſſe dicunt, verba illa χωρὶς ἔργων ſine operibus non cum prædicato mortua eſt, ſed cum ſubjecto fidei cohærent, ut ſenſus ſit fidem, quæ ſine operibus eſt, eſſe mortuam. quod longè aliud eſt quàm, fidem eſſe mortuam ſine operibus; quaſi ab operibus vitam ſumat. quod æquè abſurdum eſt, ac ſi dicas, corpus eſſe mortuum ſine ſenſu & motu, quaſi ſenſus & motus ſint vitæ cauſa; cùm dicendum potiùs ſit, corpus, quod ſine ſenſu & motu eſt, eſſe mortuum, quia ex neceſſariis effectis ſuis cauſa cognoſcitur, & hæc opera veræ vivæque fidei non cauſæ, ſed effecta & teſtimonia ſunt.

Eccleſiam,

OBIECT. II. Principes Judæorum vera in Chriſtum fide præditi, charitate tamen deſtituti fuerunt, Joh. XII. 42. 43. Ergo fides exſors charitatis eſſe poteſt. Reſp. Principes illos fuiſſe vera fide præditos, aſſerere non patitur gravis illa cenſura Spiritus S. quæ extat v. 43. Et eos vera fide præditos fuiſſe, non obſcurè negat Chriſtus Joh. V. 44. Phraſis verò illa credere in Chriſtum v. 42. uſitato Hebraiſmo notare poteſt ſimplicem aſſenſum, ut Exod. XIV. 31. 2. Chron. XX. 20.

EXCIP. REDINO: 1. Joh. V. 43. 44. ſermo eſt de Judæis Chriſtum non reciplentibus, non de Judæis univerſim. Certè primores illi populi, Joh. XII. 42. in Chriſtum crediderunt, adeóque eum receperunt; ſed ob timorem confeſſi non ſunt. Unde ob charitatem gloriæ Divinæ non conjunctam, fides eorum vera, ſed non viva fuit. 2. Exod. XIV. 31. ſermo eſt de toto populo Iſraelitico, credente Domino & Moſi ſervo ejus, ob viſa in tranſitu maris Rubri prodigia. An ergo univerſus populus vera fide caruit? Ib. pag 530. Reſp. 1. Loca Joh. XII. 42. & cap. V. 44. non abſque ratione contuli. Sicut enim priore loco primores populi dicuntur credidiſſe quidem in Chriſtum, ſed eundem confeſſi negantur, quia magis gloriam hominum quàm Dei dilexerunt: ita poſteriore negantur credere poſſe Judæi, gloriam à ſe invicem captantes, & à Deo ſolo gloriam non quærentes. Liquet ergo, fidem credentium quidem, at gloriam hominum magis quàm Dei diligentium, eſſe quidem fidem, puta hiſtoricam, ſeu ſimplicem aſſenſum; ſed non fidem veram juſtificantem, de qua quæritur. Cum hac enim ὁμολογίαν ſeu confeſſionem oris conjunctiſſimam eſſe, S. Paulus Rom. X. 9. 10. diſertè docet. Et ſanè neminem verè credentium Chriſtus negabit coram Patre. At negabit omnes idem, qui coram hominibus eum confeſſi non fuerint, Marci VIII. 38. Quos inter etiam Cyrillus Alex. in Joh. cap. 22. Judæorum primores iſtos refert. Hinc adeò Chryſoſtomus primores illos fidem contempſiſſe ſtatuit. 2. Licet in populi Iſraëlitici mare rubrum tranſeuntis cenſu nonnulli etiam verè fideles extiterint; potiores tamen, quos Deo etiam & Moſi ſervo ejus credidiſſe, hiſtoria teſtatur, vera in Chriſtum fide deſtituti fuerunt, teſte Apoſtolo 1. Cor. X. 2. 5. ubi Deum ἐν τοῖς πλείοσιν αὐτῶν in pluribus illorum beneplacitum habuiſſe, negat.

OBIECT. III. Multos in eccleſia verè fideles, charitate tamen vacuos eſſe, docent Parabolæ Matth. XIII. 18. XXII. XXV. Marc. XIII. 48. Reſp. Omnes in eccleſia fideles, hoc eſt, fidem oretenus profitentes, non ſtatim veram fidem habent, uti liquet ex Eſaj. XXIX. 13. Matth. XV. 9. Tit. I. 16. Et quis tandem auſit aſſerere, paleam, piſces putridos, hoſpites ſine veſte nuptiali, hædos, veros fideles & Chriſtianos deſignare?

Excip. Reding: 1. Confundis virtutes voluntatis perfectivas cum fidei virtute intellectuali. Illis ſublatis hæc non ſtatim tollitur. 2. Matth. XIII. 18. per zizania poſſe intelligi malè viventes Catholicos, qui per unitatem fidei veræ Eccleſiæ membra ſint, Auguſtinus lib. quæſt. in Matth. cap. 11. monet. Vera igitur fides in iis extincta non eſt. Alias membra Eccleſiæ eſſe deſinerent. Idem lib. de Unit. Eccleſ. cap. 18. in una Eccleſia eſſe triticum cum zizaniis, lilium cum ſpinis, piſces bonos cum malis, aſſerit. Eccleſiæ verò unitas niſi per fidei unitatem non ſubſiſtit. Ib. pag. 531. Reſp. 1. Fidem non intellectus ſolius, ſed voluntatis etiam habitum eſſe, ſupra pervicimus. Et de eo quicquid fiat, nunquam tu fidem facies ſolidam, omnes eos veram fidem habere, qui veram fidem profitentur. Aliud enim eſt eſſe, aliud dici. 2. Siccine ergo æquo animo ferre potes, ut paleæ, zizania, putridi piſces, hœdi ſint in verorum fidelium cenſu; ſint veræ Eccleſiæ vera membra? Congruis ſic cum Bellarmino, qui de Eccleſ. Milit. cap. 2. tradit, Eccleſiam eos comprehendere, qui ſpe aut timore aliquo temporali profitentur fidem, & in Sacramentis communicant ſub regimine Paſtorum, etiamſi nullam habeant virtutem, ſimileſque ſint capillis, unguibus, aut malis humoribus in humano corpore. Cæterùm Eccleſia talis malignantium eſt, non Catholica Chriſti, digna capite ſuo, nimirum homine peccati, & filio perditionis. Nos verò ex Scriptura didicimus, multos in externa Eccleſiæ communione verſari, & fidem profiteri poſſe, qui verè fideles non ſunt. Multi enim in die illo dicent, Domine, Domine, nonne in tuo nomine prophetavimus, &c. Matth VII. 22. qui & in externa Eccleſiæ communione fuerunt, & veri fideles nunquam fuerunt. Corde quippe creditur ad juſtitiam, Rom. X. 10. Iſti autem non corde crediderunt, ſed ore duntaxat dixerunt: Domine, Domine, &c. Quin & multos ore fidem profiteri, quam in corde nunquam habuerunt, ex Eſaj. XXIX. 13. clarè conſtat, quia multi appropinquantes labiis, corde remoti dicuntur. An qui corde à Deo remoti ſunt, & fidem non habent niſi in ſupremis labris, vera fide juſtificante, quæ juxta vos etiam intellectualis, non oralis duntaxat habitus eſt, pollent? Hoc tu cur non enodaſti? Sed maluiſti etiam veram fidem juſtificantem paleis etiam & hœdis tribuendo, lucem & tenebras, juſtitiam & injuſtitiam, Chriſtum & Belialem in unum conflare. Nec tam horribile dogma ex Auguſtino didiciſti. Ille enim in parabola Matth. XIII. 18. &c. per agrum totum mundum, non Eccleſiam: per paleas non Catholicos malè viventes, ſed hæreticos diſertè intelligit. Neque Catholicos malè viventes eſſe vera veræ Eccleſiæ membra, uſpiam dicit. Tu ei affingis. Sunt quidem etiam illi in corpore externo Eccleſiæ, verùm non ut viva ejuſdem membra, ſed ut carcinomata, maligni humores, lumbrici, qui corporis integritatem non perficiunt, ſed impediunt magis. Sic Eccleſiam idem S. Auguſtinus vocat proximam Chriſti in medio filiarum malarum, lilium inter ſpinas, piſces bonos inter malos, &c. Ubi verò mulieres malas, ſpinas, piſces malos &c. vera & viva Eccleſiæ membra, fide vera juſtificante prædita eſſe, aſſerit? Fides vera non bonos & malos, ſed bonos duntaxat unit. Malorum verò & bonorum unitas tam nulla eſt, quàm nulla eſt lucis & tenebrarum.

OBIECT. IV. Si fides & charitas ſeparari nequeunt, vel id ex eo fiet, quòd una ſit de ratione alterius, vel quòd una ab altera naſcatur. Atqui neutrum verum eſt. Non prius, quia ſunt diſtinctæ virtutes 1. Cor. XIII. 13. 1. Tim. I. 5. Non poſterius, quia licet charitas oriatur ex fide, non oritur tamen ut propria paſſio, ſed ut virtus, ad quam alia in- clinat & disponit. Resp. Virtutem & charitatem esse distinctas virtutes non negamus. At charitatem oriri ex fide, non ut disponente & inclinante duntaxat, sed ut emanativè causante & producente patet, quia cor ipsum repurgat à sordibus peccati, imbuit illud & accendit sincero ac serio amore Dei & proximi, efficitque, ut studiis ejus ac operibus exardescat, Joh. XV. v. 4. 5. Act. XV. 9. Rom. VI. 4. 5. 6. 2. Cor. V. 14. 15. Tit. II, 14. 1. Joh. III. IV. V. capp.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Fides viva per charitatem formata effectus illos præstat. Potest tamen vera fides absque iis subsistere. 2. Multa etiam emanant aliunde, separabilia tamen. Sic potentia visiva una cum debita organizatione sua ab anima: combustio materiæ ritè applicatæ ab igne. Quæ tamen per Divinam potentiam separabilia sunt. Ib. pag 531. Resp. 1. Imò fidem veram justificantem, ipsam charitatem efficere, textus illi docent. Quomodo fides charitate formata charitatem efficit? Quomodo virtus à fide distincta & disparata eandem formare potis est? 2. Potentias à natura inseparabiles esse, supra asserui, & simul hasce ineptias tuas dilui. Neque scio, quæ te philosophia docuerit, organizationem corpori debitam ab anima sensitiva emanare. Si enim anima domicilii sui architecta est, utique causa organorum corporis non emanativa sed activa est. qualem ab effectu suo separari posse, dubium nemini est.

QUÆSTIO XIX.

An post acceptam justificationis gratiam cuilibet pœnitenti ita culpa remittatur, & reatus æternæ pœnæ deleatur, ut nullus maneat reatus pœnæ temporalis exsolvendæ, vel in hoc sæculo, vel in purgatorio?

Synodus negat Canone XXX. Nos ita limitamus. Pœna temporalis spectatur vel quoad rem, vel quoad definitionem rei. Nullus omnino fidelis est, quin crucem Christi cupidus suscipiat, & post remissionis gratiam pœnam temporalem exsolvere teneatur, quæ videlicet sit tum memoriale culpæ admissæ & adhærentis labis, tum testimonium contractæ æternæ miseriæ, tum frenum carnis luxuriantis, & remedium adversus peccatum & Sathanæ mundique illecebras. Hæc pœna est quoad rem, estque vel παιδεία, paterna castigatio; vel δοκιμασία exploratio fidei & obedientiæ, vel μαρτύριον testimonium confirmandæ doctrinæ per paſſiones vel mortem editum. Non tamen eſt pœna quoad definitionem rei, quia non infligitur animo vindicandi & compenſandi propria ſatisfactione delictum, ſed bonum in finem, adeóque ex fine novam relationem ſumit. Sic ſectio membri quoad rem, malum triſte eſt; ſed quoad definitionem rei vulnus ſi ab hoſte, curatio ſi à medico inſtituitur, propter diverſum finem, & ex eo diverſam relationem. Sententia noſtra ſic probatur.

ARG. I. Qui culpam remittit, ſolvit ab obligatione ad omnem pœnam ſubeundam. Sicut qui cauſam tollit, eadem opera tollit effectum. Deus autem juſtificatis culpam remittit. Ergo etiam obligationem ad ſubeundam pœnam.

Resp. Reding: An ergo ſublata cauſa nullus ampliùs effectus in rerum natura ſubſiſtere poteſt? Canon igitur ille non tenet, ubi effectus non dependet in conſervari à principio ejusdem primo productivo, ſed aliam cauſam conſervantem habet. Ita hic pœna etiam temporalis poſt remiſſam culpam & æternam pœnam habet cauſam, voluntatem Dei, qua judicium cum miſericordia ſic vult temperare, ut culpam remittendo non omnimodam pœnam remittere velit. Tract. IV. Ss. 2. pag. 532. Reſp. Sublata cauſa non ceſſare effectum tum, quando ab ea cauſa eſt actu, ſeu extra cauſam ſuam exiit, vel pueris notum eſt. Ita Apellis tabulæ multis poſt eum ſeculis ſuperſtites fuerunt. nempe quas tum fecerat, cùm eſſet in vivis. Aſt eo ſublato nullæ ab eo fuerunt novæ tabulæ, ne eæ quidem, quas animò deſignarat. Hic verò pœnæ intelliguntur, quæ actu non fuerint, ſed quæ nondum ullæ, cùm erat peccatum. imò ne tum quidem, cum eſſe deſiit, hoc eſt, condonatum fuit. Iis verò, quæ hujuſmodi ſunt, omnibus univerſale eſt axioma: Sublata cauſa tollitur effectus. Tum pœnæ temporalis poſt ſublatam propriam & unicam ejus cauſam, peccatum ſcilicet, conſervans cauſa Dei voluntas eſſe nequit, tum quia illa ex revelatione demonſtrari nequit: tum quia Dei judicium, peccatum vindicantis, ſupponit peccatum nondum condonatum. Juſtum enim apud Deum eſt afflictionem reddere affligentibus, 2. Theſſ. I. 6. adeóque peccanti pœnam. Ubi igitur afflictio & peccatum condonatione ſublatum eſt, reddere afflictionem & pœnam, injuſtum foret. Hoc Dei δικαίωμα jus eſt, ut qui talia faciunt, peccant, ſint rei mortis, Rom. I. 32. Quibus igitur ob condonationem peccatum non imputatur, adeóque pro non commiſſo habetur, illos morti pœnali ſive æternæ ſive temporali mancipare, non eſt δικαίωμα τοῦ Θεοῦ jus Dei, atque ſic nec voluntas Dei.

ARG. II. In fidelibus poſt acceptam juſtificationis gratiam nulla ampliùs eſt condemnatio, Rom VIII. 1. Nulla igitur remanet pœna. Quippe condemnatio eſt pœnæ adjudicatio.

Resp. Reding: Apoſtolus non quamvis condemnationem, ſed eam duntaxat, quæ à Regno Cœlorum excludit, intelligit. Ib. pag. 532. 533. Reſp. Atqui ille omnem condemnationem excludit, dicens: οὐδὲν κατάκριμα nulla condemnatio; vel, uti Latinus Interpres fortiùs reddit, nihil condemnationis. Univerſalium nempe negantium neceſſaria eſt veritas, non indefinita, ut plerumque affirmantium: imò etiam terminis reciproca. Sicut ut nullus homo eſt lapis, ſic nullus lapis homo : ita ut nulla condemnatio eſt iis, qui ſunt in Chriſto, ſic quibus aliqua condemnatio eſt, ii non ſunt in Chriſto. Si igitur condemnationem diſtingui toleremus in condemnationem culpæ, & condemnationem pœnæ; & pœnam aliam temporalem, æternam aliam dicamus; non poterit excipi, nullam quidem eſſe condemnationem culpæ, ſed aliquam tamen pœnæ : aut nihil eſſe pœnæ æternæ, ſed tantùm aliquid temporalis. Singulæ enim ejuſmodi exceptiones universali negativæ contradicunt.

ARG. III. Chriſtus plenariam remiſſionem peccatorum ſua morte nobis impetravit, Rom. III. 24. 25. Si temporalis pœna fidelibus exſolvenda reſtaret, remiſſio non plena, ſed dimidiata foret, & injuria fieret Chriſto, ſi ſufficientiſſimam ejus ſolutionem non acceptaret Deus, nec hæreditatem ei decerneret niſi ſub conditione temporalis pœnæ à nobis datæ.

RESP. REDING : 1. Chriſtus plenariam omnium peccatorum remiſſionem promeruit. Sed meriti ejus effectus ſeu efficacia quoad actum ſecundum non ſubſiſtit pro quolibet inſtanti, ſed pro tempore Divinitus præfinito. quod non eſt vita hac mortalis, in qua Deus miſericordiam & judicium temperat, verùm cœleſtis demum. 2. Et tam nullo Chriſti merito perfectiſſimo fit injuria, quòd ad plenariam peccatorum remiſſionem, excluſa pœna temporali, in hac vita, à Deo Patre non acceptatur : quàm nulla ei fit inde, quòd ſatisfactio ejus pro omnibus ſufficientiſſima ad actualem peccatorum omnium remiſſionem non acceptatur. Neque enim aliter acceptatum meritum ſuum voluit, quàm id in cognito decreto Dei æterno acceptatum iri novit. Ib. pag. 533. Reſp. 1. Atqui remiſſio etiam in hac vita perfecta eſt, quia Deus una oblatione conſummavit in ſempiternum omnes ſanctificatos. Hebr. X. 14. Si εἰς τὸ διηνεκὲς in ſempiternum, ergo ſemper. Neque τελείωσις conſummatio ſine efficacia meriti quoad actum ſecundum locum habere poteſt, quia conſummatio omnis actualis, non potentialis eſt. Et cùm perfectæ ſint cauſæ, Deus remittens, & juſtitia Mediatoris, etiam perfectum ſit effectum oportet. Neque verò cum remiſſione judicium conſiſtere poteſt. Qui enim remittit & condonat pleniſſimè, is non judicat. Judicare quippe eſt peccatum imputare, adcóque non condonare. Vel igitur non plenè remittit Deus, vel eos non judicat. Denique ſi in hac vita pœnæ peccatorum exiguntur, non igitur ſenſim peccatorum remiſſio, uti Sophiſtæ innuunt, procedit & perficitur : ſed nunquam. Nam qui ſemel pœnas exigit, is nunquam, adeóque nec in hac, nec in altera vita eas remittit. Factum enim infectum fieri nunquam poteſt. Remiſſio autem opponitur pœnarum exactioni, uti patet tum in Baptiſmo, tum in iis exemplis omnibus, quibus Papiſtæ ipſi remiſſionem plenariam non denegant : tum denique inde, quia retentionem pœnæ tum fieri dicunt, cùm non perfectè Chriſti merita applicantur. Quamobrem ſi vel ſemel pœnæ exigantur, nunquam perficietur remiſſio, nunquam Chriſti merita perfectè applicabuntur. Et quidni ſumma ſic injuria merito Chriſti perfectiſſimo inferatur ? 2. Cui σοφὸν φάρμακον tuum neutiquam remedetur; quia Chriſti meritum à Deo Patre ſic acceptari, ut actu applicetur omnibus, pro quibus redditum eſt, ſupra ſatis evicimus. Neque tu Chriſtum in æterno Dei decreto meritum ſuum non acceptandum à Patre ad actualem applicationem, & condonationem pœnarum omnium fidelibus omnibus impertiendam, vidiſſe, vel cognoviſſe, probabis unquam. Futilis & evanida hæc tua ſpeculatio eſt. Quomodo enim nim Christi oblatio sanctificatos consummavit, si Deus eam ad pleniſſimam condemnationem non acceptavit? Et quidni justitiam perfectam ad vitam omnium eorum, pro quibus illa acquisita est, Deus δικαιοκρίτης justus judex acceptarit?

ARG. IV. Deus se peccatorum à justificatis admissorum non recordaturum promisit, Esaj. XLIII. 24. Jerem. XXXI. 31. 32. Heb. X. 17. Deus autem in iis rebus, quarum non recordatur, nihil agit. Proinde peccata temporalibus pœnis & satisfactionibus in justificatis haud exequitur.

Resp. Reding: Pœna temporalis non profluit per se immediatè à peccato, sed à judicio Dei peccatorum non recordantis amplius, sed ea per misericordiam suam delentis, justi tamen judicii partem sibi reservantis ad diem usque plenæ redemptionis. Ib. pag. 533. 534. Resp. Satis desperatam esse causam tuam prodis, qui haud secus, ac infamis ille servus, ex Deo Optimo, etiam tum, cùm gratiosus est & peccata remittit, facis σκληρὸν durum & austerum dominum, ibi metentem, ubi non seminaverat; hoc est, ab eo pœnam exigentem, in quo pœnæ causam, præter voluntatem punientis, nullam reperit, Matth. XXV. 24. Cùm tamen pœnæ omnis formalis ratio sit passio mali ob actionem mali. Sed memento tamen, homines etiam duros, quorum prorsus non recordantur, in iis nihil agere. Ita in reconciliationibus si quis polliceatur, se non fore memorem offensæ, eo ipso certum facit, se nullam vindictam sumpturum. Unde celebre factum nomen ἀμνησίας. Sic quovis duro homine duriorem Deum facis, utpote non recordantem, adeóque ἀμνησίαν pacisscentem, & simul vindicantem, subinde ferro flammáque, etiam ultra hanc vitam in purgatorio. Denique si Deus, quoties recordari dicitur iniquitatis, veluti Jerem. XIV. 10. pœnam minatur: ergo quoties se recordaturum iniquitatis negat, pœnarum omnium condonationem promittit.

ARG. V. Ab iis pœnis Christus fideles liberavit, quas ipse morte sua pertulit. Atqui pertulit Christus non æternas duntaxat, sed etiam temporales pœnas, utpote miser & abjectus in hac vita, persecutionibus mortique obnoxius.

Resp. Reding: Esto, liberavit à pœnis temporalibus. Non tamen liberatio illa primo statim justificationis instanti actu confertur. Ib. pag. 534. Egregiam verò post pœnas temporales jam exactas simul atque datas, ab iisdem liberationem? Ubi verò liberatio ejusmodi, in hac, an futura vita contingit? Si in hac, cur pœnæ temporales etiam insontibus, hoc est, quorum iniquitates condonatæ sunt, in hac vita infliguntur? Si in altera, qualis liberatio ibi erit à pœnis temporalibus, quæ & in æternitate temporales esse non possunt, & in vita temporali jam solutæ sunt? En te scotomate percussum!

ARG. VI. Peccata nostra sunt debita, Matth. VI. 12. Pœna peccati est solutio debiti. Atqui Christus solvit debitum illud, & obliteravit expunxítque chirographum nobis subcontrarium Colóss. II. 14. Non expunxisset autem, si pars nondum soluta à nobis exsolvenda foret.

Resp. Reding: Solutio pro peccatorum nostrorum debito præstita effectum suum sortita est non eo statim instanti, quo in cruce consummata est; sed quoad remissionem peccatorum

In Sacramenti pœnitentiæ ſuſcepti inſtanti: quoad remiſſionem omnimodam pœnæ temporalis in glorioſæ reſurrectionis inſtanti. Ib.pag 534. Reſp. Crambe bis cocta, tibi mors. Unde hæc didiciſti? Scilicet in inſtanti glorioſæ reſurrectionis ſolutio Chriſti ſemel in cruce præſtita quoad pœnas temporales effectum ſortietur, quando iis ab ipſis hominibus exantlatis, adeóque ſolutione non à Sponſore ſed à reo peracta, effectum ampliùs ſortiri nequit! Ingenuitatem tuam laudarem, ſi diceres, quod res eſt; nempe veſtra quidem ſententia Chriſtum pœnarum temporalium debitum planè non ſolviſſe, adeóque Redemptorem imperfectum eſſe. Quid enim hoſtile, quid inimicum magis eſſe poteſt, quàm punire, & quidem atrociter, præſertim in purgatorio flammis per longiſſimi quandoque temporis tractum, mancipando, punire, ſine reſpectu peccati, utpote jam condonati; ſola voluntate judicandi, puniendi inſontes? Næ tale quid ne tyranni quidem hujus mundi ſine extrema infamia attentare auſint, niſi forte, Papa veſtro applaudente, attentavit Carolus IX. Rex Galliæ, qui pace cum Proteſtantibus inita, eoſdem ad Regales nuptias accitos, ſecuróſque adeò nefaſta ſemper Bartholomæi feria, dirum in modum oppreſſit. Ejuſmodi reconciliationes Papa amat, ſed DEUS odit.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Deus condonato populo Iſraëlitico idololatriæ peccato, viſitationem nihilominus in die ultionis, ipſi comminatus eſt Exod. XXXII. verſ. 34. Ergo remiſſa culpa remanet pœna. Reſp. Deus populo pœnitenti condonavit non culpam duntaxat, ſed etiam pœnam in præſens. Supplicanti enim Moſi, ut Deus condonet populo, reſponſum eſt v. 33. Abi nunc, deduc populum &c. Quòd autem alio tempore, nempe in die viſitationis Deus percuſſit populum, illius judicii cauſa fuit continuata culpa τῶν ἀμετανοήτων, pœnitere neſciorum. Illis enim culpa idololatriæ in vitulo nunquam remiſſa eſt, ſed tantùm ejus procraſtinata punitio, læsâ Dei pœnitentiâ tantò vehementiùs exequenda.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Tibi contradicis inſigniter. Primò enim dicebas, Deum populo pœnitenti & culpam & pœnam in præſens condonaſſe. Poſtea verò in populo illo culpam fuiſſe continuatam. 2. Exod. XXXII. 34. Deus, poſtquam populo reconciliatus eſt, diſertè minatur tamen, ſe eorum peccatum in die viſitationis in iis viſiaturum. Non aliud igitur peccatum patratum, ſed hoc in individuo in die ultionis à Deo viſitandum fuit. Ib. pag. 535. Reſp. 1. Contradictionem fingis, quæ nulla omnino eſt. Nam culpam & pœnam populo pœnitenti in præſens remiſſam eſſe: non remiſſam, ſed continuatam eſſe populo ἀμετανοήτῳ pœnitere neſcio, apertè dico. Contradictio igitur nulla eſt, quia circa diverſum ſubjectum, populum pœnitentem & impœnitentem, verſatur. Illi & culpa & pœna omnis remiſſa eſt: huic neutra. In eodem nempe populo fuerunt pœnitentes & pœnitere neſcii. Comminatio non illos, ſed hos tangit. 2. Hoc ipſum utique peccatum individuum, quod μοχολάτραι vituli cultores, idololatriam ſcilicet continuantes ſine ulla pœnitentia, commiſerunt, Deus procedente tempore, impleta peccati menſura, in iiſdem, non in aliis pœnitentibus, viſitavit. Et ſi quando eidem viſitationi etiam pii & pœnitentes implicati fuerunt, uti ſolet Deus quandoque in temporalibus judiciis צדיק ורשע juſtum & impium exſcindere, Ezech. XXI. 9. & Babylonem non impii duntaxat, ſed pii etiam, Ezechiel, Daniel, aliſque deportati ſunt: non par tamen ratio utrorumque fuit. Nam ſicut, ita præclarè S. Auguſtinus de Civit. Dei lib. I. 8. ſcribit, ſub uno igne aurum rutilat, palea fumat, & ſub eadem tribula ſtipulæ comminuuntur, frumenta purgantur: nec ideo cum olea amurca confunditur, quia eodem prælo pondere exprimitur: ita una eademque vis irruens bonos probat, purificat, eliquat: malos vaſtat, damnat, exterminat. Boni igitur eadem temporalia judicia ſuſtinentes non puniuntur, ſed explorantur, purificantur: mali ſoli puniuntur, damnantur, exterminantur.

OBIECT. II. Adam, David, Moſes, propter offenſam præfinitas à Deo pœnas ad ultimum usque vitæ ſpiritum pertulerunt. Ergo fideles remiſſâ etiam culpâ ſubſunt pœnæ. Reſp. Pœnas impropriè, materialiter ita dictas, hoc eſt, mala quædam ſuâ naturâ triſtia, & carni adverſantia pertulerunt: at non pœnas propriè & formaliter ſic dictas, hoc eſt ſatisfactiones pro peccatis præteritis, ex juſtitia EXCIP. REDING: Moſen, Aharonem, Davidem, reconciliatos licet, pœnam temporalem, & quidem ad peccati præteriti vindictam ſuſtinuiſſe, ex Num. XX. 12. Deut. XXXII. 48. 2. Sam. XII. 13. abundè liquet. Ib. pag. 535. Reſp. Pœnam ſuſtinuiſſe caſtigationis, & quidem propter peccatum admiſſum, faſſus jam ipſe ſum. Sic pater filium peccantem corrigit, tum præteritam culpam, ſeu efficientem, tum futurum emendationis fructum, tanquam finem reſpiciendo. At pœnam ſuſtinuiſſe propriè dictam, hoc eſt, vindictæ & ſatisfactionis pro peccato, id verò nego. Nec tu probas. Vindicta propriè dicta illa eſt, quando malum alicui infligitur non in bonum, ſed in malum ejus: non ex amore paterno, ſed ex ira & furore judicis. cujuſmodi malum à piis omnibus S. Paulus Rom. VIII. 1. removet. Diſcere hoc poteras à Guilhelmo veſtro Pariſienſi, antiquiſſimo & Scholaſticorum graviſſimo, cujus de Sacram. in gen. fol. 4. hæc verba ſunt: Pœnam ut pœnam & vindictam, impoſſibile eſt Deo amico jam facto recogitare. Aliud enim eſt dicere, quia Pater flagellat filium, aliud eſt dicere, percutit inimicum. Scimus enim, amicos Dei ab amantiſſimo & miſericordiſſimo Patre Deo mala iſta pœnalia recipere, & hic non ut pœnam, ſeu vindictam iracundiæ, ſed magis ut correctiones & medicamenta ſtultitiæ, & adjumenta virtutis, ut malleationes, ſive fabricationes, & tunſiones, ſive ablutiones & candidationes. Hæc autem niſi delirus & inſani capitis nunquam dicet perſecutiones, ſeu vindictas. Breviùs & nervoſiùs ſic Auguſtinus Serm. de Pœnit. rem explicat: Quod pateris, unde plangis, medicina eſt, non pœna: caſtigatio, non damnatio. Noli repellere flagellum, ſi non vis repelli ab hæreditate.

OBIECT. III. Mors temporalis eſt pœna propriè dicta Geneſ. III. 19. Pſalm. XC. 4. Rom. V. 12. Atqui fideles quique morti temporali ſunt obnoxii. Reſp. Per ſe, & prima ſui origine mors fuit pœna propriè dicta. In fidelibus tamen per accidens non ampliùs eſt pœna, aut pro peccatis ſatisfactio, ſed peccati inhærentis depoſitio, & ad vitam meliorem tranſitus, Eſaj. LVII. 2. Rom. VII. 24. Joh. V. 24. Atqui hinc eſt, quòd fideles cum Paulo Phil. I. 23. mori expetunt, minimè expetituri, ſi mors veri nominis pœna eſſet.

EXCIP. REDING: Quatenus mors in homine ſancto ſecundum ſe conſideratur, rationem pœnæ habet, quia Deus etiam in morte juſti judicium exercet; & mors à peccato Adami originem habet, Rom. V. 12. Ib. pag. 536. Reſp. Cur igitur etiam infantes recens baptizati moriuntur, quos tamen à pœna temporali ipſimet eximitis? Quid quòd fideles etiam κεκριμένοι, dum judicantur, à Domino eruditiuntur, ne una cum mundo condemnentur? 1. Cor. XI. 31. 32. Ejuſmodi ergo quale erga Sanctos, obdormientes etiam ipſos ex reet Deus, judicium non aliud eſt quàm παιδεία caſtigatio paterna, non κατάκριμα condemnatio, ſeu pœna propriè dicta. Cedit enim & in bonum fidelium, qui moriuntur; & in moricntium παιδείαν eruditionem, & in aliorum admonitionem correctionémque. Neque obſtat, quòd à peccato mors originem habet, quia etiam paterna caſtigatio, quam vindictam nemo ſanus dixerit, ob peccatum adhibetur: at inſuper omnis fidelium caſtiga-tio, ob peccatum adhibita licet, non deſtructionem fidelium, ſed καρπὸν εἰρηνικὸν δικαιοσύνης fructum pacificum juſtitiæ, parit, Hebr. XII. 11.

OBIECT. IV. Per afflictiones fidelium reſarcitur injuria ipſi Deo facta. Ergo ſunt vera ac propriè dicta pœna. Reſp. Reſarcitur injuria quoad abolitionem ſcandali in eccleſia, non quoad compenſationem, utpote quæ fit per ſolius Chriſti meritum & ſatisfactionem.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Nequit fieri reparatio quoad abolitionem ſcandali in Eccleſia, quin reſarciatur injuria Deo illata, quia ſcandalum hoc in Eccleſia importat tranſcendentaliter injuriam Dei. 2. Licet verò compenſatio injuriæ Deo illatæ ad æqualitatem ſolius Chriſti propria ſit; tamen recognitio juris Divini peccato læſi, ſeu imperfecta reparatio & compenſatio injuriæ Deo illatæ ab homine ipſo etiam requiritur. Ib. pag. 536. Reſp. 1. Sic ſcandalum Eccleſiæ datum ab homine per Canonicam pœnitentiam reparatur, ut injuria Deo illata à ſolo Chriſto Salvatore reparari potuerit. Scandalum enim Eccleſiæ datum ratione objecti finitum: injuria Deo facta infinita eſt. In eodem peccato alia ratio eſt noxæ in ſocietatem humanam, politicam, eccleſiaſticam, & privatum quemvis redundantis: alia injuriæ, ſeu juris à Deo præſcripti, & ab homine peccatore violati. Illa deleri vel manere poteſt, non deleta vel non manente hac. Nec qui noxæ in homines redundanti ſatisfacit, ilico injuriæ Deo illatæ ſatisfacit. Sicut contra ſatisfieri poteſt per Chriſtum injuriæ Deo illatæ, atque ſic in foro Dei remitti peccatum ſeu facinus graviſſimum: licet non ilico in humano foro remittatur noxa, imò capitali etiam ſupplicio vindicetur. 2. Compenſatio injuriæ Deo illatæ, imperfecta, nulla à Deo acceptatur, quia cujuſvis peccati ſtipendium, ſeu ἀντάλλαγμα compenſatio peccati cujuſvis mors eſt, Rom. VI. 23. & animæ per peccatum perditæ ab ipſo homine fieri compenſatio nulla poteſt, Matth. XVI. 26. & denique Chriſtus una oblatione, omnes, qui ſanctificantur, ſic conſummavit, Hebr. X. 14. ut imperfecta recognitio pœnalis humana & injuria ſit perfectæ ſatisfactioni Chriſti, ac miſericordiæ Dei; & denique nuſpiam mandata eſt, adeóque acceptari à Deo nequit.

OBIECT. V. Si remiſſâ culpâ ilico pœna remittitur, quî fit ergo, ut politicus Magiſtratus in facinoroſos, etiam poſt recuperatam Dei gratiam acriter animadvertat? Reſp. Confunduntur, quæ maximè diſtincta ſunt, peccatum adverſus Deum, & adverſus Deum ſimul ac homines admiſſum: & pœna utrique cum diſcrimine debita. Etenim divinum forum humano non præjudicat, & poteſt peccatum à Deo remiſſum retineri ſimul ac puniri ab hominibus æquiſſimo judicio.

EXCIP. REDING: Non poteſt intelligi legis humanæ ad bonum publicum obligatio, quin propter eſſentialem hujus ab abſoluto Dei dominio dependentiam lex Divina ſimul obliget. Non poteſt proin lex Politica violari, quin ſimul Divina violetur. Ib. pag. 536. Reſp. Sic eſt, uti pertendis. Sed unius ejuſdémque peccati adverſus legem politicam diverſa eſt noxa, quæ in ſocietatem humanam redundat, & iniquitas ac injuria, quæ in Deum Legislatorem ſummum committitur. Illa ſine hac, & hæc ſine illa compenſari poteſt, & compenſatur non rarò. Neque enim facinoroſis omnibus, pœnas judici humano dantibus bus, Deus in ſuo foro peccatum remittit: nec quibus Deus perfectiſſimè propter Chriſtum remittit, illi à debito luendæ pœnæ politicæ, non tam Deo, quàm humano judici, ex Dei tamen præſcripto reddendæ, liberantur.

QUÆSTIO XX.

An juſtificatus peccet, cùm intuitu mercedis bene operatur?

NEgat Synodus Canone XXXI. Nos limitamus, ac ſimul Calvini noſtri ſententiam, quam criminosè hic inſectantur Papiſtæ, explicatam damus. Fidelis in operibus ſuis primariò & principaliter ſpectat Deum & ejus gloriam, tanquam finem ultimum realem & perſonalem, eúmque amat propter ſe ipſum, quia eſt excellentiſſimum bonum. Itaque gloriæ divinæ reſpectus ita debet in animis hominum βεβαιοῦν dominari, & cæteris omnibus præponderare, ut illi nihil omnino ἀντίρροπον, nedum ὑπέρροπον ſtatuant, ſed ea animum ſubeunte ceſſet omnis alia conſideratio, ipſa autem ſola rationis clavum teneat ac moderetur. Minùs principaliter tamen & ſecundariò ſpectanda eſt etiam æterna ſalus noſtra, Dei gloriæ ſubordinata & arctiſſimè conjuncta, ut merces quidem, verùm non legalis illa, quæ nitatur æqualitate noſtri meriti, uti Tridentini ſomniant, verùm merè gratuita & evangelica, quæ imputatur non operanti, ſed credenti. Etenim à dilectione Dei non poteſt ſecludi, ut habeatur Deus pro bono noſtro, quin à gloria Dei, qui nos ſuis ſuavitatibus implere poteſt, plurimum decerpamus ac delibemus. Et promiſſa eſt nobis in Evangelio vita æterna, quam certa ſpe in hac vita præcipimus. Hinc Eſajas dicit verbis Dei cap. XL. 19. Non dixi domui Iſraël, fruſtra quærite me. Et Moſes reſpexit μισθαποδοσίαν retributionem præmii Hebr. XI. 26. Unde fidei hic tribuitur character, quòd Deum intuetur μισθαποδότην, Hebr. XI. 6. Cæterùm ſenſum Synodi, nimirum mercedis tanquam debitæ vel ex pacto, vel ex interna dignitate intuitu fidelem bene operari debere, ut ſic mercenaria & ſervilis fiat obedientia, ſimpliciter rejicimus. Etenim ARG. I. Nulla propriè & legaliter dicta merces operibus noſtris debetur, quia nullum eſt operum noſtrorum propriè dictum meritum, uti mox demonſtrabimus.

Luc.XVI.9. jubet nos facere amicos de mammona iniquitatis, ut deficientes nos in æterna tabernacula recipiant. David quoque Pſal. CXIX. 112. inclinavit cor ſuum ad faciendas juſtificationes propter retributionem. Tract.IV.Sect.2.pag.538. Reſp. 1. Hypotheſeos veritatem infra tuemur. 2. Sic primò jubemur quærere Regnum Dei & ejus juſtitiam, ut Chriſti Regis æterni gloriam & juſtitiam, per quam maximè glorioſum ſe gerit, ante omnia appetamus, hoc eſt, ſubjiciamur Regi Chriſto, & participes ipſius fiamus, non vel juſtitiam ejus nobis ad communionem cum ipſo, vel ſalutem æternam, ceu mercedem quæſtionis, appetendo. Qui enim quærit, invenict, non ex merito quæſtionis, ſed ex dignatione ejus qui quæritur: quiſque etiam invenitur ab iis, qui ipſum non quærebant, Rom. X. 20. Tantum abeſt ut inventio ſit merces quæſtionis ceu meriti. Et quale quæſo meritum eſt, ex mammona iniquitatis facere amicos? Hoc eſt, ex eo, quod noſtrum eſt non jure ullo, ſed uſurpatione: & ſi maximè jure noſtrum foret, gratuito jure foret noſtrum. Denique David Pſal. CXIX. 12. cor ſuum inclinavit ad quærenda ſtatuta Dei לעולם עקב in ſeculum ad finem, non, in retributionem, uti malè V. l. legit. Aliud quoque eſt retributio, aliud retributio mercedis propriè dictæ. De hac, non de illa quæritur.

ARG. II. Mercenarios nos eſſe Deus prohibet, Joh.X.12.13. Qui autem cœlum meritis ſuis mercari ſuſtinent, & hoc intuitu laborant, verè mercenarii ſunt.

Resp. Reding: Reus es criminis falſi, dum eum à Chriſto mercenarium Joh.X.12.13. dici aſſeris, qui vitam æternam, ceu mercedem ex meritis retribuendam docet. Ib. pag.538. Tu verò, nugigerule, potiori jure criminis illius reus peragi potes, affingens mihi, quæ nunquam dixi. Verba mea ſonant: Mercenarios nos eſſe Deus prohibet, Joh.X. 12.13. An vel hoc falſum eſt: vel eum à Chriſto mercenarium eo loco dici, qui vitam æternam ceu mercedem meritis ſuis mercatur, ego aſſero? Anſon igitur criminis mihi impacti reus ipſe es? Mercenarios eſſe nos omnino Chriſtus verat. At qui vitam æternam, ceu mercedem mercari ſtudet, mercenarius eſt, uti ex re ipſa liquet. Si Paſtor, quia μισθωτὸς, mercenarius, hoc eſt, aſpiciens non tam heri ſui quàm proprium commodum, malus paſtor eſt: pari ratione malus Chriſtianus eſt, quiſquis Chriſtum ſui commodi & mercedis (quæ tamen ne quidem obtinere poteſt) gratia diligit: ſeu, uti Chriſtus ipſe Joh.VI.26. loquitur, Chriſtum quæris, quia edis panes, & ſaturatus eſt.

ARG. III. Juſtificati per adoptionem ſunt Dei filii Joh.I.12. Rom.VIII.16. Servorum autem non filiorum eſt, mercedis debitæ intuitu obedire.

Resp. Reding: An filii adoptivi non ſunt etiam Dei ſervi? Ib. pag. 538. Reſp. Non ſunt, inquam, ſervi tales, quales ob mercedem Domino inſerviunt. Non enim acceperunt πνεῦμα δουλείας ſpiritum ſervitutis ad metum, ſed υἱοθεσίας filiationis, merum, Rom. VIII.15. Sunt igitur ſervi filii, non mercenarii. Parentem Optimum maximum amantes propter ſe, & ab eodem hæreditatem ex mera gratia, non merito ullo operientes.

ARG. IV. Renati Deo obſequuntur ſpontaneo ſpiritu, Pſal.CXIX.108. 2.Cor.IX.7. Non igitur intuitu mercedis debitæ.

RESP. REDING: 1. David Pſal.CXIX.108. precatur: Fac voluntaria oris mei beneplacita. Quæ ineptia, hinc inferre, non licere intuitu mercedis operari? 2. S.Paulus 1.Cor. IX.17. dicit: Si enim volens hoc facio, mercedem habeo. Ergo voluntarius cultus cum mercede non pugnat. Ib.pag.538. Reſp. 1. Sicut oris beneplacita, ſeu pronuntiationes oris, precationes נדיבות ſpontaneæ eſſe debent: ita pari ratione cultus univerſus, niſi ſpontaneus, Deo placere nequit. Populus enim Dei eſt עם נדיבות populus voluntariorum ſtudiorum, Pſal.CX.3. Cœterùm inuenimus lubentia, promptitudo & voluntaria obedientia opponitur coactioni, qua ſubditi & ſervi ſolent compelli, & Sacramento, propoſita vel mercede vel pœna, ad ſerviendum vel militandum adigi. 2. Paulus 1.Cor.IX.17. de mercede propriè dicta operum ne cogitavit quidem; ſed alia omnia. Nam μισθὸν mercedem ſtatim v.18. definit, hanc ſcilicet, ut Evangelium prædicans ἀδάπανον gratuitum conſtituat Evangelium Chriſti, & poteſtate ſua non utatur. At qui mercedis gratia laborat, is nec prædicando gratuitum conſtituit Evangelium Chriſti: & poteſtate ſua, petendi ſcilicet mercedem, utitur. Operanti enim merces ex debito imputatur, Rom.IV.4. Ergo voluntariè prædicans ſibi promiſit mercedem, hoc eſt, καύχημα gloriationem conſcientiæ, quòd miniſterium ſuum non reddiderit ſumptuoſum, abundè labores omnes ſuos compenſaturum; non tamen ἐξ ὀφειλήματος ex debito, ſed κατὰ χάριν ex gratia; quia gratia erat, quod erat, 1.Cor.XV.10. Ita virtus ſibi ipſi magna merces eſt: & multò magis teſtimonium bonæ conſcientiæ.

ARG. V. In parabola operariorum Matth.XX. ampliori fortuna exornantur, qui gratiam Domini non mercedem operiuntur, quàm qui mercedis intuitu laborant.

RESP. REDING: Ex parabola illa conſtat, omnes illos operarios fuiſſe conductos ad elaborandam vineam Domini. Et vocati ſinguli acceperunt mercedem ſuam, denarium, cujus intuitu ſinguli laborarunt. Ib.pag.538. Reſp. Omnes fuerunt conducti: & ſinguli acceperunt mercedem, denarium, ultimi, qui unam horam laborarunt, æquè ac primi, qui totum diem laboribus improbis tranſegerunt. Quis verò ultimis mercedem propriè dictam ex merito datam dixerit? Enimverò ubi pro meritis merces datur, ibi pro inæqualibus meritis inæqualis merces datur. At in parabola non inæqualis merces data eſt. Ergo non data omnibus ex merito: non data merces propriè dicta. Ipſimet vos notare diligenter ſoletis, nullum eſſe meritum abſque proportione, & inter meritum & mercedem attendi æqualitatem quantitatis, quemadmodum in commutativa juſtitia, puta, tantum quantum. Manifeſtum igitur eſt, mercedem ultimis ſolutam non propriè dictam, ſed gratuitam eſſe. quam ſic filii Dei reſpiciunt, ut in Dei gloriam lumina ſua priùs validiúſque retorqueant.

ARG. VI. Sed & Philoſophi ex lumine naturæ id perſpexere, qui virtutem ſibimet ipſi ſatis amplam mercedem eſſe ſtatuunt.

mihi fidei ad altiorem finem, cœleſtem beatitudinem, quæ ceu merces in Scriptura proponitur, reduci debet. Ib. pag. 538. Reſp. 1. Licere, quis negat? Non tamen ſic etiam virtutem, ut ſui ipſius mercedem, amare licet, ut in ea ultimatè, ceu ſummo bono & ultimo fine appetitus, quod Philoſophorum gentilium, Stoicorum & Peripateticorum inprimis dogma eſt, quieſcat; ſed ut omnia, quæ ex præſcripto virtutis agimus, aliò, nempe ad gloriam Dei, referamus: neque etiam ab actione virtuoſa ſive aliò relata, ſive in ſe quieſcente, mercedem debitam & legalem expectemus. Ita in humanis conjugiis, lubet ab Auguſtino ſimilitudinem mutuari, non diligit uxorem ſuam, qui propter dotem eam diligit; neque maritum caſtè diligit, quia aliquid donavit, vel multa donavit. Donavit enim & dives maritus, & pauper factus non deſinit eſſe maritus. Quàm multi proſcripti à caſtis uxoribus ampliùs dilecti ſunt? Probata ſunt multa caſta conjugia calamitatibus maritorum, & ne aliud amare quàm maritum putarentur, non ſolùm non deſeruerunt, ſed ampliùs obſecutæ ſunt. Si ergo, cum eodem S. Patre ſubſumimus, maritus carnalis gratis diligitur, ſi caſtè diligitur, & uxor carnalis gratis diligitur, ſi caſtè diligitur: Deus quomodo diligendus eſt, verus & verax animæ maritus, ad prolem ſempiternæ vitæ fœcundans, & ſteriles nos non eſſe permittens? Illum ergo ſic diligamus, ut aliud præter ipſum non diligamus. 2. Non igitur etiam ulla virtus per ſe vel appetibilis eſt, vel honeſtatem & bonitatem moralem habet, independenter à motivo charitatis, hoc eſt, ſic, ut virtutem quamvis appetendo & amando, in ipſa appetitum terminemus, & non potiùs per eundem amorem eam ut finem ulteriorem ultimúmque, Deum & ejus gloriam referamus. Nam & ille virtutis amor adulterinus eſt, qui in ea quieſcit, quia omnis virtutis habitus ad Deum amandum inclinat. Nihil enim virtus quævis aliud eſt, quàm charitas, ſeu amor Dei. Unde paſſim S. Auguſtinus virtutem deſinit Summum amorem Dei, uti fusè admodum Janſenius in Auguſtino ſuo de Gratia Chriſti Salvatoris lib. V. 3. oſtendit. Chriſtus quoque Matth. XXII. 38. charitatem πρώτην καὶ μεγάλην ἐντολὴν primum & magnum præceptum appellat. Et S. Paulus præcepti finem eſſe charitatem, 1. Tim. I. 5. & charitatem eſſe πλήρωμα νόμου impletionem legis, Rom XIII. 10. docet. Ratio quoque ipſa id demonſtrat. Omnes enim virtutes amore Dei & proximi conſtant. Sicut autem Deus propter ſe: ita proximus propter Deum amandus eſt. In amore proin proximi Deus ipſe diligitur, quia eum amare eſt, velle eum eſſe, & quæ habet, habere ad gloriam Dei, & Deo bono ſuo potiri, atque ab eo impleri totum. Qui igitur amat Deum, etiam amat proximum propter Deum: & qui proximum amat, Deum in proximo propter ſe amat. Hæc licet conceptibus tuis Philoſophicis & Scholaſticis, quibus haud ſecus, quàm naufragus ſcopulo adhæreſcis, minùs vel concordent, vel ſapiant, & clara tamen, veriſſima ac ſaluberimâ ſunt, & tuos de virtute ad gloriam Dei explicitè non referenda, quinimò ad beatitudinem ceu mercedem debitam potiùs quàm ad Deum explicitè referenda, craſſos errores validè jugulant.

ARG. VII. Denique τὸ ῥητὸν hujus anathematis ferit practicam Theologiam Papiſtarum de charitate ſeu amore DEI perfecto, de quo Albertus M. in Enchirid. Capitulo 1. Delicatam animam quaſi abominari, per modum commodi vel præmii Deum diligere.

RESP. REDING: Virtutes ſic inæquales ſunt, ut major omnibus ſit charitas, 1. Cor. XIII. 13. Eſto igitur charitatem ſublimiùs ferri, quàm ut Deum diligat per modum præmii:

an idem faciet ſpes, cui Deus ipſe, dicens ad Abrahamum: Noli timere; ego clypeus tuus, & merces tua magna, Geneſ. XV. 1. mercedem propoſuit. Ib. pag 539. Reſp. Sic inæquales virtutes ſunt, ut omnes tamen per amorem Dei ad Deum eiuſque gloriam ἐχάτως ultimatè referantur. Sicut charitas refertur ad Deum, qua is ſummum hominis bonum eſt: ita fides & ſpes fertur in eundem, prout is bonum noſtrum vel eſt in præſenti, vel futurus eſt. In omnibus tamen illis virtutibus eſt amor Dei, quo is ultimò amatur propter ſe, & ſubordinatè propter communionem, quam nobiſcum habet vel habiturus eſt & conjunctam cum eadem communicationem bonorum. Quo ſenſu ſic Deus mercedem magnam ſe ipſum nobis promittit, ut tamen eo ipſo demonſtret, mercedem meritò gratuitam ſe promittere. Quis enim Deum infinitum demereri poteſt? Quis ei dedit prior, ut reddatur ipſi?

OBIECTIONES conveniunt cum iis, quas pro meritis propriè dictis operum in medium afferunt, quáſque in ſequentibus diſſolvemus.

An juſtificati hominis bona opera ita ſint dona Dei, ut ſimul etiam ſint bona ipſius juſtificati merita?

ASſerit Synodus Cap. XVI. & Can. XXXII. In eo tamen veteratoria calliditas Patrum ſe exerit, quòd conſcii certaminum Scholaſticorum de ratione & modo meriti, utrum videlicet mereantur opera ex congruo, an ex condignitate interna, an pendeat meritum ab acceptatione & favore Dei, an à gratia unionis vel Spiritus S. an à pacto Dei; nihil tamen penſi habuerunt hactenus pendentem litem decidere, & ſolitis adeò cothurnis ludere. ARG. I. Electio ad vitam æternam eſt ex gratia, non ex merito operum. Ergo etiam electionis executio, quæ eſt in datione ſalutis, gratuita eſt, nullique merito obligata. Quippe conſtans eſt Dei voluntas. Dicere autem, mereri nos id, ad quod mera Dei gratia eligimur, perinde eſt ac ſi quis diceret, calefieri aliquem frigore, aut delbari nigredine.

Resp. Reding: 1. *Electio ad gloriam completè ſpectata non finis duntaxat gloriæ, ſed etiam mediorum efficaciter præparativa eſt. Inter media illa ſunt forma juſtificans, & bona opera in ſtatu gratiæ elicita. In his mediis præparandis electio fundatur in miſericordia Dei abſque ullo ad meritum præcedens reſpectu; adeòque eſt puræ gratiæ. At hæc gratiæ electio in executione eo modo finem, gloriam, efficit, quo ea prædeſtinata eſt. Prædeſtinata autem eſt hominibus ratione utentibus, obtinenda per fidei & charitatis in ſtatu gratiæ perficienda opera, quæ rationem ſubeunt meriti propriè dicti, quod nihil aliud eſt, quàm opus bonum à gratia Dei operatrice, & voluntatis humanæ liberè cooperantis motrice effectum, & ab hominis Divino auxilio cooperantis gratia ſanctificante dignificatum, cui gloria cæleſtis tanquam merces ſecundùm debitum, non ex vi operis, ſed ſpontanea Dei promiſſione obligatoria, reſpondet. 2. rùm definitio tua meriti propriè dicti & ſubdola eſt, & contradictoria, & abſurda. Subdola, quia non candidè & apertè communem Papatus ſententiam de merito propriè dicto operum explicat. Bellarmino quippe de Juſtificat. lib. V. 16. teſte, communis Theologorum Pontificiorum ſententia admittit ſimpliciter meritum de condigno. Et plerique ſaltem ſtatuunt, opera mereri ex rigore juſtitiæ. Divortia ſententiarum ipſe Bellarminus loco cit. non diſſimulat. Aliqui, inquit, cenſent, non eſſe utendum his vocibus, de congruo, de condigno. Ita docent Thomas Waldenſis & Petrus Burgenſis. Alii volunt, bona opera juſtorum eſſe meritoria de condigno, largo modo. Ita docent Durandus, & Gregorius Ariminenſis, qui volunt, merita noſtra ex gratia Dei procedentia, & poſita promiſſione, adhuc non eſſe talia, ut eis ex juſtitia debeatur merces, ſed ex ſola DEI liberalitate. Hos Bellarminus improbat. Alii in alterum extremum delapſi, cum Cajetano aſſerunt, opera bona juſtorum eſſe meritoria vitæ æternæ ex condigno, etiamſi nulla extaret conventio Divina. quod cum Bellarmino etiam Dominicus à Soto ſenſiſſe videtur. Alii contra exiſtimant, bona opera ex gratia procedentia non eſſe meritoria ex condigno, ratione operis; ſed tantùm ratione pacti & acceptationis Divinæ. Ita docet Scotus, quem alii quoque ſequuntur ex veteribus Scholaſticis, & ex recentioribus Vega. Hunc enormem diſſenſum veſtrum non tantùm, Redingi, diſſimulas: ſed etiam, quæ ſententia Tridentini Concilii definitioni ſit conformis, vel ſaltem conformior, vel quæ communis Papiſtarum ſit, & quare contrariantium de meriti definitione opinio in numerum haud perveniat, taces, & tandem in futili corollario diſſentientes veſtrorum ſententias palliaturus, pro more tuo diſſenſum in ſubtilitate ſcholaſtica verſari tricaris, quaſi non de ſubſtantia ſit diſſenſus, ubi altera pars diſſentiens condignitatem operis impugnans, ipſam meriti propriè dicti ſubſtantiam abnegat. Neque quicquam hic fictitia conciliatio tua proficit, quia ſubſcribentes tuis conceptibus repugnantes Theologos non invenies; atque alia etiam, quæ mox dicturi ſumus, obſtant. Contradictoria dein definitio tua eſt, quia meritum vocas opus bonum à gratia Dei operatrice, & voluntatis humanæ liberè cooperantis motrice effectum, & ab hominis Divino auxilio cooperantis gratia ſanctificante dignificatum. Et tamen opus ſic dignificatum, ad merendum ſcilicet, negas mereri ex vi operis, aſſeriſque mereri ex ſpontanea duntaxat promiſſione Dei. Quæ opera intrinſecam merendi dignitatem habent, illa utique vi operis, non ex ſola promiſſione merentur. Denique abſurda inſuper eſt pluribus modis. Primò quia definitio hæc meriti nec operi legali, nec Evangelico convenit. Non legali, quia illud viribus creationis homini integro collatis, non adjutorio gratiæ ſanctificantis, quæ non cadit niſi in hominem peccatorem regenitum, peragitur. Non Evangelico, quia illud ceu imperfectum nec intrinſecam ad promerendum dignitatem habet, nec ſic cauſa eſt ſalutis promerendæ, ut Deus ei propterea vel juſtificationem vel gloriam uſpiam promiſerit. Cauſa enim Evangelio & juſtitiæ & vitæ eadem eſt, Chriſti redemptio, ſola fide acceptata, & operibus teſtificata. Secundò quia definitio gloriam cœleſtem, eam mercedem debitam, ex promiſſione Dei, ſeu, ut alii loquuntur, ex pacto obligatorio arceſſit. Præterquam enim quod nulla poteſt eſſe condignitas operis, ubi tota meriti ratio à ſpontanea promiſſione ſuſpenditur, uti ſupra notavimus: inſuper etiam perperam Deum ἀφειλέτην debitorem homini operanti facit ob promiſſionem. Tametſi enim non diffitemur, Deum promiſſis ſuis teneri, quia verax eſt & fidelis; cùm tamen idem vitam homini promiſerit ſub conditione operum, ſeu perfectæ legis obſervantiæ; & nemo ſit qui legem perfectè impleat, ſequitur, Deum nullius hominis ex promiſſione, utpote non impleta, debitorem esse. Si ergo Deus remuneratur hominis regeniti opera imperfecta, id gratuitò facit, non quòd teneatur, ne quidem ex pacto, jure stricto. Nullum enim sub Evangelio est pactum seu fœdus operum strictè & propriè dictum. sed gratiæ solius in solo Christo. Nec etiam si quis conditionem operum perfectè impleret, etsi Deus teneretur ex pacto, opus tamen haberet propriam rationem meriti, quia ad mulca tenemur, quæ meriti antecedentis rationem non exigunt. Omnia autem Deo debemus; & qui omnia debet, imò seipsum, non propriè mereri potest ab eo, cui seipsum debet, & quicquid habet. In voce meriti sic accepti mera catachresis esset. Ita si in innocentia sua Adamus perstitisset, obtinuisset ille quidem vitam æternam ex operibus, sed non perinde ac si eam propriè, ex condignitate suorum operum meruisset: verùm ex eo duntaxat, quòd impleviſſet conditionem, quam Deus gratis promissioni suæ apposuerat. Nos verò, ceu peccatores, ne quidem in illo statu sumus. Quomodo igitur propriè opus nostrum promereri possit? Caveant modò, qui sic cum Deo rationes inire volunt, ne justitiæ ejus ἀνοχὴν severitatem sentiant, adversus eos, qui non manserint in omnibus, quæ scripta sunt in Libro Legis, ut ea faciant, Deut. XXVII. 17. Gal. III. 10. Tertiò illud quoque mali commatis est, quòd ad meritoriam perfectionem operis requiris gratiam Dei non tantùm *operantem & liberam voluntatem movent*em, sed post infusum scilicet charitatis habitum, sanctificantem, qua scilicet opus dignificetur, uti tu loqueris. Quomodo vulgò adversarii ad dignitatem & perfectionem meritoriam operum nostrorum asserendam, ea gratia Divina animari & vivificari statuunt. Præterquam enim quòd qualiscunque hæc gratia est, illa fundatur in libero arbitrio & cooperatione hominis, in qua radix Divinæ obligationis plantatur; etiam gratia illa operans quidem, & movens, quam ad disponentes actus requirunt, nullam dispositionibus, quæ formales & causantes nullæ sunt, dignitatem meritoriam conferre potest: sanctificans verò, quam infusionem habitus justitiæ excipere statuunt, nihil aliud quàm qualitas creata, adeóque finita est, & in anima, tanquam subjecto finito residet, quod actiones nullas nisi finitas, imò propter reliquam in eodem subjecto carnis & Spiritus pugnam, imperfectionem imperfectas producere potest. Unde sequitur, nullam inter ejusmodi opera & vitam æternam proportionem obtinere, adeóque merito propriè dicto locum omnino nullum esse posse. Quartò definitio isthæc tua præcipuas meriti propriè dicti proprietates, quibus solis perpensis merita omnia ruunt, omittit. Etenim meritum propriè dictum oportet sit primò opus planè nostrum, non debitum: secundò perfectum, tertiò cum mercede ἰσόμισθον, habens proportionem cum mercede, ex justitiæ commutativæ æqualitate. Indebitum, inquam, quia debitum qui solvit, nihil solvendo meretur novi juris, neque ei, cui solvendo, sic utilis est, ut prior det aliquid, cujus repetendi jus non habuerit ante, cui ille solvit. Quæ igitur opera homo Deo debet, sive ut creatura, sive ob gratiam faciendi à Deo acceptam, ea mereri propriè nequeunt: neque utilia sunt Deo, quasi ptiùs ipsi dentur, & iccirco reddere is aliquid debeat. Perfectum, quia imperfectum opus, idémque debitum, non tam meretur quicquam, quàm gratuita condonatione indiget; & lex ipsa Dei opus exigit perfectum, quoad perfectionem tum gradnum, Matth. XXII. 37. Luc. X. 27. sine ulla conniventia, quia lex non est ex fide, Gal. III. 12. tum partium, ut sit justitia universalis, quæ ambitu suo omnem justitiam particularem complectatur, procul exceptione omni. Deut. XXVII. 26. Jac. II. 10. tum denique perseverantiæ, sine ulla obedientiæ incisione aut intercisione, seu totali aut finali defectione, Ezech. XVIII. 24. &c. Denique ἰσόμισθον, seu habens proportionem cum mercede, de, ex juſtitiæ commutativæ æqualitate, quia dignitas intrinſeca operis meritorii requirit ἰσότητα, æqualitatem dati & accepti, quæ ſola meriti & mercedis propriè dictæ relationem fundat; & abſque quò quod datur operi, non utique propriè dicta merces, ſed gratia eſt. Quod etiam Bellarminus ipſe, ex mente, uti ipſe ſtatuit, Concilii Tridentini, de juſtificat. lib. V. 17. agnoſcit. Unde vera veri & propriè dicti meriti definitio ejuſmodi prono alveo fluit, quòd ſcilicet ſit opus indebitum, perfectum, viribus propriis, ſaltem non datis ab eo, à quo merces exſpectatur, præſtitum, utile ei, qui remunerari debet, denique adæquatum mercedi, ſeu cum ea proportionem & condignitatem habens. Hoc igitur ſenſu veriſſimo meritum eſt actio perſonalis ſolius Chriſti, membris ipſius incommunicabilis, ratione facultatis inprimis merendi, quæ conſiſtit in virtute infinita perſonæ merentis, ponderi excellentiſſimæ illius gloriæ reſpondente. Proin etiam ne ipſius quidem Adami obedientia, ſi is omnibus numeris eam impleviſſet, meriti propriè dicti rationem perfectam ſubire potuiſſet, quia opus ejus mercedi vitæ æternæ ἀνταξίως quidem, ſed non ἰσοξίως fuiſſet. Tantum abeſt, ut hominis peccatoris, quantalibet gratia prædiți, opus ullum propriè dicti meriti rationem habere poſſit. Quæ paulò fuſiùs proſequi placuit, quia in meriti veri definitione ſolida totius rei cardo verti mihi videtur; atque vel inde conſtabit liquidò, adverſarios errore graviſſimo meritum cum gratia confundere, & ſuis, ſuíque arbitrii viribus id vindicare arrogantiſſimè, quod ſolius Chriſti eſt. 2. De teſtimoniis porro à te allegatis infra videbimus. S. Patres quod attinet, meriti quidem vox apud eos obvia eſt; at non res, eo quo diximus, ſenſu definita. De voce, quæ apud eos non malè ſonat, lis nulla nobis eſt. De re, æterna erit. Paucis. Vel S. Patrum teſtimonia corrumpitis; vel ſolo nomine teſtes eos citatis. Ita Ignatius quoties habet verbum ἐπιτυχεῖν conſequi, vel aſſequi, Interpres reddidit mereri. veluti Θεοῦ ἐπιτυχεῖν Deum promereri, quod ipſe Vaittemius optimus Interpretum Ignatii, reddidit, Deum aſſequi. In Juſtino ἀξιωθῆναι ἀναφοφῆς Interpres, meritis ſuis victuros. quod Sylburgius rectiùs reddidit: converſatione ſua dignatum iri. Baſilius dixit: Animum inò τὸν πρέποντα αὐτῷ λόγον in convenientem ei requiem emiſit. Interpres: In requiem ejus meritis convenientem. Dionyſius Areopagita dixit κατ' ἀξίαν ſecundum dignitatem præmia diſtribui. Interpres habet. ſecundum merita. quaſi non alia eſſet quàm meritoria dignitas. In Origene pro operibus, Bellarminus legit, meritis. rum mortisve Christi ratione. quod dicere Suarez & Bajus vester non erubuerunt ; vel Christum meruisse, ut nos quoque mereamur propriè ; & opus idem partim ex gratia, partim ex cooperatione arbitrii mereri propriè. Quia verò hæresis in sensu, non in verbis est, & scimus, ex Divina ordinatione necessariam esse consequentiam, ut qui crediderit in Christum, consequatur vitam æternam ; toleramus sanè in veteribus, magnis viris, meriti nomine opus bonum designari. Sed Papisticum dogma de condignitate operum eo verbali prætextu neutiquam admittimus ; quinimò à veteribus severè explosum esse, infra manifestum faciemus.

ARG. II. Eo jure præmium vitæ æternæ accipimus, quo justificamur. Ubique enim eædem statuuntur causæ justificationis & salvationis ; uti manifestum est ex Rom. III. & Eph. II. Atqui justificamur ex gratia, non jure meriti.

RESP. REDING : 1. Justificatio ipsa est causa salvationis. An ergo sui ipsius causa est? Manifestum igitur, aliàs esse justificationis, aliàs salvationis causas. 2. Glorificatio quoque datur jure hæreditatis : justificatio non item. Non ergo eadem jure præmium vitæ æternæ accipimus, quo justificamur. Ib. pag. 542. Resp. 1. Justificatio est causa salutis, qua scilicet gratuita est, Rom. III. 24. 25. Ergo eadem gratia & justificationis & salvationis, & justitiæ & vitæ causa est. Nempe Christus nobis & justitia, & sanctificatio & redemptio factus est, 1 Cor. I. 31. Sicut gratis, gratia Dei, per redemptionem Christi justificamur, Rom. IV. 24. sic τῇ χάριτι gratia salvati sumus, Ephes. II. 8. Sic causa causæ est etiam causa causati, uti Logicorum filii ajunt. An iccirco causa à communi causa pendens sui ipsius causa est? Deliras creberimè. 2. Quod datur jure hæreditatis, quomodo jure meriti datur idem? Sicut jure non meriti, sed ex gratia justificamur : sic jure non meriti, sed ex gratia hæredes efficimur : quia justificatio salvat per id, per quod homo justificatur. Ex gratia enim justitia Christi nobis imputatur ad vitam. Si vitam mereri ipsi necessum habemus, frustra Christus mortuus, frustra ejus nobis justitia imputatur.

ARG. III. Christus nobis meruit vitam æternam, & ejus merito constat omnis Dei benedictio spiritualis, Ephes. I. 3. Actor. IV. 12. Ergo nostræ obedientiæ nullum est meritum. Qui enim meretur, is novum jus acquirit, quod ante non habuit. Si igitur ex merito Christi jus habemus ad vitam, novo merito idem jus acquiri minimè potest vel debet. Contendendum igitur, ut inveniamur in Christo, non habentes propriam justitiam, sed illam, quæ est ex fide Christi, Phil. III. 9. 1. Cor. I. 30. Facessant propriæ justitiæ merita.

RESP. REDING : 1. Perinde argumentum hoc habet, ac si ex eo, quòd Deus causa omnium effectrix est, concluderet aliis secundas causas nullam virtutem effectricem habere. Nempe meritum Christi est causa facultatis merendi, quæ in nobis est. 2. Sic igitur ex merito Christi habemus jus ad vitam, ut tamen idem habeamus ex meritis nostris merito Christi subordinatis, & per gratiam sanctificantem dignificatis. Proin non duo diversa, sed unum idemque jus gloriæ homini, ex merito Christi, & propriis illi subordinatis, competit. Ib. pag.

1542. Resp. 1. Quid verò hoc est nisi fucum facere, & glaucoma oculis imperitorum objicere? Confundis, Redingi, immani errore, opera gratiæ cum ordinariis operibus naturæ; quorum differentia maxima est, quia gratia immediatè operatur, præsertim ubi agitur de merito salutis; & Christus neutiquam est causa universalis & remota salutis nostræ, cui opera nostra subordinata sint, tanquam causæ secundæ, quæ effectum proximè & propriè, & immediatè producant. Si meritum salutis operi cuipiam Divino in natura comparari potest, illud erit creatio. Sed opus illud cùm à Deo factum fuerit immediatè, & sine instrumentis, idem de Filio Dei in merito salutis judicandum est; utpote qui פורה דרך לבדי torcular calcavit solus, nemine ex populis omnibus ei præsente, Esaj. LXIII. 3. & teste S. Paulo Hebr. I. 3. peccatorum καθαρισμὸν purgationem fecit per se ipsum. Meritum propriè dictum esse personalem actionem Filii Dei, membris ejus, ratione facultatis merendi, in virtute infinita personæ merentis consistentis, incommunicabilem, supra ostensum. Cùm nulla creatura sit capax virtutis infinitæ, solus utique Christus meriti causa singularis, unica & proxima erit, qui perfectè & plenè omnia ad salutem necessaria promeruit. In causis dependentibus & subordinatis effectus non sequitur, nisi causæ omnes concurrant. Si ergo nos, tanquam causæ secundæ, salutem meremur, Christus non omnia in cruce consummavit, nec ibi vitam æternam, ceu perfectus Salvator, nobis acquisivit. Quid quòd effectus potiùs proximæ & immediatæ, quàm remotiori & universali causæ tribuitur? Non igitur sic Christus noster, sed nos nostri Salvatores erimus. Et cur Scriptura in salutis humanæ negotio ubique gratiam & opera opponit? Quomodo, si per legem est justitia, gratis mortuus dicitur Christus, Gal. II. 21. Si Christus mortuus est, ut per legem sit justitia & salus, qui operibus nostris æternam vitam mereri possumus? Certè nec S. Paulus, nec reliqui Apostoli hunc mortis Christi fructum intellexerunt. Docuerunt illi quidem, Sanguinem Christi abluere à peccatis, nos tingere, ut vestes nostræ dealbentur: nunquam tamen intellexerunt, merita nostra tingi, & colorem meritorium imbibere. Quasi scilicet Christus non solus esset Servator noster, qui in tanti muneris societatem asciverit hominem ipsum servandum. Annon igitur sic horrenda metamorphosi servandi fiunt suorum ipsorum Servatores? Et tot Servatores, quot boni sunt? Quæ enim facimus, nostra sunt: nostra sunt, quæ meremur, quisquis vel facere, vel mereri dederit. Et meruitne Christus, ut perfecta sint, quæ facimus? Quomodo ergo sic claudicant vel optimorum opera? Meruitne, ut dum imperfecta sunt, adhuc mereantur? Quæ hæc Deo injuria, quæ terminorum contradictio est? Denique an operum humanorum tinctura meritoria per Christum necessaria fuit, ut plebecula vestra paulatim in amore Christi languescat, & in Sanctulos suos majori feratur desiderio, utpote depulsores saltem per merita sua pœnarum temporalium, quarum metus & depulsio longè præsentior gratiórque est homini carnali, quàm metus & depulsio pœnarum infernalium? 2. Sic verò merita humana merito Christi subordinantur, & in eo fundantur, uti cerea domus ardentibus prunis superædificantur, vel domus ex sale in medio fluminis construitur. Certè meritum unum alteri subordinari nequit, quia meritum ex se non dicit ordinem ad aliud meritum, sed potiùs respectum ad mercedem. Et quis Christianus, qui Christi Redemptoris unici honorem salvum & illibatum cupit, te ferat cum Bellarmino statuentem, vel blasphemantem potiùs, hominem justum jus ad vitam cœlestem habere duplici titulo, subordinato tamen, uno ex meritis Christi sibi per gratiam communicatis, altero ex meritis propriis? Quasi non stipendia peccati sint mors: donum autem Dei vita æterna, terna, Rom. VI. 23. In quæ verba paulò sanctiùs sic Cajetanus vester Comm. ad h. l. commentatur: Non dicit, quòd stipendia justitiæ sit vita æterna, sed donum Dei vita æterna: ut intelligamus, non ex nostris meritis, sed ex gratuito Dei dono assequi nos pro fine vitam æternam. Propter quod & subdit: In Christo Jesu Domino nostro. Ecce meritum, ecce justitiam, cujus stipendium est vita æterna, nobis autem donum ratione ipsius Jesu Christi. Nihil planiùs Zwinglius vel Lutherus aliquis dixisset. Et quis de meritis passionum Christi interior sensus vester sit, spongia Hispanica, seu Index Expurgatorius Madriticus, perfidiosè expungens, quæ de iis veraciter & piè veteres dixerunt, abundè testatur. Nam ex Libro Veteri, qui inscribitur Ordo baptizandi cum modo visitandi, Venetiis A 1575. impresso, deleri jubet isthæc verba: Credis, non propriis meritis, sed Passionis Domini nostri Jesu Christi virtute & merito ad gloriam pervenire? Et paulò post: Credis, quòd Dominus noster Jesus Christus pro nostra salute mortuus sit, & quòd ex propriis meritis, vel alio modo nullus possit salvari, nisi in merito passionis ipsius? Nimirum, quod de Origenis erroribus Hieronymus, hi sunt scorpiones & colubri veterum, inter quos incedendum fuisset lectori, nisi probè sic incolumitati nostræ Senatus Inquisitorius studuisset.

ARG. IV. Quid quòd vita æterna est hæreditas, Rom. VIII. 17. Ephes. I. 14. Gal. III. 8. Col. III. 24. Atqui quod hæreditatis titulo obtinemus, operum merito non obtingit.

Resp. Reding: 1. Annon etiam meritum Christi mercedem habuit hæreditatem gentium, Psal. II. 8? Et tamen veri nominis meritum fuit. 2. Vita æterna justo contingit & ut hæreditas, & ut stipendium ac merces, titulo justitiæ, quia Deus voluit filios suos otiosos esse, sed in virtutibus sanctis ad perfectum usque diem proficere, operibus eorum in statu gratiæ proponendo vitam æternam, in gradu abundantiori obtinendam. Ib. pag. 542. Resp. 1. Dispar planè Christi & fidelium ratio est. Ille enim perfecta sua obedientia non meruit vitam, ceu hæreditatem, seu jure paternæ & gratiosæ hæreditatis (aliàs nihil propriè meruisset, nec legi nostro loco unquam satisfecisset) sed meruit sibi hæreditatem, hoc est, semen, hæredes, filios, quibus justitiam & vitam merito suo acquisitam ex consilio Dei Patris donaret. Fideles contra vitam æternam accipiunt ceu hæreditatem, hoc est, jure hæreditario, quia hæredes Dei & Christi ex mera gratia adoptionis. An sic quoque Christus hæres Dei Patris est ex gratia adoptionis? Hæc scilicet hæresis fuit Felicis Urgelitani & Elipandi, in Francofurtensi Concilio, moderante Carolo Mi. repressa. 2. Si sic fideles hæredes Dei sunt, & vitam, ceu hæreditatem ex gratia adoptionis sortiuntur, ut simul necessaria sint merita operum, seu causa concurrens cum jure hæreditario, jus non acquireretur in hæreditatem, nisi concurrente & impleta illa causa. neque hæres quisquam esset, statim ac filius est. Atqui tam plenum jus hæreditatis est à filiatione, ut etiam nondum impleta conditione alia ulla, filius hæres dicatur. Nam si filius, etiam hæres Dei per Christum est, Gal. IV. 9. Et infans quoque hæres, dominus omnium est, ib. V. 1. Adduntur quidem conditiones filio, hæredi, sed non ut causæ hæreditatis, utpote quæ nisi suppositâ hæreditate & filiatione ne quidem conditiones essent. Ita adoptatus in hæredem adoptanti omne genus obsequiorum debet. Sed obsequiis ejusmodi neutiquam adoptionem ille meretur: sed potiùs ex adoptione obligatio obsequendi oritur.

ARG. V. Vita æterna eſt χάρισμα donum Dei, ſicut contra mors ὀψώνια ſtipendia peccati, ceu mortem merentis, Rom. VI. 23. Donum autem non æquè ac ſtipendium cadit ſub meritum.

RESP. REDING: Sic vita æterna eſt donum Dei, ut ſimul ſit ſtipendium juſtitiæ, agnoſcente Auguſtino Epiſt. 105. ubi ſic ille: Quare, ô homo, ſi accepturus vitam æternam, juſtitiæ quidem ſtipendium eſt, ſed tibi gratia eſt & ipſa juſtitia. Similia habet lib. de gratia & libero arbitrio, ubi vitam æternam eſſe gratiam Dei, & ſimul operibus reddi docet, quia ipſa opera bona, quibus vita æterna redditur, ad gratiam Dei perineant. Ib. pag. 543. Reſp. 1. Cùm & donare meræ liberalitatis ſit, & χάρισμα, quod idem eſt quod χάρις gratia, ὀφειλήμασι debito opponatur, Rom. IV. 4. adeóque χαρίζεσθαι idem ſit, quod gratis largiri, gratificari, ſeu, Phavorino etiam interprete, donum gratis in alium conferre: & denique ὀψώνια ſtipendii, quale ſcilicet militibus pro mercede datur, nomen morti, quam peccatum meretur, at non vitæ æternæ imponatur, imò huic planè contra rium aptetur, & finium ultimorum, puta vitæ & mortis in acquiſitionis modo planè diverſa, imò contraria ratio & conditio ſic ſignificetur; manifeſtum eſt, ſic vitam æternam eſſe donum, ut meritum hominis reſpectu nullatenus eſſe poſſit. quiſquis etiam aliter docuerit. Quanquam S. Auguſtinus id nunquam docuit, qui ſtipendii æquè ac mercedis voce utitur impropriè. Poteſt autem etiam vita æterna dici ſtipendium fidei & operis noſtri, non propriè ſed impropriè. quia ſimul appellatur χάρισμα donum. Mors contra ſic appellatur ὀψώνια ſtipendia peccati, ut ejusdem χάρισμα ſeu donum appellari nequeat, quia ſcilicet verè & propriè eſt ſtipendium, cui nihil cum gratia commune eſt. Ea igitur vita, quæ ſic ſtipendium eſt juſtitiæ, ut etiam ſit donum, alia ratione ſtipendium dicitur, quàm mors. Eſt autem ratio propria, propter quam mors ſtipendium dicitur, hæc, quia peccato, ceu merito ex condigno debetur. Non igitur vita ſic ſtipendium eſt, ut juſtitiæ debeatur ex condigno. Aliâs æquè mors χάρισμα diceretur ac vita, quemadmodum æquè vita diceretur ὀψώνια ac mors. Sic ipſe Auguſtinus Enchir. cap. 107. explicat: Stipendium, inquiens, pro opere militiæ debitum redditur, non donatur. Gratia verò niſi gratis ſit, gratia non eſt. Ambroſius quoque Epiſt. I. Alia, inquit, eſt merces liberalitatis & gratiæ: aliud virtutis ſtipendium, alia laboris remuneratio. Ita veteres loquuntur, cùm ſtipendii vocem propriè accipiunt. Imò S. Auguſtinus lib. de gratia & lib arb. cap. 9. clariſſimè mentem ſuam ſic explicat: Cùm poſſet (Apoſtolus) dicere, & rectè dicere; Stipendium autem juſtitiæ vita æterna: maluit dicere: Gratia autem Dei vita æterna; ut hinc intelligeremus, non pro meritis noſtris nos ad vitam æternam, ſed pro ſua miſericordia perducere. Ergo & merita bona illi ſunt Dei munera, & his ipſis meritis redditur vita ex gratia: & gratia, ſi non eſt gratis, non eſt gratia; adeóque ipſis meritis, quæ nobis nulla ſunt niſi donata, ipſa vita æterna tanquam gratia redditur. Atque ita à Deo habemus gratiam geminam, unam in collatione bonorum operum, in largitione vitæ alteram.

ARG. VI. Salus nobis contingit ex mera Dei gratia & miſericordia, Tit. III. 4. 5. Gal. VI. 16. Non igitur ex merito operum. Nam operanti merces non imputatur in gratiam, ſed in debitum, Rom. IV. 4. Piè Bernhardus in Cant. Serm. 16. 3. Merita mea miſeratio Domini.

RESP.

Resp. Reding: *Merita & gratiam non pugnare, idem Auguſtinus Epiſt.*105. docet, quia ſcilicet ipſa merita in nobis facta ſunt per gratiam. Sunt ergo eodem ſenſu etiam miſeratio Domini. Ib. pag. 543. Reſp. De mente Auguſtini ſatis jam diximus. Verba non flagellamus, re ſalva. Merita ipſi ſunt opera fidelium per Dei gratiam facta; quibus, ceu gratuitis, ex mera gratia, vitam, ceu gratiam dari, ille docet. Sed ex operibus, ceu meritis propriè dictis, condignitatem cum vita habentibus, ſic dari vitam, ut non detur ex ſola gratia, ſed ex meritis etiam hominum propriè dictis, nuſpiam Auguſtinus dixit; nec ſic rationem inivit cum Deo, ut partiretur cum eo, ſicut vos ſoletis, cum Pererio, *in cap.*6. *ad Rom. diſp.*10. *num.*3. aſſerentes, per liberum noſtrum arbitrium nos cooperari cum gratia Dei, & verè eſſe cauſas operum, quæ facimus, & opera noſtra verè noſtra eſſe, & merita eſſe apud Deum. Dare aliquid ex gratia, & ex merito propriè dicto, planè ἀσύστατον eſt, quia meritum facit rem debitam, at gratia ſupponit indebitam. Quicquid ergo datur ex gratia, non poteſt dari ex merito. Aliàs gratia non eſſet gratia, Rom. XI. 6. Quod ipſe Bellarminus fatetur *lib. V. de Juſtificat. cap.*14. ubi dicit, in penſando merito, & retribuenda mercede debita juſtitiam quandam commutativam exerceri; hoc eſt, eam, in qua citra omnem perſonarum acceptionem ſervatur in dando & accipiendo debita æqualitas ſecundùm qualitatem. Ubi hoc fit, gratia exulet oportet.

ARG. VII. Opus meritorium oportet ſit perfectum tum quoad gradus, tum quoad partes, tum quoad perſeverantiam, indebitum, noſtrum non alienum, & mercedi adæquatum. Omnes autem hæ conditiones noſtris operibus deſunt.

Resp. Reding: *Meriti conditiones ex deſcriptione meriti ſuperiùs poſita conſtant. Sanè Auguſtino in Pſal.*83. *teſte, Deus ſe debitorem fecit ipſe, non accipiendo, ſed promittendo; cui non dicitur, redde, quod accepiſti, ſed redde, quod promiſiſti. Ibidem negat, præmium præcedere meritum, & priùs dari homini, quam dignus eſt. Et Serm.*16. de verbis Apoſtoli oſtendit, nos, ubi id fecimus etiam, quod Deus juſſit, poſſe exigere præmium promiſſum. Actus igitur meritorius non ſic noſter eſſe debet, quin debitus etiam eſſe poſſit. dummodo noſter ſit per arbitrium viribus gratiæ effectivum. Ib. pag. 503. Reſp. Nos quoque tuam meriti propriè dicti definitionem ſuperiùs ad incudem revocatam, eſſe ſubdolam, contradictoriam & penitus abſurdam convicimus; conditionéſque veras meriti propriè dicti hic repetitas ſolidis rationibus aſſeruimus. Etiam Thomas de Argentina, veſter *Comp. Theol. lib. XVII. 10. Qui largitur de eo, quod prior dedit, qui præmium reddit, ille quoque reſtituit acceptum, non meretur. Qui dat opus inæquale præmio, is præmium accipit ex gratia remittentis, non ex merito operantis. Auguſtinum fruſtra planè in ſubſidium advocas. Si opera debita ille propriè & ex condigno meritoria ſtatuit, Chriſto contradixit, aſſerenti Luc. XVII. 10. ipſos, quos alloquitur, Apoſtolos, in ſtatu gratiæ conſtitutos, ſi maximè omnia præcepta fecerint, profiteri debere, ſe ſervos eſſe inutiles, quia ſcilicet ſic fecerint, quod debuerunt, adeóque nullum inde lucrum Domino accrevit. Qui verò propriè meretur, is & ei, cui meretur, & ſibi utilis eſt. Deus igitur ſe debitorem facit ex pacto, ſed non operibus vel indebitis, vel meritoriis; verùm fidelitati potiùs & veracitati ſuæ, ob dignationem in Chriſto, non dignitatem intrinſecam & æqualem operis: & denique dat jus exigendi promiſſa ſua, non ob ullam dignitatem meritoriam operis, ſed ob fidelitatem propriam. Coronat enim in nobis ſua dona, non noſtra merita. Ita ſervus, ſi ſibi operato, redeuntique ex aratione aut paſtione, herus promiſiſſet cœnam communem, nunquam diceret, ſe meruiſſe ex condigno, ſed heri liberalitatem admiraretur. Hæc mens eſt Auguſtini, tam remota à mente Papiſtarum, quàm Cœlum à terra eſt.

ARG. VIII. Si ex merito operum ſalus contingit, tum in operibus noſtris confidere poſſumus. Quiſque enim niti & inſiſtere poteſt ſuis meritis. Atqui in operibus confidere neutiquam licet. Et intutum id eſſe propter incertitudinem propriæ juſtitiæ & periculum inanis gloriæ, ipſe Bellarminus de Grat. juſtific. lib. V. cap. 7. fatetur.

RESP. REDING: 1 Si in operibus confidere non licet, quomodo S. Paulus 2. Tim. IV. 7. &c. dicere potuit: Bonum certamen certavi, &c. Repoſita de cætero mihi eſt corona juſtitiæ &c. 2. Duos fidelis habet oculos, unum humilitatis, reflexum in ſe & propias vires: alterum reflexum in gratiam Dei, quæ fretus certus eſt, vitam æternam operibus ex gratia editis tanquam juſtitiæ ſtipendium reſpondere. Ib. pag. 543. Reſp. 1. Sic S. Paulum nobis confidentiſſimum propinas, quem aliàs, quaſi exemplar diffidentiæ, veſtri opponunt. Et eſt ſanè in verbis illis ejus: Bonum certamen certavi, &c. ingens & verè Chriſtiana fiducia, digna, unde fideles omnes ſui conſolandi occaſionem ſumant. At fiduciam in operibus, fiduciam in meritis præ ſe omnino nullam ferunt. Certamen decertare, curſum conſummare, fidem ſervare, bona opera ſanè ſunt. Sed propter ea tanquam merita, reddendam ſibi eſſe juſtitiæ coronam, non dixit. Quippe nec perfecta illa opera fuerunt, nec qui ea fecit, S. Paulus peccati omnis expers fuit. Confiſus ergo eſt in ſola Dei gratia, ceu cauſa ſalutis unica, non in quoquam opere ſuo, qui & alibi teſtatus eſt, nullius ſe conſcium, ſed nec per hoc juſtificatum eſſe, 1. Cor. IV. 4. Per quod verò juſtificatus non eſt, in illo fiduciam collocare non potuit. Et aliud ſanè eſt fiduciam collocare in opere, tanquam cauſa ſalutis: aliud fiduciam naſci in Deum ſolum ex operibus, ceu teſtimoniis gratiæ, & argumentis, quibus apprehenſio juſtitiæ Chriſti confirmatur. Illud à Sanctis alieniſſimum ſemper fuit: hoc verò ad meritum nihil facit, quia effecta gratiæ & juſtitiæ ejus cauſa eſſe meritoria nequeunt, & ad meritum ſalutis bonæ conſcientiæ, Chriſti ſanguine aſperſæ, teſtimonium nihil facit. 2. Cùm ipſemet fatearis, oculum alterum in ſolum Deum & gratiam ejus reflexum fiduciam parere, an igitur merita humana ſunt Deus, ſunt gratia Dei? Si ex gratia, an ex operibus? Bellarminus veſter, poſtquam operosè diſputavit. fiduciam Sanctorum, quam in Deo conſtituunt, non ex fide ſola, ſed etiam ex meritis naſci; & : In bonis meritis quæ verè talia ſunt, fiduciam aliquam collocari poſſe, modò ſuperbia caveatur; (ſcilicet qui ſibi arrogat, quod ſolius Chriſti eſt, meritum, & in eodem confidit, ſuperbiam egregiè cavet) concludit denique, propter incertitudinem propriæ juſtitiæ, & periculum inanis gloriæ, tutiſſimum eſſe fiduciam totam in ſola Dei miſericordia & benignitate reponere. Sentit ergo, licere non in ſola Dei miſericordia, ſed etiam in meritis fiduciam ponere: tutiſſimum tamen eſſe, in ſola illa ponere. Qua poſtrema poſitione tamen uſum omnem meritorum tollit, & ad gratiam ſolam confugit. Nam & incertam & periculopericuloſam eſſe doctrinam de juſtificatione & meritis operum, quam hactenus tradidit, verè agnoſcit : & vitæ ſperatæ communicationem miſericordiæ, non juſtitiæ tribuit : & miſericordiæ huic ſic fiduciam affigit, ut nihil præterea intueri debeat, totam, inquit, in ſola &c. & denique re ipſa officium & neceſſitatem collocandi fiduciam in ſola Dei miſericordia aſtruit, quia tutiſſimum eſt nobis fiduciam collocare in omni eo, quod Deus in verbo ſuo propoſuit, ut ſalutis cauſam & fiduciæ fundamentum. Si igitur præter Dei miſericordiam aliud quidpiam hujus generis eſſet, non eſſet tutiſſimum, totam fiduciam in hac ſola collocare. Hoc tibi, Redingi, objectum meritò, diluere non potuiſti.

ARG. IX. Opus ex pacto mereri non poſſe probat Gabriel Vaſquez, tum quia per promiſſionem res non acquirit internam dignitatem : tum quia ſi Deus graviorem pœnam exigeret quàm peccatum poſtularet, non ideo augeretur demeritum : tum denique, quia eleemoſynæ promittitur remiſſio peccatorum, Abrahamo promiſſus adventus Chriſti, cùm tamen nec eleemoſynæ remiſſionem peccatorum, nec Abrahamus adventum Chriſti meruiſſe dici poſſit. Multò minùs opus aliquod meretur ex condigno, quia Deus nemini debitor eſt, neque inter opus & præmium ullus omnino commenſus locum habet.

Resp. Reding: 1. Vaſquez hoc unum contendit, Gratiam ſanctificantem habere intrinſecam condignitatis cum æterna gloria proportionem, atque hanc ad meritum vitæ æternæ condignitatem adeò neceſſariam eſſe, ut ne per abſolutam quidem potentiam Dei ex ſola Divinæ voluntatis ordinatione extrinſeca ſuppleri poſſit. 2. Interim operum per ſanctificantem gratiam ſic dignificatorum Deus vi pacti ſui aliquo modo conſtituitur debitor ad retribuendam vitam æternam ex juſtitia. Pactum enim hoc eſt ex conditione operis condigni, quod rationem gratiæ ab executione promiſſi in tantum excludit, ut S. Paulus Rom. IV. 4. 5. aſſerat, ei qui operatur, mercedem imputari non ex gratia, ſed ex debito. Unde S. Auguſtinus in Pſal. 83. dicit, Deum indulgentiæ largitorem, coronæ autem debitorem, indulgentiam tribuere ut Patrem, coronam ut judicem. 3. Illud tamen juſtitiæ debitum non ſic rigoroſum eſt, ut abſoluto Dei dominio non ſit commenſuratum. Non poteſt igitur jus creaturæ inexiſtens voluntatem Divinam dominantem ſic ligare, ut abſque injuria contravenire nequeat. Aliàs dominio Dei nonnihil decederet. Quomodo rectè S. Bernhardus Serm. I. de Annunt. dixit, ſi Deus meritis negaret præmium, nulli facturum injuriam. Ib. pag. 544. 545. Reſp. 1. Ita eſt. Diſputat Gabriel Vaſquez in 1. 2. Tom. II. Diſp. 214. adverſus eos, qui docent, juſtorum opera ſolo pacto & promiſſione Dei dignitatem merendi obtinere. Quo in numero magna, ipſomet indice, nomina ſunt, Scotus, Gregorius Ariminenſis, Gabriel, Occamus, Alphonſus à Caſtro, Vega, Canonici Colonienſes, Theologi Senonenſes, & Wilhelmus Pariſienſis. Et ſunt Vaſquezii argumenta, quæ iis opponit, oppido prægnantia, ex quibus meritò concluſi, opera vim merendi ex ſolo pacto nullum habere. Cùm igitur, quod mox addidi & probavi, nullam itidem ex condignitate interna habeant, quod ii ipſi Theologi veriſſimè affirmant, ex pugnantibus Scholaſticorum illorum, in meritorum ſuorum ædificio non aliud quàm turrim Babel exſtruentium, ſententiis & argumentis colligo firmiſſimè, opera vim merendi o-

Nam Vaſquezii quidem ſententiam,quam ille ceu Probabiliorem,& Catholicæ doctrinæ magis conſentaneam venditat, quòd ſcilicet valor & dignitas vitæ æternæ abſque ullo pacto & favore operibus juſtorum adſcribenda ſit,hoc ipſo,quòd in ſtatu juſtitiæ per auxilium gratiæ moventis facta ſunt: quódque (aures arrigite omnes) operibus juſtorum NULLA ACCESSIO dignitatis proveniat ex meritis Chriſti, aut ex ejus perſona, quod aliàs eandem non haberent ex eadem gratia à ſolo Deo liberaliter collata; ipſe tu,Redingi, daſpuis, qui nobis meritum ex omnibus illis, nempe dignitate operis ex gratia ſanctificante & meritis Chriſti,arbitriíque humani cooperatione, proveniente, nec non ex pacto ac promiſſione Dei liberaliter conflatum, hoc eſt, meritum monſtroſum & ex contrariis, uti ſuprà oſtendi, compoſitum propinas. 2. Quid verò porrò ex te,Redingi,audio? Sic Deum conſtitui operanti homini ex vi pacti ſui & operis condigni debitorem,ut pactum tale ab executione promiſſi rationem gratiæ tollat. O te Protheum magnum! Hactenus nil niſi gratiam operantem, moventem, ſanctificantem,merita Chriſti te crepantem audivimus. Nunc verò etiam gratiæ conditionem ab executione pacti Divini penitus excludis. Sic tandem larvam ipſe deponis, & animi tui ſenſa, recondita hactenus,promis. Fruſtra verò Apoſtolum,Rom. IV. 4. ubi dicit, operanti mercedem imputari non ſecundùm gratiam,ſed ſecundùm debitum, appellas. Si enim nobis in ſtatu gratiæ operantibus merces imputatur non ſecundùm gratiam, ſed ſecundùm debitum: quinam ergo illi ſunt,quibus non operantibus, ſed credentibus in eum, qui juſtificat impium, imputatur fides ad juſtitiam? An iidem ſunt operantes & credentes in Chriſtum: iiſdem & operantibus merces non ex gratia,ſed ex debito imputatur,& credentibus in Chriſtum fides,adeóque non ex debito,ſed ex gratia,imputatur ad juſtitiam? Næ horrendo errore ſtatum naturæ integræ, in quo homo operari potuiſſet,& Deus ob pactum operanti mercedem non utique ex gratia in Chriſto, ſed ſecundùm debitum, non homini, ſed fidelitati Dei obligatum, imputâſſet; nec non ſtatum Chriſti pro nobis propriè merentis,cum ſtatu gratiæ, qui idem hac quidem in vita infirmitatis & imperfectionis ſtatus eſt,confundis. Auguſtinus quo ſenſu coronæ debitorem Deum dixerit,ſupra explicavimus. Debitor eſt ob promiſſionem merè gratuitam factam non operibus ut cauſæ vitæ, ſed ſuæ fidelitati & veracitati. Quæ enim pietas,quæ verecundia foret,Deum facere propriè debitorem eorum,qui & ſe & ſua omnia Deo Creatori & Redemptori ſuo debent? Et ſi non præſtent vel ipſi, vel eorum loco ſponſor aliquis,meritò puniuntur? Sin verò præſtiterint,adhuc δοῦλοι ἀχρεῖοι ſervi inutiles manent, quia fecerunt, quod debuerunt? Quia ſcilicet operantes non operantur, ut domini actuum ſuorum, ſed ut ſervi. Unde Dominicus à Soto pro libertate arbitrii ſic arguit: Ratio naturalis eſt, quòd mereri eſt aliquid dare alteri, & conferre in bonum ipſius. Nemo verò dat,niſi illud,cujus eſt dominus. At ejus, quod debemus, domini non ſumus. unde apud Latinos debita pecunia vocatur æs alienum. Ergo debitum meritum eſſe nequit. 3. Neque tandem mitigas horrorem ſententiæ tuæ, dicendo,illud juſtitiæ Divinæ debitum non ſic rigoroſum eſſe, quin abſoluto Dei dominio ſit commenſuratum, adeóque Deus ſine injuria debitum ſuum ſolvere non poſſit. Si Deus debitum ſuum homini legis ſuæ tranſgreſſori ſolvere vellet,jam non Cœlum,ſed infernum illi ſolveret. Sed poſtquam gratiam & ſalutem in Chriſto promiſit credentibus, abſoluto ejus dominio nunquam ſe cohiberi patietur,quò minùs promiſſorum ſuorum fidem liberet. Quanquam enim non liberando nullam homini injuriam faceret, faceret tamen ſibi, fidelitati & veracitati ſuæ, adeóque ſe ipſum abnegaret. Non enim

ARG. X. Quid ſtatuendum ſit de faſtuoſa hac doctrina, colligitur ex ejus fructu & effectibus. Nam illi ipſi qui merita jactant, docent diffidentiam, & dubitationem ſuadent ut virtutem. Juſta ſanè eſt hæc diffidentia. Quæ enim fiducia niti poteſt tam fluxo & ſtabili fundamento? Falſam fiduciam ſequitur juſta trepidatio. Et in hoc oſcillo penduli pœnas luunt arrogantiæ.

Resp. Redino: 1. Sic ipſum S. Paulum Philip. Multò namque glorioſius eſt, ipſos quaſi victores & triumphatores ea poſſidere tanquam palmam ſuis ſudoribus debitam. Quæ hæc inſolentia? Accerſite ſic vobis, Monachi Papales ultroneam paupertatem, qui, ſordentibus vobis donis Dei, ſpirituales divitias, ſupra quàm Ezechias aurum & argentum, pomposè adeò oſtentatis; & pertalem ſcilicet paupertatem ſpiritus, & ſui ipſius abnegationem ad perfectionem Evangelicam graſſamini. Verè Hieronymus in Epitaphio Fabiolæ: Difficilius arrogantia, quàm auro caremus & gemmis. His enim abjectis ſunt qui glorioſis ſordibus tumeant.

ARG. XI. Eccleſia Romana in Canone Miſſæ erubuit cantare meritum. Quippe in eo Deus oratur non æſtimator meriti, ſed veniæ largitor. Inter Scholaſticos non defuerunt, qui meritum exploderent. Ad praxin verò quoties itum, nihil meritis, nihil non gratiæ conceſſum, uti patet ex Agendis Eccleſiaſticis, & exhortatione, quæ Anshelmo tribuitur.

RESP. REDING : *Peccati quidem remiſſio veniæ largitore indiget. Et poſſunt huc referri etiam Scotus, Gregorius Ariminenſis, Gabriel, Occamus, à Caſtro, alii, qui operibus fidelium cunctis dignitatem meritoriam ſimpliciter negant, & mereri ex ſola promiſſione gratuita Dei, pertendunt. Sed de Scholaſticis quibuſdam paulò modeſtioris ingenii quicquid fiat, certè S. Patres merita propriè dicta, & vel de congruo, vel de condigno talia, nulli agnoverunt. Obiectiones Tridentinorum.

OBIECT. I. Merces & meritum ſunt relata, quæ ſe invicem ponunt. Atqui vita æterna vocatur merces Matth.V. 12. XX.8. quæ confertur ſecundum proportionem præcedentis operis Matth.XVI.27. Rom.II.6. Ergo meritum ponit. Reſp.1. Merces & meritum ſunt relata inter nos & alios, quibus nihil debemus; non inter hominem & Deum, cui plus debemus, quàm præſtare valeamus. 2. Neque merces fidelibus in Scripturis promiſſa intelligitur legalis, hoc eſt, ſtipendium debitum ex juſtitia propter meritum ſive dignitatem operibus & paſſionibus juſtorum inhærentem; ſed gratuita & evangelica, quæ notat præmium poſt præſtitum laborem gratis collatum, quod datur ex pacto, non ex qualitate perſonæ. Quod manifeſtè indigetat Apoſtolus Rom. IV.4. ubi diſtinguit inter imputationem mercedis ſecundum gratiam & ſecundum debitum. Atque ita quod vocatur μισθὸς merces Matth.V.46. & VI.1. alibi nempe Luc.VI.31. vocatur χάρις gratia. Et Pſal.CXXVII. 4. fructus ventris ſeu liberi vocantur שכר merces, cùm tamen ſint donum Dei. Mercedem autem gratuitam intelligi in l.c. non patitur dubitare analogia fidei, quæ docet, bona regenitorum opera eſſe debita, imperfecta, multiplici labe contaminata, neque omnino præmio æternæ vitæ æqualia. 3. Datur autem hæc merces non διὰ τὰ ἔργα propter opera, ſed κατὰ τὰ ἔργα ſecundum opera, quod qualitatem & teſtimonium, non æqualitatem & proportionem operum ſignificat.

Excip. Reding: 1. Etiam Chriſto immortalitas & gloria corporis propter hypoſtaticam cum verbo unionem debita fuit. Eo non obſtante morte ſua eam promeruit. Sunt ergo merces & merita relata etiam inter Deum & hominem. Es numquid Chriſtus idem ſimul Deo debuit obedientiam, ſimul meruit? 2. Neque in loco Rom.IV.4.5. Apoſtolus duplicem imputationem mercedis, unam ex debito, ex gratia alteram diſtinguit; ſed oſtendit, mercedem eo ipſo, quòd imputatur, ex debito, non ex gratia imputari. 2. Quæ merces vocatur Matth.V.46. alibi Luc.VI.31. vocatur gratia, quia nempe amicos diligentibus dari poteſt vel merces, ſi non tantùm ex gratitudinis naturalis motivo, ſed etiam ex gratia ſupernaturali ſanctificante diliguntur: vel gratia, ſi tantùm ex naturali honeſtate eos dilexerint. lb.pag.545.546. Reſp.1. Si Chriſto debita fuit immortalitas corporis, verè utique eam meruit ſua obedientia, & quidem obedientia indebita ſimpliciter. Nemo enim, qui ipſe ſimpliciter ὀφειλέτης debitor eſt, ſpondere pro alio poteſt. Si igitur Chriſtus ſimpliciter Deo Patri obedientiam (hoc eſt, ſubjectionem ſub lege, qualis eſt merentium adhuc, non comprehenſorum) debuit, jam ſpondere obedientiam talem pro nobis nullo modo potuit; adcóque ſalus omnium hominum deplorata erit. Debuit igitur ex voluntaria ſponſione, cui ſemel ſuſceptæ renuntiare non potuit, quia ſponſio ea fuit θέλημα πνεύματος αἰωνίου voluntas ſpiritus æterni, quam immutabilem eſſe oportet, Hebr. IX.14.X.10. & δύναμις ζωῆς ἀκαταλύτου potentia vitæ indiſſolubilis, adcóque inſuperabilis Hebr.VII.17. ac denique ſponſionem deſerere fuiſſet בגד perfidia, legi Divinæ con-junctis. Hic verò eam ex cauſis non fieri, ſolidè probavi. Proportionem verò operis cum mercede, vel ſtipendii retributionem ne ipſe quidem Argus viderit. Tu oſtende. Qualis enim inter opera illa, quæ Matth. XXV. 34. & Apoc. VII. 14 15. qualia ſcilicet ſunt, viſitare ægrotos, famelicos cibare, nudos veſtire, &c. veſtimenta in ſanguine Agni dealbare; (actus omnes & debitos, & ex gratia Dei provenientes & finitos;) & tranſcendentem ac finitam gloriam hæreditatis ab æterno præparatæ, & manſionis coram throno Dei, proportio, commenſus qualis eſſe poteſt? Videris omni te à ratione deſtitutum penitus prodere.

OBIECT. III. Vita æterna bonis operibus redditur ex juſtitia Dei, 1. Theſſ. I. 4, 6, 7. 2. Tim. IV. 7. Ergo bona opera eam promerentur. Reſp. 1. Redditur vita æterna bonis operibus ex juſtitia non ſtricta & æqualitatis, quomodo ſeverum Dei judicium bona opera minimè ſuſtinere queunt Job. IX. 3. Pſal. CXXX. 3. CXLIII. 2. ſed miſericordiâ temperata, veracitatis & fidelitatis, non quia juſtum ſit merita noſtra penſare mercede debita, ſed quia juſtum eſt Deo ſtare promiſſis, & quia juſtitia ejus non patitur, ut redemptio Chriſti caſſa ſit & inutilis illis, qui eam fide apprehendunt. Unde appoſitè Johannes 1. Epiſt. cap. I 9. fidelitatem & juſtitiam in hoc negotio conjungit. 2. Oſtendunt etiam ejuſmodi textus, non propter quid ſalutem conſequamur, ſed quales coronemur; nec ingerunt cauſam regnandi, ſed viam regni.

Excip. Rabino: Diſtingue oculum unum ad nos ipſos reflexum, ab altero in gratiæ Divinæ puritatem retorto. In ſe reflectentes deprecantur ſancti judicium Dei. In gratiam Dei figentes obtutum, petunt ſe judicari ſecundum juſtitiam ſuam, Pſal. VII. 9. alibique ſæpius. 2. Fidelitas Dei non ſubit rationem juſtitiæ niſi ex parte operis, cujus intuitu repromiſſio fit, condignitas ad rem promiſſam ſubſit. Ib. pag. 546. 547. Reſp. 1. In quo ſunt merita, in gratia, an in homine? In homine, dices. Nam in gratia quidem non ſunt, ſed à gratia eſſe pertenditis. Qui igitur in ſe reflectit, in merita ſua reflectit. Qui ſi eatenus deprecari Dei judicium neceſſe habet, non igitur meritis ex juſtitia ſtrictè dicta retributio debetur. Multò minùs habito ad gratiam Dei reſpectu humanis operibus ex juſtitia propriè dicta remuneratio reſpondet, quia ſi ex gratia, non ex operibus datur præmium, Rom. XI. 6. Et quamcunque dignitatem gratia operibus conciliat, manebit ſemper finitus eorum valor, cujus ad infinitam gloriam nulla eſt proportio, nec proin ex juſtitia ſtrictè dicta remuneratio ulla. Quoties verò Sancti ſe judicari ſecundum juſtitiam ſuam petierunt, non ſe judicio Dei ſecundùm omnia opera ſua judicandos ſtiterunt, ſed in cauſa particulari cum hoſtibus intercedente bonæ cauſæ conſcientiam teſtati ſunt. 2. Fidelem & juſtum eſſe Deum, ut remittat peccata ſua confitentibus. S. Johannes 1. Ep. I. 9. aſſeverat. Si in retributione confeſſionis juſtitiam intellexit ſtrictè dictam & æqualitatis remiſſio igitur peccatorum, ceu merces propriè dicta, peccatorum confeſſione, ceu merito propriè dicto reſpondet. Quis unquam tale quid ſomniavit? Fidelitas igitur rationem juſtitiæ non particularis, in diſtributione præmiorum ex æqualitate meritorum, ſed univerſalis, quæ in rectitudine omnium Dei perfectionum conſiſtit, ſubire poteſt. Unde juſtitiam quandoque condecentiam Divinæ bonitatis ſignificare, Durandus in 4. Diſt. 47. q. 3. monet. Juſtum igitur eſt, ut remittat Deus peccatum confitenti illud, non propter ullum meritum hominis, ſed quia Deus non poteſt abnegare ſanguinem Filii ſui, & teſtamentum, quod ipſi fecit, & legem, quæ redemptos redemptori addicit, & communionem, quam habemus, per Spiritum ipſius cum ipſo, qui ingenuam hancce peccati confeſſionem operatur.

OBIECT. IV. Pii dicuntur digni æternâ vitâ Luc.XX.35. 2.Theſſ.I.5. Apoc.III.4. Ergo eam operibus ſuis merentur. Reſp. Digni dicuntur, nempe ex dignatione divina, non ex interna dignitate operum: ratione albæ veſtis, nempe juſtitiæ Chriſti, qua ſunt induti, Gal.III.27. & divinæ adoptionis, non inhærentis ſanctitatis, quæ in hac vita nulla perfecta eſt. 2. Hoc quicquid eſt ſive dignitatis ſive dignationis, Deo debent, qui ex indignis dignos facit, Col. I.12. Si quid dignum per ſe æterna gloria, utique paſſiones fidelium dignæ eſſent. At dignas eſſe negat Apoſtolus Rom.VIII.18.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Nugaris. Qui enim denominatio Digni formaliter derivari queat, à dignatione Divina? Hæc ex indignis facit dignos. At formalis denominatio Digni importat dignitatem ſubjecti in eſſe digni conſtitutivam. 2. Paſſiones quidem hujus mundi ſecundum ſe ſpectatæ non ſunt dignæ gloria: dignæ tamen ſunt, quatenus gratiæ ſanctificantis dignitatem ſuperinduunt. Ib.pag.547. Reſp. 1. Tandem ergo tu, nove Critice, nugari deſiſti? Utinam? Annon ſicut dignitas, ita dignatio derivatur à digno? Et an qui dignus eſt ex favore & gratia; is ex dignitate interna, an ex dignatione externa dignus eſt vel habetur? Sunt autem fideles digni ex gratia, non ex operibus, utpote quæ imperfecta univerſa ſunt. Vocem verò Græcam ἀξιῶσ Luc.XX.35.XXI. 36. & Act.V.41. non operis boni dignitatem, ſed ſolam dignationem Divinam notare, & res ipſa loquitur, & Latinus Vetus Interpres teſtatur, qui religiosè ſemper dignum haberi, nunquam meriri vertit. Hinc quod Act.V.41. καταξιωθῆναι, id ipſum Phil.I.29. χαρισθῆναι dicitur. Agnoſcit etiam Salmero *ad Col.I.Diſp.*2. quòd digni quandoque dicantur, ubi hæreditas nullis noſtris meritis obvenit. Et de dignitate operum quo apice Scriptura loquitur? Perſonæ verò dignitas præcipuè & primariò in fide, quæ Chriſto credentem unit, conſiſtit. Tibi, Redingi, dictum hic illud Bernhardi *in Dedic. Eccleſ.ſer.*5. puta: Si nos puerili animoſitate gratis ſalvari nolumus, meritò non ſalvamur. Dignatio locum non habet, ubi fuerit præſumptio dignitatis. 2. Cùm Apoſtolus Rom. VIII.18 negat, paſſiones hujus vitæ eſſe dignas gloria revelanda in fidelibus, loquitur de paſſionibus, quatenus ſunt à gratia Dei, uti continua textus ſeries demonſtrat. Agit enim manifeſtè de fidelibus, quatenus acceperunt Spiritum S. facti ſunt filii Dei, cohæredes ea conditione, ſi unà patiantur. Quomodo poſſunt eſſe à Spiritu certitudo filiationis: ab hac certitudine hæreditas: hujus hæreditatis conditio patiendi: & tamen ſubitò paſſiones conſiderari ſecundum ſe, non prout ſunt à Spiritu Dei, à gratia ſanctificante?

OBIECT. V. Deus eſt juſtus judex & non acceptor perſonarum Act.X.34. Rom.II.11. Gal.II.6. Atqui acceptor eſſet perſonarum, ſi daret præmium ſine meritis. Reſp.1. Deus dicitur juſtus judex, non quia propter merita vitam æternam diſpenſat, ſed quia ex gratia propter Chriſti meritum fide apprehenſum credentes tes juſtificat & ſalvat,ac certamina fidelium remuneratur. 2. Acceptio perſonarum non habet locum in gratuitis,ſed in debitis. Deus autem nulli eſt debitor Rom.XI.35. & miſeretur cujus vult, Rom.IX.18. Cui proinde licet de ſuo ſic diſponere,ut primi fiant ultimi, & ultimi primi,Matth. XX.15.16.

Excip. Reding: Deus abſque pacto nemini debitor eſt. Quia tamen in remunerandis Sanctorum operibus non tantùm reſpicit ad meritum Chriſti,ſed etiam ad dignitatem ſtatus gratiæ ſanctificantis,ideo eorum certamina rationem juſtitiæ ſuperinduunt,ut gloria, seu corona juſtitiæ,meritis eorum reſpondeat. Ib.pag.547. Reſp. Non tantùm,inquis, ad meritum Chriſti,ſed etiam ad ſtatum gratiæ ſanctificantis Deus reſpicit. Meritum igitur Chriſti, & ſtatus gratiæ, ſub quo cooperationem arbitrii liberi comprehenditis, cauſæ diſparatæ ſalutis erunt. Quomodo igitur ex meritis Chriſti fluit vis meritoria operum? Et unde gratia ſanctificans niſi à merito Chriſti? Electi enim ſumus in Chriſto,hoc eſt,ejus merito juſtificandi,ſanctificandi & glorificandi; Epheſ.I.4. Et quid Deum debitorem reddendi mercedem non ex pacto duntaxat, ſed etiam ex condigno facit? Chriſti ne meritum,an gratia ſanctificans? Atqui neutrum eſt opus vel meritum hominis, & gratia ſanctificans non tantùm finita eſt,ſed etiam in hac vita imperfectè ſanctificat.

OBJECT. VI. Mala opera merentur damnationem. Ergo bona merentur ſalutem. Contrariorum enim contraria ſunt conſequentia. Reſp.1. Axioma illud ſuas patitur exceptiones. Ita non ſi ſolis ardor indurat terram, gelu eam iccirco molliet. 2. Diſpar ratio eſt malorum & bonorum operum. Illa perfectè mala ſunt, hæc perfectè bona: illa peccatoribus proficiſcuntur, hæc à Spiritu Sancto promanant. Non igitur ſicut illa perdendi,ita hæc ſalvandi vim obtinent.

Excip. Reding: Calori ſolis non per ſe,ſed per accidens ineſt vis induranti terram, aquam mediante levitate per calorem productâ è terra extrahendo,atque ſic eam exſiccando. Contra malis operibus per ſe ineſt ratio demeriti; proin etiam vi contrariorum bonis ratio meriti. Ib.pag.547.548. Reſp. At bonis operibus fidelium vis merendi nec per ſe,nec per accidens ineſt, uti malis vis demerendi. quod argumenta à me allata, quæ ſilentio transvolas, comprobant.

QUÆSTIO XXII.

An augmentum gratiæ juſtificantis cadat ſub meritum?

AFfirmat Synodus Canone XXIV. XXXII. nec non Capitulo X. Ubi juſtificationis prima & ſecunda à Scholaſticis decantatæ commentum mira terminorum crypſi inſinuatur. Prima illis eſt, quando quis ex injuſto fit juſtus, ex peccatore bonus, ex inimico Dei amicus & filius Dei, quam fieri ex fide largiuntur. Secunda verò, quando juſtus amore Dei, juſtitia & ſanctitate augetur, quam operibus peragi contendunt. Hanc ſecundam juſtificationem, ſeu juſtitiæ augmentum operum merito impetrari poſſe aſſerunt. Nos vero negamus. Etenim ARG. I. Gratia juſtificans eſt velut ἐν ἀτόμῳ in individuo poſita. Eſt enim abſolutio à reatu, quæ à Deo judice fit ſimul ſemélque, ſola donatione juſtitiæ Chriſti. Proinde nullum admittit in ſe augmentum.

RESP. REDING: Primarius gratiæ juſtificantis effectus eſt, facere conſortem Divinæ naturæ, 2. Pet. I. 4. Ex eo ſequitur remiſſio peccatorum, ſecundarius ejusdem gratiæ effectus. Poſterior hic conſiſtit in individuo, non prior. Nam forma ſanctificans, æquè ac habitus alii gradus intenſionis admittit. Tract. 12. Sect. 2. pag 549. Reſp. S. Petrus promiſſa Dei maxima & pretioſa facere, ut participes reddamur naturæ Dei, aſſerit; quia ſcilicet eò nos deducunt, ut habeamus communionem cum Deo in Chriſto, atque adeò cum vero Deo, ut ille ſit in nobis, & nos in ipſo, & in ipſo unum ſimus, Joh. XVII. 21. 23. & ita nobis ſit in Deum, & nos ipſius populus, Jerem. XXXI. 33. 34. quò ſic in Deo ut noſtro, & habitante in nobis gloriari poſſimus. Quæ communio cùm neceſſaria nobis ſit tum ad juſtitiam, tum ad vitam & pietatem, diverſimodè nobis & promittitur & præſtatur. Nam in juſtificatione juſtitia Chriſti & jus vitæ: in ſanctificatione novitas vitæ, pietas & ſanctitas promittitur & præſtatur. Illius reſpectu naturæ Dei participatio fit ſimul ſemélque, quia Chriſti meritum fide apprehenſum juſtificat, hoc eſt, juſtitiæ Chriſti & juris vitæ participes ilico reddit ſimul ac juſtitiæ Chriſti & juris vitæ donationem conſummat: hujus verò reſpectu augmenti & intenſionis capax eſt, quia ſanctificatio fit ſucceſſivè, & internus homo ἀνακαινοῦται ἡμέρᾳ κ ἡμέρᾳ renovatur de die in diem, 2. Cor. IV. 16. Non igitur remiſſio peccatorum communionem naturæ Divinæ ſequitur, uti imperitè ſtatuis: ſed rationem juſtificationis, quæ in peccatorum remiſſione & juſtitiæ imputatione conſiſtit, ceu princeps gratiæ Divinæ effectus, ingreditur, & ſanctificationem poſt ſe trahit. Quæ tu miſerè confundens, in errore graviſſimo verſaris, & juſtitiam nonniſi propriam & inhærentem cum Judæis crepans erga Dei juſtitiam refractarium te geris, Rom. X. 3.

ARG. II.

ARG. II. Sicut initium, ita continuatio, & augmentum vitæ ſpiritualis pendet à gratia Dei, Rom.I.verſ.18. 1.Cor.XV.10. Phil.I.6. Non igitur à merito.

RESP. REDING: Totum id, quod in merito eſt, gratia eſt, quia gratia vires, per quas meritoriè operamur, & potentiam & actum ſupernaturaliter operandi conferunt, & conditionis omnis à gratia ſanctificante eſt. Ib.pag.550. Reſp. Hæc contradictoria & abſurda multis modis eſſe, ſæpe jam convicimus. Et tu ſupra aſſa voce dicebas, ſic mercedem fidelibus ex debito imputari, ut gratia omnis abſit.

ARG. III. Opera bona ſunt à prima gratia, & habent ſe ut actus ad habitum. Ergo non merentur gratiæ augmentum. Gratia enim non meretur gratiam.

RESP. REDING: Si actus ab habitu naturali elicitii vim habent augmentandi habitum: cur non etiam opera à prima gratia promanantia, & ad hanc, tanquam habitum compensata, gratiæ augmentum mereantur? Ib.pag.550. Reſp. Actus ab habitu eliciti vim habent augendi habitum, qualis ab ipſo habitu manavit. Planè ſic opera à gratia elicita vim habent augendi gratiam ſanctificantem talem, qualis à gratia eſt. At per gratiam augere gratiam, quod Chriſtus vocat τῷ ἔχοντι δίδειν habenti dare, Matth. XIII.12. nullum meritum eſt. Aliàs nemo poteſt mereri augmentum ſtaturæ ſuæ, quæ res longè minoris pretii eſt. Quomodo igitur gratiæ ſemel ſibi collatæ augmentum merebitur?

ARG. IV. Juſtificatio hac ratione confunditur cum ſanctificatione. Nam quæ illis prima & ſecunda juſtificatio dicitur, qua videlicet aliquis & juſtus internè conſtituitur, & in juſtitia augetur, ſtylo Scripturæ potiùs eſt ſanctificatio & renovatio interior. Eſſe autem hæc duo diſtincta beneficia, patet, tum quia juſtificatio eſt actio judicis, & quæ fit extra nos, regeneratio autem habitus & qualitas ſingulis fidelibus inhærens: tum quia Paulus diſertè diſtinguit 1.Cor.I.30. tum quia in negotio juſtificationis opera excluduntur, quæ includuntur in ſanctificatione: tum denique quia illa fit imputatione juſtitiæ, remiſſione peccatorum, hæc vi arcana Spiritus S. agentis in fidelibus: illa apprehenditur fide, hæc apprehenditur charitate: illa eſt perfecta, hæc imperfecta. Non poſſunt igitur ſine Spiritu ad errorem obfirmato & manifeſta clade ſinceræ de juſtificatione doctrinæ tam diſtincta confundi & permiſceri.

RESP. REDING: 1. Fateri ſic cogeris renovationem hominis interiorem quæ quis juſtus internè conſtituitur, & in juſtitia augetur. 2. Juſtificatio cauſalis à formali ſanctificatione diſtincta eſt. Illa eſt actio Dei immanens, ex qua efficienter promanat gratiæ ſanctificantis infuſio; per quam formaliter fit renovatio interior, cujus augmentum ſub meritum cadit. Hæc tu, nænii tui intentus, non tangis. Aliter S. Auguſtinus Epiſt. 106. ubi ſic ille: Non gratiam aliquid meriti præcedit humani: ſed ipſa gratia meruit augeri, geri, ut aucta mereatur perfici. Ib. pag. 500. Resp. 1. Non cogor ita fateri, sed fateor, & falsus semper sum libens. Tu deliras manifestè. 2. Nec de justificatione causali, sed de formali, quam Scriptura in imputatione justitiæ & remissione peccatorum collocat, locutus ego sum: nec causalis seu activa, prout in Deo est, proximè formam interioris renovationis, sed absolutionem à peccato & pronuntiationem justi, hoc est, per obedientiam Christi justificati, & habentis jus vitæ & communionis cum Deo; judicialem producit: nec denique argumenta mea de justificatione causali, sed de formali loquuntur. Tu verò cum iis, sive ob desperatam causam tuam, sive Monachalibus & Mariolatricis næniis tuis ad sordidum quæstum comparatis, intentior, propiùs congredi ne quidem sustines. In Augustini verbis nisi vocem merendi sumpseris impropriè, pro τυγχάνειν consequi, quomodo scilicet ipsamet Romana Ecclesia canit: Felicem Adami culpam, quæ talem meruit habere Redemptorem; absurdissimum Augustinum feceris: neque lucri quicquam inde feres, quia non si gratia meretur augeri, homo operibus suis ipse gratiæ augmentum meretur. Et S. Augustinus, negans gratiam aliquid meriti præcedere humani, meritum vestrum de congruo apertè conficit. Nam facientem quod in se est, mereri de congruo gratiam, asseritis vulgò. Quid quòd ipse Bellarminus de Grat. & Lib. Arb. lib. I. 14. fatetur, Augustinum meritum solere appellare quemlibet actum bonum, ratione cujus aliquid aliud accipimus?

ARG. V. Sed & justificatio peccatoris à parte hominis in solidum pendet à fide. Ita tota S. Scriptura definit, inprimis Rom. III. IV. V. Gal. II. Joh. III. VI. alibique passim.

RESP. REDING: A fide formata, non informi. Et aliud est justificatio, aliud ejus augmentum. Hoc, non illa sub meritum cadit. Ib. pag. 550. Resp. A formata utique, sed per veram, non fictitiam formam. Si porro justificatio tota fit per solam fidem, tota meriti exsors sit oportet. Denique augmenti justificationem expertem esse omnis, jam probavimus.

ARG. VI. Est etiam planè ἀσύστατον dicere, quòd operibus mereri quis possit augmentum justitiæ, cùm meritum operis propriè dictum habeat ἀξίαν ad mercedem vitæ, non sequentis justitiæ, juxta sententiam legis, fac hoc & vives.

RESP. REDING: Merces vitæ in altiori gradu respondet gradui altiori justitiæ. Ib. pag. 550. Resp. Quid inde? Ergóne sic ipse altior gradus justitiæ merces est propria gradus inferioris merentis. Atqui non opus ullum, non justitia, sed vita sola in lege operis merces constituitur. Hæc vis argumenti est, quam tergiversatione tua præteris.

ARG. VII. Faciunt huc omnia argumenta, quæ superiùs adversus merita operum produximus.

RESPONDERE REDING noluit.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Angeli verba ſunt Apoc.XXII.11. Qui juſtificatus eſt, juſtificetur adhuc. Ergo datur augmentum gratiæ juſtificantis. Reſp.1. Non iccirco augmentum illud cadit ſub meritum. 2. Apoſtolus non dicit μᾶλλον magis juſtificetur, quod augmentum notare poſſit, ſed ἔτι iterum, porro. 2. Juſtificatio eo loco non tam notat reputationem juſtitiæ, quàm declarationem & applicationem frequentatam reputatæ juſtitiæ, quæ in eo conſiſtit, ut qui juſtificatus jam eſt, per fidem & illius exercitium ac teſtimonium verbi habeat conſolationem de juſtitia indies magis magiſque exuberantem. Poſterior juſtificatio augmenti capax eſt, non prior, de qua quæritur.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Anne teſtimonium & conſolatio de juſtitia indies magis magiſque exuberans eſt unius cum vera juſtificatione generis? Si non eſt, quomodo in breviſſimo eo textu juſtificationis vocem tam æquivocè ſumere licet, ut & veram juſtificationem, & ejuſdem duntaxat conſolationem ſignificet? 2. Iſta verò juſtificatio iterata non poteſt non ſuperaddere aliquod augmentum; quod mereri juſtificatum arguunt verba ejuſdem capitis v.12. Ecce venio citò, & merces mea mecum eſt, ut reddam unicuique ſecundum opera ſua. Merces autem meritum ſupponit. Ib.pag.551. Reſp.1. Pulchrè ſic tuo te gladio jugulas. Nam eodem argumento tuo primæ & ſecundæ juſtificationis, diverſiſſimæ utique, veſtra quidem ſententia, cùm illam ſola gratia, hanc meritis humanis impetrari ſtatuatis, commentum eliditur. Cœterùm juſtificationis vox non bis, ſed ſemel duntaxat in textu eo occurrit. Non enim dicitur: ὁ δικαιωθεὶς juſtificatus juſtificetur adhuc: ſed ὁ δίκαιος juſtus juſtificetur adhuc. Juſtus peccator ſimpliciter non aliter eſſe poteſt, quàm per juſtitiam Chriſti imputatam. Qui ſic juſtus eſt, ille iterum iterúmque juſtificari, non per augmentum gratiæ juſtificantis, quæ indiviſibilis eſt; ſed per ejuſdem juſtitiæ Chriſti crebrò repetitam applicationem, apprehenſionem & ſenſum poteſt. Licet enim à parte Dei juſtificatio ſimul ſemélque fiat tum, quando à peccatis abſolvit, & jus vitæ impertitur: à parte tamen noſtri juſtitia Chriſti variis crebríſque actibus apprehenditur, dum per novos fidei actus Chriſti meritum nobis ſubinde applicamus in remedium quotidianorum peccatorum, in quæ incurrimus. Sic donum idem ſemel collatum, Panacea inprimis, identidem aſpici, apprehendi, tractari ad uberiorem lætitiæ ſenſum & conſolationem poteſt; & quoties uſus fert, debet. 2. Non igitur iterata juſtificatio auget juſtificationem activam, ſeu à parte Dei; ſed juſtitiæ Chriſti à parte noſtri applicationem, ſenſum & conſolationem continuat, & magis magiſque intendit. Juſtitiam verò inhærentem proximè nec auget nec repetit, quia illa ſub voce nec juſti, nec juſtificationis intelligitur, imò ei ſub vocibus Sancti & Sanctificationis, quæ inhærentes ſanctitatis & juſtitiæ habitus includit, non obſcurè contradiſtinguitur. De voce mercedis ſupra.

OBIECT. II. Eccleſ.XVIII.22. Ne veteris uſque ad mortem juſtificari. Ergo gratia juſtificans eſt capax augmenti. Reſp. 1. Textus eſt apocryphus. 2. Juſtificamur uſque ad mortem per declarationem & apprehenſionem crebram acceptæ ſemel juſtitiæ, quæ fit continuo exercitio fidei & pœniten-tiæ. 3. Græca ita habent : Μὴ μείνῃς ἕως θανάτου δικαιωθῆναι. Non expectes uſque ad mortis tempus juſtificari, ſed in tempore, ut præcedentia habent, peccatorum emendationem oſtende, hoc eſt, dum adhuc peccare potes, abſtine à peccatis, ne peccata te, quàm tu iſta, priùs deſerant. Nihil hic de incremento juſtitiæ. Sive enim δικαιωθῆναι referatur ad juſtificationem, qua coram tribunali Dei abſolvimur à peccatis, illam non differri poſtulat Sapiens: ſive declarationem & applicationem ejus per fidem & opera, illa quotidie fieri, crebróque repeti debet.

EXCIP. REDING: Tigurina verſio ſic textum illum reddit : Ne dubites juſtum te probare uſque ad diem mortis. Ergo ipſa quoque textum de homine priùs juſtificato intellexit; quia ſe verè probare juſtum, niſi priùs juſtificatus, nemo poteſt. Sermo proin eſt non de prima, ſed de ſecunda juſtificatione, quæ augmentum juſtitiæ infuſæ importat. Ib. pag. 551. Reſp. Etſi nihil admodum ad rem facit, quicquid author ille apocryphus dicere voluerit : verſio tamen noſtra minimè figmento tuo patrocinatur. Nam qui juſtum, hoc eſt, ſemel Chriſti merito juſtificatum, ſe probat, per opera ſcilicet in ſenſus incurrentia, ejus vera juſtificatio, à parte ſcilicet Dei, non iccirco augetur, nedum merito proprio locum facit: ſed per certa teſtimonia à poſteriori duntaxat oſtenditur, declaratur & demonſtratur. quod non ſemel duntaxat, ſed per vitæ totius decurſum facto opus eſt. Senſum igitur peregrinum ſecundæ juſtificationis, quæ aliud non ſit, quàm ſanctificationis augmentum, & textui ipſi, qui apocryphus eſt, & verſioni noſtræ imponis.

OBIECT. III. Jacobus cap. II. 24. juſtificationem ſecundam innuit his verbis: Videtis quoniam ex operibus juſtificatur homo, & non ex fide tantùm. Paulus contra ſolam fidem urgens inſinuat juſtificationem primam. Reſp. 1. Nihil occurrit de juſtificationis ſecundæ merito. 2. Neque Jacobus dicit ex operibus hominem magis juſtificari, ſed, ex operibus hominem juſtificari. Si dicere voluiſſet, operibus hominem magis juſtum reddi, voculam magis non omiſiſſet. 3. Quo ſenſu Jacobus dicat, hominem ex operibus juſtificari, ſuprà explicavimus.

EXCIP. REDINO: Tu ipſe ſupra arg. 3. conceſſiſti, primam & ſecundam juſtificationem admittendam eſſe, eo ſenſu, ut homini per peccatorum remiſſionem juſtificato demum ſanctificatio, qualitatem inhærentem importans, contingat. De poſteriore hac S. Jacobus loquitur. Agitur enim de juſtificatione Abrahami per opera, poſtquam ille per fidem jam priùs juſtificatus erat. Ib. pag. 551. 552. Reſp. Somnia tua nobis narras. Ubi ego juſtificationem primam & ſecundam veſtro ſenſu conceſſi? Sanctificatio enim quam à remiſſione peccatorum diſtinxi, nec juſtificatio, nec ſecunda juſtificatio eſt. Neque etiam S. Jacobus vel primam vel ſecundam juſtificationem veſtro ſenſu diſtinguit: vel alterutram in juſtitia inhærente conſiſtere docet: vel planè juſtificationem ſive Abrahami, ſive fidelium quorumvis diſtinguit, ſed de una eadémque loquitur, in qua ſcilicet fides cooperatur operibus, & ex operibus fides perficitur, v. 22. adeò quidem, ut tum, quando ſic Abrahamus juſtificatus eſt, impleta dicatur Scriptura, quæ dicit : Credidit Abraham Deo, Deo, & imputatum ei eſt ad juſtitiam, v. 23. Unde loqui Apoſtolum non de juſtificatione per fidem, ſed de ejus declaratione, impletione & demonſtratione per opera, clariſſimè liquet.

OBIECT. IV. Juſtitiæ hoc incrementum petit ſancta eccleſia, cùm orat: Da nobis Domine fidei, ſpei, charitatis augmentum. Reſp. 1. Juſtitiæ incrementum petit, at non meritum augmenti. 2. Fidei, ſpei & charitatis augmentum meritò petit eccleſia, quia omnes hi habitus augeri poſſunt. At gratiæ juſtificantis & à reatu nos abſolventis, adeóque divini de abſolutione noſtra judicii diſpar ratio eſt.

EXCIP. REDING: Fateris, fidei, ſpei & charitatis augmentum dari. At eadem cum charitate menſura creſcit gratia ſanctificans. Ib. pag. 552. Reſp. Sic amas ἀιρεβωνῶν. Non de gratiæ ſanctificantis, ſed juſtificantis, & quidem cadente ſub meritum, quæſtio eſt.

QUÆSTIO XXIII.

An gloriæ augmentum cadat ſub meritum?

ASſerit Canon XXXII. & intelligit eſſentialis gloriæ præmium accidentale, quod conſiſtat in erogatione aureolarum pro Martyribus, Virginibus & doctoribus, juxta tres victorias privilegiatas, uti loquitur Thomas. Nos fore in vita æterna gradus, ac Deum ex gratia non ſolùm temporalibus, ſed etiam cœleſtibus præmiis piorum labores & paſſiones remuneraturum, haud inviti concedimus. Synodi tamen & Scholaſticorum ſententiæ quò minùs ſuffragemur, ſequentia faciunt.

ARG. I. Obſtant omnia argumenta, quibus in univerſum meritum bonorum operum debellavimus.

RESPONDERE REDINGIUS SUPERSEDIT.

ARG. II. Meritum augmenti illius nititur operibus ſupererogationis. Aureola, inquit Bayus Inſtit. Relig. Chriſt. lib. 1. cap. 373. de eorum præmio rectè intelligi poteſt, qui generalia Scripturæ S. mandata ſpontanea vitæ perfectioris electione tranſcendunt, ideóque ſpecialem præ cæteris fidelibus retributionem voluntariæ abſolutionis expectant. At hoc figmentum Phariſaicum multis doctrinæ Chriſtianæ capitibus è diametro oppoſitum, alibi oſtendimus.

RESP. REDING: Nos verò gratiæ ſanctificantis incremento gloriæ eſſentialis, non accidentalis, augmentum attribuimus; & meritum ejus ſolis ſupererogationis operibus niti negamus. Tract. IV. Sect. 2. pag. 552. 553. Reſp. Cùm gloriæ cœleſtis eſſentia in viſione & fruitione Dei conſiſtat, & ſive magis ſive minùs ſancti Deum videant, eóque fruantur, tuum est, in diversis visionis & fruitionis gradibus essentiæ mutationem vel intensionem demonstrare. Alias enim essentias rerum constituere οὐ ἀνόμων in indivisibilis, sapientes judicarunt. Si tamen is tibi, & tuis omnibus est ὑμῖν ἐν σώμασι, quòd augmenti gloriæ seu aureolarum ab ipsa aureatum gloria differentia essentialis sit, est cur te rogem veniam, quòd mitiùs sententiam vestram explicavi. Nam ita delirare aureolarum Monachalium doctores, ut essentiale gloriæ discrimen astruerent non putavi. Quoad opera supererogationis, citaviBayum, non nostrum utique, sed vestrum. Si tu secùs sentis, nil nisi apertiores hiatus vestros prodit. Certè fidei, pœnitentiæ, charitatis intensioribus gradibus aureolas à vestris promissas nondum vidi; sed cœlibibus, hoc est, Monachis & Monialibus, doctoribus Angelicis puta, Seraphicis, &c. & Martyribus, non propter fidem & charitatem communem, sed propter alia omnia. Et de hoc quicquid sit, saltem operibus supererogationis partes præcipuas vos, Cœli diribitores & metatores magnos, decernere, dubium non est.

ARG. III. Sed & temeraria est hæc dicisio, quia sine peculiari revelatione & authoritate certis hominum generibus definiuntur præmia. Paulus 2. Cor. XII. 3. in sua ἁρπαγῇ audivit ἄῤῥητα ῥήματα. Quæ ergo hæc temeritas, tam præcisè determinare, quæ Martyribus, quæ Virginibus, quæ Doctoribus expectandæ sint aureolæ? Quis Seraphicos istos Doctores cœlestium præmiorum diribitores constituit?

RESP. REDING: 1. Temerarius cœlestium præmiorum diribitor non est, qui ex authoritate Divina, locorum inprimis Apoc. III. 21. 1. Thessal. II. 19. Sap. IV. 1. certis hominum generibus sub obscuro fidei lumine, vel contemplationis depurationis, ænigmati tamen adhuc immersæ face præmia Divinitus præparata definit. Ib. pag. 553. Resp. Authoritatem Divinam frustra te prætexere, infra probamus. Neque etiam loca hic citata quicquam tale innuunt. Nam Apoc. III. 21. & victoria communis fidelium omnium, & commune præmium, sessio in throno Christi; non peculiaris Martyrum vel victoria, vel corona innuitur. Et Thessalonicenses S. Paulus 1. Thessal. II. 19. χαρὰ καὶ στέφανος καυχήσεως gaudium & coronam gloriationis suæ nuncupans, non sibi seu Doctori, nedum Magistris vestris aureolam cœlestem, sed fidelitatis suæ testes, & laboris sui fructus, seu effecta non meriti ullius, sed gratiæ Dei, uti 1. Cor. XV. 10. confitetur, in adventu Domini lætitiæ & gloriationi in Domino amplam materiem futuros promittit. Denique Sap. IV. 1. (ne authoritatem apocryphum fugillem) juxta vulgatam versionem casta generatio & virginum & sanctorum conjugum est. cui immortalitas, corona & triumphus, commune fidelium omnium præmium, non quicquam præcellentius aliud promittitur. In Græco verò textu de casta generatione ne gry quidem; sed de ἀτεκνία orbitate, quæ cum virtute conjuncta laudibus extollitur. Ubi ergo revelatio? In obscuro fidei non Divinæ, sed carbonariæ, & contemplationis Sophisticis tenebris immersæ puteo latet.

ARG. IV. Si aureolæ consistunt in gaudio de operibus, quæ excellentis cujusdam victoriæ rationem habent, omnibus beatis debent esse communes. Omnes enim beati excellentem de Diabolo, peccato, mundo victoriam reportant.

Resp. Reding: 1. Cur non memmiſti victoriæ adverſus carnem? An quia hanc te ſuccubuiſſe noſti? 2. Aureola præmium eſt, reſpondens actui heroico, per quem in certo ſpiritualis pugnæ genere ſummæ victoriæ reportatur. Hoſtes verò humani generis tres ſunt: caro, mundus & Diabolus. Caro, ſeu concupiſcentia carnis per virginitatem: Mundus per Martyrium: Diabolus doctrina cæleſtis veritatis non tantùm in mentem propriam receptæ, ſed in alios etiam diffuſa fortiſſimè debellatur. Proin Virginibus, Martyribus & Doctoribus præmia excellentia, cujusmodi aureolæ ſunt, debentur. Ib. pag. 553. 554. Reſp. 1. Ineptule, an qui de Diabolo peccato & mundo victoriam reportat, non etiam de carne reportat? Fruſtra tibi S. Johannes 1. Epiſt. II. 16. inter ea, quæ in mundo ſunt, ἐπιθυμίαν σαρκὸς concupiſcentiam carnis numeraſſe videtur? Sed carni, inquis, te ſuccubuiſſe noſti! Si ego novi, unde tu? Nam honorabile quidem inter omnes eſt conjugium (quo ſolo nomine me carni ſuccubuiſſe eadem ratione probas, qua ſanctiſſimos quoſque Veteris & Novi Teſtamenti Viros eidem ſuccubuiſſe probare potes) & cubile impollutum. Scortatores autem & adulteros (ne dicam cinædos & catamitos, quales multos fortè nôſti, & alii ante te etiam Romæ viderunt, quicquid tu ibi, Epiſcopi tui jugum nuper excuſſurus, videris) judicabit Deus, Hebr. XIII. 4. in die ſcilicet illo, quo Deus κρυπτὰ τῶν ἀνθρώπων, occulta hominum, quæ vos in mundo ſimulata ſanctitatis ſpecie externa artificioſè tegitis, vindicabit. 2. Unde hoſtium illam tuam diviſionem hauſeris, neſcio. Etenim ſi ita partiri & ſecare lubet, Antichriſtum quoque, ἀντικείμενον adverſarium Chriſti & Eccleſiæ, ex 2. Theſſal. II. 4. addere poteras. Et debellato vel Diabolo, vel mundo, vel carne ſola, reliqui debellati jacent. Ita caro & per caſtitatem quamvis, & per patientiam, & per ſobrietatem doctrinæ, cui S. Paulus Gal. V. 19 20. hæreſes, ceu fructus carnis opponit, debellantur. Similiter mundus: ſimiliter Diabolus. Ruit igitur fictitiæ demonſtrationis tuæ baſis. Et cur heroicis caſtitatis, patientiæ, doctrinæ motibus aureolas adjudicas; nullas verò adjudicas vel heroicæ fidei Abrahami, vel flagrantiſſimo amori Dei, qualis in corde Davidis æſtuavit; vel ferventiſſimo zelo gloriæ Dei, qualis in S. Paulo ſe exeruit? Noli quæſo frigidis ſpeculationibus tuis fidei dogmata, Scripturæ prorſus incognita, ſuperſtruere.

ARG. V. Excellens victoria non tantùm quoad rem, ſed etiam quoad gradum rei in omni virtute reperitur, quæ ſibi oppoſita vitia edomat. Totidem igitur aureolæ, quot virtutes, conſtituendæ erunt.

Resp. Reding: Etſi ſingularum virtutum actus heroici ſua in Cælo præmia & gaudia accidentalia habent; nulla tamen ex actu virtutis victoria in certo portionis vel concupiſcibilis, vel iraſcibilis, vel Rationalis genere conſummatur, niſi aut per virginitatem, aut per Martyrium, aut per diſciplinæ Divinæ doctoratum. Ib. pag. 554. Reſp. Scilicet in iis actibus conſummatur victoria, quibus extra ſingularem vocationem fideles ſine diſpendio ſalutis carere & poſſunt & debent! Et non conſummatur extra illos actus in actu fidei & charitatis quantumvis intenſiſſimo, cùm tamen non aliud Deo acceptius eſſe, ubique Scriptura teſtetur. Sic vobis Monachi, Virgines, Doctores, perinde ut Martyres, lenocinari amatis.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Pugnæ debetur corona. Ergo ſpeciali pugnæ ſpecialis corona. Cúmque merito reſpondeat præmium, excellentiæ meriti utique reſpondere debet excellentia aliqua in præmio. Reſp. Pugna omnium Chriſtianorum eſt debita, imperfecta, ex gratia depugnata, nec proportionata beatitudini. Corona itaque illi non debetur, ſed gratis & promittitur & confertur. 2. Ut pugna quælibet ex gratia depugnatur, ſic & ſpecialis pugna ex ſpeciali gratia. Tale itaque certamen certare non majoris meriti eſt, ſed majoris gratiæ.

EXCIP. REDING: Certaminis ex gratia depugnati honeſtati ſupervenit forma ſanctificantis dignitas, quæ pugnam ad eſſe meriti vitæ æternæ condigni elevat. Ib. pag. 554. 555. Reſp. Imbelle telum, ſæpius à me retuſum. An præterea formæ ſanctificantis gratioſa communicatio opus ex debito indebitum, ex imperfecto perfectum, ex inadæquato gloriæ adæquatum, reddit?

OBIECT. II. De Martyrum aureolis liquet ex Apoc. II. 17. ubi vincenti promittitur manna abſconditum & calculus albus. Reſp. Promiſſio illa ſpectat omnes promiſcuè fideles, quia omnibus omnino contra Diabolum, peccatum & mundum continuè decertandum. Rectè pii veteres dixére: Sine ferro Martyres eſſe poſſumus, ſi patientiam fideliter cuſtodiverimus. Unde triplex ſpirituale martyrium conſtituit Gregorius, tolerantiam adverſorum, compaſſionem afflictorum, & dilectionem inimicorum.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Victoria indigetatur, qualis erat Antipæ, fidelis teſtis, ibi occiſi, ubi habitat Sathanas. Talis certè in fideles quoſvis non cadit. 2. Nomen illud novum in calculo candido ſcriptum inſignem victoriam pro Chriſto, in Verbo æterno intra animam pro Chriſto victricem repræſentat. Quid ni igitur ſingularis hæc Martyrum victoria ſingulare iisdem gaudium mereatur? Ib. pag. 555. Reſp. 1. Et talis victoria, qualis erat Antipæ: & talis, qualis eſt fidelium omnium, inprimis reſipiſcentium (v. 16.) intelligitur. Et qualis victoria, talis ſemper corona, differens gradu gloriæ; non acquiſitione meriti. Specialis victoria à ſpeciali gratia eſt. 2. Vincenti ſic non aureola, ſed manna occultum, panis ille, qui ex Cœlo venit, Joh. VI. 32. occultus, quia mundus eum non novit, & in Cœlo is aſſervatur, ſuo tempore manifeſtandus, Col. III. 3. planè ſicut urnula Mannæ in intimo ſanctuario juxta arcam erat repoſita, Exod. XVI. 33. Hebr. IX. 4. nec non albus calculus, juſtificationis ſeu abſolutionis à peccato ſymbolum; & in calculo eo inſcriptum nomen novum, filii ſcilicet adoptivi Dei, quod nemo novit niſi qui accipit, quia fideles, filii Dei ſoli Dei ſunt conſpicui, habentes παῤῥησίαν coram Deo in bona conſcientia, 1. Joh. III. 21. promittitur. Victoria igitur illa fides eſt, 1. Joh. V. 4. & promiſſum ei præmium communio cum Chriſto in Cœlo ad dextram Patris ſedente, quem inde expectamus; nec non juſtificatio ad conſcientiam credentium in occulto. Hæ quoad eſſentiam communia ſunt fidelibus omnibus: quoad menſuram & gradum fidei magis vel minùs; merè gratuita univerſa.

OBIECT. III. Virginum aureolæ deſcribuntur Eſaj. LVI. 5. 6. Dabo Eunuchis in domo mea & in muris meis locum, & nomen melius, quàm filiis & filiabus. Nec non Apoc. XIV. 4. Sequentur agnum quocunque iverit. Reſp. 1. Neuter locus meritum probat. 2. Locus Eſajæ allegoricus agit non de præmiis virginum, ſed de vocatione eccleſiæ gentilis, hactenus prorſus ſterilis, & Deo filios non generantis. 3. Sed & in loco Apocalypſeos Virgines, quales ſunt Monachi & Moniales minimè intelliguntur, quia iis attributa ibi poſita haud conveniunt: ſed hieroglyphicè omnes illi, qui pollent columbina illa ſimplicitate, qua Chriſtus ut ſolus eccleſiæ ſponſus amatur & timetur, qua virginitate præſtare poſſunt etiam, qui in conjugio vivunt, & Chriſto ſerviunt.

RESP. REDING: A literali ſenſu ad myſticum & figuratum qua ratione fugis? Certè S. Patres, Baſilius & Auguſtinus ad literam de Virginibus interpretantur. Ib. pag. 555. Reſp. In loco Eſajæ LVI. 4. 5. 6. סריסים Eunuchi non hieroglyphicè, ſed ad literam & propriè non virgines, ſed eunuchos, olim infames, & à populi privilegiis excluſos, Deut. XXIII. 1. ſignificant. Translata autem ſignificatione quivis non parientes, ſeu ſteriles notantur. Cùm igitur tales in V. Teſt. gentiles fuerint, & ſupra cap. LIV. 1. gentilis populus עקרה לא ילדה ſterilis non pariens nuncupetur; atque cap. LVI. 3. &c. cum alienigenis iidem conjungantur, non ſine ratione gentiles ad Chriſtum quandoque convertendos deſignari, innui. Neque aliter Sanctius. Si verò ad literam interpretari lubet, quid tum pro Virginibus faciet? Senſus erit, infamiam Eunuchorum in N. Teſt. ceſſaturam, neque ullum in Eccleſia Eunuchi & conjugum πολυτίκτων diſcrimen fore, quomodo etiam Cornelius à Lapide veſtras explicat. Nomen quoque ſempiternum, nunquam abolendum, quod Eunuchis illis ſive in Eccleſia, ſive in Cœlo promittitur, commune fidelium omnium præmium, nihil ἐξαίρετον ſonat. In loco verò Apoc. XIV. 4. παρθένοι Virgines, cùm opponantur non caſtis conjugibus, utpote qui & ipſi Agnum, quocunque iverit, individui comitantur; ſed ſcortis & Babyloni, matri ſcortationum (ib. v. 8.) non utique cœlibes, (aliàs ſoli hi Agni comites & ab eodem redempti ſoli forent) ſed fideles univerſos, Chriſto quam dederunt fidem, intemeratam ſervantes, notant.

OBIECT. IV. Doctoribus etiam competere aureolas, oſtendit locus Dan. XII. 3. ubi fulſurj dicuntur quaſi ſtellæ, qui ad juſtitiam erudiverunt multos. Reſp. Hinc probabiliter colligi poſſit nonnulla differentia gloriæ ſingulorum, quamvis ſine invidia, & cum maxima gloriæ etiam capitis, redundatione in omnes. At differentiam illam futuram ex meriti diverſa proportione, nullatenus ſequitur. Potiùs dabitur ſecundum gratiam Dei, qua Chriſto datum eſt corpus, in quo ſe Dei πολυποίκιλος multum varians ſapientia oſtendet.

EXCIP. REDING: Siccine tandem compelleris differentiam in gloria Beatorum agnoſcere? Sed ex gratia eam pendere aſſeris. An verò in toto Sapientiæ Divinæ theſauro nulla extat gratia Dei ad extra producibilis, quæ cum gloria cœleſti intrinſecam proportionem habeat? Si negas, temerarius es omnipotentiæ Divinæ cenſor. Si affirmas, juxta inæqualitatem condignitatis hujus etiam præmii cœleſtis inæqualitatem agnoſcere debes. Ib. pag. 555. 556.

by Google

555.556. Reſp. Non compellis tu me id agnoſcere, ſed agnovi ultro, & diſertis verbis ſtatim initio quæſtionis. Quod verò à gratia Dei eſt, quale & quantumcunque ſit, cum gloria cœleſti intrinſecam proportionem habere nequit : quia hæc infinita eſt; opus verò humanum gratiæ viribus præſtitum finitum ſemper. Non igitur ſic temerarius ſum omnipotentiæ Divinæ cenſor; ſed tu humani operis temerarius præco, docens hominem ſagenæ ſuæ ſacrificare, & reti ſuo ſuffire. Denique ſi merita hominis proportionem intrinſecam habent cum gloria, æqualia erunt merita omnia, quia cum infinita gloria nonniſi infinitum meritum, cui nec addi quicquam, nec detrahi poteſt, commenſum habere poteſt.

SESSIO VII.

Decretum de Sacramentis Eccleſiæ,

Die 3. Martii 1547.

AD conſummationem ſalutaris de juſtificatione doctrinæ, quæ in præcedenti proxima Seſſione, uno omnium Patrum conſenſu promulgata fuit, conſentaneum viſum eſt de ſanctiſſimis Sacramentis Eccleſiæ agere, per quæ omnis vera juſtitia vel incipit, vel incœpta augetur, vel amiſſa reparatur. Propterea ſacroſancta œcumenica & generalis Tridentina Synodus in Spiritu S. legitimè congregata, præſidentibus in ea eisdem Apoſtolicæ ſedis Legatis, ad errores eliminandos, & extirpandas hæreſes, quæ circa ſanctiſſima ipſa Sacramenta hac noſtra tempeſtate, tum de damnatis olim à Patribus noſtris hæreſibus ſuſcitatæ, tum etiam de novo adinventæ ſunt, quæ Catholicæ Eccleſiæ puritati, & animarum ſaluti magnopere officiunt, ſanctarum Scripturarum doctrinæ, Apoſtolicis traditionibus atque aliorum Conciliorum & Patrum conſenſui adhærendo, hos præſentes Canones ſtatuendos & decernendos cenſuit, reliquos qui ſuperſunt ad cœpti operis perfectionem, deinceps divino ſpiritu adjuvante editura.

Canones de Sacramentis in genere.

1. Si quis dixerit, Sacramenta novæ legis non fuiſſe omnia à Jeſu Chriſto Domino noſtro inſtituta, aut eſſe plura vel pauciora quàm ſeptem, videlicet Baptiſmum, Confirmationem, Euchariſtiam, Pœnitentiam, Extremam Unctionem, Ordinem & Matrimonium, aut etiam aliquod horum ſeptem non eſſe verè & propriè Sacramentum, Anathema ſit.

2. Si quis dixerit, ea ipſa nova legis Sacramenta, à Sacramentis antiquæ legis non differre, niſi quia ceremoniæ ſunt aliæ, & alii ritus externi, Anathema ſit.

3. Si quis dixerit, hæc ſeptem Sacramenta ita eſſe inter ſe paria, ut nulla ratione aliud ſit alio dignius, Anathema ſit.

4. Si quis dixerit, Sacramenta novæ legis non eſſe ad ſalutem neceſſaria, ſed ſuperflua, & ſine eis aut eorum voto per ſolam fidem hominis à Deo gratiam juſtificationis adipiſci, licet omnia ſingulis neceſſaria non ſint, Anathema ſit.

5. Si quis dixerit, hæc Sacramenta propter ſolam fidem nutriendam inſtituta fuiſſe, Anathema ſit.

6. Si quis dixerit, Sacramenta novæ legis non continere gratiam, quam ſignificant, aut gratiam ſuam, non ponentibus obicem, non conferre, quaſi ſigna tantùm externa ſint accepta per fidem gratiæ vel juſtitiæ, & notæ quædam Chriſtianæ profeſſionis, quibus apud homines diſcernuntur fideles ab infidelibus, Anathema ſit.

7. Si quis dixerit,non dari gratiam per hujuſmodi Sacramenta ſemper & omnibus,quantum eſt ex parte Dei,etiamſi ritè ea ſuſcipiant; ſed aliquando & aliquibus, Anathema ſit.

8. Si quis dixerit,per ipſa nova legis Sacramenta ex opere operato non conferri gratiam,ſed ſolam fidem divinæ promiſſionis,ad gratiam conſequendam ſufficere, Anathema ſit.

9. Si quis dixerit,in tribus Sacramentis,Baptiſmo ſcilicet, Confirmatione & Ordine,non imprimi characterem in anima hoc eſt,ſignum quoddam ſpirituale & indelebile, unde ea iterari non poſſint,Anathema ſit.

10. Si quis dixerit,Chriſtianos omnes in verbo, & omnibus Sacramentis adminiſtrandis habere poteſtatem,Anathema ſit.

11. Si quis dixerit, in miniſtris, dum Sacramenta conficiunt & conferunt, non requiri intentionem ſaltem faciendi quod facit Eccleſia, Anathema ſit.

12. Si quis dixerit, miniſtrum in peccato mortali exiſtentem, modò omnia eſſentialia,quæ ad Sacramentum conficiendum aut conferendum pertinent,ſervavit,non conficere aut conferre Sacramentum,Anathema ſit.

13. Si quis dixerit, receptos & approbatos Eccleſiæ Catholicæ ritus, in ſolenni adminiſtratione Sacramentorum adhiberi conſuetos,aut contemni,aut ſine peccato à miniſtris pro libitu omitti, aut in novos alios per quemcunque Eccleſiarum paſtorem mutari poſſe, Anathema ſit.

De Baptiſmo Canon I.

1. Si quis dixerit, Baptiſmum Johannis habuiſſe eandem vim cum Baptiſmo Chriſti,Anathema ſit.

Si quis dixerit,aquam veram & naturalem non eſſe de neceſſitate Baptiſmi, atque ideo verba illa Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti,Niſi quis renatus fuerit ex aqua & ſpiritu ſancto,ad metaphoram aliquam detorſerit, Anathema ſit.

3. Si quis dixerit,in Eccleſia Romana, quæ omnium Eccleſiarum mater & magiſtra, non eſſe veram de Baptiſmi Sacramento doctrinam, Anathema ſit.

4. Si quis dixerit,Baptiſmum,qui etiam datur ab hæreticis in nomine Patris, & Filii, & Spiritus S. cum intentione faciendi quod facit Eccleſia, non eſſe verum Baptiſmum,Anathema ſit.

5. Si quis dixerit,Baptiſmum liberum eſſe,hoc eſt,non neceſſarium ad ſalutem, Anathema ſit.

6. Si quis dixerit,Baptizatum non poſſe, etiam ſi velit,gratiam amittere,quantumcunque peccet,niſi nolit credere, Anathema ſit.

7. Si quis dixerit, Baptizatos per Baptiſmum ipſum ſolius tantùm debitores fidei fieri,non autem univerſæ legis Chriſti ſervandæ,Anathema ſit.

8. Si quis dixerit, Baptizatos liberos eſſe ab omnibus ſanctæ Eccleſiæ præceptis, quæ quæ vel ſcripta vel tradita ſunt, ita ut ea obſervare non teneantur, niſi ſua ſponte illis ſubmittere ſe voluerint, Anathema ſit.

9. Si quis dixerit, ita revocandos eſſe homines ad Baptiſmi ſuſcepti memoriam, aut vota omnia, quæ poſt Baptiſmum fiunt, vi promiſſionis in Baptiſmo ipſo jam facta, irrita eſſe intelligant, quaſi per ea & fidei quam profeſſi ſunt, detrahatur, & ipſi Baptiſmo, Anathema ſit.

10. Si quis dixerit, peccata omnia, quæ poſt Baptiſmum fiunt, ſola recordatione & fide ſuſcepti Baptiſmi vel dimitti, vel venialia fieri, Anathema ſit.

11. Si quis dixerit, verè & ritè collatum Baptiſmum iterandum eſſe illi, qui apud infideles fidem Chriſti negaverit, cùm ad pœnitentiam convertitur, Anathema ſit.

12. Si quis dixerit, neminem eſſe baptizandum niſi ea ætate, qua Chriſtus baptizatus eſt, vel in ipſo mortis articulo, Anathema ſit.

13. Si quis dixerit, parvulos eò quòd actum credendi non habent, ſuſcepto Baptiſmo inter fideles computandos non eſſe, ac propterea cùm ad annos diſcretionis pervenerint, eſſe baptizandos, aut præſtare omitti eorum baptiſma, quàm eos non actu proprio credentes, baptizari in ſola fide Eccleſiæ, Anathema ſit.

14. Si quis dixerit, hujusmodi parvulos baptizatos, cùm adoleverint, interrogandos eſſe, an ratum haberi velint, quod patrimi eorum nomine dum baptizarentur, pollitici ſunt, & ubi ſe nolle reſponderint, ſuo eſſe arbitrio relinquendos, nec alia interim pœna ad Chriſtianam vitam cogendos, niſi ut ab Euchariſtiæ aliorúmque Sacramentorum perceptione arceantur, donec reſipiſcant, Anathema ſit.

De Confirmatione Canon I.

1. Si quis dixerit, Confirmationem baptizatorum otioſam ceremoniam eſſe, & non potiùs verum & proprium Sacramentum, aut olim nihil aliud fuiſſe, quàm catecheſin quandam, qua adoleſcentiæ proximi, fidei ſuæ rationem coram Eccleſia exponebant, Anathema ſit.

2. Si quis dixerit, injurios eſſe Spiritui S. eos, qui ſacro Confirmationis Chriſmati virtutem aliquam tribuunt, Anathema ſit.

3. Si quis dixerit, ſanctæ Confirmationis ordinarium miniſtrum non eſſe ſolum Epiſcopum, ſed ſimplicem quemvis ſacerdotem, Anathema ſit.

Decretum ſecundum de Reformatione, in eadem ſeptima Seſſione.

Eadem ſacroſancta Synodus incœptum reformationis & reſidentiæ negotium, ad Dei laudem & Chriſtianæ religionis incrementum proſequi intendens, ut ſequitur, ſtatuendum cenſuit, ſalva ſemper in omnibus ſedis Apoſtolicæ authoritate.

Cap. 1.

Ad Cathedralium Eccleſiarum regimen, nullus niſi ex legitimo matrimonio natus & ætate matura, gravitate morum, literarúmque ſcientia, juxta conſtitutionem Alexandri tertii, quæ incipit; Cùm in cunctis, in Concilio Lateranenſi promulgatam, præditus aſſumatur.

Cap. 2.

Nemo quacunque etiam dignitate, gradu aut præeminentia præfulgens, plures Metropolitanas ſeu cathedrales Eccleſias in titulum ſive commendam, aut alio quovis nomine contra ſacrorum Canonum inſtituta, recipere; & ſimul retinere præſumat: cùm valde fœlix ſit ille cenſendus, cui unam Eccleſiam bene ac fructuosè, & cum animarum ſibi commiſſarum ſalute regere contigerit. Qui autem plures Eccleſias contra præſentis decreti tenorem nunc detinent, una quam maluerint retenta, reliquas intra ſex menſes, ſi ad liberam ſedis Apoſtolicæ diſpoſitionem pertineant, aliàs intra annum dimittere teneantur: alioquin Eccleſia ipſa (ultimò obtenta duntaxat excepta) eo ipſo vacare cenſeantur.

Cap. 3.

Inferiora beneficia, præſertim curam animarum habentia; perſonis dignis & habilibus, & quæ in loco reſidere, ac per ſeipſos curam ipſam exercere valeant, juxta conſtitutionem Alexandri tertii in Lateranenſi (quæ incipit, Quia nonnulli) & aliam Gregorii decimi, in generali Lugdunenſi Concilio (quæ incipit, Licet canon) editam conferantur. Aliter autem facta collatio, ſive proviſio, omnino irritetur. & ordinarius collator pœnas conſtitutionis Concilii generalis (quæ incipit, Grave nimis) ſe noverit incurſurum.

Cap. 4.

Quicunque de cætero plura curata, aut aliàs incompatibilia beneficia Eccleſiaſtica, ſive per viam unionis ad vitam, ſeu commendæ perpetuæ, aut alio quocunque nomine & titulo contra formam ſacrorum Canonum, & præſertim conſtitutionis Innocentii tertii (quæ incipit, De multa) recipere ac ſimul retinere præſumpſerit, beneficiis ipſis juxta ipſius conſtitutionis diſpoſitionem ipſo jure, etiam præſentis Canonis vigore, privatus exiſtat.

Cap. 5.

Ordinarii locorum quoſcunque plura curata, aut aliàs incompatibilia beneficia Eccleſiaſtica obtinentes, diſpenſationes ſuas obtinere diſtrictè compellant, & aliàs procedant juxta Conſtitutionem Gregorii decimi, in generali Lugdunenſi Concilio editam, (quæ incipit, Ordinarii) quam eadem ſancta Synodus innovandam cenſuit, & innovat: ac deus inſuper, quòd ipſi ordinarii etiam per idoneorum Vicariorum deputationem, & congruè protinus fructuum aſſignationem omnino provideant, ut animarum cura nullatenus negligatur, gatur, & beneficia ipſa debitis obſequiis minimè defraudentur, appellationibus, privilegiis, exemptionibus quibuſcunque etiam cum judicum ſpecialium deputatione, & illorum inhibitionibus in præmiſſis nemini ſuffragantibus.

Cap. 6.

Uniones perpetuæ à quadraginta annis citra factæ, examinari ab ordinariis tanquam à ſede Apoſtolica delegatis poſſint, & quæ per ſubreptionem vel obreptionem obtentæ fuerint, irritæ declarentur. Illæ verò, quæ à dicto tempore citra conceſſæ, nondum in toto vel in parte ſortitæ ſunt effectum, & quæ deinceps ad cujuſvis inſtantiam fient, niſi eas ex legitimis, aut aliàs rationalibus cauſis coram loci ordinario, vocatis quorum intereſt, verificandis factas fuiſſe conſtiterit, per ſubreptionem obtentæ præſumantur, ac propterea niſi aliter à ſede Apoſtolica declaratum fuerit, viribus omnino careant.

Cap. 7.

Beneficia Eccleſiaſtica curata, quæ Cathedralibus Collegiatis, ſeu aliis Eccleſiis, vel monaſteriis, beneficiis, ſeu collegiis, aut piis locis quibuscunque perpetuò unita & annexa reperiuntur, ab ordinariis locorum annis ſingulis viſitentur: qui ſolicitè providere procurent, ut per idoneos vicarios etiam perpetuos, niſi ipſis Ordinariis pro bono Eccleſiarum regimine aliter expedire videbitur, ab eis eum tertia partis fructuum, aut majori vel minori, arbitrio ipſorum Ordinariorum, portione, etiam ſuper certa re aſſignanda, ibidem deputandos, animarum cura laudabiliter exerceatur, appellationibus, privilegiis, exemptionibus, etiam cum judicum deputatione, & illorum inhibitionibus quibuscunque in præmiſſis minimè ſuffragantibus.

Cap. 8.

Locorum ordinarii Eccleſias quascunque quomodolibet exemptas auctoritate Apoſtolica ſingulis annis viſitare teneantur, & opportunis juris remediis providere, ut quæ reparatione indigent, reparentur, & cura animarum, ſi qua illis immineat, aliiſque debitis obſequiis minimè defraudentur, appellationibus, privilegiis, conſuetudinibus, etiam ab immemorabili tempore præſcriptis, judicum deputationibus, vel illorum inhibitionibus penitus excluſis.

Cap. 9.

Ad majores Eccleſias promoti, munus conſecrationis intra tempus à jure ſtatutum ſuſcipiant, & prorogationes ultra ſex menſes conceſſæ, nulli ſuffragentur.

Cap. 10.

Non licet Capitulis Eccleſiarum, ſede vacante, intra annum à die vacationis, ordinandi licentiam, aut literas dimiſſorias, ſeu reverendas, ut aliqui vocant, tam ex juris communis munis dispensatione, quàm cujusvis privilegii, consuetudinis vigore, alicui qui beneficii Ecclesiastici recepti sive recipiendi occasione arctatus non fuerit, concedere. Si secus fiat, capitulum contraveniens Ecclesiastico subjaceat interdicto: & sic ordinarii, si in minoribus ordinibus constituti fuerint, nullo privilegio clericali, præsertim in criminalibus gaudeant: in majoribus verò ab executione ordinum, ad beneplacitum futuri prælati sint ipso jure suspensi.

Cap. 11.

Facultates de promovendo à quocunque, non suffragentur, nisi habentibus legitimam causam, ob quam à propriis Episcopis ordinari non possint, in literis exprimendam: & tunc non ordinentur, nisi ab Episcopo in sua diœcesi residente, aut pro eo Pontificalia exercente, & diligenti prævio examine.

Cap. 12.

Facultates de non promovendo, præterquam in casibus à jure expressis concessæ, ad annum tantùm suffragentur.

Cap. 13.

Præsentati seu electi, vel nominati à quibusvis Ecclesiasticis personis, etiam sedis Apostolicæ nuntii, ad quævis Ecclesiastica beneficia non instituantur, nec confirmentur, neque admittantur etiam prætextu cujusvis privilegii seu consuetudinis, etiam ab immemorabili tempore præscriptæ: nisi fuerint priùs à locorum Ordinariis examinati & idonei reperti, & nullus appellationis remedio se tueri possit, quò minùs examen subire teneatur: præsentatis tamen, electis, seu nominatis ab universitatibus seu collegiis generalium studiorum exceptis.

Cap. 14.

In exemptorum causis, constitutio Innocentii quarti (quæ incipit, Volentes) in generali Concilio Lugdunensi edita, servetur: quam eadem sacrosancta Synodus innovandam censuit & innovat, addendo insuper, quòd in civilibus causis mercedum & miserabilium personarum, clerici sæculares aut regulares extra monasterium degentes, quomodolibet exempti etiamsi certum judicem à sede Apostolica deputatum in partibus habeant: in aliis verò, si ipsum judicem non habuerint) coram locorum Ordinariis, tanquam in hoc ab ipsa sede delegatis, conveniri, & jure medio ad solvendum debitum cogi & compelli possint, privilegiis, exemptionibus, conservatorum deputationibus, & eorum inhibitionibus, adversus præmissa nequaquam valituris.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS VII.

DIe poſt Seſſionem ſextam proxima in generali Congregatione deliberatum eſt de materia digerenda in Seſſionem ſequentem. Cúmque Præſulibus viſum eſſet, ut poſtulante ita Auguſtanæ Confeſſionis, quam hactenus ſequebantur, ordine de Miniſterio eccleſiaſtico, & prima Miniſterii parte, eccleſiaſtica nimirum poteſtate ageretur, Theologis contra, utpote in hoc argumento Canonico potiùs quàm Scholaſtico minùs verſatis, adlubeſceret potiùs materia de Sacramentis, utpote doctrinæ de juſtificatione affinis, in horum potiùs, quàm illorum ſententiam itum à Legatis, quibus ſemel propoſitum erat illam de Eccleſiaſtica poteſtate diſceptationem, tanquam infamem ſcopulum, declinare. Gemina Congregatione inſtituta, altera ex Theologis conſtans, præſidente (ſiquidem utraque eodem die Congregatio haberetur) Cardinale S. Crucis, tractationem de Sacramentis; altera ex Præſulibus Canoniſtis conflata, præſidente Cardinale Montano, argumentum Reformationis continuandum ſuſcepit. In re Sacramentorum à deſignatis formati articuli de Sacramentis in genere 14. de Baptiſmo 17. de Confirmatione 4. Hos articulos magno diſputationum æſtu diſcuſſos videſis apud Hiſtoricum *lib. Tandem Patres formandis fidei decretis deſtinati, expenſis Theologorum tum conſiderationibus, tum concluſionibus, de quibus inter eos convenerat, de Sacramentis in genere anathemata quatuordecim, de Baptiſmo decem, de Confirmatione tria conficiunt, quæ omnia ea cura explicata ſunt, ut opinionum Pontificiarum nulla cenſuræ ſubjiceretur, ſed verbis expreſſæ communibus omnibus partibus, quamvis totis caſtris diſſidentibus, ſatisfacerent. Verùm capita ad doctrinæ explicationem facientia ita concinnari, ut utrique parti ſatisfieret, non potuerunt, inprimis illud de modo, quo Sacramenta gratiam continent & conſequuntur. Placuit igitur rem ad Congregationem generalem rejici. Cúmque eædem ibi difficultates ſe proderent, & ſchiſma timendum eſſet, alii capita doctrinæ planè omitti, alii formari talia, quibus ſe ſubjicerent etiam diſſentientes Theologi, alii authore Johanne Baptiſta Cigala Epiſcopo Albiganenſi, opiniones diſſentientes tolerari, procurarique, ne una alteram damnet, voluerunt. Alteram Præſulum & Canoniſtarum Congregationem, cui Reformationis negotium injunctum erat, quod attinet, primò inter eos non convenit de argumento, Epiſcopis inprimis Hiſpanis articulum Reſidentiæ, an videlicet ea ſit juris divini, tractari & definiri cupientibus, Legatis verò id prorſus abnuentibus, ac tandem ſeverè interdicentibus, ne ante Seſſionem ullum ea de re verbum fieret, eò quòd Papæ id eſſet decretiſſimum: emendandis autem incommodis, quæ abuſui non reſidendi occaſionem dederunt, utiliter ut incumberent, præcipientibus. Ita decretum, ut quæ ſuperiori Seſſione omiſſa eſſent, reſumerentur, ſimúlque ageretur de impedimentis iis tollendis, quæ homines ad non reſidendum impellunt. Cúmque inter ea beneficiorum pluralitas principem locum teneat, quòd fieri nequeat, ut quis pluribus locis reſideat, de ea inprimis uti tractaretur, conſtitutum eſt. Concinnatum ante omnia decretum Reformationis de Sacramentorum in genere abuſu corrigendo, & quibuſdam in ſpecie: cujus ſex erant capita, quæ extant apud Hiſtoricum lib. II. pag. 218. NOTÆ
Ad Hiſtoriam & Decretum Seſſionis VII.

PRimò libertatis Concilii oppreſſæ non unum in Seſſionis hujus hiſtoria veſtigium occurrit. Etenim Legati Præſules de poteſtate eccleſiaſtica & reſidentia tractaturos, nec non capita doctrinæ conſignaturos cohibuerunt, & in dubiis caſibus non aliunde, quàm ab ore & decreto Papæ definitionem expectârunt. Hinc in libris paulò poſt in vulgus emiſſis querelæ motæ ſunt, quòd Legati quæſtionem de reſidentia moveri vetantes, Concilii libertati derogârint. Ipſe Pontifex conatus eſt univerſam Reformationem à cognitione Concilii ſuum ad tribunal evocare, quod cum opprobrio Concilii eſſe conjunctum, etiam qui ei favebant, agnoverunt. Atque eandem ob cauſam Hiſpani Præſules aliique cenſuram capitum quorumdam ſcriptam Legatis exhibere novo exemplo haud erubuerunt. Eodem pertinent reſponſiones Romæ ad cenſuram illam Delegatorum, quibus Papæ Legatos ita adſtrinxit, ut extra terminos ibi fixos egredi haud liceret. Et ut ſuffragiis addictorum ſibi mancipiorum vinceret, per nuntium ſuum novos Præſules Venetiis Tridentum excivit. Denique cùm in Seſſione ipſa Præſules ii, qui in Congregationibus Decreto Reformationis formando refragabantur, verbis modeſtis peterent, ut perſonarum capitibus illis comprehenſarum gradus diſtincti exprimerentur; Legati verba eorum non aliter acceperunt, quàm voces hominum moribundorum & animam exhalantium, ut; Hiſtoricus loquitur. Secundò libera confeſſio quorundam Epiſcoporum à Legatis apud Pontificem delatorum, eò quòd de Beatitudine ſuâ minùs quàm decebat, loquantur reverenter, quæ verba tantùm dare ſtudeat, & Synodum ad homines inani ſpe lactandos, non ad abuſus ſeriò reformandos celebret; Papæ Synodum gubernantis hypocriſin palam prodit. Tertiò de articulis fidei, velut de numero & inſtitutione, neceſſitate, dignitate Sacramentorum, de opere operato, de modo, quo Sacramenta gratiam continent, de operatione Sacramentorum V. Teſt. de charactere Sacramenti, Miniſtro, &c. obortæ ſunt in Synodo inter Theologos diſputationes graviſſimæ. Quis non earum controverſiarum perſpicuam definitionem & explicationem à Synodo expectâſſet? Sed expectationem fefellit Synodus, quæ tum anathemata confecit ejuſmodi, ut opinionum Pontificiarum nulla cenſuræ ſubjicerentur, ſed ut ea verbis expreſſe communibus omnibus partibus ſatisfacerent: tum capita doctrinæ, quæ plerique formari cupiebant eum in modum, quo id in tractatu de juſtificatione factum erat, juſſu Pontificis, ne inter ipſos Pontificios novorum Schiſmatum ſmatum ſemina ſpargerentur, planè omiſit. Conflictus de variis capitibus Cadmæorum Patrum in ipſis quæſtionibus Theologicis ſpecimina exhibebimus. Quartò variæ de Reformatione abuſuum Canoniſtarum ac Præſulum diſceptationes, & ipſum decretum tandem formatum eccleſiæ Pontificiæ, qualis olim fuit ante reformationem, faciem nobis depingit. Non dicam ipſoſmet Præſules in ordinis eccleſiaſtici enormitates & vitia palam detonuiſſe, aliis culpam corruptionis Cleri aulæ Romanæ imputantibus, aliis alia cauſantibus. Inprimis verò eccleſiæ Simoniam & peſtiferum morbum pandit materia hac Seſſione ventilata de pluralitate beneficiorum. De qua videſis M. A. de Dominis lib.9. c.10.ſſ.29-39. De eadem Hiſtorici digniſſima memoratu extat lib.II.pag.223. diſſertatio, cujus ſumma huc redit: Initiò bona eccleſiaſtica ſpectáſſe ad omnes, & ex communi maſſa id ſumptum, quod ad victum veſtitúmque pauperum ac miniſtrorum ſufficeret, ita ut potior pauperum quàm miniſtrorum ratio habita fuerit. Deinde deſcenſum eſſe uno gradu, quando unica illa maſſa in quatuor partes tributa, & pauperum pars infimo loco collocari cœpit. Mox excluſo ab eccleſiæ nomine populo Chriſtiano, & ſolis clericis id ſibi nomen vendicantibus, & uſum fructum & dominium in paucos ceſſiſſe, quod prius erat omnium, & quæ priùs à cura ſpirituali miniſteria vocabantur, & officia ſecularia inprimis ſpectare, & beneficia nominari cœpiſſe. Vigentibus tamen adhuc antiquis canonibus, quibus non licebat unum in duos titulos ordinari, neminem unum potuiſſe niſi unicum beneficium obtinere. Attritis deinceps bellorum calamitatibus bonis eccleſiaſticis, ut ad victum miniſtrorum non ſufficerent, factum eſſe, ut beneficium conferretur in eum, qui jam aliud habebat, dummodo utrique commodè attendere poſſet. Idq; factum non in favorem perſonæ, ſed eccleſiæ, quæ miniſtro proprio deſtituebatur. Hoc deinceps colore itum eſſe ad plura beneficia etiam non poſtulante neceſſitate uni concedenda, tandémque non puditum eſſe in gratiam ejus, qui Sacerdotium tenebat, id facere, quod ante fiebat bono eccleſiæ, adhibita ad ſucum populo faciendum tum diſtinctione inter beneficia incompatibilia, in quibus erat reſidendum, & compatibilia, quæ reſidentiam non poſtulârunt, quæ & cum his & ſeorſim inter ſe retineri poterant: tum gloſſa illa Canoniſtarum, plura uni beneficia deferenda non eſſe, niſi quando unum miniſtro alendo non ſufficit. Quantum autem ſatis eſſet uni, largo pede illos metiri ſolitos, non perſonam, ſed qualitatem perſonæ, puta conſanguincorum familiam, equos, famulos, ſtatum, &c. reſpicientes. Ita Epiſcopo largiſſimam portionem aſſignatam, Cardinali verò Regiam. Sed & de beneficiis incompatibilibus diſpenſandi Papam ſibi poteſtatem reſervâſſe, atque inde viam factam eſſe commendis, primitus eccleſiæ bono inſtitutis, cùm bello aut peſtilentia graſſante eccleſiæ paſtore carentis cura commendabatur alteri, ut præter eccleſiæ propriæ curam, ſine poteſtate tamen in facultates eccleſiæ, eam etiam adminiſtraret, donec de proprio paſtore ei provideri poſſet: at temporis progreſſu fœdiſſimè degenerantibus, cùm nimirum commendatarii variis prætextibus uſi fructus occupârunt ; & quò minùs eccleſia aliter proſpiceretur, varia impedimenta objecerunt. Cui malo ut obviam iretur, ſtatutum eſſe, ne commenda duraret ultra ſex menſes ; reſervata tamen Pontifici poteſtate multò longiori tempore eccleſias ejuſmodi commendandi, & tandem etiam per totam vitam commendatariis data licentia præter impenſas neceſſarias emolumentis omnibus fruendi. Subjicit, non puduiſſe Clementem VII. Anno 1534. Hippolyto Medicæo Cardinali nepoti ſuo, omnia per orbem beneficia ſecularia & regularia, dignitates & rectoratus, ſimplicia & curata vacantia commendare ſpatio ſex menſium , cum poteſtate de fructibus omnium arbitratu ſuo diſponendi. Et ad palliandam eam beneficiorum pluralitatem inſerviit etiam Beneficiorum unio, qua videlicet in gratiam Cardinalis vel viri illuſtris 30. vel 40. beneficia , etiam in diverſis orbis Chriſtiani locis ſita uniebantur. Ita in ſpeciem uni unicum beneficium conferebatur, ſed quod reapſe plura ſecum traheret ; qua qui gaudebat, inquit Hiſtoricus, poterat ad eundem modum peccatum ſuum confiteri, quo is qui Patri faſſus, ſe furto abſtuliſſe frænum equi, reticens interim, fræno huic alligatum fuiſſe caballum. Hæc illa eſt impietatis Simoniacæ lerna. Quintò decretum Reformationis, quod Simoniæ huic opponendum erat, nil niſi fumum imperitis excitavit. At gnari rerum fucum ludificationi nullo negotio deprehendunt. Etenim abſolutum diſpenſationis jus Pontifici, Præſulibus verò multiplices exceptiones relinquuntur. Quam reſtrictionem omnia labefactare, ipſi in Synodo Præſules haud pauci confeſſi ſunt. An etiam exinde melius eccleſiæ habuerint, cùm res ipſa loquatur, nihil attinet hic prolixè commemorare. Præterea cùm præcipui illi abuſus hæreant in Papa & Cardinalibus, Synodus tamen vel illius vel horum mentionem facere in decreto, quamvis inſtantibus Epiſcopis, inprimis Hiſpanis, & monentibus, ut in ægro corpore ſanando, ita etiam hîc malis gravioribus & partibus vitalibus potiſſimùm attendendum , reliqua ſua ſponte aut levibus remediis curari ; non ſuſtinuit, frivolo prætextu uſa, non eſſe è dignitate ejus Ordinis, primum in eccleſia locum tenentis, & affluentis hominibus egregiè de eccleſia meritis, ut emanet in vulgus, in eo ordine non deeſſe abuſus, qui emendationem requirant, neque ii ipſi per ſe emendandis incumbant. Ita cleri ſui capita videri pios, quàm eſſe maluerunt. Sextò notandum & illud, quòd capite 2. ſancitur, ut tenentes plures Cathedrales eccleſias omnes exceptâ unâ dimittant, addita ratione : cùm valde felix ille cenſendus ſit, cui unam eccleſiam bene & fructuosè & cum animarum ſibi commiſſarum ſalute regere contigerit. Quis non arrepto hoc gladio ſtatim jugulet Oecumenicum Romani Epiſcopi Papatum? Is enim omnium, quæ per univerſum orbem ſparſæ ſunt, eccleſiarum curam & jurisdictionem ſibi vendicat. Quo verò jure, ſi valde felix cenſendus is, cui unam eccleſiam bene ne & fructuosè regere contigerit? Septimò denique Decreto Reformationis insunt non pauca, quæ supremæ potestati architectonicæ præjudicant. Veluti quòd Episcopis tanquam Rom. Pontificis Legatis juris dicundi potestas datur, non obstantibus omni appellatione privilegiisque in contrarium nitentibus. In ipsa Gallia ejusmodi delegationes, seu potiùs extraordinariæ jurisdictiones, citra Majestatis Regiæ permissionem & approbationem curiarum supremarum, quæ ad prohibendos abusus ex Bullis & rescriptis Pontificis & Delegatorum ejus executionibus, nec non ecclesiasticæ jurisdictionis exercitio, appellationum tanquam ab abusu cognitionem retinent, non admittuntur. Eodem pertinet, quòd cap. 15. Episcopis Xenodochiorum & Ptochotrophiorum administratio tribuitur. Cui Decreto etiam Reges Galliæ intercesserunt, eam provinciam Civitatum majoribus, Consulibus & Civibus, controversiarúmque, quæ ex ea administratione nascuntur, decisionem ordinariis judicibus demandantes.

QUÆSTIO I.

An Sacramenta N. Test. non sint plura vel pauciora, quàm septem, videlicet Baptismus, Confirmatio, Eucharistia, Pœnitentia, Extrema Unctio, Ordo, Matrimonium: & quidem singula à Domino nostro Jesu Christo instituta?

ASserit Canon 1. totidem ferè verbis. Nos ambiguitatem vocis Sacramenti ante omnia expedimus. Rectè jam olim Bonaventura docuit, *Sacramentum accipi tripliciter, communiter, propriè & propriissimè. fuit primus & ſecundus ſignificatus, qui proinde juxta utrumque Sacramenti nomine multa rectè inſigniverunt. Sed & vetus Interpres tum in V. tum in N. Teſt. translatione non ſemel Sacramenti nomine uſus eſt in prima & ſecunda notione. At Tridentina Synodus demum in tertio ſignificatu numerum ſeptenarium definivit. Nos contra pertendimus, in propriiſſimo ſignificatu Sacramenta non eſſe niſi duo, Baptiſmum & Euchariſtiam. Rationes nobis ſunt ſequentes.

ARG. I. Definitio Sacramenti propriiſſimè dicti non convenit niſi hiſce duobus. Synodus quidem ob diſcrepantes Theologorum ſententias Sacramentum propriiſſimè dictum definire non ſuſtinuit, ne videlicet illud ἐκδόσ pomum è medio tollere neceſſum haberet. Nobis verò Sacramentum N. T. eſt ſignum elementare inſtitutum à Chriſto, ſignificans & exhibens gratiam juſtificationis & ſanctificationis. Ejuſmodi autem ſigna non ſunt niſi duo, Baptiſmus & Euchariſtia.

RESP. REDING: 1. Quia notitia Sacramenti ex definitione Nominis elucet, non opus erat, ut Synodus definitionem Rei, & circa illam ſubtilitates Scholaſticas expediret. 2. Sacramenta quinque controverſa habere proprietates Sacramenti in definitione tua expreſſas, inductione ſingulorum probari poteſt. Tomo II. Tract. V. Ss. 2. pag. 25. 26. 27. Reſp. 1. Nec nominis Sacramenti, nec rei definitionem Tridentini Patres attentare auſi ſunt. De utroque nihil certi unanimi conſenſu decernere poterant, ob ſententiarum divortia. Quoad definitionem Nominis, Bellarminus de Sacram. in gen. lib. I. cap. 8. velut propriiſſimam hanc ponit, quòd ſit ceremonia initians conſecránſque hominem Deo, ſive ſignum rei Sacræ, ſacrantis & initiantis hominem, quaſi in tua definitione ulla nominis vis aut etymologia exprimeretur; vel ceremonia initians conſecránſque, & ſignum rei conſecrantis initiantiſque æquipolleret: vel Sacramenta eſſent ſigna hominum, qui initiantur & conſecrantur; vel conſecrarent initiarentque ea, quorum ſigna ſunt. Quæ cùm abſurdiſſima ſint, oportebat ſanè Tridentinos Patres certius aliquid edocere ſuos clientes. Sed circa definitionem Rei quantus quæſo eſt diſcordantium æſtus? Olim quidem S. Auguſtinus, laudante & Gratiano de conſecr. diſt. 2. Can. ſacrificium; & Lombardo 4. Sent. Diſt. 1. Sacramentum inviſibilis gratiæ viſibilem formam definivit. ubi formam intelligi pro ſigno ſenſibili, eo modo, quo imago Herculis forma Herculis dicitur, Scotus in 4. Sent. Diſt. 1. q. 2. num. 10. & viſibile pro ſenſibili ſenſu exteriori, maximè quantum ad duos ſenſus diſciplinabiles, Bonaventura in 4. Sent. Diſt. 1. denique inviſibiler gratiam pro effectu Dei gratuito interiori, ordinato ad ſalutem hominis viatoris, accipi, idem Scotus loc. cit. affirmant. Deſerta hac S. Auguſtini definitione, Lombardus 4. Sent. Diſt. 1. Sacramentum definit ſignum gratiæ Dei, & inviſibilis gratiæ formam, ut ipſius imaginem gerat, & cauſa exiſtat. Eam definitionem Hugo Cavellus, Scoti Scholiaſtes, rejicit, dicens, Magiſtrum hic non teneri. Thomas tamen in 4. ſent. diſt. 1. q. 1. art. 3. eam probat & rationem Sacramenti completiſſimè deſignare, contendit. Aliam definitionem legere eſt apud Iſidorum Hiſpalenſem Orig. lib VI. 19. quòd nimirùm Sacramentum ſit, in quo ſub tegumento rerum viſibilium virtus Divina ſalutem noſtram ſecretiùs operatur.

Quam

Quam definitionem, utpote ex Auguſtino hauſtam Durandus in 4 ſent diſt.1. q.1. utroque pollice probat. Hugo de S. Victore de Sacram. lib.1. par.9. cap.2. hanc Sacramenti definitionem promit: Sacramentum eſt corporale vel materiale elementum, extrinſecus oculis ſuppoſitum, ex ſimilitudine repræſentans, ex inſtitutione ſignificans, & ex ſanctificatione continens inviſibilem gratiam. Scotus in 4. ſent. diſt.1. q.2. num.9. ſic definit: Sacramentum eſt ſignum ſenſibile gratiam Dei, vel effectum Dei gratuitum ex inſtitutione Divina efficaciter ſignificans, ordinatum ad ſalutem hominis viatoris. Aliter denique Catechiſmus Tridentinus, aliter alii, uti apud ipſum Bellarminum de Sacram. lib.1.11. videre eſt. Diverſitatis hujus conſcii Tridentini Patres nonnulli, Hiſtorico lib.II. p.m.208.209. teſte, exiſtimarunt, ſatius eſſe numerum Sacramentorum non definire, eò quòd determinatio veræ ac propriæ eſſentiæ & definitionis Sacramenti res ſit plena difficultatis, propter multiplices & diſcrepantes definitiones, non à Scholaſticis modò, ſed à Patribus etiam allatas, quarum unam qui reſpiciat, illud proprium Sacramentum dixerit, quod, aliam aſpiciens, à Sacramento excluſerit. Etiam inter Scholaſticos adhuc controverti, an Sacramentum poſſit definiri, (negantibus id Richardo, Occamo, Majore, &c.) an unitatem habeat, an ſit aliquid reale, an intentionale. Neque oraculum Redingii, Pallavicinus, ſimpliciter contradicit, ſed hoc duntaxat Hiſt. C. T. lib.IX.4.3. Redingio noſtro κεντρώσαν ſuppeditat, aliud eſſe, ignorare, quid ſaltem exiimè res quædam ſit, & pro vulgari nominis ſignificatione: aliud ejus intimam rationem haud penetrare. In priori ſenſu conſtare inter Scholaſticos, quid ſit Sacramentum, idque ſatis eſſe, ut enumerentur: quo paſto, inquit, ut enumerentur planetæ, opus non eſt, ipſorum naturam introſpicere, ſed ſufficit nominis ſignificationem percipere. Sed verò aliud quoque eſt vulgariter rem appellare, aliud accuratè definire. Patres porro Tridentini accuratè definiendum Sacramentorum numerum ſuſceperunt: neque ſic accuratè niſi definita Sacramenti eſſentia, ut conſtare poſſet omnibus, quid rei nomini illi ſubſit, definire potuerunt. Ita ſi aliter atque aliter Planetam aſtrologi definiverint, non idem Planetarum numerus emergere poterit. Cùm igitur & Patres & Scholaſtici diverſimode Sacramenti vocem acceperint, definiverintque, & pro diverſa acceptione & definitione vocis numerum Sacramentorum auxerint minuerintque; neque Concilii Tridentini tempore communis aliqua definitio ſive uſu, ſive Conciliari decreto quopiam recepta fuerit: non intempeſtivam fuiſſe criſin Theologorum quorundam in ipſo Concilio, à Suavi memoratam, res ipſa loquitur. 2. Argumenta verò, quæ pro quinque controverſis Sacramentis hic ſine neceſſitate cumulaſti, in loco penitiùs diſcutimus.

ARG. II. Sicut Sacramenta Vet. Teſt. duo duntaxat fuerunt, unum initiationis, circumciſio, alterum progreſſus, Paſcha: ita in N. T. duo ſunt, initiationis unum, Baptiſmus, progreſſus & nutritionis alterum, Euchariſtia.

RESP. REDING: In V. T. plura quàm duo Sacramenta fuerunt, Auguſtino lib.XVII.13. contra Fauſtum teſtante, quòd Sacramenta N. T. numero pauciora ſint, quàm Sacramenta V. T. Talia fuerunt circumciſio, Paſcha, Sacerdotium, oblatio victimarum, eſus panum propoſitionis, aſperſio, aquæ ablutio manuum & pedum, &c. Ex circumciſio quidem erat figura Baptiſmi, Paſcha Cœnæ, Sacerdotium legale Sacerdotii Evangelici, Expiationes Moſaicæ Pœnitentiæ. Extremæ unctioni & confirmationi nullum reſpondebat vetus, quia lex Moſaica vacua & egena finis Spiritus S. qui in confirmatione datur, & via ad ſalutem æternam nam, cujus extrema unctio viaticum eſt, non paſcebat. Neque etiam Matrimonio analogum quid reſpondis, quia nondum tum facta fuit unio verbi cum humanitate, cujus ſignum Matrimonii Sacramentum eſt. Ib. pag. 27. Reſp. Veteris Teſtamenti Sacramenta duplicem differentiam recipiunt. Primò enim quædam latè & impropriè, quædam ſtrictè & propriè talia fuerunt. Illa plura fuerunt, & tot ferè, quot ſigna, figuræ & myſteria veteribus Sacramentorum etiam nomine inſignita fuerunt. Hæc longè pauciora, non figuræ duntaxat & rerum futurarum ſigna, ſed etiam ſigilla gratiæ remiſſionis peccatorum. Secundò Sacramenta illa poſterioris generis vel ordinaria & perpetua fuerunt, vel extraordinaria & ἐφήμερα. Hæc fuerunt potiſſimum Nubes, Dei ante caſtra Iſraelitarum procedentis ſedes auguſtiſſima, Exod. XIII. 21. Tranſitus per Mare rubrum, 1 Cor. X. 2. Manna, Exod. XVI. Potus è rupe, Exod XVII. 16. Serpens æneus, Num. XXI. 4-10. Illa non alia fuerunt, quàm Circumciſio & Paſcha. Fruſtra tu in eorundem cenſu Sacerdotium, Expiationes Moſaicas, eſum panum propoſitionis, & ſimiles V. T. figuras collocas, quia Sacramenta propriè dicta, ſeu talia, qualia Circumciſio & Paſcha erant, neutiquam fuerunt. Inter ſacrificia quippe & Sacramenta licet conveniat ratione finis, qui eſt fidei in Chriſtum confirmatio; diſcrimen tamen eſt ratione tum ſitus ἢ λήψεως dationis & acceptionis. quia in Sacramentis propriè dictis aliquid homines accipiunt à Deo; in ſacrificiis veteres aliquid Deo obtulerunt: tum actionis externæ, quia in Sacramentis Deus cum hominibus agit; in ſacrificiis homines egerunt cum Deo Frivola igitur tua comparatio eſt non Sacramentorum cum non Sacramentis. ne falſas hypotheſes tuas, quòd fideles V. T. vel vacui fuerint Spiritu Dei, (quæ manifeſta eſt in ſanctiſſimos viros, veluti merè carnales & animales, imò irregenitos, injuria) vel exſortes cœleſtis vitæ, attingam. Unum addo. te S. Auguſtinum perperam ad partes tuas vocaſſe. Is enim loco à te citato, Sacramenta Veteris legis Sacramentis Novæ opponendo, Sacramenti vocem latiori notione, uti ſæpiùs Patres. Auguſtinus inprimis ipſe, veluti de Civ. D. lib. X. 5. ad Marcell. faciunt, vel certè ordinaria æquè atque extraordinaria computant. Si enim propriè dicta & ordinaria V. T. Sacramenta propriè dictis & ordinariis Novi opponit, & hæc pauca, illa plura conſtituit, oporteret, tua quidem ſententia, plura quàm Septem V. T. Sacramenta eum agnoviſſe. Tu tamen non ultra quatuor vel quinque nobis numerare potuiſti. Quid verò multis? Ipſemet ſenſum animi ſui alibi de Doctr. Chriſt. lib. III. 9. explicans, pauca illa pro multis non alia quàm Baptiſmus Sacramentum, & celebrationem corporis & ſanguinis Domini, recenſet.

ARG. III. Ex latere Chriſti fluxerunt ſanguis & aqua Joh. XIX. 34. 1. Joh. V. 8. Hoc de Sacramentis eccleſiæ explicant Patres, & ipſe Bellarminus.

REſp. READING: Ex hoc ſanguinis & aquæ de Chriſti latere fluentis myſterio S. Patres S. Baptiſmi & Euchariſtiæ Sacramenta illuſtrant; ſed non iccirco reliqua tollunt. Quemodo Auguſtinus de Symb. ad Catech. lib II. 6. etiam Euchariſtiæ Sacramentum ſolo ſanguinis nomine expreſſit. An iccirco corpus Chriſti excluſit? Par hic ratio. Ib. p. 27 28. Reſp. Si nominatis iis reliqua ex propriè dictorum Sacramentorum numero non removent, alibi igitur reliqua illos includere proba. Certè S. Auguſtini verba in loco citato non ſieſe torqueri patiuntur. Sic enim habent: Percuſſum eſt Chriſti latus, ut Evangelium loquitur, & ſtatim manavit Sanguis & Aqua, quæ ſunt Eccleſiæ gemina Sacramenta. Baptiſmum & Cœnam innuens. quæ tamen non expreſſit, ſignificans expreſsè, hæc gemina, non alia Sacramenta N. ARG. VI. Tot ſunt Sacramenta, quot noſtræ cum Chriſto communionis teſſeræ, & quot in ſe ipſo uſurpavit & ſanctificavit Chriſtus. At duæ duntaxat ſunt ejuſmodi teſſeræ, quia omnes in unum corpus baptizati, & una potione potati ſumus 1. Cor. XII. 13. Et Chriſtus ſicut circumciſionem & Paſcha in ſe ſanctificavit: ita Baptiſmum ipſe ſuſcepit, Cœnam verè omnibus percipiendam præcepit.

RESP. REDING: 1. Alibi in Vindic. de Pereg. Relig. paradoxum plus quàm monſtroſum eſſe ais, quòd Chriſtus ipſe Cœnæ particeps redditus ſit. 2. Neque etiam Chriſtus in ſe ſubjectivè uſurpavit eum Baptiſmum, qui in ſe ſuſceptus Sacramentum eſſet, ſed Johannis Baptiſmum ſuſcipiendo aquæ ad Sacramentalis ablutionis virtutem elevavit: adeòque Baptiſmum quoad eſſe Sacramenti inſtituit. 3. Cùm non omnia, quæ ad ſubſtantiam Baptiſmi pertinent, formaliter in S. literis expreſſa ſint, (uti vel inde liquet, quòd illam formulam; Ego te baptizo in nomine Patris, &c. nuſpiam reperire eſt) mirum ne eſt, vel in loco 2. Cor. XII. vel alibi omnium Sacramentorum numerum non exprimi? Ib. pag. 29. 30. Reſp. 1. Tibi nunquam diſſimilis es, fingens pro lubitu quidvis. Etenim Chriſtum ipſum in Cœna ſua ſymbolorum participem redditum eſſe, nec hoc loco affirmo, (quamvis id verum eſſe Scriptura Matth. XXVI. 29. teſtetur) ſed illud potiùs, eum Cœnam omnibus percipiendam præcepiſſe: neque in Vindiciis diſertè nego, ſed tuum duntaxat paradoxum, quod denuo monſtroſum appello, quòd Chriſtus ſubſtantiam corporis ſui manducaverit, configo. 2. Cùm Johannis Baptiſmus & Sacramentum, & idem quoad ſubſtantiam cum Baptiſmo Chriſti fuerit (uti infra oſtendimus) Chriſtus illum in ſe ſuſcipiendo, Sacramentum Baptiſmi, & à ſe quidem inſtituti ſuſcepit. 3. Denique quæcunque ad ſubſtantiam Baptiſmi pertinent, ſcripta ſunt. Unde enim alias Baptiſmi ſubſtantiam Eccleſia hauſiſſet? Impudentiam porro meram ſapit, quòd verba: Ego te baptizo, &c. à traditione potiùs, quàm Scriptura arceſſere videris; cùm tamen ipſe Catechiſmus Concilii Tridentini par. 2. cap. 2. Ss. 13. diſertè doceat, hæc verba à Domino & Servatore noſtro eſſe tradita, cùm Apoſtolis Matth. XXVIII. præcepit: Euntes docete omnes gentes, baptizantes eos nomine Patris, Filii & Spiritus S. Sicut qui exigunt Sacramenta à militibus Principis nomine, eum nominent neceſſe eſt: ſic cùm militiæ Dei per Baptiſmum aſcribuntur & initiantur Chriſtiani, aſcribentes eum nominent, quomodo ipſe præcepit, oportet. licet neceſſe non ſit, ut verba illa præcisè totidem literis & ſyllabis uſurpentur, dummodo mandato ſatisfiat.

ARG. VII. Septem Sacramenta nemo numeravit ante Hugonem de S. Victore & Lombardum, qui floruêre ſeculo XII. Et ſua authoritate eum numerum confirmavit Eugenius IV. poſt Concilium Florentinum, in decreto decreto ſuper unione Armeniorum. Nondum tamen vel Scholaſtici vel Concilium omnia hæc ſeptem eſſe verè & propriiſſimè dicta Sacramenta definierunt. Primi Tridentini Patres hoc ſine ullo ſcripturarum præſidio determinârunt. Et fatentem reum habemus Bellarminum de effect. Sacram. lib. 2. 27. ubi fatetur, duo tantùm poni Sacramenta ex latere Chriſti profluentia, Græcis verè omnibus ut magis communia & principalia.

Resp. Reding: 1. Quomodo igitur Calvinus Inſtit. lib. IV. 19: 1. illam de ſeptem Sacramentis opinionem vetuſtate ipſa radices egiſſe ſcribit? Et quidem ibid. cap. 14. Sect. ult. vetuſtatem illam in Auguſtini tempora reducit? 2. Eugenii decretum ſuper Unione Armeniorum ad ipſum Florentinum Concilium pertinere, aliàs diximus. Atque Sacramentorum numerum illum licet in actu ſignato ex Scriptura non hauſerit, ſingula tamen illa Scripturis niti conſtat. 3. Græci duo illa Sacramenta ut magis communia & principalia recipiunt, non rejectis cæteris. 4. Ne ipſi quidem in numero Sacramentorum conſentitis. Calvinus enim Inſtit. lib. IV. 14. 20. tria, Baptiſmum, Cœnam & manuum impoſitionem: Lutherani totidem, Baptiſmum, Cœnam & Pœnitentiam: & iidem Molliores in Concilio Lipſienſi ſeptem agnoverunt. Ib. pag. 30. 31. Reſp. 1. Mendacia mendaciis cumulare, nullus tibi pudor eſt. Olim quidem Calvinum induxiſti aſſerentem, quòd opinio de ſeptem Sacramentis ſeſe vetuſtate quinque primorum Seculorum commendet. Ego in Vindiciis Theologorum noſtrorum fraudem tuam detexi. Sed nec dum ejus te pudet. Quin novam technam inſtruis, eidem Calvino imponens, quòd Inſtit. lib. IV. 14. Sect. ult. vetuſtatem eam ad tempora Auguſtini reduxerit. Sic autem Calvinus ſcribit: Fortè miſeros iſtos Sophiſtas (verè miſeros) deceperunt inmodica etiam Sacramentorum encomia, quæ de ſignis noſtris apud veteres leguntur. Quale eſt illud Auguſtini: Quòd veteris legis Sacramenta Salvatorem tantùm promittebant, noſtra verò dant ſalutem. Has & ſimiles figuras cùm non animadverterent hyperbolicas eſſe, & ipſi hyperbolica dogmata ſua promulgârunt; ſed prorſus alieno ſenſu à veterum ſcriptis. Non enim aliud illic voluit Auguſtinus, quàm quòd idem alibi ſcribit, Sacramenta Moſaicæ legis Chriſtum prænuntiaſſe: noſtra verò annuntiare. En, ne quidem de numero, ſed de efficacia Sacramentorum Calvinus loquitur: & Auguſtini ſententiam à Pontificiorum ſententia manifeſtè diſparat. Non decebat tam liberè mentiri hominem Chriſtianum, nedum aſcetam, imò aſcetarum anteſignanum, qualis tu haberi vis. 2. De Eugenii decreto planè ſpurio nos quoque alibi, inprimis adverſus Lojolitam Ottonem & dicta & vindicata ſolidè, repetere hic ſuperſedemus. Neque vel unum ex controverſis Scriptura niti, procedente diſputatione probamus; de numero ſignato minimè ſoliciti. Sufficit nobis, quòd ex Scriptura probari poteſt, Baptiſmum & Cœnam eſſe Sacramenta propriè dicta, cætera, quæ vos additis, eſſe ἀπόκρυφα. quibus excluſis manifeſtè liquebit, duo, non plura eſſe. 3. Græcorum ſententiam de Sacramentis principalibus exponit Bellarminus. Sed aliter longè Græci veteres intelligunt; quibus diſcrimen principalium & minùs principalium Sacramentorum ne quidem in mentem venit. Nam Juſtinus Martyr Apol. II. pag. 159. 160. 161. Gregorius Nyſſenus Orat. Catechet. cap. 33. 35. Dionyſius Areopagita Eccl. Hier. cap. 2. Cyrillus Alexandrinus *lib. XII. in Evang. Chryſoſtomus Homil. 85. in Joh. in univerſum Sacramenta duo, nec plura, nec pauciora recenſent. Dionyſius etiam cap. 5. Sacerdotales ordines diſertè à Sacramentis diſtinguit. Hinc adeò Arcudius veſter Corcyræus de Concord. Eccl. Or. & Occid. in ſeptem Sacr. adminiſtratione lib. I. 2. bacchatus ſatis contra hæreticos, quos ita appellat, & conſenſum Græcorum jactans, nullum tamen ex veteribus pro ſeptenario numero adducere potuit; contentus recentiorum quorundam, veluti Simeonis Archiepiſcopi Theſſalonicenſis, Jeremiæ Patriarchæ Conſtantinopolitani, Gregorii Protoſincelli, & neſcio cujus Monachi Jobi ſuffragiis. quibus nos quoque recentiores alios, inprimis Cyrillum Patriarcham Conſtantinopolitanum, binarium numerum non nudè aſſerentem, ſed fusè ex veteribus demonſtrantem, opponere poſſumus. Omitto conſenſum Latinorum, Tertulliani inprimis & Auguſtini, à Cel. Chamiero Panſtrat. de Sacram. lib. IV. 5. adverſus Bellarmini inſtantias ſolidè vindicatum. 4. Denique noſtrorum diſſenſum fruſtra exagitas, oblitus infinitarum contentionum, quæ veſtros circa doctrinam de Sacramentis exercent. quas Doctiſſ. Forbeſius Inſtruct. Hiſtorico-Theol lib. IX. in apricum adduxit. Et tamen nullus noſtros inter diſſenſus gliſcit. Calvinus enim Inſtit. lib. IV. 8:19. duo tantùm eſſe N. Teſt Sacramenta ordinaria & perpetua, de quibus ſolis quæſtio eſt, diligenter inculcat. Ib. cap. 19:31. addit temporarium & extraordinarium, manuum impoſitionem. Sed ordinariis & propriè dictis neutiquam illud accenſet. Lutherani verò nonnulli Pœnitentiam annumerantes, de Sacramentis impropriè & latè dictis ſe loqui, teſtantur. Quæ de Concilio Lipſienſi narras, fabulam olent. Nam Lipſienſe Concilium ne fando quidem auditum eſt.

ARG. VIII. Occaſiones aucti Sacramentorum numeri obſervare operæ pretium eſt. Primò vetuſti quæ per metaphoram ſingularem in Scripturis dicebantur, in ceremonias traducebant. Hinc Chriſmatio ſeu Confirmatio. Secundò ſigna adhibita ad patrationem miraculi, ceſſante miraculorum ſpiritu, retenta, ſed ad ſignificandam ſpiritualem gratiam. Hinc Unctio extrema. Tertiò quæ fiebant in perſonæ præſentatione coram eccleſia, ad exaggerandam miniſtrorum poteſtatem & dignitatem, in myſterium & Sacramentum converſa ſunt. Hinc Sacramenta ea, quæ χειροθεσίαι peragunt, Pœnitentia & Ordo. Denique ipſa vox Sacramenti alicubi uſurpata, & utilitas aliqua inde accedens ad eccleſiam, numerum locupletavit. Hinc Matrimonium.

RESP. REDINO: 1. Fateris ſic, vetuſtatis teſtimonio numerum ſeptenarium non deſtitui. Et ſanè Patres quinque controverſa inter Sacramenta propriiſſimè dicta retulerunt. 2. *Catechiſmus verò veſter, ad S. Si quid igitur ſolidi dicere habes, rationem affer, quòd occaſionibus ejuſmodi incunabula ſua auctior numerus veſter non debeat. Hic rhodus, hic ſaltus! De Patrum ſententia diximus & dicemus porro. 2. Puerilis de Catechiſmo noſtro querela tua eſt. Cùm enim utriuſque Sacramenti Baptiſmi & Cœnæ inſtitutionem ex S. literis tis probaverit, neque aliorum in iisdem institutionem repererit, annon duo & non plura esse, solidè sic ex S. literis probavit? Non de nomine, sed de re lis est: quæ per consequentiam probata ex Scriptura probatur. Si numero numeranti inhæres, Sophistam agis, non disputas ingenuè. Et eadem ratione te, & inprimis doctores illos vestros, Valentianum, Suarez, Lancellotum, alios, qui numerum septenarium ex Scripturis arcessunt, urgeo, ex quo Dei verbo septem Sacramentorum numerum numerantem illi & Tridentini tui heroes deprompserint?

Tecum habita, & nôris, quàm sit tibi curta supellex.

Obiectiones Tridentinorum.

OBIECT. I. Tot sunt Sacramenta, quot sunt remedia salutis & vitæ spiritualis. Atqui remedia ejusmodi sunt septem, regeneratio per Baptismum, augmentatio per Confirmationem, nutritio per Eucharistiam, peccatorum incidentium purgatio per Pœnitentiam, reliquiarum peccati abolitio per extremam Unctionem, propagatio ecclesiæ per Matrimonium, gubernatio ecclesiæ per Ordinem. Ergo totidem sunt Sacramenta. Resp. 1. Ut tot sint Sacramenta, quot remedia salutis, necessum non est. Sacramentorum enim numerus ex institutione & essentialibus requisitis, non ejusmodi analogiis, seu, uti vocant, congruentiis accersi debet. 2.. Neque difficile esset salutis remedia vel arctiorem vel latiorem in numerum expandere. Christus enim unum necessarium esse ad salutem docet, Luc. X. 42. sub quo uno pro diversis necessitatis gradibus plura vel pauciora continentur. Salutis remedia omnibus fidelibus conveniunt. At juxta adversarios clerici & monachi excluduntur à Matrimonio, fœminæ ab Ordinibus; & extrema Unctio si tolleret omnium peccatorum reliquias, nihil in purgatorio expiandum relinqueret.

Excip. Reding: 1. Suppositis Scripturæ & Patrum testimoniis quid prohibet congruentias etiam & analogias in subsidium vocare, & per eadem rem priùs probatam elucidare magis? 2. Etsi Deo difficile non foret, salutis remedia alio numero arctare, non tamen ei placuit etiam illa ad unitatem redigere. 3. Sacramenta quidem omnia Ecclesiæ conveniunt pro singulis, sed non in singulis. Ib. pag. 32. Resp. 1. Malè posita, & nunquam probata pejùs adhuc supponis. Et congruentiæ ac analogiæ si quam vim illustrandi habere debent, non fictæ illæ & desultoriæ, sed veræ & in Scriptura fundatæ esse debent. Alias ratio per se luxurians vagabitur in infinitum, & congruentias incongruas sine fine dabit. Vos autem supposito numero septenario demum, congruentias ejusmodi excogitastis, & figmentis vestris adaptastis, imò iis figmenta vestra, cùm aliunde fulciri non possent, audacter inædificastis. 2. Et hoc numero Deum arctasse, unde probas? Annon remedia salutis omnia ad unum Christus restrinxit, dicens: Ενὸς ἀνάγκη, unum necessarium, Luc. X. 42? Sub quo uno pro diversis necessitatis gradibus plura vel pauciora contineri, denuo assero. Unum etiam salutis remedium Christus S. Paulo 2. Cor. XII 8. revelavit, dicens: Sufficit tibi gratia mea. Annon gratia Dei regeneramur, crescimus, nutrimur, trimur, peccati reliquias paulatim exuimur, in Eccleſia denique propagamur gubernamúrque? Et quid quæſo ſalis eſt in enumeratione remediorum ſalutis, ubi peccatorum & reliquiarum peccatorum ſanatio diſtinguitur, Matrimonio propagatio filiorum ſpiritualium adſcribitur, Pœnitentiæ remedium contra morbos tanquam proprium aſſignatur, & tamen non tantùm omnia dicuntur remedia contra peccata, ſed etiam ipſi pœnitentiæ peculiariter peccata actualia aſſignantur: generatio & augmentatio, omiſſa conceptione, animatione, quas natura etiam tempore diſcrevit, recenſetur: denique ſic Reipublicæ conſulitur, ut familia negligatur? 3. Eccleſia veſtra Sacramenta illa ſupernumeraria non à Chriſto, ſed à Lombardo; nec ſingula pro ſingulis, nec ſingula in ſingulis accepit. Et tamen ſalutis remedia omnibus fidelibus ex æquo conveniunt. Si igitur pro numero mediorum ſalutis Sacramenta numeranda ſunt, jam ſingulis, qui in Eccleſia ſunt, applicanda eadem fuerint. quod vos negatis.

OBIECT. II. Quot ſunt virtutes & peccata, tot ſunt Sacramenta, utpote remedia contra peccata, & adjutoria virtutum. At ſeptem ſunt virtutes, fides, cui Baptiſmus; ſpes, cui Confirmatio; charitas, cui Euchariſtia; juſtitia, cui Pœnitentia; fortitudo, cui extrema Unctio; prudentia, cui Ordo; & temperantia, cui Matrimonium inſervit. Totidem ſunt peccata, originale, cui Baptiſmus; actuale mortale, cui Pœnitentia; veniale, cui extrema Unctio; ignorantia, cui Ordo; infirmitas, cui Confirmatio; malitia, cui Euchariſtia; concupiſcentia, cui Matrimonium tanquam remedium opponitur. Ergo. Reſp. 1. Supponitur Sacramenta occulta vi delere peccata, quod falſum. 2. Sacramenta metienda ſunt ex inſtitutione Chriſti, non congruentiis ab hominibus effictis. 3. Unum quoque veri nominis Sacramentum inſervit omnibus virtutibus, & opponitur omnibus peccatis, non particularibus duntaxat. 4. Nec virtutes & vitia ſeptenario numero comprehenduntur. Fides, ſpes, charitas omnes reliquas, eáſque plurimas ſub ſe complectuntur. 5. Nullum ex quinque controverſis Sacramentis vel occurrit ambitioni Papali, vel fidem promovet ad juſtitiam. 6. Nec ordo doctos facit: nec cœlibatus efficit, ut Monachi & Sacerdotes ſint caſtiores.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Sacramenta metienda ſunt ex Divina inſtitutione, ut eam vim per eam habeant, per quam gratiam ſanctificantem, omnéſque eidem connexas virtutes ſupernaturales, unà cum donis Spiritus S. ad evitandum quodvis peccati genus conferant. Effectus tamen ille ita tranſcendens & communis eſt omnibus Sacramentis, ut cuique tamen illorum ſua ſpecifica ſignificatio conveniat. 2. Virtutes illæ ſeptem ſunt tres virtutes Theologicæ, & quatuor Cardinales, quas tu per ignorantiam numerare non potuiſti. Ib. pag. 33. Reſp. 1. Nihil ad mea reſpondes, ſed partim falſa denuo ſupponis, partim iiſdem cerebri tui ſomnia ſuperſtruis. Proba ex inſtitutione Divina, Sacramenta ſingula ſingulis virtutibus opitulari, & peccatis ſingulis opponi. In regeneratione enim ſingularum virtutum habitus conferuntur, & in Baptiſmo obſignantur: quarum etiam ſingularum incrementa Euchariſtia ſola repræſentat. 2. Scholæ veſtræ doctores tres virtutes Theologicas ex Paulo, & quatuor Cardinales ex Ariſtotele, Deaſtro ſuo numerare, quis tam rerum rudis eſt ut ignoraignorare poſſit? Sed vos pridem ludibrium cordatis & ſapientibus debetis, ſic Paulum & Ariſtotelem combinantes, & Theologiam cum Ethica Philoſophica commiſcentes. An non enim tres illæ virtutes Theologicæ, fides, ſpes & charitas etiam Cardinales, quas Spiritus S. in regenitis operatur, complexu ſuo involvunt? Conſule ſis Auguſtinum potiùs quàm Ariſtotelem (cujus non ea me religio tenet, quæ te & Scholam veſtram, inprimis in Ethicis ejus, quæ tota ferè ſaniori Theologiæ contrariantur) vel Lombardum, & videbis, quemadmodum ille ad fidem, ſpem, charitatem ſeu amorem Dei & proximi, omnes virtutes reliquas referat, &, quas vos Cardinales dicitis, unius ejuſdémque virtutis, charitatis inprimis non diverſas ſpecies, ſed affectiones conſtituat. Sed edic porro, Redingi, in diſtribuendis virtutibus genera, an ſpecies ſecteris? Si ſpecies, jam longè plures erunt virtutes, ſub Theologicis & Cardinalibus illis comprehenſæ: pluráque adeò quàm ſeptem Sacramenta. Sin genera, repugnantem habes Thomam Aquinatem 3. p. q. 72. art. 1. ubi ſciſcit ille, Sacramenta novæ legis ordinari ad ſpeciales gratiæ effectus: & ideo ubi occurrit ſpecialis gratiæ effectus, ibi ſpeciale Sacramentum ordinandum eſſe. Et cur ſic non potiùs duo Sacramenta, pro ratione duplicis generis virtutum, Theologicarum & Cardinalium, conſtituis?

OBIECT. III. Numerus ſeptenarius in ſacris celebris eſt, velut in expiationibus, Exod. XXIX. Levit. IV. VIII. Ita Naaman ſepties juſſus eſt lavari ad purgandam lepram. Ergo idem numerus Sacramentis convenit. Reſp. 1. Puerilis eſt argumentatio, cujus ſi qua vis eſt pro Sacramentorum N. Teſt. numero, eadem erit pro numero Sacramentorum V. T. 2. Numerus ſeptenarius celebris eſt ex creatione, quâ intra ἑξαήμερον peractâ Deus ſeptimo die quievit. Sed non minùs celebres ſunt numerus ternarius, binarius, atque ipſa etiam μονάς. Quid enim perfectius Deo uno? 3. Poterant addere ex Apocalypſi ſeptem tubas, tubarum ſeptem iræ Divinæ phialas, ſeptem beſtiæ capita, quæ æquè hunc Sacramentorum numerum concludunt.

EXCIP. REDING: Cur ergo tu ipſe ſupra ex binario Sacramentorum V. T. numero binarium Sacramentorum N. T. collegiſti? Ib. pag. 33. Reſp. Non collegi ex numero numerante, nedum ex numero à Sacramentorum ratione alieno; ſed ex re, analogia in Scripturis fundata, denique ſuccenturiatione Sacramentorum N. T. in locum veterum. De cætero ringi potuiſti, at non reſpondere.

OBIECT. IV. Tot ſunt Sacramenta, quot novi fœderis ſigilla, ſeptem nimirum, Apoc. V. 1. Reſp. 1. Ex ſymbolis argumentari non licet. 2. Liber iſte ſeptem ſigilla complexus non Sacramentalis eſt, ſed præſcientiæ & decretorum Divinorum.

EXCIP. REDING: Verbate jam probata, ad exornandum myſterium ſymbolis uti licet. Ib. pag. 33. Reſp. Nec probare potes, quod falſum eſt: nec quæ probata ſunt, ſymbolis alienis & analogiam nullam habentibus illuſtrari poſſunt.

OBIECT. V. Scholaſtici hunc numerum ex antiquitate repetierunt, & Concilium Florentinum in inſtitutione Armenorum eundem definivit. Reſp. 1. Scholaſtici ab Hugone Hugone & Lombardo, non à Patribus hunc numerum hauſerunt. 2. Nec veterum Scholaſticorum eadem, quæ Concilii, mens fuit. 3. Inſtitutio Armeniorum poſt finitum Concilium Florentinum cepit initium. Non igitur Concilii authoritate nititur.

EXCIP. REDING : Quæ de Armeniorum inſtitutione, quaſi poſt finitum Concilium Florentinum initium cepiſſet, comminiſceris, hiſtoriæ repugnant. Nam Cervinus Legatorum in Concilio Tridentino princeps d. 26. Jan. An. 1546. in Concilio eodem demonſtravit, Florentinum Concilium non An. 1439. ſed demum An. 1442. (intra quod tempus Armeniorum Inſtructio concepta eſt) exitum ſuum Florentiæ habuiſſe, atque inde Romam translatum eſſe. Ib. pag 34. Reſp. Totum hoc Cardinalium duorum, Pallavicini ſcribentis, & Cervini in Tridentino Concilio ita narrantis, fide nititur. Sed aliud longè ex publica rerum geſtarum fide conſtat. Et nos in ſcripto vernaculo Inſtructionis illius pro Armeniis authentiam argumentis irrefragabilibus oppugnavimus, atque adverſus Pallavicinum in loco denuo, ξὺν Θεῷ, oppugnabimus.

QUÆSTIO II.

An Sacramenta V. & N. Teſtamenti hactenus differant, quòd illa quidem figuraverint gratiam Chriſti, hæc eandem conferant & obſignent?

SIc malumus formare controverſiæ ſtatum. Synodus equidem Canone II. anathema iis intonat, qui dicunt, nova legis Sacramenta à veteris legis Sacramentis non differre, niſi quia ceremoniæ ſint aliæ & alii ritus externi. Sed hæc ceremoniarum & rituum differentia eſt ſpecifica, quæ ſingula Sacramenta à ſe invicem diſtinguit. Ubi autem quæritur differentia veterum & novorum Sacramentorum, de communi & generica differentia contentio eſt. Hanc autem determinare Patres neglexerunt ſcientes & prudentes, propter notorias Scholaſticorum circa differentiam Sacramentorum V. & N. Teſt. velitationes. Nempe cùm articulus VI. à Scotiſtis ita conceptus fuerit : Sacramenta immediatè poſt Adami prævaricationem à Deo fuiſſe inſtituta, & per ea collatam eſſe gratiam; lis orta eſt in Concilio inter Thomiſtas & Franciſcanos ſeu Scotiſtas. Thomiſtæ articulum eum oppugnantes aſſeruerunt, Sacramenta V. Teſt. non contuliſſe, ſed præfigurâſſe gratiam, adeóque gratiam ab iis nequaquam obtentam eſſe virtute Sacramentorum, ſed devotionis. tim poſt peccatum Adami inſtitutum fuiſſe Sacramentum, quo infantibus data fuerit gratia ipſius Sacramenti virtute ex opere operato; adeóque articulum retinendum & confirmandum eſſe ſtatuerunt. Haſce contradictionum ſyrtes evitaturi Patres concluſerunt, articulum eum tanquam probabilem omittendum eſſe, & neglecta veræ differentiæ determinatione anathema tantùm vibranduin eſſe in eos, qui negant utriuſque Teſtamenti Sacramenta aliter quàm ritibus externis differre. At nos ultro concedimus, Sacramenta V. & N. Teſt. non ſolis ceremoniis differre. Differunt enim κατὰ τὴν οἰκονομίαν καιρῶν, ſecundùm adminiſtrationem temporum, etiam in eo, quòd Sacramenta N. T. plus habent claritatis & facilitatis, & ſunt πλειόνως, ſpem meliorem obſignantia, per quam approximamus Deo, Hebr. VII. 19. At re ſignata & effectu ita differre, ut Sacramenta V. T. gratiam præfigurent tantùm, at Sacramenta N. T. eandem exhibeant & obſignent, uti jam ante Florentinum Concilium definivit, & communior hodie ſententia fert, negamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Patres V. Teſt. habuerunt verbum promiſſionis gratiæ juſtificantis, per quod ſunt ſalvati, Geneſ. III. 15. XVII. 7. Actor. II. 38. 39. X. 15. Rom. IV. 10. 11. Gal. III. 29. Ergo etiam ſigna Sacramentalia habuerunt gratiæ juſtificantis, quæ eam non nudè præfigurarent, ſed etiam obſignarent, & in legitimo uſu exhiberent.

RESP. REDING: An Sacramenta V. Teſt. in uſu legitimo ſic gratiam juſtificantem contulerunt, ut eam ex opere operato Chriſti exhibuerint? At tu hanc vim etiam Sacramentis N. Teſt. negas. 2. Loca citata de differentia Sacramentorum V. & N. Teſt. non agunt. Tom. II. Tract. V. Ss. 2. pag. 35. Reſp. 1. Exhibuerunt in legitimo uſu per obſignationem, non phyſicam vel moralem efficientiam, ex opere operato non hominis, ſed Chriſti jam tum ſpondentis, & in plenitudine temporum ſolutionem præſtituri; eadem gratia, ſed non eadem quoad gradum efficaciæ. Neque verò hoc unquam Sacramentis N. Teſt. excepto efficaciæ gradu, negavimus. 2. Loca à me citata probant, V. Teſt. Patres habuiſſe verbum promiſſionis gratiæ juſtificantis. Promiſſus enim illis eſt Chriſtus, contriturus caput ſerpentis, Geneſ. III. 15. fœdus æternum, quòd Deus illis velit eſſe in Deum, (nulli autem non juſtificato per gratiæ fœdus æternum in Deum eſt) Geneſ. XVII. 7. Quæ promiſſio ad eos & ſemen eorum pertinuit, Act. II. 38. 39. Denique per gratiam Jeſu Chriſti ſalvati ſunt ſicut & nos, Act. XV. 11. (quem locum quia eludere non potuiſti, omiſiſti perfidè.) Nemo autem non juſtificatus ſalvatur. Quid autem Sacramenta aliud ſignificare, & obſignare, quàm gratuitam Dei promiſſionem poſſunt? Unde circumciſio tam clarè σφραγὶς δικαιοσύνης πίστεως ſigillum juſtitiæ fidei, hoc eſt, ejus juſtitiæ Chriſti, quæ per fidem apprehenſa juſtificat, Rom. IV. 11. dicitur. Ad hæc præter nihil, nihil reſpondes.

ARG. II. Paulus 1. Cor. X. 1-4. veteribus Baptiſmum & Cœnam noſtram ſuo modo tribuit, docétque ipſis id ſignificâſſe nubem & tranſitum per mare, quod nobis Baptiſmus, nec non mannam & aquam petræ, quod nobis Euchariſtia. Proinde re ſignata & effectu conveniunt.

RESP. REDINO: Tranſitus per mare rubrum & Manna fuerunt typi Baptiſmatis & Euchariſtiæ præfigurativi. Diverſæ igitur rationis fuerunt à Sacramentis N. Teſt. quatenus ſcilicet illa figuræ fuerunt (unde v. 6. typi vocantur) hæc rem continuerunt. Ib. pag. 35. Reſp. Præpoſterè inſtituis. Vis enim argumenti noſtri non in figuris ſignificantibus, quales & Vet. & N. Teſt. Sacramenta pariter fuerunt; ſed in re ſignificata eadem per diverſas figuras conſiſtit. Nam S. Paulus quidem duobus N. Teſt. Sacramentis, Baptiſmo & Cœnæ typos veteres bis binos comparat: Baptiſmo nubem & mare, Cœnæ mannam & aquam ex petra. Comparationis objectum notat participationem rei ſignificatæ, utrinque ejuſdem. Ait enim, Iſraëlitas in mari & nube fuiſſe baptizatos: in manna & aqua ex rupe ediſſe & bibiſſe eandem nobiſcum eſcam potúmque ſpiritualem, Chriſtum. Manifeſtum hinc argumentum noſtrum eſt. Baptiſmus enim eſt Sacramentum remiſſionis peccatorum non ſignificandæ duntaxat, ſed etiam Sacramentaliter conferendæ. At nubes & mare Iſraëlitis fuerunt Baptiſmus. Ergo iis fuerunt Sacramentum remiſſionis peccatorum non ſignificandæ duntaxat, ſed etiam Sacramentaliter conferendæ. Rurſus. Euchariſtia eſt communio corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti. At manna & aqua ex rupe fuerunt Iſraëlitis Euchariſtia. Ergo fuerunt iis communio corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti. Denique eandem eſcam, eundem potum ſpiritualem, Chriſtum, ediſſe & bibiſſe dicuntur. Et ſi quoad efficaciam non eadem ibi S. Paulus Sacramenta vetera cum noſtris ſtatuiſſet; quænam in argumento ejus conſecutio foret: Si eorum Sacramenta ſine fide & obedientia eos Deo gratos non reddiderunt; Ergo nec noſtra? Sic ergo Sacramenta illa præfigurarunt & typi fuerunt, ut tamen ſimul ſignificaverint, obſignaverint, & in legitimo uſu exhibuerint id ipſum, quod noſtra; Chriſtum videlicet, cujus corpus & ſanguinem futurum licet, quoad conſummationem præſentem, tamen quoad virtutem pretioſam, valorem & acceptationem, vera fide æquè ac nos illi ederunt & biberunt. Si Chriſtus eſca & potus noſter eſt, etiam illorum fuit, quin v. 4. Petra fuit Chriſtus, communis adeò utrorumque. Neque verò ſpiritualis vocatur cibus, ſpiritualis potus propterea, quia uterque per miraculum productus erat, uti Bellarminus fingit, quia ſic non major in Apoſtoli argumento vis eſſet, quàm ſi illud ab eſca corvina, quæ opera corvorum Eliæ parabatur, petiiſſet; ſed inprimis propter ſignificationem, nempe Chriſti, quæ vera cauſa ejus appellationis dicitur, uti ex verbis illis, Petra fuit Chriſtus, hoc eſt, ſignificavit Chriſtum, liquet. Optimè Auguſtinus in Pſal. 77. Omnes quidem eundem cibum ſpiritualem manducarunt, & eundem potum ſpiritualem biberunt, id eſt, ſpirituale aliquid ſignificantem. Et alibi in Joh. tract. 26. & 45. ſic paucis argumentum noſtrum confirmat: Spiritualem eandem, quam nos etiam manducaverunt. Inſignis diverſis eadem fides. Sacramenta illa fuerunt. In ſignis diverſa ſunt, in re, quæ ſignificatur, paria ſunt. Specie quidem viſibili aliud nos, aliud illi, tamen hoc idem ſignificante virtute ſpirituali.

ARG. III. Circumciſio Sacramentum V. Teſt. non figuravit tantùm gratiam dandam, ſed in legitimo uſu etiam contulit, Geneſ. XVII. 7. Rom. IV. 11. ubi vocatur Σφραγὶς τῆς δικαιοσύνης τῆς πίστεως, ſigillum juſtitiæ fidei. Sigillum autem non nudè figurat, ſed in rei ſignatæ poſſeſſionem mittit.

RESP.

RESP. REDING: 1. Quomodo igitur circumcisionis præcipua utilitas, Rom.III.1. in eo constituitur, quòd circumcisis credita sunt eloquia Dei: imò circumcisionem justificare Paulus Rom.IV.10. &c. negat; & 1.Cor.VII.19. nihil esse, asserit? 2. Sacramenta vetera contulerunt gratiam ex opere operato, non formaliter spectata, prout ad legem veterem, quæ figura tantùm fuit, & nihil consummavit, pertinebant; sed quatenus ex institutione Divina virtutem passionis Christi futuræ continebant. Hinc Paulus Rom.IV.11. non obscurè probat, justitiam, quæ est ex fide, per Christum, ejúsque merita etiam ante legem Divinitus concessam esse, ut propterea circumcisio esset signaculum justitiæ jam priùs sub præputio per Christum venturum acceptæ. 3. Proin antiquæ legis Sacramenta non ex propria virtute sua per se formaliter immediatè gratiam contulerunt, sed tum ex meritorum Christi virtute concomitanter se ad illa habente, tum ex vi sua figurativa solùm mediatè. Ib.pag.35--37. Resp.1. Inter τὰ λόγια τοῦ Θεοῦ eloquia Dei Israëlitis credita præcipuum fuit eloquium promissionis gratiæ justificantis per Christum. Malè igitur hæc tu opponis. Circumcisio verò cùm fuerit signum fœderis, & sigillum justitiæ fidei, utique in legitimo usu, & tempore legitimi usus, nec nihil, nec egenum mundi elementum fuit. qua de re infra. 2. Nec Novi, nec Veteris Testamenti Sacramenta vel conferunt, vel contulerunt gratiam ex opere operato; sed utrobique eam obsignant & obsignarunt, ac in legitimo usu, ex opere, seu fide & devotione operantis, exhibuerunt. Ita circumcisio fuit signum fœderis illius, quo fiebat, ut Deus esset Deus Abrahami & seminis ejus; Genes.XVII.7. Qua phrasi denotatur amor & gratia Dei, cujus effectus est remissio peccatorum & vita æterna, teste ipso Christo Matth.XXII.32. ubi ex verbis illis: Ego sum Deus Abrahami, Isaci & Jacobi; colligit eorundem vitam post mortem, & resurrectionem gloriosam; nec non S Paulo Ephes.II.12. ubi gentes simul fuisse exsortes fœderis & atheos ac sine spe in mundo pronuntians, per oppositum indicat, Judæos, utpote pacti & circumcisionis participes, spem æternæ vitæ habuisse. Hinc adeo S.Paulus Rom.IV.11. circumcisionem vocat sigillum justitiæ fidei. Quomodo, si justitiam fidei, hoc est, justitiam Christi fide apprehensam, non obsignavit, hoc est, non & significavit & confirmavit authenticè? Hic enim, non alius sigillorum usus est. Obsignavit igitur circumcisis justitiam fidei, non illam ex opere operato formaliter efficiendo vel conferendo, quod ultro tibi largior; sed eam per gratiam Dei, ob valorem & virtutem meriti Christi jam tum vigentem & retroactam jam acceptam & imputatam, ei, tanquam rem propriam confirmando, ejúsque sic acceptæ sensum & consolationem roborando. 3. Denique tecum omnino consentio, Sacramenta V. T. non ex propria virtute sua per se formaliter & immediatè gratiam contulisse, (nam hoc nulli omnino Sacramento competit) sed ex sola meritorum Christi efficacia gratiam remissionis & juris vitæ iis collatam esse. Sed habuisse se Sacramenta & virtutem meritorum Christi concomitanter, vel Sacramenta non aliam vim quàm figurativam mediatam habuisse, Apostolo repugnat, cui circumcisio sigillum justitiæ est. Omne autem sigillum re posterius est; & rem non figurat tantùm, sed ceu jam præsentem significat, confirmat & obsignat. Hæc vis argumenti nostri est, ad quam nihil respondere potuisti. Lubet tamen ἐκ περισσοῦ vim argumenti nostri verbis S. Augustini de nupt. & concupisc. lib.II.11. illustrare, quæ sic habent: Tunc dissipavit testamentum Dei, non de hac imperata circumcisione, sed illud de ligni prohibitione, quando per unum hominem peccatum intravit in mundum, & per peccatum mors, & ita in omnes homines transiit, in quo omnes peccaverunt. Et hoc in illo significabatur expiari circumcisione octavi diei, hoc est, Sacramento Mediatoris in carne venturi: quia per eandem fidem venturi in carnem Christi

ARG. IV. Scriptura fidelibus V. Teſt. tribuit Sacramenta N. Teſt. 1. Cor. X. 1-4. Epheſ. IV. 4. & viciſſim fidelibus N. Teſt. 1. Cor. V. 7. Col. II. 11. Id fit ratione vel ſigni, vel ſignati. X. 1-4. veteribus manifeſtè Baptiſmus in nube & mari, nec non Euchariſtia in pane ſpirituali, ſeu manna, & potu ex petra ſpirituali, tribuitur. Id verò cùm fiat non ratione ſignorum, quæ diverſa planè fuerunt, neceſſum eſt fiat ratione rei ſignificatæ ejuſdem, quæ Chriſtus & ejus juſtitia eſt. Et quomodo S. Paulus 1. Cor. V. 7. Chriſtus, Paſcha noſtrum, pro nobis mactatus dicitur, ſi vetus Paſcha non fuit Sacramentum Chriſti, ceu agni ante jacta mundi fundamenta, in conſilio Patris, mactati, & quoad virtutem mactationis illius applicati, Apoc. XIII. 8. adeóque Chriſtum mactatum non figurans duntaxat, ſed quoad meriti virtutem obſignans? Quomodo fideles N. T. circumciſi dicuntur circumciſione non facta manibus, depoſitione corporis peccatorum, in circumciſione Chriſti, Col. II. 11. ſi vetus circumciſio non fuit ſigillum remiſſionis peccatorum renovationis vitæ? Hæc tibi, Redingi, expedienda fuerant. 2. Sacramenta V. T. & figurativa & demonſtrativa fuerunt. Figurativa, quia figurarunt & præſignificarunt meritum Chriſti futurum, atque declararunt, non expiatum actu eſſe peccatum, nondum hæreditatem terræ cum ſpiritu filiationis meræ datam eſſe. Quomodo non conſolationi duntaxat, ſed etiam oneri fuiſſe, concedimus. Contra Sacramenta N. T. ſatisfactionem præſtitam, Regnum Chriſti patefactum, hæreditatem mundi dari cœptam proclamant, adeóque animum noſtrum provocant, ut per Spiritum filiationis dicamus, Abba Pater. In quam ſententiam ſi explicaretur veterum phraſis illa, quòd Sacramenta V. T. gratiam ſignificarint, N. T. Sacramenta eandem conferant, nulli certè pugnaremus. Interim etiam demonſtrativa fuerunt, quia virtutem meritorum Chriſti in promiſſione oblatam, & vera fide acceptatam, cauſam juſtitiæ & vitæ unicam, æquè ac Sacramenta N. T. ſignificarunt, obſignarunt & in legitimo uſu exhibuerunt. Ideo enim circumciſio, & ἀναλογως etiam Paſcha, reliquáque Sacramenta σφραγιδες ſigilla juſtitiæ fidei fuerunt. Quòd verò ſic demonſtrativa fuiſſe, ut ex opere operato juſtificarent, hoc eſt, tanquam pars obedientiæ veræ juſtum conſtituerent; negas, nos conſentientes habes. Sed ſic etiam Sacramenta N. Ratione quidem ceremoniæ externæ & per ſe immediatè non aliud quàm puritatem carnis, Apoſtolo teſte, contulerunt; atque hoc inſuper, ut Iſraëlitæ in externo cultu Deum adire, ac in ſanctuario ipſius verſari poſſent. OBIECT. III. Sacramenta N. Teſt. expiârunt peccata, Actor. II. 36. XXII. 16. At id Sacramenta V. Teſt. non præſtiterunt, teſte Paulo Hebr. IX. 10: Reſp. Sacramenta N. Teſt. expiant peccata non realiter, cùm ſolus Chriſti ſanguis id præſtet : ſed ratione Sacramenti, convenienter obſignando & applicando. Atqui id ipſum ea ratione præſtiterunt etiam Sacramenta V. Teſt. Levit. I. 14. IV. 26. XVII. 11.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si Sacramenta V. Teſt. non tantùm præfigurarunt gratiam, ſed etiam vi Divinæ inſtitutionis applicarunt, remiſſionem peccatorum obſignando, tum gratiam vi Divinæ dictionis, & quidem ex operato ſanguinis Chriſti opere, effecerunt. Id verò repugnat Apoſtolo Hebr. IX. 8. 9. 10. &c. ubi negat, ſtante priore tabernaculo manifeſtatam fuiſſe viam Sanctorum. 2. Cùm teſtamentum vetus à novo differat tum formaliter, quoad ſubſtantiam, quatenus illud promiſſiones habuit de Chriſto ex ſemine Abrahæ propagando, & gentibus benedicendis, nec non terreſtribus bonis; hoc de remittendis peccatis per oblationem Chriſti in cruce factam : tum virtualiter, quoad efficaciam gratiæ cauſatricem: tum extenſivè, quoad majorem vel minorem temporis durationem; clarum eſt, easdem differentias etiam in Sacramenta V. & N. Teſt. cadere. Ib. pag. 39. 40. 41. Reſp. 1. Quaſi verò applicatio per obſignationem rei efficientiam inferret. Atqui obſignatio re effecta poſterior eſt, neque adeò eam efficit, ſed confirmat. Neque ejuſmodi applicatio virtutis meritorum Chriſti, quæ cauſæ & juſtitiæ, remiſſionis peccatorum & vitæ, repugnat Apoſtolo Hebr. IX. 8. neganti, ſtante priore tabernaculo patefactam fuiſſe viam Sanctorum; quia patefactio illa viæ Sanctorum non eſt applicatio virtutis meritorum Chriſti, vel remiſſionis peccatorum, vel ipſius Cœli; ſed liber & rectus acceſſus ad Deum cum tranquillitate conſcientiæ, utpote jam per oblationem ſacrificii illius, quod ſolum Deo placere poterat, conſummatæ; ſeu, uti ipſe Apoſtolus cap. IV. 16. explicat, acceſſus ad thronum gratiæ μετὰ παῤῥησίας cum fiducia, & ὡς ἐν φανερῷ in aperto. Qualis acceſſus licet, ſtante priore tabernaculo, non patuerit fidelibus, non tamen illis vel acceſſus omnis ad thronum gratiæ, vel pretioſa virtus meriti Chriſti ad illorum juſtitiam, remiſſionem peccatorum & gloriam defuit, vel per Sacramenta obſignari non potuit. Non enim qui liberè, rectâ, manifeſtè Deum, & thronum gratiæ ejus adire non poteſt, is nullo modo adire poteſt. Nec cujus conſcientia conſummata & plenè tranquillata non eſt; ejus conſcientia nullo modo tranquillata & ſic purificata eſt, ut juſtitiæ & gloriæ particeps eſſe nequeat. 2. Veteris & Novi Teſtamenti differentiam ſatis imperitè & ἀφηλόγως explicas. Non diſtinguis enim teſtamentum, ex quo fœdus gratiæ fluit, æternum & immutabile, à teſtamento typico, neque etiam illius diverſam ante & poſt Chriſtum œconomiam, non eſſentia, ſed rebus aſcititiis diſparatam. Sicut enim fœdus gratiæ quoad ſubſtantiam unum idemque & immutabile eſt: ita etiam Teſtamentum, ſeu æterna & immutabilis Dei voluntas de hæredibus bonorum ſuorum inſtituendis unicum eſt, βουλὴ ἀμετάθετος conſilium immutabile, quod Deus κληρονόμοις τῆς ἐπαγγελίας hæredibus promiſſionis abundantiùs demonſtrare conſtituit, (Hebr. VI. 17.) unicum eſt & æternum. Unde διαθήκη αἰώνιος Teſtamentum æternum Hebr. XIII. 20. nuncupatur. Eadem enim bona, reconciliatio cum Deo in hac vita, in altera verò κληρονομία ἀμίαντος hæreditas immarceſſibilis legata ſunt iis, quos Deus ab æterno immutabili voluntate hæredes in libro vitæ ſcripſit. Quotquot in V. & N. Teſt. ſalvati ſunt, per gratiam Domini Jeſu Chriſti, Act. XV.

XV.11. & ἐν αἵματι διαθήκης αἰωνίου per ſanguinem Teſtamenti æterni (Hebr.XIII.20.) ſalvati ſunt. Unici & æterni hujus gratiæ Teſtamenti diverſa ante & poſt Chriſtum œconomia, diverſus applicandi & diſpenſandi modus fuit: gratia verò juſtificationis, ſanctificationis & glorificationis applicata & diſpenſata quoad ſubſtantiam utrobique eadem fuit. quod alibi Phar. Bibl. cap.6. à nobis probatum fuſiùs heic non repetimus. Quod igitur utrobique gratia Dei contulit, id Sacramenta, gratiæ, promiſſionis, juſtitiæ collatæ utrobique ſigilla, ſignis licet & modo ſignificandi variantibus, obſignarunt. Atqui utrobique gratia Dei eandem quoad ſubſtantiam virtutem meritorum Chriſti, juſtificationem, ſanctificationem & glorificationem contulerunt. Ergo eandem Sacramenta utrobique, ſignis licet & modo ſignificandi variantibus, obſignarunt. Hoc ad præſens quidem inſtitutum ſufficit.

QUÆSTIO III.

An Sacramenta Novi Teſtamenti ita phyſicè operentur gratiam, ut eam ex opere operato, ſive adſit fides & devotio, ſive non, efficiant & contineant : an potiùs ſint ſigna & ſigilla efficacia gratiæ?

ITa formamus controverſiæ ſtatum. Synodus enim in hac controverſia pro more cothurnis luſit. Canone VI. anathema dicit iis, qui dixerint, Sacramenta non continere gratiam quam ſignificant, aut gratiam ipſam non ponentibus obicem non conferre. Sed quo modo Sacramenta contineant vel conferant gratiam, cùm de eo Schola Pontificia jam pridem abiverit in partes, non definivit. Franciſcani nempe in ipſo Concilio afferebant, Sacramenta continere gratiam tanquam in ſigno efficaci, non vi ac virtute ſua, ſed Dei miniſterio huic operam indubitatam pollicentis. Sic igitur Sacramenta efficere gratiam non vi ſua, ſed Divinæ promiſſionis de gratia in tempore donanda. Quam ſententiam confirmârunt authoritate tum Scoti & Bonaventuræ, tum Bernhardi, agnoſcentis, gratiam per Sacramenta ad eum modum percipi, quo Canonicus per librum, & Epiſcopus per annulum in poſſeſſionem mittuntur. Juxta hanc ſententiam Sacramenta eſſe cauſam gratiæ non phyſicam, ſed moralem docent Scotus, Bonaventura, Durandus, Marſilius, & ex recentioribus Ledeſmius & Canus. Dominicani contra ſtatuebant, Sacramenta continere gratiam, non quòd ſit in ipſis, ſicut medicina in vaſe, ſed ut effectum in ſua cauſa inſtrumentali & effectiva, quæ in anima operatur diſpoſitionem ad eam recipiendam. Alii tamen etiam docent, Sacramenta continere gratiam per inhærentem creatam qualitatem, ſicut medicina continetur in vaſe. Juxta hanc igitur poſteriorem Dominicanorum & Thomiſtarum ſententiam Sacramenta ſunt cauſa phyſica gratiæ, quæ communis hodie opinio. Alii etiam, uti Becanus, Sacramenta ex pacto, tanquam conditiones requiſitas, aut cauſas morales adducere gratiæ effectum docent. De quo diſſenſu videſis doctiſſimum Forbeſium *Inſtruct. lib. ſanè modum hunc,quo Sacramenta continent & efficiunt gratiam,haud indeciſum relinqui. Cæterùm ne damnanda eſſet aliqua Scholaſticorum ſecta,ſuaſerunt Præſules nonnulli,cùm utrique de concluſione idem ſentiant, nimirum Sacramenta continere gratiam & ejus eſſe cauſas,ut id demum definiatur,quod factum eſt. Eodem pertinet Canon VIII. quo anathema dicitur iis, qui per novæ legis Sacramenta ex opere operato non conferri gratiam, ſed ſolam fidem Divinæ promiſſionis ad gratiam conſequendam ſufficere ſtatuunt. Sed verba canonis illius cùm ſint ambigua,Gropperus ſic interpretatus eſt, quaſi non aliud innuerit, quàm Sacramenti veritatem non eſſe æſtimandam ex miniſtri dignitate, ſed ex operatione DEI. Scilicet puduit illum alióſque veri ſenſus barbararum vocum,quem Synodus intendit. Revera enim Synodus excluſit ab operatione Sacramenti non Miniſtri tantùm dignitatem,ſed etiam accipientis fidem & devotionem. Nam ita intellexerunt Scholaſtici ante Synodum, nominatim Albertus in cap. 6. Johan. Petrus de Palude in 4. ſent. diſt.1. q.1. Ita intellexit ipſa Synodus. Patres enim in ea præſentes inter eas actiones,quibus pietas excitatur,quáſque gratiam parere ex opere operantis,hoc eſt,non ex ipſius operis,ſed ex operantis viribus & devotione docebant: & eas, quæ gratiam procurant ex opere operato, hoc eſt, uti ipſi explicârunt,teſte Hiſtorico,non ex operantis vel opus recipientis devotione,ſed operis ipſius virtute, diſtinxerunt, & poſterioris generis eſſe Sacramenta Chriſtiana declarârunt. Quòd ſi eo Canone non aliud quàm Miniſtri dignitatem excluſit Synodus, cur idem repetiit Canone XII. peculiari? Nos Sacramenta operari gratiam vel phyſicè vel moraliter, quaſi videlicet ad illorum poſitionem Deus velit gratiam operari,vel ex opere operato,negamus,aſſerimúſque,eorum efficaciam totam in eo conſiſtere,quòd ſunt ſigna & ſigilla fœderis per gratiam Spiritus S.partim invitantia ad fidem in Chriſtum,& eam moraliter operantia ad communionem cum ipſo,quatenus unâ cum verbo ſunt apud Eccleſiam,& docent,in quo nomine oporteat nos ſalvari; partim credentibus gratiam ſignificantia,commemorantia,& propter veritatem Dei iis bona ſpiritualia promiſſa ſiſtentia,ut iis utentes firmiſſimam ſpem & conſolationem obtineant. Ut ita tota eorum efficacia non ſit vel phyſica vel effectiva,ſed objectiva & moralis. Rationes nobis ſunt

ARG. I. Sacramenta diſertè vocantur ſigna & ſigilla fœderis ac gratiæ, Geneſ. XVII.10. Rom.IV.11. At ſignorum & ſigillorum ea indoles eſt, ut nihil in ſe contineant vel inhærente virtute conferant, ſed gratiam jam fortè allatam,vel etiam poſt conferendam ſignificent & obſignent iis,ad quos quos pertinet. Ita iris, vellus Gedeonis, horologium Ezechiæ nihil in ſe continebant vel operabantur phyſicè, ſed ſignificabant & obſignabant.

Resp. Reding: 1. Textus à te citati de veteribus, non de novis Sacramentis loquuntur. Non par autem utrorumque conditio eſt. 2. Falſum eſt, eam eſſe ſigni naturam, ut rem ſignatam nec virtualiter nec cauſaliter in ſe contineat, ſeu virtute inhærente conferat. Nam etiam cauſa eſt ſignum naturale effectus in ea virtualiter contenti. Et verbum æternum, quo omnia in tempore facta ſunt, & ſignum creaturarum expreſſivum, & cauſa earundem fuit. Ita quoque iris, vellus Gedeonis, horologium Ezechiæ erant ſigna ex inſtitutione Divina, quæ dictionem Dei ſignum inſtituentis importat. At dictio iſthæc Dei ſimul eſt cauſa rei, quam dicit. Habuerunt igitur etiam hæc ſigna efficaciam rei ſignatæ effectivam; non inhærentem, ſed ex vi promiſſionis Divinæ aſſiſtentem. Pari ratione Sacramenta N. Teſt. vi Divinæ inſtitutionis ſeu pacti, per voluntatis ac dictionis Divinæ efficaciam fœcundata, ex opere operato, hoc eſt, meritis Chriſti, ſeu pretio ſanguinis ejus, ex Divina inſtitutione Sacramentis annexa, ſi obex non ponatur, ſuſcipientibus gratiam conferunt. 3. Conferre porro Sacramenta N. Teſt. gratiam, liquet, tum quia inſtitutio eorum habet rationem dictionis, quæ gratiam ſalutarem ex meritis Chriſti promittit; & ſemper eſſentialiter vera, ac effectus promiſſi cauſativa eſt: tum quia ſingula Sacramenta ſic gratiam conferunt: tum denique quia S. Patres, Clemens R. Juſtinus Martyr, Dionyſius Areopagita, Clemens Alexandrinus, Tertullianus, Cyprianus, Cyrillus, Baſilius, Gregorius Nyſſenus, Chryſoſtomus, Ambroſius, Optatus, Auguſtinus ita docent. Tom II Tract. V. Ss. 2. pag. 43-46. Reſp. Multa hic velut per ſaturam cumulas, ut aliquid egiſſe videare. Sed nihil profectò agis. Etenim 1. Novi æquè ac V. Teſt. Sacramenta ſigna & ſigilla fuiſſe, ruſticè nimis negas. Sanè Catechiſmus veſter Romanus ſic Parochos veſtros inſtruit: Ex Scripturis etiam apertè colligitur, Sacramenta inter ſigna numeranda eſſe. Apoſtolus enim de circumciſione, veteris legis Sacramento, quæ Abrahamo patri omnium credentium data erat, ita ad Romanos ſcribit: Et ſignum accepit circumciſionis, ſignaculum juſtitiæ. Audin argumentum à ſpecie ad genus! Gregorius de Valentia Tomi IV. diſp. 3. q. 3. p. 1. diſertè: Fatemur, inquit, Sacramenta novæ legis eſſe ſigna ſeu ſigilla quodammodo promiſſionis Divinæ. Clariùs iterum idem Catechiſmus Romanus: Quemadmodum in V. Teſt. Deus fecerat, ut magni alicujus promiſſi conſtantiam ſignis teſtificaretur: ita etiam (NB) in nova lege Chriſtus Salvator noſter cùm nobis peccatorum veniam, cœleſtem gratiam, Spiritus S. communionem pollicitus eſt, quædam ſigna oculis & ſenſibus ſubjecta inſtituit, quibus eum quaſi pignoribus obligatum haberemus, atque ita fidelem in promiſſis futurum dubitare nunquam poſſemus. 2. Signi porro & ſigilli eam naturam eſſe, ut rem ſignatam nec contineat in ſe, nec inhærente virtute conferat, ſignorum omnium introductio probat. Sunt enim ſigna vel miraculoſa, vel non. Neutra efficiunt, quod ſignificant. Non miraculoſa, veluti vellus Gedeonis, umbra horologii Achazi. Neque enim vel illud liberationem effecit, ſed tantùm in Gedeonis intellectum egit, ut ſciret liberationem ita futuram: vel hæc vim ullam ad ſanitatem Ezechiæ contulit. Et ſi non miraculoſa, multò minùs reliqua. Quis enim iridem non futuri diluvii efficientem cauſam dixerit? Proin etiam circumciſionem eo ipſo quòd ſignum & ſigillum juſtitiæ fuit, non fuiſſe cauſam juſtitiæ ejuſdem, Thomas Aquinas monet. Denique de ſigillis ſeu ſignaculis res clariſſima eſt. Vocis enim hujus uſus ab humanis commerciis, in quibus plurimus eſt uſus ſigillorum, translatus eſt. Solent nempe adhi-beri pactis,seu promissionibus,velut Regiis diplomatis,idque certitudinis gratia,ut quæ verbis nudis concepta sunt, hoc signo in oculos incurrente firmentur. Sic planè Sacramenta verbo Dei salutem gratuitam promittenti addita sunt. ubi promissio sive verbum est instar diplomatis, Sacramentum instar sigilli. Quis verò unquam ita insanivit,ut sigillo res in diplomate comprehensas effici dixerit ? Neque tuæ εὐστόχους titivillitio dignæ sunt. Neque enim unquam causa naturalis, qua signum effectus sui, effectum suum efficit. Ita homo generans hominem, in se habet similitudinem hominis. unde genitus gignentis imago dicitur. Non tamen similitudo illa gignit filium; aliâs nunquam non tu gigneres filios; sed gignens secundum imaginem seu similitudinem suam gignit. Sic quoque verbum æternum,quo omnia facta sunt, causa rerum fuit, non qua signum rerum expressivum. Aliâs rerum productio, sicut idea mentis Dei, æterna fuisset; & cujuscunque rei idea in mente Dei est, eo ipso actu existeret & à Deo produceretur, ipsúmque adeò peccatum, quod Deus ab æterno cognovit, & sine signo non cognovit. Non igitur signa in mente Dei, sed intellectus, voluntas & potentia Dei junctæ rerum causa sunt. Institutio quoque Divina signorum dicit utique dictionem Divinam,sed non,ut res per signa illa efficiantur (aliâs tibi fatendum foret,etiam Sacramenta V.T. utpote secundùm Divinam dictionem instituta,gratiam effecisse)sed ut effectæ significentur & obsignentur. Quomodo vellus Gedeonis,umbra horologii,iris,signa Divinitus instituta,non effecerunt rem significatam, sed effectam vel efficiendam significarunt. Miserabilis causa vestra sit oportet, quam statuminare nisi sophismatis talibus, quorum falsitas non potest non conscientiæ tuæ obstrepere, non conaris. Et quomodo signa vim effectivam habere per virtutem assistentem possunt ? Etenim unaquæque causa virtute inhærente, non aliena & assistente effectum suum producit. Nam qui effectus ab aliena & assistente virtute producitur, is alienæ etiam & assistentis causæ effectus est. Tam inepta ubique effutire cogeris. Nos quoque cum signis veram possessionem & fruitionem ejus rei,quæ ibi offertur,& quidem ex opere operato meriti Christi,vera fide apprehensi,conjungimus. At conferre ea gratiam ex pacto,sive inhærente, sive assistente virtute, ita ut Sacramenta sint conditio vel causa rei,quæ antea non extiterat, producendæ, id verò negamus, & asserentes Evangelium ac fœdus Dei corrumpere,ac Sacramentis nefariò abuti,pronuntiamus. 3. Neque verò erat,cur hic argumentorum tuorum aciem instrueres. Respondisse ad argumentum meum, sufficere poterat, Cœterùm malè respondes, malè probas. Nam rationem siculneam ab institutione, Divinam dictionem importante,jam discussimus. Inductio verò Sacramentorum singulorum nihil hic ad rem facit, quia Baptismi & Cœnæ efficacia in objectionibus ponderatur. supernumeraria verò ne quidem Sacramenta esse,procedente disputatione probamus. Denique Patrum suffragia nihil te juvant, quia probant illa quidem Sacramentorum efficaciam, eámque magnam atque mirabilem. quam nulli nos vel negamus, vel impugnamus. Sed definitior debuit esse tua disputatio,ut inducerentur loci,quibus hæc efficacia demonstraretur esse physica potiùs quàm moralis; insita potiùs quàm adsita; denique signorum, non ab assistente virtute vel ante signa non efficiente, vel nonnisi per signa efficiente. Hoc enim, non aliud τὸ κεκινῆσθαι est. Aliâs eadem ἀγωνιῶσι Concilium Nicænum non tantùm ἐν τῷ ὕδατι κρυπτομένην τὴν Θεῖαν δύναμιν in aquis absconditam virtutem Dei observat, sed etiam eam probat ex verbis Johannis: Ille baptizabit vos Spiritu S. & igne. Et Gregorius Nyssenus Oratione in Baptismum Christi: Τοῦτο δὲ τὸ ἀἐγκόλπιον ἢ ζῶν ὕδωρ χαρίζεται. Ἦν γὰρ ἀπόκρισις ἡ κλῆσις ἐπερώτησις. Ἀλλὰ θεῖον σύστημα, καὶ ἡ δι' ἀνθρώπου ἐπιφοίτησις, μυστικῶς ἐσχημάτισε τὸν ἀπὸ τῆς ἁμαρτίας ἐλευθερίαν. ὕδωρ δὲ ὑπηρετεῖ τοῦτ' ἤδη τὸ καθάρσιον. Hoc autem beneficium non aqua largitur, esset enim omni creatura sublimior; sed Dei præceptum, & Spiritus, qui mysticè ad nostram libertatem venit, adventus. Aqua verò subservit ad indicationem purgationis. Unde satis liquet, illam, quæcunque est, efficaciam Sacramentis attributam, non esse illam inhærentem elementis, instar physicorum instrumentorum, quam impugnatum imus. Singula porro Patrum loca, quæ ex Bellarmino compilasti, doctissimus Chamierus Panstrat. de Sacram. lib. II. 6. cùm jam solidè discusserit, labore supervacaneo libens supersedeo.

ARG. II. Causa gratiæ justificantis & sanctificantis est Spiritus sanctus & fides. Unde contingere potest, ut ab iis causis gratia jam producta sit ante usum Sacramentorum, uti liquet exemplo Abrahami, Eunuchi, Centurionis & Auditorum Petri adultorum & infantum baptizandorum. Atqui quod supervenit rei alicui jam productæ, eam physicè non operatur.

RESP. REDING: 1. Perinde argumentaris, ac si quis inde, quòd Deus sit causa rerum omnium, contenderet, nullam creaturis virtutem effectricem inesse. Est sanè Spiritus S. principalis gratiæ causa; sed Sacramenta ejusdem gratiæ causa subordinata & instrumentalis sive physica, sive moralis sunt. Quomodo etiam tu fidem una cum Spiritu S. gratiæ justificantis causam facis. 2. Fides in infantibus locum non habet, Sacramentum igitur supplet. In adultis præter fidem etiam Sacramenta requiruntur. 3. Nequs obstat, quòd subinde gratia præexistit Sacramentorum usui, quia tum gratiæ augmentum operatur. Ib. pag. 46. Resp. 1. Causæ principalis & minùs principalium subordinationem in gratiæ & salutis negotio nos non ignoramus. At post Spiritus S. à parte Dei, & fidei à parte hominis, efficientiam Sacramenta gratiæ causam esse per inhærentem signis quandam sive principalem sive instrumentalem efficaciam, id verò negamus, eo argumento freti, quòd gratia sæpe Sacramentis præexistat. In causis verò physicis, seu quasi physicis, quæ per inhærentem qualitatem operantur, nunquam effectus causam præcedit. Nam non existentium nullæ sunt qualitates, nulla proin efficacia, operationes nullæ. Alia ratio est causarum moralium, quarum nondum existentium effecta quædam esse, nihil obstat, quia talia effecta existentiam suam physicam obtinent ab alia causa physicè agente. Quomodo in humanis contractibus dos est morale effectum matrimonii: quæ tamen ante ipsum existens matrimonium, in gratiam scilicet futuri matrimonii, constitui, imò numerari etiam potest. At hic sermo est de Sacramentis per inhærentem efficaciam, adeóque physicè, uti plerique vestri pertendunt, agentibus. Hoc enim in controversiæ statu manifestè expressimus. Si igitur sic Sacramenta physicè, & per inhærentem vim gratiam instrumentaliter, uti tu contendis, efficiunt, vel in nobis sine nobis, vel in nobis per nos eam efficiunt. Non prius, tum quia gratia prior esse potest Sacramentis, & revera adoptio, amor Dei, conciliatio per mortem Christi Sacramentis priores sunt: tum quia non agunt vel in Deo, vel in homine. Non in Deo, quia absurdum nimis in Deo agere Sacramenta physicè. Non in homine, quia nec gratiam, quæ est amor Dei in nos, seu voluntas Dei, cujus præter ipsum causa nulla est; nec qualitatem gratiæ præviam operantur, quia sic in gratia Dei

Dei non eſſet prima cauſa ſalutis ; & diſpoſitionis ejuſmodi ad gratiam Chriſti inſtitutio nuſpiam meminit. Non poſterius, quia in nobis per nos nec juſtificationis ſenſum, nec ſanctificationem ſive principaliter ſive inſtrumentaliter operantur. Non illum, quia ſoli fidei juſtificatio tribuitur. Non hanc, tum quia ſanctificationis cauſa eſt Spiritus Dei : tum quia corda fide purificantur : tum quia nullum inſtrumentum phyſicè agens, uti vos Sacramenta facitis, adhibetur ad effectum priùs productum, quomodo ſanctificatio Sacramenta, te ipſo fatente, præcedere poteſt, & præcedit ſubinde, uti Cornelii centurionis exemplum fidem facit : tum denique, quia omne inſtrumentum phyſicè agens, & quidem immediatè, ſemper agit in præſenti, cùm Sacramenta, Baptiſmus inprimis infantum, ſanctificationem ſerò poſt ſe trahant. 2. Non Sacramentum in infantibus fidem ſupplet, ſed potiùs gratia fœderis. Et in adultis Sacramenta ſic requiruntur, ut ſine iis, in privationis, non contemptus caſu, fides ſufficere poſſit. Hæc igitur ſolam gratiam Chriſti apprehendit : apprehenſam Sacramenta ſignificant & obſignant. 3. Sicut denique ſanctificationem Sacramenta non operantur phyſicè, uti demonſtravimus : ita nec, ob eaſdem rationes, ſanctificationis augmentum. Præterea, ut phyſicè non operari conſtet, ſatis eſt, quòd gratia & juſtificationis & ſanctificationis præcedere poteſt. uti exempla à me allata, ad quæ reſpondendi inopem te oſtendis, fidem abundè faciunt.

ARG. III. Quæ baptiſmi, eadem euchariſtiæ ratio eſt. At baptiſmus ſalvat non phyſica efficientia operis operati, hoc eſt, ut Apoſtolus loquitur, 1. Pet. III. 21. non depoſitio ſordium carnis, ſed συνειδήσεως ἀγαθῆς ἐπερώτημα εἰς Θεὸν, interrogatio bonæ conſcientiæ apud Deum, argumentum nimirum & fundamentum conveniendi, interrogandi, & fiducialiter compellandi Deum ut Patrem noſtrum. Et ſanè nuda elementa ſupernaturalis gratiæ debitum ſubjectum, ſeu vehiculum ad animi ſordes eluendas, ſine Spiritus S. & fidei operatione eſſe minimè poſſunt : perinde ac verbum Dei niſi fide temperatum, & ipſa caro Chriſti niſi fide manducata, nihil operantur.

RESP. READING : 1. Illa bonæ conſcientiæ interrogatio, quam Baptiſmo S. Petrus tribuit, non eſt formaliter Sacramentum Baptiſmatis, ſed ejus duntaxat effectus. Unde ſequitur, Baptiſma ex vi Divinæ inſtitutionis habere virtutem conferendi gratiam juſtificantem, qua peccata remittuntur, & bonæ conſcientiæ interrogatio acquiritur. 2. Effectus hoſce ſupernaturales non tribuimus nudis elementis ; ſed ea vis iis ex vi Divinæ inſtitutionis ſupervenit. Ib. pag. 46. Reſp. 1. Sit ne interrogatio bonæ conſcientiæ forma, an effectus Baptiſmi, non quæritur ; ſed, an Baptiſmus ſalvet phyſica efficientia operis operati. Hoc verò negat S. Petrus, ajens ſalvare, ſed non, ut eſt depoſitio ſordium carnis. Si verò ſigna Sacramentorum efficerent id, quod ſignificant, vi aliqua inhærente, tum in baptiſmo ablutio ſordium carnis baptizatum ſalvaret, quia in eo externum ſignum non aliud eſt quàm ablutio corporis. Sacramenta enim non elementa tantùm, ſed etiam ritus, ſeu elementa certo modo uſurpata, ſunt, qui modus in Baptiſmo non eſt niſi ablutio corporis. Ergo vel ablutioni externæ efficientia hæc phyſica inſit oportet, vel viſibili ſigno planè non ineſt. Quo verò ſenſu Baptiſmus ſit ἐπερώτημα interrogatio bonæ conſcientiæ, ſupra explicavimus. Nec refert, ejus forma, an effectus ſit ; quia non de quavis efficientia, tia, ſed de ea quæ ſit per inhærentem cauſæ vim, quæſtio eſt. Quomodo verò eam interrogationem efficit Baptiſmus per inhærentem ſigno vim, cùm ſigno efficientiam S. Petrus negaverit? Quanquam Baptiſmi effectus ſtatuitur σώζειν ſalvare, & quidem qua is eſt interrogatio ejuſmodi ita ut interrogatio non effectus Baptiſmi, ſed cauſa potiùs ſalutis manifeſtè conſtituatur. Eſt enim pignus & arrhabo, ſive ſigillum, dans libertatem interrogandi ſive ſtipulandi gratiam. Salus verò ceu effectus propriè non baptiſmo, ſed reſurrectioni Chriſti tribuitur. 2. Effectus hoſce tribuitis tamen elementis, ceu cauſis minùs principalibus & inſtrumentalibus, inhærente vi efficiendi gratiam pollentibus. Ergo virtus & illa inſtitutio Dei debet virtutem aliquam in elemento, ſeu re illa corporea conſtituere, quæ proportionem habeat ad animam, in quam gratia introduci debet. Nam agens influens in patiens, virtutem homogeneam aliquo modo in ſe habere debet. Fieri autem nequit, ut Sacramenta, quæ ſunt res craſſæ & materiales, ad animam penetrent, & ibi quaſi creando ingenerent Divinam ac ſupernaturalem virtutem ſdque in momento. Rectè Canus de Sacram. p. 4. Sacramentum, inquit, non attingit vi ſua inſtrumentali & ſupernaturali qualitatem, quæ eſt gratia, quia tum vel produceretur nova qualitas in Sacramento ad attingendum hunc effectum, vel non. Primum eſt ridiculum. Secundum eſt abſurdum. Sine nova virtute addita Sacramenta id efficere, quod ante non poterant. Relinquitur ergo, quicquid Sacramenta efficiunt, illud omne non per inhærentem qualitatem, ſed Spiritus S. & fidei, illius ut producentis, hujus ut recipientis gratiam, ope efficere.

ARG. IV. Sacramenta phyſicè operantur vel gratiam ipſam, vel qualitatem ei prævium. Non prius, quia gratia adoptionis & reconciliationis noſtræ eſt à Deo, & in Deo. Non poſterius, quia aliâs gratia non eſſet prima cauſa ſalutis, nec aptaret hominem, ſed eum aptatum aliunde admitteret.

Resp. Reding: 1. Deflectis à centro quæſtionis à Synodo Tridentina definitæ, quæ in eo ſe tenet, quòd Sacramenta contineant & conferant gratiam ex opere operato; abſtrahendo, an ea vis gratiæ cauſativæ ſit purè moralis, an etiam phyſica. quod poſterius, ceu Scholaſticam ſubtilitatem, Synodus intactum reliquit, ut Theologorum ingeniis liberum eſſet, aciem ſuam ad utramvis partem intendere. 2. Caterùm non eſt improbabilis ſententia, quæ Sacramentis negat vim inſtrumentariam gratiæ phyſicè cauſatricem: & non minùs probabilis ſententia, quæ vim eam iis attribuit. Et inter duas illas ſententias poſterior, affirmans vim inſtrumentalem phyſicam, veriſimilior eſt, quia res creatæ habent potentiam obedientialem, per quam Divinitus elevari poſſunt ad effectus naturæ ſuæ improportionatos phyſicè producendos. Quomodo ignis infernalis quamvis corporeus aſſumitur à Deo, tanquam inſtrumentum, ad ſubſtantiam merè ſpiritualem torquendam. Actu autem elevari teſtimonia Scripturæ & Patrum, nec non dignitas Sacramentorum novæ legis, evincunt. 3. Operantur verò hac ratione Sacramenta aliquid prævium gratiæ, quod ad hanc diſponat, non ex parte rei operatæ, ſed modi operandi, quatenus principalis agentis Dei actionem modificant, ut gratia, ceu effectus Divinæ virtutis propriæ, eique unicè proportionatus non ex ſolo Deo, ſed ex naturali quoque Sacramenti entitate phyſicè efficienter procedat. Ib. pag. 47-50. Reſp. 1. A centro quæſtionis à Tridentinis definitæ deflectere equidem non potui, quia nullum ejuſmodi centrum boni illi Patres figere auſi ſunt,contenti verborum generalitate & cothurno tali,quem diſſiti & diſſentientes plurimùm ſuo quiſque pedi aptare poſſent. quò videlicet, uti tu loqueris, Theologi aclem ſuam ad utramque partem intendere; hoc eſt, ſcepticè diſputare,& res fidei libidini, qua flagrant, contradicendi ſubjicere poſſint. Unde ſic librarunt verba, ut nulla pars,nec Franciſcani, nec Dominicani, ſibi præjudicatum conqueri poſſet; tam molles in ſuos videlicet,quàm in alienos crudeles. Atque hic tu rurſus de ſubtilitate Scholaſtica veſtros inter diſſenſum eſſe, non de fide,in qua à Tridentinis definita conſentiant omnes, clamas. Suetus ita fidem metiri præjudicii tui decempeda, non ullo certiore canone. Si quid igitur nondum habetis conſtitutum ſatis apud vos, id negas eo ipſo eſſe de fide,ne videamini de fide contendere. Quicquid autem nobiſcum diſcrepantiæ eſt,tam leve & exiguum eſſe nequit, quin graviſſimo hæreſeos nomine veniat in anathema. Interim ſi Tridentini verbis ſuis,quòd Sacramenta contineant gratiam,& eandem ex opere operato efficiant,non hoc definiverunt,quòd habeant vim efficiendi gratiam phyſicè,quomodo tu ipſe pag.47.Sr.1: hanc ipſam ſententiam Florentini & Tridentini Concilii authoritate probatum iviſti? Et cur non ſine ambagibus,cùm ſtet tibi ſententia,Tridentinos modum cauſalitatis phyſicum aſſeruiſſe,argumento meo, quod modo huic directè oppoſitum eſt,ſatisfeciſti? Quomodo amavit nos Deus tum,cùm eſſemus impii,ſi ſic Sacramenta cauſæ principalis actionem modificant, & ad recipiendam dam gratiam ſubjectum diſponunt? Manétne homo ſic per Sacramenta diſpoſitus adhuc impius? Taceo argumenta reliqua, in tractatione etiam argumenti ſecundi à me aſſertioni tuæ obducta.

ARG. V. Si Sacramenta phyſicè gratiam in ſe continent, & inſita virtute conferunt, tum Sacramentis gratia alligata eſt. Atqui hoc abſurdum, tum quia Deus eſt agens liberrimum: tum quia conferre gratiam inſita virtute ſolius Dei proprium eſt: tum quia ſine Sacramentis multi ſalvantur, & cum iis multi damnantur.

Resp. Reding: 1. Deus quidem Sacramentis ſuis gratiam non alligavit. Interim illa in Sacramentis ſecundùm inſtrumentalem virtutem, ipſius gratiæ ex Divinæ, seu principalis virtutis motione inſtrumentariè effectricem, ex paſſione Chriſti seu opere operato, acceptam, continetur. 2. Sine verò phyſica illa inſtrumentaria virtus qualitas actioni Sacramentali ſuperaddita, nec ne, certant Theologi. Et probabilius eſt, ſuperadditam eſſe. lb. pag. 50. 51. Reſp. 1. Quomodo Deus Sacramentis gratiam non alligavit, ſi, quod tu ſtatim aſſeveras, illa in Sacramentis, & quidem per qualitatem actioni Sacramentali ſuperadditam ac Divinitus impreſſam, continetur? An quod in Sacramentis; Baptiſmo inprimis, cujus abſolutam neceſſitatem propugnatis; continetur, iis non alligatur? Cur igitur ad argumenta mea non reſpondes? Cur Deum ſic exteriùs ſymbolis vices ſuas reſignâſſe, nos non edoces? 2. Sententiæ veſtræ abſurditas in has vos anguſtias conjecit, ut diſputare neceſſum habeatis, an phyſica illa inſtrumentalis efficientia fiat per qualitatem ſuperadditam, nec ne? Quam diſputationem tu nobis repræſentare debuiſti, ne hac etiam in re veſtra conflictatio nobis clam eſſet. Nos verò eam, ceu otioſam, & nihil ad nos pertinentem, ad Sophiſtarum ſubſellia amandamus.

ARG. VI. Ad efficaciam Sacramenti requiritur fides, devotio, & interior animi motus, tum quia id diſertè aſſerit Scriptura Marc. XVI. v. 16. 1. Cor. XI. v. 27. Act. XI. v. 38. tum quia ſine fide nihil Deo placet, Hebr. XI. 6. tum quia promiſſio, quæ in Sacramentis continetur & fides ſunt correlatæ: tum quia ipſimet adverſarii fatentur, ad efficaciam Sacramenti in adultis requiri ſtatum gratiæ, qui ſine fide & devotione non eſt.

Resp. Reding: Licet fides & gratiæ ſtatus ad effectum Sacramenti percipiendum in adultis prærequiratur, non ideo tamen ex opere operato Sacramenta gratiam non conferunt. Nam per Sacramenta ex opere operato (meritorum ſcilicet Chriſti, independenter à fide tanquam merito, non verò in adultis tanquam diſpoſitione) per ſe ac immediatè ſuſcipienti, & obicem non ponenti gratia juſtificans & ſanctificans confertur. Cùm enim, juxta te, in Sacramentis contineatur promiſſio gratiæ, & promiſſio Divinæ dictionis efficaciam contineat, utpote relationem habens ad fidem, quæ Divinæ dictionis certitudine nititur; oportet etiam Sacramentis competere eam dictionis Divinæ efficaciam, quæ gratiam promiſſam intuitu meritorum Chriſti ex opere operato efficiat. lb. pag. 51. 52. Reſp. Fidem primò intelligis generalem duntaxat, quæ ſit diſpoſitio ad gratiam, non inſtrumentum, quo eadem apprehenditur. Tum eam præſupponis æquè ac ſtatum gratiæ, extra quem nulla fides eſt. Ita unam ad gratiam diſpoſitionem conferet fides, alteram immediatam etiam Sacramenta, & quidem ex opere operato, adeóque seorsim à fide operantia in subjecto dispositionem ad recipiendam gratiam. Nos verò ad efficaciam Sacramenti non tantùm prærequiri, sed ut operantem actu & immediatè requiri fidem, & eam per Sacramenta gratiam repræsentantia & obsignantia excitari confirmaríque, & asserimus, & probamus. Nec tu ad argumenta respondes. Synodum verò phrasi illa ex opere operato, à Sacramenti operatione accipientis fidem & devotionem excluſisse, initio quæstionis hujus probavimus. Neque tu dissimulare potes. Si enim, uti pertendebas supra, Sacramenta per insitam & superadditam virtutem physicè & per modum instrumenti immediatè dispositionem gratiæ in subjecto producunt, utique partibus suis ex opere operato defunguntur, neque id, quod fides & devotio efficiunt, eadem, sed diversa causalitate efficiunt. Cùm igitur Sacramenta ex opere operato meritorum Christi gratiam efficere vis, æquivocè loqueris. Nam vel omnem causalitatem gratiæ merito Christi ceu operi, quod ipse solus operatus est, acceptam sic refers; vel insitam Sacramentis causalitatem à meriti Christi virtute arcessis. Si prius, tibi contradicis apertè. Si posterius, præterquam quòd Christus nihil meruit Sacramentis, sed homini Sacramentis utenti, nec meriti sui virtutem Sacramentis impertitur, sed nobis ea per Sacramenta communicat; manet insuper, Sacramenta efficaciam suam instrumentalem immediatam, sine respectu fidei & devotionis, ex opere operato ipsius Sacramenti habere. Quæ vestrorum sententia est, quicquid eam occultare & incrustare satagas. Si Sacramenta ex opere operato sic justificarent, non indigerent meritis Christi. Sed dum non justificant, sed passionem Christi justificantem monstrant, meritis Christi indigent. Denique in Sacramentis contineri promissionem, eámque efficacem & certam, dixi. At in Sacramentis sic contineri, ut ad gratiam promissam physicè instrumentaliter, seu per inhærentem qualitatem, Sacramenta disponant, non dixi. Quin potiùs in Sacramentis promissionem significantibus & obsignantibus contineri, & vera fide, quam Sacramenta ipsa excitant & confirmant, recipi, statuimus. Sic namque, ut à terminis Scholasticis abstrahamus, res habet. Christus mortuus est pro electis. Deus illius sacrificium publicè proponit, jubens omnes credere, se, si confugiant ad ipsum, in Christo justitiam & vitam habituros. Hoc verbum, hoc Sacramenta dictitant. Cùm igitur homo invitatione hac excitatus ad Christum confugit, tum ei demum Sacramentis uti licet. Ibi consideratur Deus non tantùm indefinitè invitans, & sub conditione promittens, sed venientem in fœdus, amicitiam recipiens, justitiámque & omne jus justorum ei assignans. Qui igitur ante indefinitè omnibus loquebatur, venite omnes onerati, is quemadmodum in corde per Spiritum suum loquitur, ita foris per Sacramentum privatim fideli dicit: Ego sum Deus tuus, justus es, tua est promissio. Ita Sacramentum fit morale medium certitudinis. Ita promissionem continet. Neque ibi se gratia sistit, ut nihil consequatur amplius. Consequitur enim bonum, quod Deus paravit filiis suis & justis, de quo bono per Sacramentum certi simus. Atque ita Sacramenta in fide susciperе, est tantundem atque videre & audire Deum imperantem, ut bona illa in nos deriventur, non quòd tum demum Deus id imperet ac decernat, sed quia id nobis intimatur non modò in genere, sed privatim fideli cuivis. Quomodo Sacramenta sunt signa practica, quia vi verbi Dei promittentis de gratia justificationis, & justificationem consequente, certos reddunt. Pontificii verò justificationem in regenerationem vertentes, fidémque generalem tantùm, dispositionem ad regenerationem tantùm, unam; altera Sacramenta statuentes, & renovationis hujus efficientiam Sacramentorum operi operato, ceu conditioni, adscribentes, Evangelium & fœdus fœdus Dei penitus corrumpunt; & Sacramentorum verum uſum tollunt, falſum ponunt, denique Teſtamento Dei ἐνδιαθήκῳ diſpoſitionem peregrinam ſuperadduntᵗ. Deus enim per Sacramenta propriè non regenerat, ſed regenitis jam per ea gratiam obſignat.

ARG. VII. Sic Sacramenta hodie in profanitate vitæ & morum ſunt & habentur fiducia carnalis, impia hominum carnalium κρησφύγετα, & tantùm ſpeluncæ latronum.

Resp. Reding: 1. Calumnias ſpiras, adverſus ipſam etiam antiquitatem orthodoxam. Fatetur enim Calvinus Inſtit. l. IV. 14:17. veteres ad ampliandam Sacramentorum dignitatem quædam paulò magnificentiùs ſcripſiſſe. Noſtra igitur de virtute Sacramentorum doctrina, vel ipſo fatente, in orthodoxa antiquitate fundata eſt. 2. Vos potiùs profani eſtis, qui Sacramenta veritate Divinitus promiſſa orbatis; atque ſic Dei promittentis veracitatem in dubium vocatis. Obſignatio enim & ſignificatio gratiæ, quæ reali gratiæ collatione deſtituitur, illam non verè præſtat. An enim ſi Magiſtratus Tigurinus fide ſua & ſigillo publico tibi centum florenos promiſeris, ſola illa obſignatio ſummam eam tibi præſtat? An ſola obſignatione contentus eam exigere negligis? lb. pag. 52. Reſp. 1. Non calumniæ hæ, ſed res ſunt. Et docet veſtra inprimis praxis. Annon enim Sacramentorum etiam fictitiorum, quale præprimis eſt abſolutio Sacerdotis, uſus jam pridem apud vos carnalem ſecuritatem genuit, dum virtuti in Sacramentis latenti ſtolidè confidentes, licentiùs veſtri graſſantur, & licentiam eam Sacramenti inſita virtute expiari perſuaſum habent? Inprimis id attritio, ſeu metus pœnæ, quam ſejunctam ab omni amore Dei, accedente ſolo Sacramenti uſu, juſtificare & ſalvare aſſeritis, jubare meridiano clariùs arguit. Qualis inſuper conſecutio eſt: Calvinus ſcribit, de Sacramentis veteres magnificentiùs quædam ſcripſiſſe, ad ampliandam eorum dignitatem. Ergo, Calvino fatente, conſentiunt, Sacramenta virtute inſtrumentali phyſica ex opere operato gratiam conferre? Diſputare hoc, an ſtupere eſt? In orthodoxa antiquitate non magis vocem barbaram operis operati quàm hæreticorum illud Abraxas, aut Hacamot, aut Caulacan, Saulauſan, aut ſimilia; nedum rem ipſam reperies. Licet enim Sacramentorum dignitatem phraſibus hyperbolicis quidam alicubi ampliarunt, unde errori veſtro præſidium vos quærere, Calvinus innuit: nullos tamen errori veſtro conſentientes habetis. Ubi enim Deum ſolam gratiæ cauſam faciunt, & efficientiam Spiritus ac elementi diſparant? Poſſem plures, & ex pluribus plura heic repræſentare; niſi Celeb. Chamierus Panſtrat. de Sacram. lib. II. 10.11. id jam ſolidè, vix ſpicilegio poſt uberem meſſem relicto, egiſſet. 2. Deus verax quicquid in Sacramentis promittit, id omne præſtat; ſed non per latentem virtutem Sacramentis annexam & affixam. de quo ſolo quæſtio eſt. Atque hic conſentientes habemus doctores veſtros inclytos, Bonaventuram, Scotum, Bielem, alios, aſſerentes ſtrenuè, Sacramenta gratiam non virtute inſita, ſeu inſiſtente, ſed aſſiſtente operari, ceu gratiæ ſigilla. An etiam illi profani ſunt? Si illi non, cur nos? Audi Bonaventuram in 4. d. 1. q. 2. ubi tali exemplo rem illuſtrat: Rex ſtatuit, ut qui habet tale ſignum, habeat centum libras. Poſt inſtitutionem illam ſignum illud, quia habet efficacem ordinationem, dicitur habere virtutem, ut faciat aliquem habere centum libras. Comparatio igitur tua frigida & inepta eſt. Non enim ſicut Magiſtratus ſigillo promittens præmium in futurum demum ſolvendum, efficaciter promittit, at non ſimul ſolvit: etiam Deus in Sacramentis ceu ſigillis gratiam obſignans, non ſimul confert; imò potiùs jam ante contulit, & collatæ certitudinem per ſigillum firmat. Ergo ſigilla confundis. Alia enim rerum promiſſarum, & in futurum præſtandarum: alia rerum jam præſtitarum, & in ipſo ſigilli uſu, ac deinceps etiam præſtandarum certitudinem confirmant. Quomodo in rebus civilibus alia ratio eſt ſigillorum, quæ certos reddunt hæreditatis demum adeundæ, vel rerum in futurum præſtandarum: alia eorum, quæ certos reddunt de jure rerum jam actu præſtitarum & collatarum; hoc eſt, quæ legitimum rerum jam poſſeſſarum jus obſignant & confirmant. In poſteriore genere ſigillorum obſignantium eſſe Sacramenta, demonſtrat circumciſio, quæ ſigillum fuit juſtitiæ fidei non accipiendæ, ſed in præputio jam acceptæ. Cæterùm ſigillum Magiſtratus mei Optimi & Munificentiſſimi de futuro beneficio, etſi in præſens beneficium non confert, non tamen nihil confert vel efficit. Nam & jus ad beneficium conſequendum, & de futura conſecutione certitudinem confert. Magna vis eſt relatorum, inprimis ubi Deus ipſe fidem obſtringit, S. Paulo Hebr. VI. 17. 18. teſte. Ipſa fabula dedicationis veſtræ Angelicæ, & fictitia Deiparæ miracula tibi & Monachis tuis Principale faſtigium & divitias ampliſſimas, luxuriæ & ſecularis typhi inſtrumenta parere, non jure equidem, ſed fraude potuerunt. Quid ergo non promiſſio facta ab iis, qui & jus promittendi, & potentiam implendi habent, præſtare poterit?

ARG. VIII. Genuina dogmatis hujus cauſa eſt, ut celent errorem perniciosiſſimum, quaſi videlicet Deus Sacramenta inſtituerit in ſigna, miraculi quod velit facere in ſanctificatione eorum, qui Sacramentis utuntur, ut ita ſacrificuli Sacramenta adminiſtrantes tanquam Θαυματουργοὶ, miraculi effectores (revera φαρμακεῖς incantatores, utpote qui etiam verba precum non intellecta quoad efficaciam eorum, cum efficacia carminum & faſcinorum comparare audent, uti ex Origine Bellarminus de verbo Dei 11.16.) ſui exiſtimationem & poteſtatem, cùm de cætero honorabile officium nec faciant & collutulent potiùs, augeant.

RESP. REDING: Calumniæ & blaſphemiæ hæ ſunt. Ib. pag. 297. Reſp. Cur igitur non oſtendis? Nam rem quidem ego authorem dedi. Annon ipſemet ſtatuis, elementa à Deo elevari per impreſſam virtutem ad effectum longè naturam ſuam tranſcendentem? Efficiunt igitur non per naturam, ſed ſupra naturam, adeóque per miraculum? Sacrificuli veſtri annon Sacramenta adminiſtrant? Sic ergo erunt θαυματουργοὶ miraculorum effectores. Imò revera φαρμακεῖς incantatores. Nam φαρμακεία incantatio & magia eſt uſurpatio ſignorum tanquam habentium virtutem & quidem phyſicam ad operationes ſupernaturales, quam ea vel à natura, vel à Deo ſupra naturam operante habere, non probatur. Adeóque ex Sacramento facitis carmen magicum, & à fœdere Dei receditis. Nullum enim eſt pactum Chriſti, ex quo ſymbola vim juſtificandi habeant.

ARG. IX. Denique colluctatio Scholaſticorum de modo continendi & efficiendi gratiam ſuperiùs indigitata, dogmatis incertitudinem prodit.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Sacramenta remittunt peccata, ſalvant, regenerant, Act. II. 38. XXII. 16. Ephe. V. 26. Tit. III. 5. 1. Petr. III. 21. Ergo gratiam ſalutis in ſe continent, & ex opere operato producunt. Reſp. Sacramenta remittunt peccata, regenerant, ſalvant non propria, immediata, & interna vi, uti patet tum ex 1. Petr. III. 21. tum quia remiſſio peccati in ſententia Dei offenſi conſiſtit, adeóque internæ ceremoniæ propriè tribui non poteſt; ſed ſacramentaliter & impropriè, quia ſunt ſigna efficacia, quibus ea beneficia ſignificantur, obſignantur, & in legitimo uſu exhibentur; Semen regenerationis, & ἐνέχυρον, σφραγὶς ac ὑπερώτημα.

EXCIP. READING: 1. Quod ergo medium ex ſacris literis affers, quo mediante Sacramenta illa effectus cauſent? An gratia & paſſio Chriſti? At illa vi promiſſionis Divinæ per Sacramenta applicari debent. 2. Remiſſio peccati cauſalis conſiſtit in ſententia Dei offenſi, non formalis, quæ ita eſt Sacramenti effectus, ut ſententia Dei peccatum cauſaliter remittens Sacramentum formaliter denominet, & in eſſe ſigni meriti Chriſti applicantis conſtimat. 3. Textus allegati cauſalitatem eorum effectuum Sacramentis abſolutè & ſimpliciter ſine ullo tropo tribuunt. Ib. pag. 54. 55. Reſp. 1. Medium eſt à parte Dei Spiritus meritum Chriſti, ejúſque effectus omnes donans; à parte hominis fides, quæ ceu manus, Chriſtum à Deo donatum accipit & apprehendit. Sacramenta verò non immediatè applicant, quia Chriſtus & fœdus Dei noſtrum eſſe poteſt ante Sacramentorum uſum; ſed fidem adjuvant, & obſignatione ſua, ceu ſigna & ſigilla efficacia, certitudinem nem gratiæ collatæ & ad nos pertinentis efficiunt. Ita ſigilla propriè nec efficiunt, nec applicant res in diplomate comprehenſas, ſed earum ad nos pertinentium & applicatarum jus & certitudinem muniunt. 2. Remiſſio peccatorum quid aliud formaliter eſt, quàm ſententia Dei offenſi, qua non imputat, ſed condonat peccatum? Cauſa verò ejus eſt juſtitia & meritum ſanguinis Chriſti. Quomodo verò ſententia Dei offenſi externæ alicui ceremoniæ niſi ſub ratione ſigni aut ſigilli, ſententiam illam teſtatam reddentis, tribui poteſt? 3. Falſum eſt ſimpliciter & abſolutè effectus illos elementis tribui. Nam & alibi peccatorum remiſſio & ſalus non alii rei quàm gratiæ Dei in Chriſto tribuitur: & diſertè S. Petrus ſalutem baptiſmo, non qua eſt depoſitio ſordium carnis, ſed qua eſt interrogatio bonæ conſcientiæ, hoc eſt, qua eſt ſigillum, dans jus ſtipulandi & flagitandi, adeóque impropriè; propriè autem reſurrectioni Chriſti tribuit. Dicit enim baptiſmum ſalvare δι' ἀναστάσεως Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ, per reſurrectionem Jeſu Chriſti, hoc eſt, meritum Chriſti patientis & reſurgentis. Et nihil tropo iſthoc, quo res ſignificata tribuitur ſigno, in Sacramentis frequentius eſt.

OBIECT. II. Sacramenta conferunt id quod promittitur, quia quotquot baptizantur, Chriſtum induunt, Gal. III. 27. & peccata abluunt, Act. XXII. 16. Ergo ex opere operato iſta perficiuntur. Reſp. 1. Perficiuntur ex opere operato interno Spiritus S. non externo Miniſtri conferentis. 2. Sacramenta conferunt quod promittitur objectivè & moraliter, fidem excitando ad complectendam gratiam & eandem obſignando: non effectivè qualitatem aliquam de novo producendo, educendo vel imprimendo, uti fit per motionem in projectis.

EXCIP. REDING.: 1. Si ſic Sacramenta gratiam conferunt, qui igitur effectus hujuſmodi per baptiſmum conferri poterit infanti, in quo fides ob defectum rationis excitari nequit? 2. Quid eſt internum Spiritus S. opus operatum? Forma increata, an creata ſupernaturalis? Non prius, quia effectus Deum tranſiens increatus eſſe nequit. Si poſterius, ſic interno operi Spiritus S. tribuenda eſt, ut externo etiam Miniſtri operi tribuenda ſit. 3. Unde S. Auguſtinus lib. 2. & 3. contra Creſconium aſſerit, rem Sacramenti dare Deum, Sacramentum dare malos & bonos; ſic in Deum reducens cauſalitatem principalem gratiæ, ut exerceatur mediante lavacro baptiſmi. Idem Tract. 8. in Joh. aquæ baptiſmatis tribuit vim abluendi cor; faciente verbo, non quia dicitur, ſed quia creditur. Sic ergo verbum vitæ (objectivè, radicaliter) creditum virtus manens eſt, ut ex hujus informatione aquæ baptiſmatis conveniat vis non principalis, ſed inſtrumentalis cor abluendi, ſeu interiùs ſanctificandi. I. pag 55. 56. Reſp. 1. Reſpondeat tibi Bonaventura in 4. d. 1. q. 2. ubi ſic ille: Sicut parvulo ſufficit fides aliena, ita ſufficit, quòd ſignificetur ipſi parvulo in alio. Id eſt, ſignificatur intelligentibus, & in illis infanti gratia, quam Deus infanti communicat. Sed de ea re nos ſtatim fuſiùs. 2. Opus interius Spiritus S. operatum, Chriſtum induens, peccata abluens, quatenus in induente & abluto recipitur, eſt forma creata. quia operis increati & infiniti recipiendi creatura capax non eſt. Ita fides, juſtificatio, ſanctificatio, effectus Spiritus S. in homine finiti ſunt, licet infinitum eſt meritum Chriſti, infinita gratia, qua illa dantur. Et tribuitur eadem à peccatis ablutio, & Chriſti receptio etiam Miniſtri externo operi, ſed non ut cauſæ inſita quapiam & impreſſa virtute operanti. Nam nihil eſt qui plantat, nihil qui rigat, ſed Deus, qui dat incrementum, 1. Cor. III. 7. Miniſtri externum opus eſt adminiſtratio Sacramentorum, ceu ſignorum & ſigillorum. quæ quicquid efficiunt, ſignificando & obſignando, non ex virtute intus latente, ſed ex inſtitutione & ordinatione Dei in verbo patente, efficiunt. 3. In citando S. Auguſtino & ad partes tuas trahendo, non credidi, tam altè ſtertere te potuiſſe. Etenim in locis à te citatis totus partium noſtrarum eſt: Rem Sacramenti dat Deus: Sacramentum dant mali & boni, inquit ille, contra Creſcon. lib. III. Quid res Sacramenti aliud quàm gratia eſt? At illam, inquit, dat Deus, oppoſitè ad miniſtros Sacramentum dantes; adeóque ſolus. Miniſtri verò Sacramentum dant, non rem. Si Sacramenta habent vim inſitam producendi gratiam, quomodo Miniſtri Sacramentum dantes non ſimul, ſive ut cauſæ principes, ſive ut inſtrumenta, dant rem? Sed in altero loco tract. in Joh. 80. (non 8. uti falsò citas,) clariùs ſic ille ſcribit: Quare non ait, mundi eſtis per baptiſmum, quo loti eſtis; ſed ait, propter verbum, quod locutus ſum vobis? Niſi quia & in aqua verbum mundat? Detrahe verbum, & quid eſt aqua niſi aqua? Accedit verbum ad elementum & fit Sacramentum, etiam ipſum tanquam viſibile verbum. Nam & hoc utique dixerat, quando pedes diſcipulis lavit. Qui lotus eſt, non indiget, ut pedes lavet, ſed eſt mundus totus. Unde iſta vis aquæ, ut corpus tangat, & cor abluat, niſi faciente verbo: Non quia dicitur, ſed quia creditur? Nam & in ipſo verbo, aliud eſt ſonus tranſiens, aliud virtus manens. Hoc eſt verbum fidei, quod prædicamus, ait Apoſtolus: quia ſi confeſſus fueris in ore tuo, quia Dominus eſt Jeſus, & credideris in corde tuo, quia Deus illum ſuſcitavit à mortuis, ſalvus eris. Corde enim creditur ad juſtitiam, ore autem fit confeſſio ad ſalutem. Unde in Actis Apoſtolorum legimus, fide mundans corda eorum. Et in Epiſtola ſua B. Petrus: Sic & vos, inquit, Baptiſma ſalvos fecit, non carnis depoſitio ſordium, ſed conſcientiæ bonæ interrogatio. Hoc eſt verbum fidei, quod prædicamus: quo ſine dubio, ut mundare poſſet, conſecratur & Baptiſmus. Integrum locum oculis lectoris ſubjiciendum putavi. Comparat ſic Auguſtinus Sacramentum & verbum; & Sacramenti efficaciam totam aſſignat verbo; Verbo autem, non quatenus ſonat exteriùs, ſed quatenus creditur interiùs. Quæ cauſa appellandi verbum fidei. Efficaciam proin Sacramenti non derivat niſi à verbo credito, ac proin per fidem. quod ex verbis Pauli & Petri additis liquet. Ubi ergo Auguſtinus dixit, exercere Deum cauſalitatem principalem gratiæ, mediante lavacro Baptiſmi, tanquam inſtrumentali cauſa? Ubi ex verbi crediti informatione aquam vim abluendi inſitam inſtrumentalem haurire, dixit? Fruſtra enim verbum creditum objectivè interpretaris. Non enim Auguſtinus dicit, verbum, quod creditur; ſed virtutem aquæ eſſe faciente verbo, non quia dicitur, ſed quia creditur. Imò uti vidimus, omnia alia Auguſtinus dixit. Et tu ad ſuffragandum ſomniis tuis obtorto collo rapere non dubitas!

OBIECT. III. Sacramentum baptiſmi collatum etiam infantibus, qui credere & ſignificationem percipere non poſſunt, prodeſt. Ergo gratiam efficit virtute phyſica & ex opere operato. Reſp. Infantibus obſignatur promiſſio gratiæ in fœdere ipſis facta, Geneſ. XVII. 7. Neque obeſt, quòd fide in præſens non accipiatur, tum quia actualis fidei capaces non ſunt: tum quia adveniente uſu rationis etiam actuali fide apprehenditur: tum quia, ut Bonaventura loquitur in 4. d. 1. q. 2. Sicut parvulo ſufficit fides aliena, ita ſufficit quòd ſignificetur tetur ipſi parvulo in alio, hoc eſt, ſignificatur intelligentibus, & in illis infanti, gratia, quam Deus communicat infanti.

Excip. Reding: Cùm intelligentibus gratia ſignificetur, pro tunc fides actualis gratiæ in parvulis non eſt. Pro tali igitur infanti gratia non mediante fide, ſed Sacramenti immediatè, id eſt, ex vi promiſſionis ſeu inſtitutionis Divinæ elementum ſenſibile ad eſſe formale Sacramenti elevantis, meritorum Chriſti applicatoriæ, efficacia perficitur. Ib. pag. 56. Reſp. Nec fides actualis propria in parvulis eſſe poteſt; nec Baptiſmus inſita efficacia gratiam in iis unquam, ne adultis quidem, operatur. Ubique enim gratia Sacramenti, non inſiſtens, ſed aſſiſtens operatur. quod etiam Scotiſtæ veſtri fatentur. Neque etiam Sacramentis illam ſolam efficaciam ineſſe, ut fidem moveant, excitent, vel generent, dicimus. Quin potiùs geminam in iis agnoſcimus efficaciam, utramque Dei, ſed alteram ſine nobis; alteram per nos. Ad illam nos paſſivè, ad hanc activè habemus. In illa promittitur & exhibetur gratia reconciliationis ſine nobis. In hac agit nos Deus, ut internis animorum motibus & per fidem gratiam accipiamus. Utraque non ſignis inhæret, ſed moraliter aſſiſtit. Denique illa efficacia Sacramentis reſpectu infantum: hæc reſpectu adultorum inest. Sic circumciſio & ſigillum fuit, ſignúmque, & ſimul infantibus ſignificationem nondum intelligentibus, ſed intellecturis collata fuit.

OBIECT. IV. Sacramenta ſunt ſigna non theoretica, ad ſignificandum tantùm inſtituta, ſed practica ad ſignificandum ſimul & efficiendum ordinata. Ergo. Reſp. Bellarminus fatetur, ſigna illa vocari practica, quæ referuntur ad opus, ſive id fiat mediatè ſive immediatè. Practica igitur ſigna etiam Sacramenta quamvis non phyſicè operantia gratiam, & in ſignificando tantùm & obſignando poſita dici poſſunt, quia verſantur circa opus non quidem immediatè illud efficiendo, ſed mediatè illud operando, ultra repræſentationem etiam per efficacem ordinationem, & aſſiſtentiam Dei: uti Magiſtri docent apud Bonaventuram in 4. d. 1. q. 1. Ita percuſſio petræ baculo facta Exod. XVII. fuit ſignum practicum miraculi, quod ſequebatur, etſi immediatè & ſua virtute illam praxin non exercuit.

Excip. Reding: Signum, cui ex inſtituto Divino aſſiſtit efficax Dei ordinatio gratiæ operativa, non tantùm gratiam obſignat, ſed etiam realiter effectivè eam confert. Ib. pag. 56, 57. Reſp. Damus totum. Sacramenta gratiam obſignando realiter effectivè eandem conferunt, ſed non virtute inhærente phyſica & immediata, ſed aſſiſtente mediata, puta promiſſionis, quam in Sacramenti uſu ex inſtitutione & ordinatione Dei ſignificatam & obſignatam fides applicat.

OBIECT. V. Chriſtus Joh. III. 5. docens renaſci nos ex aqua & ſpiritu, aquam ſeu baptiſmum manifeſtè facit cauſam regenerationis. Reſp. 1. Si rigidè urgeantur hæc verba, dicendum eſſet, ipſam materiam baptiſmi, aquam videlicet, eſſe regenerationis cauſam. 2. Baptiſmum eſſe regenerationis cauſam inſtrumentalem non negamus, quatenus nimirum eſt ſigillum & inſtrumen-

EXCIP. REDING: 1. In verbis illis: Niſi quis regenitus fuerit ex aqua, &c. τὸ ex aqua, tribuis aquæ regenerationis cauſalitatem productricem. 2. Fateris, baptiſmum eſſe regenerationis cauſam inſtrumentalem. Atqui formali cauſæ rationi ac quidditati eſſentiali repugnat, eſſe ſigillum duntaxat obſignativum; ſed eſt ſignum effectus per eam repræſentati productivum. Ib. pag. 57. Reſp. 1. Proba τὸ ex aqua tribuere aquæ cauſalitatem productricem immediatam & inhærentem. De hoc enim quæſtio eſt. An enim aqua regenerationis immediata cauſa eſt? Atqui ſoli Spiritui S. regenerationis cauſalitatem immediatam Chriſtum tribuere, liquet, tum quia proximo verſu, 8. cùm de eadem regeneratione, ut effecto, Chriſtus loquitur, aquæ non meminit, ſed ſpiritus tantùm; Quod genitum eſt ex Spiritu, Spiritus eſt: tum quia idem v. 12. declarat, ſe regenerationis cauſam & modum terreſtri ſigno & phraſi expoſuiſſe ad captum hominis, dicens: Si terrena dixi vobis, & non creditis, quomodo, ſi dixero vobis cæleſtia, credetis? innuens ſcilicet, illud, quod de aqua dixerat, non eſſe craſsè intelligendum: tum quia graviter arguitur Nicodemus, quòd ceu doctor Iſraëlis, non noverit illa, quæ dicta ſunt. qui tamen tum temporis, quando Chriſtus baptiſmum nondum inſtituerat, intelligere non potuit, quomodo aqua propria & immediata gratiæ cauſa eſſe poſſit. Inprimis cùm ne hodie quidem poſt inſtitutum & uſitatum à longo tempore baptiſmum Seraphici doctores veſtri hoc explicare potuerint. Difficile eſt valde, ſic Bonaventura in 4. d. 1. q. 4. ſcribit, intelligere, qualiter virtus detur Sacramento, ſicut qualitas abſoluta: difficilius, quando detur. Difficile eſt etiam, cui detur; verbo, an elemento. Difficile eſt etiam, quandiu duret. Difficile eſt ſimiliter valde intelligere, quomodo influat. Difficile etiam, cujus naturæ ſit in ſe ipſa, & multa talia. Taceo argumenta plura, alibi allata. 2. Baptiſmum eſſe cauſam inſtrumentalem regenerationis, fateor: ſed proximè & immediatè eam efficere, iterum nego. Neque cauſæ mediatæ repugnat eſſe ſigillum duntaxat. quia etiam ſignificando & obſignando efficere poteſt.

OBIECT. VI. Signum & ſigillum promiſſionis gratiæ ipſo promiſſionis verbo notius & efficacius eſſe debet. At Sacramenta verbo promiſſionis non ſunt notiora & efficaciora, quia ex eo cognoſcuntur & probantur. Ergo non ſunt ſigna & ſigilla tantùm. Reſp. Verbum promiſſionis abſolutè & in ſe notius eſt Sacramentis. At relatè & καθ' ἡμᾶς, quo ad nos notiora ſunt Sacramenta, quia Spiritualia ſub rerum terrenarum ſymbolis percipimus faciliùs, teſte Chriſto Joh. III. 12. Ita magis confirmat nos promiſſio ſigillo roborata, quàm verbis tantùm prolata. Unde præter ſymbola etiam Juramentum Deus promiſſionibus ſuis adhibuit Hebr. Oportet igitur non ſigna duntaxat ſint gratiæ, ſed etiam cauſæ. Ib. pag. 57. 58. Reſp. 1. Proh ſcelus! Non credo terrena illa, quæ Redingius dixit, & non probavit. Ergo nec cœleſtia credo. Si terrena tua univerſa credere à Concilio mihi incumberet, cœleſtia potiùs amitterem. 2. Sacramenta, & eorum uſus, non tantùm ex fide innoteſcunt, adeóque eatenus, quà Sacramenta ſignificantia, & in verbo Dei inſtituta, abſolutè & in ſe verbo ignotiora ſunt: ſed etiam fidem promiſſionum Divinarum movent, excitant & confirmant: atque ſic relatè & quoad nos verbo promiſſionis, & fide confirmanda notiora ſunt. Par ratio eſt verbi & Sacramenti. Sicut igitur promiſſio, quæ verbo profertur, per ſe verbo, utpote voluntate promittentis poſteriore, notior, quoad nos verò verbum notius eſt: ſic promiſſio per ſe ſigillis ſuis prior & notior eſt Sacramentis; at Sacramenta, quatenus promiſſionem roborant firmántque, quoad nos notiora ſunt.

QUÆSTIO IV.

An in tribus Sacramentis, Baptiſmo, Confirmatione & Ordine imprimatur character in anima, hoc eſt, ſignum ſpirituale & indelebile?

AFfirmat Canon IX. Synodus quidem ſtudiosè rurſum celavit, & definire omiſit tum eſſentiam, tum proprium ſubjectum characteris, quia de utroque miris modis & pertinaciter digladiari Scholaſticos non ignoraverat. In ipſo Concilio variatum eſt ſententiis. Nam quod eſſentiam characteris attinet, alii pertendebant eſſe qualitatem, qui quatuor in partes, ſecundum quatuor qualitatum ſpecies diſtrahebantur: alii eſſe relationem realem: alii relationem notionalem, quibus ſanè id erat declarandum, quàm prope abeſſet à nihilo. Quoad ſubjectum, alii eum collocarunt in eſſentia animæ, alii in intellectu, alii in voluntate, nonnemo etiam in manibus & lingua. Peculiarem etiam ſententiam tenuit Hieronymus Luſitanus Dominicanus, de qua videſis Hiſtoricum lib. 2. p. 213. Communior ſententia eſt illa Gabrielis Biel, quòd character neceſſarius ſit, ut ſuſcipiens Sacramentum cognoſcat, ſe eſſe in tali ſtatu, ut configuret & aſſimilet nos Chriſto, ut diſtinguat nos ab aliis Sacramentum non ſuſcipientibus, ut diſponat ad gratiam Sacramenti gratum facientem, ut ſuſcipiens adducatur in memoriam Sacramenti ſuſcepti, ut ſit ſignum obligatorium ad obſervantiam Divinæ legis, denique ut cùm indelebilis ſit, Sacramentum reiterabile reddat. Nos characterem illum velut phantaſticum Sophiſtarum commentum rejicimus & explodimus. Etenim

ARG. I. Scripturæ eum eſſe ignotum,& ſolius eccleſiæ Pontificiæ nimirum authoritate invaluiſſe, olim ipſe Scotus faſſus eſt. Et ſanè cùm non Divinitus inſtitutus ſit,uti patet ex formula inſtitutionis, nec pertineat vel ad ſignum,cùm elementaris & ſenſibilis non ſit ; vel ad rem ſignatam, cùm juxta ipſos à gratia diſtinguatur,patet eſſe merum Non ens.

RESP. REDING: 1. Scotus negavit quidem , verba Scripturæ & ſententias Patrum tam claras eſſe,ut character ex iis demonſtrativè evinci poſſit,niſi accederet Eccleſiæ authoritas & verbum traditum ac in Eccleſia propagatum. Attamen in Scripturis virtualiter contineri non negavit. 2. Sanè characterem S.Patres non pauci, inprimis Dionyſius Areop. pagina de *Hier.Eccl cap.2. Baſilius Exhort.ad Bapt. Imò characterem à Scholaſticis venditatum nec ex Scripturis,nec ex Patribus probari, Scotus, aliique affirmant. Ille enim in 4.Sent.diſt.4.q.9. ſic ſcribit: Nec ſacra Scriptura iſtud exprimit eſſe neceſſarium in baptiſmo : nec Sancti explicitè : nec ſequitur evidenter ex veritate baptiſmi credita,&c. Hic reſpondetur, quod Sancti tradunt de charactere ſecundùm illum modum, quo loquimur, ut adductum eſt de Dionyſio & Damaſceno. Sed illæ authoritates videntur tantùm eſſe vocales,& non ad intentionem eorum. Infra: Tamen aliquæ allegantur, non concludentes ex Auguſtino de Baptiſmo contra Donat. cap. 6. (quem locum etiam Redingius citat) In iſta authoritate ſæpius nominat characterem. Sed apparet, quòd nihil ad propoſitum ſecundùm ſignificationem characteris, de quo loquimur. Tandem concludit : Propter ergo ſolam authoritatem Eccleſiæ, quantum occurrit ad præſens,eſt ponendum,characterem imprimi. Gabriel Biel in 4.Sent.diſt.6.q.2. dub.6. ſatis ingenuè: Omnia quæ de charactere dicuntur,pro magna parte ſunt voluntaria, & medica ratione fulta. Ibidem: In toto canone Bibliæ non invenitur , niſi Apocal. XIII. & ſeq. ubi ſit mentio de charactere Beſtiæ. Qualis ergo,ſine teſtimoniis Scripturæ & Patrum traditio? Quod argumentum,ſine iisdem,& in voluntariis ac medica ratione fultis,Eccleſiæ præbet authoritas? Quæ humana, ſine demonſtrata revelatione, ſi quid ad fidem pertinens definit, Antichriſtiana, quæ characterem etiam ſuum jactat, non Chriſtiana eſt. Et cur non potiùs ad quæſtionem meam, an character ad ſignum, an ad rem ſignatam pertineat, reſpondes ? Nempe tibi aqua hæſit. 2. De Patrum teſtimoniis jam Scotus reſpondit. Et author Lexici Theologici Johannes Altenſtaig,ab Aria Montano Antverpiæ probatus,in vocabulo Character negat,vel authoritates S.Scripturæ,vel Patrum teſtimonia originalia cogere ponere characterem ad hunc intellectum , in quo à recentioribus doctoribus accipitur. Neque ſanè characterem Patrum teſtimonia quicquam fulciunt , ſum quià de Baptiſmo ſolo illi loquuntur, cùm Tridentini eundem confirmationi quoque & ordini imprimi definiverint : tum quia vos verborum ſtrepitus nimium titillat, utpote qui apud Patres à te citatos pleroſque ſignaculum vel obſignationem, vel ſignum legentes, ſtatim exclamatis, vos reperiſſe, quòd pueri in faba; cùm tamen iis locutionibus non aliud quàm ſymbolum externum Baptiſmi, ejúſque actio & Sacramentum univerſum,quod quoad rem ſignificatam in anima, quoad ſignificantem ficantem ſenſibile & corporeum eſt; deſcribatur: tum denique quia de Spiritu S. nos interiùs ſignante & obſignante dicta ilico ad commentum characteris ſacramentalis ſtabiliendum rapitis.

ARG. II. Confirmatio & ordo non ſunt Sacramenta. Baptiſmus quidem Sacramentum eſt, ſed non determinatus à Deo ad eam, quam ei affinguntadverſarii, operationem. Nullus ergo per ea character imprimitur.

RESP. REDING: S. Auguſtinus ex charactere impreſſo Baptiſmi irreiterabilitatem probavit. Cùm ergo etiam confirmatio & ordo irreiterabilia ſint, pari ratione characterem imprimunt. Ib. pag. 60. Reſp. S. Auguſtinus baptiſmum ipſum characterem appellat, nuſpiam baptiſmi effectum; & quidem diverſum à baptiſmi gratia. Et ſic appellat, diſputans contra Donatiſtas, iterationem Baptiſmi ab hæreticis collati præſcribentes. Ille verò negans hæreticorum baptiſmum iterandum, urget paſſim, agnoſcendum eſſe characterem. Ita ille de Bapt. lib. VI. 1. Ovem, inquit, quæ foris errabat, & Dominicum characterem à fallacibus prædatoribus ſuis acceperat. Ita Epiſt. 23. 50. 204. Quæ conſecratio reum quidem facit hæreticum extra Domini gregem habentem Dominicum characterem. Plus habet juris, quòd in eo character agnoſcitur. Es vos oves Chriſti eſtis, characterem Dominicum portatis in Sacramento quod accepiſtis. Sic in Joh. tr. 6. Non mutatur, ſed agnoſcitur. Character eſt Regis mei: non ero ſacrilegus. Corrigo deſertorem, non immuto characterem. Ubique character ipſi Baptiſmus eſt. neque uſpiam diſparat. Profer, ſi potes, locum unicum, quo is characterem ceu effectum, à Baptiſmo, ceu cauſa, diſtinguat. Sermone de geſtis cum Emerito dicit: Si Donatus nomine Donati baptizaret, Donati characterem infigeret. An ſic cenſuit, Donatum impreſſurum fuiſſe animo aliquam qualitatem? An potiùs notam externam, ſeu teſſeram ſuæ communionis? Si igitur Baptiſmo character à ſe diverſus, & à Sacramento effectus non ineſt: multò minùs Sacramentis fictitiis inerit.

ARG. III. Neque etiam, quod pertendunt adverſarii character poteſt eſſe Χαρακτὴρ Chriſtianorum, eo utentium. Diſcerneret enim nos vel apud Deum, vel apud homines. Non diſcernit autem nos apud Deum, quia is ſcrutator cordis & renum ad cognoſcendum ſuos charactere non indiget. Non apud homines, quia id faceret vel in hac, vel in futura vita. Non in hac, quia character ſpiritualis eſſe dicitur. Unde in turba hominum ignotorum baptizatum à non baptizato, confirmatum à non confirmato talis characteris indicio nemo diſcernet. Non in futura, quia in ea nec damnati nec glorificati hac diſcretione indigebunt.

RESP. REDING: Eſi Deus non indiget charactere tanquam medio baptizatum à non baptizato diſtinguendi, eo ipſo tamen, quòd in eſſentia ſua omnium ad extra cauſatrice, characterem baptizato impreſſum noſcit, eum à baptizato diſcernit. Niſi characterem in te agnoſcat Angelus, (ita Baſilius loquitur) quomodo pro te pugnabit? Homines verò eſſi characterem intuitivè diſcernere nequeunt, ſuppoſito tamen verbo Dei, quo certi ſunt, Baptiſmum ob characterem non eſſe iterandum, abſtractiva cognitione judicare poſſunt, hunc non illum baptiſmi capacem eſſe. Ib. pag. 60. Reſp. Videris mihi diſputare ſatis pallidus, dus, & parùm artibus tuis confidens. Nihil enim præter falsas hypotheses tuas reponis; nempe quòd Deus characterem baptizato impresserit, atque sic eum à non baptizato discernat; (cui verò bono, cùm sine charactere discernat infinita sua scientia, quæ γνωσιμαχον, fictitiis inprimis, non indiget) quòd character, quem Angelus in fideli agnoscit, sit aliquid à Sacramento distinctum: quòd ex revelatione Divina character abstractiva cognitione videri possit. cùm nulla tamen uspiam revelatio extet. Verbo dicam, fidei vividæ opera, confessio, vitæ novitas, doctrinæ veritas, & subinde Sacramenta, non character, utpote & rationis & fidei oculis ἀδηλον, fidelem ab infideli discernunt.

ARG. IV. Sacramentorum eadem est operatio, eadem efficacia, saltem quoad speciem. Sed Eucharistia in N. Test. juxta illos nullum characterem imprimit aut relinquit.

RESP. REDING: Falsum est, Sacramentorum eandem esse operationem, quoad speciem. Eucharistia verò, utpote iterabilis, charactere non indiget. Ib. pag. 60. Resp. Etsi non idem in Sacramentis quoad speciem est operandi modus: eadem tamen est res, quam obsignando operantur; Christus, gratia fœderis, justitia. Cùm igitur ab his discrepet character, quem Sacramentorum nonnullorum effectum statuitis, planum est, illum non rem, sed chimæram esse. Neque iteriterabilitas Sacramenti à charactere pendet, uti infra probamus.

ARG. V. Character ille sacramentalis, quem fingunt, in nonnullis inducitur & aboletur. Docent enim, tum omnem internam gratiam animis inditam sæpe amitti, semper autem amitti posse; tum pro merè laicis habendos esse, qui olim in ecclesia Romana Sacerdotio functi, Evangelium inter Reformatos prædicant; tum tria illa officia, quorum gratiâ character confertur, in hæreticis & apostatis planè cessare. Ergo non est indelebilis.

RESP. REDING: Aliter nos docemus; nempe & Sacerdotes apostatæ quoad substantiam Sacerdotes esse, & validè Eucharistiam celebrare, licet jurisdictione per Ecclesiam concessa priventur: & officia illa tria, quorum gratia character confertur, in hæreticis, quoad valorem ordinis & potestatis non cessare. Ib. pag. 61. Resp. Nulla est Ministrorum Ecclesiæ jurisdictio propriè dicta. Hæc enim vel Divina est respectu spiritualium, vel humana respectu civilium. Illa solius Dei est; hæc ex delegatione Divina potestatum in mundo eminentium. Quid igitur hæretici, apostatæ amittunt, si potestatem ordinis non amittunt? Egregios verò Sacerdotes, qui quoad substantiam & valorem officiorum manentes tales, apostatæ & hæretici esse possunt! Consortibus vestris gaudete sacrifici!

ARG. VI. Non alium in finem character hic sequioribus temporibus, post Gratianum & Lombardum, uti prætenderunt nonnulli in ipsa Synodo, inductus est, quàm ut Sacramenti certitudo fluxæ arenæ inædificetur, & consolatio vera, quæ ex Sacramentis hauriri debet, tollatur.

RESP. REDING : Non ſic Sacramenti certitudo fluxæ arenæ inædificatur, ſed potiùs Sacramenti irreiterabilitas confirmatur. Ib. pag 61. Reſp. Non figmento characteris, ſed ſolidiori fundamento Baptiſmi irreiterabilitas nititur. Magis ignotum eſt, Baptiſmum imprimere characterem, quàm iterari non poſſe, inquit Gabriel Biel loco ſupra citato. Idem Scotus in 4. *diſt.*6.*q.*7. judicavit.

ARG. VII. Haud obſcurè character ille traducitur Apocal.XIII.17.XIV. 11, ſub nomine characteris beſtiæ & nominis ejus.

RESP. REDING: Hunc characterem impreſſum video fronti tuæ, eò quòd adores beſtiam hæreſeos, & imaginem ejus. Chriſti characterem ex Baptiſmate acceptum ſuperinducto Beſtiæ characteri deformare non ceſſas, quousque bibes de Apocalyptico vino iræ Dei. Ibid. pag.61. Reſp. Bona verba, Redingi! Totiès modò badiza-Babylonicum proſtibulum Beſtiæ inequitans, Romæ vel ſtabulatum eſſe, vel ſtabulaturum quandoque, veſtri doctores pridem definiverunt: ego hodiéque ſtabulari, alibi demonſtro. Ubi proſtibulum equitans eſt, ibidem eſt Beſtia, quæ inequitatur. Ergo & hæc Romæ, & in ditione univerſa Babylonis eſt. Mihi verò cum Roma nihil unquam, laus ſit Deo, commercii fuit. Tu nuper Romam equitaſti, & bibiſti ex aureo poculo plenis faucibus. Sed doluit fortè, quòd fictitio Sacerdotii tui charactere acquieſcere juſſus, ſublimiorem, tuis in ſuffulcienda dominatione Archimyſtæ veſtri meritis dignum, non retuliſti. Sed ad argumentum, Beſtiæ datum eſt, ut faceret omnes, parvos & magnos, divites & pauperes, liberos & ſervos characterem habere in manu dextra & in fronte, & ut charactere eo deſtituto nec emere nec vendere fas ſit, Apoc.XIII.16.17. Cùm Beſtia æquè ac Mulier Babylonica ei inſidens Romæ ſit, characterem Roma dependere ſequitur. Imprimit autem Roma fronti quidem characterem per Exorciſmum baptiſmalem, & confirmationis Sacramentum, aliáque hujuſmodi præſtigiarum Pontificiarum amuleta: dextræ verò characterem indelebilem itidem per Sacramentum ordinationis, in quo ordinandi omnes manu dextra ſignantur. Vis characteris eſt, ut ſic ſignati domino Romæ obnoxii ſint toti, & jus emptionis ac venditionis acquirant. Atque vos jus illud characteriſticum interdum ita urgetis, ut præ vobis feratis apertè, Infantem, dum à Romano Sacerdote baptizatur, Pontifici Romano obligari, ut contra talem, ſi deinceps deficiat, actio perjurii ſit. Et conſtat ſatis, Romam non aliud eſſe quàm Emporium, ubi non aliud ferè agitur, quàm quòd emitur & venditur. Cujus etiam officiarii, ceu Publicani, hoc agunt, ut beneficia, quæ redemerunt, quàm cariſſimè vendant, ſecundùm illud Jer.XXII.17. Nec oculi, nec cor tuum aliud, quàm avaritiam meditantur. Audes ne hæc, Redingi, inficias ire? Et an Spiritus S. Sedis Romanæ characteribus hiſce fictitiis ſeſe proferentis, & nundinationem ſpiritualem inſatiabiliter exercentis deſignationem vivis magis coloribus depingere potuit? Non igitur calumniandi animo, ſed vaticinii impleti evidentia motus ex locis allatis argumentum texui. Cui enim bono prophetiæ, ſi eventu facem præferente eas applicare non licet?

ARG. VIII. Denique in ipſa Synodo multi eum in dubium vocârunt, eò quòd nec Gratianus, nec Lombardus ejus meminiſſet, imò Scotus diceret, neque Scripturæ, neque Patrum verbis neceſſariò eſſe ponendum. Imò Biel poſt longam de charactere diſputationem ſubjicit: Omnia quæ de charactere dicuntur, pro magna parte eſſe voluntaria & modica ratione ſuffulta. Neque authoritatem Scripturæ, neque Sanctorum Patrum cogere, ut ponamus characterem hoc modo intellectum.

RESP. REDING: Ex Suavis Polani commentis agis. Et de Scoto ſupra diximus. 2. Etſi quæ de charactere ex ſubtilitate Scholaſtica diſceptantur, non obligem fidem; Dogmatica tamen veritas à Concilio tradita obligat. Ib. pag. 61. Reſp. 1. Suavis, non contradicente Pallavicino, recenſuit. Et de Scoto nos quoque ſupra. 2. Plerique ante Concilium Tridentinum emunctiorum narium doctores, uti ſupra dicere occupavimus, ſic de charactere diſputârunt, ut parùm à negantibus eum abſuerint. Etſi enim non reluctati ſint temporis ſui tyrannidi, tamen obliqua quadam cluſione eam infirmatum iverunt. veluti cùm quis igni violento lignum ſubducit. Certè magna eſt præſcriptio adverſus ea, quæ docentur, quomodocunque doceantur, ſed maximè in Eccleſia; cùm nec ratione neceſſaria, nec authoritate ſive Divina, ſive humana niti arguuntur. Et tamen non tantùm nihil larvæ Tridentinæ docuerunt, ſed anathematiſmo tantùm, perinde ac ſi certiſſimus & antiquiſſimus fidei articulus eſſet, ſubjecerunt id, quod ante id temporis, hoc eſt, nudius tertius aut quartus neque ratione ulla, nec authoritate idonea conſtabat. Perinde ac ſi fides Chriſtiana ſemper eſſet, uti loquuntur illi, in fieri, quotidie articulis dotanda. Et, quod majus eſt, figmentum hoc otioſorum Monachorum ita ſeriò definitum non aliò ferè conducit, quàm ut per illud teſtimonia Scripturæ & veterum de vera Chriſtianorum ſignatura detorqueantur. Unde mirum non eſt, varias diſſidentéſque ſententias ſubtiles illos Scholæ Magiſtros exercuiſſe olim, & hodiéque exercere. quod ſolet accidere novis commentis, quorum pro temporis brevitate, nondum eſt excocta, purgatáque materia. Litigant enim ad nauſeam uſque, an character idem ſit cum gratia, nec ne, affirmante Scoto, negante Biel, & ſequacibus: ſitne genus entis abſolutum, an relatum, aſſerente illud Bellarmino, hoc Soto, & Durando, Rubeo: in quo ſubjecto conſiſtat, an in animæ ſubſtantia, uti Bellarminus, Suarez; an in facultatibus animæ, uti Thomas; & in qua facultate, intellectu, uti Thomas; an in voluntate, uti Turrecremata, Cajetanus, Soto Vaſquez; quodnam ſit qualitatis genus, an diſpoſitio, vel habitus, uti Alexander Alenſis, Suarez; an potentia, uti Thomas, Turrecremata, Soto, Rubeus, & cum his Redingius: an paſſio, uti alii; an figura, uti Marſilius; an ſit qualitas univocè, an reductivè, quarum prius Suarez, poſterius Thomas cenſent. Hæc illi in ſuis gurguſtiis, non inter ſe æquiores, quàm iniqui nobis. Et cùm nihil inter ſe liquidi conſtituíque habeant, à ſe tamen cuncta arcana poſtulari, & velut à talpis oculos mutuari jubent. Cùm verò in Scriptura tradi, nec in Patribus commendari, nec à ratione fulciri characterem, cum veteribus, Scoto, Durando, Biele, Cajetano, aliis conſentiamus: adeóque non alia quàm Eccleſiæ Tridentinæ noviſſimæ authoritate nitatur, nos eum explodimus meritò, & Theologaſtros in muſtaceo lauream quæritantes cordatè ridemus.

Nam & apud vos qui ad Euchariſtiam admittitur, aptus ad eam eſſe debet per acceptum priùs baptiſmum. Neque iccirco gratia ſanctificante pollere quemlibet Sacramentis utentem, conceditis. Illa verò aptitudo non aliud quàm character eſt. Quicunque enim, uti rectè Thomas arguit,ad aliquid deputatur,conſuevit ad illud conſignari, ſicut milites, qui aſcribebantur ad militiam antiquitus, ſolebant quibusdam characteribus corporalibus inſigniri, eò quòd deputabantur ad aliquid corporale. Cùm ergo homines per Sacramenta deputentur ad aliquid ſpirituale, pertinens ad cultum Dei, conſequens eſt,ut per ea fideles aliquo ſpirituali charactere inſigniantur.* lb.pag.62.63. Reſp. 1. Tene, Philoſophorum ocellum, adeò pueriliter nugari? An ergo ſi corpus eſt, corpus animatum: ſi animal eſt, homo eſt? Et erit tamen, ſi à genere ad ſpeciem affirmativè argumentum currit. Quod omni ineſt,cuivis ſub omni contento ineſt, & de eo rectè affirmatur. Non ideo à genere ad ſpeciem affirmativè arguimus,quia genus per differentiam modò ad hanc, modò ad illam ſpeciem oppoſitam reſtringitur, & ſic oppoſitæ ſpecies disjunguntur. Sed hæc ad tyronum ſubſellia relego. 2. Sacramenta ex Dei inſtitutione ſunt ſanè ſigilla gratiam obſignantia; ſed non cuivis,verùm iis,qui jam filii Dei, & juſtitiæ Chriſti participes ſunt. Aliis enim, qui extra Chriſtum ſunt, Sacramenta uſurpata licet,non gratiam, ſed damnationem potiùs,quandiu vera fide Chriſto inſiti non ſunt,obſignant. Non igitur quoſvis Sacramentis utentes Deus diligit. 3. Cùm Sacramenta ex Dei inſtitutione ad ſolos fideles & juſtificatos pertineant, quotquot fide & juſtitia, adeóque gratia etiam ſanctificante deſtituuntur, ad eorum uſum aptitudinem nullam habent. Et quid tamen hæc argutatio tua ad rem? Ego gratiam interiorem diſponentem & aptos reddentem utentes Sacramentis conjunctam ſemper eſſe cum externo ſigno; adeóque à Sacramenti charactere aptitudinem ejuſmodi pendere,nego. Hoc tibi oppugnandum fuerat. Neque nova illa,quam ex Thoma urges, ratio ſtringit,tum quia non ſi conſuevit ita fieri, neceſſum eſt, ut ſemper fiat: tum quia exempla contraria proſtant,cùm ille ipſe militum conſignandorum mos nec ſemper obtinuerit,quippe ab Imperatoribus demum Romanis introductus,nec apud omnes, certè non apud Græcos: tum quia in ipſa Eccleſia Romana minores ordines, etſi deſtinentur ad aliquid ſpirituale, pertinens ad cultum Dei, nullum tamen characterem habent: tum quia in omnibus Sacramentis deſtinantur homines ad aliquid ſpirituale, pertineas ad cultum Dei; nec tamen omnia Sacramenta characterem imprimere, vos conceditis: tum denique quia non de quocunque charactere, ſed de charactere, qui re differat à gratia Sacramenti, & ſit indelebilis, quæritur. Aliàs fidèles σφραγίζεσθαι conſignari largimur, ſed S. Paulo teſte, longè alio characteris genere; Spiritu S. qui & in Baptiſmo, & in Euchariſtia datur.

OBIECT. IV. Nulla ſufficiens reddi poteſt ratio, cur Baptiſmus non reiteretur, niſi Character. Reſp. Imò firmiora longè & ſolidiora firmamenta inferiùs depromemus.

EXCIP. REDINO: An tu firmioribus firmamentis niteris, quàm olim S. Auguſtinus nixus eſt, qui irreiterabilitatem Baptiſmi à charactere inamiſſibiliter impreſſo derivat. Ib. pag. 63--66. Reſp. Auguſtini contra Parmen. lib. II. 13. hæc verba ſunt: Si fortè militiæ characterem in corpore ſuo non militans pavidus exhorruerit, & ad clementiam Imperatoris confugerit, ac prece fuſa, & impetrata jam venia, militare cœperit: numquid homine liberato atque correcto, character ille repetitur, ac non potiùs agnitus approbatur? An fortè minùs hærem Sacramenta Chriſtiana, quàm corporalis hæc nota, cùm videamus, nec apoſtatas carere baptiſmate; quibus utique per pœnitentiam redeuntibus, non reſtituitur, & ideo omitti non poſſe, judicatur. Quæ poſtrema verba Gratianus de Conſecrat. diſt. 4. cap. nullus autem, citat. Sed nihil verba hæc vos juvant. Neque enim verba hæc ulteriùs extendi debent, quàm quòd, uti in deſertore, jam olim nota militari ſignato, ſi, venia ab Imperatore impetrata, militare iterum ſub veteri domino cœperit, non repetitur militiæ character: ſimiliter nec repeti debeat Baptiſmus, qui eſt militiæ Chriſtianæ character. Ergo character ipſi eſt Baptiſmus, non aliquid realiter à Baptiſmo diſtinctum, quem iterandum non eſſe, illuſtrat à ſimili, non probat. Cùm verò Theologia figurativa non ſit argumentativa, clarum eſt, irreiterabilitatem Baptiſmi ſimilibus quidem ejuſmodi illuſtrari, ſed argumentis etiam priùs probari debere. Id verò Auguſtinus his verbis non inſtituit: multò minùs à charactere, diſtincto à Baptiſmo, argumentum arceſſit. Aliis igitur firmioribus longè fundamentis dogma iſthoc innititur. Vera enim ratio non iterandi Baptiſmi eſt voluntas Divina, uti rectè Scotus d. 6. q. 7. & Biel docent. Eſſe verò hanc Dei voluntatem, conſtat, tum quia nec in loco proprio, ubi baptiſmus à Chriſto inſtituitur, nec alibi uſquam baptiſmum iterare jubemur, ſecus ac Euchariſtiam 1. Cor. XI. 25. repetere jubemur: tum quia cùm tot baptizatorum exempla in Scripturis legamus, neminem tamen etiam in peccata gravia poſt baptiſmum collapſum, rebaptizatum legimus; (quod de Baptiſmo ſaltem Chriſti vos ipſi conceditis) quo etiam argumento Hieronymus adv. Luciſer. pag. 146. utitur: tum quia circumciſio, cui Baptiſmus initiationis æquè atque illa Sacramentum, ſucceſſit, non iterabatur: tum quia fideles Chriſtum, quem ſemel in Baptiſmo induerunt, non exuunt, ſed ſemel in Chriſto naſcuntur, ſeu renaſcuntur, neque nati, uti ſcitè S. Auguſtinus tract. 11. in Joh. loquitur, uterum repetunt; & dona Dei, vocatio inprimis quæ per regenerationem fit, eſt ἀμεταμέλητος Rom. XI. 29. (qua ratione etiam Thomas in 3 q. 66. v. g. utitur) tum quia ea eſt natura novi fœderis, quod Baptiſmus ceu ſigillum ejuſdem obſignat, ut non fiat caducum, hoc eſt, per peccata hominis ſuccedanea non tollatur, utpote quod peccatorum quotidianorum remiſſionem credentibus & pœnitentibus, non denuo baptizatis, promittit. quomodo cùm maritus reconciliatur conjugi adulteræ, eam non novo matrimonio ſibi copulat, ſed ad priùs fœdus revocat: tum quia Baptiſmus ſignificat gratiam per modum mortis, qua morimur peccato, quæ cùm non repetatur, nec ſignum repetendum eſſe, idem qui ſupra, Thomas, rectè concluſit: tum denique quia iterato baptiſmo abnegaretur is, in quem dominum & caput initiò baptizati ſumus. Has veras & ſolidas ob cauſas Eccleſia Catholica Anabaptiſmum & Hemerobaptiſmum conſtanter rejecit.

QUÆSTIO V.

An ad eſſentiam & efficaciam Sacramenti in Sacerdote Sacramentum conficiente requiratur intentio ſaltem faciendi id, quod facit eccleſia?

CAnon XI. deſumptus ex decretis Eugenii IV. ad Armenos in Concilio Florentino anathema dicit iis, qui dixerint, in miniſtris dum Sacramenta conficiunt & conferunt, non requiri intentionem ſaltem faciendi, quod facit eccleſia. Quæ verba per ſe ambigua (pro more enim etiam hic Patres ludunt cothurnis) duplicem habere ſenſum poſſunt, nempe requiri intentionem faciendi id, quod facit eccleſia, vel ex debito miniſtrantis, vel ex neceſſitate Sacramenti. Priorem ſenſum tanquam orthodoxum admittimus. Debet enim miniſter quilibet Sacramentum adminiſtrans habere intentionem faciendi id, quod facit Eccleſia Chriſti ex inſtituto Domini. Qua intentione deſtitutus graviter peccat. Sed poſteriorem ſenſum, quo intentio ſtatuitur neceſſaria ad integritatem, efficaciam & validitatem Sacramenti, amplexam eſſe Synodum patet, tum quia ſecuta eſt in ſua definitione Eugenium IV. in decreto ſuper unione Armeniorum, ubi is docet, Sacramenta tribus perfici, rebus tanquam materia, verbis tanquam forma, & perſona miniſtri conferentis Sacramentum cum intentione faciendi quod facit eccleſia, quorum ſi aliquid deſit, inquit, non perficitur Sacramentum: tum quia anathema oppoſitum eſt Evangelicis, qui poſteriorem, non priorem ſenſum impugnant: tum quia Ambroſii Catharini Epiſcopi Minorenſis ſententiam poſteriorem illum ſenſum impugnantem Synodus rejecit: tum denique quia id ipſum Papatus propugnat, uti liquet ex Bellarmino lib. 1. *de Sacramentis cap.*27. ubi mentem Concilii declarans, ait primò, melius quidem eſſe, ut quis habeat intentionem particularem, id eſt, conferendi Sacramentum Baptiſmi, interim ſufficere intentionem generalem faciendi quod facit eccleſia; ſecundò non opus eſſe intendere, quod facit eccleſia Romana, ſed, quod facit vera eccleſia, quacunque illa ſit, vel quod Chriſtus ſtus inſtituit, vel quod Chriſtiani faciunt; tertiò non requiri neceſſariò intentionem actualem, nec ſufficere habitualem, quia illa poſſit eſſe in habente contrariam intentionem, ſed requiri & ſufficere virtualem, qua quis intentionem quidem baptizandi non habet actu in præſenti ob evagationem mentis, ſed ante habuit, & aptus eſt habere. Nos intentionem ejusmodi requiri ad integritatem Sacramenti negamus, aſſerimúsque, ad integritatem Sacramenti ſufficere ejusmodi adminiſtrationem, quâ ſervatur Chriſti inſtitutio, & miniſter baptizans v. g. exteriùs profitetur, neque vulgarem ſe intendere lotionem, nec puerilem luſum, aut mimicam irriſionem, aut qualemcunque myſterii profanationem per jocularem & irriſoriam verborum recitationem, ſed ſeriam executionem illius, quod Chriſtus inſtituit, idque re ipſa quoad externum actum ritu, verbisque præſcriptis exequitur, quicquid tandem miniſter intus apud ſe ſentiat, aut animo volvat. Rationes nobis ſunt firmiſſimæ ſequentes.

ARG. I. Efficacia Sacramentorum dependet à ſolo Deo, Eph.V. 26. Tit. III.5. Non igitur ab intentione miniſtri.

RESP. REDING: In locis citatis Deus quidem dicitur per lavacrum regenerationis mundare, ſanctificare, ſalvare: ſed non excluſis Miniſtris. Etenim tu ipſe ad Sacramenti integritatem requiris adminiſtrationem, qua Chriſti inſtitutio ſervatur. Et verò de natura diſpenſationis eſt, ut niſi fiat cum animo diſpenſandi, ejus valor non ſubſiſtat. Tomo II. Tract.V.Ss.2. pag.67. Reſp. An verò Miniſtri ipſi quoque baptizantes v. g. à peccatis mundant, lavant, ſanctificant? Non puto equidem. Diſpenſant externa ſigna ex inſtitutione Chriſti. Sed efficacia ſignorum ſicut non procedit ab inhærente ſignis qualitate: ita nec à Miniſtri actione, nedum interna intentione. Aliàs à Miniſtris baptizati à peccatis mundarentur, lavarentur, ſanctificarentur omnes. Contrarium exemplo Simonis Magi conſtat. Rectè Lombardus lib.4. d.5.cap.2. Sacramentum Baptiſmi à bonis & malis juxta dari probat, quia miniſterium tantùm habent, non poteſtatem Baptiſmi. Quod novit Johannes, cùm vidit columbam deſcendentem ſuper Chriſtum. Unde Auguſtinus: Quid noverat Johannes Baptiſta? Dominum. Quid non noverat? Poteſtatem Dominici Baptiſmi in nullum hominem à Domino tranſituram: miniſterium planè tranſiturum: poteſtatem à Domino in neminem; ſed miniſterium in bonos & malos. Cùm igitur efficacia Baptiſmi ad ejuſdem poteſtatem pertineat, ſi à Sacerdotis miniſtri intentione efficacia Sacramenti pendet, non miniſterium duntaxat, diſpenſandi externa ſigna; ſed poteſtas etiam efficiendi rem ſignificatam in eum tranſiverit oportet. Requirit ſanè diſpenſatio voluntatem diſpenſandi in cauſa principe, at non miniſtra. cui ſatis eſt ad efficaciam diſpenſationis, ſi partibus mandatis ritè defungatur.

ARG. II. Eadem eſt ratio Sacramenti, quæ verbi prædicati, cùm utrumque ſit organum Dei, & illud quidem verbum viſibile, hoc audibile. Atqui verbi prædicati efficacia non pendet ab intentione miniſtri, Rom.I.16. Phil.I.16.17. Ergo nec Sacramenti.

RESP. REDINO : 1. Annon etiam in Miniſtro prædicante verbum intentio prædicandi verbum requiritur? Annon Phil.I.16.17. ut ex charitate, ex contentione indicat intentionem? 2. Cùm natura verbi, qua locutio humana eſt, exigat, ut proferatur ex intentione loquendi, ſeu ſenſum ſuum alteri manifeſtandi; verba autem Sacramentalia debeant eſſe formaliter humana, quibus gratia vi Sacramenti conferenda ſignificetur, de eorundem eſſentia eſſe intentionem, ſequitur. Atque id inductio Sacramentorum omnium probat. Ib. pag. 67.68. Reſp. 1. Intentionem prædicantium verbum requiri quis negat? Sed ex officio prædicantis, hoc eſt, ut ille ſincerè agat, fidelis ſit, & non hiſtrio vel irriſor; non impunè certè laturus hypocriſin; non ex neceſſitate & efficacia verbi. Ita præconis verbum ex præſcripto Principis ſummi pronunciatum efficax eſt, quicquid ille animo occultet, vel intendat. Par ratio eſt Sacramenta diſpenſantium. Neque natura verbi humani ſignificantis, & à Miniſtro proferendi in eo conſiſtit, ut ex Miniſtri intentione proferatur. Quid enim ſi Miniſter verbum ſibi à Principe præſcriptum, Abſolve te, contraria intentione proferat? An tum verba, Abſolve te, efficaciam contrariam, damnandi ſcilicet, habebunt, & Principis voluntas, per verba illa à Miniſtro prolata abſolvere intendentis, irrita cadet? Par iterum verborum Sacramentalium ratio eſt.

ARG. III. Defectus probitatis, & peccatum mortale in miniſtro non impedit, quò minùs verum Sacramentum conficiatur juxta Canonem XII. ubi anathema dicitur iis, qui negant, miniſtrum in peccato mortali exiſtentem, modò omnia eſſentialia, quæ ad Sacramentum conficiendum pertinent, ſervaverit, conficere aut conferre Sacramentum. Ergo nec defectus intentionis, qui improbitas & peccatum mortale etiam cenſetur, id impediet. Nam quod de genere verum eſt, id etiam de ſpecie affirmari poteſt.

RESP. REDINO : 1. Si quod de genere verum eſt, etiam de ſpecie verum eſt, quomodo ſupra à genere ad ſpeciem affirmativè concludi poſſe, negaſti? 2. Sacramentum ex defectu intentionis non ideo invalidum eſt, quia defectus ille reatum peccati mortalis importat; ſed quia tunc deficit ſigni, qua humani, ratio. Ib. pag. 68. Reſp. 1. Supra jam te ita pueriliter nugari dedocui. Quicquid generi univoco nominis & rei ineſt, cuilibet ejuſdem ſubjectæ ſpeciei æqualiter ineſt. Sed non viciſſim, quia ſpecies per accedentem differentiam conſtituitur & contrahitur. 2. Ridiculum planè eſt, deficiente intentione interiore, ſigni, qua humani, rationem deficere. Nam ratio ſigni ex Divina inſtitutione tota, non ex qualitate vel intentione ulla Miniſtri, cui ſigni diſpenſatio credita eſt, pendet. Deſtituit te & ratio & pudor omnis, qui abſurda adeò proferre audes.

ARG. IV. Hac ratione incredulitas hominum veritatem ac fidem DEI redderet irritam, ſiquidem abſente intentione Dei veritas & fides in Sacramentis abolebitur. At prius Apoſtolus Rom.III.3. diſertè negat.

RESP. REDINO : An fides & veritas abolebitur, ſi, quam normam in Sacramentis Dei inſtitutio exigit, eam nos dicamus neceſſariam? At tu ſupra faſſus es, ad integritatem Sacramenti verba Divinitus præſcripta requiri, qua ſignificativa eſſe debent. De ſigni autem tem humano modi ſignificativi natura eſt, ut proferatur ex intentione ſignificandi id, ad quod inſtitutum fuit. Ib. pag. 68. 69. Reſp. Proba tu, inſtitutionem Divinam hanc normam exigere, ut Sacramentum validum, niſi accedente intentione & voluntate Sacramentali, eſſe nequeat. Ita à nutu veſtro pendebit Deus, & vos vices Dei geretis, Deus veſtras geret. Et vobis per contrariam intentionem infidelibus (nam & contigiſſe id aliquando novimus, & contingere crebrò, ob humanæ voluntatis flexibilitatem poſſe, quis negare poteſt?) veritas ac fides Dei; qua ritè utentibus Sacramentis gratiam promiſit, præſentiſſimum diſcrimen incurret. Quid vosò mihi verba Divinitus præſcripta occinis? Præſcriptam pariter ſic eſſe intentionem, ut abſque ea invalidum ſit Sacramentum, proba. Tabulas petimus, non lubrica tua verba.

ARG. V. Si efficacia Sacramenti pendet ab intentione miniſtri adminiſtrantis, pendebit etiam ab intentione ſuſcipientis. Quippe actio Sacramentalis complectitur non tantùm λόσιν, ſed etiam λῆψιν. At intentio ſuſcipientis, ſaltem in infante baptizando, non requiritur.

RESP. REDING: 1. Unde probas, intentionem ſuſcipiendi in infante non requiri? 2. Saltem in adultis intentionem ſuſcipientis neceſſariam eſſe, ex Concilio Arauſicano I. cap. 2. decernente, quòd obmutescens baptizari poſſit, ſi voluntatis præteritæ aliorum teſtimonium habeat, liquet. 3. Ad valorem Sacramenti in ſuſcipiente non requiritur niſi habitualis intentio: in Miniſtro verò Sacramenti inſuper virtualis. Quia enim ejus eſt inſtrumentaliter Sacramentum cauſare, ideo intentio ejus in actionem Sacramentalem influere debet. At intentio præterita, qualis eſt in habituali, nequit influere in aliquem effectum, niſi maneat ſaltem in aliqua ſua virtute, adeóque virtualiter perſeveret. Ib. p. 69. Reſp. 1. Res clariſſima & ex ſolis terminis manifeſta probatione non indiget. Intentio rationis exercitium eſt. quod in infantibus nullum. 2. In adultis intentio ſuſcipientis neceſſaria eſt; neque tamen ad efficaciam Sacramenti ita illa requiritur, ut, quo tempore Baptiſmus v. g. adminiſtratur, ſine ſuſcipiendi ejus, tempore adminiſtrationis, intentione, nulla deinceps Baptiſmi efficacia eſſe poſſit. Satis eſt, intentionem illam per veram fidem obtinere tum, quando baptizatus ante in nomen Chriſti ſeriò ad Deum convertitur, neque tantùm ore Chriſtum profitetur, ſed verè eum cognoſcere & amare incipit. cui ſic demum Baptiſmus ſit ſigillum & pignus juſtitiæ ad conſolationem efficax, qui ante fuerat teſſera obligans ad hunc Dominum rectè cognoſcendum, eique credendum. Ita & iis, qui in infantia Baptiſmum acceperunt, quando juvenes aut viri incipiunt credere, demum ſit Baptiſmus Σφραγὶς δικαιοσύνης ſigillum juſtitiæ. 3. Intentionis ſive in adminiſtrante, ſive in ſuſcipiente Sacramentum diſtinctio in habitualem, actualem & mediam, ſeu virtualem, diſtinctio veſtra ſophiſticandi, & errores palliandi ingenio, non rei veritati, originem debet. Et olim quidem habitualis & actualis duntaxat intentionis diſtinctio innotuit. Ac ſufficere habitualem etiam in adminiſtrante, Thomas definivit. Licet ille, ſic enim 3. q. 64. a. 8. loquitur, qui aliud cogitat, non habeat actualem intentionem, habet tamen intentionem habitualem, quæ ſufficit ad perfectionem Sacramenti. Sed Scotus, ſubtilis ille, addidit tertiam intentionis ſpeciem, virtualem ſcilicet. Sic enim ille 4. in d. 6. q. 6. ſcribit: Ille dicitur actualiter intendere, qui habet actum elicitum reſpectu ejus, quod intendit. Iſte autem habitualiter, qui habet habitum inclinantem ipſum ad talem actum. Sed aliquis eſt minùs perfectè intendens, dens, quàm primo modo: & perfectius quàm secundo modo. Ergo est medium inter ista duo membra. Assumptum probatur: quòd si aliquis intendit in principio Missæ celebrare Missam, si poterit esse distractus, non habet actualem intentionem, quando est distractus: patet, cùm non intelligat tunc illud in actu: nec habet tantùm intentionem habitualem, quòd talem habet dormiens. Habet ergo se medio modo. Cùm verò inter actum & habitum nihil detur medium, quomodo intentio media, seu virtualis, ad neutrum pertinens, detur, equidem nescio. Potest esse habitualis intentio in dormiente. Sed non propterea intentio hæc alia est ab ea, quam virtualem dicunt. Nam etiam virtualis esse in dormiente potest. velut in eo, qui proficiscatur ad S Jacobum, (hoc enim illi exemplo utuntur) & fatigatus labore somnum capiat ad vires itineri perficiendo reparandas. Et poterat Scotus minùs ineptè intentionem habitualem distinguere in dormitivam & virtualem; ac tum demum dicere, virtualem esse mediam inter dormitivam & actualem. Sed sic profectò agitis, ac si diceretis, mulierem esse mediam inter hominem & pecudem; quæ ipsa tamen homo etiam est. Et quæ intentio manet in habitu, in virtute etiam, habitus scilicet, manet, adeóque simul virtutis est. Nos verò & in administrante & in suscipiente Sacramentum requiri intentionem actualem, quæ hoc agat, non tantùm virtualem, quæ primò quidem cogitaverit de actu Sacramenti vel administrandi, vel suscipiendi, at mox in campos Utopicos divagetur & erret. Qui intentionis vagantis, vel etiam dormientis, error haud dubiè peccatum est, militans contra præceptum dilpensandi Sacramenti, cui nunquam animi sensum subducere licet, & ardorem amoris Divini; licet quoad administrantem, dum partibus in institutione mandatis ritè defungatur, efficaciæ Sacramenti, quippe à solo Deo pendenti nihil obstet: quoad suscipientem verò, dum ille vera in Christum fide præditus sit, inter Sanctorum infirmitates deputandus veniat.

ARG. VI. Sed & tollitur hac ratione à Sacramentis vera consolatio, quæ est ex certitudine efficaciæ Sacramentorum. Posita enim necessitate hujus intentionis, quia ea in ministris ast imperveſtigabilis, nemo mortalium infallibiliter esse certus potest de Sacramentorum effectu. Ita nemini mortalium, an verè baptizatus sit, citra extraordinariam revelationem constare poterit. At Sacramenta cùm sint signa & sigilla gratiæ, apta nata sunt certitudinem gignere.

Resp. Reding: Deus in hac vita vult, ut cum timore & tremore salutem operemur, nesciamus an odio Dei digni simus. Non incongruum igitur est, asserere, neminem extra revelationem extraordinariam ob imperveſtigabilem Ministri intentionem de Sacramento valide collato certitudinem, nisi moralem, habere posse. Metaphysicam autem & infallibilem habere nequit. lib. pag. 69. Resp. Horret animus talia legere. Non satis erat salutis & gratiæ Divinæ certitudinem convellere: nisi sigillorum etiam gratiæ & salutis certitudo ex lubrica sacrificulorum voluntate suspensa convelleretur penitus. Et qualia justitiæ sigilla sic Sacramenta erunt? Quomodo obsignabuntur, si ipsamet incerta sunt? Et quæ sic Sacramentorum apud suscipientes efficacia sese proferet? Et cùm oporteat effecti interioris Sacramentorum certitudinem esse Divinam, (propterea enim institutio est, & prædicatur omnibus Dei revelatio & voluntas, unde certus quisque esse possit, his adhibitis ritibus externis, sequi hos effectus internos) nulla hæc esse unquam potest, ni-ſi poſito ejus fundamento, actione externa. Sicut nulla poteſt eſſe lux Solis, niſi poſito Sole: nullus calor ignis, niſi poſito igne; ſic neque ullus effectus Baptiſmi, niſi poſito Baptiſmo. Si igitur dubium ſit Baptiſma, uti ob defectum cognitæ intentionis nunquam non dubium erit, nulla etiam Divina certitudo effectus Baptiſmi eſſe poterit. Atque ſic periit omnis fructus, efficacia omnis Sacramentorum. Denique fruſtra certitudinem moralem urges. Cùm enim illa duplex ſit, vel conjecturalis, quæ nititur ſolis conjecturis in utramque partem diſputandis, utpote quæ non magis in unam, quàm in alteram partem inclinent: vel indubitata, quæ nititur ſenſu & experientia, quæ non poſſunt eſſe rei non exiſtentis; quam tu intelligis? Si priorem, dubium ſemper & incertum erit, an baptizatus ſis, nec ne. Supperent enim uſque argumenta in contrarium, cùm multos ex iis, qui Sacramenta adminiſtrant, eſſe homines vanos & planè nequam, conſtet. Quod ad Scepticorum potiùs quàm ad Chriſtianorum ſubſellia pii omnes relegabunt. Neque ſanè quælibet præſumptio in quæſtione de medio ad ſalutem neceſſario, ad conſcientiæ pacem ſufficit. Poſterior verò locum hic habere nequit, quia interior intentio & abſtruſa Sacrificuli voluntas nec ſub ſenſum & experientiam cadit, & certitudine dubitationem omnem excludente cognoſci & penetrari nequit. Ergo ne morali quidem certitudine cuiquam conſtare poteſt, ſe validè baptizatum eſſe, vel Sacramentum ullum percepiſſe.

ARG. VII. Eadem intentionis neceſſitas totum Papatum & dubium reddit, & periculo idololatriæ exponit. Dubium reddit, quia poſito, non quotidie quidem, ſed ſemel tantùm contingere, ut Sacerdos baptizans intentione requiſita deſtituatur, evenire poterit, ut baptizatus ille evadat Sacerdos vel Epiſcopus, & Sacerdos ille quotidie Sacramenta adminiſtret, Epiſcopus verò magno numero Sacerdotes inſtituat. Hic neceſſariò dicendum, Epiſcopum talem non rite bapizatum non potuiſſe ordinari vel ordinare, conſecrari vel conſecrare, ac nihilo magis eos, quos ſacris his ille initiatus fuerit. Ita unius Miniſtri in unica actione malitiâ, infinitæ Sacramentorum nullitates evenient. Quis autem identidem ita non eveniſſe certus eſſe poteſt? Urget hoc argumentum graviter Epiſcopus Minorenſis, Ambroſius Catharinus apud Hiſtoricum lib. II. pag. 215. Periculo idolōlatriæ Papatum exponit, in adoratione videlicet hoſtiæ, cum propter intentionis defectum non modò in Presbytero conſecrante, ſed in Epiſcopo, qui ipſum ordinavit, nec à Presbytero, nec ab ullo alio ſciri poſſit, vel panem transſubſtantiatum in corpus Chriſti, vel ab ullo homine transſubſtantiari potuiſſe.

RESP. REDING: Pericula iſthæc non noſtræ, ſed veſtræ eccleſiæ imminent. Vos enim meritò laici, rejecto Epiſcopatus ordine, validè baptizare vel Euchariſtiam celebrare nunquam poteſtis, atque adeò quisquis Euchariſtiam veſtram colit, qua Sacramentum, idololatriæ reus erit. Et quis veſtrorum Miniſtrorum nos aſſecurabit, Baptiſmum ſub forma à Chriſto præſcripta à ſe collatum eſſe, cùm Zwinglius ipſe de vera & falſa relig. cap. de Bapt. negaverit, certam verborum formam in Baptiſmo eſſe neceſſariam? 2. Negamus ea de nullitate

Sacramentorum dubia in Eccleſia noſtra locum habere. Non enim dubitare licet, ubi ratio ſtat in contrarium, & certitudo ſi non Metaphyſica, ſaltem moralis adeſt; inprimis cùm Eccleſia noſtra promiſſam Providentiæ Divinæ pro ſe curam, & inſuperabilem pro electis ſolicitudinem habeat. unde nefas foret timere tot mala ex unius Miniſtri culpa in omnes fideles citra eorum culpam redundatura. 3. Nec etiam in particulari licet dubitare rationabiliter de intentione Miniſtri, ubi hujus malitiæ argumentum non habetur, quia intentio Eccleſiæ de faciendo Sacramento eatenus exprimitur in verbis, quibus Sacramentum perficitur, ut eo ipſo moralis certitudo ſit ex parte Miniſtri, quòd agat in perſona Eccleſiæ. Implicita enim faciendi Sacramentum intentio, teſte D. Thoma. 3. q. 64. a. 8. in ipſis verbis Sacramentalibus continetur, imò exprimitur, dum Miniſter agit in nomine & perſona Eccleſiæ. Ib. pag. 69. 70. Reſp. 1. Fruſtra de nobis ſolicitus es. Nondum in illis, quibus vos impliciti hæretis, ſyrtibus, nondum in charybdi verſamur. Si Miniſtri noſtri etiam cùm baptizant, laici ſunt, ac iccirco invalidum eſt, quod illi adminiſtrarunt, Sacramentum, cur ergo à noſtris baptizatos, & in caſtra veſtra quandoque tranſeuntes non rebaptizatis? Annon ſic efficaciam Sacramenti à noſtris adminiſtrati agnoſcitis taciti; & quidem ſive adſit intentio, ſive non, utpote quam nos ad validitatem Sacramenti non requirere, haud ignoratis? Neque nos Epiſcopatus ordinem rejecimus unquam; ſed veros Epiſcopos à Summo animarum noſtrarum Paſtore & Epiſcopo juxta inſtitutionem verbi ejus ordinatos ipſos, & ordinantes alios per Dei gratiam habemus. Vobis autem Epiſcopos veſtros, carnales ſtatuas, non Chriſti Miniſtros, ſed Romani Pontificis in terreſtri ejuſdem, ſpiritualium externa ſpecie fucato Regno vaſallos, non invidemus. Et laicos à vobis nos cenſeri, amplum nobis & glorioſum ducimus, cùm nihil probroſius Deo & Sanctis omnibus, quàm Romanenſis Clericus, quâ talis, eſſe poſſit. Inprimis cùm ipſos etiam Imperatores & Reges, qui Dei clerus eſſe debuerant, ad laicorum ſubſellia etiam detruſos, una nobiſcum plorare jubeatis. Certam verborum formam in Baptiſmo non eſſe neceſſariam, Zwinglium loc. cit. Tom. II. pag. 201. 202. dixiſſe, non reperio. Tantùm id obſervat, multò vividius eſſe, quod Matth. XXVIII. 19. habetur, Baptizantes eos in nomen Patris &c. quàm in nomine Patris, quemadmodum Latini habent. quia in nomen baptizari eſt in fidem in Deum inferi. Quid hoc, Redingi, ad rem noſtram? Imò veſtram potiùs verborum Chriſti παρεμφωνίαν corrigite. 2. Nec vel moralis, hoc eſt, indubitata de ſacrificuli intentione certitudo vobis affulget, uti ſupra probavi: nec Eccleſia Romana, quæ particularis fuit olim, & hodie ne quidem vera Eccleſia eſt; promiſſionem ejuſmodi Providentiæ Divinæ pro ea perpetim invigilaturæ accepit unquam; nedum ſacrificuli, quorum potiſſimùm intererat, promiſſione ejuſmodi mactari, ne aberrante intentione, ſiquidem ea ad Sacramenti efficaciam neceſſaria foret, Eccleſiam ſeducerent, imò peſſumdarent. 3. Deſperatam denique prodis cauſam tuam, dum horrore tot graviſſimorum periculorum, quæ tibi ob oculos poſui, cò tandem te recipis, ut aſſeras, implicitam faciendi Sacramentum intentionem in ipſis verbis Sacramentalibus contineri, imò exprimi, dum Miniſter agit in nomine & perſona Eccleſiæ, & quidem juxta ductum, uti ais, Thomæ, cujus loco à te citato hæc verba ſunt: Alii meliùs dicunt, quòd Miniſter Sacramenti agit in perſona totius Eccleſiæ, cujus eſt Miniſter. In verbis autem, quæ profert, exprimitur intentio Eccleſiæ, quæ ſufficit ad perfectionem Sacramenti, niſi contrarium exteriùs exprimatur ex parte Miniſtri, vel recipientis Sacramentum. Jam ergo actum eſt de intentionis ad efficaciam Sacramenti neceſſitate, ſi in ipſis verbis Sacramentalibus nomine Eccleſiæ prolatis continetur. Verba enim nomine Eccleſiæ (dicere potiùs debebas, bebas, Christi, cujus nomine & authoritate dispensatores mysteriorum Dei in Ecclesia agunt) prolata, intentionem Ecclesiæ, vel potiùs Christi, qui ἀψευδὴς mentiri nescius est, non sacrificuli administrantis, propalant. Et Eugenius IV. in decretis ad Armenos, ex quibus suum Canonem Tridentini cuderunt, disertè Sacramenta tribus, rebus tanquam forma, & persona Ministri, cum intentione faciendi, quod facit Ecclesia, perfici asserit, adeóque intentionem Ministri à verbis, ceu forma Sacramentorum, distinguit. Atque id ipsum Thomas agnovit. Nam cùm 3. q. 64. a. 8. intentionem partim astruxerit, partim sibi contradicens in verbis, quæ supra posui, destruxerit; alibi in 4. Sent. d 6. q. 1. a. 2. disertis verbis eorum astipulatur sententiæ, qui dicunt, non requiri in baptizante mentalem intentionem; sed sufficit (inquit) expressio intentionis per verba ab Ecclesia instituta. Et ideo si forma servatur, nec aliquid exteriùs dicitur, quod intentionem contrariam exprimat, baptizatus est. Priùs ergo communem errorem secutus Thomas, in conflictu, videns se inevitabilis teli violentiam aliter declinare non posse, manus victas veritati dedit. Et necessum fuit vos in determinanda quæstione tam latè producere intentionis nomen, ut jam vix ullus sit motus exterior circa externas Sacramentorum ceremonias, ut intentio dici nequeat: atque adeò dormientis, etsi nominatim excipiatis, dicendo, sic interpretandam intentionem, uti in viatore eunte Hierosolymam, cui cùm in tam longo itinere crebrò accidat, ut Hierosolyma ei ne quidem in mentem veniat, tamen dicatur habere intentionem Hierosolymam eundi, quòd eam ob causam ab initio ei sit susceptum iter, quod in ipsis dormientibus negari nequit.

ARG. VIII. Crypsis hujus dogmatis est tum dubitationis de gratia justificante dogma, tum incrementum authoritatis sacrificulorum, ex quorum intentione ceu fatali crine, quicquid Deus contra decreverit, quicquid piæ animæ fidei & charitatis conatibus annitantur, salutem populi pendere hac ratione creditur.

RESP. REDING: Nos ad Sacramentorum valorem nihil exigimus, quod ex S. literis non probetur conforme Divinæ institutioni, & Dei decreto. Non igitur larvata illa crypsis dogmatis nostri causa est. Ib. pag. 70. 71. Resp. Nihil Divinæ institutioni, nihil decreto Dei conforme probasti; sed alia omnia. Et dogma vestrum de dubitatione huic dogmati affine esse, ipse tu non dissimulasti. Magnámque esse Sacrificulorum authoritatem oportet, si ex arcana illorum cogitatione & nutu Sacramenti fructus, & salus hominum pendet.

ARG. IX. Orthodoxam sententiam jam olim pluribus in locis Augustinus defendit, inprimis lib. 7. de baptismo c. 53. Et constat Athanasii adhuc pueri per ludicram imitationem illius, quod fieri in Ecclesia videbat, pueros ritu Ecclesiastico baptizantis actionem ab Alexandro Episcopo Alexandrino ex cleri sui consilio ratam habitam esse, eo solo nomine, quòd externus ritus τῷ πάσῃ τῇ ἐκκλησιαστικῇ τάξει administratus fuerit. Adeò procul antiquitas à Papistico dogmate abfuit. Etiam post Lombardi tempora Innocentius docuit, ad Sacramentum non pertinere, quid Minister sciat, sentiat vel credat de effectu Baptismi. Ipsi Sententiarii & Papistæ, quod eis ſemel exeidit de neceſſitate intentionis miniſtri ad veritatem Sacramenti, ita timidè languidéque defendunt, ut eos effati ſui ſuppudere ſatis appareat. Id ex Thoma & Scoto inter ſe commiſſis demonſtrantem vide doctiſſimum Forbeſium Inſtruct. Hiſt. Theol. lib. X. 1. Denique Catharinus in Concilio orthodoxam ſententiam defendit, & poſt Concilium peculiari libro de Intentione in vulgus edito, Concilii Canonem controverſum ſuas in partes pertrahere conatus eſt.

RESP. REDING: 1. Auguſtinus validum judicavit Baptiſmum procedentem ex joco, quando proficiſcebatur ex anima repræſentandi id, quod fit in Eccleſia; ut re ipſa tamen intenderit facere id, quod facit Epiſcopus vel Sacerdos. 2. Athanaſius facto ſuo ita repræſentavit id, quod fit in Eccleſia, ut nihil ſimulaverit, ſed intentionem requiſitam ad valorem Sacramenti habuerit. 3. Innocentii dictum non facit ad rem, quia loquitur non de intentione ex parte voluntatis, ſed de ſcientia & credulitate ex parte intellectus ſe tenente. 4. Scholaſtici circa dogmaticam hujus rei veritatem conſentiunt. Et Catharinus ſuam ſententiam ex S. Thomæ verbis ſupra laudatis firmavit. lb. pag. 71. 72. Reſpy. S Auguſtinus de Baptiſ. contra Donat. lib. Petileoni cap. 7. ſic ille: Sæpe mihi ignota eſt humana conſcientia; ſed certus ſum de Chriſti miſericordia. Ex quibus liquet, mentem Auguſtini eſſe, in univerſum ſufficere ad Baptiſmi veritatem, ſi ritu Evangelico celebratus accipiatur ubicunque, & à quibuſcunque, ſine accipientis ſimulatione & cum aliqua ejus fide; neque ullo modo certitudinem Sacramenti ab occulta diſpoſitione (adeóque nec ab intentione) hominis pendere, ſed ſufficere, ut poteſtatem habeat adminiſtrandi, & externo ritu Evangelico uratur, ſive fallaciter, ſive veraciter, ſive joculariter, ſive ſeriò agat. Qui verò fallaciter, qui joculariter agit, quomodo intentionem ille habere Sacramentum adminiſtrandi, judicari poteſt? Certè id ipſum Bellarminus de Sacram. lib. I. 27. Auguſtino in os contradicens negat his verbis: Qui intendit facere externum actum, ſed non ſeriò; is non intendit facere, quod facit Eccleſia, ſed intendit ſimulare, quod facit Eccleſia. 2. Athanaſium puerum non intendiſſe niſi ludicram imitationem illius, quod in Eccleſia fieri viderat, Ruffinus Hiſtor. Eccleſ. lib. X. 14. Sozomenus Hiſtor. Eccleſ. lib. II. 17. & Nicephorus lib. VIII. 44. teſtantur. Neque rem ludicram pueri illi, & cum iis Athanaſius, egerunt ſeriò, uti tu cum Bellarmino deliras. Neque enim ſeriò Athanaſius putabat, ſe eſſe Epiſcopum, aut ſeriò putabat, eſſe verè baptizatos, aut verè Presbyteros, quos baptizaverat, aut ordinaverat; ſed tantùm μιμικῶς, & μίμησιν quandam μιμικὴν intendebat, non id agens, quod intendit agere Eccleſia, ſed tantùm intendens id ſimulare, ſeu jocoſo ludo repræſentare, ac mimicè imitari, quod agit Eccleſia. Sive autem rectè, ſive perperam Alexander de Baptiſmo illo judicavit, declarat tamen hiſtoria rei geſtæ, eum & clericos ejus de neceſſitate intentionis, quam Tridentini hodie prædicant, non cogitâſſe. 3. Innocentii IV. (quem ego tamen hic non citavi) apud Angelum de Clavaſio in Summa Angel. verbo Baptiſmus, diſt. 4. hæc verba ſunt: Non neceſſe eſt quoad effectum Baptiſmi, quòd ſciat, quid ſit Baptiſmus, ſcilicet quòd infundatur gratia, vel quòd ſit Sacramentum. Nec etiam oportet, quòd credat hoc ipſum, imò ſi contrarium credit, & reputat truffam & deceptionem; baptiſmus tamen habet effectum ſuum: non requiritur tamen, quòd baptizans ſciat, quid ſit Eccleſia, nec quòd gerat in mente facere, (NB. quid enim eſt intentio aliud, quàm gerere in mente aliquid facere? Non igitur de ſola ſcientia & credulitate ex parte intellectus loquitur.) quod facit Eccleſia: Imò ſi contrarium gereret in mente, id eſt, non facere quod facit Eccleſia, nihilominus baptizatur, dummodo baptizare intendat. Quid verbis his diſertius? Nam clauſula illa, dummodo baptizare intendat, non intentionem conferendi Sacramenti importat, (nemo enim intendit fieri, quod credit non poſſe fieri. Ille autem Miniſter ſupponitur credere, Sacramentum eſſe truffam vel deceptionem. Ergo ultra exteriorem ritum ſupponitur intendere deceptionem, non Sacramentum) nec intentionem faciendi, quod facit Eccleſia, quia ſupponitur contrarium gerere in mente: ſed eum tantùm, quæ actu externo exprimitur, puta ſervandi formam illam externam, quam ſervant alii baptizantes. Ita Eugenius IV. & Innocentius IV. Pontifex uterque (uter ex cathedra definiverit, tu divina) circa dogma ipſum diſſentiunt. 4. Quod ipſum etiam Scholaſtici faciunt; Thomas inprimis, quem intentionis neceſſitatem & aſſerentem, & negantem ſupra vidimus. Et ſi conflictus eorum reputetur animo, dogma ipſum non parùm periclitari neceſſe eſt. In objecto, facere id, quod facit Eccleſia, diſſenſus eſt, Eccleſia Catholica, an hæretica intelligatur. In eo quod facit Eccleſia, alii aſſerunt, requiri voluntatem faciendi actiones externas lavandi, & verba proferendi: alii Sacramentum faciendi: alii neceſſum eſſe, ut faciat, quod facit Eccleſia materialiter, alii, quod facit formaliter: alii, intendendum eſſe actum duntaxat Sacramenti: alii inſuper finem; & finem alii propinquum, alii remotum, ſtatuunt. De gradibus intentionis non mitior diſſenſus; aliis habitualem, virtualem aliis intentionem flagitantibus. Denique ſicut in rebus fictitiis, & nulla idonea revelatione nixis fieri ſolet, contentionum nec finis, nec modus ullus. De Ambroſii Catharini ſententia, qua ille & in Concilio, & extra illud intentionis neceſſitatem oppugnavit, plura dicemus, ubi cum Pallavicino congrediendum fuerit. Juvabit tamen heic inter ſe paucis committere fratres Cadmæos, duos Cardinales, Bellarminum & Pallavicinum, & unum Non-Cardinalem Redingium. quorum circa Epiſcopum ſuum Catharinum confuſa admodum labia ſunt. Nam Bellarminus de Sacram. lib. I. 27. de Catharini hujus opinione ſic loquitur: Hæc opinio non video quid differat à ſententia Chemnitii, & aliorum hæreticorum, niſi quòd Catharinus in fine opuſculi ſubjicit ſe Apoſtolicæ Sedi & Concilio: illi autem rident utrumque. quaſi ſcilicet non æquè Catharinus & Papalem Sedem & Tridentinum Concilium riſerit, quando & in Concilio, & poſt Concilium ſententiam Chemnitii & hæreticorum, uti vocant, à Concilio damnatam ſeverè propugnavit; & pòſt honoris gratiâ vel potiùs per illuſionem, ſententiam ſuam acerimè defenſam Papæ & Concilio ſubjecit. Alter Cardinalis Sforcia Pallavicinus, Pſeudo-Politices Romanæ conſultiſſimus, Hiſt. Concil. Trident. lib. IX. 6 cenſet quidem, Catharini ſententiam eſſe falſam; ſed per Tridentinos Canones di- Denique contendit idem, Tridentinis non aliud conſtitutum fuiſſe, quàm hoc definire, quòd Sacramentum efficaciam nullam conſequatur, ſi Miniſter ſimulet vel jocetur. Id verò tum falſiſſimum eſt: tum etiam ſi verum foret, ipſum Auguſtinum, cujus ea doctrina fuit, anathemati Concilii ſubjiceret. Denique Redingius utrique Cardinali huic, imò & ſibi ipſi diſcors, Catharinum, utpote ſententiam ſuam ex Thoma confirmantem, penitus abſolvit.

OBIECT. I. Miniſtri Eccleſiæ Sacramenta adminiſtrantes, ſunt inſtrumenta Dei animata & ratione utentia, quorum in arbitrio eſt remittere peccata vel non, Joh. XX. 23. Veluti cùm Rex conſtituit Præſides & judices in urbibus, qui nomine ſuo jus dicant. Atqui in talibus inſtrumentis requiritur etiam voluntas & intentio exercendi actiones, ſine qua rationalia inſtrumenta eſſe deſinunt. Reſp. 1. Eadem ratione evinceretur, miniſtri etiam prædicationem ſine intentione auditori prorſus eſſe inutilem: & intentionem requiri non tantùm operis, ſed etiam finis. quod Bellarminus aliique Sophiſtæ negant. 2. Etiam ſervi ſunt dominorum ſuorum rationalia inſtrumenta. Neque tamen in familia attenditur, quo animo, quàve intentione exequantur heri mandata, dummodo conſtet heri mandata eſſe, quæ exequuntur. Quot Confeſſores audientes miſerorum confeſſionem non aliud quàm lucrum ſuum vel curioſitatem intendunt? An iccirco pœnitentem fructu confeſſionis ſuæ privari ſtatuent? 3. Ingens diſcrimen eſt inter judices Politicos & Eccleſiæ Miniſtros. Judicibus ſuis & Præſidibus Rex, cùm actionibus adeſſe ſemper non poſſit, dominium communicat. At Chriſtus perpetuò gratiâ & Spiritu ſuo cum Eccleſia conjunctiſſimus dominium earum rerum, quas adminiſtrant, penes ſe totum retinet. Deficiente igitur intentione miniſtri, non deeſt intentio Chriſti Domini, qui per miniſtrum ipſe præſens Spiritu ſuo baptizat, euchariſtiam confert, donat. Sicut igitur negligentia vel odium ſervi non præjudicat liberalitati domini: ita nec prava intentio miniſtri juxta inſtitutionem adminiſtrantis promiſſionem Chriſti irritam reddit.

EXCIP. REDING : 1. Si Minister quispiam absque ulla intentione veritatis S. literis contentæ significandæ, verbum Dei prædicaret, tum ex defectu intentionis non ageret in nomine Christi & Ecclesiæ, quamvis verbum sic prædicatum, posset etiam sine intentione prædicantis, vel contra eam cum veritate sub eo Divinitus revelata ad cor audientis penetrare. At Christus in instituendis Sacramentis nec scripto, nec inanimato, seu intentione faciendi id, quod ipse instituit, destituto verbo contentus esse voluit; sed in formam Sacramenti statuit verbum, quæ humanum & rationale, ex potestate à Christo communicata, nomine ejus proferendum. Cujusmodi verbum à Ministro, Christi instrumento rationali, sub intentione saltem implicita faciendi, quod Christus instituit, manare debet. Et sufficit hic intentio operis, sine intentione finis. velut in famulo, in quo satis est, si opus ab hero præscriptum exequitur, quocunque fine id faciat. 2. Licet verò Christus Spiritu & gratia sua Ecclesiæ præsens sit, ob subtractam tamen præsentiam visibilem Ministros substituit, per quos, seu visibilia organa, actiones Sacramentales exerceat, potestate sua iisdem communicata, quomodo affians discipulos suos, iisdem Spiritum suum, seu potestatem Ecclesiasticam communicavit. Si igitur in Politicis à Rege constitutis ad actiones nomine Regis exercendas intentio requiritur; etiam in Ministris verbi Dei requiri eandem sequitur. Ib. pag. 72. Resp. 1. Ministri verbum prædicantis, & Sacramenta administrantis par ratio est. Utrobique Minister Christi est, & nomine Christi agit. Si igitur, cùm prædicat sine intentione, verbum modò Dei prædicet, verbum ad aures penetrat, &, Scriptura teste, fidem generat; cur non idem in Sacramenti administratione, quoad externum actum legitima, deficiente etiam intentione, obtineat? Nam signorum æquè Sacramentalium, ac verbi prædicati efficacia non aliunde, quàm à solo Deo, pendet. Instrumento rationali æquè in præconio verbi, ac in administratione signorum Christus utitur. Utrobique Ministris potestatem, seu potiùs ministerium, puta & prædicandi verbum, & signa conferendi, æqualiter mandavit. Formam verò Sacramenti consistere in verbis, quatenus illa à Ministro cum intentione pronuntiantur, probare, non nudè edicere debueras. Imò verba, v. g. Ego te baptizo, non intentionem Ministri, sed operationem externam significant. Aliàs sanè intentio non operis duntaxat, sed etiam illius, propter quod Sacramentum institutum est, requireretur. Nam ecclesia, cujus nomine intendere Sacerdos dicitur, non actum duntaxat materialem vel formalem Sacramenti, sed ejusdem quoque finem & effectum intendit. Id tamen Bellarminus negat: affirmantibus licet aliis, inprimis Gregorio de Valentia, statuente, necessarium esse, ut intentio pertineat & referatur aliquâ ratione non modo ad ipsam operationem Sacramentalem externam, sed etiam ad effectum seu finem illius, agnoscente id ipsum Scoto in 4. d. 1. q. 5. a. 8. Sicut verò in famulo satis esse, ut ex præscripto heri agat, quemcunque finem propositum habeat, ipsemet agnoscis: sic in Sacramenti Ministro ad ejusdem efficaciam satis est, ut ex præscripto Christi agat, quocunque fine agat, seu quicquid ille ex præscripto Christi agens, intenderit. 2. Ministros verbi & Sacramentorum omnino Christus instituit. Sed sic instituisse, ut impertitus iis fuerit potestatem aliam, quàm verbum prædicandi, & signa dispensandi, id verò negamus. Ita afflatis Apostolis dedit Spiritum, & potestatem remittendi, & retinendi peccata; sed ut præconibus meris, sententiam à Deo in verbo ejus latam præconiantibus. Quæ potestas merè ministerialis, diversa longè est ab ea, quam Rex vel Princeps Politicus absens Judicibus & Præsidibus suis dissitis delegat. utpote quæ in judice & Præside circa actiones ab ipsis exercendas verum dominium statuit. ſunt earum rerum, quarum dominium totum in Chriſto ſolo, eóque præſentiſſimo ſemper (nam carnis abſentia nec dominium, nec poteſtatem minuit) manet.

OBIECT. II. Verba Sacramentalia ſunt variæ & ambiguæ ſignificationis, proinde ad veram ſignificationem determinandam aliquid requiritur. At nihil fingi poteſt, quo determinetur, niſi intentio miniſtri. Reſp. 1. Futili ratiocinationi reſpondeat Scotus. In ſigno, inquit, ad placitum inſtituto poſſunt multa concurrere ad rationem unius ſigni propter actum inſtituentis, licet nihil aliud ſit, propter quod habeat unitatem. 2. Numquid non Chriſtus ipſe Sacramenta inſtituens myſterium determinavit? Ita non ſolemus inquirere in præconis intentionem, cùm aliquid denuntiat alterius juſſu. Satis eſt intelligere intentionem authoris jubentis.

EXCIP. REDING: Scotus aſſerit, ex ſolo actu inſtituentis ſignum habere poſſe ſuam unitatem, nempe in actu ſignato, non exercito, in quo intentio determinare debet, quia Chriſtus non immediatè, ſed per miniſtros iisdem ſubordinatos, communicata ad hoc poteſtate, adminiſtrat. Ib. pag. 73. Reſp. Actus exercitus non aliam determinationem requirit, quàm ſignatus. Miniſter enim exercens Sacramentalem actum omnia ex inſtitutione & præſcripto Chriſti agit & exercet. atque ſic agens determinatè agit. Cur enim mandatum & inſtitutio Chriſti præcisè obſervata actioni formam determinatam, per quam ab alia omni diſcerni queat, ſuppeditare nequeat: at queat intentio, hoc eſt, opus hominis? Quis in præconis intentionem inquirit, cùm is aliquid alterius juſſu promulgat? Sufficiet ex verbis ab ipſo promulgatis authoris jubentis intentionem veſtigare. Et numquid conſentis, ab eo determinari Sacramentum, à quo fit Sacramentum? Si ergo fit à verbis, juxta receptum illud; Accedit verbum ad elementum, & fit Sacramentum; etiam determinatur à verbis. Et proinde ipſa quoque verba veluti illa: Ego te baptizo, &c. determinata ſint oportet. De poteſtate Miniſtris à Chriſto communicata ſupra.

OBIECT. III. Verba Sacramentalia ſunt Practica, quæ efficiunt id, quod ſignificant. At verba practica non habent efficaciam, niſi dicantur ab eo, qui habet poteſtatem & voluntatem faciendi, quod ſignificant. Reſp. Sunt verba practica, ſed quorum vis, ἐνέργεια & πρᾶξις pendet à poteſtate & intentione Chriſti Domini, cujus nomine verba proferuntur. Ita edictum præconis practicum eſt. Neque tamen ejus vis ab intentione præconis, ſed potiùs ejus, qui ſummam poteſtatem habet, pendet.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Cur Baptiſmus à laico legitimè adminiſtratus non validus? Annon ibi quoque uſurpantur ſigna ex intentione Chriſti practica? 2. Etſi igitur verba Sacramentalia ſic practica ſunt, ut eorum vis principaliter ab intentione Chriſti Domini pendeat; tamen executio eorum etiam à Miniſtri, ejus nomine agentis, & cooperantis ſubordinatione pendet. At cooperatio illa intentionem ſaltem implicitam ſe conformandi cum intentione Chriſti exigit. Ib. pag. 73. Reſp. 1. ſandi. Nam prædicandi & diſpenſandi poteſtatem diſertè Chriſtus Matth. XXVIII. 19. 20. conjunxit. 2. Concedo ſubordinationem miniſtri: ſed nego cooperationem cum intentione illa quæ ad efficaciam Sacramenti requiritur. Nuſpiam enim Chriſtus declaravit, ſuam intentionem ſine ſubordinatæ intentione Miniſtri invalidam futuram eſſe. Neque id neceſſitas verborum juſſu Chriſti proferendorum exigit, quia alia vis verborum eſt, cùm dicuntur ab eo, qui ſummam & primam imperandi authoritatem habet: alia, cùm ab eo dicuntur, quo principalis cauſa, ut inſtrumento, utitur. Cùm à priori dicuntur, intentionem ejus exigunt: cùm à poſteriori, non item. Principalis enim cauſæ imperia etiam deferuntur ab inſtrumentis, quorum nulla eſſe intentio poteſt, uti teſtis eſt Lacedæmoniorum σκυτάλη; & teſtes ſunt Regum quotidianæ literæ, quæ prorſus inanimatæ imperia referunt. Verba verò Sacramentalia non ab eo dicuntur, cui jus primum & ſummum imperandi, ſed ab eo, cui inſtrumenti natura eſt. Etiamſi igitur verba practica eſſent, vim tamen ſuam habere, poſſent, intentione Miniſtri nulla addita. Quanquam propriè verba non aliam efficaciam immediatè quàm ſignificandi, neque aliter practica, & ſpeculativa prorſus nulla, dici poſſunt. Quod etiam S. Auguſtinus de Doctr. Chriſt. lib. I. cap. docet his verbis: Sunt & alia ſigna, quorum omnis uſus in ſignificando eſt; ſicuti ſunt verba. Nemo enim utitur verbis, niſi aliquid ſignificandi gratia.

OBIECT. IV. Sequeretur hac ratione, validum eſſe vel baptiſmum, quo pater filium lavat in balneo, utens his verbis: Ego te lavo in nomine Dei Patris &c. vel euchariſtiam, cùm Sacerdos in menſa legit Evangelium & recitat verba: Hoc enim eſt corpus meum. Reſp. Imò verò funis ejusmodi nectitur ex arena. Baptiſmus talis & euchariſtia verum Sacramentum non eſt, non quia deficit intentio operativa adminiſtrantium, ſed quia non obſervatur inſtitutio Chriſti, juxta quam ea Sacramenta in cœtu publico ſolenniter & debita reverentia adminiſtrari debent.

EXCIP. REDING: An ergo ſi actiones ea dicto modo in cœtu publico peragantur, Sacramentum validum reddent? Ad extremas anguſtias redactus fateri cogeris intentionis neceſſitatem in Miniſtro. lb. pag. 73. 74. Reſp. O anguſtias, quas à puerilibus deliratio-nibus tuis patior! Tales ſcilicet, quales equus in latiſſimo campo liberè decurrens à formica tranſeunte patitur. Atqui nôſſe debueras, in ſtatu quæſtionis noſtræ ſupponi actum externum legitimum, & ſolam internam Miniſtri intentionem in ambiguo eſſe. In his autem, quæ objicitis vos, abſurdis nullus eſt externus actus legitimus, quia vel nullus Miniſter legitimè vocatus, ſed pater familias, privatus homo, privatam actionem ſive privatim, ſive in publico cœtu exercens abſque ullo mandato, vocatione Divina ullas vel Sacerdos quidem, ſed menſarius, de quali S. Paulus: Cùm convenitis in eundem locum, non hoc eſt Cœnam Dominicam comedere, 1. Cor. XI. 20. Ergo ne quidem ullum hic Sacramentum eſt, etſi intentio adeſſet, & defectus totus non intentionis, ſed actus interni legitimi eſt. cùm tamen ille, uti dixi, in hac quæſtione ſupponatur.

QUÆSTIO VI.

An recepti & approbati Eccleſiæ Pontificia ritus, in ſolenni adminiſtratione Sacramentorum adhiberi ſoliti, ſine peccato omitti, aut in alios mutari poßint?

NEgat ſub anathemate Canon XIII. Ritus Sacramentales ſunt alii eſſentiales aut expreſsè mandati, quos retinendos docemus. Alii expreſſis verbis non mandati, qui tamen in genere nituntur teſtimonio Scripturarum, & Apoſtolorum exemplo. quò pertinet explicatio doctrinæ Sacramentorum, exhortationes, preces, gratiarum actiones. Etiam hos retinemus, quia Sacramenta non ſunt muta & otioſa ſpectacula. Alii à viris eccleſiaſticis ſuperadditi ſunt ad tuendum magis decorum & ordinem eccleſiæ. Horum utpote adiaphororum obſervantia vel mutatio judicio & libertati eccleſiæ Chriſtianæ permittitur. At Pontificios ritus Sacramentales ſine diſcrimine retinendos eſſe, & quidem ſub anathemate, negamus, rationibus inducti ſequentibus. Etenim ARG. I. Ritus plerósque tuentur authoritate non legitima, puta traditionum Apoſtolicarum, vel eccleſiaſticarum, nec non plenitudine poteſtatis eccleſiæ. Atqui de vero Dei cultu Chriſtus nos pleniſſimè inſtituit, neque particulari, uti Bellarminus contendit, inſtitutione cultus alicujus indigemus. Hanc enim quisquis deſiderat, dimidiatum cum Chriſto Regnum & poteſtatem ambit, & Novum Teſtamentum imperfectionis arguit. Imò ſi Chriſtus tantùm generaliter, ut illi volunt, eccleſia verò ſpecialiter cultum inſtituit, tum potiores in illo cultu ſunt hominum partes quàm Chriſti, quia ſpecifica natura ſemper excellit generali. Deinde Scriptura ſufficienter & pleniſſimè eas quas Chriſtus inſtituit ad ſalutem neceſſarias ceremonias complectitur, ut traditionum ſupplemento non indigeamus. Imò ab hominibus petendam eſſe veram de cultu Dei doctrinam, negat Apoſtolus Coloſſ. II. 22. ex Eſaj. XXIX. 13. Matth. XV. 9. Denique; Eccleſiæ in inſtituendo Dei cultu authoritas nulla eſt.

RESP. REDING : 1. Si de cultu Dei Chriſtus nos pleniſſimè inſtituit, ita ut particulari cultus inſtitutione non indigeamus ; quomodo ipſe in aſſeris, ritus quoſdam Sacramentales expreſſis Scripturæ verbis non mandari, licet in genere Scripturarum teſtimonio nitantur ? 2. Si traditionum ſupplemento Eccleſia non indiget, neque in inſtituendo cultu authoritatem aliquam habet, quomodo ſtatuis, retinere vos ritus Sacramentales Apoſtolorum exemplo & traditione nixos ? Quomodo viri Eccleſiaſtici ad tuendum ordinem & decorum Eccleſiæ ritus quoſdam ſuperaddere potuerunt ? 3. Cùm Eccleſiæ præpoſiti poteſtatem habeant leges ferendi, cultui Divino convenientes, uti ex Scriptura, exemplo Apoſtoli & Auguſtini doctrina liquet, non peccamus, cùm accidentarias Sacramentorum ceremonias, ſalva eorundem ſubſtantia, cultúmque adeò aliqualem determinamus, vel potiùs exornamus. 4. Baptiſmi Ceremoniæ apud nos receptæ orthodoxæ antiquitati haud incognitæ fuerunt. Tom. II. Tract. V. Ss. 2. pag. 74-76. Reſp. Artificium tuum vellicandi & torquendi rectè dicta craſſius eſt, quàm ut cauſæ veſtræ inclinatæ ſuccollare poſſet. Etenim 1. & de cultu toto nos pleniſſimè Chriſtus inſtituit : & Eccleſia ritus quoſdam, non ſpeciali, ſed generali Scripturarum teſtimonio nixos, ſervat. Neque enim hæc pugnant, tum quia aliud eſt cultus ſubſtantiæ ; aliud ſunt ejuſdem circumſtantiæ, pro ratione loci, temporis, aliorúmque adjunctorum cultus mutabiles, quæ ſpecialibus legibus non facilè determinantur : tum quia generale Scripturarum teſtimonium, quo ſcilicet Eccleſia cuncta decorè & ſecundùm ordinem gerere 1. Cor. XIV. 40. jubetur, ad ipſum cultum à Chriſto inſtitutum pertinet. 2. Ritus Sacramentales, quos Apoſtolorum exemplo niti aſſerimus, cujuſmodi ſunt doctrina de Sacramentis, exhortationes, preces, gratiarum actiones &c. non à traditione non ſcripta, ſed tum à generali Scripturarum teſtimonio, quo Eccleſiæ Miniſtri paſſim jubentur docere, exhortari, precari, gratias agere &c. tum ab exemplo Apoſtolorum non tradito ore duntaxat, ſed inprimis ſcripto arceſſimus. 3. De poteſtate legislativa Eccleſiæ infra. Ceremonias verò Sacramentales à vobis invectas, vel ad cultum aliqualem, uti timidè ſatis loqueris, vel ornatum Sacramentorum facere, neutiquam etiam probas. Rectè Ambroſius *de Offic. lib. ARG. II. Pontificia Eccleſia tantùm non abrogatis ritibus eſſentialibus & Divinitus inſtitutis, alios adoptavit ex antiquitate, ſed ſuperſtitione contaminatos, vel recens etiam inſtituit. Ita abrogavit ritum ſubſtantialem communicationis ſub utraque ſpecie. In Canone ſuo expunxit verba, quod pro vobis traditur. Negligit commonefactiones & exhortationes. Canonem ſecretò demurmurat.

Cúmque in Canone veſtro non ex Matthæo, ſed ex Luca verba Chriſti mutuari vobis placuerit, mutilare verba Lucæ non oportuit. 2. Secretæ in cœtibus noſtris preces nihil cum ſecreta Canonis muſſitatione veſtra commune habent, tùm quia non funduntur peregrino idiomate, ſed quiſque eas ſibi ad commendandas Deo publicas & privatas neceſſitates, nec non præconii ſucceſſum, nota lingua & cum Spiritus attendentis fervore, dictat : tum quia preces etiam publicæ & intelligibiles funduntur : tum denique quia per ſecretas ejuſmodi preces non adminiſtratur Sacramentum. uti vos ſecreto veſtro murmure Sacramenti notitiam, uſum & fructum miſeris animabus veſtris intercipere ſoletis. 3. Doctrinam ſalutarem de Sacramentis, commonefactiones & exhortationes vulgo intelligibiles in uſu Sacramentorum planè omittitis. Extra uſum verò Sacramentorum nec eandem efficaciam habent, & ad corruptionem potiùs doctrinæ ſalutaris inſtituuntur.

ARG. III. Ritus etiam Sacramentales Eccleſiaſticos iidem præferunt ritibus eſſentialibus in Dei verbo mandatis, quaſi hi non ſatis dignitati Sacramentorum reſponderent.

RESP. REDING : Quomodo ergo ſubſiſtet tua aſſertio, quòd ritus à viris Eccleſiaſticis ſuperadditi ſint ad tuendum magis decorum & ordinem Eccleſiæ ? Ib. pag. 76. Reſp. Firmiſſimo talo ; quia ſuppersadditi à viris Eccleſiaſticis ritus circa ordinem & decorum Eccleſiæ nec ii ſunt, quos in vobis vituperamus ; nec ita neceſſarii, ut ſine peccato à nulla Eccleſia omitti poſſint, quod de veſtris Tridentini ſanxerunt ; nec denique eſſentialibus & neceſſariis adæquantur, nedum præferuntur.

ARG. IV. Ritus eorum quidam ſunt impii, quidam ſuperſtitioſi, quidam etiam Idololatrici, quod inductione eorum demonſtrari poteſt. Pertinent huc imprimis conſecratio aquæ, ſalis, cerei benedictio ; agni Dei, ſignum crucis, aqua luſtralis, ſimilésque quisquiliæ, quæ nomine Sacramentalium veniunt : preces pro defunctis, invocatio Sanctorum, exorciſmus, peregrinæ linguæ uſus &c.

RESP. REDING : Exorciſmi, ſigni crucis, aquæ luſtralis, quæ maledicta tua Reformatio ſuſtulit, uſum nunquam non in adminiſtratione Baptiſmi Eccleſia adhibuit. Ib. pag. 76–78. Reſp. Parum etiam benedicta fuit veſtra deformatio, quæ tum ex temporario exorciſmi dono perpetuum & magicum in Eccleſiam ritum, imò & Sacramentalem ordinem introduxit : tum ſigni crucis ſine oleo tamen & chriſmate, & in fronte tantùm expreſſi, expreſſi, uſum adiaphorum & innocuum quondam non ſolùm in neceſſarium convertit, ſed etiam ei, ut & aquæ luſtrali, Alexandri Papæ authoritate nequicquam velatæ, effectus, verbo Dei neutiquam teſtatos, imò contrarios, nullius vel rationis vel revelationis præſidio attribuit. Quod de ſingulis in loco ἀναφέρειν demonſtrabimus.

ARG. V. Cùm eſſentiales ritus utrámque paginam facere debeant, perquam fit abſurdè, quòd multitudine, ſplendore & pompâ rituum merè humanorum ritus Divinitus mandati obſcurantur, & obruuntur. Etenim ſi jam olim Auguſtinus Epiſt. 119. conqueſtus eſt, multitudine Ceremoniarum ita aliquos ſuo tempore Eccleſiam oneraviſſe, ut tolerabilior ſit conditio Judæorum: quam non, ſi reviviſceret hodie, querelam contexeret? Et ſanè qui expenderit illud Pontificiarum Ceremoniarum onus & chaos, & cum Judæorum veterum ceremoniis contulerit, nullo negotio apud ſe ſtatuere poterit, pædagogiam Judaicâ graviorem in eccleſiam Chriſtianam inductam eſſe. Quod ipſum etiam Bellarminus non diſſimulat, frivola uſus exceptione, hoc intereſſe, quòd cultus Judaicus, quatenus talis, fuerit principaliter externus & corporalis: Chriſtianus autem ſit principaliter internus & Spiritualis. Atque ita omnes veteres ceremoniæ continuari poterunt, hac ſola lege, ut cultui ſpirituali ſubijciantur.

RESP. REDING: 1. Ipſe S. Auguſtinus ritus Baptiſmales noſtros approbavit. In loco igitur à te citato non de ritibus in Eccleſia Romana vel univerſali receptis, ſed de aliis loquitur. 2. Eo ipſo quòd, juxta Bellarminum, Chriſtianorum cultus ſpiritualis & internus eſt, nullum onus ex ceremoniarum multitudine ei oboritur. Cùm enim Spiritus ad interiora reducatur, quale onus eſt, ceremoniis ſacris ad interiorem devotionem excitari? Contra Judæos ad exteriora intentos non potuerunt non ceremoniæ plures onerare. Ib. pag. 78. Reſp. 1. Non approbaſſe ita, ut eandem neceſſitatem & vim iis tribuerit, alibi demonſtramus. Locus à me citatus ſic Epiſt. exig. 19. ſonat: Quod inſtituitur præter conſuetudinem, ut quaſi obſervatio Sacramenti ſit, approbare non poſſum. etiamſi multa hujusmodi propter nonnullarum vel ſanctarum, vel turbulentarum perſonarum ſcandala devitanda liberiùs improbare non audeo. Sed hoc nimis doleo, quia multa, quæ in Divinis libris ſaluberima præcepta ſunt, minùs curantur, & tam multis præſumptionibus ſic plena ſunt omnia, ut graviùs corripiatur, qui per octavas ſuas terram nudo pede tetigerit, quàm qui mentem violentia ſepelierit. Omnia itaque talia, quæ neque Scripturarum authoritatibus continentur, nec in Conciliis Epiſcoporum ſtatuta inveniuntur, nec conſuetudine univerſæ Eccleſiæ roborata ſunt, ſed diverſorum locorum diverſis moribus innumerabiliter variantur, ita ut vix aut omnino nunquam inveniri poſſint cauſæ, quas in eis inſtituendis homines ſecuti ſunt, ubi facultas tribuitur, ſine ulla dubitatione reſecanda exiſtimo. Quamvis enim neque hoc inveniri poſſit, quo modo contra fidem ſint, ipſam tamen religionem, quàm pauciſſimis & manifeſtiſſimis celebrationem Sacramentis miſericordia Dei eſſe liberam voluit, ſervilibus oneribus premunt, ut tolerabilior ſit conditio Judæorum, qui etiamſi tempus libertatis non agnoverint, legalibus tamen ſarcinis, non humanis præſumptionibus ſubjiciuntur. Sed Eccleſia Dei inter multam paleam, multáque zizania conſtituta multa tolerat, & tamen, quæ ſunt contra fidem, vel bonam vitam, non appro- approbat,nec tacet,nec facit. Hæc ſanè rituum veſtrorum pædagogiæ immani, & oneroſiſſimæ multitudini apertè refragantur. Rejicit ille, nullo Eccleſiæ hujus vel illius diſcrimine notato, nedum indicio ullo apparente, quòd de ceremoniis à privatis excogitatis ei ſermo ſit, uti Bellarminus veſter contenderat, ritus non ſcriptos, in Conciliis Epiſcoporum, veterum puta, non firmatos,conſuetudinè univerſæ, adeóque etiam Apoſtolicæ Eccleſiæ non roboratos. Tales ſunt veſtri , quatenus inprimis iis ſingularia myſteria,vim meritoriam,neceſſitatem & ſupernaturales effectus, ſine ulla verbi revelatione,affingitis. Hæc enim potiſſimùm ſunt,quæ in ritibus pleriſque veſtris impugnamus, & quæ nulla vel Scripturæ, vel Conciliorum veterum, vel conſuetudinis univerſæ Eccleſiæ authoritate nituntur. Tum S. Auguſtinus ſuperfluos ritus rejicit eo argumento , quòd Dei miſericordia religionem pauciſſimis & manifeſtiſſimis celebrationum Sacramentis eſſe liberam voluerit. Et apud vos ceremoniæ in religione utramque paginam faciunt ; non pauciſſimæ,non manifeſtiſſimæ,ſed plurimæ & ob myſteria,quæ iis affingitis,abſtruſiſſimæ. Denique vetat idem religionem premi oneribus ſervilibus , quas Eccleſiæ Chriſtianæ quàm Judaicæ,utpote legalibus ſarcinis,non humanis præſumptionibus ſubjectæ , minùs tolerabilem conditionem efficere ſtatuit. Manifeſtum eſt ejus argumentum. Nam Eccleſia Judaica ſarcinis legalibus,hoc eſt,ritibus in lege à Deo mandatis: at Chriſtiana humanis ſic præſumptionibus oneratur. Tales pleræque veſtræ ceremoniæ ſunt,humanis præſumptionibus inventæ amplificatæque. Quòd ſi, uti contendis tu,tolerabiliores ſunt multiplicatæ Chriſtianorum ceremoniæ,quia eorum cultus ſpiritualis eſt , quid vetat ergo omnes Judæorum ceremonias in orcheſtram Chriſtianæ Eccleſiæ reducere,adeóque jugum diſcipulis denuo imponere ? Ut verò cultus aliquis ſit corporalis principaliter, & minùs principaliter ſpiritualis ac internus, qualem Judaicum fuiſſe,& hanc ſolam ob cauſam populum Judaicum oneraſſe,cum Bellarmino nugaris,prorſus impoſſibile eſt, quia ſpirituale cum corporali conjunctum principatum ſemper obtinet. Corporalis enim exercitatio non relata ad ſpiritualem cultum, ceu unicum & principalem finem, πρὸς ὀλίγον ad pauca utilis eſt, 1. Tim. IV. 8. Tantum abeſt, ut ullus cultus principaliter corporalis eſſe queat. Imò corporales veſtræ ceremoniæ eò oneroſiores ſunt, quàm Judaicæ fuerunt, quò magis illas myſteriis obſcuris & difficulter cognitu repletis. Atque eam etiam ob cauſam cultum ſpiritualem tam non promovent,ut potiùs ſufflaminent. Id quod Author Conſultationis de horis Canon. cap. 3. agnoſcit & deplorat his verbis: Ceremoniarum copia largior & operoſior obſervatio eorum,qui Divina efficacia celebrant,animos adeò detinent,ut ſæpiſſime ſuis precibus nequeant attendere,Deúmque interiùs adorare,veluti ceremoniis iſtis externis eum venerari videntur. Adeò quoque ſpectantium animos occupant, ut dum illis curioſiùs forte quàm opus eſt,attendunt,minùs orationibus ſuis attendant. Denique externam rituum veſtrorum humanorum obſervantiam non minori ſi non majori rigore exigitis , quàm in Judæis Deus ipſe rituum à ſe mandatorum obſervantiam exegit. Qua in re impietatem proditis,cùm mandata hominum Divinis mandatis præferre, & illorum obtentu hæc negligere,religioni non ducatis.

ARG. VI. Accedit,quòd ritus plurimi non ex Chriſtianæ Eccleſiæ, ſed Judaiſmi & Paganiſmi imitatione proceſſerint. Ab Ægyptiis plures ceremonias deſumptas eſſe poſt Beroaldum fatetur Johannes Bohemus Aubanus lib. 1. de moribus gentium cap. 1. Baronius etiam,Bellarminus, aliique fatentur, ceremonias nonnullas Pontificias, similes esse ritibus gentilium veterum; sed addunt materialiter, non formaliter. Intentionem & finem Pontificiarum esse, colere verum Deum; Paganorum verò cultum Dæmoniorum. Sed finem & intentionem diversam non ponere sufficiens discrimen disertè testatur Moses Deut.XII.31. Non facies sic Iehovæ Deo tuo. Ubi, observante Cajetano, præcipitur ad literam, ne colat Deum similibus ceremoniis & ritibus, quos servârunt Ethnici colentes Elohe suos.

RESP. REDING: 1. Jam olim Judæis licuit servata legè Divinæ Integritate materiales quosdam ritus, veluti cælaturas, ornatum Templi, festum fortium, dati ignis &c. addere. Apostoli quoque abrogata Lege Mosaica fidelibus abstinentiam à sanguine & suffocato injunxerunt. Cur ergo non liceret Ecclesiæ ceremonias, Gentilium ritibus materialiter haud absimiles, sub Divini erga verum Deum cultus fidei congrua formalitate statuere? 2. Deut.XII.31. vetat Deus cultum sui per abominationes gentilium. Ib. pag. 79. Resp. 1. Nihil ritus à Judaica Ecclesia instituti perpauci, & quidem etiam, uti festum Purim, politici potiùs quàm Ecclesiastici, cum vestris commune habent. Tales enim, verbo dicam, fuerunt, quales in Ecclesia Christiana cultui Christiano conformes non improbaremus, instituti nec ut pars cultus, nec opinione vel necessitatis vel meriti, nec mysteriis & effectibus nescio quibus, certè à Deo nuspiam promissis, vel revelatis, imprægnati. Neque Apostoli sanguinis & suffocati interdicto esu ceremoniam novam instituerunt; sed in veteri ceremonia pro tempore toleranda, scandalo prospexerunt, cavente enixè, ne libertatis usu, nondum ejusdem gnari, à Christi doctrina averterentur. Nihil hoc ad controversas ceremonias vestras, quæ, uti laudatus supra Author vestras loquitur, mollissimè loquendo, plus fastus, superstitionis, aut simulatæ, ne dicam, ridiculæ religionis, quàm veræ ac sinceræ pietatis præ se ferunt. Quòd si, uti tu pertendis, fas est, ceremonias Gentilium ritibus materialiter haud absimiles sub congrua erga cultum veri Dei formalitate retinere, cur igitur Deus Exod. XXXIV. 13. Deut. XII. 2. 3. vetuit quicquam earum rerum, quibus ad cultum idolorum suorum abusi sunt gentiles, ad cultum veri Dei traducere; jubens etiam desolari loca ipsa, in quibus idololatriæ Dii suis litarunt? 2. Et sanè diserta nimis sunt verba Dei Deut.XII.30.31. Quando succiderit Dominus Deus tuus ante te Gentes, ad quas tu venies, ut eas possideas, cave tibi, ne quando stillando eas illaqueeris, &c. Nequaquam sic (ut illæ) facies Domino Deo tuo. Quicquid ego vobis præcipio, id observabitis. Quid est לא תעשה כן ליהוה sic facere Domino Deo suo, sicut gentiles fecerunt Diis suis, quàm ceremoniis, gentilium ceremoniis materialiter similibus, relatis ad veri Dei cultum, Deum colere? Si hoc licet, fas piúmque erit, in honorem veri Dei filios & filias per ignem traducere. Contra Deus in cultu suo observari, nempe ceu partem cultus, qualem vestras ceremonias facitis, jussit, quæ ipse præcepit, non quæ in cultu suo gentiles adhibuerunt.

ARG. VII. Quid quòd ceremonias suas faciunt partem necessariam & immutabilem Divini cultûs, easque omitti etiam sub anathemate vetant, quod est contra libertatem Christianorum, & primitivæ Ecclesiæ, quæ libertate abrogandi, corrigendi, mutandi, alios substituendi, postulante

Reſp. 1. Nec cuivis fideli ritus ritè inſtitutos immutare fas eſt, quia cuncta in Eccleſia ordine agi Scriptura præcipit: nec Eccleſia particularis, qualis Romana eſt, aliis Eccleſiis particularibus vel ſuos ritus obtrudere,vel ritus novos ad ordinem externum cultus inſtituendi, inſtitutos mutandi, facultatem, quod veſtra Eccleſia facit,adimere poteſt. Qui hæc poſſunt, eadem opera ſomnia in Sacramenta, imò majus quid (nam ne ipſis quidem Sacramentis vis hæc competit) convertere poſſunt. 3. Si Sacramentalia ex opere operato effectus ſuos producunt, quomodo tu ſupra iis efficaciam nonniſi moralem adſcripſiſti? Sed pridem efficaciam ceremoniarum ex opere operato exploſerunt veſtri etiam Scholaſtici doctores, Paludanus, Prierias, Biel, Abulenſis, Soto, Mariana, alii. uti videre eſt apud Azorium lib. IV. 11. ubi etiam, quales tabulæ pro hac Eccleſiæ authoritate afferri poſſint, idem Azorius his verbis oſtendit: Controverſia eſt, inquit, unde habeat Eccleſia facultatem, qua remedia (Sacramentalia) conſtituat ad remiſſionem venialium peccatorum conſequendam? Ad quam reſpondeo; ex iisdem verbis habere, ex quibus habet authoritatem à Chriſto, qua poſſit extra Sacramenta concedere condonationes peccatorum, quas indulgentias vocamus. Aſſumat Durandus in 4. d. 20 q. his verbis: Scriptura non loquitur expreſsè de indulgentiis. Ergo ex Scripturis non habet Eccleſia facultatem ceremonias ex opere operato efficaces inſtituendi. Tum ſi efficacia Sacramentalium à precibus Eccleſiæ pendet, ex opere operantis, non operato efficaces erunt. Præterea ubi precibus Eccleſiæ promiſſa eſt virtus Sacramentalibus ad ſupernaturales effectus producendos aſſiſtens? Priùs tibi, Sacramentalibus virtutem ejuſmodi Divinam aſſiſtere, docendum fuerat. De

QUÆSTIO I.

An Baptismus Johannis habuerit eandem vim cum Baptismo Christi?

NEgat Canon I. de Baptismo, & asserentibus anathema dicit. Nos baptismum Johannis à baptismo Christi distinguimus, tum modo patefactionis, tum collatione donorum. Modo patefactionis, quia Johannis baptismus Christum nec procul absentem, nec præsentem mortuum, sed mox passurum significavit: Christi verò baptismus, saltem ille, quem post ejus ascensionem in cœlum ejusdem jussu administrârunt Apostoli, Christum jam passum obtulit. Modo collationis donorum differunt, quia Johannis Baptismus non administratus fuit in tanta copia & ubertate donorum spiritualium tum visibilium, tum invisibilium. Asserimus tamen, utrinque æqualiter obsignatam esse gratiam remissionis peccatorum, adeòque quoad essentiam, nucleum, & præcipua, eandem utriusque vim extitisse. Synodus contrà, negans eandem utriusque vim fuisse, juxta Scholasticorum tum veterum, tum recentiorum doctrinam, id de baptismi ipsius essentia intelligit. Nam Lombardus 4. Sent. dist. 2. lib. 8. ait, Johannis baptismum corpora mundâsse, at à peccatis non mundâsse. Salmero ait, discrepâsse baptismum Johannis à baptismo Christi formâ, verbis & fructu gratiæ. Barradius baptismum Johannis dicit fuisse rudimentarium, deducentem ad pœnitentiam, & gratiæ præludium. Nos eandem utriusque quoad essentiam vim fuisse, probamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Non minor fuit vis & efficacia baptismi Johannis, quàm verbi ab ipso prædicati, cùm inter doctrinam verbi & Sacramenta perpetua ἀκόλουθία obtineat. Atqui verbum à Johanne prædicatum erat spiritualis gratia per Christum, Matth. III. 2. Marc. I. 1-3. Luc. I. 77. Ergo id ipsum quoque baptismus ejus obsignavit.

Resp. Reding : 1. Quam gratiam verbum Dei repræsentat, eandem Christi Sacramenta realiter effectivè conferunt. Johannis verò Baptismus æqualem cum verbo vim & efficaciam, merè repræsentativam & præfigurativam, ac insuper spei de gratiâ per Christum & ejus Baptismum excitativam, moraliter excitativam, non verò æquè, uti Baptismus Christi, remissionem peccatorum confulit. Tomo II. Tract. V. S. 3. pag. 84. Resp. Sacramenta Christi gratiam realiter & effectivè Pontificio sensu, non conferre, supra evicimus. Neque quicquam ad argumentum meum solidi respondes. Sacramenta cùm sint sigilla verbi promissionis, non aliud obsignare possunt, quàm quod verbo promittitur. Atqui Johannes Baptista verbo à se prædicato Christum, ejusque gratiam, remissionémque peccatorum Matth. III. 12. Marc. I. 1--3. Luc. I. 77. apertè promisit; denique Agnum illum Dei, qui tollit peccata mundi, quantum lateribus valuit, inclamavit. quæ ipsa quoque summa est totius doctrinæ Christi. Causam igitur nobis edissere, cur eandem baptismo suo non etiam obsignaverit. Nam inter verbum promissionis & Sacramenta eidem annexa perpetuam χάριν esse, denuo contendo.

ARG. II. Convenit baptismus Johannis cum baptismo Christi omnibus causis. Efficiente Deo, qui baptismum eum instituit, Joh. I. 33. Luc. III. 3. 4. Hebr. II. 3. 4. Matth. XXI. 25. Materia, tum externa, videlicet elemento aquæ, Matth. III. 11. Joh. I. 33. tum interna, videlicet promissione gratiæ de remissione peccatorum, ac regeneratione Spiritus, Matth. III. 7. 8. Marc. I. 4. Luc. III. 3. Act. XIX. 5. Forma, puta testificatione & obsignatione promissionis per aquam & immersionis, vel ablutionis ritum, quam declarant partim phraseologia Scripturæ Marc. I. 4. Luc. III. 3. partim promissionis ipsius cum elemento hoc ejusque ritu copulatio, ibid & Luc. VII. 30. Denique fine, qui est confirmatio baptizatorum de Gratia Dei, eorum segregatio ab infidelibus & Pharisæis hypocritis, & in cœtum Ecclesiæ receptio, Act. II. 38. &c. Omnes istæ causæ etiam in Christi Baptismo reperiuntur.

Resp. Reding : Negamus, Baptismum Johannis æquè ac Baptismum Christi, gratiam per Christum dandam demonstrasse, & realiter effecisse. Ibid. pag. 84. 85. Resp. Nudam negationem contemnimus meritò. Etsi verò Johannis Baptismus Christum passum non demonstravit, sed passurum; demonstravit tamen Agnum Dei tollentem peccata mundi, adeóque virtutem & efficaciam passionis Christi, qua peccata remittuntur, æquè obsignavit. Gratiam verò ipsam æquè non effecit per inhærentem elementis virtutem, ac non Baptismus Christi.

ARG. III. Neque eædem tantùm causæ, sed etiam eadem utriusque effecta fuerunt, tum quia eosdem causæ diversos effectus producere non possunt: tum quia baptismo Johannis æquè ac Christi tribuitur resipiscentia, Marc. I. 4. & Actor. II. 38. remissio peccatorum, Luc. III. 3. & Actor. XXII. 16. fides in Christum, Act. XIX. 4. 5. & Marc. XVI. 15. 16. Spiritus S. quoad dona ordina- via, Act. XVIII. 24. & II. 38. 39. segregatio ab infidelibus & hypocritis. Matth. III. 6. 7. Luc. III. 7. & Act. II. 38. 39. &c.

RESP. REDING: 1. Textus à te citati hoc unum evincunt, quòd Baptismus Johannis habuerit vim moraliter excitativam ad fidem in Christum, & ad pœnitentiam ac remissionem peccatorum hac mediante, non verò ex Baptismo illo per se ac immediatè obtinendam. quo suscepto Christi Baptismus suscipiendus adhuc fuit, ut ex eo gratia salutis ac remissionis peccatorum obtineretur. 2. Hinc adeò, non obstantibus illis textibus, S. Patres differentiam illam inter Johannis & Christi Baptismum passim docent. Ib. pag. 85. 86. Resp. 1. Somniis tuis adaptas Scripturæ loca, sed meris verborum næniis, non demonstratione ulla. Neque enim Scripturæ loca illa vel vim moraliter ad fidem in Christum excitativam, & remissionis peccatorum collativam; vel immediatam & mediante Baptismo Christi operantem efficaciam distinguunt. Imò remissio peccatorum vel utriusque Baptismi, vel neutrius immediatus effectus fuit, eodem sensu. Si enim intelligas effectum immediatum, ut fiat etiam nulla posita pœnitentia in adultis, falsum est, sic remissionem peccatorum esse effectum immediatum Baptismi Christi. Nam utrinque similiter germana pœnitentia requiritur. Non tantùm enim Johannis Baptismus fuit pœnitentiæ, adeò ut qui accederent, confiterentur peccata sua; sed etiam Petrus Act. II. 38. accessuros ad Baptisma Christi jussit resipiscere; & Paulus similiter. Sin aliter, ut supposita pœnitentia remissio sit à gratia Baptismi, negamus hoc modo remissionem peccatorum non æquè immediatum esse effectum Baptismi Johannis. Nam in eo ipso peccatorum remissio & promittebatur & dabatur. Rursus igitur discrimen nullum, quia nec Baptismus Christi promittit remissionem peccatorum, nisi supposita pœnitentia: & Baptismus Johannis hac supposita remissionem peccatorum dedit. 2. Quoad doctrinam de hoc argumento Patrum, nihil nos movet, si aliter quidem docuerint. Non enim præcipui momenti quæstio est, sed talis, in qua non iniquam libertatem existimamus. Neque litem magnopere cuiquam nos intentaremus, nisi Tridentini superbissima tyrannide & anathematismis suis nos etiam patientissimos irritassent. Nunc verò sepositis personis, rationibus nobis adhærere integrum est. Quanquam nec omnes Patres vestrarum partium sunt. Nam Basilius Orat. Quomodo aliquis baptizetur baptismate, quod est in Evangelio Christi, sic scribit: Τὸ δὲ Ἰωάννου βάπτισμα πολυτιμότερον ἦν τοῦ νόμου. Οὐδεμίαν γὰρ ἐποίει τῶν ἁμαρτημάτων ἄφεσιν ἡ ἀμφιταμόντων. ἡ ἄφεσις ἐπεζήτει βαπτισμα. ἐπὶ ἀκεῖνος ἐπειδὴ ἀγνισμὸν, ἡ παραγγέλλει ἦν ἀμείνων ἢ ἀρῶν. καὶ καθ' ὑδὸν τὸν μελλὸν ἀναβολὴν ποιεῖσθαι ἐπὶ τῇ χάριτι τοῦ Θεοῦ καὶ τοῦ Χριστοῦ αὐτοῦ. Ἅμα τε σωθῆναι ἐξομολόγησιν ἐκ ἁμαρτίας, ἵνα δίκαιος ἦν. Καὶ βαπτίζεσθαι ἐν τῷ Ἰορδάνῃ ποταμῷ, καὶ ἄθρόον λάμβανον τὴν ἄφεσιν τῶν ἁμαρτημάτων. Johannis Baptisma multis modis excelluit (Mosis baptisma.) Nullam enim prorsus faciebat peccatorum differentiam. Nullum exigebat sacrificiorum discrimen. Purificationem studiosè non efflagitabat. Nec dierum aut horarum habebat observantiam. Nec ullam prorsus faciebat ad gratiam Dei & Christi ipsius perveniendi dilationem. Simul atque accesserat quis, & peccata sua, quantacunque & qualiacunque fuissent, confessus fuerat; in Jordanis flumine baptizabatur, & confestim peccatorum remissionem accipiebat. Quid pro sententia nostra dici efficaciùs poterat? Etiam Cornelius Jansenius in Concordia Evangelica cap. 13. fatetur, hanc fuisse sententiam Prudentii Cathemer. hymno 7. & Ambrosii de Spiritu S. lib. I. 3. Imò Augustinus, diversæ licet sententiæ favens, tamen cum diversum sentientibus pugnaciter se conten-contendere nolle,testatur, de Baptismo contra Donat. lib V. 10. ubi sic ille: Ne quisquam contendat,etiam in Baptismo Johannis dimissa esse peccata. Sed aliquam ampliorem sanctificationem eis, quos Paulus denuo jussit baptizari,per Baptismum Christi esse collatam, non ago pugnaciter. Possem consentientes alios,inprimis Cyrillum Hierosolymitanum Catech. 3. Eulogium Patriarcham Alexandrinum apud Photium Biblioth. cap 280. alios adducere. Et observatu haud indignum est, quòd iidem fere Patres,qui Baptismum Johannis non contulisse Spiritum S. & remissionem peccatorum docuerant, idem de Apostolorum ante resurrectionem baptismo pronuntiaverint. quod non absolutè, sed comparatè,non de substantia,sed de efficaciæ gradibus intelligendum; quomodo Johannis cap. VII. 39. dicitur: Nondum datus erat Spiritus S. quia Jesus nondum glorificatus erat.

ARG. IV. Sed & ipse Christus non alio baptismo,quàm Johannis baptizatus est,hoc videlicet fine,ut baptismum nostrum sanctificaret & purificaret, & baptismo ejus remissio peccatorum sanguine ipsius parta ecclesiæ, cujus vicem sustinebat,obsignaretur. Neque possunt baptismus, quo Christus caput nostrum baptizatus est,& is,quo nos membra ejus baptizamur, essentia tota differre, tum quia baptismus est symbolum veritatis fidelium in uno corpore mystico, non tantùm inter se, sed etiam cum Christo tanquam capite,Gal. III. 27. tum quia nec circumcisionis Christi & populi essentiale discrimen fuit.

Resp. Reding: 1. Baptismus Johannis per Baptismum Christi accepit virtutem sanctificandi,quatenus hic capit gerere vices sanguinis Christi,& in hujus virtute in se obsignatam peccatorum remissionem causaliter recepit. Tum ergo demum Baptismus ad esse signi Sacramentalis, in cujus virtute peccatorum remissio causaliter obsignaretur, elevatus est. Antehac igitur Baptismus Johannis sub virtute signi Sacramentalis, cum efficacia peccatorum remissionem obsignandi,non subsistit. 2. Atque sic Christus & fideles caput & membra, eodem Baptismo, sed à Christi contactu efficaciam suam sortiente, tincti sunt. Ib. pag. 86. Resp. 1 Christum baptismo suo baptismum nostrum sanctificasse, certum equidem est. Neque adeò malè Scholastici vestri, Alexander Alensis p. 3. q. 8. m. 4. Thomas Aquinas 3. q. 39. Cajetanus in Matth. III. ex Patribus repetunt, Baptismum vim & efficaciam suam habere à contactu carnis Christi. Sicut verò id de baptismo,post Christum baptizatum,ita non minùs certè de Baptismo Johannis,utpote quo ipse Christus baptizatus est, & quos is ante Christum baptizavit alios, valet. Nam tum demum,cùm Christus aquis à Johanne tinctus est,ejus Baptismum ad esse Signi Sacramentalis elevatum esse,propudiosum figmentum tuum est,nullo verbo,nulla antiquitate,ratione nulla suffultum. Quid enim baptismo Johannis etiam ante baptizatum Christum ad rationem veri Sacramenti defuit? 2. Cùm Christum caput & fideles membra eodem baptismo tinctos esse concedas, etiam fideles Christum professentes ante baptizatum Christum eodem,quo Christus tinctus est, baptismo baptizatos esse, consequitur.

ARG. V. Sed & Apostoli plerique non alio baptismo quàm Johannis baptizati videntur. Quòd si tantum inter utrumque discrimen fuit,nulla igitur Apoſtolos inter & à Chriſti diſcipulis baptizatos communio fuit,cùm baptiſmo in unum fœdus uniamur. Et de ſuo baptiſmo gloriatur Petrus 1.Pet.III.21. Baptiſmus nos ſalvat.

RESP. REDING : Unde probat, Apoſtolos non alio quàm Johannis Baptiſmo baptizatos eſſe. Ib.pag.86. Reſp. De pleriſque nemo niſi rerum ignarus dubitare poteſt. Nam baptizati utique plerique fuerunt ante reſurrectionem Chriſti. At baptiſmus Chriſti demum à reſurrectione ejuſdem ſua auſpicia habuit.

ARG. VI. Baptiſmus Evangelii ſeu N.Teſt.eſt unum baptiſma, Epheſ.V.5. At Johannis baptiſmus eſt baptiſmus Evangelii ſeu Nov.Teſt. tum quia principium Evangelii diſertè ponitur in miniſterio Johannis,Marc. I.1. tum quia baptiſmus Johannis teſtabatur de Chriſto jam exhibito Act.XIX.4.5.quod teſtimonium Novi Teſt. proprium eſt : tum quia omnes Prophetæ & lex prophetâſſe uſque ad Johannem dicuntur,Matth. XI.12. cui conſequens eſt,Vetus Teſt.in Johanne deſiiſſe.

RESP. REDING : 1. Johannis Baptiſma non fuit formaliter Novi Teſtamenti, ſed hujus duntaxat umbra & figura. Unde Chryſoſtomus homil.2.in Matth.monet,Chriſtum in eodem flumine conjunxiſſe umbram & veritatem,baptiſmum ſcilicet Johannis cum baptiſmo ſuo. 2. Prædicatio Johannis Baptiſtæ fecit Evangelio initium, præparando viam ante Chriſtum,& prædicando baptiſmum pœnitentiæ,aſſeverando,ſe baptizaſſe in aqua,ſed Chriſtum ſpiritu S.baptizaturum. 3. Actor. Non igitur ſub Johanne Vetus Teſtamentum expiravit. Ib.pag.86.87. Reſp. Elumbes nimiùm,nimiúmque elumbes reſponſiones tuæ ſunt. Nam 1. nil niſi quæſtionem petis,& Chryſoſtomum detorques. Is enim umbræ & veritatis nomine non Baptiſmum Johannis & Chriſti opponit,(tua hæc gloſſa eſt) ſed in eodem Johannis Baptiſmo,quo Chriſtus baptizatus eſt umbram,hoc eſt,aquam,elementum externum,& veritatem,ſeu rem elemento externo ſignificatam, hoc eſt, Chriſtum opponit. Quid hoc ad rem ? Nam etiam in Baptiſmo Chriſti oppoſitio hæc procul omni dubio locum habet. 2. Quod Evangelio initium fecit,illud ad Evangelium,non ad legem pertinuit. Teſtem omni exceptione majorem habemus Chriſtum Luc.XVI.16. Lex & Prophetæ usque ad Johannem. Ἀπὸ τότε ἡ βασιλεία τοῦ Θεοῦ εὐαγγελίζεται. Ab eo tempore Regnum Dei evangelizatur. Ergo Johannes evangelizavit. Quomodo igitur baptiſmus ejus, doctrinæ ejuſdem ſigillum, evangelicus non fuit ? Neque in Johannis duntaxat,ſed Chriſti etiam baptiſmo Miniſter aqua,Chriſtus verò ipſe Spiritu baptizat. 3. De loco Act. XIX. 4.5. infra. Hoc ſaltem ex eo liquet, quòd Johannes baptizaverit in Chriſtum jam revelatum, licet per paſſiones nondum conſummatum, adeóque eatenus venturum,(venturus verò & qui venit,non ſunt eſſentiales differentiæ,ſed tantùm modales) imò ſimpliciter εἰς τὸ ὄνομα τοῦ Κυρίου Ἰησοῦ in nomine Domini Jeſu. 4. Nec Johannes, nec Chriſtus novas ceremonias legales inſtituit. tametſi ceremoniis ſub lege inſtitutis ſimul uti Chriſtus, ut juſtitiam omnem impleret,ſimul,ceu corpus umbris, finem imponere debuit. Neque de usu cerimoniarum, sed de institutione novæ cerimoniæ Evangelicæ, non legalis per Johannem argumentum loquitur.

ARG. VII. Denique ipsa circa hanc differentiam varietas Scholasticorum dogma hoc suspectum reddit. Lombardus baptismum Johannis refert ad Sacramenta V. Test. Bellarminus eam sententiam vocat erroneam. Idem Lombardus, Alexander Alensis, Petrus de Palude, Thomas, alii statuunt, baptismum Johannis fuisse administratum cum certa forma. Id negat Durandus. Utrumque probabile esse Scotus & Biel statuunt. In causis etiam baptismi Johannis assignandis multùm differunt. Denique à Deo fuisse baptismum Johannis asserit Lombardus, Bellarminus negat.

Resp. Reding: Disputatio est de accidentariis duntaxat circa Johannis baptisma differentiis, non de essentia. Ib. pag. 87. Resp. Imò disputatio est & de institutione, & de forma Baptismi Johannis, quæ utraque ad essentiam Baptismi Johannis pertinet.

Objectiones Tridentinorum.

OBIECT. I. Baptismus Johannis non à Christo, sed à Johanne institutus erat. Unde baptismus Johannis passim vocatur & divinæ institutionis formulâ caret. Non igitur eandem vim habuit cum baptismo Christi. Resp. 1. A Deo institutum esse supra probavimus. 2. Appellatur equidem baptismus Johannis, tum absolutè, quatenus is fuit primus ejus in N.T. administer, Joh. I. 33. tum relatè ad baptismum Christi per Apostolos administratum, quatenus non iisdem, quibus hic, visilibus Spiritus S. donis abundavit. Hoc non prohibet, quò minùs a Deo immediatè institutus sit. Unde Alexander Alens. p. 4. q. 6. n. 8. ait, à Johanne quidem ministeriò, sed à Deo authoritate & præcepto institutum esse. Et Bellarminus scribit, vocari baptismum Johannis, sicut lex Israëlitis lata Mosis. 3. Institutio baptismi Johannis eadem fuit quæ ministerii ejus: sub qua formula institutionis implicitè continetur, postea repetitione declarata à Christo, & expressius tradita Matth. XXVIII. 19. Marc. XVI. 16.

Excip. Reding: Ritus quidem baptizandi à Johanne usurpatus authorem Deum habuit. Sed efficacia, seu formalis ejus quidditas non eadem Divinitus ei concessa est, quæ baptismo Christi. Ib. 87. Resp. Extra chorum saltas. Argumentum vestrum cui aptata responsio mea est, de institutione Divina Baptismi Johannis, non de ejus efficacia loquitur. A Deo fuisse, negabat Bellarminus. Tu, Bellarmino discors, à Deo autore esse, largiris. Nulla igitur hic tecum mihi lis est. Causam enim deseris vestram.

OBIECT. II. Baptismus Johannis non administratus est invocatione SS. Trinitatis, sed ad summum in nomine Christi venturi, Act. XIX. 4. Non igitur eandem vim, habuit habuit cum baptiſmo Chriſti. Adminiſtratus eſt invocatione SS.Trinitatis ſaltem implicitè. Paret enim ex baptiſmo Chriſti, Johannem prædicaſſe doctrinam de tribus perſonis Divinis. Atqui ſuam is doctrinam baptiſmo confirmavit.

RESP. REDINO : An ergo Chriſti Baptiſmus ſub implicita Trinitatis invocatione collatus ſufficeret? Ita perfidè Calvinus Inſtit. lib.IV.15:6. affirmat, ſcribens, fieri non poſſe, quin Patris ſimul & Spiritus S. nomen invoces, qui in Chriſto baptizat. Atqui Chriſtus expreſſè explicitam Trinitatis invocationem præcepit. lb. pag. 88. Reſp. Sicut Johannes Trinitatem prædicavit, ita in ejuſdem nomine haud dubiè quoque baptizavit. Explicitè verò an implicitè id fecerit, non conſtat. Neque tu implicitè id feciſſe eum, probare potes; nec ego, explicitè feciſſe. Aſt, inquam, nihil refert. Sufficit, baptizaſſe eum in nomine veri Dei, qui eſſentia unus, perſonis trinus eſt. Si perfidus fuit Calvinus, ita aſſerens, an etiam perfidi fuerunt Apoſtoli, baptizantes ἐπὶ τῷ ὀνόματι Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ in nomine Jeſu Chriſti, Act.II.38. & S Paulus Act.X.48. jubens baptizare ἐν ὀνόματι τοῦ κυρίου in nomine Domini. Quæ tua effrons impudentia, & ſupina ignorantia eſt? Baptizarunt tamen ſicut Apoſtoli, ita etiam Johannes in nomine Chriſti immergentes, etiam in Trinitatis nomine, quia, uti ſcitè Ambroſius, Chriſti nomen complectitur tum Patrem, qui unxit Filium oleo lætitiæ præ conſortibus ſuis, Pſal.XLV.8. tum Filium, cui Pater dedit Spiritum non ad menſuram, Joh.III.34. tum Spiritum S. qui eſt ipſa unctio, 1.Joh.II.27. Quem ſecutus Nicolaus I. (cui eo nomine, ſi vis, perfidiæ labem aſperge) pronuntiat, legitimum fore Baptiſmum, etſi in formula ſolius Jeſu mentio fieret, quia videlicet inſtitutio Chriſti non de vocibus, ſed de rebus ſit intelligenda. Qua de re etiam vide Cajetanum in Thomam p.3.q.66. art.6.

ravit. Sed id non de toto Johannis ministerio, sed ejus duntaxat parte, videlicet prædicatione pœnitentiæ accipiendum. Præterea etiam fidem in Christum & peccatorum remissionem docuit, Act. XIX. 4.

Resp. Reding : 1. Cùm obsignatio gratiæ non fiat nisi per Spiritum S. & Johannis Baptismus Spiritum S. non contulerit, quomodo igitur gratiam remissionis Baptismus ille obsignare potuit? 2. Imò Johannes Baptismum, quo Spiritus confertur, prædicavit ut futurum. Quomodo igitur in ejus quoque Baptismo Christus, ceu causa principalis, Spiritum S. conferre potuit? 3. Baptismatis saltem ministerium in Johanne fuit ad parandam Christo viam, sed virtutem Baptismo Christi propriam non attigit. Ib. pag. 88-89. Resp. Paucis te expediam, Prima & secunda exceptio, quæ eodem redit, confundit Spiritum S. cum ejusdem operationibus ; & operationes ejus communes fidelibus omnibus cum extraordinariis & singularibus quibusdam ejusdem. Promisit igitur Baptista Matth. III 11. Spiritum S. in futurum demum, non vel ratione ὑπάρξεως existentiæ ejus, quomodo nunquam non fuit ; vel operationum communium, quomodo nunquam non, adeóque etiam in Johannis Baptismo fidem, pœnitentiam, remissionem peccatorum operatus est ; sed operationum singularium & extraordinariarum, quomodo visibili modo, in Pentecostes festo Spiritus S. datus & effusus in Apostolis linguarum & eloquii servidissimi donum operatus est, Actor. II. 3. Hujus interpretationis quem certiorem laudare testem possumus, quàm Salvatorem & Apostolum Petrum? Christus ipse enim Actor. I. 5. post resurrectionem dixit Apostolis : Johannes quidem baptizavit aqua. Vos autem baptizabimini Spiritu S. non post multos dies. Petrus verò Actor. II. 16. Recordatus autem sum, inquit, verborum Domini, sicut dixit, Johannes quidem baptizavit aqua ; vos autem baptizabimini Spiritu S. Baptismatis verò ministerium obiisse Johannem ad parandam duntaxat Christo viam, & non ad remissionem peccatorum obsignandam, nimis profectò dilutum est. Quasi non ipsa etiam V. Test. Sacramenta remissionem peccatorum obsignaverint, vel Johannes ita fuerit præcursor Christi, ut non doceret totam salutis rationem, & pœnitentiam, inquam, Matth. III. 2. & fidem in Christum, Joh. I. 29. & studium bonorum operum, Luc. III. 8.

OBIECT. IV. Post Johannis baptismum necessariò suscipiendus fuit Christi baptismus, Act. XIX. 4. 5. Ergo non eadem utriusque vis fuit. Resp. 1. Si maximè Ephesii discipuli denuo fuissent baptizati, non sequeretur inde differentia baptismi utriusque quoad speciem, sed tantùm quoad gradum. Etiam Lombardus & Alensis docent, rebaptizatos esse, nempe quia spem in illo baptismo posuerint, & fidem SS. Trinitatis non habuerint, non quòd utriusque bapismi dispar quoad essentiam vis fuerit. 2. Unde verò rebaptizatos esse fidem facient? Nam particulæ illæ μὲν & δὲ in sermone Pauli v. 4. & 5. non divelli, sed inter se connecti, ac sibi mutuò respondere debent, ut sensus sit, eos, qui audito Johanne acceperant baptismum, fuisse baptizatos in nomine Christi. Quo igitur vero Baptiſmi Sacramento reliqui hi gaviſi ſunt, ſi eſſentiale, juxta eoſdem, inter Baptiſmum utrumque diſcrimen interceſſit? Addo ego, rebaptizari potuiſſe non ob eſſentialem differentiam, ſed ob diverſitatem nonnullam accidentalem, quoad obſignationem donorum Spiritus S. quæ copioſiora Baptiſmum Chriſti, quàm Johannis, obſignaſſe, ultro largimur. 2. Quis verò ſtupendam & craſſam inſcitiam vel oſcitantiam tuam ſatis demiretur, qui ad conſenſum editionum loci Actor. XIX. 1. &c. Græcæ, Hebraicæ & Septuaginta provocare non dubitaveris? Quæ enim Septuaginta Interpretum editio Actuum Apoſtolicorum proſtat? An Septuaginta Interpretes Actus à Luca ſcriptos poſt non unius Seculi intervallum videre, & cum Græci etiam iidem fuerint, interpretari potuerunt? Hic, ſi ſupiam plus quàm Monachalem inſcitiam tuam prodis. Quomodo verò verba illa, Audientes baptizati ſunt in nomine Jeſu; Lucæ eſſe, non Pauli, clarè conſtat? Imò contrarium clariſſimè conſtat ex relatione particularum μὲν & δὲ, quam à me obſervatam tu ne attingere quidem auſus es. Quæ particularum relatio à Latino Interprete (tu verò ad Græcam editionem provocare non dubitaſti) neglecta, orationem ambiguam reddidit, multóque in errorem abripuit. Græca enim ſic v. 4. 5. ſonant: Εἶπε δὲ Παῦλος· Ἰωάννης μὲν ἐβάπτισεν βάπτισμα μετανοίας, τῷ λαῷ λέγων, εἰς τὸν ἐρχόμενον μετ' αὐτὸν ἵνα πιστεύσωσι, τοῦτ' ἔστιν, εἰς τὸν Χριστὸν Ἰησοῦν. Ἀκούσαντες δὲ ἐβαπτίσθησαν εἰς τὸ ὄνομα τοῦ Κυρίου Ἰησοῦ. Quæ ad verbum ſic ſonant: Dixit autem Paulus: Johannes quidem baptizavit baptiſmum pœnitentiæ, dicens populo, ut in eum, qui veniebat poſt ipſum, crederent, hoc eſt, in Chriſtum Jeſum. Audientes verò baptizati ſunt in nomen Domini Jeſu. Quis exactè perpendens relationem tum particularum μὲν & δὲ quidem & verò; tum verborum λέγων τῷ λαῷ, dicens (Johannes) populo; & ἀκούσαντες audientes (idem ſcilicet populus, cui Johannes dixit, ut in Chriſtum credat) vel tantillum dubitaverit, annon ejuſdem Pauli verba hæc verſus quarti & quinti omnia ſint? Et, annon hoc ſibi S. Paulus clariſſimè voluerit, eos, qui baptiſmum Johannis accepiſſent, ritè fuiſſe baptizatos in Chriſtum, atque novo baptiſmo neutiquam indigere?

QUÆSTIO II.

An in ecclesia Pontificia obtineat vera de Baptismi Sacramento doctrina?

AFfirmat sub anathemate Canon V. Veritas doctrinæ de baptismo spectatur vel quoad essentiam baptismi, vel quoad ejus accidentia, puta ritus & variantes de baptismi administratione, ritibus, effectu, fine opiniones. Priori sensu concedimus, in ecclesia Pontificia singulari Dei providentia remanere veram de Sacramento Baptismi doctrinam. Retinet enim ecclesia Pontificia materiam veri baptismi, aquam: nec non institutionis verba, quia baptizat in nomine SS. Trinitatis. Sed posteriori sensu negamus, tribus potissimùm argumentis. Etenim

ARG. I. In vera & pura de baptismi Sacramento doctrina necessaria est informatio de recto usu baptismi. quò facit tum promissio salutis, tum fides, quæ promissionem apprehendit. Utrumque sincerum videlicet & incorruptum deest baptismo Pontificio, & in ejus locum inducta est opinio operis operati & physicæ efficientiæ.

Resp. Redino: Nec opus operatum pugnat cum promissione, & fide ac spe eandem apprehendente: nec nos in promissione ac fide illa instruenda ullatenus deficimus. ut ex decretis Synodi Tridentinæ Sess. VI. cap. 6. & XIV. cap. 4. liquet. Tomo II. Tract. V. §s. 3. pag. 90. Resp. De opere operato & physica efficientia Sacramentorum omnium supra satis. Doctrinam porro de usu & virtute vera Baptismi, pertinente ad totam hominis Christiani vitam, in Regno Pontificio partim silentio sepultam, partim depravatam esse, res ipsa loquitur. Cùm enim Scriptura in doctrina de salutari usu Baptismi præcipuè hæc duo urgeat & inculcet, promissionem scilicet salutis, quæ ceremoniæ Baptismi Divina voce annexa est; & fidem, quæ promissionem illam apprehendit, amplectitur, retinet & conservat, in tot immensis librorum quæstionum, & summarum plaustris de Baptismo, promission's Divinæ & fidei salutaris vix alicubi mentio fit; & eorum loco operis operati opinio utramque paginam facit. Frustra tu Tridentinos Canones in subsidium advocas. In neutro enim fides justificans promissionem Evangelicam in verbo oblatam & in Baptismo obsignatam amplectens tangitur, nedum ex Dei verbo explicatur, vel explicanda injungitur. Prolixè quidem Tridentina Congregatio promiserat, se coitisse ad eliminandos errores, & extirpandas hæreses, quæ circa Sacramenta pullularunt. Sed postquam ad rem ventum est, & omnium animi expectatione restituendæ sanioris etiam de Baptismo doctrinæ suspensi tenebantur, ipsi præteritis vivis fontibus partim recentes fodiunt cisternas, partim exoletas monstrant lacunas, ut scilicet.ſepoſita norma & regula Scriptura,ea ſola & ſimpliciter cenſeatur eſſe vera de Baptiſmo doctrina,quam Romana,hoc eſt.Pontificia Eccleſia,Eccleſiarum ſcilicet omnium mater & magiſtra,(hoc Gorgonis caput,quo ſe illa tuetur,) tenet. Et gladio Spiritus, ſeu verbi Divini teſtimoniis, anathematum ſuorum umbones obvertere ſatis habet, definiens ſcilicet, anathema eſſe, quiſquis in Eccleſia Romana non eſſe veram de Baptiſmo doctrinam,dixerit. Plaudite nunc omnes! Sic veritas docetur.

ARG. II. Errant perniciosè circa virtutem baptiſmi,quam reſtringunt ad peccata antebaptiſmalia, cùm tamen fœdus baptiſmo obſignatum ſit perpetuum.

RESP. REDING: Annon ſaltem infidelitas poſt baptiſmum contracta fœdus in Baptiſmo pactum rumpit? Atque ſic pro peccatis poſt-baptiſmalibus aliud medium requiritur? ib. pag. 60. Reſp. Cùm fœdus in Baptiſmo obſignatum æternum & immutabile ſit, utpote Divina fidelitate nixum,vel planè in Baptiſmo illud non obſignatur,iis ſcilicet, qui in eo nec inpræſentiarum, nec in futurum quicquam præter externum elementum accipiunt, vel ſemel obſignatum infidelitatem tollit, adeóque per eam abrumpi nequit. In fœdere enim Dei diſerta promiſſio extat, quòd Deus legem ſuam, quæ fidei eſt, cordibus inſcribere fœderatorum velit, Jerem. XXXI. 31. &c.

ARG. III. Aſſuerunt etiam ritus, quos faciunt partem Sacramenti, & quibus myſterium affingunt,eósque partim ſuperſtitioſos, partim ſordidos & impios,partim mimicos,partim non neceſſarios,quibus ipſi eſſentiales ritus baptiſmi obſcurantur, & primæva ſimplicitas, & ἀλληλονία inſtitutionis Chriſti & praxeos Apoſtolorum faſtidiosè rejicitur. Bellarminus plures ceremonias narrat tum antecedentes, tum comitantes, tum ſequentes baptiſmum, quos inter maximè improbamus toties iteratam ſignaturam crucis oleo vel chriſmate factam, quâ vim dæmonum retundi putant:ſcenicum illum apparatum,quem ſacrificio præſcribit Rituale Romanum: ſcrutinium,ſeu examen competentium: abrenuntiationem,fidei profeſſionem,qui ritus olim in baptiſmo adultiorum rectiſſimè adhibiti, ridiculè retinentur in baptiſmo infantum rationis exortium & fœderatorum: ſordidas illas actiones,veluti cùm ad pellendum dæmonium ſacrificus ter exſufflat in faciem infantis, & accipiens de ſaliva oris ſui tangit ejus nares & aures, quam ceremoniam à Meſſalianis ſeu Euchetis mutuati ſunt; perinde ac ſi Diaboli ſint ſcorpiones ſalivâ extinguendi: cereos ſplendente ſole accenſos, conſecrationem fontis bis in anno, ut de pluribus aliis,quæ Sacramentalium nomine inſigniunt, taceam. consilio, inter alia Reformationis capita petiit, ut in baptismo exorcismi & certæ precum formulæ, quæ extra ejus institutionem sunt, omittantur, ac sufficiat, ut aqua & verbum tantùm juxta Dei præscriptum adhibeantur; sputi in infantuli os injectionem non solùm necessariam non videri, sed etiam periculo non carere. Quam Catharinæ Epistolam ex Thuano deleri Hispani Bibliomastiges jusserunt.

Resp. Reding: 1. Ceremonias ejusmodi nos non ut partem Sacramenti, sed ut mysteriosum ejusdem ornatum, & quidem convenienter orthodoxæ antiquitati, uti supra Sect. 2. q. 6. cap. 1. n. 6. & c. demonstratum est, retinemus. Inprimis Tertullianus lib. de corona Militis, ritus baptismales nostros ex traditione ecclesiastica arcessit. 2. Quale verò argumentum est à fœminea Reginæ Franciæ, Hugonotici spiritus sibilo nonnihil commotæ, infirmitate petitum? lb. pag. 91. Resp. 1. Cùm mysterium omne nonnisi à Divina revelatione originem habeat, ritus mystici Divinitus revelati & mandati sint oportet. Qui porro ejusmodi sunt, Sacramenti partem necessariò constituunt. Nam Sacramenti pars est, quicquid in Sacramento faciendum Deus revelavit & mandavit. Vel igitur ritus vestri, de quibus nobiscum contenditis, mystici non sunt, vel pars Sacramenti sunt. Quòd verò ad antiquitatem orthodoxam sic præceps deflectis, satis te verbo Dei parùm confidere, prodis. Sed age, etiam hic tecum experiamur. Ut igitur tela tua ex antiquitate petita obtundam, satis erit paucis demonstrare, partim ritus in Veteri Ecclesia receptos plures vos liberè sustulisse, (unde prono alveo fluet, non tantùm Tridentinos Veteris Ecclesiæ praxi suam non conformare, sed etiam nobis æquè integrum fuisse, quosdam antiquitus receptos in Baptismo ritus humanos inducere) partim de ritibus quibusdam veterum testimonia à vobis allata neutiquam ad rhombum facere; partim denique maximè controversos ritus primæ saltem antiquitatis testimonio destitui. Quoad primum, negari nequit, antiquissimam de solennibus Baptismi temporibus fuisse legem, ut non aliis toto anno diebus, (si nulla necessitas urgeret) quàm Paschæ & Pentecostes vigiliis baptizarent. Hanc quintam Baptismi Veterum ceremoniam fuisse, Bellarminus fatetur. Siricius Papa Epist. 2. non parùm indignatur, quosdam aliis quàm his diebus solennem baptismum celebrare. Leo Papa commotior etiam Epist. 4. cap. 1. adversus Siculos, Epiphaniæ insuper diem Baptismo consecrantes, propterea eos ab Apostolicæ institutionis consuetudine discrepasse, queritur. Apostolicam authoritatem ubique ille prætendit; minatus etiam Siculis iisdem cap. 6. inultum esse non posse, si quisquam Apostolicas regulas in hac negligendas suaverit. Legem tamen hanc Siricii & Leonis circa Seculi decimi tertii initia abrogatam & sepultam esse, nemo ignorat. Sed & lactis & mellis post tinctionem & unctionem usitata delibatio, lavacri abstinentia octo diebus à Baptismo, interdictum tangendi terram nudis pedibus totidem diebus, ritus sistendi se ante sanctuarium, lotio pedum, trina infantum immersio; ritus antiquissimi, pridem in Romana Ecclesia expirarunt. Falsa igitur vestra de reverentia in antiquitatem, & consensu cum eadem rituum vestrorum gloriatio est. Quoad secundum, constat ex Bellarmini recensione, viginti duos ritus in Baptismo Pontificio plerosque quidem usitatos, quosdam etiam obsoletos numerari. Ex his duodecim excludi possunt, quorum alii Scriptura nituntur; alii non sunt veri Baptismi ritus, sed ei aliis de causis accidunt; alii denique apud veteres nunquam in usu fuerunt. Sunt autem ceremoniæ hæ ſequentes, puta Nominis competentium indicatio; Scrutinium, quo catechumenorum fides ac vita explorabatur & probabatur; Abrenuntiatio Sathanæ & operum ejus; Symboli recitatio; Suſceptorum ſive Patrinorum officium; Manus impoſitio, ſeu oratio ſuper baptizatum; Abſtinentia vini, carnium & rei uxoriæ; Impoſitio nominis; Oſculum; Tempus adminiſtrationis; Veſtis candida, & lactis ac mellis delibatio. Aſſero autem, veterum de his ceremoniis (excepto oſculo, quod nec apud veteres in uſu fuit, nec hodiéque in Eccleſia Romana retinetur) teſtimonia planè eſſe ἀναντιῤῥήτους, quia de iis nulla contentio eſt. Quædam enim ut convenientes in quovis Baptiſmo retineri poſſunt: quædam olim in adultorum duntaxat Baptiſmo retenti ſunt, neque niſi ineptè ad Baptiſmum infantum trahi poſſunt: quædam denique in Papatu ipſo obſoleverunt. Omitti igitur jam ſecurè de his duodecim veterum teſtimonia poſſunt. Quoad tertium, reſtant decem ceremoniæ Baptiſmales controverſæ; puta Signum crucis in fronte & pectore; Exorciſmus; Exſufflatio; Narium & aurium ex ſaliva contactus, cum Ephata; Salis guſtatio; Unctio ex oleo in pectore & ſcapulis; Conſecratio aquæ baptiſmalis; Unctio Chriſmatis in vertice; Cereus accenſus à Neophyto geſtandus; & Veſtis candidæ indumentum. De his ceremoniis nonnihil dicere juvabit cùm univerſis, tum ſingulis. In univerſum eas non eſſe Apoſtolicæ originis, tum ex Chriſtianiſmi primitivi ſimplicitate, Moſaicorum rituum multiplicitati oppoſita: tum quia vel ob materiæ raritatem ac pretium, vel ob indecorum à Chriſtianiſmi genio alienæ ſunt: tum quia fruſtra Divinæ, adeóque abſolutiſſimæ inſtitutioni adjectæ reperiuntur: tum quia nullos rituum horum vel in Johannis, vel in Apoſtolorum Baptiſmo receptos fuiſſe conſtat: tum quia Chriſtus credentes ſimpliciter baptizare, non ungere, ſputo fœdare, exſufflare, crucis ſigno notare, &c. juſſit: tum quia de ritibus hiſce in actibus Lucæ, & cæterorum Novi Teſtamenti ſcriptorum Libris: nec non apud ſcriptores antiquiſſimos, Juſtinum Martyrem cumprimis Apol. 2. ubi Chriſtianorum Baptiſmum accuratè deſcribit, altiſſimum ſilentium eſt: tum denique quia ipſa traditionis rituum horum ratio id ipſum demonſtrat. Quæ enim certò & indubitatè à Chriſto & Apoſtolis tradita ſunt, ea ſtatim apud omnes extant, & quidem ubique eadem; ut aqua in Baptiſmo, panis & vinum in Euchariſtia, quæ apud omnes Chriſtianos in Sacramentorum horum adminiſtratione ab ipſis rei Chriſtianæ initiis inveniuntur, & deinceps apud poſteros ad noſtra uſque tempora manſerunt. Quæ verò poſt Apoſtolos à Viris Eccleſiaſticis reperta ſunt, eorum diſpar ratio fuit. Hæc enim neque ab ipſis ſuis initiis pariter apud omnes extant, neque ubique, neque ſemper eadem, ſed nonnihil ferè diverſa ſunt, ut locorum, vel temporum, in quæ incidunt, ingenium, ſtatus atque conditio fuit. Atque hæc controverſis hiſce Rogationibus accidiſſe, ſatis conſtat. Lubet audire vel unum Valafridum Strabonem, ſic de Reb. Eccleſ. cap. 26. hoc diſſerentem: Sciendum autem, primò ſimpliciter in fluviis vel fontibus baptizatos credentes. Et ſicut cæterarum inſtitutionum eccleſiaſticarum decus; ita & hujus myſtici lavacri gradatim per temporum augmenta celebrationem in majus creviſſe. Addiderunt alii chriſmatis unctionem, quam ex veteri (Moſaica) ſumptam conſuetudine nemo eſt qui dubitet; cùm primis temporibus impoſitione manuum Baptiſmus confirmari ſoleret, quod in Samaria Petrum feciſſe & Johannem legitur. Alii addiderunt in Baptiſmatis Sacramento Exorciſmos; alii conſecrationem frontis; alii ſalis, alii ſalivæ infuſionem; alii catechumenorum ordinabilem inſtructionem; alii ſcrutinia diligentiſſima ad tantum myſterium præparationis ſtatuerunt. Sed & multa alia, quæ & exemplis Divinorum rorum actuum vel dictorum inventa, & congruentissimis spiritualium prefectuum signa nosceuntur. Liquet igitur abundè, quæcunque sit retuum horum origo, Divinam & Apostolicam neutiquam esse, sed merè humanam. Constantérque profitemur, nec ritè & prudenter primò fuisse inductos cumulatóve; & deinceps meritò à piis rejectos & abrogatos. Quo enim prætextu Pontificii abrogarunt tempora stata Baptismi, lactis, mellis degustationem, pedum lotionem, vestem candidam; osculum pacis, abstinentiam carnium & vini; eodem nos reliquos, quibus non minus, si non plus indecori inest, abrogavimus. Neque enim tam tyrannice orbi Christiano Sophistæ hi imperitare debent, ut nisi se solos, neminem liberum, vel non talpa cœriorem esse, patiantur. Inprimis cùm in confesso esse debeat, Sacramenta nihil esse nisi ab institutione & quidem Divina; ac proin ad Sacramentum necessariò non pertinere, quæ humanitus inventa sunt. De singulis ritibus maximè controversis dici multa possent. Pro iis ex Bellarmino multa veterum testimonia Redingius pag. 75. 76. corrasit, quæ sigillatim discutere, otiosum & inutile foret; cùm ab hominibus inventos esse singulos, jam constet. & probari insuper nequeat, veteribus eam fidisse sententiam, quòd vel singuli ii necessarii sint, vel effectus ejusmodi, quales hodie iis asseruntur, habeant. Benedictionem aquæ, ante ipsam Sacramenti præsentemque celebrationem nemo prorsus veterum vel nominavit vel indicavit. Dionysius Areopagita à te citatus Hier. Eccl. cap. 2. aquæ sanctificationem nullam describit, nisi in procinctu, & cùm datum est nomen, imò & ipse catechumenus signatus, idque mysticus. Sic reliqui. Quid hoc ad benedictionem aquæ extra Baptismi celebrationem? Exorcismorum nulla planè apud Justinum & Tertullianum, ubi ex professo veterum baptismum describunt, mentio est. Neque ullus eorum, quos tu ex Bellarmino citas, scribit, Exorcismos vestris similes in Baptismo super Catechumenis à presbyteris quibuslibet, etiam nullo dono præditis, jam tum factos esse. Hoc ex testimoniis veterum probandum fuerat. Signi crucis plurima apud veteres mentio est. Sed vel oleo, vel chrismate factum illud esse, nemo eorum, quos tu citas, dixit, dixit; excepto fortè Areopagita supposititio, qui notavit, Pontificem inchoare unctionem Λέγε δὲ σφραγίσαι τρὶς, ter repetito signaculo, quod tamen aliò Vasquez refert. Tertullianus certè de Cor. cap. 3. Christianos frontem crucis signaculo terere dixit ad omnem progressum atque promotum; ad omnem aditum & exitum, ad vestitum, ad calceatum, ad lavacra, ad mensas, ad lumina, ad cubilia, ad sedilia, quæcunque eos conversatio exerceret. At inter hæc sacros Evangelici ministerii actus nullos numerat; in Baptismo, Eucharistia, prædicatione signum hoc frequentari, nullo apice memorat. Neque enim veteres signo crucis, ut operativo ex opere operato, (uti Bellarminus de imag. cap. ult. existimat) sed ut externa professionis tessera, commixti infidelibus, usi sunt. Salis & salivæ tantundem apud veteres, quantum in ovo pilorum est. Originem & Augustinum pro iis falsò allegari, ipse Vasquez non dissimulat. De saliva, & ceremonia tangendi per eam nares & aures, unum Ambrosium Bellarminus, & ex eo Redingius nominat. Sed ingenuè idem Vasquez fatetur, nihil de saliva Ambrosium dixisse. De unctione sic Tertullianus de Bapt. cap. 7. scribit: Exinde egressi de lavacro perungimur benedicta unctione de pristina disciplina, qua ungi oleo de cornu in Sacerdotium solebant, ex quo Aaron à Mose unctus est. Unde Christus dictus à chrismate, quod est unctio, quæ Domino nomen accommodavit, facta spiritualis; quia spiritus unctus est à Deo Patre. A pristina disciplina, Mosaica, unctionem hancce derivat, atque eo ipso à Christo, vel ejus Apostolis institutum negat. Et ante Tertulliani ævum unctionem ejusmodi in Baptismo receptam non non fuiſſe,ſatis inde liquet quòd nec Juſtinus,nec anteriorum temporum ſcriptores,baptiſmi ritus ediſſerentes,ejus nulli meminerunt. Quid quòd Latini plerique Tertulliani locum illum non de baptiſmate,ſed de confirmativa unctione acceperunt: quódque unctio illa Tertullianea non ex chriſmate, ſed ex ſimplici oleo, neque in vertice, ſed in fronte facta eſt? Quod à moderna praxi abludit. Mitto reliquas ceremonias ſingulas; hoc unum addens, teſtimonia antiquitatis pro ceremoniis non Divinis, ſed humanis, nihil aliud quàm antiquitatem erroris & præſumptionis humanæ arguere. 2. Non igitur à fœminea Reginæ Franciæ,Catharinæ Mediceæ, infirmitate, ſed à plus quàm virili ejuſdem prudentia & magnanimitate profecta ſunt ſeria illa poſtulata,quibus à Patribus Tridentinis contendit inter alia, ut jugo illo ceremoniarum Baptiſmi Sacramentum liberarent. Atque utinam zelum ſuum à Sophiſtis eam obſidentibus & ſerpentino ſibilo afflantibus ſufflaminari paſſa non eſſet! Meliùs deinceps in Francia Chriſtianæ religionis res ſeſe habuiſſent.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Vel vera eſt Pontificia de baptiſmo doctrina,vel falſa. Si vera,etiam Papatus doctrina vera eſt,quia Sacramenti veritas pendet à veritate doctrinæ. Si falſa, Reformatores & reformati in papatu baptizati rebaptizari debuerunt. Reſp. 1. Et vera & falſa eſt,diverſo reſpectu,Pontificia de baptiſmo doctrina. Vera eſt, quoad eſſentiam inſtitutionis, elementum viſibile, & inſtitutionis verbum. Falſa eſt quoad accidentarias opiniones & ritus. 2. Neque iccirco inde veritas doctrinæ Pontificiæ rectè evincitur, æquè ac Phariſæorum, Sadducæorum doctrina non ideo vera fuit,quia externum circumciſionis ritum legitimè adminiſtrârunt. Nempe dogmata fidei non ſemper reſpondent rectitudini externæ adminiſtrationis.Fieri enim per accidens, vitio nimirum adminiſtrantium,poteſt, ut qui legitimè Sacramentum externum adminiſtrat,ipſum Sacramentum perverſis opinionibus,& fidem erroribus in fundamentum arietantibus pervertat,& concutiat.

EXCIP. REDING: Argumentum hoc pro noſtro non agnoſcimus; gnari, Sacramenti veritatem à veritate doctrinæ non pendere. Etiam Arianorum baptiſmus formulam à Chriſto præſcriptam ſervans validus foret.Unde veſtrum quoque baptiſmum non rejicimus,licet perniciosiſſimas de Baptiſmi eſſentia hæreſes foveatis. lb. p.91.92. Reſp. Solent tamen veſtri argumento iſthoc Baptiſmi ſui veritatem tueri. Cujus infirmitatem bene eſt quòd mecum agnoſcis. De Arianorum baptiſmo nimis molliter ſentis. Baptizarunt illi in nomine Filii & Spiritus S. illius ut hominis nudi, hujus ut virtutis Dei,non perſonæ. Unde tu ipſe ſupra Quæſt.3. ad Bullam Indict. Reſp. ad arg.5. contenderas, Concilium Nicenum Can.19. juſſiſſe ἀναβαπτίζειν rebaptizari Paulianiſtas,ob Divinitatem Chriſti abnegatam. Quomodo ergo tibi conſtas? Etiam Athanaſius Orat.3. contra Arian. baptiſmum eorum irritum declarat,cò quòd,baptizantes licèt in nomine Patris,Filii & Spiritus S. baptizant tamen juxta tenorem doctrinæ ſuæ εἰς κτίσμα καὶ κτίσιν, καὶ εἰς ποίημα καὶ ποιητὴν, in Creaturem & Creaturam, facturam & factorem. Si porrò pernicioſas de eſſentia,hoc eſt,materia & forma Baptiſmi hæreſes nos fovemus, peſſimi eſtis omnium, qui noſtros in caſtra ſtra veſtra profugos non iterum baptizatis. Nam baptiſmi eſſentia hæreſi infecta baptiſmi inſtitutionem neutiquam ſervat, adeóque baptiſmum irritum reddit.

OBIECT. II. Eccleſia primitiva ritibus baptiſmalibus Divinitus inſtitutis adjunxit alios non inſtitutos. Ergo ritus eos retinere, vel novos inſtituere æquè liberum eſt Eccleſiæ Romanæ. Reſp. 1. Ritus veteris Eccleſiæ adiaphoros ad uſum & ædificationem accommodatos retineri, ſalva tamen libertate, non vetamus. qua quidem libertate ipſi Pontificii uſi ſunt in abolendo oſculo baptiſmali, cujus meminit Cyprianus lib. 3. cap. 8. ablutione pedum, quam ab æterno receptam eſſe, ait idem Cyprianus libro de Unctione Chriſmatis: aliis ritibus, quorum meminit Auguſtinus de Symbolo ad Catech. lib. 4. 1. ac inprimis præguſtandi mellis & lactis uſu, Tertulliani tempore recepto. Tutiſſimum tamen arbitramur, ſimpliciter inſtitutionem ſequi. 2. Improbamus verò vehementer, tum quòd obtentu traditorum rituum, ut olim Scribæ & Phariſæi, mandatum Dei transgrediuntur, adminiſtrantes baptiſmum in lingua peregrina, & tribuentes humanis ritibus, quod baptiſmo ſoli tribuendum fuerat: tum quòd mutatis circumſtantiis eosdem ritus & diverſiſſima opinione retinent: tum quòd novos eósque ſuperſtitioſos & abſurdos, antiquitatis titulo fucatos, invexerunt. Quò pertinent benedictio aquæ ante celebrationem, Signum crucis chriſmate factum, ſalis & ſalivæ uſus, cerei poſt baptiſmum &c. de quibus vide Chamierum de Baptiſmo lib. 6. ac inprimis Dalleum de Ritibus Religioſis Latinorum, libro primo toto.

Excip. Redino: 1. Nos quoque mutandorum rituum libertatem competere Eccleſiæ, ſed non Paſtoribus ſingulis, ſtatuimus. 2. Quos in ritus à nobis retentos improbat, à veteri Eccleſia receptos fuiſſe, ſupra firmavimus. Reſp. 1. Eccleſiæ, ſed Romanæ ſoli, ceu reliquarum omnium Matri & Magiſtræ libertatem ejuſmodi competere, Tridentinus Canon veſter ſanxit; adeóque oppoſitè non ad Paſtores quoſvis, ſed particulares Eccleſias omnes, quas ſic affectato dominio ſuperbiſſimo libertate ſua defraudatum ivit. 2. Veteris Eccleſiæ ſcutum prætenſum diſcuſſimus abunde ſuprà.

OBIECT. III. Ipſi quoque hæretici (ita nos inſignivit Bellarminus) nonnulla baptiſmo adjungunt, quæ nec præcepta, nec exemplo in S. Literis tradita ſunt. Ita infantem ad baptiſmum adducunt die Dominico vel alio, quo concio habetur. Interrogant ſponſores, an ſpondeant ſe infantes inſtituturos in doctrina fidei & morum. Denique infanti nomen imponunt. Reſp. Ita qui accuſantur hominem occidiſſe, objiciunt, nos quaſi acu eum pupugiſſe. Atqui quæ nos ſic obſervamus, non Sacramenti ſunt partes, neque iis myſterium affingitur & ſignificatio eorum effectuum, qui pertinent ad aquam baptiſmi; ſed honeſtæ celebrationis circumſtantiæ, eccleſiaſticæ prudentiæ & libertati relictæ, quæ pro re nata ad tuendum decorum & ordinem inſtitui, vel mutari poſſunt.

EXCIP. REDING : Honeſtæ illæ celebrationis circumſtantiæ præferre debent honeſtatem decori Baptiſmi tuendo convenientem. Neceſſum igitur eſt eas procedere ex motivo virtutis, quæ religio eſt. Ib. pag. 92. 93. Reſp. Religio quidem externum ordinem & decentiam imperat, ſed ritibus decoris eò facientibus & ab hominibus inſtitutis, nec rationem myſterii vel ſignificationis, nec effectus ſupernaturales, nec diſpoſitionem ad gratiam juſtificantem tribuit. Hoc enim non recta religio, ſed magicum ſtudium, rebus humanis vendicans, quod nec à natura, nec à Deo habent, committit.

OBIECT. IV. Ceremoniarum quarundam in ipſis S. literis mentio eſt. Exſufflationis Joh. XX. 22. ubi Chriſtus inſufflavit in Apoſtolos; Exorciſmi Act. XIX. 13. ubi exorciſtarum mentio; Unctionis, à qua ipſe Chriſtus nomen accepit; Sputi Marc. VII. 33. & Joh. IX. 6. Veſtium candidarum, Apoc. III. 4. ubi veſtimenta candida promittuntur vincenti; denique Cereorum Matth. XXV. 1. 2. 3. ubi virgines inducuntur cum cereis. Reſp. 1. Illa omnia in Scriptura legimus, ſed non ut pertinentia ad baptiſmum vel baptiſmi celebrationem, ſed ut plurimùm ad miraculorum patrationem, quorum ratio alieniſſima à Sacramento. Certè etiam adverſarii oderunt eos, qui baptiſmo ignem addunt. Quanquam habeant Matth. III. 11. Chriſtum baptizaturum Spiritu & igne. Quantò minùs tolerandi ſunt ii, qui longè leviore prætextu corradunt ex Scripturis quidlibet? 2. Chriſtus non tantùm ſputo, ſed etiam luto uſus eſt. Quæ ratio, cur priori tantùm, non etiam poſteriori utantur? 3. Quæ verò ratio conſecutionis; Chriſtus ab unctione dictus eſt: Chriſtiani Lux oportet luceat: Saliva à Capite deſcendens ſapientiam ſignificat: Veſtes candidæ promittuntur vincenti; Ergo in baptiſmo neceſſarius eſt uſus chriſmatis, ſputi, ſalivæ, cereorum, veſtium candidarum? 4. Exorciſtæ dicti, non quicunque in Spiritus immundos poteſtatem habuerint, ſed qui ex corporibus obſeſſis eos pepulerint. An igitur, ſi maximè largiremur penes Eccleſiam poteſtatem exorcizandi adhuc reſidere, infantes quivis baptizandi corpore tenus à Dæmone obſeſſi ſunt?

EXCIP. REDING : 1. Atqui nos in baptiſmi adminiſtratione utimur igne, accenſo ſcilicet cereo. Non igitur eos, qui Baptiſmo ignem addunt, odimus. 2. Licet ritus hi ex inſtitutione Chriſti ad Baptiſmum non pertineant, idoneos tamen eſſe ad repræſentandum aliquod myſterium, inde evincitur. 3. Etſi infantes corporaliter obſeſſi non ſunt à dæmone; tamen ſub Sathanæ poteſtate ſunt ob reatum peccati originalis. Ib. pag. 93. Reſp. 1. Utimini igne, ſed peregrino, qui vos conſumet. Sicut autem ſpiritu baptizare non poteſtis: ita nec igne. quo utroque ſolus Chriſtus baptizavit. 2. Quomodo ritus controverſos idoneos eſſe ad repræſentandum illud myſterium, quod vos per eos repræſentari ſtatuitis, inde evinces, quia aliquod myſterium in iis Chriſtus repræſentavit? An enim idem jus repræſentandi myſteria Dei habent Deus & homines? Quis ſic repræſentationum tionum finis, quis modus erit? Cúmque diversissima sit Sacramentorum & miraculorum ratio; atque ritus hi universi in miraculorum ferè patratione à Christo adhibiti fuerint, quomodo vos eosdem in aliud planè forum traxeritis, & mysteriis pro libitu vestro imprægnaveritis, videritis ipsi. 3. Infantes fidelium natura quidem in peccato mortuos, & Sathanæ potestati obnoxios esse, constat. Sed gratia Dei eosdem, utpote à fœderatis & fidelibus parentibus natos, Divini fœderis & promissionum participes reddit. Unde Deus se Abrahami & seminis ejus Deum in fœdere gratuito declaravit, priusquam Sacramentum circumcisionis iisdem revelavit. Et fidelium Parentum liberos eo ipso, quòd à fidelibus parentibus nati sunt, Sanctos esse Apostolus, 1. Cor. VII. 14. declarat. Quomodo igitur Sathanæ mancipia iidem sunt? Et sunto sanè. Non ideo exorcistæ vestri in Baptismo Sathanam pellunt, quia exorcistæ sunt, non quicunque in spiritus immundos potestatem habuerint, sed qui ex corporibus obsessis eosdem pepulerint, uti ex Act. XIX. 13. ubi Exorcistarum mentio est, liquet.

QUÆSTIO III.

An baptismus ita necessarius sit ad salutem, ut quicunque eo nullâ culpâ suâ privantur, æternam damnationem incurrant?

SYnodus Canone V. anathema dicit asserentibus, baptismum liberum esse, hoc est, non necessarium ad salutem. Si Anathema diceret iis, qui statuunt, nullo modo necessarium esse ad salutem, ne præcepti quidem Divini necessitate, quæ Socinianorum hæresis est, consentientes nos haberet. Fatemur enim, ita necessarium esse ex Divina institutione, ut quisquis eum vitio & culpa sua omittit, peccatum æterna morte dignum committat, quoniam, ut Augustinus loquitur libr. contra Cresc. cap. ultimo, sanctissima significatione præpollet. Sed sensum anathematis per se ambigui aperit Catechismus Romanus, cujus hæc verba sunt: Nihil magis necessarium videri potest, quàm ut doceamur, omnibus hominibus baptismi legem à Domino præscriptam esse; ita ut nisi per baptismi gratiam Deo renascantur, in sempiternam miseriam & interitum à parentibus, sive fideles, sive infideles sint, procreentur. Neque aliter Scholastici, quos inter Suarez inquit: Simpliciter dicendum est, baptismum esse medium necessarium ad remissionem peccatorum & ad gratiam ac gloriam consequendam. Conclusio est de fide. Alii tamen modestiores exceptiones quasdam indicant. In hac ipsa Sessione Canone IV. de Sacramentis in genere anathema dicitur iis, qui dixerint, Sacramenta novæ legis non esse necessaria & ad salutem superflua, & sine iis aut eorum voto per solam fidem homines à Deo gratiam juſtificationis adipiſci, licèt omnia ſingulis neceſſaria non ſint. Ubi notandum ex Hiſtorico, fuiſſe in Concilio alios, qui diſtinguerent inter Sacramenta, quorum alia abſolutè neceſſaria ſint, alia non. Alios verò, & potiores quidem, damnari voluiſſe eos, qui indefinitè aſſererent, Sacramenta non eſſe neceſſaria, eò quòd unius Sacramenti neceſſitas ſufficeret ad eos falſi redarguendos, & omnia quidem neceſſaria ſint, ſed unum abſolutè, reliqua ex hypotheſi. Quæ ſententia vicit, non ſine ſtupore quorundam, inquit Hiſtoricus, exiſtimantium, tam multiplicem æquivocationem ſtabiliendis fidei articulis non convenire. Patet tamen inde, quam baptiſmi neceſſitatem propugnaverint Patres. Cæterùm præcipua, quibus abſoluta illa & rigida Baptiſmi neceſſitas infringitur, argumenta attulimus ſuperiùs pag. 175. 176. 177. Pauca his addimus.

ARG. I. Canon. IV. de Sacramentis in genere anathematizat eos, qui dicunt, ſine Sacramentis, aut eorum voto, per ſolam fidem homines gratiam juſtificationis accipere. Concedit igitur, ſine baptiſmi Sacramento, dummodo ejus votum Sacramento ſucceſſerit, hominem juſtificari poſſe. Proinde neceſſitas ejus abſoluta non eſt. Unde etiam Thomas in cap. 3. Johannis ait, baptiſmum neceſſarium eſſe vel in ſe, vel in voto, vel in figura. Idem etiam docet Lombardus Sent. lib. 4. diſt. 4. lit. D. ubi ſententiam ſuam tuetur teſtimonio Auguſtini dicentis, gratiam Dei inviſibiliter impleri, quomodo myſterium non contemptus religionis, ſed articulus neceſſitatis excluſit. Et concludit: Conſtat ergo, ſine baptiſmo aliquos juſtificari & ſalvari. Illud quoque obſervandum. Votum quidem Sacramenti ſufficere ad juſtificationem, at non fidem decernunt Patres. Ita non Sacramenti tantùm, ſed etiam voti Sacramenti major efficacia ſtatuitur, quàm fidei, cui tamen juſtificationem in ſolidum ſacræ literæ acceptam referunt.

RESP. REDINO: 1. Votum Baptiſmi & perfecta contritio ſaltem non cadit in infantes. Etſi verò ii capaces ſint Martyrii, per quod ſine Baptiſmo juſtificari poſſent, illud tamen merè extraordinarium eſt. 2. Lombardi ſententia eſt, quòd ſecundum viam extraordinariam, quando Baptiſmi copia haberi nequit, ſufficiat martyrium, vel contritio charitate formata, seu votum Baptiſmi. Extra caſus illos Baptiſmus ſimpliciter neceſſarius eſt, id ipſum Auguſtino Epiſt. 28. ad Hieron. agnoſcente. 3. Fides formata charitate, ſeu perfecta contritione ipſum Baptiſmi votum includit. Tomo II. Tract. V. Ss. 3. pag. 96. 97. Reſp. 1. Sive in infantibus ſive in adultis votum vel Martyrium Baptiſmi defectum ſupplet, abſoluta Baptiſmi neceſſitas cadit. Et quo jure Deus optimus infantes ob defectum non ſuum, puta tum Baptiſmi, quem ſibi ipſi conferre non potuerunt, tum rationis, qua deſtituti nec votum concipere, nec perfectè conteri potuerunt, puniat, ratio neutiquam apparet. 2. Si extra ordinem Martyrium, vel contritio charitate formata, & votum ſufficit ad ſalutem non baptizatorum, annon æquè in caſu privationis Spiritus S. gratia ſufficere poteſt? Ubi enim magis martyrium, vel contritio votúmque, quàm Spiritus S. gratia excipiexcipitur? De Auguſtini ſententia ſupra ſatis. 3. Si fides votum includit, cur igitur Baptiſmum ſuppleri poſſe per fidem, non aſſeritis? Quomodo Scholaſtici, nominatim Lombardus 4. Sent. diſt. 1. Bonaventura in 4. Sent. diſt. 1. pag. 2. a. 2. q. 2. ſecutus uterque Bernhardum Epiſt. 77. & ipſum Hugonem de S. Non minor autem eſt vis fidei poſt Chriſtum, quàm ante eum fuit. Quæcunque enim factæ ſunt fidei veterum promiſſiones Divinæ ſpiritualium ejuſmodi bonorum, ſeu ſalutis ac æternæ beatitudinis, promiſſiones, inquam, toti Eccleſiæ omnibúſque credentibus communes, eædem in ſua latiſſima amplitudine factæ ſunt fidei Chriſtianorum ſub Evangelio degentium, uti ex Rom. Si verò N. Teſt. adjunctum aliquid ſit, quod ſit ita neceſſarium neceſſitate medii, ut ſimpliciter abſque ea fides ad ſalutem non proſit, haud deterior fides N. T. dubiè facta eſt, quia non ampliùs præſtare poteſt, quod olim præſtitit.

ARG. II. In Concilio ipſo Marinarus rigidam illam non tantùm Sacramentorum, ſed etiam voti Sacramentorum neceſſitatem oppugnavit, adductis exemplis tum Cornelii Centurionis, cujus orationes Deo gratæ fuerint, antea quàm is Sacramentum baptiſmi cognoviſſet: tum univerſæ ejus familiæ, quæ audita Petri concione receperit Spiritum S. priusquam naturam Sacramentorum edocta eſſet: tum latronis in cruce jam moribundi, & Martyrum in ipſo perſecutionis ardore ad Chriſtum converſorum, qui ſolius Chriſti virtute illuminati, ne quidem cognitionem ullam Sacramentorum habuerint. Quæ quidem argumenta ita moverunt Patres, ut propter eorum difficultatem deciſionem ad generalem Congregationem differendam putârint. Et extra Concilium jam olim Gerſon Serm. de nativ. virg. Mariæ, negavit, Deum gratiam ita alligâſſe Sacramentis, quin abſque præjudicio legis ſuæ poſſet pueros nondum natos extra uterum intus ſanctificare. Eadem ſententia fuit Gabrielis Biel, Cajetani, Dominici à Soto, Tilemanni Sigebergenſis, Thomæ Elicii, Caſſandri, aliorum, quos propterea Vega de juſtif. lib. 5. 16. tanquam nimium erga infantes miſericordes traducit. Atque hinc etiam Scholaſticorum recepta inter baptiſmum fluminis ſeu aquæ, flaminis ſeu Spiritus S. & ſanguinis ſeu Martyrii diſtinctio. Ubi concedunt baptiſmum flaminis & ſanguinis ſupplere defectum baptiſmi fluminis.

RESP. REDING: 1. Quæ circa votum Baptiſmi à nonnullis Theologis in Concilio oppugnatum affers, à Pallavicino refutantur. 2. Gerſon eo caſu, quo reſſectio infantis in utero mortui Baptiſmus adhiberi nequivit, aliud ſalutis remedium ſupereſſe, docuit. Hoc ad quævis caſus extendi non debet. 3. Triplex ſalutis via diſtingui debet; abſoluta, de qua rectè Gerſon dixit, Dei gratiam non ita alligatam eſſe Sacramentis, quin etiam infantem extra caſum quoque Martyrii, modo inviſibili juſtificare poſſit: extraordinaria, qua Baptiſmus Fluminis per Baptiſmum vel Sanguinis, hoc eſt, per Martyrium, vel Flaminis, ſeu per contritionem charitate formatam, cum votum Baptiſmi, ſuppletur: vel ordinaria, juxta quam parvulis carentibus uſu rationis, adeóque conteri & vovere non valentibus, Baptiſmus aquæ prorſus neceſſarius eſt; agnoſcente etiam Confeſſione Helvetica cap. 20. Baptiſmum eſſe ſignum populi Dei, per quod electi primò in Eccleſiam inſerantur. Proin non baptizati extra Eccleſiam ſint oportet. extra quam ſalutem & vitam eſſe eadem Confeſſio cap. 17. negat. Ib. pag. 97. 98. Reſp. 1. Pallavicinus conflictum Theologorum in Concilio de neceſſitate voti Baptiſmi in dubium vocare auſus non eſt, te omnia pernegante, & quidem ſine ratione, candidior. Tantùm voti neceſſitatem urget, & Marinari argumenta frigidè ſolvit. 2. Si Deus Sacramentis non ſic alligavit gratiam, quin abſque præjudicio legis ſuæ poſſit pueros nondum natos in utero ſanctificare, quod Gerſen dixit, cauſam igitur idoneam afferre debes, cur legi ſuæ, quam non ſibi, ſed hominibus dixit, præjudicet ſanctificando extra uterum eos, qui nulla culpa ſua, ſed vel neceſſitate, cujus author ipſe Deus eſt, vel culpa merè aliena baptiſmo privantur? Nam lex Chriſti, cujus obtentu neceſſitatem Baptiſmi defenditis, tam non infantes in utero morientes, quàm non extra uterum nulla culpa ſua Baptiſmo privatos excipit. 3. Diſtinctionem tuam probo, atque ex eadem infero, ordinariè hominem per Spiritum S. & Baptiſmum Fluminis regenerari; extraordinariè per Baptiſmum Flaminis & Sanguinis; abſolutè ſimul & extraordinariè ſola voluntate Dei, Sacramentis non alligata, in caſu privationis culpa vacantis, ſive infantum vel utero incluſorum, vel extra eum vagientium; ſive adultorum reſpectu; non tamen ſine Baptiſmo Flaminis, ſeu Spiritus S. per quem tum in infantibus pro modulo tenellæ ætatis, tum in adultis pro liberima ſua voluntate operatur. Atque eodem etiam ſenſu Confeſſio noſtra, (quam perfidè citas, tribuens ei verba, quòd ſit ſignum populi Dei, per quod electi à Deo recipiantur, & primò in Eccleſiam inſerantur, quæ veriſſima licet, nuſpiam tamen in Confeſſione reperire eſt. (ita oculis alienis cernens falleris & fallis) vocat initiale ſignum populi Dei, utpote quo initiantur Deo electi Dei. quia Baptiſmus eſt ordinariæ initiationis Sacramentum, citra quod in privationis caſu extra ordinem Eccleſiæ electorum ſolo Spiritu ſuo inſerere Deus, quoſcunque vult, poteſt.

ARG. III. De judicio veteris Eccleſiæ Catholicæ videatur Forbeſius Inſtruct. Hiſtor. Theol. lib. X. 5. 6. Auguſtinum quidem, aliósque nonnullos contra Pelagianos pro oſtenſione peccati originalis à neceſſitate regenerationis & baptiſmi ipſis etiam infantibus in remiſſionem peccati originalis conferendi, invictum argumentum depromentes, fervor diſputationis & bonæ cauſæ fiducia eò abripuit, ut alicubi de neceſſitate Baptiſmi æquo loquerentur incautiùs. Alicubi tamen, nimirum *contra Donatiſtas de Baptiſmo lib. Subjicit cap.25.Converſio enim cordis poteſt quidem inesse non percepto baptiſmo; ſed contempto baptiſmo non poteſt. Ante Auguſtinum Ambroſius concione funebri in obitum, Valentiniani junioris, qui ex Gallia in Italiam cogitans, miſſis jam ad Ambroſium nuntiis, qui eum Viennam in occurſum ejus, ut ab eo baptizaretur, accerſeret, ſine baptiſmo diſceſſit, de ſalute ejus adeò non deſperavit, ut potiùs aſſerere non dubitaverit, eum jam vitâ aternâ frui.

RESP. REDING: 1. Auguſtinum in fervore diſputationis de Baptiſmo incautiùs locutum eſſe, protervè aſſeris. Etiam reliqui S. Patres, Clemens Romanus Epiſt.4. Juſtinus Martyr q.56. Martialis, Tertullianus lib. de Baptiſmo cap.15. Origenes, Cyrillus, alii, Baptiſmi neceſſitatem una nobiſcum agnoſcunt. 2. Valentinianum Baptiſmo privatum licet, Baptiſmi votum ſalvavit. Ib. pag.98 99. Reſp. 1. Non quicquam protervi aſſerui, ſed verbis ipſius Auguſtini recitatis, ad quæ nihil reſpondere potuiſti, ejus in hoc dogmate inconſtantiam probavi. Cœterùm qua libertate & reverentia nos docuit Auguſtinus non accipere, quod Cypriano viſum eſt de baptizandis hæreticis, eadem neque hoc accipimus, quod alibi ipſe Auguſtinus, & nonnulli eidem conſentientes de abſoluta neceſſitate Baptiſmi nimio rigore pronuntiarunt. Cui ſi veriorem, & S. literis convenientiorem ſententiam, ſalva charitatis & pacis compage, & ſervato reverentiæ debitæ officio, antepoſuerimus, ipſe nos Auguſtinus ſic ab omni proteviæ & temeritatis crimine Epiſt. 111. abſolvit: Neque enim quorumlibet diſputationes (quamvis Catholicorum & laudatorum hominum) velut Scripturas Canonicas habere debemus, ut nobis non liceat, ſalva honorificentia, quæ illis debetur hominibus, aliquid in eorum ſcriptis improbare, atque reſpuere, ſi forte invenerimus, quòd aliter ſenſerint, quàm veritas habet, Divino adjutorio vel ab aliis intellecto, vel à nobis. Talis ergo ſum in ſcriptis aliorum: tales volo eſſe intellectores meorum. Licuit etiam Scholaſticis excogitato pœnæ damni, non ſenſus, non baptizatis infligendæ temperamento, rigorem Auguſtini, aliorúmque, infantes non tinctos æternis cruciatibus mancipantium, infringere. Nobis igitur cur nefas ſit, nimiam doctrinæ eorundem aſperitatem, non fictis opinionibus, ſed certis Scripturarum teſtimoniis corrigere? Multa interim à Patribus dicta, & à Pontificiis obtorto collo ad erroris ſui patrocinium rapta, Celeb. Forbeſium loc.cit. in benigniorem caſtioremque ſenſum ſcitiſſimè interpretantem vide. 2. Valentinianum Imp. ſupra fidei Divinæ charitate formatæ lumine fulſiſſe, negaſti. Nunc eundem votum Baptiſmi teſtatum, atque eodem voto ſalvatum eſſe, contendis. Quàm pulchrè quæſo tibi conſtas? Atqui S. Ambroſius in funebri ejus non voto Baptiſmi, ſed Spiritui S. & gratiæ Dei ſalutem ejus acceptam refert.

ARG. IV. Nulla ratio eſt, cur in adultis inviſibilis ſanctificatio peragi poſſit abſque Baptiſmo, quod concedunt illi; at in infantibus id ipſum fieri non poſſit. Obtendunt quidem, infantum ætatem talis ſanctificationis & regenerationis capacem non eſſe. Atqui ipſi docent, parvulis per baptiſmum realiter infundi habitum fidei, ſpei & charitatis, & in iis vi baptiſmi peccatum originale non modò remitti, ſed etiam penitus expungi & obliterari, denique Sacramenta novæ legis ex opere operato juſtificare.

RESP.

RESP. REDING : Nos, adultos utpote capaces actus fidei & contritionis, sine Baptismo, solo ejusdem voto salvari posse, docemus. An etiam infantes actus ejus capaces sunt? Ib. pag. 99. 100. Resp. Cùm infantes baptizatos, ob infusos fidei & charitatis habitus, sine eorundem actibus salvari asseratis; & constet, similes habitus Spiritum S. etiam in iis infantibus, qui nulla sua culpa Sacramento privantur, operari sine Baptismo posse, imò propter sanctitatem eorundem fœderalem operari actu, cur actualis fidei & charitatis privatio, quæ nulli eorum culpæ, sed Divino ordini imputanda est, innocentissimos eatenus in æterni exitii barathrum præcipites agat?

ARG. V. Præterea pertendunt, parvulos in Baptismo credere vi susceptorum, & alienam iis fidem etiam informem, uti statuunt Bonaventura, Thomas & Richardus de media Villa, imputari. Cùm igitur Synodus statuat, voto suppleri posse baptismum, nulla ratio est, cur non statuat etiam, votum alienum, æquè ac fidem alienam, iis imputari posse. Atque sic etiam servari poterunt infantes voto à parentibus eorum vice suscepto.

RESP. REDING : 1. Contritionem non alienam, sed propriam justificare, Scriptura passim docet. 2. Sed & fidem alienam, etiam informem, imputari iis, qui baptizantur, statuimus eo sensu, quatenus fides Ecclesiæ in forma Baptismi expressa, ex Divinæ institutionis efficacia, infantis incapacitati ita prævalet, ut Baptismus ratus habeatur. Ib. pag. 100. Resp. 1. Eadem ratione etiam fides propria in adultis requiritur. Nam justus suæ fide vivet, Habac. II. 4. Reddenda igitur adhuc tibi ratio est, cur fides aliena, & non votum alienum imputari possit? Nullam prorsus ex Scriptura reddere potes. 2. Fides igitur aliena, Ecclesiæ scilicet, efficit, ut Baptismus ratus sit, adeóque effectum regenerationis consequatur. Dic iterum : cur in casu privationis non idem præstat votum alienum? Addo, ante instituta Sacramenta parvulis utilem & efficacem fuisse fidem veterum sine Sacramento : neque debilitatam esse vim fidei sub Evangelio. quod supra astruximus.

ARG. VI. Sacramenti Baptismi necessitas omnis est à præcepto divino positivo & non naturali. Proinde ejus carentia non est exitialis nisi iis, qui præceptum illud transgrediuntur. Atqui pueri, quibus Divina & arbitraria institutio non innotescit, quique per naturam capaces non sunt obedientiæ vel transgressionis actualis, utpote quæ rationis & liberæ voluntatis usum requirit, præceptum positivum transgredi dici non possunt.

RESP. REDING : Baptismi necessitatem esse ex jure Divino duntaxat positivo, non etiam naturali, falsò supponis. Atqui juris naturalis necessitas non tantùm naturæ, sed etiam fidei ac revelationis principiis nititur. ad quæ etiam Baptismi præceptum pertinet. Ib. pag. 100. 101. Resp. Plus quàm pueriliter deliras, castigandus ab indoctis etiam tyronibus vestris, quorum vix unus ignorare potest, Sacramenta & ritus omnes à positivo seu constituto, non naturali jure & præcepto arcessi debere. Liberè enim à Deo instituuntur, & liberè mutantur : atque à solius voluntatis liberimæ imperio, non naturæ Divinæ necessitate ulla fluunt. Si quælibet revelatio Dei à naturali Divino jure manat, qua ratione ratione ceremoniæ Judaicæ mutari aboleríque potuerunt? Nam quæ à naturali præcepto Dei proficiſcuntur, tam immutabilia ſunt, quàm ipſa naturalis ſanctitas Dei immutabilis eſt.

OBIECTIONES diſcuſſæ ſunt pag. 182. 183. 184. Proinde hic operam non ludimus.

QUÆSTIO IV.

An baptizati per baptiſmum in conſcientia liberentur ab eccleſiaſticis mandatis, ſive ſcriptis, ſive traditis?

NEgat Canon VIII. qui ſententiam hanc ex Luthèri libro de captivitate Babylonica repetitam anathemate notat. Nos quidem baptiſmum authoritatem vel reverentiam Eccleſiaſtici Miniſterii abolere, quaſi baptizati vel Eccleſiam non audire, cùm monendi ſunt, vel ei, quoties in nomine Dei monentur aut corripiuntur, non obedire teneantur, haud ſtatuimus. Neque etiam negamus, baptizatos debere omnibus & ſingulis fidelibus, nedum eccleſiæ reverentiam, obedientiam & ſubjectionem, ut videlicet pareant admonitionibus in nomine Dei factis, & ordinem actionum toti cœtui communi conſenſu non contra verbum Dei injunctarum, conſtitutum non turbent, & congregationem non relinquant, quæ quidem ex Eccleſiaſtico præcepto non Divino cultui, ut pars quædam, adjungatur, ſed ad præceptorum Divinorum executionem. Sed aliud eſt, quod intendit anathema. Hoc nempe vult, eſſe in Eccleſia poteſtatem quandam αὐτοκρατορικὴν & νομοθετικὴν, ἀρχὴν & βασιλείαν principatum & regnum hominum, propter quod aliis liceat leges verbo Dei æquipollentes, utpote à Spiritu S. Eccleſiæ aſſiſtente profectas, & quidem plerumque de rebus carnalibus & terrenis condere, dummodo, ut videri quidem volunt, nihil præcipiant Dei verbo contrarium; aliis verò neceſſum ſit propter conſcientiam & ſic in judicio Dei obedire. Quam poteſtatem extendunt ad omnes actiones, corpora & bona baptizatorum, etiam Regum ſummorum & Principum, ſaltem indirectè, ut loquuntur. Cujus quidem dominationis exemplum eſt in interdicto ciborum, conjugii &c. Rectè igitur Lutherus dixit, Baptiſmi Sacramento Chriſtianos liberari à tra-

ARG. I. Per baptiſmum transſcribimur in nomen & familiam Dei, obligamúrque in conſcientia ad obedientiam non aliis, quàm Divinis mandatis præſtandam, Matth. XXVIII. 19. ubi Chriſtus jubet non aliud docere baptizatos, quàm quod ipſe præcepit.

RESP. REDING : Sic Chriſtus juſſit docere, quæ ipſe mandavit, ut etiam audire Eccleſiam, quæ jus etiam ligandi in terris habet, juſſerit, Matth. XVIII. 17. Tomo II. Tract. V. Ss. 3. pag. 101. 102. Reſp. Sic eſt. Audire Eccleſiam juſſit, reprehendentem fratrem, qui alterum fratrem offendit. Atqui reprehenſio non fit lata lege humana, conſcientiam obligante, ſed ex lege verbi Divini jam lata, & Divinitus omnibus præſcripta. Neque quenquam Eccleſia in terris ex lege humana, ſed Divina ſola, ligare ita poteſt, ut ligatio in Cœlo rata ſit. Aliàs homines ſalutis & damnationis hominum authores arbitríque forent.

ARG. II. Baptizati per baptiſmum Chriſto induuntur, & filii ejus evadunt, Gal. III. 26. 27. At filiatio ea nos eximit à ſervitute hominum in conſcientias noſtras ſibi dominium arrogantium.

RESP. REDING : Filiatio Dei non eximit à ſalutari legis Eccleſiaſticæ obligatione, quæ ab authoritate ab ipſo Chriſto Eccleſiæ collata, Matth. XVIII. 17. 18. manat. Verba enim illa : Quæcunque ligaveritis, &c. omnem ligandi modum comprehendunt. In hiſce autem modis unus eſt per præceptum, ſeu legem, juxta illud Matth. XXIII. 4. Alligant onera gravia, &c. Ib. pag. 102. 103. Reſp. Non eximit ab obligatione legis Eccleſiaſticæ, quatenus illa verſatur circa res indifferentes ſeu medii generis, puta determinationes circumſtantiarum primæ tabulæ circa cultum Dei externum, de ordine & decoro in verbi & Sacramentorum diſpenſatione obſervando; & quatenus illa præcipitur non ut virtute ſua, per ſe ac in ſpecie ſua conſcientiam obligans. De hac enim, non quálibet lege vel humana, vel Eccleſiaſtica quæſtio eſt. Neque jus ligandi Eccleſiæ à Chriſto collatum jus leges conſcientiis imponendi, ſed peccata retinendi & Cœlum claudendi impœnitentibus; ídque miniſteriali, non prætoria, quæ ſolius Dei eſt, poteſtate, ſecundum doctrinam Evangelii, notat. quod Matth. XVIII. 15. & Joh. XX. 22. 23. apertiſſimè docetur. Si ligandi poteſtas in Miniſtro Verbi Divini omnem ligandi modum comprehendit, an etiam principalem? Atqui illa ſolius Dei eſt. An inſtrumentalem exequentem? Atqui illa ſolius Diaboli, ceu carnificis, eſt, qui ligat impios catenis caliginis. En quàm turpiter te des. Neque tandem Papæ & Hierarchis veſtris invideo laudem, qua eos mactare videris, comparans ſcilicet eos cum Phariſæis, δυσβάστακτα φορτία καὶ ἀφορήτους, alligantibus onera gravia & portatu difficilia, quibus humeros hominum illi onerarant, cùm tamen ipſi ne digito quidem ea attigerint; Matth. XXIII. 4. Tales revera veſtri ſunt: talia eorum præcepta: tales ligationes ſunt; ſed quæ non à poteſtate clavium Regni Cœlorum, ſed potiùs clavium abyſſi genuinam originem habent.

ARG. III. Per baptiſmum complantamur ſimilitudini mortis Chriſti, Rom.VI.5. At qui cum Chriſto mortui ſunt, liberantur ab elementis mundi, imperio & decretis hominum, nequicquam eos mandatis ſuis obſtringentium, Coloſſ.II.20.22. Non igitur ejuſmodi poteſtati νομοθετικῇ, in conſcientias ampliùs obnoxii ſunt.

RESP. REDING : 1. Quomodo ergo civilis Magiſtratus decreta & mandata in foro etiam externo obligant? 2. Elementa ergo mundi, & mandata ſeu decreta hominum, à quibus per Baptiſmum Chriſto commortuos liberari Apoſtolus Col.II.20.22. docet, involvunt malitiam, utpote quæ dicuntur eſſe in interitum verbo, carnalia Philoſophorum principia, & dogmata mundana fidei veritati adverſantia; nec non ceremoniæ Judaicæ jam abrogatæ. Talia non ſunt mandata Eccleſiæ. Ib. pag. 103. Reſp. 1. Obligant conſcientiam non per ſe, ratione materiæ & ſpecialis mandati, ſed per accidens, virtute mandati generalis, quo omnis anima jubetur obedire poteſtati ſupereminenti, Rom.XIII.1.&c. Et jus νομοθεσίας Magiſtratui civili Deus communicavit, ib. & 1.Pet.II.13. Miniſterio Eccleſiaſtico non communicavit, Eſaj. XXXIII. 22. Jac.IV.12. ſed præcepit prædicare mandata Dei, Matth.XXVIII.19. atque ita prædicantibus obedire, Hebr.XIII 17. Leges Eccleſiaſticæ obligant ob ſcandalum non parentium: Politicæ etiam extra ſcandalum. Denique quæſtio noſtra tota eſt de decretis religionem & cultum, non civilem ſocietatem concernentibus. 2. S Paulus v.20. &c. vetat δογματίζεσθαι κατὰ τὰ ἐπιτάγματα καὶ διδασκαλίας ἀνθρώπων, dogmatizare ſecundùm præcepta & doctrinas hominum, hoc eſt, placita ex hominum arbitratu & poteſtate in cultu Dei (de hoc enim ſolo ibi ſermo eſt) fluentia, atque ſic conſcientiis hominum impoſita ſequi. Exempla hujuſmodi δογμάτων ſeu placitorum ponit v. 21. Ne contingas, ne guſtes, ne attrectes. Talia ſunt dogmata ſeu placita Eccleſiæ Pontificiæ, inprimis Cœlibatus, delectus ciborum in certis diebus, & voluntariæ paupertatis. Annon enim in iis maximè conſpicua ſunt placita: Ne contingas uxorem, clerice, Monache: Ne guſtes hunc vel illum cibum certo, vel omni tempore: Ne attrectes, nempe bona aut tua, quæ tua ſunt, habendi & retinendi cauſa, ſed omitte, & alios habere ſine. Dogmatis ejuſmodi obſequi vetat v.20. eo argumento, quòd Chriſtiani cum Chriſto mortui ſint ab elementis mundi, adcóque eos non ampliùs ut viventes in mundo dogmata decernere aut ſuſcipere deceat. Ante Chriſtum mortuum homines vixerunt in mundo, vixerunt elementis mundi, quia facti ſervi elementorum mundi, utpote ſubjecti terreno pignori, cujus purificatio per ſacrificia pecuina & alias iſtiuſmodi res fieri debuit; qui cum oblationibus ſuis poterant declarari immundi; quibus denique & res quædam & cibi potuerant dici impuri tanquam inquinantes & reos facientes. Sed in Chriſto mortui ab elementis mundi non ampliùs iis, vel ſimilibus etiam, ſervire & ſubjici debent, quia accedunt ad verum ſanctuarium, ſeu in Chriſto immediatè ad Deum, neque ſtant apud tabernaculum prius, vel impuri adhuc legaliter declarantur. At uxores, cibi quidam, bona ceu propria, velut impura adhuc & polluentia, ipſique nonnulli iiſdem à Chriſto permiſſis utentes impuri declarantur. Annon vides, Redingi, leges veſtras Eccleſiaſticas præcipuas διανοιδάκτως notari? Denique v.22. de dogmatis ſeu placitis ejuſmodi dicit Apoſtolus: ἅ ἐστι πάντα εἰς φθορὰν τῇ ἀποχρήσει, quæ omnia ſunt ad corruptionem uſu. hoc eſt, quæ conſumuntur, & ad hoc ipſum facta ſunt. Talia nempe ſunt elementa mundi. Qui eis utitur, nihilo plus habet bet. Qui eis non utitur, nemini prodeſt rebus illis non conſumendis. utpote quæ ſua ſponte conſumuntur. Nulla iis vel ſanctitas, vel fœditas ineſt. Sunt enim ejuſdem naturæ cum rebus omnibus, quibus homo utitur. Ideóque uſus vel abſtinentia nos Deo non commendat. Nihil minùs igitur vel dogmata, vel elementa mundi, quàm Philoſophorum principia, notare, ipſa ſeries textus evincit. Neque malitiam ullam elementis illis inſitam Apoſtolus notat. niſi quatenus iis homines abutuntur.

ARG. IV. Baptizati in Chriſtum vindicantur in libertatem, Joh. VIII. 32. 36. Hæc libertas obſtat, quò minùs conſcientia mandatis hominum, quomodocunque ſe illi jactent, ſubeſſe debeat. Libertas Chriſtiana eſt ſoli Deo viventi ſervire. Hinc Eccleſia Novi Teſt. vocatur regnum DEI, quia ſolus Deus in eo regnat: Et regnum cælorum, quia πολίτευμα ejus eſt cœleſte & non eſt ampliùs Eccleſiæ διαφορὴ in rebus terrenis & eorum tractatione.

RESP. REDING: 1. Non obſtante ea libertate & Magiſtratui civili, & Eccleſiæ poteſtas præcipiendi competit. 2. *Leges humanæ juſtæ poteſtati legislativæ Divinæ ſubordinantur; atque verſantur inſuper in materia legi æternæ conſentanea; denique iis lex Divina æterna ſe inſinuans, firmitatem obligationis conſcientiam afficientis, iisdem imprimit. juxta illud Salomonis: Per me Reges regnant, &c. Eſt autem docere & ferre præcepta in cultu Dei neceſſaria,& conſcientiæ obligatoria, ſic Deo, Chriſto proprium, ut nulli ſubjecto alii communicari poſſit. quod abundè jam probavimus. Et ſanè,quod à me objectum diluere non potuiſti,ſi præter ea,quæ Chriſtus præcepit,alia Eccleſiæ tradenda eſſent, nihil à Chriſto definitum eſſe, quod in Eccleſia obſervandum doceatur,conſequens foret. 2. Jam ergo tu ipſe in Dialecticæ tuæ principia incurris, ſic inferens: Chriſtus præcepta ſua doceri juſſit: Ergo nulla præcepta præceptis Chriſti adverſantia doceri poſſunt. Dixit enim Chriſtus: Docete eos ſervare omnia ea, quæ ego vobis præcepi. perinde ac ſi Rex ſubditis diceret: Facite (in civili ſocietate) quæ ego vobis præcipio. ter Prophetas hosce Saul? Quid inter hosce διακόνους ministros, vel, uti cap. XX. 27. δούλους servos, inter quos qui maximè servus est, vocatur πρῶτος Primus, & μείζων Major? quid, inquam, inter servos hosce, Dominus Dominorum, & Rex Regum? Ἄνω ποταμῶν, sursum torrentem niti quondam Diogenes Cynicus, cùm se inter servos venales proclamari audivisset, vociferatus est. qui se dominum potiùs, quàm servum putaret. Idem meritò Romanus ille Diogenes clamaret. Sed noveris sanè, Christum tales μείζονας Majores, seu, uti Judæi vocabant, Rabbinos (est enim רב μείζων) tanquam cum fratrum æqualitate minimè convenientes, & pestilentia Ecclesiæ sidera explodere. Tantùm enim abest, ut permittat Christus cuiquam, esse Principem fidelium, ut nec doctoribus esse permittat, nempe præter doctrinam Christi; imò servos esse jubeat omnes, & in maxima servitute dignitatem maximam collocet. An verò servi est mandare, an potiùs heri imperata facere? Sunt ergo in Ecclesia præceptores, sunt doctores; non primariò, sed secundariò tales, uti rectè tu; sed præcipientes, docentes, velut ad cultum Dei pertinens, non aliud, quàm quod præcepit, docuit Christus. Si enim aliud sive diversum, sive contrarium iis præcipere, docere integrum foret, jam absolutè & primariò, saltem quoad ea, quæ præter Christi mandata & doctrinam mandant docèntque, præceptores doctoréque essent. Id non obstat, quò minùs cum illo uno agnoscantur plures, qui servare quidem & perdere sicut ille unus, non possint, vers tamen legislatores sint.* Resp. Atqui Jacobus manifestè ex eo, quòd nemo potest servare & perdere nisi unus, probat unitatem legislatoris. Quid enim ad rem, quam tractabat, pertineret, si non est unus absolutè legislator, dicere, unum esse legislatorem talem, ut possit salvare & perdere?

EXCIP. REDING: Ex verbis Jacobi rectè infers, esse unum absolutè legislatorem. Hoc non impedit, quò minùs dentur alii inferiores, ab eo dependentes. lb. pag. 106. Resp. An ergo etiam dantur inferiores legislatores, potentes æternùm servare & perdere? Si ita est, potest in religione unus κρίνειν τὸν ἕτερον judicare alterum, quod S. Jacobus negat. Planum est, Legislatorem intelligi, qui jus ferendæ legis, quæ æternùm salvat præstita, & perdit neglecta, adeóque in animas scilicet & conscientias, meritò sibi vendicat. qualis nemo est, nec dependenter quidem & secundariò, nisi Deus.

Apoſtoli de cibis aliquid ſtatuerunt pro illius temporis neceſſitate, ita ut non voluerint ulterius nos obligari. Quia igitur & tempus illud abiit, & cauſa, & Apoſtoli nullum onus fidelibus imponere vel imponi voluerunt, non licet igitur cuiquam de cibis & ejusmodi rebus ampliùs præcipere.

Certè ſpirituales eſſe nequeunt, quia nec à Spiritu Dei, nec circa materiam, nec circa finem ſpiritualem imponuntur. 2. De loco Col. II. 16. fusè ſupra egimus. Omnia hominum circa fidem & cultum dogmata, quibus fidei & conſcientiis dominari nituntur, cum fide pugnant. Et repeto, Paulum ab umbris ad totum genus præceptorum humanorum procedere, & ejuſmodi exempla proferre, quæ naturam præceptorum Eccleſiæ Romanæ planiſſimè referunt. Nihil ad hoc reſpondere potes. Res ſole meridiano clarior eſt. 3. Jugum Præpoſiti Eccleſiæ imponunt, quoties leges pro imperio conſcientiis dictant, vel cultum non neceſſariis, nedum ſuperſtitioſis vel impiis legibus onerant, adeóque neſcio quos πλισμοὺς inducunt. Nihil tale Apoſtoli in Hieroſolymitana Synodo, ſed in caſu tantùm ſcandali Eccleſiæ conſuluerunt. uti comparatio loci 1. Cor. X. 25 27. perſpicuè docet, & nos peculiari ſcripto jam pridem apertiſſimæ veritati per argumenta inconcuſſa dedimus. Neque etiam quicquid Apoſtoli, ratione officii proprii, & peculiaris inſtinctus Spiritus S. potuerunt, alii quoque Paſtores, ratione officii communis, poſſunt.

OBIECT. IV. Chriſtus Joh. XX. 21. emittit Apoſtolos eo modo, quo ipſum miſit Pater. Sicut igitur Pater ipſum mittens poteſtatem condendi leges ei communicavit: Ita Chriſtus mittens Apoſtolos ſimilem poteſtatem condendi leges conſcientias obligantes, tum ipſis, tum eorum ſucceſſoribus communicavit. Reſp. Chriſtus à Patre miſſus eſt ut ſervus : Ita etiam Apoſtoli à Chriſto. Chriſtus accepit à Patre mandatum,quid loqueretur ipſe, quid loquendum præciperet aliis. Ita Apoſtoli à Chriſto acceperunt mandatum, quid loquerentur ipſi, quid loquendum præciperent aliis. Non licebat legationem egredi. Pater miſit filium ut miniſtraret. Ita Chriſtus miſit Apoſtolos ut miniſtros. Chriſtus à Patre miſſus eſt ad annuntiandam pacem & libertatem. Idem prædicari voluit ab Apoſtolis. Pater miſit filium,quem prædicavit Dominum unicum. Apoſtoli mittuntur,ut Dominum unicum prædicent. Aliter ſi eſſet, non eſſet talis miſſio Apoſtolorum,qualis erat Chriſti.

QUÆSTIO V.

An Baptismi efficacia se extendat etiam ad remissionem eorum peccatorum , qua post baptismum committuntur ?

NEgat Canon X. diris devovens eos, qui statuunt, peccata post baptismum admissa sola fide & recordatione baptismi susceptí condonari. Ad remissionem autem peccatorum post baptismum requirunt οἱ ἐξ ἐναντίας Sacramentum pœnitentiæ secunda, uti ex Hieronymo appellant, post naufragium tabula. In eo autem sive imponit imperitis, sive hallucinatur Synodus, quòd recordationem & fidem Baptismi interpretari videtur nudam susceptí semel baptismi reminiscentiam, sine alio motu animi. Nos verò docemus remitti peccata per solam Dei gratiam. Ejus porro Sacramentum esse Baptismum , quo obsignetur remissio non præteritorum duntaxat & præsentium , sed futurorum etiam peccatorum, ita tamen ut pœnitentia non Sacramentalis illa, sed in Evangelio mandata, ac inprimis salvifica fides non excludatur, sed ut medium salutis nostræ Divinitus constitutum baptismo suo loco, uti etiam in baptismo Johannis disertis verbis factum, coordinetur. Synodo igitur opponimus argumenta sequentia.

ARG. I. Talis est in suo genere baptismus , quale est fœdus gratuitum per cujus gratiam baptismus est efficax. Baptismus enim & fœdus ad se mutuò referuntur, ut signum & res signata. Atqui fœdus gratuitum est perpetuum, extendens se ad remissionem peccatorum non præteritorum duntaxat, sed etiam futurorum, Genes. XVII. 7. Levit. XXVI. v. 9. Esaj. LV. 3. Jerem. XXXII. 39. Hos. II. 19. Rom. III. 3. Quòd si fœdus gratuitum non sufficeret ad remissionem peccatorum postbaptismalium, oporteret secundùm numerum peccatorum multiplicari fœdus ipsum.

RESP. REDING : 1. Si fœdus gratiæ ad solum Baptismum coarctatum est, quid ergo de eo Eucharistia participat ? Quid pœnitentia, fides ? Diversimode igitur fœderis gratia communicatur Sacramentis, & Baptismo quidem, quoad remissionem peccatorum præteritorum : Pœnitentiæ, quoad remissionem sequentium. Aliàs frustra Apostolis potestas remittendi ac retinendi peccata post Baptismum commissa concessa esset. Cui enim bono jam ante in Baptismo remissa remitterentur denuo ? Id ipsum Græci juxta atque Latini Patres docuerunt. 2. Confundis Baptismi causam, fœdus Dei perpetuum, cum ejusdem effectu, remissione peccatorum, qui posterior perpetuus non est, vobis etiam fatentibus, Baptizatos fide posse excidere. 3. Neque iterùm secundùm numerum peccatorum postbaptismalium fœdus ipsum multiplicari necessum est, quia licet fœderis Divini intrinseca efficacia se ad omnium peccatorum remissionem extendat, tamen ejus applicatio diversimode fit per diversa media. Tomo II. Tract. V. Ss. 3. pag. 108-111. Resp. 1. Fœdus unum idémque Dei, comprehendens promissionem remissionis peccatorum à fidelibus commissorum & committendorum, adeóque sine discrimine omnium, verbo promissionis offertur, à parte Dei Spiritu S. à parte nostra fide salvifica, comitem & fructum certissimum habente Evangelicam pœnitentiam, applicatur: denique in Sacramentis obsignatur. Quamvis verò fœdus ipsum unum, ejusdémque promissiones eædem sint, diversimode tamen per diversa Sacramenta illas obsignare Deus voluit. Sic Baptismus, æquè ac circumcisio, est sigillum fœderis, eique connexæ remissionis peccatorum omnium, Genes. XVII. 10. Esaj. LV. 3. Jerem. XXXII. 39. Hos. II. 19. Act. II. 38. Aliter tamen initiatio fœderis, aliter progressus ejusdem obsignatur. Sicut enim homo naturalis non nascitur tantùm, sed etiam natus nutritur & incrementa sua habet : ita planè homo spiritualis in æternum fœdus gratiæ primò Spiritu Dei recipitur & adoptatur, post receptus & adoptatus, spirituali cibo & potu alitur, atque sic lœta incrementa in eodem fœdere capit, manentibus utrobique iisdém bonis & donis spiritualibus, remissione inprimis peccatorum omnium. Ita igitur Baptismo obsignatur initiatio & receptio in fœdus Dei : Eucharistia nutritio & incrementa hominis spiritualis in eodem fœdere. Fœdus, annexam habens promissionis remissionem peccatorum omnium, utrobique idem est : obsignatio pro diversitate applicationis ejusdem, per fidem puta tum incipientem, tum crescentem, variat. Sicut autem fides & regeneratio sive incipiens, sive crescens, non aliorum atque aliorum peccatorum, sed omnium (fœdus enim applicatum remissionis omnium sine discrimine peccatorum promissionem complectitur) remissionem apprehendit, sibique applicat : sic obsignatio & confirmatio fœderis, fide incipiente & progrediente applicati, varians licèt, peccatorum tamen remissionem neutiquam distinguit, neque discreta illa, sed eadem & quidem universa remissa obsignat. Obsignat enim fœdus idem æternum & perpetuum, annexam habens promissionem peccatorum omnium. Tu igitur in obsignato eodem fœdere, non diversum duntaxat obsignationis modum, sed diversam etiam rem obsignatam ; hoc est, remissionem aliorum peccaorum in Baptismo, aliorum in Eucharistia, aliorum in Pœnitentia (quam Sacramentalem falsò supponis, & in adultis Baptismum comitari, constat) ostende. Non poteris ex verbo Dei, quod nusquam sic beneficia fœderalia secat & discerpit, ostendere unquam. Neque enim Apostoli, quocunque etiam modo peccata remiserint, ea sic distincta & dissecta remiserunt, sed credentibus ex Dei verbo peccatorum omnium & singulorum remissionem prædicarunt. Aliàs quomodo conscientias laucias & laborantes pacare potuissent, si peccata iisdem alia se remittere, alia retinere, declarassent? Atque sic credentibus in Christum salutem neutiquam certam, sed perpetim nutantem, uti vos dubitantii soletis, annuntiassent? De Patrum sententia infra. 2. Ex iis, quæ à me jam dicta sunt, liquet, non me Baptismi causam, fœdus Dei, & effectum, remissionem peccatorum, (cùm tamen propriè nec fœdus Dei sit Baptismi causa, sed antecedens adjunctum, atque illud liberum; nec remissio peccatorum sit Baptismi effectus, sed ab eo obsignatum quippiam, adeóque prius) sed te potiùs diversum applicati & obsignati ejusdem fœderis modum cum re applicata & obsignata, quam ob diversum modum diversam nequicquam statuis, turpissimè confundere. Neque nos baptizatos salvifica fide semel præditos, eadem excidere unquam posse, statuimus, sed tu falsò id nobis impingis. 3. Cùm fœderis Divini intrinsecam efficaciam esse ad remissionem peccatorum omnium extendere fatearis, & in Baptismo æquè ac Eucharistia intrinseca fœderis efficacia, adeóque res utrobique & ubique eadem, variante licet obsignationis æquè ac applicationis modo; obsignetur, planum est, non alia peccata in Baptismo, alia post Baptismum remitti. Aliàs sanè pro numero peccatorum postbaptismalium fœdus ipsum, & media applicantia ac obsignantia multiplicari debere, planè, quod ego urgeo, consequeretur.

ARG. II. Scriptura Baptismo tribuit remissionem peccatorum omnium, & præteritorum quidem, Tit. III. 5. Gal. III. 27. præsentium, 1. Pet. III. 21. ubi Baptismus dicitur salvare νῦν ἐπιφανείαν, denique futurorum, Marc. XVI. 16. Qui crediderit & baptizatus fuerit, salvus erit. Unde etiam baptizari dicimur in mortem Christi, Rom. VI. 3. Mors autem Christi non præterita duntaxat, sed etiam futura peccata expiat.

Resp. Redino: 1. Inepte ex verbis Christi; Qui crediderit & baptizatus fuerit, salvabitur; elicis, Baptismum valere ad remissionem peccatorum non exantium. 2. An mors Christi etiam infidelitatis peccatum expiat? Non ergo mors Christi futura peccata omnia expiavit. Ib. pag. 111. Resp. Scripturam peccata in Baptismo remissa non distinguere, certum est. Nec tu aliud ostendere potes. Sine omni indicata temporis differentia Scriptura sic loquitur: Baptizabat Johannes in deserto, & prædicabat baptismum resipiscentiæ ad remissionem, Marc. I. 4. Baptizetur unusquisque vestrum in nomen Jesu Christi, ad remissionem peccatorum, Act. II. 38. Cur indefinitè sic Scriptura loquitur, neque ullam præterita à futuris peccatis distinguit, si dogma vestrum Spiritus S. dogma est? Dicunt Jurisconsulti; Ubi lex non distinguit, ne nos quidem debere distinguere. Et tam audaces simus nos, ut generalem hanc enuntiationem contrahamus, & dicamus, nonnisi præteritorum peccatorum remissionum in Baptismo esse? Atqui sic fiet, ut infantes non baptizentur in remissionem peccatorum, sed tantùm unius, nempe originis. Neque enim illi peccata multiplicaverunt. Cæterùm 1. ex verbis Christi: Qui crediderit & baptizatus fuerit, salvabitur, neutiquam ineptè, uti tu pro more tuo ineptis, collegi, Baptiſmi efficaciam ad futura etiam peccata extendi. Licet enim illa Baptiſmi tempore nondum extiterint, eorum tamen remiſſio eodem baptiſmo obſignari potuit. Aliàs non qui baptizatur, ſalvaretur, quia nemo ſalvatur, niſi cui peccata omnia, etiam futura remittuntur. Si enim futura non remittuntur, retinentur. Si retinentur, non ſalvatur is, qui baptizatur, ſed damnatur. Sive enim verba illa Chriſti intelligantur de ſalute in ſpe, uti Bellarminus contendit; ſive in re, certum eſt, ſalutem in re & in ſpe, non re ipſa, ſed ſola ratione differre. Eandem enim, quam nunc ſpe concipimus, olim adepturi ſumus. 2. Mors Chriſti quidni peccatum etiam infidelitatis expiaret, Redingi? Eorum videlicet, qui ab æterno electi, in tempore ſalvantur? Quot enim infidelium, ab infidelitate ſua converſorum, infidelitatis peccata expiavit? Ipſe eſt propitiatio pro peccatis noſtris; neque pro noſtris tantùm, ſed etiam totius mundi, 1. Joh. II. 2. Ergo baptizatorum, eorum ſcilicet, qui electi ad ſalutem ſunt, peccata omnia mors Chriſti piat. An hoc tibi inſolens, qui ſupra Chriſtum etiam pro reprobis mortuum eſſe, ſeverè contenderas?

ARG. III. Baptizati ſumus in Chriſtum, nempe ut paracletum & interceſſorem noſtrum, Matth. XXVIII. 19. Gal. III. 27. Joh. XI. 1. 2. Divinâ potentiâ oves ſuas conſervantem, Joh. X. 20. 1. Pet. I. 5. Cujus proinde gratiâ & potentiâ futura peccata nobis remittuntur.

RESP. REDING: Baptiſmi quidem efficacia à Chriſto dependet. Sicut autem Divina omnipotentia cum potentiarum noſtrarum viribus juncta, iis non communicat totam ſuam virtutem, ſed in menſura determinata duntaxat: ſic licet in Chriſtum baptizemur, non tamen Chriſtus huic baptiſmo omnem in remittendis peccatis etiam futuris virtutem ſuam indidit. Ib. pag. 111. Reſp. Inepta tua comparatio eſt. Deus enim vel potentiam, vel omnipotentiam ſuam nulli prorſus creaturæ communicavit; ſed per potentiam ſuam vires agendi, quas voluit, creaturis impertitus eſt. Quid hoc ad Chriſtum peccata remittentem, ſuos potenter cuſtodientem & ſalvantem; adeóque peccatorum remiſſionem & ſalutem plenam ſolidámque impertientem, & eandem in Baptiſmo obſignantem? Annon enim baptizamur in Chriſtum Salvatorem perfectum, principem & conſummatorem fidei ſalutiſque noſtræ? Atqui ſi in Baptiſmo quædam is peccata remittit, alia retinet, jam non in ipſum ut perfectum Salvatorem baptizamur, neque totum Chriſtum, omniáque ejus beneficia, fundum & fructum Baptiſmus obſignat.

ARG. IV. Per baptiſmum ſalvari dicimur, Marc. XVI. 16. Tit. III. 5. 1. Pet. III. 21. Ergo ejus efficacia etiam ad futura peccata ſeſe extendit. Absque eo enim per baptiſmum non obtingeret ſalus, ſed potiùs ea ſequentibus poſt baptiſmum peccatis impediretur, & infringeretur.

RESP. REDING: 1. Baptiſmus ſalvat, cum conditione perſeverantiæ uſque ad finem. 2. *Gratia univerſa, adeóque etiam baptiſmalis, peccatis ſubſequentibus extincta, per pœnitentiam poſtea ſubſecutam reviviſcit. In eo proin, qui cum finali perſeverantia ex hac vita diſcedit, Baptiſmus in æternæ ſalutis conſecutionem influit. Unde filio perdito pœnitenti paterfamilias Luc. peccatum mortale exuens, & per pœnitentiam justificatus denuo, mediante habituali gratia, jus ad gloriam æternam accipit. haud dubiè puniendus pœna damni, nisi Baptismi gratia cum primo gloriæ æternæ jure restitueretur. Ib. pag. 111-112. Resp. 1. Sic est. Sicut Baptismus non sine fidei, ita nec sine perseverantiæ conditione salvat. Atqui certam esse justificatorum in fide & justitia semel accepta perseverantiam, suprà asseruimus. Neque obstant quotidianæ incursionis peccata, quia una eademque gratia in Baptismo obsignata jam remissa sunt. Atque ideo Baptismus salvare dicitur. 2. Frustra gratiam baptismalem, hoc est, inhærentem quandam baptismo efficaciam supponis. Nulla enim gratia baptismo propria, adeóque, uti vocas, baptismalis datur. Imò gratiam jam ante existentem baptismus obsignat. Tum gratiam eam, quam Baptismus obsignat, sic in quoquam fideli extingui, ut per novum Sacramentum revivisere debeat, atque sic revivisens una cum Baptismali gratia salvet, inane, Scripturæ universæ, quæ gratiæ & fœderis Divini constantiam ubique, uti supra ostendimus, inculcat, penitus adversans figmentum est. Quomodo fœdus sempiternum, Gratiæ Davidis fideles, Esaj. LV. 3 misericordia Dei sempiterna, bonitas Dei, quæ nunquam deserit, fœdus pacis, quod nunquam mutat, Esaj. LIV. 7. 9. semen Dei regenerantis manens, 1. Joh. III 9. & incorruptibile, 1. Pet. II. 23. mori & extingui; quomodo mortuum & extinctum reviviscere potest? Argumentum ex stola filio perdito reddita petitum, utpote symbolicum humanum, nihil probat. Et ratio subjecta hypotheses falsas, sæpiusque elisas, supponit.

ARG. V. Non minor est efficacia baptismi, quàm olim fuit circumcisionis. Atqui circumcisionem valuisse etiam in futurum, liquet ex 1. Sam. XIV. 6. & XVI. 26. Quid ni igitur etiam baptismus in futurum valeat?

Resp. Reding: Circumcisio ad legalium Sacramentorum & sacrorum usum equidem supponebatur, ut ad horum mysticam significationem applicandum prodesset. Sic quoque Baptismus. Sed neutrum Sacramentum futura peccata remisit. Ib pag. 112. Resp: Israëlitis circumcisionem fuisse pro Baptismo, quia & Sacramento N. Test. majoris longè efficaciæ & virtutis esse, quàm Sacramenta V. Test. passim asseritis. Cùm igitur circumcisio valuerit etiam in futurum, & ex ea adulti, veluti Jonathan, 1. Samuel XIV. 6. David, ib. cap. XVI. 26. validissimas consolationes petierint, utique etiam Baptismus in futurum proderit, consolationes efficaces suggeret. Quomodo verò proderit, quomodo suggeret, si per quælibet peccata postbaptismalia fœdus Dei interrumpitur, & efficacia Baptismi infringitur? Quomodo prodest ad applicationem sequentium Sacramentorum, quod quovis peccato sequente interciderit, & ad restaurationem sui novo Sacramento, veluti secunda post naufragium tabula, indiget?

ARG. VI. Quid quòd idem baptismi Sacramentum obsignat gratiam justificationis? Atqui gratia justificationis absolvit justificatum non à præcedentibus duntaxat, sed sequentibus etiam, adeóque in universum omnibus peccatis.

Resp. Reding: Sic Baptismus gratiam justificationis obsignat, ut tamen à futuro infidelitatis peccato non absolvat. Aliàs hæretici baptizati, & in hæresi perseverantes, nulli damnarentur. Non igitur sic Baptismus justificationis gratiam obsignat, ut quævis peccata futura tollat. Ib. pag. 112. Resp. Quid sic tricati amas? Cùm gratia justificationis nis non quædam peccata remittat, quædam non, ſed omnia ſine diſcrimine, adeóque etiam infidelitatem, eorum ſcilicet, qui per fidem in Chriſtum juſtificantur, planum eſt, Baptiſmo, juſtificationis gratiam, in legitimo ſcilicet ejus uſu, obſignante, omnium peccatorum remiſſionem obſignari. Vel igitur nullorum peccatorum remiſſio, iis ſcilicet, qui ſignum baptiſmi, ſed non rem ſignatam; vel omnium ſine diſcrimine, iis, qui & ſignum, & rem ſignatam, ſive ante ſignum, ſive unà cum eo, ſive poſt illud, participant, obſignant. Fruſtra nobis hæreticos baptizatos, & rei Baptiſmi vel participes jam actu, vel participes futuros, ac ſimul in hæreſi uſque ad finem perſeverantes fingis. Tales enim in Baptiſmo præter nuda ſigna nihil accipiunt, neque unquam juſtificati ſunt, vel juſtificantur. Bellarminus ipſe de Bapt. lib. I. cap. 18. ingenuè fatetur, ſi nos juſtificemur non per inhærentem, ſed per imputatam juſtitiam Chriſti, propter quam ſcilicet peccata non quædam, ſed omnia ſimul ſemélque credenti non imputantur, ſed remittuntur, ſententiam noſtram de juſtitiæ nobis in Baptiſmo obſignatæ perpetuitate veriſſimam fore. Error igitur veſter de juſtificatione ἀρχῆς ψεύδους & fons eſt erroris veſtri de effectu Baptiſmi.

ARG. VII. Qui poſt baptiſmum peccant, efficaciam tamen baptiſmi non enervant. Sicut navi aliquis excidere poteſt, ipſa navi manente, incolumi. Is autem qui navi excidit, per gratiam Dei ad eandem, quippe integram, reverti poteſt, adeóque nova tabula haud indiget.

RESP. REDING: An qui navi excidit, retinet ſui ex navi ſuſtentationem? Ib. pag. 112. Reſp. Retinet utique, ſi ſint in navi, qui ſuſtentent, & poſtliminio in navim vindicent. Sic planè in Baptiſmo obſignatur gratia Dei ſuſtentans perpetua, quæ patitur juſtum ſibi quandoque relictum labi, ſed non collabi, καταβάλλεσθαι, ἀλλ' οὐκ ἀπόλλυσθαι, projici, ſed non perdi, 2 Cor. IV. 9. cadere ſepties uno die, non tamen corruere, quò minùs reſurgat, Prov. XXIV. 14.

ARG. VIII. Sententiam Concilii jam olim pia antiquitas damnavit in Meſſalianis. Et pro orthodoxa ſententia teſtimonium Theodoreti in Epitome de divinis decretis c. de baptiſmo, nec non Iſidori Peluſiotæ 3. Epiſt. 159. videſis apud Voſſium diſput. 5. de baptiſmo th. 3. Auguſtinus etiam Ep. 50. ait, propter lavacrum baptiſmi dimitti, quicquid ab iis, qui poſt baptiſmum acceptum hic vivunt, infirmitate humana contrahitur quarumcunque culparum. Quin & in eo nobis ſuffragata eſt pia antiquitas, cùm hæreticos redeuntes ad Eccleſiam ſine novo baptiſmo in gremium ſuſcepit, innuens eorum peccatis etiam poſt baptiſmum admiſſis præteritum baptiſmum prodeſſe.

RESP. REDING: 1. Veteres nobis potiùs ſuffragantes ſupra attulimus. 2. *Theodoreti ſententiam corrumpis. operis habere peccata, illa non regeneratione, sed alia curatione resarciantur; etiam hæreticorum peccatum non baptismo, sed alia curatione Ecclesia vetus resarcivit. lib. pag. 112. 113. Resp. 1. De testimoniis veterum à te citatis infra. 2. Messalianorum seu Euchetarum veterum, Theodoreto Hist. Eccl. lib. IV. 10. teste, dogma fuit, μηδεμίαν εἶναι βαπτίσματος ὠφέλειαν· ἀλλ' ἐκ μόνης εὐχῆς τὸ ἅγιον ἐμπνεῖσθαι πνεῦμα, μόνῳ δὲ τῷ σταυρώσαντι δυνατὸν τὸν δεσμώτην τοῦτον ἐξελαύνειν. Divini baptismatis lavacrum his, qui eo tincti erant, nihil omnino prodesse; sed solas preces ardentes dæmonem in animis habitantem expellere. Eos sic Theodoretus idem Epit. de Div. decr. cap. de Baptismo refellit: ὁ γὰρ τὰς φρενοβλαβεῖς Μεσσαλιανοὺς ἐπικρίζων, ξυρὸν μέντοι μιμεῖται τὸ βάπτισμα. ὃς ἀφαιρεῖται μὲν τὰς ἀκαθάρτους ἀφορμὰς ἀναπλάττει δὲ οὐδεμίαν. Non enim, ut dicunt amentes Messaliani, baptismus novaculam imitatur, quæ præcesserunt, peccata auferens: hoc enim ex superabundanti largitur. Si enim hic solus esset Baptismi effectus, cur pueros baptizemus, qui peccatum nondum gustarunt? Non enim hoc solum pollicetur Sacramentum, sed his etiam majora & perfectiora. Est enim arrha futurorum bonorum, & futuræ resurrectionis typus, & passionis Dominicæ communicatio, & Dominicæ resurrectionis participatio, & pallium salutaris, & tunica lætitiæ, & stola luminosa, vel potius lux ipsa. Annon vos Baptismum novaculam facitis, tollentem peccata præsentia, sed non futura? Quomodo futurorum bonorum arrha idem est, si futuris malis mederi nequit? Imò si per futura peccata gratia amitti potest? Quomodo per baptismum passionem Dominicam & resurrectionem participamus, si ejusdem fructum post baptismum amittere possumus? Si peccatorum passione Dominica obliteratorum omnium remissionem in baptismo non accipimus? En hæresin vestram, una cum hæresi Messalianorum, piæ antiquitatis rationibus prægnantibus prostratam! Proclive foret adductis variis veterum testimoniis in aprico collocare, nobilissimos ab iis S. Baptismo effectus tribui. cujusmodi sunt regeneratio, adoptio, receptio in fœdus gratiæ, peccatorum, sine ullo eorum discrimine, remissio, sanctificatio, sive renovatio nostri, quæ mortificatione veteris, & vivificatione novi hominis absolvitur, salus & vita æterna. quæ singula beneficia quomodo locum sine Baptismi in futuris peccatis remittendis efficacia habere possint, nunquam nos, Redingi, edocere poteris. S. Patrum Græcorum dicta plura Celeb. Collega noster Casparus Schwizerus Thesauro Eccl. sub voce Βάπτισμα; Græcorum verò & Latinorum Cl. Vossius de Bapt. Disp. 3. & 4. repræsentant. 3. Augustini verba augustiora sunt, quàm ut ea Sophistica tua obscurari queant. Recitasse ea sufficiat. Verba ejus ex Epist. 50. argumentum ipsum suppeditat. Alibi lib. I. de nupt. & concupisc. cap. 26. sic scribit: In eis, qui regenerantur in Christo, cùm remissionem accipiunt prorsus omnium peccatorum, utique necesse est, ut reatus etiam hujus, licet adhuc (post baptismum) manentis, concupiscentiæ, remittatur, ut in peccatum non imputetur. Clarissimè autem sic se ibid. cap. 33. explicat: Quòd ait Apostolus, Mundans eam lavacro aquæ in verbo; sic accipiendum est, ut eodem lavacro regenerationis, & verbo sanctificationis, omnia prorsus mala hominum regeneratorum mundentur, atque sanentur; non solùm præterita peccata, quæ omnia nunc remittuntur in Baptismo; sed etiam, quæ posteriùs humana ignorantia vel infirmitate contrahuntur: non ut baptismus, quoties peccatur, toties repetatur, sed quia ipso, quod semel datum est, fit, jus non solùm antea, verùm etiam postea quorumlibet peccatorum venia fidelibus impetretur. Et paux illò ante: Eadem regeneratione, qua fit per lavacrum aquæ, usque in finem, cuncta hominis mala purgantur atque sanantur. Idem Tract. 124. in Joh. Credentes, inquit, in Christum, per lavacrum regenerationis solute reatu omnium peccatorum (& originalis videlicet, contra quod quod maximè regeneratio eſt inſtituta, & caterarum, quæ malè agendo contracta ſunt) liberantur à damnatione perpetua. Quæ Auguſtini loca citantur etiam ab Alphonſo Salmerone Tom. 13. pag. 487. qui & inde concludit, Baptiſmo non tantùm præterita, ſed etiam futura peccata remitti. Simpliciter igitur Auguſtinus peccata etiam futura, adeóque in univerſum omnia remitti, curari, ſanari, purgari dixit. 4. Neque ſibi repugnat, alibi Epiſt. 23. ſic ſcribens: Semel acceptam parvulus Chriſti gratiam non amittit niſi propria impietate, ſi ætatis acceſſu tam malus evaſerit. Tunc enim etiam propriè incipiet habere peccata, quæ non regeneratione auferantur, ſed alia curatione ſanentur. Hoc enim ſibi vult, infantem, qui propria impietate gratiam Baptiſmi amiſit, eandem recuperare non per regenerationem, nimirum repetitam, quaſi iterum baptizandus eſſet, ſed per aliam curationem, ſuperadditam ſcilicet, & ex vi Baptiſmi. Hoc nos quoque docemus, memoriam Baptiſmi fidei & pœnitentiæ conjungentes. Non igitur hæreticorum peccata non baptiſmo curari, ſed non baptiſmo repetito, vi tamen Baptiſmi, fide & pœnitentia accedente, curari, Eccleſia vetus ſenſit. Sicut Baptiſmus pœnitentiam ſequens: ita etiam eandem præcedens, ad remittenda peccata confert, quantum quidem Sacramentum conferre poteſt.

ARG. IX. Denique Dominicus Sotó in quartum diſt. 6. quæſt. 1. art. 8. docet, non Auguſtini duntaxat ſententiam, ſed omnium Doctorum univerſalem concluſionem eſſe, iis, qui fictè ſuſceperunt baptiſmum, remota fictione prodeſſe baptiſmum. Quomodo autem iis prodeſſe poteſt, ſi nulla eſt baptiſmi in futurum efficacia? Nam in præſens quidem nulla eſt ejusmodi baptiſmi efficacia, quia juxta Auguſtinum impeditur ablutio peccatorum, quandiu fictio durat.

RESP. REDING: Auguſtini & Veterum mens eſt, Baptiſmi efficaciam fictione præpeditam, ſubſiſtere eatenus moraliter in acceptatione Dei Patris, ut remota in futurum fictione producat effectum remiſſionis peccatorum non cujuſvis, ſed illius, quæ per fictionem impediebatur. Atqui impediebatur remiſſio peccatorum præteritorum, non futurorum. Ib. pag. 112. 113. Reſp. Non tangis nervum argumenti: ſive illud non intelligis, ſive declinas. Veriſſimè S. Auguſtinus, Veteréſque alii docuerunt, iis, qui fictè baptiſmum receperunt ſemel, remota fictione baptiſmum ſemel ſuſceptum prodeſſe. Aliàs enim hæretici, aliíque obicem peccati mortalis operi operato Baptiſmi, cùm illud recipiunt, ponentes, remota hæreſi & impietatis obice, nullam baptiſmi initiò ſuſcepti efficaciam ſentirent, adeóque denuo baptizandi eſſent. Conſequens eſt, Baptiſmi efficaciam non in præteritum vel præſens tantùm, ſed in futurum etiam ſe extendere, adeóque eadem ratione futurorum etiam peccatorum remiſſionem obſignare poſſe. Cur enim Baptiſmus pridem ſuſceptus finitúſque, poſt longum demum tempus efficaciam ſuam exerere ad remiſſionem peccatorum, quæ Baptiſmum præceſſerunt, & ad tempus converſionis uſque exceperunt, poteſt: ad remiſſionem verò ſequentium converſionem peccatorum exerere non poteſt? Et ſi in futurum operari, cur in futurum non etiam peccata remittere poteſt? Denique fictio remiſſionem peccatorum & baptiſmum præcedentium, & eundem conſequentium, adeóque in univerſum omnium præpedit. Remota igitur fictio remiſſionem peccatorum omnium, & præteritorum & futurorum promovet. Dominici à Soto veſtri verba, ex quibus argumentum nectebam, in 4. diſt. 6. q. 1. a. 8. attexe-re non pigebit. Sic enim ille : Remota fictione per pœnitentiam baptismus statim consequitur suum effectum. Probatur authoritate Augustini prima de Baptismate contra Donatistas, c.12. Tunc enim, inquit, valere incipit ad salutem Baptismus, cùm illa fictio veraci confessione recesserit, quæ in corde malitia vel sacrilegio perseverante peccatorum ablutionem non sinebas fieri. Et paulò post : Conclusio hæc omnium est doctorum universalis.

Obiectiones Tridentinorum.

OBIECT. I. Paulus Hebr.VI.3.4. negat eos, qui semel φωτισθέντες illuminati, hoc est, baptizati sunt, si prolabantur, renovari posse ad pœnitentiam, puta baptismalem. Ergo peccata post baptismum commissa non remittuntur recordatione & fide baptismatis suscepti. Resp. Paulus nec de baptismo, sed de φωτισμῷ illuminatione, quæ & ante & post baptismum contingere potest: nec de quolibet peccato post illuminationem illam commisso, sed de peccato ad mortem & in Spiritum S. commisso, quod prorsus irremissibile est, loquitur. 2. Distinctio pœnitentiæ baptismalis & postbaptismalis, in qua videlicet nullum baptismi recordatio habeat momentum, non Scripturæ dogma, sed humani cerebri commentum est.

Excip. Reding : 1. Si Baptismo obsignatur gratia remissionis peccatorum Baptismo etiam posteriorum, qui locus esse potest peccato ad mortem, quod prorsus irremissibile est? 2. Hebr.VI.3.4. S.Paulus universaliter negat, eum qui semel illuminatus prolabitur, posse per pœnitentiam innovari. Non igitur id ad finale duntaxat infidelitatis peccatum coarctari potest. Quia proin quæpiam per pœnitentiam innovatio in semel illuminato impossibilis pronunciatur, oportet illuminatio illa sit irreiterabilis, adeóque baptismalis. Ita etiam Chrysostomus in loc.cit. agnoscit. 3. Idem S. Pater asserit, ei qui post baptismum relapsus est, non esse pœnitentiam ex altero baptismate, sed ex confessione peccatorum. Datur ergo pœnitentia baptismalis & postbaptismalis. lb.pag.113.114. Resp. 1. Quis nostrûm quolibet quorumlibet Baptismo obsignari baptizatis quibuslibet omnium peccatorum remissionem dixit? Fingis tibi, quæ magnus heros debelles, spectra. De iis loquimur, qui & signum & rem significatam participant. quos inter nullus est, qui peccati ad mortem, adeóque irremissibilis, reus esse possit. 2. S. Paulus illuminatum non quemvis, sed παραπεσόντα prolapsum, ad pœnitentiam renovari posse, negat. Aliud sanè est πεσὼν lapsus, aliud παραπεσὼν prolapsus. Prolapsos ad pœnitentiam non vel novam baptismalem, vel pœnitentiam sine baptismo, (nulla enim in textu distinctionis nota apparet) sed quemvis renovari posse, simpliciter negat. At lapsos post baptismum pœnitentiam agere, atque sic ad pœnitentiam renovari posse, ipsi vos inficias non ieritis. Non igitur prolapsi sunt quivis baptizati peccatores, sed peccatores ad mortem, seu in Spiritum S. quos solos ad pœnitentiam renovari impossibile est. Est sanè illa illuminatio prolapsorum irreiterabilis; at non necessariò propter Baptismum præcedentem, (quanquam hoc parum, vel nihil omnino ad rem facit) sed propter παράπτωμα prolapsum. Hanc enim solam causam Apostolus reddit. Ideo non ampliùs pœnitere, non denuo illuminari potest. Sive igitur φώτισμὸς illuminatio est baptismus, sive non est, hoc tibi probandum incumbit, illuminatos ex mente Apostoli, si prolabantur, posse innovari ad pœnitentiam quandam, sed non baptismalem. Nam S.Paulus non tinam ſpeciem pœnitentiæ,puta baptiſmalis,excipit,ſed univerſaliter pœnitentiam tollit. Aliàs dicendum fuerat,impoſſibile eſſe,ut ſemel illuminatus, hoc eſt,uti tu vis, baptizatus,ſi prolabatur,iterum illuminetur, vel baptizetur; non,iterum ad pœnitentiam innovetur. Hic rei nervus eſt,quem niſi incideris, nihil agis. 3. Dari pœnitentiam baptiſmalem,ſeu cum baptiſmo conjunctam, vel antecedentem, & poſtbaptiſmalem, nulli negamus. Sed poſtbaptiſmalem dari, in qua nullum Baptiſmi recordatio momentum habeat, adeóque Baptiſmus ſemel ſuſceptus efficaciam nullam exerat; hoc verò negamus.

OBIECT. II. Johannes I. Ep. cap. 1. agens de remèdio peccatorum poſt baptiſmum admiſſorum,non recordationem baptiſmi,ſed confeſſionem,quæ pars eſt Sacramenti pœnitentiæ, v. 8. ſuadet. Reſp. 1. Johannes cap. II. 2. præcipuum, imò unicum illud remedium facit Chriſtum tanquam ἱλασμὸν περὶ τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν ἡμῶν propitiationem pro peccatis noſtris. Cùm igitur baptiſmus propitiationis illius Sacramentum ſit, ejus utpote ſubordinati implicitè etiam meminit. 2. Confeſſionem laudat Apoſtolus, non Sacramentalem illam, quæ demurmuratur in aures Sacerdotis: ſed Evangelicam,eámque non vel Chriſti merito,vel baptiſmo oppoſitam,ſed ſubordinatam utrique. Unde etiam in adultis cum baptiſmo eam conjunctam fuiſſe,liquet ex Matth. III. 6.

EXCIP. REDING: Implicita, ſi quæ eſt in verbis S. Johannis, Baptiſmi mentio extendi non debet ad peccata futura, ſed præterita. Aliud proin ad futura expianda Sacramentum requiritur,puta confeſſio, Baptiſmo non oppoſita, ſed, ceu pars Sacramenti,ſubrogata. Ib. pag. 114. Reſp. De peccatis & præcedentibus & ſequentibus Baptiſmum,adeóque in univerſum omnibus, S. Johannes loquitur: iiſque, ſi humili confeſſione, qualis & in Baptiſmo, & poſt eum æqualiter requiritur, agnoſcantur, Chriſtum ἱλασμὸν propitiationem pro peccatis noſtris, ejúſque ſanguinem à peccatis omnibus purificantem opponit. Si ergo implicita ibi Baptiſmi mentio continetur, Baptiſmus ad obſignandam remiſſionem peccatorum non præteritorum duntaxat, ſed futurorum, imò omnium,(de his enim S. Johannes loquitur) valeat oportet. Ei verò confeſſionem Sacramentalem ſubrogari à S. Johanne, putidum commentum eſt. Sic enim reſpectu peccatorum ſaltem ſequentium Baptiſmum penitus aboleret. Neque ullus Sacramentalis confeſſionis apex apparet.

OBIECT. III. Si peccata poſt baptiſmum admiſſa ſuſcepti baptiſmi recordatione remitterentur, æquè facilis via reconciliationis daretur peccantibus ante, & poſt baptiſmum. Atqui id iniquum eſſet, cùm illi Deum ignoraverint,hi verò noverint. Reſp. 1. Quid apud Deum æquum iniquúmve ſit, non frivola imaginatio hominum,ſed Divina liberimáque voluntas pandit,uti in parabola Matth. XX. ipſe Chriſtus nos docuit. 2. Remiſſio peccatorum cùm ex mera Dei gratia & Chriſti merito proficiſcatur, ex peccatorum vel qualitate vel quantitate haud dimetienda eſt. Unde Spiritus S. tum ante tum poſt baptiſmum lapſos non aliò,quàm ad Chriſti ſatisfactionem in ara crucis crucis propoſitam revocat, neque uſpiam hanc differentiam ſtatuit, ut peccata ante baptiſmum patrata gratiâ Dei ſolâ, boſt baptiſmum verò admiſſa pœnitentiæ, hoc eſt,humanarum ſatisfactionum pretio diluantur & expungantur. Et qualiſcunque eſt peccatorum remiſſio,ſive facilis ſive difficilis,tamen remiſſio eſt, neque alia remiſſio, quàm quæ promiſſa & obſignata in baptiſmo. 3. Denique etiam Catechumeni ante baptiſmum Deum noverunt.

Excip. Reding : Peccata poſt Baptiſmum commiſſa gratiam in eodem collatam temerè prodigunt, adeóque juſtitiam Dei longè gravius concitant. Æquum igitur erat, præter Baptiſmum aliud remedium pro iis diluendis inſtituere. Licèt enim per abſolutum dominium aliter agere Deus potuiſſet, prævalet tamen ſemper ejus voluntas. Velle porro Deum non Baptiſmi, ſed Pœnitentiæ Sacramento ejusmodi peccata expiare, Patres agnoſcunt. Ib. pag.114.115. Reſp. Frigidiſſima ſomnia tua,non aliud,nobis propinas. Voluntatem Dei expiandi peccata poſtbaptiſmalia per humanas ſatisfactiones cur ex Dei verbo non demonſtras? Nam Patrum loca à te citata pœnitentiam quidem (Evangelicam, non Sacramentalem) commendant, ſed Baptiſmi fructum & efficaciam in diluendis peccatis iis non extenuant: nedum ſatisfactionis humanis ea in foro Dei purgari ſtatuunt. non laudandi, ſed improbandi potiùs, ſi aliter docuiſſent. Scriptura enim ſolo Chriſti ſanguine peccata piari tradit. Eadémque peccata juſtificatorum, adeóque amicorum faciliùs,non difficiliùs,quàm non juſtificatorum ſeu inimicorum remitti, teſtatur Rom.V.9. 10. Juſtificati nunc ejus ſanguine, ſervabimur multò magis per eum ab ira illa. Si enim,cùm inimici eſſemus, reconciliati ſumus Deo per mortem Filii ſui,multò magis reconciliati ſervabimur in vita ejus. Nam & ſic uſus eſt; ut difficilior ſit prima reconciliatio cum inimicis,quàm poſtea in reconciliatos indulgentia.

OBIECT. IV. Patres olim peccantibus poſt baptiſmum graves labores impoſuerunt antequam eos in gratiam reciperent. Non igitur apud eos ſola baptiſmi recordatio ſufficiebat. Reſp. 1. Non iccirco baptiſmi efficaciam ad ſequentia ſe ſe extendere peccata negârunt. Unde Auguſtinus lib.I. de Nupt.cap.33. Quid prodeſſet vel ante baptiſmum pœnitentia,niſi baptiſmus ſequeretur: vel poſtea,niſi praecederet? 2. Difficilimos labores impoſuit vetus Eccleſia, nimiam quandóque πλεονεξίαν ſectata, non ut promererentur peccatores Divinam peccatorum remiſſionem, ſed ut Eccleſiæ ſatisfacerent,& objectum ſcandalum expiarent,uti idem Auguſtinus Enchirid. ad Laurent.cap.65. teſtatur. 3. Sed & in eo diſſimilimi ſunt Patribus Papiſtæ, utpote qui & reconciliant ante labores impoſitos,& non tam labores, quàm quisquilias ineptiarum imponunt.

Resp. Reding : 1. Si Baptiſmi efficacia ad ſequentia peccata ſe extenderet, tum & culpam & pœnam eorum remitteret. Quomodo ergo locus eſſe potuit gravibus adeò laboribus, quos Patres peccantibus poſt Baptiſmum in vindictam ſcelerum impoſuerunt? 2. Auguſtinus pœnitentiæ Sacramentum innuit. Ib.pag.115. Reſp. 1. ba, impoſuiſſe labores ejuſmodi veterem Eccleſiam ad remiſſionem peccatorum in foro Dei? Hic ſudare, hic occare debes. Tota illa veterum ἀναγωγία, neſcio an conformis ſatis Dei verbo, non ad ſatisfaciendum Deo pro peccato, ſed Eccleſiæ pro ſcandalo; nec non ad internum animæ dolorem externis pœnitentiæ exercitiis teſtificandum, comparata fuit. Non obſcurè id tradit Hieronymus in Matth. cap. 6. ubi ſic ille: Fateor longè aliam eſſe rationem de criminum pœnitentia & ſatisfactione, de qua Eccleſia, quando læſionem accepit, & offenſa eſt, publicè ſuum judicium interponit, indicens ſatisfactionem publicam & graviorem, ut innoteſcat omnibus verè pœnitere, qui prompto animo ſuſcipiant, quicquid Eccleſia decreverit. Auguſtinus Enchirid. cap. 65. Quia, inquit, plerunque dolor alterius cordis occultus eſt alteri &c. veſtè conſtituuntur ab his, qui Eccleſiæ præſunt, tempora pœnitentiæ, ut fiat etiam ſatis Eccleſiæ, in qua remittuntur ipſa peccata. 2. Auguſtinus idem quomodo pœnitentiam illam, quam ſine Baptiſmo nihil prodeſſe dixit, Sacramentalem eſſe ſtatuerit, cur nos non doces? Ejus rei nec volam nec veſtigium reperio. Imo clariſſimè ex verbis Auguſtini ſequitur, labores pœnitentibus reconciliandis impoſitos, ſimiles eſſe iis, qui baptizandis imponebantur, etſi fortè graviores; & utroſque Baptiſmum ſupponere, alios futurum, alios præteritum; utrinque efficacem.

OBIECT. V. Hieronymus aliique Patres diſertè vocant pœnitentiam ſecundam poſt naufragium tabulam. Ergo peccata poſt baptiſmum admiſſa non baptiſmi recordatione & fide, ſed pœnitentiæ ſuccenturiata ſubſidio deleri aſſerunt. Reſp. Dictum illud veterum cum grano ſalis accipi debet. Neque enim eo pœnitentiam tanquam Sacramentum baptiſmo ſuccenturiârunt in foro poli, ſed tantum oſtendere voluerunt in foro Solì ſeu Eccleſiæ, jus communionis & Synaxeos peccato enormi poſt baptiſmum commiſſo, non aliter quàm pœnitentiâ publicâ ſeu canonicâ recuperari. Secus quàm Novatiani, qui ejuſmodi canonicæ pœnitentiæ locum omnino nullum conceſſerunt. Aliter ſi quis interpretetur dictum, diſſentientes nos habet. Etenim quî per peccatum excidit navi gratiæ, ſeu potiùs ſenſus ei per baptiſmum obſignati, ut tantiſper tentationum fluctibus percellatur, is ſecunda tabula haud indiget, cùm navis ſemper infracta & ſalva maneat, ad quam proinde baptiſmo veluti munitam & obſignatam ſine novo Sacramento reverti ipſi integrum eſt.

EXCIP. REDING: Hieronymus Epiſt. ad Sabin. ſic Deum loquentem induxit: Quòd ſi nec pœnitentiam vult agere, &, fracto navigio, tabulam, per quam ſalvari poterat, non retentat, cogor dicere, &c. Nónne averſabor eum? Ergo fractum gratiæ naufragium pœnitentia, ceu ſecunda tabula, reparari poſſe, docet. Ib. pag. 115. 116. Reſp. QUÆSTIO VI.

An vota Pontificia detrahant voto & promiſſioni in Baptiſmo facta?

NOn immeritò jam olim conqueſtus eſt Lutherus Lib. de Babylonica Captivitate, Pontificiorum votorum farraginem multùm detrahere voto in baptiſmo emiſſo. Quaſi enim baptiſmi votum non ſatis ſit vel præſtans vel ſufficiens, conquiri & cumulari alia, quibus conſcientiæ ita occupentur, ut & memoria baptiſmi obruatur, & dignitas ejus extenuetur. Huic veriſſimæ querelæ obliquè opponitur canon IX. qui anathema vibrat in eos, qui vota poſt baptiſmum facta, vi promiſſionis in baptiſmo ipſo facta, irrita eſſe pronunciant. Nos equidem quælibet poſt baptiſmum ſpecialia vota promiſſioni in baptiſmo factæ inſervientia haud condemnamus, & quædam legitimè voveri poſſe, ultro profitemur. Cæterùm Pontificia vota pleraque, qualia ſunt vota religionum, peregrinationum, aliorúmque ejusmodi operum, baptiſmi voto detrahere, adeóque eam ipſam ob cauſam irrita eſſe, aſſerimus. Etenim ARG. I. Regula & norma voti, quod in profeſſione baptiſmi emittimus, eſt ſententia Chriſti Matth. XXVIII. 19. quâ jubemur ſervare ea, quæ ipſe præcepit: nec non illa Pauli Rom. VI. 17. ubi per baptiſmum ſervi dicimur facti Deo traditi in formam doctrinæ Apoſtolorum. At vota Pontificia ejusmodi pleráque ſunt, ut homines non tam Divinis præceptis mancipentur, quàm humanis, ſuperſtitione dictante, traditionibus. Neque enim Chriſtus uſpiam religioſos ordines, peregrinationes, cœlibatum, paupertatem, cœcam obedientiam, opera ſupererogationis præcepit.

Resp. Rebing: Chriſtus ipſe Matth. XIX. 17--21. duo genera doctrinæ Chriſtianæ, alterum conſiſtens in præceptis, alterum in conſiliis, diſtinguit. At Matth. XXVIII. 20. de priori locutus, poſteriùs non excludit. Tomo II. Tract. V. ſ. 3. pag. 116. 117. Reſp. De verbis Chriſti Matth. XIX. 21. viderimus alibi, ubi ex profeſſo tractabuntur. Hoc unum hic contendo, cœlibatum, paupertatem, derelictionem omnium, &c. quæ conſiliorum à præceptis diſtinctorum fuco commendatis, vel eſſe in cenſu præceptorum Chriſti, non communium quidem, ſed perſonalium; adeóque Matth. XXVIII. 20. ſubintelligi: vel votivè tivè Deo,uti adverſarii temerè ſolent,promiſſa nec in præceptorum, nec in conſiliorum Chriſti numero putanda eſſe, adeóque Baptiſmi voto planè derogare.

ARG. II. Cùm Chriſtus unico voto,quod in Baptiſmo nuncupamus,nos obligaverit, credibile non eſt, ipſum infinitum illud votorum chaos, quod in Papatu obtinet,acceptum habere, inprimis cùm votum in Baptiſmo emiſſum prorſus obſcurent & imminuant,perinde ac ſi ſequentia illa & arbitraria vota illud planè irritum redere debuerint.

RESP. REDING: Quomodo ergo tu ipſe vota quædam ſpecialia ſuperiùs commendaſti? Et cur vota noſtra votum in Baptiſmo emiſſum obſcurare aſſeris? An quia arbitraria ſunt? Atqui vovere arbitrarium quidem eſt, ſed tamen verbi Divini commendatione probatum. Ib. pag.117. Reſp. Diſtingue votum, quod in Baptiſmo nuncupare Chriſtus juſſit, ab iis, quæ libertati fidelium relicta legitimè nuncupari poſſunt,ut voto Baptiſmali inſerviant, non repugnent, vel certè detrimentum aliquod faciant. Illa negamus voto Baptiſmali prohiberi; hæc, adeóque veſtra, prohiberi aſſerimus, non quia arbitraria (nam ne ſemper quidem arbitraria ſunt) ſed quia baptiſmale votum infinita ſua multitudine obruunt, & irritum fere reddunt; & aliis etiam modis, uti ſequentes rationes produnt, delinquunt.

ARG. III. Pontificia vota pleraque ita comparata ſunt,ut & in materia, quæ vovetur, peccent, & tantùm non directè Sacramento Baptiſmi opponantur. In Materia peccant ea,quæ verbo Dei repugnant. Veluti quòd vovetur cœlibatus,cujus obſervantia non eſt in poteſtate cujusquam; paupertatis non divinitus immiſſæ, ſed conſultò delectæ, & fucatæ ſtatus; obedientia hominibus devincta; ſuperſtitioſæ peregrinationes &c. Quæ ipſa etiam vota faciunt meritoria, & partem Divini cultus, non quoad actum duntaxat, ſed etiam quoad ſpeciem. Sed & Baptiſmo directè opponuntur. Etenim in ſcholis ſtatuitur,opus aliquod intra votum factum eſſe præſtantius & infinitis modis præferendum ei, quod ex ſimplici Dei mandato præſtatur. Imò perfectionis Evangelicæ ſtatum in iis collocant, adeóque fidelium Baptiſmo non obſcurè eum derogant. Deinde aſſerunt, religionis ſuſcipiendæ votum eſſe ad inſtar novi Baptiſmi, quem deinceps liceat toties renovare,quoties de integro religionis propoſitum renovatur. Ne dicam, Baptiſmi votum non alii quàm Deo nuncupari, cùm Pontificia pleraque nuncupentur ſanctis, tanquam, uti blaſphemat Cajetanus,Diis per participationem. Etiam baptiſmi votum uni religionis voto nos obſtringit. Pontificia verò variis diverſisque, & quandóque hoſtiliter invicem pugnantibus. Quales ſunt religiones Franciſci, Dominici, Auguſtini, Lojolæ &c. quas fictitias religiones meritò jam olim Anſelmus & Gerſon appellârunt.

RESP. READING : 1. An ergo consilium S. Pauli 1.Cor.VII.25. de non quærenda uxore, est materia peccati cum verbo Dei pugnans? Omnium votorum nostrorum materia similiter verbo Dei conformis est. 2. Materiarum illarum vota ex ipsomet consilio Christi conducunt ad cultum Dei in semetipso magis promovendum. Sunt ergo pars Divini cultus, & quidem meritoria. 3. Status supponens præceptorum Dei observantiam, ac præter hanc inducens ad statum perfectionis Evangelicæ, simplici præceptorum Evangelicorum statui præferendus est. Cùmque juxta vos sola fides ac recordatio Baptismi eandem efficaciam habeat, quam Baptismus ipse; cur fidei ad consilia usque Evangelica, perfectionisque adeò statum amplectendum, per charitatem successæ proportionaliter, ad instar Baptismi, non responderet vis interiorem spiritum depurandi? Verùm de his alibi. Ib. pag. 117. 118. Resp. Potuisses planè huic operæ parcere, quia nos quoque alibi singula hæc accuratiùs discutimus. Paucis igitur te expedire lubet. 1. Consilium S. Pauli 1.Cor. VII.25. de non ducenda uxore, non est consilium de vovendo perpetuo cœlibatu. Nam de voto nullus apex loquitur. Fruſtra igitur voti vestri materiam ex S Paulo arcessis. Par ratio est votorum vestrorum omnium. 2. Neque quicquid ad cultum Dei conducit, cultus pars est, nedum meritoria. Ita sine externo ordine, & circumstantiis loci ac temporis cultus exerceri nequit. Neque tamen in iis pars cultus ulla consistit. Et quomodo cultus Dei necessarius in votis arbitrariis consistere potest? 3. Status verò ille, in quo & præcepta Dei perfectè observentur, & ultra ea consilia perfectionis Evangelicæ, seu supererogatoria opera præstentur, Utopicus est. Non tantùm enim in militante Ecclesia nemo eò perfectionis assurgit, ut perfectè legem impleat, uti supra evicimus: sed etiam supererogatio impossibilis est, quia amore Dei & proximi, quam lex præcipit, nihil majus est, neque etiam ullum officium Deo placens excogitari potest, quin ad amorem Dei vel proximi referri debeat, adeóque eatenus debitum sit. Inceptè etiam asseris, memoriæ Baptismi eandem nos efficaciam tribuere, atque Baptismo quasi alia memoriæ, alia Baptismi efficacia sit. Nos verò Baptismi efficaciam unam eandémque, sed continuatam, quæ sine pia recordatione vim suam non exerit, statuimus. Tu verò impia vota vestra, Evangelicæ perfectionis axiomate nequicquam fucata, Baptismi voto vel adæquans, vel præferens, Baptismi Sacramentum nefariè deprimis.

ARG. IV. Sed & votum Baptismi uni Deo & Christo nos devincit, & libertatem Christianam, ac exemptionem plenissimam à mandatis & traditionibus hominum confert. Cum qua libertate laquei illi, vincula & leges votorum Pontificiorum è diametro pugnant.

RESP. READING : Libertas Christiana per Baptismum collata non absolvit à mandatis humanis, legitima per Deum ordinata authoritate nixis. Votorum verò vinculum Divinum etiam, non humanum est. Ib. pag. 118. Resp. In cultu Dei ab humanis mandatis omnibus conscientiam obligantibus absolvere, supra vidimus. Voti porro legitimi, à quo leges humanæ, & laquei absunt, vinculum Divinum esse, neque adeò libertati Christianæ illud præjudicare, largimur.

ARG. V. In Baptismo abunde & plus quàm exsolvere possimus, vovimus; satis etiam negotii habituri, si per vitæ nostræ decursum uni illi voto liberando fuerimus intenti. Quantò igitur rectiùs Christiani inducuntur, cuntur, ut omissis votis, quæ nec Dei mandatum, nec Scripturæ exemplum habent, Baptismi voto præstando animum unicè applicent? Bellarmini porro argumenta, quibus hoc Concilii anathema adversus Lutherum propugnat, frivola planè, paucis etiam excutiemus.

RESP. REDING: Cur verò Christiani in Baptismo votum Deo nuncupant, si illud exsolvere nequeunt? Quomodo sic Christi lex jugum suave, & onus leve est? Ib. pag. 118. Resp. Quia sic Christus voluit, sic justit. Est ei pro ratione voluntas. Sibi nos, tanquam pretio emptos, obligavit mancipavítque totos. Imperfectioni verò nostræ in solvendis votis clementer idem indulget, qui defectus nostros omnes sua perfectione tegit. Christi dictum de jugo suavi suprà quoque explicatum dedimus.

OBJECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. In Baptismo non est votum proprie dictum, tum quia sic omnia baptizatorum peccata essent duplicia, nempe & contra legem & contra votum, adeóque etiam sacrilegia, utpote contra voti religionem pugnantia: tum quia fideles, quando baptizantur, nullam habent explicitè intentionem obligandi sui, nisi quantum obligantur ex legibus ipsis: tum denique, quia quod promittunt parentes loco infantum, hi adulti ratum habere tenentur nolentes volentes, cùm tamen votum non sit necessitatis, sed liberæ voluntatis. Ergo vota Pontificia Baptismi voto non detrahunt. Resp. 1. Atqui in Baptismo quisque se, fidémque suam Deo obstringit, tum Diabolo & mundo renuntians, tum se Deo subjiciens. Proinde etiam Lombardus & Aquinas votum commune vocant illud, quod in Baptismo omnes faciunt, cùm spondent renunciare Diabolo & ejus pompis. Et Nazianzenus Orat. 40. agnoscit in baptismo esse ὁμολογίαν professionem, tum συνθήκην πρὸς τὸν Θεὸν pactum cum Deo. 2. Peccata baptizatorum esse duplicia, & sacrilegia, quid vetat dicere? Sanè Paulus fornicationem eo nomine indignissimam vocat, quod violet templum Dei, quod est ἱερόσυλον. 3. Numquid verò non intentio obligandi sui, quando lex requirit, quando firmatur promissione sacra, est explicitum votum? Quæ enim expressior promissio esse potest, quàm quæ ex Evangelici fœderis formula à fideli, stipulante pastore, emittitur? 4. Denique vota libera, quæ non fiunt ex obligatione legis, pro aliis facta vota non sunt, nisi libera voluntate rata habeantur. Ita liberi olim à parentibus Deo consecrati, tenebantur ipsi se ipsos Deo consecrare, ut Samson, Samuel.

EXCIP. REDING: Voluntas sive implicita, sive explicita servandi omnia Dei præcepta, dici potest transcendentaliter votum, quia non specificam ex pacto in vi debiti erga Deum homagii resultantem propriam, sed universæ Divinæ legis communem obligationem importat. Quo sensu etiam universa baptizatorum peccata sunt sacrilegia. Voti verò specificè sumpti propria obligatio ex spontaneo pacto resultat. Ib. pag. 119. Resp. Quasi scilicet in baptismo non sit obligatio erga Deum ex pacto. Annon enim sicut olim circumcircumciſio, ita hodie Baptiſmus eſt ſigillum fœderis, ſeu pacti, quod Deus cum homine inivit. Eſtque illius obligatio & propria, quia tum infantes baptizati, quando adoleſcunt, tum baptizati adulti propria, non aliena voluntate ſe obligant: & ſpontanea, quia naturali obligationi Deo Creatori, jure creationis, debitæ ſponte ſuperadditur. Si votum eſt propriè & ſpecificè dictum veſtrum coecæ obedientiæ votum, quo homini ſponte delecto religioſam in omnibus, quæ ille præcipit, obedientiam vovetis, quidni votum propriè & ſpecificè tale erit Chriſtianorum omnium, Chriſto Redemptori in Baptiſmo ſponte, ultra debitam ob beneficium Redemptionis obligationem, religioſam obedientiam, ſeu officium obſequendi ei in omnibus, quæ ipſe præceperit, voventium?

OBIECT. II. Vota ſunt de jure naturæ. Non igitur baptiſmo detrahere poſſunt. Reſp. At vota Pontificia, de quibus ſuſcepta eſt hæc diſputatio noſtra, & verbo Dei & juri Naturæ, & Baptiſmi adeò Sacramento adverſantur, utpote quæ non ſoli Deo, ſed etiam Sanctis, & in re vel illicita, vel noſtræ poteſtati haud ſubjecta nuncupantur, & Chriſtianæ libertati repugnant. Proinde veri nominis vota non ſunt.

Excip. Reding: Nec antecedens, nec conſequentiam negare potuiſti, ſed ad calumniandum te convertiſti. Ib. pag 119.120. Reſp. Vota legitima ab illegitimis, cujuſmodi veſtra, quæ oppugnamus, ſunt, diſtinguere debui. Illegitima, adeóque etiam Pontificia, juri naturæ repugnare cùm dixi, clarè ſatis antecedens ideſt acceptum negavi. Neque per calumniam à me quicquam dictum eſſe, in loco probabitur.

OBIECT. III. Falſum eſt, in Baptiſmo plus nos promittere quàm præſtare poſſimus, cùm Chriſtus ipſe legem ſuam vocet jugum ſuave. Reſp. Quo ſenſu Chriſtus jugum ſuum ſuave vocet, ſuperiùs vidimus.

Excip. Reding: Supra dicebas, vota Pontificia eo etiam nomine cum verbo Dei, jure naturæ, & Baptiſmo pugnare, quia ſunt de re poteſtati noſtræ non ſubjecta. At hic tacitè fateris, quod priùs expreſſè negabas, rem in Baptiſmo promiſſam à nobis præſtari non poſſe. Anne ergo ſecundum tuum malignandi ſpiritum etiam Baptiſmi votum eſt de re pugnante cum verbo Dei, jure naturæ, & Baptiſmo? En apertam Spiritus tui turpitudinem? Ib. pag. 120. Reſp. Diſtingue impletionem præceptorum Chriſti fidelem, ſinceram, ſeriam, ab eorundem impletione abſoluta numeris omnibus: nec non ea, quæ in poteſtate ſunt fidelium omnium propter commune ſpiritus regenerantis donum; &, quæ in poteſtate ſunt quorundam duntaxat, propter ſingulare chariſma; & malignantis Spiritus tui ſtoliditatem apricaberis ipſe. Quæ baptizati vovent, poſſibilia ſunt, & in poteſtate voventium eatenus ſunt, quatenus pro modulo gratiæ & ſpiritus regenerantis ſincerè & integro corde Chriſto uni Domino ſuo adhærere, ejúſque imperata facere poſſunt. Si enim ſic non poſſent, temerè voverent. At iidem infirmitatibus ſuis circumvallati non rarò impingunt, adeóque abſolutam omnibus numeris obedientiam præſtare in hac vita nequeunt. Quia tamen ad perfectionem niti & contendere omnibus viribus tenentur, hoc potiùs illos agere, & non novis ac non neceſſariis votis ſe conſtringere, cursúmque voti baptiſmalis ſufflaminare debere, rectè & ordine monui.

nui. Alia longè votorum veſtrorum,cœlibatus inprimis,ratio eſt. Ibi enim Monachi vos vovetis perpetuam continentiam, quæ, ceu idion χάρισμα proprium & ſingulare, adeóque quorundam,non omnium fidelium, donum in voventium quorumvis poteſtate non eſt; & de quo ſaltem dono ad vitæ uſque finem continuaturo nemo Mortalium certus eſſe poteſt. Veſtrum ergo iſthoc votum prorſus temerarium eſt,quia de re quibuſdam impoſſibili, omnibus incerta nuncupatum: Baptiſmi verò votum legitimum planè,quia de re & licita & poſſibili per Spiritus S. gratiam omnibus fidelibus, eatenus ut ſincerè & fideliter Chriſto Domino ſuo adhæreant,ejúſque juſſa faciant. gratiam faciente eodem Domino, ſi quando extra orbitam mandati officii aberraverint ; & manente ſemper promptitudine ſpiritus,cùm caro reſidua infirmitatem ſuam exerit.

OBIECT. IV. Baptiſmus eſt ſufficiens ad ſuum finem, nempe ad ſalvandum hominem. At vota baptiſmo addita efficiunt, ut facilius & excellentius aliquis ſalvetur. Reſp. Ita Bellarminus vota Baptiſmo jam non exæquat, ſed ut excellentius ſalutis medium,ſupra illum extollit. De quo judicent piæ mentes. Si facilius excellentiúsque ſalutis medium ſunt vota,utique Chriſtus de electorum omnium ſalute æquè ſolicitus, vota æquè ac Baptiſmum,imò magis omnibus commendâſſet.

EXCIP. REDING: Bellarminus, cum quo malitiosè hic agis, Baptiſmum cum votis non ſeorſim ſpectatis, ſed cum eo conjunctis comparat. Annon verò S. Paulus continentiam laudavit eo nomine, quòd ſic expeditiùs facere liceat, quæ ſunt Domini? Ib. pag.170. Reſp. Neque aliter Bellarmini verba explico, nempe de votis Baptiſmo additis,non ſeorſim ſpectatis. Quid ergo tu paratragœdiaris? Manet,Bellarminum vota Baptiſmo juncta, ſupra Baptiſmum ſimplicem extuliſſe; cùm tamen vota, ſi quid efficiunt, nonniſi Baptiſmo inſervire ad conſequendum proprium finem debeant. Neque S.Paulus continentiam votivam,ſed quorumdum,ſingulari ejus dono gaudentium,laudavit.

QUÆSTIO UNICA.

An Confirmatio baptizatorum ſit verum & propriè dictum Sacramentum?

AFfirmat Canon I. Definitionem ante omnia confirmationis Pontificiæ ponemus verbis Petri de Aliaco, Cardinalis Cameracenſis in 4.q.4. Confirmatio eſt, inquit, unctio hominis Viatoris, viri ſcilicet vel mulieris, nec actualiter nec habitualiter diſſentientis, facta in fronte, in figura crucis cum chrismate ſanctificato, & hoc à miniſtro idoneo, ſimul cum intentione debita in ungente, certa verba proferente ex inſtitutione Dei, ſignificans unionem animæ per gratiam roborantem, ad confitendum cum fiducia fidem Chriſti. Eodem recidit definitio Gabrielis Biel. Conſtat autem confirmatio ſigno crucis, chriſmate ex oleo olivarum & balſamo, alapa, quæ non ab alio, quàm Epiſcopo, confertur his fere verbis: Signo te ſigno crucis, & confirmo te chriſmate ſalutis, in nomine Patris, Filii & Spiritûs S. Confirmationem ejusmodi vel veri nominis Sacramentum, vel utilem Eccleſiæ ritum eſſe, negamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Sacramenta N. T. à Chriſto inſtitui debuiſſe, & inſtituta eſſe, fatetur Synodus ipſa Can. 1. de Sacr. in gen. Nec ab aliis inſtitui potuiſſe agnoſcit Suarez, tum quia inſtitutio Sacramenti pertinet ad poteſtatem excellentiæ, quam ſolus Chriſtus habuit: tum quia ſolus Chriſtus effectum Sacramenti in viſibili ſigno infallibiliter promittere potuit. At Chriſtus confirmationis Sacramentum nec mandato nec actu uſpiam inſtituiſſe legitur. Neque verò ratio ulla erat, cur Chriſtus hoc Sacramentum inſtitueret, cùm ſpirituale robur & argumentum, quod hic prætexitur, Baptiſmo, Euchariſtiâ, precibus, Sanctitatis quotidianæ exercitio, ac inprimis Spiritûs S. gratiâ abunde acquiratur. Non eſſe à Chriſto inſtitutam confirmationem, ut Sacramentum, fatetur Alexander Alenſis in Summa Theologia, juſſu Innoc. IV. ſcripta, & ab Alexandro IV. diplomate munita. Dicit autem eſſe inſtitutum hoc Sacramentum in Concilio Meldenſi, quantum ad formam verborum & materiam elementorum.

RESP. REDING: 1. Confirmationem eſſe Sacramentum, ex Scriptura & veterum teſtimoniis liquet. 2. Alexander Alenſis Concilio Meldenſi Sacramenti hujus inſtitutionem ſecundariam, non primariam tribuit. Canon enim Meldenſis in cap. Ut Epiſcopi diſt. 5. relatus ſic habet: Nonniſi jejuni per impoſitionem manuum Spiritum S. tradunt. Noverat autem Alenſis, quòd Spiritus S. non poſſit dari per ſenſibile aliquod ſignum, niſi efficaciam ex Divina inſtitutione habeat. Tomo II. Tract. V. ſ. 3. pag. 121. 122. Reſp. 1. Et Scripturæ & veterum teſtimonia à vobis obducta infra expendemus. 2. Inſtitutionis primariæ & ſecundariæ abſurda diſtinctio nunquam Alenſi in mentem venit. Ille enim Part. 4. q. 14. membro 1. vel à Chriſto, vel ab Apoſtolis inſtitutum hoc Sacramentum eſſe, ſimpliciter negat, & quidem his argumentis inductus, quia non legitur in Scriptura, quando, vel ubi confirmatio inſtituta fuerit; & quia nec Chriſtus, nec Apoſtoli uſi ſint hac vel materia, vel forma, ſed ſola impoſitione manuum. Unde concludit: Sine præjudicio dicendum, quòd neque Dominus hoc Sacramentum inſtituit, neque diſpenſavit, neque Apoſtoli. Et Apoſtolos quidem vim ac robur Spiritus S. accepiſſe in plenitudine, adeóque confirmatos eſſe, confitetur; ſed ab ipſo Spiritu S. immediatè ſine Miniſtro & Sacramento; & ipſos deinde pariter quoque ſine Sacramento confirmaſſe. Poſtquam verò Apoſtoli, Eccleſiæ baſes, defecerunt; tum, inquit demum inſtitutum eſt hoc Sacramentum Spiritus S. inſtinctu in Concilio Meldenſi, quantum ad formam, & materiam elementarem, cui etiam Spiritus S. contulit virtutem ſanctificandi. Soto in 4. d. 7. art. 1. ait, alios Aurelianenſi, non Meldenſi Synodo inſtitutionem hanc tribuiſſe. Bonaventura hanc Præceptoris ſui ſententiam ipſe quoque ſequitur: & cum eodem Jacobus Cardinalis à Vitriaco, Alenſis σύγχρονος Hiſtor. Occid. cap. 37. paria facit. ut & Aureolus & Cardinalis Contarenus. Valentia T. 4. in Thom. diſp. 5. q. 1. ait, hanc iſtorum opinionem omnino fatuam eſſe, & jam poſt tot alias Eccleſiæ declarationes eſſe planè erroneam & hæreticam. His enim verborum floſculis veterum, etiam eorum, quos ut cœlites colunt, (talis Bonaventura eſt) ſententias novitii Jeſuitæ conſpergunt. Neque ſanè, quod tu ſciole ariolaris, Alenſis novit, ſenſibile ſignum nonniſi ex Divina Chriſti & Apoſtolorum inſtitutione efficaciam habere. ſed ſufficiſſe putavit inſtinctum Spiritus S. quo Patres Meldenſis Concilii agitati fuerint, uti verba ejus ſuperiùs recitata innuunt.

ARG. II. Veri nominis Sacramentum adminiſtrari debet à miniſtro divinitus ordinato. Jam de miniſtro confirmationis in Concilio gravis equidem diſputatio eſt oborta. Franciſcani, Bonaventuram & Scotum ſecuti, ſoli Epiſcopo miniſterium hoc ſacrum eſſe volebant: Dominicani verò cuilibet Sacerdoti, cui id Papa permiſerit. Et poſteriores quidem nitebantur authoritate Gregorii Papæ, miniſterium hoc etiam minutis Sacerdotibus permittentis. Decretum tandem eſt, uti liquet ex Can. 3. ordinarium ejus miniſtrum eſſe Epiſcopum. Atqui Epiſcoporum à Presbyteris diſtinctio cùm non ſit juris divini, adeóque Epiſcopi Pontificii non ſint divinitus inſtituti, uti infra probabimus, utique ordinarius ille confirmationis miniſter à Chriſto ordinatus non fuerit.

RESP.

RESP. REDING : 1. Diſputatio, quam in Concilio de Miniſtro Sacramenti hujus agitatam ſcribis, commentis Suavianis non caret. 2. Sicut manuum impoſitio ſolis Apoſtolis olim convenit : ita confirmare ſoli Epiſcopi jure Divino poſſunt. Ita in quolibet opere ultima conſummatio, qualis reſpectu Baptiſmi confirmatio eſt, ſupremæ arti reſervatur. Interim praxis Eccleſiæ docet, poſſe id munus ex delegatione Summi Pontificis ſimplici Sacerdoti convenire. Ib. pag. 122. 123. Reſp. 1. Cur igitur commenta illa Suaviana non oſtendis? Plus candoris Pallavicinus habuit, qui eam in dubium revocare auſus non eſt. Quid verò, Redingi? Annon verum eſt, quod Suavis ſcribit, Gregorium Papam Confirmationis ad miniſtrationem etiam minutis Sacerdotibus permiſiſſe? Cùm igitur jus illud Epiſcopis eximium eſſe, Bonaventura, Scotus, & univerſus Franciſcanorum chorus pertenderint pridem, an incredibile eſt, ſententiam ſuam, in dubium fortè à Dominicanis vocatam, Franciſcanos propugnaſſe, & quæ diſſidia ante Concilium inter partes illas in plurimis ſibi mutuò infeſtas æſtuaverunt, in ipſo Concilio, ubi res decidenda fuerat, efferbuiſſe? Cur ergo diſputationem illam à Suavi, cui ſcriptori integerimo plus injurato, quàm tibi jurato crediderim, narratam, ſine ulla ratione laceſſis? Olim quidem Armacanus lib. II. de quæſt. Armen. cap. 4. ſtatuit, Sacerdotes, quinimò & Diaconos jure Divino eſſe ordinarios Sacramenti hujus miniſtros. Nec quæro, inquiebat ille, qualia ſint decreta Eccleſiæ, ſed quid poteſt ex Sacra pagina elici. Quæ viri oratio Dominicum à Soto ita commovit, ut ad hæc ejus verba in 4. d. 7. art. 11. ſ. De hoc ita ſcripſerit : Perſpice impiam hominis impudentiam. Fatetur enim, decretis Eccleſiæ definitum eſſe contrarium. Nihilominus errorem ſuum ex Sacra pagina colligit. Quali nefas foret, ſepoſitis paulìſper Eccleſiæ decretis, attendere, quid ex una Scriptura elici poſſit. Quid gravius ille commeritus eſt, quàm ex altera parte Scotus, Aureolus, Gabriel & alii, qui in hac de Confirmationis Miniſtro controverſia alteram quæſtionem, an jure Divino idem ſit Epiſcopus, qui Presbyter, commemorant, & prout hæc vel illa pars quæſtionis ſupponitur, ita de Miniſtro Confirmationis ſtatuunt. Scotus in 4. d. 7. q. 1. Alii, inquit, poſſunt eſſe duo modi probabiles, unus, quòd in primitiva Eccleſia non erat differentia inter Sacerdotes & Epiſcopos. quod probatur per duas authoritates Hieronymi, &c. Ita Aureolus in 4. d. 7. q. 2. Hæc, inquit, de Confirmationis Miniſtro quæſtio magnam habet difficultatem. & poſt pauca : Quoad primum, ſciendum eſt, quòd ſecundum aliquos Epiſcopus & Sacerdos non differunt. Unde Epiſcopus non eſt niſi ſimplex Sacerdos, habens tamen majorem Parochiam & authoritatem. 2. In argumento tuo pro Epiſcopis falsò ſupponis, vel manuum impoſitionem ab Apoſtolis uſurpatam eſſe chriſmationem veſtram : vel in locum Apoſtolorum ſucceſſiſſe Epiſcopos, perſonatos illos inprimis veſtros, qui præter nomen nihil habent : vel confirmationem eſſe Baptiſmi conſummationem. Singula hæc λαμβανόμενα, non δεδόμενα ſunt. Unum addo, Tridentinos Patres de confirmat. can. 3. definientes, Confirmationis ordinarium Miniſtrum eſſe ſolum Epiſcopum, certis verbis illuſiſſe lectori, & diverſæ duarum partium libidini abblanditos eſſe. Nam etiam poſt definitionem illam alii pertendunt, ſolum Epiſcopum eſſe Sacramenti hujus Miniſtrum : alii miniſterium illud, à Papa extra ordinem committi poſſe aliis. quam ſententiam certam eſſe, imò haberi jam tanquam de fide, apud Valentiam Tom. IV. Diſp. 5. pag. 1. aſſerunt. multùm repugnante Eſtio in 4. Sent. D. 7. ſ. 21. 22. 2111. Et ſanè ſi à Chriſto inſtituti ſunt Sacramentorum Miniſtri, quomodo Papa efficere poſſit, ut validum ſit Sacramentum, quod ab alio adminiſtratur, tu, Redingi, qui novus velut quodlibeticus utramque ſententiam tueris, videris.

ARG. II.

ARG. III. Sacramenti materia externa, ſeu elementum & ſignum viſibile, expreſſo Dei verbo ut tale definitum ſit oportet. Atqui confirmationis ſignum ſeu elementum, nimirum chriſma ex oleo & balſamo mixtum, nuſpiam in verbo Dei, tanquam Sacramentale ejuſmodi ſignum definitum eſt. Nuſpiam enim vel verbum Dei, vel pia antiquitas ejuſmodi chriſma nobis commendat. Idque agnoverunt etiam Veteres Canoniſtæ, agnoſcunt hodierni Jeſuitæ, qui hoſtiliter de eo cum Sorbona maximè confligantur, uti conſtat ex recenti digladiatione Sirmondi cum Petro Aurelio. Negant nempe Canoniſtæ & Jeſuitæ, juxta veteres, confirmationis ſignum, ſeu externam materiam eſſe chriſma, imò illud eſſe de eſſentia Sacramenti inficiantur, eíque ſubſtituunt impoſitionem manuum. Sanè etiam Concilium magnum Moguntinum c. 18. ait, Sacramenti hujus materiam eſſe immutatam, hoc eſt ex ritu indeterminato, puta manuum impoſitione, Apoſtolos feciſſe determinatum, videlicet Chriſmationem, uti Tapperus id explicat. Atqui ipſe ille ritus indeterminatus, manuum impoſitio, à Chriſto nuſpiam eſt mandatus vel in baptiſmo uſurpatus: nec vel manuum impoſitio, quippe actus miniſtri & communis imò temporarius, & in Vetiam Teſtamento uſitatus ritus, eſſe viſibile & determinatum ſignum Sacramenti alicujus, vel ex eo tanquam ritu indeterminato, fieri poteſt ritus determinatus, Chriſmatio, quia ab hac manuum impoſitio prorſus exulat. Ne dicam, apud ipſos etiam Pontificios parum conſtare, anne Apoſtoli conferendo hoc Sacramentum uſi fuerint chriſmate, uti liquet ex variis ſententiis ea de re allatis à Conink q. 72. art. 3. dub. 2. qui etiam dubio 1. oſtendit, ſuos adhuc digladiari, an requiratur neceſſariò commixtio olei & balſami, & quale debeat eſſe illud balſamum, Palæſtinum an Indicum, & quis chriſma conſecrare debeat? Et quis tandem induci poſſit, ut credat, Apoſtolos ſimplicitatis ſtudioſiſſimos pro manuum impoſitione delegiſſe chriſma, hoc eſt, unguentum ex oleo & balſamo, adeóque diverſis & inuſitatis ſpeciebus concretum? Etenim balſamum olim ſolæ in Judæa arbores ſudabant, poſt Cairum translatæ ſunt arbores. Proinde hodie quidem materia hujus Sacramenti à Muhammedanis emendicanda eſſet.

RESP. REDING: 1. Materiam externam expreſſo Dei verbo ſcripto definitam eſſe debere, falsò aſſeris. Chriſtus enim panem Euchariſticum inſtituens non definivit, azymus eſſe debeat, necne. Et verba Baptiſmi materialiter, quoad idioma, nulla definivit. 2. Omnino chriſma ex oleo & balſamo confectum eſt certa & indubitata Sacramenti hujus materia, uti ex Dionyſio, Clemente, Cypriano & Auguſtino, qui niſi per fidem Divinam edocti ita non ſtatuiſſent, liquet. Nihilominus etiam extra ordinem concedere Chriſtus potuit, ut Sacramentum hoc ſine chriſmate, ſola manuum impoſitione, conficeretur. quomodo communi nis ſententia, Thoma præeunte, eſt, Apoſtolos Act. VIII. 17. 19. ſola manuum impoſitione uſos eſſe, quia materia ſenſibili Sacramentali opus non erat tum, cùm ſenſibilia ſigna miraculosè exhibebantur. Quo argumento etiam Concilium Moguntinum An. 849. celebratum utitur, non abſolutè, uti in aſſeritis, docens, Sacramenti hujus materiam ab Apoſtolis mutatam eſſe, quia ſubſtituto chriſmate materia hujus Sacramenti formaliter mutata non eſt. 3. An permixtio balſami cum alio ſit de eſſentia hujus Sacramenti, diſputant Theologi. Nos affirmamus, præeuntibus S. Patribus & Concilio Florentino. Apoſtoli quidem ita ſimplicitatis ſtudioſi fuerunt, ut tamen myſticas Divinæ inſtitutionis ſignificationes non omiſerint. Neque tempore Chriſti balſamum adeò rarum & charum fuit. Et hodie ex America in varias regiones transportatur. 4. Falſum eſt, quod de Canoniſtis & Jeſuitis ſcribis. Nam Suarez, Coninck, & plerique Jeſuitæ Confirmationis materiam, ordinaria ſaltem Divinæ inſtitutionis via, unicum chriſma ſtatuunt, quamvis alii nonnulli purum oleum materiam hujus Sacramenti probabiliter eſſe, ſtatuant. Ib. p. 123—126. Reſp. 1. In veris Sacramentis, Baptiſmo & Euchariſtia materiam Sacramenti verbo ſcripto definitam eſſe, temerè negas. Neque obſtat vel de pane azymo controverſia, quia ſive azymus ſive fermentatus panis, veri panis ſubſtantiam obtinet, & azymi panis neceſſitatem vòs ex verbo ſcripto probare contenditis: vel formula verborum baptiſmi, tum quia nihil ad Sacramenti materiam ea facit: tum quia ſenſus verborum variantium ſubſtantialis in verbo ſcripto ſatis definitus eſt. 2. De veterum teſtimoniis infra. Mirum ſanè eſt, in toto N. T. ne apicem quidem de chriſmate reperiri uſpiam; & tamen à Chriſto & Apoſtolis tale quidpiam Patres hauſiſſe. Chriſtus potuit, inquis, extra ordinem concedere, ut Sacramentum hoc ſine chriſmate ſola manuum impoſitione adminiſtraretur. Quid potuerit, non quæritur, ſed quid voluerit. At Chriſtum vel chriſma, vel impoſitionem manuum, ceu Sacramentalem materiam, inſtituere voluiſſe, idoneo teſtimonio nullo probaſtis hactenus. Si materia ſenſibilis huic Sacramento neceſſaria non fuit ob ſigna ſenſibilia, quæ miraculosè tum edebantur, poterunt etiam Baptiſmus & Euchariſtia materia ſenſibili carere. Quid quòd hodiéque donum miraculorum, ſeu ſignorum ſenſibilium in Eccleſia veſtra vigere pertenditis? Cui ergo bono chriſma, quod eandem ob cauſam olim non neceſſarium fuiſſe, ex Moguntino Concilio nobis narras? 3. Magna ſcilicet ratio eſt affirmandi, materiam confirmationis eſſe chriſma ex oleo & balſamo, quia ſic viſum Florentinis veſtris Patribus. Cur ſic viſum eſſe Chriſto & Apoſtolis, non oſtendis? Neque ratio mea à balſamo petita de nihilo eſt. Materiam Sacramentorum eſſe res ubique obvias, ex Baptiſmo & Cœna Domini liquet. Quid verò balſamum? Arbores illud ſudantes jam olim ex Judæa in hortos Caitenſes translatas eſſe, ajunt. Chriſtus ergo ab aliquot jam Seculis ſui populi Sacramenta à Muhammedanis, quorum in poteſtate jam dudum Cairus eſt, emendicare coactus fuerit. Sed ex Indiis utriſque, America inprimis, in orbem noſtrum perferri ſatis copioſum, regeris. Negant tamen rerum naturalium periti, ejuſdem eſſe utrumque generis, tradúntque, nihil eas plantas, ex quibus Indicum elicitur, cum iis arboribus, quæ Judaicum exſudant, commune habere. Si igitur balſamum Judaicum vera Sacramenti hujus materia eſt, uti ſanè eſſe deberet, ſi ita inſtituiſſet Chriſtus, non poſſet rite, ac legitimè in ejus adminiſtratione pro Judaico uſurpari Indicum; non magis profectò, quàm pro oleo olivarum, oleum ex amygdalis, vel ex juglandibus confectum. Non minus enim, ſi non majus Judaici & Indici balſami diſcrimen Scriptores prodidere. Accedit, quòd nunc referato per Iberorum libidinem atque audaciam mari, neceſſe tamen foret populi Chriſtiani vitam ac ſalutem ex peregrinis & longinquis, totóque orbe divisis locis peti, atque illinc per ventorum & procellarum ac piratarum immania discrimina ad nos navigare. 4. Vestra de materia externa Confirmationis certamina qua fronte sic elevas? Dabo te in ruborem. Petrus Aureolus Cardinalis trecentos ante annos, gravem Theologos inter & Canonistas controversiam suis temporibus flagrasse, his verbis in 4 d.7. q.1. narravit: Tenent enim Theologi, quòd chrisma est de essentia Sacramenti, sicut aqua est de essentia Baptismi. Et tunc dicunt consequenter, quòd Papa non potest immutare, faciendo, quòd hoc Sacramentum fieret in alia materia. Burchardus autem, & alii Doctores Canonici tenent oppositum, & quòd Papa similiter posset dispensare. Et eorum motivum est, quia quod in tali materia fiera Sacramentum Confirmationis, non fuit traditum à Christo, nec ab Apostolis præceptum observari, sed fuit statutum in antiquis Conciliis. Talia autem immutari possunt authoritate Papæ. Conink ex Marsilio in 4 q.5. art.1. idem, quod Aureolus, narrat, docuisse olim quosdam Canonistas, sufficere ad essentiam hujus Sacramenti solam impositionem manuum, sine ulla unctione. Nunc verò omnes unctionem magno consensu confirmationis materiam, adeóque essentialem partem esse tradunt; manuum verò impositionem hujus Sacramenti ceremoniam accidentalem, nec necessariam, nec ad Sacramenti integritatem pertinentem; oppositam verò veterum illorum Canonistarum opinionem planè erroneam, imò hæreticam esse, affirmant. Nuper tamen eruditissimus Jesuita Sirmondus Antioch.1. pag.68 & antirrh.2. adversus Petri Aurelii clamores severè pertendit, olim circa Constantini Seculum chrisma in baptismi cerimoniis hæsisse, Confirmationem sola manuum impositione constitisse, idque pluribus seculis in Ecclesiis Occidentalibus obtinuisse. Ante annos igitur trecentos, Aureoli adhuc tempore, nondum fuit constitutum apud Latinos, quæ vera fuerit Sacramenti hujus materia, quod novum & mysteum esse hoc Sacramentum, satis arguit. Jam qui consentiunt, chrisma esse essentialem Sacramenti hujus partem, iidem tamen de Apostolorum usu dubitant. Alii enim Apostolos sola manuum impositione Sacramentum hoc contulisse, docent, uti Scotus: alii interdum fortè etiam adhibuisse unctionem, ut Durandus: alii, nunquam sine unctione hujus Sacramenti effectum contulisse, ut Bellarminus. Estius, communiorem esse sententiam, Apostolos initio suæ prædicationis non usos fuisse chrismate in administratione hujus Sacramenti, scribit. De ipsa unctione quàm discrepantes eorum sunt sententiæ? Eam enim alii fieri posse putant vel solo oleo olivarum, vel solo balsamo, ut Canus: alii oleum solum necessarium esse ad Sacramenti ipsius rationem, balsamum verò ex præcepto tantùm vel Christi, vel Ecclesiæ addi, non ex Sacramentali necessitate, ut Cajetanus, Navarrus, Sotus, Victoria, & ipse Valentia; multùm refragante Ægidio de Coninck, affirmante scilicet, quòd hoc Sacramentum chrisma ex oleo & balsamo confectum essentialiter requirat. Taceo dissensiones de chrismatis ad Sacramenti usum præparatione, an determinata benedictio necessariò ab Episcopo adhiberi debeat: an subsistat Sacramentum absque omni etiam prævia materiæ benedictione, aliáque similia, in quibus litigiosi illi doctores litium forum isthoc egregiè calefaciunt.

ARG. IV. Sacramenti propriè dicti materia interna, à signo & elemento externo adumbrata, est gratia spiritualis ordinaria, non gratis data illa, sed gratum faciens, justificans nimirum & regenerans. Talis non est in confirmatione Papistica. Id enim in ea confertur, quod signo externo adumbratur. At impositione manûs, quam plerique hodie faciunt signum ſignum hujus Sacramenti, ex Divino ſaltem inſtituto nunquam gratia ordinaria, & gratum faciens ſpiritualis, ſed ſemper extraordinaria & temporaria, puta Chariſmata Spiritus S. & poteſtas muneris, adumbrata fuerunt.

Resp. Reding: Act. VIII. 17. &c. Apoſtoli impoſitione manuum dederunt Spiritum S. Atqui per Spiritum S. charitas in cordibus diffunditur. Gratia ergo juſtificans per eam confertur. cum qua Apoſtolorum tempore etiam dona extraordinaria conjuncta fuerunt, tanquam illius actidens, quod adeſſe & abeſſe potuit. Ib. pag. 126. 127. Reſp. Ita eſt, per Spiritum S. charitas in cordibus credentium diffunditur. Sed an hæc ſola Spiritus S. operatio eſt: vel Spiritus S. impoſitione manuum datus operatus eſt id omne, quod ei operanti Scriptura tribuit? Id niſi probaveris, nemo non paralogiſmum tuum ab indiſtributo ad diſtributum palpabit. Nobis certum eſt, Spiritum S. impoſitis manibus datum primò & per ſe non gratiam juſtificantem, (quanquam ea in charitate diffuſa in cordibus non conſiſtit) ſed chariſmata extraordinaria, puta prophetiæ, linguarum, &c. contuliſſe, tum quia datum ab Apoſtolis Spiritum ejuſdem generis fuiſſe cum eo, quem feſto Pentecoſtes ipſi acceperunt, ante à Chriſto promiſſum, (qui non gratiam juſtificantem, cujus jam ante participes fuerunt, ſed chariſmata extra ordinem contulit) Bellarminus, aliſque fatentur: tum quia Spiritum, quem à Meſſia vulgò dandum Iſraëlis ſpes erat, Prophetiæ ſpiritum & Judæi intellexerunt, & non obſcurè Scriptura Joh. VII. 38. 39. Actor. II. 17. 33. XIX. 2. &c. ſignificat: tum quia, cùm credentes eum à Petro & Johanne Spiritum acceperint quo ad eorum uſque adventum caruerant, neceſſe eſt, eos ſpiritum prophetiæ, vel linguarum, vel hujus generis miraculoſum ab Apoſtolis accepiſſe, qui ſcilicet à Philippo baptizati jam antequam illi veniſſent, Spiritum fidei & ſanctificationis (Act. VIII. 16. Rom. VIII. 9) habuerunt: tum quia Lucas de hujus, quem ab Apoſtolis Samaritani acceperunt, Spiritus effuſione & donatione loquens, Act. VIII. 9. verbo ἐπιπίπτειν illabi, vel irruere utitur, quod voci Hebrææ נפל eodem ſenſu de Saule 1. Sam. ARG. V. Sed & formula confirmationis his verbis concepta : Signo te signo Crucis, confirmo te Chrismate salutis, in nomine Patris, Filii & Spiritûs S. in qua Sacramenti hujus forma collocatur ab Eugenio, prorsùs aliena est, tum quia Chrisma hoc externum non est Chrisma salutis : tum quia is, qui ungit eo chrismate externo, non ungere potest Spiritu S. quo, ut chrismate Salutis, ungimur à solo Deo, 1. Joh. II. 27. 2. Cor. I. 21. 22. tum quia baptismo auctoramur & juramus tribus testibus, Deo Patri, Filio & Spiritui S. ut necesse non sit novo eo ritu iis nos consecrari, nostrámque adoptionem cum baptismi velut opprobrio obsignari. Ne dicam totam illam Confirmationis formam & ritum anili & anxia superstitione scatere, neque adeò majestatem & gravitatem Evangelii redolere. Et cui bono in eadem Sacramenti forma pronuntur hæc verba : Signo te signo crucis ? Etenim cùm crux nec sit Sacramentum ipsum, uti disertè asserit Catechismus Romanus part. 2. cap. 1. q. 8. nec de essentia Sacramenti, cùm Chrisma potiùs consecratum sit ; juxta Eugenium, ejus materia : nec res Sacramenti, quam potiùs gratiam esse sanctificantem & justificantem docet Catechismus Romanus ; non video quomodo verba illa crucem significantia possint esse vel forma vel pars essentialis Sacramenti.

RESP. REDING : 1. Aliud est chrisma salutis formaliter sanctificans, in gratia sanctificante consistens : aliud causaliter seu principaliter sanctificans, quod est Spiritus S. aliud instrumentariè per modum signi practici vel Ministri ex Divina institutione sanctificans, quod est chrisma externum rite ab Episcopo applicatum. Hæc tu pro nequitia vel inscitia tua confundis. 2. An verò sic etiam Eucharistia Baptismo probrosa est ? Nam & illum obsignare gratiam justificationis, asseritis. Aliud verò est justificans gratia, aliud robur animæ ad profitendam fidem in Baptismo acceptam. Illam Baptismus, hanc Confirmatio obsignat. Unde hanc Patres Baptismi perfectionem dixerunt : nominatim Melchiades in Epistola ad Episcopos Hispaniæ. 3. Formula illa : Signo te signo crucis, confirmo te chrismate salutis, in nomine Patris, Filii & Spiritus ; à Concilio Florentino præscripta est congruentissima, quia omnia, quæ ad essentiam rei pertinent ; complectitur, puta tum causam conferentem plenitudinem roboris spiritualis, quæ est S. S. Trinitas : tum robur spirituale, quod chrisma salutis donat : tum denique signum, quod militi Christiano datur, signum videlicet crucis, in quo Christus triumpharit. 4. Anile quicquam in hoc Sacramento contineri, blasphemè statuis. Ib. pag 127. 128. Resp. 1. Nil vel distinctionis tuæ fucus, vel convitia tua, quæ in sinu tuo meliùs cubant, me terrent. Nihil salutare est, quocunque velis, sensu, nisi Divinitus ad salutem ordinatum. Chrisma verò, seu unguentum ex oleo & balsamo confectum, ne semel quidem in universis Scripturis memoratur. Et quæ de eo ex Patribus affertis, sublæsta planè sunt. Quomodo igitur, ut signum practicum salutare dici potest ? Phaleræ sunt ad populum dementandum : non aliud. 2. Eucharistia, utpote Divinitus, quod pro certo omnibus constat, instituta, Baptismo neutiquam probrosa est. Quin potiùs in hac, non in fictitia confirmatione, spirituale animæ robur obsignatur. Nam in natura, unde vos etiam argumentamini, notum est nos, quibus quibus nutrimur, iisdem augeri, crescere, & ad ætatem perfectam perduci. Cùm ergo in spiritualibus nos per Eucharistiam nutriri, clarum & confessum sit, per eandem spirituale incrementum & robur habeamus, atque ita ad ætatem perfectam perducamur necesse est. Nihil igitur opus fuit præter Eucharistiam confirmationis mysterium institui. Quinimò confirmatio malè ad augmenti motum comparata est; Eucharistia optimè. Sicut enim in natura non sicut semel generamur, ita semel etiam nutrimur; ut ad ætatis perfectionem veniamus, sed sæpiùs: sic in gratia nos Sacramentum illud, per quod crescimus, & roboramur indies usque ad finem vitæ, sæpiùs sumere decet. quod non confirmationi, utpote semel administratæ, sed Eucharistiæ per totam vitam frequentatæ convenit. Cùm igitur nihil confirmatio obsignet, quod Baptismo & Eucharistia non obsignetur & rei & modi eadem obsignatione, cum probro Sacramenti utriusque eam conjungi, manifestum est. Melchiadis Epistola à te laudata supposititia est, & ejusdem geni, cujus & aliæ multæ ab Isidoro Mercatore collectæ. & ante Seculum nonum Christianis incognitæ. Et sanè confirmationem ceu distinctum Sacramentum dicere Baptismi perfectionem, est Baptismum blasphemare, ceu imperfectum, & novo ab hominibus institutendo sacrificio supplendum. 3. An verò quæ ad essentiam confirmationis pertinent, demum à Concilio Florentino præscribenda fuerant? Non præscriptam igitur & determinatam esse Scramenti hujus essentiam, non obscurè fateris. Quòd etiam circa hanc formulam in Papatu supersint scrupuli, litigantium inprimis, an omnia verba illa sint essentialia, videre est apud Coninck q. 72. art. 4. fs. 66. &c. Sunt qui putent, illa verba signo crucis: Sunt, qui hæc, Chrismate salutis, nixi cum Bellarmino de Confirmat. cap. 10. antiquo Rituali Romano, in quo non extant, citra Sacramenti detrimentum omitti posse, statuant: Alii, uti ipse Coninck, omnia retineri mordicus volunt; sic tamen, ut ipse fatetur, Patres satis obscurè semper de formâ confirmationis locutos esse; nec eam unquam expresè tradidisse. Et viderit Redingius quoque, qua ratione Græcorum formulam: Signaculum est doni (non donum, uti tu imperitè. Nam in Euchologiis Græcorum omnibus habetur, σφραγὶς δωρεᾶς πνεύματος ἁγίου) Spiritus S. in Concilio Florentino non improbatam esse, & formulam diversam ab eodem præscriptam essentialem esse, asserere potuerit. Sicut enim non essentia rei: ita nec essentialia variare possunt. De obsignatione roboris spiritualis jam diximus. Quomodo verò signum materiale crucis de essentia Sacramenti hujus esse, contendere potes? An sic essentialia in Sacramentis signa multiplicanda sunt? Et ubi signi crucis universa Scriptura meminit? Cur denique argumenta mea, quòd crux pars essentialis hujus Sacramenti esse non possit, non diluis? 4. De anilibus fictitii hujus Sacramenti non muto dictum. Annon enim anilis superstitionis plenum est, quòd frons propriè ungenda dicitur: quòd in crucis figuram unguentum ducitur: quòd Episcopus aliquoties super ampullam chrismatis halat: quòd chrisma consecratum ab Episcopo & Presbyteris salutatur his verbis, Ave Sanctum chrisma: quòd Episcopus pollice, & non alio digito signat: quòd alapam confirmato infligit: quòd ei fascia frontem obligat? Taceo cætera ejus generis histrionica. Eóne Christi Majestatem deducemus, ut istâ cum pœne puerilia suis post Divinos illos sermones, quos supremæ vitæ terrestris nocte cum illis habuit, tradidisse somniemus?

ARG. VI. Confirmationem inter Papisticam & Baptismi Sacramentum perpetua ferè statuitur antithesis. Etenim confirmatio administratur in nomine Patris, Filii, & Spiritûs S. perinde ac si non in nomine Patris, Filii & Spiritûs S. jam ante baptizati essemus. Confirmationis externa materia statuitur pretiosum unguentum ex oleo & balsamo concretum. At baptismi externa materia est nudum ac simplex elementum aquæ. Confirmatus, ita loquitur Guido de monte Rocherii in manipulo Canto-rum Tract. I. cap. 2. tenetur se expresse objicere persecutoribus fidei, & confiteri fidem etiam absque hoc, quòd requiratur. At baptizatum teneri negant, nisi inquisitio fiat. Baptismum prodesse ajunt ad innocentiam baptizati: Confirmationem verò ad robur & augmentum ad gratiam. Quasi baptismo non obsignetur nobis gratia Spiritûs S. corroborrans, nec inseramur Christo, nec ungamur in ipso in Prophetas, Sacerdotes & Reges, nec signemur in eo & notemur, ut propria ejus res, hæreditas servanda & curanda. Baptismus juxta illos à quoliber Presbytero & Sacerdote: at confirmatio à solo Episcopo administrari potest. In duobus, ita Jesuita Costerus Augm. Enchir. de Sacram. Conf. loquitur, Confirmatio præfertur Baptismo, tum in dignitate Ministri, qui solus est Episcopus, tum in perfectione effectus.

RESP. REDING: 1. Quid ais? Nos baptizatos esse in nominibus Patris, Filii & Spiritus S? At Christus baptizare docuit in nomine, non in nominibus Patris, &c. ad significandam unitatem essentiæ. 2. Quæ verò inconvenientia, ut qui in nomine Trinitatis, mediante Baptismo, gratiam regenerationis accepit, in eusdem nomine, mediante confirmatione, Spiritus S. robur accipiat: vel, ut pro Baptismo simplex aquæ elementum, pro confirmatione chrisma, quòdque ad finem & effectum, ordinatum sit? Ib. pag. 128. 129. Resp. 1. Tuam, Redingi, an nescio cujus satellitis tui, qui argumenta mea detorquendo pro lubitu inflexit, insignem perfidiam heic incusare debeam, nescio. Tu noveris. Alterutter, vel uterque criminis falsi apertè reus est. Ego enim discrètè scripsi, perinde ac si non in nomine (falsarius refert, in nominibus) Patris, Filii & Spiritus S. baptizati essemus. Publicè hæc prostant. Crimine ab uno disce Monachos. 2. Inconvenient equidem non est, ut cui in Baptismo regenerationis gratia obsignata est, eidem confirmatio in eadem per S. Trinitatis gratiam obtingat. Sed ut obtingat mediante confirmatione Sacramentali, quæ nulla à Christo instituta est, seu chrismate, seu Sacramentali signo, cujus nulla in S. literis mentio usquam est: atque ut nobiliora & signa, & obligatio, & effectus confirmationis Sacramento ab hominibus confecto, quàm S. Baptismo, Divinitus instituto, tribuantur; id verò conveniens esse vel verbo Dei, vel sanæ rationi, pernegamus.

ARG. VII. Piæ Antiquitati Sacramentum hoc & ritus prorsus incognitus fuit. Et Apostolis quidem incognitum fuisse manifestum est, tum quia altum de eo in scriptis Apostolorum est silentium: tum quia distinctio Episcopi à Presbytero Apostolorum ætate recepta non fuit, adeóque non idem, qui hodie minister esse potuit. Post Apostolos primo & secundo seculo ne unus quidem probatorum authorum ejus meminit. Imò

Justinus

Juſtinus in altera pro Chriſtianis apologia baptiſmi ritum fusè exponens, nec unctionis, nec manuum impoſitionis, nec reliquorum illorum confirmationis rituum ne minimo quidem apice meminit. Primus Tertullianus unctionis meminit conjunctæ cum baptiſmo, ad ejus ſolennitatem potiùs, quàm ſubſtantiam, uti fatetur ipſe Pamelius. Non diſſimulat enim Tertullianus, tam ex Apoſtolica inſtitutione, quàm priſtina diſciplina, quâ ungi oleo de cornu in Sacerdotium ſolebant, eum mutuo acceptum eſſe, eo videlicet conſilio, ut myſteria ſimpliciſſima & proinde à multis faſtidita, pompam & ornatum acciperent ad conciliandos hominum animos, iisque eripiendum etiam iniquas ſiniſtrè de rebus Divinis judicandi cauſas. Paulatim ejusmodi circa baptiſmum ritus incrementa ceperunt. Sed Chriſmatio Pontificia, ex veteri unctionis Judaicæ ritu deſumpta, ſeculo demum XII. circa tempora Arnoldi Bonævallenſis, Lombardi, Hugonis de S. Victore deducta & efficta, & poſtea à Concilio Florentino in Sacramentorum numerum recepta eſt. Facit huc, quòd etiam antiquiſſimæ & rituum πατροπαράδοτων tenaciſſimæ Eccleſiæ Orientales ritum hunc ignorent. Ignorant ſanè Eccleſiæ Æthiopicæ, teſtibus Alvarezio Hiſpano, Monacho & Zago Zaba ipſomet Æthiope, apud Damianum à Goës. Ignorant Habeſſini, Johanne de Silva & Alphonſo Mindeſio: Armenii, Guidone Carmelita Monacho: Eccleſiæ Chaldeæ Chriſtianæ longè latéque per orientem ſparſæ, Antonio Gouveano Monacho Luſitano Auguſtiniano, teſtibus. Eandem Indorum Chriſtianorum hæreſin fuiſſe, antequam ad Papæ communionem traducerentur, Jeſuitæ queruntur. Denique etiam Græcis tum vetuſtioribus, tum recentioribus incognitum fuiſſe, demonſtratum eſt à noſtris. Cœterùm argumentum illud ab antiquitate eccleſiaſtica petitum fusè & eruditiſſimè perſecutus eſt Cl. Dalleus De duobus Latinorum ex unctione Sacramentis.

RESP. REDING: 1. Ex primo & ſecundo ſeculo Clementem R. & Dionyſium Areopagitam ſiſtimus. 2. Juſtinus Apol. 2. pro Chriſti unguento ſacro nos conſignari ſcribit. 3. Tertulliani ætate Origenes homil. 8. in Levit. unctionem ſacram præter baptiſma adhiberi, atque eodem plenitudinem Spiritus concedi, aſſerit. Et Novatum defectu ejus ſignaculi Spiritum S. non accepiſſe, Euſebius Hiſt. Eccl. lib. VI. 33. narrat. Tertullianus quoque de Bapt. cap. 8 manuum impoſitionis à Baptiſmo diſtinctæ meminit. Et ante Seculum duodecimum Cyrillus, Gregorius Nazianzenus, Epiphanius, Chryſoſtomus, alii impoſitionis manuum, & dati per eundem Spiritus S. meminerunt. 4. Ante Florentinum Concilium Sacramentum iſthoc Elibertinum, Arelatenſe I. & II. ne de Romanis Pontificibus, Clemente, Fabiano, Cornelio, Euſebio, Melchiade, Innocentio I. dicam, agnoverunt. 5. Eccleſiæ Orientales ſchiſmaticæ hunc ritum ignorant; ſed non orthodoxæ. uti ex Conciliis Nicæno I. Laodicenſi, Conſtantinopolitano I. liquet. Quin etiam poſt ſchiſma in Eccleſia Græca ſacrum ſtum inungendi ritum manſiſſe, Jeremias Patriarcha Conſtantinopolitanus teſtis eſt. Ib. pag. 119-132. Reſp. 1. De Clemente R. & Dionyſio Areopagita infra. Nunc ſatis habemus dicere, ſuppoſititia illorum ſcripta ad poſteriora tempora, non ad Apoſtolica pertinere. 2. Primus omnino ex omnibus veris antiquitatis monumentis Tertullianus in Opere de Baptiſmo hujus unctionis ritus meminit. Exinde, inquit, egreſſi de lavacro perungimur benedicta unctione de priſtina diſciplina, qua ungi oleo de cornu in Sacerdotium ſolebant: ex quo Aaron à Moſe unctus eſt. Unde Chriſtus dicitur à chriſmate, quod eſt unctio, quæ Domino nomen accommodavit, facta ſpiritualis, quia à Spiritu unctus eſt à Deo Patre. Sic & in nobis carnaliter currit unctio; ſed ſpiritualiter proficit. Dehinc manus imponitur, per benedictionem advocans & invitans Spiritum S. &c. Unde liquet, ejus ætate, hoc eſt, circa initia Seculi tertii apud Afros Chriſtianos, Carthaginenſes maximè ſolenne fuiſſe, ut qui Baptiſmi Sacramento initiabantur, ii ſacro lavacro egreſſi, ungerentur, indéque manus iis imponerentur. Et eundem alibi quoque uſum obtinuiſſe, haud equidem inficias ivero. Unctionem tamen eam & impoſitionem manuum à Tertulliano memoratam nihil cum Sacramento confirmationis Pontificio commune habuiſſe, conſtat planè, tum quia balſamum, quod Romani in chriſmate ſuo neceſſarium decernunt, nullum apud Tertullianum olet: tum quia ejuſdem unctio de priſtina diſciplina, id eſt, Moſaica, eſſe dicitur, cùm chriſmatio Latinorum de Chriſti diſciplina eſſe fingatur: tum quia quæ apud Tertullianum extat manus impoſitio, ab unctione diſtincta, ea apud Romanos deeſt: tum quia formæ Pontificiæ Confirmationis mentio in verbis Tertulliani prorſus nulla eſt: tum quia unctionem illam & manuum impoſitionem ſuam tantùm non baptiſmalibus aquis immergit, certè continenter, nullo impoſito ſpatio, Baptiſmo annectit, cùm Romani unctionem ſuam in peculiare ac proprium ſui nominis Sacramentum effingant, neque in baptiſmo, neque poſt baptiſmum ſtatim, imò ante Euchariſtiam participandum, ac ne quidem poſt eam neceſſariò, ſtatuant: tum denique, quia & liber ille de Baptiſmo, non de alio præterea Sacramento quopiam inſcribitur; & author non alia ſe, quàm quæ ad Baptiſmum pertinent, enarraſſe, ſic profitetur: Diximus, quantum mediocritati noſtræ licuit, de univerſis, quæ Baptiſmi religionem ſtruunt. Ergo & unctionem, & manuum impoſitionem, ut partem, vel appendicem Baptiſmi narravit. Origenis homil. 8. in Levit (qui liber ſuſpectæ fidei eſt) hæc verba ſunt: Donum gratiæ Spiritus per olei imaginem deſignatur, ut non ſolùm purgationem conſequi poſſit is, qui converſitur à peccato, ſed & Spiritu S. repleri, quo & recipere priorem ſtolam, & annulum poſſit, & per omnia reconciliatus patri in locum filii reparari. Olei meminit, non balſami: & Spiritum non per oleum illud dari ait, ſed per ejus imaginem deſignari, quod planè convenit ceremoniis & ritibus iis, qui vulgò à Pontificiis Sacramentalia dicuntur. Sequente homilia idem author dicit, quicunque uncti eſſent, (ea ſcilicet baptiſmali unctione, de qua Tertullianum loquentem vidimus) eos Sacerdotes myſticos effectos eſſe; quia nemo ſic ungebatur, quia baptiſmo tinctus eſſet, quo Sacerdotalis dignitas nobis confertur. Hanc verò unctionem proprium à Baptiſmo diſtinctum Sacramentum eſſe, non dixit Origenes; imò ne hoc quidem, per unctionem illam Sacerdotium nobis conferri. De Novatiano Cornelius Romanus Epiſcopus apud Euſebium Hiſt. Eccleſ. lib. VI. 41. narrat, eum baptizatum quidem, non tamen accepiſſe τὰ λοιπὰ, ὧν χρὴ μεταλαμβάνειν τὸν ἐκ τῆς ἐκκλησίας κανόνα, reliqua, quibus poſt baptiſmum ſecundum Eccleſiæ Canonem imbui oportuerat; neque etiam τὸ ἐφραγίδωσιν τοῦ ἐπισκόπου, obſignationem ab Epiſcopo. Addit: Τῶν δὲ μὴ πυχὸν, πῶς ἂν ἔ ἀγίου πνεύματος ἔτυχε. Quo nesciquam potitus, quomodo quæso Spiritum S. adeptus est? Sed quid erant τὰ λοιπὰ τέτερα illa? Baptismales ceremoniæ, tinctionem insequi solitæ, veluti lactis & mellis præguſtatio, aliáque ejuſmodi. quibus cùm hic à Cornelio accenſeatur τὸ ζφραγισθῆναι ὑπὸ ἔ ἐπισκόπου, obſignari ab Epiſcopo, non modò non hinc conficitur, obſignationem iſtam, quæcunque tandem illa fuerit, fuiſſe verum ac propriè dictum Sacramentum; ſed contra conficitur, eam non veri nominis Sacramentum, ſed ceremoniam baptiſmalem fuiſſe ejuſdem cum illis cæteris cenſus, quæ Cornelius non expreſſit. Idem hinc quoque colligitur, quòd iſtorum obſervationem non ad Chriſti mandatum, aut Evangelii præceptum, aut Apoſtolorum traditionem, ſed κανόνα ἢ ἐκκλησίας regulas Eccleſiaſticas refert. Baptiſmi nempe adminiſtrationem, ut eſſet auguſtior, iſtis velut appendicibus Eccleſia exornavit. Accedit, quòd Fabianus Epiſcopus, eodem Euſebio teſte, Novatianum hunc in presbyterum conſecravit, impertiturus ei haud dubiè etiam confirmationis Sacramentum, ſi pro tali tum habitum eſſet, eóque Novatianus caruiſſet. Ergo ζφραγισμὸς obſignatio illa, qua caruit Novatianus, erat ipſa unctio baptiſmalis, quam ſequebatur impoſitio manuum per Epiſcopum. Quod verò deficiente hac non accepiſſe Spiritum S. hominem illum, Cornelius concluſit, præpoſterum certè judicavit Fabianus, Cornelii anteceſſor, qui deficiente etiam obſignatione illa in presbyterum eum conſecravit. non facturus, ſi in ipſo baptiſmo Spiritum S. non accepiſſe eum, judicaſſet. Quanquam vel in Baptiſmo, vel extra eum, Spiritus S. particìpem eum redditum eſſe, non aſſerimus. Par reliquorum Patrum à te citatorum ratio eſt. Cyrillus in myſtagogia catecheſi tertia de confirmatione agit, ſed non ut Sacramento diſtincto, verùm ut ceremonia baptiſmali, adcóque initiationis parte rituali, juxta ſententiam communem Græcorum veterum. Quomodo etiam ante baptiſmum idem meminit unctionis, qua λαμπρύνεται ἀλειφόμενα ἐλαίῳ ἀπ' ἐκείνου περιῤῥεῖ πανταχῆ ἐπὶ τὰ κάτω, exuti oleo à ſummis capillis ad infima usque perunguntur. quam unctionem propriè dictum Sacramentum fuiſſe quis dixerit? Imò quo loco chriſmationem illam Cyrillus habuerit, ipſe his verbis, quibus orationem ſuam exorditur, innuit: In Chriſtum baptizati, & Chriſto induti, conformes facti eſtis Filio Dei. Non enim nos, quos prædeſtinavit in adoptionem filiorum, conformes fecit corpori gloriæ Chriſti. Participes ergo Chriſti effecti, merito Chriſti (id eſt, unctì) vocamini, & Deus dixit de vobis: Nolite tangere unctos meos. Chriſti verò facti eſtis, cùm S. Spiritus antitypum, (id eſt, figuram) ſuſcepiſtis. Quicquid ergo iſti acceperunt, uno vocabulo Cyrillus complectitur, dum eos βαπτισθέντας baptizatos eſſe, dicit. Ergo & chriſmatio, quam eos accepiſſe dicit, ei pars Baptiſmi eſt. Quin & omne quod per chriſmationem ſive factum, ſive ſignificatum fuerat, uni Baptiſmo deputat, dum dicit, iſtos, quòd baptizati eſſent, & Chriſtum induiſſent, conformes factos fuiſſe Filio Dei, ejuſque participes, & Chriſtos denique. Sicut ergo Baptiſmi, non ullius alterius Sacramenti eſt, quòd Chriſtum induimus, quòd ei conformes, participéſque reddimur, ita & Baptiſmi eſſe neceſſariò ex Cyrillo fatendum eſt, quòd Chriſti, id eſt, unctì ſumus. Chriſtos autem nos eſſe, & vocari, ad chriſmationem, ut & res ipſa, & Cyrillus docent, refertur. Ergo & chriſmatio Baptiſmi eſt. Alia ejuſdem rei argumenta clariſſima ex Cyrillo depromi poſſunt. Sic quoque Gregorius Nazianzenus: ſic Chryſoſtomus: ſic Græci alii, qui unctionem memorant, ſed Baptiſmi ceremoniam, non Sacramentum à Baptiſmo diſtinctum. 4. De Conciliis & vetuſtioribus Pontificibus Romanis parcè quæſo. Nil tale ſomniarunt unquam. Concilium Eliberitanum Can. 38. Baptizatis manus ab Epiſcopo imponi, atque ſic Baptiſmum Concilii Arelatenſis I.canone 8.hæretici ad Eccleſiam venientes interrogari jubentur de ſymbolo; & ſi (inquit) perviderint,in Patre,& Filio & Spiritu S.eos baptizatos, manus eis tantùm imponatur,ut accipiant Spiritum S. Notum eſt,in recipiendis hæreticis non eoſdem Eccleſiarum omnium mores fuiſſe. Quoſdam conſtat non receptos niſi per Baptiſmum, eos videlicet, qui alienam Baptiſmi in Trinitate invocanda formulam haberent. In reliquis Baptiſmus quidem nullo modo iteratus eſt,ſed ritus tantùm additi ſunt ſolennes. Græci ad eam ſolennitatem uſi ſunt unctione : Latini manuum impoſitione. Ita Cyprianus Epiſt. 72. parùm eſſe dixit manum hæreticis imponere ad accipiendum Spiritum S. niſi accipiant & Eccleſiæ Baptiſmum. Sed nihil hoc ad confirmationem, verùm ad pœnitentiam, per quam Eccleſiæ reconciliati ſunt. Neque obſtat, quòd impoſitione manuum Spiritum dari,Arelatenſes dicunt,quia Auguſtinus de Bapt.lib.III. 16.per impoſitionem dari notat eundem Spiritum, cùm tamen, teſte Bellarmino *de Confirm. cap.*7. non de confirmatione, ſed de reconciliatione pœnitentium agat. Romanorum Pontificum veterum,quæ allegas, teſtimonia, ſuppoſititia omnia ſunt,atque νόθια à veſtris doctiſſimis quibuſque poſtulantur. Iis igitur excutiendis ſi vacare liberet, oleum operámque perderemus. 5. Græcis & veteribus & recentioribus non aliud chriſmatio eſt, quàm baptiſmalis ceremonia. De veteribus ſupra vidimus. In Euchologio Græcorum *pag.*350.&c. tum precatio ad chriſmationem,tum ipſa chriſmatio ad ἀκολουθίαν τοῦ ἁγίου βαπτίσματος Conſequentiam,ſive Ordinem Sancti Baptiſmi refertur. μετὰ τὸν ἁγιασμὸν, inquit,*χρίει τὸ βαπτιζόμενον τῷ ἁγίῳ μύρῳ πιστῶς γινομένῳ τύπῳ ἐπὶ τοῦ μετώπου,&c.λέγων.Σφραγὶς δωρεᾶς πνεύματος ἁγίου. Fruſtra denique Concilia generalia appellas. Nam Nicæno Concilio tributi canones 31.& 55. & ſpurii ſunt, & una cum Laodiceno ac Conſtantinopolitano Concilio non Confirmationem Sacramentalem, ſed unctionem hæreticorum pœnitentium, Eccleſiæ reconciliandorum, commendant.

ejus acceptam referentibus, claris verbis Tridentini litem dirimere debuerunt. Non obstante enim generali definitione, quòd Sacramenta N. Test. à Christo instituta sint, veterum si qui sectari opinionem contrariam voluerint, latebras reperient facilè. Quin & Confirmationem Sacramentum esse, definiens, materiam ejus simul definivisse censeri nequit, quia nec ad Florentini Concilii decretum digitum uspiam intendit, nec claris verbis essentialem ritum determinat. Atque ejus rei vel hoc argumentum est, quòd veteres Canonistæ & Theologi, de materia Confirmationis disceptantes licet, utrinque tamen Sacramentum esse pertenderunt.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Sacra Scriptura Confirmationis hujus tum promissionem, tum visibile signum, tum mandatum proponit. Promissionem quidem Luc XXIV.49. Johan.XIV.13. XV.16. XVI.23.24. ubi promittit Christus Spiritum S. Signum verò visibile, nimirum impositionem manuum, Act.VIII.17.18.19. & XIX.4.5. Denique mandatum, uti colligitur ex ejus executione. Neque enim Apostoli manus imposuissent, nisi id à Christo mandatum esset. Resp. 1. Quid verò hæc omnia ad confirmationem non quamlibet, sed Papisticam, hoc est, unctionem hominis viatoris factam in fronte, in figura crucis cum chrismate sanctificato? Impositio manuum iis locis memoratur, neutiquam verò chrisma, seu oleum balsamatum. Nisi fortè vel chrisma, vel alapa, quam Episcopus infligit confirmando, idem est, quod impositio manuum. Quid est in rebus fidei mutare quadrata rotundis, & ἀφ' εἷνὸς ἕλκειν, si hoc non est? Nam quòd Bellarminus aliique nugantur, ipsam extensionem manûs Episcopi erga confirmandos, cùm orat, nec non signationem & unctionem, cùm manu fiat, rectè impositionem manuum appellari, frivolum est. Quippe super aliquem extendere manus, non est manus ei imponere. Neque vel unctionem vel signationem manuum impositionis nomine quisquam sanus venditaverit, cùm manuum impositio, & divino & ecclesiastico sermone, sit certus ac definitus actus, quo expansa super alicujus capite manus ita statuitur, ut in ejus vertice recumbat. Unde eam Græci χειροθεσίαν, Hebræi סמיכת ידים à סמך, quod inniti, fulcire, conjungere, significat, appellant. Quid quòd Episcopus eum, quem ungit, non tota manu, sed uno pollice contrectat? 2. Christus sanè promisit Spiritum S. & reapse etiam præstitit. Sed non quælibet promissio, verum juncta, & specialiter in V. Dei applicata ordinariis & perpetuis signis, ad Sacramenti proprii rationem requiritur. Aliâs quanta erit Sacramentorum seges? 3. Spiritus S. equidem bis, non semper tamen χειροθεσίας signo, præstitus est; puta non ordinaria ejus gratia, sed visibilis & extraordinaria ejus effusio. Et illa ipsa promissio evidentissimè die Pentecostes, non impositionis manuum, sed ignearum linguarum signo mediante impleta est, qualis non ampliùs in Ecclesia obtingit. 4. Annon verò Spiritus S. jam in ipso baptismo & eucharistia, ejúsque legitimo usu exhibetur & obsignatur? Ubicunque autem Spiritus S. est, ibi utique etiam confirmat. In eucharistia cumprimis sub Symbolo cibi nutrientis & confirmantis specialiter obsignatur & exhibetur. 5. Impositio manuum liberè usurpata est ab Apostolis,ut baptizati acciperent extraordinaria Spiritûs S. dona, adeóque Evangelium confirmaretur, Hebr.II.3.4. donec in publica omnium notitia esset ita munitum & confirmatum, ut nemo nisi præfractus & impudens ejus divinitatem in dubium vocare possit. Nobis verò sufficit, quòd omnes accipimus spiritum filiationis per fidem,Gal.III.14.IV.6.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Promissio conferendi Spiritus S. fideles universos, adeóque perpetuò,concernit. Et ex institutione Christi ordinario ac perpetuo signo visibili impositioni manuum,seu unctioni,in qua esse manus conjunctionem, ex usu Græci & Hebraici idiomatis, ipsemet fateris, annexam eam esse, ex Act.VIII.17.18.19. & XIX.6. liquet. 2. Impositio manuum signum equidem est ordinarium Spiritus S. ejúsque gratiæ corroborativæ; licet Apostolorum tempore ei conjuncta fuerit significatio extraordinaria donorum Spiritus S. temporalium. uti S. Augustinus tract.6. in Epist. S.Joh. docet. 3. Si per Baptismum jam datus est Spiritus S.confirmans, cui bono ergo Eucharistia? Spiritus S. in se quidem simplicissimus,variè tamen quoad diversa ejus dona communicatur; in Baptismo mediante gratia regenerativa ad remissionem peccatorum; in Eucharistia mediante nutritiva ad amorosam charitatis cum eo unionem: in Confirmatione mediante augmentativa ad fortem fidei professionem. uti jam olim Melchiades Epist. ad Episcopos Hisp. expressit. Ib. pag.132. 133. Resp. 1. Promissio Spiritus S. communia electorum dona impertientis perpetua sanè est. Non talem verò esse eam,quæ per manuum impositionem primitus obtigit, probare, non nudè asserere debuisti. Ego supra contrarium argumentis omni exceptione majoribus probavi. Et qua fretus ratione tum impositionem manuum signum ordinarium institutum esse à Christo asseris;tum eandem cum unctione confundis? Etenim qui ungit,frontem hominis pollice contingit, non manum totam capiti sic imponit,ut in eo aliquandiu sustentata quiescat. quem proprium χειροθεσίας ritum esse, probavi. tu verò negare non potuisti. Ubi verò unctionem סמיכת ידים conjunctionem esse manus, capiti innitentis, ego dixi? Mentiri tibi ludus est. 2. Cui bono Eucharistiæ Sacramentum Baptismo Christus junxerit,supra abunde explicavimus. Spiritum S. in Baptismo dari, negare non potes. Ibi ergo Spiritus S. regenerantis: in Eucharistia signis nutrientibus & augmentantibus ejusdem augmentantis & corroborantis gratia obsignatur. Quid ergo confirmationi Sacramentali relinquitur? Accedit Eucharistia, instituta ad animum roborandum, sicut panis cor hominis confortat. Pseudo-Melchiades,personatus Seculi noni testis, nobis ὁν ὀδὸν ἀεὶ θεῷ ἰα.

OBJECT. II. Paulus 1.*Cor.I.*21.Sacramentum confirmationis describit his verbis: Qui confirmat nos vobiscum in Christo, & qui unxit nos Deus,qui & signavit nos,& dedit pignus in cordibus nostris. Ubi verbum; confirmat,proprium est hujus Sacramenti,in quo robur datur. Deinde, unxit nos,refertur vel ad externam unctio- unctionem, vel ad internam, facta ad externam allusione. Illud autem, signavit nos, referri potest tum ad internam obsignationem per characterem, tum ad externum signaculum crucis, quod in hoc Sacramento in fronte imprimitur. Denique illud, dedit pignus Spiritus in cordibus nostris, designat effectum principalem hujus Sacramenti, qui est donum charitatis. Resp. 1. Sic videlicet Bellarminus verba ista ad ritum Pontificium detorquet. Sed tum demum de eo explicari posse verba Pauli fatebimur, cùm liquidò demonstraverit, Paulo, vel aliis scriptoribus sacris, notam esse confirmationem, unctionem, characterem ejusmodi Papisticum. Absque hoc est, dogma dubium, imò falsum, terminis dubiis & impropriis nobis probari non patimur. 2. Verborum Apostoli genuinus sensus est, Deum nos unire Christo per fidem, & quidem, ut nos in eum firmet: Simúlque nos unxisse, quando nos fecit esse in Christo, Regésque ac Sacerdotes effecit: Atque sibi signâsse & notâsse, ut propriam rem, & hæreditatem servandam ac curandam: Et ad spem nostram spiritum nobis dedisse pro arrhabone. Nempe dum fidem accipimus, Spiritum accipimus, cujus donum est fides, qui firmat, ungit, signat, & pignoris usum præstat. Quod igitur Deus dat, hoc homo dicere non potest se dare; & quod Baptismo jam obsignatum est, hoc temerè alio Sacramento obsignatur, quasi videlicet per baptismum obsignatum non esset.

Excip. Reding: Paulo confirmationem notam fuisse, supra ex Act. XIX. 6. probavimus. Ei confirmationis seu manuum impositionis ritus hac quoque Apostoli verba accommodamus, vel eo etiam argumento, quòd mediante manuum impositione Spiritus S. datus est. Ib. p. 134. Resp. Nos quoque impositionem manuum à confirmationis Sacramento vestro immane quantum distare, probavimus. Spongiæ igitur tota responsio tua incumbit.

OBIECT. III. Johannes 1. Ep. II. docet, fideles accepisse unctionem in ipsis permanentem, qua eos doceat de omnibus. Ubi unctio notat Spiritum S. quo in Domino inuncti sumus, hoc ipso videliset in Sacramento confirmationis, uti plerique Patres interpretantur. Resp. Unde verò probabunt adversarii, unctionem intelligi chrismaticam, qualem in confirmatione sua illi adhibent, & non potius unctionem spiritualem, alludentem ad unctionem V. T. qualis etiam fuit unctio ipsius Christi, quem tamen Scholastici omnes negant Sacramentum confirmationis suscepisse. Patres equidem nonnulli ejusmodi loca ad ritus sua ætate ex humano instituto susceptos & usitatos accommodârunt. Neque tamen vel ipsi in ea opinione fuerunt, ritus eos sacris illis, quorum textus accommodârunt, scriptoribus cognitos, usurpatos vel intentos fuisse: vel ex eorum testimonio cognitos & usurpatos fuisse probari potest.

EXCIP. REDING : Fateris ergo, ejusmodi sacros textus à Patribus quandoque adhibitos fuisse ad ritus ætate sua usitatos, qua unctionis spiritualis practicè significativos. lb. p. 135. Resp. A nonnullis Patribus ad ritus, sed sua ætate ex humano instituto susceptos accommodari, fateor. Cætera tua sunt. Nam ne Sacramentalem quidem Confirmationis ritum à meliore Patrum ætate susceptum, concedo. Accommodantes ejusmodi loca testantur sanè, chrisma suo Seculo in usu sacro fuisse, quod nemo negat. Sed vel chrisma in usu fuisse Scriptoris sacri tempore; vel hujus mentem eò respexisse, dum illa literis mandaret, quæ istuc Patres referunt, oppidò falsum est. Verbi gratia, quis Davidem, cùm illa Psal. CXXXIII. 2. scriberet : Sicut unguentum in capite, quod descendit in barbam Aaron; vel Paulum dicentem Rom. V. 5. charitatem Dei effusam esse in cordibus nostris per Spiritum S. putet in animo habuisse externum istorum chrisma? Ista sanè nullus Augustinus, Ambrosius nullus, licet ad unctionem tum usitatam loca ejusmodi accommodaverint, ita intelligenda esse persuaserint. Quid verò multis? Unctionem S. Johannes manere in nobis, & docere nos de omnibus asserit. An hoc oleo balsamato, fronti neophytorum illito, quod statim defluit, adeóque nec manet, nec docet, congruit?

OBIECT. IV. In baptismo quidem recipimus esse spirituale. At præter illud requiritur etiam robur & augmentum spirituale, quò expeditiùs & fortiùs spiritualibus tyrannis resistamus. Hoc autem confertur in Sacramento confirmationis. Resp. Respondemus Verbis Alexandri Alensis, p. 4. q. 9. a. 2. 5. 2. Ad hoc, inquit, quòd roboretur gratia baptismatis, & progrediatur ad terminum sua perfectionis, non necessariò requiritur gratia confirmationis Sacramentalis. Ipsa enim gratia baptismatis adminiculo virtutis indeficientis, id est, divinæ, quantum est de se, sufficit aliquo modo ad sui ipsius roborationem & confortationem. Et sanè cùm in baptismo obsignetur nobis regeneratio facta per Spiritum S. & Spiritus S. otiosus non sit, sed potiùs ubique negotiosus, adeóque confirmans & corroborans, quid opus est, non præeunte Dei verbo, novum Sacramentum comminisci? Adde, quòd etiam eucharistia instituatur ad animam roborandam, convenienter sanè symbolis panis & vini, quo utroque cor hominis confortatur. Neque verò capax est homo baptizatus alius corroborationis, quàm illius, quam accepit in prima regeneratione, antequam capax etiam sit eucharistiæ. Quod meritò etiam urget S. Cyprianus Epist. 54.

EXCIP. REDING : 1. Si Spiritu S. corroborante & confirmante per Baptisma jam accepto, Eucharistiæ insuper eadem ad conferendum animæ robur vis inest, cur sub alia mensura eam Confirmationi demis? 2. Aliud est roborari, & ad perfectionis terminum progredi, ad quod Alensis gratiam confirmationis non necessariò requiri asseruit: & ad quod aliquo modo Baptismi gratia sufficit: aliud expeditiùs & facilius tyrannis spiritualibus resistere, quod Confirmatio præstat. 3. Cyprianus lib. I. Epist. ult. diserè scribit, necesse esse ungi eum, qui baptizatus sit, ut accepto chrismate, id est, unctione, esse unctus Dei, & habere in se Christi gratiam possit. Et lib. II. Epist. 1. demum planè sanctificari hominem;

& esse Filium Dei posse docet, si Sacramento utroque, Baptismo & impositione manuum nascatur. Quin etiam Epist. ad Jubajan. baptizatos per Præpositos Ecclesiæ offerri, & per orationem ac manus impositionem Spiritum S. consequi, atque sic signaculo Dominico consummari, scribit. lb. pag. 135. Resp. 1. De Eucharistia plusquàm satis supra diximus. Insuper confirmationem æquè ac Eucharistiam à Christo institutam esse, temerè supponis. 2. Alensi non eadem quæ tibi, mens fuit. Ille gratiam confirmationis necessariò requiri ad hoc, ut gratia baptismalis ad terminum suæ perfectionis progrediatur, negat. Tu asseris, quia sine ea tyrannis spiritualibus expeditè & facilè resisti nequeat. Jam ergo confirmatio non ipsum robur spirituale, sed promptitudinem robore isto utendi suppeditat. Quasi Spiritus S. semel collatus robustos, & sine chrismate vestro expeditos facere nequeat. Putida hæc figmenta tua sint, ne teruncio quidem digna. Quasi fideles baptizati & Spiritu S jam præditi, bovis instar inertis robur, at non agilitatem & zelum ab eodem Spiritu accipiant. Exaltatio gratiæ confirmationis in ordine ad robur spirituale, vel ejusdem exercitium, supra gratiam Baptismi non tantùm impia est, sed in vobis etiam statuentibus, in Baptismo omnem peccati pœnam, adeoque infirmitatem etiam tolli, ridicula. 3. Cypriano neutiquam opinioni tuæ propitio uteris. Is pugnans, non esse unum Baptismum, qui ab hæreticis conferitur, (qui ejus, & Afrorum, aliorúmque plurium illustrium virorum error fuit) postquam datam ab hæreticis aquam eam peccata mundare non posse pluribus ex Scripturis ostendere conatus est, ex unctione etiam & manus impositione Epist. 71. ad Jan. argumentum struit. Cæterùm æquè ac Græci & Latini reliqui veteres, unctionem illam & manus impositionem non proprium, per se, ac seorsim Sacramentum, sed Baptismi Cerimoniam, ejúsque appendicem eum fecisse, vel solus quæstionis, quam agitat, titulus argumento est. Non enim de unctione, vel manus impositione, sed de Baptismo solo cum Stephano Romæ Episcopo litigavit. Et totius disputationis progressus arguit, & unctionem & manuum impositionem ad Baptismum ab eo referri. Olei etiam solius, non balsami ullam meminit. Epistola 72. ad Stephanum urbis Episcopum de hæreticorum quoque Baptismo conscripta parum esse ait venientibus ab hæreticis manus imponere, ad accipiendum Spiritum S. nisi & Baptismum Ecclesiæ accipiant. Tunc enim plenè sanctificari, & esse filios Dei posse, si Sacramento utroque nascantur, cùm scriptum sit: Nisi quis ex aqua & spiritu renatus fuerit, &c. Cujus loci genuinum sensum Nemesianus à Thabanis Episcopus in Synodo Carthaginensi sic exposuit: Neque Spiritus sine aqua operari potest, neque aqua sine spiritu. Male ergo quidam sibi interpretantur, ut dicant, quòd per manus impositionem Spiritum S. accipiant, & sic recipiantur, cùm manifestum sit, utroque Sacramento eos in Ecclesia Catholica renasci debere. Tum quippe poterunt esse Filii Dei. Si quod igitur Cyprianus & Nemesianus præter Baptismum & Eucharistiam Sacramentum receperunt, non chrismationem, sed manuum impositionem receperunt. Nam primis Seculis diversos fuisse chrismationis & manuum impositionis ritus, ipse Aurelius Orthod. pag. 163. fatetur. Agnoscitque ex his Cypriani ac Nemesiani dictis Sirmondus Antirrhet. 2. cap. 6. eandem ab iis commemoratam manus impositionem esse cum illa, qua neophyti consecrabantur. Qua autem illi hæreticos ad Ecclesiam venientes à Stephano susceptos narrant, eam Aurelius, aliique non Sacramentum, sed cerimoniam Baptismi fuisse concedunt. Ergo neophytorum quoque manus impositio ejusdem generis ac census fuit. Quid verò multis? Sacramento utroque Filios Dei nasci, Cyprianus dixit. An vestro confirmationis Sacramento filios Dei nasci vos dicitis? Imò verò rò jam natos in fide confirmari fingitis. Ergo nihil hæc ad commentitium Sacramentum veſtrum. Cúmque aquam ſine ſpiritu, & Spiritum ſine aqua nihil operari, Nemeſius dixerit, manifeſtum eſt, ad Confirmationis Sacramentum veſtrum hæc nihil attinere, quia in eo Spiritum ſine aqua operari conceditis. Quid ergo? Manuum impoſitionem, ceremoniam licet Baptiſmi, Sacramentum tamen Cyprianus dixit, quia quoties in uno eodémque myſterio plures ſunt partes à ſe invicem diſcretæ, ſed in unius tamen Sacramenti propriè dicti naturam coëuntes, mos Patrum eſt, non totum modò ex iſtis conflatum myſterium, ſed etiam ſingulas ejus partes Sacramenti nomine inſignire. Ita corporis & ſanguinis Dominici Sacramenta Theodulphus Epiſcopus Aurelianenſis, Concilium Cabilonenſe, ipſe Ordo Romanus, aliique appellant. Denique Epiſtola ad Jubajanum, (cujus authoritate quàm tutò nitaris, ipſe videris, cùm in ea Cyprianus contra Romanum Epiſcopum diſputet) nec per Præpoſitos Eccleſiæ Epiſcopos ſolos intelligit, ſed Presbyteros quoque, quos alibi quoque Præpoſitos appellat: & quos communi cum Epiſcopis miniſterio & conſilio Eccleſiam rexiſſe, omnes Cypriani literæ loquuntur, uti fusè etiam Blondellus Apol. pro Hieron. Sect. 2. teſtim. 16. oſtendit: & per manus impoſitionem Spiritum S. baptizatos conſequi, ait, non quòd per baptiſmum ipſum Spiritus S. participes non fiant, (quomodo enim ſine eo regenerantur?) ſed quòd precibus & manuum impoſitione extraordinaria ejus dona primis temporibus, vel fortè donorum ordinariorum incrementa quædam auctioremque menſuram conferri crederent: denique ſignaculo Dominico eos conſummari ſcribens, eodem Spiritu S. baptizatos obſignari, ex Epheſ. I. 13. & IV. 30. innuit; atque hac in obſignatione totius Baptiſmi coronidem conſtituit.

OBIECT. V. Chriſmatis in hoc Sacramento diſertè meminit Dionyſius Areopagita de Eccleſ. Hierarch. cap. 2. 3. parte 3. Unctionis verò, impoſitionis manuum, & ſigni crucis, Tertullianus lib. de reſurrect. carnis, de præſcript. & de baptiſmo. Sed & Auguſtinus lib. 2. contra literas Petiliani cap. 104. diſertè ait, Sacramentum Chriſmatis in genere viſibilium ſignaculorum, Sacramentum eſſe, ſicut ipſe baptiſmus. Reſp. 1. Sacramentum propriè dictum facit Divina inſtitutio, non vel Eccleſiæ, vel Patrum authoritas. 2. Opera Dionyſii nomen præferentia falſa & ſpuria eſſe, jampridem ex ipſis adverſariis olfecerunt Valla, Eraſmus, Cajetanus. Sanè quinque prioribus ſeculis planè fuiſſe incognitum ſcriptum, peculiari Tractatu ſolidè demonſtravit Cl. Dalleus. Ne dicam, jam olim Hypatium Cathol. cum contra Acephalos iis ſcriptis abutentes, ea velut dubia & incerta refutâſſe. Tum Dionyſius ille meminit equidem unguenti, & unctionis eorum, qui baptizantur, & unctionis Altaris & ſymbolicæ confectionis unguenti, & τὸ μύρον συμβολικῆς συνθέσεως, & vocat unguenti Sacramentum μύρου πλήθη. Denique diſtinguit duas unctiones, unam ex oleo, alteram ex unguento, illam ante, hanc poſt tinctionem. Sed utramque illam unctionem facit baptiſmalem ritum, & ſignum, quo veteres baptiſmum illuſtrârunt. 3. De Tertulliano vidimus jam ſupra. Eam nempe intelligit unctionem

SESSIO VIII.

Celebrata die 11. Martii 1547.

Decretum de translatione Concilii.

PLacétne vobis decernere & declarare, de hujusmodi morbo, ex præmiſſis & aliis allegatis, ita manifeſtè & notoriè conſtare, ut Prælati in hac civitate ſine vitæ diſcrimine commorari, & in ea iccirco inviti minimè retineri poſſint & debeant? itémque attento receſſu multorum Prælatorum poſt proximè præteritam ſeſſionem, & attentis proteſtationibus aliorum complurium Prælatorum, in congregationibus generalibus factis, hinc omnino timore ipſius morbi abire volentium; qui juſtè detineri non poſſunt, ut ex quorum diſceſſu Concilium vel diſſolveretur, vel ex paucitate Prælatorum bonus ejus progreſſus impediretur; & attento etiam imminenti periculo vitæ, aliis cauſis per aliquos ex patribus in ipſis congregationibus allegatis, utpote notoriè veris & legitimis: Placétne vobis ſimiliter decernere & declarare, pro conſervatione & proſecutione ipſius Concilii, ſecuritate vitæ ipſorum Prælatorum, Concilium ipſum ad civitatem Bononiæ, veluti ad locum magis paratum, ſalubrem & idoneum, pro tempore transferendum eſſe, & ex nunc transferri, & ibidem Seſſionem jam indictam, ſtatuta die 21. Aprilis celebrandam eſſe, & celebrari; & ſucceſſivè ad ulteriora procedendum, donec ſanctiſſimo Domino noſtro & ſacro Concilio expedire videbitur, ut ad hunc ſeu alium locum, communicato etiam conſilio cum invictiſſimo Cæſare, Chriſtianiſſimo Rege & aliis Regibus ac Principibus Chriſtianis ipſum concilium reduci poſſit & debeat. Reſponderunt, Placet.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS VIII.

SEſſione ſeptima finita, eo ipſo die nuntius Româ miſſus, aulicus nimirum Cardinalis Montani, de Concilio transferendo mandatum Pontificis impertiit Legatis, in hunc videlicet ſenſum, ut Concilium quantociùs transferant Bononiam, cauſámque aliquam vel fingant, vel fortè oblatam arripiant. Legati eo nuntio variè affecti, ſtrenuè tamen voluntati Pontificis uti ſatisfieret, operam navârunt. Ante omnia autem Concilio transferendo colorem quæſiverunt ex metu epidemicæ luis, jam ſerpentis & brevi graſſaturæ. Cui colori & fuco inſerviit, tum quòd nonnulli Præſulum famuli minùs proſpera uterentur valetudine, ſive ex crapula die Hilariorum contracta, ſive ex veris, propter aſſiduos plurium dierum imbres, nonnulla intemperie: tum quòd medici nonnulli, & inter hos Hieronymus Fracastorius, qui Concilii medicus ferebatur, à Cardinale Montano in consilium missi, ambiguum responsum reddiderunt, quod mox disseminatum à credulis primùm, deinde à mediocribus creditum, ad eos tandem pervenit, qui abiturientes id verum esse percupiebant: tum denique, quòd statim à finita Sessione Episcopus fato defunctus, luis illius serpentis suspicionem auxit. Porro Legati studiosè id evitantes, ne rumor ille sparsus sibi imputari posset, proxima post Sessionem die generalem congregationem celebrant de digerendis iis, quæ circa Sacramentum eucharistiæ ventilanda essent, & sequente septimana Theologorum congregationibus initium decernunt. Fama percrebescente, Cardinalis Montanus de morbo, quo Tridentini nonnulli tentabantur, epidemicus esset, nécne, judiciariam litem instituit. Quâ quidem ad octavum usque diem continuatâ, subitò Tridentum allatus est nuntius, Veronam in eo esse, ut cum Tridentina civitate commercium interdicat. Sequente nono die generalis habita est congregatio, in qua post prælectum judiciorum processum, Patribus pluribus discessum instituentibus, Montanus pronuntiavit, Concilium omnino transferendum esse, ostensâ & publicè prælectâ bullâ Pontificiâ, quâ transferendi Concilium facultas à principio Synodi Legatis data fuerit. Huic legatorum edicto Episcopi Cæsarei, fucum sibi fieri subodorati, se masculè opposuerunt, dictitantes, pericula majora jactari; meticulosos posse dimitti, donec incerti rumores consilescerent. Nec interesse magni, an Sessio differatur ad aliquod tempus, sicut antehac etiam imminente bello factitatum fuerit. Proximo die, cùm jam undecim Præsules discessissent, in publica congregatione deliberatum de loco, in quem Concilium opportune transferri posset. Iis, quorum suffragia viderunt, placuit Bononia, in Pontificis territorio sita. Formatum de eo decretum, cui, sequente die habita sessione, prælecto Episcopi 35. & Præpositi tres assensum & suffragia præbuerunt, Cardinale Pacieco & 17. Episcopis dissentientibus, inter quos etiam erat Marcus Vigerius Sanogaliensis Episcopus, cui cùm id exprobrâsset Montanus, ingratitudinis ei in Apostolicam sedem objecto crimine, cordatè is respondit, non esse ludendum cum Deo. Finita Sessione Legati equidem cum Episcopis suarum partium cruce prægestatâ, Tridento Bononiam discedunt, reliqui verò, inprimis Cæsareani Tridenti, jubente ipso Cæsare, substiterunt,

Ad Hiſtoriam & Decretum Seſſionis VIII.

SEſſione hac non ſine ſingulari aſtu & μεθοδείᾳ eorum, qui hactenus Concilium moderabantur, decretum eſt, ut Concilium Tridento transferretur Bononiam, civitatem Papæ Romano obnoxiam. Operæ pretium erit hîc expendere, tum translationis hujus partim veras cauſas, partim σοφίσματα & prætextus, quos callidè commentati ſunt Concilii Præſides: tum methodum fraudulentam eorum, qui architectos doli ſe gerebant. Veræ cauſæ tum ex iis, quæ hactenus geſta in Concilio ſunt, tum ex iis, quæ imminebant, cognoſci poſſunt. Et in proximè quidem ſuperiori ſeſſione, poſtquam Papa miſſo diplomate reformationis negotium ſuum ad tribunal evocare conſtituit, Cardinalis Paciecus cum Præſulibus Hiſpanis aliisque Cæſareis, ſeorſim conſultare cœperat de authoritate Pontificia, & Romano clero in ordinem redigendo, & poſtulatis ſuis poſthac ſcripto exhibendis. Quem in finem cenſuram iis articulis comprehenſam, & ſcripto conſignatam proxima in congregatione Legatis exhibuerunt, quam illi ſtatim offenſionem ſuam teſtificati, Romam miſerant. Ex iis articulis, nec non ex pluribus aliis, quæ antehac in aliquot congregationibus ita geſta & dicta erant, non obſcurè patebat, Papæ & Cardinalium jugulum peti, atque id omnino agi, ut in ordinem redigerentur. Præterea imminebat bellum religionis causâ motum, quod ipſo Seſſionis hujus tempore in Germania exardeſcebat. Ejus belli eventum ſibi fore noxium, Papa & Præſules inprimis Italiæ providebant, utcunque tandem alea caderet. Sive enim Proteſtantes exiſterent victores, non immeritò ſibi timebant boni Præſules, ne fidei & libertatis Evangelicæ hactenus in Concilio oppreſſæ pœnas luerent: ſive Cæſar reportaret palmam, præſagiebat ipſis animus, fore, ut vel minùs ſibi æquum ipſum victorem experirentur, vel Proteſtantes is Theologos vi eò adigeret, ut Concilium frequentarent. His malis medicam manum adhiberi poſſe, tum Papa, tum ii, quibus de inſtituto ejus vaferrimo ſuboluit, exiſtimârunt, ſi Concilium Tridento, civitate videlicet Germaniæ proximiore, & Cæſari magis obnoxia, exciretur & transferretur Bononiam, eam videlicet civitatem, quæ & Pontificii juris erat, & Papæ vicina. Ita nempe fore, ut & ipſi Præſules, inprimis Itali, qui Pontificiam authoritatem tutabantur hactenus, eſſent tutiores, & Papa cum Legatis & Præſulibus ſuarum partium, tum conſilia, tum mandata expeditiùs communicare, adeòque inſidias illegitimæ potestati & authoritati suæ ab Episcopis Hispanis ac Cæsareis, aliisque hactenus structas, securiùs evitare posset; utque eam civitatem adire detrectarent potissimùm illi, quos extimescebat, non Protestantes duntaxat, quos ne vi quidem adigi posse, ut Pontificiam civitatem Concilii celebrandi gratiâ sectarentur, probè sciverat: Sed Cæsarei etiam Episcopi sibi hactenus parùm æqui, quos Cæsarem, cujus consilium & consensus in translatione susque deque habitus est, prohibiturum, ne Bononiam ire fas ipsis esset, facili conjectura assequi potuit. Sic igitur Concilium, à quo semper Papæ animus abhorruit, & revera dissolvi, & ludicra specie dementari posse homines, ut crederent, Papæ continuationem ejus curæ cordique esse, callidissimè augurabatur. Hæc vera translati Concilii causa fuit. Ei verò obductus prætextus erat, pestilentiæ jam serpentis, & ab ipsis medicis exploratæ metus. Sed meram hanc fuisse σκέψιν illorum, qui Pontificis imperata non aliter quàm venditato ejusmodi fumo exequi potuerunt, manifestum est. Quid enim? An vel mors unius Episcopi, vel famulorum morbi non aliis causis, quàm serpenti epidemiæ lui imputari potuerunt? Neque Medicorum judicium obstat, tum quia credibile est, illos Legatis, vel Pontificis ipsius, quam exploratam habuerunt, voluntati velificari voluisse: tum quia Episcopis Cæsareis Tridenti constanter subsistentibus nihil sequiùs accidit, neque ulla posthac pestilens contagio ibi sæviisse legitur: tum quia Medicorum, uti Historicus festivè & prudenter monet, prognostica ferè sunt in deteriorem partem, ut si eveniant, quòd ea præviderint, in arte periti esse videantur, sin minùs, quòd ea præverterint, hoc ipso peritiores existimentur. Denique & fraudulenta methodus tum Papæ, tum Legatorum, qua translatio illa procurata est, ejusmodi est, ut non possit non vehementer vituperari. Etenim primò Legati Breve Pontificium, quo potestas illimitata transferendi imminente necessitate Concilii, jam ab initio indulta ipsis fuerit, protulerunt. In eo Brevi duobus ex Legatis, absente tertio, (Polo videlicet) potestas fit transferendi Concilii in quamcunque civitatem opportuniorem. Hic alii quidem censebant, diem diplomatis adulteratam esse, antiquiori noviter appositâ; alioquin, inquiebant, clausula, quæ duobus, absente tertio, transferendi Concilii potestatem faciebat, Propheticum quid sonaret, quasi Polum post annum obiturum præsensissent. Præterea arguebant, verisimile haud esse Paulum Pontificem, qui antehac semper cavebat, ne synodus in loco minùs tuto celebraretur, Legatis suis facultatem tam amplam, transferendi videlicet Concilium in civitatem quamcunque, quæ ipsis commoda videretur, concessurum esse. Historicus tamen Bullam eam ante duos annos Romæ confectam, & ante 18. menses Tridentum transmissam esse, ex adversariis rerum tum temporis gestarum, monet.

Ut

Ut igitur genuinam fuisse eam Bullam demus, quis non credat, facultatem Legatis concessam hactenus fuisse restrictam, ut translatio ejusmodi inscio & inconsulto Pontifice neutiquam decerneretur? Secundò Legati in decernenda translatione ita agunt, ac si inscio planè & inconsulto Pontifice cuncta illa fierent. Hinc Patribus antequam in Bononiam consensissent, scrupulum moventibus, translationem ejusmodi inscio Papa factam, malè ipsum habiturum, Legati, imprimis Montanus, callidè ita respondent: Casus subitos ac inopinos, inprimis ubi periculum capitis impendet, ab ejusmodi aspectibus esse immunes, atque eam in se curam suscipere, ut cum nulla mala gratia Pontificis id fiat. Et Legati ut tegerent consilium secuturæ deliberationis, argumentum in congregatione publica definiendum curant. Et tamen non conscio duntaxat, sed etiam imperante Pontifice, factam esse translationem, planè constat, tùm quia ipso Sessionis VII. habito die internuntius Pontificius submissus legatis mandatum Papæ fiduciarium exposuit: tum quia minima quæque in Concilio facta sunt ex præscripto Papæ, atque eam ob causam singulis hebdomadis per cursorem literæ Româ Tridentum allatæ sunt: tum quia Legatorum prudentiæ minimè consentaneum fuisset, in civitatem Principi suo etiam suspectam, eo inscio tantam hominum multitudinem induci: tum denique, quia graves authores Pontifice jubente id omne factum esse, testantur. Onuphrius Panvinius, qui vixit sub Pio IV. & V. in vita Pauli III. quam ille se probatissimis annalibus vetustissimisque publicis monumentis sublevatum scripsisse profitetur, inter alia ita habet: Hunc in modum Paulus Cæsari non dissimulanter iratus, de Concilii, quod Tridenti in gratiam Cæsaris celebrari jusserat, suspensione, translationéque in Bononiam cogitare cœpit, & eò quidem propensius, quòd quibusdam sanctionibus odiosa disputatione ad decretum relatis quorundam subornatorum præsulum malignitate, dignitatem suam perstringi, & offendi cognovisset. Itaque ejusdem anni, quo Cæsar de Germanis victoriam retulit, initio, Legati Pontificii æris intemperiem excusantes, monente Pontifice, relicto Tridento Bononiam se contulerunt. Et paulò post. Concilium Tridento ex Pontificis authoritate translatum. Sed & alius author anonymus, adjunctus Platinæ in ejus editione Colonensi 1551. in vita Pauli III. inter alia hæc verba habet: Concilium Oecumenicum, quod Paulus 1542. Tridenti futurum indixerat, & triennio pòst ibidem Legatis Apostolicis incepit, celebratis aliquot Sessionibus, nescio quibus de causis, hoc eodem anno, Pontifex Bononiam transferre conatus est, quod dum non parum multis displiceret, hucusque manet suspensum. Id ipsum quoque referri à Mamsrimo Rosseo, Dionysio à Fœno, & aliis Italicas generales historias scribentibus, docet nos Cæsar Aquilinus de Trib. Historicis Concilii Trident. p. 32. ubi ipsum etiam Pallavicinum imprudentem, & sua vineta cædentem idem asserere ostendit, & ex ejus verbis conficit.

Hæc

Hæc cùm ita ſe habeant, non dubitavit tamen Scipio Henricus Cenſ. Theol. ſect. 4. art. 2. apertæ veritati, ab Hiſtorico aliiſque recitatæ ogganire, uſus frivolis ratiunculis, quas paucis diſcutere juvabit. Primò igitur Hiſtorici rationem fictitiam eſſe tribus probare conatur rationibus. Prima ipſi inde arceſſita, quòd aulici illius miſſio ad legatos, cujus meminit Suave Polanus, nullo idoneo authore ſcripta, nec in actis poſita inveniatur. Quódque Anthonius Milledomus ſecretarius Veneti oratoris à Ponte ad Concilium ſub Pio IV. miſſi, qui hanc hiſtoriam ſcripſerit, cjus miſſionis planè non meminerit. ſed ingenuè & ſimpliciter fateatur, translationem hanc ob contagium determinatam fuiſſe. pag. 184. Sed Henrici hujus ſimplicitatem non immeritò notat & irridet Cæſar Aquilinus, & ex ipſo, Pallavicino fruſtra etiam hic ſudante, ut miſſionem illam fictitiam eſſe probaret, oſtendit, Legatos de imminente peſtilentiæ periculo die 1. Martii ad Pontificem ſcripſiſſe, quæ epiſtola probè reſpondeat adventui iſtius, qui poſt Seſſionem VII. die 3. ejuſdem menſis obtulerit mandatum Pontificis. Quòd ſi jam, uti probavimus, translatio facta eſt authoritate Pontificis, quis dubitet, illum miſſo nuntio, ſuam de eo Legatis voluntatem ſignificâſſe. Quòd verò ad acta provocat & Milledomi hiſtoriam, id ipſum ſanè dilutum eſt. Quæ enim authentica Concilii acta nobis prodet? Et cui mirum videbitur, præteritum eſſe vel in actis, vel apud Milledomum, quod referebat plurimùm taceri, quódque Pontificis calliditate non tam publicè quàm clanculùm geſtum erat? Secundam rationem inde promit Henricus, quòd translatio hæc facta fuerit debito proceſſu in Concilio inito Hieronymi Fracaſtorii Medici celeberrimi: mortuo uno ex Epiſcopis, aliiſque quàm plurimis contagii metu ante decretum translationis diſcedentibus, & ob idem contagium Verona civitate commercium cum Tridentinis interdicente; ibid. Verùm hæc ipſa quoque retulit Hiſtoricus. Sed totum hoc ſchema ad ornandam ſcenam & dementandos ſimplices comparatum fuit. Sanè parùm ea omnia valuerunt apud Epiſcopos Cæſareos, qui ſubodorati dicuntur ſtatim artificium Pontificis. De Medicorum conſultatione ſentiendum quid ſit, ſupra diximus. Sanè etiam Proteſtatio Cæſaris habita Romæ, inter alia habet, affectata & procurata quorumdam medicorum, ſed præſertim ancillarum & coquorum, & viliſſimorum hominum teſtimonia recitata eſſe. Veronam verò percrebeſcente rumore quamvis incerto contagii, commercium cum Tridentinis interdixiſſe, mirum quoque non eſt, cùm talia diffamatis etiam innocentibus, cumprimis in Italia, contingant ſæpiùs. Tertiò, inquit, argumenta, quæ pro ſuo figmento adducit Hiſtoricus, levia ſunt & nullius momenti. Quàm verò levia ſint, liquebit, ſi adverſarii ad ea reſponſiones expenderimus. Primò arguit Hiſtoricus, mirum eſſe, ſi Legati in minimis conſulentes Pontificem, in hoc negotio cum ipſo non conſultaverint. Reſpondet, conſultatione opus opus non fuiſſe, quia Legati per bullam hanc facultatem haberent, & periculum eſſet in mora. Cur verò in leviſſimis quibuſque opus fuit conſultatione tali, non autem in rebus graviſſimis? Facultatem habuerunt etiam moderandi Concilium. Neque tamen moderandum putârunt, ſine quotidianis ferè Pontificis mandatis, quæ per literas expetierunt. Neque etiam datam legimus facultatem transferendi in quamlibet urbem, non ſolicitato urbis domino. Periculum porrò erat non certum, ſed & fictum & imaginarium. Secundò mirari dicit Hiſtoricum, inconſulto Magiſtratu Bononienſi tantam eò Prælatorum multitudinem importatam eſſe. Reſpondet, Bononiam civitatem eſſe ſatis amplam, ad recipiendos advenas aptiſſimam, Eccleſiaſticæ juriſdictioni ſubditam, & potuiſſe de eo admoneri Cardinalem legatum, qui Bononiæ præſidebat. Atqui Hiſtoricus non id admiratus eſt, quòd inconſulto Magiſtratu Bononienſi, ſed quòd inconſulto Pontifice, Bononiæ Domino, ea multitudo invecta ſit. Non ſufficiebat, quòd cognoſcerent ſatis amplam civitatem eſſe. Requirebatur conſenſus Domini, ut translatio in eam tutò fieret. Plura enim alia incommoda obſtare translationi poterant. Ut igitur facultatem habuerint transferendi Concilium, non habuerunt tamen transferendi in urbem, inſcio & inconſulto ejus Domino.

Digitized by Google

His igitur de translatione Concilii præmiſſis, paucis notas noſtras complectemur. Etenim Primò luce meridiana clarius eſt, Concilium Pontifici obnoxium fuiſſe & ſervum. Cùm enim timendum is haberet, ne poteſtatis ab ipſo & Curia Romana, hactenus ſine divinis & humanis ſuffragiis uſurpatæ, examen inſtitueretur, atque illius fimbriæ circumciderentur, is ſubitò Concilium per ſpeciem translationis, uti etiam Velaſcus in proteſtatione, nomine Cæſaris Bononienſibus exhibita, iis exprobrat, diſſolvit, & abrupit. Nam translatione ea factum eſt, ut Concilio diſſipato, & aliis Tridenti, aliis Bononiæ hærentibus, & utriſque hoſtiliter digladiantibus, non tam Concilium eſſet, quàm ſchiſma adverſantium ſibi & à corpore Eccleſiæ abſciſſorum, ut eos in reſponſione ad proteſtationem Cæſaris ipſe Pontifex appellavit, Præſulum; imò ut Paulo quidem ſuperſtite nulla ampliùs Seſſio haberetur, & Concilium quatuor ferè annos interruptum maneret, nunquam amplius habendum, ſi penes Pontificem ſtetiſſet. Secundò, variæ illæ & veteratoriæ in procuranda hac translatione artes, tum Papæ tum Legatorum ejus, manifeſtè produnt, quo ſpiritu agitatum hoc Concilium fuerit. Nam ſpiritum quidem Dei, à cujus præſidio Concilium hoc commendare non verentur, ejuſmodi κυβείαν & πανουργίαν in ſuis non operari, planum eſt. Non malè Vir doctus pronuntiavit, plurima à Theologis Pontificiis declamari de Politica Machiavelli. Sed Scholaſtica & chartacea illa esse, si cum viva praxi, quæ in hoc Concilio obtinuit, comparentur. Sed & Marcus Vigneriu, Episcopus Sanogalienſis, Cardinali Montano exprobranti ingratitudinem, eò quòd ab ejus actionibus dissentiret, regerens, non esse ludendum cum Deo, id ipsum confirmare videtur. Tertiò ex translatione ea liquet, quàm clerus Pontificius, Papæ inprimis & Cardinalium turba, fuerit impatiens remedii, incorrigibilis & contumax, quámque averso fuerint à Concilio animo. Quartò non immeritò offensi sunt in Concilio multi diplomate seu Bulla facultatis, quâ Legatis duobus facultas fiebat dissolvendi & transferendi Concilii; & prælatis sub pœnis & censuris Ecclesiasticis edicendi, ut Tridento discederent. Quæ quæso erat Concilii libertas, si duobus, quoties lubuit, Concilium dissolvere vel transferre aliò, invitis reliquis, imò gravi pœna ad id constringendis, integrum fuit? Fumum heic imperitis venditat Scipio Henricus p. 186. asserens, Legatos facultate ista usos non esse ad transferendum Concilium proprio jure, sed ad proponendam Patribus translationem, quæ ex eorum consensu facta est. Et Patres in Concilio liberos quidem fuisse in votis ferendis, quæ propriæ & simplex Concilii libertas fuerit: At non in loco definiendo, quæ cura ad solum Pontificem spectarit. Etenim Bulla facultatem confert non proponendi duntaxat, sed transferendi Concilium, imò Prælatis inhibendi sub pœnis & censuris Ecclesiasticis, ne Tridenti ad ulteriora procedant. Quæ residua est libertas, cùm non parentibus edicto pœna & censura ecclesiastica denuntiantur? Deinde libertas Concilii non in eo duntaxat vertitur, ut de re proposita liberè vota ferantur, quanquam ne hæc quidem libertas integra fuit Patribus: sed in eo etiam, ut omnium vel plurium consensu definiatur argumentum deliberationis, & quicquid ad finem Concilio propositum assequendum conducit. Neque loci definitionem jure ullo Pontifici competere, probari potest. Id autem cùm ad exteriorem jurisdictionem pertineat, à sola Potestate civili suprema dependet.

SESSIO IX.

SESSIO IX.

Bononiæ celebrata, die 21. Menſis Aprilis 1547.

Decretum prorogationis Seſſionis.

HÆc Sacro-ſancta Oecumenica & generalis Synodus, quæ dudum in civitate Tridenti congregata erat, nunc Bononiæ in Spiritu S. legitimè congregata, præſidentibus in ea nomine Sanctiſſimi in Chriſto Patris & Domini noſtri, Domini Pauli, divinâ providentiâ Papæ III. eisdem Reverendiſſimis Dominis D. Joh. Maria, Epiſcopo Præneſtino, de Monte & Marcello, tit. S. Crucis in Hieruſalem Presbytero, S. R. E. Cardinalibus, & Apoſtolicis de latere Legatis, conſiderans, quòd die 11. Menſis Martii, præſentis anni, in generali publica Seſſione, in eadem civitate Tridenti, & in loco conſueto celebrata, omnibúsque agendis de more peractis, ex cauſis tunc inſtantibus, urgentibus, & legítimis, interveniente etiam authoritate ſanctæ Sedis Apoſtolicæ, eisdem Reverendiſſimis Præſidentibus ſpecialiter conceſſa, decrevit & ordinavit, Concilium ex eo loco in hanc civitatem transferendum eſſe, ſicut tranſtulit, itémque Seſſionem pro præſenti die XXI. Aprilis, illic indicta, ut de Sacramentorum & reformationis materiis, de quibus tractandum propoſuerat, Canones ſancirentur & promulgarentur, in hac ipſa civitate Bononiæ celebrari debere: conſideránsque nonnullos ex Patribus, qui in hoc Concilio intereſſe conſueverunt, his ſuperioribus majoris hebdomadæ, & ſolennitatis Paſchalis diebus, in propriis Eccleſiis occupatos, aliquos etiam aliis impedimentis detentos, huc nondum acceſſiſſe, quos tamen brevi affuturos ſperandum eſt; ac propterea factum eſſe, ut non ea, quam ſancta Synodus deſiderabat, Prælatorum frequentia potuerint materiæ ipſæ Sacramentorum & reformationis examinari & diſcuti: ut omnia maturo conſilio, cum dignitate & gravitate debita fiant, bonum opportunum, & expediens cenſuit, cenſétque, Seſſionem prædictam, quæ hoc ipſo die, ut præfertur, celebranda erat, ad diem Jovis infra octavam Pentecoſtes proximè futuram, quo ad ipſas materias expediendas, differendam & prorogandam eſſe, quemadmodum differt ac prorogat; quam diem & rei gerendæ maximè opportunam, & Patribus præſertim abſentibus percommodam judicavit & judicat. Hoc tamen adjecto, quòd terminum ipſum ipſa Sancta Synodus, pro ejus arbitrio & voluntate, ſicuti rebus Concilii putaverit expedire, etiam in privata congregatione reſtringere & imminuere poſſit & valeat. Cardinalibus Legatis unâ cum 35. Epiſcopis Bononiam translatis, reliqui, videlicet Cardinalis Paciecus, & 17. cum eo Epiſcopi Tridenti ſubſtiterunt. Quorum propoſitum Cæſar laudavit & confirmavit, exaratis ad eos literis præcipiens, ne Tridento pedem efferrent.

rent. Tridentini igitur deliberare cœperunt,an è re eſſet,ad actum Synodicum Tridenti procedere. Viſum tamen id intermittere, ne qua ſchiſmati occaſio detur. Interea Bononienſes inter & Tridentinos Patres ſcripta commeabant,quibus illi Synodum Bononienſem, hi verò ſanctam ſynodum, ubicunque locorum eſſet,nominabant. Legati præterea, aliique Eccleſiæ Romanæ Cardinales Epiſcopos aliquot Tridenti ſubſiſtentes variis officiorum generibus demulcere,& Bononiam pertrahere ſtuduerunt. Sed nemo unus expugnari ſe paſſus eſt, præter Epiſcopum Aquilienſem, Galeatium Florimatem. Invitati etiam ſunt Bononiam reliqui, qui ante decretam translationem Tridento diſceſſerant, Epiſcopi. Verùm non paruerunt invitationi. Aliquot tandem Bononiæ habitis congregationibus nihil aliud actum eſt,quàm ut translationem eſſe legitimam,& Patres Tridentinos ex officio teneri ſeſe Bononienſibus aggregare, evinceretur. Tandémque de Seſſione proroganda, & ut Tridentini Patres per literas monerentur,ut ſe corpori conjungerent,à quo ſejuncti congregatio Eccleſiaſtica dici non poſſint,imò verò nomini Chriſtiano magno eſſent offendiculo, decretum formatum eſt. Sed Patres Tridentini obfirmantes animum,literis Bononienſium ne quidem reſpondere dignati ſunt.

Ad Hiſtoriam & Decretum Seſſionis IX.

Primò conſtans Præſulum Cæſareorum Tridenti mora,nec non mandatum Cæſaris,quo illis,ut ibi ſubſiſterent,injunctum erat,argumentum eſt Concilii ſine juſta & legitima ratione translati. Quis enim credat, vel Præſules eos Tridenti commoraturos, vel Cæſarem hanc iis moram injuncturum fuiſſe,ſi à lue epidemia periculum vel imminuiſſet,vel præſens jam fuiſſet? Majorem haud dubiè & vitæ & ſalutis ſuæ rationem habuerunt,quàm ut in graviſſimo periculo ſine ſontica cauſa,majori corporis parti abſciſſæ ſeſe obſtinatè opponere vellent. Secundò diſſidium illud Patrum Bononienſium & Tridentinorum, acerbæque, quas invicem ſuſtinuerunt, velitationes, veri ſchiſmatis rationem habuit. Quippe factum iis eſt, ut turbaretur & tolleretur unitas corporis, partibus ejus ſeſe mutuò impetentibus & graviter accuſantibus. Tertiò,quòd Patres Tridentini ſuſtinuerunt, Synodum, ubicunque locorum eſſet, adeóque ſuam illam Tridentinam ſanctam eſſe,argumentum nobis ſuppeditat, poſſe eſſe dicique Sanctam Synodum, quæ à Pontifice nec convocata,nec gubernata eſt, imò ringente etiam Pontifice, & pœnas ſuas intonante, celebratur. Sanè iidem illi Epiſcopi Tridentini ad actiones Synodicas erant proceſſuri, niſi eos metus ſchiſmatis cohibuiſſet, non obſtante interim prætenſo Pontificis in gubernando Concilio jure. Quartò iidem Epiſcopi Tridentini, ſuſque déque habentes Legatorum, Cardinalium Romanorum, Epiſcoporum Bononienſium invitationem, ac inprimis Pontificis intentatas pœnas, exemplo præiverunt Evangelicis, Concilium frequentare detrectantibus, & Pontificis fulmina & anathemata penſi non habentibus. Quintò denique argumentum prorogandæ Seſſionis, petitum ab Epiſcoporum reliquorum abſentia, quorum alios in propriis Eccleſiis occupatos, alios aliis impedimentis detentos, diſſimulatâ ſtrenuè gentiinâ causâ, quæ erat averſatio Bononienſis Synodi, cauſantur Patres. Aderant tamen Legati. Aderant 35. Epiſcopi, quorum conventui Oecumenicæ & generalis Synodi titulum, quamvis plerique omnes Itali fuerint, præſcribere non verentur. Quòd ſi tamen in paucis illis ſubſtitit Oecumenica generalis Synodus, prorogandæ propter reliquorum abſentiam Seſſionis excuſatio juſta minimè fuit.

ringente

SESSIO X.

Bononiæ celebrata die 2. Menſis Junii 1547.

Decretum prorogandæ Seſſionis.

QUamvis hac Sacro-ſancta Oecumenica generalis ſynodus Seſſionem, quæ die 21. menſis Aprilis proximè præteriti, ſuper Sacramentorum & reformationis materiis in hac inclyta civitate Bononiæ, ex Decreto, in urbe Tridentina, in publica Seſſione die 11. menſis Martii promulgato, celebranda erat, propter aliquas cauſas, ac præſertim propter abſentiam plerorúmque, quos brevi affuturos ſperabat, ad hunc præſentem diem differendam & prorogandam eſſe decreverit: volens tamen cum iis, qui non venerunt, etiam adhuc benignè agere, eadem Sacro-ſancta Synodus, in Spiritu S. legitimè congregata, præſidentibus in ea eisdem ſanctæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ Cardinalibus, & Apoſtolicæ ſedis Legatis, ſtatuit & decernit, Seſſionem ipſam, quam hac die 2. menſis Junii, præſentis anni 1547. celebrare decreverat ad diem Jovis poſt feſtum Nativitatis beatæ Virginis, quæ erit 15. menſis Septembris proximè futuri, quo ad prædictas & alias materias expediendas, differendam & prorogandam eſſe, quemadmodum differt & prorogat; ita tamen, ut proſecutio diſcuſſionis & examinationis eorum, quæ tam ad dogmata, quàm ad reformationem pertinent, interim non omittatur; & terminum ipsum, ipsa sancta Synodus pro ejus libitu & voluntate etiam in privata congregatione, abbreviare & prorogare liberè possit & valeat.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS X.

DUm Bononienses & Tridentini Patres inteſtino diſſidio magis magisque exardeſcunt, Cæſar cum inſtructiſſimo exercitu ingreſſus Saxoniam de Germanis, ac inprimis Saxoniæ Electore & Haſſiæ Landgravio, quorum ille vulnere per maxillam accepto captus, hic ultro ſe ſubmittens & dedens in Cæſaris poteſtatem venit, victoriam reportavit. Quæ quidem victoria etſi non exigua apud Pontificem, ſibi jam metuere incipientem, invidia laboravit, tamen hanc ipſi voluptatem attulit, quòd à Concilii metu quodammodo eſſe immuni liceret. Utque contra Cæſarem ſe præmuniret, Henrico II. Galliæ Regi, qui nuperimè Franciſco ſucceſſerat, per Hieronymum Capuferreum, S. Georgii Cardinalem eo ablegatum, fœdus obtulit, ampliſſimam ei poteſtatem pollicitus, ſimúlque omnia Regis de beneficiali materia poſtulata rata habiturus, etiam nulla habita Concilii Tridentini ratione. Franciſcum quoque Sfondratum Cardinalem in Germaniam miſit, inter alia etiam, ut apud Cæſarem varias expediat rationes Concilii in Civitate Bononia habendi. Bononienſibus porrò Patribus idem, ne quicquam aggrederentur, quod augendo diſſidio inſerviret, injunxit. Quamvis igitur nonnullæ ibi indictæ habitæque eſſent congregationes, & de rebus fidei deliberationes interceſſiſſent, nullum tamen de iis concinnatum decretum eſt. De reformatione verò altum ſilentium. Id unum tandem ſancitum eſt de ſeſſione proroganda decretum, quod die 2. Junii ſolitis ceremoniis promulgatum eſt.

NOTÆ

Ad Bullam Reſumptionis Concilii Tridentini ſub Julio III.

JULIUS III. Aretinus, antea Joh. Maria de monte dictus, Cardinalis & Pauli III. in Concilio Legatus princeps, quàm primùm electus eſt in locum Pauli III. Pontifex, identidem à Cæſare primò per Ludovicum Avilam Romam Legatum, mox per literas & Oratorem, ut reſtauraret Concilium, ſolicitatus eſt. Is, uti in hiſtoria Seſſionis XI. narrabimus, adhibitis in Conſilium tum intimis, tum Cardinalibus, & ponderatis rationibus Concilium tum ſuadentibus, tum diſſuadentibus, eam inclinavit in ſententiam, ut ſtatueret, Concilium Tridenti reſumendum eſſe. Mox itaque Bullam Reſumptionis concinnatam miſit ad Cæſarem, ſuffragio muniendam, qui cùm mitigari eam petiiſſet, Oratore prolixè id à Pontifice contendente, voti particeps reddi non potuit. Nos ſad Bullam eam ſequentia animadvertenda putamus. Primò ejus author erat Julius III. qui nomen ſuum præſcribit his verbis: Julius Epiſcopus Servus Servorum Dei. De Julio hoc ita habet in ejus vita Onuphrius Panvinius: *Julius occupationibus totus intentus Cardinalis veluti furtim voluptates ſequebatur. Pontifex factus votorum jam omnium compos, abdicatâ rerum curâ, hilaritati & genio ſuo indulſit nimiùm. omnium maximi muneris dignitatem parùm animadvertens, levibus & inanibus verbis suam aliquando Majestatem non sine audientium rubore aut risu minueret. Fidem huic testimonio facit, quod narrat Suave Polanus, aliique passim, de adolescente Placentino, cui Innocentii nomen, quem Cardinalis adhuc tenerimè dilexit, & Pontifex factus Cardinalem, indito ei nomine Innocentii Montani, & suo ei galero impositio, creavit, relictâ aulicis obloquiorum & libellorum famosorum materiâ, quibus illi ex variis præteritorum eventuum conjecturis, actionis adeò inusitatæ veram causam certatim prodere non dissimulârunt. Ex Onuphrio etiam colligi potest, ipsum etiam mortem sibi violentam intulisse. Scelera ejus post alios exagitârunt Petrus Paulus Vergerius, & Hieronymus Marius. Tali videlicet authore Concilium restauratum, & postliminio coactum est. Secundò, ait Bulla, bonum opportunum & expediens videri, ut Concilium Tridentinum revocetur. Non ait necessium esse, tum quia Protestantes jam à Leone prædamnatos, & eorum dogmata nonnulla Conciliis in nonnullis rejecta: tum quia definitionem ejusmodi causarum ecclesiasticarum ad Pontificem potiùs Concilio superiorem, quàm ipsum Concilium pertinere judicavit. Quamobrem igitur bonum opportunum, & expediens esse Concilium Bulla censuit? Nempe quia Cæsaris continuò illud flagitantis votis & expectationi satisfaciendum, vel graviora mala eximescenda, Julius censuit. Considerabat, inquit Historicus pag. 271. quàm speciosum esset Cæsaris postulatum de Germania ad obsequium Ecclesia reducenda, & quantum nasciturum esset scandalum, nisi ei auscultaretur. Præterea jusjurandum in conclavi conceptum, & ab electione repetitum, non pro levi habendum. Hinc etiam subjungit Bulla, Charissimum in Christo filium Carolum Romanorum Imperatorem semper Augustum per literas & nuntios significari petiisse, ut Sacrum Oecumenicum Generale Concilium per Paulum indictum, incœptum & continuatum, ad civitatem Tridentinam reducatur. Quia igitur alia ratione desideria Cæsaris extricare non potuit, territus etiam tot molestiis, eam ob causam à prædecessore suo exantlatis, ad Concilium habendum adduci se passus est. Tertiò Concilium antehac Tridenti cœptum & continuatum insignit Bulla Sacrum, Oecumenicum & generale Concilium. Quomodo Oecumenicum Concilium dici potuit, in quod nec Galliarum, nec Angliæ, nec alii Reges & Principes, & tot Ecclesiæ tum Orientis, tum Occidentis non consenserunt, cuique interfuerunt ferè nonnisi Itali & Hispani Episcopi, & potissimi quidem Itali, ut in numerandis suffragiis semper victor existeret Papa? Quartò Julius decernit Concilium Tridentum revocandum esse. Antehac verò Cardinalis adhuc, & Pauli III. Legatus Bononiæ cum suis Præsulibus pertinaciter & validissimè obstitit Concilii in Tridentinam civitatem revocationi, & se factæ translationis authorem authorem & patronum, non sine acerbitate in adversæ partis propugnatores, professus est. Habemus igitur hic judicem ἑαυτὸν ημωρημένον, & confitentem reum, se Concilium Tridento Bononiam injustè transtulisse, & tam longo temporis tractu ibidem distinuisse, quicquid etiam Tridentini Patres, quicquid Germaniæ Episcopi, tandémque ipse Cæsar, tum precibus, tum publica protestatione contraniterentur. Hoc cùm sibi objectum iri prævideret, in Consilio privato cum intimis suis, respondit, actionum ab Johanne Maria Montano Cardinale patratarum rationem ab Julio Pontifice exigendam non esse. Quasi videlicet mutatio muneris mutâsset etiam & absterfisset culpam, vel Papa factus libidinum, quibus ante Papatum ad infamiam usque deditus erat, rationem Deo reddere non debuerit. Quintò, ait Julius, ad se summos pro tempore Pontifices spectare generalia Concilia indicere & dirigere. Ita Julius, Summi illi Pontifices, etsi reus & gravissimè accusatus, apertè & sine velo ullo præfert, se totius Concilii velle esse Dominum, & non modò illud indicere, quando velit, & eò convocare quales ipsi judices videntur, & ejicere quos velit: sed etiam dirigere & moderari illic omnia, & in sua verba adigere omnes. Sanè durum id visum est ipsi etiam Carolo Cæsari, qui lectâ Bullâ per Oratorem suum obsecravit Pontificem, ut Bullam, & in ea maximè verba ea, quibus potestatem indicendi & dirigendi Concilia sibi arrogat Papa, mitigare velit. Dicebat Orator, pari in Protestantium atque in ferarum captura artificio utendum esse. Sicut enim qui feras in laqueos induere tentat, fugam simulet, loco cedat, non ignem aut arma ostentet: Sic Protestantes comiter & benignè habendos, instruendo & auscultando ad Concilium pelliciendos, ubi eò venerint, tum demum idoneum fore tempus ad veritatem iis demonstrandam. Objiciebat exemplum Pauli, qui omnia factus esset omnibus, ut omnes Christo lucrifaceret. Addebat denique, verum officium Apostolicum sibi videri, virgam abscondere, benignum se præbere, & ad aliorum voluntatem descendere. Sed surdo cantavit fabulam, & lunæ questus est omnia. Pontifex enim ut disputandi omnem ansam præcideret, ad hoc κρησφύγετον se recepit, Bullam stylo Cancellaria formatam, quam nefas sit immutare. Quale ergo Concilium fuit, cujus clavum moderari per fas & nefas voluit is ipse, qui reus fuit, & de cujus authoritate injustè usurpata potissima contentio fuit? Sextò vocat Bulla, ad suffragia videlicet ferenda Patriarchas, Archiepiscopos, Episcopos, Abbates, aliósque, qui de jure, vel consuetudine vel privilegio, Concilio interesse debent. Atque ita à suffragiis ferendis excludit omnes alios, quibus jus, consuetudo & privilegia Pontificia non favent. Ad sedendum autem & judicandum invitat eos, qui jurârunt se Papatum & omnia ejus jura perpetuò defensuros; qui accusati sunt à nostris, quòd puram Jesu Christi doctrinam corruperint, & unà cum Papa omnes abusus, Simonias, superstitiones, idololatriam, aliáque ejusmodi βδελύγματα in Ecclesiam invexerint. Sic igitur conjurati Papæ, plerique indocti & carnales larvæ, accusati simul atque rei, nobis reprehensoribus & accusatoribus judices dati sunt. Et ne desint, si fortè opus esset, infiniti suffragatores, vocat etiam Bulla eos, qui privilegio interesse Concilio possunt. Nempe guathones Papæ affirmant, posse Papam creare ex privilegio, quotquot voluerit Concilii judices, ultra Episcopos etiam & Abbates. Sic igitur, si quos ex nostratibus in Concilio comparituros timuisset, ut eorum numerum excederent Pontificii, ex infima Monachorum & Carthusianorum suorum fœce plurimos creare, & subitò in scenam protrudere potuisset. Septimò, Bulla sancit, Concilium in eo, in quo tunc reperiebatur statu, Calendis Maji resumendum, prosequendum esse. Patet igitur non indici novum, liberum & Christianum Concilium, sed reassumi vetus illud servum ac tyrannicum, in quo pauci quidam personati Patres Decreta impia concinnârunt pro arbitrio & libidine Papæ, non modò non auditis vel vocatis accusatoribus, sed ejectis etiam & plorare jussis, quibus liberiores voces exciderunt. Atque hoc ipsum etiam ut mitigaretur, nequicquam à Pontifice expetierat. Octavò, denique vulgatâ hac Julii Bullâ, ac mox insecuto Decreto Augustæ ab Ordinibus facto, non deerant, qui utrumque confligere & collidi dictitarent. Etenim Decretum illud sancit, Concilium novum inchoandum, &c. At Bulla resumendum esse scisci. Cæsar promittit in eo Decreto, se curaturum, ut restota legitimè debitóque ordine procedat. In Bulla verò cura moderandi Concilii sibi soli arrogat Julius. In Decreto promittit Cæsar, daturum se operam, ut piè omnia, Christianè ac juxta sacram Scripturam, & Patrum doctrinam tractentur ac definiantur. At in Bulla soli sibi præsidium vendicat Julius. Quæ causa est, quòd vulgato decreto Augustano queri cœpit Romana curia, novam Concilii convocationem à Cæsare institui.

SESSIO XI.

Quæ est prima

Sub Julio III. Pont. Max.

Celebrata Calendis Maji. 1551.

Decretum de resumendo Concilio.

PLacèt Vobis, ad laudem & gloriam Sanctæ & individuæ Trinitatis, Patris & Filii, & Spiritus sancti, ad incrementum & exaltationem fidei & religionis Christianæ, sacrum Oecumenicum & generale concilium Tridentinum, juxta formam & tenorem literarum S. Domini nostri, resumi debere, & procedendum esse ad ulteriora? Responderunt: Placet.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS XI.

POst victoriam à Germanis reportatam sub finem Julii A. 1547. Cæsar comitia celebravit Augustæ, & armata quidem, quippe præsidium jam ante in urbe, & in agris circum Hispanorum ac Italorum copiæ erant. Ibi de Concilio Tridentino redintegrando primam potissimámque deliberationem haberi postulat, eò quòd dissidium religionis causa sit omnis perturbationis Germaniæ, & nisi compositio illo, pax constitui nequeat. De eo non omnes Ordines sentiebant idem. Nam Septemviri Ecclesiastici Concilium urgebant sine conditione: At Palatinus, Mauritius & Brandenburgenses Legati ea conditione, si liberum esset, pium, Christianum, in quo Papa non præsideat, & Episcopi juramentum remittat, & ipsorum quoque Theologi facultatem decidendi habeant: itque Decreta jam facta retractentur. Reliqui verò Ordines Pontificii instabant, ut Concilium continuetur, ac Protestantes acceptâ fide publicâ, audiantur, & Concilii decretis parere cogantur. Eorum sententiis cognitis Cæsar 18. Octobris respondet, ut omnes se Concilio submittant, expetit, & de eo cum Palatino & Mauritio Saxone privatim etiam agit, quorum illum minis, hunc verò beneficiorum in ipsum collatorum exprobratione, utrumque promissis eò compulit, ut re Cæsaris fidei permissa assentiretur. Civitates, cum quibus Cæsaris nomine

Granvellanus & Hasius diu multúmque agebant, Concilii decretis se indifferenter submittere gravabantur. Cùmque tanquam præfracti, eò quòd id recusarent, quod Principes ipsi comprobâssent, accusarentur, tandem inventa est ratio, quâ & Cæsari satisfieret, & ipsis esset cautum. Vocati enim ad Cæsarem, ut ipsa responsa Principum corrigant, non suum esse dicunt, & scriptum simul exhibent, quo testificantur, quibus conditionibus Concilium probent. Accepto eo scripto, neque tamen lecto, Cæsar per Cancellarium Seldum respondet, gratum sibi esse, quòd reliquorum exemplo rem sibi permittant, & promissis ipsius fidant. Sic utrisque placuit, suum etiam agentibus negotium, decipi velle. Interea appropinquante die 15. Septembris, quo Bononiæ Sessionem ex nupero decreto haberi conveniebat, Montanus Præsulibus Bononiensibus, adductis variis rationibus, veluti, quòd Præsules Galli nondum advenerint : quòd Episcopi præsentes de rerum Synodicarum statu nondum satis sint edocti, vel ad res determinandas instructi : quòd infanda Ducis Aloysii Papæ filii cædes, cogitationem injiciat de civitatibus Ecclesiæ in tuto collocandis; persuadet, ut Sessionem ad Concilii beneplacitum prorogandam esse decernerent. Ita factum, ut quam diu superstes erat Paulus, inde à 2. die Junii anni 1547. usque ad primum Maji 1551. Sessio vel Bononiæ vel Tridenti omnino nulla ampliùs celebraretur. Episcopi verò Germaniæ ex Comitiis Augustanis ad Pontificem literas de Synodo Tridentum revocanda dedere, quæ precibus jungebant minas, fore, nimirum, ut nisi ipse provideat, alia rationes & consilia ineantur difficultatibus expediundis. Quibus ille literis non ante elapsum tertium mensem respondit, & minas eorum se spernere, utpote successu carituras, cùm Ecclesiæ Romanæ in Petra fundatæ architectus eam minimè deserturus sit, significavit. Interea Cardinalis Sfondratus nomine Pontificis Cæsari persuadere conatus est, non tantùm ut Concilium Bononiense suo assensu firmare, sed etiam ut in belli contra Regem Angliæ puerum Eduardum gerendi cum ipso societatem venire dignetur. Ita enim Cæsarem novis bellis implicari posse, ut à Concilio animum averteret, credidit. Cæterùm Cæsar non ignarus doli Pontificis, simul ejus in Bello societatem respuit, utpote cujus in bello Germanico perfidiam expertus fuerit : simul illum ad operam in Concilio Tridentum revocando potiùs collocandam invitavit. Cùmque de Concilio Tridentum revocando nihil sibi à Pontifice in mandatis datum Sfondratus respondisset, Cæsar initio Novembris Cardinalem Tridentinum celeriter Romam, ut Pontificem de Synodo Tridentum revocanda interpellaret, misit. Is demum 9. Decembris in frequentissimo Cardinalium senatu, coram Pontifice rem, ut jussus erat, proponit, eúmque Cæsaris

Januarii in conſeſſum Patrum adducti, Cæſaris ei exhibuerunt literas, Conventui Patrum Bononiæ inſcriptas. Montanus Vargam verba facientem cùm ſecundùm interpellâſſet, tandem Velaſcus Cæſaris nomine de Synodi Bononienſis vitio ac defectu proteſtatur, & proteſtationis formulam coram omnibus perlegit. Sed Papa, mirus ſcil. proteſtationis illius interpres, ita illam accepit, ac ſi edita quidem eſſet coram ipſo, ſed non contra ipſum, atque ipſe per eam conſtitueretur non pars, ſed judex potiùs litis Cæſarem inter & Patres Bononienſes. Præterea Oratorem Mendozam callidè accuſat, ac ſi mandati Cæſarei fines exceſſiſſet. Tum prolixè ad ſingula reſponſionis capita reſpondet, & in fine addit, ſe controverſiæ de translatione Concilii cognitionem ſuum ad tribunal evocare, eámque quatuor Viris, Pariſio, Burgenſi, Polo & Creſcentio Cardinalibus committere. Accepto hoc reſponſo Mendoza proteſtationem iteravit, palam profeſſus, ſe ſpeciali mandato Cæſaris ea Proteſtationis forma uſum eſſe. Pontifex verò periculum facturus, an partes diſceptantes ſe judice uti velint, primò quidem tum Bononienſibus, tum Tridentinis Patribus præcipit, ne lite pendente quidquam innovetur, & ut intra unius menſis ſpatium utraque pars rationes ſuas proferat: Deinde Tridentinos tres nomine omnium ad cauſam translationis eorum Delegatis à ſe diſceptandam per breve, citationis in modum, Romam evocat. Sed Cardinalis Paciecus, reliquique adeò Tridentini Præſules prolixa ad citationem hanc reſponſione culpam, à Pontifice & Bononienſibus ſibi objectam, amoliri conantur, & à Pontifice denique petunt, ne conſentiat, ut inviti ad forum & tribunalia rapiantur; cauſam enim, qua de agitur, Dei eſſe, non ſuam. Dum hæc geruntur, Paulus Pontifex contra Cæſarem fœdus meditatur cum Venetis & Gallis, ſed irrito ſucceſſu, illis ab omni cum Papa ſocietate abhorrentibus, his verò, quòd Pontifex capularis eſſet, Conſiſtorii aſſenſum & præſentaneas pecunias poſtulantibus. At Cæſar, cùm ex reſponſione Cardinali Tridentino & Mendozæ à Pontifice & Cardinalibus data, abundè cognoſceret, Concilium Tridentum vix revocatum iri, ſtatuit, priuſquam arma deponeret, pacem religionis in Germania conſtituere, delectis ad illud negotium Julio Pflugio, Michaële Sidonio & Johanne Islebio, qui longâ conſultatione

Ita Auguſtanis comitiis impoſitus eſt finis. At Pontifex mox tres Nuntios, nimirum Pacenſem, Veronenſem & Ferentinum Epiſcopos in Germaniam amandat, ac Bullâ inſtruit, mandatóque ſignificandi omnibus, ſe paratum eſſe omnes ad Eccleſiam Pontificiam redituros obviis ulnis amplecti, modò leges accipiant, non præſcribant, quin & facta iis poteſtate abſolvendi in utroque foro perſonas quascunque ſeculares, etiam Reges ac Principes, Eccleſiaſticos & Regulares, Collegia ac Univerſitates ab omnibus excommunicationibus & pœnis etiam temporalibus, quas in hæreſin lapſi incurrerint, diſpenſandi ab omnibus irregularitatibus, eoſdem fama, honori reſtituendi, tam univerſitates, quàm ſingulos à conventionibus illicitis etiam juratis, quibus ſeductoribus ſuis tenentur, abſolvendi regulares ab apoſtaſia, & concedendi facultatem induendi habitum regularem Sacerdotu ſecularis amictu coopertum, ut veſcantur carne & cibis vetitis die Jejunii, communicent ſub utraque, modò à Pontifice demiſsè id poſtulent, & credant, eccleſiam non errare, &c. Quas porro turbas paſſim excitaverit liber Interim à Cæſare Proteſtantibus obtruſus, narrant Sleida-nus *lib.*10.21. Suave Polanus *lib.*3. Porro Paulus III. Pontifex die 10. Novembris anni 1549. anno ætatis 82. è vita discessit, cùm Concilium toto biennio Bononiæ obdormivisset. In conclavi inter primas Capitulorum leges fuit hæc, ut novus Papa juraret, se curaturum, ut Concilium certò continuetur. Ita Cardinalis Montanus, qui hactenus Concilii Præsidem egit, in locum Pauli die 8. Febr. 1550. creatur Pontifex, qui Julii III. nomen assumpsit. Ei Cæsar per Ludovicum Avilam Oratorem Romam amandatùm, eum dignitatis apicem gratulatur, simúlque apud eum Concilii restaurationem solicitat. Sed is generalibus verbis respondit. Nondùm enim quid facturus esset, apud animum suum constituerat. Mox iterum Cæsar, tum per literas, tum Oratoris interventu apud Julium restaurationem Concilii flagitat, & certum de eo responsum postulat. Pontifex cum intimis suis anxiè deliberat, an è re esset Concilium restituere, nec ne? Tandémque reputatis tot molestiis, quas Paulus per 26. annos in Concilio aversando exantlavit, non sine dedecore suo, quódque ipse cum Paulo Veterano comparatus in Pontificatu tiro, & nullis fœderibus ac amicitiis innexus, par declinando Concilio minimè sit, consentientibus etiam Cardinalibus, Concilium prosequendum statuit. Anxios tamen omnes habuit, qua ratione authoritas Sedis Apostolicæ in Concilio, extra illud & contra illud, ne ab eo in periculum adducatur, in tuto collocari possit? Huic difficultati amoliendæ Cardinalis Crescentius cautiones adhiberi suasit, quales sunt, ut Patres in Synodo, aliis, quantum fieri potest, materiis distrahantur: ut Pontifex multorum Italorum præsentiâ sibi favorem conciliet, officiis, promotionis spe, &c. ut Principes aquo veluti libramine utilitatum diversarum, hinc inde propositarum, retineat, ne ad tale quid moliendum in commune consentiant, &c. Maturata hac deliberatione Pontifex consilium suum, tum Cæsari, tum Galliarum Regi per Nuntios exponit, simúlque de eo consideraciones suas Cæsari aperit, videlicet 1. necessarium esse, ut Gallia Rex Concilium suo favore subleves missis etiam Præsulibus. 2. Concilium brevi tempore expediendum, quia aliàs sumptibus fevendis Camera Apostolica par futura non sit. 3. Decreta hactenus Tridenti facta in dubium vocanda non esse. 4. Cæsarem affectum debere esse mutuum. Quemadmodum ipse Cæsari in Concilio prosequendo gratificatus fuerit, ita Cæsar vicissim hanc sinceritatem & fidem sibi fraudi & oneri esse ne sinat. Hæc omnia cùm & Rex Galliæ, & Cæsar mirificè probâssent, jam Cæsar in Comitiis Augustanis Ordinibus proponere cœpit. Sed Protestantes negabant se parituros, nisi conditionibus certis; Si videlicet decreta jam facta rescindantur: Protestantium Theologi & audiantur, & vocem decisivam habeant: Pontifex non præsideat, sed Concilio se submittat, & Episcopis juramentum remittat. Nihilominus Cæsar urgebat Concilii inchoationem tionem ante feſtum Paſchatis. Cui Papa gratificandum ratus, Bullam novæ indictionis concinnatam die 5. Novembr. Cæſari tranſmiſit, in qua inter alia ſe Concilium Calendis Maji anni 1551. reſumendum, moderaturum profitetur, & authoritatem ſuam ſupra modum effert. Id cùm offenſioni futurum Proteſtantibus Cæſari videretur, per Oratorem is Pontificem obſecrat, ut Bullam mitigare dignetur. Oratore id Julio Papæ ſuadente eo potiſſimùm argumento, quòd verborum comitate & blanditiis Proteſtantes ad Concilium pellici, at pellecti jam & parentes invitationi de veritate faciliùs inſtrui poſſint: ab eodem Julio reſponſum, nolle ſe dimicare cum hoſte tanquam cum fele in caveam incluſo: quod Chriſtus docuit, ſemper prædicandum & inculcandum eſſe, nempe Majeſtatem Divinam vicarium ſuum, caput Eccleſiæ & lucernam mundi conſtituiſſe, quam veritatem doceri conveniat tempeſtivè & intempeſtivè. Itaque nihil omnino in Bulla mutare certus, mox eam typis excuſam vulgavit. Quam in Conventu ordinum cùm prælegi curâſſet Cæſar, neutris, nec Proteſtantibus, nec Pontificiis ea ſatisfecit. Sed Cæſar utraque parte promiſſis delinita Auguſtano Conventu decretum condi, quo & Pontificii & Proteſtantes frequentare Concilium, promiſſa publica fide jubentur, curavit, quod tamen cum Bulla Pontificia non convenire per omnia animadverſum eſt. Legatum nomine ſuo Concilium moderaturum delegit Marcellum Creſcentium, ſancti Marcelli Cardinalem, adjunctis ei duobus Nuntiis, Sebaſtiano Pighino Archiepiſcopo Sipontino & Aloiſio Lipomanno Epiſcopo Veronenſi. Qui cùm Præſulibus aliquot comitati Tridentum perveniſſent, ac poſt eos pauci alii ſubſecuti eſſent, Calendis Maji anni 1551. præviis antehac conſuetis ceremoniis, decretum de Reſumendo Concilio, prælectum eſt.

Ad Hiſtoriam & Decretum Seſſionis XI.

PRimò Concilium per quatuor ferè annos Bononiæ obdormiſcens, nec à Tridentinis Patribus, nec à Præſulibus Germaniæ, nec à Cæſare toties cum Pontifice, Cardinalibus, Patribus etiam Bononienſibus, per literas, Legatos, interpoſitam proteſtationem graviſſimam, preces & minas agentibus, reſuſcitari, & ſuperſtite Paulo Tridentum revori potuit. Quis hinc non ſummam Pontificis, qui toties ſuum celebrandi Concilii deſiderium jactavit, obſtinationem, & à Concilio faſtidioſam averſationem arguat? Quis non ipſos, qui Tridento Bononiam conceſſerunt

Patres,qui defæviente morbo ſe redituros Tridentum receperant,fidei violatæ reos peragat? Secundò cauſæ prorogandæ Seſſionis à Cardinale Montano prolatæ,frivolæ ſunt,ac inſuper turpem Præſulum inſcitiam,& in rebus Sacris tractandis imperitiam produnt. Quæ obſecro cauſa fuit, ut ob Petri Aloiſii,Papæ filii monſtroſiſſimi, & ſceleratiſſimi hominis,qui Placentiæ à conjuratis domi ſuæ confoſſus juſtas ſcelerum ſuorum pœnas luit, mortem,& ex ea conceptum à Pontifice mœrorem, Synodus retardaretur? Tertiò prorogatio Seſſionis non ad certum & definitum, ut hactenus,tempus, ſed ad Concilii beneplacitum, potiùs finiti & abrupti, quàm prorogati Concilii rationem habuit. Satis enim apparet, exiguam ſpem Synodi continuandæ Patres illos hoc decernentes concepiſſe,& finitum haud dubiè Concilium fuiſſet, niſi Paulus Pontifex mox vitam cum morte commutâſſet. Quartò notanda eſt Pauli Pontificis aſtutia & iniquitas, qui Cæſaris animum à Concilio averſurus,eum implicare ſtuduit bello Anglico,quod ipſe ſine ulla cauſa juſta Regi minorenni, tantum diſſidium Regni,& familiares in Anglia amicos,futuros Regni proditores,in rem ſuam verſurus, movere conſtituerat. Ita nimirum vi,quàm virtute & ratione cum Proteſtantibus decernere nunquam non maluit. Quintò Proteſtatio Cæſaris nomine ab ejus Oratoribus,Varga & Velaſco, Bononienſibus Patribus,& à Mendoza Pontifici ipſi exhibita, teſtis eſt locuples fraudis in Concilio transferendo admiſſæ. Neque negligi debet, quòd toties minatus eſt Cæſar, ſi Pontifex officio ſuo deeſſe pergat,ſe Eccleſiæ curam in ſe ſuſcepturum, quantum jure, & Sanctorum Patrum legibus conceſſum ſit. Jure igitur & S.Patrum legibus Eccleſiæ curam ſuſcipere ſibi integrum eſſe profitetur. Atque utinam eo jure & maturè, & legitimè,& prudenter uti animum induxiſſet! Nam in cudendo & obtrudendo libro Henotico interim nihil pro prudente, & ſeriam Eccleſiæ curam gerente Principe egit. Sextò Pontificis ad Proteſtationem Cæſaream reſponſum ſubdolum planè fuit. Accipiebat eam proteſtationem ut coram Pontifice,non contra ipſum factam. Acutum ſcilicet ὑπόμνημα! Perinde ac ſi qui coram aliquo ita proteſtatur, ut ejus negligentiam non obſcurè increpet, & alienæ culpæ ipſum conſortem faciat, & ad officium præſtandum etiam interpoſitis minis ipſum adigat,non contra illum ipſum proteſtetur. Accedit,quòd translatio Bononienſis, uti ſupra probavimus, authoritate facta eſt ipſius Pontificis. Proinde quicquid contra Bononienſes in ea Proteſtatione dictum, id omne etiam contra Pontificem valuit. Tum & illud ridiculum erat,quòd proteſtationem eam coram ſe tanquam judice factam nugatus eſt. Hoc nempe erat ædilitatem gerere ſine ſuffragiis. Neque ejus judicium ullo apice proteſtatio ambivit. Præterea quòd Mendozam dozam arguit mandati Cæsarei finium in Protestatione transgressorem, sine ulla ratione, temeritatem & vafriciem Pontificis manifestè arguit. Septimò Bulla Pontificis Pauli pro Germanis, quâ Nuntios suos instructos in Germaniam amandabat, non immeritò fuit in fabulis hominum. Nam quòd in ea dicitur, in turbis Ecclesia id afferre consolationem, quòd præsixit Christus, triticum Ecclesiæ à Satana cribratum, per fidem Petri conservatum iri, maximè adhibito à se Concilii generalis remedio, ineptum esse ajebant, perinde ac si Ecclesia non alio niteretur fundamento, quàm Pontifice & Præsulibus Tridentinis. Nam quòd Scipio Henricus Cens. pag. 190. has esse hæreticorum blasphemias stomachatur, & Ecclesiam à Papa & Concilio repræsentari ait, impotentiam ejus arguit. Hæreticum ei est, quicquid crudo ejus palato minùs sapit. An verò Concilium Tridentinum repræsentaverit Ecclesiam, alibi diximus. Præterea quid Petri fides juvaret degeneres & antithronos Pontifices? Quanquam non fidei Petri, sed potenti præsidio Christi tribuitur conservatio Ecclesiæ. Deinde vanitatis & arrogantiæ insimulabant illud, quòd promiserat Papa, se Reges & Principes honori, famæ & existimationi suæ velle restituere. Excipit Scipio, Reges & Principes hæreticos esse infames, adeóque famam in Ecclesia iis restituendam esse. Atqui Reges & Principes non iccirco infames sunt, quia à Pontifice divortium faciunt. Nec si infames essent, alia re, quàm pœnitentiâ iis in Ecclesia restitui fama posset. Tum etiam promittebat Papa restitutionem famæ in utroque foro, non Ecclesiastico tantùm, sed Politico etiam. Præterea in Bulla ea contradictionem sapiebat, quòd Papa concessit calicem duntaxat iis, qui credunt Ecclesiam non errare. Quomodo enim, inquiebant, verisimile sit aliquem ita credere, qui tamen non postulet inter eos censeri, quibus interdicitur? Respondet Scipio, non implicare hoc contradictionem, quia calicis usus concedatur Ecclesiasticis omnibus, non autem laicis. Atqui Bulla calicis usum promittit omnibus demissè id postulantibus, & quòd Ecclesia non erret, professis, nec inter laicos & Ecclesiasticos discrimen ullum statuit. Denique ridiculam putârunt esse conditionem appositam absolutioni Monachorum, qui claustra dereliquissent, opertum ferendi amictum Monasticum; quasi videlicet regnum Dei situm esset in colore & forma vestimenti, atque quod foris non licet, id intus saltem necessariò gestandum foret. Ineptè id Scipio diluere conatur, ajens, ex eo colligi Sedis Apostolicæ benignitatem. Sed benignitas ea exercenda erat citra hypocrisin, & affectatam in colore vestimenti sanctitatis opinionem. Ejusmodi igitur sermonibus agitatam esse Bullam à Germanis, monet Suave Polanus. Addo ego, liberalissimas illas absolutiones & dispensationes Pontificis à pœnitentiæ videlicet formula Papistica, irregularitatibus quocunque reſpectu contractis, à lege item jejunii, interdicti calicis, feſtorum &c. eccleſiæ etiam noſtræ libertati ſuffragari. Quid ni enim æquè integrum fuerit nobis verbi Dei ductum, & conſcientiæ libertatem à Chriſto indultam ſequentibus, legum illarum jugum excutere, atque Pontifici, ut homines ſuum ſub jugum denuò mitteret, ſibique & ſuæ libidini manciparet, talia admittere licuit? Odavò nec illud prætereundum eſt, quòd inſcio & invito Romano Pontifice, Germaniæ Archiepiſcopi & Provinciales Diœceſanas Synodos, jubente Cæſare celebrârunt, in quibus non reformationis duntaxat, ſed etiam fidei dogmata condita ac definita ſunt. Stetit igitur Archiepiſcopis illis ſententia, poſſe inſcio & invito Pontifice Concilium indici, in quo etiam fidei ipſius dogmata diſceptentur. Inprimis id memorabile, quòd in Synodo Provinciali Archiepiſcopi Moguntini cap. 41. 42. decretum eſt, imagines non ad adorationem aut cultum iis deferendum in Templis propoſ, ſed ad ea tantùm in memoriam revocanda, quæ adorari oportet. Quòd ſi ad imaginem aliquam populus confluat, cui homines opinionem quandam Divinitatis tribuunt, eam hanc ob cauſam inde auferendam. Et cap. 45. aſſeritur, Cœlites eſſe quidem honorandos, ſed civili ac dilectionis cultu, non ſecus atque vivos ſanctos in hac vita meritò colimus. Quæ plurimùm diſtant à Curiæ Romanæ & Concilii Tridentini ſequentibus decretis. Nonò Cardinalis Creſcentii conſilium callidum, quâ videlicet ratione in Concilio Patrum animi à cenſenda & reformanda Pontificis authoritate averti & diſtineri queant, animadverſionem etiam meretur. Ex ea enim Curiæ Romanæ artes fraudulentæ, & feriæ ac ſolidæ reformationis in ipſo etiam capite averſatio luculenter cognoſcitur. Decimò conditiones, quas Julius III. Concilio Tridenti poſtliminio aperiendo appoſuit, ejuſmodi ſunt, ut liquidò appareat, liberum & Chriſtianum Concilium minimè ipſi curæ cordique fuiſſe. Nam & ejus moderationem ſibi æquè ac prædeceſſor arrogavit, & decreta antehac Tridenti ſancita rata eſſe, & ne Concilium Pontificiæ authoritati fraudi ſit, caveri voluit. Ipſam Julii Bullam indictionis ſuo loco expendimus.

HISTO-

HISTORIA SESSIONIS XII.

SUb finem menſis Maji 1551. cujus initio Seſſio XI. ſucceſſerat, Julius Papa ad Helvetios miſit Hieronymum Franchum, tum ut impediret, ne Galliarum Rex, cum quo Parmenſe bellum immineret, ex ipſorum militibus exercitum ſcriberet : tum ut milites ſibi contra Galliarum Regem concederent: tum denique ut ad Concilium Tridenti proſequendum eoſdem invitaret. Gallus quoque per Oratorem ſuſceptum à ſe Octavii Parmæque patrocinium Pontifici excuſat, & nî id ratum habeat, ſe interdicturum Epiſcopis ſuis, ne ad Concilium veniant, minatur. Sed viciſſim Julius ſolidè minatur Gallo, ſi Rex Parmam ſibi eripere velit, ſe Galliam ipſi erepturum: Si Rex Galliæ obſequium ſibi ſubducere tentet, ſe orbi totius Chriſtiani commercio illi interdicturum : Si Rex armis rem tentet, pro viribus ſe repugnaturum: Si edictis, interdictis, in calamo, charta, atramento exercendis, haud ſegniorem ſe futurum Reſponſo hoc accepto Rex Galliæ omnibus ditionis ſuæ Epiſcopis tam intra quàm extra Galliæ Regnum interdicit, ut intra ſex menſes ad Eccleſiam quiſque ſuam revertatur, & ad Concilium Nationale ſe comparet. A quo quidem propoſito ipſum, miſſo nepote ſuo Aſcanio Cornæo, nequicquam revocare Pontifex ſuſtinuit. Non deerant tamen, qui minimè dubitarent, Pontificem pro Parma Cæſari adverſus Gallum vindicanda contendentem, non tam hoc egiſſe, ut Parma in poteſtatem Cæſaris poſt Placentiam ab eodem occupatam veniret, quàm ut belli cauſas in Cæſarem & Gallorum Regem foveret de induſtria, ut ſic Concilio remora aliqua objiciatur, quæ non tam ſibi, quàm aliis imputari poſſit. Argumento iis erat, quòd crebriùs & efficaciùs ab eo actum cum Cæſare de Parma & Mirandula armorum vi tentandis, quàm cum Galliarum Rege de rebus pacificandis. Cùm igitur Pontifex nullo ſe modo demulceri pateretur, Rex Galliæ per Oratorem ſuum Thermum contra Tridentinum Concilium Romæ proteſtatur. Interim Mauritius Saxoniæ Elector & Chriſtophorus Dux Wirtembergicus Theologos ſuos Tridentum mittere certi, doctrinæ ſuæ confeſſionem in Concilio exhibendam ſeorſim conſcribi jubent, ſimúlque ad Cæſarem ſcribunt, ut efficiat, quò Synodus etiam Tridentina eadem forma ſibi caveat, qua Bohemis olim Baſileæ cautum fuerat, ne videlicet ſola Cæſaris fide in ſtructis idem contingeret Tridenti, quod Conſtantiæ Johanni Huſſo contigit. Quam quidem provinciam Cæſar Oratoribus ſuis ad Synodum miſſis ſolicitè commendavit. Appetentibus verò Kalendis Septembris habita eſt Seſſio XII. in qua poſt prælectam tum exhortationem ad Patres, Concilii Præſidum nomine factam, tum decretum prorogandæ Seſſionis, tum formulam mandati à Cæſare 3. Legatis, nec non à Ferdinando Rege 2. Legatis exhibiti, demum comparuit Jacobus Amiatus, Abbas Belloſanus, Regis Galliæ Orator, & literas Regis Pontificis Legato exhibuit, quarum hæc erat inſcriptio: Sanctiſſimis in Chriſto Patribus Conventus Tridentini. Quâ lectâ indignati ſunt Epiſcopi Hiſpani, & literas neutiquam ad ſe, qui Concilium generale & legitimum, non Conventum, conſtituerent, miſſas eſſe clamârunt. Re diu tumultuosè agitata, placuit tandem Legato cum Nuntiis & Oratoribus Cæſaris ſeorſim deliberanti, Synodo uti ſignificetur per Promotorem, Regis literas ſine præjudicio legendas eſſe, eò quòd Conventus nomen meliorem etiam in partem accipi poſſit. Lectis Regis literis idem Abbas de ſcripto recitavit Regis proteſtationem contra Concilium, in qua inter alia hæc habentur: Regem hactenus hoc unum ſpectâſſe, ne Civitas Parmenſis Eccleſiæ ſurripiatur, atque ut Italia pace & libertate fruatur. Quòd ſi inde Papa arripiat cauſam Europam omnem bello funeſto implicandi, id ſibi eſſe per quidem moleſtum, ſed minimè imputandum, qui omnes honeſtas pacis conditiones non acceperit duntaxat, ſed etiam obtulerit. Si nolit Papa ſanis conſiliis animum advertere, ſed Europæ incendium, & Concilii turbamentum ſectari, ſimúlque excluſo Rege ſuſpicionem alere, Concilium non boni publici, ſed privatorum emolumentorum gratiâ congregatum, malit, ſibi apud Papam & Purpuratos proteſtandum, ſe nec Epiſcopos ſuos poſſe mittere Tridentum, in quem locum aditus non ſit liber & tutus; nec id Concilium Eccleſiæ pro generali habere, ſed ut privatum, cujus decretis nec ipſe, nec Gallia populus, nec Præſules aſtringantur. Proteſtationem hanc in tabulas redigi Regis orator petiit, at Legatus Præſes vetuit, & reſponſum ſe perhibiturum futuro undecimo Octobris per Promotorem promiſit.

Decretum de Sanctissimo Eucharistiæ Sacramento.

Cum hactenus sancta Synodus Reyum mentibus veram cognitionem atque intellectum sacrosancti quem continet Sanctæ Ecclesiæ Catholicæ sacramenti, in Eucharistia fidei & vitæ fons perpetuus, Eucharistiæ significationem, quam ecclesia Spiritum Sanctum edoctus in Sacrosanctis Scripturis religiose semper retinuit, & ex optimis Institutionis Christi Domini ordinibus, & ex ipsius usu, & praxi in Ecclesia Dei observavit, & quam sanctissimum hoc Sacramentum, quod Ecclesiæ Catholicæ unitatis est symbolum, & quibus illa mutuo charitatis nexibus, quæque pietatis erga Deum officiis cohæret, & quo fidei spei, & charitatis mysterio refulgeat,

Cap. 1.

De reali præſentia Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti in Euchariſtiæ Sacramento.

Principio docet ſancta Synodus, & apertè ac ſimpliciter profitetur, in almo ſancta Euchariſtia Sacramento, poſt panis & vini conſecrationem, D. N. Jeſum Chriſtum, verum Deum atque hominem, verè realiter ac ſubſtantialiter ſub ſpecie illarum rerum ſenſibilium contineri. Nec enim hæc inter ſe pugnant, ut ipſe Salvator noſter ſemper ad dexteram Patris in cœlis aſſideat, juxta modum exiſtendi naturalem, & ut multis nihilominus aliis in locis Sacramentaliter præſens ſua ſubſtantia nobis adſit, ea exiſtendi ratione, quam etſi verbis exprimere vix poſſumus, poſſibilem tamen eſſe Deo, cogitatione per fidem illuſtrata, aſſequi poſſumus, & conſtantiſſimè credere debemus. Ita enim majores noſtri omnes, quotquot in vera Chriſti Eccleſia fuerunt, qui de ſanctiſſimo hoc Sacramento diſſeruerunt, apertiſſimè profeſſi ſunt, hoc tam admirabile Sacramentum, in ultima cœna, Redemptorem noſtrum inſtituiſſe, cùm poſt panis vinique benedictionem, ſe ſuum ipſius corpus illis præbere, ac ſuum ſanguinem diſertis ac perſpicuis verbis teſtatus eſt. Quæ verba à ſanctis Evangeliſtis commemorata, & à Divo Paulo poſtea repetita, cùm propriam illam & apertiſſimam ſignificationem præ ſe ferant, ſecundùm quam à Patribus intellecta ſunt, indigniſſimum ſanè flagitium eſt, ea à quibuſdam contentioſis & pravis hominibus ad fictitios & imaginarios tropos, quibus veritas carnis & ſanguinis Chriſti negatur, contra univerſum Eccleſiæ ſenſum detorqueri: quæ tanquam columna & firmamentum veritatis, hæc ab impiis hominibus excogitata commenta, velut Satanica deteſtata eſt, grato ſemper & memore animo præſtantiſſimum hoc Chriſti beneficium agnoſcens.

Cap. 2.

De ratione inſtitutionis hujus ſanctiſſimi Sacramenti.

Ergo Salvator noſter diſceſſurus ex hoc mundo ad Patrem, Sacramentum inſtituit, in quo divitias divini ſui erga homines amoris velut effudit, memoriam faciens mirabilium ſuorum: & illius ſumptione colere nos ſui memoriam præcepit, ſuamque annunciare mortem, donec ipſe ad judicandum mundum veniat. Sumi autem voluit Sacramentum hoc tanquam ſpiritualem animarum cibum, quo alantur & confortentur viventes vita illius, qui dixit: Qui manducat me, & ipſe vivet propter me; & tanquam antidotum, quo liberemur à culpis quotidianis, & à peccatis mortalibus præſervemur. Pignus præterea id eſſe voluit futuræ noſtræ gloriæ & perpetuæ fœlicitatis, adeóque ſymbolum unius illius illius corporis, cujus ipſe caput exiſtit, quique nos tanquam membra, arctiſſima fidei, ſpei & charitatis connexione aſtrictos eſſe voluit, ut id ipſum omnes diceremus, neque eſſent in nobis ſchiſmata.

Cap. 3.

De excellentia ſanctiſſimæ Euchariſtiæ ſuper reliqua Sacramenta.

Commune hoc quidem eſt ſanctiſſimæ Euchariſtiæ cum cæteris Sacramentis, ſymbolum eſſe rei ſacræ, & inviſibilis gratiæ formam viſibilem. Verùm illud in ea excellens & ſingulare reperitur, quòd reliqua Sacramenta tunc primùm ſanctificandi vim habent, cùm quis illis utitur: at in Euchariſtia ipſa ſanctitatis auctor ante uſum eſt. Nondum enim Euchariſtiam de manu Domini Apoſtoli ſuſceperant, cùm verè tamen affirmaret, corpus ſuum eſſe, quod præbebat. Et ſemper hæc fides in Eccleſia Dei fuit, ſtatim poſt conſecrationem verum Domini noſtri corpus, verúmque ejus ſanguinem ſub panis & vini ſpecie, unà cum ipſius anima & divinitate exiſtere: ſed corpus quidem ſub ſpecie panis, & ſanguinem ſub vini ſpecie ex vi verborum: ipſum autem corpus ſub ſpecie vini, & ſanguinem ſub ſpecie panis, animámque ſub utraque, vi naturalis illius connexionis & concomitantiæ, quâ partes Chriſti Domini, qui jam ex mortuis reſurrexit, non ampliùs moriturus, inter ſe copulantur: divinitatem porrò propter admirabilem illam ejus cum corpore & anima hypoſtaticam unionem. Quapropter veriſſimum eſt, tantundem ſub altera ſpecie, atque ſub utraque contineri: totus enim & integer Chriſtus ſub panis ſpecie, & ſub quavis ipſius ſpeciei parte: totus item ſub vini ſpecie, & ſub ejus partibus exiſtit.

Cap. 4.

De Tranſſubſtantiatione.

Quoniam autem Chriſtus Redemptor noſter corpus ſuum, id quod ſub ſpecie panis offerebat, verè eſſe dixit, ideo perſuaſum ſemper in Eccleſia Dei fuit, idque nunc denuò ſancta hæc Synodus declarat, per conſecrationem panis & vini, converſionem fieri totius ſubſtantiæ panis in ſubſtantiam corporis Chriſti Domini noſtri, & totius ſubſtantiæ vini, in ſubſtantiam ſanguinis ejus: quæ converſio convenienter & propriè à ſancta Catholica Eccleſia, Tranſſubſtantiatio eſt appellata.

Cap. 5.

De cultu & veneratione huic ſanctiſſimo Sacramento exhibenda.

Nullus itaque dubitandi locus relinquitur, cùm omnes Chriſti fideles, pro more in Catholica Eccleſia ſemper recepto, latriæ cultum, qui vero Deo debetur, huic ſanctiſſimo Sacramento in veneratione adhibeant. Neque enim minùs eſt adorandum, quòd fuerit à Domino, ut ſumatur, inſtitutum. Nam illum eundem Deum præſentem in eo adeſſe credimus, quem Pater æternus introducens in orbem terrarum, dixit: Et adorent eum omnes Angeli Dei: quem Magi procidentes adoraverunt: quem denique in Galilæa ab Apoſtolis adoratum fuiſſe, ſcriptura teſtatur.

Declarat præterea ſancta Synodus, piè & religioſè admodum in Dei Eccleſia inductum fuiſſe hunc morem, ut ſingulis annis peculiari quodam & feſto die præcelſum hoc & venerabile Sacramentum ſingulari veneratione ac ſolennitate celebraretur, utique in proceſſionibus reverenter & honorificè illud per vias & loca publica circumferretur. Æquiſſimum eſt enim, ſacros aliquos ſtatutos eſſe dies, cùm Chriſtiani omnes ſingulari ac rara quadam ſignificatione gratos & memores teſtentur animos, erga communem Dominum & Redemptorem, pro tam ineffabili & planè divino beneficio, quo mortis ejus victoria & triumphus repræſentatur. Ac ſic quidem oportuit victricem veritatem de mendacio & hæreſi triumphum agere, ut ejus adverſarii in conſpectu tanti ſplendoris, & in tanta univerſæ Eccleſiæ lætitia poſiti, vel debilitati & fracti tabeſcant, vel pudore affecti & confuſi aliquando reſipiſcant.

Cap. 6.

De aſſervando Euchariſtiæ Sacramento, & ad infirmos deferendo.

Conſuetudo aſſervandi in ſacrario ſanctam Euchariſtiam adeò antiqua eſt, ut eam ſæculum etiam Nicæni Concilii agnoverit. Porro deferri ipſam ſacram Euchariſtiam ad infirmos, & in hunc uſum in Eccleſiis conſervari, præterquam quòd cum ſumma æquitate & ratione conjunctum eſt, tum multis in Conciliis præceptum invenitur, & vetuſtiſſimo Catholicæ Eccleſiæ more eſt obſervatum. Quare ſancta hac Synodus retinendum omnino ſalutarem hunc & neceſſarium morem ſtatuit.

Cap. 7.

De præparatione, quæ adhibenda eſt, ut dignè quis ſanctam Euchariſtiam percipiat.

Si non decet ad ſacras ullas functiones quempiam accedere niſi ſanctè, certè quò magis ſanctitas & divinitas cœleſtis hujus Sacramenti viro Chriſtiano comperta eſt, & eò diligentiùs cavere ille debet, ne abſque magna reverentia & ſanctitate ad id percipiendum accedat: præſertim cùm illa plena formidinis verba apud Apoſtolum legamus: Qui manducat & bibit indignè, judicium ſibi manducat & bibit, non dijudicans corpus Domini. Quare communicare volenti, revocandum eſt in memoriam ejus præceptum: Probet autem ſeipſum ſeipſum homo. Eccleſiaſtica autem conſuetudo declarat eam probationem neceſſariam eſſe, ut nullus ſibi conſcius mortalis peccati, quantumvis ſibi contritus videatur, abſque præmiſſa Sacramentali confeſſione, ad ſacram Euchariſtiam accedere debeat, quod à Chriſtianis omnibus, etiam ab eis ſacerdotibus, quibus ex officio incubuerit celebrare, hac ſancta Synodus perpetuò ſervandum eſſe decrevit, modò non deſit illis copia confeſſoris. Quòd ſi neceſſitate urgente ſacerdos abſque prævia confeſſione celebraverit, quàm primùm confiteatur.

Cap. 8.

De uſu admirabilis hujus Sacramenti.

Quoad uſum autem, rectè & ſapienter Patres noſtri tres rationes hoc ſanctum Sacramentum accipiendi diſtinxerunt. Quoſdam enim docuerunt Sacramentaliter duntaxat id ſumere, ut peccatores: alios autem ſpiritualiter, illos nimirum, qui voto propoſitum illum cœleſtem panem edentes, fide viva, quæ per dilectionem operatur, fructum ejus & utilitatem ſentiunt, Tertios porro Sacramentaliter ſimul & ſpiritualiter: ii autem ſunt, qui ita ſe priùs probant & inſtruunt, ut veſtem nuptialem induti, ad divinam hanc menſam accedant. In Sacramentali autem ſumptione in Eccleſia Dei mos fuit, ut Laici à ſacerdotibus communionem acciperent, ſacerdotes autem celebrantes ſeipſos communicarent: qui mos tanquam ex traditione Apoſtolica deſcendens, jure ac meritò retineri debet.

Demum verò paterno affectu admonet ſancta Synodus, hortatur, rogat, obſecrat per viſcera miſericordiæ Dei noſtri, ut omnes & ſinguli, qui Chriſtiano nomine cenſentur, in hoc unitatis ſigno, in hoc vinculo charitatis, in hoc concordiæ ſymbolo jam tandem aliquandò conveniant & concordent: memoréſque tantæ majeſtatis, & tam eximii amoris Jeſu Chriſti Domini noſtri, qui dilectam animam ſuam in noſtræ ſalutis pretium, & carnem ſuam nobis dedit ad manducandum, hæc ſacra myſteria corporis & ſanguinis ejus, ea fidei conſtantiâ & firmitate, ea animi devotione, ea pietate & cultu credant & venerentur, ut panem illum ſubſtantialem frequenter ſuſcipere poſſint, & is verè eis ſit animi vita & perpetua ſanitas mentis: cujus vigore confortati, ex hujus miſeræ peregrinationis itinere, ad cœleſtem patriam pervenire valeant, eundem panem Angelorum, quem modò ſub panis velaminibus edunt, abſque ullo velamine manducaturi.

Quoniam autem non eſt ſatis veritatem dicere, niſi & detegantur & refellantur errores, placuit ſancta Synodo hos Canones ſubjungere, ut omnes jam agnitâ doctrinâ Catholicâ, intelligant quoque, quæ ab illis hæreſes caveri vitarique debeant.

Canones de Sacramento Euchariſtiæ.

Canon. 1.

Si quis negaverit, in ſanctiſſimo Euchariſtiæ Sacramento contineri verè, realiter & ſubſtantialiter corpus & ſanguinem, unà cum anima & divinitate Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti

Chriſti, ac proinde totum Chriſtum, ſed dixerit tantummodo eſſe in eo, ut in ſigno, vel figura, aut virtute, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 2.

Si quis dixerit, in ſacroſancta Euchariſtiæ Sacramento remanere ſubſtantiam panis & vini, unà cum corpore & ſanguine Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, negaveritque mirabilem illam & ſingularem converſionem totius ſubſtantiæ panis in corpus, & totius ſubſtantiæ vini in ſanguinem, manentibus duntaxat ſpeciebus panis & vini: quam quidem converſionem Catholica Eccleſia aptiſſimè Tranſubſtantiationem appellat, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 3.

Si quis negaverit, in venerabili Sacramento Euchariſtiæ ſub una quaque ſpecie, & ſub ſingulis cujuscunque ſpeciei partibus ſeparatione facta totum Chriſtum contineri, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 4.

Si quis dixerit, perfecta conſecratione in admirabili Euchariſtiæ Sacramento non eſſe corpus & ſanguinem Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, ſed tantùm in uſu, dum ſumitur, non autem ante vel poſt: & in hoſtiis ſeu particulis conſecratis, quæ poſt communionem reſervantur vel ſuperſunt, non remanere verum corpus Domini, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 5.

Si quis dixerit, vel præcipuum fructum ſanctiſſimæ Euchariſtiæ eſſe remiſſionem peccatorum, vel ex ea non alios effectus provenire, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 6.

Si quis dixerit, in ſancto Euchariſtiæ Sacramento Chriſtum unigenitum Dei filium non eſſe cultu latriæ etiam externo adorandum, atque ideo nec feſtiva peculiari celebritate venerandum, neque in proceſſionibus ſecundùm laudabilem & univerſalem Eccleſiæ ſanctæ ritum & conſuetudinem ſolenniter circumgeſtandum, vel non publicè, ut adoretur, populo proponendum &, ejus adoratores eſſe idololatras, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 7.

Si quis dixerit, non licere ſacram Euchariſtiam in ſacrario reſervari, ſed ſtatim poſt conſecrationem adſtantibus neceſſariò diſtribuendam, aut non licere, ut illa ad infirmos honorificè deferatur, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 8.

Si quis dixerit, Chriſtum in Euchariſtia exhibitum ſpiritualiter tantùm manducari, & non etiam ſacramentaliter ac realiter, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 9.

Canon. 9.

Si quis negaverit, omnes & ſingulos Chriſti fideles utriusque ſexus, cùm ad annos diſcretionis pervenerint, teneri ſingulis annis, ſaltem in Paſchate, ad communicandum juxta præceptum ſanctæ matris Eccleſiæ, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 10.

Si quis dixerit, non licere Sacerdoti celebranti ſeipſum communicare, Anathema ſit.

Canon. 11.

Si quis dixerit, ſolam fidem eſſe ſufficientem præparationem ad ſumendum ſanctiſſimum Euchariſtiæ Sacramentum, Anathema ſit. Et ne tantum Sacramentum indignè, atque ideò in mortem & condemnationem ſumatur, ſtatuit atque declarat ipſa ſancta Synodus, illis, quos conſcientia peccati mortalis gravat, quantumcunque etiam ſe contritos exiſtiment, habita copia confeſſoris, neceſſariò præmittendam eſſe confeſſionem ſacramentalem. Si quis autem contrarium docere, prædicare, vel pertinaciter aſſerere, ſeu etiam publicè diſputando defendere præſumpſerit, eo ipſo excommunicatus eſt.

Decretum ſuper Reformatione in eadem Seſſione.

EAdem ſancta Tridentina Synodus, intendens nonnulla ſtatuere, quæ ad juriſdictionem pertinent Epiſcoporum, ut juxta proxima Seſſionis decretum, illi in commiſſis ſibi Eccleſiis eò libentiùs reſideant, quò faciliùs & commodiùs ſibi ſubjectos regere, & in vitæ ac morum honeſtate continere potuerint, illud primùm eos admonendos cenſet, ut ſe paſtores, non percuſſores eſſe meminerint, atque ita præeſſe ſibi ſubditis oportere; ut non eis dominentur, ſed illos tanquam filios & fratres diligant, elaborentque, ut hortando & monendo ab illicitis deterreant, ne ubi deliquerint, debitis eos pœnis coërcere cogantur. Quos tamen ſi quid per humanam fragilitatem peccare contigerit, illa Apoſtoli eſt ab eis ſervanda præceptio, ut illos arguant, obſecrent, increpent, in omni bonitate & patientia: cùm ſæpe plus erga corrigendos agat benevolentia, quàm auſteritas: plus exhortatio, quàm comminatio: plus charitas, quam poteſtas. Sin autem ob delicti gravitatem virga opus fuerit, tunc cum manſuetudine rigor, cum miſericordia judicium, cum lenitate ſeveritas adhibenda eſt, ut ſine aſperitate diſciplina, populis ſalutaris ac neceſſaria conſervetur, & qui correcti fuerint, emendentur: aut ſi reſipiſcere nolucrint, cæteri ſalubri in eos animadverſionis exemplo à vitiis deterreantur: cùm ſit diligentis & pii ſimul paſtoris officium, morbis ovium levia primùm adhibere fomenta: poſt, ubi morbi gravitas ita poſtulet, ad ſe veriora & graviora remedia deſcendere: ſin autem nec ea quidem proficiant, illis ſubmovendis cæteras ſaltem oves à contagionis periculo liberare.

Cùm igitur rei criminum plerumque ad evitandas pœnas & Episcoporum subterfugienda judicia, querelas & gravamina simulent, & appellationis diffugio judicis processum impediant, ne remedio ad innocentia præsidium instituto, ad iniquitatis defensionem abutamur, atque ut hujusmodi eorum calliditati & tergiversationi occurratur, ita statuit & decrevit.

Cap. 1.

In causis visitationis & correctionis, sive habilitatis & inhabilitatis, nec non criminalibus ab Episcopo, seu illius in spiritualibus Vicario generali, ante definitivam sententiam, ab interlocutiora vel alio quocunque gravamine non appelletur: nec Episcopus seu Vicarius appellationi hujusmodi, tanquam frivolæ deferre teneatur, sed ea, ac quacunque inhibitione ab appellationis judicio emanata, nec non omni stylo & consuetudine etiam immemoriabili contraria non obstante, ad ulteriora valeat procedere; nisi gravamen hujusmodi per diffinitivam sententiam reparari, vel ab ipsa diffinitiva appellari non possit: quibus casibus sacrorum & antiquorum canonum statuta illibata persistant.

Cap. 2.

A sententia Episcopi, vel ipsius in spiritualibus Vicarii generalis, in criminibus appellationis causa (ubi appellationis locus fuerit) si Apostolica auctoritate in partibus eam committi contigerit, Metropolitano, seu illius etiam Vicario in spiritualibus generali, aut si ille aliqua de causa suspectus foret, vel ultra duas legales diætas distet, seu ab ipso appellatum fuerit, uni ex vicinioribus Episcopis, seu illorum vicariis, non autem inferioribus judicibus committatur.

Cap. 3.

Reus ab Episcopo, aut ejus Vicario in spiritualibus generali, in criminali causa appellare coram judice possit: ei ad quem appellavit, acta prima instantia omnino producat, & judex nisi illis visis, ad ejus absolutionem minimè procedat: is autem, à quo appellatum fuerit, intra 30. dies acta ipsa postulanti gratis exhibeat; alioqui absque illis causa appellationis hujusmodi, prout in justitia sua asserit, terminetur. Cùm verò tam gravia nonnunquam sint delicta ab Ecclesiasticis commissa personis, ut ob eorum atrocitatem è sacris ordinibus deponenda, & curiæ sint tradenda sæculari, in quo secundùm sacros Canones certus Episcoporum numerus requiritur, quos si omnes habere difficile esset, debita juris executio differetur, si quando autem intervenire possent, eorum residentia intermitteretur, propterea statuit & decrevit.

Cap. 4.

Episcopo per se, seu illius vicarium in spiritualibus generalem, contra clericum in sacris etiam presbyteratus ordinibus constitutum, etiam ad illius condemnationem, necnon verbalem depositionem, & per se ipsum, etiam ad actualem atque solemnem degradationem nem ab ipſis ordinibus & gradibus Eccleſiaſticis, in caſibus, in quibus aliorum Epiſcoporum præſentia in numero à Canonibus diffinito requiritur, & abſque illis procedere licet: adhibitis tamen & in hoc ſibi aſſiſtentibus totidem Abbatibus, uſum mitræ & baculi ex privilegio Apoſtolico habentibus, ſi in civitate aut diœceſi reperiri & commodè intereſſe poſſint: alioquin aliis perſonis in Eccleſiaſtica dignitate conſtitutis, quæ ætate graves, ac juris ſcientia commendabiles exiſtant.

Cap. 5.

Et quoniam per fictas cauſas, quæ tamen ſatis probabiles videntur, interdum accidit, ut nonnulli ejuſmodi gratias extorqueant, per quas pœnæ illis Epiſcoporum, juxta ſeveritatem inflictæ, aut remittuntur omnino, aut minuuntur, cùm non ferendum ſit, ut mendacium, quod tantopere Deo diſplicet, non modò ipſum impunitum ſit, verùm etiam alterius delicti veniam impetret mentienti: iccirco, ut ſequitur, ſtatuit & decrevit.

Epiſcopus apud Eccleſiam ſuam reſidens, de ſubreptione & obreptione gratiæ, quæ ſuper abſolutione alicujus publici criminis vel delicti, de quo ipſe inquirere cœperat, aut remiſſione pœnæ, ad quam criminoſus per eum condemnatus fuerit, falſis precibus impetratur, per ſe ipſum tanquam Sedis Apoſtolicæ delegatus, etiam ſummariè cognoſcat, ipſámque gratiam, poſtquam per falſi narrationem, aut veri taciturnitatem, obtentam eſſe legitimè conſtiterit, non admittat.

Cap. 6.

Quoniam verò ſubditi Epiſcopo, tametſi jure correpti fuerint, magnopere tamen eum odiſſe, & tanquam injuriâ affecti ſint, falſa illi crimina objicere ſolent, ut quoquo pacto poſſint, ei moleſtiam exhibeant: cujus vexationis timor plerúmque illum ad inquirenda & punienda eorum delicta ſegniorem reddit, iccirco ne ii magno ſuo & Eccleſiæ incommodo, gregem ſibi creditum relinquere ac non ſine Epiſcopalis dignitatis diminutione vagari cogantur, ita ſtatuit & decrevit.

Epiſcopus, niſi ob cauſam, ex qua deponendus ſive privandus veniret, etiam ſi ex officio, aut per inquiſitionem ſeu denunciationem, vel accuſationem, ſive alio quovis modo procedatur, ut perſonaliter compareat, nequaquam citetur vel moneatur.

Cap. 7.

Teſtis in cauſa criminali ad informationem, vel judicia, ſeu alias in cauſa principali, contra Epiſcopum, niſi conteſtes & bonæ converſationis; exiſtimationis & famæ fuerint, non recipiantur: & ſi odio, temeritate, aut cupiditate aliquid depoſuerint, gravibus pœnis mulctentur.

Cap. 8.

Cauſæ Epiſcoporum, cùm pro criminis objecti qualitate comparere debeant, coram Pontifice Maximo referantur, ac per ipſum terminentur.

pellat id ex tam Hieronymi quàm Augustini verbis satis superque colligi. Nam ille, cum Pelagianos Orientis episcopos damnasse ait, non aliquos verbis vanissimis hanc pudosam blasphemiam proprio ore & scriptis suis, tam palam ipsum aperte fatentes, tam nemo esse, nemo omnino existimet, quin ejus sit damnatio, quæ condemnatus à Deo fuit non fuit. Simplè pene ille reformatus cujusdam Pelagiani, qui Augustino objecerat, quòd Pelagium, quem ipse damnasset, ab Ecclesia Orientis non fuisse damnatum, & asserto opere quod reprehenderat, post obitum Innocentii Gelasium Papa damnatum. Quæ omnium promptitudo in adversum illum Pontificem dubitationi quatuor articulorum, juxta & scalpro Augustini, ansam præbuit, quæ ut ipsi Pelagio, ita & Cælestio, & universis Pelagianis pravæ sectæ auctoribus communia, quæ ipsi damnati ab Ecclesiæ pastore quin damnationem ita apti, legitimè judicio pronuntiatum, ut nullus omnino dubitare de eo possit, qui non vanissimum dolorem pervicaciæ sui & hæresis amittere velit. Quæ ergo ab Augustino Pelagio objecta, ea Pelagius ipse, & Cælestius, & omnes Pelagiani damnati sunt. Quod eam rem instituit in Synodo augenti nonnulli, fraudi ei fuisse, quòd ea Synodus non fuerit ecumenica, quòd non omnes totius orbis episcopos ejus referentes ejusve patrocinia fuerint. Quæ quidem ratio, quamvis ad Pelagianos ipsos, quos ipsa damnavit, non admodum valeat, tamen ad reprehendendi Zosimum usum haberi potuisset. Cum enim à Principe ejus Patres convocati, quod controversiam hanc magnæ gravitatis inhabere videretur, non ita interpretandus est Edictorum in hac causa Synodo receptus Imperatoris, ut ejus Synodi decreta, quæ ab Episcopis Africæ, quibus ea causa, & non ab aliis pertinebat, nulla suggestione facta absolvebantur, Sanctæ totius Ecclesiæ consensu regia dictum, quin etiam Romani Pontificis, qui ejus Ecclesiæ, quæ Sancta semper habita, & cum Sancta semper habenda est, Sacerdotium tenebat, auctoritate confirmata fuerint. An in ſanctiſſimo Euchariſtiæ Sacramento ſub ſpecie rerum ſenſibilium verè, realiter & ſubſtantialiter præſens ſit corpus & ſanguis Chriſti?

AFfirmat caput primum,& Canon I.ſimúlque anathemate percellit eos, qui id negaverint, & aſſeruerint, corpus & ſanguinem Chriſti eſſe in Sacramento Euchariſtiæ,ut in ſigno vel figura aut virtute. Nos ante omnia præſentiam corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti diſtinguimus. Eſt enim ea vel ſpiritualis,vel ſacramentalis,ſymbolica & relativa,vel corporalis & ſubſtantialis. Spiritualis eſt,quâ corpus & ſanguis Chriſti per Spiritum S. præſens ſiſtitur Spiritui credentis, ſeu fidei, quæ à Paulo Hebr. IX. 1. ὑπόστασις τ ἐλπιζομένων, καὶ ἔλεγχος πραγμάτων ὐ βλεπομένων,repræſentatio eorum quæ ſperantur,& demonſtratio rerum, quæ non videntur, definitur. Sicut igitur Spiritus S. credenti repræſentat omnia, quæ ſperantur & non videntur : ita etiam ei repræſentat corpus & ſanguinem Chriſti. Sacramentalis Symbolica & relativa eſt, quâ Chriſti corpus & ſanguis præſens ſiſtitur,adeóque repræſentatur in Symbolo & Sacramento Divinitus inſtituto,non nudè figurante & docente,ſed etiam obſignante & ſano ſenſu exhibente. quæ quidem præſentia relativa tantùm eſt, ſed pro relatorum à Deo inſtitutorum natura talis eſt,ut bona promiſſa,adeóque corpus & ſanguinem Chriſti longè potentiùs & certiùs in manus nobis tradat, quàm Teſtamentum res legatas, ac literæ & ſigilla reditus annuos hæredibus & poſſeſſoinviſibili & occulta jactata Pſeudoprophetæ & Pſeudo-Chriſti dignoſci debeant: Ergo Chriſtus poſt aſcenſionem ſecundum naturam humanam in Euchariſtia inviſibili modo nequiquam præſens eſt. En igitur, Eremitane hierophanta, non turpem & palpabilem perfidiam antagoniſtæ tui, ſed tuum cum Pſeudo-Prophetis & Pſeudo-Chriſtis Syncretiſmum certiſſimum, à quo ut caveant ſibi fideles omnes, Chriſtus, veritatis illud cœleſte oraculum, juſſit verbis ſtrictiſſimis: μὴ πιστεύσητε. Ne credite. 2. Quæ alieno loco, ubi ad mea reſpondere, non tuas ratiunculas conſarcinare debueras, Scripturæ & Patrum teſtimonia ad ſtabilimentum erroris tui, & augendam libri molem, addis, quæque ſuo loco ventilabimus. Et Patrum quidem teſtimonia in Scripto vernaculo Redingio oppoſito pleraque ſic jam diſcuſſimus, ut is veritatis vi ſubactus Harpocrati litare hactenus cogatur.

ARG. II. Ipſa verba, quibus euchariſtiam Chriſtus inſtituit, fictitiam ejuſmodi præſentiam excludunt, tum quia corpus ſuum fractum & ſanguinem fuſum indigetat, cùm tamen nec ea hora, utpote vivus adhuc corpus fractum ſeu mortificatum, & ſanguinem fuſum porrexerit, vel porrigere potuerit; nec poſt reſurrectionem corpus ejus ut fractum unquam exhiberi ampliùs poſſit: tum quia Chriſtus de pane accepto in manus, benedicto & diſtributo, dicens, Hoc eſt corpus meum; de poculo autem ſeu genimine vitis, quòd ſit ſanguis Domini, diſertè docet & innuit, ita corpus & ſanguinem ſuum nec aliter adeſſe, quàm quatenus panis eſt corpus, & vinum ſeu genimen vitis ſanguis, quibus ſanè verbis qui addiderit, mendax reperietur: tum quia panis ſic eſt corpus Chriſti, quemadmodum calix eſt Novum Teſtamentum, quod ita verum eſt, ut Novum Teſtamentum tamen in calice non contineatur: tum quia Matthæus cap. XXVI. 29. & Marcus cap. XIV. 28. verbis Chriſti, quibus poculum tradidit, addunt ea verba: Dico autem vobis, non bibam debinc de hoc genimine vitis, usque ad diem, quo id bibam vobiſcum novum in Regno Patris mei, quibus ex verbis abundè liquet, id quod bibebant diſcipuli, fuiſſe γένημα ἀμπέλου genimen vitis, & calicem vocari Novum Teſtamentum, quia pignus eſſet Novi Teſtamenti, ſeu Regni Dei mox inchoandi, in quo eſſet cum illis bibiturus genimen vitis aliud, hoc eſt, novum & antehac inuſitatum, quod de re ſymbolo obſignata, videlicet Novo Teſtamento, ejúſque bonis accipiendum: tum denique quia juſſit Chriſtus edere panem corpus ſuum, & vinum ſanguinem ſuum εἰς ἀνάμνησιν ad commemorationem ejus, cùm tamen commemoratio tam non ſit res commemorata, corporis traditio & ſanguinis Chriſti fuſio, quàm præſens non eſt præteritum.

ordinem constituerunt, non tantum ubi de Sacrificio Missæ agitur, sed & ubi de Sanctissimo Sacramento agit in Baptismo, Confirmatione, Communione, & Ordine Sacerdotum, &c. Sed & ipsum etiam Sacramentum Eucharistiæ, quod Sacrificium Missæ continet, ordinem quendam servat, ut ex ipsis Verbis Institutionis patet. Nam primo quidem ponuntur materia, quæ est panis & vinum; deinde forma, quæ est Verba Consecrationis; postea effectus, qui est Transubstantiatio, quæ panem & vinum in Corpus & Sanguinem Christi convertit; ultimo vero fructus, qui est Sacramentalis manducatio, quæ fit per Communionem. Quæ omnia quidem, quamvis non sint ordine temporis, ut ordinem præsentis materiæ sub prosecutione sit cum ordine Sacramentorum, quæ sunt Baptismus, Confirmatio, Eucharistia, Pœnitentia, & cæteris habet, quem Sacrorum præsens liber ejusque ritus servat, quia hanc ordine ad Calicem ubi Ritum Ministrandi in Sanguine Christi & Aqua, quæ ex latere Domini fluxit, Sacramentum Eucharistiæ ministrandi, ut ex Rubrica patet, quæ ordo Sacramentorum ita observatur ut Rituale Romanum præscribit, & Sacramentum Eucharistiæ ministrandum Sacerdotibus, & Infirmis, Communionem Sacerdotum, & Communionem Laicorum, & Ritum Ministrandi Sanguinem Christi & Aquam, quæ ex latere Domini fluxit, & Ritum Ministrandi in Sanguine Christi & Aqua, quæ ex latere Domini fluxit, & Ritum Ministrandi Sanguinem Christi & Aquam

ARG. III. In eucharistia panis, qui frangitur, vocatur κοινωνία τοῦ σώματος communio corporis Christi, 1.Cor.X. 16. Quibus verbis continetur exegesis verborum Christi. Subjectum autem est panis, non qui talis erat, vel species panis, sed qui frangitur, adeóque vera substantia panis. Prædicatum verò est, quòd panis qui frangitur, prædicatur esse κοινωνία τοῦ σώματος communio corporis, hoc est, τὸ εἶναι ἓν σῶμα, esse unum corpus, nempe in Christo, uti sequens versus 17. declarat. Ubi κοινωνία nequaquam notare potest communicationem corporis sub speciebus panis localiter præsentis, quia eodem modo sumus unum cum Christo, quo & multi unum corpus sumus, scilicet per Spiritum unum, non per transitionem substantiæ in substantiam: tùm quia versu 18. eodem modo Israëlitæ dicuntur fuisse κοινωνοὶ participes altaris, nempe per imputationem Dei, quâ cum Christo sponsore æterno, qui per altare figurabatur, & cum sacrificio ejus futuro communionem habebant, ut ita reputarentur, ac si ipsi pro peccatis plenè satisfecissent. Est igitur panis communio corporis Christi per ejus significationem, eo modo, quo gleba tradita à prætore possessio fundi dici potest.

RESP. REDING: 1. S. Paulus apertè panem vocat communionem corporis Christi, & calicem communionem sanguinis. Non igitur Eucharistiam in typo & figura, sed in reali substantia corporis & sanguinis Christi statuit. Unde S. quoque Chrysostomus in cap. 10. 1.Cor. homil. mor. 24 mysterii hujus effectum ab ejusdem substantia discernit. 2. Panis, qui frangitur, & est communio corporis Christi, intelligitur supersubstantialis, de quo Joh. VI. 51. Panis, quem ego dabo, caro mea est. Is frangitur non immediatè, sed mediatè in suo continente, nempe in speciebus Eucharisticis. 3. Quomodo fieri potest, ut de uno pane Eucharistico participantes universi fideles unum corpus fiamus in Christo; nisi quatenus, uti etiam S. Patres agnoscunt, realiter omnes unis corpori Christi. Ergo communio corporis Christi sic formaliter importat veri corporis Christi in Eucharistia communicationem, ut etiam effectivè mysticam cum Christo & ejus membris mysticis, mediante charitate, communionem inferat. 4. Qui olim ederunt hostias, altaris typici participes facti, adeóque quasi sacrificati sunt. Sed absurdum est, Novum æquè ac Vetus Testamentum redigere ad statum merè præfigurativum. lib. pag. 273.-275. Resp. 1. Quis negat, in Eucharistia esse communionem cum reali substantia corporis & sanguinis Christi? Non enim communio est cum Christo φαντασιώδει, sed vero Deo & homine, ipsáque adeò reali etiam substantia corporis & sanguinis Christi. Sed communionem cum reali substantia corporis & sanguinis Christi nullam nisi corporalem, inconjunctione locali corporum, consistentem, dari, hoc verò tibi probandum incubuerat. Aliud certè est κοινωνία communio, aliud μετάδοσις communicatio, corporis videlicet, per porrectas panis species in hunc vel illum locum venientis. Non hoc, sed illo modo Apostolus loquitur. Is enim statim sequente v. 17. se clarè admodum explicat, dicens: ὅτι εἷς ἄρτος ἓν σῶμα οἱ πολλοί ἐσμεν, quoniam unus panis unum corpus multi sumus. Hæc differta explicatio est verborum Apostoli, seu ratio, cur panis sit communio corporis Christi, uti particula causalis ὅτι indicat.

Infinita. Pro quarto adhuc Scotistarum argumento Caiet. 1. 2. q. 113. ad 3. respondet, ad Charitatem sufficere in eligendo motivum sub ratione boni honesti, non autem sub ratione summi respectu. Quemadmodum autem motivum sub ratione boni honesti sufficit ad Charitatem, ita motivum sub ratione boni utilis sufficit ad Spem, ut docet Scotus in 3. dist. 26. quæst. 1. Jam concurrit per objectum motivum Spei in Christo, tanquam auxiliatore, & Redemptore, & per objectum motivum Charitatis in Christo, tanquam Deo, & Redemptore. Quare quod dicitur, Spem non concurrere, falsum est. Quod dicitur, Charitatem non posse esse, nisi in Electis, falsum est. Ad hæc tria objecta ego addo tertium, Jesum Christum, tanquam Mediatorem, & Redemptorem, quod ego omnes vere, licet non efficaciter, Electi, & Reprobi, in viatore termino respectu. Quod ergo vere, licet non efficaciter, amant Electi, & Reprobi, tanquam Mediatorem, & Redemptorem, id ipsum amant Charitate, & Spe, licet non efficaciter. Quod vero efficaciter amant Electi, id ipsum amant tanquam, & communiter respectu Electi. Quod ergo Electi, qui tanquam Electi, amant Christum, tanquam Mediatorem, & Redemptorem, id ipsum amant Charitate, & Spe, licet non efficaciter, & communiter respectu Electi. Quod vero Electi in eodem loco, obtinere poteſt imò & debet. In hoc conſiſtit argumenti nervus, quem tu non tangis. Neque adeò Novum Teſtamentum ad ſtatum præfigurativum ſic reducimus, uti tu ineptis. Tuum potiùs eſt cum D. Baldingero, qui verba S. Pauli non de Iſraëlitis veteribus, ſed ſui temporis explicat, tranſigere. Sed ei quoque abundè ſatisfecimus.

ARG. IV. Chriſtus dicit Joh. III. 13. Nemo aſcendit in cælum, niſi qui de cælo deſcendit, filius hominis qui eſt in cælo. Docet manifeſtè, impoſſibile eſſe quenquam deſcendere de cœlo in terram, & tamen remanere in cælo, ſine deſcenſu locali, niſi Deum. Quomodo igitur Chriſtus corpore ſuo ita deſcendere poteſt in terram, non mutato loco, ut tamen ſimul maneat in cœlo?

RESP. REDING: 1. Ex textu eo hoc unum evincitur, Deum ſine deſcenſu locali potuiſſe uniri carni: non item, impoſſibile eſſe, quenquam ſine deſcenſu locali de Cœlo in terram deſcendere. 2. Imò ſi Divinitas per hypoſtaticam verbi unionem abſque ulla ſui immutatione cum natura humana uniri potuit, cur humanitatis in Cœlo exiſtentis cum ſpeciebus Euchariſtitis unio non ſubſtantialis ſed merè accidentaria, in genere cauſæ efficientis ſuſtentativa obtinere nequeat? Ib. pag. 275. Reſp. 1. Vim argumenti vel non intelligis, vel diſſimulas. In hoc conſiſtit, quòd, ipſo Chriſto judice, verus Deus ſit, qui ſine motu locali è Cœlo deſcendit in terram, & ſimul manet in Cœlo. Atqui Chriſtus ſecundum humanam naturam non eſt verus Deus. Ergo non ſic in terram, ſine motu locali, deſcendit, vel in terra eſt, ut ſimul ſit in Cœlo. Quæ ratio fictitiæ præſentiæ jugulum petit. Aliquid ad rem propiùs dixit D. Baldingerus, cui curæ cordique fuit, ſtudioſiùs longè argumenta expendere. Quæ ei repoſui, heic repetere non vacat. 2. Egregiam verò Divinitatis & humanitatis, infiniti & finiti comparationem tuam! Quæ reſponſionem nullam meretur. Et quid tum poſtea, ſi humanitatis in Cœlo exiſtentis cum accidentibus panis & vini in terra exiſtentibus unio non ſubſtantialis, ſed accidentaria eſt? An iccirco ſubſtantia humana non ſimul in Cœlo, ſimul in terra à vobis collocatur, quocunque modo cum accidentibus panis & vini uniatur? Næ penſi non habes, quid dicas vel ſcribas.

ARG. V. Idem Salvator Joh. VI. 63. expreſsè docet, carnem ſuam nihil prodeſſe, ſed Spiritum, nempe illum, quo baptizamur in unum corpus, ut ita videamur corpus Chriſti manducâſſe; vivificare, & verba ſua eſſe ſpiritum & vitam, hoc eſt, ſpirituali lumine ſpiritum noſtrum illuminare & ſic vivificare; ideóque ſi verbis ipſius credamus, nos manducâſſe carnem.

RESP. REDING: 1. An ergo manducare Chriſti carnem idem eſt, ac videri eam manducaſſe? 2. Eo ipſo, quòd circa illa Chriſti verba, Panis, quem ego dabo, caro mea eſt, ritè intelligenda, caro non prodeſt quicquam, verba ejus intelligere oportet, non eo in ſenſu, quem caro & ſanguis, ſive lumen naturale, revelavit, ſed quem æterni Patris & Chriſti Spiritus vivificans tradidit. Atqui is clarè ſic loquitur: Caro mea verè eſt cibus; Panis, quem ego dabo, caro mea eſt pro mundi vita. Ib. pag. 275. Reſp. 1. Qui Chriſti carnem manducat, verè eam manducat, non carnaliter, ſed ſpiritualiter. Et qui verè ſpiritualiter Articulum ab initio usque ad hæc verba: sed manifestum, Sanctum Thomam, & Scotum non docuisse, Conceptionem Christi Domini fuisse immaculatam.

Resp. Negando. Quia ejus, & similia dicta Sanctorum, quæ in hoc articulo referuntur, non sunt intelligenda, quasi Sancti ea dixerint, ut Conceptionem Christi Domini fuisse in ea re, qua ejus Conceptio immaculata dicitur, ut in ea re, qua ejus Conceptio fuit sanctificata, sed ut ea dicta sunt intelligenda, vel de Conceptione Christi, quatenus ejus Conceptio fuit sanctificata, vel de Conceptione Christi, quatenus ejus Conceptio fuit immaculata, ut ex dictis patet. Ita Sanctus Thomas, & Scotus, quos ibi citat Author, Scotus quidem, quia Christus Dominus fuit sanctificatus in utero matris suæ, ita docuit, ut dixerit, Sanctum Thomam, & Scotum in Christo dixisse non fuisse peccatum originale, ut ex ipsis patet locis, quæ ab Author citantur. Sanctus vero Thomas, quia docuit, Christum Dominum fuisse sanctificatum in utero Matris, docuit Christum fuisse immaculatum, ut ex ipsis patet locis, quæ ab Author citantur. Quod autem Christus Dominus sanctificatus fuerit in utero matris suæ, manifestum est ex Evangelio Lucæ cap. 1. ubi Angelus Gabrieli dixit ad Mariam: Ecce concipies in utero, & paries filium, & vocabis nomen ejus Jesum. Et Maria ex tunc non cognovit virum: Ergo ex quo Maria concepit Jesum, ex tunc Maria non cognovit virum. Ergo ex quo Maria concepit Jesum, ex tunc Maria non habuit concupiscentiam. Ergo ex quo Maria concepit Jesum, ex tunc Christus Dominus fuit sanctificatus. Quod autem Christus Dominus fuerit immaculatus, ex eo manifestum est, quia Christus Dominus fuit sanctificatus in utero matris suæ, ut ostensum est. Sed Christus Dominus fuit sanctificatus ante omnem sanctificationem omnium aliorum Sanctorum, quia

ARG. VII. Scriptura teſtatur, Chriſtum habuiſſe corpus ἐν ὁμοιώματι ἀνθρώπων in ſimilitudine hominum, ἐν ὁμοιώματι σαρκὸς ἁμαρτίας in ſimilitudine carnis peccati, hoc eſt, tali carne, qualis eſt caro peccatoris, habuiſſe illum carnem & oſſa, adeóque Spiritum non fuiſſe. Tale igitur cùm ſit corpus Chriſti, neceſſum eſt, ſit finitum, extenſum, palpabile, diviſibile circumſcriptum ſuis dimenſionibus. Proinde non poteſt eſſe præſens in cœlo quidem circumſcriptivè, per modum corporis in euchariſtia verò definitivè, per modum Angeli ſive Spiritus, quaſi verum corpus ſimile noſtro, poſſet & habere modum corporis, & ſimul non habere, & ſine modo corporis eſſe corpus, neque tantùm definitivè, ſed etiam repletivè, cùm dicant pluribus in locis eſſe ſive circumſcriptivè, ſive definitivè, quaſi non quod definitivè dicitur eſſe in loco, hoc eo ipſo dicatur hic eſſe & non alibi. Tam non poteſt verum corpus eſſe in loco ſive definitivè ſive repletivè, quàm non poteſt eſſe Angelus vel Deus.

RESP. REDING: 1. Subſtantiam corporis cum ejus modo exiſtendi in loco confundis. Habet Chriſtus corpus in ſimilitudine hominum, carnis peccati, habens carnem & oſſa, qualis etiam in Euchariſtia eſt; quantum, diviſibile, extenſum in ordine ad ſe. Sed quoad modum exiſtendi in loco caret extenſione in ordine ad locum, Chriſtus enim de ſingulis fracti panis particulis dicens, Hoc enim eſt corpus meum; corpus ejus totum eſſe in tota ſpecierum quantitate, & totum in ſingulis ejus partibus innuit, quale eſſe non poſſet, ſi extenderetur in ordine ad locum. 2. St Deus proprietates ſpiritus, agilitatem, incorruptibilitatem, ſubtilitatem, penetrabilitatem corpori glorioſo communicare poteſt, quidni etiam modum exiſtendi in loco illocalem, qui ſubſtantiæ ſpiritualis proprius eſt, communicare poſſit? Præſentia corporis Chriſti in Euchariſtia ſupernaturalis, quæ nihil aliud eſt quàm affectio ſpecierum Euchariſticarum in genere cauſæ efficientis ſuſtentativa, ſe ad dimenſivam & extenſivam corporis Chriſti in Cœlo præſentiam habet non contradictorie, ſed diſparatè. At ipſi vos diverſas diſparatè repugnantes præſentias corporis Chriſti in Cœlo & Euchariſtia agnoſcitis. 4. Præſentia corporis Chriſti definitiva vocari poteſt, quatenus illud eſt totum in toto, & totum in qualibet parte, non quatenus ita totum eſt in qualibet parte ſpatii, ut non ſit alibi. quod etiam Thomas 3. p. q. 76. a. 5. ad 1 agnoſcit. Ib pag. 277. 278. Reſp. 1 Quicquid moliaris tu, væſanum dogma illud veſtrum veræ Chriſti humanitati vim palàm infert, quia humanum corpus obtrudit, quod nihil planè humanitatis habet. Licet autem ſubſtantiam corporis humani à modo ejuſdem exiſtendi in loco diſtinctam eſſe, nulli nos ignoremus; at modus exiſtendi in loco humanus tam non à corpore humano ſeparari poteſt, quàm non poteſt ſubſtantia corporis humani. Modus autem exiſtendi in loco humanus is eſt, ut corpus humanum ſecundum ſubſtantiam ſuam viſibile, palpabile, diviſibile, extenſum, circumſcriptum, habens carnem & oſſa diſcreta, eodem modo exiſtat, ubicunque exiſtit. Exiſtere autem niſi in loco nequit. Ergo ipſe quoque modus exiſtendi in loco, adeóque etiam ſive in Euchariſtia, ſive extra eam, requirit, ut in ordine ad locum, non ad ſe duntaxat, exiſtat corpus Chriſti humanum viſibile, palpabile, diviſibile, extenſum, circumſcriptum, habens carnem & oſſa. Bellam verò probationem tuam: De qualibet panis particula dixit Chriſtus: Hoc eſt corpus meum:

meum: Ergo non poteſt corpus ejus extendi in ordine ad locum? Rectiùs inde concluderes: Ergo corpus Chriſti non eſt in Euchariſtia corporaliter, Papiſticè. quia ſi ſic in Euchariſtia foret, extendi deberet in ordine ad locum quemvis minutiſſimæ placentulæ. Quid enim? An quod corpus in particula panis eſt, non eſt in ea, ut in loco? Et ſi extenſum, diviſibile eſt in qualibet particula panis, uti ipſemet fateris, annon extenſum, diviſibile eſt in particula panis, ut in loco, adeóque extenditur in ordine ad locum? En ſucceſſum fatuitatis & fraudis tuæ Sophiſticæ! 2. Nimio quinetiam errore accidentia communia & ſeparabilia cum propriis & eſſentialibus confundis. Ita agilitas, incorruptibilitas, ſubtilitas (de penetrabilitate nihil probare potes) ſunt accidentia corporis ſeparabilia, & ſpiritui æquè ac corpori communia. Poſſunt adeſſe & abeſſe citra corruptionem ſubjecti. Sicut enim corruptibilitas, ignobilitas, infirmitas corporis à ſubintrante peccato originem duxerunt: ita ab oppoſito peccato Dei gratia glorificante, & Spiritu vivificante, ſalva corporis natura mutantur & tolluntur. Diſpar ratio eſt accidentium proprierum, ſeu potiùs attributorum eſſentialium corporis. quale eſt extenſio, quæ non à cauſa quapiam adventitia, ſed à corporis eſſentia adeò reſultat & emanat, ut ſalva corporis eſſentia neutiquam mutari poſſit. Ineſt enim omni corpori, & ſoli, & ſemper, neque ea prius aliquid concipi poteſt. Ita corpus Chriſti glorificatum corruptibilitatem, mortalitatem depoſuit: at extenſionem non depoſuit. Poſt reſurrectionem enim corpus extenſum, carnem & oſſa habuit, quæ qui finxerit non extenſa, majore jure dixerit non carnem, non oſſa. Fucum ergo merum facis, fingendo proprietates eſſentiales, quæ non ſunt, & ſtatuendo accidentales, communicabiles, quæ eſſentiales, & planè incommunicabiles ſunt. 3. Naturalem & ſupernaturalem præſentiam corporis, quarum illa ſcilicet localis, dimenſiva, hæc illocalis & ſpiritualis ſit, fruſtra fingis, non probatam, non probabilem. Imò corpus idem circumſcribi & non circumſcribi; extendi in loco, & non extendi in loco; viſibile, palpabile, diviſibile, & non viſibile, non palpabile, non diviſibile eſſe, non diſparata utique, ſed merè contradictoria ſunt, quia oppoſitio verſatur circa eſſe & non eſſe. Neque nos unquam diverſas vel diſparatas corporis Chriſti in Cœlo & Euchariſtia præſentias, puta ſecundum locorum indiſtantiam, aſſeruimus. Tu ſic cretizas. Secundum indiſtantiam enim loci in Cœlo ſolo præſens eſt, & erit uſque ad conſummationem rerum omnium. Sed ſic in Cœlo præſens ſui communionem nobis in Euchariſtia per veram fidem impertitur & obſignat. 4. Ut præſentiam definitivam, quam Spiritibus Schola vendicat, corpori Chriſti Euchariſtico aptare valeas, novam nobis præſentiæ definitivæ definitionem fingis. Aſtutè quidem. Nam aliâs id definitivè in loco eſſe conſtanter Schola veſtra profitetur, quod hic eſt & non alibi. Vos autem non jam, ut olim Pſeudo-Prophetæ & Pſeudochriſti, dicitis; Ecce hic Chriſtus, aut illic; ſed, quod longè turpius, Ecce & hic Chriſtus, & illic. Neque ſoli Chriſto prærogativam hanc tribuitis, ſed aliis etiam. Nam Turſellinus veſter de Xaviero Lojolitico pullo, refert, eum ſimul & in navi, & in ſcapha viſum eſſe. Ego cum fabulatoribus Plautinum Amphitruonem committo: Tun' id dicere audes, verbero, quod nemo unquam homo antehac vidit, nec fieri poteſt, Tempore uno homo idem duobus ut locis ſimul ſit. Sed noveris, præſentiam illam, qua quid ſic eſt totum in toto, ut ſimul ſit totum in omnibus partibus, & hic, & alibi, non ſpirituum, nedum corporum creatorum, ſed ſolius ſpiritus increati, infiniti, præſentiam eſſe; adeóque repletivam, quam Deo facitis eximiam; non definitivam. qua in re argumenti mei vis conſiſtit. Etenim, ſi, uti verè Thomas Aquinas, Scholæ veſtræ decus, l. 1. in Mag. d. 31 q. 1.

31. q.1.art.1. arguit, ejusdem eſt rationis, Angelum ſimul eſſe in duobus locis, & in quibuscunque pluribus: annon etiam ejuſdem rationis eſt, corpus Chriſti, vel Xavieri eſſe in duobus, & in quibuscunque pluribus, adeóque omnibus locis? Id verò nullius corporis, nullius Spiritus creati, ſed ſolius Dei eſt. Atque eò tandem Bellarminus redit qui de Euchar. lib.4. ſic ſcribit: Poſſumus dicere, præter duos hos modos exiſtendi in loco (circumſcriptivè & definitivè) dari tertium, nimirum per ſolam præſentiam, quomodo Deus eſt in loco. Et hoc modo eſſe in loco illa corpora, quæ per Divinam potentiam ſimul ſunt in variis locis, non ut ſpiritus creati, ſed ut Deus; modo non corporali, non Angelico, ſed Divino!

ARG. VIII. Si Chriſtus ſecundum corpus præſens eſt localiter euchariſtiæ, idem corpus pluribus in locis ſubſtantialiter ſimul actu eſſet, adeóque πλούτομν, quod longè abſurdiſſimum eſt. Tale enim corpus πλούτομν non eſſet unum, quippe in locis ingenti intervallo diſparatis & diſcretis exiſtens: idem illud ſimul dici poſſet eſſe actu & poteſtate: ad ſe ipſum referri poſſet relatione reali, ſimul eſſet in motu & in quiete: ſimul actu conciperetur frigidiſſimum & calidiſſimum, ſanum & ægrum, vivens & mortuum, & quid non? Ne jam dicam polytopiæ huic diſertiſſimè verbum Dei refragari Matth.XXVI.11. Joh.XIII,33. Act.III.21. quibus locis negat Chriſtus ſe ſemper nobiſcum futurum, & aſſerit Petrus, fore ut cœli ipſum capiant uſque ad tempus reſtitutionis omnium.

RESP. REDING: 1. In textibus Matthæi & Johannis nihil ad rem præſentem facit. Act. III.21. aſſeritur, Chriſtum in Cœlo manſurum uſque ad diem judicii. At minimè dicitur, non etiam realiter futurum in Euchariſtia. Imò contrarium dixit Chriſtus his verbis: Hoc enim eſt corpus meum. 2. Corpus polytopon unum eſſe poteſt, quia multiplicatio accidentium, quale eſt varietas eſſendi in loco, nihil unitati ſubſtantiali corporis derogat. 3. Chriſti corpus in ſtatu gloriæ alterativis paſſionibus, vel corruptioni obnoxium ampliùs eſſe nequit. Neque quando Chriſtus Euchariſtiam inſtituit, ab agente creato pati potuit, quia quantitas ejus ſub ſpeciebus modum exiſtendi inextenſum & indiviſibilem habuit; nullum autem accidens in corpore ejus pro tali ſtatu receptibile, modum exiſtendi ſibi connaturalem habere potuit. Accedit, quòd vi connaturalis concomitantiæ, quæ unioni phyſicæ competit, omnes corporis Chriſti tam ſubſtantiales, quàm accidentales, à loco independentes, perfectiones ſub omnibus ac ſingulis ſpeciebus Euchariſticis exiſtunt. 4. Idem corpus ſimul eſſe actu quoad formam aliquam actu receptam, & potentia, quoad formam actu nondum productam vel varietatem quampiam habere reſpectu accidentium à loco eſſentialiter pendentium, ita ut alia obtineat, prout eſt circumſcriptivè in Cœlo, alia, prout eſt in Euchariſtia, quid vetat? Ib. pag. 178.179. Reſp. 1. Parum verſatum te in S. literis prodis, qui typographi mei errata, (quale etiam tuus hoc ipſo loco Matth.24. pro Matth. 27. pingens, alibique paſſim admiſit) emendare non potuiſti. Chriſtus certè claris verbis præſagivit, fore ut non ſemper nobiſcum ſit, neque ſemper ipſum habeamus. Matth. XXVI.11. & ἔτι μικρὸν adhuc parvo, ſeu exiguo tempore ſe in terris futurum. Joh.XIII. 33. Et S. Petrus Act.XIII.21. futurum, ut Cœlum Chriſtum capiat uſque ad tempus reſtitutionis omnium, affirmat. Quomodo uſque ad illud tempus Cœlum Chriſtum, quod homicidium non ſit, ſi ego occidi, cum tempore immediato infidiis & tempore mediato ſimul cum Cæſare, qui me ſecum habebat, ſi ſcirem, vel ſaltem ſuſpicarer, quod Cæſar, commodo habito, me occideret? Reſpondeo, quod non poſſit excuſari, & Cæſar, qui, & quod occiſus ſit Scholaſticus dicitur, homo fuit. Et ſi ego ſcirem, vel ſaltem ſuſpicarer, quod Cæſar, commodo habito, me occideret, ſi ſecum habeam Cæſarem, ſcirem, vel ſaltem ſuſpicarer, quod ſi eum occidam, ſim occiſus. Et ſi

Quis non rideat ſapientem hominis illius ſtultitiam, uti olim ſimilem Valentinianorum Irenæus? Et quæ tandem ratio eſt, cur corpori Chriſti ſub ſpeciebus exiſtenti, vi concomitantiæ, omnes perfectiones corporis, excepta ſola ea, quæ à loco dependet, vindicas? Cur reliquæ perfectiones omnes ei competunt: & non competit ea, quæ à loco dependet, ſine qua ne exiſtere quidem poſſet, adeóque ἄτοπον foret? 4. Nihil vetat equidem, idem reſpectu formæ actu inductæ, & denum inducendæ ſimul eſſe actu & poteſtate. At ſimul reſpectu ejuſdem loci eſſe actu & poteſtate, id verò pugnat. Atqui ſi idem corpus Chriſti eſſet in Cœlo & terra ſimul, quatenus in Cœlo eſt actu, poſſet venire in terram ad judicium, adeóque in terra foret potentia. Et tamen ſupponitur jam ante in terra eſſe actu. Ergo in terra ſimul erit actu & potentia, & ad ſe ipſum relatione reali referri poterit. Ad hoc, ſi potes, reſponde.

ARG. IX. Corporalis & Subſtantialis ejuſmodi præſentia piæ antiquitati ante Scholaſticorum ævum planè fuit incognita, uti fusè docet eruditiſſimo opere Edmundus Albertinus, nec non Forbeſius *Inſtruct. lib. Qui quidem partium illarum diſſenſus præbet nobis Syllogiſmum contra præſentiam corporalem Chriſti evidentiſſimum, cujus utraque præmiſſa nititur argumentis ab ipſis partibus litigantibus ſuppeditatis. Talis autem eſt: In quibuscunque locis ſimul poteſt corpus Chriſti per miraculum eſſe corporaliter ſeu ſubſtantialiter, in iisdem locis ſimul poteſt eſſe per miraculum circumſcriptivè. At corpus Chriſti non poteſt per miraculum ſimul eſſe in pluribus locis circumſcriptivè. Ergo corpus Chriſti, non poteſt per miraculum ſimul eſſe in pluribus locis corporaliter ſeu ſubſtantialiter. Propoſitionem majorem clariſſimè probant Scotus, Gabriel Biel, & eorum aſſeclæ, quia ubi Deus facere poteſt ſubſtantiam naturalem ſub modo ſuo non naturali, ſed oppoſito, ibi eam facere etiam poteſt ſub modo naturali, ſeu naturæ ſuæ convenienti, cùm hoc æquè facile, imò facilius ſit quàm illud, & ad illud concurrere debeant duo miracula, unum in cauſando præſentiam unius corporis ſimul in pluribus locis, alterum in ſeparando ipſum à modo ſuo naturali; ad hoc verò non niſi unum miraculum, videlicet in cauſando unius corporis præſentiam ſimul in pluribus locis. Minorem verò propoſitionem non minùs invictis rationibus confirmant Bonaventura, Thomas, Durandus, Capreolus. Et Thomas quidem quod lib. 1. a. 22. ad 1. & quod lib. 3 a. 1. duplicis circumſcriptivæ ad duo loca adæquata unius corporis præſentiæ repugnantiam inde aſſerit, quia corpus localiter, ſeu circumſcriptivè, eſſe in loco, nihil aliud ſit quàm circumſcribi ac comprehendi à loco ſecundum commenſurationem propriarum dimenſionum. Quod autem comprehenditur à loco aliquo, illud ita eſſe in loco, ut nihil ejus extra locum eum ſit. Unde ponere, quòd localiter ſit in loco, & tamen sit in alio, esse ponere contradictoria. Quin & ipsi Tridentini Sess. XIII. cap. 1. asserentes, non pugnare ut Salvator noster semper ad dextram Patris in Cœlis adsideat, juxta modum existendi naturalem, & ut multis nihilominus aliis in locis sacramentaliter præsens sua substantia vobis adsit, ea existendi ratione, quam etsi verbis exprimere non possumus, possibilem tamen esse Deo, credere debemus, non obscurè Thomæ sententiæ suffragantur.

Resp. Reding: 1. Esto, do modo præsentiæ discrepent Thomistæ & Scotistæ. An ipsius realis præsentiæ veritas propter dissensum eum labefactatur? An generatio filii à Patre negari debet, quia de modo ejus non constat? 2. Scotus in 4. dist. 10. q. 2. cum Richardo & Gabriele infert quidem, quòd cùm idem corpus Christi possit esse Sacramentaliter in pluribus locis, videatur unum etiam corpus posse simul in multis locis esse quantitativè. Nunquam tamen asseruit, esse illud circumscriptivè in Eucharistia. 3. Nullus Catholicorum Doctorum præmissas illas collectim spectatas probabiles esse, censuit. Divisim verò de iis, cum Scholastica disceptationi obnoxiis disputarunt Ibid. pag. 280-285. Resp. 1. Præsentiam corporalem oppugnamus non eo argumento, quòd modus ejus vel incognitus, vel controversus sit: sed quòd quilibet, qui assignatur, modus, quo idem Christi corpus simul in Cœlo & in Eucharistia sit, impossibilis sit, & contradictionem implicet. Talis non est modus æternæ generationis Christi. 2. Quicquid de circumscriptiva Christi in Eucharistia præsentia statuerit Scotus (tamen possibilitatem ejus certò statuit) perstat vis argumenti. Si enim per miraculum Christus in Cœlo circumscriptivè, in Eucharistia indivisibiliter corpore suo præsens esse potest, nihil impedit, quò minùs & in Cœlo & in Eucharistia per miraculum possit esse circumscriptivè. quia ad illud duo miracula requirantur, ad hoc unum sufficiat. Atqui quò minùs Christus in duobus simul locis sit circumscriptivè, impedit repugnantia. Ergo multò magis illud repugnantia impediet. Si enim, quod minus est, non inest, multò minùs quod majus est, inerit. 3. Neque opus est, ut quisquam Scholæ vestræ doctorum præmissam utramque collectim propugnet. Sufficit utramque præmissam à diversis Scholæ vestræ doctoribus argumentis irrefragabilibus communiri. De re enim, quæ docetur, non de doctoribus argumentum stringit. Cæterùm cùm illud & adversùs Baldingerum fusiùs asseruerim: & speculationes Scholasticas, quas Redingius Thomistarum & Scotistarum differentes opiniones ponderans prodidit, abundè Doctiss. Forbesius Instruct. Hist. Theol. lib. XI. 6. discusserit, libens prolixiore disputatione heic supersedeo.

Objectiones Tridentinorum.

OBIECT. I. Verba institutionis; Hoc enim est corpus meum, &c. nec non historia ejus, arguunt substantialem & corporalem Christi in Eucharistia præsentiam, tum quia proprium reale & substantiale corpus & sanguis Christi est illud, de quo Christus dixit; Edite, bibite: tum quia pronomina Hoc, hic, demonstrant verum & reale corpus ac sanguinem Christi, cùm apud omnes Grammaticos censeantur esse demonstrativa: tum quia quod distribuit Christus, cùm Eucharistiam institueret, erat illud ipsum corpus, quod pro nobis dandum affirmatur: tum denique quia Luc. XXII. 20

Christus

Chriſtus innuit, poculum eſſe ſanguinem, dicens: τοῦτο τὸ ποτήριον ἡ καινὴ διαθήκη ἐν τῷ αἵματί μου τὸ ὑπὲρ ὑμῶν ἐκχυνόμενον, hoc poculum eſt novum Teſtamentum in ſanguine meo, quod poculum pro vobis effunditur. Reſp. 1. Verba & hiſtoria inſtitutionis non aliud evincunt, quàm in Euchariſtia præſentia eſſe corpus & ſanguinem, non abſolutè & ſubſtantialiter, ſed illud quidem quatenus eſt panis, hic verò quatenus eſt germen vitis, uti ſuperiùs demonſtratum. 2. Illud quod Dominus accipere, edere & bibere diſcipulos juſſit, directè & formaliter erat panis & vinum; indirectè, implicitè, & conſequenter panis & corpus Chriſti, quatenus ſignorum participationem imperando, in memoriam revocabat mandatum ſuum de carne manducanda & ſanguine bibendo Joh. c. VI. datum. 3. Per pronomina Hoc, hic, demonſtrantur panis & vinum, quæ Chriſtus in manum acceperat, ſanctificaverat & diſtribuerat. 4. Quod Chriſtus diſtribuerat, erat ſanè corpus pro nobis dandum, & ſanguis pro nobis effundendus, ſed non tam ſubſtantialiter, quàm figurativè, per commemorationem & obſignationem. 5. In verbis Lucæ XXII. 20. τὸ ὑπὲρ ὑμῶν ἐκχυνόμενον, quod pro vobis effunditur, pertinet ad proximè præcedens ſubjectum αἷμα ſanguis: non ad remotum ſubjectum ποτήριον poculum, per uſitatam enallagen caſûs recti pro obliquo, uti locus Matth. XXVI. 28. ubi verba ea ad τὸ αἷμα referuntur, manifeſtè evincit. Similia enallages exempla occurrunt, Joh. I. 14. XXI. 12. 2. Cor. XII. 5. Epheſ. III. 7. Apocal I. 5. VIII. 9. Unde etiam Baſil. in Moral. reg 21:3. habet τῷ αἵματι τῷ ἐκχυνομένῳ.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Evangeliſtæ omnes & S. Paulus uniformiter verborum Chriſti proprietatem retinent. 2. Quod Chriſtus edere, bibere juſſit, de illo, benedicendo, edixit: Hoc eſt corpus meum &c. At dicere ejus eſt facere. Non igitur pronomina Hoc, Hic, panem & vinum demonſtrant; ſed per benedictionem ſeu ſanctificationem ſubſtantia panis & vini ſic exterminata eſt, ut ſub eorum accidentibus ſubſtantia corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti ſucceſſerit. Verba enim Chriſti dicentis H. E. E. C. M. ſunt infallibilis veritatis adeòque effectiva rei, cujus effectio ad talium verborum veritatem neceſſaria eſt. 3. In verbis Lucæ XXII. 20. τὸ quod refertur ad proximè præcedens ſubjectum, ſanguinem ſcilicet poculo contentum. Ergo verus Chriſti ſanguis in Euchariſtia eſt. Ib. pag. 286. 287. Reſp. Nudè omnia aſſeris, nulla ratione fretus. Etenim 1. ſi ubique Evangeliſtæ verborum proprietatem ſervant, an ergo Hoc, id eſt, uti interpretamini, individuum vagum, vel, uti alii, gradus ſubſtantiæ de ſe indifferens ad panem, corpus & quamlibet ſubſtantiam ſub ſpeciebus ponibilem; vel, uti tu interpretaris, Hacceitas ſeu unitas individualis (cui tamen nullum ſubjectum ſubeſt, quódque adeò à nihilo nihil diſtat) propriè eſt Corpus Chriſti? Quale iſthoc monſtrum eſt, cui omne rationis, & revelationis lumen ademptum? 2. Benedictio & ſanctificatio ſymbolorum an eorundem ſubſtantiam perdidit? Maledictio potiùs hæc, quàm benedictio foret. Saltem ſimilis benedictio oſtendi nulla poteſt. Et ſi quodvis dicere Dei eſt facere, an igitur cùm dixit & dicet idem: Hoc, id eſt, Agnus eſt tranſitus: Circumciſio eſt fœdus: Ite maledicti in ignem æternum, num, &c. ſic dicendo ex Agno tranſitum, ex circumciſione fœdus, maledictos &c. fecit? Piget pluſquàm febrilium deliramentorum. Denique an quælibet verba infallibilis veritatis propriè rem ſignificant? Tolle ergo ex S. Scriptura tropos innumeros. 3. Dixit Chriſtus Luc. XXII. 20. Hoc poculum, eſt Novum Teſtamentum ἐν τῷ αἵματί μου, τῷ ὑπὲρ ὑμῶν ἐκχυνόμενον, in ſanguine meo, qui pro vobis effunditur. Fateris illud τῷ Quod ad proximum ſubjectum, Sanguinem referri. Ergo poculum eſt Novum Teſtamentum in ſanguine effundendo ratificandum. Non ergo propriè ſanguis ipſe; ſed vinum poculo contentum Sacramentum eſt Novi Teſtamenti per ſanguinem ratificandi. Quid quæſo hîc errori tuo feritur, quid metitur?

OBIECT. II. Paulus 1. Cor. X. 16. explicans verba inſtitutionis, vocat poculum communionem ſanguinis, & panem, quem frangimus, communionem corporis Chriſti. Ubi κοινωνία notat communicationem & exhibitionem corporalem Chriſti, tum quia à proprietate literæ non eſt temerè recedendum: tum quia Paulus Corinthios à Sacrificiis Gentilium vult avertere, oſtendendo menſam & ſacrificium longè præſtantius, quale ſanè non eſt figura, ſed vera caro & ſanguis in altari. Reſp. 1. Locum eum Orthodoxæ ſententiæ favere ſupra manifeſtum fecimus. 2. Κοινωνία non corporalem communicationem & exhibitionem, ſed communionem, conſortium & ſocietatem notat. Ita legitur in ſacris non ſemel, nos habere κοινωνίαν cum Deo & Chriſto: & ipſa textus Apoſtolici ξυνάφεια id probat, cùm vox κοινωνίας ſæpius ibi repetita non aliud quàm ſocietatem & conſortium notet. Proinde qui ita interpretantur, à proprietate literæ non recedunt. Igitur panis eſt communio corporis Chriſti, hoc eſt, id per quod communio corporis Chriſti obtinetur, vel ſignum & ſigillum corporis Chriſti: non ejus ὄχημα vel vehiculum. 3. Neque Paulus confert inter ſe communionem cum corpore Chriſti, & communionem cum idolis, in eo, quòd illa præſtantior ſit hâc, ſed potiùs ex utriusque oppoſitione oſtendit, eum, qui cum Chriſto communicat, cum dæmoniis communicare non debere. 4. Denique præſtantius & nos ſacrificium habemus, corpus Domini, cujus fide comedendi Sacramentum eſt panis.

Nonne edentes victimas ſunt κοινωνοὶ & ϑυσιαστηρίου participes Altaris?* Neque tamen victima dicebantur corpus & ſanguis Domini, ſicut panis & vinum, quia nondum corpus Chriſti ſtatim frangendum vel fractum ſanguis fundendus vel fuſus fuit. Nihilominus ſacrificiis tribuebatur כפר expiatio peccatorum, quæ ſolius Chriſti, unicæ pro peccatis hoſtiæ, propria eſt. 3. Per ſymbola ſacra, ceu figuras corporis & ſanguinis Domini, fidei iiſdem utentium corpus & ſanguis ejuſdem non figurativè, ſed realiter præſens ſiſtitur, non quoad contactum phyſicum, vel propinquitatem ſubſtantialem, ſed quoad jus communionis cum morte Chriſti, ejúſque fructibus. Tu potiùs vel umbram rationis prome, ex qua conſtet, exterminata ſymbolorum ſubſtantia corpus & ſanguinem Domini ſub ſpeciebus eorundem inviſibiliter & indiviſibiliter ἀδιαστάτως præſens eſſe: & quicquam corporalem ad ſalutem vel ſolatium peccatoris proficere. Cur denique nihil ad objectam tibi textus συνάφειαν, nec non frequentem κοινωνίας communionis in eodem capite uſum, quo non aliud quàm ſocietatem, conſortium ſignificat, reſpondes?

OBIECT. III. Chriſtus Joh. VI. 51. 52. &c. oſtendit, in Euchariſtia præſentem carnem Chriſti comedi & ſanguinem bibi. Agi autem eo loco de Euchariſtia & manducatione orali præſentis corporis patet, tum quia promittit ibi carnem dandam pro mundi vita, quod nuſpiam impletum niſi in Euchariſtia: tum quia Judæi verba Chriſti de orali manducatione corporis præſentis acceperunt, quos in ſua ſententia confirmavit Chriſtus v. 53. tum quia v. 57. Chriſtus docet, propter ſe manducatum nos vivere, ſicut ipſe vivit propter patrem viventem: tum denique, quia ita docent Patres.

Reſp. 1. Chriſti verba eo capite accipienda eſſe de manducatione ſpirituali per fidem, non orali, ipſemet Salvator oſtendit tum v. 35. ubi per fidem ſedari famem & extingui ſitim docet: tum v. 60. 64. ubi carnem mox in cœlum ſubvehendam comedi ore corporis non poſſe, & comeſtam non prodeſſe quicquam, cùm non per carnem comeſtam habeatur communio cum Chriſto ad vitam, quod etiam adverſarii, ſtatuentes impios comedentes panem damnari tamen, innuunt, ſed per Spiritum Chriſti, qui in nobis eſt, & nos facit unum cum Chriſto; oſtendit: tum denique, quia de ſpirituali manducatione per fidem commodè exponi poſſunt, quæ de carne ſua Chriſtus docet. Quæ cauſa eſt, quòd plures ex Pontificiis, ac ex iis duo Summi Pontifices, Innocentius III. &

III. & Pius II. eo capite de Eucharistiæ Sacramento agi pernegant. 2. Caro pro mundi vita non in Eucharistia, sed in cruce data est. 3. Judæi verba Christi ita acceperunt, ac si ore laceranda ac discerpenda esset. Quis asserat hanc sententiam à Christo confirmatam? Itaque v. 53. Christus confirmat non carnalem Judæorum sensum, sed potius suum, cujus claram interpretationem v. 61. 62. subiicit. 4. Versu 57. docetur sanè, propter Christum manducatum nos vivere. Sed de manducatione orali ne gry quidem. 5. Quoad Patres, eorum alii verba Christi interpretantur de propria carne, proptióque sanguine, ut ad mortem dátis, alii de pane & vino. Neutri favent corporali præsentiæ. Non illi, quia ad manducationem spiritualem non requiritur localis præsentia subjecti, quod comedendum est. Non hi, quia aliud est caro & sanguis Domini, aliud Sacramentum corporis & sanguinis Christi.

Excip. Reding: 1. Christus credentem non sitire v. 35. dicit, non quòd idem sit bibere sanguinem ejus & credere, sed quia mediante fide sanguis ejus bibitur. Aliàs dicens v. 35. 50. Ego sum panis vitæ: Hic est panis de Cœlo descendens, satis ostendit, non de figura duntaxat, sed de propria persona sua se loqui. 2. Caro quæ nihil prodesse v. 64. dicitur, est carnalis sensus, quali tu prædictus verbis Christi non credis. Quomodo enim caro Christi nihil prodesset, cùm tamen Christus ipse manducanti eam vitam promiserit? 3. Licet Spiritus Christi formaliter nos faciat unum cum Christo, ejus tamen Spiritus in nobis nutriendi, & modo per Christum definito accipiendi causa efficiens est caro & sanguis Christi in Eucharistia realiter susceptus. 4. Spiritualem manducationem asseris in eo fitam, quòd per ipsam obsignetur signum & sigillum corporis Christi. De tali spirituali manducatione commodè verba Christi explicari posse, vel à Pontificibus explicata esse, falsissimum est. 5. Caro Christi pro mundi vita non solùm in cruce, sed etiam in Eucharistia danda fuit, quia prout in cruce data est, non potuit esse verus cibus & potus, manducandus & bibendus. Quomodo enim caro Christi in cruce data ore corporis manducari possit? 6. Verum suum, non vestrum sensum Judæis Christus opponit his verbis: Caro mea verè est cibus; Nisi manducaveritis carnem filii hominis &c. Quorum verborum proprietas significat realem carnis Christi præsentiam, Physicam & oralem manducationem. 7. Si qui ex Patribus verba Christi de carne & sanguine in mortem dandis explicant, ii alterum sensum non excludunt. Nec Theodoretus, nec Augustinus, quos allegare soletis, vobis favent. Theodoretus enim dicens Dialogo 1. Christum visibilia signa appellatione corporis & sanguinis honorasse, non transmutando naturam, sed naturæ symbolorum gratiam; nec non, nomina eum commutasse, & corpori quod erat symboli ac signi, nomen imposuisse; symbolis autem quod erat corporis; supponit realem panis in corpus Christi mutationem, cujus vi sub Eucharisticis speciebus verum Christi corpus realiter existat. Augustinus quoque contra Adimant. cap. 12. scribens, Christum dedisse signum corporis sui; ac tum dixisse, Hoc est corpus meum; ita agnoscit signum corporis Christi, ut veritatem corporis ipsius non abneget. Ib pag. 188--191. Resp. 1. Mediante utique fide ceu ore spirituali manducatur corpus & bibitur sanguis Christi: sicut mediante ore corporis manducatur cibus corporalis. Saltem inde constat, non aliud manducationis illius, de qua Joh.VI. ſermo eſt, organon à Chriſto conſtitui, quàm fidem. At quod ſola fide editur & bibitur, illud ſpiritualiter, non oraliter vel corporaliter editur. Oralis & corporalis manducatio juxta vos communis eſt fidelibus & infidelibus. At manducatio & bibitio de qua Chriſtus loquitur, cùm ſola fide fiat, non eſt communis fidelibus & infidelibus. Non igitur oralis & corporalis intelligitur. Conſentio autem tecum, non de figura, ſed de ſola perſona Chriſti ſermonem eſſe. Inde ergo liquet, non Sacramentalem, ſed merè ſpiritualem manducationem proponi. Nam à Sacramentali manducatione figura, ſeu ſymbola Sacramentalia abeſſe nequeunt. Carnem, quæ nihil prodeſſe dicitur, intelligi carnem Chriſti oraliter manducatam, abundè jam probavimus. Dat illa vitam, non ore corporis, ſed fidei ſpiritualiter comeſta. Alias etiam infidelibus, à quibus oraliter eam comedi ſtatuitis, vitam daret. 3. Ineptè nimis Spiritum formaliter nos unum facere cum Chriſto: carnem efficienter ſpiritum eum nutrire, aſſeris. Spiritus enim, quo mediante Chriſto unimur, adeóque Κυρίῳ κολλώμενος ἓν πνεῦμα Domino agglutinati unus ſpiritus ſimus (1.Cor.VI.17.) à carne Chriſti oraliter manducata non nutritur: neque ulla nutritione indiget, cùm habeat vitæ indiſſolubilis potentiam. Nihil planè penſi habes, quid dicas. 4. Ubi ſpiritualem manducationem in eo collocavi, quòd per eam ſignum & ſigillum corporis Chriſti obtineatur? Quid aniliter garrire eſt, ſi hoc non eſt? OBIECT. IV. Præſentia corporalis Chriſti in Euchariſtia arguitur ex illius figuris, quales ſunt manna, agnus Paſchalis, ſanguis vituli. Quòd ſi in Euchariſtia non eſt niſi naturalis panis, figuræ illæ nobiliùs figurâſſent Chriſtum, quàm Euchariſtia. Reſp. 1. Typi illi cum euchariſtia in re ſignificata convenerunt, at euchariſtiæ typi minimè fuerunt, ſed Chriſti potiùs. 2. Auguſtior & nobilior ſignificatio non eſt ponenda in ritibus, ſed in modo ſignificandi, qui in euchariſtiæ Sacramento eſt clarior, facilior, evidentior. 3. Ex Scriptura nihil afferre potuiſti. Nam quòd Euchariſtiam Chriſtus Cœnæ Paſchali ſuccenturiavit, non ideo factum eſt, quaſi illam hæc figuraverit, ſed quia paſſio Agni Cœleſtis, quæ veritas & corpus erat veteris illius obſervantiæ, adeò inſtabat, ut jam quaſi in actu eſſet. Adimpletus ergo typus abrogandus erat, ac alter novo populo per prioris mutationem ad obſervandum proponendus. qui audiunt verum Christi Sacramentum non discernunt, cibum Christi, & potum, & in indignos, cum dentibus & discrimine, venire non posse, nec omnes illis, quos vult, dari, & non omnes, nisi quos vult, posse percipere. Ecce, inquit, Augustinus, Christi cibum, & potum, & ab indignis non posse discerni, & ad indignos non posse venire, & non omnes, nisi quos vult, posse percipere. Ecce, inquit, Augustinus, Christi cibum, & potum, & ab omnes recipi, & ab omnes manducari, & ab omnes bibi, & ab omnes sumi, & ab omnes percipi? Quomodo contradictoria sibi opponuntur, quando quidem omnes manducant, & non omnes manducant? Omnes bibunt, & non omnes bibunt? Omnes sumunt, & non omnes sumunt? Omnes percipiunt, & non omnes percipiunt? Sed, inquit, Augustinus, Sacramentum, quidquid alicubi accipitur, & ubique non fit, quod non quidem verbum Dei fuit, p. 3. Lib. 83. qq. ad Simplic. Christi, inquit, Augustinus, Sacramentum, quidquid alicubi accipitur, & ubique non fit, quod non quidem verbum Dei fuit, Lib. 83. Quæst. Christus, inquit, & Deus ipse noster, & Magister, & Dominus Dominus Deus Noster. Ita enim quia in Sacramentis, quæ videntur, aliquid transit, ut aliud videatur, aliud intelligatur, quod spiritualiter intelligatur, spiritualiter appetatur, Epist. 23. ad Bonifac. Sacramentum, inquit, Christi, vere Christus. Et in multis Sacramentis, ut sæpe dictum est, propter quandam similitudinem, quam habent, ea ipsa nomina rerum, quarum Sacramenta sunt, solent accipere. Sicut ergo secundum quendam modum Sacramentum corporis Christi corpus Christi est, & Sacramentum sanguinis Christi sanguis Christi est, ita Sacramentum fidei fides est. Sed Sacramentum aliud est secundum rem, aliud secundum Sacramentum. Ita ergo Sacramentum corporis Christi, si non intus in homine, non est corporis Christi, nec Sacramentum sanguinis Christi, si non intus in homine, non est sanguinis Christi, sed tantum visibile Sacramentum habet foris, quod intus non habet. Ita ergo Sacramentum corporis Christi, si non intus in homine, non est corporis Christi, nec Sacramentum sanguinis Christi, si non intus in homine, non est sanguinis Christi, sed tantum visibile Sacramentum habet foris, quod intus non habet. Ita non qui foris panem Dominicum manducat, statim participat Christum, sed qui intus manducat, Tract. 26. in Joan OBIECT. VI. Polytopia etiam, ſeu exiſtentia corporis in pluribus locis, ſalva ejus unitate rationi non repugnat, tum quia locus eſt corporis attributum, at multitudo attributorum rem non multiplicat, præſertim ſi tota in relatione conſiſtant: tum quia locus, ſint & tempus, eſt externum corporis adjunctum, quod proinde non multiplicato corpore multiplicari poteſt: tum quia accidentalis eſt corpori, adeóque ab eo abeſſe poteſt: tum denique quia à loco reiunitas non pendet, ſed potiùs ab eſſentia. Reſp. 1. Imò ſana ratio docet, ne quidem cogitari poſſe, ut unum idémque numero corpus in mundo exiſtens eodem temporis momento poſſit ambiri à pluribus corporibus, quæ ſingula utcunque à ſe invicem diſtent, quantum terra à cœlo, proximè contingant & adæquent idem illud locatum. 2. Quodcunque attributum, adjunctum, accidens adæquatum & totale, ſimúlque proximum alicujus rei eſt, illud non poteſt in eodem genere attributorum eodem tempore eſſe niſi unum. Diſſimile exemplum monſtrari non poteſt. At locus ejuſmodi attributum, accidens & adjunctum corporis eſt. Fruſtra igitur obtenditur, relationes & quælibet alia externa & accidentalia in re multiplicari poſſe, non multiplicata eſſentia, cùm de proximis & adæquatis, quale locus eſt, ſermo ſit. 3. Etſi unitas ab eſſentia pendeat, non tamen iccirco ſalva unitate locus, qui ab exiſtentia pendet, multiplicari poteſt. Ita duratio proximè pendet ab exiſtentia: neque tamen propterea unius rei multiplex duratio eſſe poteſt. Imò cùm exiſtentia ſit ipſa eſſentia, prout actu eſt, non poteſt multiplicari exiſtentia, niſi etiam multiplicetur eſſentia.

EXCIP. READING: 1. Quod naturaliter fieri non poteſt, illud fieri ſupernaturaliter poteſt. Sic corpus in Cœlo exiſtens poteſt Sacramentaliter, abſque actuali in ordine ad locum dimenſione, ſupernaturali virtute exiſtere in Euchariſtia. Atque ita exiſtere, fides docet. 2. Ratio quidem naturalis non probat, in una eſſentia multiplicari poſſe attributum adæquatum, totale, quale locus eſt reſpectu corporis. Id tamen per abſolutam potentiam Dei ratione noſtra haud comprehenſibilem fieri poteſt. Neque etiam Sacramentalis præſentia corporis Chriſti attributum eſt; ſed circumſcriptiva, quam multiplicari non poſſe, ultro fatemur. Quinimò corporis Chriſti ſub ſpeciebus Euchariſticis præſentia importat tum contactum quantitatis panis, nec non corporis Chriſti partium inter ſe penetrativum; tum actionem Sacramentalium accidentium ſuſtentativam. Prior formaliter toto genere differt à circumſcriptiva corporis Chriſti in Cœlo præſentia: poſterior eatenus à corpore Chriſti promanat in genere cauſæ efficientis, ut ſubjectivè in quantitate Euchariſtica recipiatur. Multiplicatæ igitur illæ actiones diverſa ſubjecta ſortiuntur. 3. In uno eodémque Angelo reperitur duplex intellectio, naturalis, quæ commenſuratur ævo; & volubilis ac tranſmutabilis, quæ menſuratur tempore diſcreto. Ergo unius rei multiplex duratio eſſe poteſt. Et quæ arctior eſt connexio quàm eſſentiæ cum ſubſiſtentia ſua propria? Et tamen in humanitate Chriſti per Divinam verbi hypoſtaſin terminata ſubſiſtentia ab eſſentia ſeparata fuit. Cur ergo etiam corporis Chriſti in Cœlo exiſtentis naturalis locatio, ab eodem in Euchariſtia ſeparari non valeat? Ib. pag. 294. 295. Reſp. My-Mediata autem modo simili, quo verbum de prædicatione est mediatum quoad nos. Nam ut verbum de prædicatione est mediatum, quia non est immediate ab ipso, sed mediante illo verbo per quod Apostolus prædicavit: ita Christus est mediatus quoad nos, mediante sacramento. Et sicut sacramentum est mediatum, quia non est immediate a Christo, sed mediante Apostolo, qui illud sacramentum ab ipso Christo accepit: ita Christus est mediatus quoad nos, mediante sacramento, quia per illud sacramentum nobis traditur. Et sicut verbum de prædicatione non est mediatum quoad nos, quia non est mediatum quoad Apostolum, qui illud immediate a Christo accepit: ita Christus non est mediatus quoad nos, quia non est mediatus quoad Apostolum, qui illud sacramentum immediate a Christo accepit. Et sicut verbum de prædicatione est immediatum, quia non est mediatum quoad Apostolum, qui illud immediate a Christo accepit: ita Christus est immediatus, quia non est mediatus quoad Apostolum, qui illud sacramentum immediate a Christo accepit. Et sicut verbum de prædicatione non est mediatum quoad nos, quia non est mediatum quoad Apostolum, qui illud immediate a Christo accepit: ita Christus non est mediatus quoad nos, quia non est mediatus quoad Apostolum, qui illud sacramentum immediate a Christo accepit. Et sicut verbum de prædicatione est immediatum, quia non est mediatum quoad Apostolum, qui illud immediate a Christo accepit: ita Christus est immediatus, quia non est mediatus quoad Apostolum, qui illud sacramentum immediate a Christo accepit.

Ad primum ergo, ex quibus, quæritur, an Christus sit immediatus, vel mediatus, dico, quod Christus, quoad nos, est mediatus, sed non quoad Apostolum, qui illud sacramentum immediate a Christo accepit. Et sicut verbum de prædicatione est mediatum quoad nos, quia est mediatum quoad Apostolum, qui illud immediate a Christo accepit: ita Christus est mediatus quoad nos, mediante sacramento, quia per illud sacramentum nobis traditur. Et sicut verbum de prædicatione non est mediatum quoad nos, quia non est mediatum quoad Apostolum, qui illud immediate a Christo accepit: ita Christus non est mediatus quoad nos, quia non est mediatus quoad Apostolum, qui illud sacramentum immediate a Christo accepit. Et sicut verbum de prædicatione est immediatum, quia non est mediatum quoad Apostolum, qui illud immediate a Christo accepit: ita Christus est immediatus, quia non est mediatus quoad Apostolum, qui illud sacramentum immediate a Christo accepit.

An in Euchariſtia conſecratio fiat pronuntiatione verborum : Hoc enim eſt corpus meum; an potiùs benedictione Symbolorum, & quidem à verbis illis diſtincta?

SYnodus litem indeciſam reliquit ob evidentem diſſenſum Scholæ, contenta dicere, per conſecrationem ſpecierum fieri converſionem totius ſubſtantiæ. Hodie eò inclinant, pronuntiatione illorum verborum fieri conſecrationem, & hactenus verba illa eſſe operativa & converſiva. Nos poſterius aſſerimus, videlicet, conſecrationem fieri benedictione, & quidem à verbis illis diſparata. Quod poſterius addi debet, ut eadem ratione obviam eatur illi Pontificiorum Sectæ, quæ ſtatuit, conſecrationem quidem factam eſſe benedictione, ſed quæ ipſa contineatur in verbis, Hoc enim eſt corpus meum. Rationes noſtræ.

ARG. I. Benedictio eſt ſanctificatio congruens rerum, ſuper quas funditur. Eſt igitur cauſa ſufficiens conſecrationis.

RESP. REDING: *Benedictio panis ſufficiens quidem cauſa fuit conſecrationis, ſeu transformationis Euchariſticæ verbis H. E. C. Annon orando Christus resuscitationem Lazari,eodem instanti exauditus,facultatem resuscitandi eum impetravit? Et verba, Lazare veni foras, à verbis H. E. C. M.diversissima sunt utique. Illa jubentia rem esse, quæ nondum erat: hæc enuntiantia rem,quæ erat.

ARG. III. Benedictio, de qua 1.Cor.X.16. eadem est cum benedictione, de qua loquuntur Evangelistæ. At benedictio apud Apostolum est benedictio consecrationis, quod evidenter inde patet, quia ex vi illius benedictionis Apostolus infert,calicem esse communionem sanguinis Christi.

RESP. REDING: Calix benedictus est communio sanguinis Christi. Ergo vi benedictionis vel immediatè vel mediatè sub speciebus Eucharisticis ponitur sanguis Christi. Et benedictio, qua immediatè sub speciebus ponitur sanguis, est consecratoria: ea verò,qua mediatè duntaxat ponendus erat, fuit prævia oratio Christi virtutem Dei ad verborum realem corporis & sanguinis sui sub speciebus existentium significantium veritatem perficiendam implorantis. lb. pag.297. Resp. Geminam benedictionem pro lubitu fingis, quæ unica est, & pronuntiationem verborum H. E. C. M. præcessit. Tum sub speciebus Eucharisticis corpus & sanguinem Christi corporaliter existere,denuo supponis. Hoc utique effecit benedictio Christi antecedens pronuntiationem verborum H. E. C. M. ut panis & vinum fierent corpus & sanguis,hoc est, corporis & sanguinis Sacramentum & pignus. Cui rei accidentalis mutatio, sine substantiali, satisfecit abundè.

ARG. IV. Benedictio est quædam precatio.At verba: Hoc est corpus meum, non sunt precatio,cùm ad Apostolos,non ad Deum sint directa.

RESP. REDING: Dictio Dei, qua omnia facta sunt, annon etiam fuit benedictio? Et benedictio, qua rebus creatis Deus benedixit, anne fuit precatio? Non igitur universaliter benedictio est precatio. lb. pag.297. Resp. Non benedicendo Deus res creavit: sed rebus jam creatis benedixit. Neque quamvis benedictionem precationem propriè dictam esse, dixi; sed quandam precationem, qua boni quid illi rei, cui benedicitur, benedicens vovet,apprecatur vel confert. Et Deus quidem benedicendo conferebat symbolis usum sacrum. At verbis H. E. C. M. nec vovit quicquam, nec contulit,sed rem jam oblatam & collatam enuntiavit. Hæc,nisi talpa cæcior esses, videres ultro.

ARG. V. Dominus verba illa protulit εὐλογήσας καὶ εὐχαριστήσας, hoc est, interpretantibus sic Catharino,Villegagnonino,Erasmo,Sancteso,aliisque Pontificiis: Postquam benedixisset,postquam gratias egisset. Ergo benedictio à verbis illis disparata fuit.

RESP. REDING: 1. Sunt quidem ex Theologis antiquioribus, qui verba Christi sic componenda putent; Accipiens panem benedixit,dicens, H. E. C. M. deinde fregit, &c. Alii explicant concomitanter,hoc sensu: Dum benediceret, frangeret, daret discipulis, hæc verba dixit: H. E. C. Nam Catharinus, & conſentientes Odò, Titelmannus, Petrus Ortys, de Capite fontium, alii, quos adducit in tractatu de neceſſaria correctione Theologiæ Scholaſticæ, non ſolùm affirmant, Chriſtum gratias agendo, ſeu benedicendo conſecraſſe; ſed & benedictionem illam omnino à verbis H. E. C. M. diſparant, utpote quæ nullo modo fuerint illius operativa, ſed enuntiativa tantùm. Quæ expoſitio veriſſima eſt. Reliquorum verò, quos adducis, expoſitiones fictitiæ & violentæ ſunt, quia ordinem verborum Chriſti invertunt, & concomitantiam aſſerunt prorſus abſurdam. Nam ſi benedicendo, conſecrando ſymbola Chriſtus ſubſtantiam panis mutavit in ſubſtantiam corporis Chriſti, non igitur dum benediceret, dicere potuit: Hoc eſt corpus meum. Nam benedicendo non erat jam corpus Chriſti, ſed ex hypotheſi veſtra, demum factum erat. Quin & contrarium probant verba Græca, ευλογήσας, ευχαριστήσας, hoc eſt, interpretibus etiam veſtris nonnullis, poſtquam benedixiſſet, gratias egiſſet. Benedictionem autem non præviam ad perficiendum myſterium invocationem, ſed immediatam conſecrationis cauſam fuiſſe, ſupra oſtendimus. Quomodo enim myſterium perfici potuit enuntiatione verborum, quæ rem non faciendam, perficiendam, ſed jam perfectam ſignificant? 2. Ambroſius loc. cit. Sacerdotes verbis in perſona Chriſti prolatis Sacramentum conficere dicit. Sed quibúſnam verbis? An illis, Hoc eſt corpus meum, à Sacerdote Euchariſtiæ inſtitutionem hiſtoricè commemorante recitatis? Nihil minùs. Nam cap. 15. verba illa interpretatur orationem, per cujus myſterium Euchariſtiæ Sacramentum tranſfigurari dixit. Quid hæc oratio aliud eſt, quàm benedictionis, vel gratiarum actionis precatio? Ne dicam, libros de Sacramentis Ambroſio tributos, ſpurios eſſe. Ambroſius autem γνήσιος de fid. ad Gratian. lib. IV. 5. diſertè Sacramenta, quæ ſumimus, per ſacræ orationis myſterium in carnem & ſanguinem tranſfigurari ſcribit. Author Sermonis, qui ſub Hieronymi, Cæſarii, Euſebii Pſeud-Emiſſeni nomine citatur, præterquam quòd planè incertus eſt, etiam Sacerdotem viſibiles creaturas in ſubſtantiam corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti verbo ſuo ſecreta poteſtate convertere, dixit; eo ſcilicet verbo, quo Chriſtus Euchariſtiam in Eccleſia celebrari, & ſalutare atque efficax corporis & ſanguinis ſui Sacramentum eſſe juſſit. Nam mox in Hieronymianis quidem Codicibus ſic legitur: Quando benedicenda verbis cæleſtibus creaturæ ſacris altaribus imponuntur, antequam invocatione ſummi Numinis conſecrentur, ſubſtantia illic eſt panis & vini; poſt verba autem, corpus & ſanguis Chriſti eſt. Verba igitur Summi Numinis invocationem appellat, ARG. VI. Per pronomen Hoc Pontificii intelligunt corpus Chriſti. Hoc poſito, ſequitur converſionem jam factam eſſe, cùm Chriſtus hæc verba proferret. Nequi igitur in verbis illis conſecratio collocari.

Nam completum & incompletum, niſi fallor, idem non ſunt: & quandiu converſio facta non eſt, ſubſtantia corporis Chriſti præſens ſignificari non potuit. Quid quòd, urgente etiam veſtro de Capite fontium lib. I. cap. 1. propoſitio hæc, Hoc eſt corpus meum, vera fuit ante primum inſtans ſuæ prolationis? Mentalis enim propoſitio priùs formata erat in mente Chriſti, quàm illam per voces foras proferret. Et erat vera in mente Chriſti, ante primum inſtans ſuæ prolationis, manſitque vera toto tempore, quo unaquæque vox dicebatur. Loqueris ergo ἀνύστως, quia nimiùm hic vobis aqua hæret.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Conſecratio ſeu Sacramenti confectio debet eſſe certa. Ergo non ſit benedictione ac precibus, cùm incertum ſit, an illæ apud Deum acceptæ ſint nec ne. Reſp. 1. Quomodo igitur certi ſunt de effectu verborum à Sacerdote pronuntiatorum,cùm de ejus intentione pro certo nihil iis conſtet? 2. In baptiſmo quoque conſecratio fit benedictione ac precibus. Quis tamen dubitet,quin in eo hac ratione Sacramenti confectio ſit certiſſima. 3.Preces, quibus facta eſt promiſſio, ſemper Deo acceptæ ſunt. Tales autem ſunt preces ac benedictio,quibus conſecrantur ſymbola,cùm verba Chriſti, quibus juſſit hoc facere, adeóque etiam benedicere, tacitam promiſſionem futuri impoſterum effectus includant.

Cùm igitur de intentione ejus incerti fluctuare neceſſum habeatis ſemper, quomodo de confecto revera Sacramento certis vobis eſſe licet? 4. Chriſtus juſſit hoc facere, quod ipſe fecit. At benedixit ſymbolis, & ante prolationem verborum H. E. C. M. panem eſſe corpus, adcóque mutationem factam eſſe, innuit. Dici enim ſupponit eſſe, & oratio vocalis mentalem, quæ veritatem ſuam habet, priuſquam verbis efferatur foras. Non igitur prolatis verbis H. E. C. M. vel benedixit, vel conſecravit, vel mutavit quicquam.

OBIECT. II. Per id fit conſecratio, per quod Sacramentum perficitur. Atqui non per preces & benedictionem perficitur, ſed per eas tantùm rogatur Deus, ut velit perficere Sacramentum. Reſp. Verum eſt de cauſa principali Sacramentum conficiente, quæ non eſt benedictio, vel preces humanæ, ſed ſola Divina virtus, aut inviſibilis, ut loquitur Auguſtinus, Spiritus S. operatio. At preces & benedictio nihilominus rectè illud conficere dicuntur, quia earum interventu conficitur. Ita rectè cibi dicuntur ſanctificari precibus, etſi id πνεύματι fiat verbo ac Spiritu Dei.

EXCIP. OBIECT. III. Illa eſt forma Euchariſtiæ conſecrandæ, quam ipſe Chriſtus præſcripſit. Atqui iis verbis, quibus juſſit hoc facere, præſcripſit, ut utamur hac formula: Hoc eſt corpus meum, hic calix eſt ſanguis meus. Reſp. 1. Hac ratione efficietur, non ut ſola illa verba inſtitutionis, ſed reliqua etiam, quæ Chriſtus fecit ac dixit, conſecrationem operentur. Omnia enim illa ſub præcepto hoc faciendi continentur. 2. Cur verò potiùs verba illa erunt conſecratoria, quàm benedictio & gratiarum actio, quâ Chriſtus æquè uſus legitur? 3. Præceptum hoc faciendi non pertinet tam ad verba Inſtitutionis, niſi recitativè, quàm ad illa præcedentia, accepit panem, gratias egit, fregit, dedit.

QUÆSTIO III.

An in Eucharistia post consecrationem maneat substantia panis & vini, an potiùs convertatur tota substantia panis in corpus, & vini in sanguinem, manentibus duntaxat panis & vini speciebus?

POsterius illud asserit Caput I. II. III. & IV. nec non Canon II. Et capite quidem primo affirmatur, eam corporis Christi in Eucharistia existentis rationem verbis exprimi vix posse. At Canone II. non sine manifesta antilogia affirmatur, conversionem eam Catholicam Ecclesiam aptissimè transsubstantiationem appellare. Nos etsi non negamus, benedictionis & consecrationis interventu ita mutari panem ac vinum, ut quæ ante communia & profana fuerant, incipiant esse sacra, adeóque ex communibus, vulgatísque mutentur & convertantur in Sacra: tamen illud diserte inficiamur, quòd sive pronuntiatis verbis Christi, sive quacunque alia ratione substantia symbolorum panis & vini mutetur & convertatur in substantiam corporis & sanguinis Domini. ARG. III. Neque verbis illis, Hoc eſt corpus meum, Hoc eſt ſanguis meus, panis & vini ſubſtantia à Chriſto mutata fuit in ſubſtantiam corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti, tum quia Chriſtus non dicit, hoc fieri corpus & ſanguinem, adeóque ſimpliciter enuntiat, quod jam erat, non jubet quid fieri debeat: tum quia dici præſupponit eſſe, proinde propoſitio illa vera eſſe non potuit, niſi corpus jam fuit, priusquam diceretur corpus: tum quia panis ſubſtantia nec converſa fuit in corpus integrum, nec in fractum; non in integrum, quia tale non eſt pro nobis datum; non in fractum, quia cùm Chriſtus verba ea pronuntiavit, corpus non fractum, ſed integrum & frangendum erat: tum quia aliàs etiam Corinthii ſimili propoſitione, Vos eſtis corpus Chriſti, 1. Cor. XII. 27. in corpus Chriſti mutati eſſent: tum denique quia ipſa etiam accidentia panis & vini, ſuper quæ æquè Chriſtus verba illa pronuntiavit, in accidentia corporis & ſanguinis mutata eſſent. Quòd ſi verbis illis pronuntiatis Chriſtus ſubſtantiam panis & vini non convertit in ſubſtantiam corporis & ſanguinis ſui, multò minùs Sacerdotes verba illa Chriſti repetentes id efficere poſſunt. Etenim Sacerdotes non dicunt, Hoc eſt corpus Chriſti, ſed, Hoc eſt corpus meum. Proinde ſi verbis illis à Sacerdote pronuntiatis, fieret tranſſubſtantiatio, utique panis & vinum non in corpus & ſanguinem Chriſti, ſed potiùs in corpus & ſanguinem ſacrificuli commutarentur. Et quale quæſo in corpus Chriſti ſubſtantiam panis commutat ſacrificulus? In paſſibile ne, an glorioſum? Neutrum ſanè dici poteſt, quia nec corpus Chriſti poſt ejus aſcenſionem ampliùs eſt παθητὸν paſſibile; nec corpus glorioſum, ſed fractum, & pro nobis datum in Euchariſtia offertur.

Et tale licet pro nobis non fuerit datum tum, cùm Chriſtus loqueretur, mox tamen dandum erat. Ex ipſis terminis notum eſt, corpus, dum vel in voluntate ad id jam parata, vel etiam effectu ipſo datur ad frangendum, integrum dari.* 4. Cùm prædicatum propoſitio- ad figuram tantum totalem pertinent, non ad eam quæ ex partibus fit. Ne vero dicas, ex partibus totalem figuram componi, quia ex partibus fit, ut ex ædificio domus, ex membris animalia totalia, ex partibus totalem orationem componi: ego tamen dico, non componi totalem ex partibus, aliquo tamen modo ex partibus fieri, quia ex partibus fit, quæ ad totalem non pertinent. Nam ædificium non componitur ex ædificio, sed ex lapidibus, ligno, &c. Et animalia totalia non componit animal ex animalibus totalibus, sed ex membris, quæ non sunt animalia totalia. Et oratio totalis non componitur ex totali oratione, sed ex partibus orationis, quæ non sunt totales orationes. Ita figura totalis non componitur ex figura totali, sed ex partibus totalibus. Quod autem dicitur totalem figuram componi ex partibus totalibus, non est verum, quia ex partibus totalibus non componitur totalis figura, sed ex partibus totalibus fit totalis figura. Neque enim ex figura tota una totalis figura componitur, sed ex partibus totalibus fit. Et quia tale non potest esse, quod non sit totale, ideo totalibus partes dicuntur, quæ totalem figuram componunt, quia totalem figuram componunt, totales esse dicuntur. Quæ vero totalem figuram componunt, totales esse non possunt, quia totalem figuram componunt. Et Theſibi. Poſſimus ergo ſimiliter cum Theſi conſiderare propoſitiones Theſibi ſimiles, quæ ſint ſimiliter compoſitæ ex ſimilibus, & ſimiliter poſitis, ut ſunt propoſitiones Theſi & Theſibi ſimiles, & ſimiliter poſitæ: ſimiles autem dicuntur ex ſimilibus compoſitæ, quando in ſimilibus eorum ſimiles ſunt termini. Similes vero ſimiliter poſitæ vocantur, quando ſimiles termini ſimiliter ſe habent, ut ſubjectum ad ſubjectum, & prædicatum ad prædicatum, vel ſubjectum ad prædicatum, & prædicatum ad ſubjectum. Quando autem terminus in ſimilibus propoſitionibus ſimiliter ſe habet, dicitur communiter ſimiliter ſumptus. Similes autem propoſitiones non ſunt ſimiliter poſitæ, quando ſimiles termini non ſimiliter ſe habent, ut ſubjectum ad prædicatum, & prædicatum ad ſubjectum. Et quia ſimiles propoſitiones ſimiliter poſitæ ſunt, ut dictum eſt, ſimiliter ſe habent in ſimilibus, & ſimiliter poſitis ſimiles, ideo ſimiliter ſe habent in ſimilibus, & ſimiliter poſitis ſimiles termini. Quare ſimiles propoſitiones ſimiliter poſitæ ſunt ſimiliter compoſitæ ex ſimilibus, & ſimiliter poſitis ſimilibus, & ſimiliter poſitis ſimilibus terminis communiter ſumptis. Et verba, Theſi ſibi, ſunt dictiones vel non dictiones in recto, quæ ſignificant ſimiles propoſitiones ſimiliter poſitas, ut ſunt propoſitiones Theſi & Theſibi ſimiles, & ſimiliter poſitæ: & ſimiliter poſitæ ſunt propoſitiones, quæ ſimiliter ſe habent in ſimilibus, & ſimiliter poſitis ſimilibus terminis communiter ſumptis.

Accidentia sine subjecto existunt; ergo non dependent, utique Eucharistia accidentia, quæ sine subjecto, quæ sine Deo, non existunt, Deum dependent. Sed pag. 21. Addi Hugo citatus magnus Theologus, Deum esse non posse, quia Deus Omnipotentia summus propriissimè existens Deitas; quam manifestè contradictio ista destruit. Nam si Deus Omnipotentia summus propriissimè existens Deitas, quomodo Deus Omnipotentia summus propriissimè existens Deitas, cum adhuc necessarium per substantiam existens? Si Deus existens, ut quo Omnipotentia summus propriissimè existens Deitas, quomodo Deus existens, cum adhuc necessarium existens? Si Deus eásque ſupponit, adeóque conſervat & ſuſtentat accidentia prout accidentia, non prout ſubſtantias. Addo futurum, ut ſi Divina virtus efficiens & ſuſtentans ſuccederet in locum ſubſtantiæ, atque ita accidentia conſervaret, Deus ſubjecti vice fungeretur, adeóque fieret albus albedine panis, qui ſecundum adverſarios in Euchariſtia poſt conſecrationem eſſe deſiit, fieret rotundus rotunditate ſubſtantiæ hoſtiæ, quæ evanuiſſe creditur, &c. & inſuper cum creaturis in compoſitionem veniret. Cum S. Auguſtino Soliloq. lib. II. 12. dicimus: Quis conceſſerit, aut cui poſſe videatur, ut id quod in ſubjecto eſt, maneat ipſo intereunte ſubjecto? Monſtroſum enim & à veritate alieniſſimum eſt. Alibi ad Dard. emphaticè: Tolle ipſa corpora qualitatibus corporum: non erit, ubi ſint; & ideo neceſſe eſt ut non ſint. Ridiculum planè eſt, quòd quæris: Quomodo aliter Hoc: id eſt, individua ſubſtantia, qua demonſtrabilis per accidentia ſenſibilia, cum quibus conjuncta eſt, poſſet eſſe corpus Chriſti? Quia enim accidentia à ſubjecto inſeparabilia ſunt, idcirco Hoc notare ſubſtantiam panis, & eſſe corpus Chriſti per ſignificationem, non per corporalem præſentiam, inferimus. Et qualis eſt individua illa ſubſtantia, determinatè nec panis nec corpus, per accidentia ſenſibilia ſeparata demonſtrabilis? Nihil eſt, adeóque indemonſtrabile. Et illud jam erit corpus Chriſti, & quidem propriè.

4. Qua ratione Nominales accidentia realia extra Euchariſtiæ Sacramentum negare, in eo verò affirmare poſſint, ipſi viderint. Fruſtra Divinam potentiam & miracula, τὸ θεῖον veluti errantium ἀγνώστως, illi advocant. Nam quæ unum quid, ſeu eadem res ſimplex ſunt, non unum & quidem citra multiplicationem entitatis; hoc eſt, unum non unum, adeóque contradictoria facere, ſub Divinam potentiam minimè cadit. Agnoſcunt autem Nominales, agnoſcit etiam Carteſius, ſubſtantiam & quantitatem eſſe rem unam & ſimplicem: in Euchariſtia verò ſeparationem accidentium à ſubſtantia tuentur. Ubi autem ſeparatio locum habet, ibi unum ſimpliciter obtinere nequit. Sed quid multis? Tu ipſe Nominalibus diffiſus, agnoſcis, præſentiam corporalem non aliter defendi, quàm realitate accidentium defenſa, poſſe. Et tamen illa omnes abſurditatis numeros implet. Non tantùm enim nulla neceſſitas cogit nos entia realia multiplicare, ſed etiam eſſentiæ & ſubſtantiæ ipſæ ſunt cauſæ phyſicæ & immediatæ ſuarum operationum, neque adeò accidentia realia à ſe diſtincta ulla exigunt. Alias ſeparari etiam poſſent, atque ſic ignis dari poſſet ſine calore, homo ſine potentia ratiocinandi. Imò accidentia nobiliora forent ipſis ſubſtantiis; quia producerent immediatè eſſe, quod non facerent ſubſtantiæ. Neque dicere juvat, quòd producant dependenter à ſubſtantia; cùm hoc ita facerent dependenter à ſubſtantia, ut tamen ſubſtantia non cenſeatur & eſſe producere. Tua verò ratiocinatio de certitudine concluſionis ex principio uno fidei, altero rationis illatæ, denuo quæſtionem turpiter emendicat. Nos enim veritatem verborum Chriſti H. E. C. M. tale quid requirere, negamus identidem. Et de ipſo verborum Chriſti ſenſu quæſtio ubi inſtituitur, fruſtra præjudicatus imò & abſurdiſſimus illorum ſenſus pro argumento rapitur. 5. Figura quomodo quæſo ſine figurato, color ſine colorato eſſe poteſt? Nam figura eſt figurati, & color colorati. adeò ut figuratum & coloratum figuræ & coloris definitionem ingrediatur. Si ergo Deus ſupernaturaliter figuram, colorem à figurato & colorato ſeparat, eadem ratione definitionem à definito, relatum à correlato ſeparat. quod contradictionem involvere vel cœcus quiſpiam videat. Figura juxta Suarez, Metaphyſ. Diſput. 37. Sect. 2. n. 1. ex illorum accidentium numero eſt, de quorum ratione eſt actualis inhærentia, ita ut per nullam potentiam ſine illo eſſe poſſit. Atqui ea poſt conſecrationem remanet. Non ſanguis Chriſti, quia is eſt incorruptibilis, & blaſphemum eſſet dicere, eum venenatum eſſe vel fieri. Non accidentia vini à ſubſtantia ejus ſeparata, tum quia ineptum eſt dicere, lineas & ſuperficies, & rubedines eſſe venenatas, cùm venenatum eſſe ſit proprium ſubſtantiæ, non accidentis: tum quia oporteret ſubſtantiam venenatam in calicem infuſam mixtam eſſe cum illis accidentibus; quod abſurdum eſt, cùm accidentia ſeorſim rebus, judice etiam Ariſtotele de Generat. & Corrupt. lib. I. 10. miſceri nequeant: tum denique ordine prorſus inverſo, venenum ceu ſubſtantia, ineſſet accidentibus, cùm accidentis eſſe ſit ſubſtantiæ ineſſe. Ergo ſola reſtat vini ſubſtantia, quæ veneno imbuta bibentes peremit. 8. Cùm impoſſibile ſit, ut corpus habens partes extra partes inter alia corpora ſitum, non ſit in loco etiam externo, liquet igitur, corpus Chriſti, quod in Euchariſtia repræſentatur, neque illis etiam proprietatibus, quæ à loco dependent, ſpoliari & exui poſſe; adeóque figuram ſuam ſitualem, aliáque ejuſmodi, omnino retinere.

ARG. VII. Ait Synodus Can. 2. converſionem fieri totius ſubſtantiæ panis in ſubſtantiam corporis Chriſti. Id verò prorſus etiam eſt ἄτοπον, tum quia ea, quæ convertuntur, non omnino abolentur, ſed quaſi vertuntur in orbem, cùm tamen ſubſtantiam panis aboleri, & fieri nihil ac non ens ſimpliciter cenſeant: tum quia tota ſubſtantia complectitur & materiam & formam, proinde neceſſum eſt, ut non ſolùm materia ſubſiſtat, tanquam mutationis ſubjectum, quod depulsâ unâ formâ alteram admittat, ſed etiam ut ipſa forma maneat, ſine qua tota ſubſtantia neque eſſe, neque agere, neque pati poteſt.

RESP. REDING: 1. Subſtantialis converſio non facit, ut ſubſtantia converſa ſolùm vertatur in orbem, ſed eſſe deſinat, uti ex generatione naturali liquet. 2. Si tota ſubſtantia vi converſionis deſtruenda eſt, qui infers, materiam & formam ſubſiſtere debere? Ib. pag. 315. Reſp. 1. Converſio propriè de corporibus, quæ in orbem vertuntur, dicitur. In quibus mutatio quidem contingit reſpectu loci at abolitio nulla. Ex eo locutio tradueta eſt ad omnes alias mutationes, ſeu illæ in qualitatibus, ſeu in ſubſtantiis fiant. At nulla in iis ſubſtantiarum annihilatio & totalis abolitio fit. quæ converſio non eſſet. Quomodo nec in generatione naturali illud, ex quo homo fit, annihilatur, ſed in ea manente materia nova duntaxat forma introducitur. Alias quot generationes, tot miracula contingerent. Nequit enim quicquam annihilari citra miraculum. 2. Totam ſubſtantiam vi converſionis deſtrui, hoc eſt, annihilari, non ego dixi, ſed vos pertenditis. Ego verò abſurditatem ſententiæ Concilii inde demonſtro, quia quæ convertuntur, non annihilantur. Cùm igitur juxta verba Concilii tota ſubſtantia, adeóque etiam forma, nobilior ſubſtantiæ pars, convertatur, & formam & materiam panis & vini manere debere, colligo. Vel igitur argumentum meum non intellexiſti, vel agis maligné.

Christi productivam: Franciscani verò adductivam, sed in instanti, qua videlicet corpus Christi per consecrationem è cœlo adducatur in terram, non motu successivo, ut unum locum deserat, veniat in alium, sed momentaneo, ut posteriorem locum acquirat, etsi priorem non amiserit. Horum invicem digladiantium argumenta mutuati, sequentem syllogismum nectimus: Quod in eucharistia fit, vel producitur in loco, ubi fit, vel aliunde adducitur. At corpus Christi nec producitur, nec adducitur aliunde. Ergo in eucharistia non fit, adeóque panis in corpus Christi non transsubstantiatur. Non produci corpus Christi, contra Dominicanos probant Franciscani, tum quia quod producitur, ante actu non erat, cùm corpus Christi actu fuerit ante consecrationem: tum quia corpus producendum vel existeret ex nihilo infinitâ Dei potentiâ, vel è substantia panis eucharistici formaretur, quorum neutrum locum habere potest, quia aliâs corpus illud Christi productum non esset idem cum corpore Christi in cœlo existente, quippe quod nec ex nihilo, nec ex pane eucharistico formatum est: tum quia si ex cœlo non adducitur corpus Christi, sed producitur denuo, etiam ex eucharistia in cœlum non revertetur, sed evanescentibus panis & vini accidentibus, uti volunt ipsi, desinet esse, quod vel cogitatu est horrendum: tum denique quia ostendi non potest, quomodo ex substantia panis eucharistici producatur non corpus tantùm, sed ipsa etiam anima Christi. Jam nec adduci corpus Christi è cœlo quacunque ratione, contra Franciscanos probant Dominicani haud minùs evidentibus argumentis, tum quia in propriè dicta conversione sive naturali, sive supernaturali non tantùm terminus à quo esse desinit, sed etiam terminus ad quem esse incipit: tum quia si è cœlo Christi corpus in eucharistiam adducitur, neque tamen locum deserit, adduci è cœlo dici nequit, cùm illud è cœlo denotet terminum à quo aliò fit progressio: tum quia Transsubstantiatio est talis actio, quæ per se ac primò importat conversionem totius substantiæ panis & vini in substantiam corporis & sanguinis Domini, adeóque non potest esse formaliter adductiva, cùm adductio substantiæ, cujus terminus est non substantia, sed præsentia locacalis, possit intelligi sine vera alicujus substantiæ in illam conversione: tum quia hæc sententia explicat obscurum per obscurius, cùm quæri adhuc possit, quid sit illa adductio, seu actio adductiva, & an corpus Christi è cœlo adducatur ad altare, transeundo per totum medium, vel non transeundo, quorum neutrum dici queat. Sic igitur Sophistæ suis telis confossi pereunt. Quod cùm intelligerent alii, novos commenti sunt mutationis modos. Alii enim, secuti Gabrielem Biel, mutationem non vel productivam, vel adductivam, sed conservativam, quâ videlicet corpus Christi in antiquo suo esse conservetur : alii etiam constitutivam, quatenus fiat introductio nova corporis sub his speciebus cum connotatione desitionis substantialis panis : alii unitivam, quâ corporis & sanguinis Christi substantia uniatur accidentibus panis & vini, eáque per modum causæ efficientis sustentet, propugnat. Sed modi hi iisdem, & pluribus etiam urgentur absurdis, cùm illud omne, quod alicubi conservatur, aut constituitur, aut unitur, ibidem ante productum vel adductum sit oporteat.

REDING : 1. Commentitia est illa Franciscanorum & Dominicanorum disceptatio. 2. Vitiosus est Syllogismus tuus, cujus nec minorem in sensu collectivo alterutri agnoscent ; & major disjunctivè posita, in minore assumitur collectivè. 3. Neque solidæ sunt tuæ adversus mutationem vel productivam, vel adductivam rationes. Non illæ, quibus productivam oppugnas, tum quia juxta S. Patrum sententiam corpus Christi ante existens, vi tamen consecrationis verborum producitur in Eucharistia ; neque repugnat, ut corporis & sanguinis Christi Esse substantiale, virtute Divinorum decretorum, ad diversos fines præordinetur, atque sic plures realiter distinctæ actiones terminentur ad Esse substantiale corporis & sanguinis Christi : tum quia corpus Christi in Eucharistia de, vel ex pane, tanquam transsubstantiato termino A quo produci non aliter dicitur, quàm quatenus idem corpus Christi, quod est in Eucharistia, terminat actionem specificè distinctam ab ea, qua in Cælo præexistit : tum quia Christus tandiu manet sub speciebus Eucharisticis, quandiu eæ persistunt in illo temperamento, sub quo panis & vini substantia naturaliter maneret ; iis verò ad gradum corruptionis pervenientibus, Christus non definit simpliciter in suo esse, sed tantùm quoad esse Sacramentale, non amplius substando accidentibus : tum denique quia vi verborum consecrationis produci animam Christi ex substantia panis, nemo nostrûm dixit, sed id tantùm, poni eam in Eucharistia concomitanter. Non hæ, quibus adductivam mutationem oppugnas, tum quia, cùm terminus vi consecrationis communicatus sit substantia corporis Christi, necessum est, ipsam quoque conversionem esse substantialem : tum quia etiam Filius Dei de Cælo descendit, neque tamen Cælum deseruit ; & Christi corpus è Cælo in Eucharistiam adducitur, haud transeundo medium : tum quia conversio Eucharistica non tam ex sua formali transsubstantiationis actione, quàm ex Divinæ causalitatis efficacia corpus Christi sub speciebus Eucharisticis non tantùm quoad modum substandi, sed etiam quoad ipsam substantiam physicè producit. Ibid. pag. 316–320.

Etenim dissensus ille & antiquior fuit Concilio, adeóque haud dubiè in eo, ubi de hoc argumento actum fuit, sese prodidit : & durat ad hodiernum usque diem. Qua enim superbia cuculli Monachorum tument, non facilè unus alteri fasces suos submittit, sed odiorum, dissidiorum, contentionum suarum tenacissimi sunt omnes. Sunt enim innumeræ.* 2. Nescio peponem ne, an aliud quid pro cerebro habeas, Syllogismum à me vobis oppositum traducens. Quid tum postea enim, si neutri, nec Franciscani, nec Dominicani Horoes vestri propositionem minorem in sensu collectivo non agnoscunt ?

agendum? An, inter eas multiplex opportunitas non? Hæc videbimus infra. Ac, ut in reliquis, ita quid singulum demonstrationi proferre in mentem debeat, quæ ad Christi Eucharistiam pertinent, videamus. Primum, quæ ad ipsa verba Christi sunt accommodata, videamus. Quæ cum sint tria, ut in cæteris, ex corpore Christi Eucharistiæ ne productum, nec substitue absente: deinque corpus illud Christi Eucharistiæ non esse panem, sed panis illi substitue corpus Christi, ut ante panis. Ex his tribus quæ sequuntur? Quæ ex primo? Quæ ex secundo? Quæ ex tertio? Quæ ex primo & secundo? An productum ex corporibus reliquis effectum? Ac primo ex Christi corpore productum? Quæ ex eo sequuntur? Quæ ex secundo? Quæ ex tertio? Quæ ex primo & secundo? An productum ex corporibus & substitue? Quæ ex duobus? Quæ ex tribus? Quæ ex quatuor. Et hujusmodi alia: cum hæc, & hæc ratione, ad Christi Eucharistiæ corpus pertinere videantur. Quæ cum ita sint, ad ea omnia, quæ ad Christi Eucharistiæ corpus pertinere videantur, ad ea omnia, quæ ad panis productionem, ac substitue pertinere videantur, ad ea omnia, quæ ad panis substitue pertinere videantur, ad ea omnia, quæ ad panis & corporis Christi productionem, ac substitue pertinere videantur, ad ea omnia, quæ ad panis & corporis Christi substitue pertinere videantur, ad ea omnia, quæ ad panis & corporis Christi productionem & substitue pertinere videantur, ad ea omnia, quæ ad panis & corporis Christi productionem & substitue pertinere videantur, ad ea omnia, quæ ad panis & corporis Christi te in qua terminus à quo esse desinit, & ad quem esse incipit; sed sola translatio. Neque proin si terminus ad quem est substantia, conversio substantialis statim erit, cùm translatio, seu mutatio loci respectu ejusdem substantiæ esse possit. Et quàm quæso ἀπόλογος est Filii Dei ex Cœlo descendentis, & corporis Christi sub specie Eucharisticas adducti comparatio? Nam Filius Dei, qua Deus, ob infinitatem suam nec movetur, nec mutat locum, neque adeò propriè vel ascendit vel descendit. At corpus Christi finitum ex Cœlo in terram sine motu seu translatione per medium in terram descendere nequit. Imò in Cœlo manens, simul in terram adduci, nisi infinitum, nequit. quomodo Christus descendit in terram ὁ ὢν ἐν οὐρανῷ, qui descendens etiam erat in Cœlo, Joh III. 12. ob infinitatem scilicet essentiæ. Denique non ex formali transsubstantiationis actione, sed Divinæ causalitatis efficacia sic adduci corpus, ut vera tamen conversio locum habeat, temerè iterum ais, nulla ratione fretus. Nam Deus adducendo quacunque causalitate corpus, ita ut adductionis terminus sit non substantia, sed præsentia localis, nullo modo panem in corpus convertit. Sic ergo Tuæ adversus argumenta non tam mea, quàm partim Franciscanorum, partim Dominicanorum argumenta instantiæ sua mole ruunt, atque simul transsubstantiatio omnis funditus evertitur. Nam si bonæ sunt rationes, quibus Franciscani Dominicanorum opinionem impetunt, Transsubstantiatio, quæ productione corporis Christi ex substantia panis fieri dicitur, nulla est. Si Dominicanorum argumenta adversus Franciscanorum sententiam valida sunt, altera Transsubstantiationis ratio, quæ adductiva nuncupatur, locum habere non potest. Si utrinque pugnatur invictis objectionibus, uti nonnulli in Concilio Tridentino agnoscere coacti sunt, & duæ illæ transsubstantiandi panis Eucharistici rationes se mutuò confodiunt, nulla vera tertia supererit. Quid ergo aliud restat, quàm ut transsubstantiationem omnino nullam esse firmissimè credamus.

ARG. IX. Neque etiam constat adversariis, quid fiat in hac transsubstantiatione de substantia panis. Alii nempe dicunt, panis substantiam annihilari. Bellarminus verò non conservari, quasi videlicet hoc aliud sonaret, cùm tamen non conservationis terminus sit nihil. Sed ab annihilatione aliena est Synodus nostra, quippe quæ conversionem fieri statuit. Quod enim in aliud convertitur, non annihilatur. Sed variant etiam sententiis, qui conversionem tuentur. Alii enim dicunt converti panem ita, ut ejus forma perdatur, & materia ab anima Christi informetur. Atque ita jam non panis esset corpus Christi pro nobis fractum in cruce, sed ὁ λόγος in qualibet missa ultra corpus assumtum ex Virgine hypostaticè sibi uniret materiam panis, & fieret materia panis animata, cujus forma deperdita fuit. Alii dicunt, forma panis manente materiam ejus in corpus Christi mutari. Quomodo dicendum esset, corpus Christi subire formam panis vice materiæ ejus, atque sic non jam panem fieri corpus, sed corpus fieri panem. Ita videlicet labium Babylonis confusum est.

ARG. X. Denique tranſſubſtantiationis & nomen & res canæ ac ſanæ antiquitati prorſus incognita eſt. Bellarminus quidem conatur demonſtrare dogma hoc injunctum eſſe ſub anathemate, tanquam articulum fidei A. 1060. ſub Nicolao II. qui damnavit Berengarii opinionem, ſtatuentis: quòd panis & vinum poſt conſecrationem ſolummodo Sacramentum ſint, & non verum corpus ac ſanguis Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti. Sed liquet ex iis verbis, ſententiam Berengario oppoſitam non arguere tranſſubſtantiationis dogma. Poteſt enim panis & vinum eſſe verum corpus Domini, etſi non migret in ejus ſubſtantiam. Neque nudum eſt Sacramentum, eo videlicet ſenſu, ut non ſit verum corpus Domini, quia ad rationem Sacramenti potiſſimùm requiritur, ut habeat uſum pignoris per ſubſtitutionem, quæ fit panem vocando corpus. Atque ita Nicolai definitionem apud Doctiſſimum Forbeſium Inſtr. Hiſtorico Theolog. lib. XI. 15. 21. 22. interpretantur etiam Cardinalis Oſtienſis, Bartholomæus Brixianus, & Bernhardus Parmenſis. Primus vocem tranſſubſtantiationis uſurpavit circa A. 1104. vel. 1106. Stephanus Æduenſis Epiſcopus, eámque in Concilio Lateranenſi A. 1215. Innocentius III. conatus eſt obtrudere eccleſiæ, effecítque, ut plures inter Scholaſticos crederent, ab Innocentio hîc ſcripturas eſſe explicatas eo ſpiritu, quo & conditæ ſunt, uti Scotus loquitur. Sed obſervârunt tamen Viri doctiſſimi, & rei Eccleſiaſticæ & Theologiæ polemicæ haud quaquam imperiti, nominatim etiam *Blondellus Præfat. ad Albertin. de Euch. Nempe utraque vox commodè & ſecundum tenorem ſcripturæ explicari poteſt de ſubſtantiæ pro ſubſtantia ſubſtitutione, propter analogiam ad obſignationem communionis cum Chriſto. Hinc elementorum materia post in corpus Christi definit transire, ac proinde non amplius ibi manet, quemadmodum nec in corpus Christi transit, quod ibi non erat. nientes, quæ verbo Dei & ſaniori antiquitati planè incognita fuit. Et tamen poſt Concilium Tridentinum hæreſeos notam audes aſpergere iis, qui monſtroſam illam converſionem negant. Sic nempe mutatum tempus, & mutati hominum animi, non verbum Dei hæreticam doctrinam conſtituunt; & hæreticam, quæ ante tempus illud hæretica non cenſebatur. 6. In Concilio Florentino Græcos inter & Latinos de Divina panis tranſmutatione diſputatum equidem eſt. In literis tamen Unionis nihil definitum eſt. neque ut definiretur aliquid, Eugenius impetravit. In Inſtructione pro Armenis dicitur: Ipſorum verborum virtute ſubſtantia panis in corpus Chriſti, & ſubſtantia vini in ſanguinem convertuntur, ita tamen, quòd totus Chriſtus contineatur ſub ſpecie panis, & totus ſub ſpecie vini; ſub qualibet quoque parte hoſtiæ conſecratæ, & vini conſecrati, ſeparatione facta, totus eſt Chriſtus. Si ſub quavis parte hoſtiæ ſeu panis & vini eſt totus Chriſtus, ergo remanet panis, remanet vinum. Accidentia enim non habent partes. Sed quicquid de hoc fiat, nihil ad ipſum Concilium Florentinum attinet, cujus pars non minima fuerunt Græci, qui ſibi nihil hujus rei præſcribi paſſi ſunt. Eugenii enim pro Armenis Inſtructio neque illos obligavit quicquam, neque partus fuit Concilii, ſed factionis duntaxat Eugenii. quod alibi, demonſtravimus fuſiùs. 7. Prodis denique pudendam ἀμνησίαν, dum poſt Petrum de Marca Concilium Tridentinum veritatem definiviſſe aſſeris. Ignoraveras nempe, eum paucis abhinc annis Tholoſæ, & poſt Pariſiis Archiepiſcopatu defunctum. Et quicquid de Irenæi, Theodoreti & Auguſtini ſententia tu pertendas, at eorum, aliorúmque etiam conſenſum nobis de Marca ille ceſſit. qui nervus argumenti mei eſt. Quanquam, invito te, noſtri omnino illi ſunt. Irenæus enim *lib. Addit: Qui eſt à terrâ panis, percipiens invocationem Dei, jam non communis panis eſt, ſed Euchariſtia ex duabus rebus conſtans, terrena & cæleſti. Panis igitur eſt, ſed non communis, ob acceſſorium ſupernaturalem uſum: conſtatque Euchariſtia re etiam terrena, quæ ſubſtantia panis & vini eſt. S. Theodoreti ſententiam Diſſert. Tom. II. pag. 603-606. fuſiùs vindicavi. S. Auguſtinus Epiſt. 23. ad Bonifac. ſic mentem ſuam explicat: Si Sacramenta ſimilitudinem earum rerum, quarum Sacramenta ſunt, non haberent, omnino Sacramenta non eſſent. Ex hac autem ſimilitudine plerunque etiam ipſarum rerum nomina accipiunt. En, propter ſimilitudinem rerum nomina accipiunt. Applico. In Euchariſtia panis & vinum Sacramentum ſunt corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti, tanquam Sacramenti rerum. Inter utraque ſimilitudo intercedit. Proin panis & vinum nomina corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti, Sacramentum nomen rei accipit. Omitto ejuſdem loca, quibus panem quodam modo eſſe corpus Chriſti, idem dixit. Neque etiam deſunt ex ipſis adverſariis,qui ſtatuerint,poſſe illa verba in metaphorico ſenſu verificari, ut videlicet Sacramentum corporis non ſubſtantia, ſed ſignum & figura eſſe intelligatur. Ita Cajetanus,& ante ipſum Occam, Aliacenſis, Gabriel Biel,Scotus,&c. 3. Quid quòd ipſi adverſarii in hoc myſterio ludunt tropis audacibus & inverecundis,quibus nulla Rhetorice nomen dedit? In verbis enim Chriſti, Hoc eſt corpus meum, pronomen Hoc iis demonſtrat rem vagam & indeterminatam,nec ſubſtantiam,cùm panis ſubſtantiam deſignari negent,& corporis Chriſti ſubſtantiam nonniſi in ultimo inſtanti verborum illorum à Sacerdote prolatorum produci aſſerant,nec accidentia panis,cùm eis nec panis,nec corporis,quippe tum nondum producti ſubjectum ſubſtet; adeóque merum nihil. Proinde juxta illos verba Inſtitutionis tale quid ſonant: Hoc edulium,quod vobis porrigo, at non oſtendo, quod nec panis, nec corpus Chriſti, nec accidens panis, adeòque nihil eſt, eſt, id eſt, ſub eo coninetur, vel in illud tranſſubſtantiatur, corpus meum, non quale ex B. Virgine accepi, ſed inviſibile, impalpabile, in euchariſtia productum, quamvis jam ante exiſtens. Ita genimen vitis illis notat ſanguinem, hoc facere ſacrificare, panis id,quod ante conſecrationem panis fuit, per eam corpus fit &c. 4. Teſtamenta, pacta, leges, dogmata impropriis quandoque verbis concepta eſſe, notorium eſt ex Geneſ XVII. 10. XLIX. 33. Exod. XII. 11. Eſaj. I. 16. Jerem. IV. 3. Joh. VI. &c. Sed & impropriæ locutiones, dummodo faciles, perſpicuæ ac uſu receptæ tum rudibus proponi, tum certum gignere ſenſum potuerunt. 5. Inuſitatæ ejusmodi propoſitiones non alibi occurrunt, quàm in doctrina de perſona Chriſti, non prædicantur ſine tropo Synecdoches, quem monſtrat ſcriptura limitatione ſubjecti ad propriam ejus partem Rom. in cœna V. T. ſubſtantialiter, in Cœna N. T. accidentaliter fuit genimen vitis; verum Chriſti corpus & ſanguis ſub ſpeciebus Euchariſticis incruentè immolatus, memoriale mortis ejus eſſe potuit; denique Chriſtus ultimo die viſibiliter rediturus, ante inviſibiliter in Euchariſtia exiſterat. 5. Sacramenta V. T. reſpectu noſtrorum habuerunt rationem figuræ. Nova igitur non ſunt figuræ. 6. An quia textus nonnulli Scripturæ quædam fidei dogmata impropriis locutionibus explicant, in aliis dogmatibus proprietas verborum eliminanda eſt? 7. Neque tropis inſolentibus nos ludimus, quia juxta nos pronomen Hoc ſic rem indeterminatam ſignificat, ut indeterminatio illa ſe habeat non ex parte rei, ſed intellectus; Hoc eſt corpus Chriſti, quale ex B Virgine accepit, & in Cœlo exiſtit, & in Euchariſtia proprietates omnes à loco independentes habet; per ſe & in actu primo palpabile, viſibile, licet in Euchariſtia per accidens & in actu ſecundo tale non ſit. 8. Crimen falſi committis, aſſerendo, juxta nos corpus Chriſti figuratè panem appellari, eò quòd ante conſecrationem panis fuit. 9. An ſi alibi teſtamenta, pacta &c. impropriis verbis concepta ſunt, omnia dogmata ad ſenſus improprios tibi torquere licet? Ibid. pag. 323--228. Reſp. Poſſem cuncta hæc ſuperiùs jam protrita ſicco pede tranſire. Paucis tamen defungar, ne non abundè ſatisfeciſſe partibus meis videar. 1. Loca Patrum ex Seculis prioribus obducta, & à te in ſcripto vernaculo antehac citata etiam, ad partes in ſcripto itidem vernaculo ſic vocavi, & vocata poſt etiam vindicavi, ut inde ab octo annis ne hiſcere quidem ampliùs auſus fueris. Si hiſcere potuiſſes, hoc certè loco, quo argumentum id dedita opera tractamus, hiſcendum fuerat. Sed captus es, rem ſolve, priuſquàm novum æs alienum contrahas. Hic tamen antiquus tuus mos eſt. Argumenta ſolidè diſcuſſa nuda reponere ſoles. quod pertinaciæ tuæ certiſſimum indicium eſt. Cum Simonis Magi & Menandri diſcipulis, veram carnem à verbo aſſumptam & in Euchariſtia præſentem negantibus, non nos, qui veram Chriſti carnem & in Cœlo exiſtere & in Euchariſtia offerri credimus, ſed vos verum Chriſti corpus ex Euchariſtia eliminantes, & neſcio quod ſpectrum ſpirituum proprietates mentiens, ſubſtituentes, paria facitis. Berengarii verò & Wicleſi nos adeò non pudet, ut eorum conſenſum, & à Pontificibus veritatis perſecutoribus diſſenſum, inter trophæa noſtra referamus. 2. De loco 1. Cor. X. 16. ſupra diximus. Tu ediſſere nobis, quomodo panis propriè dici poſſit communio corporis Chriſti? Sive enim ſubſtantia panis, ſive accidentia ejus, ſive panis ſupercœleſtis intelligatur, nihil horum propriè eſſe communionem corporis Chriſti, nemo non ſanus videt. Accedunt plura ex iiſdem textibus loca, quæ ſupra comparavimus. 3. Quicquid ſit de calice, ſive in eo ſanguis contineatur, ſive non; ſaltem verba promiſſionis ſeorſim & conjunctim ſumpta perplura à me allegata tropica eſſe, negare non potuiſti. in quo ſolo vis reſponſionis meæ conſiſtebat. Qua verò fronte aliis leges, quaſi ipſi vos non accepiſtis, imponitis? Et cur una figura, quam verbum Dei & omnis antiquitas comprobavit, repudiata, inſolentes adeò atque incommodas perplures ipſi effinxiſtis? Cur, ut cœteras mittam, verbum ἐὰν per eris aut fiet, aut ſi propriè ex hypotheſi veſtra loqui velimus, per tranſſubſtantiabitur interpretamini? Hoc ſcilicet eſt literæ inhærere. Occidit hæc litera, uti cordatè alicubi Origenes. 4. Par circumſtantiarum ratio, quas fruſtra infringere conaris. Nam menſæ accumbens Chriſtus ſe ipſum, hoc eſt, ſymbolum, ſignum & Sacramentum corporis ſui ferebat in manibus. Non aliam eſſe Auguſtini mentem, alibi oſtendimus. Panis verus conſecratione mutatus eſt, acceſſione uſus & gratiæ, non ſubſtantiæ deſitione. Quod Chriſtus in Euchariſtia etiam bibit, fuit genimen vitis quoad ſubſtantiam, quia hæc propriè gignitur; non accidentia, mutabilia inprimis. Everti articulos plures, oſtenſum ſupra. 7. Tropos veſtros ex qua Rhetorica ſacra vel profana defendere poſſitis, indica. Ubi & per quem tropum uſitatum Hoc ſignificat ſubſtantiam vagam, indeterminatam; imò, uti nunc demum abs Te intelligo, nihil ex parte rei, ſed tantùm intellectus? Quaſi ſcilicet intellectus apprehendere & intelligere poſſit, quod à parte rei quale ſit, oſtendi non poteſt, imò nihil eſt. Quàm etiam ineptum illud eſt, quòd viſibilitatem, palpabilitatem &c. corporis Chriſti humani à loco externo arceſſis, quæ à ratione ſubſtantiæ & poſitionis partium extra partes in humano corpore unicè pendent: quòd corpori humano inter alia corpora ſito ſitum negas: quòd denique in proprietatibus corporis humani, quales ſunt figura, circumſcriptio &c. actum primum & ſecundum diſtinguis, cùm proprietates eæ à ſubſtantia emanent, cujus eſt exiſtendo cauſare. 8. Non ego criminis falſi, ſed tu neſcio cujus delirii reus es. Panem juxta vos per conſecrationem fieri dixi, non corpus Chriſti figuratè panem appellari. 9. Simili delirio tibi mens calamúſque titubavit, ubi me ſic argumentantem induxiſti, quòd omnia ad ſenſus improprios torquere liceat, quia alicubi teſtamenta, pacta &c. impropriis verbis concipiuntur. Ego verò recto Marte argumentum veſtrum, quo verba teſtamenti, pacti &c. propriis verbis exprimenda eſſe urgetis, impetens, nonnulla etiam impropriis concepta eſſe, adeóque, cæteris paribus, nihil vetare, quò minùs etiam verba Chriſti H. OBIECT. II. Propoſitiones practicæ non tam ſupponunt, quàm efficiunt illud, quod offerunt. Veluti cùm dicitur; Fiat Lux, id quod dicitur, ſimul efficitur. Atqui verba Chriſti ſunt practica. Ergo efficiunt, quod dicunt, quod ſine tranſſubſtantiatione fieri nequit. Reſp. 1. Verba practica dicuntur duobus modis, quia operantur vel ſignificando, vel mutando ac convertendo. Chriſti verba ſunt practica priori modo, quia verè ſignificant quod enunciant ac prædicant: non poſteriore, quia panis Chriſti corpus dicitur eſſe non fieri, neque ullum ibi imperium vel juſſio Chriſti continetur. 2. Sunto tamen verba Chriſti practica etiam mutando & efficiendo, quod dicitur, praxis erit non Chymica, vel Phyſica, ſed moralis ac myſtica, quæ non oſtendet, quónam tranſeant elementa per ſubſtantiæ mutationem; ſed cui uſui inſerviant per Chriſti inſtitutionem ac ſanctionem.

se practica, ut quod enuntiant, efficiant, qua ratione probas? Instituit Christus, ut panis esset corpus, & panem fide vivida manducantes manducarent corpus. Ut verò enuntiatis iis verbis evaneſceret ſubſtantia panis, & ſub ejus accidentia corpus Chriſti ſuccederet, neutiquam inſtituit. Probanda tibi, non fingenda inſtitutio fuerat. 2. Panem corpus Chriſti non fieri, ſed eſſe, eadem pronuntiant. Sub eſſendi exercita affluentiate (condonate repetenti teneræ aures) ſic eſſe, ut ſub accidentibus & ſit, & fiat demum corpus Chriſti, more ſpirituum, non pronuntiant. Hoc ipſum τὸ κεναφρον eſt, quod turpiter ubique petis.

OBIECT. III. Verum & ſubſtantiale corpus eſt in Euchariſtia. Ergo panis ſubſtantia in ejus ſubſtantiam mutata fuerit oportet. Reſp. 1. Præſentiam ſubſtantialem corporis Chriſti oppugnavimus quæſtione prima. 2. Neque præſentiæ ſubſtantialis corporis Chriſti tranſſubſtantiationem infert, ſaltem juxta illos, qui corpus Chriſti non tam productum, quàm unitum ſtatuunt.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Panis ſubſtantia ſub accidentibus eſſe non poteſt, quia corpus Chriſti loco ſubſtantiæ panis illa ſuſtentat. 2. Licet corpus Chriſti accidentibus tantùm uniretur, converſio tamen fieri poſſet, utpote cujus terminus formaliter communicatus eſſet ſubſtantia corporis Chriſti. Ib. pag. 329. Reſp. 1. Egregia ratio, qua falſum falſiore probas. Sic corpus Chriſti panis accidentia aſſumens & ſuſtentans reddetur panis, hoc eſt, panaceum Numen. Tale enim, non aliud habetis. 2. Qualis verò converſio eſt, cùm corpus jam ante exiſtens, ceu vera quidem ſubſtantia, unitur accidentibus, adeóque non aliud quàm locum mutat? Hiccine converſionis ſubſtantialis terminus ad quem, novam productionem, vel ſaltem inchoationem & eſſe poſtulans, eſſe poteſt?

OBIECT. IV. Si in Euchariſtia non alia intercedit mutatio, quàm juxta uſum & ſignificationem, adeóque nudè relativa & accidentalis, inanes igitur figura & vacua ſigna, ac ſine nucleo cortex in ea credentibus exhibentur. Reſp. 1. Minimè verò. Elementa enim per benedictionem ſanctificata non fiunt ſimplicia ſigna & inanes figuræ, nudè depingentes & repræſentantes gratiam, ſed etiam eandem obſignantes, & pro natura relatorum Divinitus inſtitutorum in legitimo uſu exhibentes. Duplex enim in euchariſtiæ perceptione homo eſt, externus & internus ſeu ſpiritualis. Uterque ſuum accipit, ſibique cognatum. Ille ſignum externum, quod ſpiritualem & internum hominem mittit in poſſeſſionem veritatis ſpiritualis ſignificatæ & obſignatæ, haud ſecus quàm Teſtamentum, diploma, gleba mittit in poſſeſſionem hæreditatis, rei donatæ, fundi: hic verò rem & veritatem ſpiritualem ſibi quoque cognatam. 2. Adverſarii in Euchariſtia ſua nec ſigna, nec veritatem habent. Nam panem & corpus Chriſti comicâ quadam licentiâ ex Euchariſtia exterminant, nuda pro pane ſignificante accidentia ſubſtituunt, EXCIP. REDING: Ergóne Sacramentum hominem fidelem mittit in poſſeſſionem rei ſpiritualis ſignificatæ & obſignatæ? Atqui veritas ſignificata & obſignata eſt corporis Chriſti individua ſub accidentibus exiſtens ſubſtantia. Nam verbum Eſt obſignat exiſtentiam corporis ſub his ſpeciebus, adeóque præſentiam realem, non figuratam & typicam, qualem vos,myſticam Hieroſolymam in montem Samaritanorum Garizim transformantes,induxiſtis, infert. Ib. pag.329.330. Reſp. Mittit utique; ſicut teſtamentum in hæreditatis, diploma in libertatis, gleba in fundi poſſeſſionem immittit. Maxima enim relatorum humanorum etiam, & multò magis Divinorum vis eſt. Veritatem verò ſpiritualem ſignificatam & obſignatam eſſe corpus Chriſti ſub accidentibus ſpirituali modo latens, ore corporis manducandum, ut mox in ſtomacho corruptis accidentibus deſinat eſſe, ſuaviludium ſcilicet tuum ubique ſupponis, probas nunquam. Longè aliter Chriſtus & S.Paulus. Ille enim non accidentia panis, ſed panem à ſe acceptum, & benedictione non deſtructum,ſed acceſſione gratiæ & uſus mutatum, ſuum corpus eſſe dixit. Hic, verba Chriſti explicans, panem,quem frangimus, dixit eſſe non corpus ſub accidentibus ſpirituali modo latens,ſed communionem corporis Chriſti,hoc eſt,Sacramentum & pignus ſubſtitutum communionis corporis Chriſti,ſeu juris illius,quo fideles ejuſmodi cum corpore Chriſti, totóque Chriſto communionem habent,ut totus, quoad fundum & fructum illorum ſit,atque illi adeò juſtitiæ,mortis,meritique omnis, & tandem etiam gloriæ ejus participes reddantur. Sic ergo Eccleſia Tigurina, quam tu ſugillare ubique in deliciis habes, figurativam & ſymbolicam quoad ſymbola & elementa ſacrata præſentiam tuetur, ut rem ſignificatam eidem reſpondentem, ſpiritualem veritatem nunquam ſuſtulerit,ſed ex Dei verbo fortiſſimè aſſertam,monſtroſæ & inutili præſentiæ corporis Chriſti non corporis, quam Suitenſis & Pontificius univerſus Clerus,quæſtus ſui gratia, mordicus retinet, oppoſuerit, & artolatriam ſimul, ſeu Divinum panacei Numinis cultum,haud diſſimilem, ſi non pejorem illo, quem Samaritani in monte Garizim vitulos adorantes exercuerunt olim,maſculè profligaverit.

apud Fulgentium de Baptiſ. Æthiop. cap. ult. & Bedam in 1.Cor.10. nec non Bertramum de Corp. & Sang. Dom. verba ſic habent: Quod videtis, panis eſt & calix, quod vobis etiam oculi veſtri renuntiant. Quod autem fides veſtra poſtulat inſtruenda, panis eſt corpus Chriſti, calix eſt ſanguis Chriſti. Non tantùm igitur docet, in altari, ſeu menſa Domini eſſe panem & calicem; ſed addit etiam, oculos quoque id renuntiare, ſenſuum teſtimonium in ea diſcretione apertiſſimè commendans. Neque per panem, ſeu id, quod oculi renuntiant, externam panis ſpeciem à ſubſtantia ſeparatam intellexit. Intelligit enim, in Euchariſtia eſſe panem perinde ac calicem; ſiquidem de utraque ſimiliter ait, Quod videtis, panis eſt & calix. Sicut autem non credidit, in altari eſſe ſolam exteriorem apparentiam calicis, ſed verum calicem: ſic non credidit, panem eſſe tantùm quoad apparentiam, ſeu ſpeciem exteriorem; ſed ſenſus ejus eſt, panem eſſe verum ac ſubſtantialem. Addit, ibi eſſe, quod oculi renuntiant. Atqui oculi renuntiant, verum eſſe ſubſtantia panem & calicem. Per accidentia enim ſubjectam illis ſubſtantiam vident, nec aliter vident. Imò exſertè dicit: Quod autem fides veſtra poſtulat inſtruenda, panis eſt corpus Chriſti, calix ſanguis Chriſti. Ad quæ verba tibi congelavit ſanguis, quia nihil adverſus ea dicere habuiſti, gnarus, propoſitionem eſſe eam ipſam, quam vos pridem damnaſtis. Si per panem accidentia panis intellexit, uti nonnulli veſtrûm regerunt, an ergo accidentia panis propriè ſunt corpus Chriſti? Juſtinus Martyr prope finem ſecundæ apologiæ: ὐ γὰρ ὡς κοινὸν ἄρτον, οὐδὲ κοινὸν πόμα, Non ut communem panem, neque communem potum iſthæc ſumimus; ſed quemadmodum per verbum Dei caro factus eſt Jeſus Chriſtus Servator noſter, & carnem & ſanguinem ſalutis noſtræ cauſa habuit; ſic τὴν δι' εὐχῆς λόγου τὸν παρ' αὐτοῦ εὐχαριστηθεῖσαν τροφὴν, ἐξ ἧς αἷμα καὶ σάρκες κατ' μεταβολὴν τρέφονται ἡμῶν, eam, in qua per precationem verbi ab eo profecti gratiæ actæ ſunt, alimoniam, unde ſanguis & carnes noſtræ per mutationem nutriuntur, incarnati illius Jeſu carnem eſſe & ſanguinem, edocti ſumus. Et paulò ſuperiùs: Diſtribuunt unicuique præſentiam μεταλαβεῖν ἐκ τοῦ εὐχαριστηθέντος ἄρτου καὶ οἴνου καὶ ὕδατος, ut participent eum, in quo actæ ſunt gratiæ, panem & vinum & aquam. Poſt conſecrationem vocat panem, vinum, aquam. Illa mutari ait in carnem & ſanguinem Chriſti per modum alimoniæ: atque ita hac alimonia nutriri noſtras carnes, noſtrúmque ſanguinem. Et tamen hoc ipſum alimentum edocti ſumus eſſe corpus & ſanguinem Chriſti. Audacter igitur nimis ex Bellarmino tuo aſſeris, verba iſthæc, ex quo carnes noſtræ per mutationem aluntur, eſſe periphraſin panis, ex qua conficitur Euchariſtia, ut ſenſus ſit: Cibus ille, ex quo carnes noſtræ ali ſolent, cùm prece myſtica conſecratur, efficitur corpus Chriſti. Sic in aperta luce oculos clauditis. Certè Juſtinus, poſtquam dixiſſet, diſtribui ſingulis participanda ἐκ τοῦ εὐχαριστηθέντος ἄρτου καὶ οἴνου, καὶ ὕδατος conſecratum panem, vinum & aquam, ait, hoc alimentum appellari Euchariſtiam, quod nemini niſi credenti participare liceat. Non enim, inquit, ut communem panem, neque communem potum iſta ſumimus, ſed quemadmodum &c. Hoc eſt alimentum, quod intelligit Juſtinus, nempe panis & vinum εὐχαριστηθέντα, cujus participationem non cuivis concedi ait, propterea quòd hoc conſecratum alimentum, ex quo carnes & ſanguis noſter aluntur, ſint caro & ſanguis Chriſti. Ubi apertiſſimè profitetur, alimento hoc conſecrato ali ſanguinem & carnes noſtras. Neque adeò dicit, cibum illum, ex quo carnes noſtræ aluntur, per conſecrationem fieri corpus Chriſti; ſed conſecratum illud alimentum, ex quo carnes noſtræ aluntur, dicit ἄνωθεν eſſe carnem & ſanguinem Chriſti. Origenis locum ex Commentario in Matth. 15. ſuppoſititium eſſe primus, niſi fallor, Sixtus Senenſis, Biblioth. lib. VI. annot. 66. ſuſpicatus eſt.

ſed non alio certè argumento, quàm quia nimiùm Tranſubſtantiatoribus adverſatur, adeóque ob ſolum cautæ præjudicium. Dicit enim, panem ſanctificatum verbo Dei & oratione reſpnerè ſuum eſſe materiale. perinde ac ſi dixiſſet, à priore ſua ſubſtantia non diſcedere. Addit, panem eundem ad modum aliorum ciborum ſecundum eſſe illud materiale in ventrem, ac inde in ſeceſſum diſcedere. quod de proprio Chriſti corpore aſſerere falſiſſimum, & blaſphemum foret. Denique panem conſecratum corpus typicum & ſymbolicum vocat, atque illud à vero & naturali corpore Chriſti diſparat. Hæc tu vel dan nanda ceuſes, pro tuo erga Patres, quos ubique jactas, ſupercilio; vel de accidentibus nutrientibus etiam corpora noſtra explicanda dictitas. quamvis nec Origenes, nec veterum quiſquam accidentia à ſubſtantia ſeparata agnoverit; & materiale ipſemet explicet tum materiam panis, qua nemo ſanus accidentia ſola indigetavit unquam; tum id, ſuper quod dictus eſt ſermo, hoc eſt, conſecrationis oratio, quæ certè non ſuper ſola accidentia panis viſibilia, ſed ſuper totum panis, ſubſtantiam accidentibus veſtitam pronuntiatur. Auguſtinus lib. contra Adimantum cap. 12. clariſſimè: Non enim Dominus dubitavit dicere, Hoc eſt corpus meum, cùm ſignum daret corporis ſui. An ſignum corporis Chriſti eſt ipſum corpus Chriſti, ipſa veritas, uti tu nugaris? An fortè intellexit ſpecies conſecratas? Sic Bellarminus, aliique Sophiſtæ. quaſi accidentia panis ſint corpus Chriſti; vel uſpiam Auguſtinus ſpecies externas ſubſtantia caſſas agnoverit. Idem Epiſt. 23. Ex hac, inquit, ſimilitudine Sacramenta plerunque etiam ipſarum rerum nomina accipiunt. Sicut ergo ſecundum quendam modum Sacramentum corporis Chriſti corpus Chriſti eſt: Sacramentum Sanguinis Sanguis Chriſti eſt: ita &c. Ergo Sacramentum corporis Chriſti ſecundum quendam modum corpus Chriſti eſt. Tu audacter occurris, ſecundum quendam modum, hoc eſt, inexistenſè, non circumſcriptivè ſub ſpeciebus. Tua ſomnia Sanctiſſimis Patribus imponis. Proba, illos agnoviſſe in eodem corpore Chriſti diverſos, imò contrarios ejuſmodi modos, quales vos palliando errori finxiſtis. Tertullianus denique adv. Marc. lib. IV. 40. diſertiſſimè: Acceptum panem & diſtributum diſcipulis, corpus ſuum illum fecit, Hoc eſt corpus meum, dicendo, id eſt, figura corporis mei. Fatetur Gardinerus Wintonienſis, noſtrum eſſe Tertullianum. Sed tu ubique præfractus, maluiſti verba Tertulliani corrumpere, dicendo, antitheſin in iis eſſe inter corpus Chriſti, & figuram ejus à Jeremia præſignificatam. quaſi ſenſus ſit: Panis, qui ſub lege fuit figura corporis mei, in Evangelio eſt corpus meum. Atqui falſiſſimum eſt, ea verba, id eſt figura corporis mei, de figura legali, apud Jeremiam, non præſenti intelligenda eſſe. Manifeſtè enim ſunt exegetica verborum proximè præcedentium, corpus meum. Ad quid enim referri poteſt pronomen Hoc, niſi ad panem acceptum? Supponit enim antecedens quoddam, ad quod referatur. At mentio panis legalis apud Jeremiam, ne tenuiſſima quidem, in toto huc uſque libro à Tertulliano facta fuerat: panem verò acceptum ac Apoſtolis diſtributum totidem verbis nominaverat. Hunc igitur per pronomen Hoc intelligit, adeóque figuram corporis de pane Euchariſtico dixit. Hebes igitur & imbelle eſt, quicquid ad obſcuranda clariſſima Patrum dicta, cauſæ veſtræ deſperatæ jugulum penitus ferientia, in medium protuliſti; & vel pauca hæc antiquæ & purioris Eccleſiæ intimum de Euchariſtia ſenſum ἐφάπαξ & ἁπλῶς planiſſimè pleniſſiméque pandunt.

QUÆSTIO IV.

An peracta conſecratione, ante & poſt uſum Euchariſtiæ, in hoſtiis & particulis conſecratis durabili conjunctione permaneat verum corpus Domini, ita ut licitè reponi, includi, aſſervari, & ad alios uſus accommodari poſſit?

AFfirmat Synodus Cap. VI. & Can. IV. & VII. Nos ne in ipſo quidem Euchariſtiæ uſu adeſſe ſubſtantiale Chriſti corpus, ſupra probavimus. Extra verò uſum, ſive ante, ſive poſt eum ſymbola conſecrata veram rationem Sacramenti habere, adeóque licitè reponi, aſſervari, aliósque ad uſus accommodari negamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Chriſtus in cœnæ inſtitutione panem acceptum, benedictum & fractum ſtatim diſcipulis manducandum præbuit, non vel repoſuit, vel reponendum aſſervandúmque tradidit. Quódque ipſe fecit, hoc Apoſtolos, adeòque etiam Eccleſiam facere juſſit. Proinde tum magiſterio, tum exemplo, ut Cypriani verbis utar, aſſervationi & incluſioni huic obviam ivit. Neque aliud feciſſe uſpiam Apoſtoli memorantur. Atque hoc argumento, quòd videlicet Chriſtus non quemlibet panem vocaverit corpus ſuum, ſed eum demum, quem accepit, & benedictum fregit ac diſtribuit, militavit etiam Humbertus Epiſcopus Sylvæ Candidæ.

REſp. READING: 1. Quod Chriſtus fecit, panem acceptum benedicendo, & conſecrando, fractúmque manducandum præbendo, id Apoſtolos etiam, adeóque Eccleſiam facere juſſit. Quicquid autem fecit & facere juſſit, illud reducitur in veritatem verborum, Hoc eſt corpus meum; ex quibus ſequitur, ſubſtantiam & eſſentiam hujus Sacramenti primò ſubſiſtere ſub ſignificatu iſtorum verborum. At hæc ſignificant Sacramentum antecedenter & independenter ab uſu, adeóq; permanenter ſubſiſtens. 2. Neque quia Chriſtus poſtquam panem accepiſſet, eique benedixiſſet, Hoc dixit corpus ſuum, quod diſtribuit, inde ſequitur, omnes actiones illas eſſe de ſubſtantia Sacramenti. Eſſentia enim conſiſtit in aſſertione ea, qua Hoc dixit eſſe corpus ſuum. Reliqua merè accidentaria ſunt. 3. Humbertus non reprehendit Sacramenti aſſervationem, ſed quòd Græci ſacrificium Miſſæ ex præſanctificatis celebrarent. cùm tamen ſacrificium abſque panis Euchariſtici conſecratione & ſumptione fieri nequeat. Tomo II. Tract. VI. Ss. 5. pag. 334-336. Reſp. 1. Falſiſſimè aſſeris, omne id, quod Chriſtus fecit, in veritatem verborum H. E. C. M. reduci. Præcedebat enim veritatem verborum eorum panis nis tum acceptio, tum benedictio, causa veritatis eorum verborum; tum distributio, tum mandatum manducandi, cui demum connexa fuerunt verba H. E. C. M. partim enuntiantia, partim promittentia per Sacramentum panis communionem cum corpore Christi; cum quo mandato immediatè cohærebat manducatio panis, & vini bibitio. Facientes ergo, quod Christus fecit, manducare utique & bibere tenentur. Neque sine eo Sacramenti perfectio constat. Est enim Sacramentum cibus. Cibi autem, quâ cibi, relatio ad manducationem simpliciter necessaria est. 2. Falsò igitur etiam essentiam Sacramenti in veritate verborum illorum H. E. C. M. collocas; quæ in eo potiùs consistit, quòd signa legitimè utentibus communionem cum corpore Christi significant, obsignant & exhibent. quod omnium V. & N. T. Sacramentorum comparatio manifestè comprobat. Cúmq; finis Sacramenti proprius sit ejusdem fruitio & participatio, sicut cibi cujuslibet proprius finis est ejusdem fruitio & participatio; clarum utique est, semoto eo fine essentiam Sacramenti neutiquam constare. 3. Argumentum illud, quo Humbertus de Sylva Candida Græcos ex præsanctificatis Eucharistiam celebrantes refellit, illud ipsum est, quo asservatio vestra infringitur. Si enim propterea, quia Christus panem vescendum dedit, non licet ex præsanctificatis Eucharistiam celebrari, multò minùs præsanctificata asservare, & ad manducationem non referre licet.

ARG. II. Tum consecrata symbola habent rationem veri Sacramenti cùm omnes Divinæ institutionis partes implentur. Tum autem demum implentur, cùm benedicuntur, franguntur, offeruntur, accipiuntur, & in commemorationem Christi manducantur. Matth. XXVI. 26. 27. 28. Atqui ante & post usum hæ divinæ institutionis partes non servantur.

Resp. Reding: Sic ergo vi benedictionis, ante ultimum manducationis instans, non erit Sacramentum, neque adeò vi verborum H. E. C. M. aderit corpus Christi, vel eorum verborum subsistet veritas. Ib. pag. 336. Resp. Vi benedictionis panis omnino fit corpus, seu communionis cum corpore Christi sigillum; sic tamen, ut benedictio illa necessariam habeat relationem ad usum; absque qua non benedictio, sed profanatio potiùs verbi erit. Sicut qui verbo & precibus benedicit cibo sine relatione ad ejus manducationem, ita ut digrediens cibos in mensa relinquat, non benedicere ille, sed verbum Dei & preces profanare censetur. Cùm igitur Sacramenti essentia non in materia duntaxat externa & interna, sed in forma etiam, seu analogia signi & rei significatæ, & fine, ad quem refertur, consistat, Sacramentum consecratione symbolorum, sine eorundem usu, non perfici, patet. Ludis insuper in voce Sacramenti, quæ vel strictè signum sacrum, quatenus relationem habet ad corpus Christi, correlatum suum, à quo essentialiter distinguitur; vel latiùs celebrationem Sacramenti significat. Ad illud benedictio sufficit; ad hoc non item.

ARG. III. Par est ratio Eucharistiæ & Baptismi. Sicut igitur aqua ante & post usum non habet rationem Sacramenti: ita nec consecrata Symbola in Eucharistia. Quin Adversarii ex unico illo verbo, Baptizate eos, actionem denotante colligunt, baptismum extra usum & actionem ipsam veri Sacramenti rationem non habere. Quantò magis & fortiùs in eucharistia tot verba actionem significantia id evincunt? Synodus quidem cap.III.& Can.IV. excipit, diſparem eſſe euchariſtiæ & reliquorum Sacramentorum rationem, quòd illa ante & poſt uſum, hæc in uſu duntaxat veri Sacramenti rationem habeant. Sed inſtantiam dare in ſola re controverſa, conceſſis reliquis omnibus inductionis partibus, quid aliud eſt quàm negare concluſionem?

RESP. REDING: 1. Verba, baptizate eos, aperte denotant, aquæ ad eſſe Sacramenti elevationem non ſubſiſtere niſi ſub actu tranſeunte baptizationis. Contra verba inſtitutionis Euchariſtiæ ſignificant permanentem corporis Chriſti ſub ſpeciebus exiſtentiam. Sacramentorum autem natura ex verbis inſtitutionis dijudicanda eſt. 2. Si nomen uſus, uti recte Pallavicinus Suavi oppoſuit, comprehendit omnes actiones, quæ ad uſum diriguntur, ita ut dum Euchariſtia porrigitur, & antequam ſuſcipiatur, jam adſit ſub ſpeciebus corpus Chriſti; contingere poteſt, ut is, cui porrigitur, eam non ſuſcipiat, adeóque verum ſit, ibi corpus Chriſti extra uſum fuiſſe. Tum ignotum nobis eſt, à quánam actione hic uſus omnino inchoetur, & quando ſtatuc hujus uſus eſſe definat; adeóque ignotum foret, quando adorandum ſit corpus Chriſti; & quando ab ea adoratione abſtinendum. Ib. pag.336. 337. Reſp.1. An, Redingi, in Euchariſtia nullam omnino actionem agnoſcis? Cur ergo facere jubemur, quod Chriſtus fecit? An facere non eſt agere? Si igitur ex uno mandato agendi, hoc eſt, baptizandi ſequitur, baptiſmum extra actionem ſeu uſum nullum eſſe, cur ex mandato non unum quidpiam, ſed plura in Euchariſtia faciendi conſequens non eſt, Euchariſtiæ quoque Sacramentum extra uſum nullum eſſe? Hoc certè tibi expediendum fuerat. Nam præter actiones tranſeuntes ſicut in Euchariſtia, ita etiam in Baptiſmo permanens quidpiam eſt, ſive ſigna, ſive res ſignificatas utrobique ſpectaveris. Si ſigna, in Baptiſmo elementum aquæ, in Euchariſtia ſubſtantia panis & vini permanens quidpiam ſunt. Si res ſignificatas, in Baptiſmo regenerationis ſemen ſpirituale & remiſſio peccatorum: in Euchariſtia communio & conjunctio durabilis cum corpore Chriſti permanent. Imaginaria igitur & chimærica omnis illa diſtinctio eſt. 2. Neque Pallavicini tui ratiocinatio momentum ullum habet, tum quia omnes actiones Euchariſticæ uſus nomine venire neutiquam poſſunt, quia pleræque ad uſum diriguntur: tum quia panis eſt corpus Chriſti non cuivis, ſed communionem cum eo habenti per fidem, adeóque manducanti; neque adeò extra relationem ad illum uſum aliud quàm nudus panis eſt: tum quia initium eſt à manducatione tum Sacramentali tum ſpirituali: tum denique quia corporis Chriſti, ceu in Euchariſtia præſentis, adoratio nulla licita eſt, adeóque ejuſdem initium vel finem cognoſcere nihil omnino refert.

ARG. IV. Euchariſtia ſucceſſit Paſchati, ut typus ſimilis. Sicut igitur in Paſchate & reliquis V.T. ſacrificiis non licebat carnes ſeponere & aſſervare, Exod. XII.10. Levit.VII.15.16.17. ita ſuccenturiati Sacramenti analogia poſtulat, ut non accedente novo præcepto, in eo idem obtineat.

RESP. REDING: 1. Atqui etiam panes propoſitionis erant typus panis Euchariſtiæ. qui aſſervabantur tamen. Et nonne in ſacrificiis etiam nonnullis pars reſervata fuit in uſum Sacerdotum? 2. De quiddicate Sacramenti non eſt, ut actu cauſet, ſed ut habeat virtutem ſignificativam, & in actu primo gratiæ cauſativam. Ib. pag.337. Reſp.1. Vel panes propopropositionis, vel sacrificia panis Eucharistiæ typos ex instituto Spiritus S. fuisse, proba. Et tamen utraque referebantur ad usum; illi Sacerdotum, hæc quoque Sacerdotum & victimas afferentium; & quæque suo tempore. Neque sacra illa fuerunt nisi per relationem ad usum. 1. Cùm Sacramenta sint instrumenta gratiæ, instrumenti verò ratio in usu consistat, non sic in actu primo causativa sunt, significando scilicet & obsignando, ut in secundo actu non causent. Causalitas enim earum in significando & repræsentando omnis est; quæ sine operatione seu actu secundo nulla prorsus est. Neque tamen extra manducationis seu usus relationem plenam significandi vim Sacramenta obtinent.

ARG. V. Paulus 1.Cor.X.16. ait, panem, non quemlibet, sed quem frangimus, esse communionem corporis Christi. Proinde panis est Sacramentum, non ratione vel substantiæ, vel solius benedictionis, sed ratione etiam fractionis, distributionis à Christo institutæ.

Resp. Reding: An, si intra distributionem & manducationem morula interjiciatur, interea desines esse Sacramentum? hinò verò Apostolus dicens, panem quem frangimus, esse communionem corporis Christi, frangendum esse Sacramentum innuit. Manducatio igitur formaliter non est de ratione Sacramenti. Ib. pag. 337. 338. Resp. In eundem lapidem semper impingis. Quæstio enim non est, an benedictus panis jam sit Sacramentum; sed an panis benedictus juxta institutionem Christi manducari non debeat, adeóque licitè asservetur? Has lineas ubique declinas, & extra chorum saltas. Quanquam nulla etiam argumenti tui sequela est. Licet enim res transiens moram pati, adeóque perseverare possit, dum est in fieri, tamen cùm desinit fieri, & perfecta est, non potest diutiùs perseverare. Sic celebratione, fractione, distributione durante, quies aut interstitium hujus aut illius actus, moralem actionis totius perfectionem non interrumpit. Sed tota celebratione peracta, quod in dies, menses, annos in pixide servatur, nulla pars est illius actionis, & proinde Sacramentum non est. Ipse Bellarminus de Euchar. lib. IV. 3. fatetur, Baptismum non esse rem permanentem; & tamen inter initium & finem Baptismi mora interjici potest, perseverante Baptismo. An igitur etiam perseveraret, si in mensem aut annum pars aut verborum, aut ablutionis differretur? Denique quomodo quæso panis fractus extra usum κοινωνία & σύμβολος communio corporis Christi esse potest? An non quod communio est, jam acceptum habetur? An panis ante manducationem habet communionem ullam cum corpore humano, in cujus substantiam transit?

ARG. VI. Asservatio etiam hæc multis conflictatur incommodis, veluti quòd asservatur non alium in finem, quàm ut panis in processione circumgestetur, & adoretur, cùm ejus consecratio juxta primævam institutionem tantùm ob manducationem fieri debeat: quòd solo pane, non vino asservato occasio datur divisioni unius ejusdémque mysterii, quàm Gelasius Papa C. Comperimus dist. 2. de consecrat. vocat sacrilegam: quòd regula ex verbis institutionis extracta, quæ nihil habere rationem Sacramenti extra usum à Christo institutum affirmat, enervatur: denique quòd irreverentiæ

ARG. VII. Non in omni quidem ſynaxi accerſiti ſunt pueri, quia tametſi ſynaxes nondum ad eam communicantium paucitatem eſſent redactæ, quam hodie apud Pontificios videmus, jam tamen paſſim imminuta erat earum frequentia, ut ex aſſantium numero conjectu facile eſſet, quot futuri communicantes ſint. Credibile quoque eſt, eo Seculo habitas eſſe ſæpe Synaxes, in quibus ſoli Clerici communicabant, quorum cùm notus eſſet numerus, non rarò accidebat, ut non plures fierent particulæ, quàm quot eſſent communicantium capita. Quod ſi quando aliter contingeret, neque tamen communicantium numerus multò eſſet, quàm particularum minor, facile erat ex ipſis Sacerdotibus, vel certè Clericis inferiorem ordinem aſſumere, qui reliqua ſacri panis fragmenta conſumerent. tias usurpavit, uti quidem Blondellus de Epist. Papar. fict. pag.69. ostendit. Et tamen quid disertius est verbis ejus,quæ Epist.2. sic sonant: Certè tanta in altari holocausta offerantur, quanta populo sufficere debeant. Quòd si remanserint, in crastinum NON RESERVENTUR; sed cum timore & tremore Clericorum diligentia consumantur. Quòd verò idem Pseudo Clemens *Ecclesiæ Ministros reliquias fragmentorum corporis Domini custodire jubet,ne qua putredo in Sacrario inveniatur,nec,ùm negligenter agitur, portioni corporis Domini gravis injuria inferatur,*ne sic quidem causæ vestræ patrocinatur. Neque enim Sacrarium hoc fuit pixis, sed sacrum cubiculum, in quo pallæ, & vela, & alia sacra ministeria reposita ac custodita fuisse,idem statim Pseudo-Clemens dicit. In Sacrarium illud inferri sueverunt olim oblationes à fidelibus factæ, ex quibus tantum panis & vini, quantum ad communionem consecrari necesse esset, reponebatur. Quæ ergo,his decerptis,quæ in Eucharistiam consecranda erant,ex illa oblationum massa supererant, reliquias fragmentorum corporis Domini, reliqua, scilicet postquam inde detracta fuerant fragmenta in corporis Dominici Sacramentum conficienda, Pseudo-Clemens appellavit, eáque probè custodiri jussit, caverique, ne qua in sacrario, in quo reponuntur, sit putredo, quia in eo tum mures, & araneæ & tineæ stabulari,tum pallæ, vela & candelabra situm,rubiginem & putredinem contrahere potuerunt. Sic sanè interpretandus author ille est,nisi paucis interjectis verbis sibi contradicentem,adeóque testem nullum, tolerare mavultis.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Verba Domini,Hoc est corpus meum,Hic est sanguis meus,priùs dicta sunt quàm fieret actio manducandi & bibendi. Ergo ante illam actionem,adeóque ante usum Sacramenti præsens fuit corpus Domini in cœna, adeóque etiam Sacramentum Eucharistiæ confectum. Argumentum est ipsius Concilii cap.3.Quod confirmat Bellarminus tum ex eo, quòd juxta Augustinum accedente verbo ad elementum, adeóque etiam ante manducationem,fiat Sacramentum; tum ex eo, quòd verba Christi ante manducationem prolata, adeóque etiam ante eam vera fuerint. Resp. 1. Quicquid sit de manducatione, fueritne illa connexa prolationi illorum verborum, an eam subsequens, id certum est, Christum verba illa protulisse non de quolibet pane,sed de accepto, benedicto, fracto, & ad manducandum jam distributo, atque ita quidem, ut præceptum manducandi, cui statim Apostoli satisfacere debuerunt, jam præcesserit. Hinc sanè conjicitur,asservationem ejusmodi primævæ institutioni repugnare,& panem non esse corpus Christi,neque adeò Sacramenti rationem habere, nisi quando fractus distribuitur, manducandus porrigitur, & actu statim manducatur. 2. Accedente sanè verbo ad elementum fit Sacramentum, sed non extra actionem. Ita in Baptismo eandem regulam rectè observant & usurpant adversarii, in quo tamen ad integritatem Sacramenti actionem requiri ipsi quoque fatentur. 3. Verba Hoc est corpus meum &c. vera esse potuerunt ante manducationem, sed non absolutè sive manducarent, sive non manducarent, verùm κατὰ τὸ, si præcepto manducandi id, quod jam acceperant, satisfacerent. Par nempe ratio est eucharistiæ, quæ & reliquorum Sacramentorum, in quibus verbum ordinationis & institutionis Divinæ extra actionem veritatem non habere, ipsi quoque adversarii tuentur.

EXCIP. REDING: Si verba H. E. C. M. non erant absolutè vera, sed ex hypothesi, si nempe præcepto manducationis satisfiat, quomodo vera erant pro instanti fractionis & porrectionis ad manducandum? Tunc enim nondum conditio illa impleta erat. Et sanè verba illa Christi prolata sunt antecedenter ad manducationem. lb. pag. 341. 342. Resp. Pleraque mea intacta relinquis, & crambem tuam reponere satis habes. Licet cùm frangeretur panis, nondum mandata erat manducatio, tamen ex institutione constat, fractum esse non alio fine, quàm ut juberetur manducari, & manducatus demum fieret communio cum corpore Christi. Veritatem igitur suam habuerunt ea conditione, si manducatio succederet. Ita in instituenda circumcisione Genes. XV. priùs dictum est: Hoc est fœdus meum, quàm, Circumcidite vobis omnem masculum. Et tamen circumcisio non erat fœdus ante usum, quantumvis efficacia fuerint verba; quantumvis verissima, cùm recitarentur. Perperam hæretis ipsi actioni manducandi & bibendi actu exhibitæ. At nos attendendum dicimus eandem actionem institutione imperatam. Fieri enim potuit, ut ad momentum aliquod substiterint discipuli, neque statim atque audiverunt, Accipite, comedite, exercuerint actum suum accipiendi, vel saltem comedendi; ac proinde audierint verba ea, antequam comederint aut biberint. Certum tamen est, non edisse, nec bibisse, antequam audirent præceptum edendi & bibendi. Omnes enim Evangelistæ constanter eum ordinem servarunt; Accipite, comedite, Hoc est corpus meum. Unde facilis sensus: Hoc ita acceptum & esitatum est corpus meum. Etenim institutio Sacramenti non tantùm elementum, sed etiam usum definivit, ut in Baptismo.

OBIECT. II. Panis est corpus Christi per benedictionem & operationem Divinam, non per manducationem humanam. Ergo ad veram rationem Sacramenti non est necessaria manducatio. Resp. 1. Eodem argumento effici posset, aquam baptismalem rationem habere veri Sacramenti per solam benedictionem, & operationem Divinam, sed non sine participatione. 2. Verum Sacramentum eucharistiæ est non per usum tanquam causam efficientem, sed in usu tanquam in actu ex divina institutione necessario, sine quo non fit commemoratio mortis Domini. Benedictio igitur panis & operatio Divina vina ut causa efficiens, cum usu hominum & participatione, ex Divina institutione concurrere debet.

Excip. Reding: 1. Si benedictio est Sacramenti causa efficiens, eo igitur mox instanti, qua benedictio peragitur, Sacramentum quoque perficitur. Baptismi verò & Eucharistiæ dissimilitudinem supra ostendimus. 2. Sicut petra in deserto a te potum aquæ ex ea profluentis, & Agnus Paschalis ante ejusdem esum figura Christi præfigurativa fuit: ita Eucharistia, utpote realiter continens corpus Christi, ante manducationem Sacramentum est. lb. pag. 342. 343. Resp. 1. Benedictio Sacramenti causa efficiens est, sed non sine relatione ad usum. Nam Sacramentum sine usu nullum esse, jam ostendimus. Neque Sacramentum perfici eo momento, quo benedictio peragitur, probare potes. Contrarium nos probavimus, atque simul Baptismi & Cœnæ ea in re similitudinem supra asseruimus. Sermo est secundùm rationem vel naturæ, vel Sacramenti. Secundum rationem naturæ in utroque Sacramento est res permanens, in Baptismo aqua, in Eucharistia panis & vinum. Ratione quoque Sacramenti, in quo elementum fit Sacramentum, non magis Baptismus quàm Eucharistia res permanens est. Ut enim in Baptismo est lotio, sic in Eucharistia sumptio: & quemadmodum aqua assumpta est non quomodocunque, sed ad lavandum; sic panis non quomodocunque, sed ad manducandum. Non ovum ovo similius. Denique nullum Sacramentum esse potest, cujus non sit pars essentialis actio aliqua transiens. 2. Petra in deserto, Agnus Paschalis erant Christus, sed uti dixi, non sine participatione. Aqua bibebatur, agnus edebatur. Ad potum & esum omnia referebantur, & sine eo nec petra, nec Agnus completè Christus erat. Hoc tu ne conatus equidem es infringere, sed pro more edicere satis habes.

OBIECT. III. Eucharistiæ & Baptismi dispar est ratio, cùm illa in re permanente, hic verò in actione consistat. Unde eucharistiam nemo unquam vocavit fractionem, consecrationem, distributionem, manducationem, sed rem permanentem, puta panem sanctificatum, cibum, corpus & carnem Christi. Resp. 1. Et Eucharistia & Baptismus in actione aprimè conveniunt. Sicut enim ex eo, quòd institutio baptismi utitur verbo, baptizate, quod actionem significat, colligitur, ejus rationem in actione consistere: Ita etiam eucharistiæ rationem in actione consistere colligi debet ex verbis actionem significantibus, Accipite, manducate, bibite, Hoc facite &c. 2. Juxta ipsum Bellarminum Act. II. 24. eucharistia vocatur fractio panis. 3. Veteres, qui sanctificatum panem, corpus Domini &c. vocant, loquuntur de pane eucharistico in usu sacramentali.

Excip. Reding: 1. Cerè actiones fractionis, consecrationis, distributionis, manducationis non æquè significantur formaliter per institutionis Eucharisticæ verba, Sacramenti essentiam denotantia, atque per verba baptismalis institutionis significatur actio baptizandi. 2. Patres Eucharistiam appellant panem sanctificatum, & corpus Domini, non propter usum, sed propter permanentem substantiam corporis Christi sub speciebus panis. 3. Eucharistia fractio panis appellatur, non propter formalem ejus rationem, sed ceremoniam concomitantem. lb. pag. 343. Resp. 1. Cùm ex institutione Christi partes Sacramentalis celebrationis brationis ſint acceptio panis, benedictio, fractio, diſtributio ad manducandum, & manducatio panis accepti, benedicti, fracti, diſtributi cum declaratione, quòd ſit corpus Chriſti; in his certè formalis ratio Sacramenti Euchariſtiæ, non in ſolis verbis H. E. C. M. conſiſtit. Forma enim totius integri in complexione omnium partium conſiſtit. Et quomodo actiones illæ per verba Hoc eſt corpus meum non ſignificantur, cùm Chriſtus Hoc, id eſt, panem à ſe acceptum, benedictum, fractum, diſtributum, manducari juſſum, corpus ſuum appellaverit? 2. Quia nec panis ſimpliciter, ſed manducatus: nec manducatio ſimpliciter, ſed panis manducatio, inſtituta eſt in Sacramentum; ideòque utrumque ſemper aut nominandum, aut certè intelligendum. Unde frequenter S. Patres utrumque uno nomine explicant. Sic ex Juſtino Bellarminus recitat, ἡ τροφὴ αὕτη καλεῖται παρ' ἡμῖν εὐχαριστία. Hic cibus à nobis Euchariſtia appellatur. Nam cibus non dicitur panis ratione ſuæ eſſentiæ, ſed uſus, quia nutriendis corporibus aptus, non quibuſvis, ſed à quibus comeditur. Cùm igitur cibus appellatur Euchariſtia, perinde eſt ac ſi dicas diſertè: Manducatio panis ſacri eſt Euchariſtia. 3. Fractio panis propter actionem utique concomitantem, quæ ceu pars integralis ad totius ſui integritatem concurrit, tota Euchariſtia inſignitur, tum ob actionem, quæ fractio eſt, tum à re permanente, quæ panis eſt.

OBIECT. IV. Nulla in euchariſtia actio eſt, cui conveniat ratio Sacramenti. Potiſſima enim actio, manducatio videlicet, eſt ſuſcipientis tantùm, non Dei vel miniſtri conferentis. At Sacramenta non ſunt actio ſuſcipientis, aliàs eſſent opera noſtra. Reſp. 1. Eadem ratio valeret æquè contra baptiſmum, in quo præceptum baptizandi actionem & conferentis & ſuſcipientis notat. 2. Manducatio eſt equidem actio ſuſcipientis Sacramentum. Quia verò ejus objectum eſt panis conſecratus, cujus diſtributionem ex natura relatorum præſupponit, iccirco ad integritatem Sacramenti requiritur. 3. Neque propterea Sacramentum hoc erit opus noſtrum, ſed potiùs alieni operis & doni receptio.

EXCIP. REDING: Manducatio præſupponit quidem actionem miniſtri conſecrantis & diſtribuentis: ſed formaliter non conſiſtit niſi in actione ſuſcipientis. Ratio verò Sacramenti formalis per ſe immediatè reducitur in Miniſtrum, ceu principium nomine Dei & Chriſti inſtrumentariè effectum, licet ſubjectivè ſuſcipienti inexiſtat. Ib. pag. 343. Reſp. Expedire debueras, an ad Sacramentum Baptiſmi non æquè ſuſcipientis ac conferentis actio pertineat? Et quæ ſit diſpar Euchariſtiæ ratio? Manducatio potiùs paſſio manducantis eſt, quàm actio; non quòd non ſit manducare genus quoddam actionis noſtræ; ſed quòd ea actio eſt in patiendo, nimirum cùm ſignificat modum accipiendi. Connectuntur enim; Accipite, bibite. ubi manifeſtum, bibere vix eſſe edere; etſi deſignet actionem, tamen eam, quæ in ſe ipſum fiat: ut etiam accipere. ubi propriè eſt paſſio. Nam refertur ad dare. Sed eſto manducatio actio. Unde tibi conſtat, actiones ſuſcipientis, non eſſe propriè Sacramenta, hoc eſt, non pertinere ad rationem formalem Sacramenti? Tuos potiùs reverere, qui in Pœnitentia actus pœnitentis voluerunt eſſe materiam. Non enim negabis, materiam Sacramenti eſſe Sacramentum, ſuppoſita ſcilicet forma. Et quæ ratio cogit, non poſſe à Deo ullam partem Sacramenti conſtitui actiones ſuſcipientis; & poſſe tamen Miniſtri celebrantis? Nam æquè utræque partes ſunt hominis; cujus cujus non eſt Sacramentum conficere, ſed adminiſtrare & accipere. Solus Deus efficit, ut hæc vel illa actio vel ſuſceptio ſit Sacramentum, vel Sacramenti pars.

OBIECT. V. Juſtinus Martyr in 2. Apologia teſtatur, Symbola euchariſtica diſtribui præſentibus, & ad abſentes per Diaconos mitti ſolita eſſe. Irenæus quoque in Epiſtola ad Victorem narrat, Epiſcopos Romanos teſtandæ concordiæ gratiâ, ad fratres ex aliis paræciis euchariſtiam miſiſſe. Sed & Dionyſius Epiſcopus Alexandrinus, epiſt. ad Fabium Epiſcop. Antiochenum narrat, Serapioni in extremis conſtituto ſe per puerum miſiſſe particulam euchariſtiæ, quam madefactam in os Serapionis infunderet, apud Euſebium Hiſtor. Eccleſ. l. VI. 36. Reſp. 1. Miſſio ad abſentes à Juſtino memorata fuit, non aſſervatio, ſed quædam ad manducandum datio. Nempe ex ipſo Synaxeos ſacro miſſam ad abſentes euchariſtiam per diaconos legimus: reſervatam & ad infirmos deportatam nec ibi, nec uſpiam alibi apud Juſtinum legimus. 2. Epiſcopi Romani non ad fratres in aliis provinciis degentes, ſed ex aliis provinciis Romam venientes euchariſtiam concordiæ teſtificandæ gratia miſerunt, uti liquet ex ipſis Irenæi verbis. 3. Serapioni pœnitenti & moribundo miſſa eſt euchariſtia ab Alexandro, ut Catholicæ communionis ſolatium aliquod haberet. Sed diverſiſſimo fine hodie aſſervari hoſtiam, nemo ignorat. Neque tamen ex narratione illa Dionyſii liquidò conſtat, euchariſtiam reſervatam ab eo eſſe, uti probabilibus argumentis oſtendit Dalleus de Cult. Relig. lib. VI. 4.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si licet ad abſentes Euchariſtiam mittere, quod olim factum Juſtinus teſtatur; licet etiam eam aſſervare, quia intentio aſſervationis eſt, Euchariſtiam deportare ad infirmos. quæ intentio moraliter perſeverans, ac à publica Eccleſiæ authoritate dependens, facit, ut perinde cenſeatur moraliter, ac ſi ex Eccleſiæ cœtu, Euchariſtia ad infirmos manducanda deportetur. 2. Miſſa à Dionyſio Epiſcopo Alexandrino ad Serapionem pœnitentem & moribundum Euchariſtia aliquam ejuſdem moram arguit. Ibid. pag. 344. Reſp. 1. Nihil deportationi ad abſentes quos ſolos, non infirmos Juſtinus inmemorat, cum reſervatione prorſus commune eſt, tum quia reſervatio opponitur communioni, & infert, ſpecies eſſe Sacramenta etiam ſine communione: tùm quia continuabatur conſecratione, & communionis gratia fiebat. Juſtinus enim diſertè dicit, Diaconos τ παρόντων μεταλαβεῖν præſentibus dare, & ad abſentes deferre. Neque una aſſervationis intentio eſt, deportatio ad infirmos, quorum tamen ne quidem Juſtinus meminit; ſed heterogeneæ plures: neque Juſtinus teſtis eſt, inter deportandum ad abſentes à quoquam adoratam eſſe Euchariſtiam: neque in aſſervatione, utpote oppoſita communioni, intentio ad deportandum Sacramentum moraliter perſeverare poteſt, quia communione finita Sacramentum eſſe deſinit. 2. Euchariſtiæ ad Serapionem pœnitentem & moribundum miſſæ mora nonnulla extra Eccleſiam, in qua conſecratio inſtituta erat, cum ipſa communione conjuncta, nec ſpeciem quidem reſervationis habere poteſt.

OBIECT. VI. Conſuetudo hæc aſſervandi adeò antiqua eſt, ut eam Seculum etiam Niceni Concilii agnoverit. Canon 13. habet : περὶ τῶν ἐξοδευόντων, ὁ παλαιὸς, καὶ κανονικὸς νόμος φυλαχθήσεται καὶ νῦν. Ὥστε εἴπις ἐξοδεύει ἢ τελευτᾷ καὶ ἀναγκαιοτάτης ἐφοδίου μὴ ἀπολαυέτω. De his qui ad exitum veniunt, etiam nunc lex antiqua, regularisque ſervabitur, ut ſi quis egreditur è corpore, ultimo & neceſſario viatico ne privetur. Argumentum hoc eſt Concilii Cap. 6. Reſp. 1. Bene eſt, quòd Concilium non ſuſtinuit hunc morem altiùs, quàm à Concilio Niceno, hoc eſt, A. D. 325. repetere. At vera antiquitas eſt à primordio, à Deo, Chriſto, Apoſtolis. 2. Neque tamen aſſervationis in eo canone ulla omnino mentio eſt. Tantùm præcipitur, ut moribundis ultimum & neceſſarium ἐφόδιον viaticum præbeatur. Hoc autem citra aſſervationem fieri poterat, eo imprimis tempore, quo quotidiana communio celebrari conſuevit. Fieri potuit apud ipſos ægrotantes, quomodo Presbyteri Confeſſores in carceribus adeuntes ac inviſentes, ibidem apud eos offerebant, etiam iis temporibus, quibus id facere non carebat periculo, uti ex Cypriani epiſtola 4. liquet. 3. Fatemur tamen, aſſervationem aliquam Euchariſtiæ in publico cœtu conſecratæ in uſu ſerò tamen, neque ante VI. Seculum fuiſſe, quò neceſſitate poſtulante ad ægrotantes, primò pœnitentes tantùm, mox quosvis alios deportaretur. Nempe primò conſuit eccleſia, pœnitentes inſtante morte hoc ſymbolo erigendos & conſolandos eſſe, quò pacatiores hinc decederent. Mox id tranſtulit ad univerſos fideles moribundos. Viſum autem eſt eccleſiæ, tum ad vitanda ſchiſmata, & hæreticorum contagia, tum ad publicæ reconciliationis fidem pœnitentibus luculentiùs faciendam, de illo ipſo pane in cœtu fidelium palam conſecrato, & de quo jam eccleſia publicè participaverat, mittere infirmis, quod ſine aſſervatione nonnulla fieri non potuit. Neque tamen hoc juvat adverſarios, tum quia ex Divino inſtituto hoc feciſſe eccleſiam non conſtat: tum quia id ipſum faciendi non eadem neceſſitas hodie, quæ olim, eccleſiæ incumbit, cùm totum id ad illorum temporum peculiarem conditionem accommodatum fuerit, & hodie aliter conſuli poſſit: tum denique quia eccleſia vetus in ea opinione, quòd etiam extra uſum verum perfectúmque Sacramentum fuerit, & quidem pompæ inſtar circumgeſtandum & adorandum, minimè fuit: tum denique, quia ſerò admodum hunc mortem invaluiſſe, nec ejus ullum teſtimonium in ſex primis Seculis extare, demonſtrat Dalleus *de Cult. Ipſemet enim tempora me diſtinxiſſe, fateris : & loquitur id res ipſa. Potuit omnino contingere, ut ante ſequentis diei celebrationem mortis diſcrimen quiſpiam incurreret. Neque tamen id Euchariſtiæ aſſervandæ, ex Divino maximè inſtituto, neceſſitatem arguit. Quid enim ſi ſubita morte quiſpiam abriperetur ? An viatici defectus tum Cœlo excluſit abreptum ? Par ratio periclitantium, qui vel ad celebrationem uſque vixerunt, atque tum panis participes fieri potuerunt : vel ante abrepti, non majore periculo, quàm ſubitanea morte defuncti, Euchariſtia caruerunt. 3. Resp. Consecrationem in Ecclesia institui decentius judico. Quanquam æquè in cubili (perinde ut in triclinio, in quo Christus Eucharistiam instituit) Ecclesia locum habere potest. Nam duo vel tres in nomine Christi congregati Ecclesia esse possunt. Eucharistia verò post usum asservata, eucharistia, seu panis consecratus esse desinit, adeóque apud vos nec in Ecclesia, nec in cubilibus consecratur. 2. De Canone Nicæno supra egimus.

QUÆSTIO V.

An Eucharistiæ Sacramentum solenniter circumgestandum sit?

Affirmat Canon VI. & negantes id anathemate percellit. Notum autem est, non tantùm panem consecratum solere ad infirmos deferri, prælatis luminibus, edito campanulæ sono, & plebe se reverenter ad illum inclinante: sed etiam in festo anniversario Corporis Christi pomposè ac theatricè circumferri. Quinimò Papa iter faciente cum impedimentis, lixis & calonibus, etiam hostia præferri solet. Contra theatricam hanc circumgestationem eadem pœne argumenta, quæ contra asservationem militant. Etenim

ARG. I. Repugnat institutioni Christi, in qua Christus facere jussit, quod ipse fecit. Atqui ipse non circumgestandum panem, sed manducandum præbuit.

Resp. Reding: Multa Christus Eucharistiam instituens fecit, quæ hodie facienda non sunt. Fecit in commemorationem mortis faciendæ: exhibuit Novum Testamentum firmandum, non firmatum. An sic etiam nobis faciendum? Substantia igitur institutionis ab accidentariis ritibus distingui debet. Circumgestatio autem accidentarius ritus est, eum in finem institutus, ut & in populo excitetur devotio erga Christum de morte superata triumphantem, & Deo de mysterii tam sublimibus gratiæ agantur. Tomo II. Tract. VI. sect. 5. p. 347. Resp. Rituum Eucharisticorum discrimen quoddam nullus equidem ignoro. Sed institutionem circumgestationis, sive ut substantialis, sive ut accidentalis nullam prorſus reperio. Quomodo inſtituiſſet Chriſtus, qui exemplo ſuo nil tale probavit, neque aſſervans Euchariſtiam, neque circumgeſtari præcipiens vel permittens. Inò cùm aſſervationem Sacramentali ratione repugnare oſtenderimus, circumgeſtatio ritus Euchariſtiæ licitus accidentalis eſſe nequit, quia inſtitutioni adverſatur. Neque circumgeſtatio, ſed uſus Cœnæ Dominicæ ex inſtituto Dei devotionem erga Chriſtum triumphantem excitat.

ARG. II. Inſtitutionis hujus tenaces Apoſtoli nuſpiam vel circumgeſtâſſe, vel oſtentâſſe panem Euchariſticum leguntur.

RESP. READING: 1. Argumentum procedit ab authoritate negativa. 2. Pericula à fidelibus imminentia circumgeſtationem non admiſerunt. Ib. pag. 347. Reſp. 1. Cùm in cultu Dei ab ejuſdem ſola inſtitutione & mandato pendeamus, argumentum ab authoritate negativa æquè ac affirmativa ſtringit. Nihil enim ſine mandato Dei tentandum. 2. Non imminentia ab infidelibus pericula, quæ Apoſtoli per totam vitam contempſerunt, ſed mandati defectus, & Euchariſtiæ legitimus uſus impedimento fuerunt.

ARG. III. Quicquid ſit non contra inſtitutionem tantùm, ſed etiam præter eam, æquè illud improbandum eſt ac moſcholatria Iſraëlitarum Dei præcepto deſtituta, vel deportatio arcæ Jehovæ in caſtra, citra mandatum Dei ſuſcepta.

RESP. READING: 1. An eodem modo Vos benedicitis ſymbolis, quo Chriſtus benedixit? Ergo cultus formaliter ab eo, qui Dei præcepto continetur, diverſus improbandus eſt: at ritus materialiter, non contra, ſed præter inſtitutionem adhibitus, adeóque merè accidentarius non item. 2. Annon arcam licuit huc illuc circumgeſtare? Et quidem ſine mandato Dei? Alia igitur iraſcentis Numinis cauſa fuit. Ib. pag 347. 348. Reſp. 1. Chriſtus ſymbolis benedixit, & ſuper iis Deo gratias egit. Id ipſum nos imitamur. Formulam benedictionis, utpote non expreſſam, imitari non poſſumus. Circumgeſtatio verò nec quoad rem, nec quoad modum præſcripta eſt. Cultus etiam neceſſariò exercendus, & formaliter & materialiter conſentire cum præſcripto debet. Alias ſub nomine ἐθελοθρησκείας voluntarii cultus Col. II. 23. damnatur. 2. Incluſio unius non eſt excluſio alterius. Et peccata filiorum Eli, & arcæ deportatio ſine mandato Dei Iſraëlitis cladem tantam attulerunt. Neque concedimus, circumgeſtationem arcæ ſine ſpeciali Dei mandato Deo placuiſſe. Nam Joſ. VI. 6. diſertum mandatum Dei extat. Et tum David 2. Sam. VI. tum Solomon 1. Reg. VIII. arcam deportantes, mandato Dei non caruerunt, uti de Davide ex 1. Paralip. XIII. & de Solomone ex 1 Reg. VIII. 11. aliiſque argumentis colligitur.

ARG. IV. Repugnat mos ille Eccleſiæ non Apoſtolicæ duntaxat, ſed etiam primitivæ. Juſtinus Euchariſtiam ad abſentes, Irenæus ad hoſpites ex Aſia venientes, alii ad ægrotos delatam memorant. Pompæ ejuſmodi, luminarium, campanularum, genuflexionis, altiſſimum ubique ſilentium. Quin ipſa Synodus Cap. 5. inductum hunc in Eccleſiam morem, non in in ea natum fatetur. Circumgeſtatio illa occaſionem præbet artolatriæ, mutilationi calicis, aliiſque ſuperſtitionibus.

Resp. Reding: 1. Ex Juſtino & Irenæo contrarium potiùs colligitur. 2. Licet mos ille non cum Eccleſia natus, ſed in eam inductus ſit, nihil prohibet tamen, quò minùs retineatur. Ita in V. T. feſta quædam ſine expreſſo Dei mandato inſtituta ſunt. lb. pag. 348. Reſp. 1. Nec Juſtinus, nec Irenæus tibi favet. Circumgeſtatio enim illa, de qua loquuntur, communioni conjuncta in uſum deſiit: neque ceremonias veſtras conjunctas habuit ullas, quod ipſe fateri cogeris. 2. De feſtis infra.

ARG. V. Neque ea devotioni populi, ſed oſtentationi magis & pompæ inſervit. Quin & præter inſtitutionem Chriſti panis conſecratus in circumgeſtatione uſurpatur ad incendia reſtinguenda, ad tempeſtates prohibendas, ad beneficia corporalia impetranda.

Resp. Reding: 1. Circumgeſtatio pompam Chriſti triumphantis, & ad dextram Patris ſedentis repræſentat. 2. Excellentia meritorum ejuſdem ad beneficia non ſpiritualia duntaxat, ſed etiam corporalia valet. Ergo eadem Euchariſtia quoque exhibet. lb. pag. 348. Reſp. 1. Ex inſtitutione Chriſti corpus ejuſdem traditum & fractum, ſanguinem pro nobis effuſum ſignificat. Quoties igitur de pane comedimus, mortem Chriſti annuntiare 1. Cor. XI. 26. jubemur. Ad repræſentandum verò triumphum Chriſti inſtitutum eſſe, nuſpiam legimus. Finis ille fictitius eſt, & prætextus potiùs, quàm res. Nam alia omnia circumgeſtantes intendunt. 2. Chriſtus ſanè totius hominis Salvator, & bonorum tum ſpiritualium, tum corporalium author eſt. Sed Euchariſtiam non inſtituit ad exhibenda bona corporalia, verùm ſpiritualia duntaxat, remiſſionem peccatorum inprimis, Matth. XXVI. 28. Cúmque Euchariſtia extra uſum efficax non ſit, circumgeſtata non utentibus ad neutra beneficia prodeſſe poteſt.

ARG. VI. Haud abſimilis hic ritus eſt illi Perſarum ignem ſuum, imaginem videlicet ſolis, ſeu Mithræ, quem Orimasda appellabant, circumferentium. Sicut enim ignis ille equo vectus in Regum Perſicorum pompa præferri conſuevit: ita in Pontificis R. pompa panis conſecratus albo, & tintinnabulis perſtrepenti equo impoſitus, maximè in Feſto corporis Chriſti præferri ſolet.

Resp. Reding: 1. Imò verò ab ipſomet Pontifice ex ſuperiori ſella eminente deportatur. lb. pag. 349. Reſp. Solánc ergo hæc differentia eſt? Et tamen nec hac in re differunt. Marcellus enim S. Cerem. lib. I. ſect. 12. cap. 1. poſtquam tradidiſſet, poſt crucem, quæ Papæ præfertur, immediatè incedere duodecim pedites clericos vel laicos, accenſa funalia deferentes, & juxta eos equitare duos clericos capellæ, laternas duas argenteas præferentes, in quibus candelæ perpetuò lucent, ita deinde pergit: Ducitur poſt hos equus albus, phaleratus, manſuetus, pulcher, cum tintinnabulo ad collum bene ſonante, qui capſulam vehis cum ſacratiſſimo Chriſti corpore, ſupra quod cives nobiles portabunt baldachinum. Funalia condecenter deferentur per clericos cum ſuperpelliceis. Neque equo tantùm, ſed mulæ etiam quandoque impoſitam eſſe hoſtiam, Theodoricus de Nyem Nem. Union. Tract. 6. cap. 43.

cap.43. ſcribit. Eidem Papæ ad urbes alias iter facienti, eáſque intranti,idem quoque Sacramentum eadem cum pompa præferri, patet ex eodem libro,ubi cap.5. dicitur, cives ejus urbis,in quam Papa ingreſſurus eſt,debere Baldachinum pro Sacramento & Papa invenire,id eſt,cuique ſuum. Idem quoque fit,cùm Papa ſine Pontificalibus equitat ad aliquam Eccleſiam religionis gratia. Denique Cardinalis Perronius de Euchar. lib.III. 19. tradit, Papæ extra urbem procedenti,vel peregrè agenti nunquam deeſſe crucem & Euchariſtiam,quæ ante eum præferuntur, ad ſacri ſcilicet illius capitis cuſtodiam præſidiatem & patronatem, non autem miniſteriatem, uti ille ſolerter diſtinguit. Obiter illud haud indignum animadverſione eſt, quòd juxta idem Ceremoniale R. Sect.II. cap.3. Equus,cui Papa inſidet, ducendus eſt manu Imperatoris aut Regis,ſiquidem præſens ille fuerit: at equus,quo vehitur Chriſtus, ducitur à famulo Sacriſtæ, id eſt, à ſervo ſervuli. Si Papa ſella vehitur,bajulant ſellam Imperator aut Rex: & Chriſtus imponitur beſtiæ.

ARG. VII. Denique etiam Caſſander *Conſ lt. artic.*22.fatetur, circumgeſtationem hanc præter Veterum morem & mentem haud ita longo tempore inductam & receptam eſſe. Idque inde probat, quia Veteres hoc myſterium tanta in religione habuerint, ut non modò non ad ejus perceptionem, ſed ne ad inſpectionem quidem admitterent niſi fideles, quos Chriſti membra & tanti myſterii participatione dignos eſſe exiſtimarent, excluſis videlicet & Diaconi voce,& Oſtiariorum miniſterio ante conſecrationem Catechumenis, Energumenis, pœnitentibus & univerſis non communicantibus. Subjicítque, hunc circumgeſtationis uſum citrà grave eccleſiæ damnum, imò cum ipſius lucro omitti poſſe, cùm & recens ſit, & diu ſine ea circumgeſtatione Sacramento ſuus honor conſtiterit,hodiéque conſtare poſſit. Denique laudat tum Nicolaum Cuſanum per Germaniam Legatum,qui abuſum Sacramenti euchariſtiæ in nimis frequenti ejus per ſingulas ferias circumgeſtatione ſuſtulerit: tum Albertum Kranzium, qui approbato hoc Cuſani facto, addiderit memorabilem cauſam, quòd videlicet ejus Sacramenti uſus à cœleſti magiſtro inſtitutus ſit ad uſum,non oſtentationem.

REIP. REDINO: Cùm actiones & ceremoniæ ventrationis hujus Sacramenti ex arbitrio Eccleſiæ determinari poſſint; utique pro diverſa temporum conditione Eccleſia tantum myſterium modò à conſpectu indignorum removere, modò perſecutionum turbis amotis ad majorem ſplendorem reducere poteſt. Ib. pag.349. Reſp. Muſteam circumgeſtationis novitatem cùm negare non potueris, palliare ſatagis. Fruſtra verò. Fingis enim cauſam omiſſæ pompæ perſecutionem. Quaſi verò inde à Conſtantini M. tempore tanta Eccleſiam perſecutio preſſerit,ut convenientem Euchariſtiæ ſplendorem tueri & conſervare non potuerit. Apageſis ineptias.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Solennis circumgeſtatio euchariſtiæ nititur laudabili & univerſali eccleſiæ ritu ac conſuetudine. Eſt argumentum Concilii. Reſp. 1. Conſuetudo

ſine

sine veritate, & contra divinam institutionem inducta error est. Et vetamur quisque facere, quod rectum videtur in oculis nostris, jubemúrque facere, quod Deus præcipit. 2. Neque nititur circumgestatio illa consuetudine ecclesiæ vel Christi vel Apostolicæ, vel primitivæ purioris, judice ipsa Synodo, quæ morem hunc non in ecclesia natum, sed in eam inductum fatetur. Scio admodum mos ille invaluit in ecclesia non Orientali, cui incognitus planè est, sed Occidentali Romana, post Seculum demum decimum quartum. Nam in Urbani IV. Bulla, quâ Festum corporis Christi sancitur, ejus nulla mentio. Quin & Theodoricus à Nyem, qui pluribus Pontificibus à Secretis fuit, auctor est, Benedictum XIII. anno circiter 1480. cùm vitæ suæ incolumitati consuleret, hostiam primùm ante se gestare jussisse, quæ ei satellitii loco esset.

Excip. Reding: In Ecclesiæ potestate est determinare ritus Eucharistiæ accidentales. Ib. pag. 349. 350. Resp. Non de authoritate Ecclesiæ, sed de antiquitate ritus illius quæritur. Non audes hic propiùs congredi. Antiquitatem ubique crepatis. Hic verò ne quidem mutire sustines. Potuit Ecclesia Pompa isthac per quatuordecim Secula integra carere semper, quia Ecclesia ritus inutiles, vanos & institutioni Divinæ contrarios nunquam sancire potest.

OBIECT. II. Olim Arca Jehovæ in solenni processione circumgestata fuit, sive id Deus mandâsset, sive non, uti liquet ex Jos. VI. 2. Sam. I. VII. 1. Reg. VIII. Quidni etiam præter Dei mandatum eucharistia circumgestari posit? Resp. 1. Generalis verbi divini regula est, voluntarium cultum, mandato divino non innixum, superstitiosum esse. 2. Arcæ circumgestatio mandato Dei minimè destituta fuit. Nam Jos. VI. 4. distertum mandatum extat. Nec sine verbo Dei David & Solomon arcam Hierosolymas deportari curârunt. Uterque enim Spiritu Prophetico præditus fuit, & ne in minimis quidem Oraculum Dei consulere omisit. Uterque etiam noverat, Hierosolymam divinitus electam esse, ut arca fœderis ibi collocaretur, Deut. XII. v. 5. Psal. CXXXII. 13. Et Davidem in deportanda arca consilio etiam Dei usum esse liquet ex 1. Paralip. XIII. 1. Solomon quoque de structura Templi mandatum Dei distertum habuit, in quo deportatio arcæ comprehensa fuit. 3. Dispar etiam ratio est circumgestationis arcæ & eucharistiæ. Arcæ enim usus licitus, & divino mandato comprobatus fuit, ut deportaretur. At eucharistiæ usus à Christo institutus est, non ut circumgestetur, sed ut manducetur ac bibatur.

Excip. Reding: 1. Saul 1. Sam. XIV. 18. sine speciali præcepto arcam applicari jussit. Et tamen eo ipso tempore Philistæi prostrati sunt. Ita præsente arca in castris Joabvictoriam ex Ammonitis reportasse 2. Sam. XI. 11. legitur. 2. Etiam Ecclesia habet assistentiam tiam Spiritus S. Quod igitur facit, non ſine voluntate & mandato Dei facit. Ib. pag. 350.351. Reſp. 1. Quid te factum Saulis à Deo jam rejecti & religionem, perinde uti vos ſoletis, ſimulantis, adjuvat? Et tamen factum dubium eſt. Neque enim deportaſſe arcam in caſtra dicitur. Nam verba ejus ad Ahiam, הגישה ארון applica arcam, non deportationem ejus notant, ſed potiùs amandationem Ahiami ad arcam, quæ eo tempore cum filiis Iſraël fuiſſe dicitur, ut ibi Deum conſuleret, quid facto opus ſit in Philiſtæis perſequendis. Ita qui conſulunt alios, ad eos eunt; non conſulendos ad ſe accerſunt. Ita 2. Sam. XI. 11. Urias arcam dicit eſſe ſub tentorio, hoc eſt, non in domo quapiam fixa aut lapidea, ſed in tentorio penè tumultuario, quod David in civitate ſua tetenderat. Deportatam eſſe in caſtra nuſpiam dicitur. Et tamen nihil arcæ deportatio ad hoſtiæ circumgeſtationem facit, quia illa Iſraëlitis fuit ſymbolum præſentiæ Divinæ; hæc idolum, ad adorationem propoſitum: illa circumgeſtari Templo nondum extructo, utpote certo loco non deſtinata potuit; hæc utpote ad uſum, non ad pompoſam oſtentationem inſtituta, manducationem & potum exigit. 2. Aſſiſtens Eccleſiæ veræ ſpiritus eandem verbo & inſtitutioni Divinæ ſubjicit, non ab eo ſeducit & abſtrahit.

OBIECTIONES reliquæ incidunt in eas, quas pro aſſervatione euchariſtiæ, Feſto corporis Chriſti, & adoratione Euchariſtiæ allegant.

QUÆSTIO VI.

An ſingulis annis die ſolenni & Feſtivo, Sacramentum Euchariſtiæ, ſeu corporis Chriſti, neceſſitate ſub anathemate obligante, ſit celebrandum?

AFfirmat Caput V. & Canon VI. Urbanus quartus Papa Romanus anno 1264. Feſtum corporis Chriſti anniverſarium, incidens in feriam quintam proximam poſt octavam Pentecoſtes, inſtituit, ſecutus revelationem Leodienſis cujusdam mulieris, quæ ante Pontificatum ipſi familiaris, ac propterea in monaſterium recluſa fuit, uti narrant Boſtius & Petrus Præmonſtratenſis apud Balæum Centur. 4. cap. 28. Onuphrius tamen Panvinius, quem puduit tam nobilis feſti à tam ignobili & pudendo principio exorti, in vita Urbani IV. aliam pandit inſtituti hujus Feſti occaſionem, miraculum videlicet, quod ſacrificulo de panis & vini tranſſubſtantiatione dubitanti contigerit. Nempe ex hoſtia, quam manibus tenebat, vivum ſanguinem manare cœpiſſe, & totam mappam, quam corporale vocant, tinxiſſe. Sed de occaſione quicquid fiat, certè Urbanus banus IV. epiſtolam ſcripſit ad Evam illam, datam apud urbem Veterem Sexto Id. Sept. cujus initium: Scimus, ô filia, quòd magno deſiderio deſideravit anima tua, ut ſolenne feſtum corporis Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti inſtitueretur in Eccleſia Dei, à Chriſti fidelibus perpetuis temporibus celebrandum Mox ſequuntur blaſphema verba, quæ Virginis Canticum, & ad hancce mulierculam, & ad recens hoc officium deflectunt: Magnificet igitur anima tua Dominum, & exultet ſpiritus tuus in Deo ſalutari tuo, quia viderunt oculi tui ſalutare tuum, quod paravimus (ita Pontifex de ſe) ante faciem omnium populorum. Simul Evæ huic transmiſit quaternum, in quo totum Feſti hujus officium contineatur, à Thoma Aquinate, qui & novæ hujus doctrinæ patronus celebratur, & columbam argenteam iccirco à Pontifice accepit (unde columba illi ad humerum dextrum appingi ſolet) compoſitum, uti videre eſt apud Platinam in vita Urbani IV. & Nauclerum Volum. 11. generat. 43. Ac poſtea Bullam de eo confecit, per univerſum orbem Chriſtianum dirigendam, quam exhibet Hoſpinianus Hiſtor. Sacram. lib. IV. pag. 283. Nihilominus, uti habetur in gloſſa Decretalium Extra de reliq. & Venerat. Sanctorum, conſtitutio illa tanquam novitas à multis ſpreta fuit, per quinquaginta ſex videlicet annos, uſque ad 2. annum Johannis XXI. qui Clementinas publicavit, poſt mutationem quatuordecim Pontificum, qui ipſum inter & Urbanum IV. interceſſerunt. Et ſic ferè, inquit, mille trecentis annis eccleſia his caruit, donec in Concilio Viennenſi Clemens V. ſanxiſſet, ut ab omnibus obſervaretur. Anno verò circiter 1360. cœptum Papiæ proceſſiones & tabernacula in Feſti hujus celebratione uſurpari. Circa initium Seculi XV. Martinus V. & Eugenius IV. Indulgentias duplo auxerunt. Hoc corporis Chriſti Feſtum ſub Anathemate à Synodo ſancitum, nos impugnamus ſequentibus argumentis.

ARG. I. Nec Chriſti, nec Apoſtolorum auctoritate, nec veteris Eccleſiæ praxi innititur. Non potuit igitur res noviſſima Eccleſiæ ſub Anathematis pœna injungi. Apoſtolus enim Col. II. 16. vetat nos à quoquam judicari ἐν μέρει ἑορτῆς in parte feſti.

Resp. Redino: 1. S. Paulus Col. II. 16. de feſtis V. T. quæ futurorum Chriſti beneficiorum umbræ fuerunt, loquitur. 2. Formalis; hujus Sacramenti ratio reducitur in authoritatem Chriſti, præſentiam corporis ſui in Euchariſtia inſtituentis. Solennitas verò feſtivitatis ſpectata quoad actiones, quibus illa peragitur, materiales, in authoritatem Eccleſiæ. Tomo II. Tract. VI. St. 5. pag. 351. 352. Reſp. 1. S. Paulus Col. II. 16. fideles N. T. vetat judicari ἐν μέρει ἑορτῆς in parte ullius feſti. Excludit ergo feſta quævis, quibus ceu neceſſariis conſcientiæ hominum onerantur. Nam etiam v. 20. mortuos una cum Chriſto elementis mundi, vetat ὡς ζῶντας ἐν κόσμῳ δογματίζειν ceu viventes in mundo dogmatizare, hoc eſt, decretis, anathematis ſimilia injungere. Et ſicut ſtatim v. 21. non tantùm diſcrimen ciborum Judaicum, ſed quodvis religionis cauſa inductum rejicit: ita ita feſta quævis, per quæ homines ſe invicem judicant, rejicit. Vult enim, ut perſtemus in libertate, Gal. V. 1. Denique v. 22. in cultu Dei omnia ἐντάλματα ἀνθρώπων mandata hominum rejicit. Tale eſſe feſtum iſthoc, negari nequit. 2. Præſentiam corporis Chriſti corporalem falsò ſupponis. Solennitas eidem putri fundamento innixa, & ſub anathemate obtruſa conſcientiis in Eccleſiæ non Chriſti, ſed Antichriſti, de quo Dan. XI. 38. 39. prædictum eſt, quòd gloriam Dei Maozim multiplicaturus ſit, authoritatem reducitur.

ARG. II. Neque ullæ omnino ſolidæ rationes impulerunt Eccleſiam ad Feſti hujus inſtitutionem, uti patebit ex iis, quæ inferiùs animadvertemus ad Bullæ & Concilii rationes.

RESP. REDING: Contrarium colligitur ex diplomate Pontificio, in quo prægnantes inſtituti feſti cauſæ allegantur. Ib. pag. 352--354. Reſp. Nos cauſas eas minimè prægnante eſſe, in ſolutione objectionum oſtendimus.

ARG. III. Scatet hoc Feſtum erroribus & abuſibus variis. Nam præter & contra divinam inſtitutionem panis Euchariſticus in eo non diſtribuitur & manducatur, ſed aſſervatus ſeorſim, & ab altero Symbolo ſejunctus circumgeſtatur, theatricè oſtentatur, adoratur, & ad heterogeneos uſus applicatur.

RESP. REDING: 1. Imò verò Pontifex in eodem diplomate conſtituit, ut in hoc feſto fideles Sacramenti participes eſſe poſſint. 2. Reliqua per calumniam dicuntur. Ib. pag. 354. Reſp. 1. Hoſtia, quæ circumgeſtatur, non manducatur, credo, ſed denuo reponitur. Licet etiam Urbanus in diplomate injungat, ut celebrantes feſtum taliter ſe ſtudeant præparare, quòd hujus pretioſiſſimi Sacramenti mereantur fieri participes illa die, poſſintque ipſum ſuſcipere reverenter; tamen hodie quidem communionis gratia illud non celebratur, ſed paucis fortè pro lubitu ſuo communicantibus, theatrica in eo pompa, & circumductio utramque paginam facit. Nempe quæ hodie in eo peraguntur, ne primis quidem feſti authoribus nota fuerunt pleraque. Nam circumgeſtationis mentionem nullam in diplomate Urbanus facit. quæ demum ſub Conſtantienſe Concilium invaleſcere cœpit. Sic Pontificum inſtituta in deterius indies vergere ſolent. 2. Nihil per calumniam à me dictum eſſe, argumenta in loco allata & vindicata probant.

ARG. IV. Abducit Feſtum illud homines à crebriori euchariſtiæ uſu. Perſuadentur enim miſeri, euchariſtiæ uſum maximo cum periculo conjunctum eſſe: at Feſti hujus cultum nullo periculo obnoxium, & magis meritorium eſſe.

RESP. REDING: Contrarium liquet ex diplomate. Interim ſolicitè Eccleſia præcavet, ne niſi probè præparati Euchariſtiam participent. Ib. pag. 354. Reſp. De Urbani diplomate, & mutatione feſti jamjam nos quoque diximus. Ut dignè manducent & bibant fideles, præparationem ipſe S. Paulus 1. Cor. XI. 28. exigit. Et tamen frequentem communionem ib. v. 26. injungit. Vos autem captis ſuperſtitione veſtra animabus perſuadere ſoletis, ſumptionem Euchariſtiæ cum maximo periculo conjunctam eſſe; cultum verò hujus festi sine omni periculo multò magis meritorium esse. Et probè notandum, quòd in Bulla hujus festi tantundem indulgentiarum spectatori, quantum communicanti promittitur.

ARG. V. Accedit, quòd Festum hoc ipsâ eucharistiâ excellentius & efficacius statuunt. Urbanus enim celebrationi ejus largissimas indulgentias & peccatorum remissionem pollicetur. At contra Synodus Eucharistiæ effectum esse remissionem peccatorum negat.

Resp. Reding: Sacramentum Eucharistiæ exigit peccati mortalis præviam remissionem. Atque ea in re excellentia ejus præprimis consistit. Quomodo ergo remedium, quo fit peccatorum remissio, ipsa Eucharistia excellentius est? Annon finis ex rei ipsius natura mediis dignior est? lb. pag. 354. 355. Resp. Salutis humanæ media haud dubiè præstantiora sunt, quæ effectus præstantiores & digniores habent. At festo corporis Christi, quod vos salutis medium finxistis, præstantiorem effectum habet, remissionem scilicet peccatorum mortalium, qua Eucharistia juxta vos destituitur. Ita meriti Christi dignitas à remissionis peccatorum effecto nobilissimo maximopere commendatur. Omitto errores tuos, quòd Eucharistiæ usus peccati mortalis, non venialis remissionem supponat, de quo infra: quódque communio Eucharistica festi corporis Christi finis sit. quod ex moderna saltem praxi falsissimum esse, nórunt omnes. Unum addo, Eucharistiæ dignitatem in eo, quod supponitur, neutiquam consistere.

ARG. VI. Indulgentiæ iis, qui Festum hoc celebrant, promissæ liberalissimæ velificantur potestati Pontificis, & merito Christi multum derogant. Etenim Julianus Pomerius ex Bullis Pontificum ejusmodi colligit indulgentiarum supputationem: Qui, inquit, ipso die Festo interfunt primis vel secundis vesperis, vel Missæ, vel matutino, pro singulis indulgentias 400. dierum. Summa igitur diei Festi assurgit ad 1600. indulgentias infra octavam pro singulis 400. dierum in simul. Summa summarum igitur per festum & totam octavam ejus 4400. dierum indulgentiæ. Qui verò illa die communicant, illis 40. dierum indulgentias largiuntur. Addit Pomerius, eum qui indulgentias eas assequi velit, oportere firmum esse in fide. Cui assertioni hanc notam subjungit Vir doctus: Ja freylich ſo muß er ein Gewiſſen haben/daß ihme ein Wagen mit Heüw dardurch möge fahren / ut videlicet credat sine Dei verbo, tantam Ecclesiæ potestatem competere. Denique nunquam defuerunt in Papatu, quibus hoc festum minùs probaretur. Sanè Urbanus IV. Bullâ ad universos Christianos directâ impetrare non potuit, ut ubique reciperetur. Et circumgestationem in eo post Cusanum & Kranzium improbavit Cassander, uti supra vidimus. Memorabile etiam est, quod Bodius de Trochoregia Comment. in Ep. ad Ephes. VI. 23. 24. sibi à Mornæo Plessiaco narratum recenset, de Henrico III. & IV. Galliarum Regibus. Hi nempe cùm pace inita Cæsaroduni Turonum sub illud corporis Chri-

Et ſi non latuit, promulgata non eſt? Adeò ſegnes fuerunt uncti illi in præſtando officio, adeò immorigeri ſuo Papæ, in re tanti momenti? QUÆSTIO VII.

An omnes Chriſti fideles Sacramento Euchariſtiæ cultum latriæ, aliâs ſoli ſummo Deo debitum, exhibere teneantur?

AFfirmat Synodus Cap. V. & Canone VI. Et Capite quinto quidem definit, Sacramento exhibendum eſſe cultum latriæ; at Canone VI. Chriſtum unigenitum filium Dei in Sacramento cultu latriæ eſſe adorandum. Quæ duo non idem ſonant. Non enim idem eſt, Sacramentum eſſe adorandum, & Chriſtum in Sacramento eſſe adorandum, cùm in Cap. V. Synodus Sacramentum à Chriſto diſtinguat. Aſſerit enim in Sacramento illo cultu latriæ adorando, Chriſtum Dominum ac Deum noſtrum præſentem adeſſe. At in quo quid præſens eſt, non poteſt idem eſſe cum eo, quod in ipſo præſens adeſt. Cùm igitur ſi à Chriſto diſceſſeris, ex adverſariorum hypotheſi non aliud ſit in Euchariſtiæ Sacramento, quàm viſibilia panis & vini accidentia, tam tenui videlicet & levi rei, quâ vix quicquam in omni rerum univerſitate longiùs à Deo diſtat, diviniſſimum illum latriæ cultum, aliâs ſoli Deo debitum, decernunt. Nam quòd Sforza Pallavicinus Hiſt. Conc. Trid. p. 1. lib. 12. Cap. 7. Sect. 6. ad purgandam hanc Synodi orationem affert, Chriſtum in Sacramento eſſe dici, non ut aquam in vaſculo, ſed ut partem in toto, cujus pars eſt, admodum frigidum eſt. Non enim Chriſtus in Sacramento eſſe ſimpliciter, ſed in eo, præſens adeſſe dicitur, quæ verba non partis in toto, ſed contenti in continente, vel locati in loco exiſtentiam denotant. Nos equidem haud abnuimus, quin pani & calici, ſacris Dominici corporis & ſanguinis ſymbolis ſuus honos ſuáque reverentia debeatur, tum ob Authoris Majeſtatem, tum ob rerum, quas obſignant, divinitatem, tum ob ejus, quam in religione habent, ſingularem excellentiam. tur. Deinde neque hoc detrectamus, ut fideles in Sacramenti hujus perceptione Christum totum, in Sacramento quidem significatum, at in cœlo ad dextram Dei residentem, pio mentis & animi affectu adorent. Quod enim religiosè coli omni tempore debet, quidni eo etiam rerum articulo colatur religiosissimè, quo salutis ab eo acceptæ singularis recordatio peragitur? Cæterùm hoc unum contendimus hic, ut diligenter secernantur signa à rebus, quarum signa sunt, enixéque caveatur, ne quod Augustinus lib. 3. de doctr. Christi cap. 5. miserimam servitutem esse pronuntiat, signa pro rebus accipiantur. Signis reverentiam exhibemus, at soli Christo latriam servamus. Quæ tametsi in uno eodémque officio, dum Sacramentum percipimus, simul semélque fiant, non minùs tamen distincta manere debent, quàm in baptismo adultorum adoratio Christi Redemptoris ac Domini, cui illi initiantur, & reverentia erga aquam sanctissimum mysterii symbolum toto cœlo distincta manent. Nos igitur Eucharistiæ Sacramentum latriæ cultu venerandum & adorandum esse negamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Adoratio est actus fidei. Fides nititur mandato & promissione. At Eucharistiæ Sacramenti adoratio nec mandatum, nec promissionem habet. De mandato satis constat ex institutione Sacramenti, in qua mandatum quidem est à Christo, ut acciperent, ederent, biberent, facerent ad recordationem sui; at nusquam ut adorarent panem vel calicem. Id quod accipitur, editur, bibitur, adeóque in ventriculum transmittitur, quo pacto etiam sine præcepto adorari potest? Sanè ipsi Tridentini cap. 5. monent, institutum esse Sacramentum à Domino, ut sumatur. Quod autem ita instituitur, non jubetur adorari. Si utrumque præceptum est, & ut sumeretur, & ut adoraretur, cur non sicut prius, ita etiam posterius à Christo expressum est? Neque etiam promissio aliqua sive in institutione, sive extra illam demonstrari potest.

Resp. Reding: 1. Ubi ergo Christus expressè mandavit reverentiam Sacramenti, quam tu ei deberi concedis? 2. Adoratio formaliter non est actus fidei, sed virtutis religionis, licet supernaturaliter in fide radicetur, & ad fidem spectet. Licet verò omne fidei objectum ex primæ veritatis jure obligationem credendi inducat, non tamen omnis actus fidei quoad exercitium statim subest præcepto. 3. Christus id, quod sub specie panis offerebat, dixit esse corpus suum, nempe qua suppositatum hypostasi Christi, quæ ipsa increata Filii Dei persona est. de qua præcipit Deus Psal. XCVII. 8. Adorent eum omnes Angeli Dei. Absolutè ergo, ultimatè & intransitivè latriam exhibemus Christo, relativè, contomitanter & transitivè speciebus panis & vini. 4. Sicut vos ei quod sumitur, manducatur, reverentiam deberi conceditis: ita præsenti sub speciebus Christo latriæ cultum deberi nos quoque asserimus. Tomo II. Tract. VI. s.5. pag. 360-362. Resp. 1. Etsi expressè reverentiam erga symbola Christus non præcepit, quia tamen benedictione symbola ex communibus Sacra reddidit, & facere jussit, quod ipse fecit, ipse autem actionem nem non profanam, ſed ſacram & myſticam obivit, reverenter habenda eſſe Symbola, implicitè ſaltem ſic innuit & præcepit. S. Paulus quoque 1.Cor.XI.20.--34.actionis totius Euchariſticæ ſanctitatem,quæ reverentiam poſtulat,abundè demonſtravit 2. Adoratio ſine fide nulla eſt. Quomodo enim invocabunt eum, in quem non crediderint? Rom.X.14. Et fides ipſa adoratione exercetur, quia adorans credit, & profitetur, Deum eſſe omniſcium, omnipotentem, ſummum bonum hominis. Ergo revelatione & præcepto Dei æquè deſtitui non poteſt,ac non ipſa fides. Et par ratio actuum fidei ſive elicitorum, ſive imperatorum, quæ fidei ipſius eſt; quia Deus mandatis hominum ſe coli vetuit. 3. Deum eſſe adorandum: Chriſtum eſſe adorandum: Chriſtum eſſe Deum: Chriſtum eſſe adorandum, in ipſa etiam Euchariſtia, corpore licet in Cœlo agentem,ultro profitemur. Sed vel Sacramentum, de quo diſertè Tridentini loquuntur; cultu latriæ ſive abſoluto,& intranſitivo, ſive relativo & tranſitivo adorandum eſſe: vel Chriſtum tanquam contentum ſub ſpeciebus panis & vini, & in illo ſpatio exiſtentem, ubi antea panis & vinum fuerunt, adorandum eſſe; vel adorandum eſſe ſecundum omnem modum præſentiæ ſuæ, id verò negamus. Alias etiam Deo vero, prout eſt in lapide, adoratio latriæ deberetur, & coram quavis creatura procumbere haud nefas eſſet; atque ſic omnes creaturæ adorandæ eſſent. Taceo,quòd præſentiam corporis Chriſti ſupponas, quam ſupra debellavimus. Neque non poſſum tibi prædeceſſoris cujuſpiam tui, Abbatis Einſidlenſis, cui nomen erat Conrado à Rechenberg, apophtegma inculcare. Is enim,uti documenta domeſtica teſtantur, viſitatoribus, ut Miſſam celebraret, monentibus reſpondit: Si verè Chriſtus eſt in hoſtia, indignus ſum,qui illum intuear; indignior, qui Patri offeram. Si non eſt in hoſtia, væ mihi, ſi panem pro Deo populo adorandum proponam. 4. Reverenter haberi ſymbola ſacra etiam ad uſum deſtinata, propter relationem ad religionem,ipſa religio jubet. Ne detis Sanctum canibus,Matth.VII 6. At adorari id, quod comeditur, conſumitur, manducatur, religio omnis abhorret. Adorationis enim objectum,infinita excellentia,paſſionibus ejuſmodi nullatenus ſubjicitur.

ARG. II. Non tantùm mandato Chriſti, ſed etiam exemplo Apoſtolorum in prima cœna caret Sacramenti adoratio. Quòd ſi à Chriſto præceptum intellexiſſent, ut panis & calix flexis genubus adoraretur, quis dubitat,quin mandato obſequentes ſe præbituri fuerint, atque eò magis, quòd panem & calicem non ex manu ſacrificuli,ſed ipſius Domini acceperint? Non adoratam eſſe ab Apoſtolis Euchariſtiam fatetur Bellarminus, & cur id neglexerint,frivolas rationes adducit. Perronius verò ineptè tricatur, Apoſtolos ſedentes adorâſſe Euchariſtiam, quomodo olim ex Numæ inſtituto Romani, & ante eos Græci ſedentes Deos ſuos adoraverint. Nam nec id fecerunt unquam vel Romani vel Græci, nec Apoſtoli ad menſam ſederunt,ſed potiùs more uſitato accubuerunt. Accedit,quòd Paulus 1.Cor.XI.verſ.20.21.22. inſtitutionem Chriſti repetens, adorationis nullo apice meminit, minimè eam, ſi à Chriſto præcepta eſſet, omiſſurus, inprimis cùm eo loco Corinthios, quòd cœnam Domini valde irreverenter celebrarent, arguat, ARG. III. Expreſſa eſt in verbo Dei voluntas, de adorando uno, ſolo, ſummo Deo, Deut. VI. 13. X. 20. Matth. IV. 10. At Sacramentum Euchariſtiæ non eſt unus, ſolus, ſummus Deus. Sive enim Sacramenti ratio formalis ponatur in ſolis ſpeciebus conſecratis, quod faciunt Vasquez, Soto, Altenſteig, Ficinus, alii; ſive in compoſitione ex ſpeciebus & corpore Chriſti, quod placet Suarezio, Bellarmino, Becano; nunquam efficietur, ut totum Sacramentum ſit ſolus, ſummus Deus adorandus. Per Synecdochen verò accipere Sacramentum pro corpore Chriſti, quod Gabriel Biel meditatus eſt, non inſolens tantùm, ſed etiam paucis inter Pontificios acceptum, & Tridentino Concilio, uti oſtendimus, adverſum eſt.

RESP. REDING: 1. Sic ſolum Deum adorandum Scriptura proponit, ut ſub eo præcepto etiam contineatur Chriſtus qua Redemptor, adeóque qua homo ſecundum naturam humanam, ratione hypoſtaſis increatæ & Deitatis perſonaliter unitæ cultu latreutico adorandus. Cùm igitur in Euchariſtia ſit corpus Chriſti, qua terminatum Divina hypoſtaſi, ibi etiam Chriſtus qua homo cultu latreutico adorandus eſt. 2. In Euchariſtia ſpecies adorantur, non per ſe, ſed qua conjunctæ cum corpore Chriſti, Verbo Divino hypoſtaticè unito: humanitas, ſeu Corpus Chriſti realiter in Sacramento ſubſiſtens, adorationem in Chriſtum directam terminat, ſed ejus motivum non eſt: denique Divinitas ſola in eadem Euchariſtia ſubſiſtens eſt id, quod per ſe primò adorabile eſt per modum objecti formaliter moti- vi & ſpecificativi latreuticæ adorationis. 3. Sententiarum quædam apud Doctores de Euchariſtiæ ratione formali diverſitas, non realem differentiam, ſed diverſos tantùm loquendi modos continet. Ib. p. 363-366 Reſp. Sic pharmaca conquiris, quæ non tollunt idololatriam, ſed ejus ſenſum ſopiunt. Fruſtra verò. Etenim 1. cùm Mediator non ſit nomen naturæ, ſed perſonæ, & in perſona ſit ὁ λόγος, Deus, qui in unitatem perſonæ carnem aſſumpſit, adeóque Deus in carne manifeſtatus 1. Tim. III. 16. qui Mediatorem, & qua Mediatorem adoratis non adorat hominem, ſed Deum. Nam cujusvis hominis, qua talis, adoratio eſt adoratio creaturæ præter creatorem, adeóque vera idololatria, Rom. I. 25. Diſparatio eſt Sacramenti Euchariſtiæ, in quo externa accidentia panis & vini, quæ juxta vos ſola remanent, ut aliquid vel eſſentialiter, vel hypoſtaticè unum cum Chriſto, apprehendi nequeunt. Et licet ſic apprehenderentur, tamen vos objectum adorationis terminans ſtatuitis Sacramentum, qua Sacramentum. Atqui Sacramentum, ſive qua elementum, ſive qua Sacramentum eſt in creaturis; vel ex ordine naturæ; vel ex conſecratione gratiæ. Cùm igitur Sacramentum Deus non ſit, & non Deo deferre latriam ſit idololatria compertiſſima, in promptu eſt, quid ſit hac de re pronunciandum. 2. Cùm ſpecies Euchariſticæ à ſubjecto ſeparatæ nihil ſint, & humanitas Chriſti qua talis, unita licet hypoſtaticè verbo, ſit mera creatura; qui ſpecies ſive per ſe, ſive propter aliud adorat, is idolum fictitium, non Entia Deificata adorat &c., qui humanitatem Chriſti, ſive ut motivum, ſive ut objectum terminans adorationis adorat, ab idololatriæ crimine abſolvi nequit. 3. Neque hic ſententiarum inter Doctores veſtros divortia moramur. Eſto enim, diſſenſus ſit non in re, ſed in modis loquendi (nihil tamen minus eſſe, partium diſſidentium, & rationem, quibus illi utuntur, contendentium conflictus oſtendit) conſentiunt tamen omnes, Sacramentum adorandum eſſe. Nam Gabrielem Biel, Sacramentum per Synecdochen appellantem corpus Chriſti, ſeclusis ſpeciebus, omnes hodie Pontificii improbant. Propriè autem Sacramentum à re, cujus Sacramentum eſt, diſtinguitur: quomodo aqua benedicta Sacramentum regenerationis, non eſt ipſa generatio. Et ut ſignificet ſignum cum re ſignata unitum, uti Suarez, aliique contendunt, neque ſignum, utpote creatura adorationis objectum eſſe poteſt: neque ſigno illi ita unitus eſt Chriſtus, ut ejus corpus & ſanguis ſigno ἀδιαιρέτως conjunctum ſit. Quocunque igitur vos vertatis, Sacramentum adorantes, verum, Summum, ſolum Deum non adoratis.

ARG. IV. Res ſummi criminis eſt, aliter adorare Deum, quàm is in verbo ſuo præceperit. Hoc autem faciunt, qui adorationem dirigunt ad locum vel creaturam, ad quam dirigi Deus non juſſit. Etenim ſolum mandatum Dei fuit cauſa, cur in V. T. rectè adoraretur in arca propitiatorii, idololatricè ab iis, qui eundem Deum Hieroſolymis adoratum profitebantur ſe adorare apud vitulos aureos in Dan & Bethel, in templo Samaritano, & omnibus celſis. Si idololatria fuit, adorare quaſi Deum cum fictione habitationis typicæ, ſive in figura, quam Deus non delegerat in figuram: quid non erit adorare quaſi Deum, aut quaſi Chriſtum cum fictione habitationis in re aut loco terreſtri, quando venit veritas?

Resp. Reding: 1. Expressum utique mandatum est, ut ubicunque cernitur Deus esse, ibi adoretur. At in Eucharistia est Deus. 2. An par ratio vitulorum aureorum, Templi Samaritani? An de iis etiam dictum est, quòd ibi sit corpus & sanguis Domini, sicut de Eucharistia Christus pronuntiavit? Apertam hæc hæresin & blasphemiam spirant. Ib. pag. 366 377. Resp. Si mandatum Dei de adorando Deo, ubicunque est, restringis ad adorationem Dei & rei, apud quam Deus est; vel ad adorationem Dei coram illa re, in qua Deus est; uti omnino debes, siquidem hypothesi tuæ de adorando Sacramento, quia in eo Deus est, inservire vis, bellè sanè idololatriæ omnis fundamenta jecisti. An non enim ubique præsens Deus est? An non in Sole, Luna, lapide, allio, cœpis? Te igitur duce tenebuntur Christiani omnes coram Sole, Luna, lapide, allio, cœpis quibusvis procumbere, & adoratione ad easdem, sicut ad Sacramentum vos soletis, directa, Deum adorare. Sic idololatras omnes Chaldæos, Ægyptios, Indos &c. purgasti probè. Aliud ergo est, adorare Deum, ubi est: aliud adorationem dirigere ad locum, vel creaturam, ad quam Deus dirigere non jussit. 2. Jeroboamus in vitulis suis eundem Deum, quem Israëlitæ Hierosolymis, coluit: cum scilicet, qui populum ex Ægypto eduxit, 1. Reg. XII. 28. Et tamen Deos alienos & conflatiles fecisse 1. Reg. XIV, 9. accusatur. Quamobrem? Quia verum licet Deum Israëlis in vitulis adorans, sine ejusdem præcepto adorationem ad locum & symbola specialia direxit? Non ovum ovo similius est, quàm vestra Panacei Numinis, & Jeroboamica vitulorum adoratio. Utrobique adoratio, uti prætenditur, veri Numinis, hic Dei simpliciter, ibi Christi corpore & sanguine specialiter præsentis, adeóque quâ veri Numinis, directa est ad locum fictitiæ specialis præsentiæ Dei, ad quam dirigi nuspiam Deus jussit. Manifesta igitur est non hæc justè vobis objicientium blasphemia, sed vestra cum Jeroboamica paria faciens idololatria.

ARG. V. In Novo Testamento Deus se adorari vult in veritate & Spiritu Joh. IV. 24. In veritate, hoc est, cùm fide ingressus Christi in cœlum, ita, ut quoad habitationem in templo suo, hoc est, in carne, in terris non sit. In spiritu, ita ut Spiritus eam adorationem operetur in nobis. At qui Sacramentum Eucharistiæ adorat, is adorat quasi Christum in fictione præsentiæ terrestris, non in veritate; in eo, quod manus, & vox, & intentio Sacerdotis effecit: non in Spiritu.

Resp. Reding: 1. Deus adorari vult in spiritu & veritate. At quæ lucidior veritas, quàm verborum Christi: Hoc est corpus meum; de Eucharistia diserè affirmantis? 2. Fides ingressus Christi in Cœlum non pugnat cum veritate verborum illorum. Utramque ergo amplecti oportet. 3. Quod fecit Christus, Apostoli quoque, & eorum successores facere tenentur. At quod ipse in Sacramento confecit, fuit corpus ejus. Ergo quod hi in eadem conficiunt, pariter corpus ejus est. Ib. pag. 367. Resp. 1. Conclude. Ergo Deus adorari vult in veritate lucida verborum, Hoc enim est corpus meum. Quid ineptire est, si hoc non est? Quis unquam de veritate verborum Christi dubitavit? De orthodoxo eorum sensu omnis quæstio est, & an præsentia Christi in Eucharistia ipsius Eucharistiæ, seu Sacramenti adorationem postulet? Hoc verò in N. Test. pugnare cum adoratione in veritate, puta Christi, non uti olim, in typica habitatione Sancti Sanctorum, sed in Sanctuario cœlesti, in quod post mortem ingressus est, adorandi, denuo asserо. Et id ipsa verſu Chriſti cum mulliere Samaritana de loco adorationis, & Deo in figura, an in rei veritate adorando conferentis, palam præ ſe ferunt. Quando enim venit hora illa, qua non ampliùs ad hunc locum, hanc vel illam figuram adſtringenda fuit adoratio, ſed omni in loco in ſpiritu & veritate Deus adorandus fuit? Tum videlicet, quando umbra corpori, figura veritati ceſſit, & Chriſtus Cœlum, cujus ἀπαύγασμα ad tempus fuit terreſtre Templum, manu factum ingreſſus, abolitis umbris & typis, ipsóque tandem Templo & cultu Hieroſolymitano deſtructo, non in ullo terreſtri loco vel figura, ſed in Cœlo adorandus fuit. 2. Non igitur veritas verborum Chriſti, ſed adoratio Sacramenti, vel Chriſti in Sacramento, ceu terreſtri figura & ſymbolo, cum veritate ingreſſus Chriſti in Cœlum, ibi poſthac, & nullo terreſtri in loco corpore ſuo præſentis adorandi, pugnat. 3. Sicut Chriſtus Panacæum Numen, ſeu ſpecies Deificatas in Euchariſtiæ celebratione neutiquam fecit: ita multò minùs manus, vox & intentio Sacerdotis, miſelli homuncionis, vel corpus Chriſti, vel Panacæum ejuſmodi Numen conficit. Deus Pater Chriſto corpus adapravit, non homo ullus, Pſal. XL. 7. Hebr. X. 11. Non igitur Spiritus Dei adorationem rei, quam in verbo ſuo Deus objectum adorationis nuſpiam conſtituit, operatur; ſed potiùs ſpiritus deceptoris manu, voce & intentione ſacrificuli uſus.

ARG. VI. Qui adorat Chriſtum, oportet infallibili fide ſtatuat, Deum & Chriſtum eſſe, quem ut Deum & Chriſtum adorat. At Papiſtæ infallibiliter certi eſſe non poſſunt, Chriſtum eſſe, quem adorant. Quippe domeſtica illorum principia ſunt, ut tranſſubſtantiatio fiat, panem eſſe debere triticeum, non corruptum, vinum de uvis maturis expreſſum: pronuntiationem conſecrativam fieri debere nec addendo, nec detrahendo, nec mutando, nec transponendo: Sacerdotem conſecrantem oportere eſſe ritè baptizatum & ordinatum: eundem Sacramentum non aliter conficere, quàm ſi adſit intentio faciendi quod facit Eccleſia. De conditionibus autem iſtis in alterutram partem quotusquiſque πληροφορητικῶς certus eſſe poteſt? Produnt anceps periculum diſputationes Pontificiorum, quorum proinde multi ad adorationem requirunt conditionem expreſſam vel implicitam; Adoro te, ſi Deus es.

RESP. REDING: 1. Quod Chriſtus diſertis verbis edixit, infallibili fide ſtatuendum. At hoc eſſe corpus ſuum, diſertis verbis edixit. Fallaciæ verò humanæ Divinæ & inconcuſſæ veritati verborum Chriſti præjudicare nequeunt. 2. Si proin fallacia quædam ex materiæ, formæ, vel miniſtri parte contingat, per quam non ſubſiſtat conſecratio valida, tunc intentio adorantis per fidem directa ad Euchariſtiam, ſeu Chriſtum, qua in Euchariſtia contentum, ſuper fallaces eas ſpecies formaliter non cadit. Neque ullum hic idololatriæ periculum, etiamſi abſolutè abſque ulla conditione adorentur ſpecies ſolùm putativè, & non verè conſecratæ, quia ubi habita fuit moralis circa conſecrationis veritatem diligentia, tunc error ille merè ſpeculativus eſt, nec falſitas in voluntatem influit; ſed iſtius actus poteſt ex vera Chriſti adorabilitate, ceu motivo ſuo formali ſpecificari. Ib. pag. 367. 368. Reſp. 1. Hoc, id eſt, panem benedictum legitimè, diſtributum, & jamjam manducandum: non hanc vel illam hoſtiam, quam legitimè à Sacrificulo hoc vel illo cum recta intentione conſecratam habere requiſita panis Euchariſtici vobis, juxta hypotheſes veſtras, perpetim tim dubitandum est, esse corpus Christi, ipsemet Christus dixit. Illud igitur nobis, non hoc vobis jura hypotheses vestras infallibili fide recipiendum est. Neque omnino fallax humanæ Divinæ & inconcussæ veritati verborum Christi, at opinioni tamen & hypothesibus vestris, quibus veritatem Eucharistiæ superstruitis, præjudicant. 2. Quomodo intentio adorantis super species fallatur non eadit, cum non simpliciter Christum, sed Sacramentum Eucharistiæ objectum constituatis? Quidam Arabanani locus relinquitur, inquiunt Sess. XIII 5. Tridentini, quin omnes Christi fideles pro more in Ecclesia recepto latriæ cultum, qui vero Deo debetur, huic Sanctissimo Sacramento in veneratione exhibeant. Tapperus: Certa fide tenendum est, Sacram Eucharistiam sanctè à nobis adorandam sive in Missa, sive extra Missam, ubicunque reposita fuerit. Quando igitur, verè Eucharistia sit nec ne, dubitandum vobis est, an cum Eucharistiam latriæ cultu adoratis? Etenim adoratio certam fidem & exactissimam requirit, id, quod adoratur, esse id ipsum, quod adorare volumus, Rom. XIV. 23. Hebr. XI. 6. ne dicatur nobis, quod Samaritanæ dixit Christus Joh. IV. 22. Vos adoratis, quod nescitis. Videre, ita Bonaventura 3. Sent. dist. 24. Artic. 1. q. 1. ter. 3. dicit, nihil adorandum esse pro certo, nisi de quo habeatur certa cognitio. Cumque non tantum aneipites perpetuo hærere debeatis, an vera Eucharistia sit, nec ne; sed quandoque etiam sive ex proposito confidentis, sive aliena vi intervenire fallacia possit, tum certè Eucharistiam non adoratis, sed alia omnia. Neque sufficit hic moralis diligentia, vel humana certitudo quo pharisaco idololatriæ vestræ, fœsum spirare amatis, juxta viam illam adulteræ Prov. XX. 2 *). omnium, & irrogenia ex sunt, & dicendi: Non sum sicut cæteri hujus latrones. Etenim tum demum moralis diligentia, & humana certitudo sufficit, cum nihil potest esse in re ipsa peccati. veluti si quis à me elemosynam auferat, præterea ipse, se Evangelii causa ad inopiam redactum; vel cum quis fingens sese pastorem verbi, à me honoretur. Etsi enim impostoram pati durum est, reapse tamen nihil peccò, cùm cuicunque egeno de meo largior, vel cuicunque homini civilem honorem exhibeo. Sed cùm impostura aliena impulsus facio contra legem Dei, tum verò non peccari nego. Humanam certitudinem habebant Johannes, cùm adoraret Angelum; Cornelius, cùm Petrum. Et tamen uterque reprehenditur. Cur non reprehendatur, qui humanæ certitudinis præcæcatu non Angelum, non Petrum, sed panem adorat? Frustra igitur errorem eum merè speculativum appellas, ejusque fallitatem in voluntatem influere negas. Sic enim omnes idololatræ, qui mente occecati verum Deum ignorant, & tamen verum, non falsum Numen adorare intendunt, volúntque, idololatriæ crimine exsolverentur facile. Exsolvetur Rex ille Babylonius, qui credebat, Belum esse Deum verum, eumque adorando verum Deum adorare intendebat. Si scivisset, non esse Deum, non colusisset. Fraude enim detecta colere desiit, & in demolitionem consensit, si vera est narratio. Neque proin credam ego, fallitatem nullam in voluntatem influere tum, cùm adoramus id, quod adorabile sit nec ne, nobis pro certo non constat. Sed audi insuper Canonem Præter hæc autem, Dist. 22. ex Urbano II. ubi sic ille: Agentibus, vel suscipientibus hæc eadem Sacramenta contra præfatorum Pontificum institutia: eis, inquam, agentibus vel suscipientibus in tantum obsunt, ut verè idololatræ sint. Audi Sanctesium Repetit. IV. 12. sic scribentem: Oportet prius esse corpus Domini, atque ejus Sacramentum, quam caplatur, ne ex delata ante usum adoratione idololatria admittatur. Audi: Oporter prius esse, non putari. Denique quem latent disputationes vestræ, positne hoc Sacramentum absolutè, an sub conditione, si felicet rite sit confectum, adorari? Quæ, quàm lubrico loco sit cultus vester Eucharisticus, abunde commonstrant.

ſtrant. Bonaventura 3. Sent. diſt. 24. art. 1. q. 1. ſic ſcribit : Omnis fidelis rectè adorans hoſtiam conſecratam adoratſub ea conditione, ſi perfecta ſunt circa ipſam ea, quæ ad conſecrationem ſunt neceſſaria ſecundum inſtitutionem Divinam. Similiter Alenſis 3. part. q. 30. membro 3. art. 1. Sect. 3. conditionem tacitam vel expreſſam requirit. Contra Suarez in 3. p. Thomæ quæſt. 79. pertendit, per ſe loquendo, ac ſecluſis ſpecialibus circumſtantiis per accidens occurrentibus, abſolutè adorandum eſſe hoc Sacramentum, nullo in actu appoſita conditione. Citat Thomam, Richardum, Gabrielem Biel, Marſilium, alios.

ARG. VII. Adoratio implicat abſurdum dogma de Tranſſubſtantiatione, & Subſtantiali præſentia corporis Chriſti, quod utrumque cùm jam ſuperiùs expugnatum à nobis ſit, jam adoratio ipſa etiam ruat neceſſum eſt.

RESP. REDING : Temeratæ Orthodoxiæ, hic in articulis reum ſupra te peregi. Ib. p. 368. Reſp. Veram Orthodoxiam ab heterodoxia veſtra, & tranſſubſtantiationis illo tragelapho veſtro, in loco ſic vindicavi, ut nullus mihi ampliùs à te, vel apinis & gerris tuismetus ſit.

ARG. VIII. Et quæ illa profanitas eſt, adorare id, quod ſumitur, manducatur, in ſtomachum trajicitur, concoquitur, & vel in ſubſtantiam hominis tranſit, vel egeritur?

RESP. REDING : Etſi Chriſti corpus & ſanguis una cum ſpeciebus Euchariſticis manducetur, & ad ſtomachum trajiciatur, accidentibus tamen deſtructis ita ibi eſſe deſinit, ut nihil de ſubſtantia ſua perdat, ſed unionem tantùm accidentariam cum ſuis ſpeciebus amittat. Ib. pag. 368. Reſp. Satis equidem pudendum eſt, adorare id, quod manducatur, & in ſtomachum trajicitur, ſive id ibi eſſe deſinat, ſive non. Quid ſic, ô artolatræ, vetat, quò minùs coram ſtomacho cujuſvis manducantis procumbatis, & coram eo adoretis? Saltem juxta legem veſtram, qua jubetis Chriſtum adorare, ubicunque eſt. Sic profectò Judæis, Turcis & gentilibus immane ludibrium debetis. Et quomodo nihil de ſubſtantia ſua, ſaltem quoad unionem partium, perdit, quod dentibus atteri, dilaniari, bonus ille Papa veſter Nicolaus, eúmque ſecutus Alanus, in apologia Berengario præſcripta, docuit? Quomodo nihil de ſubſtantia ſua perdit, quod offertur, ſacrificatur, adeóque deſtruitur? Si in ſtomacho eſſe ſimpliciter deſinit, citra corruptionem ſubſtantiæ, quò ergo poſtmodum vadit? Certè non in Cœlum, quia Cœlum nunquam reliquiſſe, ipſimet fatemini.

ARG. IX. Nunquam vetus Eccleſia perſuaſa fuit, Euchariſtiæ Sacramento hunc cultum competere. Nec in libello Conſtitutionum, quem illi pro antiquiſſimo habent, nec apud Juſtinum, ubi de Euchariſtia mentio, latriæ veſtigium ullum. Tempore verò Tertulliani ne quidem in genua procumbere diebus dominicis integrum fuit. Accedunt argumenta ex tribus prioribus ſeculis evidentiſſima, collecta à Cl. Dalleo de Relig. cultus objecto lib. II. qualia ſunt, quòd nullus eorum ſeculorum auctor adorationis meminerit : quòd Euchariſtia à Vetuſtiſſimis Chriſtianis elevata non ſit, & Seculo demum VI. elevari cœperit, non ut adoraretur à plebe, ſed ut Chriſti in cruce elevationem adumbraret : quòd nolæ pulſandæ

RESP. REDING: Argumentum totum eſt ab authoritate negativa. An quia Joh. I. 14. ubi verbum caro factum dicitur, nullum adorandi verbi carnis facti mandatum occurrit, ideirco adorandum non eſſe, ſequitur? 2. Teſtantur autem S. Patres, in Euchariſtia eſſe Chriſti corpus & ſanguinem. Satis hoc eſt, ut credantur adorationem Chriſti in Euchariſtia agnoviſſe. 3. In omnibus liturgiis veterum habetur formula à Sacerdote ante communionem proferenda talis: Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccata mundi. Ea: Domine, non ſum dignus. In iisdem præſcribitur ceremonia hoſtiæ conſecratæ elevandæ, & ad adorandum populo exhibendæ. 4. Si Chriſtus realiter in Euchariſtia contentus, ibi adorandus eſt, utique ritus illi, quorum apud S. Patres mentionem nullam eſſe contendis, ſine ſuperſtitione retineri poſſunt, quandocunque originem ceperint. Non ſunt enim ſimpliciter de neceſſitate adorationis Euchariſticæ; & ob diverſum temporis ſtatum adhiberi vel omitti poſſunt. 5. Chriſtianis veteribus gentiles artolatriam objicere non potuerunt, quia non panem, ſed carnem Chriſti adorarunt. quod etiam Juſtinus Martyr apol. ad Antoninum Imperatorem ingenuè faſſus eſt. Ib. pag. 369. 370. Reſp. Ponderoſiſſimis argumentis, ex ipſius piæ antiquitatis viſceribus depromptis, nil niſi ægræ mentis ſomnia tua reponis. Hic enim, ſi uſpiam, quàm maximè vobis aqua hæret. Unde ad pleraque argumenta piſce magis mutus es: nonnulla carpere potiùs, quàm ſolidè refellere inſtituis. Etenim 1. authoritas negativa à vobis, antiquitatem ubique crepantibus, non planè ſperni debuit. Quantum enim cauſæ veſtræ præjudicium iſthoc eſt, quòd in omni antiquitate puriore ejus adorationis, in qua prora & puppis religionis veſtræ conſiſtit, nec vola nec veſtigium occurrit? Et tamen argumenta à me allata pleraque non negativa ſunt, ſed poſitivis notionibus evincunt, hoſtiam à veteribus adoratam non eſſe. uti expendenti liquet. 2. Præſentiam Chriſti in Euchariſtia, qualiſcunque ea eſt, Sacramenti ipſius adorationem neutiquam efflagitare, non ſemel jam demonſtravimus. Quomodocunque ergo Chriſtum in Euchariſtia præſentem ſtatuerint, ipſam tamen Euchariſtiam, ipſum Sacramentum, in quo Chriſtum præſentem ſtatuerunt, eos vel adoraſſe, vel adorandum docuiſſe, in æternum probabis nunquam. 3. De liturgiis infra ad Object. VI. agimus. Neque vel adoratio Agni in Sacramento eſt adoratio hoſtiæ: vel elevatio hoſtiæ, non ante Seculum ſextum uſurpari ſolita, cum moderna vel ratione ritus, vel ratione finis convenit. eam, aliquantum ſuper menſa; neque unius cruſtuli, ſed totius diſci, in quo erat videlicet, quicquid panis conſecrati. Atque hoc ipſum tum, cùm invitabatur populus ad communionem, & in eum finem à menſa transferebatur. At vos non tantùm elevatis ſupra caput conficientis, quantum poſſunt intendi brachiorum ejus nervi; ſed etiam unicum duntaxat cruſtulum, ut facilè ſciant omnes non diſtribuendum populo. Nam & ipſe ſolus univerſum conſumit. Neque ſoletis elevare, cùm populus ad communionem admittitur. Non ratione finis, ut adoraretur, qui veſter mos eſt. Nam in elevando nemo veterum adorationis meminit ſive factæ, ſive faciendæ: imò ob communionem, aliòſque fines factam, memorant omnes. Quid verò multis? In Chryſoſtomi liturgia etiam Evangelii elevationem legimus. quod iccirco nec veteres adorarunt, nec hodie Papiſtæ adorant. 4. Præſentia Chriſti in Euchariſtia neque adorationem Sacramenti, neque ritus adorationis Divinitus non approbatos, quales noviſſimi veſtri ſunt, puta circumgeſtatio Sacramenti, cerei accenſi, flores ſoluti, icones Euchariſtiæ, feſtum &c. exigit. quod vel ipſa rituum horum, qui cultus Euchariſtiæ utramque paginam faciunt, novitas teſtatur. Neque tu hiſcere contra novitatem eam vobis objectam auſus es. 5. Veteres in Sacramento adoraruntcarnem Chriſti, hoc eſt Chriſtum cœleſtem cibum in Sacramento oblatum. Vos ipſum Sacramentum. ARG. X. Denique etiam Caſſander in Conſult. de adorat. Euchariſt. negat, adorationem referendam eſſe tam ad ſignum, quod exteriùs videtur, quàm ad rem & veritatem, quæ interiùs creditur. Et quomodo Sacramentum adorandum ſit, formaliter an materialiter, ipſi inter ſe Cadmæi fratres diſputant.

RESP. OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. In Euchariſtia eſt præſens idem ille Deus, quem Pater æternus introducens in orbem terrarum, dixit: Adorent eum omnes Angeli, Heb. I. 6. Pſal. XCVII. 8. quem Magi procidentes adoraverunt, Matth. II. quem in Galilæa ab Apoſtolis adoratum teſtatur ſcriptura Luc. XXIV. Ergo Sacramento Euchariſtiæ cultus latriæ debetur. Eſt argumentum Concilii Cap. 5. Reſp. 1. Chriſtum Dominum noſtrum in Euchariſtia & præſentem adeſſe, & adorandum eſſe, ultro concedimus. At inde ipſum ſacramentum, in quo Chriſtus præſens adeſt, adeóque à Chriſto diſtinctum, adorandum eſſe, minimè ſequitur. Deus etiam ſuam præſentiam Abrahamo teſtabatur ad quercum Mamreh, & Iſraelitis apud arcam fœderis, & columnam nubis & ignis. Rectè inde concluſeris, Chriſtum adorandum eſſe in baptiſmo: Deum adorari debuiſſe apud quercum Mamreh ab Abrahamo, apud arcam fœderis, columnam nubis & ignis ab Iſraëlitis. At ſymbola illa, aquam baptiſmi, quercum Mamreh, arcam fœderis, columnam nubis & ignis propterea adorandam fuiſſe, nemo ſanus inde concluſerit. 2. Si propter præſentiam Chriſti euchariſtia ipſa, ſeu Symbola præſentiæ adoranda ſunt, cur Chriſtus in euchariſtiæ inſtitutione ejuſmodi cultum non mandavit, Apoſtoli ſymbolis non exhibuerunt? 3. Chriſtus cùm ſymbolis benedictis conjungitur unione non hypoſtatica ſeu perſonali, ſed paraſtatica & ſacramentali. Non igitur ſicut totus Chriſtus Mediator adorandus, ita totum Sacramentum ex Chriſto & ſymbolis conſtans. 4. Denique neque Chriſtum in Euchariſtia præſentem eſſe ſubſtantialiter & corporaliter, evidentibus à nobis argumentis ſuperiùs demonſtratum eſt.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si Chriſtus in Euchariſtia præſens adeſt, & adorandus eſt, tali modo ibi præſens adorari debet, quo ex veritate verborum Chriſti ibi præſens eſſe creditur. At ex verbis Chriſti habemus, Hoc, quod eſt Euchariſtia, eſſe corpus & ſanguinem Chriſti. Certè caro Chriſti eſt cibus, non alius quàm Euchariſticus. 2. Non igitur in Euchariſtia eſt adorandus, ut in Baptiſmo, ſed uti verbi Divini hypoſtaſis in Chriſto homine; tanquam intrinſecum perſonæ Chriſti conſtitutivum. Sicut igitur totus Chriſtus, & propter hypoſtaſin verbi ſibi unitam humanitas, ita tota Euchariſtia adoranda eſt. 3. Licet id, quod meri ſymboli in Euchariſtia rationem habet, non debeat adorari latria abſoluta, quia tamen Sacramentum conflat non ſolo ſymbolo, ſed ipſo corpore & ſanguine Chriſti, cum Deitate hypoſtaticè unito, Sacramentum totum latreuticè colendum eſſe ſequitur. Ib. pag 371. quomodo nunc Hoc tibi notat Euchariſtiam, & Euchariſtia dicitur eſſe corpus & ſanguis Chriſti; cùm alibi vobis Hoc non notet niſi ens quoddam vagum; & corpus ac ſanguis Chriſti ſit in Euchariſtia, ſeu Sacramento, veluti ſigno; non ipſum Sacramentum, ſaltem adæquatè. Neque tu efficies unquam, ut ſi in Euchariſtia adoratur Chriſtus, ipſa Euchariſtia adoranda ſit. non magis, quàm ut adoretur Templum, ſi in Templo adoratur Deus. 2. Sed & falſiſſimè ſupponis, eodem modo totum Sacramentum, hoc eſt, Chriſtum una cum ſpeciebus adorandum eſſe, quo Chriſtus θεάνθρωπος Deus & homo adoratur. Neque enim panis, nedum ſpecies panis, quæ ſine ſubjecto ſuo nihil ſunt, & Chriſtus unum ſuppoſitum efficiunt. Alias, ſicut caro Chriſti, ita accidentia panis in λόγῳ ſubſiſterent. Atqui ſubſiſtentia omnis ſubſtantiarum, non accidentium eſt. Sed ſunto Chriſtus & ſpecies unum ſuppoſitum. Sicut igitur Chriſtus Deus & homo, propter unionem hypoſtaticam, ſed non humanitas Chriſti adoratur: ita Chriſtus ſpeciebus præſens, at non ipſæ ſpecies, quæ à nihilo parum vel nihil abſunt, adorari deberent. Dic inſuper, Redingi, annon Divinitas & perſona Jeſu Chriſti, formale & maximè propriè dictum adorationis motivum, æqualiter in Baptiſmo & Euchariſtia præſens eſt, quicquid de humanitatis præſentia in Euchariſtia fiat? An propter abſentiam humanitatis in Baptiſmo, non eſt in eo, ceu ſymbolo, adoranda perſona filii: at propter præſentiam humanitatis in Euchariſtia, ut ſymbolo, adoranda eſt perſona filii? Annon ſic proprium adorationis ſubjectum humanitatem, non Divinitatem Chriſti conſtituis? Nam abſente humanitate in ſymbolo non adorabitur Divinitas: at humanitate præſente & ſymbolum & humanitas ipſa adorabitur. Quæ hæc pudenda veſtra idololatria eſt? 3. Symboli & rei, puta Chriſti, cum ſymbolo conjuncti non eadem ratio eſt; quia illud creatura, hæc creator eſt. Non igitur conjunctio ſymboli & Chriſti, ceu rei ſignificatæ, meræ relativa, non phyſica vel hypoſtatica, totius Sacramenti, hoc eſt, & ſymboli & rei ſignificatæ latriam poſtulat. Neque enim illud Bellarmini lib. de imag. cap. 25. axioma: Qui adorat aliquem, adorat ea omnia, quæ ipſi conjuncta ſunt, approbare poſſumus. Alias cum veſtri adorant imaginem Trinitatis, etiam telas aranearum imagini inhærentes & qui adorant Papam, etiam crepidas & femoralia ejus adorare tenerentur.

OBIECT. II. Deus Pſal. XCIX. 5. jubet adorare ſcabellum pedum ſuorum. Hoc Auguſtinus in Pſal. 98. interpretatur de carne Chriſti, quæ ex terra eſt, & manducanda nobis præbetur. Aug. Reding. Differt. Controv. p. 484. Reſp. 1. Eſt argumentum non è Scriptura, ſed ex Auguſtino Latina editione decepto. In Hebræo eſt השתחוו להדום adorate ad ſcabellum, non, adorate ſcabellum. Eadem phraſis Pſal. CXXXII. 7. vertitur à Vulgato: Adorabimus in loco, ubi ſteterunt pedes ejus. Adorare juſſi ſunt in loco, ſed non locum. Ita & nos in euchariſtia adoramus Chriſtum, at non euchariſtiam. 2. Auguſtinus carnem Chriſti docet adorari, etiam priusquam comedatur, propter ſanctum illum, id eſt, Dei verbum, verum Deum, cui perſonaliter unita eſt. Euchariſtiæ ne uno quidem apice meminit. Carnem enim Chriſti manducari etiam extra Euchariſtiam, credidit Auguſtinus cum tota veteri Eccleſia. 3. Quid vetat etiam fidelem in Euchariſtiæ participatione, Chriſti carnem, quam in ea ſacramentaliter manducat, mente in cœlum evecta tametsi absentem adorare? Sanè Augustinus carnem Christi in eucharistia corporaliter præsentem esse non dixit.

EXCIP. REDING : Injuriam facis Augustino. An enim versiones Hebraicam & Latinam discordare, & Augustinum veritatis tenacem non fuisse, præsumere ausis? Et si de arca fœderis textus ille intelligatur, an sic ad arcam Deus adorandus fuit, ut ipsa arca ne relativè quidem & transitivè adorationem terminaverit? Perinde igitur est, scabellum pedum, an ad scabellum pedum adoratum dicatur. Quid quòd Augustinus idem diserè scribit, neminem carnem Christi manducare, nisi priùs adoraverit; & peccare nos non adorando? lib. p.371.372. Resp. Nunquam tu efficies, ut idem sit, adorare scabellum pedum Dei, & adorare ad scabellum pedum Dei. Illud objectum adorationis : hoc loci circumstantiam exprimit. Discordant igitur, quicquid nugeris. Neque qui scabellum pedum adorat, is transitivè adorat, quia adoratio per scabellum pedum non magis transit ad Deum, quàm per aëra & Cœlum. Neque Deus adorationem arcæ nuspiam à se præscriptam acceptasset. Non igitur transire ad Deum, neque Deus eam terminare potuit. Imò te ipso judice arca terminavit adorationem. Quomodo ergo transit? Et species Eucharisticas objectum terminativum adorationis toties nobis decantasti. De Augustino, repero. Nuspiam ille dixit, Eucharistiam adorari, quod nunc disputamus; sed carnem Christi, hoc est, Christum incarnatum, seu Deum in carne manifestatum; & quidem priusquam comedatur, videlicet etiam ante celebrationem Eucharistiæ; & non comedatur à quoquam, nisi adoraverit. quod apud vos magnum mendacium, qui non ab impiis tantùm, sed etiam à canibus hostiam comedi defenditis, qui tamen, opinor, adorarunt nunquam. Brutum nempe comedens Sacramentum verum Christi corpus devorare, ait Josephus Angles, qui flores Scholasticorum collegit. Quòd si mus aut canis, ita Thomas p. III. q. 80. a. 3. loquitur, hostiam consecratam manducet, substantia corporis Christi non desinet ibi esse sub speciebus, quandiu species illæ manent, sicut etiam si projiceretur in lutum.

OBIECT. III. Olim arca adorari debuit ob præsentiam Dei. Quidni igitur hodiéque hostiam ob præsentiam corporis Christi adorari conveniat? Resp. 1. Arcam adorare nuspiam Deus jussit, sed potiùs se apud arcam. Ita adoratum est in templo, sed nunquam adoratum templum. 2. Apud arcam ut adoretur Deus, mandatum ipsemet disertum tulit. At ut vel hostia adoretur; vel Christus apud hostiam specialiter & necessariò adoretur, nuspiam præceptum est.

EXCIP. REDING : Horrenda impietas tua est, cùm contendis, magis Israëlitas obligatos fuisse ad Deum apud arcam adorandum quàm Christianos ad Deum apud hostiam adorandum, cùm in hac sit corpus & sanguis Christi, quæ in illa non fuerunt. lib. pag. 372. 373. Resp. Vel arcam, vel Sacramentum adorari ubi nam jusserit Deus, ostendere debuerat. Hic responsionis meæ nervus, quem ferire non potes. Apud hostiam, vel in Sacramento adorandum esse Christum, sæpe jam concessum. At apud hostiam; ceu imaginem, sic adorandum esse Christum, ut coram hostia, ceu imagine, procumbentes & Christum, & species Eucharisticas specialiter & necessariò adorent, id verò nuspiam mandavit Deus; sicut mandavit disertè, ut conveniant apud arcam, atque inde responsa Dei operiantur, Exod. XXV. 22. Quæ ergo mea impietas est idololatriam vestram convincentis?

OBJECT. IV. *Adoratio & latria abſolutè, ultimatè, intranſitive, directè & formaliter in euchariſtia exhibetur ſoli Chriſto. Ita mulier αἱμορροῦσα piè & religioſè tangendo, adeóque reſpectivè & tranſitivè venerando veſtimentum Chriſti, in ipſum Chriſtum dirigebat intentionem, Matth. IX. 20. Quidni id ipſum quoque fiat ſpeciebus Euchariſtiæ longè arctiùs cùm Chriſti ſubſtantia conjunctis, quàm veſtimentum illud fuerit? Unde etiam P. Martyr Claſſ. 4. L. C. Cap. 10. Sect. 4. Cùm, Bellarmino judice, de eſſentia latriæ ſit, ut aliquid adoretur propter ſe, eò quòd latria ſit ſummus cultus, qui debetur vero Deo, ut principio omnium rerum; ſequitur latriam non eſſe cultum eum, quo aliquid non adoratur propter ſe, ſed propter aliud. Quam igitur tu latriam analogicam appellas, non re, ſed fictitio nomine latria eſt, qualem certè Synodus Tridentina non intellexit; quæ ſimpliciter latriæ, veræ ſcilicet, non nominalis, cultum Sacramento vendicat. Tuas ergo diſtinctionum picturas nihil moramur. Excellentia enim Dei & Chriſti ſub eſſe ſuo reali & repræſentativo ſeu ſymbolico una eadémque ſemper eſt, neque unquam efficit, ut ſymbolum repræſentans ejuſdem excellentiæ, adeóque etiam adorationis particeps reddi poſſit. Alias quot ſymbola, quot typi, quot umbræ Chriſti olim adorari debuiſſent? 3. Stolida eſt, quam adducis comparatio. Fides enim, qua primæ veritati aliquid ſive creatum, ſive increatum revelanti aſſentimur, nunquam in creaturam, de qua aliquid revelatur, ſemper in Deum revelantem, ut primam veritatem, fertur. Sic adoratio nunquam in creaturam, ſemper in creatorem fertur. Excellentiæ Divinæ recognitio per ſymbolum repræſentata ad cognitionem Dei adorandi, non ad ſymboli adorationem refertur. Mitte, quæſo, præſtigias tuas, & in re ſeria ingenuè age. 4. Vulgus veſtrum intentionem adorandi ad Sacramentum dirigere, largior. Sed Sacramentum panis eſt; quicquid illud ſibi imaginetur. Nam ſymbola myſtica, uti Theodoretum loquentem alibi vidimus, naturam ſuam non amittunt. Elementorum uſum mutant, ſubſtantiam retinent. Detracta ergo ſermoni figura, ſimplex ſenſus remanet, ſe nunc operam daturum, ut totum nobis Euchariſtiæ myſterium patefiat. Atque hoc è veſtigio in ultima capitis illius parte facere aggreditur. 2. Neque rectiùs Pſeud-Origenem tuis partibus adjungis. Nam ſimpliciter jubet ille Domino, qui ſub tectum manducantis & bibentis corpus & ſanguinem Domini ingreditur: Domine, non ſum dignus, ut intres ſub tectum meum. Hæccine adoratio, latria Sacramenti Euchariſtici eſt? Ab hoc nos abhorrentes toto pectore, non renuemus tamen ipſi manducantes & bibentes corpus & ſanguinem Domini, dicere: Domine, non ſum dignus, ut intres ſub tectum meum. En tuam illam ἀκλινῆ ἰσχύν! 3. Gregorius Nazianzenus Orat. 11. de Gorgonia Sorore, cùm morbo graviſſimo laboraret, ſcribit: τῷ θυσιαστηρίῳ σὺν πίστει, καὶ τῆς πίστεως, καὶ ἐν ἐπ' αὐτῷ ἡμέρᾳ τιμωμένου ἀνακαλεῖται βοῇ μεγάλῃ &c. Ad altare cum fide procubuit, & eum, qui ſuper eo honoratur, magno clamore invocavit. An verò quod ſuper altari honorari dixit, fuit Sacramentum, vel ſpecies Sacramentales: vel quicquid ſuper altari colitur, id ſuper eo poni neceſſe eſt, vel denique quicquid ſuper altari ponitur, id ſuper eo etiam coli decet? Atqui jam olim Deus ſuper Iſraëlis altari cultus eſt. Et victimas in eodem altari poſitas ſcimus, at à quoquam adoratas eſſe, dixerit nemo. 4. Chryſoſtomi homil. 61. ad Pop. Antioch. verba ſunt: Si pura ſunt veſtimenta, adora & communica. Sed ubi Sacramentum adorare jubet? Quis ambigit, fidelem, priuſquam communicet, adorare debere? Ne dicam, homilias ad populum Antiochenum, inde ab 21. ad 80. uſque non Chryſoſtomi opus, ſed ἀνθίσματα florilegia ab aliquo ejus ſtudioſo excerpta eſſe. In altera homilia 24. in 1. ſam accedendum eſſe mente vigilante, cum timore & tremore, & majori cum reverentia, quàm qua olim Magi ad Chriſtum in præſepi jacentem acceſſerunt. Quidni, cùm mortem Domini, maximum ejus myſterium commemoraturi & celebraturi veniamus? Si corpus illud Sanctiſſimum, ſeu potiùs Chriſtum pro nobis in ara crucis immolatum, adorandum eſſe inde colligunt, nemo id in dubium revocat. Aliud verò quæritur, an id, quod à menſa ſumitur, quódque in viſcera noſtra edendo immittitur, adorandum ſit? De eo Chryſoſtomus nec χὶ, nec μὶ habet.

OBIECT. VI. Perpetua fuit conſuetudo elevandi & oſtendendi Euchariſtiam, cujus mentio eſt apud Dionyſium Areopagitam Hierarch. Eccl. Cap. III. & in Liturgiis tam Græcis, quàm Latinis. Quæ conſuetudo conformis fuit Dei verbo, uti liquet tum ex Pſal. LXXII. 16. ubi firmamentum dicitur futurum in terra in ſummis montium: tum ex ſacrificiis veterum, quæ elevari decuit: tum ex ſerpente æneo, qui figura Chriſti fuit, elevato. Cui verò bono elevata fuit hoſtia, niſi ut adoretur? Reſp. 1. Elevationis finis non eſt adoratio, uti liquet ex ſacrificiis Leviticis, quæ ex Divino mandato elevari debuerunt, at adorari minimè. 2. Euchariſtia à vetuſtiſſimis Chriſtianis in ſacris elevari non conſuevit, uti Juſtini, Cyrilli Hieroſolymitani, & aliorum de ea ſilentium arguit. Sexto demum Seculo apud Græcos elevari cœpit, non ut adoraretur à plebe, ſed ut Chriſti in crucem elevatio, & in cœlum aſcenſio ei adumbraretur: neque eo ritu, qui hodie obtinet. Apud occidentales verò non ante XII. Seculum elevata hoſtia eſt adorationis gratiâ. Demonſtravit poſt alios Cl. Dallæus de Religioſi cultus objecto lib. II. 16. nec non de Cultibus Religioſis lib. III. 20. 21. &c. 3. Dionyſius Areopagita Dithyrambico ſuo dicendi genere ait, Hierarchiam ὡσ' ὅλην ἄγειν τὰ ὑμνημένα, quæ hymno prædicata ſunt, in conſpectu ponere. Loquitur non de pane duntaxat, ſed etiam calice. Ea non elevata dicit, uti etiam fatentur Corderius, Menardus, Goar, alii: ſed per ea in conſpectum data, quæ cecinerat, hoc eſt, illum, ea quæ myſticè dixerat, ſymbolis ipſis exhibitis patefeciſſe. 4. Quoad liturgias, nulla elevationis mentio eſt in iis, quæ tribuuntur Petro, Marco, Clementi. In Jacobi, Baſilii, Chryſoſtomi, quæ memoratur elevatio, diverſa eſt ab hodierna. Et liturgiæ eæ interpolatæ ſunt admodum, uti Andreas Maſius, Baronius, Bellarminus fatentur, ut ſecluſis aliis teſtimoniis de dogmatis alicujus, vel ritûs antiquitate fidem facere nequeant. 5. Ineptiſſimè autem ex divino jure ritus ille arceſſitur. Etenim Pſalm. LXXII. 16. verba ita ſonant: Erit pugillus frumenti in terra, in vertice montium. Nihil ibi de euchariſtia, de qua locum neoterici frivolè interpretantur, ſed de ſumma fertilitate credentium in Eccleſia. Nec poni in vertice montium elevationem neceſſariò notat. Nec ſacrificia ſuper caput Sacerdotis elevabantur. Et ut elevarentur illa, præceptum erat. At ut hoſtia elevetur, minimè. Denique ſerpens elevatus Chriſtum, non euchariſtiam adumbravit.

EXCIP. REDINE: 1. Elevationis finis in ſacrificiis Leviticis erat conſentaneus virtuti religionis. Ergo ea latriæ cultus aliquis erga Deum fuit peractus. Par ratio elevatæ hoſtiæ. 2. Ex Juſtini, Cyrilli &c. ſilentio ductum argumentum, utpote ab authoritate negativa petitum, non ſtringit. 3. Cùm fateare, elevationis mentionem in liturgiis Jacobi, Baſilii, Chryſoſtomi occurrere, qui tam turpiter tui oblitus aſſeris, elevationem demum Seculo ſexto apud Græcos cœpiſſe? Licet autem liturgiæ eæ interpolatæ eſſent, tamen dogmati de corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti veritate, & religioſæ elevationis ritui teſtimonia antiquitatis aſtipulantur. 4. Si ſerpentis ænei elevatio fuit religioſa, cur à religione alienum eſſet, hoſtiam Euchariſticam elevare, exhibere populo, & in eo Chriſtum adorare? Ib. pag. 377. Reſp. Solidis reſponſionibus nil niſi quiſquilias reponis. Etenim 1. Quis unquam elevatas victimas adoravit, vel adorare juſſus eſt? Reſponde categoricè. Licet verò elevatio præcepto poſitivo Dei conſentanea fuerit, nullum tamen latriæ actum poſtulavit. Alias omnes veteres typi, ritus religioſi omnes latriæ cultu proſequendi fuiſſent. 2. Tibi verò, elevationem Eccleſiæ veteri uſurpatam fuiſſe, aſſeveranti probatio incumbit. Neque de nihilo eſt ſilentium Juſtini, Cyrilli, aliorum, qui ritus celebrationis Euchariſtiæ accuratè proſequentes, elevationis nulli meminerunt. 3. De liturgiis Jacobi, Baſilii, Chryſoſtomi faſſus ſanè ſum, quòd in iis elevatio memoretur. At non de Jacobo, Baſilio, Chryſoſtomo. Hæc toto Cœlo differre non ignorares, niſi rerum veterum planè imperitus eſſes. Conſtat enim, liturgias, (ſi quæ veræ ſunt, non ſupoſititiæ, cujuſmodi plures) non eorum authorum eſſe, quibus tribuuntur, ſed earum Eccleſiarum, quibus illæ tribuuntur; & quidem conſignatas eſſe diu poſt eorum, quibus tribuuntur, mortem; & procedente tempore multis acceſſionibus interpolatas. Is enim fuit, uti non malè Maſius veſter Præfat. ad Liturg. Baſilii obſervavit, perpetuò hominum in religione ſenſus, ut intra præſcriptas à Patribus cerimonias quantumvis ſanctiſſimas, ſeſe continere pauci potuerint. Unde pro temporis tractu, ad illas pro vario Antiſtitum pietatis affectu, alia atque alia addita, multa etiam mutata videre eſt; & quod eſt longè majus malum, non paucas etiam ſuperſtitiones eſſe enatas. Excuteſis vitam Baſilii à Gregorio Nazianzeno, vitam Chryſoſtomi. Cùm ſcripta eorum accuratè recenſeant, nuſpiam ab iis de liturgiæ ordine vel compoſito vel reſtituto reperies quicquam. Quod certè ſi feciſſent, non erat tacendum, cùm non fuerit vulgare opus liturgias novas inducere, aut jam receptas immutare. Cúmque non ſint eadem harum liturgiarum, quæ circumferuntur, exemplaria, quibus, ceu verioribus, credemus? Denique non de corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti veritate, non de elevationis ritu, ſed de adoratione Sacramenti diſceptatio noſtra eſt. Hanc S. Patribus teſtatam eſſe, oſtende. Nam & nos verum utique corpus, verum ſanguinem Chriſti in Euchariſtia, ut in ſigno, fidei eodem utentium præſentem eſſe, dubitamus nulli, ideóque in ea Chriſtum totum in gloria ſua regnantem adoramus. 4. Hoſtiam elevare, exhibere populo, à religione alienum non eſt. Sed vel hoſtiam adorare, vel in ea, ceu imagine, adorare Chriſtum, id verò concludimus eſſe idololatriam, qua nulla tetrior excogitari poteſt, & in quam, uti cum Dunelmenſi loquar, cæteræ omnes ſuperſtitiones veſtræ, velut in mare mortuum, ſeſe exonerant.

QUÆSTIO VIII.

An Eucharistia effectus sit remissio peccatorum mortalium, quorum homo communicans conscientiam habet: an verò antidotum tantùm pro peccatis venialibus?

SYnodus Cap. II. Eucharistiam facit antidotum, quo liberemur à culpis quotidianis, & à peccatis mortalibus præservemur. Explicatior mens Patrum, teste Andradio & Bellarmino, est illa, participaturum Eucharistiam oportere esse purum, purgatúmque ab omni peccato morte digno, idque per contritionem, confessionem & satisfactionem Ecclesiasticam. Si quid autem superfit venialis culpæ, in confessione post exactum scrutinium memoriam fugiens, illud demum in Eucharistia remitti. Cæterùm asserit, Eucharistiæ principalem effectum hunc esse, ut eâ, tanquam spirituali cibo, alantur & confortentur mentes vitâ Christi, minimè autem peccatorum remissionem. Nos contra pertendimus, in sacra Domini cœna promissionem remissionis peccatorum iis quidem exhiberi & obsignari, qui ob peccata sua quælibet (nam mortalium & venialium discrimen scripturæ ignorant) in conscientiis tristantur, ea ex vera fide & pœnitentia deprecantur, & Christi justitiam sitiunt ac esuriunt, quippe quibus propriè paratum est hoc pabulum, & robur animæ adversus inediam & morbum peccatorum, ut deinceps in fide & charitate fortiùs ambulent. Synodi sententiam his argumentis impugnamus.

ARG. I. Christus in Eucharistiæ institutione poculum vocat sanguinem Novi Testamenti Matth. XXVI. 28. At Novum Testamentum præcipuam habet promissionem de remissione peccatorum Jerem. XXXI. Hebr. VIII. 10. 12. Quæ remissio ad quotidiana & venialia, in sensu Papistico, peccata restringi minimè potest.

Resp. Reding: Sacramenti virtus, juxta Thomam, dupliciter consideratur, puta vel secundum se, quomodo habet virtutem remittendi peccata ex passione Christi, quæ fons & causa est remissionis peccatorum; vel in ordine ad suscipientem, qui, quandiu conscientiam habet peccati mortalis, percipiendi effectus hujus Sacramenti capax esse nequit; quia nec spiritualiter vivit, nec Christo uniri potest, dum est in affectu peccandi mortaliter. Proin virtus remittendi peccata mortalia ex passionis Christi efficacia

Eucharistiæ competens, in subjectis incapace, quale est habens confidentiam peccati mortalis, operari nequit. Aliud est, si quis in mortalis culpæ statu positus, ejus ne conscientiam, nec affectum habeat. Tale enim attendendo tum attritionis, ex hoc Sacramento gratiam charitatis, quæ ex attrito contritum facit, consequitur. Et quia nullus sic punitur obex, vi meriti Christi etiam mortalium peccatorum remissionem acquirit. Tomo II. Tract. VI. Sect. pag. 378 379. Resp. Non frangis argumenti nostri vim. Si enim Eucharistia est Novi Testamenti Sacramentum, & Novi Testamenti palmaria promissio est remissio peccatorum, uti ex locis citatis constat, utique peccatorum eorum, quorum remissionem Novum Testamentum promittit, sive jam factam, sive faciendam demum obsignat, sine ullo mortalium & venialium peccatorum discrimine. Non distinguit enim promissio. Neque Thomæ distinctio medetur, quia omnis Eucharistiæ efficacia est respectu suscipientis. Eucharistia enim suscepitæ perficitur, adeóque non suscepta ne quidem Eucharistia est. Quæcunque igitur peccatorum remissio exhibetur & obsignatur, illa suscipienti exhibetur & obsignatur. Et requiritur omnino capacitas, seu δεκτικότης suscipientis, quæ licet cum peccati amore & proposito conjuncta nulla sit, tamen cum conscientia peccati cujuslvis vel remissi, vel remittendi, remissionique ejus in Sacramento obsignandæ adeo probè consistit, ut sine ea nulla vera præparatio & aptitudo in suscipiente obtinere possit. Nam præparatio dolorem & luctum ob peccata quævis patrata, veramque in Christo, qui morte sua cuncta fidelium peccata expiavit, fiduciam requirit. Sed erroris vestri σκότος ψυδὸς est, quòd tum Sacramenta caufar, non signacula, gratiæ remissionis statuitis: tum peccata, quorum remissio sine discrimine omnium fidelibus in Sacramentis obsignatur, sine ullo Scripturæ testimonio discerpitis.

ARG. II. Quin ipsa institutio mentionem facit remissionis peccatorum Matth. XXVI. 29. Unde pulcherrimus hic climax formari potest. Calix eucharisticus continet vinum: Vinum exhibet sanguinem Novi Testamenti: Sanguis Novi Testamenti pro multis fusus est in remissionem peccatorum. Ergo bibitio ex calice benedicto applicat, confirmat & obsignat credentibus promissionem de remissione peccatorum.

RESP. REDING: In Eucharistia firmatur promissio remissionis peccatorum, dum per ejus efficaciam augmentum gratiæ sufficientis per modum nutrimenti spiritualis, quæ lethalem culpam sublatam supponit, & unio cum Christo confirmatur. lb. pag. 379. Resp. Non sic climacem meum obtudisti. Insuper neque sufficientis gratiæ augmentum dari, supra probavimus: neque nutritio spiritualis cum obsignatione remissionis peccatorum perfectissimæ, seu factæ ante, seu in legitimo demum Eucharistiæ usu faciendæ, pugnat: neque unio cum Christo demum in Sacramento, remissis scilicet ante illud peccatis, confertur.

ARG. III. Si ab omni peccato mortali purgatus sit oportet, qui ad Domini mensam adspirat, nemo mortalium dignus est, qui adspiret. Nemo enim hominum est, quin conscientiam peccatorum mortalium habeat. Iccirco verò accedimus, ut eorum remissio per sanguinem Christi nobis obsignetur.

RESP.

Resp. Reding: Sic ne quidem per Christi ſanguinem in ſumptione Euchariſtiæ peccatorum remiſſio effectivè obſignabitur. Quo modo enim ſtabit peccatum mortale, ſi ejus remiſſio effectivè ſit obſignata? Ib. pag. 379. Reſp. Aliud eſt macula peccati, aliud reatus. Sublato enim per gratiam remiſſionis reatu, peccatum quoad maculam, fomitem in primis ſuum, exiſtere licet non dominetur fideli, ſed quotidie per gratiam Spiritus S. infringatur & mortificetur, ſupra demonſtravimus. Poteſt igitur & peccati mortalis conſcientia, & ſive ante Euchariſtiæ uſum, ſive in eo remiſſi ejuſdem obſignatio ſimul conſiſtere. Imò neceſſariò ſimul conſiſtere debent, quia Euchariſtia convivium eſt non Angelorum, ſed hominum peccatorum pœnitentium.

ARG. IV. In omnibus Veterum liturgiis extant precationes, ut ſumptio Euchariſtiæ fiat in remiſſionem omnium peccatorum.

Resp. Reding: Liturgiæ illæ eò collimant, ut peccatorum remiſſione in Sacramento Pœnitentiæ jam percepta, acquiratur depuratio à culpis etiam venialibus; & ut ex indigna Sacramenti perceptione, in ſtatu adeò peccati mortalis contracta, non tantùm novus reatus non contrahatur, ſed caſu, quo peccatum quodpiam mortale conſcientiam ſubterfugeret, eorde per attritionem ſaltem præparato, Sacramentum remiſſionem peccatorum efficeret. Ib. pag. 379. Reſp. Peccatorum quorumlibet remiſſionem vera in Chriſtum fide priùs perceptam, in Sacramento Euchariſtiæ, ad certitudinis majoris fidelium animis infigendæ gratia, obſignari Chriſtus voluit. Nulla igitur hic peccatorum differentia locum habet. Cætera falſis hypotheſibus de peccatis venialibus à mortalibus diſtinctis, his remanentibus poſt remiſſionem peccatorum mortalium, efficacia attritionis, & phyſica Sacramentorum efficientia innituntur. quas Eccleſiis illis, quarum liturgias indigetavi, notas probatàſque fuiſſe, probare, non ſupponere debueras. Soletis ita veteribus veſtra deliria pro lubitu imputare.

ARG. V. Definitio hæc Synodica non tantùm nititur falſa hypotheſi de merito contritionis, ſatisfactionibus humanis, perfectione juſtitiæ, peccatis venialibus; ſed etiam tota comparata eſt ad eripiendam in tentationibus conſolationem, fovendam dubitationem de juſtificatione, diffidentiam & deſperationem, denique contemptum auguſtiſſimi Euchariſtiæ Sacramenti.

Resp. Reding: 1. Quomodo definitio id unum præcavens, ne indigna Sacramenti ſuſceptione judicium nobis manducemus, in contemptum Sacramenti auguſtiſſimi redundare poteſt? 2. Veſtra potiùs doctrina aſſeverans, nullum in hac vita dari poſſe ſtatum, in quo non prematur peccatorum mortalium conſcientia, deſperationis mater eſt. 3. Peccatorum venialium à mortalibus diſtinctio, à Joviano hæretico olim negata, vel inde conſtat, quòd dentur peccata quædam cum gratia ſanctificante compatibilia, puta peccata Sanctorum, quæ nonniſi venialia eſſe poſſunt: quódque detur quædam tranſgreſſio, quæ in Divina Majeſtatis offenſam & injuriam non redundat; quæque adeò contra legem non eſt, & conſequenter venialis. Ib. pag 379. 380. Reſp. 1. Definitio veſtra non id, quod dicis, præcavet; ſed remiſſionem peccatorum mortalium obſignari in Euchariſtia negat, adeóque in contemptum Sacramenti manifeſtè redundat. Imminuit enim ſupra modum ejus efficaciam, & parum vel nihil (peccatum enim veniale nihil eſt, nec remiſſione indiget) ei relinquit. 2. Præparatio verò ad S. Cœnam etiam cum peccati mortalis commissi conscientia conjuncta stare potest, quia ejus non postrema pars est pœnitentia & fides in Christum, qua remissio peccatorum omnium in Evangelio oblata apprehenditur. Mater ergo doctrina nostra est fiduciæ, spei, certitudinis salutis; vestra desperationis gurges, quia remissionem peccatorum, quæ nulla non mortalia sunt, in Sacramento obsignari confirmarique negat. 3. Ficulnea nimis tua pro distinctione peccati mortalis & venialis folia sunt. cata enim Sanctorum cum gratia sanctificante compatibilia, suapte natura mort..a (annon enim saltem Davidis sancti non sancta facinora, adulterium, homicidium mortalia peccata fuerunt?) venialia evadunt per accidens, accedente scilicet remissionis gratia. Si natura sua venialia forent, remissionis gratia non indigerent. Gratia igitur sanctificans, & peccata mortalia remissa; vel remittenda neutiquam incompatibilia sunt. Neque ullum peccatum per Christi meritum non remissum datur, qua Divina Majestas non lœdatur. quia, utcunque vile & leve videatur in oculis hominum, cum amore semper Dei vel proximi, vel gradu quopiam amoris, præcepto utroque in lege Dei, pugnat; ne quidem peccati veri nominis rationem habiturum, si cum alterutro non pugnaret.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Christus Joh. VI. nusquam docet, Eucharistiam institutam esse ad peccata remittenda, sed tantùm ad vitam spiritualem conservandam & augendam. Resp. 1. De fructu Eucharistiæ non ex uno loco, sed ex reliquis etiam analogis judicandum. Atqui alibi fructus hic, peccatorum remissio, disertè ponitur. 2. Neque Joh. VI. usquam fit mentio fomenti & roboris vitæ spiritualis. 3. Multa ibidem à Christo dicuntur, in quibus peccatorum remissio implicitè continetur. Quomodo enim Christus potest esse vivificus panis noster, vita nostra, caro nostra, sanguis noster, citra peccatorum remissionem? Nempe caro & sanguis Christi, non tantùm sunt spiritualis animæ & corporis nostri cibus, sed etiam redemptionis nostræ pretium, traditum ad remissionem peccatorum nostrorum. 4. Joh. VI. agi de manducatione non Eucharistica, sed spirituali, alibi probavimus.

EXCIP. REDING: Atqui Joh. VI. 55. Christus carnem suam verè cibum, & sanguinem verè potum esse dicit. Sicut ergo cibus naturalis corpus nutrit & auget: ita quoque Eucharistia, cibus spiritualis. Ib. pag. 380. 381. Resp. Potiorem responsionis partem sicco pede præteris. Carne Christi nos nutriri, non negamus. Addimus, Eucharistiam nutritionis illius Sacramentum esse. Attamen de Eucharistia id Joh. VI. expressè dici, sicut vos expressam remissionis peccatorum mentionem flagitatis, id verò οὐ βίβλος negavimus.

OBIECT. II. Agnus paschalis, panis propositionis, caro sacrificiorum, non dabatur olim nisi mundis. Christus etiam ante Sacramentum lavit discipulorum pedes, ut mundi essent. Denique etiam filius prodigus annulo & vestimentis priùs ornatur, quàm ad vitulum ſaginatum admitteretur. Ergo accedentes ad Euchariſtiam jam mundi, adeóque à peccatis mortalibus immunes eſſe debent. Reſp. 1. Peccata etiam leviſſima coram Deo immundos conſtituunt. Ejus enim oculi ita puri ſunt, ut nullum omnino peccatum ferant. 2. Probant etiam hæc omnia, debitam uſui Euchariſtiæ præmittendam eſſe præparationem, & in vera fide remiſſionis peccatorum ac pœnitentia accedendum eſſe ad menſam Domini: nequaquam verò probanta uſu Euchariſtiæ remiſſionem peccatorum non obſignari & exhiberi.

Excip. Reding: 1. Peccata levia non habent moralem cum ultimo fine repugnantiam. 2. Si fides remiſſionis peccatorum jam obtentæ ad præparationem pertinet, quomodo remiſſio ipſa Euchariſtiæ demum effectus eſt? lb. pag. 381. Imò quodvis veri nominis peccatum eſt ἀνομία tranſgreſſio legis, cujus ſumma in amore Dei ceu ultimo fine legis continetur; nec non ἁμαρτία aberratio à ſcopo, ſeu ultimo fine, qui eſt gloria Dei. 2. Et remiſſionem quorumvis peccatorum vera fide jam obtentam in Euchariſtia confirmari & obſignari; & obtinendam in eadem obſignari & exhiberi poſſe, quid vetat? Perperam enim planè vos inſtitutis, quaſi ſcilicet peccatorum remiſſio & reconciliatio cum Deo ſit inſtar coloris, ſeu qualitatis, ſubjecto immobiliter, & indivulsè ſic hærentis, ut ea ſemel accepta non opus ſit ampliùs de ea cogitare; cùm contra perpetua potiùs ſit actio, & quotidianum in hac vita exercitium, Chriſtum magis magiſque & firmiùs apprehendere, in eo manere & perſeverare, quò remiſſio peccatorum, ejuſque ſenſus vividus certiùs retineatur. Imò in hac carnis noſtræ depravatione inter Diaboli inſidias, & mundi ſcandala, nullum momentum eſt, in quo non opus ſit nobis quærere, apprehendere & amplecti gratiam Dei & peccatorum remiſſionem. Cúmque in tentationibus mens hominis de eo potiſſimùm anxia ſit, an promiſſiones generales ad ſe quoque pertineant, Chriſtus in Euchariſtia, pignore pretioſiſſimo, ſe ſingulis Sacramento hoc utentibus remiſſionem peccatorum & reliqua beneficia traditione corporis ſui & effuſione ſanguinis certò parta communicare, applicare & obſignare, teſtatur.

OBIECT. III. Paulus docet 1. Cor. X. 17. unum panem unum corpus multos eſſe, quia de uno pane participant; hoc eſt, Sacramentum non prodeſſe niſi membris unitis cum capite, aliiſque membris. At qui ſunt in peccato mortali, non ſunt vera & viva Chriſti membra. Reſp. Sanè qui Chriſto non inſiti, & uniti per Spiritum Dei, fidem & pœnitentiam, accedunt ad menſam Domini, ſuo malo & detrimento Euchariſtia veſcuntur. At inde non ſequitur, eam peccatorum remiſſionem, quam ante uſum Sacramenti fides apprehendit, & per quam Chriſto jam tum uniti & inſiti ſumus, in legitimo Sacramenti uſu non etiam obſignari, confirmari & exhiberi.

Excip. Reding: In eo, qui Chriſto inſitus, & per Spiritum Dei unitus eſt, nequit eſſe locus peccato mortali, utpote cum gratia unionis incompatibili. Ergo Euchariſtia ejus remiſſionem ſupponit, adeóque eam effectivè non confert. lb. pag. 382. Reſp. Si peccatum mortale cum gratia unionis eſt ἀσύζυγον, quomodo igitur ii, qui jam ſunt in Chriſto, & in

& in quibus nulla ampliùs condemnatio eſt, quotidie Spiritu actiones corporis, ſeu carnis occidunt, Rom. VIII. 1-13? Quomodo iidem ſe profitentur carnales, venditos ſub peccatum ib. cap. VII. 14? Non detunt ergo unitis cum Chriſto peccata, 1. Reg. VIII. 46. Job. IX. 2 Prov. XX. 9. Eccl. VII. 20. Jac. III. 2. 1. Joh. I. 8. & peccata nulla ſua natura ſunt venialia; ſed propter fidem in Chriſtum, & unionem cum Chriſto iis non imputantur. Quæ non imputatio, ſeu non remiſſio vel jam ante facta, vel in ipſo Sacramento, præcedente fide & pœnitentia, facienda, in eodem non effectivè producitur, quæ falſa tua hypotheſis eſt, ſuperàs convulſa; ſed in legitimo ejus uſu exhibetur, applicatur & obſignatur.

OBIECT. IV. Paulus 1. Cor. XI. 28. requirit ſui probationem, & indignos judicium manducare & bibere docet. Ergo nemo cum peccati conſcientia accedere ad menſam Domini poteſt. Reſp. Probationem ſui requiri ante uſum cœnæ, verum eſt. Sed inde perperam infertur, remiſſionem peccatorum jam ante applicatam per fidem, in legitimo Sacramenti uſu non obſignari & confirmari. 2. Cùm peccati conſcientia accedit, vel qui in peccatis contra conſcientiam, & in propoſito peccandi adhuc hærens ſine vera pœnitentia & fide accedit: vel qui peccatorum ſibi conſcius ſeriò de iis dolet, & remiſſionem eorum ſincera in Chriſtum fide quærit, firmúmque de emendanda vita propoſitum habet. Illi judicium, hi vitam & ſalutem ex uſu hujus Sacramenti reportant.

EXCIP. RENITO: 1. Anguis latet in herba. Non enim verba tua ſenſum Orthodoxum habent, ſed hoc innuunt, remiſſionem peccatorum per fidem Baptiſmi rememorativam, & pœnitentiam non Sacramentalem in Cœna exhiberi. 2. Imò probatio illa, quam Apoſtolus 1. Cor. XI. 28. requirit, non tantùm fidei eſt, ſed etiam conſcientiæ peccatorum, uti patet ex textu. Ib. pag. 382. Reſp. 1. Tu ſcilicet, ſerpens Epidaurius, acutè cernis angues in herba, quamvis in ea nulli lateant. Fidem & pœnitentiam intelligo, qualis in Evangelio præcipitur; agnitionem ſcilicet ac deteſtationem peccatorum, dolorem propter ea ſecundum Deum, & fiduciam in merito Chriſti; qua nixis iis, qui peccati conſcientiam habent, ſecundum Evangelii ſententiam peccata remittuntur. Fidem veſtram generalem ſupra profligavimus; & Pœnitentiam Sacramentalem infra configemus. Ego peccata, quorum conſcientiam ii, qui Euchariſtia uſuri ſint, habent, vera in Chriſtum fide & pœnitentia remitti: ac remiſſionem eandem in Euchariſtia obſignari, denuo contendo. Hoc ſi potes, oppugna. 2. Ad probationem requiri, ut quis peccatorum à ſe patratorum conſcientiam nullam habeat, unde tibi ex textu citato conſtat? Nobis certè nihil conſtat. Oſtende ergo, & oculatus adeò nos quoque fac oculatos. Idem S. Paulus 2. Cor. XIII. 5. δοκιμάζειν in hoc collocat, ut tentemus nos, an ſimus in fide. At fidei objectum Chriſtus eſt, quatenus peccatorum remiſſionem merito ſuo acquiſitam credenti donat; adcóque ipſa remiſſionis peccatorum promiſſio. Quomodo, ſodes, peccatorum remiſſionem apprehendit vera fide, qui peccatorum à ſe admiſſorum conſcientiam nullam habet?

QUÆSTIO IX.

An omnes & ſinguli Chriſti fideles, cùm ad annos diſcretionis pervenerint, non teneantur ſingulis annis niſi ſemel in Paſchate communicare?

Aſſerit Canon IX. Nos quidem nec ſingulis diebus, nec hebdomadis, nec menſibus neceſſariò communicandum eſſe ſtatuimus. Hanc tamen coarctationem uſus cœnæ Dominicæ ferre minimè poſſumus, & nefas ducimus, ſemel tantùm in anno communicare, ubi facultas id faciendi ſæpius datur, ſic tamen, ut de die & hora, ſingulis fidelibus, & ipſi adeò Eccleſiæ ſua libertas conſtet. Rationes.

ARG. I. Chriſtus cœnam Dominicam Paſchati ſubſtituens dicit: Hoc facite, quotieſcunque manducaveritis & biberitis 1. Cor. XI. 25. Judaico paſchati Chriſtus opponit illam particulam, ὁσάκις. Hinc Petrus Cluniacenſis Concilium Lateranenſe his verbis reprehendit: Dicitis vos, ſemel in anno. Dicit Chriſtus & Apoſtolus ejus: Non ſemel tantùm, non bis tantùm, ſed quotieſcunque. Multa diverſitas inter Quotieſcunque & ſemel. Ibi numeri principium, hic numerus omnem ſuperans numerum.

Resp. Reding: 1. Si particula illa, Quotieſcunque, eatenus Paſchati Judaico opponitur, ut una per annum communione haud ſatisfiat, ejus obligatio maximè urgebit in articulo mortis. quod vos negatis. 2. Chriſtus tempus Euchariſtiæ communicandæ non determinavit, ſed Eccleſia, non ſingulorum fidelium libertati determinandum reliquit. Tomo II. Tract. VI. Sect. 5. pag. 384. 385. Reſp. 1. S. Paulus communionem domeſticam, adeóque ἴδιον δεῖπνον, propriam, ſeu privatam cœnam, qualis etiam eſt agonizantium, epulo Euchariſtico, utpote εἰς συνέλευσιν ἐν τῇ ἐκκλησίᾳ in conventu in Eccleſia celebrando, v. 18-20. &c. opponit, & v. 26. infert: Quotieſcunque comederitis panem &c. Et cap. X. 16. multos, unum corpus, unum panem eſſe, atque ideo, omnes ex uno pane participare docet. Non igitur ab uno extra Eccleſiam, ſed à fidelibus in Eccleſia congregatis comedi debet. 2. Licet Chriſtus tempus communionis Euchariſticæ in ſpecie non determinaverit: in genere tamen frequentioris communionis neceſſitatem inſinuavit, jubens ad commemorationem ſui facere, quod ipſe fecit. Quod S. Paulus ex Dominica traditione explicans verbis: Ὁσάκις quotieſcunque comederitis, &c. frequentem communionem apertè præcepit. Nam particulam ὁσάκις quotieſcunque, ex traditione Dominica repetitam, Paſchati ſemel tantùm quotannis manducando, opponi, ſatis conſtat. Tridentina igitur Eccleſia ſaltem ſemel in anno, puta Paſchate, communicandum decernens, nec Chriſti & Apoſtoli præcepto ſatisfacit, & prætextu libertatis in detrimentum fidelium abutitur.

ARG. II. Apoſtolos, & reliquos in primitiva Eccleſia fideles uſum ſacræ Cœnæ frequenter repetiviſſe, ex Actor. II. 42. 46. XX. 7. liquet.

RESP. READING: Frequens ille Cœnæ Sacræ uſus præcepto Chriſti non nitebatur: ſed fuit vel conſilii tantùm, vel lege Eccleſiaſtica nitebatur. Ac ne vos quidem tam frequenter communicatis. Ib. pag. 383. 384. Reſp. Frequentiam illam majorem non lex ſpecialis Eccleſiaſtica, nec conſilium aliquod Papiſtico Monaſticum, ſed pietatis & charitatis ardor, qualem ea tempora, quibus fides Chriſtiana plantanda erat, Spiritu S. intus corda movente, exigebant. Interim Apoſtolorum, & reliquorum Eccleſiæ primitivæ fidelium exemplum rem, frequentem ſcilicet communionem, at non modum rei, confirmat. Cui proin Eccleſiæ noſtræ, variante licet praxi, quoad rem ipſam ſatisfaciunt.

ARG. III. Euchariſtia nobis promiſſionem Dei obſignat & fidem ſtabilit. Toties igitur repetenda, quoties illâ efficaciâ opus eſt.

RESP. READING: Diſtinguenda eſt obligatio ſumendæ Euchariſtiæ. Nam per ſe obligantur fideles in agone mortis, ſæpe in hac vita, tempore inprimis ab Eccleſia definito: per accidens, quoties neceſſarium judicatur ad reſiſtendum tentationi graviori. Ib. pag. 384. Reſp. Per ſe obligantur ſæpius, non ſemel tantùm in anno. Si Sæpe tantùm in vita, uti tu loqueris, ſatisfecerit præcepto, qui intra quinquaginta annos decies communicaverit. Nam qui decies in vita communicat, etiam ſæpe in vita communicat. Imò cùm accidens illud, quod tu facis, nimirum neceſſitas reſiſtendi oborientibus tentationibus, ſit frequentiſſimum, frequentiſſima pariter ſit oportet communio.

ARG. IV. In veteri Eccleſia multis uſitata fuit communio quotidiana, teſte Rabano, & Bertramo. Concilii Agathenſis Canon 14. concedit in privatis Oratoriis uſum communionis, ſed in majoribus feſtivitatibus vult omnes convenire ad parochias, & baſilicas majores, quò ſic in ſolenni celebratione quilibet teſtetur, eſſe ſe Eccleſiæ membrum. Unde Rhenano non immeritò creditum, remanere ejus conſuetudinis hoc veſtigium, quòd nundinæ in Germaniæ urbibus celebrioribus Miſſarum appellationem retinent. Chryſoſtomus homil. 17. in cap. 10. ep. ad Hebr. indicat, hanc conſuetudinem collapſam pravo cumprimis exemplo eremitarum, qui ex eremo tantùm ſemel in anno, vel poſt biennium progreſſi ſunt ad communionem.

RESP. READING: 1. Non deſunt hodiéque Religioſi & laici, qui quotidie communicent. Vos verò potiùs profanis Miſſis, quas nundinas ex Rhenano dictas ais, quàm Divinitus inſtitutæ Miſſæ intenti eſtis. 2. Chryſoſtomus loc. cit. non in Eremitas collapſæ frequentis communionis culpam rejicit, ſed eos, qui cum conſcientia immunda ad Cœnam veniunt, reprehendunt. Ib. pag. 384. Reſp. 1. Si qui ſunt, certè rari ſunt nantes in gurgite vaſto. Neque eorum exemplum ad rem facit, quia de Tridentina definitione, quòd ſemel in anno inſtituta communio ſufficere poſſit, non de exemplis privatam devotionem teſtantibus, quæſtio eſt. Miſſas profanas, ſeu nundinas Pontificiis Miſſis, quas ſacras appellant, præferimus meritò, quia in illis non ea, quæ in his idololatria horrenda exercetur. Et tamen tamen Missa etiam vestra quid aliud est, quàm nundinationis Babylonicæ instrumentum? 2. Chrysostomus utrumque dicit. Nam in verbis etiam à te recitatis disertè testatur, Eremitas semel in anno esse participes; sæpe etiam post duos annos. Hi ergo, Meinradi tui Patriarchæ, non alii, collapsæ communionis frequentis authores sunt.

ARG. V. Annua communio gravissimis damnis Ecclesiam affecit. Apud plebem enim neglectus invaluit, apud Episcopos & Ecclesiarum præfectos opportunitas sic fuit sumptuosas & magnificas ceremonias commiscendi, ad exornandas Sacramentorum actiones. Deinde cœna publica in privatas sic missas est permutata. Denique vanissima persuasio orta, idem esse missam spectare & communicare. Quin audacia eò prorupit, ut Monachi verba Christi sic immutarent: Accedite, spectate.

RESP. REDING: 1. Idem esse Missam spectare & communicare, malignantis Spiritus tui commentum est. 2. Et communio sacra, & privatæ Missæ apud nos vigent. Nec hæ illi, nec illa his derogat. 3. Si ceremoniæ illæ sumptuosæ ad exornandas Sacramenti actiones inventæ sunt, potiùs incitamenta erunt frequentandæ communionis, quàm occasiones negletus. lb. p. 384. Resp. 1. Idem esse, non ego finxi, sed vos, uti praxis docet. Etenim si communionem potiùs quàm spectaculum populo sacrificuli vos suaderetis, nunquam frequentia communionis adeò in desuetudinem iviſſet. Spiritus igitur Papistici figmentum rectiùs appellasses. Olim quidem Calixtus Papa dixit: Peracta consecratione omnes communicent, qui noluerint ecclesiasticis carere liminibus. An hodiéque, Redingi, idem fit? An non potiùs vestri probè se defunctos arbitrantur, si Templum ingressi Missificationem spectent, hostiam consecratam Divinis honoribus colant? 2. Quæ privatæ apud vos Missæ audiunt, ex institutione Christi & praxi Ecclesiæ veteris, publica communio esse debuere. Hanc igitur in illas conversas esse, rectè dixi. 3. Fortè incitamenta talia essent, nisi periculum communionis, & tutiorem spectaculi usum, rudi plebeculæ Sacrificuli vestri crebrò ob oculos statuerent.

ARG. VI. Mos ille adstantium & spectantium duntaxat mysterium, non fruentium eodem, & communicantium, nec non rarior ille usus, & contemptus cœnæ Dominicæ, in veteri Ecclesia graviter reprehensus fuit, inprimis à Chrysostomo homil. 60. & 61. ad populum Antiochenum, ubi inter alia ajt: procacem & imprudentem esse, quisquis adstat, & mysteriorum participio non fruitur. Deinde arguit, vel dignos esse, qui adstant, communione ipsa, vel non. Si prius, utique illis accedendum & communicandum esse. Si posterius, illos ut oves lepra squalidas à sanis & valentibus arcendas esse, imò etiam arceri voce præconis, invitantis non alios quàm sanctos. Ambrosius lib. V. de Sacram. cap. 4. inquit: Si quotidianus est cibus, cur post annum illum sumis, quemadmodum Græci in Oriente facere consueverunt? In Agathensi Synodo cap. 18. statutum, ut non habeatur Catholicus, qui saltem tribus quotannis temporibus non communicat. In Cabilonensi Synodo cap. 46. præcipitur, cavendum, ne, si in lon- gum nimium differatur perceptio corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti, ad perniciem animæ id pertineat. Mutationis verò illius vices paucis pandit Albertus M. lib. de officiò Miſſæ hiſce verbis: Primùm in uſu fuit, ut omnes in Eccleſia convenientes, omni die communicarent. Cùm autem hoc creſcente multitudine non ſatis idoneè ſervari poſſet, conſtitutum eſt, ut communicarent Dominicis diebus. Cùm autem ne hoc quidem ritè ſervaretur, conſtitutum eſt, ut communicarent tribus in anno vicibus, juxta legem Exod. 23. ſcilicet in Paſcha, Pentecoſte, & loco ſcenopegiæ in Nativitate Domini. Cùm autem ne hoc ritè ſervaretur, nuper in Concilio Lateranenſi conſtituit Eccleſia, quòd ſemel in anno, in Paſcha, fieri debeat. Ita igitur ſicut Chriſtus adventu ſuo antiquavit ceremonias Moſis: ita Antichriſtus adventu ſuo ſenſim ceremonias, & inſtitutionem Chriſti abrogare curæ habuit.

RESP. REDING: 1. Quo jure Eccleſia vetus quotidianam communionem ſuſtulit, eodem Tridentini non quidem frequentem communionem abrogarunt, ſed eos tantùm cenſura Eccleſiaſtica notandos ſtatuerunt, qui ne ſemel quidem in anno communicarent. 2. Vos quoque quotidianam communionem ad trinam in anno coarctaſtis, & ne in extremo quidem mortis articulo facultatem communicandi conceditis: cùm contra in noſtra Eccleſia quotidie aditus ad communicandum pateat. 3. Eodem, quo Chryſoſtomus & Ambroſius, modo noſtri quoque Paſtores hortantur ad frequentem communionem, præcaventes hoc unum, ne imparati accedant; & ſemel communicantes reprehendunt. Diſcernimus tamen id, quod præcepti eſt, ab eo, quod tantùm conſilii eſt. Ib. pag. 385. Reſp. 1. A communione quotidiana ad annuam ingens nimis ſaltus eſt. Etenim vetus quidem Eccleſia etiam ad certa anni tempora communionem reſtringens, generali tamen Chriſti & S. Pauli mandato ſatisfecit. à quo definitio veſtra enormiter nimis receſſit. 2. Quotidianæ communionis fervor duravit in Eccleſia prima, quandiu à Spiritu recens de igne iſto adhuc incaluit, & magno zelo ac ardore ſacra ſymbola amplexari non deſiit. Atque fervorem Spiritus ſingularia quoque ea tempora poſtulârunt. Noſtrarum Eccleſiarum praxin variare ſupra diximus; ſic tamen, ut non ſemel, ſed ſæpe in anno Chriſti Domini ſacrificium & mortem celebrantes, Divino mandato morem gerant omnes. Qui certis vel ſtatis in anno diebus Cœnam Dominicam celebrant, frequentia quotidiana nolunt eam adduci in contemptum aut faſtidium. Habent enim rationem ſui populi, & cœnam dignè, adeóque cum deſiderio peragi cupiunt. Qui verò eam creberrimè repetunt, exiſtimant, iniquum eſſe, ſi res bonæ frequentia abeant in deſpectum. Utrique inſervire Domino, & multo cum fructu peragi, quod liberum fecit Dominus, volunt. Inter hos ſi ſequeſter ſederet Auguſtinus, nihil aliud pronuntiaret proculdubio, quàm quod pronuntiavit de ipſa cauſa, ſcribens ad Januarium: Rectiùs inter iſtos quiſpiam dirimit litem, qui monet præcipuè in Chriſti pace permaneant, faciat autem unuſquiſque, quod ſecundum fidem ſuam piè faciendum eſſe credit. Neuter enim exhonorat corpus & ſanguinem Domini. Contemptum ſolum non vult cibus ille &c. Fruſtra verò tu jus & libertatem quandam reſtringendi nimirum communionem jactas, quæ mera licentia eſt: ac inſuper de libero & quotidiano veſtrorum ad communionem aditu gloriaris. Præterquam enim, quòd uſus oſtendit, tribunitiis concionibus veſtris, quibus præparationem reddere difficilimam ſoletis, non allici ad communionem homines, ſed ab ea abſterreri potiùs potiùs: in Canones etiam veteres incurritis, quos Pontificibus Anacleto & Calixto ipſimet tribuitis, ut peracta conſecratione omnes communicent, qui noluerint Eccleſiaſticis cacere liminibus; nec non in Canones, quos Apoſtolorum vocant, in quibus Can. 9 ſic habetur: Qui non perſeverant uſque ad finem, & ſacram communionem non percipiunt, tanquam inquietudinem Eccleſiæ moventes, corrigendi ſunt. An edictis his mos apud vos geritur? An liber, quem jactas, aditus, ſine aditu juvat quicquam? 3. An ſic Paſtores veſtri hortentur ad communionem homines, ſicut hortati ſunt Chryſoſtomus & Ambroſius, dubitabunt multi. Alias enim cur tam infrequens veſtrorum communio eſt? Adeò ut non ita pridem Arnoldus veſter Sorboniſta de ea tractatu peculiari de communione veterum frequenti, publicam querelam inſtituerit. An parum adeò dictis veſtris audientem habetis populum? Sed bellè diſtinguis præceptum inter & conſilium. quaſi ſatisfecerit præcepto Divino, qui juxta legem Eccleſiæ ſemel communicat, adeóque rariſſimè ſacram illam eſcam carpit; at crebriùs communicans Sacerdotali conſilio, non Chriſti præcepto pareat. Quanquam perplexum nimis eſt Sacrificulorum veſtrorum conſilium, cùm viam ad communionem frequentem ſentibus & ſpinis difficultatum iis motarum opplet am, imperviam reddunt. quod res ipſa loquitur. Chryſoſtomus adſtantes & non communicantes objurgat. An idem vos facitis? Non puto.

ARG. VII. Denique Catechiſmus Romanus p. 2. cap. 4. q. 46. non obſcurè Canonem hunc Tridentinum ſugillat. Ait enim, fidelibus non ſatis eſſe, ut hujus Decreti authoritati obtemperantes, ſemel tantummodo quotannis corpus Domini accipiant, verùm ſæpius iterandam illis eſſe communionem. Poſtea praxin Veteris Eccleſiæ & declinationem fusè perſequitur.

Resp. Redine: Catechiſmus ille cum decreto Tridentino non pugnat, quia in hoc diſertè habetur, anathemate notandum eſſe, qui aſſeveret, non teneri ſingulos fideles ſingulis annis ſaltem in Paſchate communicare. Quæ particula ſaltem ſic obligationem ſacræ communionis in Paſchate inducit, ut hujus tamen ſtudium frequentius exoptet. uti ex Seſſ. XXII. 6. conſtat. lb. pag. 385. 386. Reſp. Catechiſmi Romani loc. cit. hæc verba ſunt: Fideles non ſatis habeant ſe, hujus decreti authoritati obtemperantes, ſemel tantummodo corpus Domini quotannis accipere; verùm ſæpius iterandam Euchariſtiæ communionem exiſtiment. Agnoſcit ergo, authoritati decreti Lateranenſis & Tridentini obtemperantes, ſatis habere ſemel in anno communicare. Sed non ſufficere id aſſerit & probat. Quid ſugillare eſt, ſi hoc non eſt? Si quid aliud alibi Tridentini exoptant, non iccirco decernunt aliud. Aliud eſt inane votum, aliud decretum. Satisfeciſſe officio ſuo decernunt, ſi ſemel in anno fideles communicent; planè ſicut Seſſ. XIV. Can. 8. iidem definiunt, ad confeſſionem omnium peccatorum, Euchariſtiæ ſcilicet præviam, teneri fideles ſemel in anno.

pus Communionis determinatum non ſit, tamen frequentia Communionis major, quàm cui una quotannis ſufficiat, determinata eſt verbis Apoſtoli: Hoc facite, ὁσάκις quoties manducaveritis, &c. 3. Denique etiam generaliter & implicitè tempus Communionis in verbo Dei definitur. Cùm enim S. Scripturæ doceant, Euchariſtiæ uſum ſervire confirmationi fidei, & obſignationi promiſſionum divinarum: eo ipſo haud obſcuré innuunt, frequentandam eſſe communionem, quoties conſcientiæ anxiæ impulſus, devotio à Spiritu S. accenſa, occaſioque propitia id requirit.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Vos occaſionem illam propitiam, quæ ſingulis diebus communicare liceat, ſuſtuliſtis. 2. Cùm Eccleſia in foro externo judicare non poſſit, quempiam fidelium in eo ſtatu poſitum, ut indigeat Euchariſtiæ conſolatione, ad talem ergo ſtatum Euchariſtiæ percipiendæ præceptum coarctare non potuit. Ib. pag. 386. Reſp. 1. Occaſionem ſumendi ſæpius propitiam non ſuſtulimus, quia ſæpe in anno, alibi ſingulis hebdomadis, menſibus; alibi ſingulis feſtivitatibus non tantùm communicare licet, ſed ipſa communio frequens eſt. 2. Saltem Eccleſia, quæ judicare poteſt, crebrò fideles in eum ſtatum devenire, ut conſolatione Euchariſtiæ indigeant, crebram etiam ejuſdem communionem, ſecuta inſtitutionem Dominicam à S. Paulo repetitam, injungere debuit.

OBIECT. II. Cum iis, qui ad Communionem ſacram accedunt, periculum immineat, ne indigni participent, & ſibi judicium accerſant, præſtat utique quàm rariſſimè id fieri. Reſp. 1. Periculi per Dei gratiam evitabilis metus divinum præceptum tollere haud poteſt. 2. Hac ratione vel per integram vitam ſemel tantùm, bis, terve communio celebrari deberet. 3. Periculi hujus metus ſi ſolida cauſa eſſet abſtinendi, ipſos etiam ſacrificulos plerùmque deteriores & nequiores plebe, à crebriori Cœnæ Dominicæ uſu abſterrere deberet.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Imò verò communionem ſuademus omnibus rite præparatis. 2. Neque metus periculi ſacrificulos, à ſpiritu tuo nequam calumniis impetitos, à crebriori uſu abſterret, quin potiùs eos ad peculiarem animæ puritatem per confeſſionem acquirendam obligat. Ib. pag. 387. Reſp. 1. Sed præparationem, uti mox videbimus, adeò difficilem redditis, ut non tam ſuadere vos, quàm diſſuadere intelligant omnes, & eventus loquatur. 2. Jam ergo Sacrificuli veſtri plebe nequiores non erunt, quia nequitiam ſuam confitendo in ſinum nequam cujuſpiam majoris depoſuerunt. Hæc ſacrificulorum puritas eſt, qua freti quovis tempore ad altare ſuum intrepidè accurrere, & gratiæ Divinæ pignora libare, depurato ſic ore animóque ſuo, audent!

OBIECT. III. Concilii mens non eſt, ut ſemel duntaxat fideles communicent, ſed ne minùs quàm ſemel ſub excommunicationis pœna communicent. Reſp. 1. go perſpicuè indicavit, ſufficere fidelibus, ſi ſemel communicaverint, & frequentiam communionis libertati eorum relictam eſſe. Atqui verbum Dei majorem frequentiam commendat, uti ſuperiùs probavimus. 3. Neque etiam Synodus anathemate notat eum, qui quotannis ſemel non communicaverit, ſed potiùs eum, qui negaverit, non teneri fideles ſaltem ſemel quotannis communicare.

Excip. Reding: Supra demonſtravimus, præceptum de tempore Euchariſtiæ celebrandæ Divinum nullum occurrere, adeòque id omne Eccleſiæ libertati relictum eſſe. Eccleſia autem id omne in Lateranenſi & Tridentino Concilio ritè definivit. Ib pag. 387. Reſp. Nos quoque generale præceptum de frequentanda communione demonſtravimus. Neque hic, an eam in rem aliquid Tridentina Eccleſia definiverit; ſed quo ſenſu, & quo jure definiverit, quæritur. Conſuetudinem verò, & legem, quæ ſemel quotannis communicare jubet, cum Calvino Inſtit. lib. IV. 17:46. certiſſimum Diaboli inventum eſſe, concludimus.

QUÆSTIO X.

An præparatio ad Sacramentum Euchariſtiæ fiat ſola fide, an potiùs perfectione noſtræ contritionis, confeſſionis & ſatisfactionis?

POſterius aſſerit, & negat prius Canon XI. Nos prius affirmamus, non eo quidem ſenſu, qui fidem opponit pœnitentiæ, charitati, & dulciſſimo affectui cordis erga DEUM. Hæc enim cum fide individuo nexu ſunt conjuncta. Sed ſolam fidem, non hiſtoricam, uti impingere nobis videtur Synodus, ſed ſalvificam & juſtificantem opponimus variis illis operibus præparatoriis, & humanis ſatisfactionibus, earundémque merito. Tridentinis igitur objicimus.

ARG. I. In euchariſtia nobis offeruntur ea, quæ filius Dei nobis promeruit traditione ſui corporis, & effuſione ſanguinis, & promiſſioni Evangelii additur pignus & obſignatio. Atqui gratuita promiſſio non apprehenditur merito noſtræ contritionis, & ſatisfactionis, ſed fide, Rom. IV. 13. 16. 17. 18. &c.

Resp. Reding: Gratiæ, Euchariſtiæ effectus, haud quidem merito noſtro ſubeſt, ſed vi meritorum Chriſti per Sacramentum obtinetur; ſed nonniſi ab iis, qui dignè accedunt, cum puritate conſcientiæ, in eo, qui peccati mortalis ſibi conſcius eſt, per Sacramentalem confeſſionem expianda. Tomo II. Tract. VI. Sect. 5. pag. 388. Reſp. Nec gratia Euchariſtiæ ristiæ, effectus est, nisi quoad obsignationem: nec dignitatem accedentium potiùs merito confessionis & contritionis Sacramentalis, quàm vera in Christo, peccata nostra omnia expiante per se ipsum, fiducia metiendam esse, doces. Nihil igitur ad argumentum respondes. Ad conscientiæ puritatem & peccatorum remissionem impetrandam, fidem in Christum ubique, confessionem auricularem, & contritionem, qualem vos exigitis, nusquam S. literæ requirunt.

ARG. II. Et promissio mutuam relationem habet ad fidem, non ad merita.

RESP. REDING: Fides ut dispositio prævia, ad fructuosam Sacramenti perceptionem necessaria est. Fides autem vestra larvata, charitatis inops, in homine peccatorum sibi conscio sufficiens ad Eucharistiæ usum dispositio esse nequit. Ib. pag. 388. Resp. Quomodo fides ad justificationem se habeat, supra disputavimus, ostendimúsque insimul, nec larvatam esse, qualis est generalis vestra fides, Diabolis & reprobis communis, nec inopem charitatis. Verbo dicam; quod remissionis peccatorum gratiam & promissionem Divinam, solam apprehendit, atque, qua tale, fructiferum Eucharistiæ usum reddit; illud nec qua dispositio quæpiam socia, & solum, sine contritionis & confessionis merito, ad dignitatem accedendi ad mensam Domini conducit.

ARG. III. Antithesis inter præstantiam cibi ac potus, & nostram indignitatem, per se conscientias terrere apta nata est. At ex hac tentatione non eluctamur fiducia contritionis & satisfactionis, sed abnegatione meriti, & fiducia erga Christum.

RESP. REDING: Apostolus quoque præstantiam cibi Eucharistiæ positivæ per peccatum indignitati opponens, sic conscientias terruit, ut probationem tamen sui præceperit. Ejusmodi verò probationem fieri per confessionem Ecclesiæ consuetudo declaravit. Ib. pag. 389. Resp. Peccatorem præstantissimo illo cibo indignum esse, nusquam Apostolus declaravit. Alias omnes, quotquot in terris unquam fuerunt, aut sunt homines, ab usu hujus Sacramenti arcuisset. Actum de nobis est, si nostram à nobis dignitatem petamus. Cùm verò Christus nobis in cibum detur, intelligimus, nos sine ipso tabescere, linqui & deficere; sicut inedia corporis vigorem extinguit. Deinde cùm nobis detur in vitam, intelligimus, nos sine ipso in nobis planè mortuos esse. Ea ergo una & optima dignitas est, si nostram ei vilitatem & indignitatem offeramus, ut sua misericordia nos peccatis, quorum nobis conscii sumus, nos exsolvat, atque sic se dignos faciat: si animos in nobis despondeamus, ut nos in ipso consolemur: si nos humiliemus, ut ab ipso erigamur: si nos accusemus, ut ab ipso justificemur: si ad eam, quam in sua Cœna nobis commendat, unitatem aspiremus. A parte verò nostra dignitas non fictitia confessione hominibus facienda, sed fide, quæ omnia in Christo, nihil in nobis reponit; deinde charitate, & ea quidem, quam imperfectam Deo offerre satis sit, constat. Hæc probatio, fidei scilicet, an simus in Christo, uti ipse S. Paulus 2. Cor. XI. 5. mentem suam explicuit, dignos reddit.

ARG. IV. Fructus cœnæ Dominicæ hoc modo redditur nobis inutilis & inanis. Exigunt enim Scholastici præparationem sufficientiæ seu veritatis, quæ constat in peccati omnis expulsione. Huic soli Eucharistiæ effectum ctum arrogant. Præparatio enim probabilitatis, quam vocant, non aſſequitur iis Euchariſtiæ fructum, prohibet tamen, quo minùs indignè aliquis manducet. Atqui ſic ſemper anceps hærebit conſcientia, cùm incertum ſit, quando habeatur vel ſufficientiæ, vel probabilitatis præparatio.

Resp. Reding: Effectus Euchariſtiæ non poteſt alteri, quàm ex Apoſtolo probatæ præparationi arrogari. Et ſufficit etiam attritio ad indubitatum Sacramenti effectum; neque tum conſcientia anceps hærebit. Ib. pag. 389. Reſp. Inania verba fundis. Præparationem Apoſtolus requirit. At ea omnia peccata expelli debere, ubinam docet? Ubi docet, attritionem, deſtitutam ſcilicet omni amore Dei, una cum Sacramento tranquillam reddere conſcientiam poſſe?

ARG. V. Compendio hoc utitur Synodus ad publicam communionem obliterandam, & ſtabiliendas privatas Miſſas, quippe quæ ſine periculo meritoriæ ſint ad delenda quævis peccata mortalia.

Resp. Reding: Imò quò puriores per præparationem à nobis requiſitam evadunt conſcientiæ, hoc ferventiores ad publicam communionem anhelant. Ib. pag. 389. Reſp. Quid verò ſi præparatio à Vobis præſcripta, non tam remiſſionem, quàm expulſionem omnis peccati, per media Divinitus nuſpiam præſcripta, cujuſmodi ſunt confeſſio, ſatisfactio, &c. vel etiam timor pœnæ ſine amore Dei, conſcientiam nullo modo tranquillant, ſed potiùs in examine juſto & legitimo perturbant magis? Nimis profectò contritionis & attritionis Papiſticæ nugæ jejuna & evanida ſolatia ſunt conſternatis, dejectiſque conſcientiis, & horrore peccati perculſis. Nam ſi Dominus interdicto neminem in Cœnæ ſuæ participationem admittit, niſi per contritionem juſtam & innocentem: non levi cautione opus eſt quæ juſtitiæ, quam Deus in lege ſua requirit, certiorem reddat. Unde verò nobis confirmatur hæc ſecuritas, apud Deum defunctos eſſe, qui fecerunt, quod in ſe eſt? Ita enim vos loqui amatis. Et quotuſquiſque ſibi ſpondebit, ſe feciſſe, quod in ſe eſt? Ita cùm nulla dignitatis noſtræ ſecuritas fiat, manebit ſemper clauſus aditus horribili illo interdicto, quo edicitur, judicium ſibi manducare, qui indignè manducat.

ARG. VI. Ipſa contritio & confeſſio Sacramentalis Papiſtica nullum in verbo Dei mandatum habet, uti probabitur inferiùs.

DECRETUM REFORMATIONIS.

QUÆSTIO UNICA.

An Eccleſia competat vera jurisdictio, & præfectura externa, auctoritativa, principalis & ἀνυπεύθυνος, cujus vi ejus præfectis Epiſcopis fas ſit, non tantùm leges condere per ſe conſcientias obligantes, & de verbo Dei ac rebus fidei judicare, ſed etiam ſubjectos cenſuris & pœnis propriè dictis coercere?

AFfirmat Decretum Seſſionis XIII. quo jurisdictionis hujus eccleſiaſticæ reformatio aliquot capitibus ſuscepta eſt. Ejusdem jurisdictionis tutela etiam Seſſ. XXV. cap. 20. de Ref. Principibus ſecularibus fusè commendatur. Juvabit autem docendi cauſa ex doctiſſimo Camerone prælect. de Eccleſ. pag. 279. diſtinguere genera poteſtatis. Eſt nempe ſextuplex, vel minima, cum quis alterum retinet in officio, non ullâ retinentis auctoritate, ſed ſolâ rei evidentiâ & veritate, veluti cùm ſervus Dominum, filius Patrem retinent in officio: vel proxima minima, quæ eſt poteſtas paris in parem, qui prudenter & ἀγαπητικῶς etiam increpari, imò & vitari poteſt, ſi contumacem ſe geſſerit: vel magna, cum quis alterum alterum retinet in officio, vel ad officium revocat authoritate, sed quæ ejusmodi est, ut nihil habeat, quo possit cogere seu intellectum, seu hominem exteriorem: major, quæ tanta est, ut non faciat jus, attamen juri facto testimonium infallibile perhibeat, veluti cum olim in Republica Romana prudentes & Jurisconsulti jus ita interpretati sunt, ut eorum interpretatione ipsi Judices stare debuerint: vel maxima, quâ quidem jus aliquis non facit, tamen contemptoribus Juris pœnam irrogare potest: vel denique multo maxima, quæ jus facit, quod alioquin jus non erat, & conjuncta insuper est cum auctoritate puniendi eos, qui secus fecerint. Quo quidem statuto discrimine admittimus in Ecclesia potestatem minimam, proximam minimæ, & magnam, quæ in eo consistit, ut possit Ecclesia cum authoritate prædicare verbum DEI, administrare Sacramenta, & contumaces notare censuris in verbo Dei præceptis, sine ulla tamen vera Jurisdictione. At negamus Ecclesiæ competere potestatem & Jurisdictionem tum majorem, quâ videlicet possit authentice & infallibiliter jus divinum non quidem facere, sed declarare tamen ita, ut verbi divini authoritas quo ad nos ab ea dependeat: tum maximam, quâ possit subjectos censuris & pœnis propriè dictis, quæ verè vindictæ rationem habent, sive lata sententia, sive executione cogere & coercere: tum denique multo maximam, qua possit leges condere, quæ citra rationem contemptus & scandali conscientiam obligent. Proinde jurisdictio ecclesiastica controversia consistit tum in judicio circa Divinitatem verbi & controversias fidei, tum in potestate νομοθετικῇ, seu legislatoria, tum denique in irrogatione pœnarum propriè dictarum. Eam secundum plenitudinem alii in Papa, alii in Ecclesia; secundum participationem verò in Episcopis, aliisque, quibus eam Papa communicare dignetur, collocaverunt. Ejusmodi verò Jurisdictionem externam & præfecturam principalem Ecclesiæ negamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Christus Marc. X. 42. Luc. XXII. 25. excludit ab Ecclesia omnem dominatum & Jurisdictionem externam, quæ videlicet forensem jurisdictionem & præfecturam imitetur, his verbis: Reges dominantur iis, & qui potestatem habent, benefici vocantur. Vos autem non sic. Loquitur non de tyrannis, sed legitimis Dominis, utpote quos εὐεργέτας beneficos nuncupat. Proinde ab Apostolis removet non tyrannicum duntaxat, sed omnem verum & propriè dictum dominium. Neque κατακυριεύειν, Sui notat Christo Tyrannicum, uti Bellarminus somniat, dominium, sed violentum, hoc est, cum vi externa conjunctum, legitimum tamen. Cum Christo facit Paulus 1. Tim. II. 4. vetans eum, qui DEO militat, se implicare negotiis secularibus, inter quæ ejusmodi externa jurisdictio & præfectura censeri debet. Sed

RESP. REDING: 1. An quia Christus potest interdictum dominandi subjungit: Ego sum in medio vestrûm, sicut Minister; pariter concludes, nullam eum habuisse jurisdictionem forensem, de qua tamen Esaj. XXXIII. 22. populus Dei sic loquitur: Dominus judex noster, Dominus legislator noster, Dominus Rex noster. 2. Tam non ergo hic excluditur jurisdictio ecclesiæ, quàm non potestas legislativa, Matth. XVI. XVIII. Joh. XXI. Apostolis tributa. 3. Ergò Marc. X. & Luc. XXII. non excluditur jurisdictio, sed principatus dominativus, cujus finis sit utilitas propria, cùm Pastor bonus seipsum impendere debeat in spiritualem animarum sibi subjectarum utilitatem. 4. Cùmque potestas ea sit spiritualis & supernaturalis, sed ad salutem animarum ordinata, ideo S. Paulus 2. Tim. II. 4. eum, qui Domino militat, negotiis hujus Seculi implicari vetat. Tomo II. Tract. VI. Ss. 6. pag. 391. 392. Resp. 1. Est minister qui dominatur, & est, qui merè servit. Sic potestas supereminens civilis ministra est, & dominatur, Rom. XIII. 1. 2. &c. respectu Dei delegantis ministra: respectu subditorum dominans. Christum igitur & Ministrum dici respectu delegationis à Patre, & dominum respectu potestatis à Patre eidem concessæ in Ecclesiam, nihil vetat. Quanquam Marc. X. 44. & Luc. XXII. 27. ne quidem de ea potestate, quam in statu exaltationis nactus est, & de qua Esaj. XXXIII 22. sermo est, sed de eo duntaxat ministerio, quod in statu exinanitionis exercuit, loquitur. Diversa est ratio Ministrorum Ecclesiæ, qui & Christi delegantis, & Ecclesiæ, cui præsunt, meri ministri sunt, procul omni potestate dominandi, qua locis citatis simpliciter Christus iis interdixit. 2. De locis Matth. XVI. &c. ex quibus potestatem legislativam extundere conaris, infra. 3. Jurisdictio externa sine dominio nulla est; maximè illa, quam Papa vester in Regum & Principum corpora & animas, temporalia & spiritualia πμβασιλικῶς exercet. Et dominium quodvis ex prima institutione Dei est non propriæ, sed alienæ utilitatis causa. Quòd verò propriæ utilitatis causa exercetur, tyrannis est, non dominium legitimum. Quod vel ipsi Philosophi gentiles frequenter adnotarunt. Nullum verò planè dominium, jurisdictionem externam, quæ cum dominio omnis conjuncta est, Ministris Ecclesiæ competere, nullam in locis citatis oppositio manifestè arguit. Illi, Reges gentium, inquit Christus, κατακυριεύουσι, κατεξουσιάζουσι, dominantur, potestatem gerunt: at vos oportet esse διακόνους, δούλους, ministros, servos, sine ulla proin dominandi, potestatem gerendi externam facultate. Ita opponuntur τὸ κατακυριεύειν dominari, & τὸ δοῦλον εἶναι servum esse, ut toto diametro distent. Non possunt igitur ita modificari, ut in unum idémque conveniant. Non jam dicam, Papæ dominium pro ultimo fine propriam, non alienam utilitatem habere. Res ipsa loquitur, potentia, Majestas, Regales opes, quas dominio suo intendit, peperit & quotidie profert. 4. Potestas denique Papæ & Cleri prætextu quidem spiritualis, sed reapse merè temporalis & mundana est. Papa enim verus Imperator & Rex est, & in πραγματείαις τοῦ βίου negotiis hujus mundi occupatur totus.

ARG. II. Talis est potestas Ecclesiæ qualis ipsi à Christo concessa est. At externa & principalis ei nusquam concessa est.

RESP. REDING: Ecclesiæ potestatem principalem, non absolutam & independentem à superiori, sed Divinæ subordinatam datam esse, S. Paulus 1. Cor. IV. 21. 2. Cor. XIII. 2. Hebr. XIII. 17. testatur. Ib pag. 392. Resp. De locis illis infra agimus.

ARG. III. Imò cùm ne ipse quidem Christus ejusmodi jurisdictionem unquam exercuerit, & regnum suum de hoc mundo esse negaverit, quomodo censeri potest eam indulsisse Ecclesiæ? Inprimis cùm ipse testetur Joh. XX. 21. se mittere Apostolos, sicut ipse à Patre missus est. An ampliorem potestatem concessit Ecclesiæ, quàm ipse usurpaverit?

Resp. Reding: Deus Pater sic Christum misit, ut daderit ei gentes in hæreditatem, regendas in virga ferrea, qua & directionem & coactionem, Augustino interprete, notat, Psal. II. 8. Quin & eidem Davidii ei dedisse, ut regnet in æternum, Luc. I. 33. dicitur. Quomodo in æternum regnat, si in mundo potestatem regnandi non reliquit? Apostolis ergo & eorum successoribus eam communicavit. Ib. pag. 392. 393. Resp. Fruſtra ex locis allegatis Christo potestatem externam & mundanam, qualem Papa exercet, vindicare conaris. Nam qua Mediator nunquam talem gessit. Negavit enim diserte Regnum suum esse de hoc mundo. Dedit autem ei Deus gentes hæreditatem, Psal. II. 8. quia illi, tanquam filio & hæredi omnium reservata erat obedientia gentium. Genes. XLIX. 10. An vi mundana & & terrestri, & non potiùs Spiritu & verbo gentes ad fidem & pœnitentiam vocavit, convertit? In Regni sui spiritualis vindicatione & occupatione dicitur gentes conquassasse בשבט ברזל virga ferrea, hoc est, שבטה עזך virga roboris, Psal. C. X. 2. vi verbi & spiritus sui, qua contexit superbiam, & emollit duritiem. Quassat enim corda, ut regat. Refractarios verò & persecutores Ecclesiæ ut vas figulinum dissipat, omnipotente scilicet, quam qua Deus habet, & in totum mundum exercet, virtute. Aliter enim se habet ejus potestas, qua is Mediator, caput & Dominus Ecclesiæ est: aliter, qua simpliciter, ut Deus, una cum Patre & Spiritu S. universum mundum vel immediatè, vel mediantibus potestatibus humanis gubernat. Regnum porro Christi ejusdem, quod Luc. I. 33. habere dicitur in domum Jacob, hoc est, semen promissionis, quod sibi subjicit, ut in eo vivat; neutiquam terrestre, sed merè spirituale est. Æternum verò dicitur, non quòd Regia ea potestas Apostolis & successoribus in terra communicata nunquam cesset (nam nec iis Regia ejusmodi potestas ullatenus competit, nec ministerium eorundem æternum est) sed propterea, quia non tantùm fideles, Regni hujus filios, sibi subjicit ad luctam & pugnam contra peccatum, ut in iis belligeretur, sed in iis etiam triumphat tum propter justitiam æternam, tum per Spiritum æternum, & in iis manifestatione cum gloria æterna. Hæc omnia, Regni Christi κτῆμα ἐς ἀεὶ, vel turpiter tu ignoras, vel impudenter confundis, ne Papa tuus, Christi scilicet vicarius, sine causa se πανταχοῦ hujus mundi gerere videatur.

ARG. IV. Potestas Ecclesiæ propria tota est merè spiritualis. Coercetur enim spirituali objecto, uti præcepta Christi, qualia sunt: Docete, baptizate, solvite, ligate, indicant. Sed & in rejectione eorum, qui obstinati Evangelio se opponerent, Christus Apostolos armavit non vi & coactione externa, quæ ultra animos in temporalia operaretur, sed in testimonium infidelitatis incurabilis jussit excutere pulverem Matth. X. 4. contumaces habere pro Ethnicis & publicanis, Matth. XVIII. 17. qua in re nullus externæ violentiæ locus est.

RESP. REDING: Annon uti corpus inſervit ſpiritui, ita etiam temporalia ſubordinantur ſpiritualibus? Nam homo & corpore & anima Deum glorificare debet. Licet ergo temporalia poteſtati ſpirituali directè non ſubjaceant, indirectè tamen ſubjacent, quia ſpiritualis poteſtas abſolutum regimen in ordine ad finem ſupernaturalem habet. lb. p. 193. Reſp. Fruſtra temporalem poteſtatem ſpirituali ſubordinatam eſſe, cum Hierarchicis veſtris, fingis. Sunt enim eſſentialiter diſtinctæ. uti ipſemet Gelaſius veſter Papa agnovit. Quod in ſuis Diabolus quoque imitatus eſt, utpote qui ſemper, quæ Divino cultui convenirent, ſibimet tyrannico ſpiritu vendicare contendit, ut Pagani Imperatores iidem & Maximi Pontifices dicerentur. Sed cùm ad verum ventum eſt, Chriſtum, eundem Regem & Pontificem, ultra ſibi nec Imperator Pontificis nomen impoſuit, nec Pontifex Regale faſtigium vindicavit. Diſtincta equidem ſunt poteſtas, & ſubjectum habens poteſtatem, ita ut habens poteſtatem politicam Eccleſiæ, & viciſſim habens poteſtatem Eccleſiaſticam ſecularis ſubjici poſſit debeátque. Sed poteſtates ipſæ ſic diſcretæ ſunt, ut neutra alteri ſubjici; neutra in alterius fines involare debeat vel poſſit. Neque hic poteſtatum ſubordinatio ulla locum habere poteſt, quia dignitas & officium, quod eſt in ſubordinato, non poteſt non eſſe in ſubordinante, cùm ab eo deriveture. At politicæ poteſtatis dignitas & officium in Eccleſiaſtica non continetur. Et fruſtra planè ſubordinationem hanc ſimilitudine animæ & corporis explicare contendis. An enim ſicut ſpiritus vitam corpori, & cuilibet ejus parti impartitur: ita Spiritualis etiam poteſtas civili propriam functionem & adminiſtrationem præſcribit? An ſicut corpus ſine anima conſiſtere nequit, temporalis etiam poteſtas ſine Eccleſiaſtica conſiſtere non poteſt? An ſicut corpus in Spiritum directè agit, eccleſiaſtica ſimiliter in civilem, eam movendo, regendo, præceptis legibúſque informando directè agit? Hoc tu ipſe affirmare non ſuſtines. Licet autem eccleſiaſtica poteſtas ſe extendat ad finem ſupernaturalem, atque ad eundem finem omnes etiam actiones corporales collineare debeant, inde tamen non conficitur Eccleſiæ Miniſtris in res temporales ullam poteſtatem externam & coercentem competere; sed tantùm, eos spiritualibus remediis ex verbo Dei petitis, procul ulla coactione, res temporales ad supernaturalem finem provehere debere.

ARG. V. Paulus etiam Hebr. XIII. 7. jubet obedire præpositis, nempe in iis, quæ animam concernunt. Addit enim rationem demandati obsequii: Ipsi enim vigilant pro animabus vestris, tanquam rationem reddituri. Atque hinc est, quòd etiam Christus passim Ποιμήν vocatur Pontifex & Sacerdos noster, Hebr. IV. 14. V. 16. Pontifici autem & Sacerdoti quis nescit animarum duntaxat commissam curam esse? Et ministri ejus vocantur Oeconomi Luc. XII. 41. 1. Legati 2. Cor. V. 20. quorum neutri externam αὐτοκρατορικὴν potestatem obtinent.

Resp. Reding: Obligatio obediendi Præpositis indirectè & consequenter etiam ad temporalia se extendit; & quidem sub censuris ecclesiasticis. Ib. pag. 393. Resp. Sed sine ulla potestate vel legislativa, vel judiciali quoad rerum temporalium administrationem, vel externa coërcente. Nàm censuræ etiam ecclesiasticæ, quatenus externa & temporali jurisdictione indigent, ad potestatem civilem pertinent.

ARG. VI. Ecclesiæ non competere vel judicium de rebus fidei decisivum, vel potestatem νομοθετικὴν propriè dictam, supra probavimus. At nec potestatem coercendi, puniendi, & cogendi, quæ una superest, ei competere manifestum est, quia nec in animam, nec in corpus ea cadere potest. Non in animam, utpote cujus coërcitio & coactio soli Deo subest. Non in corpus, cujus coactio nuspiam Ecclesiæ, ubique civili summæ potestati in verbo Dei vindicatur. Nam judicium, quo utitur Ecclesia in contumaces, excludendos videlicet à consortio fidelium, à sacra Synaxi, ab Ecclesia, nec respectu animæ, nec corporis, violentum & coactivum est, cùm excluso hac ratione adhuc relicta sit vel libertas parendi, vel licentia repugnandi. Quòd si se cœtui sacro intruserit, non ecclesia, sed civilis potestas externa vi ipsum coget ad officium, & expellet.

Resp. Reding: 1. An ergo contumaci à sacra synaxi per Ecclesiam excluso est licentia si non Dei, saltem Ecclesiæ foro impune repugnandi? Si non est, Ecclesia igitur habet vim coactivam. Et quomodo non violenta erit exclusio, cùm publicam infamiam ingerat? 2. An non communio Ecclesiæ, bonúmque famæ ac honoris, quorum, mediantibus censuris jactura fit, sunt quædam animæ bona, ut adeò eorum privatione vis coërcitiva exerceatur adversus animam, imò consequenter etiam adversus corpus? Ib. pag 394. Resp. 1. Contumax à synaxi legitimè exclusus jus quidem repugnandi Ecclesiæ non habet. Fieri tamen potest, ut præter jus licentiam repugnandi sibi sumat. Eo in casu an Ecclesia contumacem coërcebit & corpori ejus vim faciet? Non puto equidem. Civilis potestas, si Ecclesiæ membrum sit, auxiliares manus porriget, utpote quæ sola gladium gestat, & vindex est ad iram omni malum facienti, Rom. XIII. 4. An verò infamia, ut habeatur aliquis aliquis pro Ethnico & Publicano, externam coercitionem requirit? Nimis profectò deliras. Sicut enim bona fama in opinione & judicio de proximi virtute & dignitate: ita infamia in opinione pariter & judicio de indignitate proximi consistit. Quæ verò in judicio & opinione externa vis & coercitio locum habet? 2. Par ratio est privatæ communionis per censuram Ecclesiæ. An enim censura, seu elenchus ex Dei verbo institutus, vim corpori admovet? Et si quæ vis animæ incumbit, illa non à jurisdictione externa Ecclesiæ, sed à sententia legislatoris Dei, à præcone ex ejusdem verbo deprompta, tota provenit.

ARG. VII. Accedit, quòd Deus unicam supremam, architectonicam & ἀνωτάτω ἄρχον potestatem, jure gladii armatam instituit, cujus proinde Jurisdictioni πᾶσα ψυχὴ omnis anima juxta Apostolum Rom. XIII. subjecta, & ad imperata omnia obnoxia esse debet. Id porro etiam manifestum est, tum quia ipse Christus magistratibus subjectus fuit, vectigal solvens pro se & Petro, Matth. XVII. 27. tum quia veteres sacerdotes Regibus suis in civilibus & criminalibus subjecti fuerunt, uti liquet exemplis Davidis, qui ordines & officia Levitarum in templo constituit; Solomonis, qui Abiatharem deposuit; Josaphati, qui cultum idololatricum sua auctoritate sustulit; Joasi, qui Sacerdotum & Jojadæ Pontificis negligentiam coarguit; Hiskiæ, qui cultum à Sacerdotibus & Prophetis corruptum instauravit; Josiæ, qui ossa Sacerdotum super altaria ipsorum combussit, & Pascha ex libro Legis restituit: tum quia in Novo Testamento omnibus, nullo excepto, præcipitur obedientia civilis, Rom. XIII. 1. Tit. III. 1. 1. Pet. II. 13. Qui igitur externam & supremam ejusmodi Jurisdictionem civili collateralem invehunt, contra jus Dei & naturæ, imperium in imperio ædificant.

RESP. REDING: 1. Si unica est potestas architectonica, eaque civilis jure gladii armata, quomodo subsistet Divinum effatum Deuteronom. XVII. 12. Qui superbierit, nolens obedire Sacerdotis imperio, morte moriatur. 2. Cùm Rom. XIII. 1. præcipitur, ut omnis anima subsit potestati eminenti, id de potestate civili locum habet non absolutè, sed in sensu accommodo, intra limites nempe fori civilis. Quomodo aliàs in Mosaica lege præter Politicum Magistratum locum habere potuit supremum pro populo Sacerdotium, cum potestate sua conjunctum? Neque potestas ejusmodi in N. Test. abrogata est, uti liquet ex absoluta ligandi potestate Oecumenico fidelium Pastori à Christo collata. 3. Imò verò Christus Matth. XVII. 26. profitetur, filios Regni, adeóque se etiam liberum esse à tributo. Non igitur tributum solvit jure subjectionis, sed ne scandalum exactores tributi paterentur. Ib. pag. 394. 395. Resp. 1. Argumentum meum de tempore N. Test. loquitur. Perperam ergo ex veteri, in quo diversa Ecclesiæ & Politiæ œconomia fuit, respondes. Nam ibi quidem Sacerdotes ex Dei præscripto potestate etiam externa ad vindicandum ordinem in Ecclesia à Deo institutum pollebant. Quanquam locus Deut. XVII. 12. nihil te juvat, quia ita ibi legislator superbè agentem contra Sacerdotem vel judicem morti addicit, ut potestatem inferendæ mortis, adeóque exteriorem jurisdictionem judicialem Sacerdoti non vindicat. 2. Utique Rom.XIII.1. omnis anima potestati supereminenti subesse jubetur non absolutè, sed usque ad aras: in sensu etiam commodo, & intra limites fori civilis. Sed aliud forum eminens ecclesiast cum temerè supponis. Neque vel Ecclesiæ N. Test. à Christo data est absoluta ligandi potestas, quæ uni solique Deo competit: vel ligandi potestas externam jurisdictionem, uti infra ostendimus, arguit. 3. Christus Matth.XVII.26. dicens; filios Regni liberos esse, non se, qua hominem, & legi subjectum, à politico foro exemptum docet, sed ostendit, nec se, qua Filium Dei, obligari ad didrachma solvendum, tanquam λύτρον animæ suæ, nec discipulos suos, qui ab ipso libertatem hæreditant, & non argento redimuntur, sed pretioso ejus sanguine, ad servitutem figuræ teneri. Ne tamen scandalum præberet, quasi qua homo legibus solutus censeri velit, tributum solvit. Vos verò cur non scandali similis metu æquè tributa pensitatis, & subjectionem vestram testamini?

ARG. VIII. Sed & vetus Ecclesia ab ejusmodi præfectura planè abhorruit. Chrysostomus Homil.3 in Acta Apostol. legislativam auctoritatem Ecclesiæ erga fideles prorsus derogat. Atque id ipsum etiam Homil.1.in Tit. probat eo argumento, quòd in potestate subjectorum Ecclesiæ positum sit obedire vel non. Hieronymus Epist. 2. ad Neopotianum graviter urget locum Petri 1. Ep. V.3. Nazianzenus in Apolog. ait: Non vi, vel necessitate oportere constringere, sed ratione & vitæ exemplis suadere. Bernhardi plura loca affert M.Anthon. de Dominis de Rep. Eccl. lib.V.2. Atque hinc etiam est, quòd Justinus Imp. de Episc. & Cler. l. 41. aliique olim Ecclesiasticis legum civilium studium & professionem, tanquam iis noxiam, interdixêre. Videri de eadem re Gerson lib. de vita Spirit. Lect. 1. & Petrus Blesensis epist. 25. possunt. Adversarios hujus Ecclesiasticæ Jurisdictionis & potestatis, ex posterioribus etiam seculis, novimus plures, veluti Marsilium Patavinum, Authorem oneris Ecclesiæ, Guntherum, Petrum de Vineis, Wilhelmum Occam, Petrum Ferrariensem, Albericum Rosatem, Anthonium Rosellum, inprimis etiam Fridericum Barbarossam.

Resp. Redino: 1. Chrysostomus homil. 70. ad populum Ecclesiasticam jurisdictionem diserè stabilit. Et homil.3. in Acta Petrum habuisse constituendi jus par omnibus; & præfectos non tanto honore potiri, quo Præsides Ecclesiæ asserit. Denique homil.1. in Titum in fidelibus agnoscit obligationem obediendi præpositis Ecclesiæ. In potestate autem subditorum esse, iis obedire, vel non, addit, ut ambitionis affectum ab ecclesiasticis removeret, utpote qui imperare, & non ad imperata cogere possint æquè ac Principes seculares, qui etiam invitos cogere possunt. 2. *Hieronymus loc. cit. hoc unum contendit, ecclesiasticorum authoritatem non esse dominativam. Et paulò ante comparans curam boni Patris familiâs cum cura Epiſcopi, hanc illa multò graviorem facit, ex imperii multò minori poteſtate. *Addit: Ἐπὶ μὲν τῷ ἀρχοντι ὁ φόβος ἐστὶν, ἐπὶ δὲ τῷ ἐπισκόπῳ. Quid hoc ad jurisdictionem exteriorem? Quid τὸ πρεσβεῖον, major dignitas, honor Epiſcopi quàm præfectorum, ad eandem? Nugari ubique amas. Idem Chryſoſtomus homil. 1. in Tit. negat Eccleſiæ Miniſtrorum eſſe immeare mandata, præcepta ferre, ratione addita, quia οὐκ ἐπὶ τῇ ἐκείνων ἐστὶ ποιεῖσθαι τὴν ἀρχὴν, in poteſtate noſtra ſit iis obedire vel non obedire. Τὰ δὲ ἡμέτερα, inquit, ἐπιτάγματα ἐστὶ τοῖς ἐκεῖ, ἐὰν ἀνάγκη τι ποιῆσαι μὴ ποιήσωσι κωλυθέντων. Mandata non ſunt in noſtra poteſtate, ſed neceſſe eſt vel facere, vel non facientem punire. Qua ergo jurisdictione legislativa & coercitiva Eccleſia pollet? Lepidum planè, quòd ambitionis affectum à Miniſtris Eccleſiæ ſic removeri ais. Removet ſanè, ſed eo argumento, quòd ne quidem immiſcere mandare aliquid, puta à Chriſto non mandatum, aufint. Et de conſid. lib. I. cap. 6. dicit: In criminibus, non poſſeſſionibus eſt poteſtas veſtra, quoniam propter illa, & non propter hæc acceptiſti claves Regni Cœlorum. Quæ verba ipſe Johannes Ferus veſter, omnem jurisdictionem externam ab Eccleſiaſticis removerius graviter urget. Et uſſii hoc Bernhardi dictum, ut eique ſemper Hieromonarchicos, qui Romanum Pontificem utraque ſuprema poteſtate mactare nituntur. 4. Sed adempta hujus potestatis bonam partem iis redditam à Principibus sequentibus, Justiniano forum stabilisse & Audientiam, isque unà cum causis religionum, delicta clericorum Ecclesiastica, & in Laicos varias Jurisdictiones spontaneas assignante. His gradibus charitatem in dominationem degenerasse. Separatis postea in occidente provinciis paulatim Episcopos in principum consilia advocari, mixtum forum instrui, laicorum causas spiritualitatis obtentu ad illud evocari, & divinum ad hæc omnia Jus, & Christi ipsius institutionem alligari cœpisse. EXCIP. REDING : Si Dominus præter dominium privatum habeat ſupremam Regni jurisdictionem,domûſque ſuæ œconomiam committat alteri cum authoritate clavium non domus privatæ duntaxat ,ſed Regni ſui,conceſſa indefinita & illimitata ligandi & ſolvendi poteſtate , num inſanus eſt,qui aſſerit , tali ſub clavibus commiſſis abſolutam jurisdictionem conceſſam eſſe ? Ita Pharao Joſepho,ita Chriſtus Petro œconomicam poteſtatem tradidit. Ib. pag.397. 398. Reſp. Nimis certè abſolutè pronuntias, ut abſolutam jurisdictionem Papæ & clero tuo vindices,ne ſine cauſa Papa Rex Regum, & tû quoque Princeps S. R. I. audire videaminî. Sed primò qualiſcunque jurisdictio Petro, Apoſtolis & Eccleſiæ Miniſtris omnibus tradita eſt,illa tamen merè ſpiritualis,non externa, coercens, dominans eſt. Nam ne ipſe quidem Chriſtus, cùm hanc poteſtatem clavium S. Petro tradidit, ſe abſolutum Regem ac dominum Cœli & terræ geſſit,proteſtatus, ſuum Regnum non eſſe de hoc mundo. Unde vocantur claves Regni Cælorum,non terræ. Dein claves dedit S. Petro, ut Dominus ſervo, herus œconomo. Servi autem & œconomi poteſtas non eſt niſi miniſterialis, pendens ex imperio & præſcripto,quod ſi tranſgrediatur,reus eſt, neque quod tranſgrediendo agit, ratum eſt apud dominum. Unde ad rationem etiam adminiſtratæ domus & clavium reddendam vocari poteſt. Præterea poteſtas illa œconomica à Chriſto explicatur de poteſtate remittendi & retinendi peccata. Atqui Eccleſiæ Miniſtri peccata remittunt & retinent non ut Domini , vel ex plenitudine poteſtatis,vel per juriſdictionem ullam,nedum externam ; ſed ut præcones legis à Chriſto Domino latæ , quam conſcientiis pœnitentium & impœnitentium ſic applicant, ut ſententiam tamen non ferant ipſi ſed talem à Chriſto nudè præconient. Denique Chriſtus corpore ſuo ſejunctus licet à domo ſua, Eccleſia , quam in mundo habet , potentia tamen & gratia Divinitatis , Spiritu & verbo conjunctiſſimus eidem, ſolus in conſcientiis hominum , ligando & ſolvendo , peccata retinendo & remittendo, dominatur & juriſdictionem exercet, neque quenquam præter ſe dominum patitur : miniſtrandi, prædicandi poteſtate ſola relicta quibuſdam, quos viſibili modo Eccleſiæ præeſſe voluit. Nulla ergo Eccleſiæ Miniſtris jurisdictio propria ; nulla poteſtas illimitata, indefinita ; nedum jurisdictio abſoluta , quam ſolus Chriſtus habet, ſolus Antichriſtus ſibi arrogat ; competit. Limitata ſunt omnia,objectum,poteſtas,actus,rati vel irriti, prout miniſter mandato officio defungitur, vel non.

potuerunt. Et quæ allegantur, partim de isto clericorum privilegio omnimodæ immunitatis nihil habent, partim falsa interpretatione depravantur. 4. Imperatorum privilegia ad jus humanum, non Divinum spectant. Neque ea se extendunt ad criminalia, sed ad civilia, quæ non tam à subjectione & obligatione, quàm ab ordinariis quibusdam operibus relaxant. Neque etiam humanæ leges divino & naturali juri præscribere possunt. Cúmque privilegium quodvis perdatur per abusum, scandalum, delictum, enorme damnum; etiam clerus privilegiis concessis easdem ob causas pridem excidit.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Fateris, Ecclesiam in iis, quæ ad proprium munus spectant, politiæ civili non subjici. Ergo in iis subsunt alii superiori potestati quàm civili, atque eatenus ab hac eximuntur. 2. Jus Divinum, quo in civilibus & criminalibus omnis anima Magistratui politico subjecta esse debet, sic in se formaliter determinatum est, ut tamen materialiter quoad personam, cui ejusmodi authoritas competat, non extet juris Divini determinatio, sed personæ illius designatio ab humana constitutione pendeat. Quidni ergo in Conciliis Oecumenicis pro certis causis civilibus etiam judices Ecclesiastici designari potuerint? Cujusmodi etiam potestatem fidelibus primitivæ Ecclesiæ competere, S. Paulus 1.Cor.VI.4. testatur. 3. Eodem jure Ecclesia etiam circa causas criminales clericorum Politicæ potestati modum ponere potuit. lb. pag.400. Resp. 1. In causis, quæ Ministrorum Ecclesiæ propriæ sunt, subsunt illi potestati sublimiori, at non humanæ, verùm Divinæ, Christo, animarum Pastori, qui legibus in verbo suo descriptis eorum officia & ministerium omne constrinxit. Exercitium autem ministerii illius quoad externum ordinem eminenti potestati civili, custodi ordinis & utriusque præceptorum Divinorum tabulæ subest. 2. Jure Divino equidem designatio personæ non est determinata, adcóque ea ab humana constitutione omnino dependet. Sed personæ cuicunque humano arbitrio designatæ sic omnis potestas civilis, cujus radix Divina institutio est, cedit, ut jure Divino & naturali omnes sine discrimine, Tros Rutulúsve, ecclesiastici plebeíve fuant, in civilibus, omníque externo ordine ei subjiciantur. Neque ecclesiæ Ministri designari possunt eminentis hujus potestatis subjectum, quia jure Divino à dominatione omni illi removentur, & secularibus negotiis implicari vetantur. Neque quidquam ad rem facit, quòd S. Paulus 1.Cor.VI.1. &c. discretionem causarum civilium fidelibus & sanctis quibusvis commendat, quia sermo ibi est de statu perturbato Ecclesiæ, quo illa infideli Magistratui suberat; & de causis civilibus levioribus; & non tam de potestate judiciaria cum jurisdictione externa & coercente conjuncta, quam omnem eminenti potestati ipsemet Rom.XIII.1. vindicaverat, quàm de compositione dissidentium per judicium charitatis, & arbitrium Sanctorum prudentum, citra obligationem civilem parendi. Vos contra potestati Ecclesiasticæ jurisdictionem externam & merè temporalem in causas civiles, bona, imò vitam ipsam clericorum vindicatis. Hæc toto Cœlo differunt. 3. Jure ergo legitimo nullo, sed merè Antichristiano etiam in criminalibus sive laicorum, sive clericorum causis Papa cum dominante suo clero Politicæ potestati modum ponit. Nemo enim, nisi superior, alteri in exercitio suæ potestatis modum ponere potest. Atqui Ecclesiæ ministri quoad civilia & temporalia eminente potestate civili superiores neutiquam sunt.

OCIECT. VII. Christus Matth. XVIII. 17. fratrem correptioni duorum vel plurium non parentem jubet deferri ad ecclesiam, eámque ecclesiam audire sub gravissima pœna mandat. Ergo quælibet peccata contumacium ad Ecclesiæ præpositos, tanquam judices, deferenda sunt. Resp. 1. Ita quidem visum Innocentio III. qui hac ratione ad Jurisdictionem suam omnia omnium contumacium peccata, etiam Principum ac Regum controverlias sub formalitate peccati, seu, quatenus in illis peccati quædam conspicua est ratio, facilè revocare, adeóque immensam in omnes Christianos potestatem coactivam fundare potuit. Sed 1. Innocentianæ huic probationi Navarrus in C. Novit. de Jud. notat. 6. num. 55. insolubiles objectiones opposuit, ac præcipuè hoc, quòd inde fororum maxima oriatur confusio, cùm tamen nemo extra suum forum sit trahendus. Cùm enim nulla sit fori politici causa, quæ non contineat injustitiam, seu formalitatem peccati, patet sanè, à foro politico nullam non causam ad Ecclesiasticum sic trahi posse. Possent igitur, inquit, actores ad decipiendum ac declinandum judicem suum laicum ordinarium ita concipere libellos suos petitorios, ut concluderent, eos peccare, & injecto perseverare. 2. Judicium circa peccatum duplici ratione pertinet ad Ecclesiam, nempe tum in foro secreto, seu privato, cùm peccator pastori sponte & secretò confitetur peccatum, & ab eo consolationem petit; tum in publico, cùm peccatum publicum & notorium scandalum in eo corripitur, & peccator correptus ac contumax in eo à communione Sacra suspenditur, vel excluditur. Atqui in neutro illo foro vera & coactiva jurisdictio locum habet. Non in illo, quia quamvis peccatorem confitentem corripere, pœnitentem consolari, ad reparandum, v. g. damnum, obligare possit, tamen cogere non potest vel ad pœnitentiam, vel ad reparationem damni, neque in illum renitentem quidquam ei licet. Et sanè in tali foro, in quo reus & accusator & reus est, actor locum non habet. Non in hoc, quia peccata non externæ ejus jurisdictioni, sed correptionis tantùm, & ad extremum excommunicationis judicio subsunt. Quin & excommunicationis hujus gladio obnoxia sunt non quælibet peccata, sed ea duntaxat, quæ externum ecclesiæ statum perturbant, vel Ecclesiam scandalizant, adeò ut si ea non corripiantur vel emendentur, ruinæ spirituales occasio multis existant. Neque aliud hic spectat Ecclesia, quàm reparationem scandali, pœnitentiam & ædificationem peccatoris, non ejus destructionem vel vindictam propriè dictam. 3. Merum cavillum Innocentii & stropha sophistica est, sub ratione sola peccati jurisdictionem velle acquirere in causas civiles, & supremas potestates, quæ in terris nullum judicem superiorem habent, sibi indirectè subjicere.

jicere. In controverſiis enim publicis quis alteri faciat injuriam, eccleſiæ conſtare non poteſt, quia quæſtio eſt de jure, quod à ſolo judice civili, non eccleſiaſtico cognoſci poteſt.

EXCIP. REDINO: 1. Chriſtus Matth. XVIII. 17. indefinitè pronuntiavit, ut qui corripienti ſeorſim, vel aſciſis teſtibus, non parucrit, ad Eccleſiam deferatur. Quæ ergo fronte negas, cauſam quamlibet juri Divino ſub formalitate peccati repugnantem, Eccleſiæ judicio ſubeſſe? 2. Ponamus ſtatum controverſiæ, in quo neuter litigantium ſuperiorem judicem civilem agnoſcat. Annon in eo caſu juſtè correptus ad Eccleſiam deferri poterit, quæ ejuſmodi ſententiam ferat, ut qui ei non obediverit, pro Ethnico & Publicano haberi debeat. Licet ergo in tali caſu Eccleſia non directè cognoſcat de jure civili poteſtati ſubjecto, ſententiam tamen fert de peccato, adeóque indirectè de jure cognoſcit, quantum ad diſcernendam peccati formalitatem ſufficit. Ergo ſubſiſtit decretum Innocentii III. adverſus Regem Galliæ ad forum Eccleſiæ evocatum; quippe evidentibus rationibus ſuffultum. 3. Navarrus verò non tam impugnat decretum Innocentii, quàm adverſas rationes, quas in ei dolosè tribuis, propugnat. 4. Fateris, judicium circa peccatum duplici ratione pertinere ad Eccleſiam, nempe tum in foro ſecreto, tum in publico. Fori autem ſecreti confeſſio inſtituta Joh. XX. 22. ejuſque poteſtas remittendi peccata etiam in Regno Laicorum, rationem habet veræ juriſdictionis, cujus vi agnoſcis pœnitentem ad reparandum obligari poſſe. Et in foro publico peccata Eccleſiæ ſtatum perturbantia agnoſcis ſubeſſe judicio excommunicationis, quæ ſine juriſdictione propriè dicta locum habere nequit. lb. pag. 401. 402. Reſp. 1. Non de quovis peccato, ſed de offenſa proximi, ab offendente reparandâ; imò de ſola pertinacia offendentis, qua quis correptioni plurium ſe opponit, Eccleſiæ judicio ſubjicienda loqui Chriſtum, nimis manifeſtum eſt. Dicit enim v. 15. &c. Ἐὰν ἁμαρτήσῃ εἰς σὲ ὁ ἀδελφός σου. Si peccaverit in te frater tuus, reprehende ipſum inter te & ipſum ſolum. Si non audiverit, aſſume unum aut duos &c. Si non audiverit eos, dic Eccleſiæ. Offenſam certè ſimplicem, cum pertinacia non conjunctam, unius vel plurium etiam privatorum correptioni ſubjicit, ſine ulla juriſdictionis ſpecie. Qua ergo tu fronte cum Innocentio tuo cauſam quamlibet juri Divino ſub formalitate peccati repugnantem externo & juridico Eccleſiæ foro, detortis iniquiſſimè verbis Chriſti, ſubjicere conaris? 2. Caſum fingis, qui legitimè nunquam extitit, nec exiſtere poteſt. Nam cùm Chriſtus nomine Eccleſiæ, ad quam deferri juſſit pertinacem peccatorem, non univerſalem utique Eccleſiam, ſed particularem intellexerit, nulla unquam particularis extitit, vel exiſtet, cujus judicio ſubſint litigantes duo vel plures, qui judicem civilem ſuperiorem nullum agnoſcant. Supponis poteſtatem illegitimam Papæ Oecumenici, cujus poteſtas ſe in Reges & Principes quoſvis extendat, non tantùm quoad ſpiritualia, ſed quoad temporalia etiam, verbo quidem indirectè, ſed re directiſſimè. Nos monſtrum iſthoc ſupra debellavimus. 3. Navarrus Innocentianæ definitioni oppoſita à ſe argumenta diluere equidem conatus eſt. Sed irrito ſucceſſu. Nam objectionem à ſe motam, quòd ſic fieret fororum confuſio, cùm tamen nemo extra forum ſuum ſit trahendus, adeò difficilem ſibi viſam profitetur, ut nunquam auſus fuerit eam è cathedra proponere. Sed tum demum, cùm hæc ſcriberet, velut è machina occurriſſe reſponſionem, ejuſmodi, verum quidem eſſe, poſſe actorem pro quacunque cauſa ſub ratione peccati reum coram judice Eccleſiaſtico convenire, niſi ipſe reus excipiat: reum verò poſſe excipere, id malitiosè fieri, ad declinandum forum, & talem exceptionem teneri

judicem

judicem Ecclesiasticum admittere, ne dolo ac fraudibus locus relinquatur. Ac sic vitari illam fororum confusionem, & fora non turbari. Sed quàm probè, Navarre, solvisti nodum? Quid enim si judex nolit admittere hanc exceptionem, an nihilominus poterit procedere, ac tum validus erit ipsius processus? Si ais, argumentum à te Innocentio oppositum vivit, valet & vincit, nec sic vitatur confusio, cùm sit in libertate judicis, illam exceptionem admittere, vel non admittere. Si verò processus nullus est, ita ut post exceptionem interpositam, judicium ejus nullius sit roboris, continget id vel ex defectu jurisdictionis, vel ex lege positiva, quæ tale judicium annuller. Si ex defectu jurisdictionis, quomodo judex Ecclesiasticus habet hanc jurisdictionem integram ante, exceptionem, post exceptionem verò illam amittit, cùm præfertim jurisdictionem erga peccata habere jure Divino liberam & absolutam, absq; ulla illius casus exceptione, supponatur? Si ex lege, lex illa profectò, & si qua esset, illa utpote positiva tantùm & ecclesiastica non tolleret, sed ligaret, tantùmque solùm in casu jam dictæ exceptionis prohiberet. Atqui leges positivæ facilè abrogantur, ac in desuetudinem, ac præscriptione tolli possunt, atque ita non satis confusioni consultum foret, manétque argumentum Navarri adhuc vegetum insolutúmque. 4. Forum secretum merè arbitrarium nullam omnino jurisdictionem præsupponit, quia sententia præconii erga pœnitentem, etiam ad reparandum damnum obligans, non aliud est quàm ministerialis propositio, & ad conscientiam hominis declaratio legis Divinæ, procul omni vi & coërcitione externa. In foro etiam publico judicium excommunicationis jurisdictionem propriè dictam nullam requirere, sœpe jam ostendimus.

OBIECT. VIII. Laici non sunt capaces eorum, quæ sunt merè spiritualia. At causa fori episcopalis propriè sunt merè spirituales. Ergo. Resp. 1. Quid magis spirituale est, quàm à Patre cœlesti adoptari in filium, Christi fratrem esse, participem esse gratiæ Dei, regni cœlorum, baptismi, communionis Christi? Et tamen hæc omnia quibusvis fidelibus communia sunt. 2. Sed & causæ, quas forum episcopale sibi vendicat, delicta & contractus, si qualitates eæ, quas scriptura rebus spiritualibus tribuit, spectentur, ab iis tanto intervallo, quantum cœlum à terra, distant.

Excip. Rebino: 1. Si tanto intervallo causæ, quæ forum Episcopale sibi vendicat, à rerum spiritualium qualitatibus distant, quo ergo jure eas ad consistorium Ecclesiasticum, cui etiam Ministri inferiores debeant, trahitis? 2. An quia spiritualia quædam bona fidelibus omnibus communia sunt, judicium de iis à præfectis Ecclesiæ nullum statuendum esse sequitur? Sic etiam civilis jurisdictio omnis abroganda esset, cùm ea etiam bona, de quibus judicium fertur, omnibus communia esse possint. lib. pag. 401. 403. Resp. 1. Sic in consistoriis nostris Ministri Ecclesiæ concurrunt, ut jurisdictionem externam & coercentem exercere, vel temporalia & civilia ad forum illud, quocunque prætextu, trahere iis nefas sit. Alia planè ratio est causarum, quas forum Episcopale sibi vendicat, sub prætextu spiritualitatis iis inhærentis, merè terrestrium & temporalium. Non enim per causas eas intelligitis ea, quæ merè spiritualia sunt, cujusmodi sunt fides, pœnitentia, virtus Divina per præconium Evangelii in corda legentium vel audientium verbum Dei agens, hortationes ad novam vitam, &c. sed jura Regalia, potestas convocandi Synodos, decretis vim legum imprimendi, hæreticos coercendi, de decimis, miis, proventibus, prædiis, matrimoniis, gradibus consanguinitatis, repudiis, divortiis, testamentis, legatis, fabricis ecclesiarum, Xenodochiis administrandis &c. decernendi. Tum eo jurisdictionem mere civilem in Clericorum bona, actus & vitam. Nil tale sibi Ecclesiæ nostræ Ministri in ecclesiasticis suis conventibus vindicant. 2. Cùm laicos bonorum mere spiritualium capaces esse, difficileri non possis, cur capaces esse non possint jurisdictionis externæ in ea, quæ vos spiritualitatis fuco vendicatis, cùm reapse mere temporalia sint? Non igitur iis judicia Ecclesiastica abolemus, sed certis, & jure legitimo omni definitis limitibus coarctamus, ne Ecclesiæ ministri in Principes mundi commutentur, & reliqui iis, quæ propriè spiritualia sunt, in temporalia involutis, ædilitatem, quod ajunt, sine suffragiis gerant. Quod apud vos impune fieri, boni omnes improbant & detestantur merito.

OBIECT. IX. Etiam antiquitas externam ecclesiæ Jurisdictionem agnovit. Augustinus de fide & oper. cap. 4. pervicacissimam scientiatem propositis tribuere eos ait, qui putant non pertinere ad eos nisi docere, quid credendum, faciendumve sit; & ibidem, in ecclesiasticæ potestate positi aculeos & coercitionis severitatem. Cyprianus lib. 5. epist. 1. statuit præfatum ecclesiasticum posse punire Clericum ablatione ecclesiasticorum alimentorum. Sed & Diœcesin cuiusque Episcopi ad ejus Jurisdictionem pertinere, docent veteres, nominatim Gregorius M. lib. 12. epist. 2. 3. 8. Denique Marsilius de Padua damnatus fuit, eò quod omnem coërcitivam Jurisdictionem ab Ecclesia auferret. Resp. 1. Quibus gradibus ab institutione Christi paulatim deflexerit Ecclesia, supra exposuimus. 2. Apud Augustinum, alióque melieris metalli patres, coërcitio tota constituitur in correptione, excommunicatione, uti ex Augustini Serm. 24. de verb. Apost. liquet. 3 Privatio alimentorum ecclesiasticorum, quæ alioquin Episcopus ex communi bonorum massa pensitabat, bene meritis, ad propriè dictam jurisdictionem æquè non pertinebat, atque ad eam non pertinet, cùm Pater filium immorigerum, Dominus servum inediâ mulctat. 4. Diœcesis quælibet spectabat ad Episcopi sui Jurisdictionem, non strictè & propriè, sed latè sumptam pro potestate spirituali gubernandi ecclesiam in proprio ejus objecto. 5. Damnatio Marsilii de Padua, si quæ contigit, fuit facti, non Juris.

EXCIP. REBING: 1. S. Augustinus coercitionis severitatem in potestate ligandi & solvendi à Christo concessa fundat. Illam autem jurisdictionis esse, supra ostendimus. 2. Vel alimentis privat Episcopus ob proprietatis dominium, vel per modum pœnæ vi jurisdictionis. Non propter illud. Ergo propter hanc. 3. Jurisdictioni propriæ actus sunt legislatio & coercitio. Utrumque in jurisdictione Ecclesiæ totum habere, alibi ostendimus. lib. pag. 403. Resp. 1. Nihil eo loco de potestate ligandi & solvendi Augustinus habet. Tu ei affingis. Nec potestatem eam propriè dictæ jurisdictionis rationem habere, tu probare unquam poteris. Hoc sibi clarissimè Augustinus vult, non satisfacere muneri suo Ecclesiæ ministrum, si tantùm faciendæ & fugiendæ doceat, sed necessum insuper est, ut contra scandalosos & infames acriori objurgatione & correptione, juxta monitum Apostoli 2. Tim. IV. 2. insurgat, &, ubi nihil sic profecerit, ab iis Ecclesiam purget. Quis hoc in dubium unquam vocavit? Dominium proprietatis tori equidem Ecclesiæ competebat. Sed administratio penes eos fuit, quibus Ecclesia eam demandavit. Illi ergo demensum partientes, vel ab eo malè meritos arcentes an quæso majorem jurisdictionem exercuerunt, quàm quivis privus paterfamilias, demensum pro merito dispartiens? Tœdet anilium nugarum. 3. Gregorium aliósque veteres jurisdictionem propriè dictam in Ecclesia agnovisse, probandum tibi fuerat, non jurisdictionis propriæ actus edisserendi. Nos verò etiam legislationem & punitionem propriè talem & externam, satis jam ab Ecclesiæ potestate removimus.

SESSIO XIV.

QUÆ EST QUARTA,

Sub Julio III. 25. Febr. 1551.

De sanctissimo Pœnitentiæ & Extremæ Unctionis Sacramento.

SAcro-sancta Oecumenica & generalis Tridentina Synodus in Spiritu sancto legitimè congregata: præsidentibus in ea eisdem sanctæ Apostolicæ sedis Legato & Nuntiis. Quamvis in decreto de Justificatione multus fuerit de Pœnitentia Sacramento propter locorum cognationem, necessaria quadam ratione sermo interpositus, tanta nihilominus circa illud nostra hac ætate diversorum errorum est multitudo, ut non parùm publica utilitatis retulerit, de eo exactiorem & pleniorem definitionem tradidisse: in qua demonstratis & convulsis Spiritûs sancti præsidio universis erroribus, Catholica veritas perspicua & illustris fieret, quam nunc sancta hac Synodus Christianis omnibus perpetuò servandum proponit.

Cap. 1.

De necessitate & institutione Sacramenti Pœnitentiæ.

Si ea in regeneratis omnibus gratitudo erga Deum esset, ut justitiam in baptismo, ipsius beneficio & gratiâ susceptam, constanter tuerentur, non fuisset opus, aliud ab ipso baptismo Sacramentum ad peccatorum remissionem esse institutum. Quoniam autem Deus, dives in misericordia, cognovit figmentum nostrum, illis etiam vitæ remedium contulit, qui ſeſe poſtea in peccati ſervitutem & dæmonis poteſtatem tradidiſſent: Sacramentum videlicet pœnitentiæ, quo lapſis poſt baptiſmum, beneficium mortis Chriſti applicatur. Fuit quidem pœnitentia univerſis hominibus, qui ſe mortali aliquo peccato inquinâſſet, quovis tempore ad gratiam & juſtitiam aſſequendam neceſſaria, illis etiam qui baptiſmi Sacramento ablui petiviſſent, ut perverſitate abjecta & eliminata, tantam Dei offenſionem cum peccati odio & pio animi dolore deteſtarentur.

Unde Propheta ait, Convertimini & agite pœnitentiam ab omnibus iniquitatibus veſtris, & non erit vobis in ruinam iniquitas. Dominus etiam dixit: niſi pœnitentiam egeritis, omnes ſimpliciter peribitis. Et Princeps Apoſtolorum Petrus, peccatoribus baptiſmo initiandis pœnitentiam commendans, dicebat: Pœnitentiam agite, & baptizetur unuſquiſque veſtrûm. Porro nec ante adventum Chriſti pœnitentia erat Sacramentum, nec eſt poſt adventum illius cuiquam ante baptiſmum. Dominus autem Sacramentum, tunc præcipuè inſtituit, cùm à mortuis excitatus inſufflavit in diſcipulos ſuos dicens: Accipite Spiritum ſanctum: quorum remiſeritis peccata, remittitur eis: & quorum retinueritis, retenta ſunt. Quo tam inſigni facto, & verbis tam perſpicuis, poteſtatem remittendi & retinendi peccata, ad reconciliandos fideles poſt baptiſmum lapſos, Apoſtolis & eorum legitimis ſucceſſoribus fuiſſe communicatam, univerſorum Patrum conſenſus ſemper intellexit: & Novatianos remittendi poteſtatem olim pertinaciter negantes, magna ratione Eccleſia Catholica tanquam hæreticos exploſit atque condemnavit. Quare veriſſimum hunc illorum verborum Domini ſenſum ſancta hæc Synodus probans & recipiens, damnat eorum commentitias interpretationes, qui verba illa ad poteſtatem prædicandi verbum Dei, & Chriſti Evangelium annunciandi, contra hujusmodi Sacramenti inſtitutionem falsò detorquent.

Cap. 2.

De differentia Sacramenti Pœnitentiæ & Baptiſmi.

Cæterùm hoc Sacramentum multis rationibus à baptiſmo differre dignoſcitur. Nam præterquam quòd materiâ & formâ, quibus Sacramenti eſſentia perficitur, longiſſimè diſſident, conſtat certè baptiſmi miniſtrum judicem eſſe non oportere, cùm Eccleſia in neminem judicium exerceat, qui non priùs in ipſam per baptiſmi januam fuerit ingreſſus. Quid enim mihi, inquit Apoſtolus, de his, qui foris ſunt, judicare? Secus eſt de domeſticis, quos Chriſtus Dominus lavacro baptiſmi, ſui corporis membra ſemel effecit. Nam hos, ſi ſe poſtea crimine aliquo contaminaverint, non jam repetito baptiſmo ablui, cùm id in Eccleſia Catholica nulla ratione liceat, ſed ante hoc tribunal, tanquam reos, ſiſti voluit, ut per ſacerdotum ſententiam non ſemel, ſed quoties ab admiſſis peccatis ad ipſum pœnitentes confugerint, poſſent liberari. Alius eſt præterea baptiſmi, & alius pœnitentiæ fructus. Per baptiſmum enim Chriſtum induentes, nova prorſus in illo efficimur creatura, plenam & integram tegram peccatorum omnium remiſſionem conſequentes: ad quam tamen novitatem & integritatem per Sacramentum pœnitentiæ ſine noſtris magnis fletibus & laboribus, divinâ id exigente juſtitiâ, pervenire nequaquam poſſumus, ut meritò pœnitentiæ laborioſus quidam baptiſmus à ſanctis Patribus dictus fuerit. Eſt autem hoc Sacramentum pœnitentia lapſis poſt Baptiſmum ad ſalutem neceſſarium, ut nondum regeneratis ipſe baptiſmus.

Cap. 3.

De partibus & fructu hujus Sacramenti.

Docet præterea ſancta Synodus, Sacramenti Pœnitentiæ formam, in qua præcipuè ejus vis ſita eſt, in illis miniſtri verbis poſitam eſſe, Ego te abſolvo &c. Quibus quidem de Eccleſiæ ſanctæ more, preces quædam laudabiliter adjunguntur, ad ipſius tamen formæ eſſentiam nequaquam ſpectant, neque ad ipſius Sacramenti adminiſtrationem ſunt neceſſariæ. Sunt autem quaſi materia hujus Sacramenti, ipſius pœnitentis actus, nempe Contritio, Confeſſio & Satisfactio: qui, quatenus in pœnitente ad integritatem Sacramenti, ad plenámque & perfectam peccatorum remiſſionem ex Dei inſtitutione, requiruntur, hac ratione partes pœnitentiæ dicuntur. Sanè verò res & effectus Sacramenti hujus, quantum ad ejus vim & efficaciam pertinet, reconciliatio eſt cum Deo, quam interdum in viris piis, & cum devotione hoc Sacramentum percipientibus, conſcientiæ pax & ſerenitas cum vehementi ſpiritus conſolatione conſequi ſolet. Hæc de partibus & effectu hujus Sacramenti ſancta Synodus tradens, ſimul eorum ſententias damnat, qui pœnitentiæ partes, inconcuſſos conſcientiæ terrores & fidem eſſe contendunt.

Cap. 4.

De Contritione.

Contritio, quæ primum locum inter dictos pœnitentis actus habet, animi dolor ac deteſtatio eſt de peccato commiſſo, cum propoſito non peccandi de cætero. Fuit autem quovis tempore ad impetrandam veniam peccatorum hic contritionis modus neceſſarius: & in homine poſt baptiſmum lapſo ita demum præparat ad remiſſionem peccatorum, ſi cum fiducia divinæ miſericordiæ, & voto præſtandi reliqua conjunctus ſit, quæ ad ritè ſuſcipiendum hoc Sacramentum requiruntur. Declarat igitur ſancta Synodus, hanc contritionem non ſolùm ceſſationem à peccato, & vitæ novæ propoſitum & inchoationem, ſed veteris etiam odium continere, juxta illud: Projicite à vobis omnes iniquitates veſtras, in quibus prævaricati eſtis, & facite vobis cor novum & ſpiritum novum. Et certè, qui illos ſanctorum clamores conſideravit, Tibi ſoli peccavi, & malum coram te feci: Laboravi in gemitu meo, lavabo per ſingulas noctes lectum meum: Recogitabo tibi omnes annos meos in amaritudine animæ meæ; & alios hujusmodi generis, facilè intelliget, eos ex vehementi quodam quodam ante actæ vitæ odio, & ingenti peccatorum detestatione manâsse. Docet præterea, etsi Contritionem hanc aliquando charitate perfectam esse contingat, hominémque Deo reconciliare, priusquam hoc Sacramentum actu recipiatur, ipsam nihilominus reconciliationem ipsi contritioni sine Sacramenti voto, quod in illa includitur, non esse ascribendam. Illam verò contritionem imperfectam, quæ Attritio dicitur, quoniam vel ex turpitudinis peccati consideratione: vel ex gehennæ & pœnarum metu communiter concipitur, si voluntatem peccandi excludat cum spe veniæ, declarat non solùm non facere hominem hypocritam, verùm etiam donum DEI esse, & Spiritus S. impulsum, non adhuc quidem inhabitantis, sed tantùm moventis, quo pœnitens adjutus, viam sibi ad justitiam parat: & quamvis sine Sacramento pœnitentiæ per se ad justificationem perducere peccatorem nequeat, tamen eum ad Dei gratiam in Sacramento pœnitentiæ impetrandam disponit. Hoc enim timore utiliter concussi Ninivitæ, ad Jonæ prædicationem plenam terroribus, pœnitentiam egerunt, & misericordiam à Domino impetrârunt. Quamobrem falsò quidem calumniantur Catholicos scriptores, quasi tradiderint Sacramentum pœnitentiæ absque bono motu suscipientium gratiam conferre: quod nunquam ecclesia Dei docuit, nec sensit. Sed & falsò docent, Contritionem esse extortam & coactam, non liberam & voluntariam.

Cap. 5.

De Confessione.

Ex institutione Sacramenti Pœnitentiæ jam explicata, universa Ecclesia semper intellexit institutam etiam esse à Domino integram peccatorum confessionem, & omnibus post baptismum lapsis, jure divino necessariam existere. Quia Dominus noster Jesus Christus, è terris ascensurus ad cœlos, sacerdotes sui ipsius vicarios reliquit, tanquam præsides & judices, ad quos omnia mortalia peccata deferantur, in quæ Christi fideles ceciderint, quo pro potestate clavium, remissionis aut retentionis peccatorum sententiam pronuntient. Constat enim, sacerdotes judicium hoc incognitâ causâ exercere non potuisse, neque æquitatem quidem illos in pœnis injungendis servare potuisse, si in genere duntaxat, & non potiùs in specie ac sigillatim sua ipsi peccata declarassent. Ex his colligitur, oportere à pœnitentibus omnia peccata mortalia, quorum post diligentem sui discussionem conscientiam habent, in confessione recenseri, etiam si occultissima illa sint, & tantùm adversus duo ultima Decalogi præcepta commissa, quæ in manifesto admittuntur. Nam venialia, quibus à gratia Dei non excludimur, & in quæ frequentiùs labimur, & quanquam rectè & utiliter citráque omnem præsumptionem in confessione dicantur, quod piorum hominum usus demonstrat, taceri tamen citra culpam, multisque aliis remediis expiari possunt. Verùm cùm universa mortalia peccata, etiam cogitationes, homines iræ filios, & Dei inimicos reddant, necessum est omnium etiam veniam cum aperta & verecunda confessione à Deo quærere. Itaque dum omnia, quæ memoriæ occurrunt, peccata, Christi fideles confiteri audent, procul dubio

omnia

Digitized by Google

omnia divinæ miſericordiæ ignoſcenda exponunt. Qui verò ſecus faciunt, & ſcienter aliqua retinent, nihil divinæ bonitati per ſacerdotem remittendum proponunt. Si enim erubeſcat ægrotus vulnus medico detegere, quod ignorat medicina, non curat. Colligitur præterea etiam eas circumſtantias in confeſſione explicandas eſſe, quæ ſpeciem peccati mutant: quòd ſine illis peccata ipſa neque à pœnitentibus integrè exponantur, nec judicibus innoteſcant, & fieri nequeat, ut de gravitate criminum rectè cenſere poſſint, & pœnam, quam oportet pro illis pœnitentibus imponere. Unde alienum à ratione eſt, docere circumſtantias has ab hominibus otioſis excogitatas fuiſſe, aut unam tantùm circumſtantiam confitendam eſſe, nempe peccáſſe in fratrem. Sed & impium eſt, confeſſionem, qua hac ratione fieri præcipitur, impoſſibilem dicere, aut carnificinam illam conſcientiarum appellare. Conſtat enim nihil aliud in Eccleſia à pœnitentibus exigi, quàm ut poſtquam quiſquis diligentiùs ſe excuſſerit, & conſcientiæ ſuæ ſinus omnes & latebras exploraverit, ea peccata confiteatur, quibus ſe Dominum & Deum ſuum mortaliter offendiſſe meminerit.

Reliqua autem peccata, quæ diligenter cogitanti non occurrunt, in univerſum eadem confeſſione inclusa eſſe intelliguntur: pro quibus fideliter cum Propheta dicimus: Ab occultis meis munda me Domine. Ipſa verò hujuſmodi confeſſionis difficultas, ac peccata detegendi verecundia, gravis quidem videri poſſet, niſi tot tantiſque commodis & conſolationibus relevetur, quæ omnibus dignè ad hoc Sacramentum accedentibus, per abſolutionem certiſſimè conferuntur. Cæterùm quoad modum confitendi ſecretò apud ſolum ſacerdotem: etſi Chriſtus non vetuerit, quin in vindictam ſuorum ſcelerum & ſui humiliationem, cùm ob aliorum exemplum, tum ob Eccleſiæ offenſæ ædificationem, delicta ſua publicè confiteri poſſit, non eſt tamen hoc divino præcepto mandatum, nec ſatis conſultè humanâ aliquâ lege præciperetur, ut delicta præſertim ſecreta, publica eſſent confeſſione aperienda. Unde cùm à ſanctiſſimis & antiquiſſimis Patribus, magno unanimique conſenſu ſecreta confeſſio ſacramentalis, quâ ab initio Eccleſia ſancta uſa eſt, & modò etiam utitur, fuerit ſemper commendata, manifeſtè refellitur inanis eorum calumnia, qui eam à divino mandato alienam, & inventum humanum eſſe, atque à Patribus in Concilio Lateranenſi congregatis, initium habuiſſe, docere non verentur. Nec enim per Lateranenſe Concilium Eccleſia ſtatuit, ut Chriſti fideles confiterentur, quod jure divino neceſſarium & inſtitutum eſſe intellexerat: ſed ut præceptum confeſſionis ſaltem ſemel in anno ab omnibus & ſingulis, cùm ad annos diſcretionis perveniſſent, impleretur. Unde jam in univerſa Eccleſia, cum ingenti animarum fructu, fidelium obſervatur mos ille ſalutaris confitendi ſac o illo & maximè acceptabili tempore Quadrageſimæ: quem morem hæc ſancta Synodus maximè probat & amplectitur, tanquam piè & meritò retinendum.

Cap. 6.

De Miniſtro, & abſolutione hujus Sacramenti.

Circa miniſtrum autem hujus Sacramenti declarat ſancta Synodus, falſas eſſe & à veritate Evangelii penitus alienas doctrinas omnes, quæ ad alios quoſvis homines, præter Epiſcopos & Sacerdotes, Clavium miniſterium perniciosè extendunt, putantes verba illa Domini, Quæcunque alligaveritis ſuper terram, erunt alligata & in cœlo: & quæcunque ſolveritis ſuper terram, erunt ſoluta & in cœlo: &, Quorum remiſeritis peccata, remittuntur eis: & quorum retinueritis, retenta ſunt: ad omnes Chriſti fideles indifferenter & promiſcuè contra inſtitutionem hujus Sacramenti fuiſſe dicta, ut quivis poteſtatem habeat remittendi peccata, publica quidem per correptionem, ſi correptus acquieverit, ſecreta verò per ſpontaneam confeſſionem cuicunque factam. Docet quoque etiam ſacerdotes, qui peccato mortali tenentur, per virtutem Spiritus ſancti in ordinatione collatam, tanquam Chriſti miniſtros, functionem remittendi peccata exercere, eóſque prave ſentire, qui in malis ſacerdotibus hanc poteſtatem non eſſe contendunt. Quamvis autem abſolutio ſacerdotis, alicui beneficii ſit diſpenſatio, tamen non eſt ſolùm nudum miniſterium, vel annuntiandi Evangelium, vel declarandi remiſſa eſſe peccata, ſed ad inſtar actus judicialis, quo ab ipſo, velut à judice, ſententia pronuntiatur. Atque ideo non debet pœnitens adeò ſibi de ſua ipſius fide blandiri, ut etiamſi nulla illi adſit contritio, aut ſacerdoti animus ſeriò agendi & verè abſolvendi deſit, putet tamen ſe propter ſuam ſolam fidem verè & coram Deo eſſe abſolutum. Nec enim fides ſine pœnitentia remiſſionem ullam peccatorum præſtaret, nec is eſſet niſi ſalutis ſuæ negligentiſſimus, qui ſacerdotem joco ſe abſolventem cognoſceret, & non alium ſeriò agentem ſedulò requireret.

Cap. 7.

De Caſuum reſervatione.

Quoniam igitur natura & ratio judicii illud expoſcit, ut ſententia in ſubditos duntaxat feratur, perſuaſum ſemper in Eccleſia Dei fuit, & veriſſimum eſſe Synodus hæc confirmat, nullius momenti abſolutionem eam eſſe debere, quam ſacerdos in eum profert, in quem ordinariam aut ſubdelegatam non habet jurisdictionem. Magnopere verò ad Chriſtiani populi diſciplinam pertinere ſanctiſſimis Patribus noſtris viſum eſt, ut atrociora quædam & graviora crimina non à quibuſvis, ſed à ſummis duntaxat ſacerdotibus abſolverentur. Unde meritò Pontifices maximi pro ſuprema poteſtate ſibi in Eccleſia univerſa tradita, cauſas aliquas criminum graviores ſuo potuerunt peculiari judicio reſervare. Neque dubitandum eſt, quando omnia, quæ à Deo ſunt, ordinata ſunt, quin hoc idem Epiſcopis omnibus, in ſua cuique diœceſi, in ædificationem tamen tamen non in destructionem liceat, pro illis in subditos tradita supra reliquos inferiores sacerdotes auctoritate, præsertim quoad illa, quibus annexa est. Hanc autem delictorum reservationem, consonum est divinæ auctoritati non tantum in externa politia, sed etiam coram DEO, vim habere. Verùm tamen pie admodum, ne hæc ipsa occasione aliquis pereat, in eadem Ecclesia Dei custodium semper fuit, ut nulla sit reservatio in articulo mortis, atque ideo omnes sacerdotes quoslibet pœnitentes à quibuvis peccatis & censuris absolvere possint: extra quem articulum sacerdotes, cum nihil possint in casibus reservatis, id unum pœnitentibus persuadere niuantur, ut ad superiores & legitimos judices pro beneficio absolutionis accedant.

Cap. 8.

De satisfactionis necessitate & fructu.

Demum quoad Satisfactionem, quæ ex omnibus Pœnitentiæ partibus, quem admodum à Patribus nostris Christiano populo fuit perpetuo tempore commendata, sta una maximè nostra ætate, summo pietatis prætextu impugnatur ab his, qui specium pietatis habent, virtutem autem ejus abnegarunt) sancta Synodus declarat, falsum omnino esse, & à verbo Dei alienum, culpam à Domino nunquam remitti, quin universa etiam pœna condonetur. Perspicua enim & illustria in sacris literis exempla reperiuntur, quibus præter divinam traditionem hic error quàm manifestissimè revincitur. Sanè & divinæ justitiæ ratio exigere videtur, ut aliter ab eo in gratiam recipiantur, qui ante baptismum per ignorantiam deliquerint: aliter verò qui semel à peccati & dæmonis servitute liberati, accepto Spiritus sancti dono, scientes templum Dei violare & Spiritum sanctum contristare non formidaverint. Et divinam clementiam decet, ne ita nobis absque ulla satisfactione peccata dimittantur, ut occasione acceptâ, peccata leviora putantes, velut injuriî & contumeliosi Spiritui sancto in graviora labamur, thesaurizantes nobis iram in die iræ. Procul dubio enim magnopere à peccato revocant, & quasi freno quodam cœrcent hæc satisfactoria pœna, cautioresque & vigilantiores in futurum pœnitentes efficiunt: medentur quoque peccatorum reliquiis, & vitiosis habitus, male vivendo comparatos, contrariis virtutum actionibus tollunt. Neque verò securior ulla via in Ecclesia Dei unquam existimata fuit ad amovendam imminentem à Domino pœnam, quàm ut hæ pœnitentiæ opera homines cum vero animi dolore frequentent. Accedit ad hæc, quòd dum satisfaciendo patimur pro peccatis, Christo Jesu, qui pro peccatis nostris satisfecit, ex quo omnis nostra sufficientia est, conformes efficimur, certissimâque inde arrham habentes quòd si compatimur, & glorificabimur.

Neque verò ita nostra est satisfactio hæc, quam pro peccatis nostris exsolvimus, ut non sit per Christum Jesum: nam quod ex nobis, tanquam ex nobis nihil possimus, eo cooperante, qui nos confortat, omnia possumus. Ita non habet homo unde glorietur, sed omnis gloriatio noſtra in Chriſto eſt, in quo vivimus, in quo meremur, in quo ſatisfacimus, facientes fructus dignos pœnitentiâ, qui ex illo non habent, ab illo offeruntur Patri, & per illum acceptantur à Patre. Debent ergo ſacerdotes Domini, quantum ſpiritus & prudentia ſuggeſſerit, pro qualitate criminum & pœnitentium facultate, ſalutares & convenientes ſatisfactiones injungere: ne ſi forte peccatis conniveant, & indulgentiùs cum pœnitentibus agant, laviſſima quædam opera pro graviſſimis delictis injungendo, alienorum peccatorum participes efficiantur. Habeant autem pra oculis, ut ſatisfactio, quam imponunt, non ſit tantùm ad novæ vitæ cuſtodiam, & infirmitatis medicamentum, ſed etiam ad præteritorum peccatorum vindictam & caſtigationem. Nam claves ſacerdotum non ad ſolvendum duntaxat, ſed & ad ligandum conceſſas etiam antiqui Patres & credunt & docent. Nec propterea exiſtimárunt ſacramentum pœnitentiæ eſſe forum iræ vel pœnarum, ſicut nemo unquam Catholicus ſenſit ex hujusmodi noſtris ſatisfactionibus, vim meriti & ſatisfactionis Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti vel obſcurari, vel aliqua ex parte imminui: quod dum Novatores intelligere nolunt, ita aptiſſimam pœnitentiam, novam vitam eſſe docent, ut omnem ſatisfactionis vim & uſum tollant.

Cap. 9.

De operibus ſatisfactionis.

Docet præterea, tantam eſſe divinæ munificentiæ largitatem, ut non ſolùm pœnis, ſponte à nobis pro vindicando peccato ſuſceptis, aut ſacerdotis arbitrio pro menſura delicti impoſitis, ſed etiam (quod maximum amoris argumentum eſt) temporalibus flagellis à Deo inflictis, & à nobis patienter toleratis, apud Deum Patrem per Chriſtum Jeſum ſatisfacere valeamus.

Doctrina de Sacramento Extremæ Unctionis.

Viſum eſt autem ſanctæ Synodo, præcedenti doctrinæ de Pœnitentia adjungere eâ, quæ ſequuntur de Sacramento Extremæ Unctionis: quòd non modò pœnitentiæ, ſed etiam totius Chriſtianæ vitæ, quæ perpetua pœnitentia eſſe debet, conſummativum exiſtimatum eſt à Patribus. Primùm itaque circa illius inſtitutionem declarat & docet, quòd clementiſſimus Redemptor noſter, qui ſervis ſuis quovis tempore voluit de ſalutaribus remediis adverſus omnia omnium hoſtium tela eſſe proſpectum, quemadmodum auxilia maxima in Sacramentis aliis præparavit; quibus Chriſtiani conſervare ſe integros, dum viverent, ab omni graviore ſpiritus incommodo poſſint, ita Extremæ Unctionis Sacramento finem vitæ tanquam firmiſſimo quodam præſidio, munivit. Nam etſi adverſarius noſter occaſiones per omnem vitam quærat & captet, ut devorare animas noſtras quoquo modo poſſit: nullum tamen tempus eſt; quo vehementiùs ille omnes ſuæ verſutiæ nervos intendat ad perdendos

nos

nos penitus, & à fiducia etiam, ſi poſſit, divinæ miſericordiæ deturbandos, quàm cùm i[n]pendere nobis exitum vitæ proſpicit.

Cap. 1.

De inſtitutione Sacramenti Extremæ Unctionis.

Inſtituta eſt autem ſacra hæc Unctio infirmorum, tanquam verè & propriè ſacramentum Novi Teſtamenti à Chriſto Domino noſtro, apud Marcum quidem inſinuatum, per Jacobum autem Apoſtolum ac Domini fratrem, fidelibus commendatum ac promulgatum. Infirmatur, inquit, quis in vobis, inducat presbyteros Eccleſiæ & orent ſupra eum, ungentes eum oleo in nomine Domini: & oratio fidei ſalvabit infirmum & allevabit eum Dominus, & ſi in peccatis ſit, dimittentur ei. Quibus verbis, ut ex Apoſtolica traditione per manus accepta Eccleſia didicit, docet materiam, formam, proprium miniſtrum & effectum hujus ſalutaris Sacramenti. Intellexit enim Eccleſia, materiam eſſe oleum ab Epiſcopo benedictum. Nam Unctio aptiſſimè Spiritûs S. gratiam, quâ inviſibiliter anima agrotantis ungitur, repræſentat. Formam deinde eſſe illa verba, Per iſtam unctionem, &c.

Cap. 2.

De effectu hujus Sacramenti.

Res porro & effectus hujus Sacramenti illis verbis explicatur, Et oratio fidei ſalvabit infirmum; & allevabit eum Dominus: & ſi in peccatis ſit, dimittentur ei. Res etenim gratia eſt Spiritûs ſancti, cujus unctio delicta, ſi qua ſint adhuc expianda, ac peccati reliquias abſtergit, & ægroti animam allevat & confirmat, magnam in eo divinæ miſericordiæ fiduciam excitando: quâ infirmus ſublevatus & morbi incommoda ac labores leviùs fert, & tentationibus dæmonis calcaneo inſidiantis faciliùs reſiſtit, & ſanitatem corporis interdum, ubi ſaluti animæ expedierit, conſequitur.

Cap. 3.

De miniſtro hujus Sacramenti, & tempore quo dari debeat.

Jam verò quod attinet ad præſcriptionem eorum, qui & ſuſcipere & miniſtrare hoc ſacramentum debent, haud obſcurè fuit illud etiam in verbis prædictis traditum. Nam & oſtenditur illic, proprios hujus Sacramenti miniſtros eſſe Eccleſiæ presbyteros: quo nomine eo loco non ætate ſeniores, aut primores in populo intelligendi veniunt: Sed aut Epiſcopi, aut ſacerdotes ab ipſis ritè ordinati per impoſitionem manuum presbyterii. Declaratur etiam, esse hanc Unctionem infirmis adhibendam: illis verò præsertim, qui tam periculosè decumbunt, ut in exitu vitæ constituti videantur, unde & Sacramentum exeuntium nuncupatur. Quòd si infirmi post susceptam hanc unctionem convaluerint, iterum hujus Sacramenti subsidio juvari poterunt, cùm in aliud simile vitæ discrimen inciderint. Quare nullâ ratione audiendi sunt, qui contra tam apertam & dilucidam Apostoli Jacobi sententiam, docent hanc unctionem, vel figmentum esse humanum, vel ritum à Patribus acceptum, aut mandatum DEI, nec promissionem gratiæ habentem: & qui illam jam cessâsse asserunt, quasi ad gratiam curationum duntaxat in primitiva Ecclesia referenda esset: & qui dicunt ritum & usum, quem sancta Romana Ecclesia in hujus Sacramenti administratione observat, Jacobi Apostoli sententiæ repugnare, atque ideo in alium commutandum esse: & denique qui hanc Extremam Unctionem à fidelibus sine peccato contemni posse affirmant. Hæc enim omnia manifestissimè pugnant verbis. Nec profectò Ecclesia Romana, aliarum omnium mater & magistra, aliud in hac administranda unctione, quantum ad ea, quæ hujus Sacramenti substantiam perficiunt, observat, quàm quod B. Jacobus perscripsit. Nec verò tanti Sacramenti contemptus absque ingenti scelere & ipsius Spiritus S. injuria esse posset.

Hæc sunt, quæ de pœnitentia & extrema Unctionis Sacramentis hæc sancta Oecumenica Synodus profitetur & docet, atque omnibus Christi fidelibus credenda & tenenda proponit. Sequentes autem canones inviolabiliter servandos esse tradit, & asserentes contrarium perpetuò damnat & anathematizat.

De Sacramentis Pœnitentiæ & Extremæ Unctionis, eadem Sessione publicati.

Canon 1.

Si quis dixerit, in Catholica Ecclesia Pœnitentiam non esse verè & propriè Sacramentum, pro fidelibus, quoties post baptismum in peccata labuntur, ipsi Deo reconciliandis à Christo Domino nostro institutum, Anathema sit.

Canon 2.

Si quis Sacramenta confundens, ipsum baptismum, Pœnitentiæ Sacramentum esse dixerit, quasi hæc duo Sacramenta distincta non sint, atque ideo Pœnitentiam non rectè secundam post naufragium tabulam appellari, Anathema sit.

Canon 3.

Si quis dixerit, verba illa Domini Salvatoris, Accipite Spiritum sanctum, quorum remiseritis peccata, remittuntur eis, & quorum retinueritis, retenta sunt; non esse intelligenda da de potestate remittendi & retinendi peccata in Sacramento Pœnitentiæ, sicut Ecclesia Catholica ab initio semper intellexit: detorserit autem contra institutionem hujus Sacramenti ad auctoritatem prædicandi Evangelium, Anathema sit.

Canon 4.

Si quis negaverit, ad integram & perfectam peccatorum remissionem requiri tres actus in pœnitente, quasi materiam Sacramenti Pœnitentiæ, videlicet Contritionem, Confessionem & Satisfactionem, quæ tres Pœnitentiæ partes dicuntur: aut dixerit duas esse tantum Pœnitentiæ partes, terrores scilicet incussos conscientiæ agnito peccato, & fidem conceptam ex Evangelio vel absolutione, quâ credit quis sibi per Christum remissa peccata, Anathema sit.

Canon 5.

Si quis dixerit, eam contritionem, quæ paratur per discussionem, collectionem & detestationem peccatorum, quâ quis recogitat annos suos in amaritudine animæ suæ, ponderando peccatorum suorum gravitatem, multitudinem, fœditatem, amissionem æternæ beatitudinis, & æternæ damnationis incursum, cum proposito melioris vitæ, non esse verum & utilem dolorem, nec præparare ad gratiam, sed facere hominem hypocritam & magis peccatorem: demum illam esse dolorem coactum, & non liberum ac voluntarium, Anathema sit.

Canon 6.

Si quis negaverit, Confessionem Sacramentalem vel institutam, vel ad salutem necessariam esse jure divino: aut dixerit, modum secretè confitendi soli sacerdoti, quem Ecclesia Catholica, ab initio semper observavit & observat, alienum esse ab institutione & mandato Christi, & inventum esse humanum, Anathema sit.

Canon 7.

Si quis dixerit, in sacramento Pœnitentiæ ad remissionem peccatorum necessarium non esse jure divino, confiteri omnia & singula peccata mortalia, quorum memoria cum debita & diligenti præmeditatione habeatur, etiam occulta, quæ sunt contra duo ultima Decalogi præcepta, & circumstantias quæ peccati speciem mutant: sed eam confessionem tantùm esse utilem ad erudiendum & consolandum Pœnitentem, & olim observatam fuisse tantùm ad satisfactionem canonicam imponendam: aut dixerit, eos qui omnia peccata confiteri student, nihil relinquere velle divinæ misericordiæ ignoscendum, aut demum, non licere confiteri peccata venialia, Anathema sit.

Canon 8.

Si quis dixerit confessionem omnium peccatorum, qualem Ecclesia servat, esse impossibilem, & traditionem humanam, à piis abolendam: aut ad eam non teneri omnes & singulos ſingulos utriuſque ſexûs Chriſti fideles, juxta magni Concilii Lateranenſis conſtitutionem, ſemel in anno, & ob id ſuadendum eſſe Chriſti fidelibus, ut non confiteantur tempore Quadrageſimæ, Anathema ſit.

Canon 9.

Si quis dixerit, abſolutionem ſacramentalem ſacerdotis non eſſe actum judicialem, ſed nudum miniſterium pronuntiandi & declarandi, remiſſa eſſe peccata confitenti, modò tantùm ſe credat eſſe abſolutum: aut ſacerdos non ſeriò, ſed joco abſolvat: aut dixerit, non requiri confeſſionem pœnitentis, ut ſacerdos eum abſolvere poſſit, Anathema ſit.

Canon 10.

Si quis dixerit, Sacerdotes, qui in peccato mortali ſunt, poteſtatem ligandi & ſolvendi non habere, aut non ſolos ſacerdotes eſſe miniſtros abſolutionis, ſed omnibus & ſingulis Chriſti fidelibus eſſe dictum, quæcunque ligaveritis ſuper terram, erunt ligata & in Cœlo, & quæcunque ſolveritis ſuper terram, erunt ſoluta & in cœlo: & quorum remiſeritis peccata; remittuntur eis, & quorum retinueritis, retenta ſunt, quorum verborum virtute quilibet abſolvere poſſit peccata, publica quidem per correptionem duntaxat, ſi correptus acquieverit, ſecreta verò per ſpontaneam confeſſionem, Anathema ſit.

Canon 11.

Si quis dixerit, Epiſcopos non habere jus reſervandi ſibi caſus, niſi quoad externam politiam, atque ideò caſuum reſervationem non prohibere, quò minùs ſacerdos à reſervatis verè abſolvat, Anathema ſit.

Canon 12.

Si quis dixerit, totam pœnam ſimul cum culpa remitti ſemper à Deo, ſatisfactionémque pœnitentium non eſſe aliam, quàm fidem, quâ apprehendunt, Chriſtum pro eis ſatisfeciſſe, Anathema ſit.

Canon 13.

Si quis dixerit, pro peccatis quoad pœnam temporalem minimè Deo per Chriſti merita ſatisfieri pœnis ab eo inflictis, & patienter toleratis, vel à ſacerdote injunctis, ſed neque ſponte ſuſceptis, ut jejuniis, orationibus, eleemoſynis, vel aliis etiam pietatis operibus, atque ideo optimam pœnitentiam eſſe tantùm novam vitam, Anathema ſit.

Canon 14.

Si quis dixerit, ſatisfactiones, quibus pœnitentes per Chriſtum Jeſum peccata redimunt, non eſſe cultus Dei, ſed traditiones hominum, doctrinam de gratia & verum Dei cultum, atque ipſum beneficium mortis Chriſti obſcurantes, Anathema ſit.

Canon 15.

Canon 15.

Si quis dixerit, Claves Eccleſiæ eſſe datas tantùm ad ſolvendum, non etiam ad ligandum, & propterea ſacerdotes, dum imponunt pœnas confitentibus, agere contra finem Clavium, & contra inſtitutionem Chriſti, & fictionem eſſe, quod virtute Clavium ſublatâ pœnâ æternâ, pœna temporalis plerumque exſolvenda remaneat, Anathema ſit.

CANONES

De Sacramento Extremæ Unctionis.

Canon 1.

Si quis dixerit, Extremam Unctionem non eſſe verè & propriè Sacramentum, à Chriſto Domino noſtro inſtitutum, & à B. Jacobo Apoſtolo promulgatum, ſed ritum tantùm acceptum à Patribus aut figmentum humanum, Anathema ſit.

Canon 2.

Si quis dixerit, ſacram infirmorum Unctionem non conferre gratiam, nec remittere peccata, nec alleviare infirmos, ſed jam ceſſâſſe, quaſi olim tantùm fuerit gratia curationum, Anathema ſit.

Canon 3.

Si quis dixerit, Extremæ Unctionis ritum & uſum, quem obſervat ſancta Romana Eccleſia, repugnare ſententiæ B. Jacobi Apoſtoli, ideóque eum mutandum, poſſéque à Chriſtianis abſque peccato contemni, Anathema ſit.

Canon 4.

Si quis dixerit, presbyteros Eccleſiæ, quos B. Jacobus adducendos eſſe ad infirmum ungendum hortatur, non eſſe ſacerdotes ab Epiſcopo ordinatos, ſed ætate ſeniores in quavis communitate, ob idque proprium extremæ Unctionis miniſtrum non eſſe ſolum Sacerdotem, Anathema ſit.

Decretum de reformatione, eadem Seſſione publicatum.

Proœmium.

Cùm propriè Epiſcoporum munus ſit ſubditorum omnium vitia redarguere, hoc illis præcipuè cavendum erit, ne clerici, præſertim ad animarum curam conſtituti, criminoſi ſint, néve inhoneſtam vitam ipſis conniventibus ducant. Nam ſi eos pravis & corruptis moribus eſſe permittant, quo pacto laicos de ipſorum vitiis redarguent, qui uno ab eis ſermone mone convinci possent, quòd clericos ipsis patiantur esse deteriores? Quâ etiam libertate laicos corrupere poterunt sacerdotes, cum tacitè sibi respondeant, eadem se admissile qua corripiunt. Monebunt propterea Episcopi suos clericos, in quocunque ordine fuerint, ut conversatione, sermone & scientiâ commisso sibi Dei populo præeant, memores ejus, quod scriptum est: Sancti estote, quia & ego sanctus sum: & juxta Apostoli vocem, nemini dent ullam offensionem, ut non vituperetur ministerium eorum: sed in omnibus exhibeant se sicut ministros Dei, ne illud Prophetæ dictum impleatur in eis, Sacerdotes mei contaminant sanctia, & reprobant legem. Ut autem ipsi Episcopi id liberiùs exequi, ac quoquam prætextu desuper impediri nequeant, eadem sacro-sancta Synodus, præsidentibus in ea eisdem Apostolicæ sedis Legato & Nuntiis, hos, qui sequuntur, Canones tuendos & decernendos duxit.

Cap. 1.

Cùm honestius ac rutius sit subjecto, debitam præpositis obedientiam impendendo, in inferiori ministerio deservire, quam cum præpositorum scandalo gradum altiorum appetere dignitatem, ei cui absentia ad sacros ordines à suo prælato ex quacunque causa, etiam ob occultum crimen, quomodolibet etiam extrà judicialiter fuerit interdictus, aut qui à suis ordinibus, seu gradibus, vel dignitatibus Ecclesiasticis fuerit suspensus, nulla contra ipsius prælati voluntatem concessa licentia de se promovendi faciendo, aut ad priores ordines, gradus & dignitates sive honores restitutio suffragetur.

Cap. 2.

Et quoniam nonnulli Episcopi Ecclesiarum, quæ in partibus infidelium consistunt, clero carentes, & populo Christiano, cùm ferè vagabundi sint, & permanentem sedem non habeant, non quæ Jesu Christi, sed alienas oves inscio proprio pastore quærentes, dum per hanc Synodum se Pontificalia officia in alterius diœcesi (nisi de loci ordinarii expressa licentia, & in personas eidem ordinario subjectas tantùm) exercere prohibitos videns, in legis fraudem & contemptum, quasi Episcopalem Cathedram in loco nullius diœcesis sibi temeritate elegunt, & quoscunque ad se venientes, etiam si fuorum Episcoporum, seu Prælatorum literas commendatitias non habeant, clericali charactere insignire, & ad sacros etiam presbyteratus ordines promovere præsumunt: quo plerumque fit, ut minùs idonei & rudes ac ignari, & qui à suo Episcopo tanquam inhabiles & indigni rejecti fuerunt, ordinati, nec divina officia peragere, nec Ecclesiastica sacramenta recte valeant ministrare: nemo Episcoporum, qui titulares vocantur, etiamsi in loco nullius diœcesis etiam exempto, aut aliquo monasterio cujuscu ordinis residerint, aut moram traxerint, rigore cujuscu privilegii, sibi de promovendo quoscunque ad se venientes pro tempore concessi, alterius subditum, etiam prætextu familiaritatis, continuæ commensalitatis suæ, absque sui proprii prælati expresso consensu, aut literis dimissoriis, ad aliquos sacros, aut minores ordines, vel primam tonsuram promovere seu ordinare valeat: contra faciens, ab exercitio Pontificalium per annum:

num: taliter verò promoti, ab executione ordinum ſic ſuſceptorum, donec ſuo prælato viſum fuerit, ipſo jure ſint ſuſpenſi.

Cap. 3.

Epiſcopus quoſcunque ſuos clericos, præſertim in ſacris conſtitutos, abſque ſuo præcedenti examine, & commendatitiis literis quacunque authoritate promotos, licèt tanquam habiles ab eo, à quo ordinati ſunt, probatos, quos tamen ad divina officia celebranda, ſeu Eccleſiaſtica Sacramenta miniſtranda minùs idoneos & capaces reperit, à ſuſceptorum ordinum exercitio ad tempus, de quo ei videbitur, ſuſpendere, & illis, ne in altari aut aliquo ordine miniſtrent, interdicere poſſit.

Cap. 4.

Omnes Eccleſiarum prælati, qui ad corrigendum ſubditorum exceſſus, diligenter intendere debent, & à quovis nullius clericus per hujus ſanctæ Synodi ſtatuta, cujusvis privilegii prætextu tutus cenſetur, quò minùs juxta Canonicas ſanctiones viſitari, puniri & corrigi poſſit, ſi in Eccleſiis ſuis reſederint, quoſcunque ſaculares clericos, qualitercunque exemptos, qui aliâs ſuæ jurisdictioni ſubeſſent, de eorum exceſſibus, criminibus & delictis, quoties & quando opus fuerit, etiam extra viſitationem tanquam ad hoc Apoſtolica ſedis delegati, corrigendi & caſtigandi facultatem habeant, quibuscunque exemptionibus, declarationibus, conſuetudinibus, ſententiis, juramentis, concordiis, quæ tantùm ſuos obligant auctores, ipſis clericis ac eorum conſanguineis, capellanis, familiaribus, procuratoribus, & aliis quibuslibet, ipſorum exemptorum contemplatione & intuitu minimè ſuffragantibus.

Cap. 5.

Inſuper cùm nonnulli, qui ſub prætextu, quòd ſuper bonis & rebus ac juribus ſuis diverſæ eis injuriæ ac moleſtiæ inferantur, certos judices per literas conſervatorias deputari obtinent, qui illos à moleſtiis & injuriis hujusmodi tueantur ac defendant, & in poſſeſſione ſeu quaſi bonorum, rerum ac jurium ſuorum manu teneant & conſervent, nec ſuper illis eos moleſtari permittant, ejusmodi literas in pleriſque concedendis mentem in reprobum ſenſum detorqueant: iccirco nemini omnino cujuscunque dignitatis & conditionis ſit, etiam ſi capitulum fuerit, conſervatoriæ literæ cum quibuscunque clauſulis aut decretis, quorumcunque judicum deputatione, quocunque etiam alio prætextu aut colore conceſſæ ſuffragentur ad hoc, ut coram ſuo Epiſcopo, ſive alio ſuperiore ordinario, in criminalibus aut mixtis cauſis accuſari & conveniri, ac contra eum inquiri & procedi non poſſit, aut quò minùs, ſi qua jura ei ex ceſſione competierint, ſuper illis liberè valeat apud judicem ordinarium conveniri. In civilibus etiam cauſis, ſi ipſe actor extiterit, aliquem ei apud ſuos conſervatores judices in judicium trahere minimè liceat. Quòd ſi in his cauſis, in quibus ipſe reus fuerit, contigerit, ut electus ab eo conſervator ab actore ſuſpectus eſſe dicatur, aut ſi qua inter ipſos judices, conſervatorem & ordinarium, controverſia ſuper

Nemo etiam similium literarum beneficia ultra quinquennium gaudere possit. Non liceat quoque conservatoribus judicibus ullum habere tribunal erectum. In causis verò mercedum aut miserabilium personarum, hujus sanctæ Synodi super hoc decretum, in suo robore permaneat. Universitates autem generales, ac collegia doctorum seu scholarium & regularia loca, nec non hospitalia actu hospitalitatem servantia, ac universitatum, collegiorum, locorum & hospitalium hujusmodi personæ, in præsenti Canone minimè comprehensa, sed exempta omnino sint, & esse intelligantur.

Cap. 6.

Quia verò, etsi habitus non facit monachum, oportet tamen clericos vestes proprio congruentes ordini semper deferre, ut per decentiam habitûs extrinseci, morum honestatem intrinsecam ostendant, tanta autem hodie aliquorum inolevit temeritas, religionisque contemptus, ut propriam dignitatem & honorem clericalem parvi pendentes, vestes etiam deferant publicè laicales, pedes in diversis ponentes, unum in divinis, alterum in carnalibus: Propterea omnes Ecclesiastica personæ, quantumcunque exempta, quæ aut in sacris fuerint, aut dignitates, personatus, officia, aut beneficia qualiacunque Ecclesiastica obtinuerint, si postquam ab Episcopo suo etiam per edictum publicum moniti fuerint, honestum habitum clericalem, illorum ordini & dignitati congruentem, & juxta ipsius Episcopi ordinationem & mandatum non detulerint, per suspensionem ab ordinibus, ac officio & beneficio, ac fructibus, redditibus & proventibus ipsorum beneficiorum, nec non si semel correpti, denuò in hoc deliquerint, etiam per privationem officiorum & beneficiorum hujusmodi coërcere possint & debeant, secundùm constitutionem Clementis quinti in Concilio Viennensi editam, quæ incipit: Quoniam invocando & ampliando.

Cap. 7.

Cùm etiam qui per industriam occiderit proximum suum, & per insidias, ab altari avelli debeat, qui sua voluntate homicidium perpetraverit, etiam si crimen id nec ordine judiciario probatum, nec alia ratione publicatum, sed occultum fuerit, nullo tempore ad sacros ordines promoveri possit, nec illi aliqua Ecclesiastica beneficia, etiam si curam non habeant animarum, conferre liceat, sed omni ordine ac beneficio & officio Ecclesiastico perpetuò careat. Si verò homicidium non ex proposito, sed casu, vel vim vi repellendo, ut quis se à morte defenderet, fuisse commissum narretur, quam ob causam etiam ad sacrorum ordinum & altaris ministerium, & beneficia quæcunque ac dignitates jure quodammodo dispensatio debeatur, committatur loci ordinario, aut, ex causa, Metropolitano seu vici-viciniori Episcopo, qui non nisi causâ cognitâ, & probatis processibus ac narratis, nec aliter dispensare possit.

Cap. 8.

Praterea quia nonnulli, quorum etiam aliqui veri sunt pastores, ac proprias oves habent, alienis etiam ovibus praesse quaerunt, & ita alienis subditis quandoque intendunt, ut suorum curam negligant, quicunque etiam Episcopali praditus dignitate, qui alienos subditos puniendi privilegium habuerit, contra clericos sibi non subditos, praesertim in sacris constitutos, quorumcunque etiam atrocium criminum reos, nisi cum proprii ipsorum clericorum Episcopi, si apud Ecclesiam resederit, aut persona ab ipso Episcopo deputanda intervenit, nequaquam procedere debeat: aliâs processus & inde sequuta quacunque viribus omnino careant.

Regularia beneficia, in titulum regularibus professis provideri consueta, cùm per obitum, aut resignationem, vel aliâs illa in titulum obtinentis vacare contigerit, religiosis tantùm illius ordinis, vel his, qui habitum omnino susciperè, & professionem emittere teneantur, & non aliis, ne vestem lino lanáque contextam induant, conferantur.

Cap. 11.

Quia verò regulares de uno ad alium ordinem translati, facilè à suo superiore licentiam standi extra monasterium obtinere solent, ex quo vagandi & apostatandi occasio tribuitur, nemo cujuscunque ordinis prælatus vel superiores, vigore cujuscunque facultatis, aliquem ad habitum & professionem admittere possit, nisi ut in ordine ipso, ad quem transferitur, sub sui superioris obedientia in claustro perpetuò maneat, ac aliter translatus, etiam si Canonicorum regularium fuerit, ad beneficia secularia etiam curata omnino incapax existat.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS XIV.

DIe Seſſionem XIII. ſubſequente, in generali congregatione materia de pœnitentiæ & extremæ unctionis Sacramento, nec non proſequenda Reformatione, in ordinem digeſta eſt, ſimul etiam injecta mentio de ſervanda methodo jam antè præſcripta Theologis, quam illos hactenus neglexiſſe, agentes in Synodo Scholarum in morem, & ſpinoſis argumentorum aculeis, querela erat. De Sacramento pœnitentiæ è Lutheri libris excerpti ſunt articuli XII. de quibus Theologos inter diſceptaretur. Qui quidem articuli in anathematis formandis, poſt audita Theologorum ſuffragia ita mutati ſunt, ut ne veſtigium eorum ampliùs appareret. Additi ſunt de extrema unctione articuli XIV. qui totidem anathematis ἀναθεμάτων reſpondebant. Tria etiam formata ſunt Decreta de ordine procedendi in Concilio, Primum concernens Theologos, quibus injunctum, ut in ſententiis pronuntiandis inhæreant ſacræ Scripturæ, Apoſtolorum traditionibus, Conciliis approbatis, ſummorum Pontificum conſtitutionibus, & ſanctorum Patrum authoribus, ab Eccleſia Catholica unanimi conſenſu receptis, útque brevitatem ſectentur, quæſtiones inutiles vitent, & contentionum pervicaciam fugiant; Secundum de ordine in Concilio proponentium; Tertium de Congregationibus quotidie bis habendis, manè & à meridie ſingulis vicibus ternis horis. De Reformatione etiam formati ſunt XV. articuli, qui omnes reſpondent capitibus deinceps ſtabilitis, excepto decimo quinto, quo propoſitum erat, ne beneficia cuiquam darentur in commendam, niſi ea ætate quam lex requirit in habente cum titulo. Ille enim arti-culus, quia Pontificis & præsulum Nepotismo adversabatur, statim in ipsis cunis suffocatus est. Cæterùm in argumento Pœnitentiæ discutiendo adeò Theologi præscriptam sibi methodum sùsque déque habuerunt, ut illud non tantùm secundùm Scholasticos, sed etiam secundùm Canonistas inprimis Gratianum pertractarent, insuper etiam haberent, quod injunctum erat de vitanda prolixitate & quæstionibus inutilibus resecandis. Ex articulis verò à Theologis discussis selecta sunt doctrinæ capita, quæ ipsa tamen non omnibus æquè placuerunt. Etenim contra caput III. quo pœnitentis actus constituuntur partes Sacramenti, & contra caput VI. quo absolutio dicitur actus judicialis, non nudum ministerium declarans remissa esse peccata; multa Franciscani Theologi excepérunt. Etiam Franc. Ambrosius Pelargus, Electoris Trevirensis Theologus, verba Christi: Quorum remiseritis peccata &c. ad Sacramentum pœnitentiæ pertinere negavit. Contra caput VII. quo de reservatione casuum agitur, Theologi Lovanienses & Colonienses exceperunt, illam veteribus prorsus ignotam esse, nisi in casu peccatorum publicorum, quin & Gersonem eas reservationes exagitâsse. Iidem Colonienses sensum verborum, Quæcunque ligaveritis &c. Canone X. damnatum esse ipsius Theophylacti objiciebant, aliàque in eodem reprehendebant. Sed Cardinalis Legatus Crescentius liberis Theologorum horum vocibus commotus, silentium iis injunxit, & quidquam immutari vetuit, ajens, à dignitate Synodi alienissimum esse, Decreta sic enervari, & vita animaque privari. Timebat nempe, quod postmodum amicis aperuit, ne libertas hæc procedente tempore, si ipsi Protestantes intervenirent, noxia esset. Reformationis Decreta XIII. condita sunt, Episcoporum Jurisdictionem spectantia, in quibus Episcopis potestatis suæ incrementum, & recuperatio eorum, quæ ipsis à curia Romana adempta sunt, unicè curæ erat, Legatis Pontificiis contranitentibus, ut quàm minimum ipsis concederetur. Dum Patres formandis Decretis occupantur, Ducis Wirtembergici Legati Theodoricus Pleningerus, & Johannes Heklinus Tridentum veniunt, oblaturi Principis sui confessionem, & Theologorum venturorum, siquidem idoneè, juxta Basileensis Decreti formulam, ipsis caveatur, spem facturi. Qui cùm à Comite Montforto Cæsaris Legato, quem illi primò compellaverant, remitterentur ad Præsidem Concilii Crescentium, illi id facere gravati sunt, eò quòd una esset ex conditionibus Germanorum, ne Concilio Papa præsideat. Proinde de eo literas dederunt ad Principem, ad quas responsum post finitam demum Sessionem advolaverat. Legatus etiam Papæ de eo scribit, & quid in hoc negotio agendum suadeat, inprimis mis cùm plures ejuſmodi homines adventuros inaudiverit, explorat. Cui mox à Pontifice reſponſum, inhærendum eſſe diplomati indictionis Concilii, in quo & approbata ſint Pauli Pontificis decreta, & jus convocandi & moderandi Concilium ſibi reſervatum ſit; de cætero conſilium in arcta ex re capiendum, & media conſilia ac temperamenta tanquam peſtem fugienda: Dogmatum ſegetem copioſiſſimam proponendam, ut Lutherani de ſpe conciliationis animum deſpondeant, niſi ſe Concilii Decretis ſubjicere velint, contra illos præſules magis excitandos, ad reformationem tractandam nihil otii præſulibus relinquendum; Concilii exitum maturandum eſſe &c. Die 21. Nov. etiam Joh. Sleidanus Argentinenſium, aliarúmque civitatum Legatus Tridentinum ad Concilium venit. Ac circa idem tempus Julius III. Cardinales tredecim creavit, Italos omnes, quæ veluti præſidia, muniendi ſui causâ, Pontifices ſibi comparare ſolent. Cæſar quoque, quò vicinior Concilio eſſet, Oenipontem venit, tridui itinere Tridento diſtantem, ubi intra unum diem, quid Tridenti gereretur, ex Oratoribus ſuis cognoſcere poterat. Unde metus aliquis inceſſebat Pontificem, ne Cæſar à ſententia propugnandæ ſedis Apoſtolicæ dimoveretur. Contra quem tamen variis rationibus animum munivit. Succeſſit tandem Seſſio XIV. die 25. Novembris, quo convocatis Patribus, ſolito ordine Templum adeuntibus, ceremoniis peractis, Epiſcopo Miſſam celebrante, doctrina fidei, anathemata & Reformationis Decretum promulgata ſunt. Simùlque ſpes facta fore, ut 25. Januarii Seſſio habeatur, in qua de Sacrificio Miſſæ & Ordinis Sacramento agatur. Finita Seſſione Legatus prohibuit, ne Decreta excuderentur. Verùm cùm caveri non poſſet, ne ea Tridento emanarent, factum mox ut in Germania excuderentur, & ob moram prodeundi in publicum curioſiùs in ea paſſim inquireretur.

ea nullâ vi abstrahi potuerint. Nam quòd scripturas alicubi crepare visi sunt, quomodo eas tractaverint, insigne specimen affert Historicus lib. 4. pag. 312. ubi recitat, quomodo ex scriptura arguti illi homines Confessionem secretam probaverint, citando nimirum omnia V. & N. T. loca, in quibus occurrunt verba confiteor, confessio, figuras V.T. illam adumbrantes producendo &c. Secundò ipsum illud de novitia Methodo sectanda Decretum, quod pro norma fidei obtrudit non scripturam tantùm, sed etiam Traditiones Apostolorum, Concilia approbata, Pontificum constitutiones, & Patrum authoritates, non aliam in finem, quàm ut his præsidiis scripturæ genuinus sensus non tam stabiliri quàm enervari, & ad quidvis probandum detorqueri possit; ejusmodi est, ut veré fideles à vitando tali, minimè Christiano Concilio validè abstinere debuerit. Tertiò Cardinalis Legati Crescentii indignatio adversus Theologos Lovanienses, Colonienses, aliósque contra Decreta nonnihil excipientes testata prodit, quæ libertas Concilio constiterit, & quo veritatis studio flagraverint Patres. Annon enim par erat, rationes à Theologis allatas expendere, & secundis sapientioribusque curis ac cogitationibus locum relinquere? Ne in civilibus quidem negotiis tanta socordia, & melioris consilii dedignatio vitio careret. Quartò ratio à Cardinale Crescentio allegata, quòd ea libertas periculosa futura sit, si Protestantes interverinent, arguit, quomodo excipere & tractare nostrates, si Concilio interverinent, purpurati Patres constitutum habuerint. Quintò dignissimum quod perstringatur, est Pontificis responsum ad literas Legati Crescentii, quibus ille occasione Legatorum Wirtenbergicorum, ipsum adire detrectantium, heri sui consilium, quomodo agendum sit cum Protestantibus Concilio interventuris, requisivit. Pontifex nempe ei injungit, ut fortiter tueatur jus præsidendi, media consilia & temperamenta fugiat, dogmatum copiosam segetem proponat, ut Protestantes de fide conciliationis spem abjiciant, & Concilio se subjicere cogantur, Præsules contra illos irritent, aliâque ejusmodi, quæ desperatæ causæ indicia fuerunt, nec tam ex Christi & Apostolorum disciplina, quàm Machiavelli similium politica hausta erant. Sextò fidei dogmata in quæstionibus ventilabimus, nunc pauca tantùm ad Reformationis Capita animadversuri. Ante omnia illud obelo notandum, quòd XV. articulum, quo propositum erat, ne beneficia cuique darentur in commendam, nisi ea esset ætate, quam lex requirit in habente cum titulo, in ipsis cunis suffocare placuit. Timebant enim gnathones Papæ, & ipsi Præsules, ne nervi Nepotismi, quo hactenus nepotibus suis minorennibus adhuc beneficia resignare consueverant, hac ratione inciderentur. nis Epiſcopalis nullo jure hactenus uſurpatæ plures morbos nævósque pandunt, remedia verò iis oppoſita frivola planè & aliena oſtendunt. Etenim primo capite ſancitur, ut puniantur, qui prohibiti aſcendere ad ordines, interdicti vel ſuſpenſi, licentiâ aliunde corrogatâ nihilominus aſcendunt. Nempe querebantur Epiſcopi, contingere plurimùm, ut ſi quos illi juſtas gravéſque ob cauſas, à ſuis ordinibus, gradibus aut dignitatibus Eccleſiaſticis ſuſpendant, aut aſcenſu illis ad ſacros ordines interdicant, illud omne per licentiam & diſpenſationem à Pontifice impetratam retractetur, atque adeò non Epiſcoporum tantùm exiſtimatio imminuatur, ſed animarum etiam ſalus, & Eccleſiæ diſciplina præſentiſſimum in diſcrimen adducantur. Ita animarum ille paſtor animas indulgentiâ pretio emptâ, perditum ivit. At huic malo juxta Dei verbum ita medendum erat, ut Pontificis & Epiſcoporum illa poteſtate coactiva interdicendi, ſuſpendendi, prohibendi ſublata, ſummo & legitimo Magiſtratui jus integrum in delicta omnium ſubditorum, etiam clericorum animadvertendi reſtitueretur, & eccleſiæ miniſterium ex eodem reformaretur. Deinde mentio expreſſa Pontificis, ejúſque hactenus iniquè uſurpatæ poteſtatis, in decreto fieri debuit. Secundo capite cavetur, ut ſi Epiſcopus quoſcunque ordines ſibi non ſubdito, etiam familiari, ſine expreſſo proprii prælati conſenſu, conferat, uterque decreta pœna ſubjaceat. Nempe Seſſione VI. cap. 5. de Reformat. prohibitum eſt, ne quis in alienâ Diœceſi Pontificalia officia exerceat, niſi de expreſſa ejus, qui eſt loci ordinarius, licentia. Hinc Epiſcopi Titulares Decreto illi illuſuri ad loca exempta, nullius Diœceſi ſubjecta ſe recipiebant, & ad ſacros Presbyteratûs ordines ibi admittebant, qui à ſuo Epiſcopo rejecti eſſent tanquam inhabiles, vigore privilegii ſibi de promovendo quoſcunque ad ſe venientes conceſſi. Id Capite II. interdictum, cum cautione tamen, ne ob reverentiam ſedi Apoſtolicæ debitam ulla mentio fiat ejus, qui privilegium conceſſerat. Sed rectius remedium erat, Epiſcopos illos titulares vagabundos, & inutilia terræ pondera, eorúmque ordinem abrogare, ordinationis jus Presbyterio reſtituere, & loca exempta, nulliúſque diœceſi ſubjecta, & ſoli Pontifici mancipata, legitimo Magiſtratui ſubjicere, denique Pontificiæ poteſtatis periſtromata circumcidere. Tertio capite prohibetur, ne Epiſcopi ſuos clericos ab aliis malè promotos ad officia celebranda admittant, niſi prævio examine. Sed ludicrum & vanum erat hoc decernere, non expreſsâ mentione Pontificis, & licentiæ ab ipſo conceſſæ. Canoniſtarum nempe dogma pridem obtinuerat, licentias, facultates, & privilegia à Pontifice conceſſa, nominibus generalibus minimè comprehendi, niſi eorum mentio fiat. Quartum caput vetat ullum clericum eximi à correctione Epiſcopi, etiam extra viſitationem quibuscunque exemptionibus, declarationibus, conſuetudinibus, ſententiis, juramentis, concordiis minimè nè suffragantibus. Quibus postremis verbis placuit supplere Sessionis VI. cap. IV. de Reformatione, ut videlicet decreto includantur etiam Ecclesiarum Cathedralium canonicæ, aliæque Collegiatorum dignitates, quæ non privilegiis, sed vel antiquissima consuetudine, vel sententiâ rei judicatæ, vel concordiis cum Episcopis pactis & juratis erant in possessione exemptionis à Jurisdictione Episcopali. Cæterùm hoc Decretum Episcopis jus tribuit, & verbo Dei, & architectonicæ potestati adversum, ut superiùs, ubi de Jurisdictione Episcopali à nobis actum, probavimus. Quinto capite Judicum, qui Conservatores dicti, Jurisdictio certis finibus concluditur. Nempe consueverat Papa cuilibet supplici oblata mercede, pro lubitu judicem deputare, qui authoritate sua illum tueretur, & in possessione rerum ac jurium suorum conservaret, qui inde Judex Conservator dictus. Hi judices cùm potestate sua abuterentur ad supplices illos justæ debitæque animadversioni eximendos, & ad ipsos Episcopos ac superiores censuris fatigandos, placuit jus illud limitare ac restringere, quod jure divino penitus tollendum & radicitus antiquandum fuerat. Quinimò addita est exceptio, ne videlicet eo decreto Universitates, collegia Doctorum aut Scholasticorum, loca Regularia & Xenodochia comprehendantur. Quam exceptionem meritò Episcopi judicabant esse ipsâ regulâ ampliorem, cùm qui in collegiis, Monasteriis ac Xenodochiis vivunt, superent numero eos, qui ex literis conservatoriis commoda captare studeant, longèque facilius sit privati hominis improbitati occurrere, quàm morbos in corporibus integris aggravescentes depellere. Nempe Pontifici ejusque Legatis id unicè curæ erat, ut Monasteria & Academiæ à solo ipso pendeant, ne unquam desint potestatis ejus hyperaspistæ. Capite Sexto pœna decernitur clericis in sacris constituris, aut beneficia possidentibus, si detenti suis ordinis veste non utantur; potestate demandata Episcopo delinquentes ab officio & beneficiorum proventibus suspendendi, si ab eo moniti non paruerint; etiam per privationem officiorum & beneficiorum coercendi; si correpti semel erratum non emendaverint, renovatâ Concilii Vienens. eam in rem constitutione. Cæterùm Decretum illud cùm & ordinum distinctionem, & eximiam quandam in externo habitu sanctitatem & cultum ponat, & libertatem Christianam potestate non legitimâ judicet in iis, quæ adiaphora sunt, simpliciter respuimus. Capite septimo prohibentur Episcopi ordinare homicidas voluntarios: at circa casuales dispensationi locum esse asseritur, committendæ videlicet loci ordinario, aut si subsit causa, Metropolitano vel viciniori Episcopo. Ita videlicet hactenus utrosque admitti mos tulit. Contra verò vetusti Ecclesiæ Canones & voluntarios & casuales arcent. dis consistit. Ne quidem ipsi Pontifici in homicidio voluntario manus alligantur. In fortuito verò etsi non alteri quàm Episcopo dispensatio à Pontifice committi poterat, quid vetabat tamen, quò minùs Pontifex per se dispensaret, causâ non commissâ alteri? Capite octavo statuitur, ne ulli liceat clericos ex privilegio punire. Hoc uti æquum agnoscimus, ita in fraudem decreti ejus multa committi nullo negotio probari posset. Decimo præcipitur, ut regularia beneficia religiosis in titulum dari consueta, cùm ea in posterum quovis modo vacare contigerit, non conferantur nisi in religiosos illius ordinis, aut in eos, qui habitum & professionem ordinis suscipere teneantur. Sed illud remedium gravi morbo, quo Regulares commendatum Pontificiarum invento beneficiis pluribus à Pontifice alienatis carere debebant, repellendo minimè par fuit, nec curiæ Romanæ noxium fuit, omnibus quibus per commendas aliquid adjici poterat, jam satis superque commendatis. Potiùs igitur Commendarum Pontificiarum cauponatio in universum abroganda, & ecclesiastica beneficia legitimos in usus convertenda erant. Capite undecimo sancitur, ut translati ad alium ordinem in claustro sub obedientia maneant, beneficiorum secularium incapaces existant. Rectiùs facturi omnes, si à claustris suis transferantur ad veritatem Evangelii, quò sic beneficiorum Christi & libertatis ab ipso partæ capaces existant. Duodecimum caput sciscit, ne jus patronatus quisquam nisi ex fundatione vel dotatione obtineat. Cui subjunctum Caput decimum tertium mandat, ut præsentatio non alii fiat quàm Episcopo loci ordinario, ad quem cessante privilegio ipsius beneficii institutio jure pertinerat. Hoc utrumque de Jure patronatus & præsentatione caput perperam supponit jus Episcopi in vocatione ac præsentatione Ministrorum, & collationibus beneficiorum, quod nullum esse, inferiùs probabimus. Deinde cùm Ecclesiam cum omni jure, bonis & pertinentiis in patrimonium Christi redactam esse sustineant Canonistæ, quomodo Concilium tale jus in seculares Patronos transferre potuit? Imò cùm Jure divino vocatio Ministrorum pertineat ad Ecclesiam, quomodo ad unum in ea membrum illam transferri, eidem consentaneum fuit? Et quidem ita, ut patroni talis jus fundaretur in contractu innominato Do, ut des, hoc est, in fundatione & dotatione præcedanea? Annon enim præstabat Jus integrum servari Ecclesiæ, & patronos informari de uberiori longè mercede eleemosynarum in cœlo? Ita olim David, Solomon, Ezra, Nehemias, & Centurio ille à Senioribus Judæorum Christo commendatus, quòd diligat suam gentem, & ei Synagogam ædificaverit Luc. VII. 5. nullum in templum & synagogam jus vel stipulati sunt, vel acquisivisse leguntur. Quid quòd hac ratione contingere potest, ut ministrorum electio transferatur ad quoscunque religionis & ecclesiæ juratos hostes, quorum forte Majores mercede fundationis tionis & dotationis ejuſmodi oblata hoc jus licitati ſunt & acquiſiverunt? In has videlicet ſyrtes incidere neceſſum eſt, cùm homines à divina inſtitutione ſemel deflectunt. Non ignoro, etiam noſtris in Eccleſiis jus illud tolerari potiùs, quàm à cordatis probari. Sed illud ſolatio eſt, quòd in Juris illius exercitio ita patroni à ſuprema poteſtate reſtringuntur, ut cum Eccleſiæ periculo illud uſurpare nequeant, & ipſius Eccleſiæ commendatio vel ſuffragium non planè negligatur. Hoc unum addam, quòd Concilii illud de jure patronatus Decretum in congregatione ita declaratum fuit, ut intelligatur etiam de Juribus patronatus, ante Concilium legitimè erectis, proinde eorum titulos oſtendendos eſſe ordinario. Cui quidem Decreti illius declarationi Reges Galliæ, qui ſibi patronatûs ac Præſentationis jus in omnibus ditionis ſuæ beneficiis electivis arrogant, ſe conſtanter opponunt. De quo videſis Innocentium Gentilletum JC. Delphinenſem Exam. Concil. Trid. lib. III. p. 122.

QUÆSTIO I.

An pœnitentia ſit Sacramentum verè & propriè dictum pro fidelibus, quoties poſt baptiſmum in peccata labuntur, Deo reconciliandis?

ASſerit Canon 1. & pœnitentiam intelligit eam, quæ conſtat tum ex actibus pœnitentis, contritione, confeſſione & ſatisfactione, tum ex abſolutione ſacerdotali. Et abſolutionem quidem actibus illis pœnitentis vim ſacramentalem ita conferre vulgò pertendunt, ut ad remiſſionem peccatorum promerendam effectivè concurrant. Nos pœnitentiam, ſive quâ virtus eſt, ſive Papiſticè ita explicatam, ſacramentum eſſe pernegamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Pœnitentia ſic definita peccatorem abducit à fide obedientiæ, paſſionis & ſatisfactionis Chriſti ad fiduciam propriarum actionum, à Deo peccatorem juſtificante ad ſacerdotem hominem peccata judicantem; obſcurat veram doctrinam de Juſtificatione, vi & efficacia baptiſmi; judicium Dei de peccatis transfert ad ſacerdotis humanum quoddam & politicum tribunal. Ergo non eſt Sacramentum verè & propriè dictum. Sanè Granatenſis lib. 1. memor. cap. 1. aſſerit, dolorem noſtrum conjunctum cum virtute Sacramenti ad ſalutem ſufficere. Sicut enim candela recens extincta, & ad huc fumans, exiguo flatu accenditur & reviviſcit: ita animam, quæ virtute attritionis fumat, licet accenſa non ſit, accedente virtute hujus Sacramenti mox totam accendi & reviviſcere.

RESP. READING: 1. Si actus pœnitentis vi non propria, ſed obedientiæ & meriti Chriſti virtutem peccati remiſſivam obtinent: Si Sacerdos hominum peccata dijudicans non propria, ſed delegata Chriſti poteſtate abſolvit: Si Baptiſmi efficacia ad præterita duntaxat peccata ſe extendit; adeòque alio remedio peccatorum poſtbaptiſmalium remiſſio indiget: Si denique judicium de peccatis à Sacerdote fit in ordine ad abſolutionem Sacramentalem non alia quàm Dei principali virtute, & Chriſti meritorum ex hujus præſcripto conferendam: tum vera non ſunt, quæ huic Sacramento tribuis. Tomo II. Tract. VII. Sect. 2. pag. 429. Reſp. Mitte tua illa Si, Si, Si. Si Cœlum caderet, multæ caperentur alaudæ. Conditio nihil ponit in eſſe. Certè meritum Chriſti ſola fide, non actibus pœnitentiæ Sacramentalibus apprehenſum peccata remittere: Miniſtros Eccleſiæ non ulla poteſtate judiciali, ſed merè miniſteriali à Chriſto iis delegata abſolvere: Baptiſmum remiſſionem omnium promiſcuè peccatorum obſignare: denique peccata ſola Dei Chriſtique gratia in Evangelio patefacta, & per præcones promulgata, remitti, S. Scriptura luculenter teſtatur. Et pleraque hæc à nobis jam evicta ampliori demonſtratione non indigent. Fruſtra tu gratiæ & merito Chriſti ſocias & meritorias alias cauſas adjungis, & peregrinum ignem altari Jehovæ nefariè admoves.

ARG. II. Solius Chriſti eſt Sacramentum Novi Teſtamenti inſtituere, adverſariis etiam multis fatentibus. Chriſtus autem Sacramentum pœnitentiæ non inſtituit, tum quia nec mandavit, nec exercuit: tum quia non obligavit ad pœnitentiam aliam, quàm quæ eſt à Prophetis & à Johanne prædicata. Neque etiam Apoſtoli de pœnitentia & ratione conſequendæ remiſſionis peccatorum aliter docuerunt, quàm prophetæ V. Teſt. uti ex Act. X. 43. & XXVI. 23. liquet.

nni 470. lib. pag. 425–432. Resp. 1. Christo omnes Prophetæ testimonium perhibere, quod in nomine ejus omnis, qui in ipsum credit, remissionem peccatorum habeat, S. Petrus Act. X. 43. testatur. Commune ergo medium, quo remissio peccatorum per nomen Christi applicatur, testibus omnibus Prophetis & S. Petro, non aliud est quàm fides in Christum. Baptismus verò remissionem peccatorum omnium non applicat, fed fide fola applicatam obsignat. Pœnitentia applicatæ & obsignatæ peccatorum remissioni superveniens, consolationem & sensum ejusdem restituit, Davide Psal. LI. toto teste. 2. De textibus Matth. XVIII. 21. & sententia piæ antiquitatis infra.

ARG. III. Nec materiam habet, nec formam sacramentalem. Materiam nonnulli peccata faciunt pœnitentis. At absolutio, quam formam faciunt, peccata destruit. Materia autem non destruitur, sed perficitur. Synodus verò absurdè materiam hujus Sacramenti facit actus pœnitentis, contritionem, confessionem & satisfactionem, uti demonstrabitur infra. Ubi autem materia non est, nec forma locum habet. Scotus quidem formam Sacramenti ponit in absolutione. Sed aliis absolutio pars est materiæ & forma simul, quod absurditate non caret. Præterea forma absolutionis Papistica nec in scriptura, nec in omni antiquitate reperitur, adeóque novitium inventum est. Ubi autem non est verbum Dei, ibi nec Sacramentum est. Et quænam in actibus pœnitentis & ministri absolutione ostendi analogia potest? talis qualis esse debet inter rem elementarem & cœlestem? Addo immanem adversariorum pugnam circa materiam & formam pœnitentiæ, quæ satis arguit dogmatis vanitatem.

RESP. REDING: 1. Materiam remotam & primam cum proxima & secunda confundit. Illa sunt peccata, quæ per remissionem destruuntur: hæc actus pœnitentis, qui per formam absolutionis eatenus elevantur ad Esse Sacramenti, quatenus participant de virtute gratiæ sanctificantis, ut sic peccatorum expulsivæ significatrice & effectrice. 2. Verba quidem absolutionis secundum significationem suam naturalem sic habent materialiter ad Divinæ institutionis significationem, qua in Esse formæ Sacramentalis constituit. Plane sicut verba pro Baptismatis Sacramento præscripta, secundum naturalem suam significationem spectata sunt quid materiale, cui ex Divina institutionis efficacia vis Sacramentalis significationis supervenit. 3. Verba illa Christi, quorum remissionis peccata, remittuntur eis; potestatem utique tribuunt peccata remittendi. Hæc potestas ubi exercenda est, indiget signo talis remissionis expressivo, quod sunt verba absolutionis, quæ proin nituntur institutione Christi. Ex hac Christi institutione, quæ Divinæ virtutis & veritatis efficatiam imperat, oportet in verbis inesse vim operandi, quod significant. Hæc autem vis remissionem peccatorum operans Sacramentalis est, & eo ipso, quòd formaliter ejus effectus significativa est, fubit rationem formæ. Habes ergo institutionem Divinam formæ. 4. Analogia verò inter actus pœnitentis, & absolutionem Ministri, nititur ipsa Divina institutionis veritate, quæ sic per traditionem habetur, ut traditionis ejus origo sit in præceptis verbis Christi, nisi S. Patres refutentur passim, asserentes, frustrari Evangelium & verba Christi, Chriſti, ſi quis coram Deo in corde duntaxat putet agendam pœnitentiam, neque recurſum habere velit ad claves Eccleſiæ, ſe ſubmittendo diſcipulis Chriſti. 5. Concordant Theologi noſtri in materia & forma pœnitentiæ quoad ſubſtantiam; ſed diſcrepant in modo eas explicandi. Ibid. pag. 432. 434. Reſp. Metaphyſici & Phyſici conceptus tui quomodo quadrent, videamus paucis. 1. Formam materiæ præcedentis proximæ privari in mutationibus quibuſvis, materia prima & remota ceu ſubjecto omnium mutationum, conſtanter manente & perennante, Scholæ tuæ philoſophia hactenus docuit. Tibi contra materia prima & remota hujus Sacramenti, peccata ſcilicet, deſtruuntur, proxima verò, quæ nunquam informis eſſe poteſt, actus ſcilicet pœnitentis, ab accedente nova forma, abſolutione, informantur. Quæ ergo materiæ proximæ forma eſt, quæ privata accedenti novæ formæ locum cedat? Quàm ergo bellè tibi, Philoſophorum Scholaſticorum alpha, conſtas? Quomodo etiam actus pœnitentis, contritio, confeſſio & ſatisfactio, de virtute gratiæ ſanctificantis, ut ſic peccatorum expulſiva ſignificatrice & effectrice, participant? Nam ſi virtus gratiæ ſanctificantis peccata expellit cui bono Sacerdotis abſolutio? Quod jam ante expulſum eſt, abſolutione nulla indiget. 2. Quòd idem ſimul pars materiæ, ſimul forma eſſe poſſit, nunquam tu probabis. In S. Baptiſmi Sacramento aqua ſola materiæ totius munere fungitur. Verba verò, Ego te baptizo, nec quoad naturalem ſignificationem pars materiæ, nec Baptiſmi forma eſſe poſſunt. Non illa, quia materia Sacramenti eſt elementum ſenſibile, non naturaliter, ſed ſupernaturaliter ex inſtitutione ſignificans, Non hæc, quia verba illa nuſpiam diſertè præſcripta ſunt, neque adeò Sacramento dant eſſe. Par ratio eſt verborum abſolutionis. 3. Verba Chriſti, quorum remiſeritis peccata &c. Apoſtolis & univerſis Eccleſiæ Miniſtris poteſtatem remittendi peccata concedunt. Hanc poteſtatem ais indigere ſigno remiſſionis expreſſivo, atque illud facis verba abſolutionis. Annon verò ratio omnis ſigni pertinet ad materiam Sacramenti? Jam ergo abſolutionis verba erunt materia, non forma Sacramenti pœnitentiæ. Sed fallis turpiter etiam, ſtatuens, ſigna, quibus miniſter Eccleſiæ exprimit voluntatem remittendi peccata, eſſe formam Sacramenti pœnitentiæ, atque inde formam inſtitutionis Divinæ arceſſis. Præterquam enim quòd ſigna illa remittendi peccata nuſpiam determinatè inſtituta & præſcripta ſunt, illa etiam pœnitentiæ ſunt extrinſeca. Pœnitentia enim omnis in pœnitente eſt: verba abſolutionis in alio. Quomodo igitur forma pœnitentiæ eſſe poſſunt? Forma id eſt, per quod res eſt, quod eſt, & conſtituit rei eſſentiam. At abſolutio à peccatis non conſtituit eſſentiam doloris, confeſſionis, ut ſit verus dolor, vera confeſſio. Errores erroribus cumulans addis, verbis abſolutionis ineſſe vim operandi, quod ſignificant. Hoc jam parum à Magica impietate abeſt. Quomodo enim humana verba arbitraria, & determinatè nuſpiam præſcripta, virtutem haberent remiſſionem peccatorum operandi, quam ſola Dei gratia per & propter meritum Chriſti operatur? Quis unquam præconium damnationis vel abſolutionis, ipſam damnationem vel abſolutionem operari dixit? 4. Fruſtra ergo etiam analogiam inter actus pœnitentis & verba abſolutionis in inſtitutione formæ illius Divina, quam nullam probare potuiſti, collocas. Nam analogia Sacramentalis omnis in ſignificatione & repræſentatione rei, ſeu gratiæ inviſibilis, quam Sacramentum exhibet, conſiſtit. Quomodo verò actus pœnitentis, inprimis verò ſatisfactio, quæ abſolutione poſterior eſt, abſolutionis verba, ut ſignum ſcilicet & elementum externum ſignificant & repræſentant? Patres fruſtra appellas. Non enim quando pœnitentiam eccleſiaſticam & canonicam illi urgent; atque interiorem pœnitentiam tentiam ſine exteriore, in ſcandalis ſcilicet enormibus, non ſufficere contendunt, ejuſmodi pœnitentiam externam illi intelligunt, qualem vos defenditis, avaritiæ ſcilicet & ambitionis clericalis fomentum & adjumentum, uti rectiſſimè M. Antonius de Dominis appellavit. De quo infra. 5. Diſſenſum veſtrum occultare non potes. Manifeſtus nimis eſt, nec in modo loquendi conſiſtit, dum alii aliam materiam & formam hujus Sacramenti conſtituunt; alii quaſi materiam appellant; imò ipſam definitionem Sacramenti pœnitentiæ nullam conſtitutam habent. Bellarminus ait, Theologos ſummo conſenſu Pœnitentiam Sacramentum eſſe docere, in eo ſolùm nonnihil laborare, ut oſtendant in hoc Sacramento, quid ſit Sacramentum tantùm, quid res tantùm, quid res ſimul & Sacramentum. Scilicet Pontificii magno conſenſu docent, Pœnitentiam eſſe Sacramentum, ſed neſciunt, qua ratione hoc affirment. Quo nihil verius dici poteſt. Nulla enim eſt particula materiæ, formæ, vel effecti hujus Sacramenti, de qua Scholaſtici inter ſe conſentiant.

ARG. IV. In omni Sacramento juxta Auguſtinum eſt ſignum viſibile invisibilis gratiæ. In pœnitentia Papiſtica fruſtra ejusmodi ſignum viſibile requiſiveris. Audibile oſtendunt non ex diſerto Dei verbo, ſed ex fallaci ratiocinio.

RESP. REDING: Etiam in Baptiſmo ſignum nonniſi audibile obtinet. Non igitur neceſſariò Sacramentum eſt invisibilis gratiæ ſignum viſibile, maximè ſi id ad objectum viſus corporei referatur. Ib. pag. 434 Reſp. Apertè deliras. Baptiſmi ſignum viſibile, aqua eſt. Audibile verbum Baptiſmi vobis forma, non materia, qua ſola ſignum Baptiſmi eſt, habetur. Sic Euchariſtiæ ſignum viſibile panis & vinum eſt. Licet enim nonniſi verbo accedente fiat ſignum, adeóque Sacramentum, non tamen ideo ſignum audibile eſt. Alia ratio eſt cauſæ ſignum conſtituentis, alia ſigni. Accedit verbum ad elementum, & fit Sacramentum. Aliud igitur eſt verbum, aliud elementum, quod Sacramentum fieri debet. De cœtero in dubium revocans, an ſignum in Sacramentis debeat eſſe viſibile, non ſolùm Auguſtino, ſed Lombardo etiam veſtro ſic definienti repugnas. Sed quocunque etiam modo ſignum Sacramentale definiatis, certè actus pœnitentis ſignum nullo modo eſſe queunt. Non contritio, quia in ſenſus non incurrit, niſi per fallacia teſtimonia operum; & conteri, ſeu dolere de peccato non eſt ſignum gratiæ Dei, ſicut dolere ob morbum, non eſt ſignum ſanationis. Non confeſſio, quia fateri morbum pariter non eſt ſignum ſanationis. Non ſatisfactio, quia ſatisfacere pro debito non eſt ſignum gratiæ, ſed gratiæ potiùs repugnat.

Pœnitentia quippe ratione novitatis vitæ, quæ ſola ſalutarem eam reddit, juſtificationem non antecedit, ſed ſequitur. Et juſtificamur gratia Dei, per fidem, ſine operibus, Rom. III. 24. 28. Quid quòd in pœnitentia Davidis æquè ac S. Petri contritio Evangelica, confeſſio Deo facta, ſatisfactio canonica, & abſolutio conſpicua fuit? Cur ergo Petri pœnitentia Sacramentalis fuit, Davidis non item?

ARG. VI. Sacramentalis pœnitentia ortum habet à corruptione diſciplinæ Eccleſiæ veteris, in qua exigebantur contritionis ſigna & exomologeſis, ac imperabatur ſatisfactio, ſeu reparatio ſcandali publicè dati, idque in criminibus manifeſtis & atrocibus. Illam autem pœnitentiam nec neceſſariam fecit, nec ei reconciliationem cum Deo promiſit.

RESP. READING: *Vetus Eccleſia præter contritionem exigens exomologeſin, Sacramentalem Confeſſionem intellexit. Concilia antiqua Canonibus Pœnitentialibus perſperſa ſunt, quibus præſcribuntur pœnitentiæ gradus, tempus & ſimilia. At Sacramenti nulla apud eos mentio. Nec poſt Pœnitentiam Sacerdos abſolvebat his verbis: Abſolvo te à tuis peccatis; ſed pœnitens Eccleſiæ reconciliari ſuevit impoſitione manuum Epiſcopi & precatione. Pœnæ reconciliationem peccatoris præcedebant, non ſequebantur. Non poſt eandem injuncta flagra, abſtinentia à certis cibis, peregrinationes, iterata ſeptem Pſalmorum Pœnitentialium pronuntiatio, multæ pecuniariæ, & ſimilia, quæ hodie utramque Pœnitentiæ paginam faciunt. Nec Sacerdos ſtipem accepit à pœnitente, abſolutionis mercedem. Nec docebatur populus, defectum pœnarum purgatorii flammis ſuppleri. Hæc & ſimilia inventa ſunt in noviſſimorum Seculorum fœce. Veteres verò Canones Pœnitentiales Eccleſia Romana poſterioris ævi abrogavit, novámque Pœnitentiæ formam invexit.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Sacramentum pœnitentiæ Chriſtus inſtituit, cùm à mortuis excitatus, inſufflavit in diſcipulos ſuos, dicens: Accipite Spiritum ſanctum, quorum remiſeritis peccata, remittentur eis; & quorum retinueritis, retenta erunt, Joh. XX. 23. quo tam inſigni facto & verbis tam perſpicuis, poteſtatem remittendi & retinendi peccata, ad reconciliandos fideles poſt baptiſmum lapſos, Apoſtolis & eorum ſucceſſoribus fuiſſe communicatam, univerſorum Patrum conſenſus ſemper intellexit. Eſt argumentum Concilii Cap. 1. Can. IV. Bellarminus autem, & ex ipſo Aug. Reding p. 546. 547. ex iis Chriſti verbis pœnitentię Sacramentum colligunt hac ratione, quòd in iis tum ritus externus ſive ſymbolum, nempe vox & ſignum externum ac ſenſibile, quo Sacerdos neceſſe habet peccata remittere, nec non ritus externus & ſigna pœnitentis: tum promiſſio remiſſionis peccatorum innuatur & contineatur. Reſp. 1. Verba Chriſti cùm generalia ſint, vi illius argumenti quælibet pœnitentia & abſolutio, quæ externa ejusmodi ſigna & promiſſionem complectitur, Sacramentum erit. Ita Sacerdotes V. T. populo, Nathan Davidi, Jonas Ninevitis, Eſajas Ezechiæ, Prophetæ Iſraëlitis, Johannes Baptiſta & Apoſtoli ante reſurrectionem fidelibus, Chriſtus paralytico & fœminæ peccatrici externo ſigno, verbo videlicet, poſt ſigna à pœnitentibus edita, peccata remiſerunt. An igitur etiam tum adminiſtratum eſt peculiare pœnitentiæ ſacramentum? 2. Etiam Chriſtus Luc. XXIV. 47. jubet prædicari in nomine ſuo pœnitentiam & remiſſionem peccatorum. An iccirco miniſterium verbi, quo externo ſigno & ritu & pœnitentia & remiſſio peccatorum prædicatur, eſt Sacramentum propriè dictum? 3. Neque etiam Apoſtoli, quibus hæc verba Chriſtus dixit, uſpiam ejusmodi ſacramentum adminiſtrârunt, in quo ipſi peccatorum in aures ſibi demurmuratorum, & ſatisfactionis vel contritionis merito expiatorũ judices ſe geſſerint. Paulus enim Act. XXVI. 19. 20. ſuæ de pœnitentia doctrinæ ſummam recenſens, proceſſus ejusmodi judicialis haud meminit. 4. Si publicum Eccleſiæ Sacramentum his verbis inſtitutum eſſet, ejus materia, ſeu externum ſacramentale ſymbolum diſertis etiam verbis exprimeretur. Nam ex propria inſtitutionis ſede aſſignari debet ſacramentale ſignum, non generalibus, ſed ſpecialibus & diſertis verbis. 5. Ex generalibus verbis Chriſti præter verbum abſolutionis & actus pœnitentis nihil ulteriùs elicere Bellarminus potuit. At eos à ratione ſacramentalium ſignorum alienos eſſe, inferiùs demonſtrabimus. 6. Cúmque fideles V. corporales, non intelligant ſibi eſſe remiſſa peccata, niſi per ſignum aliquod ſacramentale. Et quid vetat, quò minùs externum illud ſignum ſit verbum Dei, etiam extra Sacramentum prædicatum, & peccatori idoneè applicatum? Imò quid vetat, quò minùs ſine externo ſigno, ſolo interno Spiritûs S motu, homo ſibi remiſſa eſſe peccata intelligat? 7. In ipſa Synodo F. Ambroſius Pelargus, Electoris Trevirenſis Theologus, verba illa Chriſti ab ullo Patrum exponi de Sacramento pœnitentiæ, negavit apud Hiſtoricum C. T. lib. IV. p. 316.

Excip. Reding: 1. Verbis illis Chriſti remiſſionis peccatorum ſub ſenſibili abſolutionis ſigno poteſtas non cuivis fidelium, ſed Sacerdotibus ſolis, Apoſtolorum ſucceſſoribus commiſſa eſt. Licet autem etiam Sacerdotes & Prophetæ V. T. pœnitentiam prædicaverint, tamen iis collata non eſt poteſtas ponendi peccatorum remiſſionis ſignum practicum, remiſſionis ejuſmodi, vi Divinæ promiſſionis infallibiliter effectivum. Pronuntiatio illorum erat merè ſpeculativa, non practica. 2. Chriſtus juſſit prædicare pœnitentiam, quam ad remiſſionem peccatorum ipſemet inſtituit. At pro baptizatis & relapſis inſtituit pœnitentiam talem, in qua pœnitentibus à Sacerdotibus peccata remitterentur. 3. Annon Act. XIX. 18. multi confitentes veniſſe ad Paulum, & 2. Cor. II. 10. abſolviſſe ipſe inceſtuoſum dicitur? 4. Neque etiam Baptiſmum inſtituens Chriſtus Matth. XXVIII. 18. ejus materiam & formam expreſſit. An iccirco Baptiſmus Sacramentum non eſt? Et tamen ex verbis, quorum peccata remiſeritis, &c. materia Sacramenti hujus, peccata, ad Sacerdotis judicium mediante contritione & confeſſione delata, & forma ipſa elicitur. 5. Si Bellarminus ex verbis Chriſti abſolutionem & actus pœnitentis elicuit, quomodo illos à ratione Sacramentalium ſignorum alienos eſſe ſtatuis? 6. Potuiſſet Deus efficaciam remiſſionis non alligare ſigno Sacramentali. Sed aliter placuit. Ib. pag. 436—439. Reſp. Tot fidiculis opus tibi fuit, ut ex verbis Chriſti Sacramentum pœnitentiæ extunderes. Sed vanus profectò labor tuus eſt. Etenim 1. non cuivis fidelium ejuſmodi poteſtatem remittendi peccata conceſſam eſſe, qualis conceſſa eſt Apoſtolis, cui ambiguum eſt? Sed Sacerdotes etiam & Prophetæ, Johannes Baptiſta, Chriſtus, Apoſtoli, ante reſurrectionem non fuerunt ex grege quorumvis fidelium, ſed æquè, & Chriſtus magis, Eccleſiæ præpoſiti. Et tamen illi credentibus, pœnitentibus remiſerant peccata, eoſdémque ab iis abſolverunt. Sicut quibus Apoſtoli remiſerunt peccata, iis remiſſa ſunt: ita quibus illi, Chriſtus inprimis, volente Deo peccata remiſerunt, illorum peccata remiſſa ſunt. In utrorumque remiſſione generalitas verborum Chriſti apparet, nec aliud tu oſtendere potes. Illi, excepto Chriſto, remiſerunt declarando, prædicando voluntatem Dei remittentis. Non aliter hi. Nam quòd Apoſtolis contendis datam eſſe poteſtatem ponendi remiſſionis peccatorum ſignum practicum, illius effectivum; nec ex verbis Chriſti probabis in æternum; & apertè id impium eſt. Sola enim voluntas Dei practica, ſeu effectiva eſt remiſſionis peccatorum. Verba verò hominum, inprimis ab iis excogitata, practica ſunt, non efficiendo remiſſionem (ſolus enim Deus peccata remittit Marc. II. 7.) ſed, ſignificando. Unde Scholaſticorum pater lib. IV. d. 18. verba illa: Ego te abſolvo; exponit: Ego te abſolutum oſtendo, declaro. Atque eandem ſignificandi praxin Sacerdotum, Prophetarum, Apoſtolorum ante reſurrectionem, Johannis Baptiſtæ verba, vel ſigna quælibet abſolventia æquè habuerunt. Aliâs deterior longè erit conditio fidelium Novi, quàm fuit fidelium V. Teſt. Nam ſub V. T. fideles ſe ad Deum convertentes ab eo remiſſionis peccati effectum immediatè conſecuti eſſent; at nunc fideles remiſſionem tenerentur mendicare ab hominibus, quorum multi peſſimi ſunt; & quorum intentio, ſine qua omne Sacramentum irritum eſſe declamant, prorſus incerta eſt. An mihi non ſufficeret pœnitentia uſitata in Eccleſia V. T. & ante reſurrectionem Chriſti? 2. Non aliam certè pœnitentiam, non aliam remiſſionem peccatorum prædicari Chriſtus juſſit, quàm à ſe inſtitutam, à ſe promeritam. Et illam præcones verbi prædicant. Cur igitur Sacramentum non æquè eſt? Imò Apoſtoli, Miniſtri Eccleſiæ remiſerunt, remittuntque prædicando, quòd credentibus in Chriſtum peccata remiſſa ſint. Si propterea pœnitentia Sacramentum eſt, quia ſine ea remiſſio non contingit: cur non etiam fides in Chriſtum, ſine qua nemini peccatum vel minimum remiſſum eſt? 3. An confitentes Act. XIX. 18. quicquam S. Paulo in aures inſuſurrarunt; peccata cum omnibus circumſtantiis ei denudarunt? imò publica fuit confeſſio, non tam hominibus, quàm Deo facta. uti infra planum facimus. Et abſolutio S. Pauli 2. Cor. II. 10. fuit non à peccatis in foro Dei, ſed à cenſuris & pœnis Canonicis in foro Eccleſiæ. 4. Chriſtus jubens baptizare, elementum, ſignum viſibile, aquam inſtituit; interprete paſſim Scriptura Actor. VIII. 36. Epheſ. V. 26. Et materiam hanc determinans, ſimul formam determinavit, ſignificationem & obſignationem puritatis animæ, & interrogationis bonæ conſcientiæ ad Deum, ib. & 1. Pet. III. 21. Nullam ejuſmodi determinationem pro Sacramento Pœnitentiæ ex verbis Chriſti oſtendere potes. Ubi enim peccata per actus pœnitentis ad tribunal ſacrificuli eſſe materiam Sacramenti Chriſtus dixit? Atqui & peccata jam à Deo remiſſa ſupponuntur, priuſquam remiſſa à Miniſtris Eccleſiæ declarentur: & remiſſio peccatorum ubique in S. Scriptura non magis ab actibus pœnitentis, ſpuriis cumprimis illis, quos vos finxiſtis, quàm à fide in Chriſtum, cujus exterior actus eſt confeſſio nominis Chriſti, quæ Sacramentum illud veſtrum ne quidem intrat, ſuſpenditur, & peccatorum remittendorum, vel imputandorum ſolus Deus judex eſt. Formam verò, Sacrificuli ſcilicet abſolventis verba, quæ neque in Scriptura, neque in tota antiquitate αὐθεντικὴ reperire eſt; quotuſquiſque ex verbis Chriſti divinaverit? Etenim ſi in verbis illis, Quorum remiſeritis peccata &c. verba illa, Ego te abſolvo, ceu Sacramentalis forma, virtualiter ſaltem, uti loqui amatis, continetur, etiam in verbis annexis, Quorum retinueritis peccata &c. incluſa erit forma alicujus contrarii Sacramenti. Eadem enim utrobique ratio eſt. 5. Bellarminus elicere ex verbis Chriſti verba abſolutionis & actus pœnitentis conatus eſt. Sed ut maximè elicuiſſet, nondum rationem propriè dicti Sacramenti à Deo inſtituti ea ſubiiſſe, demonſtravit. Hoc autem demonſtrandum potiſſimùm fuerat. 6. Signo Sacramentali, quod viſibile eſſe debet, alligaſſe Chriſtum remiſſionis efficaciam, cur denique non probas? Quid juvat inaniter garrire? Non quodvis ſignum Sacramentale eſt, ſed Divinitus inſtitutum ſignum viſibile inviſibilis gratiæ. Hoc nobis oſtende, ſi potes; vel tace.

OBIECT. II. Fideles juſtitiam in baptiſmo collatam non tuentur conſtanter. Opus igitur erat, aliud à Chriſto inſtitui Sacramentum ad peccatorum remiſſionem pro iis, qui ſeſe poſt baptiſmum in peccati ſervirtutem & dæmonis poteſtatem tradidiſſent, Sacramentum videlicet pœnitentiæ, quo lapſis poſt baptiſmum beneficium mortis Chriſti applicatur. Ita Concilium Cap. 1. haud posse,ita,ut qui eam accepit,in peccati servitutem & dæmonis potestatem denuò redigatur , probatum supra dedimus. Qui verò post baptismum & justitiam in eo obsignatam inciderit in peccata , prævalente carne & humana infirmitate,eum fide & fœderis ac gratiæ Dei in baptismo obsignatæ pia recordatione & pœnitentia,qualis in Evangelio describitur,peccatorum remissionem accipere,pluribus etiam argumentis superiùs demonstratum est. 2. Neque uspiam Apostoli iis , qui post baptismum peccârunt , aliam legem , aliud Evangelium, alium Christum,aliam fidem,aliud reconciliationis medium prædicârunt vel applicârunt.

Excip. Reding : Justitiam amitti posse , & lapsos non sola fide & Baptismi recordatione restitui, supra probavimus. Apostoli autem prædicarunt pœnitentiam , quam Christus potestatem dando remittendi peccata statuit. Ib. pag. 439. Resp. Nihil te probasse , in loco evicimus. Pœnitentiam quoque prædicarunt Apostoli , non fucatam , non Sacramentalem,non causam remissionis peccatorum ; non baptizatis propriam , sed eandem baptizatis & non baptizatis ; quæ præstantissima illa virtus est,per quam vita hominis emendatur, & à vitio ad virtutem revocatur. Ostende Scripturæ vel unicum textum, quo pœnitentia significet opera vestra pœnalia , quæ arbitrio Presbyterorum & Sacerdotum peccatoribus injungantur, & quo parta iis sit potestas in corpora & fortunas laicorum, ne Regibus quidem exceptis. Magna depravatio est verbi Divini, quod pœnitentiam vertitis in pœnam, & converti ad Deum vobis est supplicium : ornamentum spirituale in exercitium corporale commutatur : denique pro pœnitentia, quæ unica est,sexcentæ pœnitentiarum species substituuntur.

OBIECT. III. Sicut fracta navi unum vitæ servandæ perfugium reliquum est,si fortè tabulam aliquam de naufragio liceat arripere , ita post amissam baptismi innocentiam,nisi quis ad pœnitentiæ tabulam confugiat,sine dubio de ejus salute desperandum est. Hoc sensu Hieronymus in Cap. 3. Esaiæ pœnitentiam vocat secundam post naufragium tabulam. Catechismus Romanus q. 11. cap. 5. q. 1. Resp.1. Inde necessitas pœnitentiæ,at non sacramentalis & Pontificiæ probari possit. 2. Fideles acceptâ semel & in Sacramentis obsignatâ justitiâ, ejus naufragium facere negamus,& contrarium in loco probavimus. Qui per tentationem excidunt sensu gratiæ ad tempus,navi semper manente integra, ad eandem reverti possunt. 3. Quo sensu Veteres pœnitentiam vocaverint secundam post naufragium tabulam, supra diximus.

Excip. Reding : Ex ore Christi luculenter constat , peccata per absolutionem à Sacerdote non dimissa,retineri. Necessaria igitur est absolutio Sacerdotis , quæ ipsissima Sacramentalis pœnitentia est, secunda scilicet post naufragium tabula. Ib. pag. 439. Resp. Peccata quævis à Sacerdote non dimissa retineri: vel dimitti peccata à Sacerdote judice Sacramentali ratione : vel pœnitenti , nedum ex humano præscripto vestro pœnitenti magis quàm credenti in Christum , remitti nuspiam Christus Sancto ore suo testatus ſtatus eſt. Quid enim? An etiam infidelium, non baptizatorum peccata à Sacerdote non remiſſa in Sacramento pœnitentiæ, retinentur? Certè quæ peccata remittunt & retinent Miniſtri Eccleſiæ ex præſcripto Chriſti, illa remittuntur retinenturque. Non iccirco quæ non remittunt, non retinent, nullo modo remitti vel retineri ſequitur. Non enim miniſtris remiſſionem vel retentionem Chriſtus Dominus alligavit. Alias dicendum fuerat: Quæ peccata non remiſeritis, non retinueritis, non remiſſa, non retenta erunt. Supercilioſi nimiùm eſtis Sacrificuli, & non tantùm poteſtatis remittendi peccata ſenſum nefariè, ad avaritiæ & ambitionis veſtræ ſtabilimentum pervertitis, ſed etiam ejus fimbrias nimium nimiúmque dilatatis; vobis, ſed non aliis judicibus, maximi.

OBIECT. IV. Pœnitentia tollit omnia peccata. Ergo æquè Sacramentum eſt ac baptiſmus, qui etiam omnia peccat tollit. Reſp. Pœnitentia tollit omnia peccata non efficienter, quod ſoli Dei gratiæ convenit, nec ſignificativè, quod Sacramentorum eſt: ſed formaliter, quia inchoata in nobis pœnitentia per gratiam Dei ex malis mutat in bonos, haud ſecus ac reliquæ virtutes tollunt vitia ſibi oppoſita, quæ non iccirco ſacramentis adnumerantur.

EXCIP. REDING: Licet pœnitentiæ formalis honeſtas reparet malitiam creatæ virtutis morali honeſtati oppoſitam; tamen non eſt ſufficiens ad reparandam condignè malitiam, qua Divina Majeſtas læditur, quia jus Divinæ Majeſtatis nullo puræ creaturæ actu adæquabile eſt. Talis ergo ad remiſſionem peccatorum pœnitentia requiritur, cui ex Divina ordinatione annexa ſit meritorum Chriſti condignitas, quæ nonniſi Sacramentalis eſſe poteſt. Ib. pag. 440. 441. Nec ſic reſponſioni meæ ſatisfacis: nec ſolidi quicquam pronuntias. Nam nec pœnitentiæ formalis honeſtas malitiam ei oppoſitam reparat, ſed tantùm ex malis in bonos commutat, ſolo interim ſanguine Chriſti malitiam peccati reparante & expiante: nec pœnitentia hominis, qualiſcunque ea ſtatuatur, læſæ Divinæ per peccatum Majeſtati ſatisfacere, vel juri Divinæ Majeſtatis adæquari poteſt. Sive enim ea ſpectetur, ut virtus eſt, actus hominis finitus infinito reatui tollendo nunquam ſufficit: ſive ut Sacramentum (quanquam id falsò ſupponitur) gratia remiſſionis foret poſterior, quia Sacramenta omnia gratiam jam collatam ſignificant & obſignant. Neque ullum Sacramentum, quâ ſignum viſibile inviſibilis gratiæ eſt, ejuſmodi condignitatem cum gratia, vel infinitum etiam valorem obtinet; ſive principali, ſive inſtrumentali effectiva virtute, uti ſupra oſtendimus. Quod ſoli gratiæ & merito Chriſti, acceptum referendum eſt, tu nunquam non alienis cauſis acceptum refers, atque ſic gratiæ & divitiarum Dei gloriam alienare ſtudes.

OBIECT. V. Pœnitentiam etiam Patres tanquam Sacramentum commendant. Alii enim remiſſionem peccatorum aſſignant pœnitentiæ. Alii efficaciam pœnitentiæ Deo tribuunt. Alii pœnitentiam cum baptiſmo, aliisque Sacramentis comparant, veluti Tertullianus de pœnit. Auguſtinus Enchirid. 65. 66. Cyprianus de ablut. pedum, Ambroſius de pœnit. lib. 1. 7. Hieronymus lib. 1. contra Pelag. Alii eam annumerant Sacramentis, ut Auguſtinus Epiſt. 180. & de Bapt. cap. 20. Victor Uticenſis de Perſecut. Vandalica lib. 2. Alii pœnitentiæ adſcribunt nomen Sacramenti, ut Ambroſius ſerm. 66. & de pœnit. lib. II. 3. Chryſoſtom. de Sacerdotio III. Greg. Nyſſ. de vita Moſis. Reſp. 1. Per pœnitentiam remitti remitti peccata, sive ea privata sint, sive publica & ecclesiastica: ejusque efficaciam esse à Deo fatemur. Sed propterea Sacramentum esse negamus. 2. Patres, qui pœnitentiæ meminerunt, nuspiam Papisticam illam intelligunt, sed vel privatam, quâ virtus est, vel publicam, postquam in publica non privata absolutione peccata remittebantur. Ab hac autem ad secretam illam absolutionem perperam argumentum trahi, etiam M. Canus Relect. de panit. part. 6. quæst. de mutu &c. obser. cat. 3. Pœnitentia cum baptismo comparatur subinde à Patribus, non in tota Sacramenti ratione, sed in parte, quæ locum habere potest etiam extra Sacramentum, velut in remissione peccatorum, quæ aliis etiam modis, sola nempe Dei gratia, fide, charitate &c. diverso tamen sensu fieri potest. Ita Chrysostomus l. c. monet, Sacerdotes non tantum nos regenerare, in baptismo nempe, sed etiam τὰ μὴ ζῶντα συγχωρεῖν ἔχοντι ἐξουσίαν ἁμαρτήματα postea facultatem obtinere condonandorum peccatorum. At id eos facere in Sacramento pœnitentiæ, nec ipse, nec alii docent. 4. Patres locis citatis Sacramenta nec numerant, nec definiunt, sed aliud agentes, & occasione captata, nominum fere ginem contexunt. Sanè Augustinus etiam consolationem, Victor Utricensis sepultura officium connumerant, quarum neutra Sacramentum est. Neque insolens elle Patribus, proprie & improprie dicta Sacramenta unà communi Sacramentorum appellatione complecti, ex Hieronymo, Augustino, & Tertulliano, Forbesius Instruct. lib. IX. 5. probat. 5. Neque etiam Sacramentum, proprii videlicet nominis, pœnitentiam difertis verbis appellant, sed vel ad Eucharistiam respiciunt, ut Ambrosius, vel potius Maximus: vel Sacramentum late sumptum, ut Augustinus l. c. ubi etiam Evangelium eo nomine insignit: vel μυστήριον, mysterium, ut Gregorius Nyssenus, cujus interpres Trapezuntius id reddidit Sacramentum. Sed quot sunt, quæ Patribus nomine mysterii veniunt? Plura de Patrum sententia videlis apud Forbesium loco citato, ubi contra Hardingum disputat.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Efficacia pœnitentiæ privatæ ad remissionem peccatorum, unde est nisi ab absolutione Divinitus institutâ? 2. Patres præter publicam absolutionem Ecclesiastico duntaxat canone constitutam, sacretæ, quæ sola juris Divini est, passim meminerunt. Chrysostomus, enim de Sacerd. lib. III. pœnitentiam cum Baptismo comparat, sed in parte duntaxat, nempe peccatorum remissione. Distinguendi enim inter patefactam regenerandi & peccata condonandi. Sicut ergo signo Baptismi Sacerdos regenerat: sic Pœnitentiæ signo peccata condonat. 2. Tertullianus quinque lib. de Panit. Baptismum cum pœnitentia secunda comparat, & hanc aliis confessione & absolutione fieri asserit. Hieronymus lib. I. contra Pelag. Pœnitentiam ait imitari gratiam Baptismatis, quia in utroque sanguis Christi à peccatis purificet. Et Epist. 11. ad Heliod. Pœnitentiam illam fieri per Sacerdotes, qui claves Regni Cœlorum habentes quodammodo ante diem judicii judicent, &c. Augustinus Epist. 150. ad Honorat. Pœnitentiæ signa ac Baptismi officium facit

V. 20. impoſitionem manuum, ſacerdotali abſolutione perficiendam, Sacramentis Baptiſmi & Euchariſtiæ comparat. Denique Victor Utic. de Perſecut. Vandal. lib. II. agnoſcit Pœnitentiæ munus, quo ex poteſtate à Chriſto conceſſa Sacerdotes peccata remittant. 3. Neque de Sacramento impropriè ſic dicto loquuntur Patres. Nam Ambroſ. de Pœnit. lib I. 7. Pœnitentiam cum Baptiſmo comparat in eo, quòd ubique Sacerdos poteſtatem habeat peccata remittendi. Et lib. II. 6. confeſſionem ad pœnitentiam eam requirit, eámque criminum nexus ſolvere dicit. Auguſtinus verò de Baptiſmo lib. V. 20. cum Baptiſmo, Euchariſtia & Pœnitentia jungit Evangelium, quia in Evangelio dictum, ut per peccatorem Sacramenta non celebrentur. Denique Gregorius Nyſſenus Epiſt. ad Mytilenenſ. cap. 1. Baptiſmum cum Pœnitentia comparat in eo, quòd peccata per confeſſionem ad Sacerdotes delata eatenus tollantur, ut confitentes manu Sacerdotis ad vitam ducantur. Ib. pag 442--444. Reſp. Videamus, an ingens ille ſudor tuus valetudinis, an potiùs morbi tui deplorati indicium præbeat. Etenim 1. Efficacia pœnitentiæ privatæ (quamvis non de privata pœnitentia, ſed de privatis peccatis reſponſio mea loquitur) ad remiſſionem peccatorum eſt à ſanguine Chriſti, qui ſolus vera fide apprehenſus ab omnibus peccatis purificat. Atque eodem, non aliò, Miniſter Eccleſiæ peccata remittens, pœnitentem remittit. 2. Invertis planè ordinem. Pœnitentia enim externa antiquitus recepta, & quoad poteſtatem abſolvendi non in Eccleſiaſtico, ſed in Divino foro, in poteſtate ſcilicet remittendi à Chriſto Apoſtolis conceſſa, & jure ipſo clavium, à S. Patribus fundata, publica tantùm, non privata fuit; imò verò cum publica etiam peccati manifeſtatione, ſi occultum eſſet, & peccator clavium beneficio frui vellet; poſtea verò cum ſecreta peccati occulti manifeſtatione, ſed publica pœnitentiæ defunctione; demum etiam cum privata in criminibus occultis pœnitentiæ defunctione, quam primus Leo M. Epiſt. 86. ſtabilivit; manente quoad publica & notoria crimina pœnitentia publica, donec & illa à Pontificibus cum ſecreta auriculari, hominum non excommunicatorum, Regni Pontificii nervo, communicata eſt. Quicquid ergo S. Patres de Pœnitentia externa loquuntur, illud omne ad publicam, non aliam referendum. quod etiam M. Antonius de Dominis de Rep. Eccl. lib V. 7. fusè demonſtravit. Nihil proin ex dictis Patrum ſpuriæ & degeneri pœnitentiæ veſtræ ſeritur vel metitur. Sed perpendamus tamen gloſſas tuas. Chryſoſtomus nec pœnitentiæ, nedum privatæ veſtræ, meminit, nec poteſtatem condonandi peccata in Sacramento fieri, ullo apice meminit. Neque ſanè ſi regenerant Sacerdotes baptizando, ſequitur, id omne, quod poſt baptiſmum faciunt, Sacramenti propriè dicti rationem habere. Citiùs ergo ex pumice aquam, quàm ex Chryſoſtomi verbis illis Sacramentum pœnitentiæ elicueris. Eſto enim, ſigno quodam peccata Sacerdotes condonent. At non quodvis ſignum Sacramentale eſt. Tertullianus lib. de Pœnit. Baptiſmo ſuccenturiat Pœnitentiam ſecundam. ſed ut Sacramentum propriè dictum ſuccenturiare, nunquam probabis. Obſtructa, inquit, intinctionis fera (per interdictum puta iterandi Baptiſmi) aliquid adhuc permiſit patere; Collocavit in veſtibulo pœnitentiam ſecundam, quæ pulſantibus patefaciat. Planè ad Sacramenti rationem non reſpexit. Cur enim alias Euchariſtiam, Sacramentum indubium, non memoraſſet? Ejus verò de confeſſione & abſolutione ſententiam alibi diſcutimus. Quo etiam modo pœnitentia imitetur Baptiſmum, Hieronymus clarè expreſſit; non in Sacramentali ratione, ſed quòd ubique ſanguis Jeſu mundet à peccatis. Atqui etiam, & propriè magis, in fide, utpote apprehendente Chriſtum, Sanguis Jeſu mundat à peccatis. An ideo fides etiam Sacramentum est? Quo verò sensu idem Hieronymus Epist. 1. ad Heliod. Sacerdotes ante diem judicii judicare diverti, eiusdem in Matth 16. verba inferius vindicanda, arguunt. Augustinus Epist. 180. ad Honoratum, in periculorum extremis alios flagitare Baptismum, alios reconciliationem, alios panitentiæ ipsius actionem, omnes consolationem, & Sacramentorum confectionem & oregationem, scribit. Si verba ea evincunt, Poenitentiam esse Sacramentum propriè dictum, etiam reconciliationem & consolationem à poenitentia distinctum Sacramentum propriè dictum esse, consequitur. Nam differentiæ ex Augustino ratio nulla apparet. Quid verò impositionem manuum, qua idem reconciliari peccatores statuit, nobis memoras? Apud vos enim ritus illè à poenitentium absolutione prorsus exulat. Denique Victor Uticensis, inquis, agnoscit panitentiæ munus, quo ex peccatis à Christo concessa Sacerdotes peccata remittunt. Quid hoc ad rem? Nec de poenitentia vestra secreta, nec de Sacramentali loquitur. 3. Ambrosii lib. de Panit. cap. 7. verba sunt: Cur baptizatis, & per hominem peccata dimitti non licet? In baptismo namque remissio peccatorum omnium est. Quid interest, an per panitentiam, an per lavacrum, hoc ipse filii datum Sacerdotes vendicent? Unum in utroque mysterium est. Sed dices, quia in lavacro operatur mysteriorum gratia, quid in panitentia? Nomine nimirum Dei operatur? Ex quibus verbis promptius collectu est, poenitentiam non esse Sacramentum. Alioqui apertè respondisset, etiam in ea mysteriorum gratiam operari. Quòd autem poenitentiam videtur appellare mysterium, id fignificatione generaliore accipiendum est. Alius Latinus scriptor Ambrosius, cui Sacramenti nomen familiare est, quique opus de Sacramentis poenitere confecit, alcubi poenitentiam Sacramentum vocasset, quod nunquam ille fecit. Idem confessione solvi nexus criminum, scribit lib. II. 6. Sed qua confessione? Nam & Deo confessio fit; & manifeste Ambrosius ad 1. Joh. 1. 9. alludit Augustinus de Baptismo lib. V. 20. ne quidem poenitentiæ meminit, sed Baptismi, olei, Eucharistiæ, impositionis manuum, quæ coniungit non ut Sacramenta, sed ut talia, super quæ exaudiri Deus hominibus deprecantibus. Denique Gregorius Nyssenus Epist. Can. ad Episcopum Mysilensem. cap. 2. peccata per panitentiam & confessionem à martiris operibus ad virentem vitam ascendere scribit. Quomodo confessionem à poenitentia distingui, si illa hujus pars materialis est? Et vel confessionem vel panitentiam vestram Sacramentalem privatam ab eo intelligi, proba. Profectò alia longè tibi quercus excutienda est, si vel modicè sapienti persuadere voluerit, doctrinam de Poenitentia à Concilibaulia vestris Florentino & Tridentino definitam, piæ antiquitati receptam fuisse. Nam quæ hic attulisti Patrum dicta, quibus tu lucro requiescam fœnerari conaris, ne equuleo quidem omnium Sophismatum vestrorum impolita, tale quicquam fatebuntur.

OBJECT. VI. Qui veram & judiciariam in Sacramento panitentiæ remittendi peccata potestatem negant, hæresin Novatianorum & Montanistarum resuscitant. Ita Concilium. Resp. Montani & Novatianorum hæresis erat, uti Alphonsus de Castro lib. IX. adversus hæreticas loquitur, eos qui semel post baptismum lapsi sunt, nunquam postea consequi remissionem peccatorum. At Protestantes, teste Bellarmino lib. III. de Justificat. docent, in Christianis post baptismum requiri fidem & panitentiam, ut justificentur, & remissionem consequantur. Proinde etiam Gregorius de Valentia de nom. Sacrament. cap. 4. fatetur, nos admittere remissionem post

QUÆSTIO II.

An ad integram & perfectam remiſſionem peccatorum requirantur tres actus in pœnitente, quaſi materia illius ſacramenti, videlicet Contritio, Confeſſio & ſatisfactio?

AFfirmat Caput III. & Canon IV. & per contritionem intelligit dolorem voluntariè aſſumptum pro peccatis, per Confeſſionem ſpecialem enumerationem peccatorum mortalium, per ſatisfactionem pœnam à Sacerdote injunctam. Hoſce pœnitentis actus, excluſo Chriſto & fide in ipſum, non materiam ſimpliciter, ſed timidiuſculè quaſi materiam nuncupat Synodus, cujus videlicet merito accedat abſolutio & peccatorum remiſſio. Nos negamus.

ARG. I. Contritio, confeſſio, ſatisfactio Papiſticè definita, non ſunt partes ſalutaris pœnitentiæ, uti infra probabitur.

Resp. Reding: 1. Infra ea de re videbimus. 2. Diſcutiendum interim, quòd aſſeris, Tridentinos eos pœnitentiæ actus, excluſo Chriſto & fide in ipſum, timidiuſculè quaſi materiam nuncupaſſe. An ergo cùm S. Johannes cap. 1. 14. Chriſtum vocat quaſi unigenitum, timidiuſculè unigenitum vocavit? Non aliud ſibi Concilium vult, quàm actus eos pœnitentis ſic eſſe partes hujus Sacramenti, ut tamen ſuam in eſſe Sacramenti, perfectionem ex forma abſolutionis accipiant. Sed & Concilium idem Seſſ. VI. cap. 6 diſertè decernit, contritionem niti fide in Chriſtum. Contritionem etiam docemus non ex merito ſuo, ſed ex Chriſti meritorum opere operato conferre gratiam. Impoſturæ igitur reus es. Tomo II. Tract. VII. ſ. 2. pag. 445. 446. Reſp. 1. Nos quoque infra veſtigia tua Σ. Θ. prememus & opprimemus. 2. Et timiditatem, & impietatem venerandorum Patrum tuorum vaniſſimo prætextu amoliri conaris. Nam Chriſti gloriam ſe vidiſſe, ὡς μονογενοῦς παρὰ πατρὸς tanquam unigeniti à Patre, Johannes cap. 1. 14. teſtatur. ubi vocula ὡς tanquam, non ſimilitudinem (quomodo quaſi reddi poſſet) ſed veritatem & certitudinem rei notat. Quomodo etiam Hebræorum Caph Num. XI. 1. Nehem. VII. 2. Joh. XXIV. 14. Hoſ. IV. 4. & ipſa vocula ὡς Matth. XIV. 5. Luc. XXII. 44. Rom. IX. 32. accipitur. Quod hic Chryſoſtomus & alii Græci vocant ὡς ἰσχυρὸν, & Hebræi כְּ לְאֵמִתּוֹ An eodem ſenſu Tridentini quaſi materiam nuncuparunt? Atqui tu ipſe id negas, aſſerens, ita vocaſſe, quia materiæ in eſſe Sacramenti perfectionem ab abſolutione habeant. Ergo non eſt verè materia Sacramenti, niſi abſolutione accedente & informante. quaſi verò ulla materia eſſe ſuum materiale à forma habeat, à qua tamen eſſentialiter diſtinguitur. Ergo quaſi materiam Patres tui vocarunt, quia nihil in hoc Sacramento invenerunt, quod verè & propriè ejus materia appellari posset. Infeliciùs adhuc excusas impietatem, qua Tridentinos excluso Christo & fide in ipsum pœnitentiæ materiam definivisse dixi. Nam Sess. VI. 6. non loqui eos de pœnitentia post-baptismali, quam solam sacramentalem facitis, ipsemet fateris; & res ipsa loquitur, cùm dispositiones justificationi prævias ibi recensere instituerint. Non ergo impostura ullius reus ego sum: sed tu infelix Patrum tuorum hyperaspistes. De contritionis merito infra.

ARG. II. Materia Sacramenti oportet Verbo Dei sit determinata. At verbum Dei nuspiam determinavit, hosce actus pœnitentis esse quasi materiam sacramenti.

RESP. REDING: Christus Joh. XX. 23. dicens Quorum remiseritis peccata &c. innuit, peccata per contritionem ad Sacerdotes esse deferenda, in ordine ad remissionem, seu absolutionem. Ib. p. 446. Resp. Nec materiam, nec formam Sacramenti vestri verbis his Christi determinatam esse, supra Quæst. I. Resp. ad Object. 1. ostendimus.

ARG. III. Materia sacramenti est quiddam, quod à ministro applicatur recipienti. At actus illi pœnitenti non applicantur.

RESP. REDING: 1. An in benedictione seu consecratione Eucharistica materia ejus recipienti applicatur? 2. In Sacramento Pœnitentiæ actus pœnitentis secundum se permanent quidem in pœnitente: quoad vim tamen Sacramentalem etiam applicantur recipienti. Ib. pag. 446. Resp. 1. Non in benedictione, sed in panis jam benedicti & consecrati distributione materia recipienti applicatur. 2. Actus pœnitentis materia Sacramenti esse debent ante informationem per verba absolutionis, per quam ad esse Sacramenti eos elevari perperam asseris. Nam verbum ad elementum accedens facit Sacramentum, non forma materiæ oppositæ. Si ergo actus pœnitentis sunt materia Sacramenti, Sacramentalis materia sunt per verbum institutionis. Atqui qua tales à Sacerdote recipienti neutiquam applicantur. Peraguntur enim à peccatore pœnitente, non à Sacerdote. Peccator conteritur, confitetur, satisfacit. Nullæ hic sunt Sacerdotis partes. Imò & contritio ignoratur à Sacerdote, Satisfactio verò fit à Sacerdote non conscio, & ignorante, an peccator absolutus ritè jussa obeat. Mirificum sanè Sacramentum, cujus quarta tantùm pars confertur à Sacerdote, cætera fiunt à peccatore pœnitente, qui ipse sibi hoc Sacramentum administrat.

ARG. IV. Materia Sacramenti est res aliqua naturalis, seu elementum. At pœnitentis actus sunt res voluntaria & artificiosa.

RESP. REDING: Etiam Baptismi materia proxima, ablutio, est voluntaria. Eadem ratione pœnitentiæ materia proxima possunt esse actus voluntarii. Ib. pag. 446. Resp. O chimæras tuas! Quis unquam actionem administrantis, seu materiam subjecto applicantis, qualis est ablutio in Baptismo; & multò magis, quis unquam actus Sacramentum recipientis, cujusmodi sunt pœnitentis actus, Sacramenti materiam dixit? Quò erroris desperatio errantes abripit?

ARG. V. Materia sacramenti significat gratiam per similitudinem. At actus pœnitentis non habent similitudinem ad gratiam. Spectantur enim vel vel ut interni, & sic non cadunt in sensus, adeóque illam analogiam non habent, qua gratia significatur: vel ut externi, puta verba confitentis, signa contriti; & fic non fignificant gratiam, fed internum affectum animi, nec quidquam fimile in verbis apparet cum gratia.

Resp. Reding: Mitigue Prophetæ passim conversioni seu pœnitentiæ promittunt vitam & salutem. Est ergo analogia inter eam & gratiam; non quidem sub ratione condignæ ad peccati remissionem proportionis, sed congruentiæ ac dispositionis ad eam. Si enim Divinæ virtutis efficaciam in Baptismo naturali per aquam ablutioni imprimere potuit rationem analogiæ reflexiliæ gratiæ: multo magis confessionis per contritionem formatæ imprimere potuit. Quæ quidem analogia in Sacramento externa est, dum & contritio per confessionem redditur sensibilis, & per externam absolutionem, seu formam, ad effe Sacramenti elevatur. Ib. pag. 446. 447. Resp. Verborum inanium ftrepitum audio, nihil præterea. In omni Sacramento eft analogia inter fignum, feu elementum quod verbo accedente Sacramentum fit, & rem ligno eo fignificatam. Ita aquæ & gratiæ fimilitudo eft in mundatione, purificatione: panis ac vini nec non corporis & fanguinis Chriſti in nutritione. At hic ne quidem elementum cujufnodi Sacramentale eft. Qualis ergo analogia? Fructus enim pœnitentiæ actus eum vita & falute ex iis confequente comparat, quia nulla ibi eft ligni elementaris & rei fignatæ proportio; fed antecedentis tantum & confequentis nexus. Speciebus omnibus tota eſſentia generis convenit: ac proin in natura illa inter fe fimiles funt. Communis autem natura Sacramenti non in qualicunque nexu fed in materia inprimis & forma conſiſtit. Analogia ergo in materia etiam, puta externa & interna oftendi debet. Et numquid nexus ille inter actus pœnitentis etiam ad fenſibus manifeſtatos, & gratiam, etiam extra Sacramentum obtinere poteſt? Nam ibi quoque confeſſio Deo & homini, quin & ipſa abſolutio per verba fieri poteſt. imò in V. Teſt. facta eſt. Præterea ſi omnes actus externi quibus gratia promittitur, ſunt Sacramenta, congregari in nomine Chriſti habet promiſſionem gratiæ Chriſti, Matth. XVIII. 20. Confiteri Chriſtum coram hominibus, habet eſt. dum, promiſſionem confeſſionis reciprocæ ipſius Chriſti coram Deo, ib. cap. X. 32. Relinquere patrem & matrem promiſſionem centupli, & vitæ æternæ, ib. XIX. 29. Atque ſic innumera Sacramenta nullo negotio cudi poſſent. Accedunt rationes: quibus actus pœnitentiæ analogiam illam ſuſtinere non poſſe, probavi. quibus nihil reſpondere potuiſti.

ARG. VI. Materia Sacramenti miniſtro eſt nota, quo ſic Sacramentum conficere poſſit. At contritionem & confeſſionem ſinceram & ſeriam non cognoſcit, Resp. Reding: An minister Baptismi cœcus, vel in tenebris constitutus, aquam cognoscit? Annon illi sufficit cognitio materiæ ex auditu? Sic in pœnitentia quoque contritionis & confessionis seriæ notitia ex auditu per pœnitentis seriam confitentiam sufficit. Ib. pag. 447. Resp. Apud nos nec cœci, nec in tenebris conſtituti baptizant. Quid apud vos in tenebris fedentes fiat, neſcio. De cætero aqua non ſolo viſu, ſed aliis etiam ſenſibus dijudicari poteſt. At vera pœnitentia nec animo nec externis ſenſibus comprehendi certò poteſt. quia exteriores ejus actus in ſenſus incurrentes pia & hypocritis communes eſſe poſſunt. ARG. VII. Materia hæc pœnitentiæ humana opera non tantùm ut merita, ſed, quod majus eſt, ut Sacramentum proponit ad remiſſionem peccatorum impetrandam. Humanis igitur operibus quædam tribuitur divinitas.

RESP. REDING: Non Divinitas, ſed ex Divinitate profluens inſtrumentariæ virtutis participatio, pœnitentiæ æquè ac ablutioni Baptiſmatis, in humano etiam opere conſiſtenti, tribuitur. Ib. pag. 447. Reſp. At ablutio in Baptiſmo non ut humanum opus, ſed ratione rei ſignificatæ per eandem, ſalvat. Contra pœnitentis actus externi interiorem pœnitentiam, non aliud, ſignificare poſſunt. Interior igitur pœnitentia Divina virtute, Sacramentalibus actibus ſignificata, ſalvabit.

ARG. VIII. Tres illæ partes etiam ab hypocritis expleri poſſunt. Ita Judas μετεμελήθη contritionem ſuam oſtendit ſigno, confeſſus eſt peccatum, ſatisfecit reſtituto proditionis pretio, Matth. XXVII. 5. 6. Ac poſtea expletâ ejusmodi pœnitentiâ ſe ſuſpendit.

RESP. REDING: Si vera fuiſſet Judæ pœnitentia, juſtificationem ipſi attuliſſet. Atqui ille per deſperationem peccati ſe faſſus reum eſt, neque reſtituto pretio ſatisfecit, ſed ſe ipſum ſuſpendit. Ib. pag. 447. Reſp. Veram fuiſſe, non dixi. Sed tamen fuit μεταμέλεια pœnitentia; & exterioribus etiam actibus talibus, quales vos materiam Sacramenti eſſe ſciſcitis, & qualibus abſolutionem impartiri haud difficulter ſoletis, teſtata. Non fuit ſalutaris. Sed nec ſalutaris etiam eſt pœnitentia veſtrorum quævis, actibus exterioribus contritionis, & confeſſionis, utpote fallibilibus, teſtata. Imò mos vobis eſt etiam ante ſatisfactionem abſolvere. Judas verò utcunque ſatisfecit, adcóque ad abſolutionem plus juris, quàm veſtri pœnitentes, habuit.

ARG. IX. In Concilio Theologi Colonienſes petierunt certo aliquo ſigno externo materiam hujus Sacramenti manifeſtari: Alioqui objectiones adverſariorum ſatis commodè dilui non poſſe.

RESP. REDING: Suaviana hæc impoſtura eſt. Sicut autem forma Baptiſmi ſub ſigno moraliter certo: ſic contritio & confeſſio pœnitentis ſub illis ſignis moraliter certis facta, ad Sacramenti valorem ſufficit. Ib. pag. 447. 448. Reſp. Quo verò argumento Suavem impoſturæ convincis? Nullo. Satis tibi eſt, Suavem ſcripſiſſe aliquid, quod cauſam tuam affligat. Non eandem certitudinis materiæ in Baptiſmo & fictitia pœnitentia veſtra rationem eſſe, jam ſupra etiam oſtendimus.

ARG. X. Inter adverſarios maximus eſt de materia Sacramenti diſſenſus. In Concilio Franciſcani, allegantes conſenſum Scholæ Pariſienſis, negârunt, tres illos pœnitentis actus eſſe pœnitentiæ materiam. Etiam Alexander Alenſis p. 4. q. 16. m. 1. a. 1. diſertis verbis negat, has eſſe partes pœnipœnitentiæ virtutis,aut actus ab ea elicitos. Et Bellarminus ipſe cap.19. fatetur, extra Sacramentum aliquando ſolam contritionem interiorem ſufficere ad ſalutem. Iſtæ igitur non ſunt partes abſolutè neceſſariæ, ut peccator coram Deo in gratiam redire poſſit. Durandus in 4. diſt.16. q. 1. negat planè,ſatisfactionem & contritionem eſſe hujus Sacramenti partes,hoc inter alia argumento,quòd Sacramentum non ſit totum ſucceſſivum, ſed permanens, quod ſuas partes ſimul habere debeat: ſatisfactio verò poſterior ſit contritione,confeſſione, imò & abſolutione.Solam igitur confeſſionem facit materiam hujus Sacramenti. Contritionem ajt eſſe diſpoſitionem,ſatisfactionem fructum. Alii peccata,alii geſticulationes ſacerdotis,alii geſticulationes contentis materiam hujus ſacramenti faciunt. Perronius nuper poſt Scotum, ſúsque déque habitâ Concilii hujus definitione, abſolutionem τὸ πάθος eſſe voluit.

Resp. Reding: 1. Alenſis par. IV. q.60. rectitudinem virtutis agnoſcit etiam in Sacramento pœnitentiæ, & contritionem, confeſſionis & ſatisfactionis cauſam,eatenus perficiat per confeſſionem Sacerdoti factam,ut inde efficaciam Sacramenti accipiat 2. Contritio perfecta. ſeu per charitatem formata, habens incluſum votum Sacramenti, etiam extra Sacramentum juſtificat. Neceſſaria ergo eſt confeſſio Sacramentalis vel in re, vel in voto. Hoc ſenſu Bellarminus, aliique intelligendi ſunt. 3. Durandus loquitur de confeſſione non informi, ſed per contritionem formata. 4. Calumnia eſt,quòd Perronius, Scotum ſcilicet ſecutus,definitionem Tridentinam ſuſque déque habuerit, eſſentiam hujus Sacramenti in abſolutione conſtituendo. Scotus enim licet eſſentiam Sacramenti in abſolutione conſtituerit, ad ejus tamen valorem & integritatem contritionem, confeſſionem,ſatisfactionem etiam requirit. Unde Hicquæus Scoti ſententiam ſic explicat,ut dicat,actus pœnitentis eſſe materiam hujus Sacramenti in obliquo. Ib. pag.448.449. Reſp. Difficile equidem eſt credere iis,qui ipſi ſibi non credunt, & orſa à ſe retexunt. Tales in hoc argumento veſtri ſunt. Si tamen omnes,quod tu magnus Palæmon contendis, in re conſentiunt,cur ita labiis diſtrahuntur? Annon vel hinc Babylonicam confuſionem veſtram ſentis? Sed ſingula luſtremus. 1. Alexander Alenſis p IV. q.9. memb.2. Ss.1. ait, pœnitentiam, ordinem & matrimonium eſſe quidem novæ legis,quia in illa ſint approbata; ſed non eſſe in nova lege hæc inſtituta Sacramenta. Et q.16. m.1. a.1. negat,actus pœnitentis controverſos eſſe partes pœnitentiæ virtutis,aut actus ab ea elicitos. Aliter tamen docere eum paulò poſt q.14. membro 1. art.2. Ss.4. & a.3. non diſſimulo. Ita enim errantes ſibi parum conſtant. 2. Felicia vota veſtra,quæ ſic rem conſequuntur! Sed neceſſitatem vel rei, vel voti, vel efficaciam voti idonea ratione probare debuiſti. 3. Durandum vel non legiſti, vel ſtudio pervertis. Is enim in 4. Sent. diſt.14.q.3. ſic ſcribit: Pœnitentia accepta pro habitu vel actu,quo deteſtamur peccatum à nobis commiſſum, eſt virtus vel actus virtutis, nec eſt Sacramentum. Alio modo accipitur pœnitentia pro actibus exterioribus, qui ſunt inter pœnitentem & abſolventem, qui actus ſunt confeſſio & abſolutio. Et pœnitentia ſic accepta eſt Sacramentum. Hoc Sacramentum magis propriè dicitur Sacramentum confeſſionis & abſolutionis, quàm pœnitentiæ, quia in confeſſione & abſolutione conſtat hoc Sacramentum, tanquam in ſua materia & forma. Ubi confeſſionis per contritionem formatæ meminit? Tuum hoc eſt ſomnium. Ubi ſatisfactionis? 4. De Perronio non calumnia mea eſt, ſed impudentia tua negantis. In ſcripto enim Regi Angliæ oppoſito non tantùm confeſſionem partem eſſe Pœnitentiæ negat, ſed etiam totius Sacramenti rationem in ſola abſolutione collocat. Teſtis etiam Horantius, ſecundum aliquos ipſam Sacerdotalem abſolutionem eſſe totam rationem Sacramenti. Et ii non diſtinguunt, inquit Bellarminus, materiam à forma. Dux ita ſentiendi Scotus ſic diſt. 14. pœnitentiam Sacramentum definit: Pœnitentia eſt abſolutio hominis pœnitentis facta certis verbis cum debita intentione prolatis à Sacerdote jurisdictionem habente, ex inſtitutione Divina efficaciter ſignificantibus abſolutionem animæ à peccato. Poſtea in diſt. 15. Dico, inquit, quòd iſta tria, contritio, confeſſio, ſatisfactio, nullo modo ſint partes ejus, pœnitentiæ. Non ergo putavit ille pœnitentiæ materiam in illis conſtitui; vel te ipſo judice, protervè licet calumniæ diram mihi impingente. Nam eſſentiam in ſola abſolutione eum conſtituiſſe, fateris: Eſt autem etiam materia pars conſtituens eſſentiam. Non ergo actus pœnitentis materiam Sacramenti eſſe credidit. Et hanc ſententiam hodiéque tuentur illi, qui Scotum ſequuntur, quos eo nomine Bellarminus de Pœnit. lib. I. 6. reprehendit. Hoc ſcilicet Tridentinis, quò minùs Scoto applauderent, obſtabat, pleroſque abſolvi à Sacerdote, quibus nihil tale accedit tali abſolutione: cùm ex eorum dogmate Sacramenta novæ legis efficere debeant, quod figurant. Ne igitur malè dogmata cohærerent, Scoto renuntiandum fuit.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Ad remiſſionem peccatorum etiam in V. T. contritio, confeſſio & ſatisfactio neceſſaria fuerunt, uti liquet ex Num. V. 6. Joel II. 12. 2. Sam. XIV. 10. Jon. III. 8. Ergo multò magis ea partes in pœnitentia N. T. requiruntur. Reſp. 1. An ergo ſicut actus ii finguntur in N. Teſt. Sacramenti materia, etiam in V. Teſt. ſacramentalis pœnitentiæ materia fuerunt? 2. Non quilibet pœnitentiæ actus ſacramenti materiam conſtituunt. Imò cùm hæc tria etiam obtinuerint tum, cùm pœnitentiam Sacramentum fuiſſe negant, patet, illa Sacramentum eſſentialiter non conſtituere. 3. Pœnitentiæ externæ actus eſſe contritionem, confeſſionem, ſatisfactionem, fatemur, verùm ſenſu non Papiſtico, ſed Orthodoxo, quem inferiùs explicabimus.

EXCIP. READING: *Argumentum noſtrum non abſolutè, ſed ſuppoſita pœnitentia ad eſſe Sacramenti per Divinam inſtitutionem, concludit. Ita etiam in V. Teſt. Baptiſmum obtinuiſſe, ex 2. Eſdr. Quòd ſi non caruerunt, cur utraque olim Sacramentum ea non fecit, at fecit ſub Novo Teſtamento? De baptiſmo nugari videris. Nullus enim in V. OBIECT. II. Chrysostomus Serm. 1. de pœnit. tres has pœnitentiæ partes enumerat his verbis : Pœnitentia cogit peccatorem omnia libenter sufferre. Ita etiam Augustinus, aliique Patres loquuntur, & juxta tres peccatorum differentias, juxta quas peccatum est vel in corde, vel in ore, vel in opere, etiam tecerunt tres pœnitentiæ partes, in corde contritionem, in ore confessionem, in opere satisfactionem. Resp. 1. Chrysostomus operis humilitatem, Augustinus operis sanctificationem nominare solent, non satisfactionem. 2. Tres illi pœnitentiæ actus à Patribus constituuntur in pœnitentia non sacramentali, sed ecclesiastica publica. 3. Neque contritionis ejusmodi externo signo testatæ meritum, vel confessionem secretam, vel satisfactionem expiatoriam intelligunt. 4. Loquuntur de pœnitentia, non quatenus quærit & accipit remissionem peccatorum, sed quatenus est vitæ mutatio & emendatio.

EXCIP. REDING : 1. Chrysostomus Serm. de confess. pecc. diserte meminit satisfactionis, eámque veniam Divinæ pietate conciliare, asserit. 2. Cùmque satisfactio hæc, teste Augustino in Psal 44. sit puniri peccatis, ut Deus præveniatur, ne ipse puniat ; expiatoria sit oportet. Imo homil. 50. reprehendit pœnitentem, dubitantem confugere ad claves Ecclesiæ ; quas per Antistites administrari asserit. Planè sic Pseudo-reformationis tuæ sectatores dubitant accedere ad claves Ecclesiæ. Ib. pag. 470. Resp. 1. Loco in objectione citato Chrysostomus satisfactionis non meminit. Quo verò sensu Augustinus, aliique satisfactionem meminerint, infra dicetimus. 2. In qualibet pœnitentia peccator se punit, præveniens Deum, ne puniat. Si enim nos ipsos judicaremus, non judicaremur à Deo, 1. Cor. XI. 31. Neque ideirco fit nos judicantes peccata nostra coram Deo expiamus, hoc est, ex jure & justitia pro iis Deo satisfacimus. Sicut pueri nolis sonantibus affingunt, quod ipsi cantullant : ita vos vocibus à Scriptoribus sacris & Patribus diversissimo sensu usitatis vestrum, peregrinum certè sensum adaptatis. Et quis nostrûm ad claves Ecclesiæ confugere vetuit ? Quis pius confugere dubitavit ? Sed Ecclesiæ veræ claves genuinas, non falsæ furtivas, ipsum Christum potestate sua defraudantes, commendamus.

OBIECT. III. In reconciliatione liberorum cum parentibus, servorum cum Dominis, uxorum cum viris, naturâ duce, tria hæc observantur, ut reconciliandi signa doloris ostendant, peccatum fateantur, & castigationi se subjiciant. Ergo etiam in reconciliatione cum DEO, qui est pater, Dominus, sponsus noster. Resp. 1. Non est eadem reconciliationis ratio cum Deo & cum hominibus. Peccata enim respectu Dei, quem offendunt, vergunt contra infinitum bonum, adeóque sunt infinitum malum, quod infinitas pœnas, & infinitam satisfactionem, quam solus Christus suscipere potuit, meretur. 2. Quin ad reconciliationem hominum inter se aliquando sola culpæ confessio & deprecatio sufficit : aliquando etiam sola vitæ emendatio. 3. In vera pœnitentia contritio, seu dolor & detestatio feria peccati, & confessio erga Deum & homines, non tamen cum speciali enumeratione peccatorum conjuncta, & ſatisfactio, non erga Deum, ſed erga homines, adeóque extra Sacramentum locum habere poteſt.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Solus equidem Chriſtus pro peccatis ſatisfecit. Sed ſatisfactio ejus per media Divinitus ordinata, abſolutionem Sacerdotis, prævia ſatisfactione, applicatur. Sicut autem infinita malitia peccati infinitam Chriſti ſatisfactionem exigit: ſic medium illud, quo ſatisfactio applicatur, Sacramentum pœnitentiæ, infiniti quoque valoris eſt. Ib. pag 451. Reſp. Scilicet ſatisfactio Divina per ſatisfactionem humanam; pharmacon per aliud pharmacon, victima per victimam applicatur. Ubi hoc applicationis medium Scriptura definivit? Atque ita quidem, ut medio huic æquè ac ſatisfactioni Chriſti infinitum valorem attribuerit? Profectò ſine horrore blaſphemiæ hæ legi non poſſunt. Divina inſtitutio vera etiam Sacramenta non deificat, ſed ea infinitæ gratiæ finita organa conſtituit. Et deificatam tu pœnitentiam Sacramentalem, deificatos actus in ea merè humanos, per infiniti valoris participationem, aſſerere non erubeſcis.

OBIECT. IV. Tria ſunt inſtrumenta peccandi, cor, lingua, manus. Ergo eadem tria ſunt inſtrumenta pœnitentiæ, cor contritum, os confitens, & opus ſatisfaciens. Reſp. 1. Inſtrumenta pœnitentiæ non ſunt ejuſdem materia. 2. Requirit pœnitentia cor contritum, os confitens, opus ſatisfaciens, ſenſu non Pontificio, ſed orthodoxo, quem ſupra reddidimus.

EXCIP. REDING: Sed peccata remittenda triplici illo inſtrumento patrantur. Ib. pag. 451. Reſp. Poſſent plura longè inſtrumenta peccandi oſtendi. Omnia corporis humani membra, omnes animæ facultates arma injuſtitiæ fieri poſſunt. Imò quot peccata ſunt, tot partes materiales pœnitentiæ conſtitui deberent. Non à fallacibus congruentiis, ſed à Divina inſtitutione materia Sacramenti pendet.

QUÆSTIO III.

An terrores conſcientiæ à lege incuſſi, & fides concepta ex Evangelio, quâ quis credit, ſibi per Chriſtum remiſſa eſſe peccata, ſint partes pœnitentiæ?

NEgat ſub anathemate Canon IV. atque ſic à ſalutari pœnitentia Chriſtum, & fidem erga ejus miſericordiam horrendo exemplo expungit. Nos ſalutarem pœnitentiam ſeu reſipiſcentiam ita diſtinguimus, ut vel latè illa, vel ſtrictè accipiatur. Latè accepta notat totum converſionis noſtræ opus, atque ſic ſub ſe complectitur contritionem, ortam à terroribus conſcientiæ à lege incuſſis, fidem & renovationem.

nem. Ita enim Apoſtolus etiam infidelitatem fidei oppoſitam ſub corde ἀμετανοήτῳ comprehendit, Rom. II. 5. Strictè verò notat contritionem & converſionem, veluti Marc. I. 15. Luc. XXIV. 47. Act. XX. 21. ubi eam fidei ſcriptura contradiſtinguit. Latè igitur ſumpta fidem etiam ſub ſe complectitur: ſtrictè verò eam, non quidem ut propriè dictam partem, attamen ut cauſam, adeóque inſeparabilem neceſſariò comprehendit. Atque hac limitatione facile eſt, tùm Reformatos cum Lutheranis, tùm ipſos inter ſe Reformatos Theologos, quibus hîc diſcordiam objicit Bellarminus, conciliare, ut non ſuperſit alia lis, quàm de nomine. Terrores igitur à lege conſcientiæ incuſſos, & cum dolore ſerio, & deteſtatione peccati ob offenſum Deum conjunctos, nec non fidem, non hiſtoricam illam, quam diſponere ad pœnitentiam fatentur ipſi, ſed juſtificantem, ſeu fiduciam in Chriſti miſericordiam, ſive ut cauſam, ſive ut partem, prout diverſus reſpectus habetur, ad ſalutarem pœnitentiam requiri, liquet ſequentibus argumentis. Etenim

ARG. I. Deus ipſe à pœnitentibus ejusmodi agnitionem peccati, à terroribus legis conſcientiæ incuſſis ortam, paſſim requirit, veluti Eſaj. XLVI. 6. LXVI. 2. Jerem. III. Joel. II. 12. Et exempla pœnitentium, veluti protoplaſtorum, Geneſ. III. v. 8. Davidis 2. Sam. XII. v. 7. XXIV. v. 10. Manaſſis 2. Paralipom. XXXIII. verſ. 12. hanc pœnitentiæ partem arguunt.

Resp. Reding: Textus à te citati hoc unum probant, agnitionem peccati à terroribus legis conſcientiæ incuſſis ortam, cauſam impulſivam eſſe ad formalem pœnitentiam eam, cui remiſſio peccatorum promiſſa eſt. quod libentes agnoſcimus. Ib. pag. 451. 452. Reſp. Imò id probant, Deum à verè pœnitentibus agnitionem peccati à terroribus legis ortam requirere. Jubent enim reducere prævaricationes ſuprà cor Eſaj. XLVI. 6. & promittunt, quòd Deus paratus ſit reſpicere ad contritum ſpiritu, & trementem ad ſermones ejus, cap. LXVI. 2. & ſimilia, quæ in pœnitentia agnitionem peccatorum ex lege exigunt. Et ſi formalis pœnitentia ea eſt, cui peccatorum remiſſio promiſſa eſt, non poteſt ab ea peccatorum agnitio ex lege excludi magis, quàm confeſſio, quæ peccatorum ex lege agnitorum externa declaratio eſt.

ARG. II. Abſque ejusmodi agnitione peccati remiſſio peccatorum, & ſalus minimè conſtat. Neque enim qui valent, ſed κακῶς ἔχοντες, qui malè habent, πενθοῦντες lugentes, ob ſenſum peccati & offenſam cœleſtis patris laborantes & onerati, medico fruuntur, & conſolationem accipiunt, uti Chriſtus ipſe Matth. V. 4. IX. 12. XI. 28. fidem facit.

Resp. Reding: Non negamus, agnitionem peccati, & ex ea luctum ac deteſtationem ejusdem promanantem ad peccatorum remiſſionem requiri. Sic autem peccatorum male preſſi Chriſto Medico fruuntur, ſi medio ab eodem inſtituto utantur. Ib. pag. 452. Reſp.

Atqui quod ad peccatorum remiſſionem requiritur, juxta vos pœnitentia eſt. Ergo agnitio peccatiex lege pœnitentiam ingreditur. Quomodo ergo terrorem incuſſum animo à lege à pœnitentiæ partibus Tridentini, & juxta eos Bellarminus, aliique removent? Imò quandoque à pœnitentia penitus abeſſe pertendunt?

ARG. III. Si terrores à lege conſcientiæ incuſſi, & agnitionem peccati operantes, non ſunt pœnitentiæ pars, quis erit uſus concionum legalium in hominis converſione?

RESP. REDING: Pœnitentiæ nomine ſic latè uteris, ut ſub eo quemvis actum ad eam cauſaliter vel diſpoſitivè concurrentem intelligas. Ita non repugnamus. Ib. pag. 452. Reſp. Imò eo ſenſu accipienda vobis eſt pœnitentia, quo remiſſio peccatorum ei promiſſa eſt, juxta hypotheſin veſtram. Sic autem agnitio peccati ex lege nec diſpoſitio, nec cauſa, ſed pars eſt pœnitentiæ, multò magis quàm confeſſio peccati agniti. Id verò Bellarminus ratiunculis nonnullis infringere conatur.

ARG. IV. Sola fides pœnitentiam ſalutarem ab exitiali diſtinguit, uti exemplum Judæ proditoris deſperati, & Petri verè reſipiſcentis docet.

RESP. REDING: Fides, ceu initium ſalutis, non pars pœnitentiæ, ſalutarem ab exitiali pœnitentia diſtinguit. Ib. pag. 452. Reſp. Si latè pœnitentia accipiatur pro toto converſionis opere, ſic eam contritio ingreditur, ut fides fructuoſa ejus genuina pars, non initium duntaxat, ſed cauſa juſtificationis ſeu remiſſionis peccatorum ſola exiſtat. Hoc autem ſenſu vos accipiatis neceſſe eſt, quia cauſam abſolutionis facitis.

ARG. V. Sine fide quicquam Deo placere poſſe negat Apoſtolus Hebr. XI. 6. Quomodo igitur ſine ea per pœnitentiam datur aditus ad Deum, juſtitia, peccatorum remiſſio, ſalus?

RESP. REDING: Nemo noſtrûm id negat. Ib. pag. 453. Cur ergo in deſcriptione pœnitentiæ Sacramentalis Tridentini ejus ne quidem meminerunt? An reſipiſcentiæ, ſeu actuum illorum, qui neceſſariò ad hoc, ut peccator cum Deo in gratiam redire poſſit, fidem partem eſſe concedis? Certè ſtremiè Bellarminus negat.

ARG. VI. Imò fide purificari corda pronuntiat Apoſtolus Act. XV. 9. Non igitur ſalutaris pœnitentia, in qua ipſa etiam cor hominis purificatur, ſine fide conſtat.

RESP. REDING: Fides per charitatem formata corda purificat. Et ſine ea pœnitentia non eſt. Ib. pag. 453. Reſp. Supra errorem veſtrum de forma fidei confiximus. Sed vide tuam ἀναισθησίαν. Fidem per charitatem formatam cauſam eſſe juſtificationis ſupra pertenderas. Quid ergo cauſalitatis ultra pœnitentia, & quidem à fide diſtincta, utpote cujus eſſentiam hæc juxta vos non ingreditur, continet?

ARG. VII. Salutaris pœnitentiæ terminus ad quem eſt Deus. At ad Deum ſine Chriſto per fidem apprehenſo, unica ſalutis noſtræ via, aditus minimè patet.

RESP. REDING: Aditus ad Chriſtum non patet, ubi promiſſionis peccatorum medium ab ipſomet inſtitutum repudiatur. lb. pag. 453. Reſp. Remiſſionis peccatorum medium, quo illa apprehenditur, in Scriptura paſſim non aliud quàm fides ſalvifica conſtituitur. Vel igitur pœnitentiam, cui ceu medio remiſſionem peccatorum tribuis, fides ingreditur: vel pœnitentia à vobis definita medium remiſſionis illius neutiquam eſt. Et ſanè Chriſtus Apoſtolis largiens poteſtatem remittendi peccata, nuſpiam medium illud eſſe pœnitentiam Sacramentalem declaravit: imò expreſsè medium illud ne quidem nominavit. Ex analogia igitur fidei, & reliquis Scripturæ teſtimoniis genuinum medium, quo peccatorum remiſſio apprehenditur, erui debet. Neque aliud quàm fides ſalvifica in Chriſtum erui poteſt.

ARG. VIII. Sine fide in Chriſtum pœnitentia tota eſt opus legis, adeóque conſcientiis territis ſolidam conſolationem nequaquam affert, nec eſt εἰς ζωὴν καὶ σωτηρίαν ad vitam & ſalutem, Actor XI. 18. 2. Cor. VII. 10. adeóque minimè ſalutaris.

RESP. REDING: Conſentimur. lb. pag. 453. Reſp. Cur ergo in explicandæ pœnitentiæ materia & forma nullum fidei locum facitis? Profectò pudet te errorum veſtrorum, quos aperto Marte defendere non ſuſtines.

ARG. IX. Sine fide in Chriſtum cor contritum conſolatione & pace deſtituitur: Confeſſio iratum Deum agnoſcit & fugit: Satisfactio falſam in operibus fiduciam gignit. Neceſſaria igitur fides, per quam á Deo irato ad placatum fugimus.

RESP. REDING: Per fidem peccator à Deo irato ad placandum confugit. Ad contritionem igitur, confeſſionem, ſatisfactionem neceſſariò requiritur. lb. pag. 453. Reſp. Sed quomodo? An ſic, ut conditio quæpiam contritionis, confeſſionis &c. genuinæ ſit, non cauſa à parte hominis unica remiſſionis? Si poſterius mecum agnoſcis, jam ergo inter actus eſſentiales pœnitentiæ fidem, ſeu fiduciam in Chriſtum, Tridentini tui omittere non debuerunt. Si prius, perversè loqueris. Nam à fide in Chriſtum omnia opera hominis, ſive interna ſive externa, adcóque etiam actus veſtri, quos pœnitenti tribuitis, ſi ἔργα ſunt, vigorem, vitam & efficaciam omnem habent.

ARG. X: Meritò igitur ingeminamus verba Chemnitii: His notis & indiciis, Dei judicio, coram toto mundo revelatur, qualis eccleſia ſit cœtus Pontificius. Ad perpetuam igitur rei memoriam ſit notum veræ Eccleſiæ Dei Concilium Tridentinum promittere pœnitentiæ reconciliationem cum Deo, & remiſſionem peccatorum, ſine fide, quæ quidem ex Evangelio concepta ſit, & quâ quis credat, per Chriſtum ſibi remiſſa peccata. Ita enim ſonorâ voce decernit Canon IV.

RESP. REDING: *Ad perpetuam rei memoriam ſit notum mendacium Chemnitii & Heidegger iani ſpiritus, quòd Concilium Tridentinum pœnitentiæ remiſſionem peccatorum promittat ſine fide. Veſtram quidem fidem ac fiduciam inanem, quam cauſam facitis juſtificationis, rejectis veris mediis in Evangelio conſtitutis, repudiamus. damentum est justificationis, ut nomisi hæretica impostura sit sententiam contrariam Concilio impingentis. Ib. pag. 453–455. Resp. Sed & hoc ad perpetuam rei memoriam notum sit, Redingianum spiritum mendaciis suis æquivocationes, adeóque peccata peccatis, errores erroribus cumulare. Nam fidem nominans, non eam fidem intelligit, quæ sola pœnitentiam salutarem facit, & cui Scriptura remissionem peccatorum, adeóque justificationem soli Rom. III. 28. Gal. II. 16. tribuit, sed generalem tantùm assensum, quòd Christus Apostolis potestatem dederit peccata remittendi, & quidem, uti vos fingitis, sub conditione Sacramentalis pœnitentiæ, quæ nuspiam revelata est; qualis fides Diabolorum etiam & reproborum omnium esse potest. Fidem talem verè mortuam vos à pœnitentia vestra fictitia adeóque etiam mortua, excludere, nec Chemnitius, nec Heideggerianus spiritus, affirmavit. At affirmavit uterque, & meus adhuc fortissimè affirmat, Concilium Tridentinum promittere pœnitentiæ reconciliationem cum Deo, & remissionem peccatorum sine fide salvifica & justificante, ex Evangelio concepta, qua quis credat, per Christum sibi peccata esse remissa. Hoc adeò verum est, ut ipse tu fidem verè Evangelicorum, ceu commentitiam, blasphemare non erubueris. Recta igitur fuit Chemnitii denuntiatio, & spiritus Redingiani in tenebris perambulantis fraus & prævaricatio jubare meridiano clariùs se profert.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Paulus 2. Cor. VII. 9. 10. terrorem incussum à lege distinguit à pœnitentia, ajens, tristitiam, quæ secundùm Deum est, pœnitentiam in salutem stabilem operari. Resp. 1. Non pronuntiat Paulus absolutè, quòd tristitia secundùm Deum operetur pœnitentiam, sed addit, quòd operetur μετάνοιαν εἰς σωτηρίαν ἀμεταμέλητον. Proinde distinguit veram & salutarem pœnitentiam ab infrugifera & exitiali. Illam dicit ἀπεργάζεσθαι peragi sive constitui à tristitia secundùm Deum, quæ vivificam Spiritûs S. consolationem semper conjunctam habet; hanc verò oriri à tristitia mundi, cui proinde mortis ἀπεργασίαν ἀναθελικῶς tribuit. Potest etiam distingui pœnitentia à tristitia secundùm Deum, ut actus à suo habitu, effectus formalis à forma.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si pœnitentia à tristitia secundum Deum distinguitur, ut actus ab habitu, quomodo inter se comparantur, ut effectus formalis cum causa? Et annon tristitia secundum Deum æquè ac pœnitentia actus est? 2. Non facit ad rem tua exceptio, quòd tristitia ita operetur pœnitentiam, ut tamen Augustinus hanc ex Apostolo dicat stabilem & impœnitendam, tendentem ad salutem. 3. Tibi ipsi contradicis. Nam tristitiam secundum Deum & pœnitentiam comparas ut habitum & actum; & simul pœnitentiam ais constitui à tristitia secundum Deum. Constitutivum autem, inprimis formale, à re per se constituta adæquatè non distinguitur. Ib. pag. 454. Resp. 1. Téne hæc ignorare? Formam ergo & causæ efficientis & formalis vice defungi, omnémque etiam causam agendo causare, atque sic actum producere, ex Dialectica disce. 2. Quomodo tristitia secundum Deum κατεργάζηται operatur pœnitentiam, si nulla hic habitus & actus distinctio locum habet? De Augustino quid insuper somnias? Ego in responsione mea ejus ne memini memini quidem. Neque causam dicis, cur exceptio mea ad rem non faciat. 3. Contradictionem fingis, quæ nulla est. Si enim prior responsio recipitur, pœnitentia, salutaris videlicet, quia à tristitia secundum Deum operante producitur & constituitur, ab eadem distinguatur oportet. Si posterior, aliud est habitus, aliud actus. Tibi omnia confundere prolubium est, ne ad ἐχεμυθίαν redactum te videam.

OBJECT. II. Theologi tum Veteres, tum recentiores in definitione pœnitentiæ terrorum ejusmodi haud meminerunt. Resp. 1. Est argumentum ab authoritate humana negativum. 2. Scripturam eorum meminisse ostendimus. In Psalmis Davidicis, qui salutaris pœnitentiæ speculum sunt, terrorum ejusmodi identidem mentionem fieri, quâ specie negari potest.? Jam olim Tertullianus de pœnit. eam definivit passionem animi, seu dolorem de offensa Patris. Lombardus pœnitentiam dicit esse mala præterita plangere, & plangenda iterum non committere, ex Ambrosio. quod terrores eos supponit. Gratianus ex Ambrosio definit pœnitentiam dolorem cordis & amaritudinem animæ pro malis commissis.

Excip. Reding: Terrores in pœnitentia requiri, ultro agnoscimus. At formaliter pœnitentiam ingredi, ipsemet negas, dum eos à veteribus in definitione pœnitentiæ supponi asseris. Ib. pag. 454. 455. Resp. At partem esse, nos cum veteribus allegatis contendimus. Dixi autem, veterum dicta terrores eos supponere, non anteponere. Supponunt ad ritè definiendam rem, non anteponunt rei. Judicet de verbis meis æquus lector, non contortulus Sophista.

OBJECT. III. Partes pœnitentiæ sunt actus, qui ex virtute pœnitentiæ prodeunt. At terrores non sunt actus virtutis, sed naturalis affectio, quæ cadit etiam in bestias. Resp. 1. Pœnitentiæ terror est agnitio peccati ob offensam Numinis. Talis in bestiam haud cadit. 2. Neque talis terror est actus virtutis à libero arbitrio acquisitus, sed potiùs efficax motus, à Spiritu sancto accensus. 3. Cùm cor hominis naturâ sit lapideum & ἀναίσθητον, quomodo terror ille naturalis affectio dici potest?

Excip. Reding: 1. Si cor hominis natura eatenus lapideum est, ut affectio etiam naturalis in eo locum habere nequeat, quomodo agnitio peccati ob Numinis offensam in eo locum habere potest? 2. Pœnitentiæ salutaris actus effectivè profluunt ex libero arbitrio non naturæ, sed gratiæ viribus operante. Ib. pag. 455. Resp. 1. Affectionem naturalem in corde lapideo locum habere non posse, ubi dixi? Imò verò terrorem à lege incussum, seu efficacem motum à Spiritu S. accensum eo ipso naturalem affectionem non esse, argui, quia cor hominis natura lapideum non à natura, sed à gratia ad recipiendum eum moveri debet. 2. De liberi arbitrii viribus abunde supra.

OBJECT. IV. Terrores etiam sunt in dæmonibus, damnatis & reprobis. Non igitur sunt pars salutaris pœnitentiæ. Resp. In dæmonibus & damnatis sunt terrores, sed non ob offensam Numinis, nec cum fiducia conjuncti.

OBIECT. V. Pœnitentia à fide diſtinguitur, Marc.1.4. Act.XX.21. Non igitur hæc illius pars eſt. Reſp. 1. Pœnitentia iis locis ſtrictè, non latè accipitur. 2. Etiam ſtrictè acceptæ pœnitentiæ fides cauſa eſt, adeóque ab ea inſeparabilis, quod nobis ad tuendam ſalutarem pœnitentiam ſufficit.

EXCIP. REDING: Sub pœnitentiæ latè ſumptæ nomine confuſitas ex actibus realiter diſtinctis chaos fingis. lb. pag. 455. Reſp. Confuſionis hujus authorem facis ipſum Apoſtolum, qui Rom. II. 5. ſub corde ἀπιστίαν etiam infidelitatem fidei oppoſitam comprehendit. Et quid vobis ipſis pœnitentia aliud eſt, quàm actus neceſſarii, ut peccator cum Deo in gratiam redire poſſit? Denique contritio, confeſſio & ſatisfactio, actus adeò realiter diſtincti, ut ſeparentur etiam tempore, & ſatisfactio formam pœnitentiæ veſtram, abſolutionem puta, ſequatur longo intervallo, unam juxta vos pœnitentiam conſtituunt. Habes informe in ſinu veſtro Babylonio chaos.

QUÆSTIO IV.

An contritio, hoc eſt, animi dolor & deteſtatio de peccato commiſſo, cum propoſito non peccandi de cætero, accedente charitate illam perficiente, & ſacramenti voto, cauſa ſit reconciliationis, & remiſſionis peccatorum?

AFfirmat Synodus capite IV. Et Catechiſmus Romanus ex decreto Concilii Tridentini conſignatus, cap.V.q.30. docet, veræ contritionis eam vim eſſe, ut illius beneficio omnium delictorum veniam ſtatim impetremus. Concertant autem Scholaſtici, quorum alii, nominatim Lombardus, Thomas, Bonaventura, Scotus, Durandus, quibus accedit Bellarminus, pertendunt, Contritionem eſſe meritoriam de congruo; alii ut Richardus 4.ſent.diſt.17.art.1.q.7. aſſerunt, meritoriam eſſe de condigno. Nos ſine vera contritione agnoſcimus nullam eſſe peccatorum remiſſionem: at eam vel charitate perfectam, vel quocunque alio modo cauſam eſſe reconciliationis, & remiſſionis peccatorum, negamus. Rom.III.24.25.IV.6.1.Joh.II.2.Apoc.II.8. Neque verò Christi meritum operibus, & contritioni nostræ vim merendi indidit,ut Bellarminus hîc somniat,cùm is mortuus sit non eum in finem, ut bona opera nostra acciperent meritum & dignitatem expiandi peccata, sed ut mala nostra opera, quæ severitas divini judicii non tantùm in peccatis, sed in ipsis etiam bonis operibus nostris invenit, coram Deo expiarentur. Verissima proin est Glossatoris sententia in 1.Canonem 1.distinctionis de pœnitentia : Dic quòd nec cordis contritione, nec oris confessione peccata dimittantur, sed tantùm gratiâ Dei.

Resp. Reding : 1. Sicut remissio peccatorum & à gratia Dei, & à sanguine Christi, adeóque causis subordinatis pendet : ita gratiam remissionis à merito Christi, & actibus panitentis, per gratiæ vires elicitis, quibus illud applicatur, eidem subordinatis, pendet. 2. Glossat Can. 1. dist. de Pœnit. sola cordis contritione peccata dimitti, asserit. Tomo II. Tract VII.Ss.2.pag.456 457. Resp.1. Jam exceptiunculam tuam in argumento meo diluveram. Gratia DEI & sanguis Christi disertè & conjunguntur & subordinantur Rom.III.24.25. At meritum Christi, & contritio hominis meritoria quocunque sensu, nuspiam vel conjunguntur,vel subordinantur. Imò pugnant manifestè, quia λύτρον & meritum Christi perfectissimum omne humanorum operum meritum excludit Rom. III,28 XI.6. Sic ergo meritum Christi & contritionis humanæ subordinantur, uti cera ignitis prunis imposita. 2. Ita est. Glossæ hæc verba sunt : Sunt qui dicant, quemlibet criminis veniam sine confessione facta Ecclesiæ, & Sacerdotali judicio posse promereri, juxta Ambrosium supra Luc.22. Quomodo hæc sententia Tridentino decreto vestro concinit? Sic videlicet, uti verba Glossatoris à me allegata,quæ Melchior Canus Tract. de Pœnit. par.5. St. ad Arg. graviter increpat.

ARG. II. Cùm charitas fidelium in hac vita sit imperfecta, quomodo ea ita perfici contritio potest, ut causa reconciliationis nostræ existat?

Resp. Reding : Possibilem charitatis perfectionem supra astruximus. Ib. pag.457. 458. Resp. Nos eandem gladio verbi Divini destruximus, & tuis de amore Dei perfecto quoad substantiam, & quoad modum,quas hic repetis,tricis satisfecimus.

ARG. III. Pœnitentia est Dei donum Act.V.31.2.Tim.II.25.Unde Jeremias Threnor.V.21.precatur: Converte nos & convertemur. Si quod igitur esset meritum nostræ contritionis, id adscribi deberet Spiritui S. eique proinde remuneratio deberetur.

Resp. Reding : Etiam fides Dei donum est. Et tamen intrinseca sui congruitate justificat. Ib. pag.458. Resp. Nulla fidei ad justificationem congruentia meritoria est, sed vis merè organica à parte hominis. Vis autem meritoria omnis à merito Christi,quod fides hominis apprehendit, manat.

alienum, ex crapula & libidine conflatum, cauſa remiſſionis debiti: ita nec dolor iſte poteſt eſſe cauſa reconciliationis.

RESP. REDING: Sicut dolor ex ſenſu morbi natus in Medico excitat commiſerationem erga infirmum, ex qua ad medicinam ſalutiferam ei conferendam movetur: ita contritionem cœleſtis medicus ſic acceptat, ut ejus intuitu moveatur ad Chriſti meritum, ceu ſalutiferam peccati medicinam peccatori applicandam. Ib. pag. 458. 459. Reſp. Sicut contra ægrotantis dolor nunquam morbum ſanat: ſic nec contritio peçcatoris juſtificat. Hic argumenti nervus eſt. Præterea peccas fallacia parium. Deus enim ad donandum peccatori Chriſtum, ejúſque meritum, nullo peccatoris, adcóque nec contritionis actu, qui à fiducia in Chriſti merito ſejunctus odium potiùs Dei, quàm commiſerationem provocat; ſed ſola miſericordia & voluntatis δόσις movetur. Præordinavit enim nos ad adoptionem per Jeſum Chriſtum in ipſum, ſecundum beneplacitum voluntatis ejus, ad laudem gloriæ gratiæ ejus, qua gratos nos fecit in dilecto, Epheſ. I, 5. Quin & miſertus noſtri eſt, nóſque amavit, cùm adhuc inimici ejus eſſemus, Rom. V. 8. An inimicus ægrotantis vel peccatoris erga medicum affectus ad miſericordiam eundem movet, atque ſic movet, ut de congruo donationem medicinæ affectus ille mereatur? Nec cœleſtis, nec terrenus medicus ſic movebitur unquam.

ARG. V. Eſt hoc dogma peccatori deſperationis laqueus. Nunquam enim de juſta & debita, uti vocant, contritione, & adjuncta charitatis perfectione, certa & ſecura redditur conſcientia, ut proinde de remiſſione peccatorum perpetim dubitandum ſit.

RESP. REDING: Contritio charitate perfecta æquè ac fides ad juſtificationem concurrens in Divinæ gratiæ efficaciam reducitur. Huic innitere, & ſecurus eris, ex hypotheſi, quòd Divinæ miſericordiæ liberalitas eam tibi impenderit, ipſam actualiter in te operatam eſſe contritionem charitate perfectam, ſub qua ex Divina promiſſione per merita Chriſti juſtificeris. Ib. pag. 459. Reſp. Ad juſtificationem concurrere fidem, Scriptura teſtatur: ad eandem ut cauſam concurrere contritionem charitate perfectam, nuſpiam teſtatur. Si charitate perfecta noſtra, adcóque ex perfectis operibus noſtris juſtificamur, Chriſtus fruſtra pro nobis mortuus eſt. Fruſtra ad gratiæ Divinæ efficaciam recurris. Nunquam enim illa efficit, ut quod imperfectum eſt, manens tale perfectum ſit. Et qualem quæſo ſecuritatem nobis venditas? Hypotheticam, qua, ſuppoſito, quòd perfectam charitatem Divina gratia nobis impenderit, ſecuri eſſe queamus, eam in nobis perfectam charitatem actu operatam eſſe. O gerras plus quàm Siculas!

ARG. VI. In V. T. contritio ſano ſenſu peperit remiſſionem peccatorum, vitam & ſalutem, Ezech. XVIII. 27. XXXIII. 11. non per modum meriti, ſed contritionis per gratiam Spiritûs S. implendæ. Neque tamen ibi locus fuit voto ſuſcipiendi ſacramenti, ſatentibus id adverſariis.

RESP. REDING: 1. Cur eadem contritionis efficacia non adhuc durat? Eſt enim de genere moralium, quæ nunquam abolentur. 2. In N. Teſt. Sacramentum Pœnitentiæ demum inſtitutum eſt ſalutis remedium. Ib. pag. 459. Reſp. 1. Dixi, ſano ſenſu. Nec Sacramentum pœnitentiæ à Chriſto inſtitutum eſſe probaſti; nec voto ſuſcipiendi fictitii illius Sacramenti ſuppleri ipſum Sacramentum, probare potes.

ARG. VII. Si contritio charitate perfecta eſt, reconciliare etiam poterit ſine voto. Ridiculum enim eſt votum, quo quis conſtituit petere, quod jam jure habet à juſto Deo.

Resp. Reding: Ut contritio charitate perfecta Deo peccatorem reconciliet, ſubſiſtere debet ſub charitatis ſpecifica perfectione, Dei ſuper omnia appretiativa. At talis in peccatore abſque voto ſaltem implicito non ſubſiſtit. lb. pag. 459. Reſp. Charitatis hæc ſpecifica perfectio in ſolo Chriſto, non in ullo peccatore obtinet. Et quid votum implicitum nuſpiam inſtitutum, Sacramenti nuſpiam inſtituti, ad charitatem ſic perficiendam quæſo confert? Inſuper nec ad rationes meas reſpondes.

ARG. VIII. Neque uſpiam ſcriptura docet, hominem verè contritum teneri ad ejusmodi votum. Timuerant boni patres, ne quid lucri ſacerdotibus deperiret, ſi populus crederet non neceſſe eſſe homini verè contrito, & quem Deus abſolvit, petere abſolutionem à ſacerdote.

Resp. Reding: S. Scriptura exigit remiſſionis peccatorum remedium, quo homo ab omnimoda impietate ſe avertat. At Sacramentum contemnere, vel voluntariè negligere impietas eſt. lb. pag 459. Reſp. Imò exigit ſanguinem Chriſti ab omnibus peccatis purificantem, remiſſionis peccatorum cauſam unicam; pœnitentiam verò ſinceram, non omnibus numeris conſummatam, qualis in peccatore nullo eſt. Sicut verò impius eſt contemptus Sacramenti Divinitus inſtituti: ſic vovere Sacramentum non inſtitutum & ejuſmodi votum cauſam ſalutis, obſcurata vel ſuppreſſa genuina ſalutis cauſa, conſtituere, impietatis plenum eſt.

ARG. IX. Denique nec Scholaſtici ſibi in hoc dogmate conſtant. Alii uti vidimus, meritum de congruo, alii de condigno hîc crepant. Sunt qui contritionem diſponere duntaxat pertendant. Petrus à Soto varius eſt. Modò ait Eccleſiam Catholicam credere, contritionem non eſſe meritum remiſſionis peccatorum, ſed diſpoſitionem neceſſariam, ut per eam juſtitiam veram conſequamur. Modò dicit, noſtram contritionem reddere nobis DEUM propitium, ac eſſe meritum vitæ æternæ, ac mereri integram remiſſionem peccatorum.

Resp. Reding: In dogmatica veritate à Concilio expreſſa omnes conſentiunt. Diſſenſus eſt in ſubtilitate Scholaſtica, an in contritione ex charitatis Theologicæ motivo manante requiratur tam perfecta ad Deum converſio, atque eſt in peccato averſio à Deo. Et qui condignæ erga peccati remiſſionem ſatisfactionis perfectionem in contritione urgent, illam ex meritis Chriſti arceſſunt. lb. pag. 460. Reſp. Dogmatica tibi veritas id omne eſt, in quo conſentitis; ſubtilitas Scholaſtica id, in quo diſſentitis. Non igitur à veritate & momento rei, ſed à conſpiratione plurium, dogmata fidei æſtimare ſoles. Sed non propterea omnis liberatio est redemptio. Certè peccata redimi non possunt, ut liberentur. Peccator, non peccata, liberatur. Redemptio notat liberationem per pretium. Deus autem peccatorem λυτρώται & liberat pretio: peccator non liberat peccata pretio seu λύτρῳ, sed peccata per justitiam à se aufert. 2. Non igitur quævis avulsio rei est redemptio. Certè non peccatorum per oppositam justitiam. 3. Certum est, nec offensæ, nec pœnæ rationem per oppositam peccatoris justitiam tolli. Requiritur enim peccati expiatio & vera redemptio. Eandem ob causam vox פרק hoc loco redimendi notionem habere nequit. Cessante enim peccato, non cessat ejus reatus.

OBIECT. V. Peccata multa remittuntur ei, qui multùm dilexit, Luc. VII. 47. Ergo contritio charitate perfecta est causa remissionis peccatorum. Resp. Dilectio non causa ponitur remissionis, sed signum & character, uti parabolæ illius circumstantiæ docent. Igitur particula ὅτι quia, non est causalis, sed rationalis: non causa cur res sit, sed causa, cur cognoscatur: non causa consequentis, sed consequentiæ, qualis est deductio conclusionis ex præmissis.

EXCIP. REDING: *Dilectio infert remissionem peccatorum. QUÆSTIO V.

An contritio ſit dolor liber, ſponte aſſumptus & voluntarius, an paſſio coacta?

PRius aſſerit Canon V. Docent autem Papiſtæ non eſſe veram contritionem, quæ oritur ex terroribus legis, ſed voluntariè & ſpontè debere aſſumi. Sicut peccatum per voluntatis conſenſum conſummatur, ita per diſſenſum voluntarium dimitti, ut loquitur Thomas. Ejusmodi igitur liberam & voluntariam contritionem, ex ſolo dictamine naturæ, ſine operatione Spiritûs S. regenerante ortam, docent diſponere ad gratiam; quam diſpoſitionem vocant, facere quod in ſe eſt, quod ſit meritum congrui. Nos quidem in renatorum contritione agnoſcimus voluntarias & liberas actiones, non tamen ita, ut excludantur paſſiones vel terrores à lege incuſſi, & ad reſipiſcentiam, non externa aliqu via, ſed blanda & flexanima Spiritus ſancti operatione cogentes. Contritio verò non renatorum eſt merè paſſiva, & in ſolidum Spiritui S. adſcribenda. Synodo opponimus.

ARG. I. Non renati ſunt ſervi peccati Johan. VIII. 34. & voluntas eorum, ut ſuprà probatum, in rebus ſpiritualibus nihil valet. Ergo ſalutares illos dolores ſponte non aſſumunt.

RESP. REDING: Ita irregeniti ſervi peccati ſunt, ut tamen capaces ſint gratiæ non quidem juſtificantis habitualis, ſed actualis, quæ in tranſeunte auxilio Divino, voluntatem peccatoris ad producendos fidei, ſpei & pœnitentiæ actus elevante, conſiſtit. Tomo II. Hi enim, utpote in peccatis mortui, adcóque ſpiritualiter de novo generandi, creandi, libera voluntate obediendi ante regenerationem nulla pollere poſſunt.

ARG. III. Corda noſtra, extra Spiritûs S. gratiam conſiderata, ſunt dura & lapidea, Ezech. XXXVI. 27. ac proinde ἀμεταμέλητα pœnitere neſcia. Requiritur igitur, ut Deus cor lapideum auferat, & det cor carneum Ezech. XI. 19. ut ipſe convertat hominem, váſque novum ex facto formet virtute creandi, uti loquitur Proſper. Nullus hîc arbitrii viribus locus talis conceditur.

RESP. REDING: Ezech.XI.19. & XXXVI.26.27. ſic cor noſtrum declaratur lapideum, & Deus novum ac carneum promittit, ut ſimul promittat idem facturum ſe, ut in præceptis ſuis ambulent, & judicia cuſtodiant. Ib. pag.465. Regenerandi igitur & regeniti ſtatum confundendo miſerè hallucinaris, neque ad rem quicquam dicis.

ARG. IV. In contritione inveniuntur certæ paſſiones ad illam conſtituendam planè neceſſariæ. Tales ſunt in corde timor futuri judicii, in conſcientia compunctio, horror, ſummus angor. Ergo dolor in contritione eſt paſſivus.

RESP. REDING: Etiam in viſionis actu vitali certæ paſſiones ad illam conſtituendam neceſſariæ inveniuntur. Neque tamen in mera paſſione illa conſiſtit. Licet ergo ad contritionem antecedenter & concomitanter paſſiones quædam requirantur, non tamen illa formaliter in paſſione conſiſtit. Ib. pag.465. Reſp. Si de regenerandorum contritione ſermo tibi ſi, nego ſalutarem in ea actionem ullam cum paſſionibus contritorum conjungi. Omnes enim ſalutares actus regenerationem & initium vitæ ſpiritualis ſupponunt. Sin de regenitorum, voluntarias & liberas actiones cum paſſionibus & terroribus à lege incuſſis in ea concurrere, ipſe jam præſtruxi ſatis. Hoc ſufficit ad demonſtrandum, quòd neutra contritio ſit merè libera & ſpontanea, qualem vos requiritis non aliam ob cauſam, quàm ut meritoriam eſſe evincatis.

ARG. V. Contritio enuntiatur vocibus paſſionem meram ſignificantibus, quales confuſio, erubeſcentia, percuſſio, conturbatio animæ, tribulatio Spiritûs, ſciſſio cordis.

RESP. REDING: Scriptura peccatorem jubet ſcindere cor ſuum Joel.III. 1. pœnitentiam agere, Act.XVII.30. Non ergo in actibus iis meræ paſſiones ſunt. Ib. pag.465. Reſp. De regenitis nego. ARG. VI. Contritio, quæ, in externis geſtibus & actionibus conſiſtens, in irregenitis ex viribus liberi arbitrii oriri poteſt, hypocritica eſt, non ſalutaris.

OBIECT. II. Contritio Deo placet, Pſalm. LI. 19. At paſſio coacta Deo placere non poteſt. Reſp. 1. Contritio cum fide conjuncta placet Deo propter Chriſtum fide apprehenſum. 2. Coactioni externæ & violentæ nullum hîc locum concedimus. Lex enim comitata Spiritu filiationis ita terret, & ſancta deſperatione afficit fideles, ut vim nullam voluntati faciat, ſed eam potiùs blanda vi ad Chriſtum, ſalutis anchoram, adducat.

QUÆSTIO VI.

An contritio illa imperfecta, vulgò dicta attritio, quæ paratur per diſcuſſionem, collectionem, & deteſtationem peccati, cum propoſito melioris vitæ, præparet ad DEI gratiam, & accedente virtute abſolutionis juſtificet ?

ASſerit Caput V. & Canon V. Eſtque Tridentinis Patribus attritio dolor ille, qui concipitur ex conſideratione turpitudinis peccati, vel ex gehennæ & pœnarum metu, excludens voluntatem peccandi cum ſpe veniæ. Atque hanc attritionem, etiam charitate & fide deſtitutam, ſciſcunt eſſe donum Dei, & Spiritûs ſancti impulſum, non adhuc inhabitantis, ſed tantùm moventis, quo pœnitens adjutus viam ſibi ad juſtitiam parat; parat; ac proinde etiam ad Dei gratiam disponere, & accedente virtute absolutionis justificare. Quod ita explicant Doctores, ut dicant, vi Sacramenti, seu absolutionis Sacerdotalis, attritum fieri contritum, & repleri gratiâ Spiritûs S. Nos non diffitemur equidem, quin terrores ex comminationibus legis, & sensus pœnarum in conscientia orti, sint principium quodammodo conversionis, si accedat fides & charitas. Sicut enim, quo simili utitur Augustinus tract. 9. in 1. Epist. Johannis, sæta prius intrat, sed nisi exeat, non succedit linum: ita timor primò intrat, non autem manet, quia perfecta charitas foras mittit timorem. Absque fide & charitate terrores ejusmodi sunt inutiles & pernicioſi, adeóque hoc modo pœnitentes & attritos vel disponere ad gratiam, vel accedente virtute absolutionis justificare, negamus. Rationes.

ARG. I. Attritio ex terroribus legis gignit gehennæ metum. Hunc autem malum esse suo, loco probatum est.

Resp. Reding: Timorem ejusmodi bonum esse, supra ostendimus. Tomo II. Tract. VII. Ss. 2. pag. 470. Resp. Ratiunculas tuas supra quoque nos discussimus, & contrarium liquidò probavimus.

ARG. II. Attritio etiam illa, quæ præcurrit conversionem, non oritur ex speciali gratia Christi Salvatoris, sed ex generali gratia, & misericordia Dei operantis servitutem ad timorem Rom. VIII. 15. Atqui actus talis, qui ex speciali gratia Salvatoris non oritur, nec per se, nec virtute absolutionis sacramentalis justificare potest. Qui in Christo non sunt, ambulant secundùm carnem, quos non δικαίωσις, sed κατάκριμα, uti analogia loci Rom. VIII. 1. docet, manet.

Resp. Reding: 1. Si attritio conversionem præcurrens ex generali Dei gratia & misericordia oritur, quid verum est, metum gehennæ malum esse? An misericordia Dei operatur ad malum? 2. Cùm detestatio peccati ex metu gehennæ sit actus spei supernaturalis, ex gratia Christi Salvatoris speciali oriatur oportet. 3. Neque Rom. VIII. 1. docet Apostolus, antecedenter ad justificationem, cujus vi perfectè sumus in Christo, nullam dari gratiam actualem Christi pro fidei, spei, pœnitentiæ actibus eliciendis. Ib. pag. 470. 471. Resp. 1. Sophisticaris. Attritionem intelligo eam, cui fides & charitas succedit, non vestram fide & charitate omni destitutam. uti in status quæstionis explicatione clarè distinxi. 2. Detestatio peccati ex solo gehennæ metu à fiducia in Christo separata, non spei supernaturalis actus est, sed desperationis fomes. Nulla enim non justificato per Christum spes vitæ affulget. Unde spem non pudefacientem Apostolus Rom. V. 1-5. à justificatione per fidem, ut causa, arcessit. 3. Apostolus idem Rom. VIII. 1. antithesin inter ambulantes secundum carnem, & secundum spiritum immediatam statuit. Hos in Christo condemnationi obnoxios esse negat. Illi ergo obnoxii sunt. demnatione immunis ſit; nec ſecundum ſpiritum, nec ſecundum carnem ambulet, ex Scripturis, ſi potes, oſtende.

ARG. III. Dolor conceptus ex turpidine peccati, & ex metu gehennæ non poteſt excludere voluntatem peccandi, quia quæ ex metu oriuntur, ſecundùm ſeſpectata ſunt involuntaria, proinde ſemper manet voluntatis repugnantia, qua nollet aliquis facere, ſi pœna tolleretur. Perperam igitur attritioni tribuitur voluntas fugiendi peccatum.

RESP. REDING: 1. Deteſtatio pœnæ adeò efficax eſt, ut etiam culpæ cum pœna connexæ deteſtationem involvat. 2. Metus quidem ſua natura aptus eſt ad cauſandum voluntarium mixtum involuntario. Nihilominus metus pœnæ conjunctus eſſe poteſt cum voluntate excludendi peccatum. Ib. pag. 471. Reſp. 1. Involvere poteſt deteſtationem peccati, ſed non aliter, quàm quatenus peccatum eſt cauſa pœnæ. Si enim timens peccatum deteſtatur ob amorem offenſi Numinis, jam hæc non attritio, ſed contritio, non ſervilis, ſed filialis timor eſt. 2. Par ratio eſt voluntatis excludendi peccatum. Quia enim illa ex ſolo pœnæ metu, non amore Dei oritur, remoto pœnæ metu ceſſabit ea voluntas. Manet ergo ſemper ea, quam dixi, repugnantia voluntatis.

ARG. IV. Quod diſponit ad gratiam, vel accedente abſolutione juſtificat, id mutat voluntatem malam. At timor ejusmodi voluntatem malam non mutat. Continet quidem manum, ſed non animum; premit cupiditatem, ſed non exhaurit. Animus autem eodem modo ſemper manet cupiditati adfixus.

RESP. REDING: Metum gehennæ malam voluntatem mutare, inde liquet, quia Chriſtus Matth. X. 28. jubet timere Deum, qui animam & corpus in gehenna perdere poteſt. Ib. pag. 472. Reſp. Non ſic ſolo gehennæ metu malam voluntatem mutari Chriſtus innuit; ſed timorem, cum fiducia ſcilicet & obſequio conjunctum, commendat ejus domini, qui non, ut tyranni hujus ſeculi, ſolum corpus, ſed & corpus & animam in gehenna perdere poteſt. Non enim timorem pœnæ ſolius mandat, nedum ei quicquam promittit: ſed timorem Dei potiùs, quàm hominum inculcat. Ipſo Tirino ad h. l. judice, timor Dei opponitur puſillanimitati, qua metu tormentorum vel à fidei confeſſione deflectant homines, vel juſtitia excidant, vel ſaltem munus ſibi injunctum deſerant.

ARG. V. Conſideratio, collectio, & diſcuſſio peccati tantum abeſt, ut diſponat ad gratiam, vel juſtificet, ut magis etiam peccatum augeat & excitet, Rom. IV. 15. V. 20. VII. 7. 8. 9. Unde rectè dixit, quisquis pronuntiavit, attritionem facere magis peccatorem, & hypocritam, utpote quæ non procedit ex corde ſincero & ἀνυπκρίτῳ, quod charitate munitum ſit oportet, uti ex 1. Cor. XIII. & 1. Tim. I. 5. liquet.

RESP. REDING: 1. Cur ergo Deus varia inſtituit Levit. IV. &c. pro variis peccatis ſacrificia, quibus interioris pœnitentiæ conteſtatio non fiebat abſque peculiari peccatorum recognitione? Cur Ezechias Eſaj. XXXVIII. recogitavit annos ſuos in amaritudine animæ ſuæ?

sua? 2. Loca citata, quid lex sine gratia, non quid gratia operetur, ostendunt. 3. Etiam fides, utpote charitate prior, & ab ea separabilis, sine charitate subsistere potest. Ergòne illa quoque hypocritam facit? Ib. pag. 472. Resp. 1. In sacrificiis veterum fuit utique μνήμησις ἁμαρτιῶν recordatio peccatorum Hebr. X. 3. Sed sine fide in Christum & charitate erga Deum, qua vestra attritio caret, nihil illa profuit; imò ad desperationem potiùs, quàm spem ullam disposuit. Ezechias verò Esaj. XXXVIII. 15. non obstante animæ suæ amaritudine processurum se per omnes annos suos, hoc est, intempestiva morte non moriturum, sibi recipit. Quid hoc ad attritionis tuæ commentum? Certè non amaritudini suæ salutem acceptam refert, sed fide-justioni, Christi scilicet, quem v. 14. sic imploravit: Domine, vis mihi fit. Sponde pro me. 2. Discussio, recollectio & detestatio peccati, fidei in Christum & charitati prævia, solius legis effectus sunt, non gratiæ, utpote quæ per Christum data justificat. Joh I. 17. Rom. III. 24. Cùm igitur lex per se in homine peccatore iram tantùm operetur, & peccatum augeat, quomodo eadem ad justificationem peccatoris disponet? 3. Fidem salvificam, charitatis fœtam matrem ab eadem inseparabilem esse, supra demonstravimus. Illa verò fides, per quam credens contremiscit tantùm, non confidit Christo, non justificandorum est, sed Diabolorum, Jac. II. 19.

ARG. VI. Attritio non nascitur ex amore Dei, sed ex amore sui. Timentur enim æterna mala, non quatenus impediunt, ne animus liberè transeat in Deum fruendum, sed quatenus sibi incommoda sunt & dolorifica. Et in ista consideratione requiescit attritio, nihil ultra satagendo. Hoc ipsum autem malum, quia non rectus est finis.

Resp. Reding: Licet attritio non pertingat ad finem & perfectionem charitatis Theologicæ, qua Deus propter se diligitur; non iccirco attritio ex virtutum numero excludi debet. Nam Deus non amorem duntaxat sui, sed etiam nostri præcepit. Ib. pag. 472. 473. Resp. Charitas sui, quæ ex amore Dei propter se diligendi non fluit, non genuina, sed adulterina charitas, & damnata αὐθάδεια est, quia per eam homo se ipsum amoris sui principium & finem constituit, & se-ipsum propter se diligit, neque adeò se amando gloriam Dei, ob quam, & ad quam facere omnia jubemur, intendit. Perversa celsitudo est, sic S. Augustinus de Civ. D. lib. XI. 13. loquitur, deserto eo, cui debebat animus inhærere, principio, sibi quodammodo finem esse atque principium.

ARG. VII. Quòd verò Synodus pertendit, hanc contritionem esse donum Spiritûs S. nondum quidem inhabitantis cor, sed tamen moventis, nunquam apud prudentes fidem inveniet. Spiritus S. enim neminem salutariter movet, quin in eo habitet, neque in quoquam est agens extrinsecum, quem non moveat intrinseco motu. Aliàs fieri posset, ut extrinsecùs moveretur à Spiritu S. qui intrinsecus à maligno dæmone movetur.

Resp. Reding: Annon Spiritus S. movet ad primum fidei actum, antequam cor inhabitet? Annon dat omnibus vitam, Spiritum & omnia, Act. XVII. 25. licet in omnibus non habitet? Nam inhabitat nonnisi mediante forma justificante connexa cum charitate, per quam Spiritus datur. Ib. pag. 473. Resp. Καθολέως omnia. Deus per fidem in cordibus nostris ſtris habitat, Epheſ.III.17. Simul operatur fidem, ſimul corda inhabitat. Vitâ, halitu omnia, quæ promiſcuè omnibus hominibus Deus impartitur, Spiritus S. ſpecialem inhabitationem non requirunt, quia motus illi ſpirituales & per ſe ſalutares non ſunt. Denique quàm ineptè, juxta hypotheſes quidem veſtras, formam juſtificantem à charitate, utpote, huic connexa, diſtinguis: quàm impiè per charitatem, hoc eſt, opus inhærens homini, Spiritum S. dari aſſeris, cùm tamen is charitatis, ſanctificationis omnis jugis fons & ſcaturigo ſit?

ARG. VIII. Neque etiam quiſquam perfectè odiſſe poteſt peccatum, quin priùs amaverit Deum. Amor enim prior eſt odio, & hoc ex illo naſcitur.

RESP. REDING: Perfectum peccati odium amorem Dei ſaltem virtualem ſupponit. Poſſunt tamen etiam odio haberi peccata ex amore non proprio charitatis Theologicæ, ſed terminato ad motivum cuique virtuti à charitate diverſæ, veluti ſpei, religioni, &c. Ib. pag. 473.474. Reſp. Qualis Dei amor, tale peccati odium eſt. Si perfectus amor eſt, perfectum odium eſt. Ita Cœlites perfectè & amant Deum, & oderunt peccatum. Sin imperfectus amor eſt, odium pariter imperfectum erit. Talis viatorum amor Dei, tale odium peccati eſt. Separa odium peccati ab amore Dei, verum peccati odium non erit. Amor quoque Dei adeò univerſalis eſt, latéque dominatur, ut ſub ſe omnes virtutes Theologicas & morales vulgò dictas complectatur. Eſt enim impletio legis, & præceptorum legis ſumma conſtituitur Deut.VI.5. Matth.XXII.37. An ſperare quiſquam poteſt communionem cum Deo: an Deum vera pietate & religione colere, quin priùs eundem amaverit?

ARG. IX. Ipſa Synodus ſibi contrariatur. Etenim partem eſſentialem, ſeu materialem pœnitentiæ facit contritionem, cui accedens abſolutio faciat Sacramentum. Quî igitur attritio ad Sacramentum pœnitentiæ ſufficere poteſt? Sanè formæ munus non eſt ſupplere defectum materiæ, ſed materiam in ſuo genere completam perficere.

RESP. REDING: Synodus contritionem genericè ſumptam, prout utramque contritionis perfectæ & imperfectæ ſpeciem complectitur, facit materialem pœnitentiæ partem. Nullo ergo modo ſibi contrariatur. Ib. pag.474. Reſp. Non tollis contradictionis notam. Quæro enim, an contritio illa, cui accedente charitate, abſolutionem in Sacramento vel voto ejus promittitis, ſit pars materialis pœnitentiæ? Si, uti certè aſſeritis, eſt, quid igitur defectum, qui in attritione eſt, ſupplet? Abſolutio, inquies. At abſolutio juxta vos forma pœnitentiæ eſt. Identidem igitur quæro, quomodo forma ſupplere poſſit defectum materiæ? Nam materia & forma res diſparatæ ſunt. Hoc tibi expediendum fuerat. Sicut in Miſſa verba conſecratoria juxta vos nihil operantur, ſi non ſit materia ſufficiens, & idonea ad tranſſubſtantiationem: ſic contritio ſufficiens ſi deſit, nihil abſolutio efficere poterit.

cet enim, ex hac doctrina consequens esse, ut per totam vitam sic peccata eliciantur, ut salutem adipiscantur, qui tamen nunquam Deum dilexerint. Allegat horrendas Jesuitarum, Annati, Pinterelli, Sirmundi voces, quibus illi contendunt, hoc Evangelicæ legis supra Judaicam præcipuum esse privilegium, quòd nunc amandi Dei præcepto Christiani immunes sint, nempe quia contingit, solo dolore ob admissum peccatum, accedente virtute Sacramenti, sine Dei amore homines justificari & salvari. Ipse exclamat: Quid restat amplius, nisi ut non amandi Dei privilegium à Christo hominibus prædicetur allatum? Hoc etiam vestri prædicârunt. Crescere jam non potest impietas. Ad summum pervenit. Horresco referens infandum dogma.

Resp. Reding: Doctrinam unius & alterius privati cum Synodi sententia confundis. Synodus enim definivit quidem, attritionem sufficere ad justificationem, accedente absolutione. An verò præceptum diligendi Deum non obliget nisi in ordine ad justificationem, adeóque ei per Sacramentum pœnitentiæ satisfiat, non definivit. lb. pag. 474. Resp. Quomodo, Redingi, id non definivit, si attritionem, ab amore Dei sejunctam, accedente Sacramento justificare definivit? Qui justificatur, idem glorificatur, Rom. VIII. 30. Si ergo attritus, sine amore ullo, accedente Sacramento justificatur, glorificabitur idem. Ergo omni amore Dei destitutus glorificari potest. Non ergo Jesuitarum illarum sententia priva est unius aut alterius doctoris, vel potiùs seductoris vestri, sed necessarium Tridentinæ definitionis consectarium. Qua ratione se facilè Jesuitæ tuebuntur, quicquid tu præcisionibus tuis moliare. Et rem tanti momenti clarè definiri à Concilio debuisse, Cl. Reiserus adversus Launoyum in Launoio Conf. Verit. pag. 458. &c. nuperimè solidis rationibus probavit.

ARG. XI. Meritò igitur hoc dogma Pontificiæ communionis Theologi, Jansenii asseclæ detestantur, & Concilii cothurno aliam sententiam affingere solicitè, etsi invitâ Minervâ, laborant. De eo videsis Jansenium in Augustino lib. V. cap. 23. & seq. ubi dogma hoc Scholasticorum, utpote natum ex intempestiva erga peccatores etiam inveteratos misericordia, solidè convincit. Confer etiam Montaltii Epistolam supra laudatam, & Wendrockii ad eam notas.

Resp. Reding: Non Jansenius duntaxat, sed omnes Theologi Pontificii in præcepto diligendi Deum specificam amoris Divini in hac vita eliciendi obligationem agnoscunt. lb. pag. 474. Resp. Non hoc, Redingi, agitur. Quis enim in dubium revocet, an præceptum diligendi Deum obligationem talem inducat, cùm omne præceptum propriè dictum obliget? Sed quæritur, an obligatio hæc per Sacramentum pœnitentiæ suppleri possit? Hoc Tridentini definiverunt: hoc Jansenius negat. Hostilem Jesuitarum & Jansenitarum circà hoc dogma dissensum, si tu, adeò in rebus vestris hospes, ignoras, at nos probè exactéque novimus.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Synodi mens non eſt, quenquam juſtificari ſine contritione tali, cui charitas conjuncta non ſit. Nam cap. III. docet, Materiam ſacramenti pœnitentiæ eſſe contritionem, eámque requiri ad peccatorum remiſſionem. Et Canon IV. Contritionem definit animi dolorem ac deteſtationem peccati commiſſi, cum propoſito non peccandi de cætero. Quicquid autem ad contritionem in definitione requiſiverat, imperfectæ etiam contritioni ſeu attritioni tribuitur Cap. IV. & Canone V. Non aliter igitur contritio & attritio diſtinguuntur, quàm quòd illa quidem charitatem perfectam, hac etiam charitatem, at non perfectam illam conjunctam habeat. Ita Janſenius Auguſtini ſui lib. V. cap. 34. Reſp. 1. Quicquid ſit de Concilio, certum eſt, eam eſſe ſententiam Scholaſticorum, ac inprimis Jeſuitarum, quòd attritio ſit timor purè ſervilis, quo videlicet peccator Deum punientem ita timet, ut ſolius pœnæ fugiendæ cauſa à peccatis perpetrandis caveat, & de perpetratis doleat, uti Bellarminus de Pœnit. lib. II. cap. 17. loquitur. Sirmundi ſententiam refert Wilhelmus Wendrokius Not. ad Epiſt. 10. Montaltii. Jeſuitæ Pariſienſes in theſibus Claromontanis, variiſque libris eò proceſſerunt, ut ſuſtinerent, tum atritionem naturalem, tum metum mali temporalis, à Deo ob peccatum inflicti ad recuperandam gratiam ſufficere. Quam aſſertionem certiſſimam hæreſin vocat Wendrokius. Horror equidem impii dogmatis Janſenium impulit, ut aliam cothurno Concilii mentem indueret. Cæterùm perpendere debuit, Concilium cap. IV. contritionem his duabus notis ab attritione, diſtinguere, primò, quòd illa quidem charitate perficiatur, ſecundò quòd ita charitate perfecta, accedente voto ſacramenti juſtificet, & homines Deo reconciliet. Perfectioni igitur contritionis, quam per charitatem fieri innuit, effectus tribuitur, ut ſolo voto Sacramenti juſtificet. At attritionem negat ſine Sacramento pœnitentiæ per ſe ad juſtificationem peccatorum perducere. Cauſa diſcriminis colligitur ex ſuperioribus, quia non æquè ut contritio charitate perfecta eſt. Neque innuit Synodus, in contritione charitatem perfectam, in artritione imperfectam obtinere, quia hoc diſcrimen non innuitur, nec contritio dicitur informari charitate perfecta, ſed contritio charitate perfecta nominatur. Huc facit exemplum Ninevitarum à Synodo cap. IV. allegatum, quorum timor charitate Dei deſtitutus fuit. 3. Quòd caput III. contritionem facit materiam Sacramenti, at cap. IV. ſtatuitur, ſine perceptione Sacramenti, perfecta contritione hominem Deo reconciliari, contradictionem ſapere, ſuperiùs animadvertimus. 4. Deteſtatio peccati, & propoſitum non peccandi de cætero, ſine actuali Dei amore conſiſtere poteſt, ſi non ſuſcipiatur niſi ob formidinem pœnæ.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Communis Pontificiorum doctrina est, peccatorem licet mediante Sacramento justificatum, in variis tamen vitæ & mortis casibus obligari ad Deum super omnia actualiter diligendum. Cui privata unius & alterius doctoris sententia nihil præjudicat. 2. Attritionem cum Sacramento justificantem excludere debere voluntatem peccandi, Synodus definivit. At hoc, nisi incluso virtuali proposito actualis & formalis Dei amoris fieri nequit. Et quomodo quod Scholastici timori servili juxta te tribuunt, à peccatis perpetratis cavebit peccator, sine voto implicito saltem amoris Divini? 3. Licet attritio ex propria sua specie non pertingat ad perfectionem charitatis; tamen per Sacramentum pœnitentiæ elevatur ad esse partis Sacramentalis, & valorem meritorum Christi recipit. Æquivalet ergo contritioni charitate perfecta Ib. pag. 475–478. Resp. 1. Fucum facis, & Tridentinæ definitionis te pudet. Quæro enim, an si obligationi illi in variis vitæ & mortis casibus peccator non satisfecerit, attritio cum Sacramento conjuncta justificet, nec ne? Si justificat, obligatio, quam indicas, non expleta nihil oberit. Sufficiet enim justificari attritum. Nam justificatus etiam glorificatur. Si non justificat, actum est de Tridentina definitione, qua simpliciter statuitur, eam cum Sacramento pœnitentiæ ad justificationem perducere, & sine ea ad justificationem perducere. Quæro etiam, quoties absolvitur attritus, ac inprimis proximè ante agonem mortis, annon justificetur? Quid ergo ei oberit, si obligationi diligendi Deum per totam vitam satisfecerit nunquam? Hoc sanè crudè profitentur Jesuitæ vestri, insignes scilicet Casuistæ, qui conscientiam peccatoris sic cauterio potiùs inurere, quàm sanare possunt. Tu non tam horrore impietatis, quàm tegendi dedecoris Tridentini studio, incrustare conaris. 2. Excludendi peccati voluntatem amorem Dei non necessariò ponere, supra probavimus. Imò in timore servili qualis in attritione est, planè non ponit. Caveri etiam peccata, sola formidine pœnæ non ullo virtutis amore, possunt. 3. Valor quoque qualiscunque attritioni à Sacramenti efficacia tributus, charitatem, quæ actu inesse deber, non ponit. Et æquivalentiam illam Synodus tua finxit, non ulla ratione probavit.

OBIECT. II. Timor pœnæ utiliter concussit Ninevitas ad Jonæ prædicationem plenam terroribus, ut pœnitentiam agerent, & misericordiam à Domino impetrarent, Jon. III. v. 10. Ergo multò magis ejusmodi timor cum Sacramento pœnitentiæ conjunctus justificat.

Resp. 1. Fructus salutaris pœnitentiæ est reconciliatio cum Deo, non vi attritionis, sed fidei in Christum, quâ solâ justificati pacem habemus. Rom. V. 1. Quòd si igitur reconciliati cum Deo, & justificati fuerunt Ninevitæ, non id vi ejusmodi timoris factum fuerit oportet, sed fidei in Christum, sincero Dei amore comitatæ. 2. Reconciliatos DEO & justificatos fuisse Ninevitas non dicitur, sed illud duntaxat, Deum pœnituisse mali, quod loquutus fuerat se facturum illis, & non feciſſe. Pœnitentia igitur sua & contritione ac humilitate etiam fide & amore Dei destitutâ, impetrârunt mitigationem temporalium pœnarum, non reconciliationem cum Deo, & conscientiæ pacem. Ita Deus etiam bona irregenitorum opera præmiis temporalibus remuneratur, & Achabo ob similem pœnitentiam pepercit.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Si irregenitorum opera quædam proemio temporali condigna sunt, quomodo supra eadem odii Dei meritoria esse, pertendisti? Si fides sola justificat, & reconciliat cum Deo, quomodo non reconciliati cum Deo sunt Ninevitæ, quos credidisse in Deum, Scriptura Jon. III. c. testatur? Si pœnitentia Ninevitarum fide & amore Dei destituta pœnarum temporalium mitigationem impetravit, quomodo attritionem talem hypocritam facere, statuisti supra? En perpetuum contradictionis spiritum. lb. pag. 478. Resp. Nugari, quàm seriò disputare, & rationibus meis respondere mavis. Ubi irregenitorum opera proemiis temporalibus condigna esse, dixi? Temporalium etiam bonorum erogationem cum odio Dei consistere posse, annon tibi & Scriptura Jerem. XII. 1.2. &c. & experientia quotidiana dictavit? Ninevitæ insuper quomodo in Christum sibi incognitum crediderunt, atque tali fide, quam solam justificantem statuimus, Deo reconciliati sunt? Denique quid mitigationi pœnarum temporalium, qua Deus mera liberalitate sua operum bonorum externos actus mactare solet, cum justificatione, cum reconciliatione cum Deo, quam attritioni Sacramentali promittitis, commune habet? Nec veritati igitur, nec mihi contradixi, sed tu præfracto studio veritati contradicendi incitatus, deliras ubique.

OBIECT. III. Christus Matth. X. 28. jubet timere Deum, qui potest animam & corpus perdere in gehenna. Ergo timor pœna salutaris est. Resp. 1. Timorem Christus mandat non servilem, sed filialem, eum videlicet, quo ipsum potiùs, quàm homines imbelles timemus, adeóque ipsum amamus super omnia, ex toto corde & omnibus viribus. Etiam pœnæ timorem, cui succedit fides & amor Dei, utilem ac salutarem esse ultro fatemur.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Christus Matth. X. 29. timorem servilem, ob solum pœnarum metum commendat. Qui licet ad justificationem non sufficiat, movet tamen ad contritionem perfectam. 2. Si timor ille cum fide conjunctus salutaris reddi potest, non igitur per se hypocritam facit, nec intrinsecè malus est. lb. pag. 478. 479. Resp. 1. At filialem commendari, probavi. Cur non respondes? An satis est, rancidas hypotheses reponere? 2. Timor servilis à fide & amore Dei sejunctus, sicut omnia regenitorum opera, malus & hypocriticus est ex accidenti, ob defectum causarum, quas ad integritatem operis Deus requirit. Nihil igitur obstat, quò minùs præsentibus & conjunctis causis illis salutaris reddi queat.

OBIECT. IV. Scriptura passim terrorem incutiunt peccatoribus, non alium in finem, quàm ut timorem concipiant, & ex eo timore pœnitentiam meditentur. Resp. At pœnitentiam ejusmodi & subleſtam ac imperfectam contritionem, fide in Christum & amore Dei destitutam, sive in Sacramento, sive extra illud justificare, nuspiam docet.

EXCIP. REDING: Neque nos docemus, timorem fide destitutum justificare. Quin potiùs justificationis exordium ex fide petimus. lb. Resp. Fidem dixi non quamcunque, qualis etiam est fides dæmonum, sed in Christum, hoc est, fiduciam in misericordia Dei & merito Christi, cum amore Dei conjunctam. An talis fides timori servili inest?

OBIECT. V. Qui attritus juſtificatur, non ſine charitate juſtificatur, quia virtute verborum abſolutionis à ſacerdote prolatorum repentè mutatus, infunditur Dei gratiâ & charitate; adeóque ex attrito fit contritus. Reſp. 1. Experientia docet, ſæpius abſolutos à Sacerdote non meliores, ſed nequiores evadere. Unde Gregorius de Valentia monet diſp. 7. q. de Contrit. p. 2. tales nonniſi contingenter quandóque meliores fieri. 2. Sacerdoti impuro & irregenito, qui tanta poteſtas competere valeat? 3. Ex attrito fieri aliquem poſſe veré contritum virtute ſacramenti, negant Thomas Aquinas Suppl. p. ar. III. quæſt. 1, addit. art. 3. Melchior Canus Relect. de pœnit. part. III. q. 3. Rationem reddit Scotus diſt. 17. q. 2. art. 5. quia Sacramentum non conſtituit aliud objectum actui voluntatis. 4. Supponit hoc argumentum Sacramentorum efficaciam ex opere operato, quam ſuo loco confutavimus.

Excip. Reding. 1. Experientia teſtis eſt, abſolutos apud nos meliores evadere. 2. Valentia diſertè aſſeris, vi Sacramenti ex opere operato obtineri gratiam, cujus virtute abſolutus gratia cum attritione conjuncta, certò & ſemper ex attrito fiat contritus, licet nonniſi contingenter, quoad intrinſecam contritionem ex objecto, quandoque ex attrito contritus fiat. 3. Si etiam Judæ proditori collata eſt poteſtas Sacramentum Euchariſticum conſecrandi, cur non etiam impuro Sacerdoti poteſtas abſolvendi à peccatis competere poſſit? 4. Thomas quidem negat, attritionem fieri poſſe contritionem, quia actus ſint diverſi, diverſa principia, ille timorem ſervilem, hic filialem habentes. At ex attrito contritum fieri poſſe virtute Sacramenti, non negat. Ib pag. 479 480. Reſp. 1. An ſemper abſoluti veſtri meliores evadant, tute optimè noveris. Nunquam hoc, ſat ſcio, ut credas ipſe, induci poteris. Utinam non fiducia abſolutionis veſtræ, quæ nullum in foro ſoli valorem habet, plerique redderentur nequiores, quàm antehac fuerunt. 2. Valentia veſter contritum ex attrito fieri nonniſi contingenter, te ipſo indice, ſtatuit. Non ergo per ſe melior evadit, quia ſine contritione melior non evadit. Quin eò impudentiæ Lojolita ille proceſſit, ut loco citato pag. 4. aſſerere non dubitaverit, contritionem adeò neceſſariam non eſſe ad effectum Sacramentorum percipiendum, ut magis obſtet; quò minùs ille ſequatur. Igitur abſurdum eſſet, inquit, præceptum, quod contritionem ad eam rem requireret, ut convenienter & fructuosè iſta Sacramenta percipiantur. Quemadmodum certè abſurdè faceret medicus, qui ægroto præciperet, ut non ſuſciperet medicamentum, niſi priùs conatus eſſet abſque medicamento morbum depellere. 3. Bene eſt, ſi tantum poteſtatis Sacerdotibus veſtris competit, quantum Judæ proditori competiit. Illi enim certè Sacerdotalem poteſtatem Chriſtus non tribuit: imò ne Sanctos quidem Apoſtolos Sacerdotes propriè dictos fecit. 4. Sic Thomas loco citato attritionem devenire poſſe contritionem negat, ut contritum ex attrito fieri poſſe, neutiquam aſſerat. Cum enim nonniſi per contritionem fieri contritus poſſit, ſi ex attritione contritio fieri nequit, neque ex attrito contritum fieri poſſe, conſequitur.

QUÆSTIO VII.

An Confeſſio ſecreta, quâ aperiuntur Sacerdoti omnia peccata mortalia, quorum memoria cum debita & diligenti præmeditatione habetur, etiam occulta, & circumſtantia, quæ ſpeciem mutant, ſit jure divino ad ſalutem neceſſaria?

ASſerit Canon VI. & VII. Nos negamus. Rationes.

ARG. I. Quod in N. T. jure divino ad ſalutem neceſſarium eſt, id Chriſtus inſtituit. At Chriſtus auricularem confeſſionem non inſtituit. Etenim nec remittens peccata ſecretam hanc peccatorum enumerationem exegit, nec Apoſtolis ut exigerent, mandavit. Neque ullum ſecretæ ejusmodi confeſſionis exemplum oſtendi uſpiam poteſt.

RESP. REDING: Abſolutio ſeu remiſſio peccatorum, cujus poteſtatem Apoſtolis delegavit Chriſtus, peccatorum notitiam; & hæc confeſſionem requirit. Tomo II. Tract. VII. Ss. 2. pag. 481. Reſp. Achillem huncce veſtrum in objectionis primæ ſolutione debellavi.

ARG. II. Secreta confeſſio eſt carnificina animi, & deſperationis laqueus. Etenim, perpetim conſcientia dubia ſit oportet de impetrata remiſſione, cùm cùm de ſufficienti & juſto ſcrutinio certa eſſe nequeat. Deinde verecundia & timor prohibet, quò minùs ingenuè omnia peccata ſibi nota confeſſor aperiat. Tum jubentur homines aperire peccata mortalia. Quotusquisque verò diſcrimen inter mortalia & venialia peccata dextrè ſtatuet? Quin & requiritur ad effectum remiſſionis ſacerdotis intentio. At illa certò explorari nequit. Denique Scholaſtici tot excogitârunt caſus, quibus confeſſio fiat invalida, ut juxta illorum deuteroſes impoſſibile eſſe confiteri, fateantur adverſarii multi. Quæ cauſa eſt, quòd B. Rhenanus Proœmio Not. in Tertull. de panit. prolixas de eo exponit querelas Carthuſianorum, Franciſcanorum, Sanctimonialium, & ejusmodi tormenta, quibus piæ mentes vix unquam ſatisfacere queant. Confer Caſſandrum Conſult. art. II. ſimiles querelas ingeminantem.

Resp. Reding: 1. Ergone etiam David cogitando dies antiquos, Ezechias in amaritudine animæ recogitando annos ſimilem in ſe carnificinam exercuerunt? 2. Sufficientis de peccatis ſcrutinii non ad rigorem metaphyſicum, ſed ad humanam & moralem induſtriam exacta certitudo ſufficit. 3. Facilis quinetiam peccatorum mortalium & venialium diſcretio eſt; ſi hoc unum attendatur, an contra legem Dei, Chriſti & Apoſtolorum pugnent nec ne. 4. Cùm verecundia non cohibuerit à peccatis patrandis, & ab iiſdem confitendis, multò minùs cohibere debet. 5. Rhenanus mala fide à te citatus de confeſſionis integritate non formali, ſed materiali loquitur. Ib. pag. 481. 482. Reſp. 1. Mitte Davidis & Ezechiæ exempla alieniſſima. Neque enim illi vel Sacerdoti, vel in aures peccata ſua ſingula inſuſurrarunt, nedum confeſſionem ejuſmodi cauſam remiſſionis crediderunt. Mitto reliqua diſſimilia omnia. 2. Præterquam quòd non levis, imò ad conſcientiæ tranquillitatem ſtabiliendam Divina certitudo requiritur, ſi peccata non confeſſa non remittuntur, uti vos ſciſcitis; etiam ſcrutinii peccatorum ad humanam & moralem induſtriam exacta certitudo apud veſtros fluctuet oportet. Unde enim iis conſtat, humanam, & moralem induſtriam ſufficienter adhibitam eſſe? Quid ſi memoria fallat, & peccatum grave admiſſum, vel admiſſi circumſtantias notorias non ſuggerat? Incertus ſemper erit, an ob humanam infirmitatem & induſtriæ defectum officio ſatisfecerit. Imò ſi pius & cordatus ſit confitens, omnem diligentiam & induſtriam ſuam ipſe ſuſpectam habebit. Quò enim ſalutis & remiſſionis, ac peccati noſtri cum Deo negotium, etiam graviſſimis maximorum Principum, potentiſſimarúmque civitatum rebus, majus eſt; hoc majorem & diligentiorem noſtram de illo curam ac excuſſionem animi noſtri eſſe decet. Quotuſquiſque verò confitentium in ſe excutiendo parem iſtorum in expendendis ac examinandis ſive ſuis, ſive publicis negotiis curam ac diligentiam adhibeat? Ergo pleroſque labaſcere & titubare neceſſum eſt, cogitantes multa forte ſibi excidiſſe, quæ non confeſſa ad æternam mortem imputentur. Et de peccatorum ſingulorum circumſtantiis aggravantibus vel ſpeciem mutantibus, quæ non dubitationes animum exercebunt? Neque abs re hæc à nobis urgeri, docet ipſum Divi veſtri Ignatii Lojolæ exemplum, qui, Orlandino Hiſt. Societ. lib. I. Sect. 25. 26. teſte, confeſſionibus maximè vacans in æſtus & pavores conſcientiæ inexplicabiles incidit, dum primò vereretur, ne multa memoriam ſuam in confeſſione generali fugiſſent, novæque ſemper aliæ ex aliis dubitationes exorirentur, nullúſque fieret ſcrupulorum & angorum finis, & infixus pectori vermis medullas carperet, ſuccúmque omnem pietatis conſumeret, etiam ipſas vitium corporis reliquias depaſceret, donec tandem poſt ſolidam unius hebdomadæ inediam Deus veluti λὰι τῆς μηχανῆς ipſi apparens priſtinam ei mentis tranquillitatem redderet. Cúmque de confeſſionis integritate, contritionis neceſſitate, ſatisfactionis ſufficientia inter Caſuiſtas plurimæ lites ferveant, confitentem inter diverſas iſtorum opiniones, velut inter oppoſitos infames ſcopulos deprehenſum neceſſariò fluctuare & torqueri dubium, ac tantùm non Cœlum inter & Tartarum medium pendere, neceſſe eſt. Accedit ſcrupulus perpetuus, quem Tridentini veſtri, definientes Seſſ. XIV. cap. 6. non debere ſibi pœnitentem blandiri, ut putet ſe coram Deo eſſe abſolutum, etiamſi Sacerdoti animus ſeriò agendi, & verè abſolvendi deſit; fixerunt. Quis autem Sacerdoti abſolventi animus ſit præter Deum nemo certò novit. Imò ne quidem confitenti certò conſtat, an Sacerdos abſolvens ritè ordinatus, adeóque abſolutio ejus valida ſit nec ne. Tanta igitur confeſſionis exercendæ difficultas eſt, ut Bellarminus non dubitaverit inde argumentum Divinæ ejus inſtitutionis arceſſere, eò quod credibile non ſit vel Eccleſiæ Præſides auſuros fuiſſe legem adeò difficilem ferre, aut populos perſuaderi potuiſſe, ut eam acciperent. Jure ergo optimo carnificinam conſcientiæ appellavi. 3. Neque peccatorum mortalium à venialibus diſcretio juxta doctores veſtros difficultate caret. Ipſimet enim in definiendis venialibus peccatis diſtrahuntur opinionibus, dum Thomas, & aſſeclæ venialia peccata eſſe pertendunt, quæ non contra, ſed præter legem ſunt; Durandus, Cajetanus, Vega, quæ contra legem ſunt; Gerſon & Almainus, Pariſienſes Theologi, quæ talia ſint ex voluntate Dei, ita de peccatis nonnullis ſtatuentis; Fiſcherus Roffenſis Epiſcopus, & Bajus, quæ ex miſericordia Dei veniam impetrent. Et ut peccata mortalia ſint, quæ contra, venialia, quæ præter legem Dei ſunt, quotuſquiſque veſtrum confitentium omnia Dei, Chriſti, Apoſtolorum præcepta in numerato habet, in tanta inprimis populi veſtri, in implicita fide pietatem ſuam collocantis, barbarie? Et cum ſeptem peccata mortalia myſtagogi veſtri numerent, quàm facilè contingere poteſt, ut plurimi, maximè de vulgo, quæcunque in ſeptenario iſto numero non recenſita audiverunt, ea omnia venialia exiſtiment, qui immanis, à Sacris literis, & ab ipſis iſtorum placitis vehementer abhorrens error eſt. 4. Par ne ergo in patrandis & confitendis peccatis verecundia obtinet? De eo infra videbimus. 5. Rhenano nunquam diſtinctio tua in mentem venit. Ne quidem ipſum, credo, legiſti. Ponam ego ejus verba, quæ in ruborem te dabunt. Sic enim Præfat. in Tertull. de pœnit. pag. 47. habent: A Franciſcanis & Carthuſianis diſcebat (Joh. Geilerius, Argentoratenſis olim concionator & Theologus, cum multa gravitatis ac ſanctitatis laude ab eodem memoratus) *quibus tormentis quorundam piæ mentes affligerentur ob confeſſionem, cui ſatisfacere, ut ipſis videbatur, nequirent. Similes querelas ad eum deferebant Sanctimoniales. Proinde motus fuerat, ut libellum ederet in lingua Germanica, cui titulum fecit, de morbo confeſſionis, quo negabat eſſe triſtiorem, qui eo tenebantur. Erat Carthuſianus quidam, qui propter confeſſionem, quæ ei ſemper ob inexplicabilem circumſtantiarum vim imperfecta videbatur, ſed ipſe perfectiſſimam eſſe fruſtra contendebat, huc miſeriarum venerat, ut omnem ſalutem deſponderet, & apocarteresin cogitaret. quit, de hac re controversiam nullam fuisse futuram, si non salutaris hæc confitendi medicina ab imperitis & importunis meditis multis inutilibus traditionculis referta & contaminata fuisset; quibus conscientiis, quas extricare & levare debebant, laqueum injecerunt, & tanquam tormentis quibusdam excarnificarunt.

ARG. III. Docet Christus Matth.XVIII.15. ei, qui potuerit ἐλέγχεσθαι & reprehensus obediverit, nos peccata remittere debere. Remittere ergo jubet sine interventu secretæ confessionis.

Resp. Reding: An remissionis capax esse potest, qui culpam non agnovit & confessus est? Ib. pag.482. Resp. Capax esse potest ex Christi præcepto, licet Sacerdoti peccatum admissum, ejúsque circumstantias non revelaverit. Nam elencho defunctum lucrifeciisse jam fratrem, si audiverit, sine ulla ad Sacerdotem relegatione, testatur.

ARG. IV. Recitatio peccatorum est μελέτη ἀναισχυντίας, exercitatio impudentiæ, quæ tangitur haud dubiè 2.Tim.III.6.7. Huc pertinent scandalosæ quæstiones, quas Casuistæ Confessariis injungunt apud Toletum, Angelum de Clavasio, Sanchez, Navarrum, Benedictum, Burchardum. Quid quòd mutus, uti docent Toletus & Navarrus, tenetur peccata sua confiteri & prodere gestibus? Quod non potest non turpiter fieri. Puduit hujus impudentiæ Melchiorem Canum, qui Relect. de pœnit. p.6. fatetur, ex summis confessionum, quæ publicè prostant; disci non confitendi, sed peccandi rationem & normam.

Resp. Reding: 1. Locus 2 Tim.III.6.7. potiùs vestris quadrat, judice etiam Erasmo, tibi familiari, ad Vulturium Necomium scribente, multos ex Evangelicis factos deteriores, indulgentes luxui, libidini & pecuniæ, semper discentes, &c. 2. Casuistæ nostri confessarios pro quibusvis Divinæ legi & honestati repugnantibus casibus instruunt eum in finem, ut puritatem conscientiarum in eluendis peccatis etiam occultis procurent, iis tamen cautelis adhibitis, ne vel perversis occasio enormiùs labendi, vel infirmis ulterioris ruinæ ansa detur. Quæ cautelæ si quando prætereuntur, quid hoc ad confessionem Divinitus institutam? Si igitur quispiam, cujus oculus dexter nequam est, eas Casuistarum quæstiones per Pharisaicum fermentum scrutatus, sibi scandalo sit, is dictum sibi putet: Qui sordescit, sordescat adhuc. 3. Impuritatem spiritus tui prodis, cùm in modo manifestandi peccata per nutus & gestus, impuri quicquam tibi imaginaris. Ib. pag.482.483. Resp.1. Non Erasmus aliquis, neutrarum in religione partium homo, sed ipse S.Paulus sœpiusculè dixit, & semel cum lachrymis dixit, plures, Evangelium scilicet idem professos, ambulare ut hostes crucis Christi, Phil.III.18. Et plures eo tempore, quo Evangelii doctrina superiori Seculo denuo emersit, ambulasse similiter, an mirum cuiquam accidit? Papatus enim fermentum in plurium animis nondum detumuerat, & vel exiguum fermentum totam massam facilè corrupit. Sed quid tum postea? Non id Evangelicæ doctrinæ nostræ, sed humanæ malitiæ culpa accidit. Sed vestra morum perversitas, & impudentiæ illa in confessione exercitatio ex doctrinæ vestræ dictamine sequitur. Toto ergo Cœlo causæ nostræ distant. Tegere quidem disciplinæ vestræ probra studetis. Sed nulla diligentia efficere potestis, quin vel vestris prodentibus multa resciscamus. Ipse, Quid verò multis? Annon, qui apud vos confitentur, contra diſertum Apoſtoli Eph. V. 3. 4. præceptum multa inhoneſta ac turpia eloqui; præterita correctáque, & ante plures menſes admiſſa, atque oblivione pœne ſepulta flagitia cogitatione retractare, mente & memoria verſare, & quæ penitus obrui, ac ſepeliri, velut purgamenta, decuerat, ea effodere, ac in lucem protrahere coguntur, maximo cum dedecore? Sive enim pœnitens verè emendatus, & in ſpiritualem virum converſus eſt, neceſſe eſt eum iſthac fœditatum ſuarum recognitione non parum turbari, & pace gaudióque, quo in Chriſto jam fruebatur, ſpoliatum angi: ſive carnalis eſt, uti ſunt plurimi, fieri nequit, quin ejus animus polluatur, & concupiſcentiæ labe, titillatione & prurigine inficiatur. Accedit, quòd ex ore Confeſſarii multa ignota peccata, multas peccatorum arcanas ſpecies confitentes diſcunt. quæ ſcientia quàm perniciosa ſit, omnes vident. Corruptis enim animis vix unquam impune peccata, & peccatorum imagines monſtrantur. Cogita autem, quantum, quámque peſtilens malarum ac impurarum cogitationum ac libidinum agmen in virginum, matronarúmque ſimplicium ac pœne innocentium animos invehat, qui eos ex Burchardi vel Sanchezii alicujus canonibus ac diſciplina interrogat confeſſarius; quantam exinde pietatis & ſanctimoniæ perniciem inducat. Præterea confeſſio hominum verecundiam deterit, paulatímque planè conſumit. Nam qui ſemel pudoris primos limites tranſilierunt, ii gnaviter impudentes fieri ſolent; indéque eſt, quòd deprehenſis audacia creſcit. 2. Caſuiſtas veſtros, Confeſſionarios informantes quod attinet, ſatis jam conſtat illorum chartas, quæ ſanctimoniæ ac verecundiæ plenæ eſſe debuerant, priſcis Elephantidos libellis, & nuperis perditorum Italorum voluminibus obſcœniores eſſe; in quibus, velut in lupanarium ſcriniis, omnes turpitudinum ſpecies ac modi, etiam qui nullo apud flagitioſiſſimos in uſu fortaſſe ſunt, accuratiſſimè deſcripti continentur. Audi viri ex Romana communione graviſſimi, Petri Aurelii de Sancheſii denſo, quod de Matrimonio inſcribitur, opere judicium. Opus eſt, ſic ille Vindic. cenſ. Faculs. Portenta iſta ſunt, non ſcripta; animorum inſidiæ, non mentium ſubſidia; incentiva libidinum, ſchola flagitiorum, non honeſtæ diſciplinæ, non ſcientiæ Chriſtianæ inſtrumenta. Infelix ſcientia, quæ omnes perdere, paucos juvare apta nata eſt, quæ circa ſordes & ſterquilinia volvenda & revolvenda volutatur, ut ejus doctorem jure cum ſcarabæo conferas, vel cum iis, qui latrinarium factitant, vel qui ejus artis fuſiſſima volumina graphicè conſcribenda ſuſcipiunt. Quanquam eo illud vetrius & odioſius eſt, quia corporum fœces moleſtiam & turpitudinem brevio- breviorem habent ; illa animorum purgamenta , illa venereæ tetius ſentinæ indagatio & ante legentium oculos effuſio , non ſuditatis modò permultum , ſed periculi & pernicie multò amplius vehit , quò animi vel ipſa inuſitata & inaudita turpitudinis novitate moveantur. Caſtigata dein Jeſuitarum Granatenſium, qui operi huic infinita cum laude auctoris præfati ſunt, dictitantes etiam, neminem ſuperiori Seculo dubias de Matrimonio controverſias uberiùs & limatiùs , quàm iſtum , enodaſſe ; impudentia ; Equidem, inquit pag. 518. ſi de uberima & ſubtiliſſima ſpurcitiarum omnigenarum ventilatione agitur, nemo unquam eam laudem Thomæ Sanches eripiet ; quin omnium primus Sacramentum matrimonii cum tanta cogitationum , ſermoniſque licentia , imaginatione potiùs, quàm judicio duce verſavit , quantam ante ipſum Eccleſia ab initio Chriſtiani nominis , nec viderat, nec audierat. Modeſtiores fuerunt ſemper Eccleſiaſtici tractatores, non obliti Apoſtoli vocem : Fornicatio & omnis immunditia &c. nec nominetur in vobis Nec tanti fecerunt ancipitem iſtam & periculoſam conjugalium arcanorum , flagitiorum , piaculorúmque ſcientiam. Neque tamen querela illiusce & indignatio pauciorum & meliorum ex Romana communione prohibet, quò minùs multi quotidie apud eos ejuſdem furfuris libri, maximè à Jeſuitis , artis iſtius turpiſſimæ & quæſtuoſiſſimæ facilè principibus, nulla verecundiæ habita ratione, nulla cautelarum, quas Redingius dicis gratia allegat, edantur. Nam ſi qui neceſſarias cautelas (cautelas tamen Redingius appellat, quæ tales neutiquam ſunt) obſervaſſent, at non obſervant arcana Confeſſionis tribunalia, quæ omnem iſtam ſentinam moveri ac diſcuti , curioſéque à ſingulis pœnitentibus delicta omnia , quorum nullum ſcilicet niſi confeſſum , remitti poſſe præſtruunt, requiri jubent. Summam igitur hic à confeſſario diligentiam adhiberi , & pœnitentem, præſertim, ſi rudis ſit, & rerum Divinarum imperitus , de ſingulis peccatorum generibus , ſpeciebus , modis ac circumſtantiis, ne quid non confeſſum ſuperſit, interrogari neceſſum eſt. Unde liquet & confeſſarios, qui cœlibes ſunt, & confitentes inſtituti hujus vi neceſſariò fieri impudentes, & ad omnia iſta turpia, ſi non ſcribenda & divulganda, at certè in arcano colloquio eloquenda, ſciſcitanda & recitanda cogi. 3. Impuritatem ſpiritus tui tu potiùs apricaris nimiùm, cùm in modo manifeſtandi peccata per nutus & geſtus pura omnia tibi imaginaris. Sic accidit vobis, quod latrinæ aſſuetis aſſolet, quibus moram in iis aliquandiu nectentibus nullus ampliùs gravis fœtor eſt, qui tamen vel inexpertis, vel primùm adeuntibus graviſſimus eſſe ſolet.

ARG. V. Confeſſio eſt vinculum Regni Papalis. Nam hamus eſt ſacerdotum & eccleſiæ , cujus hoc modo mirificè creſcunt divitiæ , authoritas , ac formidabilis potentia. Sic enim Scire volunt ſecreta domûs, atque inde timeri. Magiſtratus & imperia ſubiguntur terrori Papæ, qui arcana quæque hac via inquirit. Prætextu ſigilli vita Regum & Principum in anceps diſcrimen adducitur, ut palam facit illa Jeſuitæ Bineti vox, præſtare omnes reges occidi, quàm vel ſemel ſigillum Confeſſionis revelari , apud Caſaubonum Ep. ad Eudæmon. Johann. Caſus majores reſervantur Papæ , tanquam ſummo Hierarchæ & principi eccleſiæ. Denique imperandis poſt confeſſionem ſatisfactionibus totum ſibi mundum Papa ſubjicit.

RESP. REFING : 1. Cùm confessio authoritate absolvendi à Christo concessa nitatur, si vinculum est Regni Papalis, à Christo institutum esse Regnum Papale, pariter consequitur. 2. Si ex speciali Dei, Ecclesiæ Nutritios promittentis, beneficentia, inde Ecclesiæ divitiæ proveniunt, an claves Ecclesiæ datas eo argumento impugnare fas est? 3. Cùm ipsi Pontifices, Gregorius & Innocentius III. Canonibus conditis tam rigidum statuerint secreti pœnitentialis sigillum, non igitur Papa & Sacerdotes Confessionis ope arcana quæque expiscari intendunt. 4. Cúmque malum faciendum non sit, ut eveniat bonum, sigillum confessionis violari nequit, ut vita Regum salvetur. 5. Neque majorum causarum reservatio, & ad Papam delatio vituperari potest, quia is Divino jure summus Ecclesiæ princeps est, & absolutionem, ac satisfactionis impositionem salvo sigillo, aliis delegat, denique non subjectionem mundi, sed salutem pœnitentis spectat. Ib. pag. 483 484. Resp. 1. Egregium verò Papæ Regis, & Regni ejus à Christo instituti argumentum! Quasi verò Confessio, si maximè, quod nunquam probasti, Divinitus instituta esset, peregrinum in usum, perinde ut ministerium clavium, à Christo revera institutum, hominum malignitate trahi non posset? 2. Claves Ecclesiæ datæ Cœli, non terræ thesauros aperiunt. Sunt enim claves Regni Cœlorum. Quæ igitur avaritiæ hominum, pietatem quæstui habentium, vix usquam alibi quàm Romæ fabulanti, inservire coguntur, non Christi, sed Antichristi claves haud dubiè sunt. 3. An verò secreti sigilli religio obstat, quò minùs secretissima quæque in confessariorum, Papæ inprimis, qui supremus confessarius est, & ad quem maximè arcana deferuntur, notitiam veniant, & rationes dominationis suæ inde illi instituant? Sed, quicquid tu restites, jam pridem cordatioribus suboluit, imò penitus innotuit, nefaria & funesta totis Regnis ac Rebuspublicis consilia in illo interdum secreto agitata fuisse. Bella inprimis Galliæ ab Henoticis adversus Henricum III. & IV. gesta constat Confessariorum maximè consiliis atque artibus, & primùm commota exarsisse, & postea iisdem flabellis suscitata & succensa tandiu fuisse, ut vix restingui potuerint. Cujus rei auctorem gravem Thuanum Annal. lib. 85. testem locupletissimum habemus. Huc etiam pertinet, quod apud vitæ Pauli Sarpii Veneti scriptorem pag. 110. legere est, nempe Hippolytum Lucensem, magna fama Theologum, Ducissæ Urbini, cujus erat Confessarius, in illo confessionum arcano persuasisse, ut Ecclesiasticæ factioni contra Cæsarem Estensem adhæreret; & ob navatam in eo negotio operam Montispiloси in Neapolitano Regno Episcopatu à Cardinale Aldobrandino, Clementis VIII. nepote, donatum esse. Neque dubitandum, quoties hujusmodi causæ Papam inter & Principes vertuntur, quin ad hoc exemplum Confessarii sui ministerii opportunitate sæpe in Romanæ Sedis gratiam, magno Principum ac Rerumpublicarum damno & detrimento, abutantur. 4. Ne sigillum confessionis reseretur, merè humana constitutio est: ut vita hominis, Regum inprimis, unctorum Domini, quos contrectari idem severissimè vetuit, conservetur, planè Divina, naturæ omnium hominum impressa, & verbo Dei testata, constitutio est. Vos igitur sigilli vestri prætextu Regum Principúmque vitam negligentes, propter traditionem vestram legem Dei aboletis. quod in Pharisæis graviter Christus Matth. XV. 6. Marc. VII. 9. reprehendit. Sic planè res habet. Affirmat enim Suarez de Pœnit. disp. 33. sect. 1. num. 2. diserte, in nullo casu, & propter nullum finem, etiam pro tota tuenda Republica ab ingenti malo temporali & spirituali, violari sigillum licere. Idem habet Emanuel Sa Jesuita Aphorismis, verbo Confessor. Extat Epistola Viri Doctissimi, Isaci Casauboni, ad Frontonem Ducæum Jesuitam, in qua testatur sibi dictum à Bineto Jesuita, præstare omnes Reges occidi, quàm vel semel confessionis sigillum ſigillum revelari. Et Perronius libro adverſus Regem Britanniæ ſcripto cap.6.7. approbat apophtegma Jeſuitæ, qui dixerat: Si Chriſtus in terra adhuc ageret, potiùs permittendum, ut trucidaretur, quàm confeſſio revelanda. Nequiſſimus ſit oportet, in cujus ſinum tutò adeò parricidii & proditionis conſilia deponuntur; ſumma quidem fide erga parricidas & perduelles; ſed in Regem, patrem, patriam ſumma perfidia. Cùm tamen perjurium Lege Dei vetetur, & honor, obedientia ac fides erga patrem & Regem verbo Dei præcipiatur: at de ſilentio & ſigillo confeſſionis altum in S. Scriptura ſilentium ſit. 5. Cùm Papa Divino jure nec Princeps, nec ſummus Princeps Eccleſiæ, ſed nefarius uſurpator ſummi principatus ſoli Chriſto competentis ſit, & caſuum reſervatorum arbitrum ſe ſine Divino ſuffragio gerat, denique animarum ſalutem poſt Regni ſui commoda & cupiditates habeat, quo loco ſit habenda caſuum reſervatio, & ſatisfactionum imponendarum arbitrium, ultro liquet.

ARG. VI. Illud verò duriſſimum jugum eſt, quòd Synodus cap.V. jubet Confeſſario revelare occultiſſima, etiam cogitationis peccata, & cupiditates militantes adverſus duo ultima Decalogi præcepta. Cùm tamen ipſa Synodus Seſſ.V. definiverit, concupiſcentiam lege vetitam in regenitis non eſſe verè & propriè dictum peccatum. Sic igitur inhoneſta cogitatio, quæ fortè virgini obrepſerit, ſacerdoti revelanda fuerit.

RESP. REDING: Chriſtus Sacerdotibus poteſtatem largiens remittendi peccata, indefinitè omnia peccata intellexit. Ergo etiam occulta, & cupiditates quatenus libero voluntatis conſenſui ſubſunt. lb. pag. 484. Reſp. Fruſtra confeſſionem ſecretam & particularem ex poteſtate remittendi peccata vos eruere conari, infra oſtendimus. Cúmque contra ultimum Decalogi præceptum quævis concupiſcentiæ, adeóque etiam conſenſum voluntatis præcedentes prohibeantur, antilogia veſtra à me animadverſa in aperto eſt.

ARG. VII. In confeſſione Sacerdos non ſcrutatur conſcientiam peccatoris, an Deum amet toto corde? An credat in Chriſtum? An promiſſiones Evangelii amplectatur? An rejiciat ſuas curas in Deum? An Dei honori ſtudeat? pauperes alat, ſcripturam meditetur, &c. Petuntur à confitente non alia, quàm Catholicitatis Romanæ certiora indicia.

RESP. REDING: Cur ſcrutaremur amorem Dei ex toto corde, præceptorum & conſiliorum Evangelicorum obſervantiam, quæ juxta vos impoſſibilis eſt? [Scrutinium autem à Sacerdote ſit ſub diſcreta cujuſque ſtatui congrua prudentia. lb. pag. 485. Reſp. Bellam reſponſionem tuam! Siccine ergo confeſſionem veſtram noſtris accommodatis hypotheſibus? Præterea amor Dei ex toto corde, obedientia Evangelicis præceptis (conſilia enim vobis malis conſultoribus relinquimus) præſtanda, honoris Divini ſtudium &c. officia ſunt cuilibet hominum ſtatui communia, & quidem ad ſalutem neceſſaria omnibus. An hæc & ſimilia confeſſio veſtra ſciſcit? An Sacerdotum prudentiam harum rerum percontatio dedecet?

ecclesia publicam exomologesin in gravioribus peccatis. Cùmque in Ecclesia Græca publicæ Confessioni privata adjungeretur, quâ sacerdoti ἰχεμύθῳ liberè graviora crimina aperirentur, non diu duravit mos, sed à Nectario, teste Sozomeno, abrogatus est. Et abrogationem ratam habuit Chrysostomus, Nectarii successor, aliique Episcopi Orientales. In Ecclesia verò Latina secreta illa confessio ante tempora Concilii Lateranensis Innocentio III. Papa habiti (eo scilicet tempore quo extincta pietate & doctrina, sine delectu quidvis licentiæ Pastorum larvæ sibi sumpserunt;) pro necessaria ad salutem non est habita. Qui veteris Ecclesiæ de Confessione sententiam congnoscere avet, ex Forbesio Instruct. lib. XII. cap. 5. eam nullo negotio perdiscet. Plura etiam addemus infra in objectionis 7 solutione.

RESP. REDING: 1. Gratianus dist. 5. *de Panit. ejusmodi confessionis necessitatem agnoscit, ut qui eam negligit, tremendo Dei judicio separandus sit in æternum ignem. Licet autem ibidem Glossa dicat, confessionem institutam esse à quadam universalis Ecclesiæ traditione potiùs, quàm V. & N. inquit, apparet. Quæ verò ex Dist. 5. cap 1. Consideret, citas, non Gratiani verba sunt, sed nescio cujus, Authoris scilicet libri de vera & falsa pœnitentia suppositititi, quem Augustinum Glossator facit, Trithemio, Erasmo, Lovaniensibus & Parisiensibus editoribus id meritò negantibus. 2. Famosum Nectarii, Constantinopolitani Episcopi factum à Socrate Histor. Eccl. lib.V.19. & Sozomeno Histor.VII.16. narratum diversis interpretationibus obnoxium esse, non ignoro. Consulat de eo, cui lubet, Celeb. Dallæum *de Confess. lib.IV.*14. Quomodocunque autem explicetur, cladem opinioni vestræ affert. Si de abolitione confessionis privatæ, ne ipse quidem negare ausis. Si de abolitione publicæ, qua videlicet peccata Presbytero, Pœnitentiali judici pro tempore constituto, necessariò confitenda fuerint, ruit simul Innocentianæ vestræ confessionis privatæ necessitas, utpote cum qua omnia, quæ de facto illo Socrates & Sozomenus commemorant, pugnent. uti fusè Dallæus loc. cit. probavit. Vel solum Nectarii decretum Confessionem vestram configit, quem ait Socrates Eudæmonis consilio obsecutum πρεσβύτερόν τινα τῶν ἐπὶ μετανοίᾳ τεταγμένων, συγχωρῆσαι δὲ ἑκάστῳ τῇ ἰδίᾳ συνειδήσει τὴν μυστηρίων μετέχειν; Presbyterum pœnitentiarium sustulisse, & liberam dedisse potestatem, uti pro sua quisque conscientia ad mysteria participanda accederet. An sic quoque apud vos sit? 3. Chrysostomo turpiter imponis. Is enim de confessione loquitur; at non de auriculari, scrupulosa, necessaria, Sacramentali, & Sacerdotalis silentii sigillo obsignanda. Innumera ferè Chrysostomi loca, quibus asserit, sola apud Deum confessione peccata pœnitentibus remitti, afferri possent; & allata atque vindicata solidissimè ab eodem Dallæo *De Confess. Lib IV. cap.*25--33. sunt.

ARG. IX. Juris divini non esse secretam confessionem fatentur Nicolaus de Orbellis, Panormitanus, Felinus, Petrus Osmensis, alii. Scotus ad Sacramentum pœnitentiæ eam pertinere negat *in 4. RESP. REDING: Licet Scotus essentiam Sacramenti Panitentiæ ponat in absolutione, alibi tamen, præsertim dist 16 q 1. Ss. Hæc tria &c. ad integritatem Sacramenti Confessionem præviam requirit. Etiam Panormitanus & Felinus ejusdem necessitatem agnoscunt. Qua ergo fronte eos pro causa tua testes inducis? Ib. pag.485. Resp. De Scoti sententia supra. Confessionem agnoscit is dispositionem præviam ad pœnitentiam; at partem Sacramenti Divinitus institutam esse negat. Sic quoque Panormitanus, sic Felinus, sic plures alii quondam censuerunt. Possent etiam consentientes produci Goffridus, Lombardus, Gratianus, Thomas, Bonaventura, Antoninus, alii pertendentes, peccata contritis à Deo, etiam à nullo Sacerdote absolutis dimitti. Testimonia apud eundem Cl. Dallæum *loc. cit. cap.*43. consulas licet.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Christus è terris ascensurus ad cœlos Sacerdotes sui ipsius vicarios reliquit tanquam præsides & judices, ad quos omnia mortalia crimina deferantur, quò pro potestate clavium, remissionis aut retentionis eorum sententiam pronuntient, Joh.XX. 23. Matth.XVI.19. At Sacerdotes judicium hoc incognitâ causâ exercere, vel æquitatem in pœnis injungendis servare non possunt, si in genere duntaxat, & non in specie ac sigillatim ipsis peccata declarentur. Sunt verba Concilii cap.V. Idem argumentum urgent cùm alii, tum Aug. Reding pag.547.&c. Resp. 1. Ex judicio Sacerdotibus commisso sequi necessitatem auricularis confessionis, negant Canonistæ, & ex Scholasticis nonnulli, nominatim Biel, 4. Sent. dist.17.q.1. ubi ait, dari Apostolis potestatem judicandi, sed non imponi peccatoribus necessitatem confitendi. Additque, frequenter constitui partibus judicem arbitrarium, & tamen non imponi partibus necessitatem se submittendi. 2. Deus in causa sua nullum unquam hominem judicem constituit. Neque enim nudi homines corda & internos affectus hominum, in quibus propriè ratio & natura peccati posita est, nôrunt. 3. Proinde etiam potestas remittendi & retinendi peccata Matth.XVI. & Joh.XX. ecclesiæ ministris

Ad exercitium hujus poteſtatis merè ὑπερχυρὸν particularis illa confeſſio minimè requiritur. Sufficit generalis confeſſio facta Eccleſiæ, vel ea, quæ ſoli uníque Deo fit. Apoſtoli optimi poteſtatis ſibi & eccleſiæ collatæ interpretes, nuſpiam ſecretam & ſpecialem ejuſmodi confeſſionem peccatorum à pœnitentibus exegiſſe leguntur. 5. tus loquitur, secuti primum suum interpretem omnes dicunt, confessionem tantùm esse introductam jure Ecclesiastico. Si igitur, consentientibus iis, jure Ecclesiastico, non Divino scripto Confessionis auricularis necessitas introducta est, annon ex eorum mente imbelle erit argumentum ex potestate remittendi peccata Sacerdotibus, Joh. XX. 23. commissa petitum? Si enim ex eorum mente argumentum validum est, jam non Ecclesiastico, sed Divino scripto jure Confessio nitetur, quod pernegant illi. Utinam ingenuè ageres! 2. An arbitrium omne judicium propriè dictum est? Et si Sacerdotibus arbitrium remittendi peccata commisit, an etiam judicium? Et tamen nec arbitrium, nec judicium pro ratione æquitatis, uti tu loqueris, sed potestatem merè ministerialem, non ex arbitrio & ratione æquitatis liberè definita, sed ex indubitabili lege verbi Divini declarandi, quorum peccata remittantur, quorum retineantur, Apostolis & universis Ecclesiæ Ministris Christus commisit. Non igitur in causa sua judicem hominem Deus constituit, vel ob solam rationem à me allatam, quam tu ne attingis quidem. 3. Cur in rebus fidei, quæ uni solique revelationi Divinæ obstringitur, à testimonio Divino negativo æquè atque affirmativo argumentari fas sit, causam sæpe diximus. Credendum est id unicè, quod Deus dixit. Quod igitur non dixit, seu dixisse non comperitur documentis certissimis, credendum non est. 4. Theologos veteres fasces suos Tridentinis Paterculis submissuros fuisse, unde tibi constat? Rectiora forte & saniora suasuri, & oculos ad plenam lucem veritatis ex verbo Dei patefactam aperturi fuerant. Neque nos tam authoritate Theologorum illorum, quàm rationibus, quatenus illæ verbi Divini testimoniis suffultæ sunt, innitimur. 5. Olim certè absolutio & remissio publica sola in usu fuit. Si quæ ejus reliquiæ apud vos supersunt, uti quidem formulas extare in Pontificali & Rituali vestro inficiari non audes, vel vera illa absolutio non est, vel non sola gratiæ auxilia, quibus homines ad actus pœnitentiæ, quibus mediantibus peccatorum remissio demum impetretur, excitentur, confert.

OBIECT. II. Confessionis secretæ typi varii præcesserunt in V.T. Ita Deus exegit confessionem ab Adamo, Eva, Caino, Genes. III. IV. Etiam Num. V. 6. divinitus mandatur peccatorum confessio. Resp. 1. Typos hos fuisse secretæ confessionis fingitur, non probatur. 2. Protoplastorum confessio non facta est in aures hominis, sed Dei. Caini verò confessio cum desperatione conjuncta fuit. 3. Confessio Israëlitarum facienda sacerdoti non fuit typus auricularis illius, sed necessaria erat ad typicam expiationem per sacrificia pro particularibus delictis. Sicut in N. T. unâ oblatione consummantur omnes qui sanctificantur, Hebr. X. 14. adeóque non ampliùs distinctæ hostiæ, vel humana expiatio requiritur: ita nec specialis ejusmodi confessio uni sacerdoti aperienda ampliùs necessaria est.

EXCIP. REDING: Licet Caini confessio cum desperatione conjuncta fuerit, Deus tamen eam exegit cum spe veniæ, & contritione perfecta, à qua per propriam culpam Cain excidit. 2. In statu quoque Evangelicæ legis Sacerdotibus facienda est confessio particularis, quia iis Deus Joh. XX. judicium peccata remittendi commisit. lb. pag. 489. Resp. 1. auricularis veſtræ confeſſionis exemplum eſt. Quo ergo jure eam demum ex Joh.XX. arceſſitis? Sed quicquid ſit, non Sacerdoti, non Angelo Dei facta eſt & Adami & Cain confeſſio. Nam יהוה Jehova, Adamum citavit verbis, Ubi es? Et cætera, quæ dicuntur, eidem Domino tribuuntur, Geneſ III 9. &c. Denique idem יהוה Jehova cum Caino collocutus ib. cap.IV. 6. &c. ſcribitur. Et annon omnes confeſſores veſtri, utpote pœnitentes, abſolvuntur? 2. De loco Joh.XX. abundè ſupra.

OBIECT. III. Baptizati à Johanne dicuntur ἐξομολογούμενοι τὰς ἁμαρτίας αὐτῶν, confeſſi peccata ſua, Matth.III.6. Reſp. 1. Confeſſio illa præceſſit baptiſmum, proinde diverſi generis fuit. 2. Neque etiam in ea facta ſpecialis peccatorum enumeratio. Nam ad Johannem exiviſſe dicitur tota Hieroſolyma & omnis Judæa, & omnis regio Jordanea v. 5. Hi omnes ſi peccata ſua eorúmque circumſtantias in aures Johannis ingerere debuerunt, vix totum ejus miniſterium occupationi par fuit.

EXCIP. REDING: Miniſterium iſthoc Johannis nec uno die, nec uno menſe peractum eſt. Ib. pag.489.490. Reſp. Cùm in eremo prædicaret Baptiſta, tùm tum ad eum Hieroſolyma, tota Judæa & circumjacens regio ad eum exiviſſe, baptizata & confeſſa dicitur. Exiguum planè miniſterii ejus tempus indigetatur, quo tot hominum tot peccata confeſſa audire, & hiſtrioniam veſtræ ſimilem peragere neutiquam potuiſſet. Et quicquid ſit, maner, baptizandos, non baptizatos confeſſos eſſe non peccata ſingula, ſed ἁμαρτίας peccata, in genere. Qui ſe multa ac magna peccata admiſiſſe in genere dicit, is non minùs ſua peccata confitetur, quàm qui ea ſigillatim recenſet. Imò ſi rem bene putemus, ſingularis peccatorum enumeratio nihil ad confeſſionem facit. Confiteri enim eſt ſimpliciter non negare, ſed agnoſcere, id verum eſſe, quod objicitur. Peccata ſigillatim exponere potiùs eſt ea enumerare, ac narrare quàm confiteri. Nemo, credo, dixerit, Danielem cap.IX.5.6. dicentem: Peccavimus, iniquitatem fecimus, impiè egimus &c. ſua & Populi peccata non confeſſum eſſe, licet ſingula non recenſuerit.

OBIECT. IV. *Hiſtoria Apoſtolica teſtatur, Act.XIX.*18 credentes confeſſos eſſe, & renuntiâſſe τὰς πράξεις αὐτῶν, actus ſuos. Ubi ſpecialem enumerationem intelligi, arguit tum articulus τὰς, tum verbum ἀναγγέλλειν annuntiare. Reſp.1. Non deſunt, qui τὰς πράξεις interpretentur non de peccatis, ſed de miraculis per fideles patratis. Ita Chryſoſtomus *homil.*41.in Acta. 2. Sed fuerit ea confeſſio peccatorum. At ante, non poſt baptiſmum illam factam eſſe, adeóque minimè hypotheſi adverſariorum patrocinari, Petrus Lintrenſis & Lorinus Jeſuita fatentur, probántque evidentibus argumentis, qualia ſunt, quòd ſeries narrationis à verſu 11. ad 20. id evincat: quòd ſimiles ἐξομολογούμενοι fuerint etiam ante baptiſmum Johannis, Matth.III.6. quòd veteris Eccleſiæ doctores, nominatim Baſilius, Euſebius, Auguſtinus, Beda, Arator, de nondum baptizatis id explicaverint: quòd nullus Theologorum veterum, ac ne Tridentinum quidem Concilium hoc loco ad probandam ſacramentalem confeſſionem uſum fuerit: quòd ita ſentiant etiam Cajetanus, Michaël à Palatio, Andreas Vega: denique quòd veriſimile haud ſit, Chriſtianos Neophytos tam citò poſt baptiſmum ſuum, Paulo cum ſociis adhuc præſente, & quotidie concionante, rediiſſe ad peccata priſtina, & inter ea ad artes Magicas, ac libros ſibi magicos parâſſe, eósque legiſſe. 3. Fuerit ergò ea confeſſio poſterior baptiſmo, reſpondebit adhuc pro nobis Cajetanus ad h.l. deſcribi confitentes facta ſua in genere, aut publicè, neque fuiſſe confeſſionem ſacramentalem, ſed profeſſionem pœnitentiæ vitæ præteritæ. 4. Quòd ſi etiam confeſſi ſunt ſpecialia quædam, non tamen vel ſacerdoti cuipiam judici ea demurmurârunt in aures, vel ſingula peccata unâ cum circumſtantiis, ſed atrociora illa, ſive τὰ ἀφλέγματα, de quibus agitur v. 19.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Chryſoſtomus confeſſos eſſe peccata ſua, habet. Et ſanè miracula non hominum, ſed Dei actus ſunt. 2. Licet probabilis ſit ſententia aſſerentium, confeſſionem illam non fuiſſe Sacramentalem, probabilior tamen eſt contraria, quia confitentes illi vocantur πεπιστευκότες, credentes, vel, qui crediderant; quod nomen proprium olim fuit Chriſtianorum; inprimis cùm dicantur credidiſſe, in præterito; adeóque conſequenter baptizati intelliguntur. Et potuerunt tales libros magicos retinere, ſicut hodiéque apud frigidos, ſegnes & rudes Catholicos libri ſuperſtitioſi, magici & hæretici reperiuntur. 3. Licet textus ille ſolitariè acceptus non probet Sacramentum confeſſionis, conjunctus tamen cum Joh. XX. probat. Ib. pag. 490. 491. Reſp. 1. Chryſoſtomum non inſpexiſti. Nam is ἀναμφίλεκτον πράξεις peccatorum ibi ne verbo quidem meminit, nedum πράξεις peccata fuiſſe, aſſerit. Et ſanè ἀναφανδὸν πράξεις renuntiare, prædicare actus ſuos non eſt confiteri peccata, quia confitens peccata non prædicat peccata, ſed deteſtatur potiùs. Sic ergo ἐξομολόγησις confeſſio ad Dei laudem, Divinæque miſericordiæ agnitionem referenda fuerit. Et πράξεις ἀυτῶν actus eorum miracula vocari poſſunt, quia Deus dedit fieri ſigna & prodigia διὰ τῶν χειρῶν ἀυτῶν per manus eorum, uti de Pauli & Barnabæ miraculis idem Scriptor S. Lucas Act. XIV. 3. loquitur. 2. Argumentis Jeſuitarum veſtrorum à me relatis cur nil reſpondes? Nam quod de frigidis Catholicis veſtris ingenuè ſatis, & verè nimis fateris, non quadrat primis illis Chriſtianis πιστεύσασι credentibus, quorum ferventior zelus fuit, quàm ut in frigidorum & medium Catholicorum veſtrorum tribum ſe compingi patiantur. Neque ullum in nomine πιστεύσασι præſidium habes. Tales enim eſſe poſſunt & baptizati, & nondum baptizati, ſed baptizandi, ſive vox illa in præſenti, ſive in præterito accipiatur. Adulti enim, niſi priùs crediderint, non baptizantur. Et aliud eſt πιστεύσας, aliud πεπιστευκότες. Illud non rarò nominaſcit, & pro fidelibus baptizatis accipitur. Hoc verò, ceu participium præteriti temporis activum, nunquam nominaſcit, ſed actionem neceſſariò ſignificat. Perperam autem vulgatus veſter reddidit credentes, cùm non πιστεύσαντες, ſed πεπιστευκότες in textu dicantur. Quod Syrus optimè ſic reddidit: Plurimi מן אילין דהימנו de illis crediderunt. Et Arabs: וכתירון מן אלדין אמנו Et plurimi ex his, qui crediderunt. Neque aliter Interpres Æthiopicus, Ad Cajetanã

Alias etiam confitebitur bonos; & actus exteriores duntaxat, cùm πράξεις interiores neutiquam notent. 3. Si textus ſolitariè acceptus nihil probat, uti tu abjecta veluti haſta fateris, omittite ergo impoſterum imbelle vel tuo ipſius judicio argumentum. Nam locum Joh. XX. nil juvare, manifeſtum fecimus. Sicut in poſteriori membro mutua precationum auxilia: ita in priori mutua confeſſio, proinde non ſecreta illa injungitur. Eadem eſt ſententia Eraſmi & gloſſæ interlinearis. nes non peccata, ſed peccatum nominat. Sic enim ſcribit: Si dixerimus, quòd ἁμαρτίαν peccatum non habeamus. Atque id v. 10. ſic explicat: Si dixerimus, ὅτι οὐκ ἡμαρτήκαμεν, quòd non peccaverimus; hoc eſt, peccatum nullum admiſerimus. Antitheſin ponit, ὁμολογῶν τὰς ἁμαρτίας, peccata confiteri. Sicut ergo dicere, quòd non peccaverimus, eſt in genere negare peccatum, vel, quòd peccator aliquis ſit; non negare ſigillatim peccata: ſic confiteri peccata eſt in genere non negare peccata, quòd peccator aliquis ſit, adéoque agnoſcere, ſe peccatum habere, idque ex animo apud Deum profiteri, non ſigillatim peccata confiteri. Ita peccata ſua confitebatur publicanus, qui à longè ſtans, ac ne oculos quidem attollere auſus, percutiebat pectus ſuum, dicens: Deus propitius eſto mihi peccatori. Peccatum verò habere ſe negabat ſuperbus ille Phariſæus, qui apud Deum ſua jejunia, decimas, velut præclarâ quædam ἀυτοδικαιώματα, jactabat, Luc. Et eſt ſermo de confeſſione ſive interna, ſive externa, qua homo recognoſcit, ſe habere peccatum.* 2. Lombardo teſte hoc unum probo, quòd ejus ætate non defuerint Canoniſtæ, agnoſcentes, quòd remitti peccatum à Deo, ſine Sacerdotali judicio & confeſſione Eccleſiæ facienda, poſſit. An tu id inficiari audes? Non auſurus certè, ſi Lombardum legiſſes. Is enim lib. IV. Sent. diſt. 17. propoſita hac quæſtione: Utrum ſufficiat peccata confiteri ſoli Deo, an oporteat confiteri Sacerdoti, hæc ſtatim ſubjicit: Quibusdam viſum eſt, ſufficere, ſi ſoli Deo fiat confeſſio ſine Sacerdotali judicio & confeſſione Eccleſiæ. Mox iſtorum fundamenta ex Scriptura & Patribus exponit: Tum, His, inquit, auctoritatibus innituntur, qui ſufficere contendunt, Deo confiteri peccata ſine Sacerdote. Dicunt enim, quòd ſi quis timens detegere culpam ſuam apud homines, ne inde opprobrio habeatur, vel alii ſuo exemplo ad peccandum accingantur, & ideo tacet homines, & revelat Deo, conſequitur veniam. Ipſe quidem diverſam opinionem, id eſt, errorem ſequitur, & conatur objectis rationibus ſatisfacere, aliáſque pro ſuo dogmate futiles & fluxas opponit. Vetustissimi Patres confessionem commendant,non auriculærem illam, scrupulosam, sacramentalem, & sacerdotalis silentii sigillo obsignandam, sed publicam exomologesin coram universo Ecclesiæ cœtu edendam. Fatentur B.Rhenanus Præfat in Tertull.de pœnit. Polydorus Vergilius lib.VI. de rer.invent.cap.1. quorum testimonia ungues Expurgatorii dispunxerunt. Ne verò petulantibus deriforum linguis temerè exponerentur fratres, visum est permittere sacerdotis judicio, an ea culpa, quam ei feorsim quisquam esset confessus, publicari deberet,ad accipiendam publicam medelam,& ad cæterorum ædificationem. Atque adeò privata hæc prorsus erat libera,& ad publicam gradus. Ideo autem tantopere confessionem urgebant Episcopi Occidentales præsertim,non quasi eam de jure divino necessariam existimarent,sed ut esset pœnitentiæ adjutorium, uti ex Tertulliano liquet. Cumque privata illa pœnitentia aditum faciens ad publicam,abusum post se traheret,Nectarius,cum que secuti omnes Orientis Episcopi abrogarunt, testibus Socrate lib.V. 19.& Sozomeno lib.VII.16.qui ipsi Historici originem instituti pœnitentiarii Presbyteri & confessionis ei faciendæ referunt ad Episcopos illos,qui post Decianam persecutionem vivebant,qui τὰ κλῖνα ἐξομολογοῦντο(ita vocat Socrates)additamentum hoc veteri Canoni seu regulæ adjiciendum pro tempore censuerint, quò lapsos in ea persecutione facilius averterent à schismate Novatianorum, apud quos pœnitentiæ publicæ nullus usus erat. Nectarii judicium prolixè comprobavit Chrysostomus homil.4.in Lazarum. Qui hoc cum judicio applicaverit omnibus, quæ allegantur, Patrum dictis, nullo negotio genuinum eorum sensum deprehenderit. Confessionem auricularem, scrupulosam illam & sacramentalem,quâ Sacerdoti judici ac sedentario,& soli quidem peccata mortalia, eorúmque circumstantiæ revelentur & enumerentur, ex divini juris necessitate,ne in mentem quidem, certè non in calamum ulli vetustiorum veniſſe, intrepidè affirmamus. 3. Ne tamen nos vadimonium deferere quiritetur vicinus Abbas, paucis defungar. Dionysium Areopagitam ex primo in IV.vel V. Seculum rejiciendum, eruditi invictis argumentis docuerunt. Sed non agit S. ille Pater de omnibus peccatis,ſed de idololatria vel perpetrata vel cogitata: non poſtulat recitationem ſcrupuloſam,ejus confeſſionis neceſſitatem ex divino jure non urget. Lactantius Inſtit. IV.17. Confeſſionem commendat,non quæ hominibus,ſed quæ Deo ſit. Si peccata, inquit, confeſſi, ſatis Deo fecerimus. Confeſſio ipſi ſatisfactio eſt. lib. II.

lib. II. Observat. 26. fusissimè probat, nihil vel Tertullianum, vel Patres alios exomologesin memorantes auriculari confessioni patrocinari. Publica illa & generalis confessio nihil aliud erat, quàm signis quibusdam & pianiminibus ab Episcopo indictis, se peccatorum & bonorum communione indignum agnoscere, inquit etiam Erasmus Schol. in Epist. Hieron. ad Ocean. Neque id etiam Petavius Jesuita diffiteri potuit suis ad Epiphanium notis. Actus aliquo administrari non confessionem, sed pœnitentiam dixit. Is actus, sic ipsemet definit, qui magis Græco vocabulo exprimitur, & frequentatur, exomologesis est, qua delictum Domino nostrum confitemur. Ergo finitore ipso, exomologesis non nuda est delictorum enumeratio, sed actus exterior flendi, gemendi, & similia præstandi, quo deliquisse nos in Dominum fatemur; & quo secunda pœnitentia uti idem explicat, administratur. Secunda autem pœnitentia juxta eundem una erat, cum confessio vestra omni mense & hebdomada frequentari possit. Denique pœnitentem ait idem presbyteris advolvi, & caris Dei adgeniculari. Eodem modo presbyteris & caris Dei. Ecclesia, inquit, Christus. Ergo cùm te ad fratrum genua protendis, Christum contrectas, Christum exoscularis. Atque illi cùm super te lachrymas agunt, Christus patitur, Christus patrem deprecatur. Aliter ad Presbyterorum, aliter ad fratrum & Ecclesiæ totius genua pœnitentem procumbere, Tertullianus neutiquam dicit. Tu discrimen aliquod fingis, non probas. 3. Neque etiam propitium habetis Origenem, quicquid ei Tu affingas. Ille enim homil. 2. in Psal. (non 47. sed) 37. (cujus homiliæ γνησιότητα in dubium vocari ipse Bellarminus non dissimulat) nec Sacerdoti peccata confitenda esse pertendit, sed circumspiciendum esse medicum, apud quem semet ipsum accuset: nec necessariò, nec omnia peccata, confiteri jubet, cùm apud veteres non alia peccata fideles Ministris Ecclesiæ confiteri debuerint, quàm ea, quibus ex canonibus publica pœnitentia constituta erat; nec denique clanculum in aures Sacerdotis ingeri, absolutionis ergò, sed ut constet, quæ per exomologesin publicari debeant, mandat. Quid hæc omnia ad vestræ confessionis mysterium? Idem homil. 2. in Levit. præter Baptismum & confessionem Sacerdoti factam quinque alias rationes commemorat, quibus peccatorum remissio à Domino obtineatur. Non ergo, ut alia taceam, putavit, sine vocali confessione apud Sacerdotem nullius peccati remissionem haberi posse. Et an hodiéque eo fine confessio apud vos editur, ut decernat Sacerdos, quæ peccata publicanda sint? Nihil profectò minùs. Nota enim est sigilli religio. 4. Cypriano memorata exolomogesis, & disciplinæ ordo nihil planè privatæ & arcanæ disciplinæ vestræ patrocinatur. Utramque enim publicam intelligi, more disciplinæ tum temporis recepto, liquet. Neque tu contrarium probas. 5. Lactantius loc. cit. cum Novatianis disputans, non aliud intelligit, quàm quod apud istos deerat; nimirum spem veniæ lapsis propositam, certámque confessionem ac pœnitentiæ ordinem pœnitentibus definitum, quò ad communionem recuperandam decurrerent. Quis verò ille pœnitendi & confitendi ordo fuerit, non definit. Neque sanè quævis confessio exterior auricularis vestra est. 6. Infirma quoque tua ex Hilario ratiocinatio est. An enim quæ vel Deo soli, vel Ecclesiæ publicè confitetur, ad solutionem Sacramento, & quidem nuspiam instituto indiget? Neque aliud Hilarius dicit, quàm id ipsum, quod extat in Evangelio, ligata nimirum & soluta fore in Cœlo, quæ Apostoli in terra ligaverint solverintque. Inde autem auricularem confessionem non confici, supra ostendimus. 7. Basilius loc. cit. ne quidem confessionis meminit. ἐξαγόρευσιν, non ἐξομολόγησιν memorat. Ea verò peccatorum ἐξαγόρευσις revelatio non tam ad reatum, quàm ad habitum peccati tollendum, juxta ipsum, pertinet. quod tum ex medicorum similitu-dine ab ipſo allata, tum ex Pauli loco citato liquet. Neque definit, omnibus Chriſtianis neceſſariò incumbere, ut peccata ſua quævis medico cuipiam enuntient. 8. Ambroſio quis unquam negavit, Sacerdotibus, ſeu Miniſtris Chriſti poteſtatem remittendorum peccatorum conceſſam eſſe? Quis delictum fatendum eſſe, ſaltem Deo, ad juſtificationem impetrandam, negat? Næ ſiculneis rationibus ubique pugnas. 9. Nyſſenus non quemvis fidelem, ſed eum, cui exomologeſi publica ex ævi illius canonibus opus erat, alloquitur. Quid hoc ad confeſſionis veſtræ ſecretæ commentum? 10. Hieronymum turpiter pervertis. Ille enim Sacerdotem Leviticum & Epiſcopum diſertè æquiparat. Quomodo, inquit, ibi leproſum Sacerdos mundum vel immundum facit; ſic & hic alligat vel ſolvit Epiſcopus. Supra autem dixerat, apud Deum non ſententiam Sacerdotum, ſed reorum vitam quæri. Quæ lethalem plagam prætoriæ Sacerdotum veſtrorum authoritati infligunt. De cætero omnium fidelium officium eſſe, ut morbos quoſvis medico Sacerdoti revelent, non dixit Hieronymus. Si quis laborat, ſine Medici cura convaleſcere poteſt, nihil eum, ut medico ſua mala denudet, coget. Verba verò illa, Secunda poſt naufragium tabula eſt, culpam ſimpliciter confiteri, perverſiſſimè ad auricularem Confeſſionem detorques, cùm palam ſit, Hieronymum ibi de impii dogmatis, ſi quod ſecutus ſis, ejeratione loqui. 12. Chryſoſtomi ſententiam ſupra diſcuſſimus. 13. Auguſtinum homil. 50. non quoſvis fideles, ſed ſolos adulteros alloqui, manifeſtum eſt. Neque confeſſionis, qua ſcilicet peccata ſingula enumerantur, meminit ullo apice, ſed ſolius pœnitentiæ & quidem publicæ. Clara ſunt verba: Agite pœnitentiam, qualis agitur in Eccleſia, ut oret pro vobis Eccleſia. Imò pœnitentiam in occulto, qualis veſtra eſt, prorſus Auguſtin - repudiat; atque ſic pœnitentes fruſtrari Evangelium & verba Chriſti aſſerit. Denique idem Confeſſ. lib. X. 2. de ſe jam converſo & baptizato manifeſtè loquitur.

OBIECT. VIII. Publica confeſſio etſi prohibita non eſt, tamen nec divino præcepto mandata eſt. Nec ſatis conſultò humana aliqua lege præciperetur, ut delicta ſecreta publicâ confeſſione aperiantur. Ita Concilium Cap. V. Reſp. 1. Confeſſionem publicam omnium etiam ſecretorum peccatorum neceſſariam eſſe, eccleſia Orthodoxa nunquam aſſeruit, quæ ſolam illam, quæ Deo fit, abſolutè neceſſariam ſtatuit. 2. Alia ratio eſt peccatorum publicè comiſſorum, aut certè publicè cognitorum. Hæc qui publicè arguunt, & eorum confeſſionem publicam qui poſtulant, non abludunt à praxi Apoſtolorum 2. Cor. II. 6. Quanquam id Eccleſiarum prudentiæ & libertati relinquimus. qui noverimus, poteſtatem ipſi conceſſam exercendam eſſe ad ædificationem, non deſtructionem. 3. Quin ipſo in Concilio, teſte Hiſtorico lib. IV. p. 316. Theologi Colonienſes petierunt, ut pœnitentia publica reſtituatur, quippe quam adeò frequenter memorant Patres, Cyprianus inprimis & Gregorius Papa, quorum hic in Epiſtolis jure divino neceſſariam aſſerat. Addebant, niſi in uſum revocetur, ſperandum non eſſe, ut eccleſia liberetur à ſcelerum manifeſtis.

QUÆSTIO VIII.

An dentur satisfactiones humanæ vel sponte susceptæ, vel à Deo aut Sacerdote injunctæ, quibus peccata redimi possint?

AFfirmat Synodus Cap. VIII. & Canone XIII. & XIV. Nos de satisfactione pro peccatis ita statuimus. Peccator post peccatum admissum, maximè si publicum & notorium fuerit, quadruplex potissimùm forum sortitur, Divinum, Politicum, Ecclesiasticum, denique Privatum. Potest enim per peccatum lædi Deus, Magistratus, Ecclesia, deniq; proximus noster, qui singuli non aliter, quàm interpositâ idoneâ satisfactione peccatori reconciliantur. Politico Magistratui satisfit toleratis forensibus pœnis. Proximus reconciliatur pœnitentiâ, deprecatione, & si qua alia est ejusmodi mutua transactio. Ecclesiæ pro scandalo & opprobrio satisfieri potest per Canonicas pœnas, quas satisfactiones veteres appellavére. Erat autem duplex Canonica satisfactio, pœnalis altera, quæ imponebatur contumacibus, quibus resipiscere nesciis ad extremum anathema dictum; altera medicinalis, quæ pœnitentibus veniam & reconciliationem petentibus injungebatur. De gradibus illorum Τιμωριῶν, καὶ τιμωριῶν pœnarum & castigationum, uti vocabant, cùm alii scriptores Ecclesiastici agunt, tum compendiosè Casaubonus Exercit XVI. Sect. 43. & Forbesius Instruct. Histor. lib. XII. cap. VI. Deo satisfit per pœnas, quas peccatori in verbo suo comminatus est, vel ab ipso peccatore, vel ab idoneo & acceptabili sponsore, qualis Christus est, ἔγγυος & vas noster, exantlatas. Est autem ea ratio quadruplicis hujus fori, ut quod in uno transigitur, alteri neutiquam præjudicet. Agnoscimus autem, Magistratum, proximum, Ecclesiam à peccatore satisfactionem jure expetere. Atque sic etiam verbi Dei Ministri peccatoribus satisfactiones injungere possunt, & in eo exercent potestatem clavium. Sed Synodus in ejusmodi satisfactionibus minimè acquiescit. Sic enim sentit, peccatorem ARG. II. Satisfactio Christi habet infinitam perfectionem & valorem. Adeóque per eam à Deo judice peccatum commissum, & debita peccato pœna ad justam ἰσότητα seu æqualitatem reduci possunt. Quo posito, si Deus aliam satisfactionem postulat, excedit justitiam, & ad immanitatem præcipitat. Hoc autem tam est à Deo alienum, ut Scriptura magis justitiam Dei commendet bonitate & misericordiâ temperatam, quàm severitate & immanitate contaminatam.

RESP. REDING: Habet quidem satisfactio Christi infinitum valorem; ac proin per eam debita peccato pœna ad justam æqualitatem reduci omnino potest. Nam cuilibet Christi, etiam humanitatis ejus operi morali propter suam ex infinita Christi persona dignificationem, nem, ineſt valor infinitus, per quem à Deo judice peccatum, eique debita pœna ad æqualitatem reduci poteſt. Cur ergo non per primam ſanguinis Chriſti effuſionem in circumciſione factam, imò per primum actum moralem Chriſti, in primo conceptionis inſtanti elicitum Deus peccatum, eique debitam pœnam ad æqualitatem reduxit? Nempe potuit, ſed non voluit. 2. Satisfactionem Chriſti ad remiſſionem peccatorum in homine adulto applicari debere dependenter à fidei noſtræ actu, ipſi vos perſenditis. Nos addimus; applicari etiam per pœnitentiam, cujus pars eſt ſatisfactio, ſeu pœna temporalis. Ib. pag. 503-507. Reſp. 1. Quædam ſatis incautè pronuntias. quale eſt illud de infinito valore actuum moralium humanitatis Chriſti. Etenim infinitus eſt valor actuum perſonæ Chriſti, ſeu actionum Theandricarum, non actuum humanitatis moralium ſeorſim ſpectatorum. Neque in ordine ad remiſſionem peccatorum quivis actus morales humanitatis Chriſti æquè validi ſunt, ſed ex obnuntiatione Divina requirebatur exinanitio ejus ad mortem uſque crucis, tum propter juſtitiam Dei, quæ peccatum nonniſi morte expiari patitur, Rom. I 32. tum propter veracitatem ejuſdem, mortem peccato comminati, Geneſ. II. 17. Rom. VI. 23. Neque exinanitio iſthæc valorem aliunde, quàm ab unita Divinitate, ſeu indiſſolubilis vitæ potentia, Hebr. VII. 16. habet. Futilis ergo tua omnis ratiocinatio eſt. Juſtitia enim & veracitas Dei nec quemvis actum moralem humanitatis Chriſti, nec quamvis effuſionem ſanguinis, qualis in circumciſione obtinuit, ſed mortem θανατοῦσθαι efflagitavit. Non aliter peccatum, eique debita pœna ad æqualitatem reduci potuit. Non aliter Deus reduci voluit. Et poſtquam ſic reduxit, aliam ſatisfactionem homini jam punito & expiato in Chriſto juſtè & ſanctè imponere non potuit. 2. Fide applicari meritum Chriſti, Scriptura Joh. I. 12. Rom. III. 28. IV. 3. 4. &c. docet. Merito novæ ſatisfactionis humanæ applicari, nuſpiam docet. Satisfactio enim nova præſtanda remiſſionem culpæ & pœnæ omnimodè factam non eſſe, arguit. Quomodo igitur applicaret id, quod non eſt? Applicatio quippe ad rem applicandam refertur. Neque Deus contrarium per contrarium applicat, puta remiſſionem peccatorum per pœnam, hoc eſt, lucem per tenebras, ſalutarem medicinam per propinationem veneni. Modi quoque, per quos Chriſti beneficium nobis applicatur, diſcendi ſunt à Scriptura, non hauriendi ex humano cerebro, cui ſumma mentiendi libido ineſt; neque tales eſſe debent, ut perfectioni meriti Chriſti derogent.

ARG. III. Satisfactionum propriarum neceſſitas mutat ſtatum Eccleſiæ N. T. In Veteri quidem Teſtamento fuerunt ſatisfactiones impropriè tales, legales victimæ, venientes nomine כפר, quæ non tollebant, ſed indicabant reatum, & Chriſtum præfigurabant. Quod autem typicum fuit in N. T. ceſſare debet.

RESP. REDING: Etiam in V. T. ſic ſubſtiterunt typi, ut tamen Chriſti gratia, atque adeò N. T efficacia per anticipatam meritorum Chriſti acceptationem ibidem viguerit. Ib. pag. 507 Reſp. Quis hoc negat? Sed tu vim argumenti non attingis. Typica ſatisfactio veræ ſatisfactioni Chriſti cedit, ſicut umbra corpori. Neque vera ſatisfactio typicæ reſpondens, alia eſt quàm Chriſti, quem ſolum Deus fecit כפר ἁμαρτίαν peccatum, ſeu piamentum, ſatisfactionem pro peccato, Iſaj. LIII. 10. 2. Cor. V. 21.

ARG. IV. Sic potentior esset reatus Adami ad nos servituti pœnæ tum æternæ,tum temporalis subigendum, quàm obedientia Christi,ad nos ab omni maledictione liberandum, quod Apostolus Rom.V.15. negat.

RESP. REDING : Mortis quidem Christi valor infinitus est ; adeóque ad remissionem peccatorum omnium condignus. Sed non operatur hunc effectum,nisi applicetur fidei & contritionis operatione. Ib. pag.507.508. Resp. Nescio quomodo infinitum valorem meriti Christi,efficientiæ saltem respectu,agnoscas,cùm remissa per Christum culpa & pœna æterna,remanere temporalem, propria satisfactione piandam, pertendas. Quomodo verò applicabitur remissio pœnæ temporalis per Christum , quam nullam agnoscis? Et sanè satisfactio nova non magis ad satisfactionem Christi,quæcunque illa est , applicandam,quàm nova mors,redemptio, resurrectio ad mortem,redemptionem, resurrectionem Christi applicandam requiritur.

ARG. V. Inter nostram satisfactionem, & Divinam quamlibet offensam est infinita distantia. Hanc distantiam solius meriti Christi infinita dignitas explere potest. Cum quo inæstimabili mortis Christi pretio si quis conjungere ac comparare velit passiones,jejunia,eleemosynas,labores Sanctorum,absurdior erit , quàm si solis meridiani lucem candela,mare gutta augere,thesauris Crœsi teruncium addere,regiæ togæ mendici veteramentum assuere vellet. In his enim omnibus est proportio aliqua. At inter Christi infinitam satisfactionem & finita opera nostra nulla est proportio.

RESP. REDING : 1. Quæstio nostra est de satisfactione pro pœna temporali , non pro offensa Divina. Inter offensam Divinam & satisfactionem est infinita distantia,quam solus Christus emetiri potuit. At veniale peccatum non subit strictam offensæ Divinæ rationem, adeóque nec pœnam infinitam exigit. 2. Sicut Deus , ceu prima causa, licet ex se potens sit ad quævis creatas substantias producendas, tamen causis secundis utitur, & cum iis influxum suum in ordine ad effectus ejusmodi producendos conjungit : ita satisfactio Christi per satisfactionem humanam , licet inferioris longè gradus, applicari potest. Ib. pag.508. 509. Resp. 1. Qua ratione pœnam temporalem ab offensa Divina sic disparatis,ipse videris. Deus enim nisi offentus nullam pœnam injungit , qua bonitate & justitia est. Offenditur autem quocunque peccato,quia peccati cujusvis essentia in transgressione legis Divinæ, & aberratione ab ultimo fine consistit. Venialis, seu potiùs venalis (nam propter quæstum distinctio hæc inventa est) peccati commentum mittimus. 2. Frustra subordinationem satisfactionum & meritorum , qualis in generatione causæ primæ & secundarum est,oggeris. Satisfacere enim pro peccato nemo mortalium potest. Requiritur redemptionis pretium , quod infiniti valoris est. Frater fratrem redimere non potest,neque Deo pretium redemptionis persolvere. Carum nimis illud est, & cessabit in æternum , Psal.XLIX.§ 9. Christus torcular calcavit solus , Esaj.LXIII.3. Neque in alio quoquam est salus , Act.IV.11. Cedit ergo in summam Christi contumeliam tam disparium satisfactionum conjunctio,non secus ac si quis gemmas carbonibus sociaret,aut contra legem Mosis bovem cum asino ad aratrum adjungeret. Neque subordinationem ejusmodi ARG. VI. Quicquid facimus, illud debendi rei ſumus ob gratiam tum redemptionis, tum ſatisfactionis. Ergo opera noſtra titulum ſatisfactionum ſuſtinere non poſſunt. Opus enim debitum non ſatisfacit pro alio debito. Tum id ipſum, quod facimus, à gratia eſt.

RESP. REDING: 1. Sic ne Chriſti quidem ſatisfactio veri nominis ſatisfactio erit, quia ipſe quoque ex debitis, creationis ſcilicet titulo, & gratia Dei, ſatisfecit. 2. Homo juſtus per actus ſupernaturales ex forma ſanctificante dignificatos ſatisfactionis condignitatem ponere poteſt; licet ſatisfactio talis ad rigorem juſtitiæ non pertingat. Ib. pag. 509. 511. Reſp. 1. Cùm ſatisfactio Chriſti ſit ἀνθρωπίνη, ſeu opus perſonæ utraque natura conſtantis, ineptiſſimè eam ex debito ſatisfacientis & gratia acceptantis arceſſis. An enim ſecundùm Divinam ſaltem naturam Chriſtus cuiquam debitor eſt, vel ex gratia aliquid accipit? Si de humana ſermo ſit, ne ſic quidem reus fuit debendi ſponſionem ſatisfaciendi pro peccatore, ſed ſponte ſua Deo Patri obedientiam vicariam pro peccatore ſpopondit. Alia planè ratio eſt operum peccatoris, multiplici jure debitorum. 2. Ponere poteſt, inquis. Proba velle. A poſſe ad eſſe perperam argutaris. Proba actuum ſupernaturalium tantam dignitatem ex quacunque vis forma, ut inde ſatisfactio condigna cenſeatur peccato. Neque enim gratia ſanctificans aptitudinem ſatisfaciendi Deo pro peccato, ſed gratitudinem Chriſto pro nobis ſatisfacienti teſtificandi confert. Mera ergo ſomnia nobis tua propinas.

ARG. VII. Satisfactiones injunctæ à Sacerdote plerumque ſunt vel impiæ, vel injuſtæ, vel ſubleſtæ, ac cum injuria & contumelia Dei conjunctæ, vel abſurdæ. Tales ſunt crudeles & barbaræ vexationes corporis, peregrinationes nudipedales ad reliquias ſanctorum, recitatio preculorum ſuperſtitiosè toties repetita, & quidem in lingua incognita, ſubſtitutio alienarum flagellationum, opera per ſe debita, qualia ſunt preces, eleemoſynæ, jejunia, quæ vice pœnalium operum exiguntur, pecuniariæ mulctæ, battologia & πλυλογία à Chriſto damnata, aliáque ejuſmodi, quæ ipſe Anthonius Arnoldus Sorbonicus Doctor ſpiſſo volumine nuper exagitavit, veluti univerſali Seculi hujus impœnitentiæ faventia, applaudentibus Theologis & Epiſcopis multis.

Quid enim meretur homo, quam ſatisfactionem Deo & juſtitiæ ejus præſtat, cùm Spiritu Dei concupiſcentias refrænat? Nihil enim æquum, moderabile nihil Roma ſuadere hodie poteſt.

ARG. VIII. Nullam habere poteſt peccator infallibilem certitudinem de redemptione peccatorum per ſatisfactiones. Cùm enim ſatisfactio juſta & æqualis delicto exigatur, ejus tamen æqualitatis certa ac definita menſura nec verbo Dei, nec ratione eſt definita. Proinde nec Sacerdos, nec pœnitens de peccati remiſſione certus eſſe poteſt.

RESP. Reſp. 1. De certitudine gratiæ abundè ſupra. 2. Oſtende in verbo Dei finitam ſatisfactionum menſuram in actu ſignato. Nam veſtræ quidem ſatisfactiones vel ſponte extra Sacramentum ſuſcipiuntur, vel arbitrio ſacerdotis injunguntur. Spontaneam autem illam,nec non arbitrio Sacerdotis injunctam patientiam nullam Dei verbum definivit. Fruſtra ergo actum ſignatum in Dei verbo definitum crepas; & ſimul certitudinem in actu exercito tollis, adcóque fidelibus omnem inter ærumnas conſolationem adimis, rebúſque per ſe amaris ſatis, inſuper fel & abſynthium affundis; ſiquidem ſuas calamitates ſine ulla indubitabili certitudine gratiæ remiſſionis peccatorum accipere illi debent, ut vindictas & ſatisfactiones irrogatas à judice, non verò ut remedia & caſtigationes paternas. causa anxietatis & ad desperationem gradus. Nunquam enim qui affligitur, scire potest, an plenè satisfecerit, nec quantum ad perfectam satisfactionem desideretur.

ARG. IX. Ecclesia Romana statuit morte Christi totam culpam oblitterari. Adempta culpa nihil restat, pro quo satisfaciendum sit. Neque enim satisfit pro pœna, sed pœna satisfacit pro culpa. Tertullianus de Bapt. cap. 5. exempto reatu remitti & pœnam ait. Injustus est, qui cruciat carentem culpa. Et remissa culpa nullam remanere pœnam, nullum κατάκεμμα. supra pag. 253. &c. probavimus.

RESP. REDING: 1. S. Augustinus Tract. 124. in Joh. scribit, producliorem esse pœnam, quàm culpam; ne parva putaretur culpa, si cum illa finiretur & pœna. 2. Blasphemum est asserere, injustum esse cruciare carentem culpa. An ergo injustus fuit Deus, cùm Christum carentem culpa cruciavit? Si propter alienam culpam cruciavit, cur propter propriam, ratione offensæ dimissam licet, cruciare non possit? 3. Tertullianus cum reatu pœnam tolli statuit, nempe in Baptismo. Ib. pag. 511. Resp. 1. Augustinus culpæ & pœnæ durationem comparat, non pœnam à culpa divellit. 2. Christus volens nostra peccata in se suscepit. Non igitur innocens, vel simpliciter propter alienam culpam, quippe pro nobis factus peccatum 2. Cor. V. 21. cruciatus est. Neque propterea Deus, qua bonitate & justitia est, cruciabit propter culpam propriam, sed jam remissam. Culpa enim remissa apud nullum æquum judicem pœnam meretur. 3. Tertulliani verba generalia sunt. Mortem per oblationem debitorum in baptismo deleri eo probat, quòd exempto reatu eximatur & pœna. quæ generalis utique ratio est. Neque discrimen ullum peccatorum ante & postbaptismalium eatenus statui potest quia semper justè Deus judicat. At cruciare immeritos & innocentes, nec justi, nec boni judicis est.

ARG. X. Neque etiam opera fidelium, quæ meritoria faciunt adversarii, simul esse satisfactoria possunt, quia quod meretur aliquam mercedem in gratia & gloria, nullam ampliùs habet dignitatem, quâ pro pœna satisfaciat. Omnis enim illa dignitas in merendo exhausta & consumpta est. Et bona opera pœnalia vocare, in virtutes injuria est.

RESP. REDING: 1. Annon etiam Christi passio fuit meritoria gloriæ ejusdem? 2. Pœnale hic dicimus, quod arduum & difficile est. At virtutis universæ via ardua est. Ib. pag. 512. 513. Resp. 1. Christi obedientia non in sola passione, sed in perfecta totius legis observantia & impletione consistit; atque insuper infiniti valoris est. Sic ergo patiendo à peccato & pœna peccato debita liberavit, ut simul non tàm sibi, quàm nobis vitam & gloriam cœlestem meruerit; vel potiùs nos sibi, ceu membra capiti, servos domino vindicaverit. Nil in tale humanis satisfactionibus, culpa jam remissa, præstandis obtinet. 2. Satisfactionem vestri omnes definiunt pœnam propriè dictam, seu solutionem pro debito. Sic Catechismus Tridentinus Cap. de Pœnit. Satisfactionem definit vel debitæ integram solutionem & compensationem, qua homo pro peccatis commissis Deo aliquid persolvit. Navarrus: Satisfactio est passio voluntaria pœnæ pro peccato. Gregorius de Valentia de Satisfact. cap. 1. Satisfactio est compensatio pœnæ temporalis debitæ

Deo, per peccatum illatæ, ſecundum aliquam æqualitatem juſtitiæ. Ipſa Synodus Tridentina pœnas haſce vindictas vocat. Non igitur pœna vobis dicitur propter ſolam difficultatem, ſed propter compenſationem, ſecundum æqualitatem juſtitiæ & vindictam. Et pœnæ ejuſmodi vobis jam ſunt preces, eleemoſynæ, aliáque etiam bona opera, à quibus prohibere potiùs gravis pœna cenſeri debet. Ergo Deo ſervire jam pœna erit. Sic virtutes fiunt odioſæ, dum pœnis & moleſtis paſſionibus annumerantur.

ARG. XI. Concilium aſſerit Cap. 8. Satisfactiones mederi peccatorum reliquiis, & vitioſos habitus malè vivendo contrariis virtutum actionibus tollere. At inauditum eſt, ut qui medicinam ad morbum curandum adhibet, is ſatisfacere dicatur.

RESP. REDING: Quid ſonat ſatisfactio aliud quàm valorem culpæ ac pœnæ excluſivam? An verò medicina non poteſt eſſe expultrix qualitatis mortiferæ? Ib. pag. 513. Reſp. Satisfactio ne ergo pœnam excludit, an includit? Nugaris ſolenniter. Qui ſatisfacit, punitur, non pœnam expellit. Aliud profectò eſt mederi alicui rei, aliud ſatisfacere. Illud à bonitate & libera voluntate, hoc à juſtitia fluit.

ARG. XII. Veteris Eccleſiæ eandem fuiſſe ſententiam, quam & nos tuemur, Cl. Dalleus de pœnis & ſatisfactionibus libro VII. integro fusè demonſtravit.

RESP. REDING: Pſeudo-reformationi tuæ plura antiquitatis teſtimonia oppoſuit Georgius Rhatus adverſus Vedroſium. Ib. pag. 513--517. Reſp. Eadem Cl. Vedroſius, & ante eum plures alii, Celeb. Haud alienum tamen fuerit, quædam veterum teſtimonia, quibus ſatisfactiones veſtræ configantur, apponere. Juſtinus Martyr Dial. cum Tryphone: Η χρηστότης, inquit, καὶ φιλανθρωπία τοῦ Θεοῦ, καὶ τὸ ἄμετρον τοῦ πλούτου αὐτοῦ τὸν μεγαυχοῦντα λύει τοῦ ἁμαρτάνοντος, ὡς ἐπὶ Ἰεζεκιὴλ μηνύει, ὡς δίκαιον καὶ ἀνεπιλήπτους ἔχει. Bonitas & humanitas Dei, & immenſitas divitiarum ejus reſpiſcentem à peccatis, prout per Ezechielem indicat, perinde atque juſtum, atque qui peccatum non admiſerit, habet. Qui à Domino habetur ac ſi peccaſſet, nec punitur amplius, nec ſatisfacit. Tertulliani verba ſupra adduximus & vindicavimus. Lucifer Calaritanus *Moriendum eſſe pro D. Ὅπου ἀμαρτίας ἄφεσις, ἴσθι καὶ τὸ ἀποκάτοχῆς δίκης ἐκεῖθεν ἐπιλαμβάνον. Ubi remittitur peccatum, illic etiam sequitur necessariò malorum propter peccata inflictorum depulsio. S. Augustinus *in Psal.*31. *conc.*2. verba Davidis, Beati, quorum remissæ sunt iniquitates &c. enarrans: Si texit, inquit, peccata Deus, noluit advertere, noluit animadvertere. Si noluit animadvertere, noluit punire. Noluit agnoscere, maluit ignoscere. Tùm pauculis interjectis: Tecta peccata quare dixit? Ut non viderentur. Quid enim erat Dei videre peccata, nisi punire peccata? Augustino igitur Deus tegere, vel non videre ea peccata dicitur, quæ non punit. Atqui Deus nemini culpam dimittit, nisi cujus peccatum tegit. Ergo ex Augustino neminem Deus punit, cui peccatum, sive culpam dimisit. Idem *de verb.*1. *ser.*37. docet Christum moriendo ita pro nobis satisfeciſſe; ut peccatorum & culpas & pœnas expunxerit. suscipiendo, inquit, pœnam, & non suscipiendo culpam, & culpam delevit & pœnam. Hieronymus in Psal. 31. paria iis, quæ ex Augustino excerpsimus, scribit: Quod tegitur, inquit, non videtur, non imputatur; quod non imputatur, non punitur. Fidelium autem peccata tegi, neque imputari, palam est. Fulgentius *Epist. 7. ad Venant. cap.*8. Non punit, inquit, Deus in peccatore peccata, si peccatoris cervix non fuerit indurata. Hæc pauca delibasse sufficiat.

ARG. XIII. Satisfactiones à vera pœnitentia separabiles esse probant vel solæ indulgentiæ. Tum fatetur Cajetanus, non teneri ex præcepto divino pœnitentem satisfactiones suscipere. Emmanuel Sá citat Scotum, Biel, Navarrum, Johannem de Medina, asserentes, pœnitentem posse satisfactionem remuere. Nihil dicam de maximo dissensu Scholæ tum circa effectum satisfactionum, dum alii & culpam & pœnam, alii pœnam & æternam & temporalem, alii temporalem duntaxat iis redimi statuunt; tum circa ordinem imponendarum satisfactionum, ante scilicet, an post absolutionem. Inter quas disputationes Concilium suspenso & timido gradu incedit, atque ita artificiosè verba moderatur, ne videatur ullam damnare. Quam in rem multa defendendæ Synodo nequicquam protulit Launojus apud Cl. Reiserum Launoii Anti-Bell pag. 462. &c. Cassander denique multùm conqueritur, negligentiâ & insciliâ Episcoporum & Sacerdotum doctrinam de satisfactionibus esse corruptam.

RESP. REDING: 1. Fidei dogmata ab opinionibus probabilibus distinguere debueras. In his libera est disputatio. 2. Pœna temporalis reatui per indulgentias, ceu æquivalentem, imò eminentialem causam, utpote ex Thesauro superabundantium satisfactionum Christi depromptas satisfieri potest. 3. Cajetanus, Scotus, Biel &c. non simpliciter negant officium satisfaciendi; sed in optione pœnitentis esse ajunt, ut pro pœna temporali vindictam vel à Deo, vel à Sacerdote suscipere velint. Qui ipsi tamen Conciliorum decretis hâ in re repugnant. 4. Distinguenda sunt satisfactiones, quarum aliæ per contritionem charitate formatam, non condignæ sed congruæ, & culpæ & pœnæ æternæ reatum tollunt, tam intensæ subinde, velut in Maria Magdalena, ut temporalem quoque pœnam expient: aliæ post culpam lethalem remissam, pro pœna temporali condignæ, vel etiam Sacramen- tales post absolutionem impositæ. Juxta satisfactionum harum differentiam etiam diversitas in effectu elucet. Ib. pag.516.517. Resp. 1. Liberæ opiniones vobis sunt omnes, in quibus Scholæ vestræ doctores non conveniunt. Hæc sola libertatis causa vobis habetur ; non momentum rei , vel Divinæ revelationis claritas , vel quicquam aliud. 2. Thesaurus satisfactionum abundantium, carbonum potiùs, pro quibus magna vobis vis auri & argenti provenit,quàm verarum Christi satisfactionum thesaurus est. Nulla igitur hic æquivalentia, nedum eminentia obtinet. 3. Sufficit nobis, quòd Cajetani, Scoti &c. opinionem in Conciliis,Tridentino inprimis, damnatam innuis. Jam ergo dissensus erit in articulo fidei,non in opinione probabili. Concilii enim definitio juxta vos articulum fidei constituit. 4. Dissensum vestrum immanem circa satisfactionum effectum distinctio tua frivola neutiquam elevat. Sunt qui pro ipsa culpa,sunt qui pro pœna satisfieri posse pertendant. Atque hic nova sententiarum divortia se produnt. Quidam enim disputant, ipsam pœnam æternam peccatis debitam virtute clavium mutari in temporalem,ut pro ea satisfacere possimus : quidam asserunt, & culpam & pœnam æternam remitti per contritionem, remanente obligatione ad pœnam aliqualem temporalem, cujus pars virtute clavium remittatur, pars impositis vel sponte susceptis satisfactionibus expietur. Possem dissensionum harum testes Cadmæos producere Thomam,Scotum,Antoninum, Tapperum, Bonaventuram,alios.

OBJECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBJECT. I. Satisfactio, quam pro peccatis nostris exsolvimus, fit per Christi merita. Nam qui ex nobis, tanquam ex nobis, nihil possumus, eo cooperante, qui nos confortat, omnia possumus. Ita omnis gloriatio nostra est in Christo,in quo vivimus,in quo meremur, in quo satisfacimus. Sunt verba Concilii *Cap.*8. & *Can.*13. Resp. Emplastrum hoc est nullius pretii, quod violato honori satisfactionis Christi,Patres illi obducere nequicquam conantur. Nusquam Scriptura dicit Christum sanguine suo meritum esse, ut nos quoque simus Salvatores nostri, nostrisque actionibus justitiæ Dei satisfaciamus. Nusquam dicit,Christum meruisse,ut nos redimamus nos ipsos,vel satisfaciamus pro peccatis nostris. Potiùs docet, Christum per se ipsum omnia præstitisse, & purificationem peccatorum nostrorum per se ipsum fecisse,Hebr.1.3. factum esse nobis redemptionem 1.Cor.1.v.30. Verbo, Scriptura asserit, Christum satisfeciisse semel Deo,hi satisfacere eum quotidie : illa , satisfeciisse per semetipsum, hi per nosmet ipsos : illa,quòd satisfecerit pro nobis in semet ipso, hi,quòd satisfecerit pro nobis in nobis ipsis. Nonne hoc redundat in satisfactionis Christi injuriam?

EXCIP. RÉDING : 1. *Quis nostrum dicit,Christum meruisse, ut ipsi simus Salvatores nostri? mit, qui ex propriis offert pretium redemptionis. Potest tamen homo peccator sibi hoc pretium applicare. Quia tamen ejus valorem non ex se ipso, sed ex Christo habet, non potest nisi cum subordinatione ad Christum secundariè ac participativè dici, per pœnitentiam redimere se ipsum, pro peccatis suis satisfaciendo per proprium, ex Christo tamen donatum pœnitentiæ actum. Ib. pag. 517. 518. Resp. 1. Qui satisfacit ipse pro peccatis, hoc est, peccatorum quorundam pœnas suffert, is eatenus sui Salvator est, quia se à peccatis illis salvat. Merum autem esse applicationem satisfactionum Christi per nostras κεναφύλλα, vel ex eo apparet, quòd Bellarminus de Indulg. lib. I. 4. narrat, Pontifices Romanos damnasse hunc articulum quorundam Lovaniensium: Solius Christi satisfactionibus remisti pœnam temporalem, Sanctorum autem passionibus offerri Deo, ut Deus illarum intuitu nobis merita Christi applicet. Et subordinationem satisfactionum Christi & nostrarum supponis, non probas. Etenim si pro culpa & pœna æterna Christus satisfecit immediatè, pro pœna temporali mediatè, hoc est, mediantibus satisfactionibus nostris suæ subordinatis, jam non una, sed duplex erit satisfactio Christi; neque semel Christus satisfecit, sed semper satisfacit; neque δι' ἑαυτοῦ per semet ipsum, sed per nos; denique non tam satisfacit pro nobis, quàm in nobis. 2. Non quælibet justitia infinitæ Dei justitiæ satisfacere potest, sed illa demum, quæ numeris omnibus consummata, & peccati omnis exors est, qualis certè pœnitentia non est, quocunque sensu justitiæ nomine veniat. Neque infinita Christi satisfactio præstat, ut perfecta justitia hominis sit, quæ non est. Neque Christus mortuus est, ut nobis daret vires satisfaciendi, sed ut pro nobis satisfaceret. Non redemit nos, ut ipsi essemus redemptores nostri. Non persolvit debita nostra, ut ipsi ea solveremus. Figmenta hæc sunt cerebri vestri, adhuc ab incude calentia. 3. Absolutè loquendo is se à peccatis redimit, qui pretium ipse solvit, sive ex suo, sive aliundè solvat. Lex enim non aliud quàm maledictionem, mortem comminatur. Qui huic satisfacit, undecunque satisfaciat, is se à peccatis redimit. Neque Christus magis satisfacit, quatenus gratiam hominibus præbet satisfaciendi, quàm resipiscit, & confitetur peccata, quatenus resipiscendi & confitendi gratiam suppeditat.

OBIECT. II. Per satisfactiones tanquam media divinitus instituta, reddimur participes satisfactionis & meriti Christi, illúdque nobis applicamus. Potest autem satisfactio Christi per nostram satisfactionem applicari, & hæc illi tam efficienter quoad sui mediante gratiâ per Christum donata positionem, quàm formaliter quoad sui ab æterno Patre acceptationem subordinari, æquè ac causæ secundæ suum cum prima influxum conjungere possunt. Aug. Reding. pag. 564. Resp. Est hoc alterum emplastrum curando vulneri, merito Christi inflicto, non minùs futile. Etenim 1. Concilium non applicari docet, per nostras satisfactiones, satisfactionem Christi, sed redimi peccata, satisfieri pro peccatis Deo. Hoccine est applicare satisfactionem? 2. Nec satisfactiones propriæ sunt media divinitus ordinata applicandi satisfactionem Christi. Requiro scripturas ejus rei testes. Solâ fide, apprehendente Christum cum certa fiducia, quatenus operibus nostris opponitur, mortem Christi peccator sibi applicat. 3. Insaniæ proximum est, nugari passionem per passiones, solutionem per solutionem, satisfactionem per satisfactionem applicari. 4. Stolida Stolida eſt ratiocinatio adverſarii petita à cauſis ſecundis primæ ſubordinatis, tum quia cauſæ ſecundæ non nudè applicant virtutem cauſæ primæ, ſed ſub cauſa prima, communicata virtute, influunt ad effectum: tum quia in rebus naturalibus cauſæ ad finitum effectum producendum, ſub prima cauſa ordinatæ ſunt, at in rebus ſupernaturalibus, & negotio redemptionis noſtræ, nulla omnino finita virtus ad producendum infinitum redemptionis effectum concurrere poteſt. Sicut nulla finita virtus creare, ita nec redimere, ſatisfacere, pœnam infinitam peccato, quod infinitum reatum habet, exſolvere quacunque ratione poteſt. Neque profectò, ſatisfactionem noſtram eſſe per Chriſtum, hoc eſt, ex gratia meriti Chriſti ſatisfaciendi virtutem habere: & ſatisfactionem Chriſti per noſtram ſatisfactionem applicari, æquipollent. Poteſt enim ex gratia meriti Chriſti manare, quod nihil aliud applicat. Ita charitatis habitum ex gratia Chriſti derivatis, & tamen ab eadem juſtitiam Chriſti, vel aliud quid imputari, negatis. 2. OBIECT III. Divina justitia exigit, ut aliter in gratiam recipiantur, qui ante baptismum per ignorantiam deliquerint, aliter qui semel à peccato & dæmonis servitute liberati, scientes templum Dei violaverint. Non igitur hic sine satisfactione aditus ad gratiam patere debet. Concilium cap. 8. Resp. 1. Sæpe qui ante baptismum peccant, scientes peccant, & qui post baptismum, ignorantes. Nititur argumentum falsa hypothesi de physica efficacia baptismi. 2. Quin gravior maneat pœna peccatorem scientem, quàm ignorantem, dubium haud est. At hic non de pœnis, sed de remissione peccati quæstio est. Utrique verò remittitur, credenti in Christum, qui pro nobis plenissimè satisfecit, neutri satisfacienti.

EXCIP. REDING: Omnino graviora peccata sunt post-quàm antebaptismalia, tum quia in illis, non in his invincibilis ignorantia Dei, quâ finis saltem supernaturalis, subesse potest: tum quia illi, non hi expertes sunt gratiæ Spiritus S. Cùm igitur peccata ante Baptismum eandem ab causam una cum pœna omni remittantur, ea quæ post Baptismum committuntur aliquatenus, quoad pœnam temporalem, puniri debent. Ib. pag. 520, 521. Resp. Contingens id omne est. Gravitas enim peccati ex excessu seu exorbitantia à lege, & dispositione peccatoris, quæ ante & post baptismum eadem esse potest, non à Sacramenti usu pender. Sic Constantinus M. adhuc catechumenus, necdum baptizatus, gravissimè peccavit, Crispum filium, & Faustam uxorem, & Licinium juniorem, sororis suæ filium interimens. Et de hoc quicquid fiat, Christi sanguis purificat ab omnibus peccatis 1. Joh. I. 7. Neque nulla condemnatio in iis est, qui in Christo Jesu sunt, adeóque etiam in baptizatis, Rom. VIII. 1. Repeto, hic non de pœnis, sed de remissione peccati agi, ad quod nihil respondes, respondendi impos.

OBIECT. IV. Divina clementia convenit, ne peccata absque ulla satisfactione dimittantur. Alioquin peccata leviora putantes in graviora labentur, thesaurizantes iram in diem iræ. Concilium l. cit. Resp. 1. An igitur, si propria satisfactio nostra haud interceserit, peccata dimittentur sine satisfactione? Siccine Christi satisfactio in numerum non perveniet? An gravissima, quam Christus pro nobis sustinuit, pœna & maledictio, non satis erit ad æstimandum pro merito peccatum? 2. Sed & alia æstimandi peccati subsidia præstò sunt, lex iram denuntians, ira ex cœlo revelata super omnem impietatem, peccati meritum, æternæ pœnæ gravitas. 3. Quid divinæ clementiæ conveniat, ex voluntate Dei patefacta judicandum. 4. Atque is modus ex clementia Divina provenit. 3. Non tam joculatorem, quàm blasphemum calumniatorem agis, pœnas à Concilio definitas sic traducens, quas tamen ipse supra crudeles & barbaras vexationes insignivisti. pag. 521. Resp. 1. Satisfactio Christi perfecta, an imperfecta est? Si prius, propria includi non debet. Posterius blasphemantis spiritus est. 2. Molestiam etiam paternæ castigationes & fidei probatio proprio suppositq inferunt. ut satisfactionibus & pœnis propriè dictis nullatenus opus sit. 3. Non ago joculatorem, fateor. In re enim seria tecum jocularì quid attinet? Sed nec blasphemum calumniatorem egi, scapham appellando scapham. Annon enim gerris Siculis flagellationes, ciborum discrimina, incubare Solo, cranium habere pro cervicali, sub interula nôdoso fune succingi, lumbos exulcerare, aliáque ejusmodi accensenda sunt? Quæ nonnulla crudelia licet, adeóque ab Apostolo Col. II. 21. damnata, nugatoria esse non desinunt, quia fini proposito consequendo nihil conducunt.

OBIECT. V. Satisfactionum etiam hæc insignis utilitas est, quòd conducunt ad habitus vitiorum eradicandos, & virtutum inserendos, & Christi passionibus nos conformant. Concilium l. cit. Resp. 1. Periculosum est argumentandi genus, ut quod utile videtur, statim in religione constituendum concludatur. Ita olim Novatiani utilissimum esse ad homines in officio continendos putârunt, si lapsis omnis venia negetur. 2. Imò tali disciplina vitiorum habitus non eradicari, sed foveri, adolescere, confirmari, virtutes oppositas extingui palam est, quando peccata tam levibus pœnis dispungi homines sibi stolidè fingunt, & tantum de Christi merito delent, quantum satisfactionibus suis tribuunt. 3. Operibus illis laboriosis, qualia sunt jejunia piscaria, precum ad globulos exactio, peregrinationes animi gratiâ susceptæ &c. quomodo Christo conformantur homines? Ludunt potiùs, quàm patiuntur. Proinde ex ipsis adversariis Arnoldus Sorbonista satisfactionum ejusmodi ludibria grandi volumine exagitavit, & nihil minùs quàm Christo nos conformare ea docuit. Crux potiùs divinitùs immissa, propriæ satisfactionis typho destituta, persecutio ob Evangelium infracto animo tolerata id præstare apta nata est.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Synodus supposita veritate de satisfactionibus authoritate Divina firmata, utilitatem earundem asserit. 2. Cùm omnis virtus & valor satisfactionum à merito Christi pendeat, nihil huic per nostras satisfactiones decedit; sicut nihil causæ primæ per secundarum influxum. 3. Cùm passiones nostræ tales sint, ut gloriæ Christi participes reddam, siquidem compassi conglorificamur, utique per eas Christo conformamur. Ib. pag. 521. 522. Resp. 1. Malè Synodus supposuit, male posuit. Si qua satisfactionum vestrarum utilitas est, sacrificulorum culinæ tota inservit. Conflatum enim dogma illud est ad incudem avaritiæ. Et artibus his pridem Pontificia religio in caponationem conversa est. Nam Papæ manci, ita mordicus tenent, summáque contentione defendunt, pœnam temporalem luendam esse in hac vita, & in Purgatorio, ut Papa habeat quod indulgeat, & inde lucretur, & clerus ex Missis & suffragiis pro defunctis rem rem faciat. Hæc ſatisfactionum veſtrarum vera utilitas eſt. 2. Undecunque virtus ſatisfactionum derivetur, ſatisfactiones propriæ dicuntur, atque eatenus merito Chriſti derogant. Diſparem verò ſatisfactionum ac meritorum noſtrorum, & cauſarum naturalium ſubordinatarum primæ rationem jam ſæpe oſtendimus. Placuit Deo per cauſas ſecundas naturam gubernare. At redimere mundum per homines meros non placuit. 3. Paſſi cum Chriſto cum eodem glorificantur, & morti Chriſti conformantur, Rom. VIII. 17. Phil. III. 10. 2 Tim. II. 11. Sed paſſiones eas veri nominis ſatisfactiones eſſe, ſupponis, non probas. Horrenda etiam S. Scripturæ depravatio eſt, per quam, quod Apoſtolus de perſecutionibus, ærumnis & martyrio, pro profeſſione Evangelii dicit, ad flagra, peregrinationes, mulctas pecuniarias à Curione indictas, ad obmurmurationem ſeptem Pſalmorum, ciborum diſcrimina, aliáque ejuſmodi trahitur. Qui talia ſponte patiuntur, non Chriſti, ſed ſuam crucem ferunt. An qui ſibi dorſum ſcutica concidit, aut cilicio ſcapulas ſibi excoriat, per hæc Chriſto conformis fit? At nihil horum Chriſtus fecit, vel fieri juſſit, vel ſponte ſubiit; nihil Apoſtoli Chriſti imitatores γνήσιοι factitarunt unquam. An abſtinere carne biduo aut triduo ante Paſcha, conformitas cenſebitur, qua aſſimilemur Chriſto cùm illa ipſa die Chriſtus cum diſcipulis agnum comederit? An muliercula quinquagies repetens ſuum Ave-Maria, Chriſto, qui nunquam Ave Maria, dixit, conformabitur? Næ riſum talia movent potiùs, quàm fidem faciunt.

OBIECT. VI. Pœnam temporalem, poſt remiſſam culpam, fidelibus exantlandam eſſe, multis argumentis probari poteſt. Reſp. Argumenta ea ſupra diſcuſſimus, & prægnantibus rationibus contrarium probavimus.

EXCIP. REDING: Omnis actus virtuoſus, comparatus ad congenitum ſenſualitatis fomitem arduus, pœnalis eſt. 2. Operibus talibus Eſajas proportionem quandam ad perfectam peccatorum remiſſionem tribuit. Nam per pœnitentiam peccata, ſanguinea quaſi malitia aſperſa, dealbari nivis & lanæ inſtar dicuntur. Ib. pag. 523. Reſp. 1. Siccine virtuti ſtudere, & ſervire Deo pœna eſt? Atqui pœna omnis paſſio eſt ob peccatum animo invito ſuſcepta. An qui virtuti ſtudet, patitur ob peccatum invitus, & non potiùs agit id ſponte, quod peccato adverſatur? Proin aliquam congruitatis proportionem habere, pœnitentiam ad remiſſionem peccatorum innuit. Cúmque David ſub veteri lege pro pœna temporali ſatisfecerit, pro eodem ſub nova lege ſatisfaciendum fuerit. Irenæus quoque loc. cit. ex bonis in pauperes erogatis fieri præteritæ cupiditatis ſolutionem, adeóque veram ſatisfactionem, in foro etiam Dei, ad quod bonitas moralis ſpectat, aſſerit. Origenes pœnitendo, flendo, ſatisfaciendo deleri docet, quod admiſſum eſt. Quid clarius? Addit homil.3. in lib. Jud. Deo ſatisfieri in confeſſione pœnitentiæ. Tertullianus redimi impunitatem pretio ac compenſatione pœnitentiæ aſtruit. Cyprianus Novatianos ſatisfactionibus delicta non redimentes arguit. Baſilius remedium contra peccati gravitatem ſtatuit confeſſionem, amaras lachrymas, vigilias, in quibus ſatisfactionis formalitas conſiſtit. Nazianzenus non ſola fide ſed per officia miſericordiæ purgari peccata pronuntiat. Ambroſius plura eſſe ſubſidia, quibus peccata noſtra redimamus, ſtatuit. Hieronymus, ſi ante præſtitutum diem per res ipſas ſatisfecerimus, in judicio miſericordiam nos conſecuturos recipit. Auguſtinus mandat, ut quisque peccata ſua puniat, ne Deus puniat. Quid his omnibus luculentius? Ideo diſtincte ad teſtimonia hæc reſpondere ſuperſedisti.* lb. pag.524-526. Reſp. 1. Cùm Doctores quivis Eccleſiæ homines, non Deus fuerint, eorum teſtimonium, quod ex ſcripto Dei verbo (aliud enim non extat) non deprompſepomperint, non potest non mere humanum esse. Tu ergo vel singula Patrum dicta & phrases ab iis, in hoc inprimis argumento, usurpatas ex verbo Divino scripto nobis demonstra, vel calumniari define. 2. Divisum circa satisfactiones labium verstrum supra aperiatus sum. Non eadem veterum inprimis Scholæ doctorum mens fuit. Reponde tamen, si potes, pro mitissimis, qui pro pœnis temporalibus satisfieri, easque redimi pertendunt. Vel unicum ex S. Patrum choro nobis sistes, qui prenam temporalem ab æterna & culpa distinxerit atque pro illa satisfieri sola affirmaverit. Hoc si potes, per me rubrum galerum habeto: si Babyloni tuæ sic placuerit. Sed in æternum id præstare non potens. Cur insuper ad institutam a me satisfactionem, quarum veteres meminere, & vestratum antitheſin nihil respondes? Hic si ſupiam, tibi aqua hæret. Non verba sola ἀναπλώσεις attendenda, sed rerum definitiones ponderandæ sunt. 3. Fruſtra ergo magno hic verborum ſtrepitu, magna enumerationis pompa, aures doctorum obtundere, & inſimorum judicium obruere conaris. Offendam paucis. Pœnitentia delictum Davidis peccatum dixerit Juſtinus. An ſolam pœnam temporalem delictum dixit? imo de culpæ, pœnæ & æternæ & temporalis remiſſione loquitur, & deletum pœnitentia peccatum dicit, vel quia ex miſericordia illud credenti & reſipiſcenti Deus condonavit, vel quia vitioſos peccandi habitus forti pœnitentia ex animo ſuo expunxit obliteravitque. Præterita cupiditatis ſolutio, quam lrenæus aſſerit, qua ratione in ſatisfactionem pro pœna temporali quaſo commutatur? De Origenis verbis idem ſtatuendum, quod de addictis ex Juſtino. Sed satisfaciendo, inquit, deleri, quod admiſſum eſt, Origenes ait. Atqui non de verbis, ſed de verborum ſenſu agitur. Satisfaciendi autem vocem apud vetuſtiſſimos authores Latinos alio ſenſu, quam eo, quem novella ſuperſtitio veſtra ei affinxit, uſitatam eſſe, probatum jam dedi. Et S. Patres alio ſenſu uſurpaſſe liquet, tum quia eos etiam, qui ex impœnitate ad Evangelii fidem ſuſcepto baptiſmo convertuntur, Deo ſatisfacere ajunt: tum quia ſatisfactiones juxta veteres non ſolius pœnæ, ſed etiam culpæ remiſſionem acciſpiunt: tum quia quam commemorant ſatisfactionem, eam remiſſionem peccatorum antecedere non ſequi voluunt: tum quia apud ipſos ſatisfactiones gehennæ, ſive æternæ pœnæ remiſſionem acciſpit: tum quia ſatisfactiens Dei miſericordiam convenire iis dicitur, cum vertra ſatisfactio juſtitiam reſpiciat: quæ aliàque veterum confignatiſſimis teſtimoniis Cl. Dallæus de Pœnis & Satisfall. lib VII. 4. confirmavit. Sed quis locupletior ipſo Origene à te citato teſtis eſt? Exenim is Deo ſatisfieri in confeſſione docet. An vobis confeſſio ſatisfactio eſt? Pari inſcitia redimendi vocem, qua Cyprianus, Ambroſius, aliique utuntur, flagellas. Etenim ipſe Arnobius veller agnoſcit, eos non pœnæ temporalis, ſed culpæ remiſſionem intelligere; & redemptionis voce iis ſimpliciter liberationem, abſque ullo pretio redemptionis venire. In lachrymis vigiliis, &c. ſatisfactionem proprie conſiſtere, tu aſſeris. An ſic etiam Baſilius? Fr. ba. Purgari peccata per officia miſericordiæ, Nazianzenus dixit. At vos ſatisfieri non pro peccato, ſed pro pœna temporali per officium juſtitiæ aſſeritis. An ergo ſic paria facitis? Auguſtinus jubet quemque peccata ſua ſine diſcrimine punire, vos peccata mortalia in Chriſto punita elle concedit, atque eo remiſſo pœnas temporales exigitis. Viden' Redingi. Annon, ſicut pueri nolis ſonantibus affingunt, quod ipſi cantillant: ſic vos degenerans natio veteribus?

QUÆSTIO IX.

An absolutio Sacerdotis fiat per actum judicialem, quo ab ipso, velut à judice, sententia remissionis peccatorum pronuntietur, an per nudum ministerium pronuntiandi & declarandi, remissa esse pœnitenti peccata?

AFfirmat prius Cap.VI. & Can.IX. Fatemur nos, à Christo Ecclesiæ concessam esse potestatem absolvendi, & peccata pœnitentibus remittendi, significatam metaphora clavium aperientium & claudentium. Porro exercitium hujus potestatis est partim in prædicatione Evangelii, sub qua etiam Sacramentorum administratio continetur, partim in disciplina Ecclesiastica. In prædicatione Evangelii remittuntur peccata, non tamen per actum judicialem, fatentibus adversariis. In disciplina Ecclesiastica peccata remittuntur, præcisè non quatenus offendentia Majestatem Dei, sed quatenus Ecclesiam. Pastores enim dirigunt Ecclesiam Dei in hac vita. Proinde cùm ita remittunt, verè sunt judices, & per actum judicialem remittunt pœnas sive satisfactiones Canonicas Ecclesiæ debitas. Cæterùm Synodus scisit, sacerdotem ut judicem remittere peccata, quatenus Deum offendunt, adeóque ipsum quasi inter Deum & peccatorem medium, sententiam absolutionis talem pronuntiare, quam Deus æquè ac si ab ipso Christo lata esset, firmam & ratam in suo judicio habeat, & citra quam nemo post baptismum lapsus DEO reconciliari possit, ut loquitur Bellarminus de pœnit. lib.III.3. Sed & Catechismus Tridentinus lib.II.5. monet, non aliter accipiendam esse vocem sacerdotis, peccata legitimè condonantis, quàm Christi dicentis paralytico: Confide fili, peccata tua tibi remissa sunt. Hoc præcisè negamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Potestas absolvendi per judicialem actum est solius Dei, incommunicabilis ulli creaturæ. Solus ipse judex est, Genes.XVIII.v.24. Psal. XCVII.1. Hebr.XII.23. Jacob.IV.12. Est proprietas essentialis Dei peccata remittere, Luc.V.v.21. Jesaj.XLIII.15. Mich.VII.18. Matth.VI.12. Ergo Sacerdos non absolvit ut Judex.

RESP. REDING: 1. Chriſto etiam qua homini data eſt poteſtas judicandi, Joh.V.27. Et Luc.V.22. Filius hominis habere poteſtatem dicitur dimittendi peccata. Ergo ſi non abſoluta & primaria, ſaltem ſecundaria peccatorum remittendorum poteſtas communicabilis eſt. 2. Geneſ.XVIII.27. Deus dicitur judicare terram. An iccirco homines nulli judices ſunt? Annon etiam duodecim tribus Iſrael ſedebunt judicantes, Matth.XIX. (non XV.) 28? Annon etiam Luc.V. 24. Chriſtus ipſe, qua filius hominis ſibi peccatorum remittendorum poteſtatem vindicat? Aliud ergo eſt primaria poteſtas remittendi peccata, miniſterialis aliud. Tom.II. Tract.VII. Sect.2. pag.526.527. Reſp. 1. Judiciaria poteſtas remittendi peccata tribuitur Chriſti, filii hominis, perſonæ, non ſeorſim humanitati. Dicit enim Chriſtus ipſe Joh.V.27. Dedit ipſi poteſtatem, non utique ſecundariam, uti tu nugaris, ſed abſolutam & primariam, quia ib. v.22. πᾶσαν κρίσιν omne judicium Filio dediſſe, imò ipſe judicare, non Pater quenquam judicare, dicitur) faciendi judicium ὅτι υἱὸς ἀνθρώπου ἐστὶ, quia Filius hominis eſt; non quâ homo eſt. Eſt enim judiciaria poteſtas illa ἀνθρωπίνου perſonæ, utraque natura in eo faciente, quod ſuum eſt, cum communione alterius. Filius hominis nominatur, quia peccatum ſine morte, adeóque carne hominis, judicari, & ſine ea execratio legis aboleri non potuit. 2. An judex homo quiſquam judicat orbem? An Apoſtoli judicabunt tribus Iſraelis ſecundum ſuum, an ſecundum Dei, quod prædicarunt, verbum? S. Paulus Rom.II.16. litem decidat: In die, inquiens, qua judicabit Dominus occulta hominum, ſecundum Evangelium meum, per Jeſum Chriſtum. Judex ergo erit Chriſtus ſolus: judicii norma Evangelium à duodecim Apoſtolis prædicatum.

ARG. II. Etiam ratio ſana comprobat, judiciariam poteſtatem peccata remittendi penes ſolum Deum eſſe. Qui enim peccata remittit, oportet ſit καρδιογνώστης, qui peccata animi, quæ ſub ſenſum non cadunt, cognoſcat; animarum & conſcientiarum Dominus, qui pœnas iis convenientes dictet & irroget. Hinc adeò ipſi Patres cap.5. innuunt, ſacerdotes non poſſe eſſe judices, niſi perfectam cognitionem peccatorum habeant. At ſacerdotes his dotibus minimè pollent. Ad hoc enim, ut noverint peccatum pœnitentis, ejúſque pœnitentiam, non ſufficit externa confeſſio, & contritionis externa ſigna, quia neſcit, an hæc vera & integra, an potiùs ſimulata & imperfecta ſint. Proinde judicant de ignotis, iis nempe, quæ hominis cognitionem effugiunt. Si reſpondeatur, eos non judicare abſolutè, ſed conditionaliter, hoc ipſo veros judices ſe haud eſſe produnt. Judices enim veri non judicant conditionaliter. Neque dicunt: Hunc damno, ſi eſt homicida; ſed potiùs: Hunc damno, qui eſt homicida.

RESP. REDING: Argumentum non ſtringit niſi contra abſolutam & primariam poteſtatem remittendi peccata, quæ ſolius Dei eſt. Poteſtas autem remittendi peccata Miniſtris conceſſa à Chriſto ſecundaria conditioni humanæ, quæ intuitivam ſecretorum cordis cognitionem non admittit, proportionata eſt. Quòd ſi propria confeſſio in foro juſtitiæ eſt probatio probationum, cur non magis in foro clementiæ pœnitentis confeſſio cum dolore conjuncta ſufficiens probatio ad munus judicii abſolutorium exercendum habebitur? Ib. pag.

527--528. Resp. Primariæ & secundariæ potestatis judicialis remittendi peccata distinctionem probare. & tum demum legitimè applicare debueras. Nos autem eo ipso, quod hic posuimus argumento non aliam, quàm absolutam, soli Deo convenientem dari, pertendimus. Nulla enim judicialis potestas sic remittendi peccata in terris, ut remissio rata quoque sit in Cœlis, cum humana conditione fallibili conjungi potest. Qualis enim remissio judicialis esse potest peccati illius, quod quale sit, & cum qua animi dispositione & pœnitentia conjunctum sit, pro certo non constat? Accedit, quòd judex peccatorum remittendorum & retinendorum potestatem habere debet in animam, quæ ob peccata punitur vel absolvitur. Talis autem potestas Divina uni solique Deo competit: Frustra confessione in foro soli & poli, justitiæ & clementiæ comparas. Ex ore confitentis judicatur reus in foro humano justitiæ, quia nemo sibi iniquus censetur, & qualiscunque pœna decernitur, ea corpori, non animæ infligitur. Non ideo ex ore confitentis in foro Divino clementiæ absolvi quilibet potest, quia confessio & signa pœnitentiæ externa fucata esse possunt. Qui igitur sic absolvit, cordis & renum explorator sit oportet. Si, ita Novatianus de Trinit. cap. 13. arguit, cùm nullius sit nisi Dei corda nosse secreta, Christus secreta conspicis cordis: quod si cum nullius sit, nisi Dei peccata dimittere, idem Christus peccata dimittit, meritò Deus est Christus. Deus ergo similiter Sacerdos vester erit, si argumentum hoc pro Deitate Christi stringit, uti stringit fortissimè. Conditionata verò absolutio judicialis esse nequit.

ARG. III. Apostoli peccata remiserunt, nunquam tamen tanquam judices, usurpata absoluta tali formula, quali utitur sacerdos.

RESP. REDING: Si peccata Apostoli remiserunt, non igitur remittere peccata est proprietas Dei essentialis: & sub formula quadam judiciali remiserint oportet. Ib. pag. 528. Resp. Si remiserunt, ut judices. De tali enim remissione quæstio est, & argumentum sonat. Remiserunt ut præcones, credentibus & pœnitentibus sine discrimine Evangelii sententiam promulgantes, formula tali: Fili confide, remissa tibi sunt peccata: Crede, & salvaberis &c. Nusquam profectò invenies ullum Apostolum aut Evangelistam dixisse ulli pœnitenti: Absolvo te à peccatis; aut ab eodem scrupulosam & minutam peccatorum enumerationem exegisse; aut pœnas corporeas vel pecuniarias post absolutionem ei dictasse. S. Paulus ignovit incestuoso Corinthio, & eidem ignosci à Corinthiis voluit. Sed remissio ea fuit non coram tribunali Dei, nec absolutio per Sacramentum pœnitentiæ; sed remissio pœnæ Ecclesiasticæ, per quam pœnitens Ecclesiæ reconciliabatur.

ARG. IV. Cùm statuatur, Sacerdotes V. T. hanc potestatem non habuisse, sequetur hinc deteriorem esse conditionem novi, quàm veteris fœderis. Nam multiplicatio judicum est pars quædam συναγωγίας.

RESP. REDING: 1. In V. T. obtinuit utique peccatorum confessio, licet ei remissio ex opere operato conjuncta non fuerit. 2. Judicium Sacerdotum N. T. non in vindictam scelerum, sed ad misericordiæ abundantiam, in peccatorum ex operato Christi meritorum opere remittendorum efficacia constitutum, meliorem, non deteriorem N. T. conditionem reddit. Ib. pag. 528. Resp. 1. Obtinuit confessio eorum peccatorum, pro quibus hostiæ Divinitus decretæ erant; at nec scrupulosa illa, nec Sacramentalis, nec cum judiciali absolu-tione, vel retentione peccatorum à Sacerdotibus peragenda, conjuncta. Neque enim peccatores obnoxii erant pœnis à Sacerdote, qui sæpe confitente nequior est, & contra jus & fas, de rebus etiam ignotis judicat, indictis. 2. Judicium non remittendi duntaxat, sed etiam retinendi peccata; atque illud sub conditione ejusmodi satisfactionum, quas ipsa Synodus vindictas nominavit, vobis arrogatis. Judicium igitur purum putum justitiæ, non clementiæ est. Neque enim judicis clementis, sed justi est, absolvere sub conditione satisfactionis. Sic profectò melius actum fuerit cum Ecclesia veteri, quàm hodie agitur cum nova, cujus tamen fœdus κρείττων præstantius esse S. Paulus Hebr. VIII. 6. pronuntiat.

tione

ARG. V. Christus Pastoribus par jus dedit & retinendi & remittendi peccatum. Quo igitur modo retinent, eodem remittunt. At retinent non per judicialem actum, cùm nemini æternam damnationem peccato debitam irrogare queant. Ergo non remittunt per actum judicialem.

Resp. Reding: Par retinendi & remittendi peccata jus Christus dedit, non ex proprii arbitrii libidine, sed ex æquitatis judicio, adeóque utrumque cum actu judiciali conjunctum. Neque retinere peccata est æternam pœnam infligere, sed pœnæ hujus debitum per remissionem non tollere. Ib. pag. 528. Resp. Major profectò est argumenti mei vis, quàm ut sic declinari possit. Etenim si Sacerdos per judicialem actum peccata retinet, ceu judex utique peccatorem pœnæ adjudicat, licet non ipse, sed Deus ex sententia ejus judiciali eam infligat. Neque enim judicis punientis actus judicialis merè negativus est, & in non remittendo consistit: sed positivus, secundùm quem decretoria sententia fontem pœnæ adjudicat. Si igitur Sacerdos non hoc modo, uti tamen ipse agnoscis, peccata retinet, sed merè non remittendo, hoc est, declarando, quòd peccata remissa non sint, sed à Deo retineantur ad pœnam: utique remittit etiam non per judicialem actum, sed declarando, quòd peccatori in Christum credenti peccata non retineantur, imputentur, sed condonentur; ipséque adeò peccator non veniat in judicium, sed ex morte ad vitam transiturus sit Joh. V. 24.

ARG. VI. Remittere peccatum est donare justitiam & vitam æternam. Atqui Sacerdos nemini, per actum judicialem, justitiam & vitam æternam adjudicare potest, cùm ipsemet peccator sit, reatus particeps, & indigus ejusdem beatitudinis. Solius meriti Christi, fide apprehensi, hæc dos est.

Resp. Reding: Sacerdos, qua judex, profert sententiam absolutionis, cui per efficaciam non jam à Sacerdote, nisi qua instrumento, sed à Christo derivatam inest vis justitiam & vitam donandi. Ib. pag. 519. Resp. Sic ergo ex Sacerdotis sententia Christus ad dandam justitiam & vitam obligabitur. Ille judex erit: Christus dominus judicii executor. Sic scilicet ἄνω ποταμὸς sursum torrens fluit. Quòd si Sacerdos certissimè confert remissionem peccatorum dignè accedentibus, uti Synodus cap. 5. dicit, inde planè sequitur, si Sacerdos absolvat morientem, eum quoque isti homini animam agenti dare vitam æternam. Unum enim sequitur ex altero. Qui ut judex remittit & absolvit, is & justum pronuntiat, & eidem dat potestatem vivendi. Sic ergo Sacerdos erit Servator animæ, & dabit gratiam, quæ ultra mortem extenditur.

ARG. VII. Sic Sacerdos ſe geret judicem Dei & in cauſa Dei. Nam cauſæ peccatorum diſceptantur inter Deum offenſum & hominem offendentem. Inter hos medius venit ſacerdos, & peccata probè ponderata judicat, tantùm non in Deum ferens ſententiam, & ad remiſſionem compellens. Et tamen ſacerdotes, æquè, imò quandoque magis peccatores & & rei coram Deo ſunt, quàm ii, quibus peccata remittunt. Ac perinde res habet, ac ſi duobus fontibus & perduellionis reis, unus alteri diceret: Abſolvo te à tuis peccatis. Accedit quòd ipſi ſacerdotes æquè ac omnes reliqui tenentur dubitare de remiſſione peccatorum, juxta Seſſ. VI. Can. 13. 15. Quomodo igitur alios à peccatis abſolvere, & de remiſſione peccatorum certos reddere poſſunt?

RESP. REDING: 1. Sicut Magiſtratus veſtri judex non eſt, qui ejus juſſu à peccato adverſus ſe patrato pœnitentem abſolvit: ſic nec in foro pœnitentiæ Sacerdos Dei, ceu partis, judicem gerit, ſed ſubdelegatum ejusdem ſubdelegantis & primarii judicis judicem. Neque refert, an & qualis peccator etiam ſit Sacerdos, quia Chriſti authoritate agit. 2. In abſolutione tali Divinæ operationis efficacia in ſe prorſus certa, & propter Divinam promiſſionem infallibilis eſt, licet ex parte pœnitentis & Sacerdotis abſolventis quibusdam conditionibus Divinitus requiſitis nitatur, ex quarum incertitudine dubium quoddam oboriri poſſit. Ib. pag. 519. Reſp. 1. Judiciariam poteſtatem ſubdelegatam fingis iterum, non probas. Dein Bellarminus diſertè ſcribit, peccata eſſe cauſas, quas habemus cum Deo. Sedet ergo Sacerdos arbiter in Dei cauſa. Deus eſt actor, conquerens factam ſibi injuriam: ſacerdos judex, Deum inter & peccatorem, cognoſcens cauſam, dijudicans, diſcernens jus & injuriam. Sic judex Magiſtratum inter noſtrum & ſubditos, adeóque ipſius Magiſtratus noſtri eſt, quiſquis cauſas utrorumque cognoſcit, & ſententiam judiciaria poteſtate, undecunque collata, fert. Neque proin obſtat, quòd Sacerdos judicio ſuo Chriſti authoritatem præfert. Nam eam non probat, & id omne ad incrementum dignitatis ſuæ refert. Dicunt ſe ſervire Chriſto, ut hominibus imperent, & gravi jugo premant conſcientias, atque inde confectentur lucra, rem faciant, & divitias accumulent. Sic, qui in Republica ſtudent rebus novis, & ſuam poteſtatem augent diſpendio Regis, dicere ſolent, ſe ſervire Regi, ejúſque negotia curare. 2. Quid verò ſi conditionum Divinitus requiſitarum impletio Sacerdoti plenè & certiſſimè cognita non ſit? An tum abſolutè judicabit, & abſolvet? Annon ſic contingere ſœpiſſimè poteſt, ut judex ejuſmodi juſtificet ſontem, & condemnet inſontem, adeóque abominatio ſit Jehovæ? Sed hac de re pluribus infra.

ARG. VIII. Conſilium de remiſſione peccatorum eſt æternum. In tempore igitur non poteſt per judicialem actum novum vel interpolari vel mutari.

RESP. REDING: Omnia Dei conſilia & decreta æterna ſunt. Et tamen temporales actiones à cauſis ſecundis promanantes mutabiles ſunt. Licet ergo Divinum conſilium ſit immobile, effectus tamen, utpote dependens à conditionibus mutationi obnoxiis, mutabilis eſt. Ib. pag. 529. Reſp. Actiones temporales reſpectu cauſarum ſecundarum mutabiles, reſpectu ſpectu primæ immutabiles eſſe, quis ignorat? Cùm verò decretum Dei de remittendis aut retinendis Titio vel Mævio peccatis ſit æternum & immutabile, & Sacerdoti ignotum, ſi Sacerdos abſolvit hominem, quem Deus ab æterno reprobavit, aut negat abſolutionem electo, an Sacerdotis ſententia refiget Dei decretum? An Deus tenebitur perdere electum, aut ſervare reprobum?

Digitized by Google

ARG. IX. Abſolutio talis pœnitenti eſt inutilis, quia nunquam de remiſſione certior fiet. Nam ad integritatem requiritur intentio ſacerdotis, & regularitas, cujus plurimi finguntur defectus. De his autem nunquam poteſt peccator πληροφορεῖσθαι, proinde nec de abſolutione.

Resp. Rebing: Salus noſtra, ejuſque media, adeòque etiam remiſſio peccatorum etſi ex parte noſtra incerta, ex parte tamen Dei infallibilia ſunt. lb. pag. 530. Reſp. Hic verò quæſtio eſt de certitudine & infallibilitate ex parte Dei. Sacerdos enim ſe peccata remittere authoritate Chriſti profitetur. Si igitur pœnitens de Sacerdotis voluntate & regularitate, à qua effectus remiſſionis pendet, nunquam certus eſſe poteſt, quæ hic ex parte Dei infallibilitas ſtatui poteſt? Et quis abſolutionis Sacerdotalis fructum in conſcientia ſua ullum percipiet, ſi ab intentione & regularitate Sacerdotis, de qua utraque nunquam pœnitentes ſecuri eſſe poſſunt, ille pendet? Anxietatem & incertitudinem iſthanc poſt Medinam & Adrianum VI. non diſſimulavit Jeſuita Vaſquez, cujus in 3. p. Thomæ q. 90. art. 1. hæc verba ſunt: Non eſt tutior via confeſſionis; imò eſt minùs certa, quia ex parte Sacerdotis abſolventis multa incerta ſunt; An ſit Sacerdos? An habeat authoritatem & juriſdictionem? An habeat intentionem?

ARG. X. Eam ſententiam jam olim in Epiſcopis & Presbyteris damnavit Hieronymus Comment. ad Matth. XVI. ubi ait, eos locum de clavibus Regni cœlorum non intelligentes, aliquid ſibi de Phariſæorum aſſumere ſupercilio, ut vel damnent innocentes, vel ſolvere ſe noxios arbitrentur. Cùm apud Deum non ſententia Sacerdotum, ſed reorum vita quæratur. Deinde Epiſcopos & Preſbyteros comparat cum ſacerdotibus V. T. qui leproſos immundos judicaverint, non ita ut immundos facerent, ſed ut haberent notitiam leproſi & non leproſi, & poſſint diſcernere, qui mundus, quive immundus ſit. Et ſubjicit: Quomodo ergo ibi leproſum Sacerdos mundum vel immundum facit: Sic & hic alligat vel ſolvit Epiſcopus & Presbyter, Et ſanè privata illa hominum non excommunicatorum abſolutio à peccatis, per Sacramentum pœnitentiæ, prorſus Catholicæ antiquitati incognita fuit, cui abſolutio vel publicam peccatorum ſolutionem, vel eam, quæ fit per Evangelii prædicationem, notat. Vide de eo plura apud Caſaubonum Exercit. XVI. Sect. 130.

Resp. Rebino: 1. Imò per judicialem actum pœnitentes à Sacerdotibus abſolvi, ex ipſo Hieronymo liquet. Dicit enim, Sacerdotes ſibi aſſumere de ſupercilio Phariſæorum, qui vel damnant innocentes, vel noxios ſe ſolvere arbitrantur. Non igitur damnare & ſolvere, quod judicis eſt, ſed damnare innocentes, & ſolvere nocentes vetat. Eidem tribuit facultatem mundum ab immundo diſcernendi, adeòque ſtatum pœnitentis dijudican- di. Scopus ejus id ipsum arguit. Hoc enim probare intendit, præmittendum esse solutioni vel ligationi judicium discretionis, quo fontes ab insontibus discernantur, idque exemplo Sacerdotum Leviticorum. 2. Qua verò fronte negas, piæ antiquitati cognitam fuisse absolutionem? Etenim Chrysostomus homil. super verba Esaiæ, vidi Dominum &c. relatis Christi verbis, quibus remittendi peccata potestatem discipulis dedit, subjungit, à terra judicandi principalem potestatem sumere Cœlum. Nam judex, inquit, sedet in terra. Dominus sequitur servum. Et quicquid ille hic judicarit, hoc ille in supernis comprobat. Si judicium Sacerdotis tantùm declarativum esset, tum judicium à peccatis absolutorium præsupponeret. Aliter habet Chrysostomus. Alibi de Sacerd. lib. III. 5. illud ipsum judicium, quod Pater Filio in remittendis peccatis dedit, hunc Apostolis dedisse agnoscit. Ibid. cap. 6. Sacerdotes N. T. à Sacerdotibus V. T. eatenus distinguit, quòd hi à lepra purgatos declararint, non purgarint; illi à peccatis purgent. Ambrosius in Psal. 37. Dominum, quod ante erat judicii sui, dedisse Apostolis peccata remittendi potestatem; asserit. Ib. pag. 530. 531. Resp. 1. Hieronymi verba disertiora sunt, quàm ut tenebris à Sophistice tua offusis se obscurari patiantur. Damnant & absolvunt præcones Evangelii non propriè, uti judices solent, sed sententiam in lege & Evangelio jam latam, nomine Christi prædicantes. Hoc non abnuit Hieronymus, non abnuimus nos. Neque Leviticum inter Sacerdotem & Episcopos ac presbyteros comparationem instituit quoad solam discretionem sontium ab insontibus, sed quoad Sacerdotum veterum mundationem, & Episcoporum solutionem ac ligationem. Quomodo ergo, inquit, ibi leprosum Sacerdos mundum vel immundum facit: Sic & hic alligat, vel solvit Episcopus & Presbyter. Atqui Sacerdotes mundabant, non per judicialem actum, vel mundos faciendo, sed mundos ab immundis discernendo, adeóque mundos vel immundos declarando. Sic Episcopi & Presbyteri ligant & solvunt, pœnitentes ab impœnitentibus discernendo, & solutos ante vel ligatos sententia Christi, ceu tales, prædicando, declarando. Sic planè etiam Theodoretus lib. IV. ἀφεῖ ἁμαρτημάτων Audianos accenset hæreticis, ἐπ' ἄφεσιν ἁμαρτημάτων πιπτοῦσι παιδικῇ quòd juvenili temeritate remissionem peccatorum darent. 2. Imò constans veterum omnium sententia est, solum Deum posse remittere peccata. Fuisset olim res horrenda, & prodigio similis, si Episcopus aut Presbyter pœnitenti dixisset: Absolvo te à tuis peccatis. Formulam ejusmodi, in qua vos absolutionis essentiam collocatis, si potes, apud veterum quenquam ostende. Imò Christiani ad rem talem, ceu horrendam & impiam cohorruissent. Peracta Canonica pœnitentia peccatores Ecclesiæ per preces Episcopi & populi, impositionem manuum Episcopi reconciliabantur. Nec Episcopus pœnitenti dabat absolutionem, nec peccata ei, in foro poli, remittebat. Nec post reconciliationem hanc pœnas vel corporeas vel pecuniarias irrogabat. Neque tibi favet Chrysostomus, cujus verborum veluti prætenso scuto etiam Baronius vester confidere quondam satagebat, Sacerdotes supra omne genus humanum evectos, supra ipsos Angelos sublimatos esse, communicata ipsis à Deo facultate sibi uni propria remittendi peccata. Nimirum hac in re Sacerdotes vestri ministri non sunt, sed Domini, Christi, quatenus homo is erat, æquales, & pari cum ipso potestate præditi in quorum arbitrio sit jus totum remittendi vel retinendi peccata; cùm tamen expressè S. Augustinus de Bapt. contra Donat. lib. III. 18. dicat, peccata non secundum arbitrium hominum, sed secundum arbitrium Dei dimitti. Chrysostomus, ut ad ejus loca objecta respondeam, loquitur ἀκριβικῶς, secundum considerationem quandam, non simpliciter, vel absolutè. Conati sunt viri boni ei persuadere, ut pateretur se Episcopum vel Sacerdotem fieri, Ἀ γὰρ, inquit, ἐγκεκείρισται ἀφῆκε, ταῦτα μόνα τὰ θεῖα. Quæ tenus Sacerdos, ſolus Deus donare poteſt. Solus creguo Deus, non Sacerdos, propriè peccata remittere potis eſt. Ibidem: Πανταχοῦ ἡ χάρις ἡ τοῦ πνεύματος ἔρχεται καθαρὰ καὶ ἀκήρατος. Ὁ δὲ ἱερεὺς τὴν ἑαυτοῦ ἀνάγκην χαλινοῦται τὴν ἑαυτοῦ γλῶτταν ἔχων. Omnia beneficia ſpiritualia Pater, Filius & Spiritus S. abſentiam Sacerdos linguam ſuam comendat, & manum prabet. Idem Serm. 88. in Pentec. ubi variè à nonnullis tractatur. Nihil ipſe, Sacerdos præſens agit, nec ipſum dona propitiatio ab humana natura præſtari. In 2. Cor. homil. 6. κἂν ἄνωθεν ἀξίωμα ἀγγέλικὸν, ἢ μὴ ἀγγέλου ὁ θεὸς. Nemo peccata remittere poteſt, niſi ſolus Deus. In Joh. homil. 24. Τὸ δὲ ἀξίωμα ἀνωθεν ἐστὶ τοῦ θεοῦ. Remittere peccata nullius alterius, quàm Dei eſt. Ita conſtanter ipſe. Ita S. Patres omnes. Quomodo ergo propriè ut judex, peccata remittit? Remittit peccata Sacerdos, remittit Dominus, ſed cum hac exceptione, quam ipſe Chryſoſtomus homil. 20. in 1. Cor. ponit, ἐὰν μὴ ὁ θεὸς ἀφορισθῇ ὑπὸ τοῦ ἱερέως. Si diſſitis una, aut ſimile diverſus eſt. Hæc fuit clarioris ſolutionis eſtus. Si flagellare S. Patris verbo voluerim, ipſi profectò injuriam graven feceris. An enim propriè Chriſtus Dominus Miniſtros ſuos, ſervos ſequitur? Annon potiùs Miniſtri Dominum, ejuſque ſententiam prius in Cœlo latam, & in Evangelio patefactam? Blaſphemum foret, ſtatuere prius: & poſterius diſcrete Tridentinus Catechiſmus ipſe pertendit. Te verò πλάνῃ, & negare perfricta fronte, quòd judicium Sacerdotis abſolutorium Dei judicium præſupponat? Sic profectò docebat ſententiam Dei libidini ſententiæ Sacerdotali ſubjicere. Apagethi blaſphemiam tuam! Neque concedet ſanus quiſquam, Chriſtum, quod erat judicii ſui, deſiſſe Apoſtolis peccata remittendi; niſi quatenus illa poteſtas in prædicanda Chriſti ſententia conſtitit. Alias Sacrificulos Chriſtus in Deos & Salvatores veros permutaſſet. Non diu eſt, quicquid tu, tuique ſimiles machinemini, ex quo comparela hæc Eccleſiam Romanam, velut peſtilens ſidus, affl are cœpit. Nam in officio Romano, quale uſitatum erat tempore Caroli M. & ejus ſucceſſorum, habemus formulam verbotim, per quam peccator Eccleſiæ reconciliabatur, in hæc verba: Deus clementiæ tibi omnia peccata tua, & ſe liberet ab omni malo. Precatio eſt, non ſententia judicis.

ARG. XI. Judicialem hanc proceſſum diſertè rejiciunt Lombardus, Alexander de Hales, Bonaventura, Theologi Franciſcani in ſuo Concilio, ubique plures citati à Vaſquez in 3. p. Thomæ q. 80. art. quibus favet Hadrianus VI. q. 5. quodlib. fol. 32. nec non quidam anonymus apud Thomam Opuſc. 21. contendens, abſolutionem non debere fieri formâ indicativâ, ſed ſed optativâ, in quam rem alios citat. Jeſuitarum etiam impiam de abſolutione eorum, quos in peccata priſtina relapſuros noverint, ſententiam à Janſenitis pro merito ſugillatam, videſis apud Montaltium Epiſtola Provinciali 10. & Wendrockium in notis ad eandem. Denique ipſi etiam Patres Tridentini ſuam hîc hæſitationem produnt, dum cap. V. vocant Sacerdotes tanquam Præſides & Judices, & cap. VI. abſolutionem ajunt eſſe ad inſtar actus judicialis.

RESP. REDING: Etiam Doctores à te citati requirunt judicium diſcretionis, ex pœnitentis confeſſione ac diſpoſitione formandum, quo confeſſarius diſcernat, dignus an indignus ſit, ſuper quo forma abſolutionis pronuntietur. Quæ licet declarativa ſit, quia tamen judicium diſcretionis ſupponit, naturam actus judicialis ſubit. Sed alio titulo rejicienda hæc opinio eſt, quòd pro diſpoſitione ad Sacramentalem abſolutionem prævia perfecta contritionis actum prærequirit. Qua in re ſi Tridentini Concilii definitio præviſſet, ſententiam mutaturi Theologi illi fuerant. 2. Licet ante Concilium Tridentinum Theologi nonnulli ſenſerint, attenta Sacramentalis abſolutionis verborum ſignificatione ex humano inſtituto pendente, oportere ea proferri modo deprecativo; nihilominus iidem in Sacramentali ſignificatione talem efficaciam ex Divinæ dictionis authoritate agnoverunt, ut modus etiam indicativus vim modi imperativi obtineat. 3. Jeſuitæ ſic aſſerentes ſupponunt, poſſe pœnitentem in eo verſari ſtatu, ut revera contritus habeat efficax emendationis propoſitum, cujus tamen infirmitas adeò perſpecta ſit ex occaſionibus, quas ex cauſis rationabilibus deſerere vel non poteſt vel non debet, ut ipſum in peccata priſtina relapſurum prævideat. 4. An etiam S. Johannes in fide unigeniti Filii hæſitavit, quando Joh. I. 14. eum vocavit Quaſi Unigenitum? Ejusmodi ergo particulæ non hæſitationem produnt, ſed verborum ex rebus ſenſu perceptibilibus ad ſpiritualia myſteria translationem. Sic quæ in rebus corporalibus abſolutè dicitur poſſeſſio, in ſpiritualibus vocatur Quaſi poſſeſſio. lb. pag. 531. 532. Reſp. 1. Quid judicio diſcretionis, quod privati cujuſvis nulla authoritate præditi eſſe poteſt, cum judiciali proceſſu? Annon is etiam, qui ſententiam ante latam prædicat, per eam ſontes ab inſontibus, damnatos ab abſolutis diſcernere poteſt? Et tamen, qui ſic diſcernit, nec judex eſt, nec per judicialem actum id facit. Sed bene eſt, quòd diffiteri non potes, eos, qui ita ſentiunt, Concilio Tridentino repugnare. Unde veſtri de judiciali Sacerdotis proceſſu dogmatis, Concilii Tridentini definitione haud antiquioris, novitas ultro colliqueſcit. Hæc ſcilicet fidei veſtræ antiquitatis nota eſt, cum Tridentino Concilio natæ, & cum eodem denaſcituræ. 2. An diſtinctionem tuam fictitiam in animo habuerint Theologi à me citati, ex illorum verbis propriis conſtare poterit. Tua enim ſomnia iis imponi non patimur. Lombardus Sent. lib. IV. Diſt. 18. ſic animi ſui mentem prodit: Sacerdotibus Deus conceſſit poteſtatem ſolvendi & ligandi, id eſt, oſtendendi, homines eſſe ligatos aut ſolutos. Unde Dominus ſanitati leproſum priùs per ſe reſtituit, deinde ad Sacerdotes miſit, quorum judicio oſtenderetur mundatus. Ubi ſic modo indicativo vim imperativi ineſſe, declarat? Inſignia ſunt Hadriani VI. Papæ Quodlibet. fol. 32. q. 5. verba: Difficultas magna eſt inter Doctores, an claves Sacerdotii ſe extendant ad culpæ remiſſionem? Et certè probatiſſimi Theologi ſenſerunt, quod nos Magiſter Sententiarum docet, quòd Sacerdotibus non conceſſit Deus poteſtatem dimittendi peccata, ſeu ligandi, ſed oſtendendi homines ligatos & ſolutos. Unde dicit: Sacerdos nunquam tentaret abſolvere eum, de quo non præſumitur quòd eſſet abſolutus à Deo. Addit, Bonaventuram idem ſentire. Dicit tamen, ſe rem relinquere in medio & indeciſam. At Vaſquez Jeſuita in 3. p. Thomæ q. 80. a. 3. magnam affert turbam Doctorum, qui ſenſerunt, Sacerdotes non eſſe judices. Gratianus diſt. 1. de pœnit. cap. omnis qui diſertus eſt. Non ergo, inquit, in confeſſione peccatum remittitur, quod jam remiſſum eſſe probatur. Fit itaque confeſſio ad oſtenſionem pœnitentiæ, non ad impetrationem veniæ. Et ſicut circumciſio data eſt Abrahæ in ſignum juſtitiæ, non in cauſam juſtificationis, ſic Confeſſio Sacerdoti offertur in ſignum veniæ acceptæ, non in cauſam remiſſionis accipiendæ. Hæc Gratianus affert ex Chryſoſtomo. Oſtende, in his & ſimilibus, ſi potes, modum imperativum; & cum definitione Tridentina, quæ novum iſthoc de proceſſu judiciali Sacerdotis paradoxum, verbo Dei, & antiquitati omni incognitum nobis peperit, concilia. 3. Téne verò, Jeſuitarum Caſuiſticæ Theologiæ nuper ex orco advocatæ, patrocinari non erubeſcere? Quantum ſic diverſus abis à Sancto veſtro Carolo Borromæo, qui Act. part. 4. Inſtr. Conf. pag. 767. tacitè Jeſuitarum impiam praxin perſtringens, ſic admonet: Sacerdos neminem ſic affectum abſolvere debet, ut probabile cenſeat in eadem peccata recurſurum, ſi in iiſdem occaſionibus perſeveret: ſed certum temporis ſpatium ſumere ad emendationem illius explorandam. Atque hic eò magis evigilandum eſt, excubandúmque animo, quòd Confeſſorum culpa & inertia factum videmus, ut in plerisque artibus & profeſſionibus innumeræ corruptelæ, & graviſſima delicta paſſim vigeant, ſine quibus res alioqui juſtiſſimæ jam à paucis admodum ſectari poſſe videantur. Et paulò ſuperiùs: Confeſſarios monitos volumus, ut iis, quos peccata non dimiſſuros probabiliter exiſtimabunt, quantumvis polliceantur ac ſpondeant, ea ſe dimiſſuros, abſolutionem procraſtinent, quoad emendationem perſpexerint. Nec non ii, qui per multos annos in eadem peccata prolapſi erunt, neque operam ullam ad correctionem vitæ contulerint. Quæ Borromæi Sancti decreta non tantùm typis excudi Clerus Gallicanus curavit, ſed nominatim in Epiſt. Labbei libello præfixa hanc doctrinæ Jeſuiticæ corruptelam graviſſimis verbis incellit, & Jeſuiticas, quas Redingius quoque prætexit, cauſas ſic præcidit: Præter illam doctrinæ Moralis pravitatem, quæ facilè, niſi provideatur, Chriſtianorum mentibus illabetur, non mediocri, nos afficit dolore perniciosa quàm plurimorum Confeſſariorum in concedenda promiſcuè pœnitentibus abſolutione facilitas, quam illis falſis pietatis coloribus prætexunt; quaſi modo illos à peccato paulatim averterent, à deſperatione, ac religionis contemptu retraherent. Quis igitur non miretur, tam parùm frontis fuiſſe Redingio, ut ſpreto Sancti Borromæi ſui, & univerſi Cleri Gallicani judicio, Jeſuiticam impietatem tuendam ſuſciperet? Hoc uno ſanè Jeſuitarum decreto totam Eccleſiæ diſciplinam labefactari, & pœnitentium ſalutem nefariè prodi, citatus à me VVendrockius *Not. 1. ad Epiſt. mutatæ in melius vitæ vestigia comparent. Unum huic malo medium est, firmitas Sacerdotum ad ejusmodi peccatores ab altaribus removendos. Hoc cùm Ecclesiæ à Jesuitis eripitur, omnis emendandæ Christianorum vitæ via pariter eripitur. 4. Frustra Concilii hæsitantiam purgare conaris. S. Johannes enim Filium Dei non simpliciter Quasi unigenitum appellat; sed visam ejus gloriam ὡς μονογενοῦς, tanquam unigeniti, dicit. ubi particulam ὡς tanquam ἐφατικὸν Græci vocant, hoc est, veritatis & certitudinis notam, more Hebræo, quo suum כף לאמיתה Caph veritatis frequenter usurpant. Tridentinis Patribus vel idiotismum illum Hebraicum; vel Jurisconsultorum Quasi, à rebus corporalibus ad ea, quæ corporalia non sunt, significando traductum, in animo fuisse, credat Judæus apella. non ego. Quanquam si in animo fuit posterius, Sacerdos, qui judex haberi vult, licet spiritualis vulgò appelletur, res tamen corporea est, quæ manibus apprehendi & attrectari potest. Voces igitur illæ quasi, tanquam, instar improprietatem, fictionem, abusionem potiùs Tridentinis significare debent. Puduit enim fortè eos manifestæ blasphemiæ, homines veros peccatorum remittendorum judices statuentis, & jus Dei protervè involantis. Unum hoc addo reliquis argumentis, quæ vindicata dedimus; nullam videlicet Papæ, & Sacerdotibus in judiciali hac absolutione propugnanda authoritatem constare posse. Inde enim ipsis quæstus, maximum emolumentum, neque ullum certius aucupium est. Totum Pœnitentiæ Sacramentalis choragium isthoc præcipuum fundamentum est imperii Papalis, & authoritatis Sacerdotalis palladium, pro quo, ceu non tam pro aris, quàm pro focis masculè adeò litigant. Per hoc Sacramentum pernôrunt arcana & labes familiarum, & Papa capitibus Regum, nobilium juxta ac ignobilium insultat. Quorum peccata, postquam Papæ innotuerunt, indicit eis pœnas satisfactorias, per quas Regia Majestas proculcatur, & ad pedes Papæ abjicitur. Sic acceptus est à Papa Alexandro III. Henricus II. Angliæ Rex, cæsus verberibus à Monachis Ecclesiæ Cantuariensis, sic jubente Papa, octoginta, quorum singuli ternos ictus Regis tergo inflixerunt; qui grandi pecunia à Papa absolutionem, & ne tonderetur, redemit; Matthæo Paris in vita ejus teste. Sed fingamus tantisper, Christum Apostolis & eorum successoribus dedisse potestatem remittendi peccata judiciariam. Nihil hoc Pontificios juvaret. Sicut enim mutatis seris claves fiunt inutiles: ita evanesceret hæc potestas in Ecclesia Romana, quæ Purgatorio, meritis, justificatione per opera, indulgentiis, invocatione Sanctorum &c. corrupit doctrinam Evangelii, ex qua claves Ecclesiæ datæ suspensæ sunt. Denique, ut rem in pauca conferam; si peccator tangitur seria pœnitentia, & credit in Christum, & resipiscit, certissimum est, ejus peccata per Christum, cujus sanguis ab omni peccato purgat, remissa esse. Nihil ei obrunt injustæ excommunicationes, nil Papales diræ, & bruta Vaticana fulmina. Vicissim si Papæ & Sacerdotes sexcenti absolvant hypocritam, aut si in Jubilæo à Papa accipiat plenissimam remissionem omnis pœnæ & culpæ, casuúmque reservatorum, non per id Deo reconciliabitur, nec ei Sacramentalis absolutio proderit. Sine ea pii servantur, & cum ea impii plurimi damnantur.

OBIECTIONES TRIDENTINORUM.

OBIECT. I. Christus Ecclesiæ dedit potestatem clavium ligantium & solventium, quæ consistit in potestate judiciali remittendi & retinendi peccatum, Matth. XVI. 19. Joh. XX. 23. non declarandi duntaxat, peccata remissa esse vel retenta, tum quia claves non dantur dantur ad ſignificandum, oſtium eſſe clauſum vel apertum, ſed ad claudendum & aperiendum re ipſa: tum quia ligare & ſolvere non ſignificat denuntiare vel declarare, ſed re ipſa vincula injicere aut demere: tum quia retinere eſt remittere nolle, adeóque negatur remiſſio illis, quibus Sacerdotes remittere nolunt: tum quia Evangelium indefinitè omnibus prædicandum, at non omnibus indefinitè peccata remittenda ſunt: tum denique quia Spiritus S. inſufflando datus eſt, ut oſtenderetur, peccata remitti extinguendo & diſſolvendo. Reſp. 1. Hunc quidem locum Patres Concilii Can. 3. non de autoritate prædicandi Evangelium, ſed de poteſtate remittendi & retinendi peccata, judiciali videlicet illa, in Sacramento pœnitentiæ intelligendum eſſe, ſub diro anathemate definiunt, inuſitato in omnibus vetuſtioribus Conciliis exemplo, ex quibus nullum reperitur, quod textûs alicujus controverſi interpretationem ſub anathemate definiverit. Nos verò illud fulmen ex pelvi flocci pendentes, negamus verbis illis Chriſti Eccleſiæ miniſtris collatam eſſe ejuſmodi judicialem poteſtatem, in Sacramento exercendam, aſſerimúſque, Chriſtum illis verbis inſtituiſſe miniſterium, ſeu publicum onus eccleſiæ gubernandæ, cui addita ſit efficax autoritas remittendi peccata, vel per prædicationem Evangelii publicam, vel per conſolationem privatam, vel denique per eccleſiaſticam diſciplinam. Etenim talem poteſtatem Chriſtus inſtituit, qualem Apoſtoli exercuerunt. At ipſi nuſpiam judicialem ejuſmodi & Sacramentalem poteſtatem exercuerunt. Neque ipſe quidem in carne agitans ejuſmodi poteſtatem exercuit, ſed potiùs evangelizavit, ſanavit contritos, prædicavit captivis remiſſionem, Eſaj LXI.1.2. Luc.IV.18. Et eam poteſtatem Luc.XXIV.47. declarat per prædicationem reſipiſcentiæ & remiſſionis in nomine DEI apud gentes. Cúmque Patres Cap.V. innuant, non poſſe ſacerdotes eſſe judices, niſi perfectam habeant cognitionem peccatorum, patet, judices hîc inſtitui non potuiſſe, cùm ſoli Deo ejuſmodi notitia competat. Tum eadem ratio eſt remiſſionis, quæ retentionis, ſeu ligationis. At retentio & ligatio nihil eſt aliud, quàm declaratio & teſtificatio ſententiæ condemnantis, jam ante in Dei judicio latæ. Ergo eadem eſt remiſſionis quoque ratio. Præterea remiſſio peccatorum latè patet etiam apud Pontificios. Habet enim etiam apud illos locum extra Sacramentum in reconciliatione publica pœnîtentium, cujus in Rituali Romano duplex habetur formula, in indulgentiis, &c. Etiam Hieronymus judicialem illum typhum, in Epiſcopis & Presbyteris ſui temporis, ex his locis concluſum condemnavit, uti ſupra vidimus. Denique in ipſo Concilio Ambroſius Pelargus monuit, verba illa Chriſti, Quorum remiſeritis, &c. vix ab ullo Patrum exponi de Sacramento pœnitentiæ.

Imò & Franciſcani in Concilio, Hieronymi, Lombardi & Bonaventuræ authoritate ſuffulti, abſolutionem illam merè declarativam eſſe pertenderunt. 2. Clavium poteſtas κυρίως reſidet in Chriſto, atque ita verè judicialis eſt. At in Eccleſiæ miniſtris reſidet miniſterialiter, hoc eſt, per Miniſterium Evangelii, quod eſt miniſterium Spiritûs, quô Spiritu aperitur aditus in cœlum pœnitentibus. Aliud eſt, rem efficere miniſterialiter, aliud authoritatem & poteſtatem rei formaliter poſſidere. Aliâs à Metaphora clavium minùs rectè argumentum petitur. Idem dicendum de poteſtate ligandi & ſolvendi. Neque enim talem ſignificationem & declarationem fingimus, quæ excludat efficientiam verbi, puta inſtrumentalem. Novimus enim etiam prædicationem Evangelii eſſe potentiam ad ſalutem omni credenti. 3. Retinere ſanè eſt remittere nolle. Atque ſic negatur remiſſio illis, quibus Eccleſiæ miniſtri remittere nolunt, eâdem ratione, quâ Deus remittere non vult, puta incredulis & pœnitere neſciis. Voluntas miniſtri non eſt norma remiſſionis, ſed voluntas Chriſti, cui ſi conformis non eſt voluntas miniſtri, illa fideli & pœnitenti nequaquam præjudicat. Hinc etiam Scholaſtici tum demum ſententiam miniſtri in cœlo ratam haberi docent, quando in terra judicatum eſt clave non errante. Aliâs quid fiet, ſi duo Sacerdotes unam eandémque confeſſionem audientes ita diſſentiant, ut alter retineat, alter remittat peccata confitentis? Et ſanè vel remittuntur peccata credenti & reſipiſcenti, ſive velit, ſive nolit Sacerdos, vel Evangelium verum non eſſet. 4. Evangelium indefinitè omnibus prædicatur, nempe credentibus & reſipiſcentibus, adeóque non ſine conditione. 5. Collectio illa ex flatu magis ridicula eſt, quàm ut ſeriò refutari debeat. Evaneſcat igitur ut flatus.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Imò vetera Concilia ex Sacrorum textuum interpretatione dogmata fidei definiverunt. 2. Si ex Chriſti verbis cuivis prædicationi Evangelii publicæ, vel conſolationi privatæ, imò & Eccleſiaſticæ diſciplinæ ineſt efficacia remittendi peccata, Sacerdos igitur, Apoſtoli Succeſſor, habeat oportet authoritatem à Chriſto ſibi delegatam iis omnibus actionibus ex ſe, ceu inſtrumento Chriſti manantibus immediatè per infallibilem efficaciam conferendi peccatorum remiſſionem. Quod ergo nos ex eo textu Sacramentali abſolutioni, id vos publicæ prædicationi, abſque ullius textus authoritate, tribuitis. 3. Diſparatio eſt formulæ, quæ ex Eccleſiæ ritu in publica panitentium reconciliatione extra Sacramentum in uſu eſt; nempe quæ in externo duntaxat Eccleſiæ foro tollit cenſuras Eccleſiaſticas publicè inflictas. Abſolutio verò Sacramentalis peccatorum, quatenus in foro Dei ſtringunt, reatum abſtergit. 4. Clavium poteſtas ſic miniſterialiter in Sacerdotibus reſidet, ut tamen veri judices ſint. Sic Reipublicæ Tigurinæ ita judiciaria in Civitatem poteſtas denominativè competit, ut delegatus ab ea ad exercenda in territorio ſuo judicia ſimul miniſter, ſimul verus judex ſit. Prædicatio Evangelii inſtrumentaliter mediatè peccatorum remiſſionem, excitando ad panitentiam; abſolutio immediatè eandem efficit.

§. Licet

§. *Licet voluntas Miniſtri peccata remittentis non ſit primaria remiſſionis norma, ipſe tamen Chriſtus Joh.*20. eam poſuit normam, ut quorum, præmiſſo diſcretionis ad remiſſionis potiùs quàm retentionis ſententiam aſſerendam judicio, peccata remiſerint, iis remittantur. Si igitur Sacerdos pœnitenti ritè diſpoſito etiam iniquè peccatorum remiſſionem deneget, tum Chriſti normam pœnitenti iniquè ſubtrahit; & remiſſionem peccatorum pœnitens impetrat non vi poteſtatis clavium, ſed contritionis charitate formatæ, & voti Sacramenti. 6. Chriſtus Apoſtolis inſuffiando Spiritum S. iis & ſucceſſoribus ritè ordinatis eatenus contulit Spiritum S. ut accepta peccata remittendi poteſtate, hujus virtute pœnitentibus Spiritum Divinæ promiſſionis impertirent. Ib. pag.533--535. Reſp. 1. Nullum tamen Concilium textus cujuſpiam ſacri interpretationem ſub anathemate obtruſit. Contrarium, ſi potes, oſtende. Atque hoc Tridentinis κεφαλαιῶσαι objeci meritò. 2. Efficacia remiſſionis peccatorum præconio Evangelico annexa eſt non reſpectu Miniſtri, ceu judicis; ſed reſpectu Chriſti, Domini, cujus ſententiam abſolutoriam Miniſter, eodem mandante, ex verbo Evangelii credentibus & pœnitentibus univerſis annuntiat. Aliud eſt, rem miniſterialiter efficere: aliud authoritatem & poteſtatem rei efficiendæ formaliter poſſidere. Nihil ergo minùs ex textu eo, quàm judicialem authoritatem (quæ ſemper dominans eſt, & vel primam & immediatam, vel communicatam & mediatam poteſtatem dominandi conjunctam habet) vel præconio Evangelii, vel privatæ & angulari abſolutioni veſtræ, quæ commentitia tota eſt, ſive immediatè, ſive mediatè inſitam probas, vel probare unquam poteris. Neque enim nos Miniſtro prædicanti id, quod vos Sacrificulis cum immani judicandi ſupercilio abſolventibus tribuere ſoletis, vendicamus; ſed Deo & Chriſto ejus judicii gloriam illibatam ſervamus. 3. Abſolutionis Sacramentalis vim iterum ſupponis, non probas. Stat tamen infractum argumenti noſtri robur. Si enim Miniſtri Eccleſiæ peccata remittunt etiam extra Sacramentum in reconciliatione publica pœnitentium, in indulgentiis, meritis, juſtificatione per opera, & ſimilibus, utique ex poteſtate remittendi peccata à Chriſto Apoſtolis conceſſa, Sacramentalis & judicialis abſolutio præcisè non probatur. Annon etiam remittuntur peccata in reconciliatione publica, ubi aufertur reatus ſive culpæ, ſive pœnæ, uti vos diſtinguere amatis? Convincam autem te formulæ duplicis abſolutionis, quam Epiſcopus in reconciliatione publica pœnitentium pronuntiat, recitatione ex Pontificali Romano *P.III. fol.*256. & 259. Prior ſic ſonat: Omnipotens Deus vos abſolvat ab omni vinculo peccatorum (non à pœnis Canonicis Eccleſiæ debitis) ut habeatis vitam æternam & vivatis, &c. Poſterior: Indulgentiam, abſolutionem, remiſſionem omnium peccatorum veſtrorum tribuat vobis omnipotens & miſericors Dominus. Similiter in Rituali Romano Pictavii edito An. 1619. *pag.*365. &c. proponitur primò formula abſolutionis, quæ dicitur in Parochiis tempore quadrageſimæ diebus Lunæ, Mercurii & Veneris; in qua poſtquam plebem Parochus hortatus eſt, ad pectora tundenda, & Deo dicendum à ſingulis; Confiteor Domino &c. aliquas fudit orationes ad Dominum pro his famulis & famulabus ipſius, ut eorum & earum vulnera & peccata remittere dignetur, in hæc verba erumpit: Dominus noſter Jeſus Chriſtus, qui dixit diſcipulis ſuis: Quæcunque ligaveritis ſupra terram, erunt ligata in Cœlis; & quæcunque ſolveritis ſupra terram, erunt ſoluta in Cœlis; de quorum numero quamvis indignos nos eſſe voluit, ipſe vos abſolvat per miniſterium noſtrum ab omnibus peccatis veſtris, quæcunque cogitatione, locutione, operatione negligentes egiſtis. atque à nexibus peccatorum abſolutos perducere dignetur à Regno Cœlorum. Qui cum Patre &c. Et ne optativè tantùm hæc dicta regeras, ſtatim idem

Presbyter sequentia adjicere debet: Absolvimus vos, Fratres & Sorores, vice Sancti Petri Apostolorum Principis, cui à Domino collata est potestas ligandi atque solvendi, cujus etiam nos licet indigni vice fungimur; (hic quilibet Sacrificulus, æquè ac ipse Papa, Petri vicarius constituitur; quomodo etiam Papa ipse appellatur à Carthusiano in Joh. 20. fol. 380) quantum vestra expetit accusatio, & ad nos pertinet remissio, secundum quod nobis, ut diximus, à Domino in S Petro est attributum, sitque vobis Dominus Jesus Christus redemptor noster vita & salus, & omnium peccatorum vestrorum clementissimus indultor. Qui cum patre &c. Tum omnibus sic absolutis Presbyter injungit, ut ter dicant Pater noster, & Ave Maria. Hìc, si uspiam, extat verbum absolutionis, & tamen Sacramentum imaginarium pœnitentiæ neutiquam administratur. Imò, paucis superstitiosis omissis, optaremus totum illud pœnitentiæ choragium intra hos terminos mansisse. 4. In rebus temporalibus sic suprema potestas judiciariam potestatem delegare potest, ut subdelegatus potestate dominante sibi communicata judicare possit ex præscripto legis. Sic igitur subdelagatus ejusmodi judex Supremæ potestatis Minister est, ut judicando verus sit Dominus. In spiritualibus, remissione inprimis peccatorum, id nullo modo obtinet, tum quia solus Christus legislator judex, Dominus noster est, & solus peccata remittit: tum quia potestas spiritualis est potestas non in corpora duntaxat sed etiam in spiritus, quæ ἀγγελογνωσίαν, adeóque infinitam scientiam requirit, qualis nulla homini mero competit. Licet enim, quod inepte tu moves, Spiritus hominis, qui in ipso est, noverit, quæ sunt hominis, 1. Cor. II. 11. nemo tamen hominum scrutator cordium est. Quippe loquitur S. Paulus de scientia hominis de se ipso, non de aliis: neque ejusmodi scientiam ipsi tribuit, quæ ignorantiam omnem excludat. Quippe æstuum est cor hominis super omnia & æruminosum; מי ידעע Quis noverit illud? Jerem. XVII. 9? Ne propri ergo cordis quidem, nedum alieni perfectus scrutator homo est. 5. Primariam & secundariam remissionis normam qua ratione fretus distinguis? Una ejus norma est, voluntas Dei, cujus præconem Ecclesiæ Ministrum Christus constituit. Is enim peccata ministerialiter remittit, quatenus & declarat, peccata esse ante remissa, & gratiam Dei in Evangelio offert, ex cujus applicatione remissio peccatorum sequitur. Rectè Cajetanus ad verba illa, Quorum remiseritis &c. Ne, inquit, intelligeremus authoritativè dimitti peccata à discipulis, non dixit: Remittite peccata; sed quorum remiseritis peccata, remittuntur iis: at vis & efficacia remissionis non explicaretur in discipulis, sed in Deo remittente. Dicendo enim, Quorum remiseritis peccata &c. remissionem quidem, sed ministerialem significare se monstrat ex eo, quod subjungit, remittuntur iis. Neque etiam vi contritionis charitate formatæ, & voti Sacramenti pœnitentiæ, à Deo impetratur remissio à Sacerdote iniquè interversa, sed sola Dei gratia, & fide in Christum, justitiam ejus, quæ remissionis peccatorum causa est, apprehendente, Rom. III. 24. 25. 28. IV. 4. 5. &c. 6. Tenuissimi flatus sunt, quæ ex insufflatione illa colligis. An enim eo modo, quo Christus Apostolis Spiritum S. insufflavit, iidem, vel successores eorum, Sacrificuli inprimis vestri Spiritum promissionis impertiverunt aliis? Næ suffenus nimiùm es Tibi & tui similibus Sacrificulis, in quibus plerisque omnibus Spiritus potiùs mundi, quàm Dei, dominatur, nedum ut vel Spiritus Dei in iis peccata remittat, vel ipsi Spiritum Dei aliis impartiri; vel peccata judiciali potestate remittendo, eadem flatu suo judiciali extinguere & dissolvere valeant. Procul, procul profana hæc dogmata!

OBIECT. II. Discipuli Christi etiam ante resurrectionem prædicaverunt Evangelium. Neque tamen jam tum potestatem remittendi habuerunt. Non igitur prædicatione Evangelii continetur peccatorum remissio. Resp. 1. Quid verò obstat, quò minùs priùs distincta, postea conjungerentur? Imò primæ etiam missioni utramque & remittendi & retinendi potestatem annexam fuisse, patere potest ex Luc.X.10.11.12.16.

Excip. Redino: Ne per umbram quidem ex Luc.X.10.11. &c. evinces, quod intendis. Ib. pag.535. Resp. 1. Qui Apostolos audiebat, Christum audiebat, ipso Christo teste v.16. Auditi autem sunt prædicantes regnum gratiæ, atque illud passim offerentes, v.9. &c. Regni gratiæ verò bonum eximium & præcipuum est peccatorum remissio. Tu ergo cœcus nec umbram, nec corpus vides.

OBIECT. III. Christus misit Apostolos, sicut ipse missus erat à Patre, Joh.XX.21. Sicut ergo Christus missus à Patre judiciariam accepit potestatem remittendi & retinendi peccata: Ita etiam Apostoli. Resp. 1. At quem in finem Christus misit Apostolos? Nempe ad prædicandum Evangelium omni creaturæ Matth.XXVIII.19. Hæc ergo potestas, cui subordinata est illa remittendi potestas, Apostolis collata est. 2. Neque etiam iis verbis Christus sibi Apostolos vel Ecclesiæ ministros exæquat, sed potestatem, gratiam, instructionem, finem Patris mittentis Filium, & Filii mittentis Apostolos comparat. Vide, quæ ea de re supra diximus Misit Deus pater Filium, ad salvandum & redimendum mundum. An eodem modo missi sunt etiam à Christo Apostoli?

Excip. Redino: Cùm Christus Apostolis dixisset: Sicut misit me Pater, & ego mitto vos; statim insufflando dixit: Accipite Spiritum S. Quorum remiseritis peccata &c. Participarunt ergo de potestate remittendi peccata ministerialiter. Ib. pag.535. Resp. Ministerialiter, sed non judicialiter & authoritativè. quod ipsum Cajetanum vestrum negantem supra induximus. Ministerium hoc non aliud intelligi potest, quàm ministerium Evangelii, quod est ministerium Spiritus, quo peccatorum remissio à Christo impetrata applicatur. Syllogismus talis conficitur: Si credis remittuntur tibi peccata. Hæc propositio generalis est. Pœnitens assumit: Ego credo. Conclusio inde sequitur singularis remissionis: Ergo tibi peccata remittuntur.

OBIECT. IV. Si Deus olim auferens de Spiritu, qui erat in Mose, ac tradens LXX. viris, eandem prophetandi gratiam in illos contulit, etiam Spiritum Christi peccata dijudicantem ecclesiæ tradi, & in posteros propagari decuit. Resp. 1. Impiè Moses ita comparatur cum Christo, ut eadem ratione Christi Spiritus Sacerdotibus communicari dicatur, quà Mosis Spiritus propheticus communicatus est LXX.viris. Etenim Christus accepit Spiritum sine mensura, non Moses. Neque sicut Christus, Dominus, Princeps & Rex est ecclesiæ, ita etiam Moses ecclesiæ Dominus, Princeps & Rex fuit. 2. Insanissimæ est audaciæ, Deo præscribere quid ipsum deceat. 3. Neque etiam Scriptura dicit, LXX. viros Mosi gratiâ prophetandi æquales esse.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. Licet Septuaginta viri, Spiritus Mosis redditi participes, Mosi in gratia prophetandi æquales non fuerint; tamen inde sequitur, Spiritus quandam participationem fieri posse. Cur ergo Spiritus etiam Christi communicari & participari analogicè non possit? 2. Imò sic participari oportuit, quia Christus in Cœlum ascensurus suam in remittendis peccatis potestatem Ecclesiæ relinquere voluit. Ib. pag. 535. 536. Resp. 1. Qualiscunque fuit communicatio Spiritus Mosaici, nihil prorsus ad rem facit; quia illa vel Mosi, vel Senioribus facta, potestatem remittendi peccata judicialem non contulit. Christi quoque Spiritum nobis communicari, tota Scriptura testatur; adeò ut qui Christi Spiritum non habet, ne quidem Christi sit, Rom. VIII. 9. Sicut autem propter communicationem illam Salvatores & Redemptores nostri nullo modo sumus, ita nec peccatorum judices. Potestas enim remittendi peccata judicialis est apoteleſma & παντοκρατία Mediatoris, quod nulli creaturæ meræ communicari potest. 2. Non igitur sic oportuit, Redingi, quicquid obstrepas. & Deo ipsi legem figere impiè conaris. Nam potestatem remittendi peccata, quam Christus ex mundo digressurus Apostolis dedit, judicialem, Sacramentalem, privatam vestram esse, turpiter ubique supponis, & nullo hactenus apice probas.

OBIECT. V. Si Sacerdos non aliter peccata remitteret, quàm annuntiando divinam promissionem, frustra & ridiculè absolverentur surdi, qui non audiunt annuntiantem. Resp. Alexander Alensis, aliique Scholastici docent, potestatem clavium extendi ad culpam delendam, per modum deprecantis & impetrantis absolutionem, non per modum impertientis. Ergo hoc saltem modo absolvi poterit. 2. Prædicatio non est tantùm in verborum sono, sed in aliis etiam signis & gestibus. Et Sacramenta, quibus illi absolutionem annumerant, sunt propriè visibilia signa. 2. Annuntiare & remittere peccata sunt ejusdem ministerii diversi actus.

EXCIP. REDING: Christus Apostolis potestatem remittendi peccata immediatam, non mediatam, qualis illa est, quæ in annuntiando vel deprecando consistit, contulit. Quanquam Theologi à te citati deprecativum illum modum immediatè justificare docent. Ib. pag. 536. Resp. Impia tua assertio est. Non possunt enim homines ullo modo remittere, nisi mediante voluntate Evangelii, gratia Christi, & fide pœnitentis. Potestas remittendi peccata immediata solius Christi est, liberimè peccata remittentis, vel retinentis. Vel remissio peccatorum humana Divinam sequitur, vel antecedit. Si sequitur, mediante ea fit. Si antecedit, jam igitur absoluta & principalis est, adeóque Deum ipsum ligat. Sive autem modus ille deprecativus mediatus, sive immediatus est, nullo modo ille surdo insinuari potest; adeóque par ejus, quæ modi annuntiativi, eatenus ratio erit. Addo, absolutionem hominis surdi firmum nobis adversus doctrinam vestram, qua Sacramenta physica esse instrumenta gratiæ in anima efficiendæ pertenditis, argu-argumentum ſuppeditare. Abſolutio enim ſurdo collata nihil quicquam operatur in ejus corpore,nedum in anima,corpore mediante.

OBIECT. VI. Si abſolutio non eſt actio judicialis, ſed ſimplex annuntiatio divinæ promiſſionis,tum etiam laicus,fœmina,puer,infidelis, diabolus,pſittacus abſolvere poterit. Reſp. 1. Bellarminus hanc rationem obvertens blaſphemat prædicationem Evangelii,dum illam facit opus infidelis,pueri,diaboli, pſittaci. An poteſt pſittacus aut diabolus eſſe Nuntius Apoſtolicus Papæ,aut legatus à latere? Si poteſt, alia tamen ratio eſt legationis Evangelicæ. 2. Prædicatio Evangelii habens conjunctam promiſſionem, non eſt ſimplex & nuda recitatio remiſſionis divinæ,ſed conjuncta eſt cum authoritate divina,& cum applicatione efficaci,quæ pendet ab authoritate muneris.

Excip. Reding: 1. In te hoc retorqueo, ſupra aſſerentem, efficaciam Sacramenti non pendere ab intentione Sacerdotis. Ad prædicationem ergo Evangelii Sacramento etiam obſignandam, ſufficiet recitatio verborum materialis, quoad extrinſecum verborum ſonum. qualis à pſittaco etiam fieri poteſt. 2. Ita eſt. Recitatio verborum promiſſionis conjuncta eſt cum authoritate Divina, & applicatione efficaci. Talis verò authoritas Dei eſt, ut remiſſa intelligantur peccata eo ipſo, quòd Miniſtri prævio diſcretionis judicio,eorum reatum remittunt. Unde applicationis efficacia ſequitur. Ib. pag. 536. 537. Reſp. 1. Siccine Sacrificulos veſtros, & te, Eremitane Abbas, in Sacerdotali miniſterio veſtro non aliud à Pſittaco,ſimia,Diabolo ipſo, quàm interior intentio, quæ quàm præſens ſemper ſit, ipſi noverint, diſtinguit? Noſtros verò Evangelii præcones alia omnia, ſancta vocatio,ſancta doctrina, ſancta juxta normam infallibilis verbi Divini muneris adminiſtratio, aliâque ejuſmodi à ſimiis, pſittacis, Diabolo & ſacrificulis ipſis efficaciſſimè diſtinguunt. 2. Authoritas & applicatio ſententiæ judicialis efficax Miniſtrorum Evangelii, eoſdem propriè dictos judices non reddit. Nam in civilibus etiam præcones Magiſtratus authoritate pollent, & judicialem ſententiam præconiando,non judicando, efficaciſſimè applicant.

SESSIONIS XIV.

DE

QUÆSTIO UNICA.

An Christus instituerit sacram unctionem infirmorum, tanquam verè & propriè dictum N. T. Sacramentum, cujus vi peccatorum, si quæ sint adhuc expianda, reliquiæ abstergantur, morbi levius ferantur, tentationibus Sathanæ facilius resistatur, & sanitas interdum etiam corporis recuperetur?

SYnodus de Extr. Unct. cap. 1. ejusmodi sacram Unctionem, quâ videlicet Sacerdos oleo ab Episcopo consecrato, inungit exteriores sensûs & renes agonizantis, ad producendos effectus in quæstione expressos, ait à Christo apud Marcum quidem insinuatam, per Jacobum verò fidelibus commendatam, ac promulgatam esse. Nos unctionem quandam infirmorum, vigente miraculorum dono, ab Apostolis usurpatam fuisse, hunc videlicet in finem, ut externo hoc signo valetudo corporis restitueretur laborantibus, ultro fatemur. At vel institutam, vel insinuatam, vel commendatam eam esse ecclesiæ, ut sit ordinarium N. Test. Sacramentum, ad producendum effectus illos à Synodo memoratos, negamus. Etenim

ARG. I. Propriè dictum N. T. Sacramentum à Christo institutum sit oportet. At unctionem ejusmodi à Christo institutam esse, probari minimè potest. Nam apud Marcum quidem institutam eam esse, ne ipsa quidem Synodus affirmare sustinuit, quæ tantùm insinuatam ibi esse ajt. Et testatur Historicus lib. IV. pag. 310. primò quidem Patres scripsisse institutam, at at mox, monente Theologo, quòd Apoſtoli eo tempore nondum ordinati fuerint Sacerdotes, ſurrogatam eſſe vocem inſinuatam. At Sacramenta indigent plena & aperta inſtitutione, quæ mandato & promiſſione expreſſa abſolvatur. Quòd ſi inſtituiſſet Chriſtus hoc Sacramentum, utique & ritum & ſignum perpetuum deſignaſſet. Tale verò ſignum perpetuum unctio non fuit, cùm conſtet, non ſemper ſanandos ab Apoſtolis unctos fuiſſe, neque donum ἰαμάτων, cujus ſignum fuit unctio, in Eccleſia perpetuum fuiſſe.

Resp. Reding: 1. Niſi Calviniſticæ ſuperbiæ ſuper omnia Concilia Oecumenica ſemet efferentis ſpiritu turgeres, ad probandam Chriſti inſtitutionem Concilii Tridentini & Florentini authoritas tibi ſufficeret. 2. Perperam negas in Eccleſia perpetuum miraculorum & ſanitatum donum; & unctionis gratiam non aliam, quàm curationis agnoſcis, cùm S. Jacobus pronuntiet, per illam infirmo conferri ſalvationem remiſſioni peccatorum conjunctam. 3. Suavis retulionem falſam eſſe Pallavicinus oſtendit, ex legitimis actis demonſtrans, menſe integro priùs quàm decretum conciperetur, plures ex Theologis obſervaſſe, Unctionem apud Marcum inſinuatam, non inſtitutam eſſe. Tomo II. Tract. VII. Ss. 3. pag. 537--539. Reſp. 1. Vera erga Deum & verbum ejus humilitas mihi & bonis omnibus Conciliabuli veſtri utriuſque Tridentini & Florentini validum contemptum pridem ſuaſit. Tu magni facis, quia verbum Dei non curas, & Babylonicum typhum, utroque Concilio firmatum, amas. 2. Perpetuum miraculorum verorum in vera Eccleſia uſum cum ratione negamus. Quæ vos, Tu inprimis, Eremitane Thaumaturge, jactatis, ῥήγματα ψεύδους, miracula illa mendacii, quæ S. Paulus 2. Theſſ. II. 9. 10. Antichriſto & pereuntibus tribuit, eſſe, pridem demonſtravimus. 3. Fallit te nimium oraculum tuum, Pallavicinus. Theologi enim illi, qui apud Marcum inſtitutum non eſſe unctionis Sacramentum obſervarunt, ii ipſi ſunt, qui reliquorum & Patrum ipſorum errorem correxerunt, quod ſolum Suavis retulit. Quàm verò appoſitè, inquit idem Suavis, hoc loco Patres revocabulum inſinuatum adhibuerint, quidque id hac in re ſignificare verè valeat, facilè judicabit, quisquis intellexerit, quid ſit inſinuare, idque accuratè retulerit, & ad ea, quæ tam Apoſtoli feciſſe apud Marcum narrantur, & ad ea, quæ Jacobus in Epiſtola ſua præcipit, & cum iis denique comparaverit, quæ ſunt ab illa Synodo hac de re definita. Cur porro nihil ad hoc reſpondes, quod obſervavi, non ſemper ſanandos ab Apoſtolis unctos, adcóque unctionem à Chriſto inſtitutam non eſſe. Aqua tibi profectò hæſit.

ARG. II. Nec materia, nec forma, nec ritus hujus ita nuncupati Sacramenti verbo Dei definitus eſt. Non materia, quia verbum Dei nuſpiam meminit ſanationis per oleum ex olivis confectum, ab Epiſcopo conſecratum, & per exorciſmos excantatum. Non forma, de qua ipſi adverſarij mirificè diſſentiunt, an certa verborum formula recitari debeat enuntiativè, an deprecativè, an optativè. Hodie quidem forma ponitur his verbis: Per iſtam ſanctam unctionem, & ſuam piiſſimam miſericordiam indulgeat tibi Dominus, quicquid deliquiſti per Viſum, Auditum, Guſtum, Odorem & Tactum, Amen. At veri Sacramenti forma non in oratione & verborum flexu, ſed in similitudine externi signi & rei signatæ consistit. Denique non ritus, ungendi videlicet in oculis, auribus, naribus, ore, & renibus. Ubi enim ritum ejusmodi Deus in verbo suo præscripsit?

RESP. REDINO: 1. Materiam Sacramenti ostendit S. Jacobus cap. V. 14. oleum scilicet, quod simpliciter olivarum est. Sicut autem oleum habet virtutem mitigandi dolores, leniendi ægritudinem, robur conciliandi &c. ita Sacramentum hoc excitat spem Divinæ misericordiæ, sanitatem corporis aliquando confert, infirmum roborat ad infirmitatem patienter sustinendam, & superandas Diaboli insidias. Hæc materiæ analogia est. Episcopalis verò olei benedictio ex traditione cognoscitur, & ratione hac firmatur, quòd, cùm oleum nunquam per contactum Christi sanctificatum sit, sicut aqua Jordanis ad Baptismum, necessum sit aliunde, adeòque ab Episcopali benedictione illud sanctificari. 2. Forma ex eodem S. Jacobo liquet. Is enim verbis, ungentes eum oleo, statim subjungit, & orent super eum. Cui orationi tribuitur salvatio. Atqui forma Sacramentalis proprium est, quòd in ipsam efficacia Sacramenti reducitur. Hæc ergo fidei oratio forma est Sacramenti, & quidem deprecativa, non indicativa, quia in unctione secus quàm in reliquis Sacramentis, non semper sanitas corporalis confertur. 3. Ritus ungendi oculos, manus &c. in usu fuit apud veterem Ecclesiam, uti ex Ephrem liquet. Et cùm ungendus sit infirmus, utique unctio sensus ejus externos afficere debet, sive omnes, sive nonnullos. Ex praxi autem Ecclesiæ afficiuntur omnes, quia essentia extremæ unctionis perfecta esse nequit, nisi pro illo instanti, in quo subsistit virtus remissionis peccatorum, ex omnibus sensibus originatorum. Ib. pag. 539-541. Resp. 1. De loco S. Jacobi infra. Cùm Sacramenti institutio ex eo probari nequeat, nec materiæ Sacramenti institutio ex eo probari potest. Neque proin analogia materiæ externæ cum re signata à vobis conficta obtinere potest. Neque etiam Jacobus vel benedictionis, vel ejusdem per Episcopos Papales (quos cum Christo blasphemè comparas, quasi id præstet eorum benedictio, quod contactus aquæ à Christo factus præstitit) perficiendæ meminit. Clarè ergo patet, materiam hujus Sacramenti non esse nisi creaturam humanam. Quid quòd Maldonatus vestras Tom. II. de Sacr. extr. unct. q. 1 pag. 209. fusè probatum ivit, consecrationem olei tantùm esse necessariam propter præceptum ac disciplinam Ecclesiæ, quæ consueverit omnis Sacramenti materiam priùs benedicere, quàm Sacramentum conficias; non autem ad veritatem ipsius Sacramenti? Idem Victoria, referente Becano, censuit. His antesignanis vestris si fides est, nec benedictio olei, nec Episcopalis benedictio à Christo instituta est. 2. Orationem super infirmo S. Jacobus mandat. At orationem vel eandem, quæ Ecclesia Romana hodie utitur, vel, ut Sacramenti formam, quæ in analogia signum inter & rem significatam potiùs consistit; ab eo mandari, unde tu fidem facies? Certè oratio illa nec in Scriptura habetur, nec ab omnibus ungentibus adhiberi solebat. In Ecclesia Ambrosiana, sic Bonaventura in 4. dist. 23. scribit, hæc est forma: Ungo te oleo sanctificato in nomine Patris, & Filii, & Spiritus S. ut more militis uncti præparatus &c. Quæ oratio potiùs enuntiativa, quàm precativa est. Cujusmodi etiam erat illa, quam in Ecclesia Veneta olim obtinuisse, ex libro ejus Sacramentali à Leone X. approbato Michael Palatinus in 4. d. 23. refert. Frivola tua exceptio est, quòd in unctione secus quàm in reliquis Sacramentis, non semper sanitas corporalis conferatur. Atqui proprium unctionis effectum non sanitatem corporis, sed peccatorum reliquorum expiationem, & robur spirituale ad resistendum tentationibus, facitis. Et quomodo alias ex opere operato, sine, ut videre licet ex Epistola Ulpiciorum, quod Bononiæ Ferrariæque pro urbanis : ut ex verbis Basilii facile colligi. Basilius quidem compositis Epistolis Ulpiciorum, quæ Bononiæ, Ferrariæque, ut urbanis, ita loquitur, ut Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis. Ferrariæ, Bononiæque urbanis, aut in pellendo aut in revocando propter abditionem libros egressos, quæ latine sonant, ut Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis. Ubi vides, quod Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis dixerit Basilius Græcorum translatione id, quod Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis. Ergo Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis, Bononiæ, aut Ferrariæ Epistolæ Ulpiciorum non sunt Epistolæ Ulpiciorum, quæ Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis, sed Epistolæ Ulpiciorum Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis fuit scriptæ. Quæ vero Epistolæ Ulpiciorum quæ urbanis fuerint, ex Basilio intueris eorum Epistolas nulla ex parte, quæ Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis fuerint, ut ex Basilio colligitur.

ARG. III. Sed & præterea Epistolæ Ulpiciorum, & quæ urbanis Epistolæ Ulpiciorum Epistolæ Imperiales, quæ ejusmodi hominibus scribebantur, quæ Ulpiciorum nominabantur, ex verbis Basilii colligere licet. Illa porro Basilius quæ urbanis temporaneis facta apud Justinian. explicat Interpretatione Græcorum, quæ Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis.

Resp. Basilius. Ubi vides ejus dicti : Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis. Basilii. In eodem Basilii tom. Quem hoc nomine adducimus paragraphi 118. Ubi Basilius Græcorum translatione : quod penes Justinianum id verbum Græcum, quod Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis.

ARG. IV. Nisi hæc confessa habeantur, illa quoque in Basilio de Epistolis Ulpiciorum, quæ urbanis temporaneis habent Justinian. apud Interpretationem quidem Græcorum, aut ad hæc omnia in diligentia Basilii ab interpretatione Græcorum de his latine, aut fine Latini: Basilius non animadvertit. Cum igitur omnibus Interpretum Græcorum & Basilii interpretibus illa, quæ Basilii, quæ Justinian. nobis adversentur.

Resp. Basilius : Basilius dicit Prodigorum malum. Basilii ego dicentis Ulpiciorum Epistolas, quæ Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis. Basilii. Ubi vides Epistolas Ulpiciorum. Interpretum non adeo diligens, Basilius meus & Prodigus. Basilii Prodigorum & Justinian. meum ac non diligentem Interpretum Græcorum, quæ Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis. Basilii. Ubi vides Epistolas Ulpiciorum. Interpretum Græcorum, Basilii, Justinian. meum ac non diligentem Græcorum, Basilii, quidquid est, non placet, quod non fine.

ARG. V. Quid enim impedit ratione ac verbis Basilii non intelligere Epistolas Ulpiciorum Bononiæ magis, quam in aliis urbanis Epistolas, quæ in Basilio temporaneæ? Ut Epistolas Ulpiciorum Bononiæ, Ferrariæque urbanis, quam in aliis urbanis Epistolas temporaneas Basilii.

Resp. Basilius

ARG. VIII. Unctionis ejusmodi ſacramentalis pro exeuntibus uſus in veteri Eccleſia nullus fuit. Etenim ejus nulla mentio occurrit in omnibus Seculi ſecundi ac tertij libris. Ne quarti quidem Seculi ſcriptores, qui accuratè ſacra Eccleſiæ Chriſtianæ inſtituta, & ritus enarrant ac edifſerunt, veluti Epiphanius, Dionyſius Pſeudo-Areopagita, Clemens Romanus, Auguſtinus &c. ejus mentionem faciunt. Ac ne in Æthiopicis quidem eccleſiis antiquiſſimis ejus uſus unquam receptus eſt, uti fatentur Franciſcus Alvareſius & Alphonſus Mindeſius ex Jeſuita Æthiopum Patriarcha. Manſit equidem apud Veteres diu miraculoſa unctio, ex cujus καινοζηλία Papiſtica Seculo demum XII. ARG. IV. Sacerdotum hæc ætate quorundam pessima vita abhorrentes ab ordinationis ritu, forma, finem &c. effecta, eandem hac Sacramenti parte pollutam effecerunt, quæ proinde ab Ecclesia Christi rejicienda est. Ad quod hoc unum Chiffletii responsum esse videtur, quod Sacramenta non ab hominum, sed à Christi institutione vim habeant. Nos, quæcunque sacra publica Liturgiarum Christianarum ritu celebrari in Ecclesia, & præsertim hoc Sacramenti, hujus efficacitatem pro virtute, quæ Deo tam datur quàm petitur, ad vitam & salutem valere. Cæterum quæ ratione corruptionis hujusce ætatum, Sacramenti hujus ritus, forma, finis, effectus, ab Ecclesia Christi Apostolica, Ecclesiæ Patrum, Ecclesiæ primitivæ, Ecclesiæ Pura ætatis, Ecclesiæ Reformatæ, Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ, Ecclesiæ Græcæ, Ecclesiæ Romanæ ante Concilium Tridentinum, & Ecclesiæ Romanæ post Concilium Tridentinum, differant, ex Bellarmino, Chifflerio, Sancto Clemente, Sancto Augustino, Sancto Ambrosio, Sancto Cyrillo, Sancto Basilio, Sancto Gregorio Nazianzeno, Sancto Chrysostomo, Sancto Hieronymo, Sancto Cypriano, Sancto Leone, Sancto Gregorio Magno, Sancto Isidoro, Sancto Bernardo, Sancto Thoma, Sancto Bonaventura, Sancto Antonino, Sancto Carolo Borromæo, Sancto Francisco de Sales, Sancto Francisco Xaverio, Sancto Ignatio Loyolæ, Sancto Philippo Nerio, Sancto Francisco Borgiæ, Sancto Aloysio Gonzagæ, Sancto Stanislao Kostkæ, Sancto Francisco Regis, Sancto Joanne Berchmanno, Sancto Joanne Nepomuceno, Sancto Joanne Francisco Regis, Sancto Joanne de Deo, Sancto Joanne à Cruce, Sancto Joanne Capistrano, Sancto Joanne Damasceno, Sancto Joanne Climaco, Sancto Joanne Eleemosynario, Sancto Joanne Fisher, Sancto Joanne Sarisburiensi, Sancto Joanne Rossensi, Sancto Joanne Dukio, Sancto Joanne Mauburno, Sancto Joanne Gerson, Sancto Joanne Mariana, Sancto Joanne Molano, Sancto Joanne Launoio, Sancto Joanne Pappo, Sancto Joanne Launoio, Sancto Joanne Pappo, Sancto Joanne Launoio, Sancto Joanne Pappo jus Sacramenti secundum materiale, seu rem ejus sensibilem; an ea sit immediata Christi, an mediata per Apostolos. quod de fide non est. 3. Olei consecrationem necessariam esse, omnes consentiunt. Dissensus olim erat, an olei consecratio sit de essentia Sacramenti. Id ante definitionem Concilii de fide non erat: post eam de fide est; consentientibus nunc cunctis. 4. Orationem, seu formam Sacramenti hujus, saltem virtualiter deprecativam esse debere, quocunque modo efferatur, pariter omnes consentiunt. 5. Neque de fide est, quorum sensuum unctio sit de essentia hujus Sacramenti; sed hoc unum, quòd unius saltem sensus unctio de ejus essentia sit. in quo omnes iterum consentiunt. 6. Ex communi sententia ad collationem Sacramenti hujus requiritur infirmitas, quæ morale mortis periculum secundum judicium prudentum, inferat. Maldonatus quoque exigit morbum lethiferum, licet à mortis articulo remotiorem. 7. Quòd effectus hujus Sacramenti sit gratia Spiritus S. cujus unctio delicta residua abstergat, de fide est. Sed ejus effectus natura abstrusior varias opiniones peperit. 8. Sanitatem ægrotantis esse secundarium unctionis effectum, omnes consentiunt. 9. Cajetani unius de loco Jacobi sententia Conciliari decreto nihil præjudicat. lb. p. 545--547. Resp. 1. Dissensus opiniorum circa institutionem Sacramenti, materiam, formam, ritum essentialem, effecta ejusdem, quomodo circa rei substantiam non versatur? Quid enim ad Sacramenti substantiam pertinet, si hæc non pertinent? 2. Si tibi fides est, non aliud de fide Divina est, quàm quod in Conciliis vestris definitum habetur, de quo, propter authoritatem, quam Conciliis vestris tribuitis, dissentire ampliùs nemini licet. Sic in proclivi tibi est, dissensiones vestras acerimas purgare. Cur verò Concilia vestra, Tridentinum inprimis, nihil eorum, quæ doctores vestros celeberrimos pridem in partes distraxerunt, definivit? Cur vulpes Samsonis capitibus divisas non univit, & totis caudis alligatas reliquit? An Conciliorum negligentia efficit, ut quæ res magni momenti est, sit exigui, vel nullius, de qua liberum sit omnium ingeniorum lascivientium judicium? Circa institutionem unctionis ineptè formale à materiali distinguis, cùm nec forma sine materia, nec hæc sine illa esse possit: & institutio potissimùm circa materiam, seu rem sensibilem versetur. Nam accedente verbo ad elementum fit Sacramentum. Synodus Tridentina, & ante hanc Senonensis præceptum & institutionem unctionis Evangelio abjudicavit, & ei insinuationem tantùm quandam tribuit. Ante Synodum Tridentinam alii Christo, alii Jacobo institutionem asseruerunt, quod ex Alberti, Bonaventuræ, Thomæ, Scoti, aliorum scriptis constat. Neque tum institutionis immediatæ & mediatæ; formalis & materialis distinctio audita est. Quod una Thomæ ratio ædificavit, id altera Bonaventuræ destruxit. Et quoad originem hujus Sacramenti, longè aliter dissidentes partes conciliavit nuper Launojus, quàm Redingius noster. Is enim sufficere ait, quòd in eo omnes conveniunt, quòd unctio sit Sacramentum verè ac propriè dictum. Quasi Sacramentum esse possit, cujus incerta & obscura origo est. 3. Consecratio olei ab Episcopo si ante Tridentinum Concilium de essentia Sacramenti non fuit, post illud essentiam ejus ingredi non potuit, quia Christus, non Tridentini Patres, Sacramentorum essentiam definivit, & quid circa eam de fide sit, vel non sit, declaravit. Etiam post Concilium Maldonatus Tom. 2. de Sacram. de extremâ unctione q. 1. pag. 209. consecrationem ad Sacramenti essentiam facere fortiter negat, asseritque, eam tantùm necessariam esse propter præceptum ac disciplinam Ecclesiæ, quæ consuevit materiam omnis Sacramenti priùs benedicere, quàm Sacramentum conficias; non autem ad veritatem ipsius Sacramenti. Victoria, referente Becano, idem censebat. Et Cajetano satis visum, si fiat consecratio per quemcunque presbyterum. 4. Refert certè non fuiſſet, cùm ſecuta ſtatim ſanitas fidem miraculi feciſſet: tum quia ratio reddi non poteſt, cur Apoſtoli non medicinam, ſed Evangelium profeſſi, oleo uterentur. Reſp. 1. Hoc quidem argumento poſt Lyranum, Alphonſum Caſtrenſem, Thomam Waldenſem, aliósque, Maldonatus utitur. Sed Tridentini Patres tam animoſi non fuerunt, ut eodem uterentur. Inſinuatum duntaxat hoc loco Sacramentum illud aſſerunt. 2. Maldonato occurrit gregalis Bellarminus lib. de Extr. Unct. cap. 2. ubi negat ſacramentalem unctionem ab Apoſtolis apud Marcum fuiſſe inſtitutam, tum quia unctio illa ſolùm aut præcipuè relata ſit ad curationem morbi corporalis, ſacramenta autem pertineant ad curationem animæ: tum quia Apoſtoli promiſcuè quosvis ægrotos curaverint, Sacramentum autem unctionis non conferatur niſi extremè laborantibus: tum quia Apoſtoli ſine diſcrimine baptizatos & non baptizatos inunxerint, at eccleſia non inungat niſi baptizatos: tum denique, quia ita etiam ſentiant Ruardus, Janſenius, Dominicus à Soto. 3. Et ſanè apertiſſimum eſt, unctionem illam Apoſtolorum apud Marcum memoratam, fuiſſe miraculoſam, & pertinuiſſe ad curationem morborum. Etenim Chriſtus diſcipulis ſuis ad prædicationem Evangelii miſſis, dedit poteſtatem eijciendi dæmones & curandi morbos, Matth. X. 1. Marc. VI. 7. Luc. IX. 1, 2. Itaque egreſſi Evangelium prædicârunt, & dæmonia multa ejecerunt, & multos ægrotos oleo ſanârunt, uti hoc loco Marcus teſtatur. Quod Chriſtus præcepit, hoc exequuntur Apoſtoli. At præcepit, ut dæmonia eijcerent, & morbos curarent. Id ipſum ergo heic Apoſtoli exequuntur, adeóque oleo ungentes ſanabant morbos, non animi ſed corporis. 4. Apoſtolis eâdem ratione data eſt poteſtas curandi morbos, quâ etiam iis data eſt poteſtas dæmonia ejiciendi, mortuos ſuscitandi, leproſos mundandi &c. Si illa curandi infirmitates adhibita unctione poteſtas jam eſt in eccleſia ordinaria ſacerdotibus omnibus curatis, cur non etiam ordinaria iis eſt poteſtas ſuſcitandi mortuos, ſanandi leproſos, ejiciendi Dæmones? 5. Quis verò adeò ſtupidus fuiſſet, ut graviſſimorum morborum curationem oleo, & non potiùs miraculo tributurus fuerit? 6. Et quoties quæſo Prophetæ, Chriſtus, Apoſtoli, externo ſigno morbos curârunt? An iccirco laboravit fides miraculorum, quæ illi patrârunt? 7. Quæ verò ratio fuerit, cur oleum potiùs, quàm quidvis aliud Apoſtoli adhiberent, ſine periculo ignorari poteſt. Probabile eſt, vel à Chriſto, vel certè ab ejus Spiritu admonitos eos fuiſſe, ut oleo uterentur, quoties videlicet commodum & conſultum videretur.

tulerit nec ne, quæstio est, quæ probabilibus utrinque argumentis disceptatur. 2. Non potestas sanandi ægrotos per unctionem Apostolis Marc. XVI. collata est; sed illa, quæ Jac. V. Ecclesiæ tradita est ordinaria. Atqui posterior hæc non contulit facultatem suscitandi mortuos, sed peccata reliqua remittendi, & ægrotantes alleviandi. Ib. pag. 548. Resp. 1. Non probabilia, sed necessaria sunt, & plerisque vestris habentur, argumenta Bellarmini. Necesse planè est, vel Maldonati, vel Bellarmini argumenta vincere. Contradictoriæ enim sunt sententiæ. Verbo dicam. Maldonati sententia falsissima est, & ab ipso Concilio non obscurè rejecta; omnique adeò probabilitate carens, vel ob ea argumenta, quæ Bellarminus attulit, & tu ipse improbare non sustines. 2. Si potestas sanandi ægrotos per unctionem Apostolis Marc. VI. collata Ecclesiæ ordinaria non est, non igitur illa vel unctionem extremam, utpote in Ecclesia vestra ordinariam, probat, vel per eam hæc insinuatur. Ruit ergo & Maldonati argutatio, & Tridentinorum timidiuscula assertio.

OBIECT. II. Jacobus Cap. V. 14. 15. jubet Presbyteros ecclesiæ orare supra infirmos, ungere eos oleo in nomine Domini. Additque promissionem, fore videlicet, ut sic susceptet ægrotantem Dominus, & siquidem peccata fecerit, ei remittantur. Ex eo loco constat mandatum, signum externum, unctio videlicet oleo peragenda, & promissio remissionis peccatorum. Etenim si non alia quàm miraculosa curationum gratia hîc promissa esset, omnes homines eo tempore, advocatis Presbyteris immortales reddi potuissent. Resp. 1. Eandem hîc describi unctionem, quæ apud Marcum, fatentur Cajetanus, Maldonatus, alii. Et patet id manifestè, quia eadem utrobique res, eadem rei causa, materia eadem, idem finis, idem denique effectum. Quòd si igitur illa apud Marcum descripta unctio sacramentalis non fuit, uti probat Bellarminus, & nos demonstravimus, quæ ratio est, cur hæc, cujus apud Jacobum mentio est, sacramentalis esse debeat? Parium par ratio, & siremps lex est. 2. Unctio Jacobæa à Papistica extrema & sacramentali prorsus aliena est, tum quia illa ad corporis curationem referebatur, quippe in qua ἀσθενὴς ita est unctus, ut erigeretur, & pristinæ valetudini restitueretur; quod ipsum quoque ex verbis ἐγερεῖ, ἰᾶται, κάμνοντα σώζειν, quæ de sanitate corporis non possunt non intelligi, liquet: tum quia Jacobus peccatorum remissionem non absolutè, sed conditionatè, si videlicet peccatum aliquis commisisset, quod causa esset illius morbi, non unctioni, sed τῇ εὐχῇ τῆς πίστεως orationi fidei pollicetur; Papistæ autem peccatorum remissionem absolutè & curationem morborum conditionatè unctioni promittunt: tum quia Jacobus inungi jubet quosvis ἀσθενοῦντας infirmos, at Papistæ non inungunt nisi moribundos: tum quia Jacobus induci jubet plures Presbyteros, Papistæ verò non adhibent nisi unum Sacerdotem curatum: tum denique quia unctionis apud Jacobum memoratæ, seu potiùs unctionis illius fidelis finis absolutus erat curatio morbi, conditionatus remissio peccatorum, at Papistica piſtica unctio hunc ordinem invertit, & alium finem inſuper commini-ſcitur, nempe ut æger ſpirituali auxilio muniatur adverſus metum mortis. Pleraque hæc argumenta etiam Cajetanus in cap.5. Jacobi urget. 3. Extat ſanè mandatum, extat ſignum, ſed temporarium utrumque, quod duraret tantiſper, dum chariſma ſanationum in eccleſia ceſſaret. Extat promiſſio remiſſionis peccatorum, ſed nec abſoluta, nec quorumlibet peccatorum, ſed eorum duntaxat, quæ morbi peculiaris cauſa videri poterant, de quali peccato quærebant Apoſtoli Joh.IX. 3. nec facta unctioni, ſed orationi fideli, nec ſi maximè facta eſſet unctioni, duratura ultra ipſum ſignum & mandatum, quod temporarium fuiſſe diximus. 4. Neque iccirco omnes homines tum temporis advocatis Presbyteris reddi immortales potuiſſe ſequitur, ſi non alia quàm miraculoſa curationum gratia abſolutè promiſſa fuit. Etenim ipſi adverſarii docent, remiſſioni peccatorum in Sacramento conferendo obicem poni poſſe. Cur igitur non etiam gratiæ curationis obex poni potuit, nimirum incredulitas ægrotantis, vel infirma fides Presbyterorum orantium? Neque promiſſio curationis ita abſoluta fuit, ut quolibet tempore, & quoties vellent ii, qui donum ſanationum habebant, ſe ejus efficacia exereret: Sed tum demum, cùm Spiritus, quo ducebantur, iis ut curationem tentarent, ſuggereret. Ita in primitiva Eccleſia, vigente dono ſanationum, non tamen omnes immortales erant, ac ne ipſi quidem, qui ſanabant.

EXCIP. Reſp. 1. Inverte potiùs argumentum. Si eadem utrobique unctio intelligitur, Maldonato, Cajetano, ſarentibus & argumentis meis aſtruentibus; ſicut ergo unctio apud Marcum promiſſionem gratiæ juſtificantis non habuit, uti Bellarminus demonſtravit:

Electio hæc est modus Deum quasi inducendi Decretum ejus de Fine, Fratri suo Christo Jesu, Mediatori, Capiti, Sponso, Regi, Sacerdoti, Propheticæ Officio, Ecclesiæ, &c. pro ultimo Scopulo Incarnationis suæ, quod Ecclesiæ ejus Salutem & Gloriam æternam dumtaxat habet. Et unus Singor Electionis quatuor constituit Momenta, quæ Ordinem Decretorum Dei, quoad Electionem, ostendunt. Primum Momentum est Contemplatio creaturæ purgatæ & perfectæ, quæ est Christus Jesus, Mediator suus, ac ut omnibus hoc patet, quam cognitam esse. 2. Christi Mediatoris Electio ad Gloriam æternam, quæ Electio est Actus Dei, quo Christum Jesum ordinavit Mediatorem, & totius Ecclesiæ Caput, & Salvatorem. Hæc Electio etiam fuit quasi in peculiari persona & Individuo Subsistentia & Natura. 3. Electio Christi ad Gratiam, quæ Electio est Actus Dei, quo Christum Jesum ordinavit Mediatorem, quem dispensatione & ministerio suo, ad peragendum & ad Salutem Electionis dicti ordinavit ad Salutem per mortem. 4. Electio ad Gloriam Electorum, quæ Electio est Actus Dei, quo Electos ordinavit ad Gloriam per Christum Jesum. Hæc Electio, ultimus Scopulus Electionis, Reflexionem habet ad Christum Jesum. In hoc autem sensu Matth. 24. 22. Marc. 13. 20. Luc. 18. 7. Ephes. 1. 4. Christus Electus dicitur, quia Deus Pater ordinavit Christum Jesum ad Salutem Electorum, ut Caput Ecclesiæ, ut Mediatorem, ut Sponsum, ut Regem, ut Sacerdotem, ut Prophetam, ut Salvatorem, ut Redemptorem, ut Sanctificatorem, ut Glorificatorem. Laboratum autem, & Electionem Christi ad Gratiam & Gloriam, ut Mediatoris, ut Capitis Ecclesiæ, ut Sponsi, ut Sacerdotis Sanctum, ut Salvatoris, ut Redemptoris, ut Sanctificatoris, ut Glorificatoris, ita ut Electus officium ex officio esset, quæ sunt nobiliora hæc dicimus esse, quæ plures habent Relationes, & Electionem Christi ad Gratiam & Gloriam, ut Mediatoris, ut Capitis Ecclesiæ, ut Sponsi, ut Regis, ut Sacerdotis, ut Prophetæ, ut Salvatoris, ut Redemptoris, ut Sanctificatoris, ut Glorificatoris, ita ut Electus officium ex officio esset, quæ sunt nobiliora hæc dicimus esse, quæ plures habent Relationes. Apud nos autem non tantum singulæ istæ sunt, sed & omnes simul Relationes, quæ Christum Jesum Electum dicunt, quia Deus Pater ordinavit Christum Jesum ad Salutem Electorum, ut Caput Ecclesiæ, ut Mediatorem, ut Sponsum, ut Regem, ut Sacerdotem, ut Prophetam, ut Salvatorem, ut Redemptorem, ut Sanctificatorem, ut Glorificatorem. Ita non obstante illi prosodia, & ad minores Relationes, & ad majores, Electionem Christi ad Gratiam & Gloriam, ut Mediatoris, ut Capitis Ecclesiæ, ut Sponsi, ut Regis, ut Sacerdotis, ut Prophetæ, ut Salvatoris, ut Redemptoris, ut Sanctificatoris, ut Glorificatoris, ita ut Electus officium ex officio esset, quæ sunt nobiliora hæc dicimus esse, quæ plures habent Relationes, &

OBIECT. III. Chriſtus ſervis ſuis tum quovis tempore, tum inprimis eo, quo impendet iis exitus vitæ, quóque adverſarius omnes versutiæ ſuæ nervos, ad eos penitus à fiducia divinæ miſericordiæ deturbandos, intendit, de ſalutaribus remediis adverſus omnia hoſtium tela, proſpectum voluit per Sacramenta. At nullum aliud Sacramentum oſtendi poteſt, quo tanquam firmiſſimo præſidio finem vitæ muniverit, quàm extrema unctio. Eſt argumentum Concilij. Et Bellarminus eodem uſus ajt, nullo modo credendum eſſe, defuiſſe nobis providentiam Dei in egreſſu & tranſitu ex hac vita in aliam. Reſp. 1. Argumentum à ratione humana petitum, citra expreſſam inſtitutionem, quæ nulla oſtendi poteſt, veri nominis Sacramentum minimè arguere poteſt. 2. Quæ verò hæc temeritas, DEI providentiam, & Chriſti pro fidelibus curam laceſſere, ſi extremam unctionem, quæ tamen ex verbo DEI probari nequit, non inſtituerit? Sine aliptico hoc præſidio DEUS eccleſiæ ſuæ proſpexit per quatuor millia annorum. Cur poſtea proſpicere aliter quàm hoc ſubſidio unctionis non potuit? 3. Quomodo igitur infantibus, amentibus, ſupplicium capitis adeuntibus, Martyribus, in prælio violenter abreptis, in itinere, vel ſubitò etiam, antequam ſacerdotis copia haberi poteſt, decedentibus DEI providentia & Chriſti cura ſuccurrit? 4. Longè alia igitur præſidia ſunt, quibus Deus finem vitæ fidelium munivit, nimirum Spiritus ejus, unctio in iis manens, verbum Dei ſolatiis refertiſſimum, armatura ſpiritualis, ad Eph. VI. deſcripta, ſolatium firmiſſimum in fœdere Dei, ſemel in baptiſmo, & toties in euchariſtia obſignatum, &, verbo dicam, Jeſus Chriſtus pro nobis crucifixus.

EXCIP. REDING: 1. *Providentiam Divinam à Concilio laceſſi, perfidè nimis ſtatuis. Inſtitutionem unctionis ſacramentalis nec Concilium, nec Bellarminus probavit. Malè ergo probationem eam uterque ſuppoſuit: malè ratiociniis ſuis ſine Dei verbo indulſit; & Dei providentiam, ac Chriſti pro infidelibus curam veriſſimè laceſſivit. Quaſi ſcilicet non inſtituto tali Sacramento nec Dei providentia, nec Chriſti pro fidelibus cura ſalva & integra eſſe potuiſſet. quæ quater mille annis ſine aliptico hoc myſterio ſalva & integra eſſe potuit, etiamſi nec pauciores, nec minùs validi hoſtes exeuntes ex hac vita circumſteterint. Non defuit Deus veteribus, etiamſi nullum iis morientibus oleum illevit. Ergo nec nobis defuturus fuit, etiamſi nullos nobis morientibus aliptas dediſſet. Hoc vobis objectum ſtrenuè diſſimulas. 2. OBJECT. IV. Unctionis, quæ fit oleo, meminerunt Veteres, Clemens, Dionyſius, Baſilius, Origenes in Levit. homil. 2. Patres Niceni, qui Can. 69 olei infirmorum meminerunt. Chryſoſtomus de Sacerdot. ubi citato Jacobi loco ait, Sacerdotes condonandorum peccatorum poteſtatem habere; Innocentius epiſt. ad Decentium, ubi agnoſcit fideles ægrotantes ſancto oleo Chrismatis perungi poſſe; Eligius Novicomenſis in appendice tom. IX. Auguſtini, ubi jubet ægrotantes oleum benedictum ab eccleſia petere; Beda hiſtor. lib. V. ubi ait, ab Apoſtolis ſuſceptum eſſe eccleſiæ morem, ut energumeni, vel alii quilibet ægroti ungantur oleo Pontificali, benedictione conſecrato; Alcuinus, alii. Reſp. 1. Non Eccleſiæ teſtimonium vel conſuetudo, ſed divina inſtitutio Sacramentum facit. 2. Cùm multiplex fuerit apud Veteres olei in ſacris uſus, puta in baptiſmo, ſanatione ægrotantium, unctione cadaverum &c. clarum eſt, non probari Sacramentum unctionis ex iis Patribus, qui olei benedicti meminerunt. 3. Origenes pœnitentiæ, per quam remittantur peccata, applicat locum Jacobi, & unctionis talis meminit, quâ ungendus non ægrotans, ſed peccator pœnitens quilibet, poteſt facere opera pœnitentiæ, in duris & laboriosis ſe exercet &c. Unde Eſtius fatetur, Origenem & Bedam unctionem ad aliud Sacramentum, nimirum abſolutionis referre. 4. Concilii Niceni non ſunt niſi 20. Canones genuini. Reliqui, adeóque etiam citatus 69. ab Iſidoro Mercatore intruſi, & ab Hincmaro, paulò poſt Mercatoris tempora, repudiati ſunt. 5. Chryſoſtomus commendat ex loco Jacobi orationis ſacerdotalis efficaciam, neque de oleo quidquam in ſuperioribus dixerat. 6. Innocentii epiſtola ad Decentium ſuſpecta habetur ob argumenta, quæ contra ejus γνησιότητα affert Cl. Dallæus de Extr. Unct. lib. II. 9. Et differt illa unctio ab Innocentio memorata à Papiſtica. Nam & oleum illud, quo lini ægrotantes voluit, chriſma vocat: & ægrotantes quosvis, non moribundos duntaxat ungi voluit: & ut quisque fidelis ſe ipſum ungeret, permiſit. Proinde de oleo loquitur, quo etiam laici extra Sacramentum uti queant. 7. Poſt VII. Seculum Eligius, Beda, Alcuinus meminerunt unctionis, ſed diverſiſſimæ quoque, nimirum quorumvis, non deſperatè laborantium duntaxat, & ad ſanitatem recuperandam, non ad moriendum comparatam. Nimirum cùm obſervarent in eccleſia eccleſiaſticæ lucernæ oleum, & baptiſmi ac euchariſtiæ ſymbola ad curanda interdum corpora adhiberi, & olei uſus eſſet in baptiſmo, & conjuncta ei chriſmatione ac cadaverum præparatione, & eos, qui dono ſanationum pollebant, ægrotantes non ſine ſucceſſu inungere; factum eſt circa Seculum VII. ut primò apud paucos, mox apud plures extraordinarium ſignum traheretur ad ordinarium uſum, donec tandem, non ante Seculum VII. tamen, heterogenei effectus unctioni tribuerentur, & paulatim Sacramentum ex eo ritu exſtrueretur. Differentias porro unctionis Papiſticæ & illius, quæ Seculo VII. & ſecutis uſitata erat, in fine, forma, ſuſcipiente, modo, ordine, miniſtro, nomine ipſo, Cl. Dallæus de Extr. Unct. Lib. II. 18. pandit.

EXCIP. RHEINGII. 1. Eccleſiæ conſuetudo perpetua Divinæ inſtitutioni teſtimonium præbet. 2. Origenes præter pœnitentiam & confeſſionem in Eccleſia impleri dicit, quod S. Jacobus de unctione olei præſcribit. 3. Concilii Nicæni Canones 80. ex Arabico translatos genuinos omnes eſſe, pluribus in editione Pariſienſi argumentis confirmatur. 4. Chryſoſtomus loc. cit. perpetuam peccata remittendi poteſtatem Sacerdotibus collatam inde probat, quia unctione olei eos peccata remiſiſſe Jacobus teſtatur. 5. Innocentii Epiſtolam aut ſuſpectam reddis, cùm ipſe Calvinus Inſtit. lib. IV. 19. 21. ex ea probare conetur, quòd extrema unctio ab Innocentio inſtituta ſit? Quanquam is à Jacobo commendatam teſtatur. Chriſma verò quid aliud quàm unctionem ſonat? Idem laicos poſſe uti unctione, eam recipiendo, non adminiſtrando, ſcribit. 6. Beda & Alcuinus de olei unctione à Jacobo præſcripta loquuntur. Eorum proin ætate poſt ſeptimum Seculum Apoſtolica traditio per manus Eccleſiæ accepta viguit. lb. pag. 552. 553. Reſp. 1. Non quævis Eccleſiæ conſuetudo Divinæ inſtitutionis fidem facit. Plures enim antiquas conſuetudines in Baptiſmi & S. Cœnæ uſu receptas Papatus abolevit; quas proin Divinitus inſtitutas eſſe non credidit. Neque quælibet conſuetudo Divinitus etiam inſtituta perpetuum & ordinarium Eccleſiæ Sacramentum conſtituit. 2. Origenes loc. cit. diſertè loquitur de pœnitentia, per quam ait peccata remitti, cùm peccator admiſſa cum dolore apud Dei miniſtrum confitetur, medicinam quærens; eo impleri affirmans, quod eſt apud Jacobum. Atqui apud vos extrema unctio pars pœnitentiæ nulla eſt. Sed & apud Origenem qui ungitur, poteſt facere & facit pœnitentiam; peccata confiſtetur Sacerdoti Domini, lavat ſtratum ſuum lachrymis, in duris & laborioſis ſe exercet. An in veſtra quoque unctione iſthæc obtinent? Nulla apud eundem infirmitatis corporalis, nedum deſperati morbi mentio eſt. Hoc ſibi Origenes voluit, unctionem à Jacobo præceptam fuiſſe typum & figuram quandam ſolatii, quod peccator à Dei miniſtro per pœnitentiam conſequitur. In pœnitentia ergo impleri vult, quod de peccatore propriè & ad literam dixit Jacobus. De Eſtio à me citato nihil reſpondes In 4. Sent. diſt. 23 §. diſertè ſcribit, Origenem Jacobum interpretari de peccatis gravioribus, ad quæ remittenda opus ſit miniſterio clavium, & ita partem myſteriorum à priori abſtrahere, & ad aliud Sacramentum referre, videlicet abſolutionis; idemque feciſſe Bedam commentariis in Jacobum. 3. Concilio Nicæno aſſitus Canon 69. monſtrum eſt quicquid contra nitaris, in omni retro Eccleſia Græca & Latina inauditum; quæ illius Concilii Canones viginti conſtantiſſimè numeravit, donec Iſidorus Mercator plures ei, pro conſueta ſua impudentia, affinxit. Sed id commentum paulò poſt Hincmarus ſolidis rationibus confixit. Ac ne ipſos quidem Arabes & Ægyptios plures quàm XX. Canones pro genuinis agnoſcere, quicquid de Arabicis illis allumentis delirent alii. Celeb. Beveregius Animadverſ. ad Can. Orient. pag. 212. demonſtrat. Sed fuerit etiam Canon ille LXIX. γνιν. Meminit is olei infirmorum, eo tempore, quo quidam adhibita unctione & precatione à morbis corporalibus adhuc ſanabantur. At extremam unctionem Sacramentum eſſe, non ſcifcit. Et hodie unctio illa à morbis corporalibus neutiquam ſanat. 4. Chryſoſtomus nec ungendos morientes Chriſtianos ait: nec unctionem eam Sacramentum eſſe dicit: nec denique vel de ægroto loquitur; ſed eam tantùm vim, quam habeant preces Sacerdotis ad remiſſionem peccatorum, ex verbis Jacobi probat; & eadem ratione, qua Origenes & Beda, poſteriora Jacobi verba de remiſſione peccatorum à prioribus divellit. 5. De Epiſtolæ Innocentianæ germanitate quicquid fiat, (non deſunt tamen πρόσωπα argumenta ſpecioſa ſatis) unctionem tamen ab ea memoratam plurimùm à veſtra diſcrepare, probavi. Neque ἐπιστήμαι tuæ ſolidæ ſunt. Aliud vobis chriſma, aliud extrema unctio eſt. Innocentius autem xhriſma, illud, qua baptizandi inungebantur, intelligit; & ad alium uſum transfert. De laicis non loquitur; ſed fideles ægrotantes ſancto oleo chriſmatis perungi poſſe, docet. At vos non quoſvis fideles ægrotantes, ſed perichitantes perungitis. Eoſdem ægrotantes languidos etiam omnes Innocentius appellat. Denique cùm hodierna Romanorum unctio à ſolis Presbyteris vel Epiſcopis adminiſtrari poſſit, Innocentius contra ſua illa uti in ſua, aut ſuorum neceſſitate inungendo omnibus Chriſtianis concedit. Quod fruſtra tu de iis, qui unctionem recipiunt, non qui conferunt, interpretaris. Si de unctione recepta, non collata loquitur, quorſum ille dicit, non ſolis Sacerdotibus, ſed omnibus Chriſtianis ea uti licere, inungendo, (non unctionem ſuſcipiendo) Quaſi verò quiſquam putaverit, ſolis Sacerdotibus, & non fidelibus aliis unctionem recipere licuiſſe. Sed uſus, quo ipſi laici ungere ſolebant, ante & poſt Innocentii tempora receptus erat. Nam & antea Procuratorem Evodiæ Severum unxiſſe, ex Tertulliano; & ipſo Innocentii ævo Hipponenſem virginem ſe ipſam unxiſſe, ex Auguſtino didicimus; & poſtea Seculo ſeptimo morem fuiſſe, ut ægrotans fidelis accepto ab Eccleſia oleo benedicto, unde ſe ipſum ungeret, ex Eligio, & Sermonis de tempore apud Auguſtinum 205. authore conſtat. Unde Waldenſis etiam Tom. 2. de Sacram. cap. pen. ex Innocentii verbis citatis concludit, ubi deeſt Sacerdos, laico permiſti, ut hoc Sacramentum infirmo adminiſtret. Proin etiam ex relatione annalium Pontificiorum, Sigeberti Gemblacenſis, Calvinus loco à te citato evincit, Innocentium (non unctionem inſtituiſſe, uti tu perfidè ei impingis; ſed) inſtituiſſe, ut non Presbyteri modò, ſed omnes etiam Chriſtiani oleo uterentur, in ſuam ſuorúmque neceſſitatem ungendo. 6. Bedam & Alcuinum unctionis meminiſſe, non diffiteor. Sed extremæ, qualis à Tridentinis confirmata eſt, meminiſſe, id verò negavi, rationibus iis fretus, quas tu impugnare non potuiſti. Et Beda quidem hiſt. lib. 5. Jacobæam, & Apoſtolicam apud Marcum unctionem eandem fuiſſe, diſertè aſſerit; quinimò eam non ægrotis duntaxat, ſed energumenis etiam, neque à presbyteris duntaxat, ſed quibuſvis etiam Chriſtianis, juxta Innocentii decretum, adminiſtrari conſuéſſe, ſcribit.

SESSIO XV.

Quæsti Quinta.

Sub Julio III. Pont. Max.

Celebrata die 25. Jan. 1552.

Decretum prorogationis Sessionis.

Cùm ita, ex quasi perenni Spiritûs Sancti lumine, singularia hæc & admodum difficilia, quæ hactenus difficultatem attulerunt ex-, pro ea dexteritate, atque ea, quæ ejusdem Spiritûs Sancti gratia, ac Sanctæ Ecclesiæ Catholicæ consuetudo postulat, definiri, & ad finem quamprimè adduci non possint, ac sanctissimus noster Dominus Julius Papa III. pro singulari suo erga Christianum populum studio, & paternâ ad hoc sacrum Concilium celebrandum charitate, ac ferventissimo desiderio, quo ardet, ut hæc controversiæ in sede ipsa Concilii, quæ ad illas componendas destinata est, tandem aliquando finem habeant, & ut omnes Christi fideles, qui ad eam ex diversis partibus confluxerunt, eò majori cum fructu ad ea, quæ in hoc Concilio tractanda sunt, accedere possint, & ut omnes impedimenta, quibus minus apta ejusdem Concilii tractatio, & expeditio retardari, & impedirique solet, tollantur, & ut omnes Christi fideles, qui ad hoc sacrum Concilium convenerunt, & qui ad illud celebrandum operam dare debent, ad id præstandum, quod ad Dei gloriam, & Christianæ Religionis exaltationem, ac ad Ecclesiæ ejusdem Sanctæ pacem, & tranquillitatem, ac ad Christi fidelium salutem, & ædificationem pertinere intelligent, eò majori animi alacritate, & fervore accedere, & ad id præstandum se parare, & præparatos esse valeant, Sanctissimus noster Dominus Julius Papa III. Sessionem hanc, quæ futura erat die Sabbathi proximè sequenti, ad aliam, quæ in vacationi diem cadet, Sessionem, hæc celebrandam, per literas suas Apostolicas, quæ incipiunt, Cum proxima, ad Sabbathum proximè futurum, videlicet vigesimum quintum diem mensis Januarii, & ad aliam vigesimam secundam diem mensis Aprilis proximè futuri, quæ erit Dominica in Albis, prorogavit, & prorogat per præsentes.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS XV.

ALtera poſt Seſſionem XIV. die in generali congregatione decretum eſt, ut nova tractatio ſusciperetur de Miſſa. Deſignati igitur Patres, alii quidem qui articulos colligerent, argumentum videlicet futuræ diſceptationis: alii verò, qui decreta conderent. Ita ſeptem articuli propoſiti ſunt, de quibus bis quotidie diſputatum; & ex his confecta tredecim de Miſſa anathemata, quæ tamen hâc Seſſione promulgata non ſunt. Interea Legati Wirtembergici per Cardinalem Tridentinum Principis ſui poſtulata, ut videlicet fide publicâ Theologis ſuis caveatur eo modo, quo in Baſileenſi Concilio Bohemis cautum eſt, & doctrina eorum ſcripto oblata excutiatur, donec Theologi advenerint, Legato Creſcentio communicant. Utrumque poſtulatum Legatus cum indignatione rejicit, dictitans, neutiquam tolerandum eſſe, ut vel ipſi, vel alij Proteſtantes doctrinam ſuam ſcripto offerant, multóque minùs, ut eam propugnare cogitent. Synodum quidem ad eos inſtituendos paratam eſſe, ſed nunquam ſe induci poſſe, ut Patres ad eorum doctrinam recipiendam convocentur. Quòd verò fidem publicam alia forma interponi cupiant, intolerabilem ipſæ ecclesiæ, cui ſic diffidant, facere injuriam, in qua vindicanda quivis fidelis mortem oppetere non dubitet. Reſponſum tam præfractum Cardinalis Tridentinus Legatis Principis referre non auſus, aliquot dierum moram ipſis, donec ira ejus deferbuerit, ſuadet. Verùm poſtea id ipſum reſponſum Toletano Cæſaris Oratori perhibuit. Interim Legati Argentinenſes adventant, qui Wirtembergicis juncti, per Pictavium alterum Cæſaris Oratorem, reſponſum ſolicitant. Sed Pictavius Cæſari, qui Proteſtantes promiſſis allexerat, rem totam aperit, qui mandat, ut uſque ad Mauritii Saxoniæ Electoris Legatorum adventum cæteri humaniter tractentur, & ſpe potiundi voti lactentur. Interea Papa in feſto Nativitatis XIV. Cardinales, Italos omnes, creat, cauſatus neceſſitatem, quòd Galliæ Rex Patriarcham ſe in Gallia creaturum minitetur, atque eam ad rem Cardinales Gallicæ Nationis, ſi numero ſuffragiorum non vincantur, operam ſuam navaturi ſint. Atque miſſo Tridentum Faliſcorum Epiſcopo Cardinali Creſcentio, ut Patribus eam creationem muniendi ſui cauſa, & ut habeat miniſtros à ſe uno pendentes, atque tanti amici ſpe Patres Pontificias partes alacriùs tuerentur, factam ſignificet, & beſtum Parmenſe excuſet. Exacto Nativiatis feſto congregatio habita eſt conficiendis dogmatis & anathematibus de Sacramento Ordinis, de quo Veronenſis Nuncius ingenuè profeſſus eſt, ubique eſſe abuſum aliquem emendationis indigentem, at bis eſſe abuſum Oceanum:

ceanum. Ita anathemata octo, quibus variæ de Sacramento hoc Ordinis ſententiæ hæreſeos damnatæ, & quatuor doctrinæ capita ſancita ſunt, quæ eidem de Miſſa decreto juncta, ſequente Seſſione publicata haud ſunt. Septimo poſt Januarii die, Mauritii Saxoniæ Electoris Legati Tridenti appellunt, & mandata ſua, ut videlicet fide, quâ in Concilio Baſileenſi Bohemis olim, ſibi caveatur, expeterent, & Theologorum ſuorum præſentiam promitterent, ſi Concilium ſit liberum, ante acta retractentur, Papa ſe ei ſubmittat, Epiſcopis juramentum remittatur, & ſuffragari ipſis quoque Proteſtantibus liceat, Cæſaris Oratoribus aperiunt, neglectis Legato Pontificio & Collegis ipſius. Cúmque Cæſaris Oratores Legatorum mandata ad Creſcentium & ſocios referrent, illi indignatione pleni omnia illa poſtulata rejiciunt, tantásque eſſe adverſus ſanctam Sedem impietates & blaſphemias, ut centies mori malint, quàm tam indigna perferre, regerunt. Id cùm Cæſar intelligeret, non parùm equidem commotus, Cardinali tamen Tridentino, & Oratoribus ſuis in mandatis dedit, ut ad conciliandum Legatum omnem lapidem moverent, ac primò precibus, dein verbis aſperioribus uterentur, ut ad idoneum, quo utrisque ſatisfieret, temperamentum illum compellerent. Oratores Cæſaris Creſcentium & collegas variè demulcent, ac eò tandem adducunt, ut conſenſerint, recipiendos eſſe Proteſtantium Legatos non in conſeſſu, ſed in congregatione publica, in ipſius ædibus, quò ita pro conventûs capite agnoſceretur, habenda. Inſtant poſtea Oratores Cæſaris, ut ulteriori tractatione ſuperſedeant Patres, donec Proteſtantium Theologi ipſi quoque adeſſent. Quibus Legatus, annitente Veronenſi Nuncio, gratificatus eſt ea lege, ſi Præſules in Congregatione generali non refragentur. Ad generalem igitur congregationem relata ſunt capita de dilatione, & ſalvi conductûs formula. Dilatio impetrata non magno negotio. De ſalvo conductu juxta formulam Baſileenſis Concilii concedendo diſceptatum diu, tandémque formulam conſcribendam, tribus Electoribus Eccleſiaſticis, & Cardinale Madrucio Patres impellentibus, ſancitur. Cúmque Petrus Tragliavia Archiepiſcopus Panormitanus ſcrupulos moveret, de loco Legatis Proteſtantibus aſſignando, & an ipſi, ac Principes ipſorum honorificis titulis compellandi ſint, eò quòd hæretici ſint, & cum talibus nullum commercium habere liceat, niſi vel ad inſtituendum, vel ad condonandum, placuit, monente ita Epiſcopo Naumburgenſi, ſuo loco eos collocari, & honorificis nominibus inſigniri, ſed prævia publica proteſtatione, quòd id fiat ſtudio charitatis, & zelo pietatis, quæ cunctis legibus ſit potior. Hæc quidem difficili labore impetrata, Orator Cæſaris Pictavius Proteſtantium Legatis poſtea detegit, eos ad patientiam, facta ſpe majorum, hortatur, & fidei publicæ breviarium iis exhibet. Illud verò brevimana Ecclesia Cardinalis, Cresentij Legati, ob adversam ejus gravissimam valetudinem absentis, nomine, non dubitat, Christianis omnibus patere, hoc Concilium œcumenicum Tridentinum primò à Paulo sel. rec. convocatum & collectum fuisse; Deinde à Sanctissimo Domino Julio III. efflagitante Carolo V. Augustissimo Imperatore, ea præcipuè de causa fuisse restitutum, ut religionem in multis orbis partibus, & præsertim in Germania, in diversas opiniones miserabiliter distractam, in statum pristinum revocaret; abusus & mores Christianorum corruptissimos emendaret. Cùmque ad hoc agendum quam plurimi Patres, nullâ laborum suorum periculorúmque habitâ ratione, è diversis regionibus alacriter confluxissent; réseque strenuè, magno fidelium concursu, felicitérque procederet, ac spes esset non levis, illos Germanos, qui eas novitates excitârant, in Concilium venturos sic animatos, ut veris Ecclesiæ rationibus unanimiter acquiescerent, lux denique quædam rebus affulsisse videretur: Capútque attollere inciperet profligata antea, & afflicta Respublica Christiana: ii repentè tumultus, ea bella hostis generis humani versutiâ exarserunt, ut Concilium velut hærere, ac suum cursum interrumpere satis incommodè cogeretur, sibique omnis ulterioris progressus hoc in tempore tolleretur: tantúmque aberat, ut sancta Synodus Christianorum malis & incommodis mederetur, ut multorum mentes, præter sui animi sententiam, irritaret potiùs quàm placaret. Cùm igitur ipsa sancta Synodus omnia, & præcipuè Germaniam armis ardere & discordiis videret, omnes ferè Episcopos Germanos præsertim Principes Electores, suis consultum Ecclesiis, è Concilio abiisse, decrevit tantæ necessitati non reluctari, & ad meliora tempora rejicere; ut Patres, quod eis nunc agere non licet, suis ovibus prospectum ad suas Ecclesias regredi valerent, ne diutiùs utrobique inutili otio conterantur. Atque ita, quoniam sic temporum conditio tulit, hujus Oecumenici Concilii Tridentini progressum per biennium suspendendum fore decrevit, prout præsenti decreto suspendit: Eâ tamen lege, ut si citiùs pacata res sit, ac tranquillitas priscina revertatur, quod speret Dei Optimi Maximi beneficio non longo fortè spatio futurum, ipsius Concilii progressus eodemmet tempore suam vim, firmitatem, vigorémque habere censeatur. Sin autem, quod Deus avertat, peracto biennio prædicta legitima impedimenta non fuerint submota, cùm primùm cessaverint, talis suspensio eo ipso sublata esse intelligatur, ac suus vigor & robur Concilio sit restitutum, & esse intelligatur sine alia nova Concilii convocatione, accedente ad hoc decretum consensu & auctoritate Sanctitatis suæ, & sanctæ sedis Apostolicæ. Interea tamen eadem sancta Synodus exhortatur omnes Principes Christianos, & omnes Prælatos, ut observent & respectivè, quatenus ad eos spectat, observare faciant in suis regnis, dominiis, & Ecclesiis omnia & singula, quæ pro hoc sacrum Oecumenicum Concilium fuerunt hactenus statuta & decreta.

HISTORIA SESSIONIS XVI.

Eam Cardinalis nuncio Apostolico Lainez Jesuita, & Salmeronem postulavit Pontifex, ut Theologi essent, & ad Concilium mitterentur. Ignatius Loiolæ Hispanus, Societatis Jesu institutor, & primus Generalis, & Jacobus Laynez Hispanus, Societatis Jesu Generalis secundus, & Cardinalium filii, Hieronymus Seripandus Cardinalis Seripandi, & Alphonsus Salmeron nuncio Apostolico comitantes, ejus familiam augebant. Et Hosius, qui postea Cardinalis fuit, ejus familiæ erat. Hi omnes Concilium adierunt. Et Petrus Leguzamo Cardinalis Burgensis, qui Concilio interfuit, ejus familiæ erat. Et Cardinalis Burgensis Concilium adiit, & ejus familiæ erat. Et Cardinalis Burgensis, omnium cognitus est, quia Concilium adiit. Et Cardinalis Burgensis familiæ erat. Et Cardinalis Burgensis Concilium adiit, & ejus quidquam ego Pontificum vel de istiusmodi Tridentinis Decretis desiderare, vel de eadem, quæ constituerunt, emendare audeam, quæ tantis hominibus placuerunt? Sed videbunt Cæte Nostræ Tridentinæ mihi, quæ ipsorum Patrum fuerunt, quæ Legatorum, quæ Pontificum, quæ Cæsaris, quæ Regum, quæ Ecclesiæ Catholicæ Doctorum, quæ Sanctorum Dei. Sed tamen certum Patres Tridentini dicere potuerunt, quæ ipsi Decreta sanxerunt, quæ ipsi Canones Concilii definierunt quin ullus ex posteritate eorum controversiam de eo tentandam proponeret, quin ullus ex universa Ecclesia Catholica Christi Fidelis dubitaret? Quis enim, quæso, Tridentinis Decretis Decretalium, Constitutionum, Evangelii loco illa ex posteritate non amplecteretur? Quis non ea, quæ ipsi Patres Tridentini definierunt, ut certissima, ut divina, ut immota, ut omnes ubique cum determinatione fidei probarent? Si ita dicimus ad Protestantes, ut ita dicimus ad Catholicos, quis non videt, quam ridiculi simus? Quis non videt, quam Tridentinos Patres, quam Tridentina Decreta, quam Tridentinos Canones, quam Tridentinam Fidem, quam eandem ipsam Catholicam Fidem, quam Christi Dominum ipsum, quem Deum ipsum, quem Deum verum, quem Deum æternum, quem Deum omnipotens, quem Deum omnium rerum creatorem, quem Deum omnium rerum gubernatorem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium conservatorem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium redemptorem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium judicem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium remunerantem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium punientem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium æternum, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnipotentem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia videntem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia scientem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia facientem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia regentem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia gubernantem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia conservantem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia redimentem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia judicantem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia remunerantem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia punientem, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia æternum, quem Deum omnium rerum visibilium & invisibilium omnia

Ad Hiſtoriam & Decretum Seſſionis XVI.

PRimò Cæſareorum Legatorum molimina, Pontificem in ordinem redigere conſtituentium, teſtantur, quæ Cæſaris aliàs fortiſſimi & prudentiſſimi de Pontificia poteſtate ſententia fuerit. Sleidanus lib. 23. oſtendit, Oratores hoc inprimis intendiſſe, ut, quod ipſi cupiebant, per Proteſtantium Legatos efficerent. Id quidem tunc obſcurè, at poſtea certò cognitum. Secundò argumentum pertinaciæ Synodi evidentiſſimum erat, quòd toties à Cæſareanis etiam interpellati Patres, nec ut idoneè caverent Proteſtantibus, nec ut ad propoſitionem Legatorum Proteſtantium reſponſum aliquod ederent, adduci potuerunt. Re infecta tandem diſcedere coacti ſunt. Scilicet liberum hoc & Chriſtianum Concilium erat, in quo pauci in Pontificis verba jurati, Chriſtianos & zelo gloriæ Dei ardentes Principes adeò neglexerunt, ut ne reſponſione quidem eos dignarentur. Tertiò Pictavii Cæſarei oratoris vox, quòd Scriptura ſit res inanimis atque muta, eóque ſicut reliquæ leges Politicæ, judicis voce animanda, ex penetrali Theologiæ Pontificiæ petita, impietatis notam inſignem meretur. Paulus enim ſcripturam vocat ζῶντα λόγον ſermonem viventem, Hebr. IV. 12. inſpiratam à Deo 2. Tim. III. 16. adeoque à Spiritu S. animatam. Illi non verentur dicere rem inanimatam, quod ſanè apertam in Dei verbum blaſphemiam ſpirat. Quartò Patres Concilii ad dogmata de matrimonio procudenda feſtinârunt contra datam Legatis Proteſtantium ſuperiori Seſſione fidem. Conſtituerant nempe praecipitatis, quæ reſidua erant, decretis, Synodo finem imponere, quò Proteſtantes vel ab itinere deterrerentur, vel adventantes operam luderent. Cúmque Cæſar precibus, quæ mixtæ minis erant, à Patribus impetrâſſet, ut denuo promitterent ſuſpenſionem actionum Concilii, pro ejus beneplacito, Papa pro ſua, quam in Concilium gerebat, dictatura, ut ſuſpenſionem quàm pauciſſimis diebus continuarent, præcepit. Patet hinc, tum quam fidem Concilii & Pontificis ſibi Proteſtantes polliceri habuerint tum quàm exigua ipſis Patribus conſtiterit libertas, tum denique quàm parùm curæ fuerit, ut Proteſtantes, quorum vel ſolam præſentiam reformidabant, legitimè in Concilio audirentur. Quintò Ambroſii Pelargi Dominicani ſeditioſa concio, quam ad fallendam hæreticis fidem comparatam eſſe fama erat, quámque ex decreto Seſſionis II. quo Concilium congregatum ſtatuitur ad hæreticorum extinctionem, defendere non dubitavit, argumentum præbet ejuſdem Punicæ Patrum Concilii erga Proteſtantes fidei. Sextò quàm parùm publicæ fidei, Proteſtantibus à Concilio promiſſæ tribuendum fuerit, probat Patrum quorundam, Legatos Wirtenbergicos, ob confeſſionis ſuæ exemplaria quædam excuſa, & Tridenti diſtributa, fidei publicæ violatæ accuſantium, dira vociferatio. Sic videlicet nunquam defuturi erant prætextus cauſandi violatam fidem, & animum vindictæ adverſus Proteſtantes cupidum exſatiandi. Septimò & illud animadvertendum, quòd Theologi Proteſtantes Wirtenbergici quatuor, Argentinenſes duo miſſi ad Concilium, nec ſuis, nec Legatorum Cæſareorum precibus, quamvis etiam non parum de jure ſuo concederent, impetrare potuerunt, ut in Concilio audirentur, & tractationis cum ipſis initium fieret. Quin re infectâ & prorſus inauditâ, diſcedere tandem Tridento coacti fuerunt. Ludicra igitur fuiſſe, quæ de Concilio legitimo inſtituendo jactaverant Bullæ, quis dubitare poteſt? Nam quòd diſputare cum hæreticis vanum & inutile fuiſſe, adeóque à Patribus reſponſum tuliſſe hos Pſeudotheologos, diſputandi locum non eſſe, & Seſſionem inſtare, regerit Scipio Henricus Cenſur. pag. 68. planè frivolum eſt. Hoc enim inani prætextu perpetuo à Concilio arceri Proteſtantes poterant. Quin ſibi ipſis egregiè contradixiſſent Patres, qui in ſalvi conductûs formula Proteſtantibus facultatem conceſſerunt proponendi, loquendi unâ cum Synodo, de quibuscunque negotiis tractandi, examinandi, diſcutiendi, & omnia quæcunque ipſis libuerit, ac articulos quoslibet tam ſcripto quàm verbo liberè offerendi, cum iis, qui à Concilio delecti fuerint, diſputandi Chriſtianè &c. An igitur tam ſubitò promiſſorum horum oblivio Patres inceſſit, an potiùs declarârunt hoc reſponſo, ſe ad fidem Proteſtantibus datam adſtringi minimè velle? Vanum etiam erat, quòd Seſſionem inſtare tricabantur Patres. Nam eam à die 13. Martii ad Calendas Maji prorogare eo ipſo, quo ita reſponſum erat, die, in generali congregatione placuit Patribus, ob rerum gravitatem, inquit Scipio, quaſi videlicet magnæ molis fuiſſet, decreta prorogationum condere, & non potiùs opera danda fuiſſet, ut religionis diſceptandæ negotium ritè procederet. Octavò ſuſpenſio Concilii à Pontifice, pro ſuo in Concilium imperio, ſuſpenſionis Bullam Tridentum miſſimiſſitante, mandata; & à potiore Patrum parte approbata eſt, eâ quidem lege, ut ſuſpenſio ea duret per biennium, quo exacto, remotiſque impedimentis, robur priſtinum Concilio, ſine alia nova ejus convocatione reſtituatur. Sed interceſſerunt ei ſuſpenſionis decreto Hiſpani numero duodecim, editâ contra illud Proteſtatione, in qua negabant, tantum eſſe, quantum cauſabantur illi, periculum. Hoc non obſtante, diſcedentibus Nuntiis & reliquis Patribus, Concilium denuo ſolvitur, & per decem annos interruptum manet. Pericula equidem imminentia prætexuêre Patres. At conſtat, etiam ante belli cœpti rumorem, Epiſcopos Pontifici præ cæteris addictos, quòd tractationem Concilii in Curiæ Romanæ emendationem mox abituram metuerent, omnes impediendi & diſſolvendi Concilii occaſiones conſectatos eſſe. Quòd ſi legitimi & Chriſtiani Concilii cura inſediſſet animo Pontificis, cur non evaneſcentibus periculis, etiam ſine alia nova convocatione, uti verba decreti ſonant, ſtatim Concilium reſtituit? Cur ad decimum uſque annum extraxit? Si quicunque ſufficeret prætextus, nunquam illi defuturi erant, adeò ut nunquam deinceps reſtitui debuerit. Nonò Patres inconſulto Pontifice, vel certè non allegato ejus conſenſu & authoritate, decreta in Concilio hucuſque formata, firma ratáque eſſe jubent. Etenim ſub finem decreti hortantur omnes Principes Chriſtianos & omnes Prælatos, ut obſervent & reſpectivè, quatenus ad eos ſpectat, obſervare faciant in ſuis Regnis, Dominiis & Eccleſiis omnia & ſingula, quæ per hoc ſacrum œcumenicum & generale Concilium fuerunt hactenus ſtatuta & decreta. Sic igitur exemplo ſuo probant jus confirmandi conciliaria decreta Pontifici haud competere. Excuſare equidem ſe Patres Curiæ Romanæ ob id indignabundæ conati ſunt eo colore, quòd decretorum obſervationem non præcepiſſent, ſed ſuaſiſſent. Atqui decretum non ſuadet Principibus, ſed eos exhortatur, ut omnia, quæ per hoc ſacrum œcumenicum Concilium fuerunt hactenus ſtatuta, obſervent, & obſervare faciant. Si obſervanda fuerunt decreta, utique jam obligârunt, adeóque veræ legis vim habuerunt. Decimò denique Creſcentii Pontificii Legati morbus ex terribili ſpectro, uti ipſius amici ac familiares, qui decumbentem conſolati erant, referebant, obortus, atque mox ſecuta inde mors, non obſcurum Divini digiti indicium fuit.

Sphalmatum Typographicorum.

TAmetsi, Benevole Lector, nulli operæ pepercerimus, ut Opus quàm emendatissimum prodiret, emissitios tamen oculos nostros fugerunt non tantùm leviora quædam errata, quæ nullo negotio attentus & prudens Lector, nullo etiam monitore, corriget; sed nonnulli etiam pœnitendi defectus, non citra sensus injuriam, & obscurationem textus. Illorum igitur potissimùm Indicem exhibere volui, ut ea, quæ lectionis progressum remorari, & sensum turbare possent, in integrum restituere promptum sit. Ante omnia verò ad pag. 71. lin. 16. observari nunc demum velim, Epistolam ibi ab Adversario nostro, Calvino hæresin negatæ hujus carnis resurrectionis impingente, citatam, non esse vel Farelli, vel ad Calvinum, sed potiùs Calvini ad Socinum, hæreseos hujus, per calumniam insignem Calvino impactæ, reum. Quamvis enim in Editione Epistolarum Calvini, secunda vice à Beza recognita, titulus sic habeat: Farellus Calvino; tamen non à Farello ad Calvinum, sed à Calvino ad Socinum exaratam esse, demum ex Erratis restituendis, ab ipso Beza in posteriore editione consignatis, didici. Et forte ipse etiam ante me Bellarminus, ex quo calumniam Redingius mutuatus est, id observavit. Scribit enim: Si titulus fallit, videat Beza, qui secundò etiam hoc asserit. Tam nova, tam extra ordinem exceptionis quæ causa fuit, si non vidit, objici sibi posse, non esse.

esse hiant Epistolam Farelli, non esse ad Calvinum? Et in tanto crimine testimonio suspecto confidere Adversarius noster non debuerat. Liquet tamen vel inde magis calumniæ atrocitas. Cætera paulò graviora παροράματα sic restitui velim.
